preposition /prɛpə'zɪʃən/ ▷ noun, grammar a word, or words, such as to, from, into, out of, etc, typically preceding nouns and pronouns, and describing their position, movement, etc in relation to other words in the sentence. • prepositional adj. • prepositionally adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin praepositio, from praeponere, praepositum to put before.

> preposition
>
> In current English, a preposition can have various positions within a phrase, clause or sentence, and often comes at the end:
>
> ✓ He was looking for a table to put his books on.
>
> ✓ He was looking for a table on which to put his books.
>
> The notion still sometimes found, that a preposition should always come before the word or phrase it governs, is, like the split infinitive, an artificial rule that has no basis in usage or in principle. Often, especially in idiomatic uses, such a rule would produce absurd results:
>
> ? We don't have much on which to go.
>
> ✓ We don't have much to go on.
>
> ☆ RECOMMENDATION: it is correct, and often more natural, to end a sentence with a preposition.

prepossess ▷ verb, rather formal 1 to charm. 2 to win over; to incline or bias. 3 to preoccupy someone in a specified way. ⓘ 17c: originally meaning 'to possess beforehand'.

prepossessing ▷ adj attractive; winning.

preposterous /prɪ'pɒstərəs/ ▷ adj ridiculous, absurd or outrageous. • preposterously adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin praeposterus back-to-front, from prae before + posterus coming after.

prepotent /priː'poʊtənt/ ▷ adj 1 powerfully more influential than others. 2 biol a said of one parent: more likely to pass on hereditary characteristics than the other; b having greater power of fertilization. • prepotency /prɪ'poʊtənsɪ/ noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin praepotens, from posse to have power.

preppy /'prɛpɪ/ informal, especially N Amer ▷ adj (preppier, preppiest) said of dress sense, etc: neat and conservative. ▷ noun (preppies) someone who dresses in such a way. ⓘ Early 20c: originally in the sense 'belonging to or characteristic of a PREPARATORY SCHOOL student'.

preprandial ▷ adj, facetious preceding a meal ◻ a preprandial drink. ⓘ 19c.

preproduction ▷ noun the groundwork that is done before a film, broadcast, etc starts being made. Also as adj ◻ Brad Pitt was chosen for the role at the preproduction stage.

prep school see PREPARATORY SCHOOL prepuce /'priːpjuːs/ ▷ noun, anatomy 1 the fold of skin that covers the top of the penis. Also called FORESKIN. 2 the fold of skin that surrounds the clitoris. ⓘ 14c: from Latin praeputium.

prequel /'priːkwəl/ ▷ noun a book or film produced after one that has been a popular success, but with the story beginning prior to the start of the original story. ⓘ 1970s: from PRE-, modelled on SEQUEL.

Pre-Raphaelite /priː'rafəlaɪt/ ▷ noun a member of the Pre-Raphaelite Brotherhood (abbreviation PRB), a group of artists who advocated a truthful adherence to natural forms and effects. ▷ adj relating to or characteristic of the Pre-Raphaelites. ⓘ 19c: they adopted this name because of their aim to return to the style of painters before the Italian master Raphael (1483–1520).

prerecord ▷ verb to record (a programme for radio or TV) in advance of its scheduled broadcasting time. ⓘ 1930s.

prerequisite /priːˈrekwɪzɪt/ ▷ noun a preliminary requirement that must be satisfied. ▷ adj said of a condition, etc: required to be satisfied beforehand. ⓘ 17c.

prerogative /prɪˈrɒgətɪv/ ▷ noun 1 an exclusive right or privilege arising from one's rank or position. 2 any right or privilege. See also ROYAL PREROGATIVE. ▷ adj holding or exercising a prerogative. ⓘ 14c: from Latin praerogativa privilege, from prae before others + rogare, rogatum to ask.

Pres. ▷ abbreviation President.

pres. ▷ abbreviation present.

presage /ˈpresɪdʒ, prɪˈseɪdʒ/ ▷ verb (presaged, presaging) 1 to warn of or be a warning sign of something; to foreshadow, forebode or portend. 2 to have a premonition about something. ▷ noun, formal or literary 1 a portent, warning or omen. 2 a premonition. ■ presageful /prɪˈseɪdʒfəl/ adj. ■ presager noun. ⓘ 14c: from French présage, from Latin praesagium, from praesagire to forebode.

presbyopia /prezbɪˈoʊpɪə/ ▷ noun, ophthalmol difficulty in focusing the eye on nearby objects, a defect that becomes more common in old age, caused by decreased elasticity of the lens of the eye. ■ presbyopic /-bɪˈɒpɪk/ adj. ⓘ 18c: Latin, from Greek presbys old man + ops eye.

presbyter /ˈprezbɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun, Christianity 1 in the early Christian church: an administrative official with some teaching and priestly duties. 2 in episcopal churches: a priest. 3 in presbyterian churches: an elder. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from Greek presbyteros an older man, from presbys old man.

presbyterian /prezbɪˈtɪərɪən/ ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to church administration by presbyters or elders. 2 (often Presbyterian) designating a church governed by elders. ▷ noun (Presbyterian) a member of a presbyterian church. ⓘ 17c.

presbytery /ˈprezbɪtərɪ/ ▷ noun, Christianity (presbyteries) 1 in a presbyterian church: an area of local administration. 2 a body of ministers and elders, especially one sitting as a local church court. 3 archit the eastern section of a church, beyond the choir. 4 the residence of a Roman Catholic priest. ⓘ 15c: from French presbiterie priest's house, from Latin presbyterium; see PRESBYTER.

preschool ▷ adj denoting or relating to children before they are old enough to attend school ◻ preschool playgroups. ⓘ 1920s.

preschool education ▷ noun the education of children who have not yet reached the statutory school age, which may be provided in a nursery, kindergarten, playgroup, etc.

prescience /ˈpresɪəns/ ▷ noun foreknowledge; foresight. ■ prescient adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin praescire to know beforehand, from scire to know.

prescribe /prɪˈskraɪb/ ▷ verb (prescribed, prescribing) 1 said especially of a doctor: to advise (a medicine) as a remedy, especially by completing a prescription. 2 to recommend officially (eg a text for academic study). 3 to lay down or establish (a duty, penalty, etc) officially. ■ prescriber noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin praescribere to write down beforehand, from scribere to write.

> prescribe
>
> A word sometimes confused with this one is proscribe.

prescript /ˈpriːskrɪpt/ ▷ noun, formal a law, rule, principle, etc that has been laid down. ⓘ 16c: from Latin praescriptum, from praescribere to write down beforehand.

prescription /prɪˈskrɪpʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a a set of written instructions from a doctor to a pharmacist regarding the preparation and dispensing of a drug, etc for a particular patient; b the drug, etc prescribed in this way by a doctor; c as adj ◻ prescription drugs. 2 a a set of written instructions for an optician stating the type of lenses required to correct a patient's vision; b as adj ◻ prescription sunglasses. 3 the act of prescribing. 4 law uninterrupted use or possession of property over a period of time fixed by law, after which a title or right is acquired. ● on prescription said of medicines: available only on the presentation to the pharmacist of a prescription from a doctor. ⓘ 14c: from Latin praescriptio an order; see PRESCRIBE.

prescriptive /prɪˈskrɪptɪv/ ▷ adj 1 authoritative; laying down rules. 2 said of a right, etc: established by custom. ⓘ 18c.

prescriptivism ▷ noun 1 grammar an authoritarian approach to language which advocates the strict application of certain rules governing how it should and should not be used, eg the avoidance of split infinitives or the use of 'I shall' rather than 'I will' to express future time. It is now generally frowned upon by linguists, teachers, etc because it fails to take into account how language is used and its potential for creativity. 2 philos the theory that moral judgements prescribe some course of action. Compare DESCRIPTIVISM. ⓘ 1950s.

preseason ▷ noun the period before a sporting, etc season starts.

presence /ˈprezəns/ ▷ noun 1 the state or circumstance of being present. 2 someone's company or nearness ◻ He said so in my presence ◻ Your presence is requested. 3 physical bearing, especially if it is commanding or authoritative ◻ people with presence. 4 a being felt to be close by, especially in a supernatural way. 5 a situation or activity demonstrating influence or power in a place ◻ maintain a military presence in the area. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin praesentia, from praeesse to be before or at hand.

presence of mind ▷ noun the ability to act calmly and sensibly, especially in an emergency.

present[1] /ˈprezənt/ ▷ adj 1 being at the place or occasion in question. 2 existing, detectable or able to be found. 3 existing now ◻ the present situation. 4 now being considered ◻ the present subject. 5 grammar said of the tense of a verb: indicating action that is taking place now, or action that is continuing or habitual, as in I walk the dog every morning and He's going to school. ▷ noun 1 the present time. 2 grammar a the present tense; b a verb in the present tense. Compare PAST, PERFECT, IMPERFECT, PLUPERFECT, FUTURE. 3 (presents) old use, law the present document; this statement, these words, etc. ● at present now. ● for the present for the time being. ⓘ 13c: from Latin praesens, praesentis.

present[2] /prɪˈzent/ ▷ verb (presented, presenting) 1 to give or award something, especially formally or ceremonially ◻ presented them with gold medals. 2 to introduce (a person), especially formally. 3 to introduce or compère (a TV or radio show). 4 to stage (a play), show (a film), etc. 5 to offer something for consideration; to submit. 6 to pose; to set ◻ shouldn't present any problem. 7 said of an idea: to suggest (itself). 8 to hand over (a cheque) for acceptance or (a bill) for payment. 9 to set out something ◻ presents her work neatly. 10 to depict or represent something or someone. 11 to put on (a specified appearance) in public. 12 to offer (one's compliments) formally. 13 to hold (a weapon) in aiming position. See also present arms below. 14 intr, medicine a to report to a doctor with certain symptoms or signs; b said of an illness, disease, etc: to manifest. 15 intr, obstetrics said of a baby's head or buttocks in childbirth: to be in a position to emerge first. ● present arms to hold a rifle or other weapon vertically in front of one as a salute. ● present oneself to appear in person. ⓒ 13c: from French presenter, from Latin praesentare to place before.

present³ /ˈprɛzənt/ ▷ noun something given; a gift. ⓒ 13c: French, from the phrase mettre une chose en present à quelqu'un to put something in the PRESENCE of someone, hence to offer as a gift to someone.

presentable /prɪˈzɛntəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 fit to be seen or to appear in company, etc. 2 passable; satisfactory. ● presentability noun. ● presentably adverb. ⓒ 19c: from PRESENT².

presentation /prɛzənˈteɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of presenting. 2 the manner in which something is presented, laid out, explained or advertised. 3 something performed for an audience, eg a play, show or other entertainment. 4 a formal report, usually delivered verbally. 5 obstetrics the position of a baby in the womb just before birth, ie whether with the head or buttocks downward.

present-day ▷ adj modern; contemporary.

presenter ▷ noun 1 broadcasting someone who introduces a programme and provides a linking commentary between items. 2 someone who presents (see PRESENT²).

presentiment /prɪˈzɛntɪmənt/ ▷ noun a feeling that something, especially something bad, is about to happen, just before it does. ⓒ 18c: French, from pressentir to sense beforehand.

presently /ˈprɛzəntlɪ/ ▷ adverb 1 soon; shortly. 2 N Amer, especially US at the present time; now.

presentment ▷ noun 1 an act of presenting or the state of being presented. 2 law the act of presenting information before a court, especially information known to a jury under oath.

present participle see under PARTICIPLE.

present perfect see under PERFECT.

preservation order ▷ noun a legally binding directive ordering the preservation of a building deemed to be historically important.

preservative /prɪˈzɜːvətɪv/ ▷ noun a chemical substance that, when added to food or other perishable material, slows down or prevents its decay by bacteria and fungi. ▷ adj having the effect of preserving.

preserve /prɪˈzɜːv/ ▷ verb (preserved, preserving) 1 to save something from loss, damage, decay or deterioration. 2 to treat (food), eg by freezing, smoking, drying, pickling or boiling in sugar, so that it will last. 3 to maintain (eg peace, the status quo, standards, etc). 4 to keep safe from danger or death. ▷ noun 1 an area of work or activity that is restricted to certain people □ Politics was once a male preserve. 2 an area of land or water where creatures are protected for private hunting, shooting or fishing □ game preserve. 3 a jam, pickle or other form in which fruit or vegetables are preserved by cooking in sugar, salt, vinegar, etc. ● preservable adj. ● preservation noun. ● preserver noun. ⓒ 14c: from Latin praeservare to guard beforehand, from servare to guard.

preset /priːˈsɛt/ ▷ verb to adjust (a piece of electronic equipment, etc) so that it will operate at the required time. ▷ noun /ˈpriːsɛt/ a device or facility for presetting. ⓒ 1940s.

preshrink ▷ verb to shrink (fabric) during manufacture, in order to prevent further shrinkage when it has been made into garments. ⓒ 1930s.

preside /prɪˈzaɪd/ ▷ verb (presided, presiding) intr (often preside at or over something) 1 to take the lead at (an event), the chair at (a meeting, etc); to be in charge. 2 to dominate; to be a dominating presence in (a place, etc) □ His statue presides over the park. ⓒ 17c: from Latin praesidere to command, from prae before + sedere to sit.

presidency /ˈprɛzɪdənsɪ/ ▷ noun (presidencies) the rank, office or term of a president.

president /ˈprɛzɪdənt/ ▷ noun 1 (often President) the elected head of state in a republic. 2 the chief office-bearer in a society or club. 3 especially US the head of a business organization, eg the chairman of a company, governor of a bank, etc. 4 the head of some colleges or other higher-education institutions. ● presidential /-ˈdɛnʃəl/ adj. ⓒ 14c: from Latin praesidens; see PRESIDE.

presiding officer ▷ noun the person in charge of a POLLING STATION.

presidium or praesidium /prɪˈsɪdɪəm/ ▷ noun (presidiums or presidia) (often with capital) in a Communist state: a standing executive committee. ⓒ 1920s: from Russian prezidium, from Latin praesidium a guard or garrison.

press¹ ▷ verb (presses, pressed, pressing) 1 a tr & intr to push steadily, especially with the finger □ press the bell. b (often press against or on or down on something) to push it; to apply pressure to it □ press down on the accelerator. 2 to hold something firmly against something; to flatten □ pressed her nose against the glass. 3 to compress or squash. 4 to squeeze (eg someone's hand) affectionately. 5 to preserve (plants) by flattening and drying, eg between the pages of a book. 6 a to squeeze (fruit) to extract juice; b to extract (juice) from fruit by squeezing. 7 to iron (clothes, etc). 8 to urge or compel someone; to ask them insistently. 9 to insist on something; to urge recognition or discussion of it □ press your claim □ press the point. 10 law to bring (charges) officially against someone. 11 to produce (eg a RECORD noun 4) from a mould by a compressing process. ▷ noun (presses) 1 an act of pressing. 2 any apparatus for pressing, flattening, squeezing, etc. 3 a PRINTING PRESS. 4 the process or art of printing. 5 a PRINTING HOUSE. 6 a (the press) newspapers or journalists in general; b as adj belonging or relating to the newspaper industry □ a press photographer. 7 newspaper publicity or reviews received by a show, book, etc □ got a poor press. 8 a crowd □ a press of onlookers. 9 Scottish a cupboard. ● go to press said of a book, etc: to be sent for printing. ⓒ 13c: from French presser, from Latin pressare, pressum to press.

■ press for something to demand it □ press for a payrise.

■ press on, ahead or forward to hurry on; to continue, especially in spite of difficulties.

■ press something on someone to insist on giving it to them.

the press

There is often uncertainty as to whether collective nouns such as press should be followed by a singular or plural verb. Either is correct, depending on whether the group is being thought of as a single unit or as a number of individuals.

press² ▷ verb (presses, pressed, pressing) 1 to force (men) into the army or navy. 2 (especially press something or someone into service) to put it or them to use in a way that was not originally intended. ⓒ 16c: from older prest to recruit into military service, originally 'enlistment money'.

press agent ▷ noun someone who arranges newspaper advertising or publicity for a performer or other celebrity, etc.

press box ▷ noun an area at a stadium, arena, etc set aside for use by the press (see PRESS¹ noun 6).

press conference and news conference ▷ noun an interview granted to reporters by a politician or other person in the news, for the purpose of announcing something, answering questions, etc.

press cutting ▷ noun a paragraph or article cut from a newspaper, etc.

pressed ▷ adj said of a person: under pressure; in a hurry. ● be hard pressed to be in difficulties □ I'll be hard pressed to find a replacement. ● be pressed for something colloq to be short of it, especially time or money.

press gallery ▷ noun in the UK: the gallery reserved for journalists in parliament or the law courts.

pressgang ▷ noun, historical a gang employed to seize men and force them into the army or navy. ▷ verb (pressganged, pressganging) 1 to force (men) into the army or navy. 2 facetious to coerce someone into something.

pressie or prezzie /ˈprɛzɪ/ ▷ noun, colloq a present or gift. ◷ 1930s: from PRESENT².

pressing ▷ adj urgent □ pressing engagements. ▷ noun 1 in the music industry: a number of records produced from a single mould. 2 sport the tactic of pressurizing opponents when they have possession, in order to try and win possession from them, eg by marking very closely.

pressman and presswoman ▷ noun a journalist or reporter.

press officer ▷ noun someone employed by an organization to give information about it to journalists.

press proof ▷ noun, printing the final proof before the text is printed.

press release ▷ noun an official statement given to the press by an organization, etc.

press stud ▷ noun a type of button-like fastener, one part of which is pressed into the other. Also called POPPER.

press-up ▷ noun an exercise performed face down, raising and lowering the body on the arms while keeping the trunk and legs rigid. ◷ 1940s.

pressure /ˈprɛʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 physics the force exerted on a surface divided by the area of the surface to which it is applied. 2 the act of pressing or process of being pressed. 3 force or coercion; forceful persuasion. 4 urgency; strong demand □ work under pressure. 5 tension or stress □ the pressures of family life. ▷ verb (pressured, pressuring) to try to persuade; to coerce, force or pressurize. ◷ 14c: from Latin pressura, from premere to press.

pressure cooker ▷ noun a thick-walled pan with an airtight lid, in which food is cooked at speed by steam under high pressure.

pressure gauge ▷ noun, physics a gauge which measures the pressure of liquids or gases in enclosed vessels and containers, such as boilers and pipes.

pressure group ▷ noun a number of people who join together to influence public opinion and government policy on some issue.

pressure point ▷ noun any of various points on the body where pressure can be exerted to relieve pain, control the flow of arterial blood, etc.

pressure sore see BEDSORE

pressurize or pressurise /ˈprɛʃəraɪz/ ▷ verb (pressurized, pressurizing) 1 to adjust the pressure within (an enclosed compartment such as an aircraft cabin) so that nearly normal atmospheric pressure is constantly maintained. 2 to put pressure on someone or something; to force or coerce □ I pressurized him into resigning. ◷ 1940s.

pressurized water reactor ▷ noun (abbreviation PWR) a type of nuclear reactor that uses normal water (as opposed to HEAVY WATER) under very high pressure as a coolant and moderator. ◷ 1960s.

prestidigitation /prɛstɪdɪdʒɪˈteɪʃən/ ▷ noun SLEIGHT OF HAND. ● prestidigitator noun. ◷ 19c: from French prestidigitateur, from preste nimble + Latin digitus finger.

prestige /prɛˈstiːʒ/ ▷ noun 1 fame, distinction or reputation due to rank or success. 2 a influence; glamour □ a job with prestige; b as adj □ prestige cars. ● prestigious /prɛˈstɪdʒəs/ adj. ◷ 19c in sense 1; 17c in obsolete sense 'illusion': from Latin praestigiae sleight of hand or magic tricks.

presto /ˈprɛstoʊ/ music ▷ adverb in a very fast manner. ▷ adj very fast. ▷ noun (prestos) a piece of music to be played in this way. ● hey presto see separate entry. ◷ 17c: Italian, meaning 'quick', from Latin praestus, from praesto ready.

pre-stressed ▷ adj said of concrete: embedded with stretched wires or rods in order to increase its tensile strength.

presumably /prɪˈzjuːməblɪ, -ˈzuːm-/ ▷ adverb I suppose; probably.

presume /prɪˈzjuːm, -ˈzuːm/ ▷ verb (presumed, presuming) 1 to suppose (something to be the case) without proof; to take something for granted □ presumed he was dead. 2 to be bold enough; especially without the proper right or knowledge; to venture □ wouldn't presume to advise the experts. ◷ 14c: from Latin praesumere to take in advance.

■ presume on or upon someone or something 1 to rely or count on them or it, especially unduly. 2 to take unfair advantage of (someone's good nature, etc).

presumption /prɪˈzʌmpʃən/ ▷ noun 1 ▷ something presumed □ The presumption was that her first husband was dead. 2 grounds or justification for presuming something. 3 inappropriate boldness in one's behaviour towards others; insolence or arrogance. 4 the act of presuming. ◷ 13c: from Latin praesumptio, praesumptionis.

presumptive /prɪˈzʌmptɪv/ ▷ adj 1 presumed rather than absolutely certain. 2 giving grounds for presuming. See also HEIR PRESUMPTIVE.

presumptuous /prɪˈzʌmptʃʊəs/ ▷ adj over-bold in behaviour, especially towards others; insolent or arrogant. ● presumptuously adverb. ● presumptuousness noun.

presuppose /priːsəˈpoʊz/ ▷ verb 1 to take for granted, to assume as true. 2 to require as a necessary condition; to imply the existence of something. ● presupposition noun. ◷ 15c.

pre-tax ▷ adj before the deduction of tax □ pre-tax profits. Compare AFTER-TAX.

pretence or (US) pretense /prɪˈtɛns/ noun 1 the act of pretending. 2 make-believe. 3 an act someone puts on deliberately to mislead. 4 a claim, especially an unjustified one □ make no pretence to expert knowledge. 5 show, affectation or ostentation; pretentiousness. 6 (usually pretences) a misleading declaration of intention □ won their support under false pretences. 7 show or semblance □ abandoned all pretence of fair play. ◷ 15c: from French pretensse, from Latin praetendere to PRETEND.

pretend /prɪˈtɛnd/ ▷ verb (pretended, pretending) 1 tr & intr to make believe; to act as if, or give the impression that, something is the case when it is not □ Let's pretend we're dinosaurs □ pretend to be asleep. 2 tr & intr to imply or claim falsely □ pretended not to know. 3 to claim to feel something; to profess something falsely □ pretend friendship towards someone. ▷ adj, colloq especially used by or to children: imaginary □ a pretend cave. ◷ 15c: from Latin praetendere to stretch forth.

■ pretend to something 1 to claim to have (a skill, etc), especially falsely. 2 historical to lay claim, especially doubtful claim, to (eg the throne).

pretender ▷ noun someone who pretends or pretended to something, especially the throne.

pretension /prɪˈtenʃən/ ▷ noun 1 foolish vanity, self-importance or affectation; pretentiousness. 2 a claim or aspiration ▫ had no pretensions to elegance. ⊙ 17c: see PRETEND.

pretentious /prɪˈtenʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 pompous, self-important or foolishly grandiose. 2 phoney or affected. 3 showy; ostentatious. • pretentiously adverb. • pretentiousness noun. ⊙ 19c.

preterite /ˈpretərɪt/ ▷ noun, grammar 1 a verb tense that expresses past action, eg hit, moved, ran. 2 a verb in this tense. ▷ adj denoting this tense. ⊙ 14c: from Latin tempus praeteritum past time.

preterm /priːˈtɜːm/ ▷ adj, adverb born or occurring before the end of the normal length of a pregnancy.

preternatural /priːtəˈnatʃərəl/ ▷ adj 1 exceeding the normal; uncanny; extraordinary. 2 supernatural. • preternaturally adverb. ⊙ 16c: from Latin praeter naturam beyond nature.

pretext /ˈpriːtekst/ ▷ noun a false reason given for doing something in order to disguise the real one; an excuse. ⊙ 16c: from Latin praetextum, from praetexere to weave before or to disguise.

prettify /ˈprɪtɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (prettifies, prettified, prettifying) to attempt to make something or someone prettier by superficial ornamentation. • prettification noun. ⊙ 19c.

pretty /ˈprɪtɪ/ ▷ adj (prettier, prettiest) 1 usually said of a woman or girl: facially attractive, especially in a feminine way. 2 charming to look at; decorative. 3 said of music, sound, etc: delicately melodious. 4 neat, elegant or skilful ▫ a pretty solution. 5 ironic grand; fine ▫ a pretty mess. ▷ adverb fairly; satisfactorily; rather; decidedly. • prettily adverb. • prettiness noun. • pretty much colloq more or less. • pretty nearly almost. • pretty well colloq almost; more or less. • sitting pretty see under SIT. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon prættig astute.

a pretty pass ▷ noun (especially come to or reach a pretty pass) a deplorable state of affairs.

pretty-pretty ▷ adj, derog colloq pretty in an over-sweet way.

pretzel /ˈpretsəl/ ▷ noun a crisp salted biscuit in the shape of a knot. ⊙ 19c: German.

prevail /prɪˈveɪl/ ▷ verb (prevailed, prevailing) intr 1 (often prevail over or against someone or something) to be victorious; to win through ▫ Common sense prevailed. 2 to be the common, usual or generally accepted thing. 3 to be predominant. ⊙ 16c: from Latin praevalere to prove superior.

> ■ prevail on or upon someone or something to persuade them or appeal to it.

prevailing ▷ adj most common or frequent.

prevailing wind ▷ noun the most frequently observed wind-direction in a particular region over a given period of time.

prevalent /ˈprevələnt/ ▷ adj common; widespread. • prevalence noun. • prevalently adverb. ⊙ 16c: see PREVAIL.

prevaricate /prɪˈvarɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb (prevaricated, prevaricating) intr to avoid stating the truth or coming directly to the point; to behave or speak evasively. • prevarication noun. • prevaricator noun. ⊙ 17c: from Latin praevaricari, praevaricatus to walk with splayed legs, from varus bent.

prevent /prɪˈvent/ ▷ verb (prevented, preventing) 1 to stop someone from doing something, or something from happening; to hinder. 2 to stop the occurrence of something beforehand or to make it impossible; to avert.

> prevaricate, procrastinate
>
> • Both words are to do with failure to deal with a matter or to answer a question immediately or promptly, and they are sometimes confused.
>
> • If you prevaricate, you respond to a question but avoid a direct or truthful answer, and you are therefore not being totally honest.
>
> • If you procrastinate, you don't deal with the matter at all but put it off to some later time.

• preventable or preventible adj. ⊙ 16c: from Latin praevenire to anticipate or come before.

prevention ▷ noun 1 an act or process of preventing. 2 hindrance or obstruction.

preventive or preventative ▷ adj 1 tending or intended to prevent or hinder. 2 medicine tending or intended to prevent disease or illness. 3 in the UK: relating or belonging to the Coastguard or the department of Customs and Excise dealing with the prevention of smuggling. ▷ noun 1 a preventive drug. 2 a precautionary measure taken against something. ⊙ 17c.

preventive detention ▷ noun a term of imprisonment for a habitual or dangerous criminal.

preventive medicine ▷ noun the branch of medicine concerned with the prevention of disease, as opposed to its treatment and cure.

preview /ˈpriːvjuː/ ▷ noun 1 an advance view. 2 an advance showing of a film, play, exhibition, etc before it is presented to the general public. ▷ verb to show or view (a film, etc) in advance to a select audience. ⊙ 19c.

previous /ˈpriːvɪəs/ ▷ adj 1 earlier ▫ a previous occasion. 2 former ▫ the previous chairman. 3 prior ▫ a previous engagement. 4 facetious premature; over-prompt or over-hasty. 5 (usually previous to something) before (an event, etc). • previously adverb. ⊙ 17c: from Latin praevius leading the way, from prae before + via way.

pre-war ▷ adj belonging or relating to the period before a war, especially World War I or II. Also as adverb ▫ We met pre-war. ⊙ Early 20c.

pre-wash ▷ noun a preliminary wash before the main wash, especially in a washing machine. ▷ verb 1 to wash (jeans, etc) before sale. 2 to wash (very dirty clothes, etc) before a normal wash. ⊙ 1960s.

prey /preɪ/ ▷ singular or plural noun 1 an animal or animals hunted as food by another animal ▫ in search of prey. 2 a victim or victims ▫ easy prey for muggers. 3 (usually a prey to something) someone liable to suffer from (an illness, a bad feeling, etc). ▷ verb (preyed, preying) intr (now especially prey on or upon something or someone) 1 said of an animal: to hunt or catch (another animal) as food. 2 a to bully, exploit or terrorize as victims; b to afflict them in an obsessive way ▫ preyed on by anxieties. ⊙ 13c: from French preie, from Latin praeda booty.

> prey
>
> A word often confused with this one is prey

prezzie see PRESSIE

prial see under PAIR-ROYAL

priapism /ˈpraɪəpɪzəm/ ▷ noun, medicine persistent abnormal erection of the penis, which may be a symptom of spinal injury, or of various diseases and disorders. ⊙ 17c: from Latin priapismus, from Greek Priapos the Greek and Roman god of procreation.

price ▷ noun 1 the amount, usually in money, for which a thing is sold or offered. 2 what must be given up or suffered in gaining something ▫ the price of celebrity. 3 the sum by which someone may be bribed. 4 betting odds. ▷ verb (priced, pricing) 1 to fix a price for or mark a price on something. 2 to find out the price of something. ● a price on someone's head a reward offered for capturing or killing them. ● at a price at great expense. ● at any price no matter what it costs, eg in terms of money, sacrifice, etc. ● beyond or without price invaluable. ⓘ 13c: from French pris, from Latin pretium.

price control ▷ noun a maximum or, rarely, minimum limit set on prices by the government.

price-fixing ▷ noun, commerce the fixing of a price by agreement between suppliers. ⓘ 1920s.

priceless ▷ adj 1 too valuable to have a price; inestimably precious. 2 colloq hilariously funny. ● pricelessly adverb. ● pricelessness noun.

price tag ▷ noun 1 a label showing a price. 2 the cost of something, eg a proposed building, etc.

price war ▷ noun a form of commercial competition in which retailers in the same market successively lower their prices to gain a larger share of that market.

pricey or pricy ▷ adj (pricier, priciest) colloq expensive. ⓘ 1930s.

prick ▷ verb (pricked, pricking) 1 to pierce slightly with a fine point. 2 to make (a hole) by this means. 3 tr & intr to hurt something or someone by this means. 4 tr & intr to smart or make something smart □ feel one's eyes pricking. 5 tr & intr (also prick up) a said of a dog, horse, etc: to stick (its ears) upright in response to sound; b said of a dog's, etc ears: to stand erect in this way. 6 to mark out (a pattern) in punctured holes. 7 to trouble □ His conscience must be pricking him. 8 to plant (seedlings, etc) in an area of soil that had had small holes marked out on it. ▷ noun 1 an act of pricking or feeling of being pricked. 2 the pain of this. 3 a puncture made by pricking. 4 slang the penis. 5 derog slang an abusive term for a man, especially a self-important fool. ● kick against the pricks to react in vain against discipline or authority. ● prick up one's ears colloq to start listening attentively. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon prica point.

prickle /ˈprɪkəl/ ▷ noun 1 a hard pointed structure growing from the surface of a plant or animal. 2 a pricking sensation. ▷ verb (prickled, prickling) tr & intr to cause, affect something with or be affected with, a prickling sensation. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon pricel.

prickly ▷ adj (pricklier, prickliest) 1 covered with or full of prickles. 2 causing prickling. 3 colloq said of a person: irritable; over-sensitive. 4 said of a topic: liable to cause controversy. ● prickliness noun. ⓘ 16c.

prickly heat ▷ noun an itchy skin rash, most common in hot humid weather, caused by blockage of the sweat ducts. Technical equivalent miliaria /mɪlɪˈɛərɪə/.

prickly pear ▷ noun 1 any of various low-growing cacti with flattened or cylindrical spiny stem joints and bright yellow, orange or reddish flowers. See also OPUNTIA. 2 the large prickly reddish pear-shaped fruit of this plant, the juicy flesh and seeds of which are edible in some species. ⓘ 17c.

pride ▷ noun 1 a feeling of pleasure and satisfaction at one's own or another's accomplishments, possessions, etc. 2 the source of this feeling □ That car is my pride and joy. 3 self-respect; personal dignity. 4 an unjustified assumption of superiority; arrogance. 5 poetic the finest state; the prime. 6 the finest item □ the pride of the collection. 7 a number of lions keeping together as a group. ▷ verb (prided, priding) (always pride oneself on something) to congratulate oneself on account of it □ prided himself on his youthful figure. ● swallow one's pride see under SWALLOW¹. ● take pride or take a pride in something or someone 1 to be proud of it or them. 2 to be conscientious about maintaining high standards in (one's work, etc). ⓘ Anglo-Saxon pryde.

pride of place ▷ noun special prominence; the position of chief importance.

prie-dieu /priːˈdjɜː/ ▷ noun (prie-dieux or prie-dieus) a praying-desk which has a low surface on which to kneel and a support for a book or books. ⓘ 18c: French, meaning 'pray-God'.

pries and pried see under PRY¹, PRY² priest /priːst/ ▷ noun 1 a in the Roman Catholic and Orthodox churches: an ordained minister authorized to administer the sacraments; b in the Anglican church: a minister ranking between deacon and bishop. 2 in non-Christian religions: an official who performs sacrifices and other religious rites. ● priestly adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon preost from Latin presbyter elder.

priestess ▷ noun in non-Christian religions: a female priest.

priesthood ▷ noun 1 the office of a priest. 2 the role or character of a priest. 3 priests collectively □ members of the priesthood.

priest's hole ▷ noun, historical a hiding place, especially a concealed room where a member of the clergy could hide during religious persecution.

prig ▷ noun someone who is self-righteously moralistic. ● priggery noun. ● priggish adj. ● priggishly adverb. ● priggishness noun. ⓘ 18c; 16c in obsolete sense 'a tinker'.

prim ▷ adj (primmer, primmest) 1 stiffly formal, over-modest or over-proper. 2 prudishly disapproving. ▷ verb (primmed, primming) 1 to purse (the mouth, lips, etc) into an expression of primness. 2 to make something prim. ● primly adverb. ● primness noun. ⓘ 17c.

prima ballerina /ˈpriːmə —/ ▷ noun the leading female dancer in a ballet company. ⓘ 19c: Italian, meaning 'first ballerina'.

primacy /ˈpraɪməsɪ/ ▷ noun (primacies) 1 the condition of being first in rank, importance or order. 2 the rank, office or area of jurisdiction of a PRIMATE of the church. ⓘ 14c: from Latin primatia, from primus first.

prima donna /ˈpriːmə ˈdɒnə/ ▷ noun (prima donnas) 1 a leading female opera singer. 2 someone difficult to please, , especially someone given to melodramatic tantrums when displeased. ⓘ 18c: Italian, meaning 'first lady'.

primaeval see PRIMEVAL.

prima facie /ˈpraɪmə ˈfeɪʃɪ/ especially law ▷ adverb at first sight; on the evidence available. ▷ adj apparent; based on first impressions □ prima-facie evidence. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'at first sight'.

primal /ˈpraɪməl/ ▷ adj 1 relating to the beginnings of life; original. 2 basic; fundamental. ⓘ 17c: from Latin primalis, from primus first.

primarily /ˈpraɪmərɪlɪ, praɪˈmɛrɪlɪ/ ▷ adverb 1 chiefly; mainly. 2 in the first place; initially. ⓘ 17c.

primary /ˈpraɪmərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 first or most important; principal. 2 earliest in order or development. 3 (Primary) geol PALAEOZOIC. See also SECONDARY, TERTIARY. 4 basic; fundamental. 5 at the elementary stage or level. 6 said of education, schools, classes etc: for children aged between 5 and 11 □ Jane's in primary six. See also SECONDARY, TERTIARY. 7 said of a bird's wing feather: outermost and longest. 8 firsthand; direct □ primary sources of information. 9 said of a product or industry: being or concerned with produce in its raw natural state. 10 elec a said of a battery or cell: producing electricity by an irreversible chemical reaction; b said of a circuit or current: inducing a current in a neighbouring circuit. ▷ noun (primaries) 1 something that is first or most important. 2 US a preliminary election, especially to select delegates for a presidential election. 3 Brit colloq a primary school □ attends the local primary. 4 a bird's primary feather. 5 (the Primary) the PALAEOZOIC era. See table at GEOLOGICAL TIME SCALE. ⓘ 15c: from Latin primarius, from primus first.

primary cell and primary battery ▷ noun, physics a non-rechargeable cell or battery that produces an electric current by chemical reactions that are not readily reversible. Also called voltaic cell.

primary colour ▷ noun 1 said of lights: any of the three colours (red, green and blue-violet) which together give white light, but can also be combined in various proportions to give all the other colours of the spectrum. 2 said of mixing pigments: any of the three colours (red, yellow and blue) which together give black, but can also be combined in various proportions to give all the other colours of the spectrum. ⓘ 17c.

primary school ▷ noun a school, especially a state one, for pupils aged between 5 and 11.

primary sexual characteristics ▷ plural noun, zool sexual features that are present from birth, ie the testes in males and the ovaries in females.

primary stress ▷ noun, linguistics the main STRESS (sense 5) in a word in which there is more than one stress, as in fundamentalism, in which the primary stress is on the syllable -ment-.

primate /ˈpraɪmeɪt, ˈpraɪmət/ ▷ noun 1 zool any member of an order of mammalian vertebrates which have a large brain, forward-facing eyes, nails instead of claws, and hands with grasping thumbs facing the other digits, eg a human, ape, etc. 2 Christianity an archbishop. ⓘ 13c: from Latin primas, primatis, from primus first.

prime ▷ adj 1 chief; fundamental. 2 the best quality. 3 excellent □ in prime condition. 4 supremely typical □ a prime example. 5 having the greatest potential for attracting interest or custom □ prime sites on the high street. ▷ noun the best, most productive or active stage in the life of a person or thing □ cut down in her prime. ▷ verb (primed, priming) 1 to prepare something (eg wood for painting) by applying a sealing coat of size, etc, (a gun or explosive device for firing or detonating) by inserting the igniting material, or (a pump for use) by filling it with water, etc. 2 to supply with the necessary facts in advance; to brief. 3 facetious to supply someone with drink or food by way of relaxing, emboldening or bribing them. ⓘ 14c: from Latin primus first.

prime cost ▷ noun the basic amount it costs in terms of labour, raw materials, etc to produce something.

prime lending rate see PRIME RATE prime meridian ▷ noun, geog 1 a MERIDIAN chosen to represent 0, especially that passing through Greenwich, UK, from which other lines of longitude are calculated. 2 any representation of this, eg on a map.

prime minister ▷ noun (abbreviation PM) the chief minister of a government. ⓘ 17c.

prime mover ▷ noun the force that is most effective in setting something in motion.

prime number ▷ noun, math a whole number that can only be divided by itself and 1, eg 3, 5, 7, 11, etc.

primer[1] /ˈpraɪmə(r)/ ▷ noun a first or introductory book of instruction. ⓘ 14c: from Latin primarium, from primarius primary.

primer[2] /ˈpraɪmə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 any material that is used to provide an initial coating for a surface before it is painted. 2 a a preparatory first coat of paint; b the particular type of paint used for this. 3 any device that ignites or detonates an explosive charge. ⓘ 18c in sense 3.

prime rate and prime lending rate ▷ noun, econ the lending rate, lower than other commerical lending rates, at which a bank will lend to its best customers, usually large companies or corporations.

prime time ▷ noun, radio & TV a period attracting the highest number of listeners or viewers. Also as adj □ prime-time viewing.

primeval or primaeval /praɪˈmiːvəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating or belonging to the Earth's beginnings. 2 primitive. 3 instinctive. ⓘ 18c: from Latin primaevus young, from primus first + aevum age.

primigravida /praɪmɪˈgravɪdə/ ▷ noun (primigravidae /-diː/ or primigravidas) obstetrics a woman who is pregnant for the first time. Compare MULTIGRAVIDA. ⓘ 19c: from Latin primus first + gravida pregnant.

primipara /praɪˈmɪpərə/ ▷ noun (primiparae /-riː/ or primiparas) a woman who has given birth for the first time or is about to do so. Compare MULTIPARA. ⓘ 19c: from Latin primus first + parere to bring forth.

primitive /ˈprɪmɪtɪv/ ▷ adj 1 relating or belonging to earliest times or the earliest stages of development. 2 simple, rough, crude or rudimentary. 3 art simple, naive or unsophisticated in style. 4 biol original; belonging to an early stage of development. ▷ noun 1 an unsophisticated person or thing. 2 a a work by an artist in naive style; b an artist who produces such a work. ● primitively adverb. ● primitiveness noun. ⓘ 18c: from Latin primitivus, meaning 'first of its kind', from primus first.

primitivism ▷ noun, art the deliberate rejection of Western techniques and skills in pursuit of stronger effects found, for example, in African tribal or Oceanic art. ⓘ 19c.

primly, primmer, primmest and primness see under PRIM primo /ˈpriːmoʊ/ ▷ noun (primos or primi /-miː/) music the upper or right-hand part in a piano duet. ⓘ 18c: Italian, meaning 'first'.

primogenitor /praɪmoʊˈdʒenɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a forefather or ancestor. 2 the earliest known ancestor of a race or people. ⓘ 17c: Latin, see PRIMOGENITURE.

primogeniture /praɪmoʊˈdʒenɪtʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the fact or condition of being the firstborn child. 2 the right or principle of succession or inheritance of an eldest son. ⓘ 17c: from Latin primogenitura, from primo first + genitura birth.

primordial /praɪˈmɔːdɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 existing from the beginning; formed earliest □ primordial matter. 2 biol relating to an early stage in growth. ● primordiality noun. ● primordially adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin primordialis, from primus first + ordiri to begin.

primordial soup see under SOUP

primp ▷ verb (primped, primping) tr & intr to groom, preen or titivate. ⓘ 19c: related to PRIM.

primrose /ˈprɪmroʊz/ ▷ noun 1 a small perennial plant with a rosette of oval leaves, and long-stalked flowers with five pale yellow or (occasionally) pink petals. 2 (in full primrose yellow) a the pale-yellow colour of these flowers; b as adj □ a primrose dress. ⓘ 15c: from Latin prima rosa first rose (it flowers in early spring).

primrose path ▷ noun an untroubled pleasurable way of life.

primula /ˈprɪmjʊlə/ ▷ noun (primulae /-liː/ or primulas) any of various N temperate plants with white, pink, purple or yellow flowers with five spreading petals, including the primrose, cowslip and oxslip. ⓘ 18c: from Latin primula veris first little one of the spring.

primum mobile /ˈpraɪməm ˈmoʊbɪlɪ/ ▷ noun something that is considered as an important source or motivation of an action, etc. ⓘ 17c in this sense: Latin, literally 'first moving thing'.

Primus /ˈpraɪməs/ ▷ noun (Primuses) trademark a portable camping stove fuelled by vaporized oil. Also called Primus stove. ⓘ Early 20c.

prince ▷ noun 1 in the UK: the son of a sovereign. 2 a non-reigning male member of a royal or imperial family. 3 a sovereign of a small territory. 4 a ruler or sovereign generally. 5 a nobleman in certain countries. 6 someone or something celebrated or outstanding within a type or class □ the prince of highwaymen. See also PRINCIPALITY. ⓘ 13c: French, from Latin princeps leader.

Prince Albert ▷ noun 1 a man's double-breasted frock coat, worn especially in the early 20c. 2 a male genital piercing through the urethra and the head of the penis. ⓘ 20c: named after Prince Albert, the consort of Queen Victoria.

Prince Charming ▷ noun a lover or hero, especially one who epitomizes the stereotypical female ideal of what a man should be in terms of looks, thoughtfulness, etc. ⓘ 19c: from the prince in the tale of Cinderella, originally the name of the hero of Planché's King Charming.

prince consort ▷ noun (princes consort) the title given to a reigning queen's husband, who is himself a prince.

princedom ▷ noun a PRINCIPALITY; the estate, jurisdiction, sovereignty or rank of a prince.

princely ▷ adj 1 characteristic of or suitable for a prince. 2 often ironic lavish; generous □ the princely sum of five pence.

Prince of Darkness ▷ noun Satan.

Prince of Peace ▷ noun the Messiah, believed by Christians to be Jesus Christ.

Prince of Wales ▷ noun in the UK: a title usually conferred on the eldest son of the monarch.

prince regent ▷ noun (princes regent) a prince who rules on behalf of a sovereign who is too ill, young, etc to rule.

princess /ˈprɪnses, prɪnˈses/ ▷ noun (princesses) 1 the wife or daughter of a prince. 2 the daughter of a sovereign. 3 a non-reigning female member of a royal or imperial family. 4 someone or something that is held in high esteem □ Daddy's little princess □ the princess of boats. ⓘ 15c.

Princess Royal ▷ noun (Princesses Royal) in the UK: a title which can be conferred on the eldest daughter of a monarch.

principal /ˈprɪnsɪpəl/ ▷ adj first in rank or importance; chief; main. ▷ noun 1 the head of an educational institution. 2 a leading actor, singer or dancer in a theatrical production. 3 law the person on behalf of whom an agent is acting. 4 law someone ultimately responsible for fulfilling an obligation. 5 someone who commits or participates in a crime. 6 commerce the original sum of money on which interest is paid. 7 music the leading player of each section of an orchestra. ■ principally adverb. ⓘ 13c: French, from Latin principalis chief, from princeps leader.

> principal, principle
>
> These words are often confused with each other.

principal boy ▷ noun the part of the young male hero in a pantomime, usually played by a woman.

principal clause see under MAIN CLAUSE principality /prɪnsɪˈpalɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (principalities) 1 a territory ruled by a prince, or one that he derives his title from. 2 (the Principality) in the UK: Wales. 3 in the traditional medieval hierarchy of nine ranks of angels: an angel of the seventh rank. Compare SERAPH, CHERUB, THRONE, DOMINION, VIRTUE, POWER, ARCHANGEL, ANGEL.

principal parts ▷ plural noun, grammar the main forms of a verb from which all other forms can be deduced, eg in English the infinitive, the past tense and the past participle.

principate /ˈprɪnsɪpeɪt/ ▷ noun 1 the area ruled by a prince; principality. 2 in the early Roman empire: a period of rule in which some republican forms survived.

principle /ˈprɪnsɪpəl/ ▷ noun 1 a general truth or assumption from which to argue. 2 a scientific law, especially one that explains a natural phenomenon or the way a machine works. 3 a general rule of morality that guides conduct; the having of or holding to such rules □ a woman of principle. 4 (principles) a set of such rules. 5 technical a norm of procedure □ the principle of primogeniture. 6 a fundamental element or source □ the vital principle. 7 chem a constituent of a substance that gives it its distinctive characteristics. ■ in principle said especially of agreement or disagreement to a plan, decision or action: in theory; in general, although not necessarily in a particular case □ We approved the scheme in principle, subject to certain adjustments. ■ on principle on the grounds of a particular principle of morality or wisdom. ⓘ 14c: from Latin principium beginning or source.

principled ▷ adj holding, or proceeding from principles, especially high moral principles.

prink ▷ verb (prinked, prinking) tr & intr to dress (oneself) up; to smarten (oneself) up. ⓘ 16c.

print ▷ verb (printed, printing) 1 to reproduce (text or pictures) on paper with ink, using a printing-press or other mechanical means. 2 to publish (a book, article, etc). 3 tr & intr to write in separate, as opposed to joined-up, letters, in the style of mechanically printed text. 4 to make (a positive photograph) from a negative. 5 to mark (a shape, pattern, etc) in or on a surface by pressure. 6 to mark designs on (fabric). 7 to fix (a scene) indelibly (on the memory, etc). ▷ noun 1 often in compounds a mark made on a surface by the pressure of something in contact with it □ pawprint. 2 a FINGERPRINT. 3 hand-done lettering with each letter written separately. 4 a mechanically printed text, especially one produced on a printing press □ small print; b as adj □ print media. 5 a printed publication. 6 a design or picture printed from an engraved wood block or metal plate. 7 a positive photograph made from a negative. 8 a fabric with a printed or stamped design. ■ be in or out of print said of a publication: to be currently available, or no longer available, from a publisher. ⓘ 13c: from French priente, from preindre, from Latin premere to press.

> ■ print something out to produce a printed version, eg of computer data. See also PRINTOUT.

printable ▷ adj 1 capable of being printed. 2 fit to be published.

printed circuit ▷ noun, electronics an electronic circuit in which circuit components are connected by thin strips of a conducting material that are printed or etched on to the surface of a thin board of insulating material. ⓘ 1940s.

printed circuit board ▷ noun (abbreviation PCB) electronics a thin flat board on which strips of conducting material have been printed or etched, and which contains pre-drilled slots into which a variety of circuit components can be inserted.

printer ▷ noun 1 a person or business engaged in printing books, newspapers, etc. 2 a machine that prints, eg photographs. 3 computing any of various types of output device that produce printed copies of text or graphics on to paper.

printing ▷ noun 1 the art or business of producing books, etc in print. 2 the run of books, etc printed all at one time; an impression. 3 the form of handwriting in which the letters are separately written.

printing house ▷ noun a building or establishment where printing is carried out.

printing press ▷ noun any of various machines for printing books, newspapers, etc.

printout ▷ noun, computing output from a computer system in the form of a printed paper copy. See also PRINT SOMETHING OUT at PRINT.

print preview ▷ noun, computing a word-processing facility that allows the operator to see on screen how something will look when it is printed out.

print run ▷ noun the number of copies of a book, newspaper, etc printed at a time.

prior¹ /ˈpraɪə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 said of an engagement: already arranged for the time in question; previous. 2 more urgent or pressing □ a prior claim. ■ prior to something before an event □ prior to departure. ⓘ 18c: Latin, meaning 'previous'.

prior² /ˈpraɪə(r)/ ▷ noun, Christianity 1 the head of a community of certain orders of monks and friars. 2 in an abbey: the deputy of the abbot. ⓘ 11c: Latin, meaning 'head' or 'chief'.

prioress /ˈpraɪərəs/ ▷ noun a female PRIOR².

prioritize or prioritise /praɪˈɒrɪtaɪz/ ▷ verb (prioritized, prioritizing) to schedule something for immediate or earliest attention. ⓘ 1970s: from PRIORITY.

priority /praɪˈɒrɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (priorities) 1 the right to be or go first; precedence or preference. 2 something that must be attended to before anything else. 3 the fact or condition of being earlier. ⓘ 14c: from Latin prioritas, from prior previous.

priory /ˈpraɪərɪ/ ▷ noun (priories) Christianity a religious house under the supervision of a prior or prioress. ⓘ 13c.

prise or (US) prize /praɪz/ ▷ verb (prised, prising) 1 to lever something open, off, out, etc, usually with some difficulty □ prised open the lid □ prised the shell off the rock. 2 to get with difficulty □ prised the truth out of her. See also PRY². ⓘ 17c: French, meaning 'something captured', from Latin prehendere to seize.

prism /ˈprɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 geom a solid figure in which the two ends are matching parallel polygons (eg triangles or squares) and all other surfaces are parallelograms. 2 optics a transparent block, usually of glass and with triangular ends and rectangular sides, that separates a beam of white light into the colours of the visible spectrum. ⓘ 16c: from Greek prisma something sawn, from prizein to saw.

prismatic /prɪzˈmatɪk/ ▷ adj 1 produced by or relating to a prism □ a prismatic compass. 2 said of colour or light: produced or separated by, or as if by, a prism; bright and clear. ■ prismatically adverb.

prison /ˈprɪzən/ ▷ noun 1 a building for the confinement of convicted criminals and certain accused persons awaiting trial. 2 any place of confinement or situation of intolerable restriction. 3 custody; imprisonment. ⓘ 12c: from French prisun, from Latin prehensio a seizing.

prison camp ▷ noun an enclosed guarded camp where prisoners of war or political prisoners are kept.

prisoner ▷ noun 1 someone who is under arrest or confined in prison. 2 a captive, especially in war. ■ take no prisoners to carry out some action right to its conclusions, without holding back for any reason. ■ take someone prisoner to capture and hold them as a prisoner.

prisoner of conscience ▷ noun someone imprisoned for their political beliefs.

prisoner of war ▷ noun (abbreviation POW) someone taken prisoner during a war, especially a member of the armed forces.

prissy /ˈprɪsɪ/ ▷ adj (prissier, prissiest) insipidly prim and prudish. ■ prissily adverb. ■ prissiness noun. ⓘ 19c: probably from PRIM + SISSY.

pristine /ˈprɪstiːn, ˈprɪstaɪn/ ▷ adj 1 fresh, clean, unused or untouched. 2 original; unchanged or unspoilt □ still in its pristine state. 3 former. ⓘ 16c: from Latin pristinus former or early.

prithee /ˈprɪðiː/ ▷ contraction, archaic please. ⓘ 16c: from 'I pray thee'.

privacy /ˈprɪvəsɪ, ˈpraɪ-/ ▷ noun 1 a freedom from intrusion by the public, especially as a right; b someone's right to this □ should respect her privacy. 2 seclusion; secrecy. ⓘ 16c in sense 2.

private /ˈpraɪvət/ ▷ adj 1 not open to, or available for the use of, the general public. 2 said of a person: not holding public office. 3 kept secret from others; confidential. 4 relating to someone's personal, as distinct from their professional, life □ a private engagement. 5 said of thoughts or opinions: personal and usually kept to oneself. 6 quiet and reserved by nature. 7 said of a place: secluded. 8 a not coming under the state system of education, healthcare, social welfare, etc; b paid for or paying individually by fee, etc. 9 said of an industry, etc: owned and run by private individuals, not by the state. 10 said of a soldier: not an officer or NCO. 11 said of a member of parliament: not holding government office. ▷ noun 1 a private soldier. 2 (privates) colloq the PRIVATE PARTS. ■ privately adverb. ■ in private not in public; in secret; confidentially. ⓘ 14c: from Latin privatus withdrawn from public life, from privare to deprive or separate.

private company ▷ noun a company with restrictions on the number of shareholders, whose shares may not be offered to the general public.

private detective and private investigator ▷ noun someone who is not a member of the police force, engaged to do detective work. Also called private eye.

private enterprise ▷ noun the management and financing of industry, etc by private individuals or companies, not by the state.

privateer /praɪvəˈtɪə(r)/ ▷ noun, historical 1 a privately owned ship engaged by a government to seize and plunder an enemy's ships in wartime. 2 (also privateersman) the commander or a crew member of such a ship. ⓘ 17c.

private eye ▷ noun, colloq a PRIVATE DETECTIVE.

private hotel ▷ noun a hotel, usually a small one run by the owner, who is not obliged to accept every prospective guest.

private international law see INTERNATIONAL LAW.

private means and private income ▷ noun income from investments, etc, not from one's employment.

private member ▷ noun a member of a legislative body who does not have ministerial status or hold a government office.

private member's bill ▷ noun, Brit politics a parliamentary bill that is not a scheduled part of government legislature and is put forward by a private member.

private parts ▷ plural noun, euphemistic the external genitals and excretory organs.

private pay bed and pay bed ▷ noun a hospital bed, the occupant of which receives more privacy in exchange for a small payment.

private school ▷ noun a school run independently by an individual or group, especially for profit. Compare PUBLIC SCHOOL, STATE SCHOOL, GRANT-MAINTAINED.

private sector ▷ noun that part of a country's economy consisting of privately owned and operated businesses, etc.

privation /praɪˈveɪʃən/ ▷ noun the condition of not having, or being deprived of, life's comforts or necessities; a lack of something particular. ⓘ 14c: from Latin privatio, privationis deprivation.

privative /ˈprɪvətɪv/ ▷ adj lacking some quality that is usually, or expected to be, present. ⓘ 16c: from Latin privativus, from privare to deprive.

privatize or privatise /ˈpraɪvətaɪz/ ▷ verb (privatized, privatizing) to transfer (a state-owned business) to private ownership. ■ privatization noun. ⓘ 1940s.

privet /ˈprɪvɪt/ ▷ noun any of various evergreen or deciduous shrubs with glossy lance-shaped dark-green leaves and strongly scented creamy-white flowers, used especially in garden hedges. ◎ 16c.

privilege /ˈprɪvɪlɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 a right granted to an individual or a select few, bestowing an advantage not enjoyed by others. 2 advantages and power enjoyed by people of wealth and high social class. 3 an opportunity to do something that brings one delight; a pleasure or honour. ▷ verb 1 tr & intr to grant a right, privilege or special favour to someone or something. 2 (usually privilege someone to do something) to allow them a special right to do it. 3 (usually privilege someone from something) to exempt them from a liability, etc. ◎ 12c: from Latin privilegium prerogative, from privus private + lex, legis law.

privileged ▷ adj 1 enjoying the advantages of wealth and class. 2 favoured with the opportunity to do something.

privity /ˈprɪvɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (privities) 1 law a legally recognized relationship between two parties, eg in a contract, lease, etc. 2 (usually privity to something) the state of being privy (to a secret plans, etc). ◎ 15c; 13c in obsolete sense 'something secret': from French privité, from Latin privus private or secret.

privy /ˈprɪvɪ/ ▷ adj 1 (usually privy to something) allowed to share in (secret discussions, etc) or be in the know about secret plans, happenings, etc. 2 old use secret; hidden. ▷ noun (privies) old use a lavatory. • privily adverb. ◎ 13c: from French privé a private thing, from Latin privatus private.

Privy Council ▷ noun in the UK: a private advisory council appointed by the sovereign, consisting chiefly of current and former members of the Cabinet. Its functions are mainly formal. • Privy Councillor noun. ◎ 14c.

Privy Purse ▷ noun, Brit 1 an allowance granted to the sovereign by Parliament for private expenses. 2 (also Keeper of the Privy Purse) the official in the royal household in charge of paying the royal expenses. ◎ 17c.

privy seal ▷ noun, Brit a seal that is used on certain documents, especially those of lesser importance than the ones which require the GREAT SEAL. ◎ 13c.

prize[1] ▷ noun 1 something won in a competition, lottery, etc. 2 a reward given in recognition of excellence. 3 something striven for, or worth striving for. 4 something captured or taken by force, especially a ship in war; a trophy. 5 as adj a deserving, or having won, a prize □ a prize bull; b highly valued □ her prize possession; c ironic perfect; great □ a prize fool; d belonging or relating to, or given as, a prize. □ prize money. ▷ verb (prized, prizing) to value or regard highly. ◎ 14c: related to PRICE and PRAISE, ultimately from Latin prehendere to seize.

prize[2] see PRISE.

prizefight ▷ noun a boxing-match fought for a money prize. • prizefighter noun. • prizefighting noun. ◎ 19c: from obsolete prize a contest + FIGHT.

PRO ▷ abbreviation 1 Public Records Office. 2 Public Relations Officer.

pro[1] /proʊ/ ▷ prep in favour of something. ▷ noun (pros) a reason, argument or choice in favour of something. See also PROS AND CONS. ▷ adverb, colloq in favour □ thought he would argue pro. Compare ANTI. ◎ 15c: Latin, meaning 'for' or 'on behalf of'.

pro[2] /proʊ/ ▷ noun (pros) colloq 1 a professional. 2 a prostitute. ◎ 19c abbreviation.

pro-[1] /proʊ/ ▷ prefix, denoting 1 in favour of (the specified thing); admiring or supporting □ pro-French. 2 serving in place of (the specified thing); acting for □ proconsul. ◎ Latin.

pro-[2] /proʊ/ ▷ prefix, denoting before (the specified thing) in time or place; in front □ proboscis. ◎ Greek and Latin.

proa /ˈproʊə/, prahu or prau /ˈprɑːuː/ ▷ noun (proas, prahus or praus) a Malay boat, especially a fast one with a large triangular sail and an OUTRIGGER kept to the leeward side. ◎ 16c: from Malay prau.

proactive /proʊˈaktɪv/ ▷ adj 1 actively initiating change in anticipation of future developments, rather than merely reacting to events as they occur. 2 psychol said of a prior mental experience: tending to affect, interfere with or inhibit a subsequent process, especially a learning process. ◎ 1930s: from PRO- 2, modelled on REACTIVE.

pro-am /proʊˈam/ ▷ adj, sport, especially golf said of a tournament: involving both professionals and amateurs. ◎ 1940s: from professional-amateur.

prob ▷ noun, colloq a problem □ OK, no probs. I'll post it off today. ◎ 20c: abbreviation.

probability /prɒbəˈbɪlɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (probabilities) 1 the state of being probable; likelihood. 2 something that is probable. 3 statistics a mathematical expression of the likelihood or chance of a particular event occurring, usually expressed as a fraction or numeral □ a probability of one in four. • in all probability most probably.

probability theory ▷ noun, math the branch of mathematics concerned with the analysis of the likelihood of events occurring. It has important applications in statistics, the development of insurance company schemes, etc.

probable /ˈprɒbəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 likely to happen. 2 likely to be the case; likely to have happened. 3 said of an explanation, etc: likely to be correct; feasible. ▷ noun someone or something likely to be selected. ◎ 14c: from Latin probabilis, from probare to prove.

probably ▷ adverb almost certainly. ◎ 17c.

proband /ˈproʊband/ ▷ noun, genetics someone who is regarded as the starting point for an investigation of the inheritance of a particular disease or disorder within a family. ◎ 1920s: from Latin probandus about to be or needing to be tested, from probare to test.

probang /ˈproʊbaŋ/ ▷ noun, surgery an instrument consisting of a flexible rod with a piece of sponge at the end, which is inserted into the oesophagus so as to apply medication or remove an obstruction. ◎ 17c: named provang by its inventor, but probably influenced by PROBE.

probate /ˈproʊbeɪt/ ▷ noun 1 law the process of establishing that a will is valid. 2 an official copy of a will, with the document certifying its validity. ◎ 15c: from Latin probare, probatum to prove.

probation /prəˈbeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the system whereby offenders, especially young or first offenders, are allowed their freedom under supervision, on condition of good behaviour □ I was put on probation for six months. 2 in certain types of employment: a trial period during which a new employee is observed on the job, to confirm whether or not they can do it satisfactorily. • probationary adj 1 relating to or serving as probation. 2 on probation. 3 consisting of probationers. ◎ 19c in sense 1; 15c, meaning 'trial': from Latin probatio, probationis, from probare to test or prove.

probationer ▷ noun someone on probation.

probation officer ▷ noun someone appointed to advise and supervise an offender on probation.

probe ▷ noun 1 a long, slender and usually metal instrument used by doctors to examine a wound, locate a bullet, etc. 2 a comprehensive investigation. 3 (also space probe) an unmanned spacecraft designed to study conditions in space, especially around one or more planets or their natural satellites. 4 an act of probing; a poke or prod. ▷ verb (probed, probing) (often probe into something) 1 to investigate it closely. 2 tr & intr to examine it with a probe. 3 tr & intr to poke or prod it. ◎ 16c: from Latin proba, from probare to test or prove.

probiotics /proʊbaɪˈɒtɪks/ ▷ singular noun, alternative medicine treatment by taking into the body bacteria that support the useful and harmless bacteria that are already in the body against the harmful ones. ⓘ From PRO-1 and BIOTIC.

probity /ˈproʊbɪtɪ/ ▷ noun integrity; honesty. ⓘ 16c: from Latin probitas, from probus good.

problem /ˈprɒbləm/ ▷ noun 1 a situation or matter that is difficult to understand or deal with ▫ a problem with the software ▫ He's got a drink problem. 2 someone or something that is difficult to deal with. 3 a puzzle or mathematical question set for solving. 4 as adj a said of a child, etc: difficult to deal with, especially in being disruptive or anti-social; b said of a play, etc: dealing with a moral or social problem. ● have a problem with something 1 to be unable or unwilling to associate with it or to understand it ▫ Do you have a problem with her gayness? 2 to be troubled by it ▫ has a problem with gambling. ● no problem colloq 1 said in response to a request, or to thanks: it's a pleasure, no trouble, etc. 2 easily ▫ found our way, no problem. ⓘ 14c: from Greek problema a thing put forward, from proballein to put forth.

problematic /prɒbləˈmatɪk/ and problematical ▷ adj 1 causing problems. 2 uncertain. ● problematically adverb.

problem page ▷ noun a page or section in a magazine that is devoted to dealing with readers' personal problems.

pro bono /proʊˈboʊnoʊ/ ▷ adj, US law 1 said of casework: undertaken free of charge, usually because the client is on a low income or not earning. 2 said of a lawyer: mainly doing this kind of work. ⓘ 18c: Latin; see PRO BONO PUBLICO.

pro bono publico /— ˈpʊblɪkoʊ/ for the public good. ⓘ 18c: Latin.

proboscis /proʊˈbɒsɪs, -ˈboʊsɪs/ ▷ noun (proboscises or proboscides /-sɪdiːz/) 1 zool the flexible elongated snout of the elephant or tapir. 2 entomol the elongated tubular mouthparts of certain insects, eg the butterfly. 3 facetious the human nose. ⓘ 17c: from Greek proboskis, from pro in front + boskein to nourish.

proboscis monkey ▷ noun an Old-World monkey, native to Borneo, with a long tail and a protruding nose, which in adult males becomes bulbous and pendulous.

procaine /ˈproʊkeɪn, proʊˈkeɪn/ ▷ noun, chem a colourless crystalline substance used as a local anaesthetic. See also Novocaine. ⓘ Early 20c: PRO-1 (sense 2) + CO(CAINE).

procaryote see PROKARYOTE

procathedral ▷ noun a church serving as a temporary cathedral. ⓘ 19c: from PRO-1 (sense 2).

procedure /prəˈsiːdʒə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the method and order followed in doing something. 2 an established routine for conducting business at a meeting or in a law case. 3 a course of action; a step or measure taken. ● procedural adj. ● procedurally adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin procedere to advance or proceed.

proceed /prəˈsiːd/ ▷ verb (proceeded, proceeding) intr 1 formal to make one's way ▫ I proceeded along the road. 2 (often proceed with something) to go on with it; to continue after stopping. 3 to set about a task, etc. 4 colloq to begin ▫ proceeded to question her. ⓘ 14c: from Latin procedere to advance or proceed.

■ proceed against someone law to take legal action against them.

■ proceed from something to arise from it ▫ Fear proceeds from ignorance.

proceeding ▷ noun 1 an action; a piece of behaviour. 2 (proceedings) a published record of the business done or papers read at a meeting of a society, etc. 3 (proceedings) legal action ▫ begin divorce proceedings.

proceeds /ˈproʊsiːdz/ ▷ plural noun money made by an event, sale, transaction, etc. ⓘ 17c as proceed, originally meaning 'proceeding'.

process /ˈproʊsɛs/ ▷ noun (processes) 1 a series of operations performed during manufacture, etc. 2 a series of stages which a product, etc passes through, resulting in the development or transformation of it. 3 an operation or procedure ▫ a slow process. 4 anatomy a projection or outgrowth, especially one on a bone ▫ the mastoid process. 5 law a writ by which a person or matter is brought into court. 6 any series of changes, especially natural ones ▫ the aging process ▷ verb (processes, processed, processing) 1 to put something through the required process; to deal with (eg an application) appropriately. 2 to prepare (agricultural produce) for marketing, eg by canning, bottling or treating it chemically. 3 computing to perform operations on (data, etc). 4 law to instigate legal proceedings against someone. ● in the process of something in the course of it. ⓘ 14c: from Latin processus progression, from procedere to proceed.

procession /prəˈsɛʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a file of people or vehicles proceeding ceremonially in orderly formation. 2 this kind of succession or sequence. ⓘ 12c: from Latin processio, processionis an advance.

processional ▷ adj relating or belonging to a procession. ▷ noun, Christianity 1 a book of litanies, hymns, etc for processions. 2 a hymn sung in procession. ⓘ 15c.

processor ▷ noun 1 a machine or person that processes something. Often in compounds ▫ word processor ▫ food processor. 2 computing a CENTRAL PROCESSING UNIT.

pro-choice ▷ adj supporting the right of a woman to have an abortion. Compare PRO-LIFE. ⓘ 1970s: PRO-1.

prochronism /ˈproʊkrənɪzəm/ ▷ noun the dating of an event which places it earlier than when it actually occurred. ⓘ 17c: from PRO-2 + Greek chronos time; modelled on ANACHRONISM.

proclaim /prəˈkleɪm/ ▷ verb (proclaimed, proclaiming) 1 to announce something publicly. 2 to declare someone to be something ▫ was proclaimed a traitor. 3 to attest or prove something all too clearly ▫ Cigar smoke proclaimed his presence. ● proclaimer noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin proclamare to cry out.

proclamation /prɒkləˈmeɪʃən/ noun 1 an official public announcement of something nationally important. 2 the act of proclaiming. ● proclamatory /prəˈklamətərɪ/ adj.

proclitic /proʊˈklɪtɪk/ grammar ▷ adj said of a word: closely attached to the following word and forming a single sound unit with it. ▷ noun a proclitic form. ⓘ 19c: from Latin procliticus, from Greek proklinein to lean; modelled on ENCLITIC.

proclivity /prəˈklɪvɪtɪ, proʊ-/ ▷ noun (proclivities) rather formal a tendency, liking or preference ▫ sexual proclivity. ⓘ 16c: from Latin proclivitas, from proclivis sloping.

proconsul ▷ noun 1 Roman hist a governor or military commander in a province. 2 a governor, eg of a colony, dependency, etc. ● proconsular adj. ⓘ 14c: Latin, from proconsule (someone acting) for the consul.

procrastinate /prəˈkrastɪneɪt/ ▷ verb (procrastinated, procrastinating) intr to put off doing something that should be done straight away, especially habitually or to an unspecified time. ● procrastination noun. ● procrastinator noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin procrastinare, from pro- onward + cras tomorrow.

procreate /ˈproʊkrɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (procreated, procreating) tr & intr to produce (offspring); to reproduce. ● procreant /-krɪənt/ noun. ● procreation noun. ● procreative adj. ● procreator noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin procreare, procreatum to beget.

Procrustean /proʊˈkrʌstɪən/ ▷ adj designed or intended to enforce rules or conformity by violent or forceful methods. ⓘ 19c: from Procrustes the name of a robber in Greek mythology who stretched his victims or amputated their limbs to make them fit a bed: from Greek prokroustes stretcher.

proctology /prɒk'tɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the branch of medicine concerned with the anus and rectum. • proctological adj. • proctologist noun. ◯ 19c: from Greek proktos the anus.

proctor /'prɒktə(r)/ ▷ noun in some English universities: an official whose functions include enforcement of discipline. • proctorial adj. • proctorship noun. ◯ 14c: a contraction of PROCURATOR.

procumbent /proʊ'kʌmbənt/ ▷ adj 1 bot growing along the ground. 2 technical lying or leaning forward; prostrate. ◯ 17c: from Latin procumbere to fall forwards.

procurator /'prɒkjʊreɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 an agent with power of attorney in a law court. 2 in the Roman empire: a financial agent or administrator in a province. • procuracy or procuratorship noun. ◯ 13c: from Latin, meaning 'agent' or 'manager', from procurare to attend to.

procurator fiscal ▷ noun, Scots a district official who combines the roles of coroner and public prosecutor. ◯ 16c.

procure /prə'kjʊə(r)/ ▷ verb (procured, procuring) 1 to manage to obtain something or bring it about. 2 tr & intr to get (women or girls) to act as prostitutes. • procurable adj. • procurement noun. ◯ 13c: from Latin procurare to take care of; see PRO-² + CURE.

procurer and procuress ▷ noun a man or woman who provides prostitutes for clients.

Prod, Proddy or Proddie ▷ noun, offensive slang a Protestant, especially in Ireland. ◯ 1940s.

prod ▷ verb (prodded, prodding) 1 (often prod at something) to poke or jab it. 2 to nudge, prompt or spur (a person or animal) into action. ▷ noun 1 a poke, jab or nudge. 2 a reminder. 3 a goad or similar pointed instrument. ◯ 16c.

prodigal /'prɒdɪgəl/ ▷ adj 1 heedlessly extravagant or wasteful. 2 (often prodigal of something) formal or old use lavish in bestowing it; generous. ▷ noun 1 a squanderer, wastrel or spendthrift. 2 (also prodigal son) a repentant ne'er-do-well or a returned wanderer. • prodigality noun 1 being prodigal or extravagant. 2 profusion. 3 great liberality. • prodigally adverb. ◯ 16c: from Latin prodigus wasteful.

prodigious /prə'dɪdʒəs/ ▷ adj 1 extraordinary or marvellous. 2 enormous; vast. • prodigiously adverb. ◯ 16c: from Latin prodigiosus; see PRODIGY.

prodigy /'prɒdɪdʒɪ/ ▷ noun (prodigies) 1 something that causes astonishment; a wonder; an extraordinary phenomenon. 2 someone, especially a child, of extraordinary brilliance or talent. ◯ 17c: from Latin prodigium something portent.

produce ▷ verb /prə'dʒuːs/ (produced, producing) 1 to bring out or present something to view. 2 to bear (children, young, leaves, etc). 3 tr & intr to yield (crops, fruit, etc). 4 to secrete (a substance), give off (a smell), etc. 5 tr & intr to make or manufacture something. 6 to give rise to or prompt (a reaction) from people. 7 to direct (a play), arrange (a radio or television programme) for presentation, or finance and schedule the making of (a film). 8 geom to extend (a line). ▷ noun /'prɒdʒuːs/ foodstuffs derived from crops or animal livestock, eg fruit, vegetables, eggs and dairy products. • producible adj. ◯ 15c: from Latin producere to bring forth.

producer ▷ noun 1 a person, organization or thing that produces. 2 biol in a food chain: any organism that manufactures carbohydrates by photosynthesis and serves as a source of energy for organisms higher up the chain.

product /'prɒdʌkt/ ▷ noun 1 something produced, eg through manufacture or agriculture. 2 a result □ the product of much thought. 3 math the value obtained by multiplying two or more numbers. 4 chem a substance formed during a chemical reaction. ◯ 15c.

production /prə'dʌkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a the act of producing; b the process of producing or being produced □ The new model goes into production next year. 2 the quantity produced or rate of producing it. 3 something created; a literary or artistic work. 4 a particular presentation of a play, opera, ballet, etc. ◯ 15c.

production line ▷ noun 1 a series of activities carried out in sequence as part of a manufacturing process. 2 the workers who carry out these activities.

productive /prə'dʌktɪv/ ▷ adj 1 yielding a lot; fertile; fruitful. 2 useful; profitable □ a productive meeting. 3 (usually productive of something) giving rise to it; resulting in it □ productive of ideas. • productively adverb. • productiveness noun.

productivity /prɒdʌk'tɪvɪtɪ/ ▷ noun the rate and efficiency of work, especially in industrial production, etc.

proem /'proʊem/ ▷ noun an introduction, prelude or preface, especially at the beginning of a book. ◯ 14c: ultimately from Greek pro before + oime song.

prof ▷ noun, colloq a professor.

Prof. ▷ abbreviation Professor.

profane /prə'feɪn/ ▷ adj 1 showing disrespect for sacred things; irreverent. 2 not sacred or spiritual; temporal or worldly. 3 said especially of language: vulgar, blasphemous. ▷ verb (profaned, profaning) 1 to treat (something sacred) irreverently. 2 to violate or defile (what should be respected). • profanation /prɒfə'neɪʃən/ noun. • profanely adverb. ◯ 14c: from Latin profanus outside the temple, hence not holy.

profanity /prə'fanɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (profanities) 1 lack of respect for sacred things. 2 blasphemous language; a blasphemy, swear word, oath, etc. ◯ 17c.

profess /prə'fes/ ▷ verb (professes, professed, professing) 1 to make an open declaration of (beliefs, etc). 2 to declare adherence to something. 3 to claim or pretend □ profess ignorance □ profess to be an expert. Compare CONFESS. ◯ 14c: from Latin profiteri, professus to declare.

professed ▷ adj 1 self-acknowledged; self-confessed. 2 claimed by oneself; pretended. 3 having taken the vows of a religious order. • professedly /prə'fesɪdlɪ/ adverb.

profession /prə'feʃən/ ▷ noun 1 an occupation, especially one that requires specialist academic and practical training, eg medicine, law, teaching, engineering, etc. 2 the body of people engaged in a particular one of these. 3 an act of professing; a declaration □ a profession of loyalty. 4 a declaration of religious belief made upon entering a religious order. • the oldest profession colloq prostitution. ◯ 13c: from Latin professio, professionis a public declaration.

professional ▷ adj 1 earning a living in the performance, practice or teaching of something that is usually a pastime □ a professional golfer. 2 belonging to a trained profession. 3 like, appropriate to or having the competence, expertise or conscientiousness of someone with professional training □ did a very professional job. 4 derog habitually taking part in, or displaying a tendency towards, something that is despised or frowned upon □ a professional misogynist. ▷ noun 1 someone who belongs to one of the skilled professions. 2 someone who makes their living in an activity, etc that is also carried on at an amateur level. • professionalism noun. • professionally adverb.

professional foul ▷ noun, football a deliberate foul committed in order to prevent an opponent from scoring what looks like a certain goal.

professor /prə'fesə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a teacher of the highest rank in a university; the head of a university department. 2 N Amer, especially US a university teacher. ● professorial /prɒfɪˈsɔːrɪəl/ adj. ● professorship noun. ⓘ 14c: Latin, meaning 'public teacher', from profiteri to PROFESS.

proffer /ˈprɒfə(r)/ ▷ verb (proffered, proffering) to offer something for someone to accept; to tender. ▷ noun the act of proffering; an offer. ⓘ 13c: from French proffrir, from Latin pro forward + offerre to offer.

proficient /prəˈfɪʃənt/ ▷ adj fully trained and competent; expert. ▷ noun an expert. ● proficiency noun. ● proficiently adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin proficere, profectum to make progress.

profile /ˈproʊfaɪl/ ▷ noun 1 a a side view of something, especially of a face or head; b a representation of this. 2 a brief outline, sketch or assessment. 3 statistics a list, table, graph, etc showing the extent to which a specified group, etc varies in certain characteristics □ child development profiles. ▷ verb 1 to represent in profile. 2 to give a brief outline (of a person, their career, a company, prospects, etc). ● in profile from the side view. ● keep a low profile to maintain a unobtrusive presence. ⓘ 17c: from Italian profilo, from profilare to outline.

profit /ˈprɒfɪt/ ▷ noun 1 the money gained from selling something for more than it originally cost. 2 an excess of income over expenses. 3 advantage or benefit. ▷ verb (profited, profiting) intr (often profit from or by something) to benefit from it. ⓘ 14c: from Latin profectus, from proficere to advance.

profitable ▷ adj 1 said of a business, etc: making a profit. 2 useful; fruitful. ● profitability noun. ● profitably adverb. ⓘ 14c.

profit and loss ▷ noun (in full profit and loss account) bookkeeping an account that records income and other gains together with expenses, expenditures and losses and which is periodically, usually at the end of company's financial year, balanced to show the net profit or loss over the period.

profiteer /prɒfɪˈtɪə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who takes advantage of a shortage or other emergency to make exorbitant profits. ▷ verb (profiteered, profiteering) intr to make excessive profits in such a way. ⓘ Early 20c.

profiterole /prəˈfɪtəroʊl/ ▷ noun, cookery a small puff of CHOUX PASTRY, with a sweet or savoury filling inside. ⓘ 16c: French, diminutive from profit profit.

profit margin ▷ noun, commerce the difference between the buying or production price of a product and the selling price. ⓘ 1920s.

profit-sharing ▷ noun, business an agreement whereby employees receive a proportion, fixed in advance, of a company's profits, usually in proportion to the employee's length of service. ⓘ 19c.

profligate /ˈprɒflɪgət/ ▷ adj 1 immoral and irresponsible; licentious or dissolute. 2 scandalously extravagant. ▷ noun a profligate person. ● profligacy /ˈprɒflɪgəsɪ/ noun. ● profligately adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin profligare, profligatum to strike down.

pro forma /proʊ ˈfɔːmə/ ▷ adj, adverb as a matter of form; following a certain procedure. ▷ noun 1 (also pro-forma invoice) an invoice sent in advance of the goods ordered. 2 loosely an official form for completion. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'for the sake of form'.

profound /prəˈfaʊnd/ ▷ adj (profounder, profoundest) 1 radical, extensive, far-reaching □ profound changes. 2 deep; far below the surface. 3 said of a feeling: deeply felt or rooted. 4 said of comments, etc: showing understanding or penetration. 5 penetrating deeply into knowledge. 6 intense; impenetrable □ profound deafness. 7 said of sleep: deep; sound. ● profoundly adverb. ● profundity /prəˈfʌndɪtɪ/ noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin profundus deep.

profuse /prəˈfjuːs/ ▷ adj 1 overflowing; exaggerated; excessive □ profuse apologies. 2 copious □ profuse bleeding. ● profusely adverb. ● profusion or profuseness noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin profusus lavish, from profundere to pour forth.

progenitor /proʊˈdʒenɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 an ancestor, forebear or forefather. 2 the founder or originator of a movement, etc. ⓘ 14c: Latin, from progignere to beget.

progeny /ˈprɒdʒənɪ/ ▷ noun (progenies) 1 children; offspring; descendants. 2 a result or conclusion. ⓘ 13c: from Latin progenies offspring.

progesterone /proʊˈdʒestəroʊn/ ▷ noun, biochem a steroid sex hormone that prepares the lining of the uterus for implantation of a fertilized egg and, if pregnancy occurs, is secreted in large amounts to maintain the pregnancy. ⓘ 1930s: from progestin + sterol.

progestogen /proʊˈdʒestədʒən/ and progestin /-ˈdʒestɪn/ ▷ noun, biochem any of a range of hormones of the PROGESTERONE type. Several synthetic progestogens are used in oral contraceptives. ⓘ 1930s.

prognosis /prɒgˈnoʊsɪs/ ▷ noun (prognoses /-siːz/) 1 an informed forecast of developments in any situation. 2 a doctor's prediction regarding the probable course of a disease, disorder or injury. ⓘ 17c: Greek, meaning 'knowing before'.

prognostic /prɒgˈnɒstɪk/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to a prognosis. 2 serving as a warning; foretelling. ▷ noun 1 something that acts, or can be taken, as an indication, eg of the possible presence of a disease, etc. 2 a warning or foretelling. ● prognostically adverb. ⓘ 15c: see PROGNOSIS.

prognosticate /prɒgˈnɒstɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb (prognosticated, prognosticating) 1 to foretell. 2 to indicate in advance; to be a sign of something. ● prognostication noun. ● prognosticator noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin prognosticare, prognosticatum to foretell.

programmable ▷ adj capable of being programmed to perform a task automatically.

programme or (N Amer) program /ˈproʊgram/ noun 1 a the schedule of proceedings for, and list of participants in, a theatre performance, entertainment, ceremony, etc; b a leaflet or booklet describing these. 2 an agenda, plan or schedule. 3 a series of planned projects to be undertaken. 4 a scheduled radio or TV presentation. 5 (usually program) computing a set of coded instructions to a computer for the performance of a task or a series of operations, written in any of various PROGRAMMING LANGUAGES. ▷ verb (programmed, programming; N Amer also programed, programing) 1 to include something in a programme; to schedule. 2 to draw up a programme for something. 3 to set (a computer) by program to perform a set of operations. 4 to prepare a program for a computer. 5 to set (a machine) so as to operate at the required time. 6 to train to respond in a specified way. ⓘ 18c: from Greek programma the order of the day or schedule.

programmed learning ▷ noun, education a form of learning in which the learner is given short chunks of information which they must follow with some active response, and in which correct answers are immediately reinforced. ⓘ 1960s: based on the behaviourist learning theories of US psychologist B F Skinner (1904–).

programme evaluation and review technique ▷ noun (abbreviation PERT) business a method of planning, monitoring and reviewing the progress, costs, etc of a complex project.

programme music ▷ noun instrumental music which aims to depict a story or scene.

programmer ▷ noun someone who writes computer programs (see PROGRAMME noun 5).

programming language ▷ noun, computing any system of codes, symbols, rules, etc designed for writing computer programs (see PROGRAMME noun 5).

progress ▷ noun /ˈproʊgres; N Amer ˈprɒ-/ 1 movement while travelling in any direction. 2 course □ followed the progress of the trial. 3 movement towards a destination, goal or state of completion ▫ make slow progress. 4 advances or development. 5 old use a journey made in state by a sovereign, etc. ▷ verb /prə'gres/ (progresses, progressed, progressing) 1 intr to move forwards or onwards; to proceed towards a goal. 2 intr to advance or develop. 3 intr to improve. 4 to put (something planned) into operation; to expedite. ● in progress taking place; in the course of being done. ⓒ 15c: from Latin progredi, progressus to move forward.

progression /prə'greʃən/ ▷ noun 1 an act or the process of moving forwards or advancing in stages. 2 improvement. 3 music a succession of chords, the advance from one to the next being determined on a fixed pattern. 4 math a sequence of numbers, each of which bears a specific relationship to the preceding term. See ARITHMETIC PROGRESSION, GEOMETRIC PROGRESSION.

progressive /prə'gresɪv/ ▷ adj 1 advanced in outlook; using or favouring new methods. 2 moving forward or advancing continuously or by stages. 3 said of a disease: continuously increasing in severity or complication. 4 said of a dance or game: involving changes of partner at intervals. 5 said of taxation: increasing as the sum taxed increases. 6 grammar said of a verbal aspect or tense: expressing continuing action or a continuing state, formed in English with be and the present PARTICIPLE, as in I am doing it and they will be going. Also called CONTINUOUS. Compare PERFECT. ▷ noun 1 someone with progressive ideas. 2 grammar a the progressive aspect or tense; b a verb in a progressive aspect or tense. ● progressively adverb. ● progressiveness noun. ● progressivism noun. ● progressivist noun, adj.

progressive education ▷ noun an educational system which places greater emphasis on the needs and capacities of the individual child than traditional forms of teaching and which usually involves greater freedom of choice, activity and movement, stressing social as well as academic development. ⓒ 19c.

prohibit /prə'hɪbɪt/ ▷ verb (prohibited, prohibiting) 1 to forbid something, especially by law; to ban. 2 to prevent or hinder. ⓒ 15c: from Latin prohibere, prohibitum to prevent.

prohibition /proʊɪ'bɪʃən, proʊhɪ-/ ▷ noun 1 the act of prohibiting or state of being prohibited. 2 a law or decree that prohibits something. 3 a ban by law, especially in the US from 1920–1933, on the manufacture and sale of alcoholic drinks. ● prohibitionary adj. ● prohibitionist noun.

prohibitive /prə'hɪbɪtɪv/ or prohibitory ▷ adj 1 banning; prohibiting. 2 tending to prevent or discourage. 3 said of prices, etc: unaffordably high. ● prohibitively adverb. ● prohibitiveness noun.

project ▷ noun /'prɒdʒɛkt/ 1 a plan, scheme or proposal. 2 a research or study assignment. ▷ verb /prə'dʒɛkt/ (projected, projecting) 1 intr to jut out; to protrude. 2 to throw something forwards; to propel. 3 to throw (a shadow, image, etc) on to a surface, screen, etc. 4 to propose or plan. 5 to forecast something from present trends and other known data; to extrapolate. 6 to imagine (oneself) in another situation, especially a future one. 7 to ascribe (feelings of one's own) to other people. 8 to cause (a sound, especially the voice) to be heard clearly at some distance. 9 intr, colloq to make good contact with an audience through the strength of one's personality. ⓒ 17c: from Latin projicere, projectum to throw forward.

projectile /prə'dʒɛktaɪl/ ▷ noun an object designed to be projected by an external force, eg a guided missile, bullet, etc. ▷ adj 1 capable of being, or designed to be, hurled. 2 projecting. ⓒ 17c: from Latin projectilis; see PROJECT.

projection /prə'dʒɛkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of projecting or process of being projected. 2 something that protrudes from a surface. 3 the process of showing of a film or transparencies on a screen. 4 a forecast based on present trends and other known data. 5 math especially on maps: the representation of a solid object, especially part of the Earth's sphere, on a flat surface. 6 psychol the reading of one's own emotions and experiences into a particular situation. 7 psychol the process whereby a person unconsciously attributes to others certain attitudes towards themselves, usually as a defence against their own guilt or inferiority, etc. ⓒ 16c.

projectionist ▷ noun someone who operates a projector, especially in a cinema. ⓒ 1920s.

projector ▷ noun an instrument containing a system of lenses that projects an enlarged version of an illuminated still or moving image on to a screen. ⓒ 19c.

prokaryote or procaryote /proʊ'karɪoʊt/ ▷ noun, biol any organism, including all bacteria, in which each cell contains a single DNA molecule coiled in a loop, and not enclosed in a nucleus. ● prokaryotic /-'ɒtɪk/ adj. ● prokaryotic adj. See also EUKARYOTE. ⓒ 1960s: from PRO-^{2} + Greek karyon kernel.

prolactin /proʊ'laktɪn/ ▷ noun, physiol a hormone, secreted by the PITUITARY GLAND, which initiates lactation in mammals, and stimulates the production of PROGESTERONE by the CORPUS LUTEUM. ⓒ 1930s: from PRO-^{1} + lactation + -IN.

prolapse /'proʊlaps/ or prolapsus /-səs/ ▷ noun, pathol the slipping out of place or falling down of an organ or other body part, especially the slipping of the uterus into the vagina. ▷ verb (prolapsed, prolapsing) said of an organ: to slip out of place. ⓒ 18c: from Latin prolabi, prolapsus to slip forward.

prolate /'proʊleɪt/ ▷ adj, geom said of something approximately spherical: more pointed at the poles. Compare OBLATE. ● prolately adverb. ⓒ 18c: from Latin proferre, prolatum to enlarge.

prole /proʊl/ ▷ noun, adj, derog colloq proletarian. ⓒ 19c.

prolegomenon /proʊlɪ'gɒmɪnən/ ▷ noun (prolegomena /-nə/) a preface to a literary, critical or discursive work. ● prolegomenary adj. ● prolegomenous adj. ⓒ 17c: Latin, from Greek prolegein, from legein to say.

prolepsis /proʊ'lɛpsɪs/ ▷ noun (prolepses /-siːz/) 1 a debating device that involves the speaker putting forward arguments or objections before they are raised by someone else in order to detract from their possible effects. 2 a rhetorical term for treating an event of the future as though it has already happened. ● proleptic adj. ⓒ 16c: Latin, from Greek, from prolambanein to anticipate.

proletarian /proʊlə'tɛərɪən/ ▷ adj relating to the proletariat. ▷ noun a member of the proletariat. Compare PATRICIAN. ⓒ 17c: from Latin proletarius a citizen who has nothing to offer society but his offspring, from proles offspring.

proletariat /proʊlə'tɛərɪət, -rɪat/ ▷ noun 1 the working class, especially unskilled labourers and industrial workers. 2 in Marxist theory: the class of wage workers, especially industrial ones, whose chief source of income is the sale of their labour power. 3 historical in ancient Rome: the lowest class of people. ⓒ 19c.

pro-life ▷ adj said of a person or an organization: opposing abortion, euthanasia and experimentation on human embryos. ● pro-lifer noun. Compare PRO-CHOICE. ⓒ 1970s.

proliferate /prə'lɪfəreɪt/ ▷ verb (proliferated, proliferating) 1 intr said of a plant or animal species: to reproduce rapidly. 2 intr to increase in numbers; to multiply. 3 to reproduce (cells, etc) rapidly. ⓒ 19c: back-formation from PROLIFERATION.

proliferation /prəlɪfə'reɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a great and rapid increase in numbers. 2 biol in living organisms: the multiplication of cells, tissues or structures. 3 the spread of nuclear weapons to countries not already possessing them. ◷ 19c: from Latin prolifer bearing offspring, from proles offspring + ferre to bear.

prolific /prəˈlɪfɪk/ ⊳ adj 1 abundant in growth; producing plentiful fruit or offspring. 2 said of a writer, artist, etc: constantly producing new work. 3 (often prolific of or in something) productive of it; abounding in it. • prolificacy noun. • prolifically adverb. • prolificness noun. ◷ 17c: from Latin prolificus, from proles offspring.

proline /ˈproʊliːn/ ⊳ noun, biochem an amino acid that is found in proteins. ◷ Early 20c: from German Prolin, a shortened form of PYRROLIDINE.

prolix /ˈproʊlɪks/ ⊳ adj said of speech or writing: tediously long-winded; wordy; verbose. • prolixity noun. • prolixly adverb. ◷ 15c: from Latin prolixus stretched out.

prolocutor /proʊˈlɒkjʊtə(r)/ ⊳ noun a chairman, especially that of the Lower House of Convocation in the Anglican Church. ◷ 15c: Latin, from loqui, locutus to speak.

PROLOG /ˈproʊlɒg/ ⊳ noun, computing a high-level programming language, often used in artificial intelligence research. ◷ 1970s: contraction of programming in logic.

prologue /ˈproʊlɒg/ ⊳ noun 1 theat a a speech addressed to the audience at the beginning of a play; b the actor delivering it. 2 a preface to a literary work. 3 an event serving as an introduction or prelude. ⊳ verb (prologued, prologuing) to introduce or preface something with a prologue. ◷ 13c: from Greek prologos, from logos discourse.

prolong /prəˈlɒŋ/ ⊳ verb (prolonged, prolonging) to make something longer; to extend or protract. • prolongation /proʊlɒŋˈgeɪʃən/ noun. ◷ 15c: from Latin prolongare to lengthen or extend.

PROM ⊳ abbreviation, computing programmable read-only memory, a type of read-only memory which can be programmed, usually only once, after manufacture and thereafter remains fixed.

prom ⊳ noun, colloq 1 a walkway or promenade. 2 a PROMENADE CONCERT. 3 N Amer a formal school or college dance at the end of the academic year. ◷ 19c: abbreviation.

promenade /prɒməˈnɑːd/ ⊳ noun 1 a broad paved walk, especially along a seafront. 2 facetious a stately stroll. ⊳ verb (promenaded, promenading) 1 intr to stroll in a stately fashion. 2 to walk (the streets, etc). 3 to take someone out for some fresh air; to parade. • promenader noun 1 someone who promenades. 2 a member of the standing part of the audience at a promenade concert. ◷ 16c: French, from promener to lead forth.

promenade concert ⊳ noun a concert, usually of classical music, at which part of the audience is accommodated in a standing area in which they can move about. ◷ 19c.

promenade deck ⊳ noun an upper deck on board a passenger ship where people can walk about. ◷ 19c.

promethazine /proʊˈmɛθəziːn/ ⊳ noun an antihistamine drug used in the treatment of allergies and to prevent nausea, eg in seasickness. ◷ 1950s: from propyl + methyl + phenothiazine.

Promethean /prəˈmiːθɪən/ ⊳ adj daring and skilfully inventive. ◷ 16c: from Prometheus who, in Greek mythology, dared to steal fire from the gods and gave it to humans and taught them how to use it.

promethium /prəˈmiːθɪəm, proʊ-/ ⊳ noun, chem (abbreviation Pm, atomic number 61) a radioactive metallic element that occurs naturally in minute amounts and is manufactured artificially by bombarding neodymium with neutrons. It is used as an X-ray source and in phosphorescent paints. ◷ 1940s: Latin, named after Prometheus; see PROMETHEAN.

prominence ⊳ noun 1 the state or quality of being prominent. 2 a prominent point or thing. 3 a projection. 4 astron a cloud of gas lying in the Sun's upper chromosphere, best seen during an eclipse.

prominent /ˈprɒmɪnənt/ ⊳ adj 1 jutting out; projecting; protruding; bulging. 2 noticeable; conspicuous. 3 leading; notable. • prominently adverb. ◷ 16c: from Latin prominere to jut out.

promiscuous /prəˈmɪskjʊəs/ ⊳ adj 1 indulging in casual or indiscriminate sexual relations. 2 haphazardly mixed. • promiscuity /prɒmɪˈskjuːɪtɪ/ noun. • promiscuously adverb. • promiscuousness noun. ◷ 17c: from Latin promiscuus mixed up, from miscere to mix.

promise /ˈprɒmɪs/ ⊳ verb (promised, promising) 1 tr & intr to give an undertaking (to do or not do something). 2 to undertake to give something to someone ▫ promised him a treat. 3 to show signs of bringing something ▫ clouds that promise rain. 4 to look likely (to do something) ▫ promises to have a great future. 5 to assure or warn ▫ I promise nothing bad will happen. ⊳ noun 1 an assurance to give, do or not do something. 2 a sign ▫ promise of spring in the air. 3 signs of future excellence. • promise well or badly to give grounds for hope, or despondency. • promisee noun. • promiser or promisor noun. ◷ 14c: from Latin promittere, promissum to send forth.

promised land ⊳ noun 1 Bible in the Old Testament: the fertile land promised by God to the Israelites. 2 Christianity heaven. 3 any longed-for place of contentment and prosperity. See also MILK AND HONEY.

promising ⊳ adj 1 showing promise; talented; apt. 2 seeming to bode well for the future ▫ a promising start. • promisingly adverb.

promissory /ˈprɒmɪsərɪ/ ⊳ adj containing, relating to or expressing a promise. ◷ 17c: from Latin promissorius, from promittere to promise or send forth.

promissory note ⊳ noun, finance a note containing a written promise to pay a certain amount of money at a specified date or on demand.

promo /ˈproʊmoʊ/ ⊳ noun (promos) colloq something which is used to publicize a product, especially a video for a pop single. ◷ 1960s: short for PROMOTIONAL or PROMOTION.

promontory /ˈprɒməntərɪ/ ⊳ noun (promontories) a usually hilly part of a coastline that projects into the sea. Also called HEADLAND. ◷ 16c: from Latin promontorium mountain ridge.

promote /prəˈmoʊt/ ⊳ verb (promoted, promoting) 1 a to raise someone to a more senior position; b) sport, especially football to transfer (a team) to a higher division or league. Compare RELEGATE (sense 2). 2 to contribute to something ▫ Exercise promotes health. 3 to work for the cause of something ▫ promote peace. 4 to publicize; to try to boost the sales of (a product) by advertising. 5 to organize or finance (an undertaking). 6 chess to upgrade (a pawn that has reached the opponent's side of the board) to a higher rank. • promotion noun. • promotional adj. ◷ 14c: from Latin promovere, promotum to make something advance.

promoter ⊳ noun the organizer or financer of a sporting event or other undertaking.

prompt ⊳ adj (prompter, promptest) 1 immediate; quick; punctual. 2 instantly willing; ready; unhesitating. ⊳ adverb punctually. ⊳ noun 1 something serving as a reminder. 2 theat words supplied by a prompter to an actor. 3 theat a prompter. 4 computing a sign (usually >) on screen indicating that the computer is ready for input. ⊳ verb (prompted, prompting) 1 to cause, lead or remind someone to do something. 2 to produce or elicit (a reaction or response). 3 tr & intr to help (an actor) to remember their next words by supplying the first few. • promptitude noun. • promptly adverb. • promptness noun. ◎ 14c: from Latin promptus ready or quick.

prompter ▷ noun 1 theat someone positioned offstage to prompt actors if they forget their lines. 2 someone or something that prompts.

prompt side ▷ noun, theat the side of the stage where the prompter sits, usually to the actors' left, but often to their right in US.

promulgate /ˈprɒməlgeɪt/ ▷ verb (promulgated, promulgating) 1 to make (a decree, etc) effective by means of an official public announcement. 2 to publicize or promote (an idea, theory, etc) widely. • promulgation noun. • promulgator noun. ◎ 16c: from Latin promulgare, promulgatum to make known.

pron. ▷ abbreviation, grammar pronoun.

pronator /proʊˈneɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun, anatomy a muscle in the forearm or forelimb that allows the hand or foot to face downwards. Compare SUPINATOR. ◎ 17c: from Latin pronare to put (the hand or foot) downwards.

prone /proʊn/ ▷ adj 1 lying flat, especially face downwards. 2 (often prone to something) predisposed to it, or liable to suffer from it. Also in compounds □ accident-prone. 3 inclined or liable to do something. • pronely adverb. • proneness noun. ◎ 14c: from Latin pronus bent forwards.

prong ▷ noun 1 a point or spike, especially one of those making up the head of a fork. 2 any pointed projection. ▷ verb (pronged, pronging) to stab or pierce something with or as with a prong. ◎ 15c.

pronged ▷ adj, in compounds 1 said of a fork, etc: with a specified number of prongs or directions. 2 said of an attack, etc: made from a specified number of directions.

pronghorn and prongbuck ▷ noun a N American antelope-like mammal with a pale-brown coat, prominent eyes, short horns in the female and prong-like backward curving horns in the male. ◎ 19c.

pronking /ˈprɒŋkɪŋ/ ▷ noun, zool behaviour exhibited by several hoofed mammals, eg the springbok, in which the back is arched and the legs are held stiffly downwards as the animal repeatedly leaps off the ground and lands on all four legs simultaneously. ◎ 19c: from Afrikaans pronk to show off, strut or prance.

pronominal /proʊˈnɒmɪnəl/ grammar ▷ adj referring to or of the nature of a pronoun. • pronominally adverb. ◎ 17c: from Latin pronominalis, from pronomen pronoun.

pronoun /ˈproʊnaʊn/ ▷ noun, grammar a word such as she, him, they, it, etc used in place of, and to refer to, a noun, phrase, clause, etc. ◎ 16c: from Latin pronomen, from pro for + nomen noun.

pronounce /prəˈnaʊns/ ▷ verb (pronounced, pronouncing) 1 to say or utter (words, sounds, letters, etc); to articulate or enunciate. 2 to declare something officially, formally or authoritatively □ pronounced her innocent. 3 to pass or deliver (judgement). 4 intr (usually pronounce on something) to give an opinion or verdict on it. See also PRONUNCIATION. • pronounceable adj. ◎ 14c: from Latin pronuntiare to declaim or pronounce.

pronounced ▷ adj 1 noticeable; distinct □ a pronounced limp. 2 spoken; articulated. • pronouncedly /prəˈnaʊnsɪdlɪ/ adverb.

pronouncement ▷ noun 1 a formal announcement. 2 a declaration of opinion; a verdict. 3 the act of pronouncing.

pronto /ˈprɒntoʊ/ ▷ adverb, colloq immediately. ◎ Early 20c: Spanish, meaning 'quick', from Latin promptus.

pronunciation /prənʌnsɪˈeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act or a manner of pronouncing words, sounds, letters, etc. 2 the correct way of pronouncing a word, sound, etc in a given language. 3 a set of symbols indicating how a word, etc is to be pronounced.

proof ▷ noun 1 evidence, especially conclusive evidence, that something is true or a fact. 2 law the accumulated evidence on which a verdict is based. 3 Scots law a trial held before a judge without a jury. 4 the activity or process of testing or proving. 5 a test, trial or demonstration. 6 math a step-by-step verification of a proposed mathematical statement. 7 printing a trial copy of printed text used for examination or correction. 8 a trial print from a photographic negative. 9 a trial impression from an engraved plate. 10 a measure of the alcohol content of a distilled liquid, especially an alcoholic beverage, equal to 49.28% of alcohol by weight. ▷ adj, especially in compounds able or designed to withstand, deter or be free from or secure against a specified thing □ proof against storms □ leakproof. ▷ verb (proofed, proofing) 1 to make something resistant to or proof against a specified thing. Often in compounds □ to damp-proof the walls. 2 to take a proof of (printed material). 3 to proof-read. ◎ 13c: from French preuve, from Latin proba, from probare to test.

proof-read ▷ verb, tr & intr to read and mark for correction the proofs of (a text, etc). • proof-reader noun. • proof-reading noun.

proof spirit ▷ noun a standard mixture of alcohol and water containing 49.28% alcohol by weight or 57.1% by volume. ◎ 18c.

prop[1] ▷ noun 1 a rigid support, especially a vertical one, of any of various kinds □ a clothes prop. 2 a person or thing that one depends on for help or emotional support. 3 (also prop forward) rugby a the position at either end of the front row of the scrum; b a player in this position. ▷ verb (propped, propping) 1 (often prop something up) to support or hold it upright with, or as if with, a prop. 2 (usually prop against something) to lean against it; to put something against something else. 3 to serve as a prop to something. ◎ 15c.

prop[2] ▷ noun, colloq (in full property) theat a portable object or piece of furniture used on stage during a performance.

prop[3] ▷ noun, colloq a propeller. ◎ Early 20c.

prop. ▷ abbreviation 1 proper. 2 properly. 3 property. 4 proposition. 5 proprietor.

propaganda /prɒpəˈgandə/ ▷ noun 1 a the organized circulation by a political group, etc of doctrine, information, misinformation, rumour or opinion, intended to influence public feeling, raise public awareness, bring about reform, etc; b the material circulated in this way. 2 (Propaganda) a Roman Catholic CONGREGATION (sense 4) responsible for foreign missions and the training of missionaries. • propagandist noun. ◎ 18c: Italian, from the Latin Congregatio de propaganda fide congregation for propagating the faith.

propagandize or propagandise ▷ verb (propagandized, propagandizing) 1 to subject (a person, place, etc) to propaganda. 2 intr to circulate propaganda. ◎ 19c.

propagate /ˈprɒpəgeɪt/ ▷ verb (propagated, propagating) 1 tr & intr, bot said of a plant: to multiply. 2 bot to grow (new plants), either by natural means or artificially. 3 to spread or popularize (ideas, etc). 4 physics to transmit energy, eg sound or electromagnetism, over a distance in wave form. ◎ 16c: from Latin propagare, propagatum to grow plants by grafting, etc.

propagation /prɒpəˈgeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 bot the multiplication of plants, especially in horticulture, either by natural means, eg from seed, or by artificial methods, eg grafting and tissue culture. 2 physics the transmission of energy (eg sound or electromagnetism) from one point to another in the form of waves in a direction perpendicular to the wavefront.

propagator /ˈprɒpəgeɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that propagates. 2 a heated covered box in which plants may be grown from seed or cuttings.

propane /ˈproʊpeɪn/ ▷ noun, chem (formula C_3H_8) a colourless odourless flammable gas, obtained from petroleum. It readily liquefies under pressure and is used as a fuel supply for portable stoves, etc, and as a solvent and refrigerant. ⓘ 19c: from PROPIONIC ACID.

propanoic acid /proʊpəˈnoʊɪk —/ ▷ noun, chem (formula CH_3CH_2COOH) a fatty acid, a colourless liquid used to control the growth of certain moulds. Formerly called PROPIONIC ACID.

propanone /ˈproʊpənoʊn/ noun ACETONE.

propel /prəˈpɛl/ ▷ verb (propelled, propelling) 1 to drive or push something forward. 2 to steer or send someone or something in a certain direction. ⓘ 17c: from Latin propellere to drive.

propellant /prəˈpɛlənt/ ▷ noun 1 chem a compressed inert gas in an aerosol that is used to release the liquid contents as a fine spray when the pressure is released. 2 engineering the fuel and oxidizer that are burned in a rocket in order to provide thrust. 3 an explosive charge that is used to propel a projectile, eg a bullet or shell. 4 something that propels.

propellent /prəˈpɛlənt/ ▷ adj propelling; capable of driving or pushing forward.

propeller ▷ noun a device consisting of a revolving hub with radiating blades that produce thrust or power, used to propel aircraft, ships, etc. ⓘ 18c.

propelling pencil ▷ noun a type of pencil in which the lead is held in a casing and can be propelled forward as it is worn down. ⓘ 19c. ▷ propensity /prəˈpɛnsɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (propensities) a tendency or inclination □ a propensity for chocolate □ a propensity to drink too much. ⓘ 16c: from Latin propensus hanging forward, from propendere, propensum to be inclined.

proper /ˈprɒpə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 real; genuine; able to be correctly described as (a specified thing). 2 right; correct. 3 appropriate □ at the proper time. 4 own; particular; correct □ in its proper place. 5 socially accepted; respectable. 6 derog morally strict; prim. 7 (usually proper to something) belonging or appropriate to it; suitable □ the form of address proper to her rank. 8 used immediately after a noun: strictly so called; itself, excluding others not immediately connected with it □ We are now entering the city proper. 9 colloq utter; complete; out-and-out □ a proper idiot. ▷ adverb, non-standard correctly □ can't even speak proper. ⓘ 13c: from French propre, from Latin proprius own or special.

proper fraction ▷ noun, math a fraction in which the NUMERATOR is less than the DENOMINATOR, eg ½ or ³⁄₇. Compare IMPROPER FRACTION.

properly ▷ adverb 1 suitably; appropriately; correctly. 2 with strict accuracy. 3 fully; thoroughly; completely. 4 colloq utterly.

proper motion ▷ noun, astron the movement of a fixed star in space relative to the Sun.

proper noun and proper name ▷ noun, grammar the name of a particular person, place or thing, eg Kurt, Clapham, Internet. Compare COMMON NOUN.

propertied /ˈprɒpətɪd/ ▷ adj owning property, especially land.

property /ˈprɒpətɪ/ ▷ noun (properties) 1 something someone owns □ That book is my property. 2 possessions collectively. 3 the concept of ownership. 4 a land or real estate; b an item of this. 5 a quality or attribute □ has the property of dissolving easily. 6 a PROP[2]. ⓘ 13c: from French propriété, from Latin proprietas attribute, from proprius own.

property centre ▷ noun a place where local solicitors, estate agents and members of the public can advertize properties, businesses, etc that are for sale and prospective buyers can browse.

property man and property mistress ▷ noun, theat someone in charge of stage props (see PROP[2]).

propfan ▷ noun (in full propeller fan) an aircraft propeller consisting of a rotor carrying several blades working in a cylindrical casing, with swept-back blades allowing quieter operation for the rotational speeds involved.

prop forward see PROP[1] noun 3

prophase /ˈproʊfeɪz/ ▷ noun, biol in mitosis and meiosis: the first stage of cell division, during which the chromosomes coil, thicken and divide longitudinally to form CHROMATIDS, and the membrane surrounding the nucleus disintegrates. ⓘ 19c: PRO-[2] + PHASE.

prophecy /ˈprɒfəsɪ/ ▷ noun (prophecies) 1 a the interpretation of divine will; b the act of revealing such interpretations. 2 a the foretelling of the future; b something foretold; a prediction. 3 a gift or aptitude for predicting the future. ⓘ 13c: from French prophecie, from Greek propheteia; see PROPHET.

prophesy /ˈprɒfəsaɪ/ ▷ verb (prophesies, prophesied, prophesying) 1 tr & intr to foretell (future happenings); to predict. 2 intr to utter prophecies; to interpret divine will. ⓘ 14c: a variant of PROPHECY.

prophet /ˈprɒfɪt/ ▷ noun 1 someone who is able to express the will of God or a god. 2 Bible a any of the writers of prophecy in the Old Testament; b any of the books attributed to them. 3 Islam (the Prophet) Muhammad. 4 someone who claims to be able to tell what will happen in the future □ a prophets of doom. 5 a leading advocate of or spokesperson for a movement or cause. ⓘ 12c: from Greek prophetes someone who interprets or expresses the divine will, from pro for + phanai to speak.

prophetess ▷ noun (prophetesses) a female prophet (especially sense 1).

prophetic /prəˈfɛtɪk/ ▷ adj 1 foretelling the future. 2 relating or belonging to prophets or prophecy. ■ prophetically adverb.

prophylactic /prɒfɪˈlaktɪk/ ▷ adj guarding against or tending to prevent disease or other mishap. ▷ noun 1 a prophylactic drug or device; a precautionary measure. 2 a condom. ⓘ 16c: from Greek prophylaktikos, from prophylassein to take precautions against, from phylax a guard.

prophylaxis /prɒfɪˈlaksɪs/ ▷ noun (prophylaxes /-siːz/) 1 action or treatment to prevent something unwanted; precautionary measures. 2 any treatment or other measures taken to prevent disease. ⓘ 19c: see PROPHYLACTIC.

propinquity /prəˈpɪŋkwɪtɪ/ ▷ noun 1 nearness in place or time; proximity. 2 closeness of kinship. ⓘ 14c: from Latin propinquitas, from propinquus near.

propionic acid /proʊpɪˈɒnɪk/ ▷ noun the former name for PROPANOIC ACID. ⓘ 19c: from PRO-[2] + Greek pion fat.

propitiate /prəˈpɪʃɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (propitiated, propitiating) to appease or placate (an angry or insulted person or god). ■ propitiable adj. ■ propitiation noun. ■ propitiator noun. ■ propitiatory adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin propitiare, propitiatum, from propitius gracious.

propitious /prəˈpɪʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 favourable; auspicious; advantageous. 2 (often propitious for or to something) likely to favour or encourage it. ■ propitiously adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin propitius gracious.

proponent /prəˈpoʊnənt/ ▷ noun a supporter or advocate of something; someone who argues in favour of their cause. ⓘ 16c: from Latin proponere to propose.

proportion /prəˈpɔːʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a comparative part of a total □ a large proportion of the population. 2 the size of one element or group in relation to the whole or total. 3 the size of one group or component in relation to another □ in a proportion of two parts to one. 4 the correct balance between parts or elements □ out of proportion □ get things into proportion. 5 (proportions) size; dimensions □ a garden of large proportions. 6 math correspondence between the ratios of two pairs of quantities, as expressed in 2 is to 8 as 3 is to 12. ▷ verb (proportioned, proportioning) 1 to adjust the proportions, or balance the parts, of something. 2 (usually proportion one thing to another) to adjust their proportions relatively. • in proportion to something 1 in relation to it; in comparison with it. 2 in parallel with it; in correspondence with it; at the same rate. ⓘ 14c: from Latin proportio, from pro portione in respect of his share.

proportional ▷ adj 1 corresponding or matching in size, rate, etc. 2 in correct proportion; proportionate. ▷ noun, math a number or quantity in a proportion. • proportionally adverb.

proportional representation ▷ noun (abbreviation PR) any electoral system in which the number of representatives each political party has in parliament is in direct proportion to the number of votes it receives. Compare FIRST-PAST-THE-POST, ALTERNATIVE VOTE. ⓘ 18c.

proportionate ▷ adj /prəˈpɔːʃənət/ (proportionate to something) due or in correct proportion. ▷ verb /-ʃəneɪt/ (proportionated, proportionating) to adjust in proportion. • proportionately adverb.

proposal ▷ noun 1 the act of proposing something. 2 something proposed or suggested; a plan. 3 an offer of marriage. ⓘ 17c.

propose /prəˈpoʊz/ ▷ verb (proposed, proposing) 1 to offer (a plan, etc) for consideration; to suggest. 2 to suggest or nominate someone for a position, task, etc. 3 to be the proposer of (the motion in a debate). 4 to intend (to do something) □ don't propose to sell. 5 to suggest (a specified person, topic, etc) as the subject of a toast. 6 intr (often propose to someone) to make them an offer of marriage. ⓘ 14c: from Latin proponere, propositum to propose.

proposer /prəˈpoʊzə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone who proposes or advocates something. 2 in a debate: the leading speaker in favour of the motion.

proposition /prɒpəˈzɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a proposal or suggestion. 2 something to be dealt with or undertaken □ an awkward proposition. 3 euphemistic colloq an invitation to have sexual intercourse. 4 logic a form of statement affirming or denying something, that can be true or false; a premise. 5 math a statement of a problem or theorem, especially one that incorporates its solution or proof. ▷ verb (propositioned, propositioning) euphemistic colloq to propose sexual intercourse to someone. ⓘ 14c: from Latin propositio a setting forth, from proponere to propose.

propound /prəˈpaʊnd/ ▷ verb (propounded, propounding) 1 to put forward (an idea or theory, etc) for consideration or discussion. 2 law to produce (a will) for probate. ⓘ 16c: from Latin proponere to propose.

propranolol /proʊˈpranəlɒl/ ▷ noun, medicine a BETA-BLOCKER used to treat abnormal heart rhythms, angina and high blood pressure, to prevent migraine attacks and relieve symptoms of anxiety. ⓘ 1960s: from propyl + propanol (propyl alcohol).

proprietary /prəˈpraɪətərɪ/ (abbreviation pty) ▷ adj 1 said eg of rights: belonging to an owner or proprietor. 2 suggestive or indicative of ownership. 3 said of medicines, etc: marketed under a tradename. 4 especially Austral, NZ & S Afr (abbreviation Pty) said of a company etc: privately owned and managed. UK equivalent LTD. ▷ noun (proprietaries) 1 a body of proprietors. 2 proprietorship. ⓘ 16c: from Latin proprietas ownership.

proprietary name ▷ noun a TRADENAME.

proprietor /prəˈpraɪətə(r)/ and proprietress ▷ noun an owner, especially of a shop, hotel, business, etc. ⓘ 17c: from PROPRIETARY.

proprietorial /prəpraɪəˈtɔːrɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 said of a person: tending not to allow other people to have access to something, especially in regard to their work, study, etc □ Harry's very proprietorial and won't let you borrow his books. 2 belonging or relating to an owner or ownership.

propriety /prəˈpraɪətɪ/ ▷ noun (proprieties) 1 conformity to socially acceptable behaviour, especially between the sexes; modesty or decorum. 2 correctness; moral acceptability. 3 (proprieties) the details of correct behaviour; accepted standards of conduct. ⓘ 17c: from French propriété, from Latin proprietas, from proprius own.

proprioceptor /proʊprɪəˈseptə(r)/ ▷ noun, physiol a cell or group of cells that is sensitive to movement, pressure or stretching within the body, and helps to maintain balance, posture and muscular coordination. ⓘ Early 20c: from Latin proprius own + RECEPTOR.

props ▷ singular noun, theat a PROPERTY MAN or PROPERTY MISTRESS.

propulsion /prəˈpʌlʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of causing something to move forward. 2 a force exerted against a body which makes it move forward. Also in compounds □ jet propulsion. • propulsive adj. ⓘ 18c: from Latin propulsio, from propellere to propel.

propyl /ˈproʊpɪl/ ▷ noun 1 the alcohol radical C_3H_7. 2 as adj □ propyl alcohol. ⓘ 19c: from propionic acid + -YL.

propylaeum /prɒpɪˈliːəm/ or propylon /ˈprɒpɪlɒn/ ▷ noun (propylaea /-ˈliːə/, propyla /-lə/ or propylons) archit in classical architecture: a monumental entrance gateway or vestibule, usually in front of a temple. ⓘ 18c: Latin, from Greek propylaion, from pro before + pyle a gate.

pro rata /proʊ ˈrɑːtə/ ▷ adverb in proportion; in accordance with a certain rate. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'for the rate'.

prorogue /prəˈroʊg, proʊˈroʊg/ ▷ verb (prorogued, proroguing) formal 1 to discontinue the meetings of (a legislative assembly) for a time, without dissolving it. 2 intr said of a legislative assembly: to suspend a session. • prorogation noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin prorogare, prorogatum to ask publicly.

prosaic /proʊˈzeɪɪk/ ▷ adj 1 unpoetic; unimaginative. 2 dull, ordinary and uninteresting. • prosaically adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin prosaicus; see PROSE.

pros and cons ▷ plural noun the various advantages and disadvantages of a course of action, idea, etc. ⓘ 16c: from PRO[1] + CON[1]. proscenium /proʊˈsiːnɪəm/ ▷ noun (prosceniums or proscenia /-ɪə/) theat 1 the part of a stage in front of the curtain. 2 (also proscenium arch) the arch framing the stage and separating it from the auditorium. 3 in ancient theatres: the stage itself. ⓘ 17c: from Greek proskenion, from pro before + skene stage.

prosciutto /proʊˈʃuːtoʊ, prəˈʃuːtoʊ/ ▷ noun dry-cured uncooked ham. It is always thinly sliced and usually served as an hors d'oeuvre. ⓘ 1940s: Italian, meaning 'pre-dried'.

proscribe /prəˈskraɪb/ ▷ verb (proscribed, proscribing) 1 to prohibit or condemn something (eg a practice). 2 historical to outlaw or exile someone. • proscriber noun. • proscription noun. • proscriptive adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin proscribere, proscriptum to write in front of, from scribere to write.

proscribe

A word sometimes confused with this one is prescribe.

prose /proʊz/ ▷ noun 1 the ordinary form of written or spoken language as distinct from verse or poetry. 2 a passage of prose set for translation into a foreign language. 3 dull and uninteresting discussion or speech, etc. ⓘ 14c: from Latin prosa oratio straightforward speech, from prorsus straightforward.

prosecute /ˈprɒsɪkjuːt/ ▷ verb (prosecuted, prosecuting) 1 tr & intr to bring a criminal action against someone. 2 formal to carry on or carry out something (eg enquiries). ● prosecutable adj. ● prosecutor noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin prosequi, prosecutus to pursue.

prosecution /prɒsɪˈkjuːʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of prosecuting or process of being prosecuted. 2 the bringing of a criminal action against someone. 3 a the prosecuting party in a criminal case; b the lawyers involved in this. 4 formal the process of carrying something out.

proselyte /ˈprɒsəlaɪt/ ▷ noun a convert, especially a Gentile turning to Judaism. ● proselytism /ˈprɒsəlɪtɪzəm/ noun. ⓘ 14c: from Greek proselytos new arrival or convert.

proselytize or proselytise /ˈprɒsəlɪtaɪz/ ▷ verb (proselytized, proselytizing) tr & intr to try to convert someone from one faith to another; to make converts. ● proselytizer noun. ⓘ 17c.

prose poem ▷ noun a work or passage printed continuously as prose but having many of the elements found in poetry, eg striking imagery, rhythm, internal rhyme, etc. ● prose poetry noun. ⓘ 19c: form established by Aloysius Bertrand's Gaspard de la nuit (1842).

prosimian /proʊˈsɪmɪən/ ▷ noun, zool any of several primitive primates, eg the lemur, loris, tarsier, etc. ▷ adj belonging or relating to these primates. ⓘ 19c: from Latin Prosimia, from simia an ape.

prosier and prosiest see under PROSY prosody /ˈprɒsədɪ, -zədɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the study of verse-composition, especially poetic metre. 2 (also prosodics /prəˈsɒdɪks/) the study of rhythm, stress and intonation in speech. ● prosodic /-ˈsɒdɪk/ adj. ● prosodist noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin prosodia the accent for a syllable, from Greek pros in addition to + oide song.

prospect ▷ noun /ˈprɒspɛkt/ 1 an expectation of something due or likely to happen. 2 an outlook for the future. 3 (prospects) chances of success, improvement, recovery, etc. 4 (prospects) opportunities for advancement, promotion, etc □ a job with prospects. 5 a potentially selectable candidate, team member, etc □ He's a doubtful prospect for Saturday's match. 6 a potential client or customer. 7 a broad view. 8 gold-mining a an area with potential as a mine; b the resulting yield of such a mine. ▷ verb /prəˈspɛkt/ (prospected, prospecting) 1 tr & intr to search or explore (an area, region, etc) for gold or other minerals. 2 intr to hunt for or look out for (eg a job). ● in prospect expected soon. ⓘ 15c: from Latin prospectus view, from prospicere, prospectum to look forward.

prospective /prəˈspɛktɪv/ ▷ adj likely or expected; future □ a prospective buyer. ⓘ 16c.

prospector /prəˈspɛktə(r)/ ▷ noun someone prospecting for oil, gold, etc.

prospectus /prəˈspɛktəs/ ▷ noun (prospectuses) 1 a brochure giving information about a school or other institution, especially the courses on offer. 2 a document outlining a proposal for something, eg a literary work or an issue of shares. ⓘ 18c: Latin, meaning a 'view'.

prosper /ˈprɒspə(r)/ ▷ verb (prospered, prospering) 1 said of someone: intr to do well, especially financially. 2 said of a business, etc: to thrive or flourish. ⓘ 15c: from French prospérer, from Latin prosperari to succeed.

prosperity /prɒˈspɛrɪtɪ/ ▷ noun the state of being prosperous; success; wealth.

prosperous /ˈprɒspərəs/ ▷ adj wealthy and successful. ● prosperously adverb. ⓘ 15c.

prostaglandin /prɒstəˈglandɪn/ ▷ noun, physiol any of a group of hormones that have a wide range of specific effects and are sometimes used therapeutically to induce contractions of the uterus, either to accelerate labour or to induce abortion. ⓘ 1930s: from prostate gland (a major source of these).

prostate /ˈprɒsteɪt/ ▷ noun (in full prostate gland) anatomy in male mammals: a muscular gland around the base of the bladder, controlled by sex hormones, which produces an alkaline fluid that activates sperm during ejaculation. ▷ adj (also prostatic) relating or belonging to the prostate gland. ⓘ 17c: from Greek prostates one that stands in front.

> prostate, prostrate
>
> These words are often confused with each other.

prosthesis /prɒsˈθiːsɪs/ ▷ noun (prostheses /-siːz/) medicine 1 an artificial substitute for a part of the body that is missing (as a result of surgery or injury) or non-functional, eg dentures, an artificial limb or breast or a pacemaker. 2 the fitting of such a part to the body. 3 linguistics a less common term for PROTHESIS. ● prosthetic /–ˈθɛtɪk/ adj. ● prosthetically adverb. ⓘ 18c in sense 2; 16c in the linguistic sense 'addition of a prefix to a word': Latin, from Greek, from pros in addition to + tithenai to put.

prosthetics /prɒsˈθɛtɪks/ ▷ singular noun the branch of surgery concerned with supplying, fitting and maintaining prostheses. ⓘ 19c.

prostitute /ˈprɒstɪtjuːt/ ▷ noun 1 someone who performs sexual acts or intercourse in return for money. Also in compounds □ male prostitute □ child prostitute. 2 someone who offers their skills or talents, etc for unworthy ends. ▷ verb (prostituted, prostituting) 1 to offer (oneself or someone else) as a prostitute. ● prostitution noun. 2 to put (eg one's talents) to an unworthy use. ⓘ 16c: from Latin prostituere, prostitutum to offer for sale.

prostrate ▷ adj /ˈprɒstreɪt/ 1 lying face downwards in an attitude of abject submission, humility or adoration. 2 lying flat. 3 distraught with illness, grief, exhaustion, etc. ▷ verb /prɒˈstreɪt/ (prostrated, prostrating) 1 to throw (oneself) face down in submission or adoration. 2 said of exhaustion, illness, grief, etc: to overwhelm someone physically or emotionally. ● prostration noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin prosternere, prostratum to throw forwards.

prosy /ˈproʊzɪ/ ▷ adj (prosier, prosiest) said of speech or writing: 1 prose-like. 2 dull and tedious.

prostyle /ˈproʊstaɪl/ ▷ noun in classical architecture: a type of portico in front of a Greek temple, where the columns, never exceeding four in number, are set in front of the building. ▷ adj said of a building: having this kind of portico. ⓘ 17c: from Latin prostylos, from Greek stylos a column.

prot- see PROTO-

protactinium /proʊtakˈtɪnɪəm/ ▷ noun (symbol Pa, atomic number 91) chem a white highly-toxic radioactive metallic element that occurs naturally in minute quantities in uranium ores. ⓘ Early 20c: PROT- + ACTINIUM.

protagonist /prəˈtagənɪst/ ▷ noun 1 the main character in a play, story, film, etc. 2 any person at the centre of a story or event. 3 non-standard a leader or champion of a movement or cause, etc. ⓘ 17c: from Greek protagonistes, from protos first + agonistes combatant.

protasis /ˈprɒtəsɪs/ ▷ noun (protases /-siːz/) grammar, logic the conditional clause of a conditional sentence, eg in If Winter comes, can Spring be far behind? the part before the comma is the protasis. Compare APODOSIS. ⓘ 17c: Greek, meaning 'premise' or 'the first part of a drama'.

protea /ˈproʊtɪə/ ▷ noun (proteas) bot any of various evergreen shrubs and small trees, native to S Africa. They produce large heads of flowers surrounded by colourful bracts. ⓘ 19c: named after Proteus, the Greek sea-god who assumed many shapes, and so called because of the varied character of these shrubs.

protean /ˈproʊtɪən/ ▷ adj 1 readily able to change shape or appearance; variable; changeable. 2 said especially of a writer, artist, actor, etc: versatile. ⓘ 16c: from Proteus (see under PROTEA).

protease /ˈproʊtɪeɪz/ ▷ noun, biochem any enzyme that catalyses the breakdown of proteins. ⓘ Early 20c: from PROTEIN + -ASE.

protect /prəˈtɛkt/ ▷ verb (protected, protecting) 1 to shield someone or something from danger; to guard them or it against injury, destruction, etc; to keep safe. 2 to cover against loss, etc by insurance. 3 to shield (home industries) from foreign competition by taxing imports. ⓘ 16c: from Latin protegere, protectum to cover in front.

protection ▷ noun 1 the action of protecting or condition of being protected; shelter, refuge, cover, safety or care. 2 something that protects. 3 (also protectionism) the system of protecting home industries against foreign competition by taxing imports. 4 colloq a the criminal practice of extorting money from shop-owners, etc in return for leaving their premises unharmed; b (also protection money) the money extorted in this way. 5 insurance cover. ● protectionist noun.

protective ▷ adj 1 giving or designed to give protection □ protective clothing. 2 inclined or tending to protect. ▷ noun 1 something which protects. 2 a condom. ● protectively adverb. ● protectiveness noun.

protective custody ▷ noun the detention of someone in prison for their own safety, eg if they are the subject of a death threat.

protector and protectress ▷ noun 1 someone or something that protects. 2 a patron or benefactor. 3 someone who rules a country during the childhood of the sovereign or in the absence or incapacity of a sovereign; a regent. ● protectorship noun.

protectorate /prəˈtɛktərət/ ▷ noun 1 the office or period of rule of a protector. 2 a protectorship of a weak or backward country assumed by a more powerful one without actual annexation; b the status of a territory that is so protected. ⓘ 17c.

protégé and protégée /ˈproʊtəʒeɪ/ ▷ noun (protégés or protégées) a person (male and female respectively) under the guidance, protection, tutelage, patronage, etc of someone wiser or more important. ⓘ 18c: from French protéger to protect.

protein /ˈproʊtiːn/ ▷ noun, biochem any of thousands of different organic compounds, characteristic of all living organisms, that have large molecules consisting of long chains of amino acids. ⓘ 19c: from French protéine, from Greek proteios primary.

pro tempore /proʊ tɛmˈpɔːreɪ/ ▷ adverb, adj for the time being. Often shortened to pro tem. ⓘ 15c: Latin.

Proterozoic /proʊtərəʊˈzoʊɪk, prɒ-/ geol ▷ adj 1 relating to the geological era from which the oldest forms of life date. See table at GEOLOGICAL TIME SCALE. 2 sometimes denoting the entire PRECAMBRIAN period. ▷ noun (the Proterozoic) the Proterozoic era. ⓘ Early 20c: from Greek proteros earlier + zoe life + -IC.

protest ▷ verb /prəˈtɛst/ (protested, protesting) 1 intr to express an objection, disapproval, opposition or disagreement. 2 N Amer, especially US to challenge or object to (eg a decision or measure). 3 to declare something solemnly, eg in response to an accusation □ protest one's innocence. 4 law to obtain or write a protest with reference to (a bill). ▷ noun /ˈproʊtɛst/ 1 a declaration of disapproval or dissent; an objection. 2 a an organized public demonstration of disapproval; b as adj □ a protest march. 3 law a written statement that a bill has been presented and payment refused. 4 the act of protesting. ● protester or protestor noun. ● protestingly adverb. ● under protest reluctantly; unwillingly. ⓘ 14c: from French protester, from Latin protestari, protestatus to declare formally.

Protestant or protestant /ˈprɒtɪstənt/ ▷ noun 1 a member of any of the Christian churches which embraced the principles of the Reformation and, rejecting the authority of the pope, separated from the Roman Catholic Church. 2 a member of any body descended from these. ▷ adj relating or belonging to Protestants. ● Protestantism noun. ⓘ 16c: originally applied to those princes and others who in 1529 protested against an edict denouncing the Reformation.

Protestant work ethic see under WORK ETHIC

protestation /prɒtəˈsteɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a protest or objection. 2 a solemn declaration or avowal.

prothallus /proʊˈθaləs/ ▷ noun (prothalli /-laɪ/) bot in certain more primitive plants, eg the fern and some mosses: the small area of tissue where the reproductive organs develop.

prothesis /prɒˈθiːsɪs/ ▷ noun (protheses /-siːz/) 1 linguistics the addition of a sound or syllable at the beginning of a word, eg the Spanish 'escuela' meaning 'school' developed in this way from Latin 'schola'. Also called prosthesis. 2 in Eastern Orthodox churches: a the preparation of the Eucharist and placing it on the table ready for use; b the table itself or the part of the church where the table stands. ● prothetic /prəˈθɛtɪk/ adj. ⓘ 17c: Greek, meaning 'a placing before'.

prothrombin /proʊˈθrɒmbɪn/ ▷ noun, biochem one of the clotting factors in blood, which is converted to the enzyme THROMBIN, which in turn causes the conversion of FIBRINOGEN to FIBRIN. ⓘ 19c.

protist /ˈproʊtɪst/ ▷ noun, biol any member of the kingdom of organisms Protista /-ˈtɪstə/, including unicellular algae, bacteria, fungi, etc, which typically possess a true FLAGELLUM. ⓘ 19c: from Greek protistos very first.

proto- /ˈproʊtoʊ/ or before a vowel prot- ▷ combining form, denoting 1 first; earliest in time □ prototype. 2 first of a series. ⓘ Latin and Greek, from Greek protos first.

protocol /ˈproʊtəkɒl/ ▷ noun 1 correct formal or diplomatic etiquette or procedure. 2 a first draft of a diplomatic document, eg one setting out the terms of a treaty. 3 N Amer, especially US a plan of a scientific experiment or other procedure. ⓘ 16c: from Latin protocollum, from Greek protokollon a note of the contents of a document, glued to the front sheet, from kolla glue.

Proto-Indo-European see INDO-EUROPEAN

proton /ˈproʊtɒn/ ▷ noun, physics any of the positively charged subatomic particles that are found inside the nucleus at the centre of an atom. Compare NEUTRON. ⓘ 1920s: Greek, from protos first.

protoplasm /ˈproʊtəplazəm, ˈproʊtoʊ-/ ▷ noun, biol the mass of protein material of which cells are composed, consisting of the cytoplasm and usually a nucleus. See also PLASM. ● protoplasmal /-ˈplazməl/ adj. ● protoplasmatic /-ˈmatɪk/ adj. ● protoplasmic /-ˈplazmɪk/ adj. ⓘ 19c.

prototype ▷ noun 1 an original model from which later forms are copied, developed or derived. 2 a first working version, eg of a vehicle or aircraft. 3 someone or something that exemplifies a type. 4 a primitive or ancestral form of something. ● prototypal adj. ● prototypic /-ˈtɪpɪk/ adj. ● prototypical /-ˈtɪpɪkəl/ adj. ● prototypically adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Greek prototypos primitive or original.

protozoan /proʊtəˈzoʊən/ ▷ noun (protozoa /-ˈzoʊə/) a member of a phylum of single-celled organisms, the Protozoa, including both plant-like and animal-like forms, eg amoeba and disease-carrying parasites. ▷ adj relating to such organisms. ● protozoic /-'zoʊɪk/ adj. ● protozoal adj. ⓘ 19c: from PROTO- + Greek zoion animal.

protract /prə'trakt/ ▷ verb (protracted, protracting) 1 to prolong; to cause something to last a long time. 2 to lengthen something out. 3 to draw something using a scale and protractor. ● protraction noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin protrahere, protractum to drag forth.

protracted ▷ adj lasting longer than usual or longer than expected.

protractile /prə'traktaɪl/ ▷ adj said of a body part, eg a cat's claws: capable of being extended. ⓘ 19c: see PROTRACT.

protractor ▷ noun, geom an instrument, usually a transparent plastic semicircle marked in degrees, used to draw and measure angles. ⓘ 17c: see PROTRACT (sense 3).

protrude /prə'truːd/ ▷ verb (protruded, protruding) 1 intr to project; to stick out. 2 to push something out or forward. ● protrusion noun. ● protrusive adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin protrudere to thrust forward.

protuberant /prə'tʃuːbərənt/ ▷ adj projecting; bulging; swelling out. ● protuberance noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin protuberare to swell out.

> protuberance, protuberant
>
> These are often mispronounced and misspelt as if they were protruberance or protruberant, under the influence of protrude.

proud ▷ adj 1 (often proud of someone or something) feeling satisfaction, delight, etc with one's own or another's accomplishments, possessions, etc. 2 said of an event, occasion, etc: arousing justifiable pride □ a proud day. 3 arrogant; conceited. 4 concerned for one's dignity and self-respect. 5 honoured; gratified; delighted. 6 splendid; imposing; distinguished □ a proud sight. 7 poetic lofty; high. 8 technical projecting slightly from the surrounding surface □ the top edge standing proud. 9 said of flesh: forming a protuberant mass round a healing wound. ● proudly adverb. ● proudness noun. ● do oneself proud to succeed gloriously. ● do someone proud to entertain or treat them grandly. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon prud.

Prov. ▷ abbreviation 1 Provence. 2 Book of the Bible: Proverbs. See table at BIBLE. 3 Provost.

prove /pruːv/ ▷ verb (past tense proved, past participle proved or proven, present participle proving) 1 to show something to be true, correct or a fact. 2 to show something to be (a specified thing) □ was proved innocent. 3 intr to be found to be (a specified thing) when tried; to turn out to be the case □ Her advice proved sound. 4 to show (oneself) to be (of a specified type or quality, etc) □ He proved himself reliable. 5 to show (oneself) capable or daring. 6 law to establish the validity of (a will). 7 said of dough: to rise when baked. ● provable or proveable adj. ⓘ 12c: from French prover, from Latin probare to test or prove, from probus good.

proven /'proʊvən, 'pruːvən/ ▷ verb, past participle of PROVE. ▷ adj shown to be true, worthy, etc. □ a proven statement □ an opportunity for a sales manager of proven ability. See separate entry NOT PROVEN.

provenance /'prɒvənəns/ ▷ noun the place of origin (of a work of art, archaeological find, etc). ⓘ 18c: French, from Latin provenire to come forth.

Provençal /prɒvɒn'sɑːl/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to Provence, an area in SE France, its inhabitants, their culture or language. 2 (usually à la provençale) denoting a style of French cookery that traditionally uses olive oil, tomatoes, onion, garlic and white wine and, in meat dishes, slow-cooking the beef, etc □ eggs à la provençale. ▷ noun 1 a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Provence. 2 a language spoken in Provence, related to French, Italian and Catalan. ⓘ 16c.

provender /'prɒvɪndə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 dry food for livestock, eg corn and hay. 2 now usually facetious food. ⓘ 14c: from French provendre, from Latin praebenda payment.

proverb /'prɒvɜːb/ ▷ noun any of a body of well-known neatly-expressed sayings that give advice or express a supposed truth. ⓘ 14c: from French proverbe, from Latin proverbium, from verbum word.

proverbial /prə'vɜːbɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to a proverb. 2 referred to in a proverb; traditionally quoted; well known □ turned up like the proverbial bad penny. ● proverbially adverb.

Proverbs ▷ singular noun the title of a book in the Old Testament. See table at BIBLE.

provide /prə'vaɪd/ ▷ verb (provided, providing) 1 to supply. 2 said of a circumstance or situation, etc: to offer (a specified thing) □ provide enjoyment □ provide an opportunity. 3 chiefly law to stipulate or require (that something should be done, etc). ● provider noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin providere to see ahead.

> ■ provide against or for something to be prepared for (an unexpected contingency, an emergency, etc).
>
> ■ provide for someone or something to support or keep (a dependant, etc); or arrange for the means to do so □ provided for his old age.
>
> ■ provide for something chiefly law to specify it as a requirement, or enable it to be done.

provided and providing ▷ conj 1 on the condition or understanding (that a specified thing happens, etc) □ You can come in provided you don't smoke. 2 if and only if □ Providing Joe gives me the money, I'll go out tonight.

providence /'prɒvɪdəns/ ▷ noun 1 a a mysterious power or force that operates to keep one from harm, etc; b the benevolent foresight of God. 2 (Providence) God or Nature regarded as an all-seeing protector of the world. 3 the quality of being provident; prudent foresight or thrifty planning. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin providentia foresight, from providere to provide.

provident /'prɒvɪdənt/ ▷ adj 1 having foresight and making provisions for the future. 2 careful and thrifty; frugal. ● providently adverb.

providential /prɒvɪ'denʃəl/ ▷ adj due to providence; fortunate; lucky; opportune. ● providentially adverb.

province /'prɒvɪns/ ▷ noun 1 an administrative division of a country. 2 historical in the Roman empire: a territory outside Italy, governed by Rome as part of its empire. 3 someone's allotted range of duties or field of knowledge or experience, etc. 4 (the provinces) the parts of a country away from the capital, typically thought of as culturally backward. 5 the district over which a bishop has jurisdiction. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin provincia official charge.

provincial /prə'vɪnʃəl/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to a province. 2 relating to the parts of a country away from the capital □ a provincial accent. 3 derog supposedly typical of provinces in being culturally backward, unsophisticated or narrow in outlook □ provincial attitudes. ● provinciality noun. ● provincialize or provincialise verb. ● provincially adverb. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin provincialis, from provincia province.

provincialism ▷ noun 1 being provincial. 2 the attitude, behaviour or speech peculiar to a province or country district. 3 a local expression. 4 ignorance and narrowness of interests. ● provincialist noun.

proving-ground ▷ noun an area of scientific work where theories are tested; an area where something is tried out for the first time. ⓘ 19c.

provirus ▷ noun, biol the form of a virus when it is integrated into the DNA of a host cell. • proviral adj. ⓘ 1950s.

provision /prəˈvɪʒən/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of providing. 2 something provided or made available; facilities. 3 preparations; measures taken in advance □ make provision for the future. 4 (provisions) food and other necessities. 5 law a condition or requirement; a clause stipulating or enabling something. ▷ verb (provisioned, provisioning) to supply (eg an army, country, boat) with food. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin provisio forethought, from providere to provide.

Provisional ▷ adj belonging or relating to the breakaway wing of the Official IRA which advocates terrorism as the way to bring about Irish unity. ▷ noun a member of the Provisional IRA. See also PROVO.

provisional /prəˈvɪʒənəl/ ▷ adj temporary; for the time being or immediate purposes only; liable to be altered. • provisionally adverb.

proviso /prəˈvaɪzoʊ/ ▷ noun (provisos) 1 a condition or stipulation. 2 law a clause stating a condition. ⓘ 15c: from Latin proviso quod it being provided that.

provisory /prəˈvaɪzərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 containing a proviso or condition; conditional. 2 making provision for the time being; temporary. ⓘ 17c.

Provo /ˈproʊvoʊ/ colloq ▷ noun (Provos) a PROVISIONAL. ▷ adj PROVISIONAL. ⓘ 1970s.

provocateur see AGENT PROVOCATEUR.

provocation /prɒvəˈkeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of provoking or state of being provoked; incitement. 2 a cause of anger, irritation or indignation. ⓘ 15c: from Latin provocatio, provocationis calling forth or challenge.

provocative /prəˈvɒkətɪv/ ▷ adj 1 tending or intended to cause anger; deliberately infuriating. 2 said of a debate, argument, etc: controversial, but often stimulating. 3 sexually arousing or stimulating, especially by design. • provocatively adverb. ⓘ 17c.

provoke /prəˈvoʊk/ ▷ verb (provoked, provoking) 1 to annoy or infuriate someone, especially deliberately. 2 to incite or goad. 3 to rouse (someone's anger, etc). 4 to cause, stir up or bring about something □ provoked a storm of protest. • provoking adj. • provokingly adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin provocare to call forth.

provost /ˈprɒvəst/ ▷ noun 1 the head of some university colleges. 2 in Scotland: a the chief councillor of a district council; b formerly the chief magistrate of a burgh. 3 the senior cleric in a cathedral or collegiate church. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon profost, influenced by Latin propositus placed at the head.

provost marshal ▷ noun an officer in charge of military police. ⓘ 16c.

prow /praʊ/ ▷ noun the projecting front part of a ship; the BOW[3]. ⓘ 16c: from French proue, from Latin prora.

prowess /ˈpraʊɪs/ ▷ noun 1 skill; ability; expertise. 2 valour; dauntlessness. ⓘ 13c: from French proesse, from prou worthy.

prowl /praʊl/ ▷ verb (prowled, prowling) intr 1 to go about stealthily, eg in search of prey □ prowled the streets looking for likely victims. 2 intr to pace restlessly. ▷ noun an act of prowling. • prowler noun. • on the prowl 1 lurking about menacingly. 2 looking for a sexual partner. ⓘ 14c.

prox. ▷ abbreviation proximo.

proxemics /prɒkˈsiːmɪks/ ▷ singular noun, social the study of how people use physical space as an aspect of non-verbal communication, concerned with the intimate, personal, social and public distances that individuals, classes and cultures maintain when interacting. ⓘ 1960s: from PROXIMITY, modelled on PHONEMICS, etc.

Proxima Centauri ▷ noun, astron the closest star to the Sun, and a faint companion to the double star Alpha Centauri in the constellation Centaurus.

proximal /ˈprɒksɪməl/ ▷ noun, biol at the near, inner or attached end. • proximally adverb. Compare DISTAL. ⓘ 19c: from Latin proximus nearest.

proximate /ˈprɒksɪmət/ ▷ adj 1 nearest. 2 immediately before or after in time, place or chronology. • proximately adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin proximare, proximatum to approach, from proximus nearest.

proximity /prɒkˈsɪmɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (proximities) nearness; closeness in space or time. ⓘ 15c: from Latin proximitas, from proximus next.

proximo /ˈprɒksɪmoʊ/ ▷ adverb (abbreviation prox.) used mainly in formal correspondence: in or during the next month. Compare ULTIMO. ⓘ 19c: from Latin proximo mense during the next month.

proxy /ˈprɒksɪ/ ▷ noun (proxies) 1 a a person authorized to act or vote on another's behalf; b the agency of such a person; c as adj □ a proxy vote. 2 a the authority to act or vote for someone else; b a document granting this. ⓘ 15c: a contraction of PROCURACY.

Prozac /ˈproʊzak/ ▷ noun, trademark an anti-depressant drug that increases the levels of serotonin in the central nervous system.

PRS ▷ abbreviation 1 Performing Rights Society. 2 President of the Royal Society.

prude /pruːd/ ▷ noun someone who is, or affects to be, shocked by improper behaviour, mention of sexual matters, etc; a prim or priggish person. • prudery noun. • prudish adj. • prudishness noun. ⓘ 18c: French, from prude femme respectable woman.

prudent /ˈpruːdənt/ ▷ adj 1 wise or careful in conduct. 2 shrewd or thrifty in planning ahead. 3 wary; discreet. • prudence noun. • prudently adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin prudens, prudentis, from providens seeing ahead.

prudential /pruˈdɛnʃəl/ ▷ adj, old use characterized by or exercising careful forethought. • prudentially adverb. ⓘ 17c.

prune[1] ▷ verb (pruned, pruning) 1 to cut off (branches, etc) from (a tree or shrub) in order to stimulate its growth, improve the production of fruit or flowers, etc. 2 to cut out (superfluous matter) from (a piece of writing, etc); to trim or edit. 3 to cut back on (expenses, etc). ▷ noun an act of pruning. • pruner noun. ⓘ 15c: from French proignier, from provigner to prune vines.

prune[2] ▷ noun 1 a PLUM that has been preserved by drying, which gives it a black wrinkled appearance. 2 colloq a silly foolish person. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin prunum plum.

prunella /pruːˈnɛlə/ ▷ noun a strong silk or woollen material, formerly used for academic and clerical gowns and women's shoes. ⓘ 17c.

pruning hook ▷ noun a garden tool with a curved blade, used for pruning, etc.

prurient /ˈprʊərɪənt/ ▷ adj 1 unhealthily or excessively interested in sexual matters. 2 tending to arouse such unhealthy interest. • prurience noun. • pruriently adverb. ⓘ 18c: from Latin pruriens, prurientis itching or lusting after.

prurigo /prʊəˈraɪgoʊ/ ▷ noun a skin disease characterized by red, slightly raised, intensely itchy patches. ⓘ 17c: Latin, meaning 'an itching'.

pruritus /prʊəˈraɪtəs/ ▷ noun, medicine itching. • pruritic /-ˈrɪtɪk/ adj. ⓘ 17c: Latin, from prurire to itch.

Prussian /ˈprʌʃən/ historical ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to Prussia, a former N European state, or its inhabitants. 2 belonging or relating to this state's militaristic tradition. ▷ noun a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Prussia. ⓘ 16c.

Prussian blue ▷ noun 1 chem a dark blue crystalline compound, used as a pigment. 2 the colour of this. ▷ adj (Prussian-blue) Prussian-blue coloured.

prussic acid see under HYDROGEN CYANIDE pry[1] ▷ verb (pries, pried, prying) intr 1 (also pry into something) to investigate, especially the personal affairs of others; to nose or snoop. 2 to peer or peep inquisitively. ▷ noun (pries) 1 the act of prying. 2 a nosey or inquisitive person. ⓘ 14c.

pry[2] ▷ verb (pries, pried, prying) N Amer, especially US to prise. ⓘ 19c.

PS ▷ abbreviation postscript.

PSA ▷ abbreviation, Brit Property Services Agency.

psalm /sɑːm/ ▷ noun a sacred song, especially one from the Book of Psalms in the Old Testament. ⓘ 10c: from Latin psalmus, from Greek psalmos a song sung to a harp, from psallein to play the harp.

psalmist /ˈsɑːmɪst/ ▷ noun a composer of psalms.

psalmody /ˈsɑːmədɪ, ˈsal-/ ▷ noun (psalmodies) 1 the art of singing psalms. 2 a collected body of psalms. ⓘ 14c: from Greek psalmos psalm + oide song.

Psalms ▷ noun the title of a book in the Old Testament. See table at BIBLE.

psalter /ˈsɔːltə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the PSALMS, often applied to a metrical version intended for singing. 2 a book containing the Biblical psalms. ⓘ 10c: from Latin psalterium, from Greek psalterion stringed instrument.

psaltery /ˈsɔːltərɪ/ ▷ noun (psalteries) historical, music a stringed instrument similar to a ZITHER, played by plucking. ⓘ 14c: see PSALTER.

p's and q's /piːzənˈkjuːz/ ▷ noun ● watch or mind one's p's and q's to be one one's best behaviour, especially by being careful not to use inappropriate language.

PSBR ▷ abbreviation, econ public sector borrowing requirement, the money needed by the public sector to finance services, etc not covered by revenue.

psephology /sɪˈfɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the statistical study of elections and voting patterns. ● psephological /siːfəˈlɒdʒɪkəl, sefə-/ adj. ● psephologically adverb. ● psephologist noun. ⓘ 1950s: from Greek psephos a pebble or vote + -LOGY.

pseud /sjuːd, suːd/ Brit colloq ▷ noun a pretentious person; a bogus intellectual; a phoney. ▷ adj bogus, sham or phoney. ⓘ 1960s: from PSEUDO-.

pseudo ▷ adj, colloq false; sham; phoney.

pseudo- /ˈsjuːdoʊ, ˈsuːdoʊ/ or (before a vowel) pseud- ▷ combining form, forming nouns and adjectives, denoting 1 false; pretending to be something ▫ pseudo-intellectuals. 2 deceptively resembling ▫ pseudo-scientific jargon. ⓘ From Greek pseudes false.

pseudocarp /ˈsjuːdoʊkɑːp/ ▷ noun, bot a fruit that is formed from other parts of the flower in addition to the ovary, eg the strawberry, which includes the receptacle. Non-technical equivalent false fruit. ⓘ 19c: from Greek karpos fruit.

pseudocyesis /sjuːdoʊsaɪˈiːsɪs/ ▷ noun, medicine FALSE PREGNANCY. Also called phantom pregnancy. ⓘ 19c: from pseudo- + Greek cyesis pregnancy.

pseudomorph /ˈsjuːdoʊmɔːf/ ▷ noun 1 a crystal, etc that has undergone a chemical or other change so that it takes on a form that is more usual in another. 2 any false or deceptive form. ● pseudomorphic /-ˈmɔːfɪk/ adj. ● pseudomorphism /-ˈmɔːfɪzəm/ noun. ⓘ 19c: from Greek morphe form.

pseudonym /ˈsjuːdənɪm/ ▷ noun a false or assumed name, especially one used by an author, a pen name or nom de plume. ● pseudonymous /-ˈdɒnɪməs/ adj. ⓘ 19c: from PSEUDO- 1 + Greek onyma name.

pseudopodium /sjuːdoʊˈpoʊdɪəm/ ▷ noun (pseudopodia /-ɪə/) zool any of a number of temporary lobe-like protrusions from the cell of a PROTOZOAN, produced by the streaming of cytoplasm and used to aid locomotion and to engulf food particles. ⓘ 19c: from PSEUDO-[2] + Greek pous, podos foot.

psi[1] /psaɪ/ ▷ noun the twenty-third letter of the Greek alphabet. See table at GREEK ALPHABET.

psi[2] ▷ abbreviation pounds per square inch, a unit of pressure measurement.

psilocybin /saɪləˈsaɪbɪn/ ▷ noun the substance found in certain mushrooms or toadstools which produces hallucinogenic effects similar to those of LSD. Formula $C_{12}H_{17}N_2O_4P$. ⓘ 1950s: German, from Latin psilocybe, form Greek psilos bare + kybe head.

psittacine /ˈsɪtəsaɪn/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to or resembling a parrot. ⓘ 19c: from Latin psittacus a parrot.

psittacosis /sɪtəˈkoʊsɪs/ ▷ noun, pathol a contagious disease of birds, especially parrots, that is caused by chlamydiae (see CHLAMYDIA) and which can be transmitted to human beings as a form of pneumonia. See also ORNITHOSIS. ⓘ 19c: Latin, from Greek psittakos parrot.

psoriasis /səˈraɪəsɪs/ ▷ noun, pathol, a common non-contagious skin disease of unknown cause, characterized by red patches covered with white scales, mainly on the elbows, knees, scalp and torso. ⓘ 17c: Latin, from Greek, from psora itch.

psst or pst /pst/ ▷ exclamation used to draw someone's attention quietly or surreptitiously. ⓘ 1920s.

PSV ▷ abbreviation, Brit public service vehicle, eg a bus.

psych or psyche /saɪk/ ▷ verb (psyched, psyching) colloq to psychoanalyse someone. ⓘ Early 20c: a shortening of PSYCHOANALYSE and other related words.

▪ psych someone out to undermine the confidence of (an opponent, etc); to intimidate or demoralize them.

▪ psych oneself or someone up to prepare or steel oneself, or them, for a challenge, etc.

psych- see PSYCHO-

psyche /ˈsaɪkɪ/ ▷ noun (psyches) the mind or spirit, especially with regard to the deep feelings and attitudes that account for someone's opinions and behaviour. ⓘ 17c: Greek, meaning 'breath' or 'life'.

psychedelia /saɪkɪˈdiːlɪə/ ▷ plural noun psychedelic items such as posters paintings, etc collectivley or generally. ⓘ 1960s.

psychedelic /saɪkəˈdelɪk/ ▷ adj 1 a said of a drug, especially LSD: inducing a state of altered consciousness characterized by an increase in perception, eg of colour, sound, etc, hallucinations, and an intensifying of emotions that will sometimes reveal significant underlying motivations; b said of an event or experience, etc: resembling such effects; bizarre ▫ had a psychedelic vision; c belonging or relating to this kind of drug experience, etc ▫ the psychedelic 60s. 2 said of perceived phenomena, eg colour, music, etc: startlingly clear and vivid, often with a complex dazzling pattern. ● psychedelically adverb. ⓘ 1950s: from PSYCHE + Greek delos clear.

psychedelic art ▷ noun an art style influenced by the prevalence of hallucinatory drugs, especially LSD, with typical designs featuring abstract swirls of intense colour with curvilinear calligraphy reminiscent of ART NOUVEAU. ⓘ 1960s.

psychiatry /saɪˈkaɪətrɪ/ ▷ noun the branch of medicine concerned with the study, diagnosis, treatment and prevention of mental and emotional disorders such as psychoses, neuroses, schizophrenia, depression, eating disorders, mental handicap, etc. ● psychiatric /saɪkɪˈatrɪk/ adj. ● psychiatrist noun. ⓘ 19c: from PSYCHE + Greek iatros doctor.

psychic /ˈsaɪkɪk/ ▷ adj 1 (also psychical) relating to mental processes or experiences that are not scientifically explainable, eg telepathy. 2 said of a person: sensitive to influences that produce such experiences; having mental powers that are not scientifically explainable. ▷ noun someone who possesses such powers. ⓘ 19c: from Greek psychikos relating to the PSYCHE.

psycho /ˈsaɪkoʊ/ colloq ▷ noun (psychos /ˈsaɪkoʊz/) a psychopath. ▷ adj psychopathic. ⓘ 1940s; 1920s as shortening of PSYCHOANALYSIS.

psycho- /ˈsaɪkoʊ/ or (before a vowel) psych- /saɪk/ ▷ combining form, denoting the mind and its workings. ⓘ Greek: see PSYCHE.

psychoactive ▷ adj said of a drug: affecting the brain and influencing behaviour. Also called psychotropic. ⓘ 1960s.

psychoanalyse or (US) psychoanalyze ▷ verb to examine or treat someone by psychoanalysis. ⓘ Early 20c.

psychoanalysis ▷ noun, psychol a theory and method of treatment for mental and emotional disorders, which explores the effects of unconscious motivation and conflict on a person's behaviour. • psychoanalyst noun. • psychoanalytic or psychoanalytical adj. ⓘ 19c: from French psychoanalyse; pioneered by the Austrian neurologist Sigmund Freud (1856–1939).

psychoanalytic criticism ▷ noun an approach to literary criticism using the techniques and insights of psychoanalysis, making the assumption that the writer's unconscious desires may shape the text, etc.

psychobabble ▷ noun, colloq language that is impossible or very difficult to understand because it is too full of popular psychological jargon. ⓘ 1970s.

psychodrama ▷ noun, psychol a form of psychotherapy in which, by acting out real-life situations, a patient learns new ways of dealing with both emotional and interpersonal problems. ⓘ 1930s.

psychodynamics ▷ singular noun, psychol the study of mental and emotional forces, their source in past experience, and their effect. • psychodynamic adj. ⓘ 19c.

psychogenesis ▷ noun the study of the origin and development of the mind. • psychogenetic or psychogenetically adj. ⓘ 19c.

psychogenic ▷ adj said of symptoms, etc: originating in the mind. • psychogenically adverb. ⓘ 19c.

psychokinesis ▷ noun the apparent power to move objects, etc by non-physical means. ⓘ 19c.

psycholinguistics ▷ singular noun the psychological study of language development and the relationship between language and mental processes, eg memory, mental disorders, etc. ⓘ 1930s.

psychological /saɪkəˈlɒdʒɪkəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating or referring to PSYCHOLOGY. 2 relating or referring to the mind or mental processes. • psychologically adverb.

psychological moment ▷ noun the most suitable moment for achieving a particular purpose.

psychological warfare ▷ noun the use of propaganda and other methods in war-time to influence enemy opinion and sap enemy morale. ⓘ 1940s.

psychology /saɪˈkɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the scientific study of the mind and behaviour of humans and animals. 2 the mental attitudes and associated behaviour characteristic of a certain individual or group. 3 the ability to understand how people's minds work, useful when trying to influence them. • psychologist noun. ⓘ 17c: see PSYCHO-.

psychometrics ▷ singular noun, psychol the branch of psychology concerned with the measurement of psychological characteristics, especially intelligence, personality and mood states. ⓘ 1920s.

psychopath /ˈsaɪkəpaθ/ ▷ noun 1 technical someone with a personality disorder characterized by extreme callousness, who is liable to behave antisocially or violently in getting their own way, without any feelings of remorse. 2 colloq someone who is dangerously unstable mentally or emotionally. • psychopathic adj. • psychopathically adverb. ⓘ 19c.

psychopathology ▷ noun, medicine 1 the scientific study of mental disorders, as opposed to the treatment of such disorders. 2 the symptoms of a mental disorder.

psychopathy /saɪˈkɒpəθɪ/ ▷ noun, psychol a personality disorder characterized by an inability to form close relationships, the rejection of authority, and little or no guilt for antisocial behaviour. ⓘ 19c.

psychosexual ▷ adj belonging or relating to the psychological aspects of sex, eg sexual fantasies. ⓘ 19c.

psychosis /saɪˈkoʊsɪs/ ▷ noun (psychoses /-siːz/) psychol one of the two divisions of psychiatric disorders, characterized by a loss of contact with reality, in the form of delusions or hallucinations and belief that only one's own actions are rational. Compare NEUROSIS. ⓘ 19c: from Greek, meaning 'animation', taken in modern use to mean 'condition of the psyche'.

psychosocial ▷ adj belonging or relating to matters which are both psychological and social. ⓘ 19c.

psychosomatic ▷ adj, medicine said of physical symptoms or disorders: strongly associated with psychological factors, especially mental stress, such as peptic ulcers and certain forms of eczema. • psychosomatically adverb. ⓘ 1930s.

psychosurgery ▷ noun brain surgery that is performed with the aim of treating a mental disorder. ⓘ 1930s.

psychotherapist ▷ noun an expert in psychotherapy.

psychotherapy ▷ noun the treatment of mental disorders and emotional and behavioural problems by psychological means, rather than by drugs or surgery. See also PSYCHOANALYSIS, GESTALT THERAPY. ⓘ 19c.

psychotic ▷ adj relating to or involving a PSYCHOSIS. ▷ noun someone suffering from a psychosis. • psychotically adverb.

psychotropic ▷ adj PSYCHOACTIVE. ⓘ 1950s.

PT ▷ abbreviation physical training.

Pt[1] ▷ abbreviation in placenames, etc: Port.

Pt[2] ▷ symbol, chem platinum.

pt ▷ abbreviation 1 part. 2 pint. 3 point.

PTA ▷ abbreviation Parent–Teacher Association.

ptarmigan /ˈtɑːmɪgən/ ▷ noun a mountain-dwelling game-bird with white winter plumage. ⓘ 16c: from Scottish Gaelic tàrmachan; the p was wrongly added under the influence of Greek words beginning with pt-.

Pte ▷ abbreviation, military Private, the title for an ordinary soldier.

-ptera /ptərə/ zool ▷ combining form, forming plural nouns, denoting organisms with a specified type or number of wings or wing-like parts. ⓘ From Greek pteron wing.

pteridophyte /ˈterɪdəfaɪt/ ▷ noun, bot any member of the division of vascular plants Pteridophyta /–ˈdɒfɪtə/ which do not produce seeds, including ferns, clubmosses and horsetails. ⓘ 19c: from Greek pteris, pteridos fern + phyton plant.

pterodactyl /terəˈdaktɪl/ ▷ noun a former name for PTEROSAUR. ⓘ 19c: from Greek pteron wing + daktylos finger.

pterosaur /ˈterəsɔː(r)/ ▷ noun any of the order of extinct flying reptiles Pterosauria with narrow leathery wings, known from the late Triassic to the end of the Cretaceous period. Formerly called pterodactyl. ⊙ 19c from Greek pteron wing + -SAUR.

PTFE ▷ abbreviation polytetrafluoroethylene.

PTO or pto ▷ abbreviation please turn over.

ptomaine /ˈtoumeɪn/ ▷ noun, biochem any of a group of nitrogenous organic compounds, some of which are poisonous, produced during the bacterial decomposition of dead animal and plant matter. ⊙ 19c: from Italian ptomaina, from Greek ptoma corpse.

Pty ▷ abbreviation proprietary.

ptyalin /ˈtaɪəlɪn/ ▷ noun, biochem in mammals: an enzyme present in the saliva that is responsible for the initial stages of the breakdown of starch. ⊙ 19c: from Greek ptyalon spittle.

Pu ▷ symbol, chem plutonium.

pub colloq ▷ noun a PUBLIC HOUSE. ▷ verb (pubbed, pubbing) intr, colloq to visit pubs. ⊙ 19c.

pub crawl ▷ noun, colloq an occasion of visiting, and drinking in, a number of pubs in succession.

puberty /ˈpjuːbətɪ/ ▷ noun, biol in humans and other primates: the onset of sexual maturity, when the secondary sexual characteristics appear and the reproductive organs become functional. ⊙ 14c: from Latin pubertas the age of maturity, from puber youth.

pubes /ˈpjuːbiːz/ ▷ noun (plural pubes) 1 anatomy the pubic region of the lower abdomen; the groin. 2 (also colloq treated as plural noun /pjuːbz/) the hair that grows on this part from puberty onward. See also PUBIS. ⊙ 16c: Latin.

pubescence /pjuːˈbesəns/ ▷ noun 1 the onset of puberty. 2 biol a soft downy covering on plants and animals. • pubescent adj. ⊙ 17c: French, from Latin pubescere to reach puberty.

pubic /ˈpjuːbɪk/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to the pubis or pubes.

pubis /ˈpjuːbɪs/ ▷ noun (plural pubes /-biːz/) anatomy in most vertebrates: one of the two bones forming the lower front part of each side of the pelvis. ⊙ 16c: shortened from Latin os pubis bone of the pubes.

public /ˈpʌblɪk/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or concerning all the people of a country or community □ public health □ public opinion. 2 relating to the organization and administration of a community. 3 provided for the use of the community □ public library □ public toilet. 4 well known through exposure in the media □ a famous public figure. 5 made, done or held, etc openly, for all to see, hear or participate in □ a public inquiry. 6 known to all □ public knowledge □ make one's views public. 7 watched or attended by an audience, spectators, etc. 8 open to view; not private or secluded □ It's too public here. 9 provided by or run by central or local government □ under public ownership. ▷ singular or plural noun 1 the people or community. 2 a particular class of people □ the concert-going public. 3 an author's or performer's, etc audience or group of devotees □ mustn't disappoint my public. • go public 1 business to become a public company. 2 to make something previously private known to everyone. • in public in the presence of other people. • in the public eye said of a person, etc: well known through media exposure. ⊙ 15c: from Latin publicus, from populus people.

> public
>
> • Public can be treated as a singular or plural noun; to reinforce the plural the phrase members of the public is often used □ The public welcome the way we are treating teachers as a professional body □ You can hardly blame manufacturers for turning out what the public seems to want □ Most members of the public understand this fact.

public-address system ▷ noun (abbreviation PA system or PA) a system of microphones, amplifiers and loudspeakers, used to communicate public announcements, etc over a large area. ⊙ 1920s.

publican /ˈpʌblɪkən/ ▷ noun 1 Brit the keeper of a PUBLIC HOUSE. 2 Bible, etc a tax-collector. ⊙ 18c in sense 1; 13c in sense 2: from Latin publicanus tax-farmer, from publicum the public revenue.

publication /pʌblɪˈkeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of publishing a printed work; the process of publishing or of being published. 2 a book, magazine, newspaper or other printed and published work. 3 the act of making something known to the public.

public bar ▷ noun in a public house: a bar which is less well furnished and serves drinks more cheaply than a lounge bar (see LOUNGE noun 4).

public company and public limited company (abbreviation PLC or plc) ▷ noun, business a company whose shares are available for purchase on the open market by the public. Compare LIMITED COMPANY.

public convenience ▷ noun a public toilet.

public enemy ▷ noun someone whose behaviour threatens the community, especially a criminal.

public health inspector ▷ noun a person whose job is to maintain the health of a community, eg by overseeing sanitation, drainage, hygienic food preparation, etc. See also SANITARY INSPECTOR.

public holiday ▷ noun a day kept as an official holiday, on which businesses, etc are usually closed.

public house ▷ noun 1 Brit an establishment licensed to sell alcoholic drinks for consumption on the premises. Often shortened to PUB. 2 an inn, tavern or small hotel. ⊙ 17c; 16c in obsolete sense 'a building open to the public'.

public image see IMAGE

public international law see INTERNATIONAL LAW publicity /pʌˈblɪsɪtɪ/ ▷ noun 1 advertising or other activity designed to rouse public interest in something. 2 public interest attracted in this way. 3 the condition of being the object of public attention. ⊙ 18c.

publicize or publicise /ˈpʌblɪsaɪz/ ▷ verb (publicized, publicizing) 1 to make something generally or widely known. 2 to advertise. ⊙ 1920s.

public lending right ▷ noun (abbreviation PLR) an author's right to payment when their books are borrowed from public libraries.

public library ▷ noun a library which any member of the public can join and borrow books, records, etc from.

public limited company see PUBLIC COMPANY public nuisance ▷ noun 1 an illegal act that causes trouble or danger to the general public. 2 informal an irritating or annoying person.

public prosecutor ▷ noun, law a public official whose job is to prosecute those charged with criminal offences.

public purse ▷ noun the nation's finances or wealth.

public relations (abbreviation PR) singular or plural noun the process of creating a good relationship between an organization, etc and the public, especially with regard to reputation, communication of information, etc. ▷ singular noun the department within an organization that is responsible for this. Also as adj □ public relations department. ⊙ 19c.

public school ▷ noun 1 in the UK: a secondary school, especially a boarding school run independently of the state, financed by endowments and by pupils' fees. 2 in the US: a school run by a public authority. Brit equivalent STATE SCHOOL. Compare PRIVATE SCHOOL, GRANT-MAINTAINED.

public sector ▷ noun the part of a country's economy which consists of nationalized industries and of institutions and services run by the state or local authorities.

public servant ▷ noun an elected or appointed holder of public office; a government employee.

public spending ▷ noun spending by a government or local authority, financed either by tax revenues or by borrowing.

public-spirited ▷ adj acting from or showing concern for the general good of the whole community.

public utility ▷ noun a company which provides a supply eg of gas, water or electricity, or other service, for a community.

public works ▷ noun buildings, roads, etc built by the state for public use.

publish /ˈpʌblɪʃ/ ▷ verb (publishes, published, publishing) tr & intr 1 to prepare, produce and distribute (printed material, computer software, etc) for sale to the public. 2 tr & intr said of an author: to have (their work) published. 3 to publish the work of (an author). 4 to announce something publicly. 5 law to circulate (a libel). Ⓒ 14c: from French publier, from Latin publicare to make public.

publisher ▷ noun 1 a person or company engaged in the business of publishing books, newspapers, music, software, etc. 2 N Amer a newspaper proprietor.

publishing ▷ noun the activity or trade of a publisher or publishers, including the commissioning, production and marketing of material, eg books, magazines, newspapers, audio-visual material, computer-based information, etc.

pub quiz ▷ noun a quiz held in a pub, often on a regular basis, where teams of contestants try to answer questions on various subjects, eg general knowledge, sport, music, current affairs, etc. It is usually played in good spirits and the winners often receive a small prize.

puce /pjuːs/ ▷ noun a colour anywhere in the range between deep purplish-pink and purplish-brown. ▷ adj puce-coloured. Ⓒ 18c: from French couleur de puce flea colour.

puck[1] ▷ noun a goblin or mischievous sprite. • puckish adj. Ⓒ Anglo-Saxon puca.

puck[2] ▷ noun, sport 1 a thick disc of hard rubber used in ice hockey instead of a ball. 2 a hit of the ball in hurling. ▷ verb (pucked, pucking) to hit (the ball) in hurling. Ⓒ 19c.

pucker /ˈpʌkə(r)/ ▷ verb (puckered, puckering) tr & intr to gather into creases, folds or wrinkles; to wrinkle. ▷ noun a wrinkle, fold or crease. Ⓒ 16c.

pud /pʊd/ ▷ noun, Brit colloq pudding. Ⓒ 18c.

pudding /ˈpʊdɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 any of several sweet or savoury foods usually made with flour and eggs and cooked by steaming, boiling or baking. Often in compounds □ rice pudding □ steak and kidney pudding. 2 a any sweet food served as dessert; b the dessert course. 3 in compounds a type of sausage made with minced meat, spices, blood, oatmeal, etc □ black pudding. Ⓒ 13c as poding a kind of sausage.

puddle /ˈpʌdəl/ ▷ noun 1 a small pool, especially one of rainwater on the road. 2 (also puddle clay) a non-porous watertight material consisting of thoroughly mixed clay, sand and water. ▷ verb (puddled, puddling) 1 to make something watertight by means of puddle clay. 2 to knead (clay, sand and water) to make puddle clay. 3 metallurgy to produce (wrought iron) from molten pig by PUDDLING. 4 intr a to wallow in mud or shallow water; b to occupy oneself in something messy, or something not very productive. Ⓒ 14c in sense 2 as podel: probably from Anglo-Saxon pudd ditch.

puddling ▷ noun the original process for converting pig iron into wrought iron by melting it in a furnace and stirring to remove carbon.

pudenda /pjuːˈdɛndə/ ▷ plural noun (rarely singular pudendum /-dəm/) the external sexual organs, especially those of a woman. Ⓒ 17c: Latin, literally 'things to be ashamed of', from pudere to be ashamed.

pudgy see PODGY

pueblo /ˈpwɛbloʊ/ ▷ noun (pueblos) in Spanish-speaking countries: a town or settlement. Ⓒ 19c: Spanish, literally 'people', from Latin populus a people.

puerile /ˈpjʊəraɪl/ ▷ adj childish; silly; immature. • puerility /pjʊəˈrɪlɪtɪ/ noun. Ⓒ 17c: from Latin puerilis, from puer boy.

puerperal /pjuˈɜːpərəl/ ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to childbirth. 2 referring or relating to a woman who has just given birth. Ⓒ 18c: from Latin puerperium childbirth, from puerpera a woman in labour.

puerperal fever ▷ noun, pathol fever accompanying blood-poisoning caused by infection of the uterus or vagina during or just after childbirth or miscarriage. Ⓒ 18c.

puerperium /pjʊəˈpɪərɪəm/ ▷ noun, medicine the period between childbirth and the return of the womb to its normal state, usually about six weeks. Ⓒ 19c: Latin, from puerpera a woman in labour.

Puerto Rican /ˈpwɜːtə ˈriːkən/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Puerto Rico, the easternmost island of the Greater Antilles, or its inhabitants. ▷ noun a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Puerto Rico. Ⓒ 19c.

puff ▷ noun 1 a a small rush, gust or blast of air or wind, etc; b the sound made by it. 2 a small cloud of smoke, dust or steam emitted from something. 3 colloq breath □ quite out of puff. 4 an act of inhaling and exhaling smoke from a pipe or cigarette; a drag or draw. 5 in compounds a light pastry, often containing a sweet or savoury filling □ jam puffs. 6 a powder puff. 7 an item of publicity intended or serving as an advertisement. 8 derog slang a male homosexual. ▷ verb (puffed, puffing) 1 tr & intr to blow or breathe in small blasts. 2 intr said of smoke or steam, etc: to emerge in small gusts or blasts. 3 tr & intr to inhale and exhale smoke from, or draw at (a cigarette, etc). 4 intr (often puff along) said of a train or boat, etc: to go along emitting puffs of steam. 5 intr to pant, or go along panting □ puffing up the hill. 6 (often puff someone out) colloq to leave them breathless after exertion. 7 tr & intr (also puff out or up) to swell or cause something to swell □ puffed out its feathers. 8 to praise something extravagantly by way of advertisement. Ⓒ Anglo-Saxon pyffan.

puff adder ▷ noun any of various large thick-bodied vipers, native to Africa and the Middle East, which if alarmed emit a loud warning hiss and inflate their bodies with air. Ⓒ 18c.

puffball ▷ noun 1 bot the spore-bearing structure of certain fungi, consisting of a hollow ball of white or beige fleshy tissue from which spores are released as puffs of fine dust through a hole in the top. 2 (also puffball skirt) fashion a tight-waisted full skirt gathered in at the hem so as to be shaped like a ball. Ⓒ 17c; 1980s in sense 2.

puffed-out ▷ noun, colloq exhausted; out of breath.

puffed-up ▷ adj, colloq self-important, conceited.

puffer ▷ noun 1 Scottish historical a small steam-boat used to carry cargo around the west coast and Western Isles of Scotland. 2 someone or something which puffs.

puffer fish ▷ noun, zool any of several tropical fish capable of inflating their spine-covered bodies to become almost spherical, in response to attacks by predators.

puffin /ˈpʌfɪn/ ▷ noun a short stout black-and-white seabird of the AUK family, which has a large triangular bill with red, yellow and blue stripes. Ⓒ 14c as pophyn.

puff pastry ⊳ noun, cookery light flaky pastry made with a high proportion of fat.

puffy ⊳ adj (puffier, puffiest) swollen as a result of injury or ill health. ▪ puffily adverb. ▪ puffiness noun. ⊙ 17c.

pug[1] ⊳ noun a small breed of dog with a compact body, a short coat, a flattened face with a wrinkled snout and a short curled tail. ⊙ 18c as pug-dog; 16c as a term of endearment: related to PUCK[1].

pug[2] ⊳ verb (pugged, pugging) building 1 to mix (clay) with water so as to make it into a soft paste. 2 to pack with pugging. ⊙ 19c.

pugging ⊳ noun, building clay, sawdust, plaster, etc put between floors to deaden sound.

pugilism /ˈpjuːdʒɪlɪzəm/ ⊳ noun, old use or facetious the art or practice of boxing or prizefighting. ▪ pugilist noun. ⊙ 18c: from Latin pugil boxer.

pugnacious /pʌgˈneɪʃəs/ ⊳ adj given to fighting; quarrelsome, belligerent or combative. ▪ pugnaciously adverb. ▪ pugnacity /-ˈnasɪtɪ/ noun. ⊙ 17c: from Latin pugnax, pugnacis, from pugnare to fight.

pug nose ⊳ noun a short upturned nose. ▪ pug-nosed adj. ⊙ 18c: from PUG[1].

puisne /ˈpjuːnɪ/ ⊳ adj, law said of a judge: junior; lesser in rank. ⊙ 17c: French puisné younger, from Latin postea after + natus born.

puissance /ˈpwiːsɑ̃s/ ⊳ noun 1 showjumping a competition that tests the horse's ability to jump high fences. 2 chiefly poetic power; strength. ⊙ 1950s in sense 1; 15c in sense 2: French.

puissant /ˈpwiːsənt; US ˈpjuːɪsənt/ ⊳ adj, old use, poetic strong, mighty or powerful. ⊙ 15c: French, from Latin posse to be able or to have power.

puke /pjuːk/ colloq ⊳ verb (puked, puking) tr & intr to vomit. ⊳ noun 1 vomit. 2 an act of vomiting. 3 chiefly US a horrible person. ⊙ 16c: possibly imitating the sound.

pukeko /ˈpuːkəkoʊ/ ⊳ noun (pukekos) a New Zealand wading bird with bright plumage. ⊙ 19c: Maori.

pukka /ˈpʌkə/ ⊳ adj, colloq 1 superior; high-quality. 2 upper-class; well-bred. 3 genuine. ⊙ 17c: from Hindi pakka cooked, firm or ripe.

pulchritude /ˈpʌlkrɪtjuːd/ ⊳ noun, literary or formal beauty of face and form. ⊙ 15c: from Latin pulchritudo, beauty from pulcher beautiful.

pule /pjuːl/ ⊳ verb (puled, puling) tr & intr to whimper or whine. ▪ puler noun. ▪ puling noun, adj. ▪ pulingly adverb. ▪ puly adj. ⊙ 16c: imitating the sound.

pull /pʊl/ ⊳ verb (pulled, pulling) 1 tr & intr to grip something or someone strongly and draw or force it or them towards oneself; to tug or drag. 2 (also pull something out or up) to remove or extract (a cork, tooth, weeds, etc) with this action. 3 to operate (a trigger, lever or switch) with this action. 4 to draw (a trailer, etc). 5 to open or close (curtains or a blind). 6 (often pull something on someone) to produce (a weapon) as a threat to them. 7 a tr & intr to row; b intr (often pull away, off, etc) said of a boat: to be rowed or made to move in a particular direction. 8 to draw (beer, etc) from a cask by operating a lever. 9 intr a said of a driver or vehicle: to steer or move (in a specified direction) ▫ pulled right; b said of a vehicle or its steering: (towards a specified direction), usually because of some defect. 10 sport in golf, cricket, snooker, etc: to hit (a ball) so that it veers off its intended course. 11 intr said of an engine or vehicle: to produce the required propelling power. 12 (usually pull at or on something) to inhale and exhale smoke from (a cigarette, etc); to draw or suck at it. 13 to attract (a crowd, votes, etc). 14 to strain (a muscle or tendon). 15 printing to print (a proof). 16 tr & intr slang to pick up (a sexual partner). ⊳ noun 1 an act of pulling. 2 attraction; attracting force. 3 useful influence ▫ has some pull with the education department. 4 a drag at a pipe; a swallow of liquor, etc. 5 a tab, etc for pulling. 6 a stroke made with an oar. 7 printing a proof. 8 slang a sexual partner, especially a casual one. ▪ pull a fast one to trick or cheat someone. ▪ pull one's punches to be deliberately less hard-hitting than one might be. ▪ pull the other one a dismissive expression used by the speaker to indicate that they are not being fooled by what has just been said ▫ You've got a date with Brad Pitt? Pull the other one! Other idioms containing 'pull' can be found under one of the other significant words, eg pull someone's leg is under LEG. ▪ pull someone up short 1 to check someone, often oneself. 2 to take them aback. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon pullian to pluck, draw or pull.

▪ pull ahead of or away from someone or something 1 to get in front of them or it; to gain a lead over them or it. 2 to leave them or it behind.

▪ pull something apart or to pieces 1 to rip or tear it; to reduce it to pieces. 2 to criticize it severely.

▪ pull at something 1 to tug repeatedly down on it. 2 to execute strokes with (an oar). 3 see verb 12 above.

▪ pull something back to withdraw or or make it withdraw or retreat.

▪ pull something down to demolish (a building, etc).

▪ pull in 1 said of a train: to arrive and halt at a station. 2 said of a driver or vehicle: to move to the side of the road.

▪ pull someone in colloq to arrest them.

▪ pull something in slang to make (money), especially a large amount.

▪ pull something off colloq to arrange or accomplish it successfully ▫ pull off a deal.

▪ pull something on to put on (an item of clothing) hastily.

▪ pull out 1 to withdraw from combat, or from a competition, project, etc. See also PULL-OUT. 2 intr said of a driver or vehicle: to move away from the kerb or into the centre of the road to overtake.

▪ pull something out to extract or remove it.

▪ pull over said of a driver or vehicle: to move to the side of or off the road and stop.

▪ pull round or through to recover from an illness.

▪ pull someone round or through to help them to recover from an illness.

▪ pull together to work together towards a common aim; to co-operate.

▪ pull up said of a driver, vehicle or horse: to stop.

▪ pull someone up to criticize them or tell them off.

▪ pull something up to make (a vehicle or horse) stop.

▪ pull up on or with someone or something to catch up with or draw level with them or it.

pullet /ˈpʊlɪt/ ⊳ noun a young female hen in its first laying year. ⊙ 14c: from French poulet chicken.

pulley /ˈpʊlɪ/ ⊳ noun (pulleys) 1 a simple mechanism for lifting and lowering weights, consisting of a wheel with a grooved rim over which a rope or belt runs. 2 a clothes-drying frame suspended by ropes from the ceiling, lowered and raised by means of such a device. ⊙ 14c: from French poulie, ultimately from Greek polos axis.

Pullman /ˈpʊlmən/ ⊳ noun (Pullmans) a type of luxurious railway carriage. ⊙ 19c: named after its American originator George M Pullman (1831–1897).

pull-off ⊳ noun, N Amer a LAY-BY.

pull-out ▷ noun 1 a self-contained detachable section of a magazine designed to be kept for reference. 2 a withdrawal from combat or competition, etc. See also PULL OUT at PULL.

pullover ▷ noun a knitted garment pulled on over the head; a sweater or jumper.

pullulate /ˈpʌljʊleɪt/ ▷ verb (pullulated, pullulating) intr 1 literary to teem or abound. 2 biol to reproduce by pullulation. ⓘ 17c: from Latin pullulare, pullulatum to sprout out, from pullus young animal.

pullulation ▷ noun, biol reproduction by vegetative budding, as in yeast cells.

pulmonary /ˈpʌlmənərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to, or affecting, the lungs. 2 having the function of a lung. ⓘ 18c: from Latin pulmo, pulmonis lung.

pulmonary emphysema ▷ noun, pathol a condition in which the ALVEOLI of the lungs are over-inflated and damaged, causing breathlessness and wheezing.

pulmonary tuberculosis see TUBERCULOSIS.

pulmonary vein ▷ noun, anatomy a vein that carries oxygenated blood from the lungs to the heart.

pulp ▷ noun 1 the flesh of a fruit or vegetable. 2 a soft wet mass of mashed food or other material. 3 derog a worthless literature, novels, magazines, etc printed on poor paper; b as adj ☐ pulp fiction. 4 anatomy the tissue in the cavity of a tooth, containing nerves. ▷ verb (pulped, pulping) 1 tr & intr to reduce or be reduced to a pulp. 2 to remove the pulp from (fruit, etc). ● pulpy adj (pulpier, pulpiest). ⓘ 16c: from Latin pulpa flesh or fruit pulp.

pulpit /ˈpʊlpɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a small enclosed platform in a church, from which the preacher delivers the sermon. 2 (usually the pulpit) the clergy in general ☐ the message from the pulpit. 3 a place from where opinion is expressed, eg the press. ⓘ 14c: from Latin pulpitum a stage.

pulque /ˈpʊlkeɪ/ ▷ noun an alcoholic drink made in Mexico from AGAVE sap. ⓘ 17c: Mexican Spanish.

pulsar /ˈpʌlsɑː(r)/ ▷ noun, astron in space: a source of electromagnetic radiation emitted in brief regular pulses, mainly at radio frequency, believed to be a rapidly revolving NEUTRON STAR. ⓘ 1960s: from pulsating star, modelled on QUASAR.

pulsate /pʌlˈseɪt/ ▷ verb (pulsated, pulsating) intr 1 to beat or throb. 2 to contract and expand rhythmically. 3 to vibrate. ● pulsation noun. ⓘ 18c: from Latin pulsare, pulsatum to beat.

pulsating star ▷ noun, astron a VARIABLE star whose brightness changes in a regular manner as it alternately expands and contracts.

pulse¹ /pʌls/ ▷ noun 1 physiol the rhythmic beat that can be detected in an artery, corresponding to the regular contraction of the left ventricle of the heart as it pumps blood around the body. 2 medicine, etc a the rate of this beat, often measured as an indicator of a person's state of health; b as adj ☐ pulse rate. 3 a regular throbbing beat in music. 4 physics a signal, eg one of light or electric current, of very short duration. 5 the hum or bustle of a busy place. 6 a thrill of excitement, etc. 7 the attitude or feelings of a group or community at any one time. ▷ verb (pulsed, pulsing) 1 intr to throb or pulsate. 2 to drive something by pulses. ⓘ 14c: from French pous, from Latin pulsus a beating, from pellere, pulsum to beat.

pulse² /pʌls/ ▷ noun 1 the edible dried seed of a plant belonging to the pea family, eg pea, bean, lentil, etc. 2 any plant that bears this seed. ⓘ 13c: from French pols, from Latin puls meal porridge or bean pottage.

pulse code ▷ noun the coding of data using pulses.

pulse code modulation ▷ noun, telecomm a technique that uses pulse modulation to represent a signal with a series of binary codes.

pulse modulation ▷ noun a type of modulation that involves varying pulses to represent a signal.

pulverize or pulverise /ˈpʌlvəraɪz/ ▷ verb (pulverized, pulverizing) 1 tr & intr to crush or crumble to dust or powder. 2 colloq to defeat utterly; to annihilate. ● pulverization noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin pulverizare, from pulvis dust.

puma /ˈpjuːmə/ ▷ noun (pumas) one of the large cats of America, with short yellowish-brown or reddish fur, found in mountain regions, forests, plains and deserts. Also called cougar, mountain lion or panther. ⓘ 18c: Spanish, from Quechua.

pumice /ˈpʌmɪs/ ▷ noun (also pumice stone) geol a very light porous white or grey form of solidified lava, used as an abrasive and polishing agent. ▷ verb (pumiced, pumicing) to polish or rub something with pumice. ⓘ 15c: from French pomis, from Latin pumex, pumicis.

pummel /ˈpʌməl/ ▷ verb (pummelled, pummelling) to beat something repeatedly with the fists. ⓘ 16c: a variant of POMMEL.

pump¹ ▷ noun 1 any of various piston-operated or other devices for forcing or driving liquids or gases into or out of something, etc. 2 a standing device with a handle that is worked up and down for raising water from beneath the ground, especially one serving as the water supply to a community. 3 a a device for forcing air into a tyre; b in compounds ☐ bicycle pump ☐ foot pump. 4 (also petrol pump) a device for raising petrol from an underground storage tank to fill a vehicle's petrol tank. ▷ verb (pumped, pumping) 1 tr & intr to raise, force or drive (a liquid or gas) out of or into something with a pump. 2 (usually pump something up) to inflate (a tyre, etc) with a pump. 3 to force something in large gushes or flowing amounts. 4 to pour (money or other resources) into a project, etc. 5 to force out the contents of (someone's stomach) to rid it of a poison, etc. 6 to try to extract information from someone by persistent questioning. 7 to work something vigorously up and down, as though operating a pump handle. 8 to fire (bullets, etc), often into someone or something ☐ pumped bullets into her. ● pump iron colloq to exercise with weights; to go in for weight-training. ⓘ 15c: from Dutch pumpe pipe.

pump² ▷ noun 1 a light dancing shoe. 2 a plain, low-cut flat shoe for women. 3 a gymshoe or PLIMSOLL. ⓘ 16c.

pumpernickel /ˈpʌmpənɪkəl, ˈpʊm-/ ▷ noun a dark heavy coarse ryebread, eaten especially in Germany. ⓘ 18c: from German, meaning 'lout', perhaps literally 'stink-devil' or 'fart-devil', because of the after-effects of eating it.

pumpkin /ˈpʌmpkɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a perennial trailing or climbing plant which produces yellow flowers and large round fruits at ground level. 2 the fruit of this plant, which contains pulpy flesh and many seeds, enclosed by a hard leathery orange rind. ⓘ 17c: from French pompon, from Greek pepon melon.

pun ▷ noun a form of joke consisting of the use of a word or phrase that can be understood in two different ways, especially one where an association is created between words of similar sound but different meaning. Also called play on words. ▷ verb (punned, punning) intr to make a pun. ⓘ 17c.

Punch /pʌntʃ/ ▷ noun a humpbacked hook-nosed puppet character in the traditional show called Punch and Judy. ● pleased as Punch extremely pleased. ⓘ 18c: from Italian Pulcinella a commedia dell'arte character.

punch¹ /pʌntʃ/ ▷ verb (punched, punching) 1 tr & intr to hit someone or something with the fist. 2 especially US & Austral to poke or prod with a stick; to drive (cattle, etc). 3 to prod, poke or strike smartly, especially with a blunt object, the foot, etc ☐ McCoist punched the ball into the back of the net. ▷ noun (punches) 1 a blow with the fist. 2 vigour and effectiveness in speech or writing. ● pack a punch see under PACK¹. ⓘ 14c: a variant of POUNCE¹.

punch[2] /pʌntʃ/ ▷ noun (punches) 1 a tool for cutting or piercing holes or notches, or stamping designs, in leather, paper, metal, etc. 2 a tool for driving nail-heads well down into a surface. ▷ verb (punched, punching) 1 to pierce, notch or stamp something with a punch. 2 computing, old use to use a key punch to record (data) on (a card or tape). ⓘ 15c: shortened from puncheon a piercing tool.

■ punch in or out N Amer to clock in or out.

punch[3] /pʌntʃ/ ▷ noun (punches) a drink, usually an alcoholic one, made up of a mixture of other drinks, which can be served either hot or cold. ⓘ 17c: said to be from Hindi panch five, as the drink was originally made from five ingredients (spirits, water, lemon juice, sugar and spice).

punch[4] or Punch /pʌntʃ/ ▷ noun (punches) a short-legged draughthorse, usually chestnut in colour □ a Suffolk Punch. ⓘ 19c.

punch-bag ▷ noun 1 a heavy stuffed leather bag hanging from the ceiling on a rope, used for boxing practice. 2 someone who is used and abused, either physically and emotionally.

punchball ▷ noun 1 a leather ball mounted on a flexible stand, used for boxing practice. 2 US a ball game similar to baseball. ⓘ Early 20c: 1930s in sense 2.

punch bowl ▷ noun 1 a large bowl for mixing and serving PUNCH[3]. 2 Brit a bowl-shaped hollow in the mountains.

punch-drunk ▷ adj 1 said of a boxer: disorientated from repeated blows to the head, with resultant unsteadiness and confusion. 2 dazed from over-intensive work or some other shattering experience. ⓘ Early 20c.

punched card or (especially US) punch card ▷ noun, computing, old use a card bearing coded data or instructions in the form of punched holes.

punchline ▷ noun the words that conclude a joke or funny story and contain its point, eg 'We're having another floor built on to our house — but that's another storey'. ⓘ 1920s.

punch-up ▷ noun, colloq a fight. ⓘ 1950s.

punchy ▷ adj (punchier, punchiest) said of speech or writing: vigorous and effective; forcefully expressed. ● punchily adverb. ● punchiness noun.

punctilious /pʌŋk'tɪlɪəs/ ▷ adj carefully attentive to details of correct, polite or considerate behaviour; making a point of observing a rule or custom. ● punctiliously adverb. ● punctiliousness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Italian puntiglio, from Spanish puntillo a little point.

punctual /'pʌŋktʃʊəl/ ▷ adj 1 arriving or happening at the arranged time; not late. 2 said of a person: making a habit of arriving on time. ● punctuality /-'alɪtɪ/ noun. ● punctually adverb. ⓘ 17c in sense 1; 15c in obsolete sense 'sharp-pointed': from Latin punctus point.

punctuate /'pʌŋktʃʊeɪt/ ▷ verb (punctuated, punctuating) 1 tr & intr to put punctuation marks into (a piece of writing). 2 to interrupt something repeatedly □ Bursts of applause punctuated his speech. ⓘ 19c in sense 1; 17c in obsolete sense 'to point out': from Latin punctuare, punctuatum to prick or point.

punctuation ▷ noun 1 a system of conventional marks used in a text to clarify its meaning for the reader, indicating pauses, intonation, missing letters, etc. 2 a the use of such marks; b the process of inserting them.

punctuation mark ▷ noun any of the set of marks such as the FULL STOP, COMMA, QUESTION MARK, COLON, etc that in written text conventionally indicate the pauses and intonations that would be used in speech, and which help to make the meaning clear to the reader.

puncture /'pʌŋktʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a small hole pierced in something with a sharp point. 2 a a perforation in an inflated object, especially one in a pneumatic tyre; b the resulting flat tyre. ▷ verb (punctured, puncturing) 1 tr & intr to make a puncture in something, or to be punctured. 2 to deflate (someone's pride, self-importance, etc). ⓘ 14c: from Latin punctura, from pungere, punctum to prick.

> punctuation marks
>
> See Usage Notes at apostrophe, brackets, colon, comma, dash, exclamation mark, full stop, hyphen, oblique, question mark, quotation marks and semicolon.

pundit /'pʌndɪt/ ▷ noun 1 an authority or supposed authority on a particular subject, especially one who is regularly consulted. 2 (also pandit) a Hindu learned in Hindu culture, philosophy and law. ⓘ 17c: from Hindi pandit, from Sanskrit pandita skilled.

pungent /'pʌndʒənt/ ▷ adj 1 said of a taste or smell: sharp and strong. 2 said of remarks or wit, etc: cleverly caustic or biting. 3 said of grief or pain: keen or sharp. ● pungency noun. ● pungently adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin pungens, pungentis pricking.

Punic /'pjuːnɪk/ ▷ adj 1 historical belonging or relating to ancient Carthage. 2 literary treacherous; deceitful. ⓘ 15c: from Latin Punicus Carthaginian.

punier and puniest see under PUNY punish /'pʌnɪʃ/ ▷ verb (punishes, punished, punishing) 1 to cause (an offender) to suffer for an offence. 2 to impose a penalty for (an offence). 3 colloq to treat something or someone roughly. 4 to beat or defeat (an opponent, etc) soundly. 5 colloq to consume large quantities of (eg drink). ● punishable adj. ● punishing adj harsh; severe. ⓘ 14c: from French punir, from Latin punire, punitum, from poena a penalty.

punishment ▷ noun 1 the act of punishing or process of being punished. 2 a method of punishing; a type of penalty. See also CAPITAL PUNISHMENT, CORPORAL PUNISHMENT. 3 colloq rough treatment; suffering or hardship.

punitive /'pjuːnɪtɪv/ ▷ adj 1 relating to, inflicting or intended to inflict punishment. 2 severe; inflicting hardship. ● punitively adverb. ⓘ 17c: see PUNISH.

Punjabi or Panjabi /pʌn'dʒɑːbɪ, pʊn'-/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to the Punjab, now divided as a state in NW India and a province in E Pakistan, their inhabitants or their language. ▷ noun (Punjabis) 1 a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Punjab. 2 the INDO-ARYAN language of Punjab, also spoken in parts of India and Pakistan. ⓘ 19c: Hindi Panjabi, from Persian panj five + ab water, referring to the five rivers which cross the region.

punk ▷ noun 1 a youth-orientated, anti-establishment movement, at its height in the mid- to late-70s, which was characterized by aggressive music and a dress style which included BONDAGE-wear, ripped clothes, vividly coloured hair and the wearing of cheap utility articles (eg safety pins) as ornament on or through various parts of the body. 2 a follower of punk styles or PUNK ROCK. 3 PUNK ROCK. 4 N Amer a worthless or stupid person. ▷ adj 1 relating to or characteristic of punk as a movement. 2 N Amer worthless; inferior. ⓘ 19c in adj sense 2: perhaps a combination of 16c punk prostitute + 17c punk rotten wood.

punka or punkah /'pʌŋkə/ ▷ noun (punkas or punkahs) 1 a fan made from leaf-palm. 2 a large mechanical fan for cooling a room. ⓘ 17c: from Hindi pankha fan.

punk rock ▷ noun a type of loud aggressive rock music, especially popular in the mid- to late-70s, with violent and often crude lyrics.

punned and punning see under PUN punnet /'pʌnɪt/ ▷ noun a small basket or container, usually made of cardboard or plastic, for soft fruit. ⓘ 19c.

punster ▷ noun someone who makes PUNS, especially habitually.

punt¹ ▷ noun a long, flat-bottomed open boat with square ends, propelled by a pole pushed against the bed of the river, etc. ▷ verb (punted, punting) 1 intr to travel by or operate a punt. 2 to propel (a punt, etc) with a pole. 3 to convey (passengers) in a punt. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon: influenced by Latin ponto a punt or pontoon.

punt² ▷ noun, rugby a kick given with the toe of the boot to a ball dropped directly from the hands. ▷ verb (punted, punting) tr & intr to kick in this way. ⓘ 19c.

punt³ ▷ verb (punted, punting) intr 1 colloq to bet on horses. 2 cards to bet against the bank. ▷ noun a gamble or bet. ⓘ 18c: from French ponter to bet.

punt⁴ /pʊnt/ ▷ noun the standard unit of currency of the Republic of Ireland. ⓘ 1970s: Irish Gaelic, meaning 'pound'.

punter ▷ noun, colloq 1 someone who bets on horses; a gambler. 2 a the average consumer, customer or member of the public; b a prostitute's client.

puny /ˈpjuːnɪ/ ▷ adj (punier, puniest) 1 small, weak or undersized. 2 feeble or ineffective. ⓘ 16c: originally PUISNE.

pup ▷ noun 1 a young dog. 2 the young of other animals, eg the seal, wolf and rat. Compare CUB. ▷ verb (pupped, pupping) intr to give birth to pups. ● be sold a pup colloq to be swindled. ● in pup said of a bitch: pregnant. ⓘ 18c: from PUPPY.

pupa /ˈpjuːpə/ ▷ noun (pupae /ˈpjuːpiː/ or pupas) zool in the life cycle of certain insects, eg butterflies and moths: the inactive stage during which a larva is transformed into a sexually mature adult while enclosed in a protective case. ● pupal adj. ⓘ 18c: Latin, meaning 'doll'.

pupil¹ /ˈpjuːpɪl/ ▷ noun 1 someone who is being taught; a schoolchild or student. 2 someone studying under a particular expert, etc. 3 Scots law a girl under the age of 12 or boy under the age of 14, who is in the care of a guardian. ⓘ 14c: from Latin pupillus and pupilla, diminutives of pupus boy and pupa girl.

pupil² /ˈpjuːpɪl/ ▷ noun, anatomy in the eye of vertebrates: the dark circular opening in the centre of the IRIS (sense 2), which varies in size allowing more or less light to pass to the retina. ⓘ 16c: from Latin pupilla, diminutive of pupa girl or doll.

puppet /ˈpʌpɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a type of doll that can be moved in a number of ways, eg one operated by strings or sticks attached to its limbs, or one designed to fit over the hand and operated by the fingers and thumb. 2 a person, company, country, etc, who is being controlled or manipulated by someone or something else. ⓘ 16c: ultimately from Latin pupa doll.

puppeteer /pʌpɪˈtɪə(r)/ ▷ noun someone skilled in manipulating puppets and giving puppet shows.

puppetry ▷ noun the art of making and manipulating puppets.

puppet show ▷ noun an entertainment with puppets as performers.

puppet state ▷ noun an apparently independent country actually under the control of another.

puppy /ˈpʌpɪ/ ▷ noun (puppies) 1 a young dog. 2 informal, dated a conceited young man. ⓘ 15c: related to French poupée doll.

puppy fat ▷ noun a temporary plumpness in children, usually at the pre-adolescent stage, which disappears with maturity.

puppy love ▷ noun romantic love between adolescents, or of an adolescent for an older person. Also called calf love.

purblind /ˈpɜːblaɪnd/ ▷ adj 1 nearly blind; dim-sighted. 2 dull-witted; obtuse. ⓘ 16c in sense 1; 13c in obsolete sense 'completely blind': from PURE + BLIND.

purchase /ˈpɜːtʃəs/ ▷ verb (purchased, purchasing) 1 to obtain something in return for payment; to buy. 2 to get or achieve something through labour, effort, sacrifice or risk. ▷ noun 1 something that has been bought. 2 the act of buying. 3 firmness in holding or gripping; a sure grasp or foothold. 4 mech the advantage given by a device such as a pulley or lever. ● purchaser noun. ⓘ 14c: from French pourchacier to seek to obtain.

purchase tax ▷ noun a tax levied on those goods considered non-essential, at a higher rate than on other goods. It was replaced in the UK by VALUE-ADDED TAX.

purdah /ˈpɜːdə/ ▷ noun in some Muslim and Hindu societies: 1 the seclusion or veiling of women from public view. 2 a curtain or screen used to seclude women. ⓘ 19c: from Hindi and Urdu pardah curtain.

pure /pjʊə(r)/ ▷ adj (purer, purest) 1 consisting of itself only; unmixed with anything else. 2 unpolluted; uncontaminated; wholesome. 3 virtuous; chaste; free from sin or guilt. 4 utter; sheer ◻ pure lunacy. 5 said of mathematics or science: dealing with theory and abstractions rather than practical applications. Compare APPLIED. 6 of unmixed blood or descent ◻ pure Manx stock. 7 said of sound, eg a sung note: clear, unwavering and exactly in tune. 8 absolutely true to type or style. 9 said of speech or language: free of imported, intrusive or debased elements. 10 non-technical said of a vowel: simple in sound quality, like the o in box, eg as distinct from a diphthong like the oy in boy. ● pureness noun. See also PURITY. ● pure and simple nothing but; without anything else ◻ jealousy pure and simple. ⓘ 13c: from French pur, from Latin purus clean.

pure-bred ▷ adj said of an animal or plant: that is the offspring of parents of the same breed or variety.

purée /ˈpjʊəreɪ/ cookery ▷ noun (purées) a quantity of fruit, vegetables, meat, fish, game, etc reduced to a smooth pulp by liquidizing or rubbing through a sieve. ▷ verb (purées, puréed, puréeing) to reduce something to a purée. ⓘ 18c: from French purer to strain.

purely ▷ adverb 1 in a pure way. 2 wholly; entirely. 3 merely.

purfle /ˈpɜːfəl/ ▷ noun a decorative border on clothing or furniture, etc. ▷ verb (purfled, purfling) to ornament (the edge of something) with such a border. ⓘ 14c: from French pourfiler to border, from Latin pro forward + filum thread.

purgative /ˈpɜːgətɪv/ ▷ noun 1 a medicine that causes the bowels to empty. 2 something that cleanses or purifies. ▷ adj 1 said of a medicine, etc: having this effect. Also called LAXATIVE. 2 said of an action, etc: having a purifying, cleansing or cathartic effect. ⓘ 15c: from Latin purgare, purgatum to clean out.

purgatory /ˈpɜːgətərɪ, -trɪ/ ▷ noun (purgatories) 1 (Purgatory) chiefly RC Church a place or state into which the soul passes after death, where it is cleansed of pardonable sins before going to heaven. 2 humorous, colloq any state of discomfort or suffering; an excruciating experience. ● purgatorial /-ˈtɔːrɪəl/ adj. ⓘ 13c: from Latin purgatorium, from purgare to cleanse.

purge /pɜːdʒ/ ▷ verb (purged, purging) 1 a to rid (eg the soul or body) of unwholesome thoughts or substances; b to rid (anything) of impurities. 2 to rid (a political party, community, etc) of (undesirable members). 3 old use a to empty (the bowels), especially by taking a laxative; b to make someone empty their bowels, especially by giving them a laxative. 4 law, relig, etc to rid (oneself) of guilt by atoning for an offence. 5 law to clear (oneself or someone else) of an accusation. ▷ noun 1 an act of purging. 2 the process of purging a party or community of undesirable members. 3 old use the process of purging the bowels. 4 old use a LAXATIVE. ⓘ 14c: from Latin purgare to cleanse, from purus pure.

puri /ˈpʊərɪ/ ▷ noun (puris) cookery a small cake of unleavened Indian bread, deep-fried and served hot. ⓘ 1950s: Hindi.

purify /ˈpjʊərɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (purifies, purified, purifying) 1 tr & intr to make or become pure. 2 to cleanse something of contaminating or harmful substances. 3 to rid something of intrusive elements. 4 relig to free someone from sin or guilt. ● purification noun. ● purifier noun. ◎ 14c: from Latin purificare, from purus pure.

Purim /ˈpʊərɪm, -ˈriːm/ ▷ noun, Judaism the Feast of Lots, held about 1 March, in which the Jews celebrate their deliverance from a plot to have them massacred. ◎ 14c: Hebrew, meaning 'lots'.

purine /ˈpjʊəriːn/ and purin /-rɪn/ ▷ noun, biochem a nitrogenous base with a double ring structure, the most important derivatives of which are major constituents of the nucleic acids DNA and RNA. ◎ 19c: contracted from Latin purum uricum acidum pure uric acid.

purism /ˈpjʊərɪzəm/ ▷ noun insistence on the traditional elements of the content and style of a particular subject, especially of language. ● purist noun. ◎ 19c.

puritan /ˈpjʊərɪtən/ ▷ noun 1 (Puritan) historical in the 16c and 17c: a supporter of the Protestant movement in England and America that sought to rid church worship of ritual. 2 someone of strict, especially over-strict, moral principles; someone who disapproves generally of luxuries and amusements. ▷ adj 1 (Puritan) belonging or relating to the Puritans. 2 characteristic of a puritan. ● puritanical /-ˈtanɪkəl/ adj. ◎ 16c: from Latin puritas purity.

purity /ˈpjʊərɪtɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the state of being pure or unmixed. 2 freedom from contamination, pollution or unwholesome or intrusive elements. 3 chasteness or innocence. ◎ 13c: from Latin puritas, from purus pure.

purl[1] /pɜːl/ ▷ noun 1 knitting a reverse PLAIN (noun 2) stitch. 2 cord made from gold or silver wire. 3 (also pearl) a decorative looped edging on lace or braid, etc. ▷ verb (purled, purling) to knit in purl. ◎ 16c: from obsolete pirl to twist.

purl[2] /pɜːl/ ▷ verb (purled, purling) intr 1 to flow with a murmuring sound. 2 to eddy or swirl. ◎ 16c: imitating the sound and related to Norwegian purla to bubble.

purlieu /ˈpɜːljuː/ ▷ noun (purlieus) 1 (usually purlieus) the surroundings or immediate neighbourhood of a place. 2 (usually purlieus) someone's usual haunts. 3 Eng history an area of land on the edge of a forest which was once considered part of the forest, and which still remained subject to some of its governing laws, even after separation. ◎ 15c in sense 3: from French puralé a going through.

purlin or purline /ˈpɜːlɪn/ ▷ noun, building a roof timber stretching across the principal rafters or between the tops of walls, which supports the common or subsidiary rafters or the sheets of roof-covering material. ◎ 15c.

purloin /pəˈlɔɪn/ ▷ verb (purloined, purloining) to steal, filch or pilfer. ◎ 16c: from French purloigner to remove to a distance.

purple /ˈpɜːpəl/ ▷ noun 1 a colour that is a mixture of blue and red. 2 historical a crimson dye obtained from various shellfish. 3 crimson cloth, or a robe made from it, worn eg by emperors and cardinals, symbolic of their authority. 4 (the purple) high rank; power. ▷ adj 1 purple-coloured. 2 said of writing: especially fine in style; over-elaborate; flowery. ● born in the purple born into a royal or noble family. ◎ Anglo-Saxon: related to Greek porphyra a dye-yielding shellfish.

Purple Heart ▷ noun, military (abbreviation PH) in the USA: a medal awarded for wounds received on active service. ◎ 1932 in present form.

purple heart[1] ▷ noun 1 any of various trees native to tropical America, especially the Amazon region. 2 the purple-coloured wood of this tree. ◎ 18c.

purple heart[2] ▷ noun, colloq a heart-shaped violet pill or tablet containing a stimulant drug, usually AMPHETAMINE. ◎ 1960s.

purple patch ▷ noun 1 a passage in a piece of writing which is over-elaborate and ornate. 2 any period of time characterized by good luck.

purport ▷ verb /pɜːˈpɔːt/ (purported, purporting) 1 said of a picture, piece of writing, document, etc: to profess by its appearance, etc (to be something) □ a manuscript that purports to be written by Camus. 2 said of a piece of writing, or a speech, etc: to convey; to imply (that...). ▷ noun /ˈpɜːpɔːt/ meaning, significance, point or gist. ◎ 15c: from French purporter to convey.

purpose /ˈpɜːpəs/ ▷ noun 1 the object or aim in doing something. 2 the function for which something is intended. 3 the intentions, aspirations, aim or goal □ no purpose in life. 4 determination; resolve □ a woman of purpose. ▷ verb (purposed, purposing) to intend (to do something). ● purposeless adj without purpose; aimless. ● purposely adj intentionally. ● on purpose intentionally; deliberately. ● to little or no purpose with few, or no, useful results. ● to the purpose relevant; to the point. ◎ 13c: from French pourpos, from Latin proponere to intend.

purpose-built ▷ adj designed or made to meet specific requirements.

purposeful ▷ adj determined; intent; resolute; showing a sense of purpose. ● purposefully adverb.

> purposefully, purposely
>
> ● Purposefully (= with purpose) refers to a person's manner or determination □ He stood up and began to pace purposefully round the room.
>
> ● Purposely (= on purpose) refers to intention □ Earlier estimates had been purposely conservative.

purposive /ˈpɜːpəsɪv/ ▷ adj 1 having a clear purpose. 2 purposeful. ● purposively adverb. ● purposiveness noun.

purr /pɜː(r)/ ▷ verb (purred, purring) 1 intr said of a cat: to make a soft low vibrating sound associated with contentment. 2 intr said of a vehicle or machine: to make a sound similar to this, suggestive of good running order. 3 tr & intr to express pleasure, or say something, in a tone vibrating with satisfaction. ▷ noun a purring sound. ◎ 17c: imitating the sound.

purse /pɜːs/ ▷ noun 1 a small container carried in the pocket or handbag, for keeping cash, etc in. 2 N Amer a woman's handbag. 3 funds available for spending; resources. See also PUBLIC PURSE. 4 a sum of money offered as a present or prize. ▷ verb (pursed, pursing) to draw (the lips) together in disapproval or deep thought. ◎ Anglo-Saxon purs.

purser ▷ noun the ship's officer responsible for keeping the accounts and, on a passenger ship, seeing to the welfare of passengers. ◎ 15c.

purse-seine ▷ noun a type of fishing net with an open end which can be drawn up to form a bag shape. ◎ 16c.

purse strings ▷ plural noun, formerly the two cords which, when pulled, draw the opening of a purse up in order to close it. ● hold or control the purse strings to be in charge of the financial side of things, eg in a family, business, etc. ● loosen the purse strings to allow for greater financial freedom. ● tighten the purse strings to impose financial restraint. ◎ 15c.

pursuance /pəˈsjuːəns/ ▷ noun the process of pursuing □ in pursuance of his duties.

pursue /pəˈsjuː, -ˈsuː/ ▷ verb (pursued, pursuing) 1 tr & intr to follow someone or something in order to overtake, capture or attack them or it, etc; to chase. 2 to proceed along (a course or route). 3 to put effort into achieving (a goal, aim, etc). 4 to occupy oneself with (one's career, etc). 5 to continue with or follow up (investigations or enquiries, etc). ◎ 13c: from French pursuer, from Latin prosequi, from sequi to follow.

pursuer ▷ noun 1 someone who chases someone or something. 2 Scots law a plaintiff.

pursuit /pəˈsjuːt/ ▷ noun 1 the act of pursuing or chasing. 2 an occupation or hobby. 3 in cycling: a race in which two riders start at opposite sides of the track and try to overtake each other. ⓘ 15c in sense 1; 14c in obsolete sense 'persecution': from French poursuite, from poursuivre to pursue.

pursuivant /ˈpɜːsɪvənt, ˈpɜːswɪ-/ ▷ noun 1 heraldry an officer of the College of Arms ranking below a herald. 2 historical a messenger or follower. ⓘ 14c: from French poursuivant, from poursuivre to follow.

purulent /ˈpjʊərʊlənt, -jʊlənt/ medicine, etc ▷ adj belonging or relating to, or full of, pus. ● purulence noun. ● purulently adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin purulentus, from pus, puris pus.

purvey /pəˈveɪ/ ▷ verb (purveyed, purveying) tr & intr to supply (food or provisions, etc) as a business. ● purveyor noun. ⓘ 13c: from French purveier, from Latin providere to provide.

purveyance ▷ noun 1 the act of purveying. 2 historical the request for and collection of provisions for a monarch.

purview /ˈpɜːvjuː/ ▷ noun, formal or technical 1 scope of responsibility or concern, eg of a court of law. 2 the range of someone's knowledge, experience or activities. 3 law the body or enacting part of a statute, as distinct from the PREAMBLE. ⓘ 15c: from French purveu provided, from porveier to PURVEY.

pus /pʌs/ ▷ noun the thick, usually yellowish liquid that forms in abscesses or infected wounds, composed of dead white blood cells, serum, bacteria and tissue debris. ⓘ 16c: Latin.

push /pʊʃ/ ▷ verb (pushes, pushed, pushing) 1 (often push against, at or on something) to exert pressure to force it away from one; to press, thrust or shove it. 2 to hold (eg a wheelchair, trolley, pram, etc) and move it forward in front of one. 3 tr & intr (often push through, in or past, etc) to force one's way, thrusting aside people or obstacles. 4 intr to progress especially laboriously. 5 to force in a specified direction □ push up prices. 6 (often push someone into something) to coax, urge, persuade or goad them to do it □ pushed me into agreeing. 7 to pressurize someone (or oneself) into working harder, achieving more, etc. 8 (usually push for something) to recommend it strongly; to campaign or press for it. 9 to promote (products) or urge (acceptance of ideas). 10 to sell (drugs) illegally. ▷ noun (pushes) 1 an act of pushing; a thrust or shove. 2 a burst of effort towards achieving something. 3 determination, aggression or drive. ● at a push colloq if forced; AT A PINCH. ● be pushing colloq to be nearly (a specified age) □ She is pushing 30. ● get the push colloq to be dismissed from a job, etc; to be rejected by someone. ● give someone the push to dismiss or reject them. ⓘ 13c: from French pousser, from Latin pulsare, from pellere, pulsum.

■ push someone around or about colloq 1 to bully them; to treat them roughly. 2 to dictate to them; to order them about.

■ be pushed for something colloq to be short of (eg time or money).

■ push off or along colloq to go away.

■ push on to continue on one's way or with a task, etc.

■ push someone or something over to knock them down.

■ push something through to force acceptance of (a proposal or bill, etc) by a legislative body, etc.

pushbike ▷ noun, colloq a bicycle propelled by pedals alone.

push button ▷ noun a button pressed to operate a machine, etc. Also as adj □ a push-button phone.

pushchair ▷ noun a small folding wheeled chair for a toddler. N Amer equivalent STROLLER. Also called buggy and Baby Buggy.

pusher ▷ noun, colloq 1 someone who sells illegal drugs. 2 someone who tries to get ahead, especially by being aggressive.

pushover ▷ noun, colloq 1 someone who is easily defeated or outwitted. 2 a task that is easily accomplished. ⓘ Early 20c US slang.

push-start ▷ verb to roll (a vehicle) with its handbrake off and gear engaged until the engine begins to turn. ▷ noun an instance or the process of doing this. ⓘ 1950s.

Pushto or Pushtu see PASHTO.

pushy ▷ adj (pushier, pushiest) colloq aggressively self-assertive or ambitious. ⓘ 1930s.

pusillanimous /pjuːsɪˈlanɪməs/ ▷ adj timid, cowardly, weak-spirited or faint-hearted. ● pusillanimity /-ləˈnɪmɪtɪ/ noun. ● pusillanimously adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin pusillus very small + animus spirit.

puss[1] /pʊs/ ▷ noun (pusses) colloq a cat. ⓘ 16c.

puss[2] /pʊs/ ▷ noun (pusses) slang the face. ⓘ 19c: Irish Gaelic, meaning 'mouth'.

pussy /ˈpʊsɪ/ ▷ noun (pussies) 1 (also pussycat) colloq a cat. 2 coarse slang a the female genitals; the vulva; b women collectively, especially when considered sexually. ⓘ 18c; 19c in sense 2.

pussyfoot ▷ verb (pussyfooted, pussyfooting) intr 1 to behave indecisively; to avoid committing oneself. 2 to pad about stealthily. ⓘ Early 20c.

pussy willow ▷ noun a willow tree with silky grey CATKINS.

pustule /ˈpʌstjuːl/ ▷ noun a small inflammation on the skin, containing pus; a pimple. ● pustular adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin pustula.

put /pʊt/ ▷ verb (past tense & past participle put, present participle putting) 1 to place something or someone in or convey them or it to a specified position or situation. 2 to fit □ Put a new lock on the door. 3 to cause someone or something to be in a specified state □ put him at ease. 4 to apply. 5 to set or impose □ put a tax on luxuries □ put an end to free lunches. 6 to lay (blame, reliance, emphasis, etc) on something. 7 to set someone to work, etc or apply something to a good purpose, etc. 8 to translate □ Put this into French. 9 to invest or pour (energy, money or other resources) into something. 10 to classify or categorize something or put it in order □ I put accuracy before speed. 11 to submit (questions for answering or ideas for considering) to someone; to suggest □ I put it to her that she was lying. 12 to express something. 13 colloq to write or say □ don't know what to put □ That's putting it mildly. 14 intr, naut to sail in a certain direction □ put to sea. 15 athletics to throw (the shot). ● put it across someone or put one over on someone colloq to trick, deceive or fool them. ● put it about colloq 1 to spread a rumour, gossip, news, etc □ put it about that he was leaving. 2 to behave in a sexually promiscuous way. ● put it on to feign or exaggerate □ said she'd been really ill but she was putting it on. ● put on an act to pretend, especially in order to deceive, win sympathy, etc. ● put something right to mend it or make it better. ● put someone up to something to urge them to do something they ought not to do. ● put up or shut up to either give sensible or useful information, input, etc or make one's position on a matter clear; or else keep quiet. ● put up with someone or something to tolerate them or it, especially grudgingly or reluctantly. Other idioms containing 'put' can be found under one of the other significant words, eg put a sock in it is under SOCK and be hard put to do something is under HARD. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon putian.

■ put about naut to turn round; to change course.

■ put something about to spread (a report or rumour).

■ put something across to communicate (ideas, etc) to other people.

■ put something aside 1 to save (money), especially regularly, for future use. 2 to discount or deliberately disregard (problems, differences of opinion, etc) for the sake of convenience or peace, etc.

■ put something at something colloq to estimate (costs, etc) as likely to be (a certain amount).

■ put someone away colloq 1 to imprison them. 2 to confine them in a mental institution.

■ put something away 1 to replace it tidily where it belongs. 2 to save it for future use. 3 colloq to consume (food or drink), especially in large amounts. 4 old use to reject, discard or renounce it.

■ put something back 1 to replace it. 2 to postpone (a match or meeting, etc). 3 to adjust (a clock, etc) to an earlier time.

■ put something by to save it for the future.

■ put down said of an aircraft: to land.

■ put someone down to humiliate or snub them. See also PUT-DOWN.

■ put something down 1 to lay it on a surface after holding it, etc. 2 to crush (a revolt, etc). 3 to kill (an animal) painlessly, especially when it is suffering. 4 to write it down. 5 to pay (money) as a deposit on an intended purchase.

■ put someone down for something 1 to sum them up or dismiss them as the specified thing □ had put him down for a playboy. 2 to include them in a list of participants or subscribers, etc for it.

■ put something down to something else to regard it as caused by something specified □ The errors were put down to inexperience.

■ put someone forward to propose their name for a post, etc; to nominate them.

■ put something forward 1 to offer (a proposal or suggestion). 2 to advance (the time or date of an event or occasion). 3 to adjust (a clock, etc) to a later time.

■ put in naut to enter a port or harbour.

■ put something in 1 to fit or install it. 2 to spend (time) working at something □ puts in four hours' violin practice daily. 3 to submit (a claim, etc). 4 to interrupt with (a comment, etc).

■ put in for something to apply for it.

■ put someone off 1 to cancel or postpone an engagement with them. 2 to make them lose concentration; to distract them. 3 to cause them to lose enthusiasm or to feel disgust for something □ Her accident put me off climbing □ was put off by its smell.

■ put something off 1 to switch off (a light, etc). 2 to postpone (an event or arrangement).

■ put something on 1 to switch on (an electrical device, etc). 2 to dress in it. 3 to gain (weight or speed). 4 to present (a play or show, etc). 5 to provide (transport, etc). 6 to assume (an accent or manner, etc) for effect or to deceive. See also PUT-ON. 7 to bet (money) on a horse, etc.

■ put someone on to someone to give them an indication of their whereabouts or involvement □ What put the police on to her? 2 to connect them by telephone.

■ put someone on to something to recommend them to try it □ A friend put me on to these biscuits.

■ put someone out 1 to inconvenience them. 2 to offend or annoy them. 3 cricket to dismiss (a player or team) from the batting.

■ put something out 1 to extinguish (a light or fire). 2 to issue (a distress call, etc). 3 to publish (a leaflet, etc). 4 to strain or dislocate (a part of the body).

■ put something over to communicate (an idea, etc) to someone else.

■ put something over on someone to deceive them.

■ put someone through 1 to connect them by telephone. 2 colloq, football said of a player: to pass the ball to another player so that they are in a good position to score □ Irons put O'Boyle through only to see him fouled by the keeper.

■ put something through 1 to arrange (a deal or agreement, etc). 2 to make or connect (a telephone call).

■ put something together to join up the parts of it; to assemble it.

■ put up to stay for the night □ We'd better put up at the local hotel.

■ put someone up to give them a bed for the night.

■ put something up 1 to build it; to erect it. 2 to raise (prices). 3 to present (a plan, etc). 4 to offer (a house, etc) for sale. 5 to provide (funds) for a project, etc. 6 to show (resistance); to offer (a fight).

■ put someone or oneself up for something to offer or nominate them, or oneself, as a candidate □ We are putting you up for chairman.

■ put someone up to something colloq to coerce or manipulate them into doing it, especially when it is devious or illicit.

■ put up with someone or something to bear or tolerate them or it.

■ put upon someone to presume on their good will; to take unfair advantage of them.

putative /ˈpjuːtətɪv/ ▷ adj supposed; assumed. ⓘ 15c: from Latin putativus, from putare, putatum to think.

put-down ▷ noun, colloq a snub or humiliation. See also PUT DOWN, etc at PUT.

put-on ▷ adj said of an accent or manner, etc: assumed; pretended. ▷ noun, colloq a trick or deception. See also PUT SOMETHING ON at PUT.

Putonghua /puːtʊŋˈhwɑː/ ▷ noun the official spoken language of China, based on the Beijing variety of MANDARIN. Also called Guo yu or Kuo-yü. ⓘ Early 20c: Chinese, meaning 'common language'.

put-put /pʌtˈpʌt/ ▷ verb (put-putted, put-putting) intr said of a vehicle, especially an old or broken one: to move along with a juddering motion or noise. ▷ noun 1 movement of this kind. 2 a car, etc that moves this way. ⓘ Early 20c: imitating the sound.

putrefy /ˈpjuːtrɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (putrefies, putrefied, putrefying) intr said of flesh or other organic matter: to go bad, rot or decay, especially with a foul smell. ■ putrefaction /-ˈfakʃən/ noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin putrefacere, from puter rotten.

putrescent /pjuːˈtresənt/ ▷ adj decaying; rotting; putrefying. ⓘ 18c: from Latin putrescere to become rotten.

putrid /ˈpjuːtrɪd/ ▷ adj 1 said of organic matter: decayed; rotten. 2 stinking; foul; disgusting. 3 colloq repellent; worthless. ⓘ 16c: from Latin putridus, from puter, putris rotten.

putsch /pʊtʃ/ ▷ noun (putsches) a secretly-planned sudden attempt to remove a government from power. See also COUP D'ÉTAT. ⓘ 1920s: Swiss German, meaning 'knock' or 'thrust'.

putt /pʌt/ ▷ verb (putted, putting) tr & intr, golf, putting to send (the ball) gently forward on the green and into or nearer the hole. ▷ noun a putting stroke. ⓘ 17c: originally a form of PUT.

puttee /ˈpʌtiː/ ▷ noun (puttees) a long strip of cloth worn by wrapping it around the leg from the ankle to the knee and used as protection or support. ⓘ 19c: from Hindi patti a band.

putter /ˈpʌtə(r)/ ▷ noun, golf 1 a club used for putting. 2 someone who putts. See also SHOTPUTTER.

putting /ˈpʌtɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 the act of putting a ball towards a hole. 2 a game played on a PUTTING GREEN using only putting strokes. See also PITCH AND PUTT.

putting green ▷ noun 1 on a golf course: a smoothly mown patch of grass surrounding a hole. 2 an area of mown turf where PUTTING is played.

putto /ˈpʊtoʊ/ ▷ noun (plural putti /–tiː/) in Renaissance or Baroque art: an idealized representation of a naked young boy or cherub, often with wings. ⓘ 17c: Italian, from Latin putus boy.

putty /ˈpʌtɪ/ ▷ noun (putties) 1 a paste of ground chalk and linseed oil, used for fixing glass in window frames, filling holes in wood, etc. Also called glaziers' putty. 2 a paste of slaked lime and water, used by plasterers. 3 a yellowish grey colour. ▷ adj putty-coloured. ▷ verb (puttied, puttying) to fix, coat or fill something with putty. ● be putty in someone's hands to be easily manipulated or influenced by them. ⓘ 17c: from French potée potful.

put-up job ▷ noun something dishonestly prearranged to give a false impression.

put-upon ▷ adj said of a person: taken advantage of, especially unfairly. See also PUT UPON SOMEONE at PUT.

puzzle /ˈpʌzəl/ ▷ verb (puzzled, puzzling) 1 to perplex, mystify, bewilder or baffle. ▷ noun 1 a baffling problem. 2 a game or toy that takes the form of something for solving, designed to test knowledge, memory, powers of reasoning or observation, manipulative skill, etc. ● puzzlement noun. ● puzzling adj. ● puzzlingly adverb. ● puzzle one's brains or head to think hard about a problem. ⓘ 16c.

■ puzzle about or over something to brood, ponder, wonder or worry about it.

■ puzzle something out to solve it after prolonged thought.

puzzler ▷ noun 1 a challenging problem or question. Also called poser. 2 someone who enjoys solving puzzles.

PVC ▷ abbreviation polyvinyl chloride.

PVS ▷ abbreviation persistent vegetative state.

PW ▷ abbreviation policewoman.

PWA ▷ abbreviation 1 person with Aids. 2 (PWAs) people with Aids.

PY ▷ abbreviation, IVR Paraguay.

pyaemia or pyemia /paɪˈiːmɪə/ ▷ noun, pathol a form of BLOOD POISONING caused by the release of pus-forming micro-organisms, especially bacteria, into the bloodstream from an abscess or wound. ⓘ 19c: Latin, from Greek pyon pus + haima blood.

pye-dog /ˈpaɪdɒg/ ▷ noun in Asia: an ownerless half-wild dog. Also called pariah dog. ⓘ 19c: from Hindi pahi outsider.

pyelitis /paɪəˈlaɪtɪs/ pathol, medicine ▷ noun inflammation of the pelvis (sense 3) of the kidney. Also called pyelonephritis /-loʊnɪˈfraɪtɪs/. ● pyelitic adj. ⓘ 19c: from Greek pyelos trough; see also NEPHRITIS.

pygmy or pigmy /ˈpɪgmɪ/ ▷ noun (pygmies) 1 (Pygmy) a member of one of the unusually short peoples of equatorial Africa. 2 an undersized person; a dwarf. 3 derog someone insignificant, especially in a specified field □ an intellectual pygmy. ▷ adj belonging or relating to a small-sized breed □ pygmy hippopotamus. ● pygmaean or pygmean adj. ⓘ 14c: from Greek pygme the distance from knuckle to elbow.

pygmy shrew ▷ noun a small shrew, the most widespread in Europe, with a brown coat and pale underparts.

pyjamas or (N Amer) pajamas /pəˈdʒɑːməz/ plural noun 1 a sleeping-suit consisting of a loose jacket or top, and trousers. Also (pyjama) as adj □ pyjama bottoms □ pyjama case. 2 loose-fitting trousers worn by either sex in the East. ⓘ 19c: from Persian and Hindi payjamah, from pay leg + jamah clothing.

pyknic /ˈpɪknɪk/ ▷ adj, anthropol said of a human type: characterized by a short, stocky stature, with a domed abdomen and relatively short limbs and neck. Compare ATHLETIC 3, ASTHENIC 2, LEPTOSOME. ⓘ 1920s: from Greek pyknos thick.

pylon /ˈpaɪlən/ ▷ noun 1 a tall steel structure for supporting electric power cables. 2 a post or tower to guide a pilot at an airfield. 3 an external structure on an aircraft for supporting an engine, etc. 4 archaeol a gate tower or ornamental gateway. ⓘ Early 20c in senses 2 and 3; 19c in sense 4: Greek, from pyle gate.

pylorus /paɪˈlɔːrəs/ ▷ noun (pylori /-raɪ/) anatomy the opening at the base of the stomach that allows partially digested food to pass into the duodenum. ● pyloric adj. ⓘ 17c: Latin.

pyorrhoea or (especially US) pyorrhea /paɪəˈrɪə/ noun, dentistry a discharge of pus, especially from the gums or tooth sockets. ⓘ 19c: from Greek pyon pus + rheein to flow.

pyracantha /paɪərəˈkanθə/ ▷ noun (pyracanthas) a thorny evergreen shrub with bright red, yellow or orange berries. Also called FIRETHORN. ⓘ 17c: from Greek pyrakantha, from pyr fire + akantha thorn.

pyramid /ˈpɪrəmɪd/ ▷ noun 1 any of the huge ancient Egyptian royal tombs built on a square base, with four sloping triangular sides meeting in a common apex. 2 geom a solid of this shape, with a square or triangular base. 3 any structure or pile, etc of similar shape. ● pyramidal /pɪˈramɪdəl/ adj. ● pyramidally adverb. ● pyramidic, pyramidical adj. ● pyramidically adverb. ⓘ 16c as pyramis: from Greek pyramis, pyramidos.

pyramid selling ▷ noun, marketing the sale of goods in bulk to a distributor who divides them and sells them on to sub-distributors at a profit, who do likewise to others, etc. ⓘ 1970s.

pyre /paɪə(r)/ ▷ noun a pile of wood on which a dead body is ceremonially cremated. ⓘ 17c: from Latin and Greek pyra, from Greek pyr fire.

Pyrenean mountain dog /pɪrəˈniːən —— —/ ▷ noun a dog with a large powerful body, a heavy head and a thick, usually pale coat. The breed was developed to protect sheep.

pyrethrum /paɪəˈriːθrəm/ ▷ noun 1 the name formerly used for any of various perennial plants of the CHRYSANTHEMUM genus, especially a species with finely divided silvery-grey leaves and solitary large white, pink, red or purple daisy-like flower-heads. 2 a natural insecticide prepared from extracts of the powdered dried flower-heads of a species of chrysanthemum. ⓘ 16c: from Greek pyrethron feverfew.

pyretic /paɪəˈrɛtɪk/ ▷ adj, medicine relating to, accompanied by or producing fever. ⓘ 19c: from Greek pyretos fever.

Pyrex /ˈpaɪəreks/ ▷ noun, trademark a type of heat-resistant glass widely used to make laboratory apparatus and cooking utensils, especially ovenware. ⓘ 1915.

pyrexia /paɪəˈreksɪə/ ▷ noun (pyrexias) medicine fever. ⓘ 18c: from Greek pyrexis, from pyressein to be feverish.

pyridine /ˈpɪrɪdiːn/ ▷ noun, chem (formula $\mathbf{C_5H_5N}$) a carcinogenic flammable colourless liquid with a strong unpleasant smell, used in the manufacture of other chemicals, in paints and textile dyes and as a solvent. ⓘ 19c: from Greek pyr fire.

pyridoxine /pɪrɪˈdɒksiːn/ ▷ noun VITAMIN B_6. ⓘ 1940s: from PYRIDINE with insertion of -ox- for OXYGEN.

pyrimidine /paɪəˈrɪmɪdiːn/ ▷ noun, biochem a nitrogenous base with a single ring structure, the most important derivatives of which are major components of the nucleic acids DNA and RNA. ⓘ 19c: a variant of PYRIDINE.

pyrite /ˈpaɪəraɪt/ ▷ noun, geol the commonest sulphide mineral, used as a source of sulphur, and in the production of sulphuric acid. Also called iron pyrites or fool's gold.

pyrites /paɪəˈraɪtiːz/ ▷ noun 1 geol PYRITE. 2 chem any of a large class of mineral sulphides ◻ copper pyrites. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'fire-stone'.

pyro- /paɪərou, paɪəˈrɒ/ or (before a vowel) pyr- ▷ combining form, forming nouns and adjectives, denoting 1 fire; heat; fever. 2 chem an acid or its corresponding salt. ⓘ Greek, from pyr fire.

pyroclast /ˈpaɪərəklast/ geol ▷ noun an individual fragment of lava that has been ejected into the atmosphere during a volcanic eruption. • pyroclastic adj. ⓘ 19c: from Greek klastos broken.

pyrogallol /paɪərəˈgalɒl/ ▷ noun, chem (formula $\mathbf{C_6H_3(OH)_3}$) a soluble crystalline phenol, used as a reducing agent in photographic developing. Also called pyrogallic acid. ⓘ 19c: from GALLIC ACID.

pyrogen /ˈpaɪərədʒən/ technical ▷ noun a substance which causes heat or fever. • pyrogenic /-ˈdʒenɪk/ or pyrogenous /paɪˈrɒdʒənəs/ adj. ⓘ 19c.

pyrolusite /paɪərouˈluːsaɪt/ ▷ noun, geol (formula $\mathbf{MnO_2}$) a soft black mineral that is the most important ore of manganese. ⓘ 19c: from Greek lousis washing.

pyrolysis /paɪəˈrɒlɪsɪs/ ▷ noun, chem the chemical decomposition of a substance that occurs when it is heated to a high temperature in the absence of air. ⓘ 19c.

pyromania ▷ noun, psychol an obsessive urge to set fire to things. • pyromaniac noun. ⓘ 19c.

pyrometer /paɪəˈrɒmɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun, physics a type of thermometer used to measure high temperatures. • pyrometric adj. • pyrometrically adv. • pyrometry noun. ⓘ 18c.

pyrope /ˈpaɪəroup/ ▷ noun 1 a red magnesia-alumina GARNET, used as a gemstone. 2 any fiery red gemstone. ⓘ 14c: from French pirope, from Greek pyropus fiery-eyed.

pyrotechnics ▷ singular noun the art of making fireworks. ▷ singular or plural noun 1 ▷ a fireworks display. 2 a display of fiery brilliance in speech or music, etc. ⓘ 18c.

pyroxene /paɪəˈrɒksiːn/ ▷ noun, geol any of a group of white, yellow, green, greenish-black or brown silicate minerals, including the most highly prized form of jade. ⓘ 19c: from PYRO- + Greek xenos stranger, because it was thought that pyroxene crystals in lava had been caught up accidentally.

Pyrrhic victory /ˈpɪrɪk —/ ▷ noun a victory won at so great a cost in lives, etc that it can hardly be regarded as a triumph at all. ⓘ 19c: named after Pyrrhus, king of Epirus in Greece, who won such victories against the Romans in 3c BC.

pyrrole /ˈpɪroul/ ▷ noun, chem a yellowish toxic oil used in the manufacture of drugs. Many naturally occurring compounds are derived from it, eg porphyrins and chlorophyll. ⓘ 19c: from Greek pyrros reddish + Latin oleum oil.

pyrrolidine /pɪˈrɒlɪdiːn/ ▷ noun, chem (formula $\mathbf{C_4H_9N}$) a colourless strongly-alkaline base, both occurring naturally and produced from PYRROLE. ⓘ 19c: from PYRROLE + -INE[2].

pyruvic acid /paɪəˈruːvɪk —/ ▷ noun, biochem an organic acid that is the end-product of the breakdown of carbohydrates by GLYCOLYSIS. ⓘ 19c: from PYRO- + Latin uva grape.

Pythagoras's theorem /paɪˈθagərəsɪz —/ ▷ noun, math a theorem which states that, in a right-angled triangle, the square of the length of the hypotenuse is equal to the sum of the squares of the other two sides. ⓘ 19c: named after the Greek philosopher and mathematician Pythagoras (6c BC).

python /ˈpaɪθən/ ▷ noun any non-venomous egg-laying snake of the BOA family that coils its body around its prey and squeezes it until it suffocates. • pythonic /-ˈθɒnɪk/ adj. ⓘ 19c: named after Python, a monster in Greek mythology killed by the god Apollo.

Pythonesque /paɪθəˈnesk/ ▷ adj said of a style of humour: bizarre and surreal. ⓘ 1970s: named after Monty Python's Flying Circus, a British TV comedy show which ran from 1969–74; see -ESQUE.

pyx /pɪks/ ▷ noun (pyxes) 1 Christianity a container in which the consecrated Communion bread is kept. 2 a box at the Royal Mint in which sample coins for testing are kept. ⓘ 14c: from Latin and Greek pyxis a small box, from pyxos box tree.

pzazz see PIZZAZZ

Q

Q[1] or q /kjuː/ ▷ noun (Qs, Q's or q's) the seventeenth letter of the English alphabet.

Q[2] ▷ abbreviation 1 IVR Qatar. 2 quality. 3 quantity. 4 printing quarto. 5 Quebec. 6 Queen or Queen's. 7 Austral state Queensland. Also written Qld. 8 question.

Q[3] ▷ symbol 1 physics heat. 2 cards, chess queen.

q or q. ▷ abbreviation 1 quart. 2 quarter. 3 query. 4 quintal.

Qaddish see KADDISH

qadi see CADI

Qantas or QANTAS /ˈkwɒntəs/ ▷ abbreviation Queensland and Northern Territory Aerial Service: the Australian international airline.

QARANC ▷ abbreviation Queen Alexandra's Royal Army Nursing Corps.

QARNNS ▷ abbreviation Queen Alexandra's Royal Naval Nursing Service.

qawwal /kəˈvɑːl/ ▷ noun a man who sings qawwali music.

qawwali /kəˈvɑːlɪ/ ▷ noun a type of Sufi music.

QB ▷ abbreviation Queen's Bench.

QC ▷ abbreviation 1 law Queen's Counsel. 2 quality control.

QED ▷ abbreviation used especially at the conclusion of a proof of a geometric theorem: quod erat demonstrandum /kwɒd ˈɛrat dɛmɒnˈstrandʊm/ (Latin), which was the thing that had to be proved.

QE2 ▷ abbreviation Queen Elizabeth the Second, the Cunard liner.

Q-fever ▷ noun, pathol an acute disease with flu-like symptoms that is transmitted to humans by rickettsia, the same type of micro-organism that causes typhoid. ⓘ 1930s: from QUERY, because at first the cause of the diseases was unknown.

qi, chi or ch'i /tʃiː/ ▷ noun, Chinese medicine the life force that is believed to flow along a network of meridians in a person's body and which is vital to their physical and spiritual health. ⓘ 19c: Chinese, meaning 'breath' or 'energy'.

qibla see KIBLAH

qi gong or chi kung /tʃiː ˈgʊŋ/ ▷ noun a system of meditational exercises for promoting physical and spiritual health by deep breathing. ⓘ 1990s: QI + Chinese gong skill or exercise.

Qld see under Q[2]

QM ▷ abbreviation quartermaster.

QMG ▷ abbreviation Quartermaster-General.

QMS ▷ abbreviation Quartermaster-Sergeant.

Qoran see KORAN

QPM ▷ abbreviation, Brit the Queen's Police Medal.

QPR ▷ abbreviation, Brit Queen's Park Rangers, the London football club.

qq ▷ abbreviation, printing quartos.

qqv ▷ abbreviation used in cross-referencing, when referring to more than one item: quae vide (Latin), which see. See also QV.

qr ▷ abbreviation quarter.

QSO ▷ abbreviation quasi-stellar object.

qt ▷ abbreviation 1 quantity. 2 quart.

q.t. see ON THE QUIET at QUIET

qto ▷ abbreviation, printing quarto.

qty ▷ abbreviation quantity.

Qu. ▷ abbreviation 1 Queen. 2 question.

qua /kweɪ, kwɑː/ ▷ prep in the capacity of something; considered as being something; in the role of something. ⓘ 17c: Latin, from qui who.

quack[1] /kwak/ ▷ noun the noise that a duck makes. ▷ verb (quacked, quacking) intr 1 said of a duck: to make this noise. 2 to talk in a loud silly voice. ▪ quacker noun. ⓘ 17c: imitating the sound.

quack[2] /kwak/ ▷ noun 1 someone who practises medicine or who claims to have medical knowledge, but who has no formal training in the subject. 2 colloq, often derog a term for any doctor or medical practitioner, etc. 3 anyone who pretends to have a knowledge or skill that they do not possess. ▪ quackish adj. ⓘ 17c: from Dutch quacksalver, from kwakken to quack + zalf an ointment.

quackery ▷ noun (quackeries) the practices, methods and activities, etc that are typical of a quack or charlatan.

quad[1] /kwɒd/ ▷ noun, colloq a quadruplet. ⓘ Late 19c.

quad[2] /kwɒd/ ▷ noun, colloq a quadrangle. ⓘ 19c.

quad[3] /kwɒd/ colloq ▷ adj quadraphonic. ▷ noun 1 quadraphonics. 2 quadraphony. ⓘ 1970s.

quad[4] /kwɒd/ ▷ noun a small powerful four-wheel-drive vehicle that is used especially for towing a gun. ⓘ Early 20c: from QUADRUPLE.

quad[5] /kwɒd/ ▷ noun, printing (in full quadrat) a piece of blank type that is usually lower than the type face and which is used for spacing. ⓘ 19c.

quadragenarian /kwɒdrədʒɪˈnɛərɪən/ ▷ noun someone who is aged between 40 and 49. ▷ adj 1 aged between 40 and 49. 2 belonging, relating or referring to this age span. ⓘ 19c: from Latin quadragenarius, from quadraginta forty.

Quadragesima /kwɒdrəˈdʒɛsɪmə/ ▷ noun in the Christian calendar: the first Sunday in Lent. ⓘ 14c: from Latin quadragesimus dies fortieth day.

quadragesimal ▷ adj 1 belonging, relating or referring to Lent. 2 said of a fast: lasting for forty days.

quadrangle /ˈkwɒdraŋgəl/ ▷ noun 1 geom a square, rectangle or other four-sided two-dimensional figure. 2 a an open rectangular courtyard, especially one that is in the grounds of a college or school, etc and which has buildings on all four sides of it; b a courtyard of this kind together with the buildings around it. Often shortened to quad. ▪ quadrangular adj. ▪ quadrangularly adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin quadrangulum, from quattuor four + angulus angle.

quadrant /ˈkwɒdrənt/ ▷ noun 1 geom a a quarter of the circumference of a circle; b a plane figure (see PLANE[2] adj 3) that is a quarter of a circle, ie an area bounded by two perpendicular radii and the arc between them; c a quarter of a sphere, ie a section cut by two planes that intersect at right angles at the centre. 2 any device or mechanical part in the shape of a 90° arc. 3 an instrument that was formerly used in astronomy and navigation and which consists of a graduated 90° arc allowing angular measurements, eg of the stars, to be taken and altitude calculated. • quadrantal adj. ◷ 14c: from Latin quadrans, quadrantis a fourth part.

quadraphonic or quadrophonic ⊳ adj said of a stereophonic sound recording or reproduction: using four loudspeakers that are fed by four separate channels so that there is the impression of front-to-back sound distribution as well as the side-to-side sound distribution. • quadraphonically adverb. • quadraphony /kwɒˈdrɒfənɪ/ noun. ◷ 1960s: from QUADRI-, modelled on STEREOPHONIC.

quadraphonics or quadrophonics ⊳ singular noun a sound system that uses four loudspeakers which are fed by four separate amplified signals.

quadrat /ˈkwɒdrət/ ⊳ noun 1 ecol a random sample area of ground enclosed within a frame, often one metre square, which is studied in order to determine what plant and animal species it supports. 2 printing QUAD². ◷ Early 20c: from Latin quadratus made square.

quadrate /ˈkwɒdreɪt, -drət/ ⊳ noun 1 anatomy a body part, eg a muscle or bone, that has a square or rectangular shape. 2 zool in the upper jaw of bony fish, amphibians, birds and reptiles: one of a pair of bones that articulates with the lower jaw. ⊳ adj, bot square or almost square in cross-section or face view. ⊳ verb (quadrated, quadrating) 1 to make something square. 2 to conform or make something conform. ◷ 14c: from Latin quadrare to make square.

quadratic /kwɒˈdratɪk/ math ⊳ noun 1 (in full quadratic equation) an algebraic equation that involves the square, but no higher power, of an unknown quantity or variable. It has the general formula $ax^2 + bx + c = 0$, where x is the unknown variable. 2 (quadratics) the branch of algebra that deals with this type of equation. ⊳ adj 1 involving the square of an unknown quantity or variable but no higher power. 2 square. ◷ 17c.

quadrature /ˈkwɒdrətʃə(r)/ ⊳ noun 1 math a the process that involves expressing a given area that is bounded by a curve, eg a circle, as an equivalent square area; b the process of making something square, or of dividing it into squares. 2 astron a either of the two points in space or time where the moon, when it is viewed from the Earth, is 90° distant from the sun; b any configuration where two celestial bodies are 90° away from each other. ◷ 16c: from Latin quadratura a square or an act of squaring.

quadravalent see TETRAVALENT.

quadrella /kwɒˈdrɛlə/ ⊳ noun, Austral betting 1 a type of bet where the punter selects the winner in four races. 2 the four specified races that are designated for this type of bet. Compare QUINELLA, PERFECTA, TRIFECTA. ◷ 20c: diminutive, based on Latin quattuor four.

quadrennial /kwɒˈdrɛnɪəl/ ⊳ adj 1 lasting four years. 2 occurring every four years. • quadrenially adverb. ◷ 17c: from Latin quadriennium a four-year period.

quadri- /kwɒdrɪ/ or (before a vowel) quadr- ⊳ combining form, denoting four. ◷ Latin, from quattuor four.

quadric /ˈkwɒdrɪk/ math ⊳ adj said of function with more than two variables: being of the second degree. ⊳ noun a quadric curve, surface or function. ◷ 19c: from Latin quadra square.

quadriceps /ˈkwɒdrɪsɛps/ ⊳ noun (quadricepses /-sɛpsɪz/ or quadriceps) anatomy a large four-part muscle that extends the leg, which runs down the front of the thigh. • quadricipital /-ˈsɪpɪtəl/ adj. ◷ 19c: Latin, from caput, capitis head.

quadrifid /ˈkwɒdrɪfɪd/ ⊳ adj, bot said of a plant part: divided into four or having four lobes. ◷ 17c: from Latin quadrifidus, from findere to cleave or cut.

quadrilateral ⊳ noun, geom a two-dimensional figure that has four sides. ⊳ adj four-sided. ◷ 17c.

quadrille¹ /kwɒˈdrɪl, kwə-/ ⊳ noun 1 a square dance for four couples, in five or six movements. 2 music for this kind of dance. ◷ 18c: French, from Spanish cuadrilla a troop.

quadrille² /kwəˈdrɪl/ ⊳ noun, cards a game that is played by four players using only 40 cards, the eights, nines and tens being the ones left out. It was popular during the 18c and was superseded by whist. ◷ 18c: French, from Spanish cuartillo, from cuarto fourth.

quadrillion /kwɒˈdrɪljən/ ⊳ noun (quadrillion or quadrillions) 1 in Britain, France and Germany: a number that is represented by a figure 1 followed by 24 zeros, ie 10^{24}. N Amer equivalent SEPTILLION. 2 in N America: a number that is represented by a figure 1 followed by 15 zeros, ie 10^{15}. • quadrillionth adj. ◷ 17c: French, modelled on MILLION.

quadrinomial /kwɒdrɪˈnoʊmɪəl/ math ⊳ adj said of an algebraic expression: having four terms. ⊳ noun an algebraic expression of this kind. ◷ 18c.

quadripartite /kwɒdrɪˈpɑːtaɪt/ ⊳ adj 1 biol said mainly of a plant or animal body part: divided into or composed of four parts. 2 archit said of a vault, etc: divided into four compartments. 3 said of talks or an agreement, etc: involving, concerning or ratified by, etc four parts, groups or nations, etc. ◷ 15c: from Latin partiri, partitum to divide.

quadriplegia /kwɒdrɪˈpliːdʒɪə/ ⊳ noun, pathol paralysis that affects both arms and both legs. Compare MONOPLEGIA, HEMIPLEGIA, PARAPLEGIA. ◷ 1920s.

quadriplegic ⊳ adj paralysed in all four limbs. ⊳ noun someone who is paralysed in all four limbs.

quadrivalent ⊳ adj, chem TETRAVALENT. ◷ 1920s.

quadrivium /kwɒˈdrɪvɪəm/ ⊳ noun, historical a medieval university course consisting of arithmetic, geometry, astronomy and music. ◷ 19c: Latin, meaning 'the place where four roads meet'.

quadroon /kwɒˈdruːn/ ⊳ noun 1 someone who is genetically one quarter Negro. 2 a person, plant or animal of mixed parental heritage. ◷ 18c: from Spanish cuarterón, from cuarto a fourth or quarter.

quadrophonic, quadrophonics, etc see QUADRAPHONIC, QUADRAPHONICS.

quadrumanous /kwɒˈdruːmənəs/ ⊳ adj, zool said of monkeys and apes: having feet that can function like hands. ◷ 17c: from Latin quadrumanus, from manus a hand.

quadruped /ˈkwɒdrupɛd/ ⊳ noun an animal, especially a mammal, that has its four limbs specially adapted for walking. ⊳ adj four-footed. • quadrupedal /kwɒdruˈpiːdəl, kwɒˈdruːpɪdəl/ adj. ◷ 17c.

quadruple /ˈkwɒdrupəl, kwɒˈdruːpəl/ ⊳ adj 1 four times as great, much or many. 2 made up of four parts or things. 3 music said of time: having four beats to the bar. ⊳ verb (quadrupled, quadrupling) tr & intr to make or become four times as great, much or many. ⊳ noun 1 an amount that is four times greater than the original or usual, etc amount. 2 a group or series of four. • quadruply adverb. ◷ 16c: French.

quadruplet /ˈkwɒdruplət, kwɒˈdruːplət/ ⊳ noun 1 one of four children or animals born to the same mother at the same time. Often shortened to quad. 2 a group of four similar things. 3 a group of four notes to be played in the time of three. ◷ 18c: from QUADRUPLE, modelled on TRIPLET.

quadruple time ⊳ noun, music a time with four beats in the bar.

quadruplicate ⊳ adj /kwɒˈdruːplɪkət/ 1 having four parts which are exactly alike. 2 being one of four identical copies. 3 quadrupled. ⊳ noun any of four identical copies or four parts which are exactly alike. ⊳ verb /-keɪt/ (quadruplicated, quadruplicating) to make something quadruple or fourfold. ■ quadruplication noun. ■ in quadruplicate copied four times. ⓘ 17c: from Latin quadruplicare, quadruplicatum to multiply by four.

quaff /kwɒf/ ▷ verb (quaffed, quaffing) tr & intr, literary to drink eagerly or deeply. ■ quaffer noun. ⓘ 16c.

■ quaff something off to drain (a cup or glass, etc) by taking long deep drinks.

quag /kwag/ ▷ noun a boggy or marshy place, especially one that has a layer of turf on it and which can be felt to shake or give way slightly underfoot. ■ quagginess noun. ■ quaggy adj. ⓘ 16c.

quagga /ˈkwagə/ ▷ noun (quaggas) an extinct member of the zebra family found in S Africa until the late 19c which had stripes only on the area around the head and shoulders, the rest of its body being a yellowish-brown colour. ⓘ 18c: a native name, believed to imitate the sound the animal made.

quagmire /ˈkwagmaɪə(r), ˈkwɒg-/ ▷ noun 1 an area of soft marshy ground; a bog. 2 a dangerous, difficult or awkward situation. ⓘ 16c.

quahog or quahaug /ˈkwɑːhɒg/ ▷ noun an edible round clam found off the Atlantic coast of N America. ⓘ 18c: from Narragansett (Native American language) poquauhock, from pohkeni dark + hogki shell.

quaich /kweɪx/ ▷ noun, Scots a two-handled drinking cup, the traditional ones being constructed from small wooden staves and hoops like barrels. ⓘ 17c: from Gaelic cuach a cup.

quail[1] /kweɪl/ ▷ noun (quail or quails) any of several small migratory game birds of the partridge family. ⓘ 14c: from French quaille.

quail[2] /kweɪl/ ▷ verb (quailed, quailing) intr to lose courage; to be apprehensive with fear; to flinch. ⓘ 15c.

quaint /kweɪnt/ ▷ adj (quainter, quaintest) old-fashioned, strange or unusual especially in a charming, pretty or dainty, etc way. ■ quaintly adverb. ■ quaintness noun. ⓘ 18c; 13c, meaning 'skilful', 'clever' or 'sly': from French cointe, from Latin cognitum known.

quake /kweɪk/ ▷ verb (quaked, quaking) intr 1 said of people: to shake or tremble with fear, etc. 2 said of a building, etc: to rock or shudder. ▷ noun 1 colloq an earthquake. 2 a shudder or tremor of fear, etc. ■ quakiness see under QUAKY. ■ quaking adj, noun. ■ quakingly adverb. ■ quake in one's boots to be very scared or act in a very frightened way. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cwacian.

Quaker ▷ noun a member of THE RELIGIOUS SOCIETY OF FRIENDS, a Christian movement founded by George Fox in the 17c. ■ Quakerish adj. ■ Quakerism noun. ■ Quakerly adj. ⓘ 17c: so called either because of Fox's caution to his followers that they should 'tremble at the Word of the Lord' or because some of his adherents, especially the women, would become possessed by the holy spirit and go into trembling fits.

quaking ash ▷ noun another name for the ASPEN.

quaking grass ▷ noun any of various delicate grasses that tremble in the wind and which are chiefly found on moorland. ⓘ 16c.

quaky ▷ adj (quakier, quakiest) 1 tending to quake. 2 said of a sensation, etc: similar to quaking. ■ quakiness noun.

qualification ▷ noun 1 a an official record that one has completed a training or performed satisfactorily in an examination, etc; b a document or certificate, etc that confirms this. 2 a skill or ability that fits one for some job, etc. 3 the act, process or fact of qualifying. 4 an addition to a statement, etc that modifies, narrows or restricts its implications; a condition, limitation or modification. ⓘ 16c: see QUALIFY.

qualified ▷ adj 1 having the necessary competency, ability or attributes, etc (to do something). 2 having completed a training or passed an examination, etc, especially in order to practise a specified profession or occupation, etc. 3 limited, modified or restricted, provisional. ⓘ 16c.

qualify /ˈkwɒlɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (qualifies, qualified, qualifying) 1 intr to complete a training or pass an examination, etc, especially in order to practise a specified profession, occupation, etc. 2 a (often qualify someone for something) to give or provide them with the necessary competency, ability or attributes, etc to do it; b to entitle □ that qualifies you to get £10 discount. 3 intr a to meet or fulfil the required conditions or guidelines, etc (in order to receive an award or privilege, etc); b (usually qualify as something) to have the right characteristics to be a specified thing. 4 a to modify (a statement, document or agreement, etc) in such a way as to restrict, limit or moderate, etc it; b to add reservations to something; to tone down or restrict it. 5 grammar said of a word or phrase, especially an adjectival one: to modify, define or describe (another word or phrase, especially a nominal one). 6 tr & intr, sport to proceed or allow someone to proceed to the later stages or rounds, etc (of a competition, etc), usually by doing well in a preliminary round. ■ qualifiable adj. ■ qualificatory /-fɪˈkeɪtərɪ/ adj. ■ qualifier noun. ■ qualifying adj, noun. ⓘ 16c: from French qualifier, from Latin qualis of what kind + facere to make.

qualifying round ▷ noun a preliminary section of a competition, etc in which some of the entrants are eliminated.

qualitative /ˈkwɒlɪtətɪv, -teɪtɪv/ ▷ adj relating to, affecting or concerned with distinctions of the quality or standard of something. Compare QUANTITATIVE. ■ qualitatively adverb. ⓘ 17c.

qualitative analysis ▷ noun, chem the identification of the different constituents, eg the elements, ions and functioning groups, etc, that are present in a substance. Compare QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS. ⓘ 19c.

quality /ˈkwɒlɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (qualities) 1 the degree or extent of excellence of something. 2 a general excellence; high standard □ articles of consistent quality; b as adj being of or exhibiting a high quality or standard □ the quality newspapers. 3 a a distinctive or distinguishing talent or attribute, etc; b the basic nature of something. 4 a music the distinctive timbre that a voice or other sound has; b phonetics the distinctive character of a sound with regard to the various possible positions of the articulators. 5 old use high social status □ families of quality. ⓘ 13c: from French qualité, from Latin qualis of what kind.

quality control ▷ noun (abbreviation QC) a system or the process that involves regular sampling of the output of an industrial process in order to detect any variations in quality. ■ quality controller noun.

quality time ▷ noun a period of time when someone's attention is devoted entirely to someone else, eg a companion or child, without interruptions or distractions.

qualm /kwɑːm/ ▷ noun 1 a a sudden feeling of nervousness or apprehension; b a feeling of uneasiness about whether a decision or course of action, etc is really for the best; c a scruple, misgiving or pang of conscience. 2 a feeling of faintness or nausea. ■ qualmish adj. ⓘ 16c.

quandary /ˈkwɒndərɪ/ ▷ noun (quandaries) 1 (usually in a quandary about, over, as to, etc something) a state of indecision, uncertainty, doubt or perplexity □ in a quandary over whether to take the job. 2 a situation that involves some kind of dilemma or predicament. ⓘ 16c.

quandong or quandang /ˈkwɒndɒŋ/ and quantong /ˈkwɒntɒŋ/ ▷ noun, Austral 1 a name for either of two native Australian trees. 2 the fruit or timber of one of these trees. ⓘ 19c: the Aboriginal Australian name.

quango /ˈkwaŋgoʊ/ ▷ noun (quangos) a semi-public administrative body that functions outwith the civil service but which is government-funded and which has its senior appointments made by the government. ◷ 1960s: from quasi-autonomous non-governmental organization.

quant /kwɒnt/ ▷ noun a type of punting pole that has a prong at the lower end so that it can be pushed into the bed of a river or canal, etc to propel a barge along. ▷ verb (quanted, quanting) to propel (a barge) along using a quant. ◷ 15c.

quanta see under QUANTUM quantic /ˈkwɒntɪk/ ▷ noun, math a rational integral homogeneous function of two or more variables. ● quantical adj. ◷ 19c: from Latin quantus how much.

quantify /ˈkwɒntɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (quantifies, quantified, quantifying) 1 to determine the quantity of something or to measure or express it as a quantity. 2 logic to stipulate the extent of (a term or proposition) by using a word such as all, some, etc. ● quantifiable adj. ● quantifiability noun. ● quantification noun. ● quantifier noun. ◷ 19c: from Latin quantus how much + facere to make.

quantitative /ˈkwɒntɪtətɪv, -teɪtɪv/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or involving quantity. 2 estimated, or measurable, in terms of quantity. Compare QUALITATIVE. ● quantitatively adverb. ◷ 16c.

quantitative analysis ▷ noun, chem the measurement of the amounts of the different constituents that are present in a substance. Compare QUALITATIVE ANALYSIS.

quantity /ˈkwɒntɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (quantities) (abbreviation Q, qt or qty) 1 the property that things have that allows them to be measured or counted; size or amount. 2 a specified amount or number, etc □ a tiny quantity. 3 largeness of amount; bulk □ buy in quantity. 4 (quantities) a large amount □ quantities of food. 5 math a value that may be expressed as a number, or the symbol or figure representing it. 6 prosody the length or duration of a vowel sound or syllable. ● an unknown quantity someone or something whose importance or influence cannot be foreseen. ◷ 14c: from Latin quantitas, from quantus how much.

quantity surveyor ▷ noun a person whose job is to estimate the amount and cost of the various materials and labour, etc that a specified building project will require. ◷ Early 20c.

quantize or quantise /ˈkwɒntaɪz/ ▷ verb (quantized, quantizing) physics to form into QUANTA (see under QUANTUM). ● quantization noun. ◷ 1920s.

quantum /ˈkwɒntəm/ ▷ noun (quanta /-tə/) 1 a an amount or quantity, especially a specified one; b a portion, part or share. 2 physics a the minimal indivisible amount of a specified physical property (eg momentum or electromagnetic radiation energy, etc) that can exist; b a unit of this, eg the PHOTON. Often as adj □ quantum effect. ▷ adj major, large or impressive but also sudden, unexpected or abrupt, etc. ◷ 17c: from Latin, neuter of quantus how much.

quantum electrodynamics ▷ noun, physics the branch of quantum theory that involves the study of the electromagnetic field in relation to the way it interacts with charged particles.

quantum leap or quantum jump ▷ noun 1 a sudden transition; a spectacular advance. 2 physics a sudden transition from one quantum state in an atom or molecule to another.

quantum mechanics ▷ singular noun, physics a mathematical theory that developed from the quantum theory and which is used in the interpretation the behaviour of particles, especially subatomic ones. ◷ 1920s.

quantum theory ▷ noun, physics a theory, developed by Max Planck (1858–1947) that is based on the principle that in physical systems, the energy associated with any QUANTUM is proportional to the frequency of the radiation.

quaquaversal /kweɪkwəˈvɜːsəl, kwɑː-/ ▷ adj, geol turned or pointing in every direction. ● quaquaversally adverb. ◷ 18c: from Latin quaqua wheresoever + versus towards.

quarantine /ˈkwɒrəntiːn/ ▷ noun 1 the isolation of people or animals to prevent the spread of any infectious disease that they could be developing. 2 the duration or place of such isolation. ▷ verb (quarantined, quarantining) to impose such isolation on someone or something; to put (a person or animal) into quarantine. ◷ 17c: from Italian quarantina period of 40 days, from quaranta forty.

quark[1] /kwɔːk, kwɑːk/ ▷ noun, physics the smallest known bit of matter, being any of a group of subatomic particles which, in different combinations, are thought to make up all protons, neutrons and other hadrons and are believed to have a fractional electric charge though they have not yet been detected in the free state. ◷ 1960s in this sense, but first coined as 'Three Quarks for Muster Mark!' by the novelist James Joyce (1882–1941) in Finnegans Wake (1939) and adopted in this scientific sense by the American physicist Murray Gell-Mann (born 1929) before he knew that Joyce had already used it.

quark[2] /kwɑːk/ ▷ noun a type of low-fat soft cheese that is made from skimmed milk. ◷ 1930s: German quarc.

quarrel /ˈkwɒrəl/ ▷ noun 1 an angry disagreement or argument. 2 a cause of such disagreement; a complaint. 3 a break in a friendship; a breach or rupture. ▷ verb (quarrelled, quarrelling; US quarreled, quarreling) intr 1 to argue or dispute angrily. 2 to fall out; to disagree and remain on bad terms. 3 (usually quarrel with someone or something) to find fault with them or it. ● quarreller noun. ● quarrelling adj, noun. ◷ 13c: from Latin querela, from queri to complain.

quarrelsome ▷ adj inclined to quarrel or dispute; characterized by quarrelling. ● quarrelsomely adverb. ● quarrelsomeness noun. ◷ 16c.

quarry[1] /ˈkwɒrɪ/ ▷ noun (quarries) 1 a an open excavation for the purpose of extracting stone or slate for building; b a place from which stone, etc can be excavated. 2 any source of information, data or knowledge, etc. ▷ verb (quarries, quarried, quarrying) 1 to extract (stone, etc) from a quarry. 2 to excavate a quarry in (land). 3 a to get a supply of (material or information) from a source; b to search through and extract information or material, etc from (a source). ● quarrying noun. ◷ 15c: from Latin quadrare to make (stones) square.

quarry[2] /ˈkwɒrɪ/ ▷ noun (quarries) 1 a animal or bird that is hunted, especially one that is the usual prey of some other animal or bird. 2 someone or something that is the object of pursuit. ◷ 17c; 14c meaning 'the entrails of a deer placed on the hide and given to hunting dogs as a reward': from French curee, from cuir hide.

quarry tile ▷ noun an unglazed floor tile.

quarryman ▷ noun a man who works in a quarry.

quart[1] /kwɔːt/ ▷ noun (abbreviation q or qt) 1 in the UK: a in the imperial system: a liquid measure equivalent to one quarter of a gallon, two pints (1.136 litres) or 40fl oz; b a container that holds this amount. 2 in the US: a a unit of liquid measure that is equivalent to one quarter of a gallon, two pints (0.946 litres) or 32fl oz; b a unit of dry measure that is equivalent to two pints (1.101 litres), an eighth of a peck or 67.2cu in. ◷ 14c: from French quarte, from Latin quartus fourth.

quart[2] or quarte /kɑːt/ ▷ noun 1 fencing the fourth of the eight parrying or attacking positions that fencers are taught. Also written quarte or carte. 2 cards a sequence of four cards in piquet. ◷ 17c: from French quarte, from Latin quartus fourth.

quartan /ˈkwɔːtən/ ▷ adj, pathol said of a fever, etc: recurring every third day. ◷ 18c: from Latin febris quartana a fever that occurs every fourth day (the day of the last flare-up being included).

quarter /ˈkwɔːtə(r)/ ▷ noun (abbreviation q or qr) 1 a one of four equal parts that an object or quantity is or can be divided into; b (often written ¼) the number one when it is divided by four. 2 any of the three-month divisions of the year, especially one that begins or ends on a QUARTER DAY. 3 N Amer a 25 cents, ie quarter of a dollar; b a coin of this value. 4 a a period of 15 minutes; b a point of time 15 minutes after or before any hour. 5 astron a a fourth part of the Moon's cycle; b either of the two phases of the Moon when half its surface is lit and visible at the point between the first and second and the third and fourth quarters of its cycle. 6 any of the four main compass directions; any direction. 7 a district of a city, etc □ the Spanish quarter. 8 (also quarters) a section of the public or society, etc; certain people or a certain person □ no sympathy from that quarter. 9 (quarters) lodgings or accommodation, eg for soldiers and their families □ married quarters. 10 in the imperial system: a a unit of weight equal to a quarter of a hundredweight, ie (Brit) 28 lbs or (US) 25 lbs; b Brit colloq 4 ozs or a quarter of a pound; c Brit a unit of measure for grain equal to eight bushels. 11 a any of the four sections that an animal's or bird's carcass is divided into, each section having a leg or a wing; b (quarters) historical the four similar sections that a human body was divided into, especially after execution for treason. 12 mercy that is shown or offered, eg to a defeated enemy, etc □ give no quarter. 13 heraldry a any of the four sections of a shield which are formed by two perpendicular horizontal and vertical lines; b a device that occupies one of these sections in the upper third of a shield. 14 sport, especially Amer football & Austral Rules football any of the four equal periods that a game is divided into. 15 naut the side of a ship's hull that is between amidships and astern. ▷ verb (quartered, quartering) 1 to divide something into quarters. 2 a to accommodate or billet (troops, etc) in lodgings; b said especially of military personnel: to be accommodated or billeted in lodgings. 3 historical to divide (the body of a hanged traitor, etc) into four parts, each with a limb. 4 heraldry a to divide (a shield) into quarters using one horizontal and one vertical line; b to fill (each quarter of a shield) with bearings; c to add (someone else's coat of arms) to one's own hereditary arms. 5 said of a hunting dog or a bird of prey: to cross and recross (an area) searching for game. ◷ 13c: from French quartier, from Latin quartarius a fourth part.

quarterage ▷ noun 1 a a payment, tax or contribution, etc that is due quarterly; b a sum that is paid quarterly, eg wages, an allowance or a pension. 2 accommodation or lodgings. ◷ 14c.

quarterback ▷ noun, Amer football a player who directs the attacking play. ◷ 19c.

quarterbinding ▷ noun a form of bookbinding where the spine is bound in leather or some other material but the corners of the covers are not. • quarterbound adj. ◷ 19c.

quarter day ▷ noun, Brit any of the four days when one of the QUARTERS (noun 2) of the year begins or ends. Traditionally they were the days that rent or interest fell due and when tenancies were agreed or renewed. ◷ 15c.

quarterdeck ▷ noun, naut the stern part of a ship's upper deck which is usually reserved for officers and is traditionally the place where ceremonies are held. ◷ 17c.

quarter final ▷ noun 1 a match or the round that involves the eight remaining participants or teams in a competition or cup, etc and which precedes the semi-final match or round. 2 (often quarter finals) the four matches that are played in one of these rounds. ◷ 1920s.

quarter-finalist ▷ noun a team or a person that qualifies to take part in a quarter final.

quartering ▷ noun 1 heraldry (usually quarterings) the coats of arms displayed on a shield to indicate family alliances. 2 the provision of quarters for soldiers. 3 division into quarters.

quarterlight ▷ noun in older designs of cars: a small triangular window that pivots open for ventilation. ◷ Late 19c.

quarterly ▷ adj produced, occurring, published, paid or due, etc once every quarter of a year. ▷ adverb once every quarter. ▷ noun (quarterlies) a quarterly publication. ◷ 16c.

quartermaster ▷ noun 1 an army officer who is responsible for soldiers' accommodation, food and clothing. 2 naut (abbreviation QM) a petty officer who is responsible for navigation and signals. ◷ 15c.

Quartermaster-General ▷ noun (Quartermaster-Generals) (abbreviation QMG) an army officer who is in charge of the department that is responsible for everything to do with the quartering of personnel. Also without hyphen.

Quartermaster-Sergeant ▷ noun (abbreviation QMS) a noncomissioned officer who is assigned to help the quartermaster. Also without hyphen.

quarter-miler ▷ noun an athlete who specializes in running races over a distance of quarter of a mile.

quarter note ▷ noun, N Amer, music a crotchet.

quarter pounder ▷ noun, colloq a name for a beefburger, cheeseburger, vegeburger, etc that has a main filling which weighs approximately quarter of a pound.

quartet or quartette /kwɔːˈtɛt/ ▷ noun 1 music a an ensemble of four singers or instrumentalists; b a piece of music for four performers. 2 any group or set of four. ◷ 18c: from Italian quartetto.

quartic /ˈkwɔːtɪk/ ▷ adj, math involving the fourth degree. ▷ noun an equation, etc of this kind. ◷ 19c: from Latin quartus fourth.

quartile /ˈkwɔːtaɪl/ ▷ adj, astron said of the aspect of two heavenly bodies: 90° apart. ▷ noun 1 astrol a quartile aspect between two heavenly bodies. 2 statistics in a frequency distribution: a value such that one quarter, one half or three quarters of the numbers considered are contained within it, these being called, respectively first quartile, second quartile and third quartile. ◷ 16c: from Latin quartilis, from quartus fourth.

quarto /ˈkwɔːtoʊ/ ▷ noun (quartos) (abbreviation Q, qto plural qq; often written 4to) printing 1 a size of paper produced by folding a sheet in half twice to give four leaves or eight pages. 2 a book that has its pages made up of sheets of paper that has been folded in this way and then had the outer folds cut. ◷ 16c: from Latin in quarto in one fourth.

quartz /kwɔːts/ ▷ noun (quartzes) geol a common colourless mineral that is often tinged with impurities that give a wide variety of shades making it suitable as a gemstone, eg purple (amethyst), brown (cairngorm), pink (rose quartz), etc. In its pure form, it consists of silica or silicon dioxide. See also QUARTZITE. • quartziferous adj. • quartzitic adj. ◷ 18c: German.

quartz clock and quartz watch ▷ noun a clock or watch that has a mechanism which is controlled by the vibrations of a QUARTZ CRYSTAL (sense 2).

quartz crystal ▷ noun 1 a transparent colourless form of quartz that occurs naturally or can be manufactured and which is used in optics and electronics. 2 a PIEZOELECTRIC CRYSTAL of quartz that is ground so that it vibrates at a specified frequency when a suitable electrical signal is applied to it.

quartzite ▷ noun, geol 1 any of various pale or white highly durable rocks that are composed largely or entirely of quartz and which are used as a construction material in the building industry. 2 a sandstone consisting of grains of quartz cemented together by silica. ⓘ 19c.

quasar /ˈkweɪzɑː(r), -sɑː(r)/ ▷ noun, astron a highly intense luminous star-like source of light and radio waves that exists thousands of millions of light years outside the Earth's galaxy and which has large redshifts. ⓘ 1960s: from quasi-stellar object.

quash /kwɒʃ/ ▷ verb (quashes, quashed, quashing) 1 to subdue, crush or suppress, etc (eg a rebellion or protest). 2 to reject (a verdict, etc) as invalid. 3 to annul (a law, etc). ⓘ 14c: from Latin quassare, from quatere to shake.

quasi /ˈkweɪzaɪ/ ▷ adverb as it were; so to speak. ⓘ 15c: Latin, literally 'as if'.

quasi- /ˈkweɪzaɪ/ ▷ combining form, denoting 1 to some extent; virtually □ a quasi-official role. 2 seeming or seemingly, but not actually so □ quasi-experts. ⓘ From Latin quasi as if.

quasi-stellar object ▷ noun (abbreviation QSO) any astronomical body belonging to several classes of bodies, such as a QUASAR or a quasi-stellar galaxy both which have very large REDSHIFTS. ⓘ 1960s.

quassia /ˈkwɒʃə/ ▷ noun (quassias) 1 a S American tree whose bitter wood and bark are used as a tonic. 2 a W Indian tree of the same family. ⓘ 18c: named after an 18c Surinamese slave, Graman Quassi, who discovered its medicinal properties.

quaternary /kwəˈtɜːnərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 having or consisting of four parts. 2 fourth in a series. 3 (Quaternary) geol belonging or relating to the most recent period of geological time when humans evolved. See table at GEOLOGICAL TIME SCALE. 4 chem a said of a compound, especially one containing nitrogen: having the central atom bound to four other atoms or groups; b said of an atom: bound to four other atoms or groups. ▷ noun, geol the Quaternary period or rock system. ⓘ 15c: from Latin quaterni four each.

quaternion /kwəˈtɜːnɪən/ ▷ noun 1 a set of four. 2 math the operation of changing one vector into another, or the quotient of two vectors, depending on four geometrical elements and expressible by an algebraical quadrinomial. ⓘ 14c: from Latin quaternio, from quaterni four.

quatorze /kəˈtɔːz/ ▷ noun, cards in piquet: a set of four aces, kings, queens, jacks or tens in a hand which scores 14. ⓘ 18c: French, meaning 'fourteen'.

quatrain /ˈkwɒtreɪn/ ▷ noun, poetry a verse or poem of four lines which usually rhyme alternately. ⓘ 16c: French, from quatre four.

quatrefoil /ˈkatrəfɔɪl/ ▷ noun 1 bot a a flower with four petals; b a leaf composed of four lobes or leaflets. 2 archit a four-lobed design, especially one that is used in open stonework. ⓘ 15c: French, from quatre four + foil leaf.

quattrocento /kwatrouˈtʃentou/ ▷ noun the 15c, especially with reference to Italian Renaissance art. ● quattrocentism noun. ● quattrocentist adj, noun. ⓘ 17c: Italian, meaning 'four hundred', but taken to mean 'fourteen hundred'.

quaver /ˈkweɪvə(r)/ ▷ verb (quavered, quavering) 1 intr said of a voice or a musical sound, etc: to be unsteady; to shake or tremble. 2 to say or sing something in a trembling voice. ▷ noun 1 music a note that lasts half as long as a crotchet and usually represented in notation by ♪. 2 a tremble in the voice. ● quaverer noun. ● quavering adj. ● quaveringly adverb. ● quavery adj. ⓘ 15c: a blending of QUAKE + WAVER.

quay /kiː/ ▷ noun an artificial structure that projects into the water for the loading and unloading of ships. ⓘ 17c: from French kay, partly assimilated to modern French quai.

quayage /ˈkiːɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 the amount that is levied for the use of a quay. 2 the amount of space that a quay affords.

quayside ▷ noun the area around a quay, especially the edge along the water.

Que. ▷ abbreviation, Can province Quebec.

queasy /ˈkwiːzɪ/ ▷ adj (queasier, queasiest) 1 said of a person: feeling slightly sick. 2 said of the stomach or digestion: easily upset. 3 said of the conscience: readily made uneasy. ● queasily adj. ● queasiness noun. ⓘ 15c.

Quebec /kəˈbek, kwə-/ ▷ noun, communications in the NATO alphabet: the word used to denote the letter 'Q' (see table at NATO ALPHABET).

Quebecker or Quebecer /kwəˈbekə(r), kwɪˈ-, kə-/ and Québecois (plural Québecois) ▷ /French kebɛkwa/ ▷ noun 1 a citizen or inhabitant of, or a person born in, Quebec, a province in E Canada with a largely French-speaking population. 2 a citizen or inhabitant of, or a person born in, Quebec, a port in E Canada and the capital of the province of Quebec.

quebracho /keɪˈbraːtʃou/ ▷ noun (quebrachos) 1 either of two types of S American trees with a hard wood which is rich in tannin. 2 the wood or bark of either of these trees, used in tanning and dyeing. ⓘ 19c: from American Spanish quiebracha, from quebrar to break + hacha an axe.

Quechua /ˈketʃwə/ ▷ noun (Quechua or Quechuas) 1 a group of S American peoples that includes the INCAS, who inhabit Peru and parts of Bolivia, Chile, Colombia and Ecuador. 2 an individual belonging to this group of peoples. 3 their language, which is widely used in this area as a lingua franca. ▷ adj belonging or relating to this group or language. ● Quechuan noun, adj. ⓘ 19c: Spanish, from Quechua K'echua plunderer.

queen /kwiːn/ ▷ noun 1 a a woman who rules a country, having inherited her position by birth; b (in full queen consort) the wife of a king; c (usually Queen) the title applied to someone who holds either of these positions and which is usually followed by a designated first name or by the name of the country she rules □ Queen Elizabeth I □ Mary Queen of Scots. 2 a woman, place or thing considered supreme in some way □ queen of people's hearts □ queen of European cities. 3 a large fertile female ant, bee or wasp that lays eggs. 4 chess a piece that is able to move forwards, backwards, sideways or diagonally, making it the most powerful piece on the board. 5 cards any of the four high-ranking face cards that have a picture of a queen on them. 6 a derog an effeminate male homosexual; b gay a male homosexual who likes to camp it up. 7 (usually the Queen) Brit colloq the national anthem when a woman is on the throne □ Remember when the Queen was played in cinemas? ▷ verb (queened, queening) 1 chess a to advance (a pawn) to the opponent's side of the board and convert it into a queen; b intr said of a pawn: to reach the opponent's side of the board and so be converted into a queen. 2 to make (a woman) queen. ● queendom noun. ● queenlike adj. ● queenship noun. ● queen it colloq said of a woman: to behave overbearingly. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cwene a woman.

Queen Anne ▷ adj, denoting a style of English architecture and furniture, etc that was popular in the early 18c. ⓘ 18c: named after Queen Anne who reigned 1702–14.

Queen Anne's lace ▷ noun another name for COW PARSLEY.

queen bee ▷ noun (also queen) 1 the fertile female in a beehive. 2 the dominant, superior or controlling woman in an organization or group, etc.

queen cake ▷ noun a small sweet sponge cake, usually one with raisins in it.

queen consort ▷ noun the wife of a reigning king. Often shortened to queen.

queen dowager ▷ noun the widow of a king.

queenly ▷ adj (queenlier, queenliest) 1 suitable for or appropriate to a queen. 2 majestic; like a queen. ▪ queenliness noun.

queen mother ▷ noun the widow of a king who is also the mother of the reigning king or queen.

Queen Mum ▷ noun, Brit colloq an affectionate shortening of queen mother that is often applied to the mother of Queen Elizabeth II.

queen of puddings ▷ noun a dessert that is usually made from breadcrumbs, egg, milk and jam, often with a meringue topping.

Queen of the May see MAY QUEEN queen post ▷ noun, archit in a trussed roof: one of two upright posts that connect the tie-beam to the principal rafters.

Queen's Bench (when the sovereign is a woman) or King's Bench (when the sovereign is a man) ▷ noun (abbreviation QB) in the UK: a division of the High Court of Justice.

Queensberry Rules /ˈkwiːnzbəri —/ ▷ plural noun 1 the code of rules that govern modern-day boxing. 2 colloq approved, mannerly, courteous or civilized, etc behaviour, especially in a dispute. ⓘ Late 19c: named after Sir John Sholto Douglas (1844–1900), Marquis of Queensberry, who had a keen interest in the sport and who, in 1867, helped in drawing up the code.

Queen's Counsel (when the sovereign is a woman) or King's Counsel (when the sovereign is a man) ▷ noun (abbreviation QC) law 1 in England and Wales: a senior barrister who is recommended for appointment as Counsel to the Crown by the Lord Chancellor and who is allowed to sit within the bar and to wear silk gowns. 2 in Scotland: a senior advocate who is recommended for appointment as Counsel to the Crown by the Lord President and who has these same privileges. Also called silk.

Queen's English (when the sovereign is a woman) or King's English (when the sovereign is a man) ▷ noun a term that is used by some, but not by linguists, to designate the standard form of written or spoken Southern British English which they regard as the most correct or acceptable form. ⓘ 16c.

Queen's evidence (when the sovereign is a woman) or King's evidence (when the sovereign is a man) ▷ noun, Brit law evidence that a participant or accomplice in a crime gives to support the case of the prosecution and which is usually not given as much weight as evidence from independent witnesses, because it is likely that the person giving it will try to minimize the extent of their own involvement. ▪ turn Queen's or King's evidence said of a criminal: to decide to give such evidence, usually after a deal promising a more lenient sentence has been struck. N Amer, especially US equivalent STATE'S EVIDENCE.

Queen's Guide (when the sovereign is a woman) or King's Guide (when the sovereign is a man) Brit. ▷ noun 1 a GUIDE (noun 4) who has reached the highest level of proficiency. 2 this rank, its certificate or badge or the award of this rank.

Queen's highway (when the sovereign is a woman) or King's highway (when the sovereign is a man) ▷ noun, Brit a public road, regarded as being under royal control.

queen-size and queen-sized ▷ adj said especially of a bed or other piece of furniture: larger than the usual or normal size but not as large as king-size. ⓘ 1950s.

Queenslander ▷ noun a citizen or inhabitant of, or a person born in, Queensland, a state in NE Australia.

Queensland nut ▷ noun another name for the MACADAMIA nut.

Queen's Scout (when the sovereign is a woman) and King's Scout (when the sovereign is a man) Brit, ▷ noun 1 a SCOUT (noun 2) who has reached the highest level of proficiency. 2 this rank, its certificate or badge or the award of this rank.

Queen's Speech (when the sovereign is a woman) and King's Speech (when the sovereign is a man) ▷ noun, Brit 1 the speech that the reigning monarch makes on the opening of a new session of parliament and which gives details of the government's proposed legislative agenda. 2 a traditional Christmas day broadcast on TV and radio in which the monarch addresses the nation and the Commonwealth.

queer /kwɪə(r)/ ▷ adj (queerer, queerest) 1 slang said of a man: homosexual. Compare GAY adj 1. 2 odd, strange or unusual. 3 colloq slightly mad. 4 faint or ill. 5 colloq suspicious; shady. ▷ noun, slang a homosexual. ▷ verb (queered, queering) to spoil something. ▪ queerish adj. ▪ queerly adverb. ▪ queerness noun. ▪ in queer street Brit colloq 1 in debt or financial difficulties. 2 in trouble. ▪ queer someone's pitch colloq to spoil their plans; to thwart them. ⓘ 1920s in sense 1; 16c in sense 2.

queer-bashing ▷ noun an act or instance, or the process of, maliciously attacking a homosexual, a group of homosexuals or homosexuals in general (or someone who is or people who are thought to be) homosexual, either physically or verbally and without any provocation. ▪ queer-basher noun.

quell /kwɛl/ ▷ verb (quelled, quelling) 1 a to crush or subdue (riots, disturbances or opposition, etc); b to force (rebels or rioters, etc) to give in. 2 to suppress, overcome, alleviate or put an end to (sickness, unwanted feelings, etc). ▪ queller noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cwellan to kill.

quench /kwɛnʃ, kwɛntʃ/ ▷ verb (quenches, quenched, quenching) 1 a to satisfy (thirst) by drinking; b to satisfy (a desire, etc). 2 to extinguish (a fire or light, etc). 3 to damp or crush (ardour, enthusiasm or desire, etc). 4 metallurgy to cool (hot metal) rapidly by plunging in cold liquid in order to alter its properties. 5 nuclear chem to introduce an agent into a luminescent material to reduce the duration of phosphorescence. ▪ quenchable adj. ▪ quencher noun. ▪ quenchless adj. ▪ quenching adj, noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon acwencan.

quenelle /kəˈnɛl/ ▷ noun, cookery an oval or sausage-shaped dumpling made from spiced meat-paste, eg fish, chicken or veal, etc, which is bound together with fat and eggs and poached in water. ⓘ 19c: French, from German Knödel a dumpling.

querist /ˈkwɪərɪst/ ▷ noun someone who asks a question or makes an inquiry. ⓘ 17c: from Latin quaerere to ask.

quern /kwɜːn/ ▷ noun 1 a mill, usually consisting of two circular stones (quernstones) one on top of the other, used for grinding grain by hand. 2 a small hand mill for grinding pepper or mustard, etc. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cweorn.

querulous /ˈkwɛrjʊləs, -rʊləs/ ▷ adj 1 said of someone or their disposition: inclined or ready to complain. 2 said of a voice, tone or comment, etc: complaining, grumbling or whining. ▪ querulously adverb. ▪ querulousness noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin querulus, from queri to complain.

query /ˈkwɪəri/ ▷ noun (queries) 1 a question, especially one that raises a doubt or objection, etc. 2 a request for information; an inquiry. 3 a less common name for a QUESTION MARK. ▷ verb (queries, queried, querying) 1 to raise a doubt about or an objection to something. 2 to ask □ 'How much?' she queried. 3 chiefly US to interrogate or question someone. ▪ querying adj, noun. ▪ queryingly adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin imperative quaere ask!, from quaerere to ask.

quest /kwɛst/ ▷ noun 1 a search or hunt. 2 a journey, especially one undertaken by a medieval knight, that involves searching for something (eg the Holy Grail) or achieving some goal and often resulting in various adventures which bring about some form self-improvement or self-discovery, etc. 3 the object of a search; an aim or goal. ▷ verb (quested, questing) intr 1 (usually quest after or for something) to search about; to roam around in search of it. 2 said of a dog: to search for game. • quester or questor noun. • questing adj, noun. • questingly adverb. • in quest of something in the process of looking for it. ⓔ 14c: from Latin quaerere to seek.

question /ˈkwestʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a a written or spoken sentence that is worded in such a way as to request information or an answer; b the interrogative sentence or other form of words in which this is expressed. 2 a doubt or query □ raises questions about their loyalty. 3 a problem or difficulty □ the Northern Ireland question. 4 a problem set for discussion or solution in an examination paper, etc. 5 an investigation or search for information. 6 a matter, concern or issue □ a question of safety. ▷ verb (questioned, questioning) 1 to ask someone questions; to interrogate them. 2 to raise doubts about something; to query it. • questioner noun. • questionless adj. • be (only, simply or just, etc) a question of something to be a situation, case or matter of a specified thing □ It's just a question of time □ It's a question of whether or not he'll remember. • beg the question see under BEG. • beyond question not in doubt; beyond doubt. • call something in or into question to suggest reasons for doubting its validity or truth, etc. • in question 1 presently under discussion or being referred to □ was away at the time in question. 2 in doubt □ Her ability is not in question. • no question of something no possibility or intention of it. • out of the question impossible and so not worth considering. • pop the question see under POP[1]. • without question unhesitatingly. ⓔ 13c: from French question, from Latin quaestio, from quaerere to ask.

questionable ▷ adj 1 doubtful; debatable; ambiguous. 2 suspect; disreputable; obscure; shady. • questionability noun. • questionably adverb.

questioning ▷ noun an act or the process of asking a question or questions. ▷ adj 1 characterized by doubt or uncertainty; mildly confused □ exchanged questioning looks. 2 said especially of a person's mind: inquisitive; keen to learn. • questioningly adverb.

question mark ▷ noun 1 a the punctuation mark ? which is used to indicate that the sentence that comes before it is a question; b this mark when it is used to indicate that there is a possible error. 2 a doubt □ still a question mark over funds.

question mark

• A question mark is used to indicate a direct question □ Is John coming? □ Which is your car?

Note that a question mark will sometimes be the only indication that a sentence is a question and not a statement □ John's coming too?

Sentences that are questions in form but requests or statements in meaning should not take a question mark □ Can you pass me the butter, please. □ Would the parent of a little boy aged about four and answering to the name of Jeremy please come to the manager's office to collect him.

• Informally, a question mark is used to indicate that an indirect question is really a polite request or a tentative direct question □ I wonder if you could help me? I'm looking for Princes Street. □ I was wondering if you would like to come too?

• It is used in parentheses to indicate that something in a statement is suspicious or uncertain □ He gave his name as Ellis (?) and said he was looking for work. □ In this regard, we could consider the poetry of Geoffrey Chaucer (?1340–1400) and the paintings of Hieronymus Bosch (?1450–1516).

question master ▷ noun someone who asks the questions and adjudicates the scores, etc in a quiz, etc.

questionnaire /kwestʃəˈnɛə(r), kes-/ ▷ noun (questionnaires) 1 a set of questions that has been specially formulated as a means of collecting information and surveying opinions, etc on a specified subject or theme, etc. 2 a document that contains a set of questions of this kind. ⓔ Early 20c: French.

question time ▷ noun, Brit the period that is set aside each day that the House sits for MPs to put questions to government ministers.

quetzal /ˈketsəl/ ▷ noun 1 the most flamboyant of the TROGON birds of Central and S America, the males of which have bright coppery-green feathers on their upper parts and crimson ones below, and enormously long wing and tail coverts which resemble graceful streamers. 2 (plural quetzales /-ˈsɑːleɪs/) the standard unit of currency of Guatemala. ⓔ 19c; early 20c in sense 2: American Spanish, from Nahuatl (the Aztec language) quetzalli a bird's tail-feather.

queue /kjuː/ ▷ noun 1 Brit a line or file of people or vehicles, etc, especially ones that are waiting for something. N Amer equivalent LINE. 2 computing a list of items, eg programs or data, held in a computer system in the order in which they are to be processed, the items that arrive earliest being processed first and subsequent ones placed at the end of the list. 3 a pigtail. ▷ verb (queued, queuing) intr 1 (also queue up) a to form a queue; b to stand or wait in a queue. 2 computing to line up tasks for a computer to process. ⓔ 19c as noun 3; 16c, meaning 'a tail': French.

queue-jump ▷ verb, intr, Brit to barge in front of other people in a queue in order to be served, dealt with, etc sooner. • queue-jumper noun. • queue-jumping adj, noun. ⓔ 1950s.

quibble /ˈkwɪbəl/ ▷ verb (quibbled, quibbling) intr to argue over trifles; to make petty objections □ quibbled about his share of the bill. ▷ noun 1 a trifling objection. 2 old use a pun. • quibbler noun. • quibbling adj, noun. • quibblingly adverb. ⓔ 17c.

quiche /kiːʃ/ ▷ noun a type of open tart that is usually made with a filling of beaten eggs and cream with various savoury flavourings, and which can be served either hot or cold. ⓔ 1940s: French, from German Kuchen cake.

quiche lorraine /— ləˈreɪn/ ▷ noun a traditional type of quiche that is flavoured with bacon.

quick /kwɪk/ ▷ adj (quicker, quickest) 1 taking little time. 2 brief. 3 fast; rapid; speedy. 4 not delayed; immediate. 5 intelligent; alert; sharp. 6 said of the temper: easily roused to anger. 7 nimble, deft or brisk. 8 not reluctant or slow (to do something); apt, eager or ready □ quick to take offence. ▷ adverb, informal rapidly. ▷ noun 1 an area of sensitive flesh, especially at the base of the fingernail or toenail. 2 the site where someone's emotions or feelings, etc are supposed to be located □ Her words wounded him to the quick. 3 (usually the quick) old use those who are alive □ the quick and the dead. • quickly adverb. • quickness noun. • be quick to act immediately. • be quick off the mark to act promptly. • be quick on the draw 1 to react or respond, etc promptly. 2 to pull a gun from its holster quickly. ⓔ Anglo-Saxon cwic alive.

quick assets ▷ plural noun, accounting assets that can easily and speedily be converted into cash.

quick-change artist ▷ noun a performer who makes several changes in costume or appearance during a single show.

quicken /ˈkwɪkən/ ▷ verb (quickened, quickening) 1 tr & intr to make or become quicker; to accelerate □ Her heart quickened when she saw him. 2 to stimulate, rouse or stir (interest or imagination, etc). 3 intr a said of a baby in the womb: to begin to move perceptibly; b said of a pregnant woman: to begin to feel her baby's movements. • quickener noun. • quickening adj, noun. ⓔ 16c in sense 3; 14c, meaning 'to give or receive life'.

quick-fire ▷ adj 1 said especially of repartee, etc: very rapid. 2 said of a gun, etc: designed or able to fire shots in rapid succession.

quick fix ▷ noun a remedy that has the benefit of being immediate but the drawback of not being very effective.

quick-freeze ▷ verb to freeze (especially soft fruit such as strawberries) rapidly by exposing it to moving air at a very low temperature, so that only small ice crystals form and the internal structure is not damaged. ● quick-frozen adj. ⓘ 1930s.

quickie ▷ noun, colloq 1 something that is dealt with or done rapidly or in a short time. 2 (also a quick one) a measure of alcohol that is drunk quickly. 3 a divorce that is settled quickly and without any complications. 4 a brief sexual encounter or act of sexual intercourse. ⓘ 1920s, specifically of a quickly-made film.

quicklime see CALCIUM OXIDE

quick march ▷ noun, military a march that proceeds in QUICK TIME. ▷ exclamation a command that instructs (soldiers, etc) to begin marching at this pace.

quicksand ▷ noun 1 a loose, wet sand that can suck down anything that lands or falls on it, often swallowing it up completely; b an area of this. 2 a dangerous, testing, risky or threatening, etc situation or thing. ⓘ 15c.

quickset ▷ noun 1 a a living slip or cutting from a plant, especially from a hawthorn or other shrub, that is put into the ground with others where they will grow to form a hedge; b a collection of such slips or cuttings. 2 a hedge that is formed from such slips or cuttings. ▷ adj said of a hedge: formed from such slips or cuttings. ⓘ 15c: from QUICK, meaning 'alive', 'living' or 'growing'.

quicksilver ▷ noun MERCURY 1. ▷ adj said of someone's mind or temper, etc: fast, especially unpredictably so; volatile. ▷ verb to coat (the back of a piece of glass) with an amalgam of tin in order to make it reflective. ● quicksilvery adj. ● quicksilvering noun the reflective backing in a mirror. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cwic seolfor, modelled on Latin argentum vivum living silver.

quickstep ▷ noun 1 a a fast modern ballroom dance in quadruple time; b a piece of music that is suitable for this kind of dance. 2 military the type of step that is used in QUICK TIME. ▷ verb, intr to dance the quickstep. ⓘ 19c.

quick-tempered ▷ adj easily angered; grouchy or irritable.

quickthorn ▷ noun the HAWTHORN.

quick time ▷ noun, military fast marching that is done at a rate of about 120 paces per minute. ⓘ Early 19c.

quick trick ▷ noun, bridge 1 a high-ranking card or combination of cards that is likely to win a trick. 2 a trick that is won by this kind of card or cards.

quick-witted ▷ adj 1 having fast reactions. 2 able to grasp or understand situations, etc quickly; clever. ● quick-wittedness noun.

quid[1] /kwɪd/ ▷ noun (plural quid) colloq a pound sterling. ● quids in well-off; in a profitable or advantageous position. ⓘ 17c.

quid[2] /kwɪd/ ▷ noun a bit of tobacco that is kept in the mouth and chewed. ⓘ 18c: a dialectal variant of CUD.

quiddity /ˈkwɪdɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (quiddities) 1 the essence of something; the distinctive qualities, etc that make a thing what it is. 2 a quibble; a trifling detail or point. ⓘ 16c: from Latin quidditas, from quid what.

quid pro quo /kwɪd proʊ ˈkwoʊ/ ▷ noun (quid pro quos) 1 something that is given or taken in exchange for something else of comparable value or status, etc. 2 an act or instance, or the process or result of, exchanging something for something else of comparable value or status, etc. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'something for something'.

quiescent /kwɪˈɛsənt/ ▷ adj 1 quiet, silent, at rest or in an inactive state, usually temporarily. 2 phonetics said of a consonant: not sounded. ● quiescence noun. ● quiescency noun. ● quiescently adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin quiescere to be quiet.

quiet /ˈkwaɪət/ ▷ adj (quieter, quietest) 1 a making little or no noise; b said of a sound or voice, etc: soft; not loud. 2 said of a place, etc: peaceful; tranquil; without noise or bustle. 3 said of someone or their nature or disposition: reserved; unassertive; shy. 4 said of the weather or sea, etc: calm. 5 not disturbed by trouble or excitement. 6 without fuss or publicity; informal. 7 said of business or trade, etc: not flourishing or busy. 8 secret; private. 9 undisclosed or hidden ▫ took a quiet satisfaction in his downfall. 10 said of humour: subtle; not overdone. 11 enjoyed in peace ▫ a quiet read. 12 said of the mind or conscience: untroubled by anxiety or guilt, etc. 13 not showy or gaudy, etc ▫ quiet tones of beige. ▷ noun 1 absence of, or freedom from, noise or commotion, etc. 2 calm, tranquillity or repose. ▷ verb (quieted, quieting) tr & intr (usually quiet down) to make something or become quiet or calm ▫ told the class to quiet down. ● quietly adverb. ● quietness noun. ● keep quiet about something or keep something quiet to remain silent or say nothing about it. ● on the quiet (also on the q.t.) secretly; discreetly. ⓘ 14c: from Latin quietus, from quiescere to come to rest.

quieten ▷ verb (quietened, quietening) 1 (often quieten down) tr & intr to make or become quiet. 2 to calm (doubts or fears, etc). ⓘ 19c.

quietism /ˈkwaɪətɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 a state of calmness and passivity. 2 (Quietism) a form of religious mysticism that involves the complete surrender of personal will to the will of God and the abandonment of anything connected to the senses in favour of dedication to devotion and contemplation. ● quietistic adj. ● quietist noun, adj. ⓘ 18c; 17c in sense 2: Quietism was founded by the Spanish priest Miguel de Molinos (1628–96).

quietude /ˈkwaɪətjuːd/ ▷ noun quietness; tranquillity. ⓘ 16c.

quietus /kwaɪˈiːtəs, kwɪˈeɪtəs/ ▷ noun 1 a release from life; death; b something that brings about death. 2 release or discharge from debts or duties. ⓘ 16c: from Latin quietus est he is quit, meaning 'he is considered to have discharged his debts'.

quiff /kwɪf/ ▷ noun a tuft of hair at the front of the head that is brushed up into a crest and which is sometimes made to hang over the forehead. ▷ verb (quiffed, quiffing) (also quiff up) to style (hair) into a quiff. ⓘ 19c.

quill /kwɪl/ ▷ noun 1 a a large stiff feather from a bird's wing or tail; b the hollow base part of this. 2 (in full quill pen) a pen that is made by sharpening and splitting the end of a feather, especially a goose feather. 3 a porcupine's long spine. 4 a hollow stem that is made into a musical pipe. 5 a curled tube of cinnamon bark. 6 a bobbin. 7 a plectrum, originally one made from a crow quill, that is used for plucking the strings of a musical instrument, especially a harpsicord. ▷ verb (quilled, quilling) 1 to form (material in a ruff) into tubular folds. 2 to wind (thread, etc) on to a bobbin. ⓘ 15c.

quilt /kwɪlt/ ▷ noun 1 a type of bedcover that is made by sewing together two layers of fabric, usually with some kind of soft padding material, eg feathers or wadding, etc in between them. The padding is held in place by the stitching which is often made to form regular or decorative patterns. 2 a bedspread that is made in this way but which tends to be thinner. 3 loosely a duvet; a continental quilt. ▷ verb (quilted, quilting) tr & intr 1 to sew (two layers of material, etc) together with a filling in between, usually by using stitching that produces regular or decorative patterns. 2 to cover or line something with padding. 3 to compile (a literary work) using extracts from various sources. ● quilter noun. ● quilted adj. ● quilting noun. ⓘ 13c: from French cuilte, from Latin culcita a mattress or cushion.

quilting bee and quilting party ▷ noun, chiefly N Amer an occasion when people gather, usually at someone's house, to work together on a quilt, catch up on gossip and have a good time.

quim /kwɪm/ ▷ noun, slang the external genital organs of a woman. ⓘ 18c.

quin ▷ noun, colloq a shortened form of QUINTUPLET.

quinacrine /ˈkwɪnəkriːn/ ▷ noun MEPACRINE. ⓘ 1930s: from quinine + acridine.

quinary /ˈkwaɪnərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 relating or referring to the number five. 2 said of a number system: based on the number five. 3 having or being composed of five parts. 4 fifth in a series. ▷ noun (quinaries) a set or group of five. ⓘ 17c: from Latin quinarius, from quinque five.

quinate /ˈkwaɪnət/ ▷ adj, bot said of a leaf: having five leaflets. ⓘ Early 19c: from Latin quinque five.

quince /kwɪns/ ▷ noun 1 a small Asian tree of the rose family. 2 the acidic hard yellow fruit of this tree which is used in making jams and jellies, etc. 3 the fruit of certain other plants, eg the fruit of the JAPONICA. ⓘ 14c: from the plural of English quyne quince, ultimately from Greek melon Kydonion apple of Cydonia, a town in Crete, now called Canea.

quincentenary ▷ noun 1 a 500th anniversary. 2 a celebration that is held to mark this. • quincentennial adj. ⓘ 19c: from Latin quinque five + CENTENARY.

quincunx /ˈkwɪnkʌŋks/ ▷ noun (quincunxes) 1 a an arrangement in which each of the four corners of a square or rectangle and the point at its the centre are all indicated by some object; b five objects that are arranged in this way. 2 a repeating pattern based on this arrangement, eg in tree-planting. • quincunxial /kwɪnˈkʌnʃəl/ adj. • quincunxially adverb. ⓘ 17c: Latin, meaning 'five twelfths'.

quinella /kwɪˈnɛlə/ ▷ noun (quinellas) a type of bet where punters select two horses, dogs, etc, ie the one that comes second in a specified race as well as the race winner, although they do not have to specify which is which. Compare QUADRELLA, PERFECTA, TRIFECTA. ⓘ 1940s: from American Spanish quiniela.

quinidine /ˈkwɪnədiːn/ ▷ noun, medicine a drug that is obtained from the bark of the CINCHONA and which is used for treating irregularities in heartbeat rates. ⓘ 19c: see QUININE.

quinine /kwɪˈniːn/ or (especially US) /ˈkwaɪnaɪn/ ▷ noun 1 an alkaloid that is found in the bark of the CINCHONA. 2 medicine a bitter-tasting toxic drug obtained from this alkaloid, and which was formerly taken as a tonic. It is effective in reducing fever and pain and was once widely used in treating malaria. ⓘ 19c: from Spanish quina cinchona bark, from Quechua kina bark.

quinol /ˈkwɪnɒl/ ▷ noun, chem another name for HYDROQUINONE. ⓘ 19c.

quinoline /ˈkwɪnəliːn, -lɪn/ ▷ noun, chem a water-soluble aromatic nitrogen compound in the form of an oily colourless liquid, used in the manufacture of dyes and antiseptics and as a food preservative. ⓘ 19c.

quinone /ˈkwɪnoʊn/ ▷ noun, chem 1 a yellow crystalline compound that is made by oxidizing aniline, used in the manufacture of dyes. Also called benzoquinone. 2 any derivative of BENZENE where two hydrogen atoms are replaced by two oxygen ones. ⓘ 19c: see QUININE, -ONE.

quinquagenarian /kwɪŋkwədʒɪˈnɛərɪən/ ▷ noun someone who is aged between 50 and 59. ▷ adj 1 aged between 50 and 59. 2 belonging, relating or referring to this age span. ⓘ 19c; 16c, meaning 'a captain of 50 men': from Latin quinquaginta fifty.

Quinquagesima /kwɪŋkwəˈdʒɛsɪmə/ ▷ noun (in full Quinquagesima Sunday) in the Christian calendar: the Sunday before the beginning of Lent. ⓘ 14c: from Latin quinquagesima dies fiftieth day, ie before Easter Day.

quinquennial /kwɪŋˈkwɛnɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 lasting for five years. 2 recurring once every five years. • quinquennially adverb. ▷ noun 1 a fifth anniversary. 2 a celebration of this. ⓘ 16c: from Latin quinque five + annus year.

quinquennium /kwɪŋˈkwɛnɪəm/ ▷ noun (quinquennia) a period of five years. ⓘ 17c.

quinquereme /ˈkwɪŋkwɪriːm/ ▷ noun, historical a type of ancient Roman or Greek galley ship that had five banks of oars or, possibly, five oarsmen to each oar. ⓘ 17c: from Latin quinque five + remus oar.

quinquevalent /kwɪŋkwɪˈveɪlənt/ ▷ adj, chem PENTAVALENT.

quinsy /ˈkwɪnzɪ/ ▷ noun, pathol inflammation of the tonsils and the area of the throat round about them, accompanied by the formation of an abscess or abscesses on the tonsils. • quinsied adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin quinancia, from Greek kyon dog + anchein to strangle.

quint ▷ noun 1 /kɪnt/ cards in the game of piquet: a hand with a run of five cards of the same suit and which scores 15. 2 /kwɪnt/ (in full quint stop) an organ stop that gives a tone that is a fifth higher than normal. 3 /kwɪnt/ US a shortened form of QUINTUPLET. ⓘ 17c: from French quinte, from Latin quinque five.

quinta /ˈkiːntə/ ▷ noun (quintas) a country house, villa or estate in Spain and Portugal. ⓘ 18c: from Spanish and Portuguese quinta parte a fifth part, from the practice of letting a house or farm in exchange for a fifth of the annual produce.

quintal /ˈkwɪntəl/ ▷ noun 1 a unit of weight that is equal to a hundredweight, 112 lbs in Britain or 100 lbs in the US. 2 in the metric system: a unit of weight that is equal to 100 kg. ⓘ 15c: French, from Arabic qintar, from Latin centum one hundred.

quintan /ˈkwɪntən/ ▷ adj, pathol said of a fever, etc: flaring up every fourth day. ⓘ 16c: from Latin febris quintana a fever that occurs every fifth day (the day of the last flare-up being included).

quinte /kant, kɛ̃t/ ▷ noun, fencing the fifth of the eight parrying or attacking positions that fencers are taught. ⓘ 18c: French, from Latin quintus fifth.

quintessence /kwɪnˈtɛsəns/ ▷ noun 1 (usually quintessence of something) a perfect example or embodiment of it. 2 the fundamental essential nature of something. 3 old use the purest, most concentrated extract of a substance. 4 in ancient and medieval philosophy: the fifth essence, after the four elements of fire, water, air and earth, which was believed to be present in all things and to be the major constituent of heavenly bodies. • quintessential /kwɪntɪˈsɛnʃəl/ adj. • quintessentially adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin quinta essentia fifth essence.

quintet or quintette /kwɪnˈtɛt/ ▷ noun 1 a group of five singers or musicians. 2 a piece of music for five such performers. 3 any group or set of five. ⓘ 19c: from French quintette, from Latin quinto fifth.

quintillion /kwɪnˈtɪljən/ ▷ noun (quintillion or quintillions) 1 in Britain: a number that is represented by a figure 1 followed by 30 zeros, ie 10^{30}. N Amer equivalent NONILLION. 2 in N America and France: a number that is represented by a figure 1 followed by 18 zeros, ie 10^{18}. • quintillionth adj. ⓘ 17c: French, from Latin quintus fifth + million.

quintuple /ˈkwɪntjʊpəl/ ▷ adj 1 five times as great, much or many. 2 made up of five parts or things. 3 music said of time: having five beats to the bar. ▷ verb (quintupled, quintupling) tr & intr to make or become five times as great, much or many. ▷ noun 1 an amount that is five times greater than the original or usual, etc amount. 2 a group or series of four. • quintuply adverb. ⓘ 16c: French, from Latin quintus fifth, modelled on QUADRUPLE.

quintuplet /ˈkwɪntjʊplət/ ▷ noun 1 one of five children or animals born to the same mother at the same time. Often shortened to quin or (US) quint. 2 a group of five similar things. 3 a group of five notes to be played in the time of four. ⊙ 18c: from QUINTUPLE, modelled on TRIPLET.

quintuplicate ▷ adj /kwɪnˈtjuːplɪkət/ 1 having five parts which are exactly alike. 2 being one of five identical copies. 3 quintupled. ▷ noun any of five identical copies or five parts which are exactly alike. ▷ verb /-plɪkeɪt/ (quintuplicated, quintuplicating) to make something quintuple or fivefold. • quintuplication noun. • in quintuplicate copied five times. ⊙ 17c: from Latin quintuplicare to multiply by five.

quip /kwɪp/ ▷ noun 1 a witty saying. 2 a sarcastic or wounding remark. ▷ verb (quipped, quipping) 1 intr to make a quip or quips. 2 to answer someone with a quip. • quippish adj. • quipster noun. ⊙ 16c: from the earlier English quippy a quip, from Latin quippe indeed, which had sarcastic overtones.

quire /ˈkwaɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a measure for paper that is equivalent to 25 (formerly 24) sheets and one-twentieth of a REAM. 2 a a set of four sheets of parchment or paper folded in half together to form eight leaves; b loosely any set of folded sheets that is grouped together with other similar ones and bound into book form. • in quires not bound together; in sheets. ⊙ 15c: from French quaier, from Latin quaterni a set of four.

quirk /kwɜːk/ ▷ noun 1 an odd habit, mannerism or aspect of personality, etc. 2 an odd twist in affairs or turn of events; a strange coincidence. 3 archit a sharp-angled groove or hollow in a moulding. • quirkish adj. • quirkiness noun. ⊙ 16c.

quirky ▷ adj (quirkier, quirkiest) having quirks; odd; tricky.

quirt /kwɜːt/ ▷ noun a short-handled riding whip with a braided leather lash, about 61cm (2ft) long. ▷ verb (quirted, quirting) to strike (the flank of a horse) with a quirt. ⊙ 19c: from Spanish cuerda a cord.

quisling /ˈkwɪzlɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 a traitor. 2 someone who collaborates with an enemy. ⊙ 1940s: named after the Norwegian officer and diplomatist, Major Vidkun Quisling (1887–1945), who was a known collaborator with the Germans during their occupation of his country.

quit /kwɪt/ ▷ verb (quitted or quit, quitting) 1 to leave or depart from (a place, etc). 2 tr & intr to leave, give up or resign (a job). 3 to exit (a computer program, application or game, etc). 4 N Amer, especially US, colloq to cease something or doing something. 5 tr & intr said of a tenant: to move out of rented premises. 6 formal to behave, especially in a specified manner □ quit herself well. ▷ adj (usually quit of something) free or rid of it. ⊙ 13c: from French quiter, from Latin quietare to make quiet.

quitch /kwɪtʃ/ ▷ noun (in full quitch grass; plural quitches) another name for COUCH². ⊙ Anglo-Saxon cwice.

quite /kwaɪt/ ▷ adverb 1 completely; entirely □ I quite understand □ It's not quite clear what happened. 2 to a high degree □ quite exceptional. 3 rather; fairly; to some or a limited degree □ quite a nice day □ quite enjoyed it. 4 (also quite so) used in a reply: I agree, see your point, etc. • not quite hardly; just short of or less than a specified thing. • quite a or an … a striking, impressive, daunting, challenging, etc … □ That was quite a night. • quite a few colloq a reasonably large number of (people or things, etc) □ quite a few people brought their kids. • quite another matter or thing, etc very different. • quite some … a considerably large amount of … □ I might be quite some time. • quite something very impressive □ His flat is quite something. ⊙ 14c: from (adj) QUIT.

quits ▷ adj, colloq 1 on an equal footing. 2 even, especially where money is concerned. • call it quits 1 to agree to stop quarrelling or arguing, etc and accept that the outcome is even. 2 to agree that a situation, etc is even □ Just give me a fiver and we'll call it quits. • double or quits see under DOUBLE. ⊙ 15c.

quittance /ˈkwɪtəns/ ▷ noun 1 release from debt or other obligation. 2 a document that acknowledges this.

quitter ▷ noun, colloq 1 someone who gives up too easily. 2 a shirker.

quiver¹ /ˈkwɪvə(r)/ ▷ verb (quivered, quivering) 1 (often quiver with something) intr to shake or tremble slightly because of it; to shiver □ Her voice quivered with fear. 2 intr to shake or flutter □ The snowdrops quivered in the wind. 4 said of a bird: to make (its wings) vibrate rapidly. ▷ noun a tremble or shiver. • quivering adj, noun. • quiveringly adverb. • quivery adj. ⊙ 15c.

quiver² /ˈkwɪvə(r)/ ▷ noun a long narrow case that is used for carrying arrows. ⊙ 13c: from French cuivre.

qui vive /French ki viv/ ▷ noun (usually be on the qui vive) alert; ready for action. ⊙ 18c: French, meaning '(long) live who?', a challenge that a sentry, etc would issue to someone who wanted to pass in order to ascertain where their loyalties lay.

quixotic /kwɪkˈsɒtɪk/ ▷ adj 1 absurdly generous or chivalrous. 2 naively romantic, idealistic or impractical, etc. • quixotically adverb. • quixotism noun. • quixotry noun. ⊙ 19c: from Spanish quijote thigh armour, and named after the hero of Don Quixote de la Mancha (1605) a romantic novel by the Spanish writer Cervantes.

quiz /kwɪz/ ▷ noun (quizzes) 1 (also quiz show) an entertainment, eg on radio or TV, in which the knowledge of a panel of contestants is tested through a series of questions. 2 any series of questions as a test of general or specialized knowledge. 3 an interrogation. ▷ verb (quizzes, quizzed, quizzing) to question or interrogate someone. • quizzer noun. ⊙ 18c.

quizmaster ▷ noun someone who asks the questions and keeps the score, etc in a quiz show. ⊙ 1940s.

quizzical /ˈkwɪzɪkəl/ ▷ adj said of a look or expression, etc: mildly amused or perplexed; mocking; questioning. • quizzicality noun. • quizzically adverb. ⊙ 19c.

quod /kwɒd/ Brit, slang ▷ noun prison. ▷ verb (quodded, quodding) to imprison someone. ⊙ 18c.

quod erat demonstrandum see under QED quodlibet /ˈkwɒdlɪbet/ ▷ noun 1 in philosophy or theology: a question or argument that is put forward for discussion or debate. 2 an informal or light-hearted musical medley of several well-known tunes. ⊙ 14c: from Latin quod what + libet it pleases.

quoin /kɔɪn, kwɔɪn/ ▷ noun 1 the external angle of a wall or building. 2 a cornerstone. 3 a a wedge or wedge-shaped block used for various purposes, eg to stop barrels rolling on board ships or to raise or lower a gun; b printing a wedge used for locking type into a forme. ▷ verb (quoined, quoining) to secure or raise something with a wedge. ⊙ 16c: from French coin, from Latin cuneus a wedge.

quoit /kɔɪt, kwɔɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a ring made of metal, rubber or rope used in the game of quoits. 2 (quoits) a game that involves throwing these rings at pegs with the aim of encircling them or landing close to them. See also DECK QUOITS. ▷ verb (quoited, quoiting) 1 to throw something in a similar way to throwing a quoit. 2 intr to play quoits. • quoiter noun. ⊙ 15c.

quokka /ˈkwɒkə/ ▷ noun (quokkas) a small short-tailed wallaby that is found in SW Australia. ⊙ 19c: from Nyungar (an Aboriginal language) kwaka.

Quonset hut /ˈkwɒnsɪt —/ ▷ noun, US trademark a temporary semicircular prefabricated metal shelter for housing military personnel. Compare NISSEN HUT. ⊙ 1940s: named after Quonset Point, Rhode Island where the first huts were made.

quorate /ˈkwɔːreɪt/ ▷ adj, Brit said of a meeting, etc: attended by or consisting of enough people to form a quorum.

Quorn /ˈkwɔːrn/ ▷ noun, trademark a fibrous vegetable protein made from microscopic plant filaments and used as a low-calorie cholesterol-free meat substitute in cooking. ⓘ 1980s: named after Quorn, a village in Leicestershire (now called Quorndon) which formed part of the original manufacturer's tradename.

quorum /ˈkwɔːrəm/ ▷ noun the fixed minimum number of members of an organization or society, etc who must be present at a meeting for its business to be valid. ⓘ 17c: Latin, meaning 'of whom', part of the conventional formula used in certain Latin commissions.

quot. ▷ abbreviation quotation.

quota /ˈkwoʊtə/ ▷ noun (quotas) 1 the proportional or allocated share or part that is, or that should be, done, paid or contributed, etc out of a total amount, sum, etc. 2 the maximum or prescribed number or quantity that is permitted or required, eg of imported goods or students in an college intake, etc. ⓘ 17c: Latin, from quota pars how big a share?

quotable ▷ adj worthy of or suitable for quoting. • quotability noun.

quotation /kwoʊˈteɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a remark or a piece of writing, etc that is quoted. 2 the act or an instance of quoting. 3 business an estimated price for a job submitted by a contractor to a client. 4 stock exchange an amount that is stated as the current price of a commodity, stock or security, etc. 5 music a short extract from one piece that is put into another. ⓘ 15c.

quotation mark ▷ noun each of a pair of punctuation marks which can be either single (' ') or double (" "). They are conventionally used to mark the beginning and end of a quoted passage or to indicate the title of an essay, article or song, etc, or put on either side of a word or phrase to draw the reader's attention to it, eg because it is colloquial, slang, jargon or a new coinage. Also called inverted comma.

quote /kwoʊt/ ▷ verb (quoted, quoting) tr & intr 1 to cite or offer (someone else or the words or ideas, etc of someone else) to substantiate an argument. 2 to repeat in writing or speech (the exact words, etc of someone else). 3 to cite or repeat (figures or data, etc). 4 tr & intr said of a contractor: to submit or suggest (a price) for doing a specified job or for buying something ▫ quoted her £800 as a trade-in. 5 stock exchange to state the price of (a security, commodity or stock, etc). 6 (usually quote something at something) to give (a racehorse) betting odds as specified ▫ Desert Orchid is quoted at 2/1. 7 a to put quotation marks around (a written passage, word or title, etc); b (also quote ... unquote) to indicate (in speech) that a specified part has been said by someone else ▫ The report says, quote, "The failure was deliberate but non-duplicitous," unquote. 8 (usually quote something as something) to cite or offer it as (an example, model or standard, etc). 9 to refer to (a law, etc) as authority or support. ▷ noun 1 a quotation. 2 a price quoted. 3 (quotes) quotation marks. ⓘ 14c: from Latin quotare to give passages reference numbers, from quot how many?

quoth /kwoʊθ/ ▷ verb, old use said ▫ "Alas!" quoth he. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cwæth, the past tense of cwethan to say.

quotidian /kwoʊˈtɪdɪən/ ▷ adj 1 everyday; commonplace. 2 daily. 3 recurring daily. ▷ noun (in full quotidian fever) a fever that flares up every day. ⓘ 14c: from Latin quotidianus, from quotidie daily.

quotient /ˈkwoʊʃənt/ ▷ noun, math 1 the result of a division sum, eg when 72 (the DIVIDEND) is divided by 12 (the DIVISOR), the quotient is 6, or when 80 is divided by 12, the quotient is still 6 with a REMAINDER (noun 2) of 8. 2 the number of times one number is contained within another. 3 a ratio of two numbers or quantities to be divided. See also INTELLIGENCE QUOTIENT. ⓘ 15c: from Latin quotiens how often?

Qur'an or Quran see KORAN.

qv or q.v. ▷ abbreviation (plural qqv) quod vide (Latin), which see.

qwerty or QWERTY /ˈkwɜːtɪ/ ▷ adj said of an English-language typewriter, word processor or other keyboard: having the standard arrangement of keys, ie with the letters q w e r t y appearing in that order at the top left of the letters section. ⓘ 1920s.

qy ▷ abbreviation query.

quotation marks or inverted commas

• There are two types of quotation marks: single '...' and double "...". Both are correct, but British English tends to favour single quotation marks, American English double.

• Quotation marks enclose direct speech ▫ 'Do come in,' he said. ▫ She asked him timidly, 'Will you be coming, too?' ▫ 'Why not?' said Florence. ▫ 'Help!' he shouted. ▫ He said to her firmly: 'You must help him.'

Note, in the first two examples above, that the comma separating quoted material from the rest of the sentence goes inside the quotation marks when the quoted material comes first, and outside when what is quoted comes second. Note also, in the remaining examples, that all other punctuation goes inside the marks if it belongs to the quoted material, and outside if it belongs to the rest of the sentence.

Note that, where the end of a passage of quoted material coincides with the end of the whole sentence, usually only the punctuation inside the quotation is given ▫ I think he said, 'I'll be there at five o'clock.' ▫ Why did you say 'Who's there?'

• Quotation marks enclose a short quotation ▫ Shakespeare once said that 'all the world's a stage'.

Longer quotations are normally separated off more markedly from the rest of the text, for example by being given their own indented paragraph.

• Quotation marks enclose a word or phrase that the writer wishes to highlight ▫ They spoke a very archaic kind of English, full of 'thee's and 'thou's. ▫ The table was what we in Scotland call 'shoogly'. ▫ What does 'an accessary after the fact' mean?

Note that both single and double quotation marks are needed when a quoted passage itself contains quoted material ▫ 'Next week we shall examine the "stream of consciousness" technique in greater detail,' announced the tutor.

R

R[1] or r /ɑː(r)/ ▷ noun (Rs, R's or r's) the eighteenth letter of the English alphabet. See also THE THREE R'S.

> Linking r and intrusive r
>
> In some accents of English, a written r is not pronounced before another consonant or at the end of a word, so that cord is pronounced /kɔːd/, and bar /bɑː/. In other accents, such as Scottish English, such r's are pronounced. Accents of English can thus be divided between those that are r-pronouncing and those that are non-r-pronouncing.
>
> However, even in non-r-pronouncing accents, an r at the end of a word is pronounced when the word that follows begins with a vowel, so that far away is pronounced /fɑːrə'weɪ/. This is known as a linking r. It is signalled in the dictionary phonetics by (r), eg at RADAR.
>
> In some accents, however, speakers go further than this and pronounce an r in such cases even where there is no r in the written word, as in the infamous phrase law and order, which then becomes /lɔːrənd'ɔːdə/. This is known as an intrusive r and, although often condemned, is simply another characteristic of the speech habits of sections of the English-speaking community.

R[2] or R. ▷ abbreviation 1 rand. 2 Réaumur (scale). 3 physics, electronics resistance. 4 a Regina (Latin), Queen; b Rex (Latin), King. 5 River. 6 Röntgen. 7 rupee.

r or r. ▷ abbreviation 1 radius. 2 right.

RA ▷ abbreviation 1 Rear Admiral. 2 IVR Republic of Argentina. 3 a Royal Academician; b Royal Academy. 4 Royal Artillery.

Ra ▷ symbol, chem radium.

RAAF ▷ abbreviation Royal Australian Air Force.

rabbet /'rabɪt/ ▷ noun a groove cut along the edge of a piece of wood, etc, usually to join with a tongue or projection in a matching piece. ▷ verb (rabbeted, rabbeting) 1 to cut a rabbet in something. 2 to join (eg two pieces of wood) with a rabbet. ◷ 15c: from French rabattre to beat down.

rabbi (with capital when prefixed or when used as a title, as in Chief Rabbi) /'rabaɪ/ ▷ noun (rabbis) 1 a Jewish religious leader. 2 a Jewish scholar or teacher of the law. • rabbinical /rə'bɪnɪkəl/ adj relating to the rabbis or to their opinions, learning or language. • rabbinically adverb. ◷ 13c: Hebrew, meaning 'my master'.

rabbinate /'rabɪnət/ ▷ noun 1 the post or tenure of office of a rabbi. 2 a body or gathering of rabbis. ◷ 18c.

rabbinic /rə'bɪnɪk/ ▷ adj rabbinical. ▷ noun (Rabbinic) the later Hebrew language.

rabbit /'rabɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a a small burrowing herbivorous mammal belonging to the same family as the hare; b its flesh as food; c its fur, especially as used in clothing. 2 Brit colloq a poor performer in any sport or game. 3 a timid person. ▷ verb (rabbited, rabbiting) intr 1 to hunt rabbits. 2 (usually rabbit on or away) derog colloq to talk at great length, often in a rambling way; to chatter inconsequentially. 20c: originally rhyming slang rabbit and pork talk. • rabbiter noun a person or animal that hunts rabbits. • rabbity adj. ◷ 14c: as rabet, perhaps from French.

rabbit punch ▷ noun a sharp blow on the back of the neck.

rabbitry ▷ noun (rabbitries) a place where rabbits are kept.

rabbit warren ▷ noun a system of burrows in which wild rabbits live.

rabble[1] /'rabəl/ ▷ noun 1 a noisy disorderly crowd or mob. 2 (the rabble) contemptuous the lowest class of people. ◷ 16c in this sense; 14c in obsolete sense 'a pack of animals'.

rabble[2] /'rabəl/ metallurgy ▷ noun a device for stirring molten iron, etc in a furnace. ▷ verb (rabbled, rabbling) to stir with a rabble. • rabbler noun. ◷ 19c in this sense; 17c in obsolete sense 'a shovel used by charcoal-burners': from French râble, from Latin rutabulum a poker.

rabble-rouser ▷ noun someone who makes speeches, especially calling for social or political change, which are meant to arouse feelings of anger and violence in those listening. • rabble-rousing adj, noun the language and tactics of a rabble-rouser. ◷ 18c.

Rabelaisian /rabə'leɪzɪən/ ▷ noun a follower, admirer or student the French satirical writer of François Rabelais (c.1494–1553). ▷ adj a relating to, or characteristic of the works of Rabelais, especially in being satirical and coarsely humorous; b coarsely indecent; bawdy. • Rabelaisianism noun. ◷ 19c.

rabi /'rabiː/ ▷ noun in India, Pakistan, etc: the spring grain harvest. ◷ 19c: Arabic, meaning 'spring'.

rabid /'rabɪd, 'reɪ-/ ▷ adj 1 said of dogs, etc: suffering from rabies. 2 a fanatical; unreasoning; b raging. • rabidity /rə'bɪdɪtɪ/ or rabidness noun. • rabidly adverb. ◷ 17c: from Latin rabidus, from rabere to be mad.

rabies /'reɪbiːz, 'reɪbɪz/ ▷ noun a viral disease of the central nervous system, usually fatal and transmitted in saliva from the bite of an infected animal, which causes convulsions, paralysis and fear of water. Also called HYDROPHOBIA. ◷ 16c: Latin, from rabere to be mad.

RAC ▷ abbreviation 1 Royal Armoured Corps. 2 Royal Automobile Club.

raccoon or racoon /rə'kuːn/ ▷ noun (raccoons or raccoon) 1 a smallish solitary nocturnal mammal, found in N and C America, which has dense greyish fur, characteristic black patches around the eyes and black rings on the tail. 2 its fur. ◷ 17c: from Algonquian arougheun.

race[1] /reɪs/ ▷ noun 1 a contest of speed between runners, horses, cars, etc. 2 (usually the races) a series of such contests over a fixed course, especially for horses or dogs □ a day at the races. 3 any contest or rivalry, especially to be the first to do or get something □ the arms race. 4 a fixed course, track or path over which anything runs. 5 a strong or rapid current of water in the sea or a river. 6 a channel conveying water to and from a mill wheel. 7 a groove in which something, eg a ball-bearing, moves or slides. 8 a regular traverse of a fixed course, eg of the sun. ▷ verb (raced, racing) 1 intr to take part in a race. 2 to have a race with someone. 3 to cause (a horse, car, etc) to race. 4 intr (usually race about or along or around) to run or move quickly and energetically. 5 intr said of eg an engine or a propeller: to run wildly fast when resistance is removed. 6 tr & intr to move or make something move more quickly than usual. 7 intr to own racehorses, or watch horse-racing as a hobby. • racer see separate entry. • racing noun the sport or practice of using animals (especially horses or dogs) or vehicles in contests of speed. Also as adj □ racing car □ racing pigeon. ⓘ 13c: from Norse ras.

race² /reɪs/ ▷ noun 1 any of the major divisions of humankind distinguished by a particular set of physical characteristics, such as size, hair type or skin colour. 2 a tribe, nation or similar group of people thought of as distinct from others. 3 (the human race) human beings as a group. 4 a group of animals or plants within a species, which have characteristics distinguishing them from other members of that species. 5 said of wine: the special flavour by which its origin may be recognized. ⓘ 16c: French, from Italian razza.

racecard ▷ noun a programme or list of all the competitors and races at a race meeting.

racecourse and racetrack ▷ noun a course or track used for racing horses, cars, bicycles, runners, etc.

racegoer ▷ noun someone who attends race meetings, especially regularly. • racegoing noun.

race hatred ▷ noun animosity arising from difference of race.

racehorse ▷ noun a horse bred and used for racing.

racemate /ˈrasɪmeɪt/ ▷ noun a racemic mixture. • racemation /rasɪˈmeɪʃən/ noun 1 a residue. 2 a cluster or bunch of grapes or of anything else.

raceme /rəˈsiːm, ˈreɪs-, ˈra-/ ▷ noun, bot 1 a flower-head consisting of individual flowers attached to a main unbranched stem by means of short stalks, the youngest flowers being at the tip of the stem and the oldest ones near its base, eg bluebell, lupin. 2 a similar formation of spore cases. • racemed adj consisting of, or having, racemes. ⓘ 18c: from Latin racemus bunch of grapes.

race meeting ▷ noun a series of races, especially horse races, taking place over the same course and on the same day or over a period of consecutive days.

racemic /rəˈsiːmɪk, rəˈsemɪk, reɪ-/ ▷ adj, chem applied to an acid obtained from a certain kind of grape: an optically inactive form of tartaric acid.

racemize or racemise /ˈrasɪmaɪz/ ▷ verb (racemized, racemizing) chem to change into a racemic form. • racemism noun the quality of being racemic. • racemization noun.

racemose /ˈrasɪmoʊs/ ▷ adj 1 like a raceme or racemes. 2 having racemes. 3 like a bunch of grapes.

racer ▷ noun 1 a person, animal or thing that races or is raced. 2 any of several non-venomous N American snakes.

race relations ▷ plural noun social relations between people of different races living in the same community or country.

race riot ▷ noun a riot caused either by hostility between people of different races, or by alleged discrimination against people of a particular race.

racetrack see RACECOURSE raceway ▷ noun, chiefly US 1 a mill race. 2 a channel or groove for directing or controlling movement. 3 a racetrack.

rachi- /reɪkɪ, rəˈkaɪ/ ▷ combining form, signifying relating or referring to a rachis.

rachis or rhachis /ˈreɪkɪs/ ▷ noun (rachises or rachides /-dɪːz/) 1 the spine. 2 bot the main axis of a compound leaf or a flower-head. 3 zool the main axis or shaft of a feather. ⓘ 18c: Latin, from Greek rhachis spine, ridge, etc.

rachischisis /rəˈkɪskɪsɪs/ ▷ noun, medicine a severe form of spina bifida. ⓘ 19c: from RACHI- + Greek schisis cleavage, division.

rachitis /rəˈkaɪtɪs/ ▷ noun, medicine RICKETS. • rachitic /rəˈkɪtɪk/ adj. ⓘ 18c: from Greek rhachitis inflammation of the spine, but adopted in 17c as the learned form of rickets.

Rachmanism /ˈrakmənɪzəm/ ▷ noun exploitation or extortion by a landlord of tenants living in slum conditions. • Rachmanite adj. ⓘ 20c: named after a British property owner, exposed for such conduct in 1963.

racial /ˈreɪʃəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating to a particular race. 2 based on race. • racialism racism. • racialist noun, adj. • racially adverb.

> racialism, racism
>
> There is no difference in meaning between racism and racialism, although racism is now the more common form.

racier, raciest, racily and raciness see under RACY racing see under RACE¹

racism /ˈreɪsɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 hatred, rivalry or bad feeling between races. 2 belief in the inherent superiority of a particular race or races over others, usually with the implication of a right to be dominant. 3 discriminatory treatment based on such a belief. • racist noun, adj. ⓘ 16c.

rack¹ ▷ noun 1 a framework with rails, shelves, hooks, etc for holding or storing things. 2 a framework for holding hay, etc from which livestock can feed. 3 a bar with teeth which connect with the teeth on a cogwheel or pinion to change the position of something, or to convert linear motion into rotary motion, or vice versa. 4 a (the rack) historical a device for torturing people by stretching their bodies; b a device for stretching things. 5 something that causes extreme pain, anxiety or doubt. ▷ verb (racked, racking) 1 to put something in a rack. 2 to move or adjust by rack and pinion. 3 historical to torture someone on a rack. 4 to stretch or move forcibly or excessively. 5 to cause pain or suffering to someone or something. • racked or (and usually regarded as an error) wracked adj tortured; tormented; distressed □ be racked with guilt. Also in compounds □ disease-racked. • on the rack 1 extremely anxious or distressed. 2 said of skill, etc: stretched to its limits. • rack one's brains to think as hard as one can, especially in order to remember something. ⓘ 14c: from Dutch rec shelf, framework.

rack² ▷ noun destruction. • go to rack and ruin to get into a state of neglect and decay □ The garden is going to rack and ruin. ⓘ 16c: variant of WRACK.

rack³ ▷ verb (racked, racking) (also rack something off) to draw off (wine or beer) from its sediment. ⓘ 15c: from Provençal raca dregs.

rack⁴ ▷ noun a joint of meat, especially of lamb, that includes the neck and front ribs. ⓘ 16c.

rack⁵ ▷ noun a horse's gait in which the legs on either side in turn move nearly together. ▷ verb (racked, racking) to move with such a gait. • racker noun. ⓘ 16c.

rack and pinion ▷ noun a means of turning rotary motion into linear or linear motion into rotary by means of a toothed wheel engaging in a rack.

racket¹ or racquet /ˈrakɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a bat with a handle ending in a roughly oval head, made of a frame of wood, metal or other material, with a network of strings (originally catgut, now usually a synthetic material), used for playing tennis, badminton, squash, etc. 2 a snow-shoe of similar shape. ⓘ 16c: from French raquette from Arabic rahat palm of the hand.

racket² /ˈrakɪt/ ▷ noun 1 colloq a loud confused noise or disturbance; a din. 2 a fraudulent or illegal means of making money. 3 slang a job or occupation. • racketer noun. • rackety adj. • stand the racket 1 to endure the strain or noise. 2 to pay expenses, or the penalties of a deed. ⓘ 16c: probably imitating a clattering noise.

racketeer /rakə'tɪə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who makes money in some illegal way, often by threats of violence. ▷ verb (racketeered, racketeering) intr to make money as a racketeer. ● racketeering noun. ⓒ 1920s.

racket-press ▷ noun a device for keeping the strings of a racket taut when it is not being used.

rackets ▷ singular noun a simplified derivative of the old game of REAL TENNIS, similar to squash, played by two or four players in a court with four walls.

racket-tail ▷ noun, ornithol 1 a tail feather shaped like a racket. 2 a S American humming-bird with two long racket-shaped tail feathers. ● racket-tailed adj.

rack rail ▷ noun a cogged rail, as on a RACK AND PINION railway.

rack railway ▷ noun a mountain railway with a toothed rack which engages with a cogged wheel on the locomotive.

rack-rent ▷ noun an excessive or unreasonably high rent. ▷ verb to charge (tenants) such rents. ● rack-renter noun.

raclette /ra'klet/ ▷ noun a dish of melted cheese and jacket potatoes, originally from the Valais region of Switzerland. ⓒ 20c: French, meaning 'a small scraper', the dish being served by scraping the melted cheese onto a plate using such an implement.

racon /'reɪkɒn/ ▷ noun, originally US a RADAR BEACON. ⓒ 1940s: from radar + beacon.

raconteur /rakɒn'tɜː(r)/ ▷ noun someone who tells anecdotes in an amusing or entertaining way. ● raconteuring noun. ● raconteuse /-'tɜːz/ noun. ⓒ 19c: French, from raconter to relate or tell.

racoon see RACCOON.

racquet see RACKET[1].

racquetball ▷ noun, originally & chiefly N Amer a game played by two or four players in a walled court using a small rubber ball and short-handled rackets.

racy /'reɪsɪ/ ▷ adj (racier, raciest) 1 said of writing, a way of life, etc: a lively or spirited; b slightly indecent; risqué. 2 said of wine: with a distinctive flavour imparted by the soil. ● racily adverb. ● raciness noun.

rad[1] (sometimes Rad) ▷ noun, politics short for RADICAL. ▷ adj, originally & especially N Amer slang a shortened form of RADICAL adj 9.

rad[2] ▷ noun (rad or rads) physics the unit formerly used to measure the amount of ionizing radiation absorbed, equal to 0.01 joule per kilogram of absorbing material, equivalent to 0.01 gray. ⓒ 1950s: from radiation absorbed dose.

rad[3] ▷ abbreviation radian.

rad. ▷ abbreviation radix.

RADA /'rɑːdə/ ▷ abbreviation Royal Academy of Dramatic Art.

radar /'reɪdɑː(r)/ ▷ noun, originally US 1 a system for detecting the presence of distant objects, or determining one's own position, by transmitting short pulses of high-frequency radio waves from a rotating aerial, and detecting the signals reflected back from the surface of any object in their path. 2 the equipment for sending out and receiving such radio waves. ⓒ 1940s: from radio detecting and ranging.

radar astronomy ▷ noun, astron the use of pulsed radio signals to measure the distances and map the surfaces of objects in the solar system, and to determine their speed of rotation.

radar beacon ▷ noun a fixed radio transmitter whose signals enable an aircraft, by means of its radar equipment, to determine its position and direction.

radar gun ▷ noun a gun-like device used by the police which, when pointed at a moving vehicle and 'fired', records (by means of radar) the vehicle's speed.

radarscope ▷ noun a cathode-ray oscilloscope on which radar signals can be seen.

radar trap ▷ noun a device using radar which allows the police to detect vehicles travelling faster than the speed limit (see also SPEED TRAP).

RADC ▷ abbreviation Royal Army Dental Corps.

raddle /'radəl/ ▷ noun red ochre; ruddle. ▷ verb (raddled, raddling) 1 to colour or mark with red ochre. 2 to rouge coarsely. ● raddled adj said of a person or a person's face: worn out and haggard-looking through debauchery. ⓒ 16c: a variant of RUDDLE.

radial /'reɪdɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 said of lines: spreading out from the centre of a circle, like rays. 2 relating to rays, a radius or radii. 3 along or in the direction of a radius or radii. 4 anatomy relating to the RADIUS. ▷ noun 1 a radiating part. 2 short for RADIAL-PLY TYRE. 3 anatomy a radial artery or nerve. ● radially adverb. ⓒ 16c: from Latin radialis, from radius.

radial engine ▷ noun an engine which has its cylinders arranged radially, as opposed to in a line. Compare ROTARY ENGINE.

radial-ply tyre ▷ noun a tyre which has fabric cords laid at a right angle to the centre of the tread, allowing the walls to be flexible. See also CROSS-PLY.

radial symmetry ▷ noun the arrangement of parts in an object or living organism (eg in a jellyfish, or the stems and roots of a plant) such that a line drawn through its centre in any direction produces two halves that are mirror images of each other.

radial velocity ▷ noun, astron the velocity, along the observer's line of sight, of a star or other body.

radian /'reɪdɪən/ ▷ noun, geom (abbreviation rad) the SI unit of plane angular measurement, approximately 57°, defined as the angle that is made at the centre of a circle by an arc (a segment of the circumference) whose length is equal to the radius of the circle. ⓒ 19c: from RADIUS.

radiant /'reɪdɪənt/ ▷ adj 1 emitting electromagnetic radiation, eg rays of light or heat. 2 glowing or shining. 3 said of a person: beaming with joy, love, hope or health. 4 transmitted by or as radiation. ▷ noun 1 a point or object which emits electromagnetic radiation, eg light or heat. 2 astron the point in the sky from which meteors appear to radiate outward during a meteor shower. ● radiance or radiancy noun 1 the state of being radiant. 2 a measure of the amount of electromagnetic radiation being transmitted from or to a point on a surface. ● radiantly adverb. ⓒ 15c: Latin, from radiare to radiate, emit rays.

radiant energy ▷ noun energy given out as electromagnetic radiation.

radiant heat ▷ noun heat transmitted by electromagnetic radiation.

radiate /'reɪdɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (radiated, radiating) 1 to send out rays (of light, heat, electromagnetic radiation, etc). 2 intr said of light, heat, radiation, etc: to be emitted in rays. 3 said of a person: to manifestly exhibit (happiness, good health, etc) ▫ radiate vitality. 4 tr & intr to spread or cause something to spread out from a central point as radii. ▷ adj having rays, radii or a radial structure. ⓒ 17c: from Latin radiare, radiatum to shine, emit rays.

radiation /reɪdɪ'eɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 energy (usually electromagnetic radiation, eg radio waves, microwaves, infrared, visible light, ultraviolet, X-rays) that is emitted from a source and travels in the form of waves or particles (photons) through a medium, eg air or a vacuum. 2 a stream of particles, eg alpha particles, beta particles, electrons, neutrons, etc, emitted by a radioactive substance. 3 the act or process of radiating.

radiation sickness ▷ noun illness caused by exposure to high levels of radiation, eg nuclear fallout, or to relatively low levels over a long period, and marked by symptoms such as diarrhoea, vomiting, loss of hair, internal bleeding, reduction in fertility, and a significantly increased risk of cancer, leukaemia, birth defects, etc. ⓘ 1920s.

radiator /'reɪdieɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 an apparatus for heating, consisting of a series of pipes through which hot water or hot oil is circulated. 2 an apparatus for heating in which wires are made hot by electricity. 3 an apparatus for cooling an internal combustion engine, eg in a car, consisting of a series of tubes which water passes through, and a fan.

radical /'radɪkəl/ ▷ adj 1 concerning or relating to the basic nature or root of something; fundamental; intrinsic. 2 far-reaching; thoroughgoing □ radical changes. 3 in favour of or tending to produce thoroughgoing or extreme political and social reforms. 4 relating to a political group or party in favour of extreme reforms. 5 medicine said of treatment: with the purpose of removing the source of a disease □ radical surgery. 6 bot from or relating to the root of a plant. 7 math relating to the root of a number. 8 linguistics relating to the roots of words. 9 slang fine, excellent; radically and admirably up to date. Often shortened to rad (see RAD1 adj). ▷ noun 1 a root or basis in any sense. 2 someone who is a member of a radical political group, or who holds radical political views. 3 chem within a molecule: a group of atoms which remains unchanged during a series of chemical reactions, but is normally incapable of independent existence □ free radical. 4 math the root of a number, usually denoted by the radical sign (√). 5 linguistics the root of a word. • radicalism noun 1 the beliefs and opinions of radicals, especially a set of ideas which advocates more substantial social and political change than is supported by the political mainstream. 2 extreme thoroughness. • radically adverb. • radicalness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin radicalis, from radix root.

radicalize or radicalise ▷ verb (radicalized, radicalizing) to make or become radical. • radicalization or radicalisation noun.

radical sign ▷ noun the sign √, denoting a SQUARE ROOT.

radicchio /ra'diːkɪoʊ/ ▷ noun (radicchios) a purple-leaved variety of chicory from Italy, used raw in salads. ⓘ 20c: Italian, meaning 'chicory'.

radices plural of RADIX radicle /'radɪkəl/ ▷ noun 1 bot a the part of a plant embryo which develops into the root; b a little root. 2 anatomy the root-like origin of a vein or nerve. ⓘ 18c: from Latin radicula small root, from radix root.

radii plural of RADIUS

radio /'reɪdɪoʊ/ ▷ noun (radios) 1 the use of RADIO WAVES to transmit and receive information such as television or radio programmes, telecommunications, and computer data, without connecting wires. 2 a wireless device that receives, and may also transmit, information in this manner. 3 a message or broadcast that is transmitted in this manner. 4 the business or profession of sound broadcasting □ to work in radio. ▷ adj 1 relating to radio. 2 for transmitting by, or transmitted by radio. 2 controlled by radio. ▷ verb (radios, radioed, radioing) 1 to send (a message) to someone by radio. 2 intr to broadcast or communicate by radio. ⓘ Early 20c: from Latin radius spoke, ray.

radio- /reɪdɪoʊ, reɪdɪɒ/ ▷ combining form, denoting 1 radio or broadcasting. 2 radioactivity. 3 rays or radiation.

radioactive /reɪdɪoʊ'aktɪv/ ▷ adj relating to or affected by RADIOACTIVITY.

radioactive decay ▷ noun, physics the spontaneous decay of the nucleus of an atom, which results in the emission of alpha particles, beta particles or gamma rays.

radioactive tracer ▷ noun, biochem a radioactive isotope of a chemical element that is deliberately substituted for one of the atoms in a chemical compound in order to 'tag' it, thus enabling the path of a particular atom to be followed through a whole series of reactions.

radioactive waste see under NUCLEAR WASTE radioactivity /reɪdɪoʊak'tɪvɪtɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the spontaneous disintegration (measured in units called BECQUERELS) of the nuclei of certain atoms, accompanied by the emission of alpha particles, beta particles or gamma rays. 2 the subatomic particles or radiation emitted during this process.

radio altimeter see ALTIMETER radio astronomy ▷ noun 1 astronomical study by means of radar. 2 the study of the radio waves emitted or reflected in space.

radio beacon ▷ noun an apparatus that transmits signals for direction-finding.

radiobiology ▷ noun, biol the branch of biology concerned with the study of the effect of radiation and radioactive materials on living matter.

radiocarbon ▷ noun a radioactive isotope of carbon, especially carbon-14.

radiocarbon dating ▷ noun CARBON DATING.

radiochemistry ▷ noun, chem the branch of chemistry concerned with the study of radioactive elements and their compounds, including their preparation, properties and practical uses, increasingly used in medicine.

radio-compass ▷ noun a radio direction-finding instrument.

radioelement ▷ noun a RADIOISOTOPE.

radio frequency ▷ noun a frequency of electromagnetic waves used for radio and television broadcasting.

radio galaxy ▷ noun, astron a galaxy that is an intense source of cosmic radio waves.

radiogram ▷ noun 1 a RADIOGRAPH (see under RADIOGRAPHY). 2 a telegram sent by radio. 3 old use short for radiogramophone, an apparatus consisting of a radio and record-player.

radiography /reɪdɪ'ɒgrəfɪ/ ▷ noun, medicine the technique (widely used in medicine and dentistry, eg to detect tumours, broken bones, etc) of examining the interior of the body by means of recorded images, known as radiographs, which are produced by X-rays on photographic film. • radiographer noun. • radiographic adj.

radio immunoassay ▷ noun a method of detecting or quantifying antigens or antibodies using radiolabelled substances.

radioisotope ▷ noun, physics a naturally occurring or synthetic radioactive isotope of a chemical element (eg TRITIUM), used eg in RADIOTHERAPY, as RADIOACTIVE TRACERS, and as long-term power sources in spacecraft and satellites.

radiolabelled ▷ adj having had an atom replaced by a radioactive substance, for ease of identification in tests.

radiolocation ▷ noun position-finding by radio signals; RADAR.

radiology /reɪdɪ'ɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the branch of medicine concerned with the use of RADIATION (eg X-rays) and radioactive isotopes to diagnose and treat diseases. • radiological adj 1 relating to or involving radiology. 2 involving radioactive materials. • radiologist noun a specialist in radiology.

radioluminescence ▷ noun light arising from RADIATION from a RADIOACTIVE material.

radio microphone ▷ noun a microphone with a miniature radio transmitter, and therefore not requiring any cable.

radionuclide /reɪdɪoʊ'njuːklaɪd/ ▷ noun any RADIOACTIVE atom of an element identified by the number of NEUTRONs and PROTONs in its NUCLEUS, and by its energy state.

radio-pager ⊳ noun a very small radio receiver which emits a bleeping sound in response to a signal, used for PAGING people. • radio-paging noun.

radiophonic /reɪdɪoʊ'fɒnɪk/ ⊳ adj 1 said of sound, especially of music: produced electronically. 2 producing electronic music. • radiophonics plural noun. • radiophonist /reɪdɪ'ɒfənɪst/ noun. ⓘ 1950s in this sense; 19c meaning 'relating to sound produced by radiant energy'.

radioscopy /reɪdɪ'ɒskəpɪ/ ⊳ noun the examination of the inside of the body, or of opaque objects, using X-rays. • radioscopic /reɪdɪoʊ'skɒpɪk/ adj. • radioscopically adverb.

radiosensitive ⊳ adj readily injured or changed by radiation.

radio telephone ⊳ noun a telephone which works by radio waves, used especially in cars and other vehicles.

radio telescope ⊳ noun a large, usually dish-shaped, aerial, together with amplifiers and recording equipment, that is used to study distant stars, galaxies, etc, by detecting the radio waves they emit.

radiotherapy and radiotherapeutics ⊳ noun the treatment of disease, especially cancer, by X-rays and other forms of radiation. Compare CHEMOTHERAPY.

radio wave ⊳ noun, physics an electromagnetic wave that has a low frequency and a long wavelength (in the range of about 1mm to 10^4m), widely used for communication.

radish /'radɪʃ/ ⊳ noun a plant of the mustard family, with pungent-tasting red-skinned white roots, which are eaten raw in salads. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon rædic: from Latin radix root.

radium /'reɪdɪəm/ ⊳ noun, chem (symbol Ra, atomic number 88) a silvery-white highly toxic radioactive metallic element, discovered by Marie (1867—1934) and Pierre (1859—1906) Curie in 1898, obtained from uranium ores, especially pitchblende, and remarkable for its active spontaneous disintegration. ⓘ 19c: from Latin radius ray.

radius /'reɪdɪəs/ ⊳ noun (radii /-aɪ/ or radiuses) 1 geom a a straight line running from the centre to any point on the circumference of a circle or the surface of a sphere; b the length of such a line. 2 a radiating line. 3 anything placed like a radius, such as the spoke of a wheel. 4 a usually specified distance from a central point, thought of as limiting an area ◻ all the houses within a radius of 10km. 5 anatomy a the shorter of the two bones in the human forearm, on the thumb side; b the equivalent bone in other animals. Compare ULNA. • radial see separate entry. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning a 'rod, spoke or ray'.

radius vector ⊳ noun (radii vectores /— vɛk'tɔːriːz/) a straight line joining a fixed point and a variable point.

radix /'reɪdɪks/ ⊳ noun (radices /'reɪdɪsiːz/) 1 a source, root or basis. 2 math the quantity on which a system of numeration or of logarithms, etc is based. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'root'.

radome /'reɪdoʊm/ ⊳ noun a protective covering for microwave radar antennae which is transparent to radio waves. ⓘ 1940s: from radar + dome.

radon /'reɪdɒn/ ⊳ noun, chem (symbol Rn, atomic number 86) a highly toxic, colourless, extremely dense, radioactive gas that emits alpha particles and is formed by the decay of radium. ⓘ Early 20c: from radium + -ON.

radula /'radjʊlə/ ⊳ noun (radulae /-liː/) zool a tonguelike organ of molluscs, comprising a toothed, horny strip which is used for rasping, boring or scraping off particles of food. • radular adj. • radulate adj. ⓘ 19c in this sense; 18c in sense 'scraper': from Latin radere to scrape.

radwaste /'radweɪst/ ⊳ noun, especially US radioactive waste. ⓘ 1970s: from radioactive + waste.

RAEC ⊳ abbreviation Royal Army Educational Corps.

RAeS ⊳ abbreviation Royal Aeronautic Society.

RAF /ɑːr eɪ 'ɛf, informal raf/ ⊳ abbreviation Royal Air Force.

rafale /ra'fal/ ⊳ noun 1 a burst of artillery in quick rounds. 2 a drum roll. ⓘ Early 20c: French, literally 'a gust of wind'.

raffia or raphia /'rafɪə/ ⊳ noun ribbon-like fibre obtained from the leaves of the RAPHIA palm, used for weaving mats, baskets, etc. ⓘ 19c: a native word from Madagascar.

raffish /'rafɪʃ/ ⊳ adj 1 said of appearance, dress, behaviour, etc: slightly shady or disreputable, often attractively so; rakish. 2 flashy; vulgar. • raffishly adverb. • raffishness noun. ⓘ 19c: from RIFF-RAFF.

raffle /'rafəl/ ⊳ noun a LOTTERY, often to raise money for charity, in which numbered tickets, which are drawn from a container holding all the numbers sold, win prizes for the holders of the tickets that match the numbers drawn. ⊳ verb (raffled, raffling) (also raffle something off) to offer something as a prize in a raffle. • raffler noun. ⓘ 18c in this sense; 14c: meaning 'a French variety of the game of dice'.

raffle-ticket ⊳ noun either of a pair of tickets each with the same number printed on it, one of which is bought by a participant in a raffle, the other one being placed with the rest of the tickets to be drawn to determine who has won.

raft ⊳ noun 1 a flat structure of logs, timber, etc, fastened together so as to float on water, used for transport or as a platform. 2 a flat, floating mass of ice, vegetation, etc. 3 a wide layer of concrete to support a building on soft ground. ⊳ verb (rafted, rafting) 1 a to transport something by raft; b to transport something in the form of a raft. 2 intr to travel by raft. 3 to cross or travel down (water, a river, etc) by raft. 4 tr & intr to form into a raft. 5 intr said of ice, etc: to pile up by overriding. ⓘ 15c: from Norse raptr.

rafter[1] /'rɑːftə(r)/ ⊳ noun a sloping beam supporting a roof. ⊳ verb (raftered, raftering) to equip with rafters. • raftered adj said of a building or structure: having (especially visible) rafters. • raftering noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ræfter.

rafter[2] ⊳ noun a RAFTSMAN.

raftsman ⊳ noun someone who works on a raft.

rag[1] ⊳ noun 1 a worn, torn or waste scrap of cloth. 2 a shred, scrap or tiny portion of something. 3 (usually rags) old or tattered clothing ◻ dressed in rags. 4 jocular a flag, handkerchief or garment. 5 derog, colloq a newspaper ◻ the local rag. 6 a RAGTIME; b a piece of ragtime music. ⊳ verb (ragged /ragd/, ragging) 1 a to tear to rags; b to make RAGGED[1]. 2 to perform (a piece of music or a dance) in RAGTIME. 3 intr said of clothing, a piece of cloth, etc: to become ragged; to fray. • raggy adj. • from rags to riches from poverty to wealth. • lose one's rag slang to lose one's temper. ⓘ 14c: from Anglo-Saxon raggig shaggy.

rag[2] ⊳ verb (ragged /ragd/, ragging) 1 especially Brit to tease; to play rough tricks on someone. 2 to scold. ⊳ noun, Brit a series of stunts and events put on by university or college students to raise money for charity. Also as adj ◻ rag week. • ragging noun. • raggy adj, slang irritated. ⓘ 18c.

rag[3] or ragg ⊳ noun 1 a rough hard stone of various kinds, especially one which naturally breaks into slabs. 2 a large rough slate (3ft. by 2ft, approximately 90cm by 60cm).

raga /'rɑːgə/ ⊳ noun 1 in Hindu classical music: a traditional pattern of notes around which melodies can be improvised. 2 a piece of music composed around such a pattern. ⓒ 18c: Sanskrit raga colour or musical tone.

ragamuffin /ˈragəmʌfɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a ragged disreputable child. 2 RAGGA. ⓒ 14c: from Ragamoffyn, the name of a demon in the poem Piers Plowman by William Langland: probably from RAG¹.

rag-and-bone-man ▷ noun someone who collects and deals in goods of little value, eg old clothes, furniture, etc.

rag-bag ▷ noun 1 a bag for storing rags and scraps of material. 2 colloq a random or confused collection. 3 colloq a scruffy untidy person.

ragbolt ▷ noun a bolt with barb-like projections to prevent withdrawal once it is locked in position.

rag-book ▷ noun a child's book printed on cloth.

ragdoll ▷ noun a doll made from, and often stuffed with, scraps of cloth. ⓒ 19c.

rage /reɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 madness. 2 a overpowering violent passion of any kind, such as desire or especially anger; b a fit of such passion. 3 said of the wind, the sea, a battle, etc: violent, stormy action. 4 an intense desire or passion for something. 5 colloq a widespread, usually temporary, fashion or craze. 6 Austral & NZ colloq a party or dance. ▷ verb (raged, raging) intr 1 to be violently angry. 2 to speak wildly with anger or passion; to rave. 3 said of the wind, the sea, a battle, etc: to be stormy and unchecked. ● rager noun. ● raging adj, noun. ● ragingly adverb. ● all the rage colloq very much in fashion ▫ In the late 70s safety pins were all the rage. ⓒ 13c: from French, from Latin rabies madness.

ragg see RAG³

ragga /ˈragə/ ▷ noun a style of rap music influenced by dance rhythms. Also called ragamuffin. ⓒ 1980s: from RAGAMUFFIN because of the scruffy appearance of its exponents.

ragged¹ /ˈragɪd/ ▷ adj 1 said of clothes: old, worn and tattered. 2 said of a person: dressed in old, worn, tattered clothing. 3 with a rough and irregular edge; jagged. 4 untidy; straggly. 5 said of a performance or ability: uneven; not of consistent quality. ● raggedly adverb. ● raggedness noun. ● raggedy adj uneven in quality. ⓒ 13c: probably from RAG¹.

ragged² past tense, past participle of RAG¹, RAG²

ragged robin ▷ noun a wild flower which is a type of campion, with pink ragged-edged petals.

ragged school ▷ noun, historical in the 19c: a voluntary school for destitute children.

raglan /ˈraglən/ ▷ adj 1 said of a sleeve: attached to a garment by two seams running diagonally from the neck to the armpit. 2 said of a garment: having such sleeves. ▷ noun an overcoat with the sleeve in one piece with the shoulder. ⓒ 19c: named after Lord Raglan (1788–1855), British commander in the Crimean war.

ragout /raˈguː/ ▷ noun a highly seasoned stew of meat and vegetables. ▷ verb (ragouted /raˈguːd/ , ragouting /raˈguːɪŋ/) to make a ragout of meat, etc. ⓒ 17c: French, from ragoûter to revive the appetite.

rag-rolling ▷ noun a technique, used in house decoration, of rolling a folded cloth over a specially painted surface to produce a randomly shaded effect.

ragstone or ragwork noun undressed masonry in slabs. ⓒ 13c.

ragtag ▷ noun the rabble; the common herd. ▷ adj 1 relating to or like the rabble. 2 ragged, disorderly. ⓒ 19c.

ragtag and bobtail ▷ noun RIFF-RAFF.

ragtime ▷ noun a type of jazz piano music with a highly syncopated rhythm, originated by Black American musicians in the 1890s. ⓒ 19c: a contraction of RAGGED¹ + TIME.

rag trade ▷ noun, colloq the business of designing, making and selling clothes.

ragweed see RAGWORT

ragwork see under RAG³

ragworm ▷ noun a pearly white burrowing marine worm, used as bait by fishermen.

ragwort and ragweed ▷ noun a common plant which has yellow flowers with ragged petals.

rah or 'rah /rɑː/ ▷ exclamation, noun, verb short form of HURRAH.

rai /raɪ/ ▷ noun a style of popular music from Algeria, blending traditional Arabic, Spanish flamenco and Western disco rhythms. ⓒ 20c: from Arabic ra'y opinion, view.

raid ▷ noun 1 a sudden unexpected attack. 2 an air attack. 3 an invasion unauthorized by government. 4 an incursion of police for the purpose of making arrests, or searching for suspected criminals or illicit goods. 5 an onset or onslaught for the purpose of obtaining or suppressing something. 6 stock exchange slang the selling of shares by a group of speculators in an attempt to lower share prices. ▷ verb (raided, raiding) 1 to make a raid on (a person, place, etc). 2 intr to go on a raid. ● raider noun. ● raid the market stock exchange to upset prices of stocks artificially for future gain. ⓒ 15c Scots: from Anglo-Saxon rad incursion.

rail¹ ▷ noun 1 a bar, usually a horizontal one, supported by vertical posts, forming a fence or barrier. 2 a horizontal bar used to hang things on ▫ a picture rail. 3 either of a pair of lengths of metal, usually steel, forming a track for the wheels of a train, tramcar or other vehicle. 4 the railway as a means of travel or transport ▫ go by rail. 5 said of a door, wooden framework, etc: a horizontal section in panelling or framing. 6 (the rails) the fence which forms the inside barrier of a racecourse. 7 naut the capping part of bulwarks. ▷ verb (railed, railing) 1 to provide with rails. 2 (usually rail something in or off) to enclose (eg a space) within a rail or rails. ● off the rails 1 mad; eccentric. 2 not functioning or behaving normally or properly. 3 disorganized. ⓒ 13c: from French reille iron rod, from Latin regula staff, rod.

rail² ▷ verb (railed, railing) intr (usually rail at or against something or someone) to complain or criticize it or them abusively or bitterly. ● railer noun. ● railing adj, noun. ● railingly adverb. ⓒ 15c: from French railler to deride.

rail³ ▷ noun any of several birds which usually live near water and have short necks and wings and long legs, especially the water-rail, corncrake or coot. ⓒ 15c: from French raale.

railcar ▷ noun 1 US a railway carriage. 2 a self-propelled railway carriage.

railcard ▷ noun a special card, eg for students, the elderly, etc, giving the holder the right to reduced train fares.

railhead ▷ noun 1 a railway terminal. 2 the furthest point reached by a railway under construction.

railing ▷ noun 1 a fencing; b material for building fences. 2 (often railings) a barrier or ornamental fence, usually of upright iron rods secured by horizontal connections.

raillery /ˈreɪlərɪ/ ▷ noun (railleries) 1 good-humoured teasing. 2 an instance of this. ⓒ 17c: related to RAIL².

railroad ▷ noun, N Amer, especially US a railway. ▷ verb (railroaded, railroading) colloq 1 to rush or force someone unfairly into doing something. 2 to rush or force (a bill) through parliament. 3 to get rid of someone, especially by sending them to prison on a false charge.

railway ▷ noun (abbreviation rly) 1 a track or set of tracks for trains to run on, formed by two parallel steel rails fixed to sleepers (see SLEEPER sense 2). 2 a system of such tracks, plus all the trains, buildings and people required for it to function. 3 a company responsible for operating such a system. 4 a similar set of tracks for a different type of vehicle □ funicular railway. © 18c.

railway carriage ▷ noun a railway vehicle for passengers.

railway crossing ▷ noun an intersection of railway lines, or of road and railway, especially without a bridge.

raiment /ˈreɪmənt/ ▷ noun, archaic, poetic clothing. © 15c: from French areer to array.

rain ▷ noun 1 a condensed moisture falling as separate water droplets from the atmosphere; b a shower; a fall of rain. 2 a fall, especially a heavy one, of anything in the manner of rain □ a rain of bullets. 3 (rains) the season of heavy rainfall in tropical countries. ▷ verb (rained, raining) 1 intr said of rain: to fall. 2 tr & intr to fall or cause something to fall like rain □ rain down compliments on her head. • rainless adj. • come rain or shine whatever the weather or circumstances. • rain cats and dogs colloq to rain very hard. • rained off Brit said of a sporting or other event: to be cancelled because of rain. • right as rain colloq perfectly all right or in order. See also RAINY. © Anglo-Saxon regn.

rainbird ▷ noun a bird, such as the green woodpecker and various kinds of cuckoo, supposed to foretell rain when it calls.

rainbow /ˈreɪnbəʊ/ ▷ noun 1 an arch of all the colours of the spectrum, ie red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet, that can be seen in the sky when falling raindrops reflect and refract sunlight. 2 a collection or array of bright colours. ▷ adj 1 relating to, or coloured like, the rainbow. 2 rainbow-coloured. • rainbowy or rainbow-like adj. • chase rainbows to pursue an impossible aim or hope. © Anglo-Saxon regnboga.

rainbow coalition ▷ noun a political alliance between minority groups or parties of varying opinions.

rainbow trout ▷ noun a freshwater N American and European trout.

rain check ▷ noun, chiefly N Amer a ticket for future use, given to spectators when a game or sports meeting is cancelled or stopped due to bad weather. • take a rain check or take a rain check on something colloq, originally N Amer to promise to accept (an invitation) at a later date. © 19c.

rain-cloud ▷ noun a dense dark sheet of cloud that may shed rain or snow. Technical equivalent NIMBUS.

raincoat ▷ noun a light waterproof coat worn to keep out the rain.

rain-doctor ▷ noun a RAIN-MAKER.

raindrop ▷ noun a drop of rain.

rainfall ▷ noun 1 the amount of rain that falls in a certain place over a certain period, measured by depth of water. 2 a shower of rain.

rainforest see TROPICAL RAINFOREST rain-gauge ▷ noun an instrument for measuring rainfall.

rainier, rainiest and raininess see under RAINY rain-maker ▷ noun 1 especially in tribal societies: someone who professes to bring rain. Also called rain-doctor. 2 slang a high-powered employee who generates a great deal of income for their employers.

rain-making ▷ noun attemping to cause rainfall by techniques such as seeding clouds.

rainproof ▷ adj more or less impervious to rain. ▷ verb to make something rainproof. ▷ noun a rainproof overcoat.

rain shadow ▷ noun, meteorol a region on the LEE side of mountains or hills that receives significantly less rainfall than land on the windward side, because prevailing winds are forced to rise, cool, and thereby lose most of their moisture by precipitation before reaching the lee, while moving across the high ground.

rain-tree ▷ noun a S American tree of the mimosa family, under which there is a constant rain of juice ejected by cicadas.

rainy ▷ adj (rainier, rainiest) said of a period of time: characterized by stretches of time when it is raining □ a rainy afternoon. • raininess noun. • save or keep something for a rainy day to keep it for a possible future time of need.

raise ▷ verb (raised, raising) 1 to move or lift to a higher position or level. 2 to put in an upright or standing position. 3 to build or erect. 4 to increase the value, amount or strength of something □ raise prices □ raise one's voice. 5 to put forward for consideration or discussion □ raise an objection. 6 to gather together or assemble □ raise an army. 7 to collect together or obtain (funds, money, etc) □ raise money for charity. 8 to stir up or incite □ raise a protest. 9 to bring into being; to provoke □ raise a laugh □ raise the alarm. 10 to promote to a higher rank. 11 to awaken or arouse from sleep or death. 12 to grow (vegetables, a crop, etc). 13 to bring up or rear (a child, children) □ raise a family, or young. 14 to bring to an end or remove □ raise the siege. 15 to cause (bread or dough) to rise with yeast. 16 to establish radio contact with. 17 math to increase (a quantity) to a given power (see POWER noun 12) □ 3 raised to the power of 4 is 81. 18 cards to bet more than another player. 19 naut to cause (land) to come into sight by approaching. 20 to produce a nap on (cloth) by brushing. 21 to cause (a lump, blister, etc) to form or swell. ▷ noun 1 an act of raising or lifting. Brit equivalent RISE. 2 colloq, especially N Amer an increase in salary. • raisable or raiseable adj. • raiser noun. • raising noun. • raise a hand to someone or something to hit or generally treat them or it badly. • raise an eyebrow or one's eyebrows to look surprised (at). • raise Cain or the roof colloq 1 to make a lot of noise. 2 to be extremely angry. • raise its ugly head said of a difficult situation, problem, etc: to occur or appear. • raise hell or the devil colloq to make a lot of trouble. • raise money on something to get money for something by pawning or selling it, especially privately. • raise one's glass to drink a toast. • raise one's hat to take off one's hat in greeting. • raise the wind slang to get together the necessary money by any means. • raise someone's hopes to give them reason to be hopeful. • raise someone's spirits to make them more cheerful or optimistic. © 12c: from Norse reisa.

> raise
>
> There is often a spelling confusion between raise and raze.

raised beach ▷ noun, geol an old sea margin above the present water-level.

raisin /ˈreɪzən/ ▷ noun a dried grape. • raisiny adj. © 13c: French, meaning 'grape', from Latin racemus a cluster of grapes.

raison d'être /reɪzɒ̃ˈdeɪtrə/ ▷ noun (raisons d'être /reɪzɒ̃ˈdeɪtrə/) a purpose or reason that justifies someone's or something's existence. © 19c: French, meaning 'reason for being'.

raisonneur /reɪzɒˈnɜː(r)/ ▷ noun (raisonneurs /reɪzɒˈnɜː(r)/) in a play, novel, etc: a character who embodies the author's point of view and expresses his or her opinions. © Early 20c: French, meaning 'someone who argues or reasons'.

raita /rɑːˈiːtə/ ▷ noun (raitas) an Indian dish of chopped vegetables, especially cucumber, in yoghurt. © 1960s: from Hindi rayta.

raj /rɑːdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 in India: a rule; sovereignty; b government. 2 historical (usually the British Raj) the British government of India, 1858–1947. ◷ 19c: Hindi, from Sanskrit rajan king.

raja or rajah /ˈrɑːdʒə/ ▷ noun (rajas or rajahs) historical 1 an Indian king or prince. 2 a Malay or Javanese chief. See also RANI. See also MAHARAJAH. ■ rajaship or rajahship noun. ◷ 16c: Hindi, from Sanskrit rajan king.

Rajput or Rajpoot /ˈrɑːdʒpʊt/ ▷ noun a member of a race or class claiming descent from the original Hindu military and ruling caste. ◷ 16c: Hindi, from Sanskrit rajan king + putra son.

rake[1] /reɪk/ ▷ noun 1 a long-handled garden tool with a comb-like part at one end, used for smoothing or breaking up earth, gathering leaves together, etc. 2 any tool with a similar shape or use, eg a croupier's tool for gathering in money. 3 a wheeled farm implement with long teeth for gathering hay, scraping up weeds, etc. 4 a connected set of railway carriages or wagons. ▷ verb (raked, raking) 1 (usually rake things up or together) to collect, gather or remove with, or as if with, a rake. 2 (usually rake something over) to make it smooth with a rake. 3 intr to work with, or as if with a rake. 4 tr & intr (often rake through or among something) to search carefully through or among it. 5 to sweep gradually along the length of something, especially with gunfire or one's eyes. 6 to scratch or scrape. ◷ Anglo-Saxon raca.

■ rake something in colloq said especially of money: to earn or acquire it in large amounts □ The business is doing very well. They must be raking it in!

■ rake something up colloq to revive or uncover (something forgotten or lost) □ rake up old memories.

rake[2] /reɪk/ ▷ noun, old use a fashionable man who lives a dissolute and immoral life. ■ rakery noun dissoluteness. ■ rakish adj dashing or jaunty, often with a suspicious or piratical appearance. ■ rakishly adverb. ■ rakishness noun. ◷ 17c: a short form of obsolete rakehell an utter scoundrel.

rake[3] /reɪk/ ▷ noun 1 a sloping position, especially of a ship's funnel or mast backwards towards the stern, or of a ship's bow or stern in relation to the keel. 2 theat the slope of a stage. 3 the amount by which something slopes. 4 the angle between the face of a cutting tool and the surface on which it is working. 5 the angle between the wings and body of an aircraft. ▷ verb (raked, raking) 1 to set or construct at a sloping angle. 2 intr a said of a ship's mast or funnel: to slope backwards towards the stern; b said of a ship's bow or stern: to project out beyond the keel. 3 said of a theatre stage: to slope. ■ rakish adj 1 said of a ship: with raking masts. 2 swift-looking. ■ rakishly adverb. ◷ 17c: perhaps related to German ragen to project.

rake-off ▷ noun, slang a share of the profits, especially when dishonest or illegal.

rakery /ˈreɪkərɪ/ see under RAKE[2]

raki or rakee /ˈrɑːkɪ, ˈrakɪ/ ▷ noun an aromatic alcoholic liquor drunk in the Levant, Greece and Turkey. ◷ 17c: from Turkish raqi.

raku /ˈrɑːkuː/ ▷ noun a type of coarse-grained, lead-glazed pottery fired at low temperature, traditionally used in Japan to make tea bowls. ◷ 19c: Japanese, meaning 'pleasure or enjoyment'.

rale or râle /rɑːl/ ▷ noun, pathol an abnormal 'rattling' sound, caused by an accumulation of fluid, heard when listening to the lungs with a stethoscope. ◷ 19c: French.

rallentando /ralənˈtandoʊ/ music ▷ adj, adverb (abbreviation rall) as a musical direction: becoming gradually slower. ▷ noun (rallentandos, rallentandi /-diː/) in a piece of music: a passage to be played in this way. Also called ritardando /rɪtɑːˈdandoʊ/ (abbreviation rit.). ◷ 19c: Italian, from rallentare to slow down.

rally /ˈralɪ/ ▷ verb (rallies, rallied, rallying) 1 to come or bring together again after being dispersed. 2 to come or bring together for some common cause or action. 3 intr to revive (one's spirits, strength, abilities, etc) by making an effort. 4 intr to recover one's lost health, fitness, strength, etc, especially after an illness. 5 intr said of share prices: to increase again after a fall. ▷ noun (rallies) 1 a reassembling of forces to make a new effort. 2 a mass meeting of people with a common cause or interest. 3 a recovering of lost health, fitness, strength, etc, especially after an illness. 4 tennis a series of strokes between players before one of them finally wins the point. 5 a competition to test skill in driving, usually held on public roads. ■ rallier noun. ◷ 16c: from French rallier to rejoin.

■ rally round someone to come together to support or help them at a time of crisis, etc.

rallycross ▷ noun motor racing over a course made up of both proper roads and rough ground.

rallying ▷ noun long distance motor racing over public roads. ■ rallyist noun.

rallying-cry ▷ noun a slogan to attract support for a cause, etc.

rallying-point ▷ noun a place of assembly, especially for a mass meeting.

RAM ▷ abbreviation 1 computing random access memory, a temporary memory which allows programs to be loaded and run, and data to be changed. Compare ROM. 2 Royal Academy of Music.

ram ▷ noun 1 an uncastrated male sheep; a tup. 2 astrol, astron (Ram) ARIES. 3 a BATTERING-RAM. 4 the falling weight of a pile-driver. 5 the striking head of a steam hammer. 6 a a piston or plunger operated by hydraulic or other power; b a machine with such a piston. 7 an act of ramming. 8 naut, historical a a pointed device on a warship's prow, for making holes in an enemy ship's hull; b a warship fitted with such a device. ▷ verb (rammed, ramming) 1 to force something down or into position by pushing hard. 2 to strike or crash something violently (against, into, etc something or someone) □ ram the car into the wall. ■ rammer noun. ■ ram something down someone's throat colloq to force them to believe, accept or listen to (eg a statement, idea, etc) by talking about it or repeating it constantly. ■ ram something home to emphasize it forcefully. ◷ Anglo-Saxon ramm.

r.a.m. ▷ abbreviation relative atomic mass.

Ramadan or Ramadhan /raməˈdɑːn, ˈramədɑːn, -dan/ ▷ noun 1 the ninth month of the Muslim year, during which Muslims fast between sunrise and sunset. 2 the fast itself. ◷ 15c: Arabic, from ramada to be heated or hot.

ramakin see RAMEKIN

ramal see under RAMUS

Raman effect /ˈrɑːmən —/ ▷ noun in the study of molecules: a change in frequency of light passing through a transparent medium. ◷ 1920s: discovered by the Indian physicist, Sir Chandrasekhara Raman (1888–1970).

Ramapithecus /rɑːməˈpɪθəkəs/ ▷ noun an early PLIOCENE genus of primates, possibly an ancestor of modern man, known from fossil remains found in N India. ■ ramapithecine /-siːn/ noun, adj. ◷ 1930s: from Rama, the name of an Indian prince + Greek pithekos ape.

ramate see under RAMUS

ramble /ˈrambəl/ ▷ verb (rambled, rambling) intr 1 to go where one pleases; to wander. 2 now chiefly to go for a long walk or walks, especially in the countryside, for pleasure. 3 (often ramble on) to speak or write, often at length, in an aimless or confused way. 4 said of the mind, thoughts or ideas: to wander or be confused. 5 said of eg a plant: to grow or extend in a straggling, trailing way. ▷ noun a walk, usually a longish one and especially in the countryside, for pleasure. ■ rambler noun 1 someone who goes walking in the countryside for pleasure. 2 a climbing plant, especially a rose. ◷ 17c: probably related to Dutch rammelen (said of animals) to roam about when on heat.

rambling noun walking for pleasure, especially in the countryside. ▷ adj 1 wandering; nomadic. 2 said of eg a building or structure: extending without any obvious plan or organization □ a large rambling castle. 3 said of speech, writing, thoughts, etc: confused, disorganized and often lengthy. 4 said of a plant: climbing, trailing or spreading freely □ a rambling rose. ● ramblingly adverb.

rambunctious /ram'bʌŋkʃəs/ ▷ adj, colloq said of an animal or a person: 1 difficult to control. 2 boisterous; exuberant. ● rambunctiously adverb. ● rambunctiousness noun. ⓒ 19c.

rambutan /ram'buːtən/ ▷ noun 1 a tree of the same family as the lychee, found throughout SE Asia. 2 the fruit of this tree, which has edible translucent flesh and a thick red shell covered with hooked hairs. ⓒ 18c: Malay, from rambut hair.

RAMC ▷ abbreviation Royal Army Medical Corps.

ramekin or ramequin or ramakin /'ramәkɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a small round straight-sided baking dish or mould for a single serving of food. 2 an individual serving of food, especially of a savoury dish containing cheese and eggs, served in such a dish. 17c: from French ramequin.

ramen /'rɑːmen/ ▷ noun a Japanese dish of clear broth containing vegetables, noodles and often pieces of meat. ⓒ 20c: Japanese.

ramie /'ramɪ/ ▷ noun 1 a plant of the nettle family, long cultivated in China. 2 its fibre, used for weaving, paper-making, etc. ⓒ 19c: from Malay rami.

ramification /ramɪfɪ'keɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 an arrangement of branches; a branched structure. 2 a single part or section of a complex subject, plot, situation, etc. 3 (usually ramifications) a consequence, especially a serious or complicated one. ● ramiform adj having a branched shape. ⓒ 17c: from Latin ramus branch.

ramify verb (ramifies, ramified, ramifying) to separate or cause to separate into branches or sections.

ramin /ra'miːn/ ▷ noun 1 a Malaysian tree that grows in swamps. 2 a light-coloured hardwood obtained from this tree, commonly used in making mouldings, frames, etc. ⓒ 1950s: Malay.

ramjet /'ramdʒet/ ▷ noun, aeronautics 1 (in full ramjet engine) a type of jet engine consisting of forward air intake, combustion chamber and rear expansion nozzle, in which thrust is generated by compression due solely to forward motion. 2 an aircraft or missile that is propelled by such an engine. ⓒ 1940s.

rammed, rammer and ramming see under RAM

ramose and ramous see under RAMUS ramp[1] ▷ noun 1 a sloping surface between two different levels, especially one which can be used instead of steps. 2 a set of movable stairs for entering and leaving an aircraft. 3 a low hump lying across a road, designed to slow traffic down. 4 a place where the level of the road surface changes or is uneven due to roadworks. 5 the slope of a wall-top, or anything similar, between two levels. ▷ verb (ramped, ramping) 1 to provide with a ramp. 2 intr to slope from one level to another. 3 intr (often ramp around or about) to dash about in a wild, violent and threatening way. ● ramper noun. ⓒ 18c: from French ramper (said of an animal) to creep or rear.

ramp[2] ▷ noun, slang a swindle, especially the exploitation of a special situation to increase the price of a commodity. ▷ verb (ramped, ramping) 1 slang to rob or swindle. 2 commerce (usually ramp up) to increase greatly (the price of eg shares, etc), usually dishonestly and for financial advantage. ● ramping noun the practice of causing large false increases in the prices of shares, etc by dishonest means. ⓒ 19c in these senses; 16c, meaning 'snatch'.

rampage ▷ verb /ram'peɪdʒ/ (rampaged, rampaging) intr to rush about wildly, angrily, violently or excitedly. ▷ noun /'rampeɪdʒ, ram'peɪdʒ/ (chiefly on the rampage) storming about or behaving wildly and violently in anger, excitement, exuberance, etc. ● rampageous adj. ● rampageousness noun. ● rampaging noun. ⓒ 18c: originally Scottish, probably related to RAMP[1].

rampant /'rampənt/ ▷ adj 1 a uncontrolled; unrestrained; b unchecked in growth or prevalence □ rampant growth. 2 said of an animal: a rearing; b heraldry, following its noun in profile and standing erect on the left hind leg with the other legs raised □ lion rampant. 3 archit said of an arch: with abutments on different levels. ● rampancy noun. ● rampantly adverb. ⓒ 14c: related to RAMP[1].

rampart /'rampɑːt, 'rampət/ ▷ noun 1 a broad mound or wall for defence, usually with a wall or parapet on top. 2 anything which performs such a defensive role. ▷ verb (ramparted, ramparting) to fortify or surround with ramparts. ⓒ 16c: from French remparer to defend, to fortify.

rampion /'rampɪən/ ▷ noun a bell-flower whose root is eaten as a salad vegetable. ⓒ 16c.

ram-raid ▷ noun a raid carried out by smashing through the front window of a shop or store with a heavy vehicle and looting the goods inside. ● ram-raiding noun. ● ram-raider noun.

ramrod ▷ noun 1 a rod for ramming charge down into, or for cleaning, the barrel of a gun. 2 someone who is strict, stern and inflexible, both physically and morally.

ramshackle /'ramʃakəl/ ▷ adj said especially of buildings: tumbledown; rickety; badly made and likely to fall down. ⓒ 19c: from 17c ramshackled, from obsolete ransackle to ransack.

ramsons /'ramzənz, -sənz/ ▷ singular noun 1 a wild garlic, native to woodland of Europe and Asia. 2 its bulbous root, eaten as a relish. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon hramsa.

ramus /'reɪməs/ ▷ noun (rami /-maɪ/) a branch of anything, especially a nerve. ● ramal or ramous adj relating to a branch. ● ramate or ramose adj branched. ⓒ 17c: Latin.

RAN ▷ abbreviation Royal Australian Navy.

ran past tense of RUN ranch /rɑːntʃ/ ▷ noun 1 especially N Amer & Austral a an extensive grassland stock-farm where sheep, cattle or horses are raised; b such a farm including its buildings and the people employed on it. 2 any large farm that specializes in the production of a particular crop or animal □ a mink ranch. ▷ verb (ranches, ranched, ranching) 1 intr to own, manage or work on a ranch. 2 tr to rear (animals) on a ranch. 3 tr to use (land) as a ranch. ● rancher noun. ⓒ 19c: from Mexican Spanish rancho mess-room.

rancid /'ransɪd/ ▷ adj said of butter, oil, etc that is going bad: tasting or smelling rank or sour. ● rancidity /ran'sɪdɪtɪ/ or rancidness noun. ⓒ 17c: from Latin rancidus, from rancere to stink.

rancour /'raŋkə(r)/ ▷ noun a long-lasting feeling of bitterness, dislike or hatred. ● rancorous adj. ● rancorously adverb. ⓒ 14c: French, from Latin rancor rankness.

rand[1] /rand/ ▷ noun (rand or rands) (abbreviation R) the standard monetary unit used in South Africa and some neighbouring countries. See also KRUGERRAND. ⓒ 1960s, adopted at decimalization: named after Witwatersrand, a large gold-mining area near Johannesburg, and related to RAND[2].

rand[2] ▷ noun 1 a border or margin. 2 a ridge overlooking a valley. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon rand.

R & A ▷ abbreviation Royal and Ancient (Golf Club of St Andrews).

R & B ▷ abbreviation rhythm and blues.

R & D ▷ abbreviation research and development.

randem /'randəm/ ▷ noun a carriage or team of horses driven in tandem with three horses in a line, one in front of the other. ⓘ 19c: probably from random + tandem.

randier, randiest, randily and randiness see under RANDY random /'randəm/ ▷ adj lacking a definite plan, system or order; haphazard; irregular. • at random without any particular plan, system or purpose; haphazardly ▫ chosen at random. • randomly adverb. • randomness noun. • randomwise adverb. ⓘ 14c: from French randon, from randir to gallop.

random access ▷ noun, computing a method of accessing data stored on a disk or in the memory of a computer without having to read any other data stored on the same device, ie the data can be read out of sequence.

random access memory ▷ noun, computing see RAM.

randomize or randomise /'randəmaɪz/ ▷ verb (randomized, randomizing) to arrange or set up so as to occur in a random manner. • randomization noun. • randomizer noun. ⓘ 1920s.

random variable ▷ noun, statistics a VARIABLE which can take any one of a range of values which occur randomly.

R & R ▷ abbreviation, originally US colloq rest and recreation.

randy /'randɪ/ ▷ adj (randier, randiest) colloq sexually excited; lustful. • randily adverb. • randiness noun. ⓘ 17c.

ranee see RANI

rang see under RING²

range /reɪndʒ/ ▷ noun 1 a an area between limits within which things may move, function, etc; b the limits forming this area. 2 a number of items, products, etc forming a distinct series. 3 music the distance between the lowest and highest notes which may be produced by a musical instrument or a singing voice. 4 the distance to which a gun may be fired or an object thrown. 5 the distance between a weapon and its target. 6 the distance that can be covered by a vehicle without it needing to refuel. 7 an area where shooting may be practised and rockets tested ▫ firing range. 8 a group of mountains forming a distinct series or row. 9 N Amer a large area of open land for grazing livestock. 10 the region over which a plant or animal is distributed. 11 math the set of values that a function or dependent variable may take. 12 an enclosed kitchen fireplace fitted with a large cooking stove with one or more ovens and a flat top surface for heating pans. ▷ verb (ranged, ranging) 1 to put in a row or rows. 2 to put (someone, oneself, etc) into a specified category or group ▫ She ranged herself among their enemies. 3 intr to vary or change between specified limits. 4 (usually range over or through something) to roam freely in it. 5 intr to stretch or extend in a specified direction or over a specified area. ⓘ 13c: French, from ranger to place or position.

rangefinder ▷ noun an instrument which can estimate the distance of an object, especially a target to be shot or photographed.

ranger /'reɪndʒə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone who looks after a royal or national forest or park. 2 N Amer a soldier who has been specially trained for raiding and combat; a commando. 3 N Amer a member of a group of armed men who patrol and police a region. 4 (Ranger or Ranger Guide) Brit a member of the senior branch of the Guide Association.

rangy /'reɪndʒɪ/ ▷ adj (rangier, rangiest) said of a person: with long thin limbs and a slender body.

rani or ranee /'rɑːniː/ ▷ noun, historical 1 an Indian queen or princess. 2 the wife or widow of a RAJA. See also MAHARANI. ⓘ 17c: Hindi, from Sanskrit rajni queen.

rank¹ ▷ noun 1 a line or row of people or things. 2 a line of soldiers standing side by side. 3 a position of seniority within an organization, society, the armed forces, etc. See table on next page. 4 a distinct class or group, eg according to ability. 5 high social position or status. 6 (the ranks) ordinary soldiers, eg privates and corporals, as opposed to officers. 7 Brit a place where taxis wait for passengers ▫ taxi rank. 8 chess a row of squares along the player's side of a chessboard. ▷ verb (ranked, ranking) 1 to arrange (people or things) in a row or line. 2 tr & intr to give or have a particular grade, position or status in relation to others. 3 to have a higher position, status, etc than someone else; to outrank them. • close ranks said of a group of people: to keep their solidarity. • pull rank to use one's higher rank or status to get what one wants. • the rank and file 1 the ordinary members of an organization or society as opposed to the leaders or principal members. 2 the ordinary soldiers as opposed to the officers. ⓘ 16c: from French ranc rank, row.

rank² ▷ adj 1 said of eg plants: coarsely overgrown and untidy. 2 offensively strong in smell or taste. 3 bold, open and shocking ▫ rank disobedience. 4 complete; utter ▫ a rank beginner. • rankly adverb. • rankness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ranc proud or overbearing.

ranker /'raŋkə(r)/ ▷ noun a soldier who serves or has served in the ranks, especially an officer who has been promoted up through the ranks.

rankle /'raŋkəl/ ▷ verb (rankled, rankling) intr to continue to cause feelings of annoyance or bitterness ▫ His refusal still rankles. ⓘ 16c in this sense; 14c, meaning 'to fester, suppurate': from French rancler or raoncler, variant of draoncler festering sore, from Latin dracunculus a small dragon.

ransack /'ransak/ ▷ verb (ransacked, ransacking) 1 to search (eg a house) thoroughly and often roughly. 2 to rob or plunder. • ransacker noun. ⓘ 13c: from Norse rannsaka, from rann house + soekja to seek.

ransom /'ransəm/ ▷ noun 1 money demanded in return for the release of a kidnapped person, for the return of property, etc. 2 relig atonement; redemption. 3 (usually a king's ransom) an extortionate price; a vast amount of money. ▷ verb (ransomed, ransoming) 1 to pay, demand or accept a ransom for someone or something. 2 relig to atone; to redeem. • ransomable adj. • ransomless adj. • hold someone to ransom 1 to keep them prisoner until a ransom is paid. 2 to blackmail them into agreeing to one's demands. ⓘ 14c: from French ransoun, from Latin redemptio redemption.

rant ▷ verb (ranted, ranting) 1 intr to talk in a loud, angry, pompous way. 2 tr & intr to declaim in a loud, pompous, self-important way. ▷ noun 1 loud, pompous, empty speech. 2 an angry tirade. • ranter noun someone, especially a preacher, who rants. • ranting noun, adj. • rantingly adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Dutch ranten to rave.

RAOC ▷ abbreviation, Brit Royal Army Ordnance Corps.

rap¹ ▷ noun 1 a a quick short tap or blow; b the sound made by this. 2 slang blame or punishment ▫ take the rap. 3 a fast rhythmic monologue recited over a musical backing with a pronounced beat. 4 RAP MUSIC. 5 colloq a conversation. ▷ verb (rapped, rapping) 1 to strike sharply. 2 intr to make a sharp tapping sound. 3 (usually rap something out) to utter (eg a command) sharply and quickly. 4 to criticize sharply. 5 to communicate (a message) by raps or knocks. 6 intr, colloq to talk or have a discussion. 7 intr, colloq to perform a fast rhythmic monologue to music with a pronounced beat. • rapper noun 1 a person that raps something. 2 a performer of rap music. • beat the rap N Amer slang to escape punishment for a crime (whether guilty or not). ⓘ 14c: probably from Norse.

rap² ▷ noun the least bit ▫ not care a rap. ⓘ 19c: from the name of an 18c Irish counterfeit coin.

rapacious /rə'peɪʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 greedy and grasping, especially for money. 2 said of an animal or bird: living by catching prey. • rapaciously adverb. • rapaciousness or rapacity /rəˈpasɪtɪ/ noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin rapax grasping, from rapere to seize.

rape[1] ▷ noun 1 the crime of forcing a person, especially a woman, to have sexual intercourse against their will. 2 violation, despoiling or abuse. ▷ verb (raped, raping) 1 to commit rape on someone. 2 to violate or despoil, especially a country or place in wartime. • rapist /ˈreɪpɪst/ noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin rapere to seize and carry off.

rape[2] ▷ noun the refuse of grapes left after wine-making and used in making vinegar. ⓘ 17c: from French rape.

rape[3] ▷ noun OILSEED RAPE. ⓘ 14c: from Latin rapum turnip.

raphia same as RAFFIA.

rapid /ˈrapɪd/ ▷ adj 1 moving, acting or happening quickly; fast. 2 photog requiring short exposure. ▷ noun (usually rapids) a part of a river where the water flows quickly, usually over dangerous, sharply descending rocks. • rapidity /rəˈpɪdɪtɪ/ or rapidness noun. • rapidly adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin rapidus, from rapere to seize.

rapid eye movement ▷ noun, physiol (abbreviation REM) quick movements of the eyes from side to side behind the closed eyelids during REM SLEEP.

rapid fire ▷ noun the quickly repeated firing of guns, asking of questions, etc. ▷ adj (rapid-fire) fired, asked, etc in quick succession.

rapier /ˈreɪpɪə(r)/ ▷ noun a long thin sword for thrusting. ⓘ 16c: from French rapière.

rapine /ˈrapaɪn, ˈrapɪn/ ▷ noun 1 the seizing of property, etc by force. 2 plundering; robbery. ⓘ 15c: from Latin rapere to seize and carry off.

rapist see under RAPE[1]

rap music ▷ noun a style of music that has a strong background beat and rhythmic monologues. See also gangsta.

rapped, rapper and rapping see under RAP[1] rapport /raˈpɔː(r)/ ▷ noun a feeling of sympathy and understanding; a close emotional bond. ⓘ 15c: French, from rapprocher to bring back.

rapprochement /raˈprɒʃmɑ̃/ ▷ noun the establishment or renewal of a close, friendly relationship, especially between states. ⓘ 19c: French, from rapprocher to bring together.

rapscallion /rapˈskalɪən/ ▷ noun, old use a rascal or scamp. ⓘ 17c: perhaps related to RASCAL.

rapt ▷ adj 1 enraptured; entranced. 2 completely absorbed. • raptly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin rapere, raptum to seize and carry off.

raptor /ˈraptə(r)/ ▷ noun, ornithol any bird of prey, eg an owl or falcon. • raptorial /rapˈtɔːrɪəl/ adj 1 predatory. 2 adapted to predatory life. ⓘ 17c: Latin, meaning 'plunderer'.

rapture /ˈraptʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 great delight; ecstasy. 2 (raptures) great enthusiasm for or pleasure in something □ was in raptures about the concert. • rapturous adj. • rapturously adverb. ⓘ 17c: related to RAPT.

ra-ra skirt ▷ noun a very short gathered or pleated skirt, originally worn by cheerleaders. ⓘ Early 20c: probably from HURRAH.

rare[1] /rɛə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 not done, found or occurring very often; unusual. 2 same as RAREFIED. 3 excellent; unusually good □ rare talent. 4 colloq extreme; severe □ a rare old fright. 5 said of a gas or of high-altitude atmosphere, etc: rarefied; lacking the usual density. • rarely adverb 1 seldom; not often. 2 extremely well. • rareness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin rarus sparse.

rare[2] /rɛə(r)/ ▷ adj said of meat, especially a steak: only very lightly cooked, and often still bloody. Compare MEDIUM adj 3, WELL-DONE. ⓘ 18c: from Anglo-Saxon hrere lightly boiled.

rare bird ▷ noun, colloq an unusual or exceptional person or thing; a rarity.

rarebit see under WELSH RABBIT rare earth ▷ noun, chem 1 an oxide of a rare-earth element, any of a group of metallic elements (the lanthanide series) which are similar in chemical properties and very difficult to seperate. 2 now usually a rare-earth element itself.

rarefied /ˈrɛərɪfaɪd/ adj 1 said of the air, atmosphere, etc: thin; with a very low oxygen content. 2 refined; select;

Military Ranks

United Kingdom			USA
Army	Air Force	Navy	Army	Air Force	Navy
Field Marshal	Marshal of the Royal Air Force	Admiral of the Fleet	General of the Army	General of the Air Force	Fleet Admiral
General	Air Chief Marshal	Admiral	General	General	Admiral
Lieutenant-General	Air Marshal	Vice-Admiral	Lieutenant-General	Lieutenant-General	Vice-Admiral
Major-General	Air Vice-Marshal	Rear-Admiral	Major-General	Major-General	Rear-Admiral
Brigadier	Air Commodore	Commodore Admiral	Brigadier-General	Brigadier-General	Commodore Admiral
Colonel	Group Captain	Captain RN	Colonel	Colonel	Captain
Lieutenant-Colonel	Wing Commander	Commander	Lieutenant-Colonel	Lieutenant-Colonel	Commander
Major	Squadron Leader	Lieutenant Commander	Major	Major	Lieutenant-Commander
Captain	Flight Lieutenant	Lieutenant	Captain	Captain	Lieutenant
Lieutenant	Flying Officer	Sub-Lieutenant	First-Lieutenant	First-Lieutenant	Lieutenant Junior Grade
Second-Lieutenant	Pilot Officer	Midshipman	Second-Lieutenant	Second-Lieutenant	Ensign exclusive □ moves in rarefied circles. 3 esoteric; mysterious; spiritual.

rarefy /ˈrɛərɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (rarefies, rarefied, rarefying) 1 to make or become rarer, or less dense or solid. 2 to refine or purify. • rarefaction /-ˈfakʃən/ noun. • rarefactive adj. • rarefiable adj. ⓘ 14c: from French raréfier, from Latin rarefacere, from rarus rare + facere to make.

rare gas ▷ noun a NOBLE GAS.

raring /ˈrɛərɪŋ/ ▷ adj, colloq (chiefly raring to go) keen and enthusiastic; willing and very ready to do something. ⓘ Early 20c: related to REAR² rarity /ˈrɛərɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (rarities) 1 uncommonness. 2 something valued because it is rare.

RAS ▷ abbreviation Royal Astronomical Society.

rascal /ˈrɑːskəl/ ▷ noun 1 a dishonest person; a rogue. 2 humorous a fellow. 3 a cheeky or mischievous child. • rascal-like or rascally adj. ⓘ 14c: from French rascaille the rabble.

rase ▷ verb see RAZE

rash¹ ▷ adj 1 said of an action, etc: a over-hasty; reckless; b done without considering the consequences. 2 said of a person: lacking in caution; impetuous. • rashly adverb. • rashness noun. ⓘ 14c.

rash² ▷ noun 1 an outbreak of red spots or patches on the skin, usually either a symptom of an infectious disease such as measles or chickenpox, or of a skin allergy. 2 a large number of instances (of something happening) at the same time or in the same place □ a rash of burglaries. ⓘ 18c: from French rasche, from Latin radere to scratch or scrape.

rasher /ˈraʃə(r)/ ▷ noun a thin slice of bacon or ham. ⓘ 16c.

rasing see under RAZE

rasp¹ ▷ noun 1 a a coarse, rough file; b any tool with a similar surface. 2 a harsh, rough, grating sound or feeling. ▷ verb (rasped, rasping) 1 to scrape roughly, especially with a rasp. 2 to grate upon or irritate (eg someone's nerves). 3 to speak or utter in a harsh, grating voice. • rasping adj • raspingly adverb. • raspy adj. ⓘ 16c: from French rasper, to scrape.

rasp² /rɑːsp/ ▷ noun, colloq a RASPBERRY.

raspberry /ˈrɑːzbərɪ, -brɪ/ ▷ noun (raspberries) 1 the cone-shaped berry made up of several usually reddish, but also black or pale yellow, DRUPELETS each of which contains a single seed. 2 the plant which produces this berry, a deciduous shrub which has upright thorny CANES and is cultivated in Europe and N America. 3 a a sound expressing disapproval or contempt, made by blowing through the lips; b slang a refusal or a rebuke. ▷ adj 1 like the red colour of a raspberry, ie varying from pale to deep bluish-pink. 2 made with or from raspberries. • blow a raspberry to make a raspberry (sense 3a) sound. ⓘ 17c.

Rastafarian /rastəˈfɛərɪən/ and Rastaman ▷ noun a follower of an originally West Indian sect, which regards blacks as the chosen people, reveres Haile Selassie (1891–1975) the former Emperor of Ethiopia, as God. Often shortened to Rasta. ▷ adj (also Rastafari) relating to or characteristic of Rastafarians. • Rastafarianism noun. ⓘ 1960s: from Ras Tafari, the name and title of Haile Selassie.

raster /ˈrastə(r)/ ▷ noun, TV a complete set of scanning lines appearing at the receiver as a rectangular patch of light on which the image is reproduced. ⓘ 1930s German, meaning 'screen or frame'.

rat ▷ noun 1 any of various small rodents, similar to mice but larger, which are found worldwide in huge numbers, and are notorious pests and transmitters of disease. 2 any of various unrelated rodents that resemble this animal, eg kangaroo rat. 3 colloq someone who is disloyal towards their friends, political party, etc. 4 colloq a strike-breaker; a blackleg. 5 colloq a despicable person. ▷ verb (ratted, ratting) intr 1 to hunt or chase rats. 2 (usually rat on someone) colloq to betray their trust or desert them. 3 colloq to work as a blackleg. • ratter noun a dog or other animal that catches and kills rats. • smell a rat colloq to sense that something is not as it should be. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ræt.

ratability and ratable see under RATE ratafia /ratəˈfɪə/ ▷ noun 1 a flavouring essence made with the essential oil of almonds. 2 a cordial or liqueur flavoured with fruit kernels and almonds. 3 an almond-flavoured biscuit or small cake. ⓘ 17c: French.

ratan see RATTAN

ratarsed ▷ adj, slang extremely drunk.

rat-a-tat-tat ▷ noun a sound of knocking on a door. ⓘ 17c: imitating the sound of a series of knocks.

ratatouille /ratəˈtuːɪ/ ▷ noun a southern French vegetable dish made with tomatoes, peppers, courgettes, aubergines, onions and garlic simmered in olive oil. 19c: French, from touiller to stir.

ratbag ▷ noun, slang a mean, despicable person.

rat-catcher ▷ noun someone who eradicates rats and other vermin.

ratchet /ˈratʃɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a bar which fits into the notches of a toothed wheel so as to cause the wheel to turn in one direction only. 2 (also ratchet-wheel) a wheel with a toothed rim. 3 the mechanism of such a bar and toothed wheel together. ⓘ 17c: from French rochet a blunt head, eg of a lance.

rate¹ /reɪt/ ▷ noun 1 the number of times something happens, etc within a given period of time; the amount of something considered in relation to, or measured according to, another amount □ a high suicide rate □ at the rate of 40kph. 2 a a price or charge, often measured per unit □ the rate of pay for the job; b (rates) see separate entry. 3 a price or charge fixed according to a standard scale □ rate of exchange. 4 class or rank □ second-rate. 5 the speed of movement or change □ rate of progress. ▷ verb (rated, rating) 1 to give (a value) to something □ rate him number two in the world. 2 to be worthy of something; to deserve □ an answer that doesn't rate full marks. 3 intr (usually rate as something) to be placed in a certain class or rank □ rates as the best book on the subject. 4 in the UK until 1990: to determine the value of property for the purposes of assessing the RATES (sense 2) payable on it. • rateable or ratable see separate entries. • at any rate in any case; anyway. • at this or that rate if this or that is or continues to be the case. ⓘ 15c: from Latin rata, from reri to reckon.

rate² /reɪt/ ▷ verb (rated, rating) to scold or rebuke severely. ⓘ 14c.

rateable or ratable /ˈreɪtəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 a said of property: able to have its value assessed for the purpose of payment of RATES; b liable to payment of rates. 2 able to be rated or evaluated. • rateability or ratability /-ˈbɪlɪtɪ/ noun.

rateable value ▷ noun the assessed value of a property, used to calculate the RATES to be paid on it.

rate-cap ▷ verb (rate-capped, rate-capping) said of central government: to set an upper limit on the level of RATES that could be levied by a local authority. • rate-capping noun. See also CAP verb 5.

ratel /ˈreɪtəl/ ▷ noun a HONEY BADGER.

rate of reaction ▷ noun, chem the speed of a chemical reaction, usually expressed in terms of the concentrations of REACTANT consumed in a given time, or the rate at which the products are formed.

ratepayer ▷ noun, Brit a person or institution that would have paid local RATES.

rates /reɪts/ ▷ plural noun 1 (in full business rates) in the UK: a tax paid by a business, based on the assessed value of property and land owned or leased and collected by a local authority to pay for public services. 2 in the UK until 1990: a tax payable by each household and collected by a local authority to pay for public services based on the assessed value of their property, replaced by the COMMUNITY CHARGE and subsequently by the COUNCIL TAX.

ratfink /ˈratfɪŋk/ ▷ noun, derog slang, especially N Amer a mean, despicable or deceitful person.

rather /ˈrɑːðə(r)/ ▷ adverb 1 a more readily; more willingly; b in preference □ I'd rather go to the cinema than watch TV. 2 more truly or correctly □ my parents, or rather my mother and stepfather. 3 to a limited degree; slightly. 4 □ It's rather good. 5 on the contrary □ She said she'd help me; rather, she just sat around watching TV. ▷ exclamation yes indeed; very much □ Would you like a chocolate? Rather! ⓘ Anglo-Saxon hrathor.

ratification /ratɪfɪˈkeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of ratifying or being ratified. 2 confirmation; sanction.

ratify /ˈratɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (ratifies, ratified, ratifying) to give formal consent to (eg a treaty, agreement, etc), especially by signature. ⓘ 14c: from Latin ratificare.

rating /ˈreɪtɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 a classification according to order, rank or value. 2 Brit an ordinary seaman. 3 an estimated value of a person's position, especially as regards credit. 4 the proportion of viewers or listeners forming the estimated audience of a television or radio programme, used as a measure of that programme's popularity.

ratio /ˈreɪʃɪoʊ/ ▷ noun (ratios) 1 the number or degree of one class of things in relation to another, or between one thing and another, expressed as a proportion □ The ratio of dogs to cats is 5 to 3. 2 the number of times one mathematical quantity can be divided by another. ⓘ 17c: from Latin ratio reckoning, from reri, ratus to think.

ration /ˈraʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a fixed allowance of food, clothing, petrol, etc, during a time of war or shortage. 2 (rations) a daily allowance of food, especially in the army. ▷ verb (rationed, rationing) 1 (often ration something out) to distribute or share it out (especially when it is in short supply), usually in fixed amounts. 2 to restrict the supply of provisions to someone. ● rationing noun 1 supplying rations. 2 dividing into rations. ⓘ 18c; 16c in obsolete sense 'ratio': French, from Latin ratio reason.

rational /ˈraʃənl/ ▷ adj 1 related to or based on reason or logic. 2 able to think, form opinions, make judgements, etc. 3 sensible; reasonable. 4 sane. 5 math said of a quantity, ratio, root: able to be expressed as a ratio of whole numbers. ● rationality /raʃəˈnalɪtɪ/ noun 1 being rational. 2 the possession or due exercise of reason. 3 reasonableness. ● rationally adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin rationalis, from ratio reason.

rationale /raʃəˈnɑːl/ ▷ noun the underlying principles or reasons on which a decision, belief, action, etc is based. ⓘ 17c: from Latin rationalis rational.

rational horizon see HORIZON sense 2

rationalism ▷ noun the theory that an individual's actions and beliefs should be based on reason rather than on intuition or the teachings of others. ● rationalist noun someone who forms opinions by reasoning. ● rationalistic adj ● rationalistically adverb.

rationality see under RATIONAL rationalize or rationalise ▷ verb (rationalized, rationalizing) 1 to attribute (one's behaviour or attitude) to sensible, well-thought-out reasons or motives, especially after the event. 2 intr to explain one's behaviour, etc in this way. 3 to make something logical or rational. 4 to make (an industry or organization) more efficient and profitable by reorganizing it to get rid of unnecessary costs and labour. ● rationalization /-ˈzeɪʃən/ noun.

rational number ▷ noun, math any number able to be expressed as a fraction in the form $^m/_n$, where m and n are integers, and n is not equal to zero, eg $^1/_3$. Compare IRRATIONAL NUMBER.

ration book and ration card ▷ noun a book or card containing coupons which can be exchanged for rationed goods.

ratpack ▷ noun, slang 1 a rowdy gang of young people. 2 a group of photographers, especially from tabloid newspapers, who follow and photograph famous people.

rat race ▷ noun, colloq the fierce, unending competition for success, wealth, etc in business, society, etc.

rattan or ratan /rəˈtan/ ▷ noun 1 a climbing palm with very long thin tough stems. 2 a cane made from the stem of this palm. 3 the stems collectively as WICKERWORK. ⓘ 17c: from Malay rotan.

ratted, ratter and ratting see under RAT rattier and rattiest see under RATTY rattle /ˈratəl/ ▷ verb (rattled, rattling) 1 intr to make a series of short sharp hard sounds in quick succession. 2 to cause (eg crockery) to make such a noise. 3 intr to move along rapidly, often with a rattling noise. 4 intr (usually rattle on) to chatter thoughtlessly or idly. 5 colloq to make someone anxious or nervous; to upset them. ▷ noun 1 a series of short sharp sounds made in quick succession that gives the effect of a continuous sound. 2 a baby's toy made of a container filled with small pellets which rattle when it is shaken. 3 a device for making a whirring sound, used especially at football matches. 4 the loose horny structures at the end of a rattlesnake's tail, which produce a rattling sound when vibrated. 5 lively, empty chatter. 6 the rough harsh breathing sound caused by air passing through mucus in the back of the throat. ⓘ 14c.

■ rattle something off or rattle through something to say, recite or write it rapidly and unthinkingly.

rattler ▷ noun, colloq a rattlesnake.

rattlesnake ▷ noun any of several species of poisonous American snakes of the pit viper family, that gives birth to live young, and, if threatened, vibrates a series of dry horny structures at the end of its tail, producing a characteristic rattling sound.

rattletrap ▷ noun, colloq a broken-down rickety old vehicle, especially a car.

rattling colloq old use ▷ adj, adverb 1 smart or smartly. 2 brisk or briskly. 3 as a general intensifying word: good or well; very □ told us a rattling good yarn.

rattly ▷ adj (rattlier, rattliest) making a rattling noise; often rattling.

ratty ▷ adj (rattier, rattiest) 1 relating to or like a rat. 2 colloq irritable.

raucous /ˈrɔːkəs/ ▷ adj said of a sound, especially a voice, shout, etc: hoarse; harsh. ● raucously adverb. ● raucousness noun. ⓘ 18c: from Latin raucus hoarse.

raunchy /ˈrɔːntʃɪ/ ▷ adj (raunchier, raunchiest) colloq coarsely or openly sexual; lewd or smutty. ● raunchily adverb. ● raunchiness noun. ⓘ 1960s.

rauwolfia /rɔːˈwʊlfɪə/ ▷ noun any of various tropical trees and shrubs with clusters of white flowers and red or black berries, some of which were the natural basis for psychotropic drugs, including RESERPINE. ⓘ 18c: named after German physician and botanist Leonard Rauwolf (died 1596).

ravage /ˈravɪdʒ/ ▷ verb (ravaged, ravaging) tr & intr to cause extensive damage to a place; to destroy it. ▷ noun (usually ravages) damage or destruction □ the ravages of time. ⓘ 17c: from French ravir to ravish.

rave /reɪv/ ▷ verb (raved, raving) 1 intr to talk wildly as if mad or delirious. 2 intr (usually rave about or over something) to talk enthusiastically or passionately about it. ▷ noun, colloq 1 extravagant praise. 2 a RAVE-UP. 3 a gathering of lots of people in a large warehouse or open-air venue such as a field, etc for dancing to eg techno or acid-house music, etc where little alcohol is drunk but recreational drugs are usually available. ▷ adj, colloq extremely enthusiastic □ rave reviews. 14c.

ravel /'ravəl/ ▷ verb (ravelled, ravelling; US raveled, raveling) 1 tr & intr to tangle or become tangled up. 2 (usually ravel something out) a to untangle, unravel or untwist it; b to resolve it; to explain it or make it clear. 3 intr to fray. ▷ noun 1 a tangle or knot. 2 a complication. 3 a loose or broken thread. • ravelling noun. ⓘ 16c: perhaps from Dutch ravelen to tangle.

ravelin /'ravlɪn/ ▷ noun, fortification a detached work with two embankments raised before the counterscarp. ⓘ 16c: French.

raven /'reɪvən/ ▷ noun a large blue-black bird of the crow family. ▷ adj glossy blue-black in colour □ raven-haired. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon hræfn.

ravening /'ravənɪŋ/ ▷ adj said especially of meat-eating animals: hungrily seeking food. ⓘ 16c: from raven to devour or hunt for food.

ravenous /'ravənəs/ ▷ adj 1 extremely hungry or greedy. 2 said of hunger, a desire, etc: intensely strong. 3 said of an animal, etc: living on prey; predatory. • ravenously adverb. • ravenousness noun. ⓘ 15c: see RAVENING.

raver /'reɪvə(r)/ ▷ noun, colloq 1 someone who leads a full, very lively and often wild social life. 2 someone who attends a RAVE (sense 3).

rave-up ▷ noun, colloq a lively party or celebration.

ravine /rə'viːn/ ▷ noun a deep narrow steep-sided gorge. ⓘ 15c: from French ravine a violent rush (of water).

raving /'reɪvɪŋ/ ▷ verb, present participle of RAVE. ▷ adj ▷ adverb 1 frenzied; delirious. 2 colloq great; extreme □ a raving beauty. ▷ noun (usually ravings) wild, frenzied or delirious talk.

ravioli /ravɪ'oʊlɪ/ ▷ singular or plural noun small square pasta cases with a savoury filling of meat, cheese, etc. ⓘ 19c: Italian.

ravish /'ravɪʃ/ ▷ verb 1 to overwhelm someone with joy, delight, etc; to enrapture. 2 to rape someone. • ravishing adj delightful; lovely; very attractive. • ravishingly adverb delightfully.

raw /rɔː/ ▷ adj 1 said of meat, vegetables, etc: not cooked. 2 not processed, purified or refined □ raw silk. 3 said of alcoholic spirit: undiluted. 4 said of statistics, data, etc: not analysed. 5 said of a person: not trained or experienced. 6 said of a wound, etc: with a sore, inflamed surface. 7 said of the weather: cold and damp. 8 said of an edge of material: not finished off and so liable to fray. 9 particularly sensitive □ touched a raw nerve. ▷ noun a sore, inflamed or sensitive place. • rawness noun. • in the raw 1 in a natural or crude state. 2 colloq naked. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon hreaw.

rawboned ▷ adj lean and gaunt.

raw deal ▷ noun, colloq harsh, unfair treatment.

rawhide ▷ noun 1 untanned leather. 2 a whip made from this.

raw material ▷ noun 1 any substance, in its natural unprocessed state, that serves as the starting point for a production or manufacturing process. 2 material out of which something is or can be made, or may develop.

raw sienna see SIENNA.

raw umber ▷ noun untreated umber.

ray¹ /reɪ/ ▷ noun 1 a narrow beam of light or radioactive particles. 2 any of a set of lines fanning out from a central point. 3 a small amount of or the beginnings of something, especially hope or understanding. 4 any of the set of spines which support a fish's fin. ▷ verb (rayed, raying) 1 tr & intr to radiate. 2 to provide something with rays. ⓘ 14c: from French rai, from Latin radius rod.

ray² /reɪ/ ▷ noun any of numerous cartilaginous fish, related to the sharks, with a flattened body, large pectoral fins extending from the head to the base of the tail, and both eyes on the upper surface, eg stingray, manta ray, sawfish. ⓘ 14c: from French raie, from Latin raia.

ray³ or re /reɪ/ ▷ noun, music in sol-fa notation: the second note of the major scale. ⓘ 14c: see SOL-FA.

Ray-Bans ▷ plural noun, trademark a type of designer sunglasses with the manufacturer's name on the legs. Also (Ray-Ban) as adj □ Ray-Ban shades.

ray-gun ▷ noun especially in science fiction: a gun that fires destructive rays, used as a weapon.

Raynaud's disease /'reɪnoʊz —/ ▷ noun, medicine a disorder in which (usually in response to exposure to cold, or emotional stress) the fingers, toes, ears and nose turn white or develop a bluish tinge as a result of spasm of the arteries supplying the affected parts. ⓘ 19c: named after the French physician Maurice Raynaud (1834–81).

rayon /'reɪɒn/ ▷ noun a strong, durable, easily dyed artificial fibre consisting of regenerated cellulose that has been spun into filaments. It is used to make textiles for clothing, conveyer belts, hoses, etc. ⓘ 1920s: from RAY¹.

raze or rase /reɪz/ (razed, razing; rased, rasing) ▷ verb (usually raze something to the ground) 1 to destroy or demolish (buildings, a town, etc) completely. 2 to lay (a building) level with the ground. • razed adj. ⓘ 16c: from French raser, from Latin radere to scrape.

> raze
>
> There is often a spelling confusion between raze and raise.

razoo /rɑː'zuː/ ▷ noun (razoos) Austral & NZ colloq, with negatives an imaginary coin of insignificant value □ I don't have a brass razoo. ⓘ 1930s.

razor /'reɪzə(r)/ ▷ noun a sharp-edged instrument used for shaving. ▷ verb 1 to use a razor on something or someone. 2 to shave or cut, especially closely. ⓘ 13c: from French rasour, from raser to shave.

razorbill ▷ noun a type of seabird with a sharp-edged bill.

razor edge ▷ noun 1 a very fine sharp edge. 2 colloq a critical delicately balanced situation.

razor shell ▷ noun a burrowing marine bivalve with two similar elongated shell valves, the two halves of the shell being closed by two muscles.

razor wire ▷ noun thick wire with sharp pieces of metal attached, used like barbed wire for fences, etc.

razzle /'razəl/ ▷ noun, slang (often on the razzle) a lively spree, outing or party, especially involving a lot of drinking □ He's out on the razzle again tonight. ⓘ Early 20c: from RAZZLE-DAZZLE.

razzle-dazzle /'razəldazəl/ ▷ noun, slang 1 excitement, confusion, dazzling show, etc. 2 a lively spree. ⓘ 19c: reduplication of DAZZLE.

razzmatazz /razmə'taz, 'razmətaz/ ▷ noun 1 razzle-dazzle. 2 humbug. ⓘ 19c.

Rb ▷ symbol, chem rubidium.

RC ▷ abbreviation 1 Red Cross. 2 IVR Republic of China, Taiwan. 3 Roman Catholic.

RCA ▷ abbreviation 1 Radio Corporation of America. 2 IVR: République Centafricaine (French), Central African Republic. 3 Royal Canadian Academy. 4 Royal College of Art.

RCAF ▷ abbreviation Royal Canadian Air Force.

RCB ▷ abbreviation, IVR Republic of the Congo (Brazzaville).

RCH ▷ abbreviation, IVR Republic of Chile.

RCM ▷ abbreviation Royal College of Music.

RCMP ▷ abbreviation Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

RCN ▷ abbreviation Royal Canadian Navy.

RCOG ▷ abbreviation Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists.

RCP ▷ abbreviation Royal College of Physicians.

RCR ▷ abbreviation Royal College of Radiologists.

RCS ▷ abbreviation 1 Royal College of Science. 2 Royal College of Surgeons. 3 Royal Corps of Signals.

RCT ▷ abbreviation Royal Corps of Transport.

RCVS ▷ abbreviation Royal College of Veterinary Surgeons.

RD ▷ abbreviation 1 written on a returned bank cheque: refer to drawer. 2 Rural Dean.

Rd ▷ abbreviation used in street names: Road.

rd ▷ abbreviation rutherford.

RDA ▷ abbreviation recommended daily (or dietary) allowance, the daily amount of essential nutrient, ie vitamins, protein, etc, needed to meet a normal healthy person's nutritional requirements.

RDF ▷ abbreviation refuse-derived fuel.

RE ▷ abbreviation, religious education.

Re ▷ symbol, chem rhenium.

re[1] /reɪ/ ▷ prep with regard to; concerning □ re: your letter of 18th. ⓘ 18c: from Latin res thing.

re[2] see RAY[2]

re- ▷ prefix 1 denoting motion backwards or away, withdrawal, reversal, etc □ recede □ recant. 2 denoting again, or again and in a different way □ reread □ rewrite. ⓘ Latin.

're /ə(r)/ ▷ verb short form of ARE[1]. □ We're going to Paris.

reach /riːtʃ/ ▷ verb (reaches, reached, reaching) 1 to arrive at or get as far as (a place, position, etc). 2 tr & intr to be able to touch or get hold of something. 3 tr & intr to project or extend to a point. 4 intr (usually reach across, out, up, etc) to stretch out one's arm to try to touch or get hold of something. 5 colloq to hand or pass something to someone □ reach me that CD. 6 to make contact or communicate with someone, especially by telephone □ I couldn't reach her. ▷ noun 1 the distance one can stretch one's arm, hand, etc □ out of reach. 2 a distance that can be travelled easily □ within reach of London. 3 an act of reaching out. 4 range of influence, power, understanding or abilities. 5 (usually reaches) a section within clear limits, eg part of a river or canal between two bends or locks. 6 (usually reaches) level or rank □ the upper reaches of government. • reachable adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ræcan.

reach-me-down ▷ noun a second-hand or ready-made item of clothing.

react /rɪ'akt/ ▷ verb (reacted, reacting) 1 intr a (chiefly react to something or someone) to act in response to something said or done, or to another person; b loosely to act or behave. 2 intr (usually react against something) a to respond to it in a way which shows dislike or disapproval; b to act in a contrary or opposing way. 3 intr,

Some words with re- prefixed, all of which refer to RE- sense 2.

reaccustom verb.
reacquaint verb.
reacquaintance noun.
reacquire verb.
readapt verb.
readaptation noun.
readdress verb.
readjust verb.
readjustment noun.
readmission noun.
readmit verb.
readmittance noun.
readopt verb.
readoption noun.
readvance noun, verb.
readvertise verb.
readvertisement noun.
readvise verb.
reaffirm verb.
reaffirmation noun.
realign verb.
realignment noun.
reallocate verb.
reallocation noun.
reallot verb.
reallotment noun.
reanimate verb.
reanimation noun.
reappear verb, intr.
reappearance noun.
reapplication noun.
reapply verb.
reappoint verb.
reappointment noun.
reapportion verb.
reapportionment noun.
reappraisal noun.
reappraise verb.
rearrange verb.
rearrangement noun.
rearrest verb, noun.
reassemble verb.
reassembly noun.
reassert verb.
reassertion noun.
reassess verb.
reassessment noun.
reassign verb.
reassignment noun.
reassume verb.
reassumption noun.
reattach verb.
reattachment noun.
reattain verb.
reattempt verb, noun.
reawake verb.
reawaken verb.
reawakening noun.
rebaptism noun.
rebaptize or rebaptise verb.
rebid verb, noun.
rebroadcast verb, noun.
rebuild verb.
reburial noun.
rebury verb.
rebutton verb.
recalculate verb.
recapitalization or recapitalisation noun.
recapitalize or recapitalise verb.
recast verb, noun.
recentre verb.
recharge verb.
rechargeable adj.
recheck verb, noun.
rechristen verb.
recirculate verb.
reclassification noun.
reclassify verb.
reclimb verb.
reclothe verb.
recolonization or recolonisation noun.
recolonize or recolonise verb.
recombine verb.
recommence verb.
recommencement noun.
recommit verb.
recommitment noun.
recommital noun.
reconfirm verb.
reconfirmation noun.
reconnect verb.
reconnection noun.
reconquer verb.
reconquest noun.

physics to exert an equal force in the opposite direction. 4 tr & intr, chem to undergo or cause to undergo chemical change produced by a REAGENT. 5 intr, stock exchange said of share prices: to fall sharply after a rise. ⓒ 17c: from Latin reagere, reactum, from agere to do or act.

re-act ▷ verb to act (a scene, line, etc) again.

reactance /rɪ'aktəns/ ▷ noun, elec in an electric circuit carrying alternating current: the property of an INDUCTOR or CAPACITOR that causes it to oppose the flow of current. Compare IMPEDANCE. ⓒ 19c.

reactant /rɪ'aktənt/ ▷ noun, chem a substance which takes part in a chemical reaction. ⓒ 1920s.

reaction /rɪ'akʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a response to stimulus. 2 an action or change in the opposite direction. 3 a complete change of opinions, feelings, etc to the opposite of what they were □ The idea was popular at first but then a reaction set in. 4 a response which shows how someone feels or thinks about something □ What was his reaction to the news? 5 opposition to change, especially political change, reform, etc, and a tendency to revert to a former system, or state of affairs. 6 physiol a physical or mental effect caused by eg a drug, medicines, etc. 7 chem a a chemical process in which the electrons surrounding the nuclei in the atoms of one or more elements or compounds (REACTANTS) react to form one or more new compounds or products (see PRODUCT sense 4); b chemical change. 8 physics a nuclear reaction involving a change in an atomic nucleus, eg radioactive decay, nuclear fission, nuclear fusion. 9 physics the force offered by a body that is equal in magnitude but opposite in direction to the force applied to it. 10 stock exchange a sharp fall, in share prices, etc, after a rise. ● reactional adj. ⓒ 17c: from REACT.

reactionary /rɪ'akʃənərɪ, -ʃənrɪ/ and reactionist /rɪ'akʃənɪst/ ▷ adj said of a person or policies: relating to or characterized by reaction, especially against radical social or political change, reform, etc, and in favour of reverting to a former system or state of affairs. ▷ noun (reactionaries or reactionists) someone who holds such political or social views. ● reactionism noun. ⓒ Mid 19c.

reactivate /rɪ'aktɪveɪt/ ▷ verb (reactivated, reactivating) to make something active again. ● reactivation /rɪaktɪ'veɪʃən/ noun. ⓒ Early 20c.

reactive /rɪ'aktɪv/ ▷ adj showing a reaction; liable to react; sensitive to stimuli.

reactor /rɪ'aktə(r)/ ▷ noun a NUCLEAR REACTOR.

read /riːd/ verb (read /rɛd/, reading) 1 to look at and understand (printed or written words). 2 to speak (words which are printed or written). 3 to learn or gain knowledge of something by reading □ read the election results in the newspaper. 4 intr to pass one's leisure time reading books, especially for pleasure □ She doesn't read much. 5 to look at or be able to see something and get information from it □ cannot read the clock without my glasses. 6 to interpret or understand the meaning of something other than writing, eg a map, a compass, the clouds, etc □ read a map. 7 to interpret or understand (signs, marks, etc) without using one's eyes □ read Braille. 8 to know (a language) well enough to be able to understand something written in it □ speaks Chinese but cannot read it. 9 intr to have a certain wording □ The letter reads as follows. 10 tr & intr to think that (a statement,

Some words with re- prefixed, all of which refer to RE- sense 2.

reconsecrate verb.
reconsecration noun.
reconsign verb.
reconsignment noun.
reconsolidate verb.
reconsolidation noun.
recontinue verb.
reconvene verb.
reconvey verb.
reconvict verb.
reconviction noun.
reconvert verb. reconversion noun.
recross verb.
redeal verb, noun.
redecorate verb.
redefine verb.
redesign verb.
redial verb.
redirect verb.
rediscount verb, noun.
rediscover verb.
rediscovery noun.
redistribute verb.
redistribution noun.
redraw verb.
redrive verb.
re-elect verb.
re-election noun.
re-embark verb.
re-embarkation noun.
re-emerge verb, intr.
re-emergence noun.
re-emergent adj.
re-emphasize or re-emphasise verb.
re-enact verb.
re-enactment noun.
re-endorse verb.
re-endorsement noun.
re-engage verb.
re-engagement noun.
re-enlist verb.
re-enlistment noun.
re-equip verb.
re-erect verb.
re-erection noun.
re-establish verb.
re-establishment noun.
re-examination noun.
re-examine verb.
re-export verb, noun.
re-exportation noun.
refashion verb.
refloat verb.
reflower verb, intr.
reflowering noun.
refocus verb.
reformat verb.
reformulate verb.
reframe verb.
refreeze verb.
refurnish verb.
regrade verb.
regrind verb.
regroup verb.
regrow verb.
regrowth noun.
rehear verb.
rehearing noun.
reimport verb.
reinhabit verb.
reinsert verb.
reinsertion noun.
reinsure verb.
reintegrate verb.
reinterpret verb.
reinterpretation noun.
reinterpretative adj.
reintroduce verb.
reintroduction noun.
reissuable adj.
reissue verb, noun.
reinvent verb.
reinvest verb.
reinvigorate verb.
rekey verb.
rekindle verb.
relabel verb.
relearn verb.
relet verb.
relight verb.
reline verb.
reload verb.
rematch noun.
remarriage noun.

etc) has a particular meaning □ read it as criticism. 11 intr said of writing: to convey meaning in a specified way □ an essay which reads well □ reads badly. 12 said of a dial, instrument, etc: to show a particular measurement □ The barometer reads 'fair'. 13 to replace (a word, phrase, etc) by another □ for 'three' read 'four'. 14 to put into a specified condition by reading □ She read the child to sleep. 15 to study (a subject) at university. 16 to hear and understand, especially when using two-way radio □ Do you read me? ▷ noun 1 a period or act of reading. 2 a book, magazine, etc considered in terms of how readable it is □ a good read. ● read between the lines to perceive a meaning which is implied but not stated. ● take something as read /rɛd/ to accept or assume it. ● well or widely read /rɛd/ educated, especially in literature, through reading. ◎ Anglo-Saxon rædan.

■ read something into something to find something in a person's writing, words, actions, etc (a meaning which is not stated clearly or made obvious and which may not have been intended).

■ read something in or out computing to transfer data from a disk or other storage device into the main memory of a computer.

■ read something off from something to take (figures, etc) as a reading from an instrument, database etc □ read off the net profits from the speadsheet.

■ read something out to read it aloud.

■ read up on something to learn a subject by reading books about it.

readable /ˈriːdəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 legible; able to be read. 2 pleasant or quite interesting to read. ● readability /riːdəˈbɪlɪtɪ/ or readableness noun.

reader /ˈriːdə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone who reads. 2 Brit a university lecturer of a rank between professor and senior lecturer. 3 someone who reads prayers in a church. See also LAY READER. 4 a book containing short texts, used for learning to read or for learning a foreign language □ a German reader. 5 someone who reads and reports on manuscripts for a publisher. 6 someone who reads and corrects proofs. 7 computing a a machine which produces a magnified image from a microfilm so that it can be read; a READING-MACHINE (sense 1); b a DOCUMENT READER.

readership ▷ noun 1 the total number of people who read a newspaper, the novels of a particular author, etc □ has a readership of several thousand. 2 Brit the post of reader in a university.

readier, readiest, readily, readiness, etc see under READY.

reading /ˈriːdɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 the action of someone who reads. 2 the ability to read □ his reading is poor. Also as adj □ reading age □ reading glasses. 3 any book, printed material, etc that can be read. 4 an event at which a play, poetry, etc is read to an audience. 5 Brit politics any one of the three stages (the first reading, second reading or third reading) in the passage of a bill through Parliament, when it is respectively introduced, discussed, remarry verb.

Some words with re- prefixed, all of which refer to re- sense 2.

remeasure verb.
remeasurement noun.
remilitarization or remilitarisation noun.
remilitarize or remilitarise verb.
remodel verb.
remodification noun.
remodify verb.
remoralize or remoralise verb.
remoralization or remoralisation noun.
remortgage verb.
rename verb.
renegotiable adj.
renegotiate verb.
renegotiation noun.
renominate verb.
renomination noun.
renotification noun.
renotify verb.
renumber verb.
reoccupation noun.
reoccupy verb.
reoccur verb, intr.
reoccurrence noun.
reoffend verb, intr.
reorder verb.
reorganization or reorganisation noun.
reorganize or reorganise verb.
reorient verb.
reorientate verb.
reorientation noun.
repack verb.
repaper verb.
repeople verb.
replan verb.
replant verb.
repopulate verb.
reposition verb.
repot verb.
repotting noun.
reprogramme verb.
republication noun.
republish verb.
repurchase verb, noun.
requote verb
reread verb.
reregulate verb.
reregulation noun.
re-revise verb.
re-roof verb.
resay verb.
reseal verb.
resealable adj.
reselect verb.
reselection noun.
resell verb.
resentence verb.
resettle verb.
resettlement noun.
reshape verb.
resite verb.
resole verb.
respell verb.
restaff verb.
restage verb.
restart verb, noun.
restate verb.
restatement noun.
restock verb.
restring verb.
restructure verb.
restyle verb.
resubmit verb.
resupply verb.
resurface verb.
resurvey verb, noun.
resynchronization or resynchronisation noun.
resynchronize or resynchronise verb.
retie verb.
retile verb.
retitle verb.
retune verb.
returf verb.
re-type verb.
reupholster verb.
reusable adj.
reuse verb, noun.
revarnish verb.
revictual verb.
revisit verb, noun.
rewash verb.
reweigh verb.
rewrap verb.

and reported on by a committee. 6 the actual word or words that can be read in a text, especially where more than one version is possible □ one of many disputed readings in the Bible. 7 information, figures, etc shown by an instrument or meter □ thermometer reading. 8 an understanding or interpretation of something written or said, or of circumstances, etc □ her reading of the situation. 9 knowledge gained from having read books. ▷ adj fond of or addicted to reading □ the reading public.

reading age ▷ noun the reading ability, especially of a child, calculated by comparison with the average ability at a certain age.

reading-book ▷ noun a book of exercises in reading, especially for a child who is learning to read.

reading-desk ▷ noun a desk for holding a book or paper while it is read; a lectern.

reading-lamp ▷ noun a lamp for reading by.

reading-machine ▷ noun, computing a DOCUMENT READER.

reading matter ▷ noun printed material, especially books, magazines, etc □ get some reading-matter for the train.

reading-room ▷ noun 1 a room, usually in a public building, where books, newspapers, etc may be consulted, read or studied. 2 a proof-reader's room.

read-only memory see ROM.

read-out ▷ noun, computing 1 the act of copying data from the main memory of a computer into an external storage device, eg a disk or tape, or a display device, eg a VDU or plotter. 2 data that has been copied in this way. Compare PRINTOUT.

read-write head see under DISK DRIVE.

read-write memory ▷ noun, computing a computer memory which allows data to be both read and changed.

ready /ˈrɛdɪ/ ▷ adj (readier, readiest) 1 prepared and available for use or action. 2 willing; eager □ always ready to help. 3 prompt; quick, usually too quick □ He's always ready to find fault. 4 likely or about to □ a plant just ready to flower. ▷ noun (readies) colloq short form of READY MONEY. ▷ adverb prepared or made beforehand □ ready cooked meals. ▷ verb (readies, readied, readying) to make ready; to prepare. • readily adverb willingly; quickly and without difficulty. • readiness noun. • at the ready 1 said of a gun: aimed and ready to be fired. 2 ready for immediate action. • ready, steady, go or ready, get set, go a formulaic expression used to start a race. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon raede.

ready-made or ready-to-wear ▷ adj 1 said of clothes: made to a standard size, not made-to-measure. 2 convenient; useful □ a ready-made excuse. 3 hackneyed; unoriginal. ▷ noun an article, especially an article of clothing, that is ready-made.

ready money ▷ noun, colloq money at hand, especially bank notes, for immediate use; cash. Often shortened to readies.

ready reckoner ▷ noun a book of tables used as an aid in making calculations, especially working out interest, or the value of so many items at so much each, etc.

reafforest /riːəˈfɒrəst, -rɪst/ ▷ verb (reafforested, reafforesting) to replant trees in a cleared area of land that was formerly forested. • reafforestation /riːəfɒrəˈsteɪʃən/ noun.

Reaganomics /reɪgəˈnɒmɪks/ ▷ singular noun the economic practice of cutting taxes to stimulate production, as advocated by Ronald Reagan, US President 1981–9.

reagent /riːˈeɪdʒənt/ ▷ noun, chem 1 any chemical compound that participates in a chemical reaction. 2 a common laboratory chemical with characteristic reactions, used in chemical analysis and experiments, eg hydrochloric acid, sodium hydroxide. • reagency noun. ⓘ 19c: from Latin reagere to REACT.

real[1] /rɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 actually or physically existing; not imaginary. 2 actual; true □ the real reason. 3 not imitation; genuine; authentic □ real leather. 4 a great, important or serious; b deserving to be so called □ a real problem. 5 law consisting of or relating to immoveable property, such as land and houses. See also REAL ESTATE. 6 said of income, etc: measured in terms of its buying power rather than its nominal value □ in real terms. 7 math involving or containing only REAL NUMBERS. ▷ adverb, N Amer, Scot really; very □ real nice. • reality and really see separate entries. • realness noun. • for real slang in reality; seriously. • get real! originally N Amer slang, usually exclamation be realistic! • the real McCoy see under McCOY. ⓘ 15c: from French réel, from Latin realis, from res thing.

real[2] /reɪˈɑːl/ ▷ noun (reals or reales) historical a small silver Spanish or Spanish-American coin. ⓘ 17c: Spanish, from Latin regalis royal.

real ale ▷ noun ale or beer which is allowed to continue to ferment and mature in the cask after brewing and so is thought of as more traditional.

real estate see under REAL PROPERTY.

realgar /rɪˈalgə(r), -gɑː(r)/ ▷ noun a bright red MONOCLINIC mineral, arsenic monosulphide. ⓘ 14c: Latin, from Arabic rahj al-ghar arsenic, literally 'powder of the mine'.

realise see REALIZE.

realism /ˈrɪəlɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 the tendency to consider, accept or deal with things as they really are. 2 a style in art, literature, etc that represents things in a realistic or lifelike way. 3 philos the theory that physical objects continue to exist even when they are not perceived by the mind. • realist noun. ⓘ 19c: from REAL[1].

realistic /rɪəˈlɪstɪk/ ▷ adj 1 showing awareness or acceptance of things as they really are. 2 representing things as they actually are; lifelike. 3 relating to realism or realists. • realistically adverb. ⓘ 19c.

reality /rɪˈalɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (realities) 1 the state or fact of being real. 2 the real nature of something; the truth. 3 something which is real or actual and not imaginary. • in reality as a fact, often as distinct from a thought or idea; actually. ⓘ 15c: from French réalité, from Latin realitas, from realis REAL[1].

realize or realise /ˈrɪəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (realized, realizing) 1 to become aware of something; to know or understand it □ realize the danger. 2 to make something real; to make something come true; to accomplish □ realize my ambitions. 3 to make something real or appear real. 4 to cause something to seem real; to act something out □ realize the story on film. 5 to convert (property or goods) into money. 6 to make (a sum of money) □ realized £45 000 on the sale of the house. • realizable adj. • realizably adverb. • realization noun. • realizer noun. ⓘ 17c: from REAL.

real life ▷ noun everyday life as it is lived by ordinary people, as opposed to a more glamorous, fictional life □ It wouldn't happen in real life.

really /ˈrɪəlɪ/ ▷ adverb 1 actually; in fact. 2 very; genuinely □ a really lovely day. ▷ exclamation expressing surprise, doubt or mild protest.

realm /rɛlm/ ▷ noun 1 a kingdom. 2 a domain, province or region. 3 a field of interest, study or activity. • realmless adj. ⓘ 13c: from French realme, ultimately from Latin regalis royal.

the real McCoy see McCOY.

real number ▷ noun, math any rational or irrational number.

realpolitik /reɪˈɑːlpɒlɪtɪk/ ▷ noun practical politics based on the realities and necessities of life rather than on moral or ethical ideas. ◎ Early 20c: German, meaning 'politics of realism'.

real property ▷ noun immoveable property, such as houses or land. Also (N Amer) called real estate, realty /ˈrɪəltɪ/. See also PERSONAL PROPERTY.

real tennis ▷ noun an early form of tennis played on a walled indoor court. Also called royal tennis. Compare LAWN TENNIS.

the real thing ▷ noun the genuine thing, not a cheap imitation.

real time ▷ noun the actual time during which an event takes place, especially a period which is analyzed by a computer as it happens, the data produced during it being processed as it is generated. Chiefly as modifier (real-time) □ real-time processing.

realtor or Realtor /ˈrɪəltə(r)/ ▷ noun, N Amer an estate agent, especially one who is a member of the National Association of Realtors. ◎ Early 20c: from REALTY.

realty see under REAL ESTATE

ream[1] /riːm/ ▷ noun 1 (abbreviation rm) printing a number of sheets of paper equivalent to 20 QUIREs, formerly 480 (a short ream), now usually 500 (a long ream) or 516 (a printer's ream). 2 (reams) colloq a large quantity, especially of paper or writing □ wrote reams. ◎ 14c: from French reame, from Arabic rizmah bale.

ream[2] /riːm/ ▷ verb (reamed, reaming) to enlarge the bore of something. ● reamer noun a rotating instrument for enlarging, shaping or finishing a bore. ◎ 19c.

reap /riːp/ ▷ verb (reaped, reaping) 1 to cut or gather (grain, etc); to harvest. 2 to clear (a field) by cutting a crop. 3 to receive something (especially an advantage or benefit) as a consequence of one's actions. ◎ Anglo-Saxon ripan.

reaper ▷ noun 1 someone who reaps. 2 a reaping-machine. 3 (the reaper or the grim reaper) death.

reaping-hook ▷ noun a sickle.

rear[1] /rɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the back part; the area at the back. 2 said of an army, fleet, etc: the part which is farthest away from the enemy. 3 a position behind or to the back. 4 colloq the buttocks. ▷ adj situated or positioned at the back □ rear window. ● bring up the rear to come last (in a procession, etc). ◎ 17c: see also ARREARS.

rear[2] /rɪə(r)/ ▷ verb (reared, rearing) 1 to feed, care for and educate (children); to bring up (children). 2 a to breed (animals); b to grow (crops). 3 to build or erect something. 4 intr (often rear up) said of an animal, especially a horse: to rise up on the hind legs. 5 intr said especially of tall buildings: to reach a great height, especially in relation to surroundings. ◎ Anglo-Saxon ræran.

rear admiral ▷ noun a naval officer. See table at RANK[1].

rearguard /ˈrɪəɡɑːd/ ▷ noun a group of soldiers who protect the rear of an army, especially in retreats. ◎ 15c: from French rereguarde.

rearguard action ▷ noun 1 military action undertaken by the rearguard. 2 an effort to prevent or delay defeat, eg in an argument.

rear lamp and rear light ▷ noun a light attached to the back of a vehicle.

rearm /riːˈɑːm/ ▷ verb (rearmed, rearming) to arm again; to arm with new or improved weapons. ● rearmament noun. ◎ 19c.

rearmost /ˈrɪəmoʊst/ ▷ adj last of all; nearest the back.

rear-view mirror ▷ noun a mirror attached to car or motorbike which allows the driver to see vehicles, etc behind without having to turn their head.

rearward ▷ adj positioned in or at the rear. ▷ adverb (also rearwards) 1 towards the back. 2 at the back.

rear-wheel drive ▷ noun a system in which the driving power is transmitted to the rear wheels of a vehicle, as opposed to the front wheels. Compare FRONT-WHEEL DRIVE, FOUR-BY-FOUR.

reason /ˈriːzən/ ▷ noun 1 a justification or motive for an action, belief, etc. 2 an underlying explanation or cause. 3 the power of the mind to think, form opinions and judgements, reach logical conclusions, etc. 4 sanity; sound mind □ lose your reason. ▷ verb (reasoned, reasoning) intr to use one's mind to form opinions and judgements, reach logical conclusions, deduce, etc. ● by reason of something because of it; as a consequence of it. ● for reasons best known to oneself for reasons which do not seem obvious or sensible to others. ● it stands to reason it is obvious or logical. ● listen to reason to be persuaded to act in a reasonable or sensible way. ● within reason in moderation; within the limits of what is sensible or possible. ◎ 13c: from French reisun, from Latin ratio reckoning, from reri, ratus to think.

■ reason someone into or out of something to persuade or influence them with argument.

■ reason something out to think it through or set it out logically.

■ reason with someone to try to persuade them by means of reasonable or sensible argument.

reason

● Expressions like the reason ..., the reason why ..., one reason (why) ..., etc, are followed by that or because. Some more prescriptively minded people prefer that, but because is at least as common □ The reason why the victim bought a stolen car was because he thought the accused was authorised to sell it □ The reason they do this is of course that they would like you to keep coming back.

reasonable ▷ adj 1 sensible; rational; showing reason or good judgement. 2 willing to listen to reason or argument. 3 in accordance with reason. 4 fair or just; moderate; not extreme or excessive □ a reasonable price. 5 satisfactory or equal to what one might expect. ● reasonableness noun. ● reasonably adverb.

reasoned ▷ adj well thought out or argued.

reasoning ▷ noun 1 the forming of judgements or opinions using reason or careful argument. 2 the act or process of deducing logically from evidence. 3 the opinions or judgements formed, or deductions made, in this way.

reassure /riːəˈʃʊə(r), riːəˈʃɔː(r)/ ▷ verb (reassured, reassuring) 1 to relieve someone of anxiety or worry. 2 to restore confidence to someone. 3 to confirm someone's opinion to them □ reassured him he was correct. 4 to assure again. 5 to reinsure. ● reassurance noun. ● reassurer noun. ● reassuring adj. ● reassuringly adverb. ◎ 16c.

Réau. ▷ abbreviation Réaumur's thermometric scale.

Réaumur /ˈreɪoʊmjʊə(r)/ ▷ adj said of a thermometer or thermometer scale: marked with the freezing-point of water as 0° and the boiling-point as 80°. ◎ 18c: named after RAF de Réaumur (1683–1757), the French physicist who introduced the scale.

re-bar /ˈriːbɑː(r)/ ▷ noun a steel bar in reinforced concrete. ◎ 1960s: from reinforcing + bar.

rebarbative /rɪˈbɑːbətɪv/ ▷ adj, literary repellent, objectionable. ◎ 19c: from French rébarbatif, from barbe beard.

rebate ▷ noun /ˈriːbeɪt/ 1 a refund of part of a sum of money paid. 2 a discount. ▷ verb /rɪˈbeɪt/ (rebated, rebating) 1 to refund part of a sum of money paid. 2 to deduct part of an amount payable. ● rebatable or rebateable adj. ◎ 15c: from French rabattre to beat back.

rebel ▷ verb /rɪˈbel/ intr (rebelled, rebelling) (often rebel against something) 1 to resist openly or fight against authority or oppressive conditions. 2 to refuse to conform to conventional rules of behaviour, dress, etc. 3 to feel aversion or dislike towards something. ▷ noun /ˈrebəl/ someone who rebels. Also as adj ☐ a rebel army. ⓘ 13c: from French rebelle, from Latin rebellis, from bellum war.

rebellion /rɪˈbeljən/ ▷ noun an act of rebelling; a revolt.

rebellious /rɪˈbeljəs/ ▷ adj 1 rebelling or having a tendency to rebel. 2 characteristic of a rebel or a rebellion. 3 said of a difficulty, problem, etc: refractory; unmanageable. • rebelliously adverb. • rebelliousness noun.

rebind /riːˈbaɪnd/ ▷ verb to bind (especially a book) again. • rebound /riːˈbaʊnd/ adj. ⓘ 19c.

rebirth /riːˈbɜːθ/ ▷ noun 1 a a second or new birth; b reincarnation. 2 a revival, renaissance or renewal, especially a spiritual one. ▷ verb (rebirthed, rebirthing) to practise the techniques of REBIRTHING. ⓘ 1970s as verb; 19c as noun.

rebirthing ▷ noun a type of psychotherapy that involves reliving the experience of being born in order to release anxieties believed to result from the original experience. • rebirther noun. ⓘ 1970s.

reboot /riːˈbuːt/ ▷ verb, computing to restart (a computer), either by pressing a specified combination of keys or switching it off and on again at the power source when the computer has crashed or hung (see CRASH verb 6, HANG sense 13).

rebore ▷ verb /riːˈbɔː(r)/ to renew or widen the bore of (a cylinder) in an internal combustion engine. ▷ noun /ˈriːbɔː(r)/ the process or result of this.

reborn /riːˈbɔːn/ ▷ adj 1 a born again; b reincarnated. 2 revived or spiritually renewed. 3 converted to Christianity. See also BORN-AGAIN. ⓘ 16c.

rebound[1] ▷ verb /rɪˈbaʊnd/ intr 1 to bounce or spring back after an impact. 2 to recover after a setback. 3 (also rebound on or upon someone) said of an action: to have an unexpectedly bad effect on the person performing the action; to misfire. ▷ noun /ˈriːbaʊnd/ an instance of rebounding; a recoil. • on the rebound 1 colloq while still recovering from or reacting to an emotional shock, especially the ending of a love affair or attachment. 2 while bouncing. ⓘ 14c: from French rebondir, from bondir to bound.

rebound[2] see under REBIND

rebuff /rɪˈbʌf/ ▷ noun 1 a sudden check, curb or setback. 2 an unexpected and blunt refusal or rejection, especially of help, advice, etc. 3 a slight or snub. ▷ verb 1 to check or curb. 2 to refuse or reject (an offer of help, advice, etc) bluntly. 3 to slight or snub someone. ⓘ 16c: from French rebuffer, from Italian ribuffo a reproof, from buffo a gust or puff.

rebuke /rɪˈbjuːk/ ▷ verb (rebuked, rebuking) to speak severely to someone because they have done wrong; to reprimand. ▷ noun a stern reprimand or reproach. • rebukable adj. • rebuker noun. • rebukingly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from French rebuker, from bucher to beat, strike.

rebus /ˈriːbəs/ ▷ noun (rebuses) 1 a sort of visual pun in which pictures, symbols or letters are used to represent words or syllables in order to form a message or phrase. 2 heraldry a device which shows the name of its bearer by means of such a pictorial or symbolic representation. ⓘ 17c: from French rébus, from Latin rebus by things, from res thing.

rebut /rɪˈbʌt/ ▷ verb (rebutted, rebutting) 1 to disprove or refute (a charge or claim), especially by offering opposing evidence. 2 to drive back. • rebuttable adj. • rebuttal noun. ⓘ 13c: from French rebouter, from boter to butt.

> rebut
>
> See Usage Note at refute.

rebutter /rɪˈbʌtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person or an argument that rebuts. 2 law a defendant's reply to a plaintiff's surrejoinder.

rec ▷ noun, colloq 1 short form of RECREATION. 2 short form of RECREATION GROUND. ⓘ 1920s.

recalcitrant /rɪˈkalsɪtrənt/ ▷ adj not willing to accept authority or discipline; refractory. • recalcitrance noun. ⓘ 19c: from French récalcitrant, from Latin recalcitrare to kick back, from calx the heel.

recalesce /riːkəˈles/ ▷ verb to display a state of glowing heat again. • recalescence /riːkəˈlesəns/ noun, physics the spontaneous renewed glowing of iron at a certain stage in cooling from white-heat. • recalescent adj. ⓘ 19c: from Latin calescere to grow hot.

recall ▷ verb /rɪˈkɔːl/ 1 to call back. 2 to order to return. 3 to bring back by a summons. 4 US to remove someone from office by vote. 5 to remember. 6 to cancel or revoke. ▷ noun /ˈriːkɔːl/ 1 an act of recalling. 2 the ability to remember accurately and in detail ☐ total recall. • recallable noun. • beyond recall unable to be stopped or cancelled. ⓘ 16c.

recant /rɪˈkant/ ▷ verb (recanted, recanting) 1 intr to revoke a former declaration. 2 intr to disclaim one's (usually religious or political) beliefs, especially publicly. 3 tr & intr to withdraw or retract (a statement, belief, etc). • recantation /riːkanˈteɪʃən/ noun. • recanter noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin recantare to revoke, from cantare to sing.

recap /ˈriːkap/ colloq ▷ verb (recapped, recapping) short form of RECAPITULATE sense 1. ▷ noun short form of RECAPITULATION (sense 1).

recapitulate /riːkəˈpɪtʃʊleɪt/ ▷ verb 1 to go over the chief points of (an argument, statement, etc) again. 2 biol said of an embryo: to repeat (stages in the evolutionary development of its species) during embryonic development. 3 music to repeat (an earlier passage) in a piece of music. • recapitulative or recapitulatory adj. ⓘ 16c.

recapitulation /riːkəpɪtʃʊˈleɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 an act or instance of recapitulating or summing up. 2 biol a the repetition, in the developmental stages of an embryo, of the stages of evolutionary development of its species; b the debatable concept that ontogeny (individual development) recapitulates phylogeny (evolutionary history). 3 music the final repetition of themes, after DEVELOPMENT, in a movement written in sonata form. ⓘ 14c.

recapture /riːˈkaptʃə(r)/ ▷ verb 1 to capture again. 2 to convey, recreate or re-experience (eg images or sensations from the past) ☐ recapture the atmosphere of Victorian London. ▷ noun the act of recapturing or fact of being recaptured. ⓘ 18c.

recce /ˈrekɪ/ colloq ▷ noun (also recco; plural recces or reccos) RECONNAISSANCE. ▷ verb (recced or recceed, recceing) to RECONNOITRE. ⓘ 1940s: originally military slang.

recede /rɪˈsiːd/ ▷ verb (receded, receding) intr 1 to go or move back or backwards. 2 to become more distant. 3 to bend or slope backwards. 4 a said of a man's hair: to stop growing above the forehead and at the temples; b said of a man: to go bald gradually in this way. 5 (usually recede from something) to give up a claim; renounce a promise, etc. • receding adj. See also RE-CEDE. ⓘ 15c: from Latin recedere to go back, from cedere to yield.

re-cede or recede ▷ verb to cede again, or give up something to a previous owner. ⓘ 18c.

receipt /rɪˈsiːt/ ▷ noun (abbreviation recpt or rcpt) 1 a printed or written note acknowledging that money, goods, etc have been received. 2 the act of receiving or being received ☐ We acknowledge receipt of the money. 3 (usually receipts) money received during a given period of time, especially by a shop or business ☐ Monthly receipts rose steadily this year. ▷ verb (receipted, receipting) 1 to mark (a bill) as paid. 2 chiefly N Amer to give a receipt for something. ⓘ 14c: from French receite, from Latin recipere to receive.

receive /rɪˈsiːv/ (received, receiving) ▷ verb, chiefly tr 1 to get, be given or accept (something offered, sent, etc). 2 to experience, undergo or suffer □ receive injuries. 3 to give attention to or consider something □ receive a petition. 4 to learn of or be informed of something □ receive word of their arrival. 5 to react to something in a specified way □ The film was badly received. 6 to admit or accept (an idea, principle, etc) as true. 7 to be awarded (an honour, etc) □ receive the OBE. 8 to support or bear the weight of something. 9 tr & intr to be at home to (guests or visitors). 10 to welcome or greet (guests), especially formally □ They were received in the vestibule. 11 to permit someone to become part of a particular body or group, or to take up a certain position □ be received into the priesthood. 12 tr & intr, tennis, badminton to be the player who returns (the opposing player's service). 13 tr & intr, Christianity to participate in communion. 14 tr & intr, chiefly Brit to buy or deal in (goods one knows are stolen). 15 to change (radio or television signals) into sounds or pictures. ● receivability or receivableness noun. ● receivable adj. ● received adj generally accepted □ received wisdom. ● receiving noun, adj. ⓘ 13c: from French receivre, from Latin recipere, from re- + capere to take.

Received Pronunciation ▷ noun (abbreviation RP) the particular form of spoken British English (essentially an educated Southern English pronunciation) which is regarded by many as being the least regionally limited, the most socially acceptable and the most 'standard'. See also STANDARD ENGLISH.

> Received Pronunciation
>
> Of all the accents of English, Received Pronunciation or RP has come to be regarded as having most prestige, with its associations of respectable social standing and good education.
>
> Although it can be found anywhere in the English-speaking community, RP is often associated with the south-east of England. This is where it developed in the late Middle Ages: it was (and perhaps still is) London that attracted most people seeking social advancement, and they adopted the accent they found there.
>
> With the flourishing of Public Schools and the British Empire in the nineteenth century, RP rapidly became the accent of authority and power, and its pre-eminence was consolidated when it was adopted by by the BBC at the birth of radio broadcasting in the 1920s.
>
> Still the most widely used accent today in the legal profession, in Parliament, and in other national institutions, as well as being the model for the teaching of English as a foreign language, RP is, in educated society generally, nevertheless losing some of its ground to regionally-modified speech, perhaps because of RP's traditional association with conservative values.
>
> Although regional accents are still stigmatized in some quarters (a few BBC announcers with regionally modified accents still receive hate mail), increasing interest in and acceptance of all accents of the English-speaking community are surely to be welcomed.

Received Standard English and Received English ▷ noun the form of English generally spoken by educated British people and regarded as the standard of the language.

receiver /rɪˈsiːvə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that receives. 2 an officer who receives taxes. 3 (in full official receiver) a person appointed by a court to manage property under litigation, or to take control of the business of someone who has gone bankrupt or who is certified insane. 4 the part of a telephone which is held to the ear. 5 the equipment in a telephone, radio or television that changes signals into sounds and pictures, or both. 6 a RECEIVING-SET. 7 chiefly Brit a person who receives stolen goods. 8 chem a container for receiving the products of distillation or for someone holding gases. ⓘ 14c.

receiver-general ▷ noun an officer who receives revenues.

receivership ▷ noun 1 (usually in receivership) the status of a business that is under the control of an official receiver. 2 the office of receiver.

receiving-house ▷ noun 1 a depot. 2 a house where letters, etc are left for transmission.

receiving-line ▷ noun a group of people standing in line formally to receive a VIP, guests, etc on arrival.

receiving-set ▷ noun, telecomm apparatus for receiving wireless communications.

recension /rɪˈsɛnʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a critical revision of a text. 2 a text revised in such a way. ⓘ 17c: from Latin censere to value or assess.

recent /ˈriːsənt/ ▷ adj 1 happening, done, having appeared, etc not long ago. 2 fresh; new. 3 modern. 4 (Recent) geol HOLOCENE. ● recency noun. ● recently adverb. ● recentness noun. ⓘ 16c: from French récent, from Latin recens fresh.

receptacle /rɪˈsɛptəkəl/ ▷ noun 1 anything that receives, stores or holds something; a container. 2 bot a the top of a flower stalk, from which the different flower parts arise; b in flowerless plants, algae, etc any of a number of swollen regions that contain the reproductive structures. ⓘ 15c: from Latin receptaculum reservoir.

reception /rɪˈsɛpʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of receiving or fact of being received. 2 a response, reaction or welcome; the manner in which a person, information, an idea, etc is received □ a hostile reception. 3 a formal party or social function to welcome guests, especially after a wedding. 4 the quality of radio or television signals received □ poor reception because of the weather. 5 an area, office or desk where visitors or clients are welcomed on arrival, eg in a hotel or factory □ ask at reception. 6 short form of RECEPTION ROOM. ⓘ 14c: from Latin receptio.

reception centre ▷ noun a place where people such as drug addicts, refugees, the victims of fire, disasters, etc and others in difficult circumstances, are received for immediate assistance.

reception class ▷ noun the class that receives the new intake of children at the beginning of the school year.

receptionist /rɪˈsɛpʃənɪst/ ▷ noun someone employed in a hotel, office, surgery, etc to deal with clients, visitors and guests, arrange appointments, etc.

reception order ▷ noun an order for the reception and detention of a person in a mental hospital.

reception room ▷ noun 1 a room, eg in a hotel, for formal receptions. 2 any public room in a house.

receptive /rɪˈsɛptɪv/ ▷ adj 1 capable of receiving. 2 able and quick to understand. 3 willing to accept new ideas, suggestions, etc. ● receptively adverb. ● receptiveness or receptivity /riːsɛpˈtɪvɪtɪ/ noun. ⓘ 16c: from French réceptif.

receptor /rɪˈsɛptə(r)/ ▷ noun, biol 1 an element of the nervous system adapted for reception of stimuli, eg a sense organ or sensory nerve-ending. 2 an area on the surface of a cell to which a specific antigen may bind. 3 a site in or on a cell to which a drug or hormone can bind, stimulating a reaction inside the cell. ⓘ 15c: Latin.

recess ▷ noun /rɪˈsɛs, ˈriːsɛs/ 1 a space, such as a niche or alcove, set in a wall. 2 part of a room formed by a receding of the wall □ dining recess. 3 (often recesses) a hidden, inner or secret place □ the dark recesses of her mind. 4 a temporary break from work, especially of a law-court or of Parliament during a vacation □ summer recess. 5 N Amer a short break between school classes. 6 anatomy a small indentation or cavity in an organ. ▷ verb /rɪˈsɛs/ (recesses, recessed, recessing) 1 to put something in a recess. 2 to make a recess in (a wall, etc). 3 intr said especially of law-courts or Parliament: to take a break or adjourn. • recessed adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin recessus a retreat, from recedere to RECEDE.

recession[1] /rɪˈsɛʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of receding or state of being set back. 2 econ a temporary decline in economic activity, trade and prosperity. 3 the departure of the clergy and choir after a church service. 4 part of a wall, etc that recedes. ⓘ 17c.

recession[2] /riːˈsɛʃən/ ▷ noun a ceding again or back; the act of restoring something to its former owner. ⓘ 19c.

recessional /rɪˈsɛʃənəl/ ▷ adj relating to recession. ▷ noun a hymn sung during the departure of the clergy and choir after a church service. ⓘ 19c: from RECESS.

recessive /rɪˈsɛsɪv/ ▷ adj 1 tending to recede. 2 biol a denoting an ALLELE (gene) appearing in an organism's visible characteristics only if its partner allele on a paired CHROMOSOME is also recessive, as opposed to DOMINANT; b denoting a characteristic determined by such a gene. See also DOMINANT. 3 linguistics said of stress: tending to move towards the beginning of the word. • recessively adverb. • recessiveness noun.

réchauffé /reɪˈʃoʊfeɪ/ ▷ noun 1 a warmed-up dish. 2 a reworking or revision of old material. ▷ adj 1 said of food: warmed-up; reheated. 2 reworked or revised. ⓘ 19c: French, from réchauffer to warm up again.

recherché /rəˈʃɛəʃeɪ/ ▷ adj 1 rare, exotic or particularly exquisite. 2 obscure and affected. ⓘ 17c: French, from rechercher to seek out.

rechipping /riːˈtʃɪpɪŋ/ ▷ noun the practice of changing the electronic identity of stolen mobile telephones in order to resell them. ⓘ 1990s.

recidivism /rɪˈsɪdɪvɪzəm/ ▷ noun the habit of relapsing into crime. • recidivist noun, adj. ⓘ 19c: from French récidivisme, from Latin recidivus, from recidere to fall back.

recipe /ˈrɛsɪpɪ/ ▷ noun (recipes) directions for making something, especially for preparing and cooking food, usually consisting of a list of ingredients and instructions point-by-point. Also as adj □ recipe book. • a recipe for something a method or means of achieving a desired end □ a recipe for success. ⓘ 14c: Latin, originally meaning 'take' or 'take it' when written at the top of medical prescriptions, from recipere to take.

recipient /rɪˈsɪpɪənt/ ▷ noun a person or thing that receives something. ▷ adj receiving; receptive. • recipience or recipiency noun. ⓘ 16c: from French récipient, from Latin recipere to receive.

reciprocal /rɪˈsɪprəkəl/ ▷ adj 1 a giving and receiving, or given and received; mutual; b complementary. 2 grammar said of a pronoun: expressing a relationship between two people or things, or mutual action, eg one another in John and Mary love one another. ▷ noun 1 something that is reciprocal. 2 math the value obtained when 1 is divided by the number concerned, eg the reciprocal of 4 is ¹/₄. • reciprocality /rɪsɪprəˈkalɪtɪ/ noun. • reciprocally adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin reciprocus alternating.

reciprocate /rɪˈsɪprəkeɪt/ ▷ verb (reciprocated, reciprocating) 1 a to give and receive mutually; to interchange; b to return (affection, love, etc). 2 intr said of part of a machine: to move backwards and forwards. • reciprocation noun. • reciprocative adj. • reciprocator noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin reciprocare, reciprocatum.

▪ reciprocate with something to give it in return □ reciprocate with an offer of money.

reciprocating engine ▷ noun an engine in which the piston moves to and fro in a straight line.

reciprocity /rɛsɪˈprɒsɪtɪ/ ▷ noun 1 reciprocal action. 2 a mutual exchange of privileges or advantages between countries, trade organizations, businesses, etc. ⓘ 18c.

recision /rɪˈsɪʒən/ ▷ noun the act of annulling or cancelling something; rescinding. ⓘ 17c: from Latin recidere, recisum to cut back.

récit /reɪˈsiː/ ▷ noun (récits /reɪˈsiːz/) 1 music a solo part for the voice or an instrument. 2 music a principal part in a CONCERTED (sense 2) piece. 3 music a SWELL ORGAN. 4 a narrative, especially the narrative of a book as opposed to the dialogue. 5 a book consisting mainly of narrative. ⓘ 20c in senses 4 and 5; 19c in other senses: French, from reciter to recite.

recital /rɪˈsaɪtəl/ ▷ noun 1 a public performance of music, usually by a soloist or a small group. 2 a detailed statement or list of something; an enumeration □ a recital of his grievances. 3 a narration. 4 an act of reciting or repeating something learned or prepared, especially in front of other people □ a poetry recital. 5 law the part of a deed which recites or states the circumstances and facts of a case. • recitalist noun someone who gives recitals. ⓘ 16c.

recitative /rɛsɪtəˈtiːv/ ▷ noun, music 1 a style of singing resembling speech, used for narrative passages in opera or in oratorio. 2 a passage sung in this way. ▷ adj relating to or in the style of recitative. ⓘ 17c: from Italian recitativo.

recite /rɪˈsaɪt/ ▷ verb (recited, reciting) 1 to repeat aloud (eg a poem, etc) from memory, especially before an audience. 2 to make a detailed statement; to list □ recited his grievances. • recitable adj. • recitation /rɛsɪˈteɪʃən/ noun. • reciter noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin.

reckless /ˈrɛklɪs/ ▷ adj 1 said of a person: a very careless; rash; b heedless of the consequences of their actions or behaviour. 2 said of an action or behaviour: a careless, especially wilfully so; rash; b done without consideration of the consequences. • recklessly adverb. • recklessness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon recceleas.

reckon /ˈrɛkən/ ▷ verb (reckoned, reckoning) 1 (often reckon something up) to calculate, compute or estimate it □ reckon up the cost. 2 to think of someone or something as belonging to a particular group; to class or place □ reckon him among my friends. 3 to consider or think of someone or something in a specified way; to judge □ be reckoned a world authority. 4 (usually reckon that ...) colloq to think or suppose ... □ I reckon it's going to rain. 5 colloq to esteem or admire someone or something highly. • someone or something to be reckoned with a person or thing of considerable importance or power that is not to be ignored. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon (ge)recenian to recount or explain.

▪ reckon on someone or something to rely on or expect them or it □ We reckoned on their support.

▪ reckon with or without someone or something to expect, or not expect trouble or difficulties from them or it.

reckoner /ˈrɛkənə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that reckons. 2 a table, device, etc used to help in making calculations, especially a READY RECKONER.

reckoning /ˈrɛkənɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 a calculation; counting; b estimation; conjecture □ By my reckoning, we must be about eight miles from the town. 2 an account or bill. 3 a settling of accounts, debts, grievances, etc. • day of reckoning a time when one has to account for one's actions; a time of judgement.

reclaim /rɪˈkleɪm/ ▷ verb 1 to seek to regain possession of something; to claim something back. 2 to make (especially marshland; also wasteland or previously developed land) available for agricultural or commercial use. 3 to recover useful materials from industrial or domestic waste. 4 old use to reform someone or convert them from evil, etc. ▷ noun the action of reclaiming something or someone, or the state of being reclaimed. ● reclaimable adj. ● reclaimant or reclaimer noun. ⓘ 13c: from French réclamer, from Latin reclamare to cry out or exclaim.

reclamation /rɛklə'meɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the action of reclaiming something or someone, or the state of being reclaimed. 2 the conversion of marshland, wasteland, etc to agricultural or commercial use. 3 the process of recovering useful materials from industrial or domestic waste.

reclinate /'rɛklɪneɪt/ ▷ adj, bot said especially of the leaf or stem of a plant: curved or bent down or backwards. ⓘ 18c: from Latin reclinare, reclinatum to recline.

recline /rɪ'klaɪn/ ▷ verb (reclined, reclining) 1 intr to lean or lie on one's back or side, especially when resting; to lie back. 2 to lean or lay something on its back, or in a resting position. 3 to incline or bend something backwards. ● reclinable adj. ● reclining adj. ⓘ 15c: from French recliner, from Latin reclinare to lean back.

recliner ▷ noun someone or something that reclines, especially a type of easy chair with a back which can be adjusted to slope at different angles.

recluse /rɪ'kluːs/ ▷ noun 1 someone who lives alone and has little contact with society. 2 a religious devotee who leads a life of seclusion. ▷ adj 1 said of a place: enclosed; secluded. 2 said of a person: retiring; solitary. ● reclusion /rɪ'kluːʒən/ noun. ● reclusive /rɪ'kluːsɪv/ adj. ⓘ 13c: from French reclus, from Latin recludere, from claudere to shut.

recognizance or recognisance /rɪ'kɒgnɪzəns, rɪ'kɒnɪ-/ ▷ noun 1 a legally binding promise made to a magistrate or court to do or not do something specified. 2 money pledged as a guarantee of such a promise being kept.

recognize or recognise /'rɛkəgnaɪz/ ▷ verb (recognized, recognizing; recognised, recognising) 1 to identify (a person or thing known or experienced before). 2 to admit or be aware of something □ recognized his mistakes. 3 to show approval of and gratitude for something; to reward something □ recognized her courage by giving her a medal. 4 to acknowledge the status or legality of (especially a government or state). 5 to acknowledge something. 6 to accept something as valid □ recognize the authority of the court. ● recognizer noun. ● recognition /rɛkəg'nɪʃən/ noun 1 the act or state of recognizing or being recognized. 2 acknowledgement. 3 a token or indication of recognizing. ● recognizable adj. ● recognizably adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin recognoscere, from cognoscere to know.

recoil ▷ verb /rɪ'kɔɪl/ (recoiled, recoiling) intr 1 to spring back or rebound. 2 said of a gun: to spring powerfully backwards under the force of being fired. ▷ noun /rɪ'kɔɪl, 'riːkɔɪl/ the act of recoiling, especially the backwards movement of a gun when fired. ● recoiler noun. ● recoilless adj. ⓘ 13c: from French reculer to move backwards, from Latin culus the rump.

■ recoil at or from something to move or jump back or away quickly or suddenly, usually in horror or fear.

recollect /rɛkə'lɛkt/ ▷ verb (recollected, recollecting) 1 a to recall to memory; b to remember, especially with an effort. 2 (usually recollect oneself) to regain one's composure or resolution □ She recollected herself and tried to smile. 3 /riːkə'lɛkt/ to gather something together; to collect it again. ● recollected adj. ● recollection /rɛkə'lɛkʃən/ noun. 1 the act or power of recollecting. 2 a memory or reminiscence. 3 something remembered. ● recollective adj. ● recollectively adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin recolligere, recollectum to gather up or collect.

recombinant DNA /riː'kɒmbɪnənt —/ ▷ noun, biol genetic material produced by the joining of DNA components from different organisms.

recombination ▷ noun, genetics the process of rearranging or 'shuffling' genetic material during the formation of gametes, so that the offspring possess combinations of genetic characteristics that are different from those of either of the parents. ⓘ 20c in this sense.

recommend /rɛkə'mɛnd/ ▷ verb (recommended, recommending) 1 to suggest as being suitable to be accepted, chosen, etc; to commend □ I can recommend a good restaurant. 2 to make acceptable, desirable or pleasing □ an applicant with very little to recommend him. 3 tr & intr to advise, eg a particular course of action □ recommended the first course of action. ● recommendable adj. ● recommendably adverb. ● recommendation /rɛkəmɛn'deɪʃən/ noun 1 the act of recommending. 2 a something that recommends; b a testimonial, especially a letter of recommendation. 3 something that is recommended. ● recommendatory adj. ● recommender noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin commendare to commend.

recompense /'rɛkəmpɛns/ ▷ verb (recompensed, recompensing) 1 to repay or reward someone for service, work done, etc. 2 to compensate someone for loss, injury or hardship suffered. ▷ noun 1 repayment or reward. 2 compensation (usually financial) made for loss, injury, etc. ● recompensable adj. ● recompenser noun. ⓘ 15c: from French recompenser, from Latin compensare to compensate or to balance.

reconcile /'rɛkənsaɪl/ ▷ verb (reconciled, reconciling) 1 a (usually reconcile one person with another or one person and another) to put them on friendly terms again, especially after a quarrel; b (be reconciled) said of two or more people: to be on friendly terms again. 2 (usually reconcile one thing with another) to bring two or more different aims, points of view, etc into agreement; to harmonize them. 3 (usually be reconciled to something or reconcile oneself to something) to agree to accept an unwelcome fact or situation patiently. ● reconcilability noun. ● reconcilable adj. ● reconcilably adverb. ● reconcilement noun. ● reconciler noun. ● reconciliation noun. ● reconciliatory /-'sɪlɪətərɪ/ adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin reconciliare.

recondite /'rɛkəndaɪt, rɪ'kɒndaɪt/ ▷ adj 1 said of a subject or knowledge: difficult to understand; little known. 2 dealing with profound, abstruse or obscure knowledge. ● reconditely adverb. ● reconditeness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin reconditus hidden or put away, from condere hide or store.

recondition /riːkən'dɪʃən/ ▷ verb to repair or restore (an engine, piece of equipment, etc) to original or good working condition, eg by cleaning or replacing broken parts. ● reconditioned adj □ bought a reconditioned washing machine. ⓘ 1920s.

reconnaissance /rɪ'kɒnɪsəns/ ▷ noun 1 military a survey, eg of land or the position of troops, to obtain information about the enemy before advancing. 2 reconnoitring. 3 a preliminary survey. Often shortened to RECCE. ⓘ 19c: French.

reconnoitre or (US) reconnoiter /rɛkə'nɔɪtə(r)/ ▷ verb (reconnoitred, reconnoitring; US reconnoitered, reconnoitering) to examine or survey (land, enemy troops, etc), especially with a view to military operations etc. Often shortened to RECCE. ▷ noun the act of reconnoitring; a reconnaissance. ● reconnoitrer noun. ⓘ 18c: from French reconnoître to examine or recognize.

reconsider ▷ verb to consider (a decision, opinion, etc) again and possibly change or reverse it. ● reconsideration noun. ⓘ 16c.

reconstitute ▷ verb (reconstituted, reconstituting) 1 to restore (especially dried foods or concentrates, by adding water) to the original form or constitution. 2 to form or make up again; to reorganize. ● reconstituent /riːkən'stɪtjuənt/ adj, noun. ● reconstituted adj □ reconstituted eggs. ● reconstitution noun. ⓘ Early 20c in sense 1; 19c in sense 2.

reconstruct /riːkən'strʌkt/ ▷ verb 1 to construct or form again; to rebuild. 2 to create a description or idea of (eg a crime or past event) from the evidence available. • reconstructible adj. • reconstruction noun. • reconstructive or reconstructional adj. • reconstructor noun. ⓒ 18c.

record ▷ noun /'rekɔːd/ 1 a formal written report or statement of facts, events or information. 2 (often records) information, facts, etc, collected usually over a fairly long period of time. ▫ dental records. 3 the state or fact of being recorded. 4 a thin plastic disc used as a recording medium for reproducing music or other sound. Also (old use) called gramophone record. 5a especially in sports: a performance which is officially recognized as the best of a particular kind or in a particular class; b as adj ▫ a record attempt; c as adj unsurpassed ▫ a record number of applications. 6 a description of the history and achievements of a person, institution, company, etc. 7 a list of the crimes of which a person has been convicted. 8 computing in database systems: a subdivision of a file that can be treated as a single unit of stored information, consisting of a collection of related data or fields (see FIELD noun 16), each of which contains a particular item of information, eg a statistic, a piece of text, a name, address, etc. 9 anything that recalls or commemorates past events. ▷ verb /rɪ'kɔːd/ (recorded, recording) 1 to set something down in writing or some other permanent form, especially for use in the future. 2 tr & intr to register (sound, music, speech, etc) on a record or tape so that it can be listened to in the future. 3 said of a dial, instrument, person's face, etc: to show or register (a particular figure, feeling, etc). • go on record to make a public statement. • off the record said of information, statements, etc: not intended to be repeated or made public. • on record officially recorded; publicly known. • set or put the record straight to correct a mistake or false impression. ⓒ 13c: from French recorder, from Latin recordari to remember.

record-breaking ▷ adj said of a performance, and attempt, etc: beating the current RECORD (sense 5). • record breaker a person or performance that breaks the current record.

recorded delivery /rɪ'kɔːdɪd —/ Brit ▷ noun 1 a Post Office service in which a record is kept of the sending and receiving of a letter, parcel, etc. 2 an item of mail sent via this service.

recorder /rɪ'kɔːdə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a wooden or plastic wind instrument with a tapering mouthpiece and holes which are covered by the player's fingers in various configurations to make the notes. 2 a solicitor or barrister who sits as a part-time judge in a court. 3 someone or something that records. 4 short for TAPE-RECORDER.

recording /rɪ'kɔːdɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 the process of registering sounds or images on a record, tape, video, etc. 2 sound or images which have been recorded.

record-player /'rekɔːd —/ ▷ noun an apparatus which reproduces the sounds recorded on records.

recount ▷ verb to narrate or tell (a story, etc) in detail. ⓒ 15c: from French raconter, from conter to tell.

re-count ▷ verb /riː'kaʊnt/ to count again. ▷ noun /'riːkaʊnt/ a second or new counting, especially of votes in an election to check the result because it is very close. ⓒ 18c.

recoup /rɪ'kuːp/ ▷ verb (recouped, recouping) 1 to recover or get back (something lost, eg money). 2 to compensate or reimburse someone (eg for something lost). 3 law to deduct or keep back (something due). • recoupable adj. • recoupment noun. ⓒ 15c: from French recouper to cut back.

recourse /rɪ'kɔːs/ ▷ noun 1 a (especially have recourse to someone or something) the act of turning to someone, or resorting to a particular course of action, for help or protection, especially in an emergency or a case of extreme need; b a resort; a source of help or protection. 2 law, commerce the right to demand payment, especially by the drawer or endorser of a bill of exchange not met by the acceptor. • without recourse a qualified endorsement of a bill or promissory note indicating that the endorser takes no responsibility for non-payment. ⓒ 14c: from French recours, from Latin recursus a running back.

recover /rɪ'kʌvə(r)/ ▷ verb (recovered, recovering) 1 to get or find something again. 2 intr to regain one's good health, spirits or composure. 3 intr to regain a former and usually better condition ▫ The economy recovered slightly last year. 4 intr to get back into position (eg in a game of tennis). 5 to regain control of (one's emotions, actions, etc) ▫ recover one's senses. 6 law a to gain (compensation or damages) by legal action; b intr to be successful in a lawsuit. 7 to get money to make up for (expenses, loss, etc). 8 to obtain (a valuable or usable substance) from a waste product or by-product. • recoverability noun. • recoverable adj. • recoverableness noun. • recoverer noun. ⓒ 14c: from French recoverer, from Latin recuperare RECUPERATE.

re-cover or recover /riː'kʌvə(r)/ ▷ verb to cover something again.

recovery /rɪ'kʌvərɪ/ ▷ noun (recoveries) an act, instance or process of recovering, or state of having recovered, in any sense.

recpt ▷ abbreviation receipt.

recreant /'rekrɪənt/ archaic ▷ noun a cowardly or disloyal person. ▷ adj cowardly or disloyal. • recreancy ▷ noun. • recreantly adverb. ⓒ 14c: French.

recreate or re-create /riːkrɪ'eɪt/ ▷ verb to create something again; to reproduce. ⓒ 16c.

recreation[1] /rekrɪ'eɪʃən/ ▷ noun a pleasant, enjoyable and often refreshing activity done in one's spare time. • recreational adj. ⓒ 14c.

recreation[2] riːkrɪ'eɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of creating again. 2 a new creation.

recreation ground /rekrɪ'eɪʃən —/ ▷ noun an area of land on which sports, games, etc may be played. Often shortened to REC.

recriminate /rɪ'krɪmɪneɪt/ ▷ verb (recriminated, recriminating) intr to return an accusation against an accuser. • recrimination /rɪkrɪmɪ'neɪʃən/ noun the act of returning an accusation; a countercharge. • recriminative adj. • recriminator noun. • recriminatory adj. ⓒ 17c: from Latin criminare to accuse.

recrudesce /riːkruː'des/ ▷ verb (recrudesced, recrudescing) said especially of a disease, troubles, etc: to become active again, especially after a dormant period; to break out again. • recrudescence noun. • recrudescent adj. ⓒ 19c: from Latin recrudescere, from crudescere to grow worse.

recruit /rɪ'kruːt/ ▷ noun 1 military a newly enlisted member of the army, air force, navy, etc. 2 a new member of a society, group, organization, company, etc. ▷ verb (recruited, recruiting) tr & intr 1 military a to enlist (people) as recruits; b to raise or reinforce (eg an army) by enlisting recruits. 2 to enrol or obtain new members, employees, etc. • recruitable adj. • recruital noun. • recruiter noun. • recruiting adj. • recruitment noun. ⓒ 17c: from French recrute new growth, from recroître, from Latin crescere to grow.

recrystallization or recrystallisation ▷ noun 1 chem the purification of a substance by repeated crystallization from fresh solvent. 2 a change in crystalline structure that is not accompanied by a chemical change.

Rect. ▷ abbreviation 1 Rector. 2 Rectory.

rect- or recti- /rekt/ ▷ prefix, denoting 1 right. 2 straight. ⓒ from Latin rectus, straight.

recta, rectal and rectally see under RECTUM rectangle /ˈrɛktaŋgəl/ ▷ noun a four-sided figure with opposite sides of equal length and all its angles right angles. • rectangled adj. • rectangular /rɛkˈtaŋgjʊlə(r)/ adj 1 in the form of or like a rectangle. 2 placed at right angles. 3 right-angled. • rectangularity /-ˈlarɪtɪ/ adj. • rectangularly adverb. ◷ 16c: from Latin rectangulum, from rectus straight + angulus angle.

rectangular hyperbola ▷ noun a HYPERBOLA with its ASYMPTOTEs at right angles.

recti plural of RECTUS

rectifier /ˈrɛktɪfaɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that rectifies. 2 chem a piece of equipment used for condensing hot vapour to liquid in distillation; a condenser. 3 elec an electrical device that is used to convert alternating current into direct current.

rectify /ˈrɛktɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (rectifies, rectified, rectifying) 1 a to put (a mistake, etc) right or correct; b to adjust something. 2 chem to purify (eg alcohol) by repeated distillation. 3 elec to change (alternating current) into direct current. 4 math to determine the length of (a curve or an arc). • rectifiable adj. • rectification noun. ◷ 14c: from Latin rectificare, from rectus right + facere to make.

rectilineal and rectilinear ▷ adj 1 in or forming a straight line or straight lines; straight. 2 bounded by straight lines. • rectilinearity noun. • rectilinearly or rectilineally adverb. ◷ 17c.

rectitude /ˈrɛktɪtjuːd/ ▷ noun 1 rightness; correctness of behaviour or judgement. 2 honesty; moral integrity. • rectitudinous /-ˈtjuːdɪnəs/ adj 1 showing moral correctness. 2 over-obviously righteous. ◷ 15c: from Latin rectitudo.

recto /ˈrɛktoʊ/ ▷ noun (rectos) printing (abbreviation ro) 1 the right-hand page of an open book. 2 the front page of a sheet of paper. Compare VERSO. ◷ 19c: from Latin recto on the right.

recto- /rɛktoʊ, rɛkˈtɒ/ ▷ combining form, denoting the rectum.

rector /ˈrɛktə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 in the Church of England: a clergyman in charge of a parish who would, formerly, have been entitled to receive all the tithes of that parish. 2 in the Roman Catholic Church: a priest in charge of a congregation or a religious house, especially a Jesuit seminary. 3 US, Scottish in the Protestant Episcopal Church: a clergyman with charge of a congregation. 4 the headmaster of some schools and colleges, especially in Scotland. 5 Scottish a senior university official elected by and representing the students. • rectorate noun. • rectorial /rɛkˈtɔːrɪəl/ adj. • rectorship noun. ◷ 14c: Latin, meaning 'ruler', from regere to rule.

rectory /ˈrɛktərɪ/ ▷ noun (rectories) the house or residence of a rector.

rectrix /ˈrɛktrɪks/ ▷ noun (rectrices /ˈrɛktrɪsiːz/) a long stiff feather of a bird's tail, used to help control direction in flight. • rectricial /rɛkˈtrɪʃəl/ adj. ◷ 17c: Latin feminine of rector rector.

rectum /ˈrɛktəm/ ▷ noun (recta /-tə/ or rectums) the lower part of the alimentary canal, ending at the anus. • rectal adj. • rectally adverb. ◷ 16c: from Latin rectum intestinum straight intestine, from rectus straight.

rectus /ˈrɛktəs/ ▷ noun (recti /-taɪ/) anatomy a straight muscle. ◷ 18c: Latin, meaning 'straight'.

recumbent /rɪˈkʌmbənt/ ▷ adj 1 lying down; reclining. 2 said of an organ, etc: resting against the anatomical structure from which it extends. • recumbence or recumbency noun. • recumbently adverb. ◷ 17c: from Latin recumbere to recline.

recuperate /rɪˈkuːpəreɪt/ ▷ verb (recuperated, recuperating) 1 intr to recover, especially from illness. 2 tr to recover (something lost). • recuperable adj. • recuperation noun. • recuperative adj. ◷ 16c: from Latin recuperare, recuperatum to recover, from capere to take.

recur /rɪˈkɜː(r)/ ▷ verb (recurred, recurring) intr 1 a to happen or come round again; b to happen at intervals. 2 said of a thought, etc: to come back into one's mind. • recurrence /rɪˈkʌrəns/ noun. • recurrent /rɪˈkʌrənt/ adj 1 happening often or regularly. 2 said of a nerve, vein, etc: turning back to run in the opposite direction. • recurrently adverb. ◷ 15c: from Latin recurrere to run back.

recurring decimal ▷ noun, math a decimal fraction in which a figure or group of figures would recur infinitely, eg 1 divided by 3 gives the recurring decimal 0.333333... Also called repeating decimal.

recursion /rɪˈkɜːʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a going back; a return. 2 math the repeated application of a function to its own values to produce an infinite series of values. • recursive adj.

recusant /ˈrɛkjʊzənt/ ▷ noun 1 historical said especially of Roman Catholics: someone who refused to attend Church of England services when these were obligatory (between c.1570 and c.1790). 2 someone who refuses to submit to authority. ▷ adj relating to or like a recusant. • recusance or recusancy noun. ◷ 16c: from Latin recusare to refuse, from causa a cause.

recycle ▷ verb 1 to pass something through a series of changes or treatment in order to return it to its former state. 2 now especially to process or treat waste material (eg paper, glass, plastic, etc) so that it can be used again. 3 loosely to remake into something different; to re-use or find another use for something old. • recyclable adj. • recycling noun. ◷ 1960s in sense 2; 1920s in sense 1.

red ▷ adj (redder, reddest) 1 referring to the colour of blood, or a colour similar to it. 2 said of hair, fur, etc: of a colour which varies between a golden brown and a deep reddish-brown. 3 said of the eyes: bloodshot or with red rims. 4 having a red or flushed face, especially from shame or anger, or from physical exertion. 5 said of wine: made with black grapes whose skins colour the wine a deep red. 6 derog colloq communist. 7 chiefly colloq (Red) relating to the former USSR; Soviet ▫ the Red Army. ◷ 19c: originally referring to the colour of a socialist or communist party badge, and associated with the blood and fire of revolution. 8 indicating the most extreme urgency. See RED ALERT. ▷ noun 1 the colour of blood, or a similar shade. 2 red dye or paint. 3 red material or clothes. 4 the red traffic light, a sign that cars should stop. 5 anything red. 6 (usually be in the red) the debit side of an account; the state of being in debt, eg to a bank. Compare BLACK (noun 6). 7 derog colloq (often Red) a communist or socialist. • reddish and (colloq) reddy adj somewhat red. • redly adverb. • redness noun. • paint the town red colloq to go out to enjoy oneself in a lively, noisy and often drunken way. • see red colloq to become angry. See also REDDEN. ◷ Anglo-Saxon read.

redact /rɪˈdakt/ ▷ verb (redacted, redacting) to edit; to put (a text) into the appropriate literary form. • redaction noun. • redactional adj. • redactor noun. • redactorial /-ˈtɔːrɪəl/ adj. ◷ 15c: from Latin redigere, redactum to bring back.

red admiral ▷ noun a common butterfly of N America, Europe and Asia which has broad red bands on its wings.

red alert ▷ noun a state of readiness to deal with imminent crisis or emergency, eg war, natural disaster, etc. Compare YELLOW ALERT.

red alga ▷ noun (red algae) bot any of several ALGAE which typically have a pink or reddish colour due to the presence of the pigment phycoerythrin, which masks the green colour of chlorophyll.

redback and redback spider ▷ noun a poisonous Australian spider the female of which has a red stripe on its back.

red biddy ▷ noun, Brit colloq a cheap alcoholic drink made from red wine and methylated spirits. ⓒ 1930s.

red blood cell and red corpuscle ▷ noun a non-nucleated, disc-shaped blood cell, containing the pigment haemoglobin which gives the cell its red. Its function is to transport oxygen and carbon dioxide. Also called erythrocyte.

red-blooded ▷ adj 1 having red blood. 2 colloq full of vitality; very manly; virile □ a red-blooded male. • red-bloodedness noun.

redbreast ▷ noun any bird that has a red breast, especially a robin.

redbrick ▷ adj said of a British university: established in the late 19c or early 20c, eg Leeds, Manchester and Birmingham universities, as opposed to the more traditional ones such as Oxford, Cambridge, Edinburgh, etc.

red cabbage ▷ noun a purplish cabbage often used for pickling.

red-cap ▷ noun 1 a GOLDFINCH. 2 Brit slang a military policeman. 3 N Amer a railway porter.

red card ▷ noun, football a piece of red card or plastic shown by the referee to a player to indicate that they are being sent off. Compare YELLOW CARD. ▷ verb (redcard) said of a referee: to show (a player) a red card. See also CARD (verb 2).

red carpet ▷ noun a strip of carpet put out for an important person, especially a Royal or VIP, to walk on, eg on their arrival at a function. • red-carpet treatment special treatment, as for a very important person.

red cedar ▷ noun a name for various species of N American coniferous trees, especially the JUNIPER.

red cent ▷ noun, chiefly US colloq 1 a cent (formerly made of copper) considered as a very small amount. 2 a whit □ not have a red cent.

redcoat ▷ noun 1 historical a British soldier. 2 Can colloq a MOUNTIE. 3 an attendant at a Butlin's holiday camp. ⓒ 1950s in sense 3; 16c in sense 1.

red corpuscle see RED BLOOD CELL

Red Crescent ▷ noun an organization equivalent to the Red Cross in Muslim countries that serves a similar function to the Red Cross.

Red Cross ▷ noun the copyrighted symbol of the international humanitarian organization the Red Cross, established to assist those wounded or captured in war and which now carries out extensive humanitarian relief and aid work worldwide.

redcurrant ▷ noun a small edible red berry which grows on a widely cultivated European shrub.

red deer ▷ noun a species of deer with a reddish-brown summer coat and brownish-grey winter coat, found in dense forest and on moorland in Europe, W Asia and NW Africa, and introduced to various other parts of the world.

redden /ˈredən/ ▷ verb (reddened, reddening) 1 to make red or redder. 2 intr to become red; to blush.

redder, reddest, reddish and reddy see under RED

reddle see RUDDLE

red dwarf ▷ noun, astron a cool faint star of about one-tenth the mass and diameter of the Sun, eg Proxima Centauri or Barnard's Star.

redeem /rɪˈdiːm/ ▷ verb (redeemed, redeeming) 1 to buy someone or something back. 2 to recover (eg something that has been pawned or mortgaged) by payment or service. 3 to fulfil (a promise). 4 to set someone free or save them by paying a ransom. 5 to free (someone or oneself) from blame or debt. 6 Christianity said of Christ: to free (humanity) from sin by his death on the cross. 7 to make up or compensate for (something bad or wrong). 8 to exchange (tokens, vouchers, etc) for goods. 9 to exchange (bonds, shares, etc) for cash. • redeemable adj. • redeemer noun 1 someone who redeems. 2 (the Redeemer) a name for Jesus Christ. • redeeming adj making up for faults or shortcomings □ one of her redeeming features. ⓒ 15c: from French redimer, from Latin redimere, from emere to buy.

redemption /rɪˈdempʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of redeeming or state of being redeemed. 2 anything which redeems. 3 Christianity the freeing of humanity from sin by Christ's death on the Cross. • redemptive or redemptory adj. • redemptively adverb. • beyond or past redemption too bad to be redeemed, improved or saved. ⓒ 14c: from Latin redemptio buying back.

Red Ensign see under ENSIGN redeploy /riːdɪˈplɔɪ/ ▷ verb to transfer (soldiers, industrial workers, supplies, etc) to another place or job. • redeployment noun. ⓒ 1940s.

redevelop /riːdɪˈveləp/ ▷ verb 1 to develop again. 2 to develop again or renew (eg an area, such as a run-down urban area, a formerly active industrial site, etc) by renovating buildings, putting up new ones, encouraging investment, etc. • redeveloper noun. • redevelopment noun. ⓒ 1930s in sense 2; 19c in sense 1.

red-eye ▷ noun 1 the RUDD. 2 US colloq poor quality whisky. 3 N Amer colloq an overnight plane journey. 4 colloq a common fault in amateur flash photography, by which the pupils of the subject's eyes appear red.

red flag ▷ noun 1 a symbol of socialism or of revolution. 2 a flag used to warn of danger, defiance, no mercy, or as a signal to stop.

red fox ▷ noun a fox native to Europe, temperate Asia, N Africa and N America which has a reddish-brown coat with white underparts.

red giant ▷ noun, astron a large cool red star, 10 to 100 times the diameter of the Sun but of similar mass, that appears very bright because of its size, eg Betelgeuse.

Red Guard ▷ noun a member of a strict Maoist youth movement in China, especially active in the cultural revolution of the late 1960s.

red-handed ▷ adj (chiefly catch someone red-handed) in the very act of committing a crime or immediately after having committed it. See also IN FLAGRANTE DELICTO.

red hat ▷ noun 1 a cardinal's hat. 2 a symbol of a cardinal's office.

redhead ▷ noun a person, especially a woman, with red hair. • redheaded adj 1 said of a person: with red hair. 2 said of an animal, etc: with a red head.

red heat ▷ noun the temperature at which something is red-hot.

red herring ▷ noun 1 a herring which has been cured and smoked to a dark reddish colour. 2 a subject, idea, clue, etc introduced into a discussion, investigation, etc to divert attention from the real issue or to mislead. ⓒ 19c in sense 2, from the fact that a red herring drawn across a track would put a dog off the scent; 15c in sense 1.

red-hot ▷ adj 1 said of metal, etc: heated until it glows red. 2 feeling or showing passionate or intense emotion or excitement □ red-hot anger. 3 colloq feeling or showing great enthusiasm. 4 strongly tipped to win □ a red-hot favourite. 5 said of news, information, etc: completely new and up to date.

red-hot poker ▷ noun a tall straight garden plant with long spikes of (usually red or orange) flowers.

redid past tense of REDO

Red Indian ▷ noun, now usually offensive a Native American, especially of N America. ▷ adj relating to a Native American.

redingote /ˈredɪŋgoʊt/ ▷ noun a long double-breasted overcoat, originally for a man, later for a woman. ⓒ 18c: French, from English riding coat.

red lead ▷ noun a bright red poisonous oxide of lead, used in making paints.

red-letter day ▷ noun a memorable or special day because something particularly pleasant or important happens on it. ⓘ 18c: from the former custom of marking saints' days in red on calendars.

red light ▷ noun 1 a red warning light, especially the red traffic light at which vehicles have to stop. 2 a refusal or rejection. Compare GREEN LIGHT. 3 a red light displayed in a window to indicate that the building is a brothel. ▷ adj (red-light) colloq relating to brothels □ red-light district.

red-lining ▷ noun the practice of refusing credit to those living in an area with a bad record of repayment. ⓘ 1970s: from the verb red-line to circle or mark in red ink.

redly see under RED red meat ▷ noun dark-coloured meat, eg beef or lamb. See also WHITE MEAT.

red mud ▷ noun a type of industrial waste resulting from alumina processing, consisting of silicone dioxide, iron oxide, etc.

red mullet see MULLET redneck ▷ noun, US derog in the south-western states: a poor white farm worker. ▷ adj ignorant, intolerant, narrow-minded and bigoted.

redness see under RED

redo /riːˈduː/ ▷ verb (redoes /riˈdʌz/ , redid, redone, redoing) 1 to do something again or differently. 2 to redecorate (a room, etc). ⓘ 19c in sense 2; 16c in sense 1.

redolent /ˈredələnt/ ▷ adj 1 fragrant. 2 (usually redolent of or with something) a smelling strongly of it; b strongly suggestive or reminiscent of it □ a street redolent of Victorian England. • redolence or redolency noun. • redolently adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin redolere to give off a smell.

redouble ▷ verb 1 to double; to repeat. 2 to make or become greater or more intense. 3 bridge to double (a bid that an opponent has already doubled). ▷ noun, bridge the act of redoubling. • redoublement noun.

redoubt /rɪˈdaʊt/ ▷ noun 1 a fortification, especially a temporary one defending a pass or hilltop. 2 a stronghold. ⓘ 17c: from French redoute, from Latin reductus refuge.

redoubtable /rɪˈdaʊtəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 inspiring fear or respect; formidable. 2 brave; valiant. • redoubtably adverb. ⓘ 14c: from French redouter to fear greatly.

redound /rɪˈdaʊnd/ ▷ verb (redounded, redounding) intr 1 (always redound to someone) to have a direct, usually beneficial, but also sometimes detrimental, effect on them. 2 (chiefly redound on someone) to come back to them as a consequence. ⓘ 14c: from French redonder, from Latin redundare to surge, from unda wave.

redox reaction /ˈriːdɒks —/ ▷ noun, chem a chemical reaction in which one of the reacting substances (REACTANTS) is reduced, while the other is simultaneously oxidized. ⓘ 1920s: from reduction + oxidation.

red panda ▷ noun a nocturnal tree-dwelling mammal with thick chestnut fur and white patches on its face, which is found in mountain forests of Asia.

red pepper ▷ noun 1 CAYENNE PEPPER. 2 a red CAPSICUM or SWEET PEPPER, eaten as a vegetable. Compare GREEN PEPPER.

red rag ▷ noun 1 slang the tongue. 2 colloq (usually red rag to a bull) something which is likely to provoke someone or make them very angry. ⓘ 19c in sense 2, because the colour red is thought to infuriate bulls; 17c in sense 1.

redress /rɪˈdres/ ▷ verb (redresses, redressed, redressing) 1 to set right or compensate for (something wrong). 2 to make even or equal again □ redress the balance. ▷ noun 1 the act of redressing or being redressed. 2 money, etc paid as compensation for loss or wrong done. ⓘ 14c: from French redrecier to straighten.

redshank /ˈredʃaŋk/ ▷ noun 1 a wading bird of the sandpiper family which has a scarlet bill and legs, a white rump and a broad white wing bar visible in flight. 2 colloq, derog a Highlander or an Irishman.

redshift ▷ noun, astron an increase in the wavelength of light or other electromagnetic radiation emitted by certain galaxies or quasars. ⓘ 1920s: so called because an increase in wavelength moves light towards the red end of the visible SPECTRUM, which is generally interpreted as a DOPPLER EFFECT resulting from the movement of the source of radiation away from the Earth, and is regarded as evidence that the Universe is expanding.

red shirt ▷ noun 1 historical a follower of Garibaldi (1807–82), Italian revolutionary patriot. 2 a revolutionary or anarchist. ⓘ 19c: so called because of Garibaldi's habit of wearing red.

redskin ▷ noun, offensive colloq a Native American.

red spider and red spider mite ▷ noun a pest that infests the underside of the leaves of plants causing severe damage in gardens, greenhouses, orchards, etc, and weaves sheet webs between the leaves and the main stem.

Red Spot ▷ noun, astron a gigantic storm system, larger than the Earth, in the atmosphere of the planet Jupiter, south of the planet's equator, formed as a result of interpolar differences in the rotation speeds of the planet's gaseous surface. Also called Giant Red Spot.

red squirrel ▷ noun a squirrel with reddish-brown fur, native to Europe and Asia.

redstart /ˈredstɑːt/ ▷ noun 1 a European bird with a conspicuous chestnut-coloured tail. 2 an American warbler that is superficially similar. ⓘ 18c in sense 2; 16c in sense 1.

red tape ▷ noun, colloq unnecessary rules and regulations which result in delay; bureaucracy in general. ⓘ 18c: from the red tape used to bind official documents.

reduce /rɪˈdʒuːs/ ▷ verb (reduced, reducing) 1 tr & intr to make or become less, smaller, etc. 2 to change someone or something into a worse or less desirable state or form □ reduced her to tears. 3 military to lower the rank, status or grade of someone □ reduce to the ranks. 4 to bring someone into a state of obedience; to subdue. 5 to make weaker or poorer. 6 to lower (the price of something) □ All prices were reduced by 20 per cent. 7 intr to lose weight by dieting. 8 to convert (a substance) into a simpler form. 9 to simplify something or make it more easily understood by considering only its essential elements □ reduce the plan to four main points. 10 tr & intr cookery to thicken (a sauce) by slowly boiling off the excess liquid. 11 chem to cause (a substance) to undergo a chemical reaction whereby it gains hydrogen or loses oxygen. 12 math to convert (a fraction) to a form with the numerator and denominator as low in value as possible, eg $^{3}/_{6}$ to $^{1}/_{2}$. 13 metallurgy to convert (ore, etc) into metal. 14 photog to decrease the density of (a negative or print). 15 surgery to put back into a normal condition or position (eg an organ, dislocation or fracture). • reducibility noun. • reducible adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin reducere to lead back.

reduced circumstances ▷ plural noun a state of poverty, especially following a time of relative wealth.

reducer /rɪˈdjuːsə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that reduces. 2 photog a chemical substance used to decrease the density of a negative or print. 3 a joint-piece for connecting pipes of different diameters.

reducing agent ▷ noun, chem any substance that brings about the gain of electrons, loss of oxygen or gain of hydrogen by a different atom, molecule or ion and which is simultaneously oxidized.

reductase /rɪ'dʌkteɪz/ ▷ noun, biochem an enzyme which brings about the reduction of organic compounds. ◎ Early 20c.

reductio ad absurdum /rɪ'dʌkʃɪoʊ ad əb'sɜːdəm/ ▷ noun 1 proving a premise wrong by showing that its logical consequence is absurd. 2 indirectly proving a premise by showing the logical consequence of its contradictory to be absurd. 3 the application of a principle or rule so strictly that it is carried to absurd lengths. ◎ 18c: Latin, meaning 'reduction to the absurd'.

reduction /rɪ'dʌkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 an act, instance or process of reducing; the state of being reduced. 2 the amount by which something is reduced. 3 a a copy of a picture, document, etc made on a smaller scale; b the action or process of making such a copy. 4 chem a chemical reaction that involves a REDUCING AGENT. See also OXIDATION. 5 historical a settlement of S American Indians converted to Christianity by the Jesuits and governed by them. ● reductive adj. ● reductively adverb. ● reductiveness noun.

reductionism ▷ noun the belief that complex data, phenomena, etc can be explained in terms of something simpler. ● reductionist noun, adj.

redundancy /rɪ'dʌndənsɪ/ ▷ noun (redundancies) 1 the state of being redundant, or an instance of this. 2 a the condition of being no longer needed in a company, organization, etc; b dismissal from work as a result of this; c someone who is dismissed in this way. 3 superfluity; the condition of being unnecessary to the meaning of the sentence, etc.

redundant /rɪ'dʌndənt/ ▷ adj 1 not needed; superfluous. 2 said of an employee: no longer needed and therefore dismissed. 3 said of a word or phrase: superfluous; expressing an idea or sense already conveyed by another word or phrase, and therefore able to be removed without affecting the overall meaning of the sentence, etc. ● redundantly adverb. ◎ 17c: from Latin redundare to surge.

reduplicate ▷ verb /rɪ'djuːplɪkeɪt/ (reduplicated, reduplicating) 1 to repeat, copy or double something. 2 grammar to repeat (a word or syllable), often with some minor change, to form a new word, as in bubble-bubble, riff-raff, etc. ▷ adj /rɪ'djuːplɪkɪt/ 1 repeated, copied or doubled. 2 grammar reduplicated; referring to a word, sound, etc that is repeated. 3 bot said of petals or sepals: with edges turned outwards. ● reduplication noun. ● reduplicative adj. ◎ 16c: from Latin reduplicare, reduplicatum.

red-water ▷ noun a cattle disease, characterized by the passing of red-coloured urine, caused by a blood infection which destroys the red blood cells, releasing the pigment HAEMOGLOBIN.

redwing ▷ noun a type of thrush that has reddish sides below the wings.

redwood ▷ noun 1 an extremely tall and long-lived SEQUOIA, native to California, and reaches heights of 120m. 2 the reddish-brown wood of this tree.

reebok /'riːbɒk/ ▷ noun (reeboks or reebok) a S African antelope. ◎ 18c: Dutch, meaning 'roebuck'.

re-echo ▷ verb 1 to echo (a sound) back or again. 2 to repeat (a sound) like an echo. 3 intr to give back echoes; to resound. ▷ noun a re-echoing. ◎ 16c.

reed ▷ noun 1 a bot any of a group of grasses that grow in shallow water by the margins of streams, lakes and ponds; b a stalk of one of these plants used to make thatched roofs, furniture and fencing. 2 a thin piece of cane or metal in certain musical instruments which vibrates and makes a sound when air passes over it. 3 a wind instrument or organ pipe with reeds. 4 a comb-like device on a loom for spacing the threads of the warp evenly and putting the weft into position. ◎ Anglo-Saxon hreod.

reedier and reediest see under REEDY reedmace ▷ noun, bot a reed-like plant that grows in marshy ground and which has a long tubular flowerhead made up of small, closely-packed brownish flowers. Also called bulrush.

reed pipe ▷ noun an organ pipe whose tone is produced by the vibration of a reed. Compare FLUE PIPE.

re-educate ▷ verb 1 to educate again. 2 to change someone's beliefs, especially their political ones. ● re-education noun.

reed warbler ▷ noun a warbler that frequents marshy places and builds its nest on reeds.

reedy ▷ adj (reedier, reediest) 1 full of reeds. 2 having a tone like a reed instrument, especially in being thin and piping. 3 thin and weak. ● reedily adverb. ● reediness noun.

reef¹ ▷ noun 1 in shallow coastal water: a mass of rock, coral, sand, etc that either projects above the surface at low tide, or is permanently covered by shallow water. 2 originally Austral a gold-bearing lode or vein of rock. ◎ 16c: from Dutch rif, from Norse rif a rib.

reef² /riːf/ naut ▷ noun a part of a sail which may be folded in or let out so as to alter the area of sail exposed to the wind. ▷ verb (reefed, reefing) 1 to reduce the area of (a sail) exposed to the wind by folding in a reef. 2 to gather something up in a similar way. ● reefing noun. ◎ 14c: from Norse rif a rib.

reef band ▷ noun, naut a reinforcing strip across a sail.

reefer /'riːfə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 (in full reeferjacket) a thick woollen double-breasted jacket. 2 colloq a cigarette containing marijuana.

reef knot ▷ noun a knot made by passing one end of a rope over and under the other end, then back over and under it again.

reef point ▷ noun, naut a short rope on a reef band for securing a reefed sail.

reek ▷ noun 1 a strong, unpleasant and often offensive smell. 2 Scot & N Eng dialect smoke. ▷ verb (reeked, reeking) intr 1 to give off a strong, usually unpleasant smell. 2 Scot & N Eng dialect to give off smoke. ◎ Anglo-Saxon reocan.

> ■ reek of something to suggest or hint at (something unpleasant) □ This scheme reeks of racism.

reel ▷ noun 1 a round wheel-shaped or cylindrical object of plastic, metal, etc on which thread, film, fishing-lines, etc can be wound. 2 the quantity of film, thread, etc wound on one of these. 3 a device for winding and unwinding a fishing-line. 4 a lively Scottish or Irish dance, or the music for it. ▷ verb (reeled, reeling) 1 to wind something on a reel. 2 (usually reel something in or up) to pull it in or up using a reel □ reel in a fish. 3 intr to stagger or sway; to move unsteadily. 4 intr to whirl or appear to move □ The room began to reel and then she fainted. 5 intr (also reel back) to be shaken physically or mentally □ reeled back in horror when he saw the body. 6 intr to dance a reel. ◎ Anglo-Saxon hreol.

> ■ reel something off to say, repeat or write it rapidly and often unthinkingly.

re-entry ▷ noun (re-entries) astron the return of a spacecraft to the Earth's atmosphere.

reeve¹ ▷ noun, historical 1 the chief magistrate of a town or district. 2 an official who supervises a lord's manor or estate. ◎ Anglo-Saxon refa.

reeve² ▷ verb (rove, reeved, reeving) to pass (a rope, etc) through a hole, opening or ring. ◎ 17c: from Dutch reven to reef.

reeve³ ▷ noun a female RUFF².

ref ▷ noun, colloq short form of REFEREE (noun 2).

refectory /rɪ'fɛktərɪ/ ▷ noun (refectories) a dining-hall, especially one in a monastery or university. ⓘ 16c: from Latin reficere, refectum to refreshen.

refectory table ▷ noun a long narrow dining table.

refer /rɪˈfɜː(r)/ ▷ verb (referred, referring) to direct a candidate to sit an examination again; to fail them. ■ referable or referrable /ˈrɛfərəbəl, rɪˈfɜːrəbəl/ adj capable of being referred or assigned. ■ referral /rɪˈfɜːrəl/ noun the act of referring to someone else or being referred to someone else, especially the sending of a patient by a GP to a specialist for treatment. ⓘ 14c: from French référer, from Latin referre to carry back.

■ refer to something 1 intr to mention or make allusion to it. 2 intr to look to it for information, facts, etc □ referred to the notes at the back of the book. 3 intr to be relevant or relate to it.

■ refer someone to someone or something to direct them to them or it.

■ refer something to someone 1 to hand it over to them for consideration □ referred the query to the manager. 2 to hand it back to the person from whom it came because it is unacceptable.

■ refer something to something to assign or attribute it to it.

referee /rɛfəˈriː/ ▷ noun 1 a person to whom reference is made to settle a question, dispute, etc. 2 an umpire or judge, eg of a game or in a dispute. Sometimes shortened to ref. 3 someone who is willing to testify to a person's character, talents and abilities. 4 law someone appointed by a court to report on some matter. ▷ verb (refereed, refereeing) tr & intr to act as a referee in a game, dispute, etc. ⓘ 16c.

reference /ˈrɛfərəns, ˈrɛfrəns/ ▷ noun 1 (usually reference to something) a mention of it; an allusion to it. 2 a direction in a book to another passage or another book where information can be found. 3 a book or passage referred to. 4 the act of referring to a book or passage for information. 5 a a written report on a person's character, talents and abilities, especially one describing their aptitude for a particular job or position; b a person referred to for such a report. 6 a the providing of facts and information; b a source of facts or information; c as adj □ a reference library. 7 the directing of a person, question, etc to some authority for information, a decision, etc. 8 relation, correspondence or connection □ with reference to your last letter. 9 a standard for measuring or judging □ a point of reference. 10 law the act of submitting a dispute for investigaion or decision. ▷ verb (referenced, referencing) 1 to make a reference to something. 2 to provide (a book, etc) with references to other sources. ■ referential /rɛfəˈrɛnʃəl/ adj 1 containing a reference. 2 having reference to something. 3 used for reference. ■ referentially adverb. ■ terms of reference 1 a guiding statement that defines the scope and limits of an investigation, etc. 2 the scope itself. ⓘ 16c.

reference book ▷ noun any book, such as an encyclopedia or dictionary, that is consulted occasionally for information and which is not usually read through in the way that a novel, biography, etc is.

reference library see LENDING LIBRARY referendum /rɛfəˈrɛndəm/ ▷ noun (referendums or referenda /-də/) the practice or principle of giving the people of a country the chance to state their opinion on a particular matter by voting for or against it. ⓘ 19c: from Latin referre to carry back.

referent /ˈrɛfərənt/ ▷ noun 1 what is being referred to. 2 the object or idea that a word, etc refers to. ⓘ 19c.

referred pain ▷ noun, medicine pain felt in a part of the body other than its actual source.

refill ▷ noun /ˈriːfɪl/ a new filling for something which becomes empty through use; a container for this plus contents. ▷ verb /riːˈfɪl/ (refilled, refilling) to fill again. ■ refillable adj. ⓘ 19c as noun; 17c as verb.

refine /rɪˈfaɪn/ ▷ verb (refined, refining) 1 to make something pure by removing dirt, waste substances, etc. 2 tr & intr to become or make something more elegant, polished or subtle. ■ refining noun. ■ refined adj 1 very polite; well-mannered; elegant. 2 with all the dirt, waste substances, etc removed. 3 improved; polished. ■ refinedly adverb. ■ refinedness noun. ■ refinement noun 1 the act or process of refining. 2 good manners or good taste; polite speech; elegance. 3 an improvement or perfection. 4 a subtle distinction. ■ refiner noun.

refinery /rɪˈfaɪnəri/ ▷ noun (refineries) a factory where raw materials such as sugar and oil are purified. ⓘ 18c.

refit ▷ verb /riːˈfɪt/ (refitted, refitting) 1 to repair or fit new parts to (especially a ship). 2 intr said especially of a ship: to undergo repair or the fitting of new parts. ▷ noun /ˈriːfɪt/ the process of refitting or being refitted. ■ refitment or refitting noun. ⓘ 17c.

refl. ▷ abbreviation 1 reflection. 2 reflective. 3 reflex. 4 reflexive.

reflag /riːˈflag/ ▷ verb (reflagged, reflagging) to change the country of registration of (a merchant ship), usually for some commercial advantage.

reflate /riːˈfleɪt/ ▷ verb (reflated, reflating) to bring about reflation of (an economy). Compare INFLATE, DEFLATE. ⓘ 1930s: back-formation from REFLATION.

reflation /riːˈfleɪʃən/ ▷ noun an increase in economic activity and in the amount of money and credit available, designed to increase industrial production after a period of deflation. Compare DEFLATION, INFLATION, STAGFLATION. ■ reflationary adj. ⓘ 1930s: from RE- + inflation.

reflect /rɪˈflɛkt/ ▷ verb (reflected, reflecting) 1 tr & intr said of a surface: to send back (light, heat, sound, etc). 2 tr & intr said of a mirror, etc: to give an image of someone or something. 3 intr said of a sound, image, etc: to be sent back. 4 to have as a cause or be a consequence of □ Price increases reflect greater demand for the goods. 5 to show or give an idea of something □ a poem which reflects the author's sadness. 6 (usually reflect on or upon something) to consider it carefully; to contemplate it. ⓘ 15c: from Latin reflectere to bend back.

■ reflect on or upon someone said of an action, etc: to bring about a specified result, attitude, etc □ His behaviour during all the trouble reflects well on him.

reflectance and reflecting factor ▷ noun, physics the ratio of the intensity of the radiation reflected by a surface to the intensity of radiation incident (ie falling) on that surface.

reflecting telescope ▷ noun, astron a telescope in which light rays are collected and focused by means of a concave mirror. Compare REFRACTING TELESCOPE.

reflection or reflexion /rɪˈflɛkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the change in direction of a particle or wave, eg the turning back of a ray of light, either when it strikes a smooth surface that it does not penetrate, such as a mirror or polished metal, or when it reaches the boundary between two media. Compare REFRACTION. 2 the act of reflecting. 3 a reflected image □ looked at his reflection in the mirror. 4 careful and thoughtful consideration; contemplation. 5 blame, discredit or censure.

reflective /rɪˈflɛktɪv/ ▷ adj 1 said of a person: thoughtful; meditative. 2 said of a surface: able to reflect images, light, sound, etc. 3 reflected; resulting from reflection □ reflective glare of the sun on the water. ■ reflectively adverb. ■ reflectiveness noun. ■ reflectivity noun /riːflɛkˈtɪvɪtɪ/ 1 ability to reflect rays. 2 reflectance.

reflector /rɪˈflɛktə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a polished surface that reflects light, heat, etc. 2 a piece of red, white, etc plastic or glass attached to the back, front or spokes of a bicycle which glows when light shines on it. 3 a reflecting telescope.

reflet /rəˈfleɪ/ ▷ noun (reflets /rəˈfleɪ/) an iridescent or metallic lustre, especially on ceramics. ⓘ 19c: French.

reflex /'riːfleks/ ▷ noun (reflexes) 1 (also reflex action) physiol a response to a sensory, physical or chemical stimulus, either a simple reflex which is a rapid automatic response (usually noxious) acting through local sensory cells linked to the spinal cord, or a conditioned reflex involving a slower brain-mediated response to prior learning or experience. 2 the ability to respond rapidly to a stimulus. 3 a reflected light, sound, heat, etc; b a reflected image. 4 a sign or expression of something. 5 linguistics a word or element of speech which has developed from a corresponding earlier form. ▷ adj 1 occurring as an automatic response without being thought about. 2 bent or turned backwards. 3 directed back on the source; reflected. 4 said of a thought: introspective. 5 math denoting an angle that is greater than 180° but less than 360°. Compare ACUTE (adj 7), OBTUSE (sense 3). ▷ verb /rɪ'fleks/ (reflexes, reflexed, reflexing) to bend something back. ⓘ 16c: from Latin reflexus bent back.

reflex arc ▷ noun, physiol a nervous circuit involved in a SIMPLE REFLEX (see REFLEX) by which a rapid response is elicited via the spinal cord, the brain being aware of the response only after its occurrence.

reflex camera ▷ noun a camera in which the image transmitted through the lens is directed by a mirror to the viewfinder for more accurate composition and focusing.

reflexible /rɪ'fleksɪbəl/ ▷ adj capable of being bent backwards. ● reflexibility noun.

reflexion see REFLECTION.

reflexive /rɪ'fleksɪv/ ▷ adj 1 grammar said of a pronoun: showing that the object of a verb is the same as the subject, eg in He cut himself, himself is a reflexive pronoun. 2 grammar said of a verb: used with a reflexive pronoun as object, eg shave as in He shaved himself. 3 physiol relating to a reflex. ▷ noun a reflexive pronoun or verb. ● reflexively adverb. ● reflexiveness noun. ● reflexivity noun.

reflexology /riːflek'sɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun therapy for particular health problems and illnesses in which the soles of the feet are massaged, based on the belief that different parts of the soles relate by way of meridians (see MERIDIAN 3) to different parts of the body and different organs. ● reflexologist noun a therapist who specializes in reflexology. ⓘ 1970s.

reflux /'riːflʌks/ ▷ noun, chem 1 the boiling of a liquid for long periods in a container attached to a condenser (known as a reflux condenser), so that the vapour produced condenses and continuously flows back into the container. 2 the condensed vapour involved in this process. ▷ verb tr & intr to boil or be boiled under reflux. ⓘ 19c: Latin, from fluxus flow.

reform /rɪ'fɔːm/ ▷ verb (reformed, reforming) 1 to improve or remove faults from (a person, behaviour, etc). 2 to improve (a law, institution, etc) by making changes or corrections to it. 3 intr (also reform oneself) to give up bad habits; to improve one's behaviour, etc. 4 to stop or abolish (misconduct, an abuse, etc). ▷ noun 1 a correction or improvement, especially in some social or political system. 2 improvement in one's behaviour or morals. ● reformability noun. ● reformable adj. ● reformative adj. ● reformer noun 1 someone who reforms. 2 (Reformer) historical one of those who took part in the Reformation of the 16c. ⓘ 14c: from Latin reformare to form again.

re-form /riː'fɔːm/ ▷ verb tr & intr to form again or in a different way. ● re-formation noun. ⓘ 14c.

reformation /refə'meɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of reforming or being reformed; improvement; amendment. 2 (the Reformation) the great religious and political revolution that took place in Europe in the 16c and resulted in the establishment of the Protestant Churches. ● reformationist noun.

reformatory /rɪ'fɔːmətərɪ/ ▷ noun (reformatories) old use (also reform school) a school where young people who had broken the law or who exhibit disruptive behaviour were sent to be reformed. ▷ adj with the function or purpose of reforming. ⓘ 19c.

reformism /rɪ'fɔːmɪzəm/ ▷ noun, politics any doctrine or movement that advocates social and political change in a gradual manner within a democratic framework, rather than revolutionary change. ● reformist noun.

Reform Judaism ▷ noun a form of Judaism, originating in the 19c, in which the Jewish Law is adapted so that it is more relevant to contemporary life.

refract /rɪ'frakt/ ▷ verb (refracted, refracting) said of a medium, eg water, glass: to cause the direction of (a wave of light, sound, etc) to change when it crosses the boundary between this medium and another through which it travels at a different speed, eg between air and glass. ● refractable REFRANGIBLE. ● refracted adj. ● refractive adj 1 relating to or involving refraction. 2 capable of causing refraction. ● refractivity noun. ● refractor noun 1 anything that refracts. 2 a REFRACTING TELESCOPE. ⓘ 17c: from Latin refringere, refractum, from frangere to break.

refracting telescope and refractor ▷ noun, astron a telescope in which light rays are collected by means of a lens of long focal length and magnified by a lens of short focal length. Compare REFLECTING TELESCOPE.

refraction /rɪ'frakʃən/ ▷ noun 1 physics a a change in the direction of a wave, eg of light or sound, when it passes from one medium to another in which its speed is different; b the amount by which the direction of a wave is changed. 2 the eye's ability to refract light. ● refractional adj.

refraction correction ▷ noun, astron the correction made in the calculation of the position of a star, planet, etc to allow for the refraction of its light by the earth's atmosphere.

refractive index ▷ noun, physics (symbol n) the ratio of the speed of electromagnetic radiation, especially light, in air or a vacuum to its speed in another medium.

refractometer /riːfrak'tɒmɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun an instrument for measuring refractive indices.

refractory /rɪ'fraktərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 difficult to control; stubborn; unmanageable. 2 medicine said of a disease: resistant to treatment. 3 physiol said of a nerve, etc: unresponsive to stimuli. 4 said of a material: resistant to heat; able to withstand high temperatures without fusing or melting. ▷ noun (refractories) chem a material that has a high melting point and is therefore able to withstand high temperatures without crumbling or softening, eg silica, fireclay and metal oxides, which are used to line furnaces, etc. ● refractorily adverb. ● refractoriness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin refractarius stubborn.

refrain¹ /rɪ'freɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a phrase or group of lines repeated at the end of each stanza or verse in a poem or song. 2 the music for such a phrase or group of lines. ⓘ 14c: French, from refraindre, from Latin frangere to break.

refrain² /rɪ'freɪn/ ▷ verb (refrained, refraining) intr (usually refrain from something) to keep oneself from acting in some way or doing something; to avoid it. ⓘ 14c: from French refrener, from Latin refrenare to check with a bridle, from frenum a bridle.

refrangible /rɪ'frandʒɪbəl/ ▷ adj able to be refracted. ● refrangibility noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin frangere to break.

refresh /rɪ'freʃ/ ▷ verb (refreshes, refreshed, refreshing) 1 to make fresh again. 2 to make something brighter or livelier again. 3 said of drink, food, rest, etc: to give renewed strength, energy and enthusiasm to someone. 4 to revive (someone, oneself, etc) with drink, food, rest, etc. 5 a to provide a new supply of something; b to replenish supplies of something. 6 to make cool. 7 to make (one's memory) clearer and stronger by reading or listening to the source of information again. 8 computing to update (especially a screen display) with data. ● refresher noun 1 anything that refreshes, eg a cold drink. 2 law an extra fee paid to counsel during a long case or an adjournment. ● refreshing adj 1 giving new strength, energy and enthusiasm. 2 cooling. 3 particularly pleasing because different, unexpected or new □ His attitude was refreshing. ● refreshingly adverb. ● refreshment noun 1 the act of refreshing or state of being refreshed. 2 anything that refreshes. 3 (refreshments) food and drink, especially a light meal. ⓘ 14c: from French refreschir, from fresche fresh.

refresher course ▷ noun a course of study or training intended to increase or update a person's previous knowledge or skill.

refrigerate /rɪˈfrɪdʒəreɪt/ ▷ verb (refrigerated, refrigerating) 1 a to freeze something or make it cold; b intr to become cold. 2 to make or keep (mainly food) cold or frozen to slow down the rate at which it goes bad. ● refrigerant noun a liquid used in the cooling mechanism of a refrigerator. ▷ adj cooling. ● refrigeration noun the process whereby a cabinet or room and its contents are kept at a temperature significantly lower than that of the surrounding environment, especially in order to slow down the rate of decay of food or other perishable materials. ● refrigerative adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin refrigerare, refrigeratum, from frigus cold.

refrigerator noun an insulated cabinet or room maintained at a low temperature in order to slow down the rate of decay of food or other perishable materials stored within it. Usually shortened to FRIDGE. ● refrigeratory adj cooling.

refuel /riːˈfjuəl/ ▷ verb 1 to supply (an aircraft, car, etc) with more fuel. 2 intr said of an aircraft, car, etc: to take on more fuel.

refuge /ˈrɛfjuːdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 shelter or protection from danger or trouble. 2 any place, person or thing offering such shelter. 3 an establishment offering emergency accommodation, protection, support, etc, eg for battered women. 4 a street island for pedestrians. ● seek, find or take refuge in something to seek or get consolation, comfort, escape, etc in something. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin refugium, from fugere to flee.

refugee /rɛfjuˈdʒiː/ ▷ noun 1 someone who seeks refuge, especially from religious or political persecution, in another country. 2 a fugitive. Also as adj □ a refugee camp. ● refugeeism noun. ⓘ 17c: from French réfugié, from réfugier to take refuge.

refugium /rɪˈfjuːdʒɪəm/ ▷ noun (refugia /-dʒɪə/) biol a region that has retained earlier geographical, climatic, etc conditions, and therefore becomes a haven for older varieties of flora and fauna. ⓘ 1960s: Latin, meaning 'a refuge'.

refulgent /rɪˈfʌldʒənt/ ▷ adj, literary shining brightly; radiant; beaming. ● refulgence or refulgency noun. ● refulgently adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin refulgere to shine brightly.

refund ▷ verb /rɪˈfʌnd/ (refunded, refunding) to pay (money, etc) back to someone because the goods or service that they had purchased was faulty, not up to standard, etc; to repay. ▷ noun /ˈriːfʌnd/ 1 the paying back of money, etc. 2 money, etc that is paid back. ● refundable /rɪˈfʌndəbəl/ adj said of a deposit, etc: able to be refunded. ● refunder /ˈriːfʌndə(r)/ noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin refundere to pour back, from fundere to pour.

re-fund /riːˈfʌnd/ ▷ verb (refunded, refunding) finance 1 to replace (an old issue of bonds) by a new one. 2 to borrow so as to pay off (an old loan). ⓘ 20c.

refurbish /riːˈfɜːbɪʃ/ ▷ verb 1 to renovate. 2 to redecorate or brighten something up. ● refurbishment noun. ⓘ 17c.

refuse[1] /rɪˈfjuːz/ ▷ verb (refused, refusing) 1 tr & intr to declare oneself unwilling to do what one has been asked or told to do, etc; to say 'no'. 2 to decline to accept something □ refuse the offer of help. 3 not to allow (access, etc) or give (permission). 4 tr & intr to show or express unwillingness □ The car refused to start. 5 tr & intr said of a horse: to stop at a fence and not jump over it. 6 cards to fail to follow suit. ● refusable adj. ● refusal noun 1 an act of refusing. 2 (usually first refusal) the opportunity to buy, accept or refuse something before it is offered, given, sold, etc to anyone else □ I'll give you first refusal if I decide to sell it. ⓘ 14c: from French refuser.

refuse[2] /ˈrɛfjuːs/ ▷ noun 1 rubbish; waste. 2 anything that is thrown away. 3 ecol the combustible fraction of solid domestic waste. ⓘ 15c: from French refus rejection.

refuse-derived fuel ▷ noun (abbreviation RDF) 1 an energy source made by separating combustible material (refuse) from solid waste, and then mixing it with coal (1:1 ratio) or burning it in a specially-designed furnace. 2 the product of small-scale fermentation of domestic and animal waste to produce gas (methane) for domestic use. Also (in both senses) called waste-derived fuel.

refusenik or refusnik /rɪˈfjuːznɪk/ ▷ noun 1 in the former Soviet Union: someone, especially a Jew, who was refused permission to emigrate (usually to Israel). 2 someone who refuses to comply with laws or follow orders, especially as a protest. ⓘ 1970s: from REFUSE[1] + -NIK, modelled on Russian otkaznik, from otkazat' to refuse.

refute /rɪˈfjuːt/ ▷ verb (refuted, refuting) 1 to prove that (a person, statement, theory, etc) is wrong. 2 colloq to deny. ● refutable adj. ● refutably adverb. ● refutation /rɛfjuˈteɪʃən/ noun 1 refuting. 2 an argument, etc that refutes. ● refuter noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin refutare to drive back or rebut.

> refute, rebut, repudiate, reject
>
> ● If you simply deny an argument or allegation, you reject or repudiate it □ The Prime Minister rejected the accusation the following day. □ He repudiated the suggestions as unwarranted.
>
> ● If you refute or rebut the argument or allegation, you produce a reasoned counter-argument or proof □ He had refuted criticisms of his work with patience and gentle good manners □ Wilson was hard put to rebut all these complaints.
>
> ● You will sometimes see and hear refute used in the simpler sense of 'deny', which can give rise to ambiguity: in some sentences you won't know whether refute means reasoned proof or just emphatic denial □ The fire official refuted past claims of a lack of fire cover, insisting it was now in many ways better.
>
> ☆ RECOMMENDATION: use refute or rebut only when argument or proof is involved; otherwise use reject or repudiate.

reg /rɛdʒ/ ▷ noun, Brit colloq often in compounds a vehicle's REGISTRATION NUMBER, especially the letter that gives an indication of its age □ What reg is your car? □ It's an A-reg. ⓘ Late 20c.

regain /rɪˈgeɪn/ ▷ verb 1 to get back again or recover □ regained consciousness. 2 to get back to (a place, position, etc) □ regained her place as number one. ● regainer noun.

regal /ˈriːgəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating to, like, or suitable for a king or queen. 2 royal. ● regality /rɪˈgalɪtɪ/ noun. ● regally /ˈriːgəlɪ/ adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin regalis royal, from rex king.

regale /rɪˈgeɪl/ ▷ verb (regaled, regaling) 1 (usually regale someone with something) to amuse them, eg with stories, etc. 2 to entertain someone lavishly. ● regalement noun. ⓘ 17c: from French régaler, from gale pleasure.

regalia /rɪˈgeɪlɪə/ ▷ plural noun 1 the insignia of royalty, eg the crown and sceptre. 2 any ornaments, ceremonial clothes, etc, worn as a sign of importance or authority, eg by a mayor. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'things worthy of a king', from regalis regal.

regard /rɪ'gɑːd/ ▷ verb (regarded, regarding) 1 to consider someone or something in a specified way ◻ regarded him as a friend. 2 to esteem or respect someone or something ◻ regarded him highly. 3 a to pay attention to or take notice of something; b to heed. 4 to look attentively or steadily at someone or something. 5 to have a connection with or relate to something. ▷ noun 1 a esteem; b respect and affection. 2 thought or attention. 3 care or consideration. 4 a gaze or look. 5 connection or relation. 6 (regards) a greetings; b respectful good wishes ◻ Send him my regards. • regarder noun. • regardful adj 1 (often regardful of something) paying attention to or taking notice of it. 2 showing regard or consideration. • regardfully adverb. • regarding prep about; concerning. • as regards something concerning it. • with regard to something 1 about it; concerning it. 2 so far as this relates to it. ⓘ 14c: from French regarder to look at or take notice of, from garder to guard or keep watch.

regardless ▷ adverb 1 not thinking or caring about problems, dangers, etc. 2 nevertheless; in spite of everything ◻ carry on regardless. ▷ adj (usually regardless of something) taking no notice of it ◻ regardless of the consequences. • regardlessly adverb 1 heedlessly. 2 inconsiderately. • regardlessness noun.

> regardless
>
> Note that there is no word irregardless: it arises from a confusion between regardless and irrespective.

regatta /rɪ'gatə/ ▷ noun a yacht or boat race-meeting. ⓘ 17c: from Italian (Venetian) regata, from obsolete rigatta a contest.

regelate /riːdʒɪ'leɪt/ ▷ verb (regelated, regelating) tr & intr to freeze together again. • regelation noun 1 the action of freezing together again. 2 the process of refreezing water to ice under pressure at a temperature below the freezing point of water, eg in skating-rinks. ⓘ 19c: from Latin gelare, gelatum to freeze.

regency /'riːdʒənsɪ/ ▷ noun (regencies) 1 (Regency) in Britain: the period from 1811–20 when the Prince of Wales was Prince Regent. 2 in France: the period from 1715–23 when Philip of Orleans was regent. 3 government by a regent; any period when a regent rules or ruled. 4 the office of a regent. ▷ adj (also Regency) said of art, furniture, etc: belonging to or in the style prevailing during the English or French Regency. ⓘ 15c: from Latin regentia, from regere to rule.

regenerate ▷ verb /rɪ'dʒɛnəreɪt/ (regenerated, regenerating) 1 to produce again or anew. 2 theol to renew someone spiritually. 3 tr & intr to make or become morally or spiritually improved. 4 tr & intr a to develop or give new life or energy; b to be brought back or bring back to life or original strength again. 5 physiol to grow new tissue or organ to replace (a damaged part). 6 physiol intr said of a damaged part of the mammalian body: to be replaced by new tissue. 7 elec to magnify the amplitude of an electrical output by relaying part of the power back into the input circuit. ▷ adj /-rət/ 1 having been regenerated, especially in having improved morally, spiritually or physically. 2 changed from a natural to a spiritual state. • regenerable adj. • regeneracy noun. • regeneration /rɪdʒɛnə'reɪʃən/ noun. • regenerative adj. • regeneratively adverb. • regenerator noun. • regeneratory adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin regenerare, regeneratum to bring forth again.

regent /'riːdʒənt/ ▷ noun someone who governs a country during a monarch's childhood or illness. ▷ adj 1 acting as regent ◻ Prince regent. 2 ruling. • regentship noun. ⓘ 14c: see REGENCY.

reggae /'rɛgeɪ/ ▷ noun popular music of W Indian origin which has a strong syncopated beat, usually with four beats to the bar and a characteristic strongly-accented upbeat. ⓘ 1960s: W Indian.

regicide /'rɛdʒɪsaɪd/ ▷ noun 1 the killing of a king. 2 someone who kills a king. Compare HOMICIDE, PARRICIDE. • regicidal /rɛdʒɪ'saɪdəl/ adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin rex king + -CIDE.

regime or régime /reɪ'ʒiːm/ ▷ noun 1 a system of government. 2 a particular government or administration. 3 a regimen. ⓘ 15c: from French régime, from Latin regimen.

regimen /'rɛdʒɪmən/ ▷ noun 1 medicine a course of treatment, especially of diet and exercise, which is recommended for good health. 2 a a system of government; b rule. ⓘ 14c: Latin, from regere to rule.

regiment ▷ noun /'rɛdʒɪmənt/ (abbreviation regt) 1 military a body of soldiers, the largest permanent army unit, consisting of several companies, etc and commanded by a colonel. 2 a large number of people or things formed into an organized group. ▷ verb /'rɛdʒɪmɛnt/ (regimented, regimenting) 1 to organize or control (people, etc) strictly, usually too strictly. 2 military to form or group (soldiers, an army, etc) into a regiment or regiments. 3 to group (people or things) in an organized way. • regimental /rɛdʒɪ'mɛntəl/ adj belonging or relating to a regiment. • regimentally adverb. • regimentation /rɛdʒɪmɛn'teɪʃən/ noun. • regimented /'rɛdʒɪmɛntɪd/ adj. 1 formed into a regiment or regiments. 2 said of a routine, working practice, etc: overly strict or controlled. ⓘ 14c: from French, from Latin regimentum rule, from regere to rule.

regimentals /rɛdʒɪ'mɛntəlz/ ▷ plural noun a military uniform, especially that of a particular regiment.

Regina /rɪ'dʒaɪnə/ ▷ noun 1 queen. 2 now used mainly on coins, official documents, etc: the title of a reigning queen. Also abbreviated to R in signature. ◻ Elizabeth R. Compare REX. ⓘ 18c: Latin.

region /'riːdʒən/ ▷ noun 1 an area of the world or of a country, especially one with particular geographical, social, etc characteristics. 2 (Region) especially (1975–96) in Scotland: an administrative area. 3 anatomy an area of the body in the area of or near a specified part, organ, etc ◻ the abdominal region. 4 geog any of the different layers into which the atmosphere and sea are divided according to height or depth. 5 an area of activity or interest. • regional adj 1 relating to a region. 2 said of pain: affecting a particular area of the body. • regionalization or regionalisation noun the dividing of England (in 1972) and Scotland (in 1975) into regions for local government administration. • regionally adverb. • in the region of approximately; nearly ◻ it cost in the region of a hundred pounds. ⓘ 14c: from Latin regio, from regere to rule.

régisseur /reɪʒɪ'sɜː; French ʀeʒisœʀ/ ▷ noun, ballet in a ballet company: a director. ⓘ 19c: French, from régir to manage.

register /'rɛdʒɪstə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a a written list or record of names, events, etc; b a book containing such a list. 2 a machine or device which records and lists information, eg a CASH REGISTER. 3 music the range of tones produced by the human voice or a musical instrument. 4 music a an organ stop or stop-knob; b the set of pipes controlled by an organ stop. 5 a style of speech or language suitable for and used in a particular situation. 6 a device for regulating a draught. 7 printing exact adjustment of position, eg of colours in a picture. 8 computing a device for storing small amounts of data. ▷ verb (registered, registering) 1 to enter (an event, name, etc) in an official register. 2 intr to enter one's name and address in a hotel register on arrival. 3 tr & intr to enrol formally ◻ Please register for the conference by Friday. 4 to send (a letter, parcel, etc) by registered post. 5 said of a device: to record and usually show (speed, information, etc) automatically. 6 said of a person's face, expression, etc: to show (a particular feeling). 7 intr, colloq to make an impression on someone, eg by being understood, remembered, etc ◻ The name didn't register. • registered adj 1 a recorded; b entered (in a list, etc). 2 enrolled. • registrable adj. • registration /rɛdʒɪˈstreɪʃən/ noun 1 registering. 2 something registered. 3 music the art or act of combining stops in organ-playing. ⓘ 14c: from Latin regesta things recorded, from regerere to enter or record.

Registered General Nurse ⊳ noun (abbreviation RGN) a nurse who has passed the examination of the General Nursing Council for Scotland. See also STATE REGISTERED NURSE.

registered post ⊳ noun, Brit 1 a service offered by the Post Office whereby the sender is paid compensation for mail if it is lost or damaged. 2 mail sent using this service.

register office ⊳ noun, Brit an office where records of births, deaths and marriages are kept and where marriages may be performed. Also called registry office.

registrar /ˈrɛdʒɪstrɑː(r), rɛdʒɪˈstrɑː(r)/ ⊳ noun 1 someone who keeps an official register, especially of births, deaths and marriages. 2 a senior administrator in a university, responsible for student records, enrolment, etc. 3 Brit a middle-ranking hospital doctor who is training to become a specialist, and who works under a consultant. • registrarship noun. ⓘ 17c: related to REGISTER.

registration number ⊳ noun the sequence of letters and numbers displayed on a vehicle's number plate, by which its ownership is registered. See also VEHICLE REGISTRATION DOCUMENT.

registry /ˈrɛdʒɪstrɪ/ ⊳ noun (registries) 1 an office or place where registers are kept. 2 registration.

Regius professor /ˈriːdʒɪəs —/ ⊳ noun, Brit someone who holds a university CHAIR (sense 3) which was founded by a king or queen, or who was appointed to the position by the Crown. ⓘ 17c: from Latin regius royal, from rex king.

reglet /ˈrɛglɪt/ ⊳ noun 1 archit a flat narrow moulding. 2 printing a narrow strip of wood or metal used for spacing between lines of type. ⓘ 16c: from French réglet, from règle, from Latin regula a rule.

regnal /ˈrɛgnəl/ ⊳ adj 1 relating to a reign or to a monarch ◻ in her 43rd regnal year. 2 said of a number: indicating how many kings or queens have shared a specific name, eg the II in Elizabeth II. ⓘ 17c: from Latin regnalis, from regnum kingdom.

regnant /ˈrɛgnənt/ ⊳ adj 1 often following its noun reigning ◻ queen regnant. 2 prevalent. ⓘ 17c: from Latin regnare to reign.

regorge /rɪˈgɔːdʒ/ ⊳ verb 1 a to disgorge; b to regurgitate. 2 intr said especially of water: to gush back. ⓘ 17c: probably from French regorger to overflow.

regress ⊳ verb /rɪˈgrɛs/ (regresses, regressed, regressing) 1 intr a to go back; b to return. 2 intr to revert to a former state or condition, usually a less desirable or less advanced one. 3 tr & intr, psychol to return to an earlier, less advanced stage of development or behaviour. 4 statistics to calculate the degree of association between one parameter (eg industrial output) and other parameters (eg time and costs). ⊳ noun /ˈriːgrɛs/ 1 a a going back; b a return. 2 a reversion to a former, less desirable or less advanced state or condition. • regression /rɪˈgrɛʃən/ noun 1 an act of regressing. 2 psychol a return to an earlier level of functioning, eg an adult's reversion to infantile or adolescent behaviour. 3 medicine the stage of a disease in which symptoms subside. 4 statistics measurement of the relationship between the value of a particular variable and the values of one or more possibly related variables. 5 ecol the retreat of the sea from the land, which involves the boundary between marine and non-marine deposition moving towards the centre of a marine basin, or the conversion of deep-water to shallow-water conditions. • regressive adj 1 a going back; b returning. 2 reverting. 3 said of taxation: with the rate decreasing as the taxable amount increases. • regressively adverb. • regressiveness or regressivity /riːgrɛˈsɪvɪtɪ/ noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin regredi, regressus to return or go back.

regret /rɪˈgrɛt/ ⊳ verb (regretted, regretting) 1 a to feel sorry, repentant, distressed, disappointed, etc about (something one has done or that has happened); b to wish that things had been otherwise. 2 to remember someone or something with a sense of loss. ⊳ noun 1 a a feeling of sorrow, repentance, distress, disappointment, etc; b a wish that things had been otherwise. 2 a sense of loss. 3 (regrets) a polite expression of sorrow, disappointment, etc, used especially when declining an invitation. • regretful adj. • regretfully adverb. • regrettable adj 1 that should be regretted. 2 unwelcome; unfortunate. • regrettably adverb ⓘ 14c: from French regreter.

regt ⊳ abbreviation regiment.

regular /ˈrɛgjʊlə(r)/ ⊳ adj 1 usual; normal; customary. 2 arranged, occurring, acting, etc in a fixed pattern of predictable or equal intervals of space or time ◻ visit my parents at regular intervals. 3 agreeing with some rule, custom, established practice, etc, and commonly accepted as correct. 4 symmetrical or even. 5 said of a geometric figure: having all the faces, sides, angles, etc the same. 6 said of bowel movements or menstrual periods: occurring with normal frequency. 7 originally US medium-sized ◻ a regular portion of fries. 8 colloq complete; absolute ◻ That child is a regular little monster. 9 grammar said of a noun, verb, etc: following one of the usual patterns of formation, inflection, etc. 10 military said of troops, the army, etc: belonging to or forming a permanent professional body. 11 a) officially qualified or recognized; b professional. 12 belonging to a religious order and subject to the rule of that order. 13 N Amer colloq behaving in a generally acceptable or likeable way ◻ a regular guy. 14 astron said of a satellite: keeping to or deviating only slightly from a circular orbit around its planet. ⊳ noun 1 military a soldier in a professional permanent army. 2 colloq a frequent customer, especially of a pub, bar, shop, etc. 3 a member of a religious order who has taken the three vows of poverty, chastity and obedience. 4 US politics a loyal supporter of the party leader. • regularity /-ˈlarɪtɪ/ noun. • regularly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from French reguler, from Latin regula rule.

regular guy see under LAD

regularize or regularise ⊳ verb (regularized, regularizing) to make something regular. • regularization or regularisation noun.

regulate /ˈrɛgjʊleɪt/ ⊳ verb (regulated, regulating) 1 to control or adjust (the amount of available heat, sound, etc). 2 to control or adjust (a machine) so that it functions correctly. 3 to control or direct (a person, thing, etc) according to a rule or rules. 4 intr to make regulations. • regulation noun 1 the act of regulating or state of being regulated. 2 a rule or instruction. 3 law a form of legislation used to bring the provisions of an act of Parliament into force. 4 in the EEC: a proposal from the commission which is approved by the council and immediately becomes law in all member states. 5 as adj a conforming to or governed by rules or by stated standards ◻ the regulation model; b normal; usual. • regulative /ˈrɛgjʊlətɪv/ or regulatory adj. • regulatively adverb. • regulator noun 1 someone or something that regulates. 2 a controlling device, especially one that controls the speed of a clock or watch. 3 Brit a change in the rate of taxation introduced by the Chancellor of the Exchequer between budgets to regulate the economy. ⓘ 17c: from Latin regulare, regulatum, from regula rule.

regulo /ˈrɛgjʊloʊ/ ⊳ noun (regulos) any of several numbers in a series which indicate the temperature setting of a gas oven ◻ bake at regulo five. ⓘ 1930s: as Regulo, originally a trademark for a thermostatic control system for gas ovens.

regulus /ˈrɛgjʊləs/ ▷ noun (reguluses or reguli /-laɪ/) 1 an impure metal formed as an intermediate product in the smelting of ores. 2 obsolete antimony. • reguline /-laɪn/ adj. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'a petty king', from rex king.

regurgitate /rɪˈgɜːdʒɪteɪt/ ▷ verb (regurgitated, regurgitating) 1 a to pour back; b to cast out again. 2 to bring back (food) into the mouth after it has been swallowed. 3 derog to repeat exactly (something already said or expressed). 4 intr to gush back up again. • regurgitant adj. • regurgitation noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin regurgitare, regurgitatum.

rehab /ˈriːhab/ colloq ▷ noun 1 REHABILITATION. 2 a REHABILITATION CENTRE. ▷ verb (rehabbed, rehabbing) REHABILITATE.

rehabilitate /riːəˈbɪlɪteɪt, riːhə-/ ▷ verb (rehabilitated, rehabilitating) 1 to help (usually someone who has been ill or is disabled, or a former prisoner) re-adapt to normal life, eg by providing therapy, vocational training, etc. 2 said of buildings, etc: to rebuild or restore to good condition. 3 a to restore someone to a former state or rank; b to restore former rights or privileges. 4 to clear someone's character or restore their good reputation. 5 to bring something back into good condition. • rehabilitation noun. • rehabilitative adj. • rehabilitator noun. 16c: from Latin rehabilitare, rehabilitatum from habilitas skill or ability.

rehabilitation centre ▷ noun a place, usually residential, where people, eg those with problems related to drug or alcohol dependency, can get help.

rehash colloq ▷ verb /riːˈhaʃ/ to rework or reuse (material which has been used before), but with no significant changes or improvements. ▷ noun /ˈriːhaʃ/ a reworking or reuse of existing material with little or no change, especially a speech, book, etc which restates ideas which have already been expressed. ⓘ 19c.

rehearsal /rɪˈhɜːsəl/ ▷ noun 1 the act of rehearsing. 2 a practice session or performance of a play, etc before it is performed in front of an audience. • in rehearsal in the process of being rehearsed before public performance.

rehearse /rɪˈhɜːs/ ▷ verb (rehearsed, rehearsing) 1 tr & intr to practise (a play, piece of music, etc) before performing it in front of an audience. 2 to train (a person) for performing in front of an audience. 3 to give a list of something □ rehearsed his grievances. 4 to repeat or say something over again. • rehearser noun. • rehearsing noun. ⓘ 16c: from French hercer to harrow.

reheat ▷ verb /riːˈhiːt/ 1 to heat again. 2 aeronautics to add fuel (to the hot exhaust gases of a turbojet) in order to obtain increased thrust. ▷ noun /ˈriːhiːt/ aeronautics 1 a device for injecting fuel into the hot exhaust gases of a turbojet in order to obtain increased thrust. 2 the use of such a device. • reheater noun. ⓘ 18c as verb sense 1; 1960s in other senses.

rehoboam /riːəˈboʊəm/ ▷ noun a large liquor measure or vessel, especially for champagne, that holds six times the amount of a standard bottle. Compare JEROBOAM. ⓘ 19c: named after Rehoboam, a son of Solomon and king of Israel (1 Kings 11–14).

rehouse /riːˈhaʊz/ ▷ verb (rehoused, rehousing) to provide with new and usually better accommodation or premises. • rehousing noun. ⓘ 19c.

rehydrate /riːhaɪˈdreɪt/ ▷ verb 1 intr to absorb water again after dehydration. 2 to add water to (a dehydrated substance). 3 to enable (a dehydrated person) to absorb water. • rehydration noun. ⓘ 1920s.

Reich /raɪk, raɪx/ ▷ noun (in full the Third Reich) the name given to the German state during the Nazi regime from 1933–1945. ⓘ 1920s: German, meaning 'kingdom'; the First Reich spanned the period of the Holy Roman Empire (962–1806) and the Second Reich the Hohenzollern empire (1871–1918), although they are not referred to as such in English.

Reichian /ˈraɪkɪən, ˈraɪxɪən/ ▷ adj relating or pertaining to the theories or practices of Austrian-born psychiatrist Wilhelm Reich (1897–1957), especially to his concept of a universal, sexually-generated life energy termed 'orgone'. ▷ noun a supporter of Reich and his theories. ⓘ 1960s.

Reichian therapy or reichian therapy ▷ noun therapy that aims to release inhibited or disturbed energies through the use of massage, controlled breathing, etc. Also called BIOENERGETICS.

Reichstag /ˈraɪkstɑːg, ˈraɪxs-/ ▷ noun 1 the lower house of the German parliament during the Second Reich and the Weimar Republic. 2 the building in Berlin in which it met, to become the site of the BUNDESTAG when the German parliament moves back to Berlin from Bonn.

reify /ˈreɪɪfaɪ, ˈriː-/ ▷ verb (reifies, reified, reifying) to think of (something abstract) as a material thing; to materialize. • reification noun 1 the turning of something abstract into an object; materialization. 2 especially in Marxist terminology: depersonalization. • reificatory adj. • reifier noun. ⓘ 19c: from Latin res thing.

reign /reɪn/ ▷ noun 1 the period of time for which a king or queen rules. 2 the period during which someone or something rules, is in control or dominates □ reign of terror. ▷ verb (reigned, reigning) intr 1 to be a ruling king or queen. 2 to prevail, exist or dominate □ silence reigns. • reigning adj 1 a ruling; b prevailing. 2 said of a winner, champion, etc: currently holding the title of champion, etc. ⓘ 13c: from French reigne, from Latin regnum kingdom.

reiki /ˈreɪkiː/ ▷ noun, alternative medicine a form of therapy in which the practitioner places their hands on or just above certain points of the patient's body, allowing energy to transfer from the practitioner to the patient. ⓘ Japanese, meaning 'universal energy'.

reimburse /riːɪmˈbɜːs/ ▷ verb (reimbursed, reimbursing) 1 to repay (money spent) □ will reimburse your costs. 2 to pay (a person) money to compensate for or cover (expenses, losses, etc) □ will reimburse you your costs. • reimbursable adj. • reimbursement noun. • reimburser noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin imbursare to put something into a purse, from bursa purse.

rein /reɪn/ ▷ noun 1 (often reins) the strap, or either of the two halves of the strap, attached to a bridle and used to guide and control a horse. 2 (especially on a rein or the right or left rein) the direction to right or left in which a rider turns their horse. 3 (usually reins) a device with straps for guiding a small child. Also called walking reins. 4 any means of controlling, governing or restraining. ▷ verb (reined, reining) 1 to provide with reins. 2 to guide or control (especially a horse) with reins. 3 (usually rein someone or something in) to stop or restrain them with or as if with reins. 4 (usually rein in) intr to stop or slow up. • draw rein said of a rider: to pull up; to stop. • give rein or a free rein to someone or something to allow them free play; to place no restraints on them. • keep a tight rein on someone or something to keep strict control of them or it. • take or take up the reins to take control. ⓘ 13c: from French resne, from Latin retinere to hold back.

• rein back said of a horse: to step backwards.

• rein something back 1 to make (a horse) step backwards by applying pressure on the reins. 2 to take measures to stop (eg inflation, costs, etc) from continuing or increasing any further.

reincarnate ▷ verb (reincarnated, reincarnating) 1 to make (a person or soul) be born again after death in a different body. 2 to re-embody someone or something. ▷ adj reborn in a different body. • reincarnation noun 1 in some beliefs: the rebirth of the soul in a different body after death. 2 a being that has been reincarnated. 3 said of eg an idea or principle: representation or embodiment in a different form. • reincarnationism noun the doctrine of or belief in reincarnation. ■ reincarnationist noun. ⓘ 19c.

reindeer /ˈreɪndɪə(r)/ ▷ noun (reindeer or reindeers) a species of large deer, antlered in both sexes, that is found in arctic and subarctic regions of Europe and Asia and is closely related to the CARIBOU. ⓘ 14c: from Norse hreindyri.

reindeer moss ▷ noun a lichen that provides winter food for reindeer.

reinforce /riːɪnˈfɔːs/ ▷ verb 1 to strengthen or give additional support to something. 2 to stress or emphasize □ reinforced his argument. 3 to make (an army, force, etc) stronger by providing additional soldiers, weapons, etc. ■ reinforcement noun 1 the act of reinforcing. 2 anything which reinforces. 3 (usually reinforcements) soldiers, weapons, etc added to an army, force, etc to make it stronger. ⓘ 17c: from French renforcer.

reinforced concrete ▷ noun, engineering concrete in which steel bars or wires have been embedded in order to increase its tensile strength.

reinstate /riːɪnˈsteɪt/ ▷ verb 1 to instate someone again. 2 to restore someone or something to, or re-establish them in, a position, status or rank which they formerly held but resigned or were dismissed from for some misdemeanour. ■ reinstatement noun. ⓘ 16c.

reistafel see RIJSTAFEL

reiterate /riːˈɪtəreɪt/ ▷ verb 1 to repeat. 2 to repeat several times. ■ reiteration noun. ■ reiterative adj. ⓘ 16c: see ITERATE.

reject ▷ verb /rɪˈdʒɛkt/ (rejected, rejecting) 1 to refuse to accept, agree to, admit, believe, etc. 2 to throw away or discard. 3 medicine said of the body: to fail to accept (new tissue or an organ from another body). ▷ noun /ˈriːdʒɛkt/ 1 someone or something that is rejected. 2 an imperfect article not accepted for import, normal sale, etc and offered for sale at a discount. ■ rejectable or rejectible adj. ■ rejection noun. ■ rejective adj. ■ rejector or rejecter noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin rejicere, rejectum to throw back, from jacere to throw.

rejig ▷ verb /riːˈdʒɪɡ/ 1 to re-equip or refit (a factory, etc). 2 to rearrange or reorganize something. ▷ noun /ˈriːdʒɪɡ/ the act of rejigging. ■ rejigger noun. ⓘ 1940s.

rejoice /rɪˈdʒɔɪs/ ▷ verb (rejoiced, rejoicing) 1 intr to feel, show or express great happiness or joy. 2 to give joy to someone; to make them glad. ■ rejoicer noun. ■ rejoicing noun 1 joyfulness. 2 an expression, subject or experience of joy. 3 festivities, celebrations, merrymaking, etc. ■ rejoicingly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from French réjouir; see JOY.

■ rejoice in something often ironic to revel or take delight in it □ rejoices in the name Ben Pink Dandelion.

rejoin[1] /rɪˈdʒɔɪn/ ▷ verb 1 a to say something in reply, especially abruptly or wittily; b to retort. 2 intr, law to reply to a charge or pleading, especially to a plaintiff's replication. ⓘ 16c: from French rejoindre.

rejoin[2] /riːˈdʒɔɪn/ ▷ verb, tr & intr to join again.

rejoinder /rɪˈdʒɔɪndə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 an answer or remark, especially one made abruptly or wittily in reply to something; a retort. 2 law a defendant's answer to a plaintiff's replication. ⓘ 15c.

rejón /reˈxoʊn/ ▷ noun (rejones /-neɪz/) bullfighting a lance with a wooden handle, usually thrust at a bull from horseback. ⓘ 19c: Spanish, meaning 'lance spear', from Latin regula a straight piece of wood.

rejuvenate /rɪˈdʒuːvəneɪt/ ▷ verb (rejuvenated, rejuvenating) 1 a to make young again; b to make someone feel, look, etc young again. 2 intr to rejuvenesce. 3 geol to restore to an earlier condition of active erosion. ■ rejuvenation noun. ■ rejuvenator noun. ⓘ 19c: from Latin juvenis young.

rejuvenesce /rɪdʒuːvəˈnɛs/ ▷ verb (rejuvenesced, rejuvenescing) tr & intr 1 a to make or become young again; b to recover youthful character, appearance, etc. 2 biol to bring about or undergo change in cell-contents to a different, usually more active, character. ■ rejuvenescence noun. ■ rejuvenescent adj. ⓘ 19c: from Latin rejuvenescere, from Latin juvenis young.

relapse ▷ verb /rɪˈlaps/ intr 1 a to sink or fall back into a former state or condition, especially one involving evil or bad habits; b to backslide. 2 to become ill again after apparent or partial recovery. ▷ noun /rɪˈlaps, ˈriːlaps/ 1 a the act or process of relapsing; b backsliding. 2 a return to ill health after apparent or partial recovery. ■ relapsed adj. ■ relapser noun. ■ relapsing adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin relabi, relapsum to slide back.

relapsing fever ▷ noun a disease characterized by recurrent attacks of fever, notably MALARIA.

relate /rɪˈleɪt/ ▷ verb (related, relating) 1 to tell or narrate (a story, anecdote, etc). 2 (usually relate one thing to or with another) to show or form a connection or relationship between facts, events, etc □ related his unhappiness to a deprived childhood. 3 intr, law said of a decision, etc: to date back in application; to be valid from a date earlier than that on which it was made. ■ relatable adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin referre, relatum to bring back.

■ relate to someone colloq 1 to get on well with them. 2 to react favourably or sympathetically to them.

■ relate to something 1 to be about it or concerned with it □ I have information that relates to their activities. 2 to be able to understand it or show some empathy towards it. 3 (also relate with something) to have or form a connection or relationship with it □ crime relates to poverty.

related /rɪˈleɪtɪd/ ▷ adj 1 a belonging to the same family; b connected by birth or marriage. 2 connected. 3 music referring to or indicating a key that shares notes with another key or keys. ■ relatedness noun.

relation /rɪˈleɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 an act of relating. 2 a telling or narrating. 3 the state or way of being related. 4 a connection or relationship between one person or thing and another. 5 someone who belongs to the same family through birth or marriage; a relative. 6 kinship. 7 a reference; b respect. 8 (relations) social, political or personal contact between people, countries, etc. 9 (relations) euphemistic sexual intercourse. 10 philos a quality that can be predicated, not of a single thing, but only of two or more things together. ■ in or with relation to something with respect to it.

relational ▷ adj 1 relating to or expressing relation. 2 grammar showing or expressing syntactic relation. 3 computing based on interconnected data □ relational database. ■ relationally adverb.

relationship ▷ noun 1 the state of being related. 2 the state of being related by birth or marriage. 3 friendship, contact, communications, etc between people, countries, etc. 4 an emotional or sexual affair.

relative /ˈrɛlətɪv/ ▷ noun a person who is related to someone else by birth or marriage. ▷ adj 1 compared with something else; comparative □ the relative speeds of a car and train. 2 existing only in relation to something else □ 'hot' and 'cold' are relative terms. 3 (chiefly relative to something) in proportion to it; proportional □ salary relative to experience. 4 relevant □ information relative to the problem. 5 grammar a said of a pronoun or adjective: referring to someone or something that has already been named and attaching a subordinate clause to it, eg who in the children who are playing, although some clauses of this kind can have the relative word omitted, eg playing in the park is a relative clause in the children playing in the park; b said of a clause or phrase: attached to a preceding word, phrase, etc by a relative word such as which and who or whose in the man whose cat was. See also ANTECEDENT. Compare ABSOLUTE (adj 6a). 6 music said of major and minor keys: having the same key signature. ■ relatively adverb. ■ relativeness noun. ■ relativity see separate entry. ⓒ 16c: from Latin relativus referring.

relative aperture ▷ noun, photog in a camera: the ratio of the diameter of the lens to the FOCAL LENGTH, usually expressed as the F-NUMBER.

relative atomic mass ▷ noun, chem the average mass of one atom of all the naturally occurring isotopes of a particular chemical element, expressed in atomic mass units. Also (formerly) called atomic weight.

relative density ▷ noun, physics (abbreviation rel.d.) the ratio of the density of a particular substance to that of some standard, usually water at 20°C. Also called (formerly) specific gravity.

relative humidity ▷ noun, physics the ratio of the amount of water vapour present in the air to the amount that would be present if the air was saturated (at the same temperature and pressure), usually expressed as a percentage.

relative molecular mass ▷ noun the weight of one molecule of a substance relative to that of one-twelfth of the mass of a carbon-12 atom. Also called molecular weight.

relativism /ˈrɛlətɪvɪzəm/ ▷ noun, philos a philosophical position that maintains that there are truths and values, but denies that they are absolute, asserting that what may be true or rational in one situation may not be so in another. ■ relativist noun. ■ relativistic adj. ⓒ 19c.

relativity /rɛləˈtɪvɪtɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the condition of being relative to and therefore affected by something else. 2 two theories of motion, special theory of relativity (1905) and general theory of relativity (1915), developed by Albert Einstein, which recognize the dependence of space, time and other physical measurements on the position and motion of the observer who is making the measurements. ■ relativitist noun a person who studies or accepts relativity.

relativize or relativise ▷ verb (relativized, relativizing) to make or become relative.

relative majority ▷ noun in an election: an excess number of votes won by a candidate over a runner-up, when no candidate receives more than 50 per cent of all the votes cast. Also called plurality. Compare ABSOLUTE MAJORITY.

relax /rɪˈlaks/ ▷ verb (relaxes, relaxed, relaxing) 1 a to make (part of the body, muscles, one's grip, etc) less tense, stiff or rigid; b intr said of muscles, a grip, etc: to become less tense; to become looser or slacker. 2 tr & intr to make or become less tense, nervous or worried. 3 intr said of a person: to become less stiff or formal. 4 tr & intr to give or take rest from work or effort. 5 tr & intr said of discipline, rules, etc: to make or become less strict or severe. 6 to lessen the force, strength or intensity of something ▫ relaxed his vigilance. ■ relaxed adj. ■ relaxedly /rɪˈlaksɪdlɪ/ adverb. ■ relaxing adj. ⓒ 15c: from Latin relaxare to loosen.

relaxant ▷ adj relating to or causing relaxation. ▷ noun, medicine a drug that makes a person feel less tense and helps them to relax, or one that relaxes the skeletal muscles. ⓒ 18c.

relaxation /riːlakˈseɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of relaxing or state of being relaxed. 2 a rest after work or effort; b recreation. 3 a relaxing activity. 4 law partial remission, eg of a punishment, etc. 5 physics the return of a system towards equilibrium.

relaxation therapy ▷ noun, medicine a form of therapy that involves learning to relax certain muscle groups, with the aim of eventually being able to relax the entire body, especially in stressful situations.

relaxin /rɪˈlaksɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a hormone produced during pregnancy which has a relaxing effect on the pelvic muscles. 2 a preparation of this hormone which is used to facilitate childbirth. ⓒ 1930s.

relaxing see under RELAX

relay[1] ▷ noun /ˈriːleɪ/ 1 a set of workers, supply of materials, etc that replace others doing, or being used for, some task, etc. 2 old use a fresh supply of horses, posted at various points along a route, to replace others on a journey. 3 a RELAY RACE. 4 electronics an electrical switching device that, in response to a change in an electric circuit, eg a small change in current, opens or closes one or more contacts in the same or another circuit. 5 telecomm a device fitted at regular intervals along TV broadcasting networks, underwater telecommunications cables, etc to amplify weak signals and pass them on from one communication link to the next. 6 a something which is relayed, especially a signal or broadcast; b the act of relaying it. 7 as adj ▫ a relay station. ▷ verb /rɪˈleɪ, ˈriːleɪ/ (relays, relayed, relaying) 1 to receive and pass on (news, a message, a TV programme, etc). 2 radio to rebroadcast (a programme received from another station or source). 3 intr, old use to get a fresh relay of horses. ⓒ 15c: from French relaier to leave behind, ultimately from Latin laxare to loosen.

relay[2] or re-lay /riːˈleɪ/ ▷ verb (relays, relaid, relaying) to lay something again. ⓒ 16c.

relay race ▷ noun a race between teams of runners, swimmers, etc in which each member of the team covers part of the total distance to be covered.

rel.d. ▷ abbreviation relative density.

release[1] /rɪˈliːs/ ▷ verb (released, releasing) 1 to free (a prisoner, etc) from captivity. 2 to relieve someone who is suffering something considered unpleasant, such as a duty, burden, etc. 3 to loosen one's grip and stop holding something. 4 to make (news, information, etc) known publicly. 5 to offer (a film, record, book, etc) for sale, performance, etc. 6 to move (a catch, brake, etc) so that it no longer prevents something from moving, operating, etc. 7 to give off or emit (heat, gas, etc). ▷ noun 1 the act of releasing or state of being released, from captivity, duty, oppression, etc. 2 the act of making a film, record, book, etc available for sale, performance, publication, etc. 3 something made available for sale, performance, etc, especially a new record or film. 4 an item of news which is made public, or a document containing this ▫ press release. 5 an order or document allowing a prisoner, etc to be released. 6 a handle or catch which holds and releases part of a mechanism. ■ releasable adj. ■ releaser noun. ⓒ 13c: from French relesser, from Latin relaxare to relax.

release[2] /riːˈliːs/ ▷ verb to grant a new lease for property, etc.

relegate /ˈrɛləgeɪt/ ▷ verb (relegated, relegating) 1 to move someone down to a lower grade, position, status, etc. 2 sport, especially football to move (a team) down to a lower league or division. Compare PROMOTE (sense 1b). 3 to refer (a decision, etc) to someone or something for action to be taken. ■ relegable /ˈrɛləgəbəl/ adj. ■ relegation noun. ⓒ 16c: from Latin relegare, relegatum to send away.

relent /rɪˈlɛnt/ ▷ verb (relented, relenting) intr 1 to become less severe or unkind; to soften. 2 to give way and agree to something one initially would not accept. ■ relenting noun, adj. ⓒ 14c: from Latin lentus flexible.

relentless ▷ adj 1 a without pity; b harsh. 2 never stopping; unrelenting ▫ a relentless fight against crime. ■ relentlessly adverb. ■ relentlessness noun.

relevant /ˈrɛləvənt/ ▷ adj 1 directly connected with or related to the matter in hand; pertinent. 2 Scots law legally sufficient. ■ relevance or relevancy noun. ■ relevantly adverb. ⓒ 16c: from Latin relevare to raise up or relieve.

reliability, reliable, reliably, reliance and reliant see under RELY relic /ˈrɛlɪk/ ▷ noun 1 (usually relics) a fragment or part of an object left after the rest has decayed ▫ unearthed relics from the stone-age village. 2 an object valued as a memorial or souvenir of the past. 3 something left from a past time, especially a custom, belief, practice, etc ▫ a relic of medieval Britain. 4 RC Church, Orthodox Church part of the body of a saint or martyr, or of some object connected with them, preserved as an object of veneration. 5 colloq a an old person; b something that is old or old-fashioned. 6 (relics) archaic the remains of a dead person; a corpse. 7 biol a relict species. ⓘ 13c: from Latin reliquiae remains.

relict /ˈrɛlɪkt, rɪˈlɪkt/ ▷ noun, biol a species or organ occurring in circumstances different from those in which it originated. ⓘ 16c: from Latin relinquere, relictum to leave.

relict organ ▷ noun, biol an organ that is no longer functional and is therefore seen as evidence of Darwinian evolution.

relied past tense, past participle of RELY relief /rɪˈliːf/ ▷ noun 1 the lessening or removal of pain, worry, oppression or distress. 2 the feeling of calmness, relaxation, happiness, etc which follows the lessening or removal of pain, worry, etc. 3 anything which lessens pain, worry, boredom or monotony. 4 help, often in the form of money, food, clothing and medicine, given to people in need. 5 someone who takes over a job or task from another person, usually after a given period of time. 6 a bus, train, etc which supplements public transport at particularly busy times. 7 the freeing of a besieged or endangered town, fortress or military post. 8 art a method of sculpture in which figures project from a flat surface. See HIGH RELIEF, BAS-RELIEF. 9 a clear, sharp outline caused by contrast. 10 the variations in height above sea level of an area of land. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin relevare to reduce the load.

relief map ▷ noun a map which shows the variations in the height of the land, either by shading or by being a three-dimensional model.

relies see RELY relieve /rɪˈliːv/ ▷ verb (relieved, relieving) 1 to lessen or stop (someone's pain, worry, boredom, etc). 2 (usually relieve someone of something) a to take a physical or mental burden from them ▫ relieved her of many responsibilities; b euphemistic to take or steal it from them ▫ The thief relieved him of his wallet. 3 to give help or assistance to someone in need. 4 to make something less monotonous or tedious, especially by providing a contrast. 5 to free or dismiss someone from a duty or restriction. 6 to take over a job or task from someone. 7 to come to the help of (a besieged town, fortress, military post, etc). • relievable adj. • relieved adj freed from anxiety or concern, usually about a particular matter. • reliever noun. • relieve oneself to urinate or defecate. ⓘ 14c: from French relever, from Latin relevare to reduce the load, from levare to lighten.

relievo /rɪˈliːvoʊ/ or rilievo /rɪˈljeɪvoʊ/ ▷ noun (relievos or rilievi /-viː/) art 1 relief. 2 a work in relief. 3 appearance of relief. See RELIEF 8. ⓘ 17c: Italian.

religieuse /French ʀəliʒjøz/ ▷ noun (religieuses / French ʀəliʒjøz/) 1 a nun. 2 a cake made from two balls of choux pastry, the smaller placed on top of the larger one, filled with cream and covered with icing. ⓘ 1920s in sense 2; 18c in sense 1: feminine form of RELIGIEUX.

religieux /French ʀəliʒjø/ ▷ noun (plural religieux /French ʀəliʒjø/) a monk or friar. ⓘ 17c: French, from Latin religiosus religious.

religio- /rɪlɪdʒɪoʊ/ ▷ combining form, denoting religion or religious matters.

religion /rɪˈlɪdʒən/ ▷ noun 1 a belief in, or the worship of, a god or gods. 2 a particular system of belief or worship, such as Christianity or Judaism. 3 colloq anything to which one is totally devoted and which rules one's life ▫ mountaineering is his religion. 4 the monastic way of life. ⓘ 12c: French, from Latin religio bond or obligation, etc, from ligare to bind.

religiose /rɪˈlɪdʒɪoʊs/ ▷ adj morbidly or sentimentally religious.

religious /rɪˈlɪdʒəs/ adj 1 relating to religion. 2 a following the rules or forms of worship of a particular religion very closely; b pious; devout. 3 a taking great care to do something properly; b conscientious. 4 belonging or relating to the monastic way of life. ▷ noun (plural religious) a person bound by monastic vows, eg a monk or nun. • religiosity /-dʒɪˈɒsɪtɪ/ noun. • religiously adverb 1 in a religious way. 2 conscientiously. • religiousness noun.

religious order see ORDER (noun 14)

the Religious Society of Friends ▷ noun a pacifist Christian movement that was founded by George Fox in the 17c and whose members are often called QUAKERS. Fox stressed the importance of simplicity in all things and rejected the sacraments, formal doctrine and ordained ministry. Many 19c Quaker industrialists were noted for their philanthropic attitudes towards their workers. Often shortened to Society of Friends.

relinquish /rɪˈlɪŋkwɪʃ/ ▷ verb (relinquished, relinquishing) 1 to give up or abandon (a belief, task, etc). 2 to release one's hold of something; to let go of it. 3 to renounce possession or control of (a claim, right, etc). • relinquishment noun. ⓘ 15c: from French relinquir, from Latin linquere to leave.

reliquary /ˈrɛlɪkwərɪ/ ▷ noun (reliquaries) a container for holy relics. ⓘ 17c: from French reliquaire, from relique relic.

reliquiae /rəˈlɪkwiiː/ ▷ plural noun remains, especially fossil remains of plants or animals. ⓘ 19c: Latin.

relish /ˈrɛlɪʃ/ ▷ verb (relishes, relished, relishing) 1 to enjoy something greatly or with discrimination. 2 to look forward to something with great pleasure. ▷ noun 1 pleasure; enjoyment. 2 a a spicy appetizing flavour; b a sauce or pickle which adds such a flavour to food. 3 zest, charm, liveliness or gusto. • relishable adj. ⓘ 16c: from French relais remainder, from relaisser to leave behind or release.

relive /riːˈlɪv/ ▷ verb 1 intr to live again. 2 to experience something again, especially in the imagination ▫ kept reliving the fight in his dreams. ⓘ 16c.

relocate /riːloʊˈkeɪt/ ▷ verb 1 to locate again. 2 tr & intr to move (a business, one's home, etc) from one place, town, etc to another. • relocation noun.

reluctance /rɪˈlʌktəns/ ▷ noun 1 a unwillingness; b lack of enthusiasm. 2 physics (symbol R) a measure of the opposition to magnetic flux in a magnetic circuit, analogous to resistance in an electric circuit. ⓘ 16c: from Latin reluctari to resist.

reluctant adj unwilling or not wanting to do something. • reluctantly adverb.

rely /rɪˈlaɪ/ ▷ verb (relied, relying, relies) (always rely on or upon someone or something) 1 to depend on or need them or it. 2 to trust them to do something. 3 to be certain of it happening. • reliability /-əˈbɪlɪtɪ/ noun. • reliable adj. • reliably adverb. • reliance noun. • reliant adj. ⓘ 14c: from French relier to bind together, from Latin religare, from ligare to bind.

REM /rɛm, ɑː iː ˈɛm/ ▷ abbreviation rapid eye movement.

rem /rɛm/ ▷ noun a former unit of radiation dosage, replaced by the SIEVERT (1 rem = 0.01 Sv). ⓘ 1940s: from röntgen equivalent man or mammal.

remain /rɪˈmeɪn/ ▷ verb (remained, remaining) intr 1 to be left after others, or other parts of the whole, have been used up, taken away, lost, etc. 2 a to stay behind; b to stay in the same place. 3 to stay the same or unchanged; to continue to exist in the same state, condition, etc. 4 to continue to need to be done, shown, dealt with, etc □ That remains to be decided. ◷ 14c: from Latin remanere to stay behind.

remainder /rɪˈmeɪndə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 what is left after others, or other parts, have gone, been used up, taken away, etc; the rest. 2 math the amount left over when one number cannot be divided exactly by another number □ 7 divided by 2 gives 3 with a remainder of 1. 3 math the amount left when one number is subtracted from another; the difference □ 8 minus 5 leaves 3 as a remainder. 4 a copy or copies of a book sold at a reduced price when sales of that book have fallen off. 5 law an interest in an estate which comes into effect only if another interest established at the same time comes to an end. ▷ verb (remaindered, remaindering) to sell (a copy or copies of a book) at a reduced price because its sales have fallen off. • remaindered adj said of a book, especially a specified edition: offered for sale at a reduced price.

remains /rɪˈmeɪnz/ ▷ plural noun 1 what is left after part has been taken away, eaten, destroyed, etc. 2 a dead body. 3 relics. 4 literary works which are unpublished at the time of their author's death.

remake ▷ verb /riːˈmeɪk/ to make something again or in a new way. ▷ noun /ˈriːmeɪk/ 1 a something that is made again; b especially a new version of an old film. 2 the act of making something again or in a new way. ◷ 19c as noun; 17c as verb.

remand /rɪˈmɑːnd/ ▷ verb (remanded, remanding) 1 law to send (a person accused of a crime) back into custody to await trial, especially to allow more evidence to be collected. 2 rare to send back. ▷ noun 1 the act or process of sending an accused person back into custody to await trial. 2 the act of remanding or state of being remanded. • on remand in custody or on bail awaiting trial. ◷ 15c: from Latin remandare to send back word or to repeat a command, from mandare to send word or to command.

remand centre ▷ noun, Brit a place of detention for those on remand.

remand home ▷ noun, Brit a place to which a judge may send a child or young person who has broken the law, either on remand or as punishment.

remanent /ˈremənənt/ ▷ adj 1 remaining. 2 physics said of magnetism: remaining after removal of a magnetizing field. • remanence or remanency noun. ◷ 19c in sense 2; 16c in sense 1: from Latin remanere to stay behind.

remark[1] /rɪˈmɑːk/ ▷ verb 1 tr & intr (usually remark on something) to notice and comment on it. 2 to make a casual comment. ▷ noun 1 a comment, often a casual one. 2 an observation. 3 noteworthiness. 4 notice; observation. 5 a REMARQUE. • remarkable adj 1 worth mentioning or commenting on. 2 unusual; extraordinary. • remarkableness noun. • remarkably adverb. • remarked adj conspicuous. • remarker noun. ◷ 16c: from French remarquer.

remark[2] or re-mark ▷ verb /riːˈmɑːk/ to mark again. ▷ noun /ˈriːmɑːk/ the act of marking again. ◷ 16c.

remarque or remark /rɪˈmɑːk/ ▷ noun, engraving an indication on the edge of a plate that usually takes the form of a small sketch denoting the stage that the engraving has reached. ◷ 19c: French.

REME /ˈriːmiː/ ▷ abbreviation Royal Electrical and Mechanical Engineers.

remedial /rɪˈmiːdɪəl/ adj 1 affording a remedy. 2 relating to or concerning the teaching of children with learning difficulties. • remedially adverb.

remedy /ˈremədɪ/ ▷ noun (remedies) 1 any drug or treatment which cures or controls a disease. 2 (old use) anything which solves a problem or gets rid of something undesirable □ a remedy for the country's economic problems. 3 the range of tolerated variation from the standard weight or quality of a coin. ▷ verb (remedies, remedied, remedying) 1 to cure or control (a disease, etc). 2 to put right or correct (a problem, error, etc). • remediable /rɪˈmiːdɪəbəl/ adj. • remediably adverb. • remediless adj. ◷ 13c: from Latin remedium medicine or a cure, from mederi to heal.

remember /rɪˈmembə(r)/ ▷ verb (remembered, remembering) 1 to bring someone or something from the past to mind. 2 to keep (a fact, idea, etc) in one's mind □ remember to phone. 3 to reward or make a present to someone, eg in a will or as a tip. 4 to commemorate. • remembrance /rɪˈmembrəns/ noun 1 the act of remembering or being remembered. 2 a something which reminds a person of something or someone; b a souvenir. 3 a memory or recollection □ a dim remembrance of the night's events. • remember oneself to regain one's good manners, usual composure, etc after a lapse. ◷ 14c: from French remembrer, from Latin rememorari, from memor mindful.

■ remember someone to someone else to pass on their good wishes and greetings to the other person □ remember me to your parents.

Remembrance Day and Remembrance Sunday ▷ noun in the UK: the Sunday nearest to 11 November, on which services are held to commemorate the servicemen and servicewomen who died in both World Wars and subsequent conflicts. Also called Poppy Day.

remembrancer /rɪˈmembrənsə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 an officer of exchequer, especially one responsible for collecting debts due to the Crown (Queen's Remembrancer or King's Remembrancer). 2 an official representative of the City of London to Parliamentary committees, etc (City Remembrancer).

remex /ˈriːmeks/ ▷ noun (remiges /ˈremɪdʒiːz/) ornithol any of the large primary or secondary flight feathers of a bird's wing. • remigial /rɪˈmɪdʒɪəl/ adj. ◷ 17c in obsolete sense 'a rower': from Latin remus an oar.

remind /rɪˈmaɪnd/ ▷ verb (reminded, reminding) 1 to cause someone to remember (something or to do something) □ remind me to speak to him. 2 (usually remind someone of something or someone) to make them think about something or someone else, especially because of a similarity □ She reminds me of her sister. • reminder noun something that reminds. • remindful adj. ◷ 17c.

remineralize or remineralise /riːˈmɪnərəlaɪz/ ▷ verb, medicine 1 to replace the depleted mineral content of bones, teeth, etc. 2 intr said of bones, teeth, etc: to regain or replace depleted minerals. • remineralization noun the naturally occurring replacement of depleted mineral content in bones, teeth, etc. ◷ 20c.

reminisce /remɪˈnɪs/ ▷ verb (reminisced, reminiscing) intr to think, talk or write about things remembered from the past. • reminiscence /remɪˈnɪsəns/ noun 1 the act of thinking, talking or writing about the past. 2 (often reminiscences) an account of something remembered from the past. • reminiscent adj 1 (usually reminiscent of something or someone) similar, so as to remind one of them □ a painting reminiscent of Turner. 2 said of a person: ■ often thinking about the past. 3 relating to reminiscence. • reminiscently adverb. ◷ 16c as noun: from Latin reminisci to remember.

remise /rɪˈmaɪz/ ▷ verb (remised, remising) 1 law to give up or surrender (a right, claim, etc). 2 intr, fencing to make a remise. ▷ noun 1 law the giving up or surrender of a right or claim. 2 fencing an effective second thrust made on the same lunge after the first has missed. ◷ 15c: from French remis, from remettre to put back.

remiss /rɪˈmɪs/ ▷ adj 1 careless; failing to pay attention; negligent. 2 lacking vigour or energy. • remissly adverb. • remissness noun. ◷ 15c: from Latin from remittere, remissum to loosen.

remission /rɪ'mɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a lessening in force or effect, especially in the symptoms of a disease such as cancer. 2 a reduction of a prison sentence. 3 a pardon; b forgiveness from sin. 4 relinquishment of a claim. 5 the act of remitting or state of being remitted. • remissibility noun. • remissible /rɪ'mɪsəbəl/ adj able to be remitted. • remissive adj 1 remitting. 2 forgiving. • remissively adverb. ⓘ 13c: from Latin remissio.

remit ▷ verb /rɪ'mɪt/ (remitted, remitting) 1 to cancel or refrain from demanding (a debt, punishment, etc). 2 tr & intr to make or become loose, slack or relaxed. 3 to send (money) in payment. 4 to refer (a matter for decision, etc) to some other authority. 5 law to refer (a case) to a lower court. 6 intr said of a disease, pain, rain, etc: to become less severe for a period of time. 7 to send or put something back into a previous state. 8 said of God: to forgive (sins). ▷ noun /'riːmɪt, rɪ'mɪt/ the authority or terms of reference given to an official, committee, etc in dealing with a matter. ▫ not part of my remit to assess the cost. • remitment or remittal noun 1 remission. 2 law reference to another court, etc. • remittance /rɪ'mɪtəns/ noun 1 the sending of money in payment. 2 the money sent. • remittee noun the person to whom a remittance is sent. • remittent adj said of a disease: becoming less severe at times. • remittently adverb. • remitter or remittor noun someone who makes a remittance. ⓘ 14c: from Latin remittere to loosen or send back.

remix ▷ verb /riː'mɪks/ to mix again in a different way, especially to mix (a recording) again, changing the balance of the different parts, etc. ▷ noun /'riːmɪks/ a remixed recording. See also MIX (verb 7).

remnant /'remnənt/ ▷ noun (often remnants) 1 a remaining small piece or amount of something larger, or a small number of things left from a larger quantity. 2 a remaining piece of fabric from the end of a roll. 3 a surviving trace or vestige. ⓘ 14c: from French remenant remaining, from remanoir to remain.

remonstrance /rɪ'mɒnstrəns/ noun 1 an act of remonstrating. 2 a strong, usually formal, protest. • remonstrant noun, adj.

remonstrate /'remənstreɪt/ ▷ verb (remonstrated, remonstrating) to protest forcefully; to say in remonstrance ▫ remonstrated that they knew nothing about it. • remonstration noun. • remonstrative /rɪ'mɒnstrətɪv/ adj. • remonstrator noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin remonstrare, remonstratum to demonstrate.

■ remonstrate with someone to protest to them.

remontant /rɪ'mɒntənt/ bot ▷ adj 1 said especially of a rose: blooming more than once in the same season. 2 said of a strawberry plant: producing several crops in the same season. ▷ noun a remontant plant, especially a rose or a strawberry plant. ⓘ 19c: French, from remonter to come up again.

remora /'remərə/ ▷ noun 1 any of several slender marine fish which attach themselves to rocks, other fish, etc by means of a large sucker on the top of the head. 2 a hindrance or obstacle. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from mora a delay, so called because formerly the fish was believed to stop ships by attaching itself to them.

remorse /rɪ'mɔːs/ ▷ noun 1 a a deep feeling of guilt, regret and bitterness for something wrong or bad which one has done; b compunction. 2 compassion or pity. • remorseful adj. • remorsefully adverb. • remorsefulness noun. • remorseless adj 1 without remorse. 2 cruel. 3 without respite; relentless. • remorselessly adverb. • remorselessness noun. ⓘ 14c: from French remors, from Latin remorsum, remordere to vex, from mordere to bite or sting.

remote /rɪ'moʊt/ ▷ adj 1 far away; distant in time or place. 2 out of the way; far from civilization. 3 operated or controlled from a distance; remote-controlled. 4 computing said of a computer terminal: located separately from the main processor but having a communication link with it. 5 distantly related or connected. 6 very small, slight or faint ▫ a remote chance. 7 said of someone's manner: not friendly or interested; aloof or distant. ▷ noun 1 TV & radio, especially US an outside broadcast. 2 a remote control device, eg for a TV. • remotely adverb. • remoteness noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin remotus removed or distant.

remote access ▷ noun, computing access to a computer from a computer terminal at another site, usually in a different town or country.

remote control ▷ noun 1 the control of machinery or electrical devices from a distance, by the making or breaking of an electric circuit or by means of radio waves. 2 a battery-operated device for transmitting such waves. • remote-controlled adj.

remote handling equipment ▷ noun, nuclear eng equipment that enables dangerous (eg highly radioactive) materials to be manipulated from behind a shield or from a safe distance.

remote job entry ▷ noun, computing (abbreviation RJE) input of data or programs to a computer from a distant input device.

remote sensor ▷ noun a device which scans the earth and other planets from space in order to collect, and transmit to a central computer, data about them. • remote sensing noun TELEMETRY.

remoulade or rémoulade / French remulad/ ▷ noun (remoulades / French remulad/) a sauce made by adding herbs, capers, mustard, etc to mayonnaise, and served with fish, salad, etc. ⓘ 19c: French, from dialect ramolas horseradish, from Latin armoracea.

remould ▷ verb /riː'moʊld/ 1 to mould again. 2 to bond new tread onto (an old or worn tyre). ▷ noun /'riːmoʊld/ a tyre that has had new tread bonded onto it. Also called retread. ⓘ 17c as verb, sense 1; 1950s in other senses.

remount ▷ verb /riː'maʊnt/ tr & intr 1 to get on or mount again (especially a horse, bicycle, etc). 2 to mount (a picture, etc) again. ▷ noun /'riːmaʊnt/ 1 a fresh horse. 2 a fresh supply of horses. ⓘ 14c.

remove /rɪ'muːv/ ▷ verb 1 to move someone or something to a different place. 2 to take off (a piece of clothing). 3 to get rid of someone or something. 4 euphemistic to murder or assassinate. 5 to dismiss someone from a job, position, etc. 6 intr, formal a to change one's position, place, location, etc; b to move to a new house. ▷ noun 1 a removal. 2 the degree, usually specified, of difference separating two things ▫ a form of government at only one remove from tyranny. 3 Brit in some schools: an intermediate form or class. • removability noun. • removable adj. • removal noun 1 the act or process of removing or state of being removed. 2 a the moving of possessions, furniture, etc to a new house; b as adj ▫ removal van. 3 euphemistic murder or assassination. • removed adj 1 separated, distant or remote. 2 usually said of cousins: separated by a specified number of generations or degrees of descent ▫ first cousin once removed. • remover noun 1 someone or something that removes. 2 someone whose job is to move possessions, furniture, etc from one house to another. ⓘ 14c: from French removoir.

REM sleep /rem—/ ▷ noun a phase of restless sleep characterized by brain patterns similar to those produced when awake, and including increased electrical activity of the brain, rapid eye movement, and dreaming. Technical equivalent paradoxical sleep.

remuage /rəmu'ɑːʒ; French ʁəmɥaʒ/ ▷ noun, wine-making the process of turning or shaking wine bottles so that the sediment collects at the cork end for removal. • remueur /rəmu'ɜː(r); French ʁəmɥœʁ/ noun, wine-making the person who turns the bottles. ⓘ 1920s: French, meaning 'moving about', from remuer to move or turn.

remunerate /rɪ'mjuːnəreɪt/ ▷ verb (remunerated, remunerating) 1 to recompense. 2 to pay for services rendered. ◆ remunerable adj. ◆ remuneration noun. ◆ remunerative adj profitable. ◆ remunerator noun. ◆ remuneratory adj giving a recompense. ⓘ 16c: from Latin remunerari, remuneratus from munus a gift.

renaissance /rɪ'neɪsəns, -sɑ̃s; especially NAmer 'renəsɑ̃s/ ▷ noun 1 a rebirth or revival, especially of learning, culture and the arts. 2 (the Renaissance) the revival of arts and letters which formed the transition from the Middle Ages to the modern world. ▷ adj relating to the Renaissance. ⓘ 19c: French, from Latin renasci to be born again.

renal /'riːnəl/ ▷ adj relating to, or in the area of, the kidneys. ⓘ 17c: from French rénal, from Latin renalis, from renes kidneys.

renascence /rɪ'nasəns/ ▷ noun 1 rebirth; the fact or process of being born again or into new life. 2 (the Renascence) Renaissance. ◆ renascent /rɪ'nasənt, rɪ'neɪsənt/ adj 1 being reborn. 2 reviving; becoming active or lively again. ⓘ 18c: from Latin renasci to be born again.

rend ▷ verb (rent, rending) old use 1 to tear something apart, especially using force or violence; to split. 2 intr to tear or split, especially violently or with force. 3 to tear something forcibly or violently away from someone. 4 to tear (one's hair, clothes, etc) in grief, rage, etc. 5 said of a noise: to disturb (the silence, the air, etc) with a loud, piercing sound. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

render /'rendə(r)/ ▷ verb (rendered, rendering) 1 to cause something to be or become □ render things more agreeable. 2 to give or provide (a service, help, etc). 3 to show (obedience, honour, etc). 4 to pay (money) or perform (a duty), especially in return for something □ render thanks to God. 5 (often render something back) to give back or return something. 6 to give something in return or exchange. 7 (also render something up) to give up, release or yield something □ The grave will never render up its dead. 8 to translate something into another language □ How do you render that in German? 9 to perform (the role of a character in a play, a piece of music, etc). 10 to portray or reproduce someone or something, especially in painting or music. 11 to present or submit for payment, approval, consideration, etc. 12 to cover (brick or stone) with a coat of plaster. 13 (often render something down) a to melt down (fat), especially to clarify it; b to remove (fat) by melting it. 14 law said of a judge or jury: to deliver formally (a judgement or verdict). ▷ noun a first coat of plaster or rendering applied to brick or stonework. ◆ renderable adj. ◆ renderer noun. ◆ rendering noun 1 a performance. 2 a coat of plaster. ⓘ 14c: from French rendre.

rendezvous /'rɑ̃deɪvuː, 'rɒn-, -dɪvuː/ ▷ noun (rendezvous /-vuːz/) 1 a an appointment to meet at a specified time and place; b the meeting itself; c the place where such a meeting is to be. 2 a place where people generally meet. 3 space flight an arranged meeting, and usually docking, of two spacecraft in space. ▷ verb (rendezvoused, /-vuːd/ rendezvousing /-vuːɪŋ/) intr 1 to meet at an appointed place or time. 2 said of two spacecraft: to meet, and usually dock, in space. ⓘ 16c: French, meaning 'present yourselves', from se rendre to present oneself.

rendition /ren'dɪʃən/ noun 1 an act of rendering. 2 a performance or interpretation of a piece of music, a dramatic role, etc. 3 a translation. 4 surrender.

rendzina /rend'ziːnə/ ▷ noun, soil science any of a group of dark fertile soils, typical of humid or semi-arid grassland and limestone regions, rich in humus and calcium carbonate, that have developed over limestone bedrock. ⓘ 1920s: Russian, from Polish rędzina.

renegade /'renəgeɪd/ ▷ noun 1 a someone who deserts the religious, political, etc group which they belong to, and joins an enemy or rival group; b a turncoat. 2 a Christian turned Muslim. ⓘ 15c: from Spanish renegado, from Latin negare to deny.

renege or renegue /rɪ'niːg, rɪ'neɪg/ ▷ verb (reneged, reneging) 1 intr (often renege on something) to go back on (a promise, agreement, deal, etc). 2 to renounce (a promise, etc) or desert (a person, faith, etc). 3 cards to revoke (sense 2). ◆ reneger or reneguer noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin renegare to renounce, from negare to deny.

renew /rɪ'njuː/ ▷ verb (renewed, renewing) 1 a to make something fresh or like new again; b to restore something to its original condition. 2 a to begin something or begin to do it again; b to repeat. 3 tr & intr to begin (some activity) again after a break. 4 tr & intr to make (a licence, lease, loan, etc) valid for a further period of time. 5 to replenish or replace □ renew the water in the vases. 6 to recover (youth, strength, etc). ◆ renewable adj. ◆ renewal noun. ◆ renewer noun. ◆ renewing noun.

renewable energy ▷ noun any energy source that is naturally occurring and that cannot in theory be exhausted, eg solar energy, tidal, wind or wave power, geothermal energy.

renewable resource ▷ noun a supply of living organisms that, after harvesting by regrowth or reproduction, can be replaced, unlike a NON-RENEWABLE RESOURCE.

reni- /'reni, 'riːni/ ▷ combining form, denoting the kidneys or the area around the kidneys.

reniform ▷ adj kidney-shaped. ⓘ 18c.

renin /'riːnɪn/ ▷ noun, physiol an enzyme, produced by the kidneys, that is secreted into the bloodstream and is involved in the formation of a hormone which raises the blood pressure by constricting the arteries. ⓘ Early 20c: from Latin renes the kidneys.

renminbi yuan see under YUAN rennet /'renɪt/ ▷ noun a substance used for curdling milk, especially and originally an extract obtained from the stomachs of calves that contains the enzyme rennin. ⓘ 15c: related to Anglo-Saxon gerinnan to curdle.

rennin /'renɪn/ ▷ noun, biochem an enzyme found in gastric juice that causes milk to curdle. ⓘ 19c: from RENNET.

renormalization or renormalisation ▷ noun, physics a method of obtaining finite answers to calculations (rather than infinites) by redefining the parameters, especially those of mass and charge. ⓘ 1940s.

renormalize or renormalise ▷ verb to subject to, or calculate using, renormalization.

renounce /rɪ'naʊns/ ▷ verb (renounced, renouncing) 1 to give up (a claim, title, right, etc), especially formally and publicly. 2 to refuse to recognize or associate with someone. 3 to give up (a bad habit). 4 intr, cards to fail to follow suit. ▷ noun, cards a failure to follow suit. ◆ renouncement noun. ◆ renouncer noun. ⓘ 14c: from French renoncer, from Latin renuntiare to announce.

renovate /'renəveɪt/ ▷ verb (renovated, renovating) 1 a to renew or make new again; b to restore (especially a building) to a former and better condition. 2 to refresh or reinvigorate (one's spirits, etc). ◆ renovation noun. ◆ renovator noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin renovare, renovatum.

renown /rɪ'naʊn/ ▷ noun fame. ◆ renowned adj famous; celebrated. ⓘ 14c: from French renom, from renomer to make famous.

rent[1] ▷ noun money paid periodically to the owner of a property by a tenant in return for the use or occupation of that property. ▷ verb (rented, renting) 1 to pay rent for (a building, house, flat, etc). 2 (usually rent something out) to allow someone the use of (one's property) in return for payment of rent. 3 intr to be hired out for rent. ◆ rentability noun. ◆ rentable adj. ◆ rented adj □ rented accommodation. ◆ renter noun. ⓘ 12c: from French rente revenue, from Latin rendere to render.

rent[2] ▷ noun, old use 1 an opening or split made by tearing or rending. 2 a fissure. ▷ verb, past tense, past participle of REND. ⓘ 16c.

rent-a- or (before a vowel) rent-an- ▷ prefix, derog or jocular denoting as if rented, hired or organized for a specific occasion or purpose; quickly and artificially created, etc □ rent-a-crowd □ rent-an-army.

rental /ˈrentəl/ ▷ noun 1 the act of renting. 2 money paid as rent. 3 income derived from money paid as rent. 4 a list of rent owed to a property owner by tenants; a rent-roll. 5 property available for renting.

rent boy ▷ noun a young male prostitute who provides sexual services for men.

rent-free ▷ adj, adverb without payment of rent.

rent-restriction ▷ noun restriction of a landlord's right to raise rent controlled by legislation.

rent-roll ▷ noun 1 a list of property and rent. 2 the total income from rented property.

renunciation /rɪnʌnsɪˈeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 an act of renouncing. 2 a formal declaration of renouncing something. 3 self-denial. 4 stock exchange the surrendering to another of the rights to buy new shares in a rights issue. • renunciative /rɪˈnʌnsɪətɪv/ adj. • renunciatory /rɪˈnʌnsɪətərɪ/ adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin renuntiare to proclaim.

reopen /riːˈoʊpən/ ▷ verb 1 tr & intr to open again. 2 to begin to discuss again (a subject which has already been discussed). ⓘ 18c.

rep[1] ▷ noun, colloq a representative, especially a travelling salesperson. Also as adj.

rep[2] or repp ▷ noun a corded cloth, made of wool, silk, cotton or rayon, used as a furnishing fabric. ⓘ 19c: from French reps.

rep[3] see under REPERTORY.

repaint ▷ verb /riːˈpeɪnt/ to paint over or again. ▷ noun 1 the act or process of repainting or fact of being repainted. 2 a repainted golf ball. ⓘ 17c.

repair[1] /rɪˈpeə(r)/ ▷ verb (repaired, repairing) 1 to restore (something damaged or broken) to good working condition. 2 to put right, heal or make up for (some wrong that has been done). ▷ noun 1 an act or the process of repairing. 2 a condition or state □ in good repair. 3 a part or place that has been mended or repaired. • repairable adj. • repairer noun. ⓘ 14c: from French reparer, from Latin reparare, from parare to put in order or make ready.

repair[2] /rɪˈpeə(r)/ ▷ verb (repaired, repairing) intr (usually repair to somewhere) old use 1 to go there. 2 to take oneself off there. ⓘ 14c: from French repairer, from Latin repatriare to return to one's homeland, from patria homeland.

repand /rɪˈpand/ ▷ adj, bot, zool with slightly wavy edge or margin. ⓘ 18c: from Latin repandus bent backwards.

reparation /repəˈreɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of making up for some wrong that has been done. 2 money paid or something done for this purpose. 3 (usually reparations) compensation paid after a war by a defeated nation for the damage caused. • reparability /repərəˈbɪlɪtɪ/ noun. • reparable /ˈrepərəbəl/ adj 1 able to be put right. 2 capable of being made good. • reparably adverb. • reparatory /rɪˈparətərɪ/ adj. ⓘ 14c: from French réparation, from Latin reparare to repair.

repartee /repɑːˈtiː/ ▷ noun (repartees) 1 the practice or skill of making spontaneous witty replies. 2 a quick witty reply or retort. 3 conversation with many such replies. ⓘ 17c: from French repartie, from repartir to set out again or to retort.

repast /rɪˈpɑːst/ ▷ noun, formal or old use a meal. ⓘ 14c: from French repaistre to eat a meal, from Latin pascere to feed.

repatriate /riːˈpatrieɪt; -ˈpeɪt-/ ▷ verb (repatriated, repatriating) to send (a refugee, prisoner of war, etc) back to their country of origin. ▷ noun a repatriated person. • repatriation noun. ⓘ 17c as verb; 1920s as noun: from Latin repatriare, repatriatum to return home, from patria homeland.

repay /rɪˈpeɪ, rɪ-/ ▷ verb 1 to pay back or refund (money). 2 to do or give something to someone in return for something they have done or given □ repay his kindness. • repayable adj. • repayment noun.

repeal /rɪˈpiːl/ ▷ verb (repealed, repealing) to make (a law, etc) no longer valid; to annul (a law, etc). ▷ noun the act of repealing (a law, etc); annulment. • repealable adj. • repealer noun. ⓘ 14c: from French repeler, from apeler to appeal.

repeat /rɪˈpiːt/ ▷ verb (repeated, repeating) 1 to say, do, etc, again or several times. 2 to echo or say again exactly (the words already said by someone else). 3 to tell (something one has heard or been told in confidence) to someone else, especially when one ought not to. 4 a to quote something from memory; b to recite (a poem, etc). 5 intr said of food: to be tasted again some time after being swallowed. 6 intr to occur again or several times; to recur. 7 (usually repeat itself) said of an event, occurrence, etc: to happen in exactly the same way more than once □ history repeats itself. 8 intr said of a gun: to fire several times without being reloaded. 9 intr said of a clock: to strike the hour or quarter hour. 10 intr, US to vote illegally more than once in the same election. 11 (repeat oneself) to say the same thing more than once, especially with the result of being repetitious or tedious. 12 said of a TV or radio company: to broadcast (a programme, series, etc) again □ The BBC repeats 'Murder One' on Wednesdays □ 'Murder One' is repeated on Wednesday. ▷ noun 1 a the act of repeating; b a repetition. 2 something that is repeated, especially a television or radio programme which has been broadcast before. 3 music a a passage in a piece of music that is to be repeated; b a sign which marks such a passage. 4 an order for goods, etc that is exactly the same as a previous one. ▷ adj repeated □ a repeat showing. • repeatable adj 1 able to be repeated. 2 suitable or fit to be told to others. • repeated adj 1 said, done, etc again or several times. 2 reiterated. • repeatedly adverb again and again; frequently. • repeater noun 1 someone or something that repeats. 2 a clock that strikes the hour or quarter hour. 3 a gun that can be fired several times without having to be reloaded. 4 teleg an instrument for automatically retransmitting a message. • repeating noun, adj. ⓘ 14c: from French repeter.

repeating decimal see under RECURRING DECIMAL.

repechage /ˈrepəʃɑːʒ/ ▷ noun, especially fencing & rowing a supplementary heat in a competition that allows runners-up from earlier eliminating heats a second chance to go on to the final. ⓘ 19c: from French repêchage a fishing out again, from pêcher to fish.

repel /rɪˈpel/ ▷ verb (repelled, repelling) 1 a to force or drive something or someone back or away; b to repulse. 2 tr & intr to provoke a feeling of disgust or loathing. 3 to fail to mix with, absorb or be attracted by (something else) □ oil repels water. 4 to reject or rebuff, especially someone's advances. • repeller noun. • repelling adj. • repellingly adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin repellere to drive back.

repellent or repellant noun 1 something that repels, especially that repels insects. 2 a substance used to treat fabric so as to make it resistant to water. ▷ adj 1 forcing or driving back or away; repelling. 2 provoking a feeling of disgust or loathing. • repellence or repellency noun. • repellently adverb.

repent[1] /rɪˈpent/ ▷ verb (repented, repenting) 1 tr & intr (often repent of something) a to feel great sorrow or regret for something one has done; b to wish (an action, etc) undone. 2 intr to regret the evil or bad things one has done in the past and as a result change one's behaviour or conduct. • repentance noun. • repentant adj experiencing or expressing repentance. • repentantly adverb. • repenter noun. ⓘ 13c: from French repentir.

repent² /ˈriːpənt/ ▷ adj, bot said of a plant: creeping, especially lying along the ground and rooting. ⓘ 17c: from Latin repere to creep.

repercussion /riːpəˈkʌʃən, rɛ-/ ▷ noun 1 (usually repercussions) the result or consequence of, or reaction to, some action, event, etc, and usually a bad, unforeseen or indirect one. 2 a reflection of a sound; an echo or reverberation. 3 a recoil or repulse after an impact. • repercussive adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin repercussio.

repertoire /ˈrɛpətwɑː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the list of songs, operas, plays, etc that a singer, performer, group of actors, etc is able or ready to perform. 2 the range or stock of skills, techniques, talents, etc that someone or something has. 3 computing the total list of codes and commands that a computer can accept and execute. ⓘ 19c: from French répertoire; see REPERTORY.

repertory /ˈrɛpətərɪ/ ▷ noun (repertories) 1 a repertoire, especially the complete list of plays that a theatre company is able and ready to perform. 2 the performance of a repertoire of plays at regular, short intervals. 3 a storehouse or repository. 4 short form of REPERTORY COMPANY. 5 a short form of REPERTORY THEATRE; b repertory theatres collectively ▫ worked in repertory for a few years. Often shortened still further to rep. ⓘ 16c: from Latin repertorium inventory, from reperire, repertum to discover or find again.

repertory company ▷ noun a group of actors who perform a series of plays from their repertoire in the course of a season at one theatre.

repertory theatre ▷ noun a theatre where a repertory company performs its plays.

repetend /ˈrɛpɪtɛnd, rɛpɪˈtɛnd/ ▷ noun 1 math the figure or figures that repeat themselves in a RECURRING DECIMAL number. 2 a recurring note, word, refrain, etc. 3 anything that recurs or is repeated. ⓘ 18c: from Latin repetendum something that should be repeated.

répétiteur /rɪpɛtɪˈtɜː(r)/ ▷ noun a coach or tutor, especially one who rehearses opera singers, ballet dancers, etc. ⓘ 1930s: French.

repetition /rɛpəˈtɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of repeating or being repeated. 2 something that is repeated. 3 a recital from memory, eg of a poem, piece of music, etc. 4 a copy or replica. 5 music the ability of a musical instrument to repeat a note quickly. • repetitious /rɛpəˈtɪʃəs/ or repetitive /rɪˈpɛtɪtɪv/ adj overinclined to repetition and so tedious and boring, etc. • repetitiously or repetitively adverb. • repetitiousness or repetitiveness noun. ⓘ 16c: from French répétition.

repetitive strain injury and repetitive stress injury ▷ noun (abbreviation RSI) inflammation of the tendons and joints of the hands and lower arms, caused by repeated performance of identical manual operations such as using a keyboard.

rephrase /riːˈfreɪz/ ▷ verb to put or express something in different words, especially to make it more understandable, acceptable, etc. ⓘ 19c.

repine /rɪˈpaɪn/ ▷ verb (repined, repining) intr (usually repine at or against something) 1 to fret. 2 to feel discontented. ⓘ 16c: from PINE².

replace /rɪˈpleɪs/ ▷ verb 1 a to put something back in its previous position; b to return something to its proper position. 2 to take the place of or be a substitute for someone or something. 3 to supplant someone or something. 4 (often replace someone or something by or with another) to use or substitute another person or thing in place of an existing one ▫ We want to replace the TV with a new one. • replaceable adj. • replacement > replace

>
> See Usage Note at substitute.

> Could you rephrase that?
>
> A glance at the following examples reveals the damage we can do when we construct our sentences loosely or clumsily:
>
> ✗ If the baby does not thrive on raw milk, boil it.
>
> ✗ I have discussed the question of stocking the proposed poultry plant with my colleagues.
>
> ✗ County Council employees can sit on District Councils, and vice versa.
>
> ✗ Nothing is less likely to appeal to a young woman than the opinions of old men on the Pill.
>
> ✗ People in the South East keep their teeth longer than people in the North.
>
> ✗ Prices of different models vary and you should take the advice of an expert on the make.
>
> A common error is to construct a sentence in such a way that there is no match between the subjects, or implied subjects, of the clauses:
>
> ✗ Badly damaged by fire last year, I am in the process of rebuilding the house.
>
> ✗ Propped up against the wall like that, anyone could fall over those poles.
>
> ✗ As the biggest nation in the world, I want to learn as much about China as possible.
>
> ✗ Sitting in a hot stuffy office, it seemed as if five o'clock would never come.

noun 1 the act of replacing something. 2 someone or something that replaces another. • replacer noun. ⓘ 16c.

replay ▷ noun /ˈriːpleɪ/ 1 the playing of a game, football match, etc again, usually because there was no clear winner the first time. 2 ACTION REPLAY. ▷ verb /riːˈpleɪ/ to play (a tape, recording, football match, etc) again. ⓘ 19c.

replenish /rɪˈplɛnɪʃ/ ▷ verb (replenished, replenishing) to fill up or make complete again, especially a supply of something which has been used up. • replenisher noun. • replenishment noun. ⓘ 14c: from French replenir, from Latin plenus full.

replete /rɪˈpliːt/ ▷ adj 1 (often replete with something) completely or well supplied with it. 2 formal a having eaten enough or more than enough; b satiated. • repleteness or repletion noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin replere, repletum to fill.

replica /ˈrɛplɪkə/ ▷ noun (replicas) 1 an exact copy, especially of a work of art, sometimes by the original artist, and often on a smaller scale. 2 a facsimile or reproduction. 3 music a repeat. ⓘ 19c: Italian, from Latin replicare to repeat or fold back.

replicate ▷ verb /ˈrɛplɪkeɪt/ (replicated, replicating) 1 a to make a replica of something; b to reproduce or copy something exactly. 2 to repeat (a scientific experiment). 3 intr said of a molecule, virus, etc: to make a replica of itself. 4 to fold back. ▷ noun /ˈrɛplɪkət/ 1 music a tone one or more octaves from a given tone. 2 a repetition of a scientific experiment. ▷ adj /ˈrɛplɪkət/ 1 bot said of a leaf, an insect's wing, etc: folded back. 2 said of a scientific experiment: being a replicate or repetition. • replication /rɛplɪˈkeɪʃən/ noun 1 the act of replicating. 2 law the plaintiff's answer to the defendant's plea. • replicative /ˈrɛplɪkətɪv/ adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin replicare, replicatum to fold back.

reply /rɪˈplaɪ/ ▷ verb (replies, replied, replying) 1 intr to answer or respond to something in words, writing or action. 2 to say or do something in response. 3 intr to make a speech of thanks in answer to a speech of welcome. 4 intr, law to answer a defendant's plea. 5 tr & intr to echo; to return (a sound). ▷ noun (replies) 1 an answer; a response. 2 law the answer made to a defendant's plea on behalf of the plaintiff or prosecution. • replier noun. ⓘ 14c: from French replier, from Latin replicare to fold back; reply.

repo /ˈriːpoʊ/ ▷ noun (repos) chiefly US colloq short form of REPOSSESSION. ⓘ 20c.

repoint /riːˈpɔɪnt/ ▷ verb to repair (stone or brickwork) by renewing the cement or mortar between the joins. ⓘ 19c.

report /rɪˈpɔːt/ ▷ noun (abbreviation rept) 1 a detailed statement, description or account, especially one made after some form of investigation. 2 a detailed and usually formal account of the discussions and decisions of a committee, inquiry or other group of people. 3 an account of some matter of news or a topical story □ a newspaper report. 4 a statement of a pupil's work and behaviour at school, usually made at the end of each school year or each term. 5 a rumour; b general talk. 6 character or reputation. 7 a loud explosive noise, eg the sound of a gun firing. ▷ verb (reported, reporting) 1 to bring back (information, etc) as an answer, news or account □ reported that fighting had broken out. 2 intr to state. 3 (often to report on something) to give a formal or official account or description of (findings, information, etc), especially after an investigation. 4 US said of a committee, etc: to make a formal report on (a bill, etc). 5 a to give an account of (some matter of news, etc), especially for a newspaper, or TV or radio broadcast; b intr to act as a newspaper, TV or radio reporter. 6 to make a complaint about someone, especially to a person in authority. 7 to make something known to a person in authority. 8 intr (usually report for something or to someone) to present oneself at an appointed place or time for a particular purpose □ Please report to reception on arrival. 9 intr (usually report to someone) to be responsible to them or under their authority. 10 intr to account for oneself in a particular way □ report sick. 11 law to take down or record the details of a legal case, proceedings, etc. ● reportable adj. ● reportedly adverb according to report or general talk. ● reporter noun 1 someone who reports, especially for a newspaper, TV or radio. 2 law someone whose job is to prepare reports on legal proceedings. ⓘ 14c: from French reporter, from Latin reportare to carry back.

reportage /repɔːˈtɑːʒ, rɪˈpɔːtɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 journalistic reporting. 2 the style and manner of this kind of reporting.

reported speech ▷ noun, grammar see INDIRECT SPEECH.

report stage ▷ noun in the UK: the point when a parliamentary bill, which has been amended in committee, is reported to the House before the third reading.

repose[1] /rɪˈpoʊz/ ▷ noun 1 a state of rest, calm or peacefulness. 2 composure. ▷ verb (reposed, reposing) 1 intr to rest. 2 to lay (oneself, one's head, etc) down to rest. 3 intr, formal to lie dead. 4 (usually repose on something) formal to be based on it. ● reposed adj. ● reposedly /rɪˈpoʊzɪdlɪ/ adverb. ● reposedness /rɪˈpoʊzɪdnəs/ noun. ● reposeful adj. ● reposefully adverb. ⓘ 15c: from French reposer, from Latin repausare to stop.

repose[2] /rɪˈpoʊz/ ▷ verb (reposed, reposing) 1 to place (confidence, trust, etc) in a someone or something. 2 to place (an object) somewhere. ⓘ 15c: from Latin reponere, repositum to replace, restore, store up.

repository /rɪˈpɒzɪtərɪ/ ▷ noun (repositories) 1 a place or container where things may be stored. 2 a a place where things are stored for exhibition; b a museum. 3 a warehouse. 4 someone or something thought of as a store of information, knowledge, etc. 5 a trusted person to whom one can confide secrets. 6 a tomb; a place of burial. ⓘ 15c: from Latin repositorium, from reponere, repositum to replace, to store up.

repossess ▷ verb said of a creditor: to regain possession of (property or goods), especially because the debtor has defaulted on payment. ● repossession noun. ● repossessor noun. ⓘ 15c.

repoussé /rəˈpuːseɪ/ ▷ adj said of metalwork: raised in relief by hammering from behind or within. ▷ noun a piece of metalwork made in this way. ● repoussage /-sɑːʒ/ noun. ⓘ 19c: French.

repp see REP[2]

reprehend /reprɪˈhend/ ▷ verb (reprehended, reprehending) 1 to find fault with something. 2 to blame or reprove someone. ● reprehensible adj deserving blame or criticism. ● reprehensibly adverb. ● reprehension noun. ● reprehensory adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin reprehendere.

represent /reprɪˈzent/ ▷ verb (represented, representing) 1 a to serve as a symbol or sign for something □ letters represent sounds; b to stand for something or correspond to it □ A thesis represents years of hard work. 2 to speak or act on behalf of (someone else). 3 a to be a good example of something; b to typify something □ What he said represents the feelings of many people. 4 to present an image of or portray someone or something, especially through painting or sculpture. 5 to bring someone or something clearly to mind □ a film that represents all the horrors of war. 6 to describe in a specified way; to attribute a specified character or quality to (someone, something, oneself, etc) □ represented themselves as experts. 7 to show, state or explain □ represent the difficulties forcibly to the committee. 8 to be an elected member of Parliament for (a constituency). 9 to act out or play the part of someone or something on stage. ● representable adj. ● representability noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin repraesentare to exhibit, from praesentare to present.

re-present ▷ verb to present something again □ Re-present the report on Monday when you've worked on it some more. ⓘ 16c.

representation ▷ noun 1 the act or process of representing, or the state or fact of being represented. 2 a person or thing that represents someone or something else. 3 a an image; b a picture or painting. 4 a dramatic performance. 5 a body of representatives. 6 (often representations) a strong statement made to present facts, opinions, complaints or demands. ● representational adj said especially of art: depicting objects in a realistic rather than an abstract form. ● representationalism or representationism noun 1 representational art. 2 philos the doctrine that, in the perception of the external world, the immediate object represents another object beyond the sphere of consciousness. ● representationist noun.

representative ▷ adj 1 representing. 2 a standing as a good example of something; b typical. 3 standing or acting as a deputy for someone. 4 said of government: comprising elected people. ▷ noun 1 someone who represents someone or something else, especially someone who represents, or sells the goods of, a business or company; b someone who acts as someone's agent or who speaks on their behalf. 2 someone who represents a constituency in Parliament. 3 a typical example. ● representatively adverb. ● representativeness noun.

repress /rɪˈpres/ ▷ verb 1 a to keep (an impulse, a desire to do something, etc) under control; b to restrain (an impulse, desire, etc). 2 to put down, especially using force □ repress the insurrection. 3 psychol to exclude (unacceptable thoughts, feelings, etc) from one's conscious mind. Compare SUPPRESS. ● represser or repressor noun. ● repressible adj. ● repressibly adverb. ● repression noun 1 the action or process of repressing. 2 psychol the defence mechanism whereby an unpleasant or unacceptable thought, memory or wish is deliberately excluded from the conscious mind. ● repressive adj. ● repressively adverb. ● repressiveness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin reprimere, repressum to press back.

re-press /ˈriːpres/ ▷ verb to press something again □ re-pressed his trousers.

repressed ▷ adj 1 a controlled; b restrained. 2 psychol a tending to exclude unacceptable thoughts, feelings, etc from the conscious mind; b said of a thought, etc: excluded from the conscious mind.

reprieve /rɪ'priːv/ ▷ verb (reprieved, reprieving) 1 to delay or cancel (someone's punishment, especially the execution of a prisoner condemned to death). 2 to give temporary relief or respite from (trouble, difficulty, pain, etc). ▷ noun 1 a the act of delaying or cancelling criminal sentence, especially a death sentence; b a warrant granting such a delay or cancellation. 2 temporary relief or respite from trouble, difficulty, pain, etc. ⓘ 16c: from French repris taken back; from reprendre to take back; also from obsolete English repreven to reprove, in literal sense 'to test again'.

reprimand /'reprɪmaːnd/ ▷ verb (reprimanded, reprimanding) to criticize or rebuke someone angrily or severely, especially publicly or formally. ▷ noun angry or severe and usually formal criticism or rebuke. ⓘ 17c: from French réprimande, from Latin reprimere to press back, from premere to press.

reprint ▷ verb /riː'prɪnt/ 1 to print something again. 2 to print more copies of (a book, etc). 3 intr said of a book, etc: to have more copies printed. ▷ noun /'riːprɪnt/ 1 the act of reprinting. 2 a copy of a book or any already printed material made by reprinting the original without any changes. 3 the total number of copies made of a book which is reprinted □ a reprint of 3 000. • reprinter noun. ⓘ 16c.

reprisal /rɪ'praɪzəl/ ▷ noun 1 revenge or retaliation. Also as adj □ a reprisal attack. 2 (often reprisals) in war: revenge or retaliation against an enemy. 3 historical the usually forcible seizing of another country's property or people in retaliation. ⓘ 15c: from French reprisaille, from Latin reprehendere, from prehendere to seize.

reprise /rɪ'priːz/ music ▷ noun the repeating of a passage or theme. ▷ verb (reprised, reprising) to repeat (an earlier passage or theme). ⓘ 14c: from French reprise a taking back, from reprendre to take back.

reprivatize or reprivatise /riː'praɪvətaɪz/ ▷ verb (reprivatized, reprivatizing) to return (a company, etc) from public to private ownership. • reprivatization noun. ⓘ 1950s.

repro /'riːproʊ/ colloq ▷ noun (repros) short form of REPRODUCTION 2. ▷ adj short form of REPRODUCTION.

reproach /rɪ'proʊtʃ/ ▷ verb (reproaches, reproached, reproaching) a to express disapproval of, or disappointment with, someone for a fault or some wrong done; b to blame someone. ▷ noun 1 an act of reproaching. 2 (often reproaches) a rebuke or expression of disappointment. 3 a cause of disgrace or shame. • reproachable adj. • reproacher noun. • reproachful adj. • reproachfully adverb. • reproachfulness noun. • above or beyond reproach too good to be criticized; perfect. ⓘ 15c: from French reprochier, from Latin prope near.

reprobate /'reprəbeɪt/ ▷ noun 1 an immoral unprincipled person. 2 Christianity someone rejected by God. ▷ adj 1 immoral and unprincipled. 2 rejected or condemned. ▷ verb (reprobated, reprobating) 1 a to disapprove of someone; b to censure something. 2 said of God: to reject or condemn (a person). • reprobacy /'reprəbəsɪ/ noun. • reprobation noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin reprobare disapproved of, from probare to approve.

reprocess ▷ verb to process something again, especially to make (something already used, eg spent nuclear fuel) into a new reuseable form. • reprocessing noun, adj. ⓘ 1930s.

reproduce /riːprə'djuːs/ ▷ verb 1 to make or produce something again. 2 a to make or produce a copy or imitation of something; b to duplicate it. 3 tr & intr, biol to produce (offspring) either sexually or asexually, so perpetuating a species. 4 intr a to be suitable for copying in some way; b to turn out (well, badly, etc) when copied. 5 to reconstruct something in imagination. • reproducer noun. • reproducible adj. • reproductive /-'dʌktɪv/ adj. • reproductively adverb. • reproductiveness or reproductivity noun. ⓘ 17c.

reproduction /riːprə'dʌkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of reproducing. 2 a a copy or imitation, especially of a work of art; b a facsimile. 3 biol a the act or process of reproducing offspring; b regeneration. ▷ adj said of furniture, etc: made in imitation of an earlier style. See also REPRO.

reproduction proof ▷ noun, printing a high-quality proof made from strips of typeset copy and photographed to produce a plate for printing from.

reprography /rɪ'prɒgrəfɪ/ ▷ noun the reproduction of graphic or typeset material, eg by photocopying, etc. • reprographer noun. • reprographic /reprə'grafɪk/ adj. • reprographically adverb. ⓘ 1960s: from German Reprographie, from Reproduktion reproduction + Photographie photography.

reproof[1] /rɪ'pruːf/ ▷ noun 1 an act of reproving. 2 a a rebuke; b censure or blame. ⓘ 14c: from French reprove, from reprover to reprove.

reproof[2] ▷ verb /riː'pruːf/ 1 to make (a coat, etc) waterproof again. 2 to make a new proof of (a book, printed material, etc). ▷ noun /'riːpruːf/ a second or new proof. ⓘ 20c.

repro proof ▷ noun short form of REPRODUCTION PROOF.

reprove /rɪ'pruːv/ ▷ verb 1 to rebuke. 2 to blame or condemn someone for a fault, some wrong done, etc. • reprovable adj. • reprover noun. • reproving adj 1 disapproving. 2 condemnatory. • reprovingly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from French reprover, from Latin reprobare to disapprove of.

rept ▷ abbreviation 1 receipt. 2 report.

reptant /'reptant/ ▷ adj, biol creeping. ⓘ 17c: from Latin reptare to creep.

reptile /'reptaɪl/ ▷ noun 1 zool any cold-blooded scaly vertebrate animal, eg lizards, snakes, tortoises, turtles, crocodiles, alligators, and many extinct species, including dinosaurs and pterodactyls. 2 a mean or despicable person. ▷ adj 1 creeping. 2 like a reptile. • reptilian /rep'tɪlɪən/ adj. • reptiliferous /reptɪ'lɪfərəs/ adj, geol said of rock: bearing fossil reptiles. ⓘ 14c: from Latin reptilis, from repere to creep or crawl.

republic /rɪ'pʌblɪk/ ▷ noun 1 a form of government without a monarch and in which supreme power is held by the people or their elected representatives, especially one in which the head of state is an elected or nominated president. 2 a state or a governmental unit within a state that forms part of a nation or federation, eg in the individual republics making up the Russian Federation. ⓘ 16c: from French république, from Latin respublica, from res concern or affair + publicus public.

republican /rɪ'pʌblɪkən/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or like a republic. 2 in favour of or supporting a republic as a form of government. 3 (Republican) US relating to the Republican Party. ▷ noun 1 someone who favours the republic as a form of government. 2 (Republican) US a member or supporter of the Republican Party. Compare DEMOCRAT. 3 (Republican) in N Ireland: someone who advocates the union of N Ireland and Eire. Compare LOYALIST. • republicanism noun 1 the principles and theory of the republic as a form of government. 2 a support for republican government; b a particular example of such support. ⓘ 17c: from REPUBLIC.

repudiate /rɪ'pjuːdɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (repudiated, repudiating) 1 to deny or reject something as unfounded □ repudiate the suggestion. 2 to refuse to recognize or have anything to do with (a person); to disown. 3 to refuse or cease to acknowledge (a debt, obligation, authority, etc). • repudiable adj. • repudiation noun. • repudiative adj. • repudiator noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin repudiare, repudiatum to put away, from repudium divorce.

repudiate

See Usage Note at refute.

repugnant /rɪ'pʌgnənt/ ▷ adj 1 distasteful; disgusting. 2 (usually repugnant with something) said of things: inconsistent or incompatible with something else. • repugnance noun. • repugnantly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin repugnare, from pugnare to fight.

repulse /rɪ'pʌls/ ▷ verb (repulsed, repulsing) 1 to drive or force back (an enemy, attacking force, etc). 2 to reject (someone's offer of help, kindness, etc) with coldness and discourtesy; to rebuff. 3 to bring on a feeling of disgust, horror or loathing in someone. ▷ noun 1 the act of repulsing or state of being repulsed. 2 a cold discourteous rejection; a rebuff. • repulsion noun 1 an act or the process of forcing back or of being forced back. 2 a feeling of disgust, horror or loathing. 3 physics a force that tends to push two objects further apart, such as that between like electric charges or like magnetic poles. Opposite of ATTRACTION. • repulsive adj 1 tending to repulse or drive off. 2 cold or reserved. 3 provoking a feeling of disgust, horror or loathing. 4 physics relating to, causing or being a repulsion. • repulsively adverb. • repulsiveness noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin repellere, repulsum to drive back.

repute /rɪ'pjuːt/ ▷ verb (reputed, reputing) to consider someone or something to be as specified or to have some specified quality; to deem □ She is reputed to be a fine tennis player. ▷ noun 1 general opinion or impression. 2 reputation. • reputable /'repjʊtəbəl/ adj 1 a respectable; b well thought of. 2 trustworthy. • reputably adverb. • reputation /repjʊ'teɪʃən/ noun 1 a generally held opinion about someone's abilities, moral character, etc. 2 fame or notoriety, especially as a result of a particular characteristic. 3 a a high opinion generally held about someone or something; b good name. • reputed adj 1 supposed. 2 generally considered to be. • reputedly adverb. ⓘ 15c: from French réputer.

request /rɪ'kwest/ ▷ noun 1 the act or an instance of asking for something. 2 something asked for. 3 (usually in request) the state of being asked for or sought after. 4 a a letter, etc sent to a radio station, etc asking for a specified record to be played; b the record played in response to this. ▷ verb (requested, requesting) to ask for something, especially politely or as a favour. • requester noun. • on request if or when requested. ⓘ 14c: from French requeste, from Latin requirere to seek for.

request stop ▷ noun a bus stop that a bus will only stop at if asked to do so by a passenger on the bus, who rings the bell, or by someone waiting at the stop, who signals with their hand.

requiem /'rekwɪem, -əm/ ▷ noun 1 (also Requiem) RC Church, music a a mass for the souls of the dead; b a piece of music written to accompany this service. 2 music any piece of music composed or performed to commemorate the dead. ⓘ 14c: from Latin requiem rest, the first word of the Latin version of the mass for the dead.

requiescat /rekwɪ'eskat/ ▷ noun, Christianity a prayer for the rest of the soul of the dead. ⓘ 19c: Latin, from requiescat in pace may he or she rest in peace; see RIP.

require /rɪ'kwaɪə(r)/ ▷ verb (required, requiring) 1 a to need something; b to wish to have something. 2 to demand, exact or command by authority. 3 to have as a necessary or essential condition for success, fulfilment, etc. • requirement noun 1 a a need; b something that is needed. 2 something that is asked for, essential, ordered, etc. 3 a necessary condition. • requirer noun. • requiring noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin requirere to seek for, from quaerere to seek or search for.

requisite /'rekwɪzɪt/ ▷ adj 1 required or necessary. 2 indispensable. ▷ noun something that is required, necessary or indispensable for some purpose □ toilet requisites. • requisitely adverb. • requisiteness noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin requirere, requisitum to search for something.

requisition /rekwɪ'zɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a a formal and authoritative demand or request, usually written, especially for supplies or the use of something, and especially made by the army; b an official form on which such a demand or request is made. 2 the act of formally demanding, requesting or taking something. 3 the state of being in use or service. ▷ verb (requisitioned, requisitioning) to demand, take or order (supplies, the use of something, etc) by official requisition. • requisitionary adj. • requisitionist noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin requisitio a searching for.

requite /rɪ'kwaɪt/ ▷ verb (requited, requiting) formal 1 to make a suitable return in response to (someone's kindness or injury). 2 to repay someone for some act. 3 (often requite one thing for or with another) to repay (eg good with good or evil with evil). • requitable adj. • requital noun 1 the act of requiting. 2 recompense; reward. • requiter noun. ⓘ 16c: from quite to pay.

reredos /'rɪədɒs/ ▷ noun a stone or wooden screen or partition wall, usually an ornamental one, behind an altar. ⓘ 14c: from French areredos, from arere behind + dos back.

reroute /riː'ruːt/ ▷ verb to direct (traffic, aircraft, etc) along an alternative route, usually because the usual route cannot be used because of an accident, heavy traffic, bad weather, etc; to redirect. ⓘ 1930s.

rerun ▷ verb /riː'rʌn/ 1 to run (a race, etc) again because a result could not be determined from the first run. 2 to broadcast (TV or radio programme or series) for a second or further time. ▷ noun /'riːrʌn/ 1 a race that is run again. 2 a TV or radio programme or series which is broadcast for a second or further time. 3 computing a repeat of part of a computer program. ⓘ 19c.

res. ▷ abbreviation 1 research. 2 reserve. 3 residence. 4 resolution.

resale /'riːseɪl, riː'seɪl/ ▷ noun the selling of an article again. ⓘ 17c.

resale price maintenance ▷ noun, commerce (abbreviation RPM) a system, now illegal in the UK, used by manufacturers acting together to prevent price-cutting by retailers, whereby they set a fixed or minimum price on their articles or products.

reschedule ▷ verb 1 a to schedule again; b to arrange a new time or timetable for (a meeting, planned event, etc). 2 econ to rearrange (a country's debt repayment programme), usually to alleviate liquidity problems. ⓘ 1960s.

rescind /rɪ'sɪnd/ ▷ verb (rescinded, rescinding) to cancel, annul or revoke (an order, law, custom, etc). • rescindment or rescission noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin rescindere, rescissum to cut off.

rescore ▷ verb music to rewrite (a musical score) for different instruments, voices, etc.

rescript ▷ noun /'riːskrɪpt/ 1 the official answer from a pope to a question, petition, etc. 2 in ancient Rome: an emperor's written reply to a question, especially one on a point of law. 3 any official edict or decree. 4 a the action of writing something again; b something that is written again; a copy. ⓘ 16c: from Latin rescribere, rescriptum.

rescue /'reskjuː/ ▷ verb (rescued, rescuing) 1 to free someone or something from danger, evil, trouble, captivity, etc; to save. 2 law a to free someone from legal custody by force; b to recover (goods) by force. ▷ noun 1 the act or an instance of rescuing or being rescued. 2 law a the freeing of someone from legal custody by force; b the recovery of goods by force. • rescuer noun. ⓘ 14c: from French rescourre, to shake out or remove, ultimately from Latin quatere to shake.

research /rɪ'sɜːtʃ, 'riːsɜːtʃ/ ▷ noun (abbreviation res.) detailed and careful investigation into some subject or area of study with the aim of discovering and applying new facts or information. ▷ verb tr & intr (often research into something) to carry out such an investigation.

● researcher noun. ⓘ 16c: from French recercher, from cerchar to seek.

research and development ▷ noun (abbreviation R&D) work in a company that concentrates on finding new or improved processes, products, etc and also on the optimum ways of introducing such innovations.

reseat /riːˈsiːt/ ▷ verb 1 to seat someone in a different chair or place. 2 to return someone to a former position or office. 3 to put a new seat on (a chair, etc). 4 to provide (a theatre, etc) with new seats. ⓘ 17c.

resect /rɪˈsɛkt/ ▷ verb (resected, resecting) 1 surgery to cut away or remove (part of a bone, organ, etc). 2 surveying to locate a (position or point) by resection. ● resection noun 1 surgery the cutting away or removal of part of a bone, organ, etc. 2 surveying a method of fixing the position of a point by sighting it from three or more already known points. ⓘ 19c: from Latin resecare, resectum to cut off or away.

resemble /rɪˈzɛmbəl/ ▷ verb (resembled, resembling) to be like or similar to someone or something else, especially in appearance. ● resemblance noun 1 a likeness or similarity; b the degree of likeness or similarity between two people or things. 2 appearance. ⓘ 14c: from French resembler, ultimately from Latin similis like.

resent /rɪˈzɛnt/ ▷ verb (resented, resenting) 1 to take or consider something as an insult or an affront. 2 to feel anger, bitterness or ill-will towards someone or something. ● resentful adj. ● resentfully adverb. ● resentment noun. ⓘ 16c: from French ressentir to be angry, from Latin sentire to feel.

reserpine /rɪˈzɜːpɪn, -piːn/ ▷ noun a drug obtained from various RAUWOLFIA plants, used to treat high blood pressure and as a tranquillizer. ⓘ 1950s.

reservation /rɛzəˈveɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of reserving something for future use. 2 a the act of booking or ordering in advance, eg a hotel room, a table in a restaurant, etc; b something, eg a hotel room, a table in a restaurant, etc, that has been reserved or booked in advance. 3 (often reservations) a doubt or objection which prevents one being able to accept or approve something, eg a plan, proposition, etc, wholeheartedly □ She had reservations about the idea. 4 a limiting condition, proviso or exception to an agreement, etc. 5 an area of land set aside for a particular purpose, especially one in the US and Canada for Native Americans. 6 Brit a CENTRAL RESERVATION. 7 in some Christian churches: the practice of keeping back part of the consecrated bread and wine for some particular purpose after the service, eg for taking to the sick. 8 RC Church a the right of the pope to nominate someone to a vacant benefice; b an act of exercising this right. 9 law a a clause of a deed by which someone reserves for themselves a right or interest in a property they are conveying, renting, etc to someone else; b the act of reserving this right or interest. ⓘ 14c: French.

reserve /rɪˈzɜːv/ (abbreviation res) verb (reserved, reserving) 1 to keep something back or set it aside for future use, for the use of a particular person, or for some particular purpose. 2 to keep or retain something for oneself. 3 to book or order (eg a hotel room, a table in a restaurant, etc) in advance. 4 (especially reserve judgement) to delay or postpone (a legal judgement, taking a decision, etc). ▷ noun 1 something kept back or set aside, especially for future use or possible need. 2 the state or condition of being reserved or an act of reserving. 3 a an area of land set aside for a particular purpose, especially for the protection of wildlife □ a nature reserve; b an area of land set aside for occupation by a particular people; a reservation. 4 Austral, NZ a public park. 5 coolness, distance or restraint of manner, diffidence or reticence. 6 sport a an extra player or participant who can take another's place if needed; a substitute; b (usually the reserves) the second or reserve team □ playing for the reserves. 7 (also reserves) military a part of an army or force kept out of immediate action to provide reinforcements when needed; b forces in addition to a nation's regular armed services, not usually in service but that may be called upon if necessary; c a member of such a force; a reservist. 8 (often reserves) finance a company's money or assets, or a country's gold and foreign currency, held at a bank to meet future liabilities. 9 (usually reserves) a supply of eg oil, gas, coal, etc, known to be present in a particular region and as yet unexploited. 10 (usually reserves) extra physical or mental power, energies, stamina, etc that can be drawn upon in a difficult or extreme situation □ reserves of strength. 11 a RESERVE PRICE. 12 in a competition, show, etc: a a distinction awarded to an exhibit, etc, which shows that it will be given a prize if another is disqualified; b the exhibit, etc that receives this distinction. Also as adj □ a reserve supply. ● without reserve fully, or without reservations or restrictions; frankly. ⓘ 14c: from French réserver, from Latin reservare to keep something back.

re-serve /riːˈsɜːv/ ▷ verb to serve again. ⓘ 19c.

reserve bank ▷ noun 1 one of the twelve US Federal Reserve banks. 2 especially Austral & NZ a central bank that holds currency reserves for other banks.

reserve currency ▷ noun a foreign currency acceptable in international transactions and held in reserve (see RESERVE noun 8) by central banks.

reserved /rɪˈzɜːvd/ ▷ adj 1 kept back, set aside or destined for a particular use or for a particular person. 2 said of a hotel room, a table in a restaurant, etc: booked or ordered in advance. 3 said of a person or their manner: cool, distant or restrained; diffident or reticent. ● reservedly /rɪˈzɜːvɪdlɪ/ adverb. ● reservedness noun. ⓘ 16c: from RESERVE.

reserved list ▷ noun a list of retired officers in the armed services who may be recalled for active service in the event of war.

reserved occupation ▷ noun a job of national importance that exempts one from being called up for service in time of war.

reserve price ▷ noun the lowest price that the owner of something which is being sold by auction is prepared to accept. Also called floor price.

reservist /rɪˈzɜːvɪst/ ▷ noun, military a member of a reserve force.

reservoir /ˈrɛzəvwɑː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a large natural or man-made lake, or a tank, in which water is collected and stored for public use, irrigation, etc. 2 a part of a machine, device, etc where liquid is stored. 3 biol part of an animal or plant in which fluid is retained. 4 a large reserve or supply of something, eg of creativity, talent, etc. 5 a place where a large supply of something, now especially of fluid or vapour, is collected and stored. ⓘ 17c: from French réservoir, from réserver to RESERVE.

reservoir rock ▷ noun, geol porous rock that can hold a reservoir of oil or gas.

reset[1] ▷ verb /riːˈsɛt/ 1 to set (eg a broken limb, the type of a book, a stone in a piece of jewellery, etc) again or differently. 2 to reposition (a counter, guage, etc) at zero. ▷ noun /ˈriːsɛt/ 1 the action of setting something again or differently. 2 something that is reset. ⓘ 17c.

reset[2] /riːˈsɛt/ Scots law ▷ verb to knowingly receive, handle or dispose of stolen goods. ▷ noun the act or an instance of doing this □ was charged with reset. ● resetter noun. ⓘ 18c.

reshuffle ▷ verb /riːˈʃʌfəl/ 1 to shuffle (cards) again or differently. 2 to reorganize or redistribute (especially government posts). ▷ noun /ˈriːʃʌfəl/ an act of reshuffling □ a cabinet reshuffle. ⓘ 19c.

reside /rɪˈzaɪd/ ▷ verb (resided, residing) intr 1 (reside in, at, etc usually somewhere) formal to live or have one's home there, especially permanently. 2 (usually reside in someone or something) said of power, authority, particular quality, etc: to be present in or attributable to them or it. • resider noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin residere to sit back, from sedere to sit.

residence /ˈrɛzɪdəns/ ▷ noun 1 formal a house or dwelling, especially a large, impressive and imposing one. 2 a the act or an instance of living in a particular place; b the period of time someone lives there. • in residence 1 living in a particular place, especially officially. 2 said especially of a creative writer, artist: working in a particular place for a certain period of time □ The university has an artist in residence. ⓘ 14c: French.

residency /ˈrɛzɪdənsɪ/ ▷ noun (residencies) 1 a residence. 2 a band's or singer's regular or permanent engagement at a particular venue. 3 formerly in India: a residence, especially the official dwelling of a governor in a colony, etc. 4 N Amer a the period, after internship, of advanced, specialized medical training for doctors in hospitals; b the post held during this period. ⓘ 16c.

resident /ˈrɛzɪdənt/ ▷ noun 1 someone who lives permanently in a particular place. 2 a registered guest staying, usually at least for a few days, in a hotel. 3 a bird or animal that is found permanently in a particular region or country and does not migrate. 4 formerly a a representative of a governor in a protected state; b a representative of the British governor general at the court of an Indian state. 5 medicine a a doctor who works at and usually lives in a hospital; b N Amer a doctor undergoing advanced or specialized training in a hospital. ▷ adj 1 living or dwelling in a particular place, especially permanently or for some length of time. 2 living or required to live in the place where one works. 3 said of birds and animals: not migrating. 4 said of qualities, etc: inherent. 5 computing said of files, programs, etc: placed permanently in the memory. • residentship noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin residere to RESIDE.

residential /rɛzɪˈdɛnʃəl/ ▷ adj 1 said of a street, an area of a town, etc: containing private houses rather than factories, businesses, etc. 2 requiring residence in the same place as one works or studies □ a residential course. 3 used as a residence □ a residential home for the elderly. 4 relating to or connected with residence or residences. • residentially adverb. ⓘ 17c.

residentiary /rɛzɪˈdɛnʃərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 resident, especially officially, in a particular place. 2 relating to or involving official residence. ▷ noun (residentiaries) a person, especially a clergyman, who is obliged to reside in a particular place to carry out their duties. ⓘ 16c.

resider see under RESIDE residual /rɪˈzɪdjʊəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating to a residue. 2 remaining; left over; unaccounted for. ▷ noun 1 something which remains or is left over as a residue. 2 statistics the difference between an observed or measured value of a quantity and its theoretical value. 3 (often residuals) a royalty paid to an actor or performer for a subsequent showing, playing, etc of a film, commercial, etc in which they have appeared. 4 math the remainder resulting from subtraction. • residually adverb. ⓘ 16c: from residue.

residue /ˈrɛzɪdjuː/ ▷ noun 1 what remains of something, or is left over, when a part has been taken away, used up, etc; the remainder. 2 law what is left of the estate of someone who has died, after all of the debts and legacies have been paid. 3 chem a substance which remains after evaporation, combustion or distillation. • residuary /rɪˈzɪdjʊərɪ/ adj 1 relating to or constituting a residue. 2 law relating or pertaining to the residue of an estate. ⓘ 14c: from French résidu, from Latin residuus remaining.

residuum /rɪˈzɪdjʊəm/ ▷ noun (residua /-djʊə/) formal a residue. ⓘ 17c.

resign /rɪˈzaɪn/ ▷ verb (resigned, resigning) 1 intr (often resign from a job, post, etc) to give up employment or an official position, etc. 2 to give up or relinquish (a right, claim, etc). 3 (usually resign oneself to something) to come to accept it with patience, tolerance, etc, especially when it is unpleasant or unwelcome; to submit to it. • resignation /rɛzɪɡˈneɪʃən/ noun 1 the act of resigning from a job, official position, etc. 2 a formal letter or notice of intention to resign from a job, post, etc. 3 the state or quality of having or showing patient and calm acceptance, especially of something unpleasant or something that is seen as inevitable. • resigner noun. ⓘ 14c: from French résigner, from Latin resignare to unseal or cancel.

re-sign /riːˈsaɪn/ ▷ verb (re-signed, re-signing) 1 to sign something again. 2 to sign (a contract) in order to engage or employ, eg someone for a further period of time. 3 intr said especially of footballers: to sign a contract with the same club for a further period of time. ⓘ 1930s in sense 3; 19c in senses 1 and 2.

resigned /rɪˈzaɪnd/ ▷ adj (often resigned to something) having or showing patient and calm acceptance of something, usually something unpleasant or unwelcome, that is considered inevitable. • resignedly /rɪˈzaɪnɪdlɪ/ adverb. • resignedness noun. ⓘ 17c.

resile /rɪˈzaɪl/ ▷ verb (resiled, resiling) intr 1 to draw back from a contract or agreement. 2 to draw back or withdraw from a particular course of action. 3 to recoil or draw back from something in aversion. 4 said of an object: to recover, or spring back to its original shape or position after being twisted, stretched, etc. ⓘ 16c: from Latin resilere to recoil or leap back.

resilient /rɪˈzɪlɪənt/ ▷ adj 1 said of a person: able to recover quickly from, or to deal readily with, illness, sudden, unexpected difficulties, hardship, etc. 2 said of an object, a material, etc: able to return quickly to its original shape or position after being bent, twisted, stretched, etc; elastic. • resilience or resiliency noun. • resiliently adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin resilire to recoil or leap back.

resin /ˈrɛzɪn/ ▷ noun 1 any of several substances (natural resins) obtained from the sap of various plants and trees, especially conifers, often aromatic and usually in the form of a brittle, translucent solid or a viscous liquid. Compare ROSIN. 2 chem a semisolid or solid complex amorphous mixture of organic compounds with no definite melting point and a tendency to crystallize. 3 chem any of several synthetic organic compounds (synthetic resins), mostly polymers, resembling natural resin and used in the production of plastics, paints, varnishes, textiles, etc. ▷ verb (resined, resining) 1 to treat something with resin. 2 to ROSIN. • resinous adj. • resinously adverb. ⓘ 14c: from French resine, from Latin resina, related to Greek rhetine resin from a pine.

resinate /ˈrɛzɪneɪt/ ▷ verb (resinated, resinating) to impregnate something with resin. ▷ noun, chem a salt of any of the acids occurring in natural resin. ⓘ 19c.

resinify /ˈrɛzɪnɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (resinifies, resinified, resinifying) tr & intr to make into, or become, a resin or resinous. • resinification noun. ⓘ 19c.

resist /rɪˈzɪst/ ▷ verb (resisted, resisting) 1 tr & intr to oppose or fight against someone or something; to refuse to give in or comply to it. 2 to remain unchanged by, or withstand, something damaging □ a metal which resists corrosion. 3 to refuse to accept or comply with (an order, etc). 4 to refrain from something in spite of temptation or attraction □ He just can't resist chocolate. ▷ noun a protective coating of a resistant substance, especially one applied to parts of a fabric that are not to be dyed or printed, or a light-sensitive coating on a silicon wafer. Also as adj. • resister noun. • resistibility noun. • resistible adj. • resistibly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin resistere, from sistere to stand firm.

resistance /rɪˈzɪstəns/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of resisting. 2 the ability to, or degree to which, something damaging can be withstood, especially the body's natural ability to resist disease or infection □ resistance is low during the winter months. 3 physics in damped harmonic motion: the ratio of the frictional forces to the speed. 4 elec (symbol R) a measure of the extent to which a material or an electrical device opposes the flow of an electric current through it. See also OHM. 5 a measure of the extent to which a material opposes the flow of heat through it. Compare CONDUCTIVITY. 6 = RESISTOR. 7 (usually the Resistance) an underground organization fighting for the freedom of a country that has been occupied by an enemy force. ■ resistant adj able to resist, withstand or remain unaffected or undamaged by something. Often in compounds □ water-resistant. ▷ noun someone or something that resists. ■ line of least resistance the easiest, but not necessarily the best, course of action. © 14c: from French résistance.

resistance thermometer ▷ noun a device for measuring high temperatures by means of the variation in the electrical resistance of a wire as the temperature changes.

resistivity /riːzɪ'stɪvɪtɪ/ ▷ noun, physics (symbol ρ) the ability, measured in ohm metres, of a cubic metre of material to oppose the flow of an electric current. Formerly called specific resistance. © 19c.

resistor /rɪ'zɪstə(r)/ ▷ noun, elec a device which introduces a known value of resistance to electrical flow into a circuit. © Early 20c.

resit ▷ verb /riː'sɪt/ tr & intr to take (an examination) again, usually having failed it before, or in order to improve one's grade. ▷ noun /'riːsɪt/ 1 the action of taking an examination again. 2 an examination that is taken again. © 1980s.

resoluble /rɪ'zɒljʊbəl/ ▷ adj able to be resolved or analysed; resolvable. ■ resolubility noun. ■ resolubleness noun. © 17c: from Latin resolubilis, from resolvere to resolve.

re-soluble /riː'sɒljʊbəl/ ▷ adj able to be dissolved again. ■ re-solubility noun. ■ re-solubleness noun. © 19c.

resolute /'rezəluːt, -ljuːt/ ▷ adj 1 said of a person or their attitude, etc: a with a fixed purpose or belief; b determined or steadfast in pursuing a particular purpose, course of action, etc. 2 said of an action, etc: characterized by determination or firmness □ a resolute response. ■ resolutely adverb. ■ resoluteness noun. © 16c in these senses; 14c in earlier sense 'dissolved': from Latin resolutus, from resolvere to resolve.

resolution /rezə'luːʃən, -'ljuːʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act or an instance of making a firm decision. 2 a firm decision. 3 determination or resoluteness. 4 the act or an instance of solving or finding the answer to (a problem, question, etc). 5 a formal decision, expression of opinion, etc by a group of people, eg at a public meeting. 6 the ability of a television screen, photographic film, etc to reproduce an image in very fine detail. 7 RESOLVING POWER. 8 music the passing of a chord from discord to concord. 9 the act of separating something (eg a chemical compound) into its constituent parts or elements. 10 medicine the disappearance or dispersal of a tumour or inflammation. 11 prosody substitution of two short syllables for a long one. ■ resolutioner noun. ■ resolutionist noun. © 14c: from Latin resolutio; see RESOLUTE.

resolve /rɪ'zɒlv/ ▷ verb (resolved, resolving) 1 (usually resolve on or to do something) to decide firmly or to determine to do it. 2 to find an answer to (a problem, question, etc). 3 to take away or dispel (a doubt, difficulty, etc). 4 to bring (an argument, etc) to an end. 5 tr & intr to decide, or pass (a resolution), especially formally by vote. 6 said of a television screen, photographic film, etc: to produce an image of something in fine detail. 7 said of a microscope, telescope, etc: to distinguish clearly (eg objects which are very close together). 8 tr & intr, music said of a chord: to pass from discord into concord. 9 a to make something break up into separate or constituent parts or elements; b intr (often resolve into) to break up into constituent parts. 10 medicine to remove or disperse (a tumour or inflammation). ▷ noun 1 determination or firmness of purpose. 2 a firm decision; a resolution. ■ resolvable adj. ■ resolvability noun. ■ resolver noun. © 14c: from Latin resolvere to loosen, dissolve.

resolved /rɪ'zɒlvd/ ▷ adj said of a person: determined; firm in purpose. ■ resolvedly /rɪ'zɒlvɪdlɪ/ adverb. ■ resolvedness /rɪ'zɒlvɪdnɪs/ noun. © 15c.

resolvent /rɪ'zɒlvənt/ ▷ adj, chiefly medicine able to bring about the resolution of a tumour or inflammation. ▷ noun a drug that resolves or reduces swelling or inflammation. © 17c.

resolving power ▷ noun 1 physics the ability of a microscope, telescope, etc to distinguish between objects which are very close together. 2 photog the ability of an emulsion to produce fine detail in an image.

resonance /'rezənəns/ ▷ noun 1 the quality or state of being resonant. 2 sound produced by sympathetic vibration. 3 the ringing quality of the human voice when produced in such a way that the vibration of the vocal cords is accompanied by sympathetic vibration in the air spaces in the head, chest and throat. 4 medicine the sound heard in AUSCULTATION. 5 physics vibration that occurs when an object or system is made to oscillate at its natural frequency. 6 chem the movement of electrons from one atom of a molecule to another atom of the same molecule to form a stable structure called a resonance hybrid. 7 physics increased probability of a nuclear reaction when the energy of an incident particle or proton is around a certain value appropriate to the energy level of the compound nucleus. © 15c: from Latin resonantia echo, from resonare to resound.

resonant /'rezənənt/ adj 1 said of sounds: echoing; continuing to sound; resounding. 2 producing echoing sounds □ resonant walls. 3 full of or intensified by a ringing quality □ a resonant voice. ■ resonantly adverb.

resonate /'rezəneɪt/ ▷ verb (resonated, resonating) tr & intr to resound or make something resound or echo. ■ resonator noun a resonating body or device, eg one for increasing sonority or analysing sound.

resorb /rɪ'sɔːb/ ▷ verb (resorbed, resorbing) 1 to absorb something again or absorb it back into itself. 2 especially physiol to absorb (material already absorbed into the tissue) back into the circulation; to reabsorb. ■ resorbence noun. ■ resorbent adj. © 17c: from Latin sorbere to suck in.

resorcin /rɪ'zɔːsɪn/ or resorcinol /rɪ'zɔːsɪnɒl/ ▷ noun, chem (formula $C_6H_4(OH)_2$) a white crystalline phenol used in dyeing, photography and pharmaceuticals, and also to make resins and adhesives. © 19c: from resin + orcin a type of phenol.

resorption /rɪ'sɔːpʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of resorbing or state of being resorbed. 2 geol the remelting of a mineral by rock magma. 3 medicine the breaking down and assimilation of a substance into the body. ■ resorptive adj. © 19c: from Latin sorbere, sorptum to suck in.

resort[1] /rɪ'zɔːt/ ▷ verb (resorted, resorting) intr (usually resort to something or somewhere) 1 to turn to it as a means of solving a problem, etc; to have recourse to it. 2 formal to go to (a place), especially habitually or in great numbers. ▷ noun 1 a place visited by many people, especially one, eg a seaside town, that provides accommodation and recreation for holidaymakers □ a holiday resort □ the Spanish resorts. 2 a the action of resorting or having recourse to someone or something for help; b the person or thing that is resorted to; someone or something looked to for help. ■ resorter noun. ■ in the last resort when all other means, methods, etc have failed. ■ the last resort the only remaining course of action or means of overcoming a difficulty, solving a problem, etc. © 14c: from French sortir to go out.

resort² or re-sort /riːˈsɔːt/ ▷ verb to sort something again or differently. ⊙ 19c.

resound¹ /rɪˈzaʊnd/ ▷ verb 1 intr said of sounds: to ring or echo. 2 intr (resound with or to something) to be filled with (echoing or ringing sounds); to reverberate □ The hall resounded to their cheers. 3 intr to be widely known or celebrated □ Her fame resounded throughout the country. 4 said of a place: to make (a sound) echo or ring. 5 to repeat or spread (the praises of someone or something). ● resounding adj 1 echoing and ringing; reverberating. 2 clear and decisive □ a resounding victory. ● resoundingly adverb. ⊙ 14c: from Latin resonare.

resound² or re-sound /riːˈsaʊnd/ ▷ verb, tr & intr to sound or make something sound again. ⊙ 19c.

resource /rɪˈzɔːs, rɪˈsɔːs/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that provides a source of help, support, etc when needed. 2 a means of solving difficulties, problems, etc. 3 skill at finding ways of solving difficulties, problems, etc; ingenuity. 4 anything that can be of use to people, either a NON-RENEWABLE RESOURCE or a RENEWABLE RESOURCE. 5 (usually resources) means of support, especially money or property. 6 (usually resources) the principal source of wealth or income of a country or institution □ natural resources. ▷ verb (resourced, resourcing) to provide support, usually financial, for someone or something. ● resourceful adj skilled in finding ways of solving difficulties, problems, etc; ingenious. ● resourcefully adverb. ● resourcefulness noun. ● resourceless adj. ⊙ 17c: from French ressource, ultimately from Latin surgere to rise.

respect /rɪˈspɛkt/ ▷ noun 1 admiration; good opinion □ be held in great respect. 2 the state of being honoured, admired or well thought of. 3 (respect for something or someone) consideration of or attention to them □ show no respect for his feelings. 4 (often respects) formal a polite greeting or expression of admiration, esteem and honour. 5 a particular detail, feature or characteristic □ In what respect are they different? 6 reference, relation or connection. ▷ verb (respected, respecting) 1 to show or feel admiration or high regard for someone or something □ He respected his grandfather. 2 to show consideration for, or thoughtfulness or attention to, something □ respect her wishes. 3 to heed or pay proper attention to (a rule, law, etc) □ respect the speed limit. ● respecter noun 1 someone who respects. 2 someone or something that treats individuals unduly favourably □ The disease is no respecter of age or social class. ● in respect of or with respect to something with reference to, or in connection with (a particular matter, point, etc). ● pay one's last respects to someone to show respect for someone who has died by attending their funeral. ● pay one's respects to someone formal to present oneself to them, or visit them as a mark of respect or out of politeness. ● with respect or with all due respect a polite expression indicating disagreement and used before presenting one's own opinion. ⊙ 14c: from Latin respicere, respectum to look back at, pay attention to or consider.

respectable ▷ adj 1 worthy of or deserving respect. 2 having a reasonably good social standing; fairly well-to-do. 3 having a good reputation or character, especially as regards morals. 4 said of behaviour: correct; acceptable; conventional. 5 said of a person's appearance: presentable; decent. 6 fairly or relatively good or large □ a respectable turnout. ● respectability noun. ● respectably adverb. ⊙ 16c.

respectful ▷ adj having or showing respect. ● respectfully adverb. ● respectfulness noun.

respecting ▷ prep about; concerning; with regard to. ⊙ 18c.

respective ▷ adj belonging to or relating to each person or thing mentioned; particular; separate □ our respective homes. ● respectively adverb. ● respectiveness noun. ⊙ 16c.

respiration /rɛspɪˈreɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of respiring or breathing. 2 a single breath (inspiration and expiration). 3 (also external respiration) physiol a metabolic process in plants and animals whereby compounds are broken down to release energy, incorporated into ATP, commonly (but not exclusively) requiring oxygen, and with carbon dioxide as the end product. 4 (also tissue respiration or internal respiration) biochem a biochemical process that takes place in the cells of all living organisms, in all cases comprising firstly ANAEROBIC respiration and then, selectively, an energy-yielding stage requiring oxygen (AEROBIC respiration). ⊙ 15c: from Latin respirare, respiratum to breathe.

respirator /ˈrɛspɪreɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a mask worn over the mouth and nose to prevent poisonous gas, dust, etc being breathed in, or to warm cold air before it is breathed. 2 medicine apparatus used to help very ill or injured people breathe when they are unable to do so naturally.

respire /rɪˈspaɪə(r)/ ▷ verb (respired, respiring) 1 tr & intr to inhale and exhale (air, etc); to breathe. 2 intr, biochem to release energy as a result of the breakdown of organic compounds. ● respiratory /ˈrɛspɪrətərɪ/ adj. ⊙ 14c: from Latin respirare to breathe.

respirometer /rɛspɪˈrɒmɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun a device for measuring breathing.

respite /ˈrɛspaɪt, ˈrɛspɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a period of rest or relief from, or a temporary stopping of, something unpleasant, difficult, etc. 2 a temporary delay. 3 law temporary suspension of the execution of a criminal; a reprieve. ▷ verb (respited, respiting) to grant a respite to someone; to reprieve. ⊙ 13c: from French respit, from Latin respectare to respect.

resplendent /rɪˈsplɛndənt/ ▷ adj brilliant or splendid in appearance. ● resplendence or resplendency noun. ● resplendently adverb. ⊙ 15c: from Latin resplendere to shine brightly.

respond /rɪˈspɒnd/ ▷ verb (responded, responding) 1 tr & intr to answer or reply; to say something in reply. 2 intr to react in reply to something □ I smiled at her, but she didn't respond. 3 intr (usually respond to something) to react favourably or well to it □ respond to treatment. 4 intr, relig to utter liturgical responses. ▷ noun 1 relig a response to a versicle in liturgy. 2 archit a half-pillar or half-pier attached to a wall to support an arch, especially one at the end of an arcade, etc. ● respondence noun. ● respondency noun. ⊙ 14c: from French respondre, from Latin respondere to return like for like.

respondent ▷ noun 1 someone who answers or makes replies. 2 law a defendant, especially in a divorce suit. 3 psychol a response to a specific stimulus. ▷ adj 1 answering; making a reply or response. 2 psychol responsive, especially to some specific stimulus.

response /rɪˈspɒns/ ▷ noun 1 an act of responding, replying or reacting to something. 2 a reply or answer. 3 a reaction □ met with little response. 4 (usually responses) Christianity an answer or reply, especially one in the form of a short verse which is either sung or spoken, made by the congregation or the choir to something said by the priest or minister during a service. 5 electronics the ratio of the output to the input level of a transmission system at any particular frequency. 6 bridge a bid made in reply to a partner's preceding bid. ● responseless adj. ⊙ 14c.

responsibility /rɪspɒnsɪˈbɪlɪtɪ/ noun (responsibilities) 1 the state of being responsible or of having important duties for which one is responsible. 2 something or someone for which one is responsible.

responsible /rɪˈspɒnsɪbəl/ ▷ adj 1 (usually responsible for someone or something) having charge or control over them or it and being accountable for them or it □ She was responsible for a class of 20 children □ He is responsible for ordering the stationery. 2

(usually responsible to someone) accountable to them for one's actions □ responsible to her immediate superior. 3 said of a job, position, etc: with many important duties, such as taking important decisions; involving much responsibility. 4 (often responsible for something) being the cause of it □ Who was responsible for the accident? 5 said of a person: a able to be trusted; b able to answer for one's own conduct; capable of rational and socially acceptable behaviour □ She's an excellent babysitter and very responsible for her age. ● responsibleness noun. ● responsibly adverb. ⓘ 16c: French.

responsive /rɪ'spɒnsɪv/ ▷ adj 1 said of a person: ready and quick to react or respond. 2 reacting readily to stimulus. 3 reacting well or favourably to something □ a disease responsive to drugs. 4 made as or constituting a response □ a responsive smile. ● responsively adverb. ● responsiveness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin responsivus, from respondere to respond.

responsor /rɪ'spɒnsə(r)/ ▷ noun, radar a device that receives and processes the signals from a transponder. ⓘ 1940s.

responsory /rɪ'spɒnsərɪ/ ▷ noun (responsories) relig an anthem recited or sung after a lesson in a church service. ⓘ 15c: from Latin responsorium.

respray ▷ verb to spray (especially the bodywork of a vehicle) again, either with the same colour (especially part of the vehicle), or with a different colour of paint. ▷ noun /'riːspreɪ/ 1 the action of respraying. 2 the result of respraying. ⓘ 1930s.

rest[1] ▷ noun 1 a period of relaxation or freedom from work, activity, worry, etc. 2 sleep; repose. 3 calm; tranquillity. 4 a pause from some activity □ stopped half way up the hill for a rest. 5 death, when seen as repose. 6 a prop or support, eg for a billiard cue, etc. 7 often in compounds a place or thing which holds or supports something □ a headrest on a car seat. 8 a pause in reading, speaking, etc. 9 music a an interval of silence in a piece of music □ two bars' rest; b a mark indicating the duration of this. 10 a place for resting, especially a lodging for sailors. ▷ verb (rested, resting) 1 tr & intr to stop or make something stop working or moving. 2 intr to relax, especially by sleeping or stopping some activity. 3 tr & intr to set, place or lie on or against something for support □ rested her arm on the chair. 4 intr to be calm and free from worry. 5 tr & intr to give or have as a basis or support □ will rest my argument on practicalities. 6 tr & intr to depend or make something depend or be based on or in. 7 tr & intr said of the eyes: to remain or make them remain looking in a certain direction, or at a certain person or thing. 8 intr to be left without further attention, discussion or action □ let the matter rest there. 9 intr to lie dead or buried. 10 intr said of farmland: to lie without a crop in order to regain its fertility. 11 intr, colloq said of an actor: to be unemployed. ● rester noun. ● restful adj 1 bringing or giving rest, or producing a sensation of calm, peace and rest. 2 relaxed; at rest. ● restfully adverb. ● restfulness noun. ● resting adj 1 not moving, working, etc; at rest. 2 colloq said especially of an actor: not working; unemployed. ● restless /'restləs/ adj 1 constantly moving about or fidgeting; unable to stay still or quiet. 2 constantly active or in motion; unceasing. 3 giving no rest; not restful □ a restless night. 4 worried, nervous and uneasy. ● restlessly adverb. ● restlessness noun. ● at rest 1 not moving or working; stationary. 2 free from trouble, worry, etc □ set his mind at rest. 3 asleep. 4 dead. ● lay someone to rest to bury or inter them. ● rest one's case 1 law to conclude the calling of witnesses and presentation of arguments in a law case. 2 to bring one's argument to a close. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon roest.

rest[2] ▷ noun (usually the rest) 1 what is left when part of something is taken away, used, finished, etc; the remainder. 2 the others. ▷ verb (rested, resting) intr to continue to be; to remain □ rest assured. ● for the rest concerning, or as regards, other matters. ⓘ 15c: from French rester, from Latin restare to remain, from stare to stand.

restaurant /'restərɒnt, -rɑ̃nt, -rɒŋ, 'restrɒŋ/ ▷ noun an establishment where meals may be bought and eaten. ● restaurateur /restərə'tɜː(r)/ noun the owner or manager of a restaurant. ⓘ 19c: French, from restaurer to restore.

restaurant car ▷ noun a carriage on a train in which meals are served to travellers. Also called dining car.

resting potential ▷ noun, physiol the difference in electrical potential across the membrane of a nerve cell that is not conducting an impulse. Compare ACTION POTENTIAL.

restitution /restɪ'tjuːʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of giving back to the rightful owner something lost or stolen. 2 the paying of compensation for loss or injury. 3 the return of an object or system to its original shape or position. ● restitutive /rɪ'stɪtjʊtɪv, 'restɪtjuːtɪv/ adj. ● restitutor /'restɪtjuːtə(r)/ noun. ● restitutory /rɪ'stɪtjʊtərɪ/ adj. ● make restitution for something to make amends for it, usually by paying some kind of compensation. ⓘ 13c: from Latin restituere, restitutum to restore or put up again, from statuere to set up.

restive /'restɪv/ ▷ adj 1 restless; nervous; uneasy. 2 unwilling to accept control or authority. 3 said of a horse: unwilling to move forwards. ● restively adverb. ● restiveness noun. ⓘ 17c: from French restif inert, from Latin restare to remain still or rest.

restoration /restə'reɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of restoring. 2 the act of giving back something lost or stolen. 3 something restored or given back. 4 a model or reconstruction (eg of a ruin, extinct animal, etc). 5 the act of returning to a former and higher status, rank, etc. 6 (usually the Restoration) Brit historical a the re-establishment of the monarchy in 1660; b the reign of Charles II (1660–85); c as adj relating to this period of history □ restoration comedy. ● restorationism noun, relig 1 the receiving of a sinner to divine favour. 2 the final saving of all men. ⓘ 16c.

restorative /rɪ'stɒrətɪv, rɪ'stɔː-/ ▷ adj tending or helping to restore or improve health, strength, spirits, etc. ▷ noun a restorative food or medicine. ● restoratively adverb.

restore /rɪ'stɔː(r)/ ▷ verb 1 to return (a building, painting, etc) to a former condition by repairing or cleaning it, etc. 2 to bring someone or something back to a normal or proper state or condition □ be restored to health. 3 to bring back (a normal or proper state); to reintroduce something □ restore discipline. 4 to return something lost or stolen to the rightful owner. 5 to bring or put back to a former and higher status, rank, etc. 6 to reconstruct or make a model or representation of (a ruin, extinct animal, etc). ● restorable adj. ● restorer noun. ⓘ 13c: from French restorer.

restrain /rɪ'streɪn/ ▷ verb (restrained, restraining) 1 to prevent (someone, oneself, etc) from doing something. 2 to keep (one's temper, ambition, etc) under control. 3 to take away someone's freedom, especially by arresting them. ● restrained adj 1 controlled; able to control one's emotions. 2 showing restraint; without excess. ● restrainedly adverb. ● restrainer noun. ● restraint noun 1 the act of restraining or state of being restrained. 2 a limit or restriction. 3 the avoidance of exaggeration or excess; the ability to remain calm and reasonable. ⓘ 14c: from French restraindre, from Latin restringere.

> restrain
>
> See Usage Note at constrain.

restrict /rɪ'strɪkt/ ▷ verb (restricted, restricting) 1 to keep someone or something within certain limits. 2 to limit or regulate something's use, especially to withhold it from general use. ● restricted adj 1 limited in space; narrow; confined. 2 not for general use, circulation, etc. 3 said of an area, place, etc: only for certain people, especially military personnel, may enter. ● restriction noun 1 an act or instance of restricting. 2 something which restricts. 3 a regulation or rule which restricts or limits. ● restrictive adj restricting or intended to restrict, especially excessively. ● restrictively adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin restringere, restrictum to restrain.

restricted area ▷ noun 1 an area in which a special speed limit is in force, eg in a built-up area. 2 an area to which access is limited.

restriction enzyme ▷ noun, biochem any of a large group of enzymes that can be used to break molecules of DNA at specific points, used extensively in genetic engineering to analyse the structure of chromosomes.

restrictive covenant ▷ noun, law a deed, most commonly found in title deeds for land or property, which in some way restricts the purchaser's use of the land or property.

restrictive practice ▷ noun (often restrictive practices) 1 an agreement between manufacturers, companies, etc to keep production of goods down or limit the supply of goods on the market to keep prices high. 2 a practice by a trade union which limits and restricts the activities of members of other trade unions.

rest room ▷ noun, N Amer a room with lavatories, wash basins and, sometimes, a seating area, eg in a shop, theatre, factory, etc, for the use of the staff or public.

restructuring ▷ noun the reorganization of a business, company, etc in order to improve efficiency, cut costs, etc, often involving redundancies.

result /rɪˈzʌlt/ ▷ noun 1 an outcome or consequence of something. 2 colloq (often results) a positive or favourable outcome or consequence □ His action got results. 3 a number or quantity obtained by calculation, etc. 4 a sport a final score, eg in a football match, etc □ the result was six nil to Aberdeen; b (results) a list of final scores eg published in a newspaper or broadcast on TV or radio □ listen to the results on the radio. 5 colloq a win in a game □ We got a result. 6 (results) a list of marks a student has obtained in an examination or series of examinations. ▷ verb (resulted, resulting) intr 1 (usually result from something) to be a consequence or outcome of some action, event, etc. 2 (usually result in something) to end in a specified way □ Carelessness results in mistakes. ⓘ 15c: from Latin resultare to leap back, from saltare to leap.

resultant /rɪˈzʌltənt/ ▷ adj resulting. ▷ noun, math, physics a single force which is the equivalent of two or more forces acting on an object.

resume /rɪˈzjuːm/ ▷ verb (resumed, resuming) 1 tr & intr to return to something or begin it again after an interruption. 2 to take back or return to (a former position, etc) □ resume one's seat. ● resumable adj. ⓘ 15c: from Latin resumere, resumptum to take up again.

résumé /ˈreɪzjʊmeɪ, ˈrezʊmeɪ/ ▷ noun 1 a summary. 2 N Amer a curriculum vitae. ⓘ 19c: French, from résumer to resume.

resumption /rɪˈzʌmpʃən/ ▷ noun the act of resuming. ● resumptive adj. ● resumptively adverb.

resupinate /rɪˈsuːpɪneɪt, rɪˈsjuː-/ ▷ adj, bot said of parts of plants: inverted; appearing to be upside down because of a twist in the stem, etc. ● resupination /-ˈneɪʃən/ noun. ⓘ 18c: from Latin resupinare, resupinatum to bend back, supinus bent back.

resurface ▷ verb 1 to put a new surface on something, especially a road. 2 intr to reappear. ● resurfacing noun.

resurgence /rɪˈsɜːdʒəns/ ▷ noun the act of returning to life, to a state of activity, importance, influence, etc after a period of decline. ● resurgent adj. ⓘ 19c: from Latin resurgere to rise again.

resurrect /rezəˈrekt/ ▷ verb (resurrected, resurrecting) 1 to bring someone back to life from the dead. 2 to bring something back into general use, activity, etc.

resurrection /rezəˈrekʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of resurrecting or bringing something back into use. 2 the act of coming back to life after death. 3 (Resurrection) Christianity a Christ's coming back to life three days after his death on the cross; b the coming back to life of all the dead at the Last Judgement. ● resurrectionary adj. ● resurrectionist noun 1 old use someone who robbed graves to get bodies for dissection. 2 a believer in the Resurrection. ● resurrector noun. ⓘ 13c: from French résurrection, from Latin resurgere, resurrectum to rise again.

resurrection plant ▷ noun any of several desert plants that curl into a ball and appear dead during a drought but revive when moistened.

resuscitate /rɪˈsʌsɪteɪt/ ▷ verb (resuscitated, resuscitating) 1 to bring someone or something back to life or consciousness; to revive them or it. 2 intr to revive or regain consciousness. ● resuscitable adj. ● resuscitation noun. ● resuscitative adj. ● resuscitator noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin resuscitare, resuscitatum from suscitare to raise or revive.

ret ▷ verb (retted, retting) 1 to soften (flax, hemp, etc) by moistening or soaking. 2 tr & intr to spoil (hay, etc) by soaking or rotting.

retable /rɪˈteɪbəl/ ▷ noun a shelf or ornamental setting for panels, etc above and behind an altar. ⓘ 19c: from French rétable, from Latin retro- behind + tabula table.

retail ▷ noun /ˈriːteɪl/ the sale of goods, either individually or in small quantities, to customers who will not resell them but who buy them for their own use. Compare WHOLESALE. ▷ adj relating to, concerned with, or engaged in such sale of goods. ▷ adverb 1 by retail. 2 at a retail price. ▷ verb (retailed, retailing) 1 /ˈriːteɪl/ a to sell (goods) in small quantities; b intr to be sold in small quantities to customers. 2 /rɪˈteɪl/ to tell or recount (a story, gossip, etc) in great detail. ● retailer noun. ⓘ 14c: from French retailler to cut off.

● retail at something said of an article or goods: to be offered for sale at (a specified price) □ This wine retails at £3.50 a bottle or £36 a case.

retail price index ▷ noun, Brit ▷ (abbreviation RPI) a monthly index of the retail prices of certain household goods, taken as indicative of the cost of living for that month, and as a way of monitoring changes in the cost of living over a period of time.

retain /rɪˈteɪn/ ▷ verb (retained, retaining) 1 to keep or continue to have something □ retain a sense of humour. 2 to be able, or continue, to hold or contain something □ retains moisture. 3 said of a person: to be able to remember (facts, information, etc) easily. 4 to hold something back or keep it in place. 5 to secure the services of (a person, especially a barrister) by paying a preliminary fee. 6 to keep something for future use by paying a small charge. ● retainable adj. ● retainment noun. ⓘ 14c: from French retenir, from Latin retinere to hold back.

retainer /rɪˈteɪnə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that retains. 2 historical a dependant or follower of a person of rank. 3 a domestic servant who has been with a family for a long time. 4 a fee paid to secure professional services, especially those of a lawyer or barrister. 5 a reduced rent paid for property while it is not occupied in order to reserve it for future use.

retaining wall ▷ noun a wall built to support and hold back a mass of earth, rock or water.

retake ▷ verb /riːˈteɪk/ 1 a to take again; b to take back. 2 to capture (eg a fortress) again. 3 to sit (an examination) again. 4 to film (eg a scene) again. ▷ noun /ˈriːteɪk/ 1 the action of retaking something. 2 an examination that someone sits again. 3 a the act or process of filming a scene, recording a piece of music, etc again; b the scene, recording, etc resulting from this. ● retaker noun. ⓘ Early 20c as noun; 17c as verb.

retaliate /rɪˈtalɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (retaliated, retaliating) 1 intr to repay an injury, wrong, etc in kind; to get revenge □ retaliated against the injustice □ retaliated with heavy gun fire. ● retaliation noun. ● retaliative /rɪˈtalɪətɪv/ adj. ● retaliator noun. ● retaliatory /rɪˈtalɪətərɪ, rɪtalɪˈeɪtərɪ/ adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin retaliare, from talis such.

retard ▷ verb /rɪˈtɑːd/ (retarded, retarding) to slow down or delay something. ▷ noun /ˈriːtɑːd/ especially US a person of low intelligence or who acts in a particularly stupid way □ Tommy's such a retard - he's using smack again. ● retardation /riːtɑːˈdeɪʃən/ or retardment /rɪˈtɑːdmənt/ noun 1 the act of retarding or state of being retarded. 2 something that retards. ● retardative adj. ● retardatory adj. ⓘ 15c: from French retarder, from Latin tardus slow.

retardant /rɪˈtɑːdənt/ ▷ adj having the effect of slowing down or delaying something. Often in compounds □ flame-retardant. ▷ noun a substance that retards, especially one that has the effect of slowing down or delaying some specified reaction, process, etc. Often in compounds □ fire retardant.

retarded /rɪˈtɑːdɪd/ ▷ adj 1 slowed down or delayed. 2 old use said of a person: backward in physical or especially mental development.

retarder /rɪˈtɑːdə(r)/ ▷ noun a substance that is used to slow down the rate of some process, chemical change, etc, eg a substance used to delay or prevent the setting of cement.

retch ▷ verb (retches, retched, retching) intr to strain as if to vomit, but without actually doing so. ▷ noun an act of retching. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon hræcan.

retd ▷ abbreviation retired.

rete /ˈriːtiː/ ▷ noun (plural retia /ˈriːʃɪə, ˈriːtɪə/) anatomy a network of blood vessels or nerves; a PLEXUS. ● retial /ˈriːʃɪəl/ adj. ⓘ 16c in this sense; 14c in sense 'a metal network attached to an ASTROLABE, used to indicate the position of stars': Latin, meaning 'a net'.

retention /rɪˈtɛnʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of retaining something or the state of being retained. 2 the power of retaining or capacity to retain something. 3 the ability to remember experiences and things learnt. 4 medicine the failure to get rid of fluid from the body. ● retentionist noun someone who advocates the retention of a policy, etc, especially the retention of capital punishment. ● retentive adj 1 able to retain or keep, especially memories or information. 2 tending to retain (fluid, etc). ● retentively adverb. ● retentiveness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin retentio, from retinere to retain.

retexture /riːˈtɛkstʃə(r)/ ▷ verb to treat (a blanket, garment, etc) with chemicals which restore the original texture of the material. ⓘ 19c.

rethink ▷ verb /riːˈθɪŋk/ to think about or consider (a plan, etc) again, usually with a view to changing one's mind about it or reaching a different conclusion. ▷ noun /ˈriːθɪŋk/ an act of rethinking. ⓘ 1950s as noun; 18c as verb.

reticent /ˈrɛtɪsənt/ ▷ adj 1 not saying very much. 2 not willing to communicate; reserved. 3 not communicating everything that one knows. ● reticence noun. ● reticently adverb. ⓘ 19c: from Latin reticere to keep silent, from tacere to be silent.

reticle /ˈrɛtɪkəl/ ▷ noun an attachment to an optical instrument, consisting of a network of lines of reference. ⓘ 17c: from Latin reticulum a little net.

reticular /rɪˈtɪkjʊlə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 netted; netlike; reticulated. 2 zool related or pertaining to the reticulum.

reticulate ▷ adj /rɪˈtɪkjʊlɪt/ like a net or network, especially in having lines, veins, etc □ a reticulate leaf. ▷ verb /rɪˈtɪkjʊleɪt/ (reticulated, reticulating) tr & intr to form or be formed into a network; to mark or be marked with a network of lines, etc. ● reticulately adj. ● reticulation noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin reticulatus like a net.

reticule /ˈrɛtɪkjuːl/ ▷ noun 1 historical a woman's small pouch-like bag, often netted or beaded, and fastening with a drawstring. 2 a RETICLE. ⓘ 18c: from Latin reticulum a little net.

reticulum /rɪˈtɪkjʊləm/ ▷ noun (reticula /rɪˈtɪkjʊlə/) 1 biol a fine network, especially one of fibres, vessels, etc. 2 zool the second stomach of a ruminant. ⓘ 17c: Latin, meaning 'a little net'.

retiform /ˈriːtɪfɔːm/ ▷ adj having the form of a net; netlike. ⓘ 17c: from Latin rete a net.

retina /ˈrɛtɪnə/ ▷ noun (retinas or retinae /ˈrɛtɪniː/) anatomy the light-sensitive tissue that lines much of the back of the eyeball, in which nerve impulses are generated. From here they are relayed to the brain, where they are interpreted as vision. ● retinal adj. ⓘ 14c: Latin, probably from rete a net.

retinitis /rɛtɪˈnaɪtɪs/ ▷ noun, medicine inflammation of the retina. ⓘ 19c.

retinol /ˈrɛtɪnɒl/ ▷ noun VITAMIN A. ⓘ 1960s.

retinoscope /ˈrɛtɪnəskoʊp/ ▷ noun, medicine an optical instrument used to examine the eye. ● retinoscopy /rɛtɪˈnɒskəpɪ/ noun examination of the eye by observing the shadow on the retina. ● retinoscopically adverb. ● retinoscopist noun.

retinue /ˈrɛtɪnjuː/ ▷ noun the servants, officials, aides, etc who travel with and attend an important person. ⓘ 14c: from French retenue, from retenir to retain.

retire /rɪˈtaɪə(r)/ ▷ verb (retired, retiring) 1 tr & intr to stop or make someone stop working permanently, usually on reaching an age at which a pension can be received □ retired at 60. 2 intr, formal to go away to rest, especially to go to bed. 3 intr, formal to go away (from or to a place); to leave □ retire to the drawing room. 4 tr & intr to withdraw or make someone withdraw from a sporting contest, especially because of injury. 5 tr & intr said of a military force, etc: to move or be moved back, away from a dangerous position. ● retiral noun an act of retiring, eg from work, or of going away from a place. ● retired adj 1 (abbreviation retd) having permanently stopped work because of one's age. 2 secluded. ● retirement noun 1 the act of retiring or state of being retired from work. 2 seclusion and privacy. ● retiring adj shy and reserved; not liking to be noticed. ● retiringly adverb. ⓘ 16c: from French retirer to pull back.

retirement home ▷ noun 1 an easily-run flat or small house, usually part of a supervised complex, where a retired person or couple can live. 2 a residential institution for elderly people who need nursing care.

retirement pension ▷ noun, Brit a weekly payment from the state made to people who have retired from work.

retirement pregnancy ▷ noun, medicine artificially induced pregnancy in an elderly or postmenopausal woman.

retort /rɪˈtɔːt/ ▷ verb (retorted, retorting) 1 intr to make a quick and clever or angry reply. 2 to turn (an argument, criticism, blame, etc) back on the person who first used that argument, criticism, blame, etc. 3 metallurgy to heat and purify (metal) in a retort. ▷ noun 1 a quick and clever or angry reply. 2 an argument, criticism, blame, etc which is turned back upon the originator. 3 a glass vessel with a long neck which curves downwards, used in distilling. 4 metallurgy a vessel for heating metals such as iron and carbon to make steel, or for heating coal to produce gas. ● retortion noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin retorquere to twist back, from torquere to wrench or twist.

retouch ▷ verb /riːˈtʌtʃ/ to improve or repair (a photograph, negative, painting, etc) by adding extra touches or making small alterations. ▷ noun /ˈriːtʌtʃ/ 1 an act of improving, especially of making small repairs or adjustments to a photograph by pencil-work on the negative. 2 a photograph, painting, etc that has been retouched. 3 the detail or area of a photograph, painting, etc that has been retouched. • retoucher noun. ⓘ 17c.

retrace ▷ verb 1 to go back over (a route, path, etc). 2 to trace something back to its origin □ retrace her roots. 3 to go over (recent events, etc) again in one's memory. 4 to trace something again with the eyes; to look at it again carefully. ⓘ 17c.

re-trace ▷ verb to trace or go over again (an outline, etc) with a pen, pencil, etc. ⓘ 18c.

retract /rɪ'trakt/ ▷ verb (retracted, retracting) 1 to draw something in or back. 2 a said of an animal: to draw or pull back (a part) into its body, shell, etc; b said of an aircraft: to draw up (landing equipment, etc) into the main body. 3 tr & intr to withdraw (a statement, claim, charge, etc) as wrong, offensive or unjustified. 4 tr & intr to go back on, or refuse to acknowledge (a promise, agreement, etc that one has made). • retractable or retractible adj 1 able to be drawn in, back or up; retractile. 2 said of a component part of an object: able to be drawn up or into the main body. 3 said of a statement, promise, etc: able to be retracted or withdrawn. • retraction noun 1 the act of drawing something in, back or up. 2 an act or instance of withdrawing, especially something one has said, agreed or promised. • retractive adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin retractare to draw back, from trahere to drag or pull.

retractile /rɪ'traktaɪl/ ▷ adj said especially of parts of animals, eg of a cat's claws: able to be drawn in, back or up. • retractility noun.

retractor /rɪ'traktə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 surgery an instrument for holding back tissue, skin, an organ, etc from the area being operated on. 2 anatomy a muscle that retracts or pulls in a part of the body. 3 chess a problem involving the reversal of a previous move or moves.

retrain /riː'treɪn/ ▷ verb 1 to teach (a person or animal) new skills. 2 intr to learn new skills, especially with a view to finding alternative employment.

retread[1] /riː'tred/ ▷ verb to tread (a path, one's steps, etc) again. ⓘ 16c.

retread[2] ▷ verb /riː'tred/ (retreaded, retreading) see REMOULD (verb 2). ▷ noun see REMOULD (noun) ⓘ Early 20c.

retreat[1] /rɪ'triːt/ ▷ verb (retreated, retreating) 1 intr said of a military force, army, etc: to move back or away from the enemy or retire after defeat. 2 intr to retire or withdraw to a place of safety or seclusion. 3 intr to recede; to slope back. 4 chess to move (a piece) back. ▷ noun 1 the act of retreating, especially from battle, a military position, danger, etc. 2 military a signal to retreat, especially one given on a bugle. 3 a place of privacy, safety or seclusion. 4 a a period of retirement or withdrawal from the world, especially for prayer, meditation, study, etc; b a place for such retirement or withdrawal. 5 an institution for the care and treatment of the elderly, the mentally ill, etc. ⓘ 14c: from French retret, from Latin retrahere to draw back.

retreat[2] or re-treat /riː'triːt/ ▷ verb to treat again. • retreatment noun. ⓘ 19c.

retrial see under RETRY

retrench /rɪ'trentʃ/ ▷ verb (retrenched, retrenching) 1 tr & intr to reduce or cut down (expenses, money spent, etc); to economize. 2 to cut down, reduce, shorten or abridge something. • retrenchment noun. ⓘ 16c: from French retrenchier to cut off or back, from Latin truncare to maim.

retribution /retrɪ'bjuːʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of punishing or taking vengeance for sin or wrongdoing. 2 deserved punishment, especially for sin or wrongdoing; vengeance. • retributive /rɪ'trɪbjʊtɪv/ adj being or forming a punishment which is deserved or suitable. • retributively adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin retribuere, retributum to give back.

retrieve /rɪ'triːv/ ▷ verb (retrieved, retrieving) 1 to get or bring something back again; to recover. 2 to rescue or save something □ retrieve the situation. 3 to save (time). 4 to restore (honour or fortune). 5 to make good (a loss, error, etc). 6 computing to recover (information) from storage in a computer memory. 7 to remember or recall something to mind. 8 tr & intr said of a dog: to search for and bring back (game that has been shot, or a ball, stick, etc that has been thrown). 9 in tennis, etc: to return successfully (a shot that is difficult to reach). • retrievable adj. • retrieval noun 1 the act or possibility of retrieving something or getting it back. 2 computing the extraction of data from a file. ⓘ 15c: from French retrover.

retriever noun 1 a a large dog with a golden or black water-resistant coat, that can be trained to retrieve game; b any dog that is trained to retrieve game. 2 someone or something that retrieves.

retro /'retroʊ/ ▷ adj reminiscent of, reverting to, recreating or imitating a style, fashion, etc from the past. ▷ noun (retros) a RETRO-ROCKET. ⓘ 20c.

retro- /retroʊ/ ▷ prefix, denoting 1 back or backwards in time or space. 2 behind. ⓘ Latin retro backwards.

retroact /'retroʊakt/ ▷ verb (retroacted, retroacting) intr 1 to react. 2 law to act retrospectively. • retroactive adj applying to or affecting things from a date in the past □ retroactive legislation. • retroactively adverb. • retroactivity noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin retroagere, retroactum to drive back.

retrocede /retroʊ'siːd/ ▷ verb (retroceded, retroceding) 1 intr to move back; to recede. 2 to grant back (territory) to a government or country. • retrocedent adj. • retrocession noun. • retrocessive adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin retrocedere, cedere to cede or yield.

retrochoir /'retroʊkwaɪə(r)/ ▷ noun, archit an extension of a church behind the position of the high altar.

retrod and retrodden see under RETREAD[1] retrofit /'retroʊfɪt/ ▷ verb (retrofitted, retrofitting) to modify (a house, car, aircraft, etc) some time after construction or manufacture by equipping with new or more up-to-date parts, etc.

retroflex /'retroʊfleks/ ▷ adj 1 bot, anatomy (also retroflexed or retroflected) turned or bent backwards. 2 medicine, anatomy said especially of the uterus: arched backwards. Compare RETROVERSION. 3 phonetics (also retroflexed) said of sound, especially an 'r': pronounced with the tip of the tongue curled back. ▷ verb, tr & intr to turn or bend back. • retroflexion or retroflection noun. ⓘ 18c: from Latin retroflectere, retroflexum.

retrograde /'retrəgreɪd/ ▷ adj 1 being, tending towards or causing a worse, less advanced or less desirable state. 2 moving or bending backwards. 3 in a reversed or opposite order. 4 astron said of a planet, etc: a seeming to move in the opposite or contrary direction to other planets, etc; b seeming to move from east to west. ▷ verb (retrograded, retrograding) intr 1 to move backwards. 2 to deteriorate or decline. 3 astron said of a planet: to show retrograde movement. • retrogradation noun. • retrogradely adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin retrogradus going backwards, from gradi to go or walk.

retrogress /retrə'gres/ ▷ verb (retrogressed, retrogressing) intr 1 to go back to an earlier, worse or less advanced condition or state; to deteriorate. 2 to recede or move backwards. • retrogression /retrə'greʃən/ noun 1 a decline in quality or merit. 2 the act or process of going backward or reverting. 3 astron retrograde movement. • retrogressive adj. • retrogressively adverb. ⓘ 19c: from Latin retrogressus a movement backwards.

retro-rocket ▷ noun, astron a small rocket motor that is fired in the opposite direction from that in which a spacecraft, artificial satellite, etc is moving, in order to slow it down. Often shortened to RETRO. ⓘ 1960s.

retrorse /rɪ'trɔːs/ ▷ adj said especially of parts of plants: turned or pointing backwards. • retrorsely adverb. ⓘ 19c: from Latin retrorsus, from retroversus, from vertere to turn.

retrospect /'retrəspɛkt/ (especially in retrospect) when considering or looking back on what has happened in the past □ In retrospect, it wasn't a good idea. • retrospection noun 1 the action of looking back at the past. 2 a survey of one's past life. • retrospective adj 1 said of a law, etc: applying to the past as well as to the present and to the future. 2 inclined to look back on past events. ▷ noun an exhibition which shows how an artist's work has developed over the years. • retrospectively adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin retrospicere, retrospectum to look back.

retroussé /rə'truːseɪ/ ▷ adj said especially of the nose: turned up at the end. ⓘ 19c: French, from retrousser to tuck or turn up.

retroversion /retroʊ'vɜːʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the action of turning, or state of being turned, backwards. 2 medicine, anatomy said of an organ, etc, especially the uterus: the condition of being displaced backwards. Compare RETROFLEX. • retroverted adj.

Retrovir /'retrəvɪə(r)/ ▷ noun, trademark, pharmacol the brand name for the drug AZT. ⓘ 1970s: from RETROVIRUS.

retrovirus /'retroʊvaɪərəs/ ▷ noun, biol any of a group of viruses with genetic material consisting of RNA which is copied into DNA to allow integration into the host cell's DNA and including many carcinogenic viruses, as well as the HIV virus which causes AIDS. • retroviral adj. ⓘ 1970s: from reverse transcriptase (the active enzyme in these viruses) + -o- + VIRUS.

retry ▷ verb 1 to submit to further judicial trial □ were retried when new evidence came to light. 2 to make a further attempt □ retried the car but it still wouldn't start. • retrial noun a further judicial trial.

retsina /ret'siːnə/ ▷ noun a Greek white or rosé wine flavoured with pine resin. ⓘ 1940s: Greek, from retsine pine resin.

retted and retting see under RET return /rɪ'tɜːn/ ▷ verb (returned, returning) 1 intr to come or go back again to a former place, state or owner □ returned to Glasgow after two weeks. 2 to give, send, put back, etc a particular thing in a former position. 3 intr to come back to in thought or speech □ return to the topic later. 4 to repay with something of the same value □ return the compliment. 5 tr & intr to answer or reply. 6 to report or state officially or formally. 7 to earn or produce (profit, interest, etc). 8 to elect as a Member of Parliament □ was returned with an increased majority. 9 law said of a jury: to deliver (a verdict). 10 tennis, badminton, etc to hit back (a ball, etc) served by one's opponent. ▷ noun 1 an act of coming back from a place, state, etc. 2 an act of returning something, especially to its former place, state, ownership, etc. 3 something returned, especially unsold newspapers and magazines returned to the publisher, or a theatre ticket returned to the theatre for resale. 4 profit from work, a business or investment. 5 (often returns) a statement of someone's income and allowances, used for calculating the tax which must be paid □ tax returns. 6 (usually returns) a statement of the votes polled in an election. 7 Brit a RETURN TICKET □ a day return to Edinburgh. 8 an answer or reply. 9 a a ball, etc hit back after one's opponent's service in tennis, badminton, etc; b as adj forming, causing or relating to a return. 10 (in full return key) a a key on a computer or typewriter keyboard that takes the operator from the end of one line to the beginning of the line below; b a key on a computer keyboard used for various functions including the loading of software □ Type 'install' and press 'Return'. • returnable adj. • by return of post by the next post in the return direction, ie immediately or as soon as possible. • in return in exchange; in reply; as compensation. • many happy returns (of the day) an expression of good wishes on someone's birthday. ⓘ 14c: from French retorner, from Latin tornare to turn.

returning officer ▷ noun an official in charge of running an election in a constituency, counting the votes and declaring the result.

return match ▷ noun, sport a second match played between the same players or teams, usually at the home ground of the side previously playing away.

return ticket ▷ noun a ticket which allows someone to travel to a place and back again.

retuse /rɪ'tjuːs/ ▷ adj, bot with the tip blunt and broadly notched. ⓘ 18c: from Latin retundere, retusum to blunt.

reunify /riː'juːnɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb to unify (a country, republic, etc that has been divided) again or anew. • reunification noun. ⓘ 19c.

reunion /riː'juːnɪən, -njən/ ▷ noun 1 a meeting of people (eg relatives, friends, former colleagues, etc) who have not met for some time. 2 the act of reuniting or state of being reunited. ⓘ 17c.

reunite /riːjʊ'naɪt/ ▷ verb, tr & intr to bring or come together again after being separated. ⓘ 15c.

Rev or Revd ▷ abbreviation Reverend.

rev ▷ noun, colloq 1 (often revs) one cycle of events or one revolution in an internal combustion engine, the number of revolutions (usually RPM) often being used as an indication of engine speed. 2 an act of revving an engine, etc. ▷ verb (revs, revved, revving) colloq (also rev up) 1 to increase the speed of revolution of (a car engine, etc). 2 intr said of an engine or vehicle: to run faster. ⓘ 1920s: from REVOLUTION.

revalue or revaluate ▷ verb 1 to make a new valuation of something. 2 to adjust the exchange rate of (a currency), especially making it more valuable with respect to other currencies. Compare DEVALUE. ⓘ 20c as revaluate; 16c as revalue.

revamp /riː'vamp/ ▷ verb to revise, renovate or patch something up, usually with the aim of improving it. ▷ noun 1 the act of revamping. 2 something that has been revamped. ⓘ 19c.

revanchism /rɪ'vantʃɪzəm/ ▷ noun a policy directed towards recovery of territory lost to an enemy. • revanchist noun, adj. ⓘ 19c: from French revanche 'revenge'.

reveal¹ /rɪ'viːl/ ▷ verb (revealed, revealing) 1 to make (a secret, etc) known; to disclose it. 2 to show something; to allow it to be seen. 3 said of a deity: to make something known through divine inspiration or by supernatural means. • revealable adj. • revealer noun. • revealing adj 1 indicative; significant. 2 said of a dress, etc: allowing more than is usual of the body, especially a woman's breasts, to be seen. • revealingly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from French reveler, from Latin velum a veil.

reveal² /rɪ'viːl/ ▷ noun, archit the vertical side surface of a recess in a wall, especially the surface between the frame and the outer surface of the wall in the opening for a doorway or window. ⓘ 17c.

reveille /rɪ'valɪ/ ▷ noun 1 a signal given in the morning, usually by a drum or bugle call, to waken soldiers, etc. 2 the time at which this signal is given. ⓘ 17c: from French réveillez! wake up!

revel /'revəl/ ▷ verb (revelled, revelling) intr to enjoy oneself in a noisy lively way; to make merry. ▷ noun (usually revels) an occasion of revelling; noisy lively enjoyment, festivities or merrymaking. • reveller noun. • revelry /'revəlrɪ/ noun the action of revelling; noisy lively merrymaking. ⓘ 14c: from French reveler to riot, be merry, etc, from Latin rebellare to rebel.

■ revel in something to take great delight or luxuriate in it.

Revelation /rɛvəˈleɪʃən/ or (popularly) Revelations singular noun the last book of the New Testament, which contains prophecies of the end of the world. Also called Apocalypse.

revelation /rɛvəˈleɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of revealing, showing or disclosing, especially in a dramatic or striking way, something previously unknown or unexpected. 2 something that is revealed or disclosed in this way. 3 the experience of discovering, especially in a striking way, something previously unknown or unexpected □ It was a revelation to him when he discovered she was having an affair. 4 Christianity something revealed, shown or made known to man by God through divine inspiration or by supernatural means. • revelational adj. • revelationist noun someone who believes in divine revelation. • revelatory /rɛvəˈleɪtərɪ, ˈrɛvələtərɪ/ adj. ◷ 13c: from Latin revelatio, from revelare to unveil or reveal.

revenant /ˈrɛvənənt/ ▷ noun 1 someone who returns after a long absence, especially supposedly from the dead. 2 a ghost. ▷ adj returned, especially supposedly from the dead. ◷ 19c: French, from revenir to return.

revenge /rɪˈvɛndʒ/ ▷ noun 1 malicious injury, harm or wrong done in return for injury, harm or wrong received; retaliation; vengeance. 2 something that is done as a means of returning like injury, harm, etc. 3 the desire to do such injury, harm, etc. 4 a return match or game, seen as an opportunity for the person, team, etc that was defeated the first time to even the score. Also called as adj □ a revenge match. ▷ verb (revenged, revenging) 1 to do similar injury, harm, etc in return for injury, harm, etc received. 2 to take revenge on someone on behalf of oneself or someone else; to avenge. • revengeful adj. • revengefully adverb. • revengefulness noun. • revenger noun. • revenging adj. ◷ 14c: from French revenger, from Latin vindicare to vindicate.

revenue /ˈrɛvənjuː/ ▷ noun 1 money which comes to a person, organization, etc from any source, eg property, shares, etc. 2 money raised by the government of a country or state from taxes, etc. 3 (often Revenue) a government department responsible for collecting this money. See also INLAND REVENUE. ◷ 15c: from French revenu.

revenue cutter ▷ noun, historical a small armed vessel used to prevent smuggling.

reverb /ˈriːvɜːb, rɪˈvɜːb/ ▷ noun, colloq, music 1 reverberation, especially that produced by an amplifier or an electronic musical instrument. 2 (also reverb unit) a device which produces an effect of reverberation. ◷ 1960s.

reverberate /rɪˈvɜːbəreɪt/ ▷ verb (reverberated, reverberating) 1 intr said of a sound, light, heat, etc: to be echoed, repeated or reflected repeatedly. 2 to echo, repeat or reflect (a sound, light, etc) repeatedly. 3 intr said of a story, scandal, etc: to circulate or be repeated many times. 4 metallurgy to heat (a metal, ore, etc) in a reverberatory furnace. • reverberant /rɪˈvɜːbərənt/ adj resonant; reverberating. • reverberantly adverb. • reverberation /rɪvɜːbəˈreɪʃən/ noun. • reverberative adj 1 tending to reverberate. 2 like a reverberation. • reverberator noun. • reverberatory adj. ◷ 16c: from Latin reverberare, reverberatum to beat back.

reverberatory furnace ▷ noun, metallurgy a furnace in which the material (eg steel, ceramics or glass) is not heated directly by the burning fuel, but by a flame directed at a low roof which radiates heat downwards on to it.

revere /rɪˈvɪə(r)/ ▷ verb (revered, revering) to feel or show great respect or reverence for someone or something; to venerate. • reverer noun. ◷ 17c: from Latin revereri.

reverence /ˈrɛvərəns, ˈrɛvrəns/ ▷ noun 1 great respect or veneration, especially that shown to something sacred or holy. 2 a feeling of, or the capacity to feel, such respect. 3 an act or gesture that shows such respect, such as an act of obeisance or a bow. 4 the state of being held in such respect. 5 (His or Your Reverence) a title used to address or refer to some members of the clergy, especially a priest in Ireland. ▷ verb (reverenced, reverencing) to regard someone or something with great reverence; to venerate. ◷ 13c: from Latin reverentia.

reverend /ˈrɛvərənd, ˈrɛvrənd/ ▷ adj 1 worthy of being revered or respected. 2 (Reverend abbreviation Rev or Revd) used before proper names as a title for members of the clergy, and in other titles such as Most Reverend for an archbishop or an Irish RC bishop, Right Reverend for a bishop or a Moderator of the Church of Scotland, Very Reverend for a dean or a former Moderator, and Reverend Mother for a Mother Superior of a convent. ▷ noun, colloq a member of the clergy. ◷ 15c: from Latin reverendus worthy of reverence.

reverent /ˈrɛvərənt, ˈrɛvrənt/ ▷ adj showing, feeling or characterized by great respect or reverence. • reverently adverb. ◷ 14c.

reverential /rɛvəˈrɛnʃəl/ ▷ adj reverent or very respectful. • reverentially adverb. ◷ 16c.

reverie /ˈrɛvərɪ/ ▷ noun 1 a state of pleasantly dreamy and absent-minded thought. 2 a day-dream or absent-minded idea or thought. 3 music a piece of music suggestive of day-dreaming. ◷ 14c: French.

revers /rɪˈvɪə(r)/ ▷ noun (revers /rɪˈvɪəz/) any part of a garment that is turned back, especially a lapel. ◷ 19c: French, meaning 'reverse', from Latin revertere, reversum to turn back.

reversal /rɪˈvɜːs(ə)l/ ▷ noun 1 an act of reversing something, or the state of being reversed. 2 a change in fortune, especially for the worse. Also called reverse. 3 law the action of setting aside or overthrowing a legal decision or judgement.

reverse /rɪˈvɜːs/ ▷ verb (reversed, reversing) 1 tr & intr to move or make something move backwards or in an opposite direction □ He reversed the car. 2 to run (a mechanism, piece of machinery, etc) backwards or in the opposite direction from what is normal. 3 to put or arrange something in an opposite or contrary position, state, order, etc □ reverse the names on the list. 4 to turn something (eg an item of clothing) inside out. 5 to change (eg a policy, decision, etc) to its exact opposite or contrary. See also U-TURN. 6 law to set aside or overthrow (a legal decision, judgement, etc); to annul. ▷ noun 1 the opposite or contrary of something. 2 a change to an opposite or contrary position, direction, state, etc. 3 the back or rear side of something, eg the back cover of a book. 4 the side of a coin, medal, note, etc that has a secondary design on it. Opposite of OBVERSE. 5 a REVERSAL (sense 2). 6 a mechanism, especially a car gear, which makes a vehicle, piece of machinery, etc move or operate in a backwards direction. 7 as adj □ reverse gear. ▷ adj 1 opposite, contrary or turned round in order, position, direction, etc; inverted. 2 functioning or moving backwards, or in a direction opposite to the normal one. 3 military relating to or positioned at the rear. • reversed adj 1 turned the other way about, backwards or upside down; inverted. 2 said of a policy, legal decision, etc: overturned; annulled. • reversedly adverb. • reversely adverb. • reverser noun. • reversing noun. • go into reverse 1 to put a vehicle, mechanism, etc into reverse gear. 2 to move backwards or in an opposite direction to normal. • in reverse backwards or in an opposite direction to normal. • reverse the charges Brit to make a telephone call that is charged to the person being called instead of to the caller. N Amer equivalent CALL COLLECT (see under CALL). ◷ 14c: from French, from Latin revertere, reversum.

reverse engineering ▷ noun the taking apart of a competitor's product to see how it is made, with a view to copying or improving it.

reverse takeover ⊳ noun, finance 1 the taking over of a larger company by a smaller one, especially the purchase of a public company by a private one. 2 a takeover in which the company that has been taken over controls the new organization.

reverse transcriptase ⊳ noun the enzyme in a retrovirus that makes a DNA copy of the virus's RNA genome and allows integration into host-cell DNA, in this way reversing the usual process of transferring gene information.

reversible /rɪˈvɜːsɪbəl/ ⊳ adj 1 able to be reversed. 2 said of clothes or a fabric: able to be worn with either side out. ◻ a reversible jacket. ⊳ noun a fabric or garment that can be worn either side out. ● reversibility noun. ● reversibly adverb. ⓘ 17c.

reversible reaction ⊳ noun 1 chem a chemical reaction that occurs in both directions simultaneously, so that products are being converted back to reactants at the same time that reactants are being converted to products. 2 a chemical reaction that can be made to proceed in one direction or the other by altering the conditions.

reversing light ⊳ noun a light, usually a white one, on the rear of a vehicle which comes on when the vehicle is put into reverse gear to warn other drivers and pedestrians that it is going to move or that it is moving backwards and to allow the driver to see where they are going.

reversion /rɪˈvɜːʃən/ ⊳ noun 1 a return to an earlier state, belief, etc. 2 law a the legal right (eg of an original owner or their heirs) to possess a property again at the end of a certain period, especially when the present owner dies; b property to which someone has such a right. 3 insurance which is paid on someone's death. 4 biol said of individuals, organs, etc: a return to an earlier ancestral, and usually less advanced, type. ● reversionary adj. ● reversional adj. ● reversionally adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin reversio a turning back.

revert /rɪˈvɜːt/ ⊳ verb (reverted, reverting) (usually intr revert to something) 1 to return to as a topic in thought or conversation). 2 to return to a former and usually worse state, practice, way of behaving, etc ◻ He reverted to his drinking. 3 biol the change from a mutant physical characteristic of an individual to the characteristic most frequently found in natural populations (ie wild type). 4 law said especially of property: to return to an original owner or their heirs after belonging temporarily to someone else. 5 to turn something back. ● revertible adj. ⓘ 13c: from Latin revertere to turn back.

revetment /rɪˈvetmənt/ ⊳ noun, chiefly fortification a facing of masonry or other material that protects or supports a wall, rampart, etc; a RETAINING WALL. ⓘ 18c: from French revêtement from revêtir to reclothe.

review /rɪˈvjuː/ ⊳ noun 1 an act of examining, reviewing or revising, or the state of being examined, reviewed or revised. 2 a general survey of a particular subject, situation, etc. 3 a survey of the past and past events ◻ the newspaper's annual review of the year. 4 a critical report, especially one that is published in a newspaper or periodical, usually on a recent book, play, film, etc. 5 a magazine or newspaper, or a section of one, which contains mainly reviews of books, etc and other feature articles. 6 a second or additional study or consideration of certain facts, events, etc; a re-examination. 7 military a formal or official inspection of troops, ships, etc. 8 law a re-examination of a case, especially by a superior court. ⊳ verb 1 to see or view something again. 2 to examine or go over something, especially critically or formally. 3 to look back on and examine (events in the past). 4 intr to write reviews, especially professionally. 5 to write, especially professionally, a critical report on (a book, play, film, etc). 6 military to inspect (troops, ships, etc), especially formally or officially. 7 law to re-examine (a case). ● reviewable adj. ● reviewal noun. ● in or under review undergoing consideration, negotiation, etc. ⓘ 16c: from French revue.

review body ⊳ noun a committee set up to review eg salaries, etc.

review copy ⊳ noun a copy of a newly published book that is sent out by the publisher eg to newspapers, periodicals, etc that may be interested in reviewing it.

reviewer noun someone who reviews, especially someone whose job is to write critical reviews of books, plays, etc.

revile /rɪˈvaɪl/ ⊳ verb (reviled, reviling) 1 to abuse or criticize someone or something bitterly or scornfully. 2 intr to speak scornfully or use abusive language; to rail (see RAIL 2). ● revilement noun 1 the act of reviling. 2 a reviling speech. ● reviler noun. ⓘ 14c: from French reviler, from Latin vilis worthless.

revise /rɪˈvaɪz/ ⊳ verb (revised, revising) 1 to examine something again in order to identify and correct faults, improve it or to take new circumstances into account, etc. 2 to correct faults and make improvements in, or bring up to date (a previously printed book), usually in preparing a new edition. 3 tr & intr to study or look at (a subject or one's notes on it) again, especially in preparation for an examination. 4 to reconsider or amend (eg an opinion, etc). ⊳ noun 1 the action or result of revising; a revision. 2 printing a revised proof that includes corrections made to an earlier proof. ● revisable adj. ● revisal noun the action of revising; a revision. ● reviser noun. ● revisory adj 1 relating to revision. 2 capable of revising, or with the power to revise. ⓘ 16c: from French reviser, from Latin visere to look at or examine.

Revised Standard Version ⊳ noun (abbreviation RSV) a revision, made in 1946–52, of the Authorized Version of the Bible.

Revised Version ⊳ noun (abbreviation RV) a revision, issued 1881–5, of the Authorized Version of the Bible.

revision /rɪˈvɪʒən/ ⊳ noun 1 the action or result of revising, or process of being revised. 2 the action or process of studying or looking at a subject or notes on a subject again, especially in preparation for an examination. 3 a revised book, edition, article, etc. ● revisional adj. ● revisionary adj. ⓘ 17c.

revisionism /rɪˈvɪʒənɪzəm/ ⊳ noun, politics 1 the policy or practice of revising previously established political ideas, doctrines, etc. 2 a form of Communism that favours modification of stricter orthodox Communism and evolution rather than revolution as a way of achieving socialism. ● revisionist noun, adj. ⓘ Early 20c.

revitalize or revitalise /riːˈvaɪtəlaɪz/ ⊳ verb to give new life or energy to someone or something. ⓘ 19c.

revival /rɪˈvaɪvəl/ ⊳ noun 1 the act or process of reviving or state of being revived. 2 a renewed interest, especially in old customs, fashions, styles, etc. 3 a new production or performance, especially of an old play or one that has not recently been staged. 4 a period of renewed religious faith and spirituality. 5 a series of evangelistic and often emotional meetings to encourage renewed religious faith. ● revivalism noun the promotion of renewed religious faith and spirituality through evangelistic meetings. ● revivalist noun. ● revivalistic adj. ⓘ 17c.

revive /rɪˈvaɪv/ ⊳ verb (revived, reviving) tr & intr 1 to come or bring someone back to consciousness, strength, health, vitality, etc. 2 said of old customs, fashions, styles, etc: to come or bring back into use or fashion, to an active state, to notice, etc. 3 to perform again after a long time (a play that has not been recently staged). ● revivability noun. ● revivable adj. ● revivably adverb. ● reviver noun 1 someone or something that revives. 2 a substance that renovates or restores eg colour, lustre, etc. 3 colloq a stimulant, especially an alcoholic drink. ● reviving noun, adj. ● revivingly adverb. ⓘ 15c: from French revivre, from Latin revivere to live again, from vivere to live.

revivify ▷ verb to put new life into someone or something; to revive. • revivification noun. ⓒ 17c.

revocable /'revəkəbəl/ or revokable or revokeable /rɪ'voukəbl/ ▷ adj capable of being revoked or recalled. • revocability noun. • revocably adverb. ⓒ 15c.

revoke /rɪ'vouk/ ▷ verb (revoked, revoking) 1 to cancel or make (a will, agreement, etc) no longer valid; to annul. 2 intr, cards to fail to follow suit in cards when one should and is able to do so. ▷ noun, cards an act of revoking. • revoker noun, cards someone who revokes. • revocation /revə'keɪʃən/ noun the action of revoking or annulling something, or the state of being revoked or annulled; cancellation. • revocatory adj. ⓒ 14c: from Latin revocare to call back or withdraw, from vocare to call.

revolt /rɪ'voult/ ▷ verb (revolted, revolting) 1 intr to rebel or rise up against a government, authority, etc □ revolted against the military junta. 2 a to provoke a feeling of disgust, loathing or revulsion □ just the thought of it revolts me; b intr to feel disgust, loathing or revulsion □ I revolt at the very thought of it. ▷ noun a rebellion or uprising against a government, authority, etc. • revolted adj disgusted; horrified. • revolting adj 1 causing a feeling of disgust, loathing, etc; nauseating. 2 rising in revolt; rebellious. • revoltingly adverb. ⓒ 16c: from French révolter.

revolute /'revəluːt, revə'ljuːt/ ▷ adj, chiefly bot said of the edges of a leaf: rolled backwards and usually downwards. ⓒ 18c: from Latin revolvere, revolutum to revolve.

revolution /revə'luːʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the overthrow or rejection of a government or political system by the governed, often, but not necessarily, involving violence. 2 in Marxism: a the class struggle ending with the working class taking control of the means of production and becoming the ruling class; b the transition from one system of production to another, the political changes brought about as a result of this, and ending with the establishment of Communism. 3 complete, drastic and usually far-reaching change in ideas, social habits, ways of doing things, etc □ the Industrial Revolution. 4 a the action of turning or moving round an axis; b one complete circle or turn round an axis. 5 astron a the action of one planet or object moving in an orbit around another; b one such orbital movement; c the time taken to make one such orbital movement. 6 a a cycle of events; b the time taken to go through such a cycle and return to the starting point. 7 geol a time of major change in the earth's features. • revolutionism noun the theory of or support for political, social, etc revolution. • revolutionist noun someone who supports or advocates revolution; a revolutionary. ▷ adj relating to revolution. ⓒ 14c: from French révolution.

revolutionary /revə'luːʃənərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or like a revolution. 2 in favour of and supporting political, social, etc revolution. 3 completely new or different; involving radical change. ▷ noun (revolutionaries) someone who takes part in or is in favour of political, social, etc revolution in general, or a particular revolution.

Revolutionary Calendar ▷ noun the calendar used in France from 1793 to 1805.

revolutionize or revolutionise ▷ verb (revolutionized, revolutionizing) 1 to bring about revolution, eg in a country's political system, government, etc. 2 to inspire (people) with revolutionary ideas. 3 to bring about great, radical or fundamental changes in (eg ideas, social habits, ways of doing things, etc) □ computers have revolutionised many businesses. ⓒ 18c.

revolve /rɪ'vɒlv/ ▷ verb (revolved, revolving) 1 tr & intr to move or turn, or make something move or turn, in a circle around a central point; to rotate. 2 intr (usually revolve around or about something) to have it as a centre, focus or main point. 3 intr to occur in cycles or at regular intervals. 4 tr & intr to consider or be considered in turn □ revolve the ideas in her head. ▷ noun, theat a section of a stage that can be rotated, providing a means of scene-changing. • revolvable adj. • revolving adj 1 able, designed, etc to revolve. 2 recurring at regular intervals. ⓒ 14c: from Latin revolvere to roll back.

revolver /rɪ'vɒlvə(r)/ ▷ noun a pistol with a revolving cylinder that holds several bullets, which allows the pistol to be fired several times without reloading. ⓒ 19c.

revolving credit ▷ noun credit that is automatically renewed as the sum borrowed is paid back, allowing the borrower to use the credit repeatedely provided the agreed maximum amount is not exceeded.

revolving door ▷ noun a door made up of several, usually four, sections rotating around a central axis.

revue /rɪ'vjuː/ ▷ noun a humorous theatrical show, that includes songs, sketches, etc which are often satirical. ⓒ 19c: French, meaning 'review'.

revulsion /rɪ'vʌlʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a feeling of complete disgust, distaste or repugnance. 2 a sudden and often violent change of feeling, especially from love to hate. 3 the action of drawing or state of being drawn back or away. • revulsive adj. ⓒ 16c: from Latin revulsio.

revved and revving see under REV.

reward /rɪ'wɔːd/ ▷ noun 1 something given or received in return for work done, a service rendered, good behaviour, etc. 2 a sum of money offered, usually for finding or helping to find a criminal, stolen or lost property, etc. 3 something given or received in return, usually for usually for doing something good but sometimes for something evil. ▷ verb (rewarded, rewarding) to give something to someone to show gratitude or in recompense for work done, services rendered, help, good behaviour, etc. • rewardable adj. • rewarder noun. • rewarding adj giving personal pleasure or satisfaction; worthwhile □ a rewarding job. • rewardless adj. ⓒ 13c: from French reguarder to regard.

rewarewa /'reɪwɑreɪwə/ ▷ noun 1 a tall New Zealand forest tree. 2 the light wood of this tree, used for making furniture. ⓒ 19c: Maori, from rewa to float.

rewind ▷ verb /riː'waɪnd/ (rewound, rewinding) 1 to wind (eg thread) again. 2 to wind (tape, film, etc) back to the beginning, to a specified place, or back onto its original reel. ▷ noun /'riːwaɪnd/ 1 the action of rewinding. 2 something that is rewound. 3 a mechanism for rewinding tape, film, etc. • rewinder noun. ⓒ 18c.

rewire ▷ verb to fit (a house, etc) with a new system of electrical wiring. • rewirable or rewireable adj. ⓒ Early 20c.

reword ▷ verb to express something in different words. • rewording noun 1 the action of expressing in different words. 2 something that is reworded. ⓒ 19c.

rework /riː'wɜːk/ ▷ verb (reworked, reworking) 1 to work something again. 2 to alter or refashion something in order to use it again. 3 to revise or rewrite something. • reworking noun 1 the action of working something again, or of altering, revising it, etc. 2 something that is reworked, especially something that is revised or rewritten. ⓒ 19c.

rewrite ▷ verb /riː'raɪt/ 1 to write something again or in different words. 2 computing to retain (data) in an area of store by recording it in the location from which it has been read. ▷ noun /'riːraɪt/ 1 the action of rewriting. 2 something that is rewritten.

Rex ▷ noun 1 king. 2 now used mainly on coins, official documents, etc: the title of the reigning king. Also abbreviated to R in signatures. Compare REGINA. ⓒ 17c: Latin.

Reye's syndrome /raɪz —/ ▷ noun, medicine a rare, acute, and often fatal metabolic disease of children that affects the brain and liver. ⓒ 1960s: named after the Australian paediatrician R D K Reye (1912–78).

Reynard or reynard /'reɪnɑːd, 're-/ ▷ noun a name for a fox, especially in stories, fables, etc.

Reynolds number /'renəldz —/ ▷ noun, mech a number designating the type of flow of a fluid in a system. ⓘ Early 20c: named after the Irish engineer and physicist Osborne Reynolds (1842–1912).

RF ▷ abbreviation radio frequency.

Rf ▷ symbol, chem rutherfordium.

RFC ▷ abbreviation 1 Royal Flying Corps. 2 Rugby Football Club.

RFU ▷ abbreviation Rugby Football Union.

RGN ▷ abbreviation Registered General Nurse.

RGS ▷ abbreviation Royal Geographical Society.

RGV ▷ abbreviation Remote Guidance Vehicle.

RH ▷ abbreviation 1 IVR Republic of Haiti. 2 Royal Highness.

Rh ▷ abbreviation rhesus, especially in RH FACTOR. ▷ symbol, chem rhodium.

rh ▷ abbreviation right hand.

RHA ▷ abbreviation 1 Royal Hibernian Academy. 2 Royal Horse Artillery.

rhabdomancy /'rabdəmansɪ/ ▷ noun divination by rod or wand, especially divining for water or ore. • rhabdomancer noun. • rhabdomantist noun. ⓘ 17c: from Greek rhabdos a rod + -MANCY.

rhachis and rhachides see under RACHIS

Rhaetian /'riːʃən/ ▷ noun a generic name for the various Romance dialects spoken in Switzerland and N Italy, comprising Romansch, spoken in SE Switzerland and N Italy; Ladin, spoken in Italy (S Tyrol); and Friulian, spoken in N Italy. ▷ adj relating to these dialects. ⓘ 16c: named after Rhaetia, a province in the Roman Empire.

rhagades /'ragədiːz/ ▷ plural noun, medicine cracks or fissures in the skin. • rhagadiform adj. ⓘ 17c: Greek, plural of rhagas a tear or rent.

rhapsodize or rhapsodise /'rapsədaɪz/ ▷ verb (rhapsodized, rhapsodizing) tr & intr to speak or write with great enthusiasm or emotion. • rhapsodist noun.

rhapsody /'rapsədɪ/ ▷ noun (rhapsodies) 1 music a piece of music, emotional in character and usually written to suggest a free form or improvisation. 2 an exaggeratedly enthusiastic and highly emotional speech, piece of writing, etc. 3 historical in ancient Greece: an epic poem, or part of one, of a length that makes it suitable to be recited all at one time. • rhapsodic /rap'sɒdɪk/ or rhapsodical adj 1 like, relating to or characteristic of a rhapsody. 2 exaggeratedly enthusiastic, highly emotional, etc. • rhapsodically adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin rhapsodia, from Greek rhapsoidia an epic, from rhaptein to sew or work together + oide song.

rhatany /'ratənɪ/ ▷ noun (rhatanies) 1 either of two S American leguminous plants. 2 the thick fleshy root of these plants used as an astringent. ⓘ 19c: from Spanish ratania, probably from Quechua rataña.

rhea /rɪə/ ▷ noun (rheas) a S American flightless bird resembling the ostrich but smaller. ⓘ 19c: Latin, named after Rhea the mother of Zeus in Greek mythology.

Rhenish /'renɪʃ/ ▷ adj relating to the River Rhine or the regions bordering it. ▷ noun RHINE WINE.

rhenium /'riːnɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol Re, atomic number 75) a rare silvery-white metallic element whose very high melting point (3180°C) makes it a useful ingredient in alloys. ⓘ 1920s: named by its discoverer after the River Rhine (Rhenus in Latin).

rheo- /riːoʊ/ ▷ combining form, signifying current or flow. ⓘ From Greek rheos a stream, or anything that flows, from rhein to flow.

rheology /rɪ'ɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun, physics the scientific study of the deformation and flow of matter subjected to force. • rheological adj. • rheologist noun. ⓘ 1920s.

rheostat /'rɪəstat/ ▷ noun, elec a variable resistor that enables the resistance to a current in an electric circuit to be increased or decreased, thereby varying the current without interrupting the current flow, eg as when dimming a light bulb. • rheostatic adj. ⓘ 19c.

rhesus /'riːsəs/ and rhesus monkey ▷ noun a macaque, a small N Indian monkey. ⓘ 19c: Latin, named after Rhesos a mythical king of Thrace in Greek mythology.

rhesus factor or Rh factor ▷ noun, medicine an ANTIGEN that is present on the surface of red blood cells of about 84% of the human population, who are said to be rhesus positive, and absent in the remaining 16%, who are said to be rhesus negative. It is necessary to discover whether someone is Rhesus positive or negative before a blood transfusion. ⓘ 1940s: named after the rhesus monkey, in which it was first discovered.

rhetoric ▷ noun /'retərɪk/ 1 the art of speaking and writing well, elegantly and effectively, especially in order to persuade or influence others. 2 the theory and practice of using language effectively. 3 derog language which is full of unnecessarily long, formal or literary words and phrases, and which is also often insincere or meaningless ▫ mere rhetoric. • rhetorical /rɪ'tɒrɪkəl/ adj 1 relating to or using rhetoric. 2 over-elaborate or insincere in style. • rhetorically adverb. • rhetorician /retə'rɪʃən/ noun 1 historical a teacher of the art of rhetoric. 2 an orator. 3 derog someone who uses rhetorical over-elaborate language. ⓘ 14c: from Greek rhetorike techne rhetorical art.

rhetorical question ▷ noun a question that is asked in order to produce an effect rather than to gain information, the answer usually being implied in the question. ⓘ 19c.

rheum /ruːm/ ▷ noun a watery mucous discharge from the nose or eyes. • rheumed adj. • rheumy adj 1 relating to or like rheum. 2 said especially of air: cold and damp. ⓘ 14c: from French reume, from Greek rheuma bodily HUMOUR, from rhein to flow.

rheumatic /rʊ'matɪk/ ▷ adj 1 relating to, like or caused by rheumatism. 2 affected with rheumatism. ▷ noun 1 someone who suffers from rheumatism. 2 (rheumatics) colloq rheumatism or pain caused by it. • rheumatically adverb. • rheumaticky adj, colloq like, or suffering from, rheumatism. ⓘ 14c: from French reumatique, from Greek rheumatikos, from rheuma rheum.

rheumatic fever ▷ noun, medicine a disease mainly affecting children and young adults, caused by a streptococcal bacterium that initially destroys blood cells. This can then lead to fever, arthritis that spreads from one joint to another, involuntary movements (Sydenham's chorea), skin disorders and inflammation of the heart valves which may cause permanent damage or lead to heart failure.

rheumatism /'ruːmətɪzəm/ ▷ noun a disease characterized by painful swelling of the joints (eg of the hips, knees, fingers, etc) and muscles, and which causes stiffness and pain when moving them. ⓘ 17c: from Latin rheumatismus, from Greek rheumatismos, from rheuma flow or rheum.

rheumatoid /'ruːmətɔɪd/ adj relating to or like rheumatism or rheumatoid arthritis.

rheumatoid arthritis ▷ noun, medicine a form of ARTHRITIS, particularly common in women, that causes pain, swelling, stiffness and deformity of the joints, especially of the fingers, wrists, ankles, feet or hips.

rheumatology /ruːmə'tɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun, medicine the branch of medicine that deals with the study of rheumatism and related disorders of the joints and muscles. • rheumatological adj. • rheumatologist noun. ⓘ 1940s.

rheumed and rheumy see under RHEUM

Rh factor see RHESUS FACTOR.

RHG ▷ abbreviation Royal Horse Guards.

rhin- see RHINO-

rhinal /ˈraɪnəl/ ▷ adj, anatomy relating to the nose. ⓘ 19c: from Greek rhis, rhinos nose.

rhinestone /ˈraɪnstoʊn/ ▷ noun 1 a rock crystal. 2 an imitation diamond usually made from glass or plastic. ⓘ 19c: a translation of French caillou du Rhin, literally 'stone of the Rhine' referring to Strasbourg, a town on this river where such gems were made.

Rhine wine /raɪn waɪn/ ▷ noun an imprecise term for any wine made from grapes grown in the valley of the River Rhine.

rhinitis /raɪˈnaɪtɪs/ ▷ noun, medicine inflammation of the mucous membrane of the nasal passages, accompanied by the discharge of mucus, eg as a symptom of the common cold or of certain allergies. ⓘ 19c.

rhino[1] /ˈraɪnoʊ/ ▷ noun (rhinos or rhino) short form of RHINOCEROS.

rhino[2] /ˈraɪnoʊ/ ▷ noun, slang money. ⓘ 17c.

rhino- /ˈraɪnoʊ, raɪˈnɒ/ or (before a vowel) rhin- /raɪn/ ▷ combining form, denoting or relating to the nose. ⓘ From Greek rhis, rhinos nose.

rhino bar see ROO BAR rhinoceros /raɪˈnɒsərəs/ ▷ noun (rhinoceroses or rhinoceros) any of five species of a large herbivorous mammal, including three Asian species and two African species, with very thick skin that is usually almost hairless, and either one or two horns on its snout. ■ rhinocerotic /raɪnɒsəˈrɒtɪk/ adj. ⓘ 14c: from Greek rhinokeros, from rhis, rhinos nose + keras horn.

rhinology /raɪˈnɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the branch of medicine that deals with the study of the nose. ■ rhinological adj. ■ rhinologist noun. ⓘ 19c.

rhinoplasty /ˈraɪnoʊplastɪ/ ▷ noun plastic surgery of the nose. ■ rhinoplastic /-ˈplastɪk/ adj. ⓘ 19c.

rhinoscopy /raɪˈnɒskəpɪ/ ▷ noun, medicine examination of the nasal passages, especially by means of an instrument called a rhinoscope /ˈraɪnoʊskoʊp/. ■ rhinoscopic /raɪnoʊˈskɒpɪk/ adj. ⓘ 19c.

rhinovirus /ˈraɪnoʊvaɪərəs/ ▷ noun, biol an RNA virus belonging to the PICORNAVIRUS family. The 90 different forms are responsible for 50% of cases of the common cold. ⓘ 1960s.

rhizo- /ˈraɪzoʊ, raɪˈzɒ/ or (before a vowel) rhiz- ▷ combining form, denoting root. ⓘ From Greek rhiza root.

rhizocarp /ˈraɪzoʊkɑːp/ ▷ noun, bot 1 a perennial herb. 2 a plant that fruits underground. ■ rhizocarpic /-ˈkɑːpɪk/ or rhizocarpous /-ˈkɑːpəs/ adj said of plants: 1 with perennial roots but a stem that dies down each year. 2 producing fruit underground. ⓘ 19c: from RHIZO- + Greek karpos flower.

rhizoid /ˈraɪzɔɪd/ ▷ noun, bot a small, often colourless, hairlike outgrowth that functions as a root in certain algae, and in mosses, liverworts and some ferns, absorbing water and mineral salts, and providing anchorage. ■ rhizoidal adj. ⓘ 19c.

rhizome /ˈraɪzoʊm/ ▷ noun, bot a thick horizontal underground stem which produces roots and leafy shoots. ■ rhizomatous /raɪˈzoʊmətəs/ adj. ⓘ 19c.

rhizopod ▷ noun, zool a protozoan with rootlike protrusions for movement and feeding. ⓘ 19c.

rho /roʊ/ ▷ noun (rhos) the seventeenth letter of the Greek alphabet, corresponding to R. See table at GREEK ALPHABET. ⓘ 14c.

rhod- see RHODO-

rhodamine /ˈroʊdəmiːn/ ▷ noun any of a group of synthetic dyestuffs, usually red or pink. ⓘ 19c.

Rhode Island Red /roʊd — —/ ▷ noun an American breed of domestic fowl, usually with a browny-red plumage.

rhodie see RHODY

rhodium /ˈroʊdɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol Rh, atomic number 45) a hard, silvery-white metallic element, used to make temperature-resistant platinum alloys for thermocouples and electrical components, to plate jewellery, and to coat reflectors on optical instruments. It is also used as a catalyst to control car exhaust emissions. ⓘ 19c: Latin, from Greek rhodon rose, from its rose-coloured salts.

rhodo- /roʊdoʊ, roʊˈdɒ/ or (before a vowel) rhod- ▷ combining form, denoting rose or rose-coloured. ⓘ From Greek rhodon rose.

rhodochrosite /roʊdəˈkroʊsaɪt/ ▷ noun, mineralogy manganese carbonate, occurring as a pink, brown or grey mineral in hexagonal crystalline form, principally used as a semiprecious stone. ⓘ 19c: from Greek rhodokhros, from khros colour.

rhododendron /roʊdəˈdɛndrən/ ▷ noun (rhododendrons or rhododendra /-drə/) any of various trees and shrubs of the heath family, native to S Asia and widely cultivated in N temperate regions, usually with thick evergreen leaves and large showy colourful flowers. ⓘ 17c: from Greek rhodon rose + dendron tree.

rhodolite /ˈroʊdəlaɪt/ ▷ noun a pink or purple garnet, used as a gemstone. ⓘ 19c.

rhodonite /ˈroʊdənaɪt/ ▷ noun, mineralogy manganese silicate in crystalline form, often with some calcium, iron or magnesium, brownish in colour or rose-red when pure. ⓘ 19c: from Greek rhodon rose + -ITE.

rhodopsin /roʊˈdɒpsɪn/ ▷ noun, biochem the light-sensitive pigment found in rod cells in the retina of the vertebrate eye which, on exposure to light, is chemically converted to its components, opsin and retinal, which stimulate the production of a nerve impulse to allow vision, particularly in dim light (night vision). Also called visual purple. ⓘ 19c: from RHODO- + Greek opsis sight + -IN.

rhody or rhodie /ˈrɒdɪ/ ▷ noun (rhodies) colloq a short form of RHODODENDRON. ⓘ 19c.

rhomb /rɒm, rɒmb/ ▷ noun 1 geom a RHOMBUS. 2 crystallog a RHOMBOHEDRON. ⓘ 19c in sense 2; 16c in sense 1: from French rhombe; see RHOMBUS.

rhombohedron /rɒmboʊˈhiːdrən/ ▷ noun (rhombohedra /-drə/ or rhombohedrons) chiefly crystallog a solid object, especially a crystal, with six equal sides, each side being a rhombus. Also called RHOMB. ■ rhombohedral adj. ⓘ 19c.

rhomboid /ˈrɒmbɔɪd/ ▷ noun a four-sided shape, usually one that is neither a rhombus nor a rectangle, that has opposite sides and angles equal, two angles being greater and two smaller than a right angle, and two sides being longer than the other two. ▷ adj (also rhomboidal) shaped like a rhomboid or a rhombus. ⓘ 16c: from Greek rhomboeides shaped like a rhombus.

rhombus /ˈrɒmbəs/ ▷ noun (rhombuses or rhombi /-baɪ/) 1 geom a four-sided shape with all four sides equal, two opposite angles being greater than a right angle and two smaller. Also called rhomb. 2 a lozenge or diamond shape, or an object with this shape. ■ rhombic /ˈrɒmbɪk/ adj. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from Greek rhombos anything which may be spun round, from rhembein to spin around.

rhonchus /ˈrɒŋkəs/ ▷ noun (rhonchi /-kaɪ/) a rasping or whistling, similar to the sound of snoring, produced when air passes through partly blocked or restricted bronchi. ■ rhonchal or rhonchial adj 1 relating to a rhonchus. 2 relating to snoring. ⓘ 19c: Latin, from Greek rhonchos snoring.

RHS ▷ abbreviation 1 Royal Highland Show. 2 Royal Historical Society. 3 Royal Horticultural Society. 4 Royal Humane Society.

rhubarb /ˈruːbɑːb/ ▷ noun 1 a perennial plant, cultivated in N temperate regions, that has very large poisonous leaves with long fleshy edible stalks. 2 the reddish fleshy leafstalks of this plant which can be sweetened with sugar, cooked and eaten. 3 the roots of a type of rhubarb found in China and Tibet, dried and used as a laxative. 4 colloq the continuous murmured sound made by actors to give the impression of indistinct background conversation, made especially by constantly repeating the word 'rhubarb'. 5 colloq nonsense; rubbish. ● rhubarbing noun, colloq the use or practice of constantly repeating the word 'rhubarb' to give the impression of conversation. ⓘ 14c: from Greek rheon barbaron foreign rhubarb.

rhumb /rʌm/ ▷ noun 1 (also rhumb-line) an imaginary line on the surface of the earth that intersects all meridians at the same angle, used in navigation to plot direction on a chart. 2 (also rhumb-line) the course of a vessel or aircraft travelling in a fixed direction along such a line. 3 any point of the compass. ⓘ 16c: from Spanish rumbo, from Latin rhombus rhombus.

rhumba see RUMBA

rhyme /raɪm/ ▷ noun 1 a pattern of words which have the same final sounds at the ends of lines in a poem. 2 the use of such patterns in poetry, etc. 3 a word which has the same final sound as another □ 'beef' is a rhyme for 'leaf'. 4 a short poem, verse or jingle written in rhyme. ▷ verb (rhymed, rhyming) 1 intr said of words: to have the same final sounds and so form rhymes. 2 to use (a word) as a rhyme for another. 3 intr to write using rhymes. 4 to put (a story, etc) into rhyme. ● rhymed adj. ● rhymeless adj. ● rhymer noun. ● rhymester /ˈraɪmstə(r)/ noun a would-be poet, especially one who is not very talented. ● rhymist noun. ● without rhyme or reason lacking sense, reason or any discernible system. ⓘ 13c: from French rimer to rhyme, from German rim a series or row. Despite the current spelling of the word, it is probably not associated with Latin rhythmus, from Greek rhythmos rhythm.

rhyme-royal ▷ noun a seven line stanza with its lines rhyming in the pattern a b a b b c c, used by Chaucer, who encountered it in French.

rhyme-scheme ▷ noun the particular pattern of rhymes in a stanza, etc.

rhyming slang ▷ noun a type of slang, especially Cockney, in which the word meant is replaced by a phrase in which the last word rhymes with it, the phrase then often being shortened to only the first word, eg 'butcher's hook' is rhyming slang for 'look', and is normally shortened to 'butcher's', as in 'have a butcher's'.

rhyolite /ˈraɪəlaɪt/ ▷ noun, geol any of a group of fine-grained light-coloured igneous rocks, similar in chemical composition to granite, that often contain larger crystals of especially quartz or potassium feldspar. ● rhyolitic /raɪəˈlɪtɪk/ adj. ⓘ 19c: from Greek rhyax lava stream.

rhythm /ˈrɪðəm/ ▷ noun 1 a regularly repeated pattern, movement, beat or sequence of events. 2 a the regular arrangement of stress, notes of different lengths, and pauses in a piece of music; b a particular pattern of stress, notes, etc in music □ tango rhythm. 3 in poetry or other writing: a regular arrangement of sounds, and of stressed and unstressed syllables, giving a sense or feeling of movement; metre. 4 ability to sing, speak, move, etc rhythmically. 5 short form of RHYTHM SECTION. 6 in painting, sculpture, architecture, etc: a regular and harmonious pattern of shapes, colours, areas of shade and light, empty spaces, etc. ● rhythmic /ˈrɪðmɪk/ or rhythmical adj 1 relating to rhythm. 2 said of music, language, etc: a characterized by rhythm; b with a pleasing rhythm. 3 said of movement, sound, some occurrence, etc: with a noticeable, regularly recurring pattern. ● rhythmically adverb. ● rhythmicity /rɪðˈmɪsɪtɪ/ noun 1 the fact of being rhythmic. 2 ability to maintain a rhythm. ● rhythmist /ˈrɪðmɪst/ noun someone who is knowledgeable about or skilled in rhythm. ⓘ 16c: from Latin rhythmus, from Greek rhythmos, from rheein to flow.

rhythm and blues ▷ singular noun, music (abbreviation R & B) a style of popular music, originating in the 1940s, when it was almost exclusively played by Black US artists. It combines certain features of the blues with lively rhythms more typical of rock music.

rhythm method ▷ noun a method of contraception that involves monitoring the woman's menstrual cycle and avoiding sexual intercourse on the days when conception is most likely to occur.

rhythm section ▷ noun, music 1 the instruments in a band or group, eg drums, double bass and piano, whose main function is to supply the rhythm. 2 the players of these instruments.

rhytidectomy /rɪtɪˈdɛktəmɪ/ ▷ noun (rhytidectomies) surgery 1 removal of wrinkles, especially from the face. 2 an operation to remove wrinkles, especially from the face. Non-technical equivalent FACELIFT. ⓘ 1930s: from Greek rhytis a wrinkle + -ECTOMY.

RI ▷ abbreviation 1 a Regina et Imperatrix (Latin), Queen and Empress; b Rex et Imperator (Latin), King and Emperor. 2 religious instruction. 3 IVR Republic of Indonesia. 4 US state Rhode Island. 5 (Member of the) Royal Institute of Painters in Watercolours. 6 Royal Institution.

RIA ▷ abbreviation Royal Irish Academy.

ria /ˈriːə/ ▷ noun (rias) geog a long narrow coastal inlet, differing from a fjord in that it gradually decreases in depth and width from its mouth inland, usually surrounded by hills, and formed by the flooding of river valleys. ⓘ 19c: from Spanish ría rivermouth.

rial /ˈraɪəl, ˈriːɑːl/ ▷ noun 1 the standard unit of currency of Iran. 2 the standard unit of currency of Oman. 3 a RIYAL. ⓘ 1930s in these senses; historically a coin of various values.

RIAM ▷ abbreviation Royal Irish Academy of Music.

rib¹ ▷ noun 1 in vertebrates: any one of the slightly flexible bones which curve round and forward from the spine, forming the chest wall and protecting the heart and lungs. 2 a cut of meat containing one or more ribs. 3 any part or section of an object or structure that resembles a rib in form or function, eg part of a framework. 4 one of the pieces of wood which curve round and upward from a ship's keel to form the framework of the hull. 5 archit a curved raised band-like section or moulding of a structure that supports or defines a vault, dome or ceiling. 6 one of the parallel beams or girders that support a bridge. 7 mining a section of coal left in place to support the roof of the mine. 8 a rod-like bar which supports and strengthens a layer of fabric, membrane, etc, eg in an umbrella or in the wing of an insect or aircraft. 9 one of the larger veins in a leaf. 10 the shaft of a feather. 11 a vein of ore in rock. 12 a projecting ridge or strip of land. 13 a a raised ridge in knitted or woven material; b knitting the series of such ridges, produced by alternating plain and purl stiches, eg around the waistband, wristbands, etc of a garment to provide elasticity. 14 bookbinding each of the raised lines on the spine of a book where the stitching runs across. ▷ verb (ribbed, ribbing) 1 to provide, support or enclose (an object, structure, etc) with ribs. 2 knitting to knit ribs on a garment. ● ribbed adj with ribs or ridges, or riblike markings. ● ribbing noun an arrangement of ribs or a rib-like structure. ● ribless adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ribb.

rib² ▷ verb (ribbed, ribbing) colloq to tease; to mock gently. ● ribbing noun. ⓘ 1930s: perhaps from the verb rib tickle to make someone laugh.

RIBA ▷ abbreviation Royal Institute of British Architects.

ribald /ˈrɪbəld, ˈraɪ-/ ▷ adj said of language, a speaker, humour, etc: humorous in an obscene, vulgar or indecently disrespectful way. ▷ noun someone who speaks, behaves, etc in such a way. • ribaldry noun ribald language or behaviour. ⓒ 13c: from French ribauld, from riber to lead a licentious life.

riband or ribband /ˈrɪbənd/ ▷ noun a ribbon, now especially one awarded as a prize in sport, etc. ⓒ 14c: from French riuban.

ribbon /ˈrɪbən/ ▷ noun 1 a fine, usually coloured, material such as silk, etc, formed into a long narrow strip or band; b a strip of such material used for decorating clothes, tying hair, parcels, etc. 2 any ribbon-like long narrow strip, eg of some material, or the form of a road or path, etc. 3 a small strip of coloured cloth, worn to show membership of a team, as a sign of having won an award, medal, etc. 4 a long narrow strip of inked cloth used to produce print in a typewriter, printer, etc. 5 (usually ribbons) strips or tatters of torn material ▫ hanging in ribbons. ▷ verb (ribboned, ribboning) 1 to decorate or tie something with a ribbon or ribbons. 2 to mark something with ribbon-like stripes. 3 tr & intr to form or separate into narrow strips. 4 intr (usually ribbon out) said eg of a road or path, or of some viscous or flexible substance: to extend in the form of a ribbon or a long narrow band. ⓒ 16c: from French riuban.

ribbon-development ▷ noun the extensive building of houses, flats, etc along the side of a main road leading out of a town. ⓒ 1920s.

ribbonfish ▷ noun any of several fish with a long narrow flattened body, especially the oar fish.

ribbon microphone ▷ noun a microphone that picks up sound by means of a thin metallic strip. Also (colloq) called ribbon mike.

ribcage /ˈrɪbkeɪdʒ/ ▷ noun the chest wall, formed by the ribs, which protects the heart and lungs. ⓒ 20c.

ribless see under RIB[1]

ribo- /raɪbou/ ▷ combining form, denoting ribonucleic acid.

riboflavin /raɪbouˈfleɪvɪn/ and riboflavine /-viːn/ ▷ noun VITAMIN B_2. ⓒ 1930s.

ribonuclease /raɪbouˈnjuːklieɪs, -kliːeɪz/ ▷ noun, biochem (abbreviation RNase) an enzyme (the first to be synthesized) which splits selectively the nucleotide components of RNA. ⓒ 1940s: from ribonucleic acid + -ASE.

ribonucleic acid /raɪbounjuˈkleɪɪk, -ˈkliːɪk —/ ▷ noun, biochem (abbreviation RNA) 1 the nucleic acid, containing the sugar ribose, that is present in all living cells and plays an important part in the synthesis of proteins. 2 the hereditary material of some viruses. Compare DNA. ⓒ 1930s.

ribose /ˈraɪbous/ ▷ noun, biochem (formula $C_5H_{10}O_5$) a monosaccharide sugar that is an important component of ribonucleic acid and whose derivative deoxyribose is a constituent of DNA. ⓒ 19c: German, from arabinose a sugar in gum arabic.

ribosome /ˈraɪbousoum/ ▷ noun, biol in the cytoplasm of a living cell: any of many small particles that are the site of protein manufacture, each consisting of two subunits of different sizes and composed of RNA and protein. • ribosomal adj. ⓒ 1950s.

rib-tickler ▷ noun, colloq a very funny joke or story. • rib-tickling adj.

ribwort ▷ noun a common plantain that has narrow pointed leaves with prominent ribs. Also called ribwort plantain.

RIC ▷ abbreviation Royal Irish Constabulary.

rice /raɪs/ ▷ noun 1 an important cereal plant of the grass family, native to SE Asia and having branched flower-heads bearing numerous starchy grain-like seeds. The commonest higher-yielding type, Lowland rice, is cultivated in flooded paddy fields, while Upland rice is cultivated on dry land, and can be grown in cooler drier regions. 2 the edible starchy seeds resembling grains (known either as long-grain rice or short-grain rice depending on their shape) that are produced by this plant and which form the staple food for over half the world's population. These grains are called brown rice when only the outer fibrous husk of the seed is removed by milling, and white rice when the bran is then removed by polishing. Also as adj ▫ rice fields ▫ rice pudding. ▷ verb (riced, ricing) N Amer cookery to press soft food, especially cooked potatoes, through a coarse sieve (a ricer), to form strands or to give it a roughly mashed consistency. • ricey or ricy adj. ⓒ 13c: from French ris, from Italian riso, from Greek oryza.

rice bowl ▷ noun 1 a small dish for eating rice. 2 a fertile area that produces large quantities of rice.

rice paper ▷ noun 1 a very thin, almost transparent, edible paper made from the flattened and dried pith of an Asiatic tree, used in baking biscuits and cakes, and also for painting, especially in the oriental style. 2 a similar sort of paper made from the straw of rice or from other plants.

rich /rɪtʃ/ ▷ adj 1 a having a lot of money, property or possessions; wealthy; b (the rich) rich people as a group (see THE 4b). 2 said of decoration, furnishings, etc: luxurious, costly and elaborate ▫ rich clothes. 3 high in value or quality ▫ a rich harvest. 4 (usually rich in or with something) abundantly supplied with it ▫ rich in minerals. 5 in compounds abundantly supplied with something specified ▫ oil-rich. 6 said of soil, a region, etc: very productive; fertile. 7 said of colours: vivid and intense; deep ▫ rich red. 8 said of a drink, especially an alchoholic one: with a full mellow well-matured flavour. 9 said of food: a heavily seasoned, or strongly flavoured; b containing a lot of fat, oil or dried fruit. 10 said of an odour: pungent, spicy, or with a strong fragrance. 11 said of a voice or a sound: full, mellow and deep. 12 said of a remark, suggestion, etc: unacceptable or outrageous; ridiculous ▫ That's a bit rich! 13 said of the mixture in an internal combustion engine: with a high proportion of fuel to air. • richly adverb 1 in a rich or elaborate way. 2 fully and suitably ▫ richly deserved. • richness noun 1 the state of being rich; wealth. 2 abundance. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon rice strong or powerful.

riches /ˈrɪtʃɪz/ ▷ plural noun wealth in general, or a particular form of abundance or wealth ▫ family riches ▫ architectural riches. ⓒ 12c: from French richesse.

Richter scale /ˈrɪxtə —/ ▷ noun, mateorol a logarithmic scale, ranging from 0 to 10, that is used to measure the magnitude of an earthquake, 8.9 being the highest value ever recorded. ⓒ 1930s: named after its inventor, US seismologist Charles Francis Richter (1900–85).

rick[1] ▷ noun a stack or heap, eg of hay, corn, etc, especially one that is made in a regular shape and usually thatched on the top. ▷ verb (ricked, ricking) to stack or heap (especially hay, corn, etc). ⓒ Anglo-Saxon hreac.

rick[2] ▷ verb (ricked, ricking) to sprain or wrench (one's neck, back, etc). ▷ noun a sprain or wrench. ⓒ 18c.

ricker /ˈrɪkə(r)/ ▷ noun, originally naut a spar or pole made from a young tree trunk. ⓒ 19c.

rickets /ˈrɪkɪts/ ▷ singular or plural noun a disease, especially of children, caused by vitamin D deficiency (either due to a poor diet or lack of sunlight), characterized by softness and imperfect formation of the bones, and often resulting in bow legs. Technical equivalent RACHITIS. ⓒ 17c.

rickettsia /rɪˈketsɪə/ ▷ noun (rickettsiae /-sɪiː/ or rickettsias) medicine any of a group of parasitic micro-organisms found in lice, ticks, etc, which can cause serious diseases such as typhus when transferred to humans. • rickettsial adj. ⓒ Early 20c: named after US pathologist Howard Taylor Ricketts (1871–1910).

Mercalli and Richter Scales

Mercalli	Richter
1 detected only by seismographs	<3
2 feeble just noticeable by some people	3–3.4
3 slight similar to passing of heavy lorries	3.5–4
4 moderate rocking of loose objects	4–4.4
5 quite strong felt by most people even when sleeping	4.5–4.8
6 strong trees rock and some structural damage is caused	4.9–5.4
7 very strong walls crack	5.5–6
8 destructive weak buildings collapse	6.1–6.5
9 ruinous houses collapse and ground pipes crack	6.5–7
10 disastrous landslides occur, ground cracks and buildings collapse	7.1–7.3
11 very disastrous few buildings remain standing	7.4–8.1
12 catastrophic ground rises and falls in waves	>8.1

rickety /ˈrɪkɪtɪ/ ▷ adj 1 said of a construction, piece of furniture, etc: unsteady and likely to collapse; shaky or unstable. 2 said of the mind, etc: feeble. 3 a suffering from or affected by rickets; b relating to rickets; rachitic. • ricketiness noun. ⓘ 17c.

rick-rack or ric-rac /ˈrɪkrak/ ▷ noun a zigzag braid for decorating or trimming clothes, soft furnishings, etc. ⓘ 19c: related to RACK[1].

rickshaw /ˈrɪkʃɔː/ or ricksha /-ʃə/ ▷ noun a small two-wheeled hooded carriage, either drawn by a person on foot, or attached to a bicycle or motorcycle. ⓘ 19c: shortened from Japanese jinrikisha, from jin a person + -riki power + -sha a vehicle.

ricochet /ˈrɪkəʃeɪ, -ʃet/ ▷ noun 1 the action, especially of a bullet or other missile, of hitting a surface and then rebounding. 2 the sound made by such an action. ▷ verb, intr (ricocheted /-ʃeɪd/ or ricochetted /-ʃetɪd/, ricocheting /-ʃeɪɪŋ/ or ricochetting /-ʃetɪŋ/) said of an object, especially a bullet, projectile, etc: to hit or glance off a surface and rebound. ⓘ 18c: French.

ricotta /rɪˈkɒtə/ ▷ noun (in full ricotta cheese) a soft white unsalted Italian curd cheese made from sheep's or cow's milk and often used in sauces for ravioli, lasagne, etc. ⓘ 19c: Italian, meaning 'recooked', from Latin recocta, from recoquere, from coquere to cook.

ric-rac see RICK-RACK

RICS ▷ abbreviation Royal Institute of Chartered Surveyors.

rictus /ˈrɪktəs/ ▷ noun (rictus or rictuses) 1 the gape of an open mouth, especially of a bird's beak. 2 an unnatural fixed grin or grimace. • rictal adj. ⓘ 18c: Latin, literally 'open mouth', from ringi, rictus to gape.

ricy see under RICE

rid ▷ verb (rid or (archaic) ridded, ridding) (usually rid something, someone or oneself of something) to disencumber or free it, them or oneself from something undesirable or unwanted. • be rid of something or someone to be freed or disencumbered of something or someone troublesome or unwanted. • get rid of something or someone to disencumber, free or relieve oneself of something or someone undesirable or unwanted. ⓘ 13c: from Norse rythja to clear.

riddance /ˈrɪdəns/ ▷ noun the act of freeing oneself from something undesirable or unwanted. • good riddance a welcome relief from someone or something undesirable or unwanted.

riddle[1] /ˈrɪdəl/ ▷ noun 1 a short and usually humorous puzzle, often in the form of a question, which describes something or someone in an obscure or misleading way, and which can only be solved or understood using ingenuity. 2 a person, thing or fact that is puzzling or difficult to understand. ▷ verb (riddled, riddling) 1 intr to speak in riddles; to speak enigmatically or obscurely. 2 to solve, understand or explain (a riddle). • riddler noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon rædels.

riddle[2] /ˈrɪdəl/ ▷ noun a large coarse sieve used eg for sifting gravel or grain. ▷ verb (riddled, riddling) 1 to pass (gravel, grain, etc) through a riddle. 2 (usually riddle with something) to pierce with many holes, especially with gunshot □ The wall was riddled with bullets. 3 (usually riddle with something) to spread through; to fill □ a government department riddled with corruption. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon hriddel.

ride ▷ verb (rode, ridden, riding) 1 to sit, usually astride, on and control the movements of (especially a horse, bicycle, motorbike, etc). 2 intr (usually ride on or in something) to travel or be carried on (a horse, bicycle, etc) or in (a car, train or other vehicle) □ He rode into town on the bus. 3 chiefly N Amer to travel on (a vehicle). 4 intr to go on horseback, especially regularly □ She rides every Sunday. 5 to ride (a horse) in a race □ rode Red Rum to victory. 6 to move across or be carried over (eg the sea, sky, etc) □ a ship riding the waves. 7 said of a ship: a intr to float at anchor; b to be attached to (an anchor). 8 intr said especially of the moon: to appear to float or be carried on something □ The moon was riding high. 9 (usually ride over or across or through) to travel over, across, through, etc by horse, car, etc □ rode across the desert on camels. 10 intr (after ride on something) to rest on or be supported by it while moving □ a kite riding on the wind. 11 to bend before (a blow, punch, etc) to reduce its impact. 12 coarse slang to have sexual intercourse with someone. ▷ noun 1 a a journey or certain distance covered on horseback, on a bicycle or in a vehicle; b the duration of this □ a long ride home. 2 the horse, vehicle, etc on which one rides. 3 an experience or series of events of a specified nature □ a rough ride. 4 especially N Amer a LIFT (noun 5). 5 the type of movement, usually specified, felt when driving or travelling in a vehicle □ The car gives a very smooth ride. 6 a path or track, especially one through a wood or across an area of countryside, reserved for horseback riding. 7 a fairground machine, such as a roller-coaster or big wheel, on which people ride for pleasure. 8 coarse slang a an act of sexual intercourse; b a sexual partner, especially a female one. • rider 1 someone who rides. 2 an object that rests on or astride another. 3 an addition to what has already been said or written, especially an extra clause added to a document; a qualification or amendment. • riderless adj. • riding noun see separate entry. • let something ride to leave it undisturbed, to make no attempt to change or do anything about it. • ride for a fall to act or behave in a way that will inevitably lead to disaster, or a very bad reaction from others. • ride to hounds to take part in fox-hunting on horseback. • riding high going through a period of success, confidence, popularity, etc. • take someone for a ride colloq to trick, cheat or deceive them. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ridan.

▪ ride on something to depend completely upon it □ It all rides on his answer.

▪ ride someone off polo to bump against another player's horse that is moving in the same direction.

▪ ride something out to come through (eg a difficult period, situation, etc) successfully, or to endure it until it improves □ ride out the storm.

■ ride up intr said of an item of clothing: to move gradually up the body out of the correct position □ Her skirt rode up as she sat down.

ridge /rɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 a strip of ground raised either side of a ploughed furrow. 2 any long narrow raised area on an otherwise flat surface. 3 the top edge of something where two upward sloping surfaces meet, eg on a roof. 4 a long narrow strip of relatively high ground with steep slopes on either side, often found between valleys. 5 meteorol a long narrow area of high atmospheric pressure, often associated with fine weather and strong breezes. Compare TROUGH 4. ▷ verb (ridged, ridging) tr & intr to form or make something into ridges. ● ridged adj. ● ridging noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon hrycg.

ridgepole and ridgepiece ▷ noun 1 the beam along the ridge of a roof to which the upper ends of the rafters are attached. 2 the horizontal pole at the top of a tent.

ridge-tile ▷ noun a tile shaped to cover the ridge of a roof.

ridgeway ▷ noun a track along the crest or ridge of a hill, especially a long one.

ridicule /ˈrɪdɪkjuːl/ ▷ noun language, laughter, behaviour, etc intended to make someone or something appear foolish or humiliated; mockery or derision. ▷ verb (ridiculed, ridiculing) to laugh at someone or something; to make fun of them or mock them. ● ridiculer noun. ● hold someone or something up to ridicule to subject or expose them or it to mockery or derision. ⓘ 17c: French, from Latin ridiculus laughable, from ridere to laugh.

ridiculous /rɪˈdɪkjʊləs/ ▷ adj deserving or provoking ridicule; silly or absurd. ● ridiculously adverb 1 in a ridiculous way. 2 to a ridiculous degree or extent; absurdly □ ridiculously expensive. ● ridiculousness noun.

riding[1] /ˈraɪdɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 the art and practice of riding horses. 2 a track or path for horseback riding. Also as adj □ riding school □ riding-crop.

riding[2] /ˈraɪdɪŋ/ ▷ noun (often Riding when part of a name) 1 any of the three former administrative divisions of Yorkshire, East Riding, North Riding and West Riding. 2 Can a political constituency. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon as thriding, from Norse thrithjungr third part.

riding-light ▷ noun, naut a light hung from the rigging of a ship at night when it is riding at anchor.

riel /ˈriːəl/ ▷ noun the standard unit of currency of Cambodia (formerly Kampuchea). ⓘ 1950s: Khmer.

Riesling /ˈriːslɪŋ, riːz-/ ▷ noun 1 a dry white wine produced in Germany, Alsace, Austria and elsewhere. 2 the type of vine and grape from which it is made. ⓘ 19c: German.

rife ▷ adj usually said of something unfavourable: 1 very common or frequently occurring; extensive; current. 2 abundant; numerous. 3 (usually rife with something) having a large amount or number of something bad or undesirable □ The garden was rife with weeds. ● rifeness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ryfe.

riff ▷ noun, jazz, rock music, pop music a short passage of music played repeatedly, often over changing chords or harmonies, or as an accompaniment to a solo improvisation. ▷ verb (riffed, riffing) intr to play riffs. ⓘ 1930s.

riffle /ˈrɪfəl/ ▷ verb (riffled, riffling) 1 tr & intr (often riffle through something) to flick or leaf through (the pages of a book, a pile of papers, etc) rapidly, especially in a casual search for something. 2 to shuffle (playing-cards) by dividing the pack into two equal piles, bending the cards back slightly and controlling the fall of the corners of the cards with the thumbs, so that cards from each pile fall more or less alternately and overlap each other. 3 to make or form a ripple on the surface of water. ▷ noun 1 a the action of riffling, eg cards; b the sound made by this. 2 N Amer a section of a stream or river where shallow water flows swiftly over a rough rocky surface. 3 N Amer a ripple or patch of ripples on the surface of water. 4 mining in eg gold-washing: a groove or slat in a sluice to catch free particles of ore. ⓘ 17c.

riff-raff /ˈrɪfraf/ ▷ noun, derog worthless, disreputable or undesirable people, especially those considered to be of a low social class; the rabble. ⓘ 15c: as riff and raff one and all, from French rif et raf, from rifler to spoil + rafler to snatch away.

rifle[1] /ˈraɪfəl/ ▷ noun 1 a large gun that is fired from the shoulder and has a long barrel with a spiral groove on the inside, giving the gun greater accuracy over a long distance. 2 a groove on the inside of the bore or barrel of a gun. 3 (usually rifles) a body of soldiers armed with rifles; riflemen. Also as adj □ rifle shot □ rifle fire. ▷ verb (rifled, rifling) 1 to cut spiral grooves in (a gun or its barrel). 2 tr & intr to fire at someone or something with a rifle. 3 to hit or kick (a ball, etc) very hard and direct at a target. ● rifling noun 1 the pattern of spiral grooves on the inside of the barrel of a gun. 2 the act of making these grooves. ⓘ 17c: from French rifler to scratch.

rifle[2] /ˈraɪfəl/ ▷ verb (rifled, rifling) 1 tr & intr to search through (eg a house, safe, etc) thoroughly, usually in order to steal something from it. 2 to steal something. ● rifler noun. ● rifling noun. ⓘ 14c: from French rifler to plunder.

rifle bird ▷ noun any of several Australian birds of paradise, with metallic-looking plumage and a long bill. ⓘ 19c.

rifle-green ▷ noun a dark green, the colour of a rifleman's uniform. ▷ adj having this colour.

rifleman ▷ noun 1 a a soldier armed with a rifle; b a member of a rifle regiment. 2 someone skilled in using a rifle. 3 a small green and yellow wren of New Zealand.

rifle range ▷ noun 1 an area for practising rifle shooting. 2 the distance that a bullet fired from a rifle can reach.

rift ▷ noun 1 a split or crack, especially one in the earth or in rock; a fissure. 2 a gap in mist or clouds. 3 a break in previously friendly relations between people, nations, etc. ▷ verb (rifted, rifting) to tear or split something apart. ● riftless adj. ⓘ 13c: from Norse ript breaking of an agreement.

rift valley ▷ noun, geol a long steep-sided valley with a flat floor, formed when part of the Earth's crust subsides between two faults.

rig ▷ verb (rigged, rigging) 1 naut to fit (a ship, masts, etc) with ropes, sails and rigging. 2 aeronautics to position correctly the various parts and components of (an aircraft, etc). 3 intr, naut, aeronautics said of a ship, aircraft, etc: to be made ready for use; to be equipped. 4 to control or manipulate something for dishonest purposes, or for personal profit or advantage. ▷ noun 1 naut the particular arrangement of sails, ropes and masts on a ship. 2 an OIL RIG. 3 gear or equipment, especially that used for a specific task. 4 N Amer a lorry or truck. ● rigging noun 1 naut the system of ropes, wires, etc which support and control a ship's masts and sails. 2 aeronautics the ropes and wires, etc which support the structure of an airship or the wings of a biplane. ⓘ 15c.

■ rig someone out 1 to dress them in clothes of a stated or special kind. 2 to provide them with special equipment.

■ rig something up to build or prepare it, especially hastily and with whatever material is available.

rigadoon /rɪgəˈduːn/ ▷ noun 1 an old dance, of Provençal origin, in lively duple or quadruple time, for one couple. 2 the music for this dance. ⓘ 17c: from French rigaudon, perhaps named after Rigaud, a dancing master who is said to have invented it.

right /raɪt/ ▷ adj 1 indicating, relating or referring to, or on, the side facing east from the point of view of someone or something facing north. 2 said of a part of the body: on or towards the right side □ She broke her right leg. 3 said of an article of clothing, etc: worn on the right hand, foot, etc □ her right shoe. 4 a on, towards or close to an observer's right; b on a stage: on or towards the performers' right □ stage right. 5 said of a river bank: on the right side of a person facing downstream. 6 correct; true □ the right answer. 7 said of a clock or watch: showing the correct time □ Is that clock right? 8 suitable; appropriate; proper □ It was the right job for him. 9 most appropriate or favourable □ It wasn't the right moment to ask. 10 in a correct, proper or satisfactory state or condition □ put things right. 11 mentally sound or stable; sane □ not in his right mind. 12 physically sound. 13 morally correct or good. 14 legally correct or good. 15 belonging to or on the side of a piece of fabric, a garment, etc which is intended to be seen or worn facing outwards □ turn the dress right side out. 16 geom a with an axis perpendicular to the base □ a right angle; b straight. 17 (sometimes Right) a relating or belonging to, or indicating, the political right (see noun 5 below); b conservative; right-wing. 18 socially acceptable □ know all the right people. 19 Brit colloq complete; utter; real □ a right mess. ▷ adverb 1 on or towards the right side. 2 correctly; properly; satisfactorily. 3 exactly or precisely □ It happened right there. 4 immediately; without delay □ He'll be right over. 5 completely; absolutely □ It went right out of my mind. 6 all the way □ He drove right down to London. 7 said of movement, a direction, etc: straight; without deviating from a straight line □ right to the top. 8 towards or on the right side □ He looked right before crossing the road. 9 favourably or satisfactorily □ It turned out right in the end. 10 especially in religious titles: most; very □ right reverend. 11 old use or dialect very; to the full □ be right glad to see her. ▷ noun 1 (often rights) a power, privilege, title, etc that someone may claim legally or that is morally due to them. 2 (often rights) a just or legal claim to something. 3 fairness; truth; justice. 4 that which is correct, good or just □ the rights and wrongs of the case. 5 (often the Right) the political party, or a group of people within a party, etc which has the most conservative views. ◎ from the practice of European parliaments in which members holding the most conservative views sit on the president's right. This originates from the first French National Assembly in 1789. 6 the right side, part or direction of something. 7 boxing a the right hand □ He was lethal with his right; b a punch with the right hand □ He knocked him out with a right. 8 a glove, shoe, etc worn on the right hand or foot □ Can I try on the right? 9 (often rights) commerce the privilege given to a company's existing shareholders to buy new shares, usually for less than the market value. 10 (rights) the legal permission to print, publish, film, etc a book, usually sold to a company by the author or by another company. ▷ verb (righted, righting) 1 tr & intr to put or come back to the correct or normal, especially upright, position □ They soon righted the boat. 2 (especially to right a wrong) to avenge or compensate for (some wrong done). 3 to correct something; to rectify it. 4 to put something in order or return it to order. ▷ exclamation expressing agreement, assent or readiness. • rightable adj. • rightly adverb 1 correctly. 2 justly. 3 fairly; properly. 4 with good reason; justifiably. 5 with certainty. • rightness noun. • be a right one Brit colloq to be or act in a silly or eccentric way. • by right or rights rightfully; properly. • do right by someone to treat them correctly or appropriately, in moral or legal terms. • in one's own right because of one's own qualifications, abilities, work, possessions, etc, rather than through a connection with someone else. • in the right right; with justice, reason, etc on one's side. • keep on the right side of someone to maintain their goodwill; not to do anything that will annoy or upset them. • on the right side of younger than (a specified age) □ on the right side of forty. • put or set something or someone right or to rights to put it or them in a proper order, place or state; to correct it or them. • right away or right now immediately; at once. • right, left and centre on all sides; all around. • serve someone right to be what they deserve, especially as a consequence of a foolish, ill-advised or malicious action. ◎ Anglo-Saxon riht, reoht.

right angle ▷ noun an angle of 90°, formed by two lines which are perpendicular to each other. • at right angles perpendicular. • right-angled adj.

right ascension ▷ noun, astron a coordinate on the celestial sphere that is analogous to longitude on Earth. It is measured in hours, minutes and seconds eastward along the celestial equator from the vernal equinox.

righteous /ˈraɪtʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 said of a person: virtuous, free from sin or guilt. 2 said of an action: morally good. 3 justifiable morally □ righteous indignation. • righteously adverb. • righteousness noun. ◎ Anglo-Saxon rihtwis, from riht right + wise manner.

rightful /ˈraɪtfʊl/ ▷ adj 1 having a legally just claim. 2 said of property, a privilege, etc: held by just RIGHT (noun 2). 3 fair; just; equitable. • rightfully adverb. • rightfulness noun.

right-hand ▷ adj 1 relating to, on or towards the right. 2 done with the right hand.

right-handed ▷ adj 1 said of a person: using the right hand more easily than the left. 2 said of a tool, etc: designed to be used in the right hand. 3 said of a blow, etc: done with the right hand. 4 said of a screw: needing to be turned clockwise to be screwed in. • right-handedly adverb. • right-handedness noun.

right-hander noun 1 a right-handed person. 2 a punch with the right hand.

right-hand man or right-hand woman ▷ noun a valuable, indispensable and trusted assistant.

Right Honourable ▷ noun a title given to British peers below the rank of marquis, to privy councillors, to present and past cabinet ministers, and to some Lord Mayors and Lord Provosts. Also as adj □ the Right Honourable Member.

rightism ▷ noun 1 the political opinions of conservatives or the right. 2 support for and promotion of this. • rightist noun a supporter of the political right; a conservative. ▷ adj relating to or characteristic of the political right.

rightly see under RIGHT right-minded ▷ adj thinking, judging and acting according to principles which are just, honest and sensible. • right-mindedness noun.

righto or right-oh /ˈraɪtoʊ/ ▷ exclamation, colloq expressing usually cheerful agreement or compliance.

right-of-centre ▷ adj in politics: inclining slightly towards a group's, a party's or a political system's more conservative policies. Compare LEFT-OF-CENTRE.

right of way ▷ noun (rights of way) 1 a the right of the public to use a path that crosses private property; b a path used by this right. 2 the right of one vehicle to proceed before other vehicles coming from different directions eg at junctions, roundabouts, etc. 3 US the strip of land on which a railway track, road, etc lies.

right on ▷ exclamation expressing enthusiastic agreement or approval.

right-on ▷ adj, colloq 1 modern; up to date or trendy. 2 socially aware or relevant.

Right Reverend ▷ noun a title of a bishop. Also as adj.

rightward or rightwards ▷ adj, adverb on or towards the right.

right whale ▷ noun a baleen whale with a large head that represents up to 40 per cent of the total body length. ⓒ 19c.

right wing ▷ noun 1 the more conservative members of a group or political party. 2 sport a the extreme right side of a pitch or team in a field game; b (also right-winger) the member of a team who plays in this position. 3 the right side of an army. • right-wing adj belonging or relating to the right wing. • right-winger noun.

rigid /ˈrɪdʒɪd/ ▷ adj 1 completely stiff and inflexible. 2 not able to be moved. 3 said of a person: strictly and inflexibly adhering to one's ideas, opinions, rules, etc. 4 said of rules, etc: strictly maintained and not relaxed. 5 said of an airship: having a rigid structure. • rigidify verb (rigidifies, rigidified, rigidifying) to become or make something rigid. • rigidity /rɪˈdʒɪdɪtɪ/ noun. • rigidness noun. • rigidly adverb. ⓒ 16c: from Latin rigidus, from rigere to be stiff.

rigmarole /ˈrɪgməroʊl/ ▷ noun 1 an unnecessarily or absurdly long, and often pointless or boring, complicated series of actions, instructions or procedures. 2 a long rambling or confused statement or speech. ⓒ 18c: from the Ragman Rolls, a series of documents in which the Scottish nobles promised allegiance to Edward I of England in 1291–2 and 1296.

rigor /ˈrɪgə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 medicine a sense of chilliness accompanied by shivering, a preliminary symptom of many diseases. 2 a rigid irresponsive state caused by a sudden shock. ⓒ 14c: Latin, meaning 'numbness' or 'stiffness'.

rigor mortis /rɪgə ˈmɔːtɪs/ ▷ noun the temporary stiffening of the body soon after death. ⓒ 19c: Latin, meaning 'stiffness of death'.

rigorous /ˈrɪgərəs/ ▷ adj 1 showing or having rigour; strict; harsh; severe. 2 said especially of the weather or climate: cold, harsh and unpleasant. 3 strictly accurate. • rigorously adverb. • rigorousness noun.

rigour or (US) rigor /ˈrɪgə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 stiffness; hardness. 2 strictness or severity of temper, behaviour or judgement. 3 strict enforcement of rules or the law. 4 (usually rigours) said of a particular situation or circumstances, eg of weather or climate: harshness or severity. 5 harshness or severity of life; austerity. 6 strict precision or exactitude, eg of thought. ⓒ 14c: from Latin rigor stiffness.

Rig-veda see VEDA.

rijstafel or reistafel /ˈraɪstɑːfəl/ ▷ noun an Indonesian food consisting of a number of rice dishes served with a variety of foods. ⓒ 19c: Dutch, from rijst rice + tafel table.

rile /raɪl/ ▷ verb (riled, riling) 1 to anger or annoy someone. 2 N Amer to agitate (water, etc). ⓒ 19c: a variant of ROIL.

rilievo see RELIEVO.

rill /rɪl/ ▷ noun 1 a small stream or brook. 2 a small trench or furrow. 3 astron see RILLE. 4 phonetics a fricative produced by forcing air out of a small gap formed between the tongue and the roof of the mouth. • rilled adj. ⓒ 16c.

rille or rill /rɪl/ ▷ noun, astron a long narrow trench or valley on the moon, formed by volcanic activity. ⓒ 19c: German, meaning 'a groove'.

rillettes /rɪˈjɛt/ ▷ singular or plural noun a French type of potted meat, made by cooking shreds of both lean and fat pork, etc in lard until crisp, then pounding them to form a paste. ⓒ 19c: French.

RIM ▷ abbreviation, IVR: République Islamique de Mauritanie, Mauritania.

rim ▷ noun 1 a raised edge or border, especially of something curved or circular. 2 the outer circular edge of a wheel to which the tyre is attached. ▷ verb (rimmed, rimming) to form or provide an edge or rim to something; to edge. • rimless adj. • rimmed adj. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon rima.

rim-brake ▷ noun a brake that acts on the rim of a wheel.

rime[1] /raɪm/ ▷ noun thick white frost formed especially from frozen water droplets from cloud or fog. ▷ verb (rimed, riming) to cover something with rime. • rimy /ˈraɪmɪ/ adj (rimier, rimiest) frosty; covered with rime. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon hrim.

rime[2] see RHYME.

rim-lock ▷ noun a lock mechanism in a metal case that is screwed to the inner surface of a door.

rimu /ˈriːmuː/ ▷ noun 1 a tall evergreen coniferous tree of New Zealand. 2 the wood of this tree. ⓒ 19c: Maori.

rind /raɪnd/ ▷ noun 1 a thick hard outer layer or covering on cheese or bacon. 2 the peel of a fruit. 3 the bark of a tree or plant. ▷ verb (rinded, rinding) to remove the rind from something, especially to strip the bark from a tree. • rinded adj. • rindless adj. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon rinde.

rinderpest /ˈrɪndəpest/ ▷ noun a malignant and contagious disease of cattle causing fever, severe diarrhoea and discharges from the mucous membrane. ⓒ 19c: German, from Rinder cattle + Pest plague.

ring[1] ▷ noun 1 a small circle or band of gold, silver or some other metal or material, worn on the finger. 2 a circle of metal, wood, plastic, etc, for holding, keeping in place, connecting, hanging, etc. 3 any object, mark or figure which is circular in shape. 4 a circular course or route. 5 a group of people or things arranged in a circle. 6 an enclosed and usually circular area in which circus acts are performed. 7 a square area on a platform, marked off by ropes, where boxers or wrestlers fight. 8 (the ring) boxing as a profession. 9 an enclosure for bookmakers at a race-course. 10 at agricultural shows, etc: an enclosure where cattle, horses, etc are paraded or exhibited for auction. 11 a group of people who act together to control eg an antiques or drugs market, betting, etc for their own advantage or profit. 12 a circular electric element or gas burner on top of a cooker. 13 a circular strip of bark cut from a tree. See RING-BARK. 14 a circular mark, seen when a tree trunk is examined in section, that represents the amount of growth made by that tree in one year. 15 a segment of a worm, caterpillar, etc. 16 a circle of fungus growth in turf; a FAIRY RING. 17 chem a closed chain of atoms in a molecule, eg six-membered ring system. 18 geom the area lying between two concentric circles. 19 math a system of elements in which addition is associative and commutative, and multiplication is associative and distributive with respect to addition. 20 a thin band of particles orbiting some planets, such as Saturn and Uranus. 21 computing a computer system suitable for a LAN, with several micro-computers or peripheral devices connected by cable in a ring. ▷ verb (ringed, ringing) 1 to make, form, draw, etc a ring round something, or to form it into a ring. 2 to cut something into rings. 3 to put a ring on (a bird's leg) as a means of identifying it. 4 to fit a ring in (a bull's nose) so that it can be lead easily. 5 to RING-BARK. • ringed adj 1 surrounded by, marked with, bearing or wearing a ring or rings. 2 ring-shaped. 3 made up of rings. • make or run rings round someone colloq to beat them or be much better than them. • throw one's hat into the ring colloq to offer oneself as a candidate or challenger. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon hring.

ring[2] ▷ verb (rang, rung, ringing) 1 a to sound (a bell) eg by striking it or by pulling a rope attached to it, often as a summons or to signal or announce something; b intr said of a bell: to sound in this way. 2 a to make (a metal object, etc) give a resonant bell-like sound by striking it; b intr said of a metal object, etc: to sound in this way when struck. 3 intr said of a large building, etc: to resound; to be filled with a particular sound ▫ The theatre rang with laughter and applause. 4 intr said of a sound or noise: to resound; to re-echo ▫ Applause rang through the theatre.

5 intr (usually ring out) to make a sudden clear loud sound □ shots rang out. 6 intr to sound repeatedly; to resound □ Her criticisms rang in his ears. 7 intr said of the ears: to be filled with a buzzing, humming or ringing sensation or sound. 8 (also ring someone up) chiefly Brit to call by telephone. 9 (usually ring for someone) to ring a bell as a summons. 10 intr (especially ring true or false) said of words, etc: to give a specified impression, especially of being genuine or not □ His promises ring false. ▷ noun 1 the act of ringing a bell. 2 the act or sound of ringing. 3 the clear resonant sound of a bell, or a similarly resonant sound. 4 Brit a telephone call. 5 a suggestion or impression of a particular feeling or quality □ a story with a ring of truth about it. 6 a set of bells, each with a different note, especially in a church □ St Nicholas has a ring of six. • ringing noun, adj. • ringingly adverb. • ring a bell to bring to mind a vague memory of having been seen, heard, etc before □ His name rings a bell. • ring the curtain down or up 1 theat to give the signal for lowering, or raising, the curtain. 2 (usually ring the curtain down or up on something) colloq to put an end to, or to begin, a project or undertaking. • ring the changes 1 to vary the way something is done, used, said, etc. 2 bell-ringing to go through all the various orders possible when ringing a peal of church bells. See also CHANGE-RINGING. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon hringan.

■ ring someone back 1 to telephone them again, usually to follow up an initial call. 2 to telephone a previous caller in response to their call.

■ ring in to make contact by telephone with someone.

■ ring something in to report (a piece of news, etc) by telephone.

■ ring someone or something in or out to announce their or its arrival or departure with, or as if with, bell-ringing □ ring out the old year and ring in the new.

■ ring off to end a telephone call by replacing the receiver; to hang up.

■ ring something up to record the price of an item sold on a cash register.

ring-bark ▷ verb (ring-barked, ring-barking) to strip a ring of bark from a tree in order to stop it growing too fast.

ring binder ▷ noun a loose-leaf binder with metal rings which can be opened to add or take out pages.

ringbolt ▷ noun a bolt with a ring attached to the bolt head.

ringbone ▷ noun 1 a bony callus on a horse's pastern-bone. 2 the condition caused by this.

ring circuit ▷ noun, elec an electrical supply system in which a number of power points are connected to the main supply by a series of wires, forming a closed circuit.

ring-dove ▷ noun a woodpigeon.

ringed see under RING[1]

ringed plover ▷ noun a ring-necked plover of various kinds.

ringer /ˈrɪŋə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that rings a bell, etc. 2 someone who rings the legs of birds. 3 (also dead ringer) originally US, now colloq someone or something that is almost identical to another. 4 chiefly US a horse or athlete entered into a race or competition under a false name or other false pretences. 5 chiefly US colloq an impostor or fake. 6 curling a stone lying within the circle round either tee. 7 a a quoit thrown so as to encircle the pin it is aimed at; b such a throw. 8 Austral a station hand or stockman. 9 Austral colloq an expert, originally the fastest shearer in a shed. • be a (dead) ringer for or of someone or something to resemble them or it very closely.

ring-fence ▷ noun 1 a fence that completely encircles an estate. 2 a complete barrier. 3 the compulsory reservation of funds for use within a specific limited sector or department, eg of a government, company, etc. ▷ verb (ring-fenced, ring-fencing) 1 to enclose (an estate) with a ring-fence. 2 to apply a ring-fence to (a sector or department of government or a company).

ring finger ▷ noun the third finger, especially on the left hand, on which a wedding and/or engagement ring is worn.

ring fort ▷ noun, archaeol an Iron Age dwelling site with a strong circular wall.

ringhals /ˈrɪŋhals/ and rinkhals /ˈrɪŋkhals/ ▷ noun (ringhals or ringhalses; rinkhals or rinkhalses) a venomous snake of southern Africa, that spits or sprays venom at its victims. ⓘ 18c: Afrikaans, from ring ring + hals neck.

ringleader ▷ noun the leader of a group of people who are doing something wrong or making trouble.

ringlet /ˈrɪŋlɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a long spiral curl of hair. 2 a small ring. 3 a circular pattern or formation, especially a fairy-ring. 4 any of several SATYRID butterflies. • ringleted adj. ⓘ 16c.

ring main ▷ noun, elec a domestic electrical supply system in which power points are connected to the mains in a closed circuit.

ringmaster ▷ noun the person who presents and is in charge of performances in a circus ring.

ring-necked ▷ adj said especially of certain birds or snakes: with a band of colour around the neck.

ring network ▷ noun, computing a network that forms a closed loop of connected terminals (eg a LAN).

ring ouzel see OUZEL ring pull ▷ noun a tongue of metal with a ring attached to it, which when pulled breaks a seal and opens a can or similar container. ▷ adj (ring-pull) said of a can or tin: with a ring pull attached.

ring road ▷ noun, Brit a road, mainly for through traffic, that bypasses a town or goes through its suburbs, and which is designed to keep the town centre relatively free of traffic.

ringside ▷ noun 1 the seating area immediately next to a boxing-, circus- ring, etc. 2 any place that gives a good clear view.

ringtail[1] or ringtailed ▷ adj 1 said especially of certain lemurs: with a tail that is marked in bars or rings of colour. 2 said of certain opossums: with a prehensile tail that is curled at the end.

ringtail[2] ▷ noun 1 the female, or young male, of the hen-harrier, so called because of the rust-coloured ring on its tail-feathers. 2 a ringtailed cat.

ringworm ▷ noun, pathol any of various highly contagious fungal infections, characterized by the formation of small red itchy circular patches on soft areas of skin such as the scalp or groin, or between the toes (ATHLETE'S FOOT). Also called tinea. ⓘ 15c.

rink ▷ noun 1 a an area of ice prepared for skating, curling or ice-hockey; b a building or enclosure containing this. 2 a an area of smooth floor for roller-skating; b a building or enclosure containing this. 3 bowls, curling a a strip of grass or ice allotted to a team or set of players in bowling and curling; b a team or set of players using such a strip of grass or ice. ⓘ 14c: originally Scots, perhaps from French renc rank or row.

rinkhals see under RINGHALS rinky-dink /ˈrɪŋkɪdɪŋk/ ▷ noun, chiefly N Amer slang 1 something worn out or old and run down. 2 something corny, trite or trivial. 3 a cheap place of entertainment. Also as adj □ rinky-dink sidestreets. ⓘ 19c.

rinse /rɪns/ ▷ verb (rinsed, rinsing) 1 to wash (soap, detergent, etc) out of (clothes, hair, dishes, etc) with clean water. 2 to remove (traces of dirt, etc) from something by washing it lightly in clean water, usually without soap □ rinsed the wine out of the shirt. 3 (also rinse something out) to clean (a cup, one's mouth, etc) by filling it with water, swirling the water round then throwing or spitting it out. 4 (also rinse something away) to remove (soap, detergent, dirt, etc) using clean water. 5 to give a temporary tint to (the hair) by using a rinse. ▷ noun 1 the action or an act of rinsing. 2 liquid used for rinsing. 3 a a solution used in hairdressing to condition or give a temporary tint to the hair □ a blue rinse; b an application of such a solution. • rinser noun a board or rack for rinsing washed dishes. • rinsing noun. ⓘ 14c: from French rincer and recincer, perhaps ultimately from Latin recens fresh.

rioja /rɪˈɒxə/ ▷ noun 1 a dry red, white or, occasionally, rosé wine produced in NE Spain. ⓘ Early 20c: named after the district of Rioja in NE Spain, from Spanish río river + Oja, a tributary of the river Ebro.

riot /ˈraɪət/ ▷ noun 1 a loosely a noisy public disturbance or disorder, usually by a large group of people; b law, technical such a disturbance by three or more people; c as adj suitable for use in a riot □ riot shields. 2 uncontrolled or wild revelry and feasting. 3 archaic unrestrained squandering or indulgence. 4 said especially of colour: a striking display. 5 colloq someone or something that is very amusing or entertaining, especially in a wild or boisterous way. 6 a very, usually boisterously, successful show or performance. ▷ verb (rioted, rioting) intr 1 to take part in a riot. 2 to take part in boisterous revelry. • rioter noun. • rioting noun. • run riot 1 to act, speak, etc in a wild or unrestrained way □ The children ran riot. 2 said of plants, vegetation, etc: to grow profusely or in an uncontrolled way □ The weeds were running riot. ⓘ 13c: from French riote a debate or quarrel.

Riot Act ▷ noun, historical law 1 an Act passed in 1715 and repealed in 1967, designed to prevent riotous assemblies by making it a felony, after the reading of a section of the act by a magistrate or other authority, for a gathering of more than 12 people to refuse to disperse within an hour. 2 the section of the act read as a warning to rioters to disperse. • read the riot act jocular to give an angry warning that bad behaviour must stop.

riot grrrls /—gɜːlz/ ▷ plural noun a collective name for the members of certain, mainly US, female rock bands and their followers. Their music is aggressive and overtly sexual and their aim is to confront and challenge the male dominance of PUNK and, by implication, society in general. • riot-grrrl adj □ Bikini Kill's riot-grrrl image. ⓘ 1990s: from RIOT + an aggressive-looking and growling-sounding alteration of girl.

riotous /ˈraɪətəs/ ▷ adj 1 participating in, likely to start, or like, a riot. 2 very active, noisy, cheerful and wild □ a riotous party. 3 filled with wild revelry, parties, etc □ riotous living. • riotously adverb. • riotousness noun.

riot police ▷ noun police specially equipped with riot gear, ie riot shields, grenades, tear-gas, etc, for dealing with rioting crowds.

RIP ▷ abbreviation: requiescat (or requiescant) in pace (Latin), may he, she or they rest in peace, usually found on gravestones, death notices, etc.

rip¹ ▷ verb (ripped, ripping) 1 tr & intr to tear or come apart violently or roughly. 2 intr, colloq to rush along or move quickly without restraint □ ripped through the store to find the best sale bargains. 3 to saw (wood or timber) along the grain. ▷ noun 1 a violent or rough tear or split. 2 an unrestrained rush. 3 a RIPSAW. • ripped adj torn or rent. • ripper noun 1 someone who rips. 2 a murderer who rips or mutilates the bodies of their victims. 3 a tool for ripping, especially one attached to a tractor for breaking up hard soil, etc. 4 chiefly Austral & NZ slang an excellent or attractive person or thing. • ripping see separate entry. • rippingly adverb. • let it rip to let an action, process, etc continue in an unrestrained or reckless way. • let rip 1 to speak, behave, etc violently or unrestrainedly. 2 to increase suddenly in speed, volume, etc. ⓘ 15c.

▪ rip someone off to steal from, exploit, cheat or overcharge them. See also RIP-OFF.

▪ rip something off or out or up, etc to remove it quickly and violently □ ripped off the sticking plaster □ ripped out the page □ ripped up the roots of the tree.

▪ rip something up to shred or tear it into pieces □ ripped up his letter.

rip² ▷ noun 1 (also riptide) a disturbed state or stretch of the sea or in a river, caused by the meeting of currents. 2 (also rip current or riptide) a strong surface current coming out at intervals from the shore. 3 chiefly US any rough stretch of water in a river. ⓘ 18c: perhaps related to RIP¹.

RIPA ▷ abbreviation Royal Institute of Public Administration.

riparian /raɪˈpeərɪən/ ▷ adj, formal relating to, occurring or living on a riverbank. ▷ noun an owner of land that borders a river. • riparial adj. ⓘ 19c: from Latin riparius, from ripa riverbank.

ripcord ▷ noun 1 a cord which, when pulled, releases a parachute from its pack. 2 a cord on the gas bag of a balloon which, when pulled, allows gas to escape and the balloon to descend.

ripe /raɪp/ ▷ adj 1 said of fruit, grain, etc: fully matured and ready to be picked or harvested and eaten. 2 said of cheese: a mature; having been allowed to age to develop its full flavour; b strong-smelling. 3 said of a flavour or taste, eg that of wine: rich or strong. 4 said eg of a person's complexion: resembling ripe fruit, especially in being plump and pink. 5 mature in mind and body; fully developed. 6 said of a person or their mind: mature in judgement or knowledge. 7 (often ripe old age) said of a person's age: very advanced, but still with good mental and physical health. 8 slang a complete; thorough; b excellent. 9 slang excessive. 10 colloq said of language, etc: slightly indecent; risqué. • ripely adverb. • ripeness noun. • ripe for something 1 suitable or appropriate for a particular action or purpose □ ripe for reform. 2 eager or ready for a particular action or purpose. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ripe.

ripen /ˈraɪpən/ ▷ verb (ripened, ripening) tr & intr to make or become ripe or riper. ⓘ 16c.

RIPHH ▷ abbreviation Royal Institute of Public Health and Hygiene.

ripieno /rɪˈpjeɪnoʊ/ music ▷ adj supplementary. ▷ noun (ripieni /rɪˈpjeɪniː/ or ripienos) 1 originally a supplementary instrument or player. 2 now chiefly in baroque music: the group of instruments accompanying the CONCERTINO. See also CONCERTO GROSSO. ⓘ 18c: Italian.

rip-off ▷ noun 1 an act or instance of stealing from someone, or cheating or defrauding them, etc. 2 an item which is outrageously overpriced. See also RIP OFF at RIP¹. ⓘ 1970s.

riposte /rɪˈpɒst, rɪˈpoʊst/ ▷ noun 1 a quick sharp reply; a retort. 2 fencing a quick return thrust after a parry. ▷ verb (riposted, riposting) intr to answer with a riposte. ⓘ 18c: French, from Italian riposta, from rispondere to respond.

ripped and ripper see under RIP¹ ripping ▷ verb present participle of RIP¹. ▷ adj, old Brit slang splendid; excellent.

ripple¹ /ˈrɪpəl/ ▷ noun 1 a slight wave or undulation, or a series of these, on the surface of water. 2 a similar wavy appearance or motion, eg in material, hair, etc. 3 said especially of laughter or applause: a sound that rises and falls quickly and gently like that of rippling water. 4 (ripples) repercussions; reverberations. 5 electronics small periodic variations in a steady current or voltage. 6 geol see RIPPLE-MARK. 7 a type of ice cream with coloured flavoured syrup mixed through it to give a marbled appearance □ raspberry ripple. 8 a way of firing missiles, etc in succession. ▷ verb (rippled, rippling) 1 a to ruffle or agitate the surface of (water, etc); b to mark with ripples, or form ripples in (a surface, material, etc). 2 intr to form ripples or move with an undulating motion □ Her hair rippled over her shoulders. 3 intr said of a sound: to rise and fall quickly and gently. • rippling noun, adj. • ripplingly adverb. • ripply adj. ⓘ 17c.

ripple² /ˈrɪpəl/ ▷ noun a toothed comb-like implement for removing seeds, etc from flax or hemp. ▷ verb (rippled, rippling) 1 to remove (seeds, etc) from flax or hemp by means of a ripple. 2 to clear (flax or hemp) of seeds, etc by drawing through a ripple. • rippler noun. ⓘ 14c.

ripple effect ▷ noun the spreading outwards of the repercussions of a particular event or situation to areas beyond its initial location.

ripple-mark ▷ noun, geol an undulatory ridging formed in sediments by waves, currents or wind, often preserved in sedimentary rocks. • ripple-marked adj.

ripple tank ▷ noun, physics a shallow tank of water, used to demonstrate the behaviour of waves, especially such properties as reflection, refraction, diffraction and interference.

rip-roaring ▷ adj, colloq wild, noisy and exciting. • rip-roaringly adverb □ rip-roaringly good.

ripsaw ▷ noun a saw for cutting along the grain of timber.

ripsnorter /ˈrɪpsnɔːtə(r)/ ▷ noun, originally US slang someone or something of exceptional appearance, quality, strength, etc. • ripsnorting adj. • ripsnortingly adverb. ⓘ 19c.

riptide see under RIP²

Rip Van Winkle /rɪp van ˈwɪŋkəl/ ▷ noun someone who is very much behind the times, especially in being unaware of social or political changes that have occurred over a considerable period of time. • Rip-Van-Winkleish adj. • Rip-Van-Winkleism noun. ⓘ 19c: the name of the hero of a story in Washington Irvine's Sketch Book (1819–20) who returned home, after having slept in the mountains for 20 years, to find the world greatly changed.

RISC /rɪsk/ ▷ abbreviation, computing reduced instruction set computer, a computer with a central processor which has a very small instruction set to enable faster processing. Also as adj □ RISC chips. ⓘ 1980s.

rise /raɪz/ ▷ verb (rose, risen /ˈrɪzən/, rising /ˈraɪzɪŋ/) intr 1 to get or stand up, especially from a sitting, kneeling or lying position. 2 to get up from bed, especially after a night's sleep □ They always rise at seven. 3 to move upwards; to ascend. 4 to increase in size, amount, volume, strength, degree, intensity, etc □ sales have risen □ The wind rose at night. 5 said of the Sun, Moon, planets, etc: to appear above the horizon. 6 to stretch or slope upwards □ ground which rises gently. 7 (usually rise up or rise against someone or something) to rebel. 8 to move from a lower position, rank, level, etc to a higher one. 9 to begin or originate □ a river that rises in the mountains. 10 said especially of a person's spirits: to become more cheerful. 11 said of an animal's fur, a person's hair, etc: to become straight and stiff, especially from fear or anger. 12 said of a committee, court, parliament, etc: to finish a session; to adjourn. 13 to come back to life; to be resurrected □ rose from the dead. 14 said of fish: to come to the surface of the water. 15 said of birds: to fly up from the ground, etc □ The geese all rose from the lake. 16 said of dough, a cake, etc: to swell up; increase in volume. 17 to be built □ new office blocks rising all over town. 18 (usually rise to something) to respond to something, especially provocation or criticism. 19 said of the stomach or throat: to give a feeling of nausea □ His stomach rose at the sight. ▷ noun 1 an act of rising. 2 an increase in size, amount, volume, strength, status, rank, etc. 3 Brit an increase in salary □ asked for a rise. US equivalent RAISE. 4 a piece of rising ground; a slope or hill. 5 a beginning or origin. 6 the vertical height of a step or flight of stairs. • riser /ˈraɪzə(r)/ noun 1 someone who gets out of bed, usually at a specified time □ an early riser □ a late riser. 2 any of the vertical parts between the horizontal steps of a set of stairs. 3 a vertical pipe, especially one within a building or on an oil rig. • rising ▷ noun 1 the act or action of rising. 2 a rebellion. ▷ adj 1 moving or sloping upwards; getting higher. 2 approaching greater age, maturity, status, reputation or importance. 3 approaching a specified age □ the rising sevens. • get or take a rise out of someone colloq to make them angry or upset, especially by teasing or provoking them. • give rise to something to cause it or bring it about. • on the rise to be rising or increasing □ Crime is on the rise in this area. • rise and shine a facetiously cheerful invitation to someone to get out of bed briskly in the morning. • rise from the ranks 1 to work one's way up from being a private soldier to a commissioned officer. 2 to work one's way up within a particular field, profession, organization, etc. • rise to the bait to do what someone else intends or suggests (usually by means of indirect suggestions, hints, etc) that one should do. • rise to the occasion to prove oneself up to, or able to cope with, an unusual or special situation or circumstances. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon risan.

■ rise above something to remain unaffected by teasing, provocation, criticism, etc.

risible /ˈrɪzɪbəl/ ▷ adj 1 causing laughter; laughable; ludicrous. 2 rare inclined to laughter. • risibility noun. • risibly adverb. ⓘ 16c in sense 1; 18c in sense 2: from Latin risibilis, from ridere to laugh.

rising damp ▷ noun, Brit wetness which rises up through the bricks or stones of a wall.

risk ▷ noun 1 the chance or possibility of suffering loss, injury, damage, etc; danger. 2 someone or something likely to cause loss, injury, damage, etc. 3 insurance a the chance of some loss, damage, etc for which insurance could be claimed; b the type, usually specified, of such loss, damage, etc □ fire risk; c someone or something thought of as likely (a bad risk) or unlikely (a good risk) to suffer loss, injury, damage, etc. ▷ verb (risked, risking) 1 to expose someone or something to loss, injury, danger, etc. 2 to act or do something in spite of the chances of loss, danger or some unfortunate consequences occurring. • at one's own risk accepting personal responsibility for any loss, injury, etc which might occur. • at risk 1 in danger; in a situation or circumstances which might lead to loss, injury, etc. 2 a said especially of a child: considered, eg by a social worker, etc, liable to be abused, neglected, etc; b referring or relating to such a child □ The parents are alcoholics and the children are on the 'at risk' register. • at the risk of something with the possibility of loss, injury, losing face or some other unfortunate consequence □ at the risk of sounding pompous. • risk one's neck to do something that puts one's life, job, etc in danger. • run the risk of something to risk it; to be in danger of it □ run the risk of being late. • run or take a risk to act in a certain way despite the risk involved. ⓘ 17c: from French risque.

risk analysis ▷ noun a methodical investigation undertaken to assess the financial and physical risks that may affect a business venture.

risk capital see VENTURE CAPITAL risk factor ▷ noun, medicine a factor, such as one's age, living conditions or a habit such as smoking, that increases the likelihood of an individual developing a particular disease or medical problem.

risk money ▷ noun money allowed to a cashier to compensate for ordinary errors.

risky /ˈrɪskɪ/ ▷ adj (riskier, riskiest) dangerous; likely to cause loss, damage, mishap, etc. • riskily adverb. • riskiness noun. ⓒ 19c.

risoluto /rɪzəˈluːtoʊ/ ▷ adverb, adj, music with emphasis; boldly. ⓒ 18c: Italian.

risorgimento /rɪsɔːdʒɪˈmɛntoʊ/ ▷ noun (risorgimenti /-tiː/ or risorgimentos) 1 (Risorgimento) historical the liberation and unification of Italy in the 19c. 2 a revival; a rebirth. ⓒ 19c: Italian, meaning 'renewal, renaissance'.

risorius /rɪˈzɔːrɪəs, rɪˈsɔː-/ ▷ noun, anatomy a facial muscle situated at the corner of the mouth, that can be variable in form and is absent in some individuals. Also called risorius muscle. ⓒ 19c: Latin, from risor laugher.

risotto /rɪˈzɒtoʊ/ ▷ noun (risottos) an Italian dish of rice cooked in a meat or seafood stock with onions, tomatoes, cheese, etc. ⓒ 19c: Italian, from riso rice.

risqué /ˈrɪskeɪ, rɪsˈkeɪ/ ▷ adj said of a story, joke, etc: bordering on the rude or indecent. ⓒ 19c: French, from risquer to risk.

rissole /ˈrɪsoʊl/ ▷ noun a small fried cake or ball of chopped meat coated in breadcrumbs. ⓒ 18c: French.

Risso's dolphin see GRAMPUS rit. music ▷ abbreviation 1 ritardando. 2 ritenuto.

ritardando see RALLENTANDO rite /raɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a formal ceremony or observance, especially a religious one. 2 the required words or actions for such a ceremony. 3 a body of such acts or ceremonies which are characteristic of a particular church □ the Latin rite of the Roman Catholic church. • riteless adj. ⓒ 14c: from Latin ritus religious ceremony.

ritenuto /rɪtəˈnjuːtoʊ/ ▷ adj, adverb, music (abbreviation rit.) with a sudden slowing down of tempo; restrained. ▷ noun (ritenutos or ritenuti /-tiː/) a ritenuto passage or phrase. ⓒ 19c: Italian, from Latin retinere to restrain or hold back.

rite of passage ▷ noun (rites of passage) any ritual event or ceremony, such as those associated with birth, puberty, marriage or death, which marks a person's transition from one status to another within their society. ⓒ Early 20c: from French rite de passage.

ritornello /rɪtɔːˈnɛloʊ/ ▷ noun (ritornellos or ritornelli /-liː/) music a short instrumental passage, eg a prelude or refrain, especially in a vocal work. Also called ritornel or ritournelle. ⓒ 17c: Italian, meaning 'a little return', from ritorno to return.

ritual /ˈrɪtʃʊəl, ˈrɪtjʊəl/ ▷ noun 1 the set order or words used in a religious ceremony. 2 a body of such rituals, especially of a particular church. 3 the use or performance of rituals in a religious ceremony. 4 an often repeated procedure or series of actions. 5 a psychol a series of actions that are performed compulsively, their non-performance resulting in feelings of anxiety; b colloq anything that is performed regularly, habitually, etc; a routine. ▷ adj relating to, like or used for religious, social or other rites or ritual. • ritually adverb. ⓒ 16c: from Latin ritualis, from ritus rite.

ritualism /ˈrɪtʃʊəlɪzm, ˈrɪtjʊə-/ ▷ noun excessive belief in the importance of, or excessive practice of, ritual, often without regard to its meaning or function. ⓒ 19c.

ritualist /ˈrɪtʃʊəlɪst, ˈrɪtjʊə-/ ▷ noun 1 someone who is skilled in the rituals of a particular religious ceremony. 2 someone who believes in the practice and importance of religious ritual, often to an excessive degree. 3 anthropol someone who performs a tribal ritual. ⓒ 17c.

ritualistic ▷ adj 1 relating to or characteristic of ritualism. 2 fond of or devoted to ritual. 3 relating to ritual behaviour or actions. • ritualistically adverb. ⓒ 19c.

ritualize or ritualise /ˈrɪtʃʊəlaɪz, ˈrɪtjʊə-/ ▷ verb (ritualized, ritualizing) 1 intr to practise or convert to ritualism. 2 to turn (some action, procedure, behaviour, etc) into a ritual. • ritualization noun. ⓒ 19c.

ritzy /ˈrɪtsɪ/ ▷ adj (ritzier, ritziest) colloq 1 very smart and elegant. 2 ostentatiously rich; flashy. • ritzily adverb. • ritziness noun. ⓒ 1920s: named after the luxury hotels established by Swiss-born hotelier César Ritz (1850–1918).

rival /ˈraɪvəl/ ▷ noun 1 a person or group of people competing with another for the same objective or in the same field. 2 someone or something that is comparable with or equals another in quality, ability, etc. ▷ adj standing as a rival; in competition for the same objective or in the same field □ rival companies. ▷ verb (rivalled, rivalling, US rivaled, rivaling) 1 to try to gain the same objective as someone or something else; to be in competition with them. 2 to try to equal or be better than someone or something else. 3 to equal or be comparable with someone or something else, in terms of quality, ability, etc. • rivalless adj. ⓒ 16c: from Latin rivalis, originally meaning 'someone who uses the same stream as another', from rivus a stream.

rivalry /ˈraɪvəlrɪ/ noun (rivalries) 1 the state of being a rival or rivals. 2 the action of rivalling someone or something else.

rive /raɪv/ ▷ verb (past tense rived, past participle rived or riven /ˈrɪvən/, present participle riving) poetic, archaic 1 to tear something or tear it apart. 2 intr to split. ⓒ 13c: from Norse rifa.

river /ˈrɪvə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 geol a large permanent stream of water, originating at a source and flowing along a fixed course, usually into a lake or the sea at its mouth. Also as adj □ rivermouth □ riverboat. 2 an abundant or plentiful stream or flow of something □ a river of wine □ rivers of tears. • rivered adj watered by rivers. • riverless adj. • river-like adj. • rivery adj. ⓒ 13c: from French riviere, from Latin riparius, from ripa riverbank.

river basin ▷ noun, geol the area of land drained by a river and its tributaries. Also called drainage basin.

river blindness see ONCHOCERCIASIS river dolphin ▷ noun any of various species of a small toothed whale with a long narrow beak, found in rivers and brackish water in S Asia and S America.

riverine /ˈrɪvəraɪn, -riːn/ ▷ adj 1 living or situated on or near a river; riparian. 2 belonging or relating to a river. ⓒ 19c.

riverside ▷ noun 1 the bank of a river. 2 the area of ground adjacent to or along a river. Also as adj situated beside a river □ a riverside restaurant.

river-terrace ▷ noun, geol a terrace formed when a river eats away the old alluvium deposited when its flood-level was higher.

rivet /ˈrɪvɪt/ ▷ noun, engineering a metal pin or bolt with a head at one end, used for joining pieces of metal, etc by passing it through a hole in each of the pieces, then hammering the protruding end flat. ▷ verb (riveted, riveting) 1 to fasten (pieces of metal, etc) with a rivet. 2 to flatten or hammer out (the head of a nail, etc). 3 to fix something securely. 4 to attract (eg someone's attention) and hold it firmly; to engross someone. 5 to render someone motionless, especially with fascination, horror or fear, etc □ I was riveted to the spot when I saw how he'd changed. • riveter noun 1 someone whose job is to rivet. 2 a machine for riveting. ⓒ 14c: from French river to fasten or clinch.

riveting ▷ noun, engineering the joining of pieces of metal, etc by means of a rivet or rivets. ▷ adj fascinating; enthralling. • rivetingly adverb.

riviera /rɪvɪˈɛərə/ ▷ noun 1 a coastal area that has a warm climate and is popular as a holiday resort. 2 (the Riviera) the Mediterranean coast between Toulon in France and La Spezia in Italy, bordered by the Alps to the N and including many popular holiday resorts. ⓒ 18c: Italian, meaning 'coast or shore'.

rivière /riviˈɛə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 in needlework: a row of openwork. 2 a necklace of diamonds or other precious stones, especially one made up of several strings. ⓒ 19c: French, meaning 'river'.

rivulet /ˈrɪvjʊlət/ ▷ noun a small river or stream. ⓒ 16c: perhaps from Italian rivoletto, from rivo, from Latin rivulus, from rivus a stream.

riyal /rɪˈjɑːl/ ▷ noun 1 the standard unit of currency of Qatar. 2 (also rial) the standard unit of currency of Saudi Arabia. 3 (also rial) the standard unit of currency of the Yemen Arab Republic. Compare RIAL.

riza /ˈriːzə/ ▷ noun an ornamental plate or plaque, usually of silver, that frames the face and other features of a Russian icon. ⓒ 1920s: Russian, from Slavonic, meaning 'garment'.

RJE ▷ abbreviation, computing remote job entry.

RL ▷ abbreviation 1 reference library. 2 IVR Republic of Lebanon. 3 Rugby League.

RLC ▷ abbreviation Royal Logistic Corps.

rly ▷ abbreviation railway.

RM ▷ abbreviation 1 IVR Republic of Madagascar. 2 Resident Magistrate. 3 Royal Mail. 4 Royal Marines.

rm ▷ abbreviation 1 printing ream. 2 room.

RMA ▷ abbreviation Royal Military Academy, Sandhurst.

RMetS ▷ abbreviation Royal Meteorological Society.

RMM ▷ abbreviation, IVR Republic of Mali.

RMO ▷ abbreviation Resident Medical Officer.

RMP ▷ abbreviation (Corps of) Royal Military Police.

rms ▷ abbreviation, math root mean square.

RMT ▷ abbreviation (National Union of) Rail, Maritime and Transport Workers.

RN ▷ abbreviation 1 Royal Navy. 2 N Amer Registered Nurse. 3 IVR Republic of Niger.

Rn ▷ symbol, chem radon.

RNA ▷ abbreviation, biochem ribonucleic acid.

RNAS ▷ abbreviation 1 Royal Naval Air Service(s). 2 Royal Naval Air Station.

RNCM ▷ abbreviation Royal Northern College of Music.

RNIB ▷ abbreviation Royal National Institute for the Blind.

RNID ▷ abbreviation Royal National Institute for the Deaf.

RNLI ▷ abbreviation Royal National Lifeboat Institution.

RNR ▷ abbreviation Royal Naval Reserve.

RNT ▷ abbreviation Royal National Theatre.

RNVR ▷ abbreviation Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve.

RO ▷ abbreviation, IVR Romania.

ro ▷ abbreviation 1 printing recto. 2 cricket run out.

roach[1] /roʊtʃ/ ▷ noun (roaches or roach) 1 a silvery freshwater fish of the carp family. 2 US any of several small fish that resemble this. ⓒ 14c: from French roche.

roach[2] /roʊtʃ/ ▷ noun 1 chiefly N Amer short form of COCKROACH. 2 colloq the butt of a cannabis cigarette. ⓒ 19c in sense 1; 1930s in sense 2.

roach[3] /roʊtʃ/ ▷ noun, naut a concave curve in the foot of a square sail. ⓒ 18c.

road ▷ noun 1 an open way, usually specially surfaced or paved, for people, vehicles or animals to travel on from one place to another. Also as adj ▫ road traffic. 2 a route or course ▫ the road to ruin. 3 (usually roads or also roadstead /ˈroʊdstɛd/) naut a relatively sheltered area of water near the shore where ships may be anchored. 4 chiefly US a railway. 5 a passage in a mine. • roadless adj. • be or get in someone or something's road colloq to obstruct or hinder them or it ▫ His attitude towards women got in the road of his promotion. • hit the road to leave; to depart. • one for the road a final, usually alcoholic, drink before leaving. • on the road travelling from place to place, especially as a commercial traveller, a musician on tour or a tramp. • take the road to depart; to set off. • take to the road 1 to become a tramp. 2 to set off for or travel to somewhere. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon rad, related to RIDE.

roadbed ▷ noun 1 the foundation of a railway track on which the sleepers are laid. 2 the material laid down to form a road and which forms a foundation for the road surface.

roadblock ▷ noun a barrier put across a road, usually by the police or army, to stop and check vehicles and drivers before letting them pass on their way.

road bridge ▷ noun a bridge that carries a road.

roadeo /ˈroʊdioʊ/ ▷ noun (roadeos) N Amer a show or contest of lorry driving skills. ⓒ 1940s: modelled on RODEO.

road fund licence ▷ noun, Brit a certificate, usually stuck on a vehicle's windscreen, that shows that ROAD TAX has been paid. ⓒ 1920s: from the former road fund established in 1920 for the building and maintenance of roads.

road-hog ▷ noun, colloq an aggressive, selfish or reckless driver, especially one who tries to intimidate other road-users. • road-hoggish adj. ⓒ 1890s.

roadholding ▷ noun the extent to which a vehicle remains stable when turning corners at high speed, in wet conditions, etc.

roadhouse ▷ noun a public house or inn at the side of a major road.

road hump ▷ noun a SLEEPING POLICEMAN.

roadie /ˈroʊdɪ/ ▷ noun, colloq a person who helps move and organize the instruments and equipment for a rock or pop group, especially on tour. ⓒ 1960s: shortened form of road manager.

roadman ▷ noun 1 someone whose job is to make roads or keep them in good repair. 2 a frequent road-user, eg a travelling representative for a company. 3 someone who competes in road races. ⓒ 19c in sense 1; 20c in senses 2 and 3.

road metal ▷ noun broken stone or rock used for building or mending roads.

road movie ▷ noun a genre of film in which the main character or characters take to the road, often to escape from the law or in search of adventure. What unfolds usually symbolizes a path to self-discovery.

road pricing ▷ noun the system of charging drivers for the use of a road, eg with the aim of reducing traffic in a city centre.

road rage ▷ noun uncontrolled anger or aggression between road users, which usually takes the form of screaming obscenities, making rude gestures, etc, but which can erupt into violence. ⓒ 1990s.

road roller ▷ noun a heavy roller used to flatten the surface of a road.

roadrunner ▷ noun either of two largish fast-running birds of the cuckoo family, the greater roadrunner of the southern US and Mexico and the lesser roadrunner found in Central America.

road sense ▷ noun ability to handle a vehicle well and with good consideration for other road users, especially in heavy traffic.

road show ▷ noun 1 a a touring group of theatrical or musical performers; b a show given by such a group. 2 a a touring disc jockey or radio or TV presenter and their team, equipment, etc; b a live broadcast, usually in front of an audience, presented by them from one of a series of venues on the tour. 3 a a promotional tour by a group or organization to publicize its policies, products, etc; b the performances given on such a tour. ⓒ Early 20c.

roadside ▷ noun the ground or land beside or along a road.

road sign ▷ noun a sign beside or over a road, motorway, etc, that gives information on routes, speed limits, hazards, traffic systems, etc.

roadstead see ROAD 3

roadster /ˈroʊdstə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 originally US old use an open sports car for two people. 2 a strong bicycle. 3 a horse for riding, or pulling carriages, on roads.

road tax ▷ noun a tax, usually paid annually, that is levied on motor vehicles that use public roads.

road test ▷ noun 1 a test of a vehicle's performance and roadworthiness. 2 a practical test of a product, etc. ▷ verb (road-test) 1 to test (a vehicle's roadworthiness). 2 to test out the practicalities, suitability, etc of something (eg a new product, etc).

road train ▷ noun, Austral a number of linked trailers towed by a truck, for transporting cattle, etc.

roadway ▷ noun the part of a road or street used by cars. ⓒ 19c; 16c in sense 'a way used as a road'.

roadwork ▷ noun athletic training, eg for marathons, boxing matches, etc, consisting of running on roads.

roadworks ▷ plural noun the building or repairing of a road, or other work that involves digging up a road.

roadworthy /ˈroʊdwɜːðɪ/ ▷ adj said of a vehicle: in a suitable condition and safe to be used on the road. ● roadworthiness noun. ⓒ 19c.

roam /roʊm/ ▷ verb (roamed, roaming) 1 intr to ramble or wander, especially over a large area, with no fixed purpose or direction. 2 to ramble or wander about, over, through, etc (a particular area) in no fixed direction ◻ roamed the streets. ▷ noun 1 the act of roaming. 2 a ramble. ⓒ 14c.

roan¹ /roʊn/ ▷ adj 1 said of a horse's coat: black (blue roan), bay (red roan) or chestnut (strawberry roan), thickly flecked with grey or white hairs. 2 said of the coats of other animals, eg cattle: reddish-brown or bay similarly flecked with grey or white hairs. ▷ noun 1 a roan colour. 2 an animal, especially a horse, with a coat of this type. ⓒ 16c: French, from Spanish roano.

roan² /roʊn/ ▷ noun soft, grained sheepskin leather used in bookbinding. ⓒ 19c.

roan³ and roanpipe see RONE roar /rɔː(r)/ ▷ verb (roared, roaring) 1 intr said of a lion or other animal: to give a loud growling cry. 2 said of people: a intr to give a deep loud cry, especially in anger, pain or exhilaration; b to say something with a deep loud cry, especially in anger. 3 intr to laugh loudly and wildly. 4 intr said of cannons, busy traffic, wind or waves during a storm, a fiercely burning fire, etc: to make a deep loud reverberating sound. 5 (often roar about, away, past, etc) to move very fast and noisily, usually in a motor vehicle. 6 intr said of a diseased horse: to make a loud rasping sound when breathing. ▷ noun 1 a loud deep prolonged cry, such as that of a lion, a cheering crowd, a person in pain or anger, etc. 2 a loud deep prolonged sound, such as that made by cannons, busy traffic, an engine made to roar, wind or waves during a storm, a fiercely burning fire, etc. ● roarer noun. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon rarian.

■ roar someone on to shout encouragement to them.

roaring /ˈrɔːrɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 any loud deep cry or sound. 2 a disease of horses marked by roaring. ▷ adj 1 uttering or emitting roars. 2 colloq riotous. 3 colloq proceeding with great activity or success. ● roaringly adverb. ● roaring drunk colloq rowdily or boisterously drunk. ● do a roaring trade to do very brisk and profitable business.

roaring forties see under FORTIES roaring twenties ▷ plural noun the 1920s, especially when thought of as a decade of post-war hedonism.

roast /roʊst/ ▷ verb (roasted, roasting) 1 to cook (meat or other food) by exposure to dry heat, often with the addition of fat and especially in an oven. 2 to dry and brown (coffee beans, nuts, etc) by exposure to dry heat. 3 intr said of meat, coffee beans, nuts, etc: to be cooked or dried and made brown by exposure to dry heat. 4 metallurgy to heat (ores, etc) in a furnace to remove impurities and make them more workable. 5 colloq to warm or heat (oneself or something else) to an extreme or excessive degree ◻ roast in the sun. 6 intr, colloq to be uncomfortably hot. 7 colloq to criticize severely. ▷ noun 1 a piece of meat which has been roasted or is suitable for roasting. 2 N Amer a party in the open air at which food is roasted and eaten. ▷ adj roasted ◻ roast potatoes. ● roaster noun 1 an oven or dish for roasting food. 2 a vegetable, fowl, etc, suitable for roasting. 3 colloq an extremely hot day. ⓒ 13c: from French rostir.

roasting colloq, adj extremely or uncomfortably hot. ▷ noun a dose of severe criticism.

rob ▷ verb (robbed, robbing) 1 to steal something from (a person or place), especially by force or threats. 2 intr to commit robbery. 3 to deprive someone of something expected as a right or due. ● robber noun someone who robs; a thief. ● robbing noun. ● rob Peter to pay Paul 1 to deprive one person of something in order to satisfy another. 2 to raise a loan in order to pay off a debt. ⓒ 13c: from French rober.

robber-crab ▷ noun a large, coconut-eating land crab found in the Indian Ocean.

robbery /ˈrɒbərɪ/ ▷ noun (robberies) the act or process, or an instance, of robbing, especially theft with threats, force or violence.

robe ▷ noun 1 (often robes) a long loose flowing garment, especially the official vestment worn on ceremonial occasions by peers, judges, mayors, academics, the clergy, etc. 2 a dressing-gown or bathrobe. ▷ verb (robed, robing) to clothe (oneself or someone else) in a robe or robes. ⓒ 13c: French, of Germanic origin, related to ROB, originally meaning 'booty' in the sense of clothes regarded as booty.

robin /ˈrɒbɪn/ ▷ noun 1 (also robin redbreast) a small brown European thrush with a red breast and white abdomen. 2 a N American thrush, larger than the European robin, with a brick-red breast, black and white speckled throat and white rings around its eyes. 3 any of various unrelated birds with a red, yellowish or white breast, native to Australia. ⓒ 16c: a diminutive of the personal name Robert.

robing-room ▷ noun a room in which official or ceremonial robes are put on.

Robin Hood ▷ noun 1 a legendary medieval English outlaw who robbed the rich to give to the poor. 2 anyone who is considered to be philanthropic ◻ He's our very own Robin Hood. ⓒ 15c.

robinia /rəˈbɪnɪə/ ▷ noun (robinias) any of various leguminous plants, especially the locust or false acacia. ⓒ 18c: named after Jean and Vespasien Robin, royal gardeners in Paris in the late 16c and early 17c who introduced them to Europe from America.

roborant /ˈrɒbərənt/ ▷ noun a strengthening drug or tonic. ▷ adj (also roborating) strengthening. ⓒ 17c: from Latin roborare, from robur strength.

robot /ˈroʊbɒt/ ▷ noun 1 especially in science-fiction: a machine that vaguely resembles a human being and which can be programmed to carry out tasks. Compare ANDROID. 2 an automatic machine that can be programmed to perform specific tasks. 3 colloq someone who works efficiently but who lacks human warmth or sensitivity. 4 chiefly S Afr an automatic traffic signal. ■ robotic /roʊ'bɒtɪk/ adj. ■ robotize or robotise /'roʊbotaɪz/ verb (robotized, robotizing) to automate (a job, etc). ■ robot-like adj. ⓘ 20c: Czech (in the title of Karl Capek's 1920 play R.U.R. (Rossum's Universal Robots), from robota forced labour.

robotics /roʊ'bɒtɪks/ ▷ singular noun 1 the branch of engineering concerned with the design, construction, operation and use of industrial robots, and which incorporates many of the concepts used in ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE. 2 (also robotic dancing or robot dancing) a form of dancing in which dancers imitate the stiff jerky movements of robots.

robust /rə'bʌst/ ▷ adj 1 said of a person: strong and healthy; with a strong constitution. 2 strongly built or constructed. 3 said of exercise, etc: requiring strength and energy. 4 said of language, humour, etc: rough, earthy, slightly risqué. 5 said of wine, food, etc: with a full, rich quality. ■ robustly adverb. ■ robustness noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin robustus, from robur an oak or strength.

robusta /roʊ'bʌstə/ ▷ noun (robustas) a variety of coffee grown especially in E Africa, which is more disease-resistant than other arabicas but gives a coffee of an inferior quality. ⓘ Early 20c.

ROC ▷ abbreviation Royal Observer Corps.

roc /rɒk/ ▷ noun in Arabian legends: an enormous bird that was strong enough to carry off an elephant. ⓘ 16c: from Persian rukh.

rocaille /roʊ'kaɪ/ ▷ noun 1 ornate ornamental rockwork or shellwork. 2 a rococo style. ⓘ 19c: French, from roc rock.

rocambole /'rɒkəmboʊl/ ▷ noun (rocamboles) a type of alliaceous plant with a garlic-like bulb used for seasoning. ⓘ 17c: French, from German Rockenbolle, literally 'distaff bulb', so called because of its shape.

Roche limit /roʊʃ —/ ▷ noun, astron the lowest orbit that a satellite can maintain around its parent planet without being pulled apart by the tidal forces it creates. ⓘ 19c: named after Edouard Roche (1820–83), the French astronomer who discovered it.

roche moutonnée /rɒʃ muːtɒ'neɪ/ ▷ noun (roches moutonnées /— muːtɒ'neɪ/) geog a smooth, rounded, hummocky rock-surface formed by glaciation. ■ roche moutonnéed adj. ⓘ 19c: French, literally 'fleecy rock'.

rochet /'rɒtʃɪt/ ▷ noun, relig a full-length white linen robe similar to a surplice, worn by bishops, especially of the Anglican Communion, on ceremonial occasions. ⓘ 14c: French, from roc a coat.

rock[1] ▷ noun 1 geol a loose or consolidated mass of one or more minerals that forms part of the Earth's crust, eg granite, limestone, etc. 2 a large natural mass of this material forming a reef, tor, etc. 3 a large stone or boulder. 4 N Amer, Austral a stone or pebble. 5 someone or something that provides a firm foundation or support and can be depended upon. 6 colloq (often rocks) a cause or source of difficulty, danger or disaster. 7 Brit a hard sweet usually made in the form of long, cylindrical sticks, which is brightly coloured and flavoured with peppermint, etc, often sold at the seaside or in holiday resorts. 8 slang a precious stone, especially a diamond. 9 Can a curling-stone. 10 (rocks) coarse slang the testicles. 11 slang a the drug crack; b a small piece of crack. ■ get one's rocks off 1 coarse slang to achieve sexual gratification, especially to ejaculate. 2 colloq to derive pleasure or excitement □ gets his rocks off watching kung fu movies. ■ on the rocks colloq 1 said of a marriage: broken down; failed. 2 said of an alcoholic drink: served with ice cubes. 3 said of a business or firm: in a state of great financial difficulty. ⓘ 14c: from French rocque.

rock[2] ▷ verb (rocked, rocking) 1 tr & intr to sway or make something sway gently backwards and forwards or from side to side □ rock the baby to sleep. 2 tr & intr to move or make something move or shake violently. 3 colloq to disturb, upset or shock □ The news rocked the sporting world. 4 intr to dance to or play rock music. ▷ noun 1 a rocking movement. 2 (also rock music) a form of popular music with a very strong beat, usually played on electronic instruments and derived from rock and roll. 3 rock and roll. ■ rocker and rocky see separate entries. ■ rock the boat to destabilize or disturb something especially unnecessarily or out of spite. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon roccian.

rockabilly /'rɒkəbɪlɪ/ ▷ noun, originally US 1 a style of music that combines elements from both rock and roll and hillbilly. 2 a devotee or performer of this style of music. ⓘ 20c.

rock and roll or rock 'n' roll ▷ noun 1 a form of popular music originating in the 1950s, deriving from jazz, country and western and blues music, with a lively jive beat and simple melodies. 2 the type of dancing done to this music. ▷ verb, intr to dance to or play rock-and-roll music. ■ rock and roller or rock 'n' roller noun. ⓘ 1950s: originally Black slang for 'sexual intercourse'.

rock bottom or rock-bottom ▷ noun 1 bedrock. 2 colloq the lowest possible level. ▷ adj, colloq said especially of prices: the lowest possible; unbeatable. ■ reach or hit rock bottom to arrive at the lowest possible level, eg of poverty or despair.

rock-bound ▷ adj said of a landscape, coast, etc: a hemmed in by rock or rocks; b rocky.

rock cake ▷ noun a small round bun with a rough surface, made with fruit and spices.

rock climbing see under MOUNTAINEER.

rock crystal ▷ noun, mineralogy a transparent colourless quartz.

rock dove and rock pigeon ▷ noun a pigeon that nests on rocks, from which the domestic and feral varieties are descended.

rocker /'rɒkə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 one of usually two curved supports on which a chair, cradle, etc rocks. 2 something that rocks on such supports, especially a rocking chair. 3 someone or something that rocks. 4 a device which is operated with a movement from side to side, backwards and forwards, or up and down. Also as adj □ rocker switch. 5 (Rocker) Brit in the 1960s: a follower of a sometimes violent teenage movement, typically wearing a leather jacket and riding a motorcycle. Compare MOD[3] (noun). 6 an object with a part which is curved like a rocker, especially a skate with a curved blade. ■ off one's rocker colloq mad; crazy.

rocker switch ▷ noun a switch, eg for an electrical appliance, on a central pivot.

rockery /'rɒkərɪ/ ▷ noun (rockeries) a garden made with both rocks and earth, in which rock plants are grown.

rocket[1] /'rɒkɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a cylinder containing inflammable material, which when ignited is projected through the air, used eg for signalling purposes, carrying a line to a ship in distress, or as part of a firework display. 2 a projectile or vehicle, especially a space vehicle, that obtains its thrust from a backward jet of hot gases produced by the burning of a mixture of fuel (solid or liquid) and oxygen that is carried within the projectile or vehicle. 3 a missile propelled by a rocket system. 4 Brit colloq a severe reprimand. ▷ verb (rocketed, rocketing) 1 to propel (a spacecraft, etc) by means of a rocket. 2 intr to move, especially upwards, extremely quickly, as if with the speed of a rocket. 3 intr said of prices: to rise very quickly; to soar. 4 to attack with rockets. 5 Brit colloq to reprimand someone severely. ■ rocketry noun the scientific study and use of rockets. ⓘ 17c: from French roquette, from Italian rochetta, a diminutive of rocca a distaff, with reference to its shape.

rocket² /'rɒkɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a salad plant of Mediterranean countries. 2 in compounds any of several other plants ▢ garden rocket. ⓒ 16c: from Latin eruca a type of herb.

rocketeer /rɒkɪ'tɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a rocket technician or pilot. 2 a specialist in rocketry, especially a rocket designer.

rocket engine and rocket motor ▷ noun a jet engine or motor that uses an internally stored oxidizer, instead of atmospheric oxygen, for combustion.

rocket range ▷ noun a place of experimentation for rocket projectiles.

rocket scientist ▷ noun, stock exchange slang someone who devises schemes to take advantage of price differentials on money markets.

rockfish ▷ noun 1 any of various types of fish that live among rocks. 2 ROCK SALMON.

rock garden ▷ noun a rockery, or a garden containing rockeries.

rock-hopper ▷ noun a small crested penguin.

rockily see under ROCKY²

rockiness see under ROCKY¹, ROCKY²

rocking chair ▷ noun a chair which rocks backwards and forwards on two curved supports.

rocking horse ▷ noun a toy horse mounted on two curved supports on which a child can sit and rock backwards and forwards.

rocking stone ▷ noun a boulder poised so finely, eg on another stone or some other surface, that it can be made to rock.

rockling ▷ noun (rocklings or rockling) any of several small fish of the cod family with barbels on both jaws, found in the N Atlantic Ocean. ⓒ 17c.

rock melon ▷ noun the cantaloupe.

rock pigeon see ROCK DOVE rock plant ▷ noun any small alpine plant which grows among rocks and needs very little soil.

rockrose ▷ noun a small evergreen shrub native to the Mediterranean region and parts of Asia, which has lance-shaped or oblong leaves, and white, yellow or red flowers with five petals.

rock salmon ▷ noun the dogfish or other fish, especially when sold as food.

rock salt ▷ noun common salt occurring as a mass of solid mineral.

rockshaft ▷ noun in engines: a shaft that oscillates rather than revolves.

rocksteady or rock steady ▷ noun 1 a type of dance music originally from Jamaica, with a slow tempo and heavily stressed off-beat. 2 the type of dancing done to this music. ⓒ 1960s.

rock tripe ▷ noun any of various kinds of edible arctic lichen.

rock wool ▷ noun mineral wool, used as an insulating material.

rocky¹ ▷ adj (rockier, rockiest) 1 a full of rocks; b made of rock; c like rock. 2 colloq full of problems and obstacles. ● rockiness noun. ⓒ 15c.

rocky² ▷ adj (rockier, rockiest) 1 said of an object: with a tendency to rock; shaky; unstable. 2 said of a person: dizzy; unsteady on their feet. ● rockily adverb. ● rockiness noun. ⓒ 18c.

rococo /rə'koʊkoʊ/ ▷ noun (also Rococo) 1 a style of architecture, decoration and furniture-making originating in France in the early 18c, characterized by elaborate ornamentation and unsymmetrical and broken curves; a freer development of the baroque. 2 a style of music of the 18c characterized by similarly elaborate ornamentation. ▷ adj 1 relating to, or in, this style. 2 said of music, literature, etc: florid and elaborate. ⓒ 19c: French from rocaille rock-work or shell-work.

rod ▷ noun 1 a long slender stick or bar of wood, metal, etc. 2 a stick or bundle of twigs used to beat people as a punishment. 3 a stick, wand or sceptre carried as a symbol of office or authority. 4 a fishing-rod. 5 in surveying: a unit of length equivalent to 5.5yd (5.03m). 6 anatomy in the retina of the vertebrate eye: one of over 100 million rod-shaped cells containing the light-sensitive pigment rhodopsin, concerned with the perception of light intensity and essential for vision in dim light. Compare CONE noun 3. 7 a rod-shaped bacterium. 8 a metal bar that forms part of the framework under a railway carriage. 9 N Amer slang a pistol. 10 coarse slang a penis. 11 a POLE¹ (noun 2). ▷ verb (rodded, rodding) to push or force a rod through (a drain, etc) to clear it. ● rodless adj. ● rodlike adj. ● make a rod for one's own back to create trouble for oneself. ● ride the rods US to travel illegally on a railway, on the rods under railway carriages. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon rodd.

rode past tense of RIDE

rodent /'roʊdənt/ ▷ noun, zool an animal belonging to the order of mostly nocturnal mammals that includes rats, mice, squirrels, beavers, etc. They have chisel-like incisor teeth that grow continuously and are adapted for gnawing. The order comprises half of all known species of mammal. ▷ adj 1 gnawing. 2 belonging to this order. ⓒ 19c: from Latin rodere to gnaw.

rodenticide /roʊ'dentɪsaɪd/ ▷ noun a substance used to kill rodents. ● rodenticidal adj. ⓒ 1930s.

rodent officer ▷ noun an official employed to catch rats or other rodent pests.

rodent ulcer ▷ noun, medicine a slow-growing malignant tumour on the face, usually situated at the edges of the lips, nostrils or eyelids.

rodeo /'roʊdɪoʊ, roʊ'deɪoʊ/ ▷ noun (rodeos) originally N Amer 1 a round-up of cattle, eg for purposes of counting or branding them. 2 a place where cattle are assembled for such purposes. 3 a show or contest of cowboy skills, including riding, lassoing and animal-handling. 4 a similar show or contest of other skills, such as motorcycle riding, etc. Compare ROADEO. ⓒ 19c in senses 1 and 2: Spanish, from rodear to go round, from Latin rotare to rotate.

rodomontade /rɒdəmɒn'teɪd, -'tɑːd/ literary ▷ noun 1 a boastful or bragging speech. 2 boastful or bragging words or behaviour. ▷ verb (rodomontaded, rodomontading) to brag or boast. ⓒ 17c: French, from Italian rodomonte a boaster, named after Rodomonte the boastful king of Algiers in Ariosto's Orlando Furioso (1516).

rod puppet ▷ noun a glove puppet that is held on one hand while its arms are manipulated by rods held in the other hand.

roe¹ /roʊ/ ▷ noun 1 (also hard roe) the mass of mature eggs contained in the ovaries of a female fish. 2 (also soft roe) the testis of a male fish containing mature sperm. 3 either of these used as food. See also CAVIAR. ● roed adj containing roe. ⓒ 15c.

roe² /roʊ/ and roe deer ▷ noun (roes or roe) a small deer, native to Europe and Asia, with a reddish-brown coat and white underparts in summer, turning greyish-fawn in winter, a white rump and virtually no tail. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon ra and rahdeor.

roebuck /'roʊbʌk/ ▷ noun the male roe deer.

roentgen or röntgen /'rɜːntjən, 'rɒnt-, 'rʌnt-, -gən/ (sometimes Roentgen or Röntgen) ▷ adj relating to Wilhelm Konrad Roentgen (1845–1923), the German physicist who discovered ROENTGEN RAYS. ▷ noun (in full roentgen unit) a former unit for measurement of X-rays or gamma rays, defined in terms of the ionization produced in 1cm³ of air under specific conditions. ● roentgenography noun radiography by means of X-rays. • roentgenology noun the study of these rays. ⓘ 19c.

roentgen rays ▷ plural noun X-rays.

roesti or rösti /ˈrɜsti/ ▷ noun a dish of potatoes that are grated, shaped into a pancake, then fried. ⓘ 1950s: Swiss German.

rogation /roʊˈgeɪʃən/ ▷ noun, Christianity (usually rogations) solemn supplication, especially in ceremonial form. ⓘ 14c: from Latin rogatio, from rogare to ask.

Rogation Day ▷ noun, Christianity (usually Rogation Days) the three days in Rogation Week before Ascension Day, when supplications are recited in procession.

Rogation Sunday ▷ noun, Christianity the Sunday before Ascension Day.

roger[1] /ˈrɒdʒə(r)/ ▷ exclamation 1 in radio communications and signalling, etc: message received and understood. 2 colloq I will; OK □ Roger, will do — see you later. ⓘ 1940s: from the name Roger, representing the letter R for received.

roger[2] /ˈrɒdʒə(r)/ ▷ verb (rogered, rogering) coarse slang said of a man: to have sexual intercourse with (a woman). • rogering noun. ⓘ 18c: from Roger, obsolete slang meaning 'penis'.

rogue /roʊg/ ▷ noun (rogues) 1 a dishonest or unscrupulous person. Also as adj □ a rogue trader. 2 someone, especially a child, who is playfully mischievous. 3 someone or something, especially a plant, which is not true to its type and is of inferior quality. 4 a horse, person or object that is troublesome and unruly. 5 a a vicious wild animal that lives apart from, or has been driven from, its herd; b as adj □ a rogue elephant. 6 someone or something that has strayed or that is found in an unusual or unexpected place. ▷ verb (rogued, roguing) to eliminate rogues from (a crop, etc). • roguer noun. • roguery /ˈroʊgərɪ/ noun (rogueries) behaviour or an action that is typical of a rogue. • roguing noun. ⓘ 16c.

rogues' gallery ▷ noun 1 a collection of photographs of known criminals, kept by the police and used to identify suspects. 2 a group of disreputable or undesirable people.

roguish /ˈroʊgɪʃ/ ▷ adj 1 characteristic of a rogue. 2 dishonest; unprincipled. 3 playfully mischievous □ a roguish grin. • roguishly adverb. • roguishness noun. ⓘ 16c.

roil /rɔɪl/ ▷ verb (roiled, roiling) 1 to make (water or other liquid) cloudy by mixing up dregs or sediment. 2 US to anger or upset. ⓘ 16c.

roister /ˈrɔɪstə(r)/ ▷ verb (roistered, roistering) intr 1 to enjoy oneself noisily and boisterously. 2 to bluster or swagger. • roisterer noun. • roistering noun. • roisterous adj. • roisterously adverb. ⓘ 16c: from French rustre a ruffian, an uncouth fellow, from Latin rusticus rustic, rural.

ROK ▷ abbreviation, IVR Republic of Korea.

Roland /ˈroʊlənd/ ▷ noun, only in the phrase a Roland for an Oliver /—ˈɒlɪvə(r)/ tit for tat; an effective retaliation or retort. ⓘ 16c: named after Roland, a legendary nephew of Charlemagne, celebrated in the medieval romance the Chanson de Roland, who fought a contest with his comrade Oliver.

role or rôle /roʊl/ ▷ noun 1 an actor's part or character in a play, film, etc. 2 a function, or a part played or taken on by someone or something in life, business, etc □ in her role as head of the household □ the role of television as an educating medium. 3 psychol someone's characteristic or expected function within a particular social setting. ⓘ 17c: French, originally meaning 'a roll of parchment on which an actor's part was written'.

role model ▷ noun someone whose character, life, behaviour, etc is taken as a good example to follow.

role-play or role-playing ▷ noun the assuming and performing of imaginary roles, usually as a method of instruction, training, therapy, etc.

Rolfing /ˈrɒlfɪŋ/ ▷ noun a therapeutic technique for correcting postural faults and improving physical wellbeing through manipulation of the muscles and joints, so that the body is realigned symmetrically and the best use made of gravity in maintaining balance. ⓘ 1950s: named after US physiotherapist Dr Ida Rolf (1897–1979), the originator of the technique.

roll /roʊl/ ▷ noun 1 a cylinder or tube formed by rolling up anything flat (such as paper, fabric, etc) □ I used six rolls of wallpaper for this room. 2 a rolled document; a scroll. 3 a a small individually-baked portion of bread; b in compounds one of these with a specified filling □ a cheese roll. 4 a folded piece of pastry or cake with a filling □ swiss roll □ sausage roll. 5 a rolled mass of something □ rolls of fat. 6 an undulation, eg in a surface or of a landscape. 7 a an official list of names, eg of school pupils, members of a club or people eligible to vote; b the total number registered on such a list. 8 an act of rolling. 9 a swaying or rolling movement, eg in walking or dancing, or of a ship. 10 a long low prolonged sound □ a roll of thunder. 11 a trill or trilling sound, especially an 'r' sound. 12 (also a drum roll) a series of quick beats on a drum. 13 a complete rotation around its longitudinal axis by an aircraft. 14 a roller or cylinder used to press, shape or apply something. 15 a an act or bout of rolling □ Sparky had a roll in the sand; b a gymnastic exercise similar to, but less strenuous than, a somersault □ a backward roll. 16 colloq money, especially a wad of banknotes. ▷ verb (rolled, rolling) 1 tr & intr to move or make something move by turning over and over, as if on an axis, and often in a specified direction □ rolled the dice. 2 tr & intr to move or make something move on wheels, rollers, etc, or in a vehicle with wheels. 3 intr (also roll over) said of a person or animal, etc that is lying down: to turn with a rolling movement to face in another direction. 4 tr & intr to move or make something move or flow gently and steadily. 5 intr to seem to move like or in waves □ a garden rolling down to the river. 6 intr said eg of a ship: to sway or rock gently from side to side. 7 intr to walk with a swaying movement □ rolled in drunk at six o'clock. 8 tr & intr to begin to operate or work □ the cameras rolled. 9 tr & intr to move or make (one's eyes) move in a circle, especially in disbelief, despair or amazement. 10 tr & intr to form, or form something, into a tube or cylinder by winding or being wound round and round. 11 (also roll up) a to wrap something by rolling □ rolled a spliff; b to curl around □ The hamster rolled up into a ball. 12 (also roll something out) to spread it out or make it flat or flatter, especially by pressing and smoothing with something heavy □ rolled out the pastry. 13 intr to make a series of long low rumbling sounds. 14 to pronounce (especially an 'r' sound) with a trill. 15 slang to rob someone who is helpless, usually because they are drunk or asleep. 16 a to make (the credits) appear on a screen; b to appear on a screen. 17 a to make (a car) do a somersault; b intr said of a car: to overturn. • rolled adj. • roller, rolling see separate entries. • a roll in the hay colloq an act of sexual intercourse. • heads will roll severe punishment will be dealt out, especially involving loss of job or status. • on a roll chiefly US colloq going through a period of continuous good luck or success. • rolled into one combined in one person or in one thing. • roll with the punches 1 said of a boxer: to move the body away from and in the same direction as an opponent's punches to reduce their impact. 2 to go along with something negative and to offer no resistance in order to lessen its impact. • strike someone off the roll to remove the right to practise from (a doctor, solicitor, etc), after professional misconduct. • roll on ... may a specified event, time, etc come soon □ Roll on the holidays. ⓘ 14c: from French rolle, from Latin rotula, diminutive of rota a wheel.

■ roll by or on or past, etc said especially of time: to pass or follow steadily and often quickly □ The weeks rolled by.

■ roll in to come or arrive in large quantities.

■ be rolling in something colloq to have large amounts of it (especially money).

■ roll over 1 to overturn. 2 see verb 5 above. 3 said of a jackpot prize, eg in the UK National Lottery: to be carried across to the next week because it has not been won □ the jackpot might roll over three times in one year. See also ROLL-OVER.

■ roll something over econ to defer demand for repayment of (a debt, loan, etc) for a further term. See also ROLL-OVER.

■ roll up 1 colloq to arrive. 2 to come in large numbers. See also ROLL-UP.

roll-bar ▷ noun a metal bar that strengthens the frame of a vehicle and reduces the danger to its occupants if the vehicle overturns, used especially in racing, rallying, etc.

roll-call ▷ noun an act or the process of calling out names from a list at an assembly, meeting, etc to check who is present.

rollcollar ▷ noun on a garment: a collar turned over in a curve.

rolled gold ▷ noun metal covered with a very thin coating of gold, usually used in inexpensive jewellery. The preferred term is now GOLD-PLATED.

roller /'roulə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 any cylindrical object or machine used for flattening, crushing, spreading, printing, applying paint, etc. 2 a rod for rolling cloth, etc round. 3 a small cylinder on which hair is rolled to make it curl. 4 a solid wheel or cylinder attached to heavy machinery, etc, which makes it easier to move. 5 a long heavy sea wave. 6 any of several birds of a family related to bee-eaters and kingfishers, found especially in Africa, which have a characteristic courtship display that involves spectacular tumbling and rolling flight. 7 medicine (also roller-bandage) a long bandage rolled into a cylinder before it is applied.

roller-bearing ▷ noun a bearing made up of two grooves between which a number of parallel or tapered rollers are located, usually in a cage, suitable for heavier loads than ball-bearings.

rollerblade ▷ verb (rollerbladed, rollerblading) intr to move about on Rollerblades, especially with gliding movements.

Rollerblades ▷ plural noun, trademark roller skates with wheels set in a single line from front to back along the sole of the shoe.

roller blind see BLIND noun 1 rollercoaster ▷ noun a raised railway with sharp curves and steep inclines and descents, ridden on for pleasure and excitement, usually found at funfairs.

roller hockey ▷ noun a form of hockey played by teams wearing roller skates.

roller skate ▷ noun a series of wheels attached to a framework which can be fitted onto a shoe, or a shoe with wheels attached to the sole. ▷ verb (roller-skate) intr to move, dance, etc on roller skates. ▪ roller-skater noun. ▪ roller-skating noun.

roller towel ▷ noun a towel, usually a long one, with the ends sewn together, that is hung on a roller.

rollick[1] /'rɒlɪk/ ▷ verb (rollicked, rollicking) intr to behave in a carefree, swaggering, boisterous or playful manner. ▷ noun a boisterous romp. ▪ rollicking adj boisterous, noisy and carefree. © 19c.

rollick[2] /'rɒlɪk/ ▷ verb (rollicked, rollicking) slang to rebuke someone severely. ▪ rollicking noun (also rollocking) a severe rebuke or scolding. © 20c: perhaps a variant of bollock.

rolling /'roulɪŋ/ ▷ adj 1 said of land, countryside, etc: with low, gentle hills and valleys, and without steep slopes and crags. 2 colloq extremely wealthy. 3 colloq staggering with drunkenness. 4 said of a contract: subject to review at regular intervals. 5 said of planned events, etc: organized so as to take place successively, on a relay or rota system, or with a steadily maintained or increasing effect.

rolling mill ▷ noun 1 a machine for rolling metal ingots into sheets, bars or other shapes between pairs of rollers revolving in opposite directions, often to improve the mechanical properties of a metal or to give it a bright finish. 2 a factory containing such machines.

rolling-pin ▷ noun a cylinder made of wood, pottery, marble, etc for flattening out pastry or dough.

rolling stock ▷ noun the engines, wagons, coaches, etc used on a railway.

rolling stone ▷ noun someone who leads a restless or unsettled life.

rollmop ▷ noun a fillet of raw herring rolled up usually round a slice of onion, and pickled in spiced vinegar. © Early 20c: from German Rollmops, from rollen to roll + Mops a pug-dog.

rollneck ▷ adj said of a garment: with a high neck which is folded over on itself.

rollocking see under ROLLICK[2] roll-on ▷ adj contained in a bottle with a rotating ball at the top, by means of which the liquid is applied. ▷ noun 1 a roll-on deodorant, etc. 2 Brit a woman's light elastic corset.

roll-on roll-off ▷ adj (abbreviation ro-ro) said especially of a passenger ferry: with entrances at both the front and back of the ship, so that vehicles can be driven on through one entrance and off through the other. ▷ noun a ship of this kind.

roll-out ▷ noun 1 the first public showing of the prototype of an aircraft. 2 the part of an aircraft's landing during which it slows down after touching down.

roll-over ▷ noun 1 a an instance of deferring demand for repayment of a debt, loan, etc for a further term; b as adj □ roll-over loan. 2 in the UK National Lottery: a an unwon jackpot prize which is carried forward from one week to the next and which is added to the next week's jackpot; b as adj □ roll-over week. See also ROLL OVER at ROLL.

roll-top desk ▷ noun a desk with a flexible cover of slats that may be rolled down when the desk is not being used.

roll-up ▷ noun 1 Brit colloq a cigarette which one makes oneself by rolling paper round loose tobacco. 2 Austral attendance; turn-out.

roly-poly /roulɪ'poulɪ/ ▷ adj round and podgy. ▷ noun (roly-polies) 1 (also roly-poly pudding) a strip of suet pastry spread with jam and rolled up, then baked or steamed. 2 colloq a round podgy person. 3 the children's game of rolling over and over down a hill or grassy slope, etc. 4 Austral any of several bushy plants, found in arid regions, that break off and roll in the wind. © 19c.

ROM /rɒm/ ▷ abbreviation, computing read-only memory, a storage device which holds data permanently and allows it to be read and used but not changed. Compare RAM.

rom or Rom /rɒm/ ▷ noun (roma /'roumə/ or romas) a male Gypsy; a Romany. © 19c: Romany, meaning 'man', 'husband'.

Rom. ▷ abbreviation Book of the Bible: Romans. See table at BIBLE.

rom. ▷ abbreviation, printing roman (type).

Roman /ˈroumən/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to modern or ancient Rome and the Roman Empire, its history, culture or inhabitants. 2 relating to the Roman Catholic Church. ▷ noun 1 an inhabitant of modern or ancient Rome. 2 a Roman Catholic.

roman /ˈroumən/ printing ▷ adj said of type: relating to or indicating the ordinary, upright kind most commonly used for printed material. Compare ITALIC. ▷ noun (abbreviation rom.) roman type. ⓘ 16c: so called because the form of the letters resembles that of ancient Roman inscriptions and manuscripts.

roman-à-clef /French rɔmɑ̃ a kle/ ▷ noun (romans-à-clef) a novel with characters based on real people under disguised names. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'novel with a key'.

roman alphabet ▷ noun the alphabet developed by the ancient Romans for writing Latin, and now used for most writing in W European languages, including English.

Roman candle ▷ noun a firework that discharges a succession of flaming white or coloured sparks, balls of fire, etc. ⓘ 19c.

Roman Catholic (abbreviation RC) ▷ adj belonging or relating to the Roman Catholic Church, the Christian church which recognizes the pope as its head. ▷ noun a member of this church. Often shortened to CATHOLIC. • Roman Catholicism noun the doctrines, worship and life of the Roman Catholic Church. ⓘ 17c.

romance /rouˈmans/ ▷ noun 1 a love affair. 2 sentimentalized or idealized love, valued especially for its beauty, purity and the mutual devotion of the lovers. 3 the atmosphere, feelings or behaviour associated with romantic love. 4 a sentimental account, especially in writing or on film, of a love affair. 5 such writing, films, etc as a group or genre. 6 a fictitious story which deals with imaginary, adventurous and mysterious events, characters, places, etc. 7 a medieval verse narrative dealing with chivalry, highly idealized love and fantastic adventures. 8 an exaggeration or absurd account or lie. 9 (Romance) the group of languages, including French, Spanish, Italian and Romanian, which have developed from Latin. 10 music a short, informal, ballad-like piece. ▷ adj (Romance) belonging or relating to the languages which have developed from Latin, such as French, Spanish, Italian and Romanian. ▷ verb (romanced, romancing) 1 to try to win someone's love. 2 intr to talk or write extravagantly, romantically or fantastically. 3 intr to lie. • romancer noun. • romancing noun, adj. ⓘ 13c: from French romans, from Latin Romanicus Roman.

Roman Empire ▷ noun, historical the ancient empire of Rome, established in 31 BC by Augustus, and divided in the 4c into the Eastern Roman Empire and Western Roman Empire. • Roman Emperor noun.

Romanes see ROMANY

Romanesque /roumaˈnesk/ ▷ noun 1 the style of architecture found in W and S Europe from the 9c to the 12c, characterized by the use of a round arch, clear plans and elevations and, typically, a two-tower facade. 2 the style of sculpture, painting, etc of this period. ▷ adj in or relating to this style of architecture or art. ⓘ 18c: French.

roman-fleuve /French rɔmɑ̃ flœv/ ▷ noun (romans-fleuves /French rɔmɑ̃ flœv/) a series of novels, each of which exists as a separate novel in its own right, but which are linked, usually because some or all of the characters appear in each successive work, eg the seven parts of Proust's A la recherche du temps perdu (1913–27) or John Galsworthy's Forsyte Saga (1906–28). ⓘ 20c: French, literally 'river novel'.

Romani see ROMANY

Romanian /rouˈmeɪnɪən/, Rumanian or Roumanian /ru-/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Romania, a republic in SE Europe bordering on the Black Sea, its inhabitants or their language. ▷ noun 1 a citizen or inhabitant of, or a person born in Romania. 2 the official language of Romania.

Roman holiday ▷ noun an event or occasion when pleasure is taken from the suffering of others. ⓘ 19c: so called because days of gladiatorial combat in ancient Rome were public holidays.

Romanize or Romanise /ˈroumənaɪz/ ▷ verb (Romanized, Romanizing) 1 to make (a ceremony, etc) Roman Catholic in character. 2 to convert someone to Roman Catholicism. 3 intr to become Roman Catholic in character or convert to Roman Catholicism. 4 to transcribe into the roman alphabet (a language, such as Arabic, Chinese, Greek or Hindi, that uses a different writing system). • Romanization noun. ⓘ 17c.

Roman nose ▷ noun a high-bridged or aquiline nose. • Roman-nosed adj.

Roman numeral ▷ noun (often Roman numerals) any of the figures in the NUMBER SYSTEM developed by the ancient Romans and used to represent cardinal numbers, eg I, V, X, etc. Compare ARABIC NUMERALS.

Romano- /rouˈmɑːnou/ ▷ combining form, signifying Roman ▫ Romano-British.

Romansch see under RHAETIAN romantic /rouˈmantɪk/ ▷ adj 1 characterized by or inclined towards sentimental and idealized love. 2 dealing with or suggesting adventure, mystery and sentimentalized love ▫ romantic fiction. 3 highly impractical or imaginative, and often also foolish. 4 (often Romantic) said of literature, art, music, etc: relating to or in the style of romanticism. ▷ noun 1 someone who has a romantic, idealized, impractical or sentimental view of love, etc. 2 (often Romantic) a a poet, writer, artist, composer, etc of the ROMANTIC PERIOD; b someone whose main influence or inspiration is the ROMANTIC PERIOD in the arts. • romantically adverb. ⓘ 17c: from French romanz romance.

romanticism or Romanticism /rouˈmantɪsɪzəm/ ▷ noun a late 18c and early 19c movement in art, literature and music, characterized by an emphasis on feelings and emotions, often using imagery taken from nature, and creating forms which are relatively free from rules and set orders. • romanticist noun someone whose art or writing, etc is characterized by Romanticism. ⓘ 19c.

romanticize or romanticise /rouˈmantɪsaɪz/ ▷ verb (romanticized, romanticizing) 1 to make something seem romantic. 2 tr & intr to describe, think of or interpret something in a romantic, idealized, unrealistic and sometimes misleading way. 3 intr to hold romantic ideas or act in a romantic way. • romanticization noun.

romantic period ▷ noun the era from the late 18c to the early 19c when romanticism flourished.

Romany or Romani /ˈrouməni/ ▷ noun (Romanies or Romanis) 1 a GYPSY. 2 (also Romanes /ˈromənes/) the language spoken by gypsies, belonging to the Indic branch of Indo-European, but now often showing regional variations from contact with other languages. ▷ adj relating or pertaining to the Romanies, their language or culture. ⓘ 19c: from Romany rom man.

Romeo /ˈroumiou/ ▷ noun (Romeos) 1 an ardent young male lover. 2 a womanizer. 3 communications in the NATO alphabet: the word used to denote the letter 'R' (see table at NATO ALPHABET). ⓘ 18c: the name of the love-struck hero in Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet.

Romish /ˈroumɪʃ/ ▷ adj, derog Roman Catholic.

romneya /ˈromnɪə/ ▷ noun (romneyas) bot either of two shrubby Californian plants with large white poppy-like flowers. ⓘ Late 20c: named after Thomas Romney Robinson (1792–1882), an Irish astronomer.

romp /romp/ ▷ verb (romped, romping) intr 1 to play or run about in a lively boisterous way. 2 (usually romp in or home, etc) colloq to win a race, competition, etc quickly and easily. 3 (usually romp through something) colloq to complete (a task, etc) quickly and easily. ▷ noun 1 an act of romping; boisterous playing or running about. 2 a light-hearted outing or jaunt. 3 a swift pace. 4 sport, colloq an easily-won match, game, etc. • romper noun. • rompingly adverb. ⓘ 16c.

rompers ▷ plural noun (also romper suit) formerly a baby's suit, usually one-piece, with short-legged trousers and either a short-sleeved top or a bib top. Compare BABYGRO.

rondavel /rɒn'dɑːvəl/ ▷ noun, S Afr a round hut or similar type of building, usually with a thatched roof. ⓘ 19c: from Afrikaans rondawel.

rondeau /'rɒndoʊ/ ▷ noun (rondeaux /-doʊ, -doʊz/) a poem of 13 or sometimes 10 lines with only two rhymes, and with the first line used as a refrain after the eighth and thirteenth lines. ⓘ 16c: from French rondel, from rond round.

rondel /'rɒndəl/ ▷ noun a variation of the RONDEAU. ⓘ 13c: French, meaning 'a little circle', from rond round.

rondo /'rɒndoʊ/ ▷ noun (rondos) music a piece of music, especially one forming the last movement of a sonata or a concerto, with a principal theme which recurs or is repeated as a refrain. ⓘ 18c: Italian, from French rondeau; see RONDEAU.

rone or roan /roʊn/ and ronepipe or roanpipe ▷ noun, Scottish a roof-gutter. ⓘ 19c.

ronggeng /'rɒŋgɛŋ/ ▷ noun 1 a Malaysian dancing-girl. 2 a popular kind of Malaysian dancing, often accompanied by singing. ⓘ 19c: Malay.

röntgen, röntgenography and röntgenology see ROENTGEN.

roo /ruː/ ▷ noun, Austral colloq a short form of KANGAROO. ⓘ 20c.

roo-bar ▷ noun, Austral colloq a strong metal bar or grid fitted to the front of a vehicle as protection in case of collision with a kangaroo or other animal. Also called (E Afr) rhino bar or (Brit) bull bar.

rood /ruːd/ ▷ noun 1 a cross or crucifix, especially a large one set on a beam or screen at the entrance to a church chancel. 2 literary the Cross on which Christ was crucified. 3 a former unit of area, equal to a quarter of an acre, or 0.10117 hectare. 4 a former unit of area, equal to a square rod. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon rod gallows or cross.

rood beam ▷ noun a beam for supporting a rood, often forming the top of a rood screen.

rood loft ▷ noun in a church: a gallery over the rood screen.

rood screen ▷ noun in a church: an ornamental wooden or stone screen separating the choir from the nave.

roof /ruːf/ ▷ noun (roofs /ruːfs/ or common in spoken English, but non-standard in writing rooves /ruːvz/) 1 a the top outside covering of a building; b the structure at the top of a building that supports this. 2 a similar top or covering for a vehicle, etc. 3 the interior overhead surface of a room, vault, cave, etc. 4 a dwelling or home □ two families under the same roof. 5 the top inner surface of an oven, refrigerator, etc. 6 (usually roof of the mouth) the upper inside surface of the mouth; the palate. 7 a high, or the highest, level; an upper limit □ the roof of the world. ▷ verb (roofed, roofing) 1 to cover or provide something with a roof. 2 to serve as a roof or shelter for something. • roofed adj with a roof. • roofer noun someone who makes or repairs roofs. • roofing noun 1 materials for building a roof. 2 the roof itself. • roofless adj. • rooflike adj. • have a roof over one's head to have somewhere to live. • go through or hit the roof colloq to become very angry. • raise the roof colloq 1 to make a great deal of noise or fuss. 2 to become very angry. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon hrof.

roof garden ▷ noun a garden on a flat roof of a building.

roof rack ▷ noun a frame attached to the roof of a car or other vehicle for carrying luggage, etc.

rooftop ▷ noun the outside of a roof of a building. Also as adj □ a rooftop swimming pool. • shout it from the rooftops to make public something that is better kept quiet.

roof tree ▷ noun 1 the ridge-pole of a roof. 2 the roof itself. ⓘ 15c.

rooinek /'rɔɪnɛk/ ▷ noun, S Afr jocular or derog slang an English-speaking or British S African. ⓘ 19c: Afrikaans, from rooi red + nek neck.

rook[1] /rʊk/ ▷ noun a large, crow-like bird with lustrous black plumage and a bare patch of grey skin at the base of its beak. It nests in colonies in the tops of trees and is found in Europe and Asia. ▷ verb (rooked, rooking) colloq 1 to cheat or defraud, especially at cards. 2 to charge (a customer) an excessively high price. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon hroc.

rook[2] /rʊk/ ▷ noun, chess a CASTLE. ⓘ 14c: from Persian rukh.

rookery /'rʊkərɪ/ ▷ noun (rookeries) 1 a colony of rooks. 2 a colony of penguins or other sea birds, or of seals. ⓘ 18c.

rookie or rooky /'rʊkɪ/ ▷ noun (rookies) colloq 1 a new or raw recruit, especially in the police or the army. 2 a beginner in a particular profession or field. 3 sport, chiefly N Amer a new member of a team, especially one who is playing in their first major league championship. ⓘ 19c.

room /ruːm, rʊm/ ▷ noun 1 a an area within a building enclosed by a ceiling, floor and walls; b in compounds □ dining-room □ bedroom. 2 a sufficient or necessary space, especially free or unoccupied space, that is available to someone or for a particular purpose □ no room for all her books. □ Have you room to get past?; b in compounds □ shelf room 3 all the people present in a room □ The room suddenly became silent. 4 opportunity, scope or possibility □ room for improvement. 5 (rooms) rented lodgings, especially a set of rooms within a house, etc, that are rented out as an individual unit □ returned to his rooms at Oxford. ▷ verb (roomed, rooming) tr & intr, chiefly N Amer to lodge; to occupy a room or rooms as a lodger. • roomed adj, in compounds having rooms of a specified kind or number. • roomer noun, N Amer a lodger, usually one who takes their meals elsewhere. • leave the room euphemistic, old use said especially by or about children in school: to go to the lavatory. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon rum.

■ room with someone N Amer to share a room or rooms with them.

room-divider ▷ noun a low wall, partition or piece of furniture that divides a room or space into separate sections.

roomette ▷ noun, N Amer a sleeping compartment on a train.

roomful ▷ noun (roomfuls) as much or as many (people, objects, etc) as a room can hold □ a roomful of books.

rooming house ▷ noun, N Amer a house with furnished rooms to let.

roommate ▷ noun 1 someone who shares a room with another person, especially in a students' residence, hostel, etc. 2 originally US someone who lodges with or shares a flat, etc with another person or persons.

room service ▷ noun in a hotel: a facility that enables guests to order and be served food, drinks, etc in their rooms.

room temperature ▷ noun the average temperature of a living-room, usually about 20°C.

roomy ▷ adj (roomier, roomiest) with plenty of room; spacious □ The house is quite roomy. • roomily adverb. • roominess noun. ⊙ 16c.

roost[1] /ruːst/ ▷ noun 1 a branch, perch, etc on which birds, especially domestic fowl, rest at night. 2 a group of birds, especially domestic fowl, resting together on the same branch or perch. 3 colloq a place that offers temporary sleeping accommodation. ▷ verb (roosted, roosting) intr said especially of birds: to settle on a roost, especially for sleep. • the chickens have come home to roost one's actions have had unpleasant consequences. • come home to roost said of a scheme, etc: to have unpleasant consequences for, or a bad effect on, the originator. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon hrost.

roost[2] /ruːst/ ▷ noun around the islands of Orkney and Shetland: a strong tidal current. ⊙ 16c: from Norse röst.

rooster /ˈruːstə(r)/ ▷ noun, chiefly N Amer a farmyard cock. ⊙ 18c.

root[1] /ruːt/ ▷ noun 1 a bot in vascular plants: the descending structure, lacking leaves and chlorophyll, that usually grows beneath the soil surface, and whose function is to anchor the plant in the soil and to absorb water and mineral nutrients; b loosely any of the branches of this structure; c a growing plant with its root; d as adj □ root vegetable. 2 the part by which anything is attached to or embedded in something larger. 3 anatomy the embedded part of eg a tooth, hair, nail or similar structure. 4 a the basic cause, source or origin of something □ the root of the problem; b as adj □ the root cause. 5 (roots) a someone's ancestry or family origins; b someone's feeling of belonging, eg ethnically, culturally, etc, to a community or in a certain place □ go back to one's roots. 6 linguistics the basic element in a word which remains after all affixes have been removed, and which may form the basis of a number of related words, eg love is the root of lovable, lovely, lover and unloved. See also STEM. 7 math a factor of a quantity that, when multiplied by itself a specified number of times, produces that quantity, eg 2 is the square root of 4 and the cube root of 8. 8 math in an algebraic equation: the value or values of an unknown quantity or variable that represent the solution to that equation. Also called SOLUTION. 9 music in harmony: the fundamental note on which a chord is built. ▷ verb (rooted, rooting) 1 intr to grow roots. 2 intr to become firmly established. 3 (usually root something up or out) to dig it up by the roots. 4 to fix something with or as if with roots. 5 to provide something with roots. 6 tr & intr, Austral & NZ coarse slang to have sexual intercourse with someone. • rootless adj 1 with no roots. 2 with no fixed home; wandering. • rootlike adj. • get to the root of something to find its underlying cause. • root and branch thoroughly; completely. • take or strike root 1 to grow roots. 2 to become firmly established. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon rot.

■ root something out to remove or destroy it completely.

root[2] /ruːt/ ▷ verb 1 intr said especially of pigs: to dig up the earth with the snout in search of food. 2 intr (usually root around or about) colloq to look for something by poking about; to rummage. 3 (usually root something out or up) to find or extract it by rummaging. • rooter noun. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon wrotan, from wrot snout.

root[3] /ruːt/ ▷ verb (rooted, rooting) intr (always root for someone) originally N Amer colloq to support them with loud cheering and encouragement. ⊙ 19c.

root-ball ▷ noun the spherical mass formed by the roots of a plant and the surrounding soil.

root beer ▷ noun, N Amer, especially US a fizzy drink made from the roots of certain plants, such as dandelions, and flavoured with herbs.

root canal ▷ noun the passage through which the nerves and blood vessels of a tooth enter the pulp cavity. Also (dentistry) as adj □ root-canal work.

root climber ▷ noun any of various plants that climb by means of roots growing from the stem, eg ivy.

root crop ▷ noun any plant that is grown mainly for its edible root, tuber or corm, eg carrot, turnip, potato, sugar beet, etc.

rooted /ˈruːtɪd/ ▷ adj 1 fixed by or as if by roots. 2 firmly established. • rootedly adverb. • rootedness noun.

root hair ▷ noun, bot any of many fine tubular outgrowths from the surface cells of plant roots, serving to increase greatly the surface area of the root that is available to absorb water from the soil.

rootless see under ROOT[1] rootlet /ˈruːtlɪt/ ▷ noun a small root.

root-mean-square ▷ noun, math (abbreviation rms) the square root of the sum of the squares of a set of quantities divided by the total number of quantities in the set.

roots ▷ adj 1 said especially of music: relating or referring to one's ethnic or cultural identity, especially insofar as it is authentic or unadulterated. 2 relating to roots music. ⊙ 20c.

roots music ▷ noun popular music of a style that shows the influence of folk music and has a certain ethnic identity, especially reggae of a kind that is considered authentic and unadulterated.

rootstock /ˈruːtstɒk/ ▷ noun, bot 1 an underground plant stem that bears buds; a rhizome. 2 a stock onto which another plant has been grafted.

rootsy ▷ adj said especially of music: influenced by, or incorporating, traditional ethnic or folk styles. • rootsiness noun.

root vegetable ▷ noun a a vegetable with an edible root; b the root itself.

rope /roʊp/ ▷ noun 1 a strong thick cord made by twisting fibres of hemp, wire or some other material together; b a length of this. 2 a number of objects, especially pearls or onions, strung together. 3 (the rope) a a hangman's noose; b execution by this means. 4 (ropes) the cords that mark off a boxing or wrestling ring, or the boundary of a cricket ground. 5 Scottish a clothes-line □ hang the washing on the rope. 6 US a lasso. 7 a long glutinous strand of a viscous substance found especially in contaminated beer. 8 as adj □ a rope ladder □ rope-soles. ▷ verb (roped, roping) 1 to tie, fasten or bind with rope or as if with rope. 2 (usually rope something in or off) to enclose, separate or divide it with a rope. 3 mountaineering to tie (climbers) together with a rope for safety. 4 chiefly N Amer to catch (an animal) with a rope; to lasso. 5 intr said of a viscous substance: to form into a rope. • give someone (enough) rope (to hang themselves) to allow them to bring about their own downfall as a result of their ill-considered or foolish actions, behaviour, etc. • know the ropes to have a thorough knowledge and experience of what needs to be done in a particular circumstance or for a particular job. • on the ropes 1 boxing driven back against the ropes of a boxing ring. 2 in a desperate position. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon rap.

■ rope someone in to persuade them to take part in some activity.

■ rope up said of a group of climbers: to tie themselves together with a rope for safety.

ropeable or ropable ▷ adj 1 able to be roped. 2 Austral & NZ slang said of cattle or horses: wild and unmanageable. 3 Austral & NZ slang said of a person: extremely or uncontrollably angry. ⊙ 19c.

rope-dance ▷ noun a tightrope performance. • rope-dancer noun.

rope's end historical 1 noun a short piece of rope used for flogging, especially for flogging a sailor. 2 a hangman's noose. ▷ verb (rope's-ended, rope's-ending) to flog someone with a rope's end. ⓘ 16c.

rope-trick ▷ noun a conjuring or other magic trick using a rope, especially an INDIAN ROPE-TRICK.

rope-walk ▷ noun, historical a long narrow shed or covered alley where ropes are made.

rope-walker ▷ noun a tightrope performer. ● rope-walking noun.

ropeway ▷ noun 1 a cable railway. 2 a rope used as a means of transportation.

rope-yarn ▷ noun 1 yarn for making rope. 2 yarn obtained by unpicking rope.

roping-down ▷ noun abseiling.

ropy /'roupɪ/ or ropey ▷ adj (ropier, ropiest) 1 said of a substance or its texture: a forming glutinous strands; b stringy. 2 rope-like. 3 colloq poor in quality. 4 colloq slightly unwell. ● ropily adverb. ● ropiness noun.

Roquefort /'rɒkfɔː(r)/ ▷ noun, trademark a strong soft blue-veined cheese made from ewes' milk. Also as adj □ Roquefort dressing. ⓘ 19c: named after the village in S France where it was originally made.

roquet /'roukeɪ, -kɪ/ ▷ noun in croquet: a stroke where a player strikes an opponent's ball with their own. ▷ verb (roqueted /-keɪd, -kɪd/, roqueting /-keɪɪŋ, -kɪŋ/) tr & intr to strike another player's ball by a roquet; to play a roquet. ⓘ 19c: a variant of CROQUET.

ro-ro /'rourou/ ▷ adj, noun (ro-ros) acronym of ROLL-ON ROLL-OFF.

rorqual /'rɔːkwəl/ ▷ noun any of several baleen whales that have a longitudinally furrowed throat (allowing for expansion when feeding) and a small dorsal fin near the tail, especially the common rorqual or FIN WHALE, and the lesser rorqual or MINKE WHALE. ⓘ 19c: French, from Norwegian røyrkval, from Norse reytharhvalr, from rauthr red + hvalr whale.

Rorschach test /'rɔːʃak —, 'rɔːʃɑːk —/ ▷ noun, psychol a test designed to show intelligence, personality type, mental state, etc in which the subject is asked to interpret a number of inkblots of a standard type. ⓘ 20c: named after Hermann Rorschach (1884–1922), Swiss psychiatrist.

rort /rɔːt/ ▷ noun, Austral slang 1 a trick or fraud. 2 a lively or riotous party. ▷ verb (rorted, rorting) intr 1 to shout or protest loudly. 2 at a race meeting: to call the odds. 3 Austral slang to commit fraud. ● rorter noun. ● rorting noun the action of commiting fraud. ⓘ 20c: back-formation from RORTY.

rorty adj 1 lively and enjoyable. 2 boisterous; rowdy. ⓘ 19c.

rosace /rou'zeɪs/ ▷ noun, archit 1 a ROSE WINDOW. 2 a rose-shaped ornament or decoration; a ROSETTE (noun 2). ⓘ 19c: French, from Latin rosaceus rosaceous.

rosaceous /rou'zeɪʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 bot denoting a plant that belongs to the family Rosaceae, including eg the rose, apple, strawberry, cherry and almond. 2 resembling a rose. ⓘ 18c: from Latin rosaceus, from rosa rose.

rosaniline ▷ noun, chem a base derived from aniline, used in dyeing and formerly as a medical fungicide. ⓘ 19c: ROSE[1] + ANILINE.

rosarian /rou'zɛərɪən/ ▷ noun someone who is keen on cultivating varieties of roses, either professionally or as a pastime. ⓘ 19c.

rosarium /rou'zɛərɪəm/ ▷ noun (rosariums or rosaria /-rɪə/) a rose-garden. ⓘ 19c.

rosary /'rouzərɪ/ ▷ noun (rosaries) 1 a a rose-garden; b a rose-bed. Also called rosery. 2 RC Church a series of prayers with a set form and order in which five or fifteen decades of Aves are recited, each decade being preceded by a Paternoster and followed by a Gloria. 3 RC Church a string of 165 beads divided into fifteen sets used to count such prayers as they are recited; b (also lesser rosary) now especially a similar string of 55 beads. 4 in other religions: a string of beads or length of knotted cord used in a similar way. ⓘ 14c: from Latin rosarium rose-garden, from rosa rose.

rose[1] /rouz/ ▷ noun 1 an erect or climbing thorny shrub that produces large, often fragrant, flowers which may be red, pink, yellow, orange or white, or some combination of these colours, followed by bright-coloured fleshy fruits known as hips. 2 the flower of this plant. 3 a rose as the national emblem of England. 4 any flowering plant that superficially resembles a rose, eg the Christmas rose. 5 the colour of a rose, usually a darkish pink. 6 (roses) a light-pink, glowing complexion □ put the roses back in one's cheeks. 7 a perforated nozzle, usually attached to the end of a hose, watering can, shower-head, etc, that makes the water come out in a spray. 8 a circular fitting in a ceiling through which an electric light flex hangs. Also called ceiling rose. 9 a circular moulding from which a door handle projects. 10 a rose-like design, eg round the sound hole of a guitar or lute, etc. 11 a ROSE-DIAMOND. 12 a ROSE WINDOW. 13 a rosette. ▷ adj relating to or like a rose or roses, especially in colour, scent or form. ● roseless adj. ● roselike adj. ● all roses or roses all the way pleasant or happy; free from problems or difficulties. ● bed of roses an easy or comfortable situation. ● under the rose in confidence; privately. Also called SUB ROSA. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon, from Latin rosa, probably from rhodon rose.

rose[2] past tense of RISE rosé /'rouzeɪ, rou'zeɪ/ ▷ noun (rosés) a light-pink wine properly made by removing the skins of red grapes after fermentation has begun. It is sometimes also made by mixing red and white wines. ⓘ 19c: French, literally 'pink'.

rose-apple ▷ noun a an E Indian tree of the clove genus; b its edible fruit.

roseate /'rouzɪət, -eɪt/ ▷ adj 1 like a rose, especially in colour. 2 unrealistically hopeful or cheerful.

rosebay ▷ noun 1 the OLEANDER. 2 (also rosebay willowherb) a common wild plant that has spikes of pale purple flowers and produces many fluffy seeds. 3 any of several rhododendrons.

rose-beetle ▷ noun a ROSE-CHAFER.

rosebud ▷ noun 1 the bud of a rose. 2 something that is considered to be like a rosebud, especially in colour or beauty. 3 literary a pretty young woman. 4 formerly a member of the branch of the Guides for younger girls, now called BROWNIES. ⓘ 15c.

rose-campion ▷ noun a garden species of campion with pink flowers and woolly, down-covered leaves.

rose-chafer ▷ noun any of several beetles, with a greenish or yellowish metallic-looking body, that feed on roses.

rose-coloured and rose-tinted ▷ adj 1 pink; rosy. 2 seen or represented in too favourable a light. ● see or look through rose-coloured or rose-tinted spectacles or glasses to view things in an unrealistically hopeful or cheerful way.

rose comb ▷ noun 1 a flat red or pinkish crest on the head of some fowls. 2 a fowl that has such a crest.

rose-cut ▷ adj said of a gem or diamond: cut in such a way as to be nearly hemispherical in form, with a flat base and many small facets rising to a low point above.

rose-diamond ▷ noun a rose-cut diamond.

rose-engine ▷ noun a lathe attachment for carving intricate patterns.

rose geranium ▷ noun any of several pelargoniums with small pink flowers and fragrant rose-scented leaves.

rosehip ▷ noun the red berry-like fruit of the rose.

rosella /roʊ'zɛlə/ ▷ noun any of various brightly coloured Australian parrots. ⓘ 19c: probably from Rosehiller, from Rose Hill, Parramatta, near Sydney, where the birds were first observed.

rose madder ▷ noun the pinkish colour made from madder pigment or dye.

rose-mallow ▷ noun 1 hollyhock. 2 hibiscus.

rosemary /'roʊzmərɪ/ ▷ noun a fragrant evergreen shrub with stiff needle-like leaves, used in cookery and perfumery. ⓘ 15c: from Latin ros dew + marinus of the sea.

rose of Jericho ▷ noun a plant of N Africa and Syria that curls up into a ball during drought. Also called RESURRECTION PLANT.

rose of Sharon ▷ noun 1 in the Bible, in the Song of Solomon: an unknown flowering plant, probably a type of narcissus. 2 now a a species of Hibiscus; b a species of Hypericum.

roseola /roʊ'zɪələ/ ▷ noun (roseolas) medicine 1 any rose-coloured rash. 2 formerly RUBELLA. ■ roseolar adj. ⓘ 19c: Latin diminutive of roseus rosy.

rosery see ROSARY

rose-tinted see ROSE-COLOURED rosette /roʊ'zɛt/ ▷ noun 1 a badge or decoration made in coloured ribbon to resemble the form of a rose, often awarded as a prize or worn to show membership of some group, etc. 2 archit a rose-shaped ornament on a wall or other surface. 3 bot a a naturally occurring cluster of leaves radiating from a central point, especially at the base of a stem; b an abnormal cluster of leaves on a stem that is a symptom of disease; c (also rosette disease) any of several plant diseases which result in such an abnormal cluster of leaves. 4 any rose-shaped structure, arrangement or figure. ▷ verb (rosetted, rosetting) 1 to award a rosette to someone or something. 2 intr, medicine said of a cell or group of cells: to form into a rosette. ■ rosetting noun, bot the development of abnormal clusters of leaves as a symptom of plant disease. ⓘ 18c: French, meaning 'little rose'.

rose-water ▷ noun water distilled from roses or scented with oil of roses, used as a perfume. ▷ adj 1 elegant and refined. 2 sentimental. 3 comfortable. ⓘ 14c.

rose window ▷ noun a circular window with ornamental tracery radiating in a symmetrical pattern from the centre. Also called rosace.

rosewood ▷ noun 1 the valuable dark red or purplish wood of any of various tropical trees used in making high quality furniture. 2 a colour or shade similar to that of rosewood. ⓘ 17c: so called because it is said to smell of roses when newly cut.

Rosh Hashanah or Rosh Hashana /rɒʃ hə'ʃɑːnə/ ▷ noun the Jewish festival of New Year, celebrated on the first and sometimes second of the month Tishri, which falls in September or October, at which, during the New Year's service, a ram's horn is blown as a call to repentance and spiritual renewal. ⓘ 18c: Hebrew, literally 'head of the year', from rosh head + hash-shanah year.

Rosicrucian /roʊzɪ'kruːʃən, rɒ-/ ▷ noun 1 historical a member of a 17c–18c society that professed knowledge of the secrets of Nature, the transmutation of metals and other occult powers. 2 a member of any of various societies or organizations that derive from this. ▷ adj relating to or characteristic of this society or those derived from it. ■ Rosicrucianism noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin rosa rose + crux cross, probably translating the name of Christian Rosenkreutz, a German who supposedly founded the society in 1484.

rosier, rosiest, rosily and rosiness see under ROSY rosin /'rɒzɪn/ ▷ noun a clear hard resin, produced by distilling turpentine prepared from dead pine wood, which is rubbed on the hair of the bows of stringed musical instruments. ▷ verb (rosined, rosining) to rub rosin on (the bow of a violin, etc). ■ rosiny adj. ⓘ 14c: variant of RESIN.

rosolio or rosoglio /roʊ'zoʊljoʊ/ ▷ noun (rosolios or rosoglios) a sweet cordial, made especially in Italy, with raisins, alcohol, spices, etc. ⓘ 19c: Italian, from Latin ros dew + sol sun.

RoSPA /'rɒspə/ ▷ abbreviation Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents.

roster /'rɒstə(r)/ ▷ noun a list or roll of people's names, especially one that shows the order in which they are to do various duties, go on leave, etc. ▷ verb (rostered, rostering) to put (someone's name) on a roster. ■ rostering noun. ⓘ 18c: from Dutch rooster a gridiron, or a list or table (because of its ruled parallel lines), from roosten to roast.

rösti see ROESTI

rostrum /'rɒstrəm/ ▷ noun (rostrums or rostra /-strə/) 1 a platform on which a public speaker stands. 2 a platform in front of an orchestra on which the conductor stands. 3 a raised platform for carrying a camera. 4 zool a a bird's beak; b a structure similar to a beak in other animals. ■ rostral adj relating to or like a rostrum. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'beak' or 'beak-head', from rodere to gnaw. In the Forum of ancient Rome, the platform for public speaking (called the Rostra), was decorated with the beak-heads of captured ships.

rosy /'roʊzɪ/ ▷ adj (rosier, rosiest) 1 rose-coloured; pink. 2 said of the complexion: with a healthy pink colour; glowing □ rosy cheeks. 3 filled or decorated with roses. 4 like a rose, especially in fragrance. 5 a hopeful or optimistic, often overly so □ He tends to take a rosy view of things; b promising □ The situation looks quite rosy. ■ rosily adverb. ■ rosiness noun. ⓘ 14c.

rosy cross ▷ noun the emblem of the Rosicrucians.

rot /rɒt/ ▷ verb (rotted, rotting) 1 tr & intr (also rot down) to decay or cause to decay or become putrefied as a result of the activity of bacteria and/or fungi. 2 intr to become corrupt. 3 intr to become physically weak, especially through being inert, confined, etc □ Mike was left to rot in a Bangkok jail. ▷ noun 1 a decay; b something which has decayed or decomposed. 2 pathol putrefaction of bodily tissues. 3 colloq nonsense; rubbish. 4 in compounds any of several plant or animal diseases caused by fungi or bacteria, eg FOOT ROT. ▷ exclamation expressing contemptuous disagreement. ■ rotter noun, chiefly dated Brit slang a thoroughly depraved, worthless or despicable person. See also ROTTEN. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon rotian.

rota /'roʊtə/ ▷ noun 1 Brit a list of duties that are to be done with the names and order of the people who are to take turns doing them; a roster. 2 (the Rota) RC Church the supreme ecclesiastical tribunal. ⓘ 17c: Latin, meaning 'wheel'.

Rotarian /roʊ'tɛərɪən/ ▷ noun a member of Rotary International, a society with branches throughout the world, that draws its membership from the business world and the professions and which aims to promote charity events and international goodwill. Also as adj. ■ Rotarianism noun.

rotary /'roʊtərɪ/ ▷ adj turning on an axis like a wheel. ▷ noun (rotaries) 1 a rotary machine. 2 N Amer a traffic roundabout. ⓘ 18c: from Latin rotarius, from rota a wheel.

Rotary Club ▷ noun a local branch of Rotary International.

rotary engine ▷ noun a vehicle or aircraft engine with cylinders set in a circle, rotating around a fixed crankshaft. Compare RADIAL ENGINE.

rotate ▷ verb /roʊ'teɪt/ (rotated, rotating) 1 tr & intr to turn or make something turn about an axis like a wheel; to revolve. 2 to arrange in an ordered sequence. 3 intr to change position, take turns in doing something, etc according to an ordered sequence. 4 to grow (different crops) in an ordered sequence on the same ground to avoid exhausting the soil and to resist the onset of plant-specific diseases. ▷ adj /ˈroʊteɪt/ bot said of the petals of a corolla: wheel-shaped; radiating like the spokes of a wheel. • rotatable adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin rotare, rotatum, from rota wheel.

rotation /roʊˈteɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the action of rotating or state of being rotated. 2 one complete turn around an axis. 3 a regular and recurring sequence or cycle. 4 CROP ROTATION.

rotator /roʊˈteɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a device that rotates or makes something else rotate. 2 anatomy a muscle that enables a limb, etc to rotate. ⓘ 17c.

Rotavator or Rotovator /ˈroʊtəveɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun, trademark (also rotavator or rotovator) a machine with a rotating blade for breaking up the soil. ⓘ 1930s: from rotary cultivator.

rotavate or rotovate ▷ verb (rotavated, rotavating) 1 to break up (soil) with a Rotavator. 2 to work something into the soil by means of a Rotavator. ⓘ 1960s: back-formation from ROTAVATOR.

rote ▷ noun mechanical use of the memory to repeat or perform something, without necessarily understanding what is memorized. • by rote mechanically; by heart, usually without understanding or regard to meaning □ learn by rote. ⓘ 14c.

rotenone /ˈroʊtənoʊn/ ▷ noun, chem a toxic crystalline substance made from derris and other plants, commonly used in ecological studies to paralyse fish and medicinally to control head lice. ⓘ 20c: from Japanese roten derris + -ONE.

rotgut ▷ noun, slang cheap alcoholic drink, especially spirits, of inferior quality. Also called gutrot.

roti /ˈroʊti/ ▷ noun (rotis) 1 a cake of unleavened bread, traditionally made in parts of India and the Caribbean. 2 a kind of sandwich made from this bread wrapped around curried vegetables, seafood or chicken. ⓘ 1920s: Hindi, meaning 'bread'.

rotifer /ˈroʊtɪfə(r)/ ▷ noun, zool any of various microscopic aquatic invertebrate animals that have an unsegmented body and swim by means of a ring of beating hair-like structures that resembles a spinning wheel. Also called wheel animalcule. ⓘ 18c: from Latin rota wheel + ferre to carry.

rotisserie /roʊˈtɪsəri/ ▷ noun (rotisseries) 1 a cooking apparatus with a spit on which meat, poultry, etc is cooked by direct heat. 2 a shop or restaurant that sells or serves meat cooked in this way. ⓘ 19c: from French rôtisserie, from rôtir to roast.

rotogravure /roʊtoʊgrəˈvjʊə(r)/ ▷ noun, printing 1 a photogravure process that uses a rotary press. 2 printed material, especially part of a magazine, produced by this method. ⓘ Early 20c: from the name of a German company Rotogravur, from Latin rota wheel + GRAVURE.

rotometer /roʊˈtɒmɪtə(r), ˈroʊtəmiːtə(r)/ ▷ noun a small hand-held device for measuring distance travelled. ⓘ Early 20c.

rotor /ˈroʊtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a rotating part of a machine, especially in an internal combustion engine. Compare STATOR. 2 a revolving cylinder attached to a ship to provide additional propulsion. 3 a system of blades, projecting from a cylinder, that rotate at high speed to provide the force to lift and propel a helicopter. 4 a rotating part of an encoding or decoding machine that changes codes by changing electrical circuits. Also as adj □ rotor blade. ⓘ Early 20c: a variant of ROTATOR.

Rotovator see ROTAVATOR

rotted past tense, past participle of ROT rotten /ˈrɒtən/ ▷ adj 1 gone bad, decayed, rotted. 2 falling or fallen to pieces from age, decay, etc. 3 morally corrupt. 4 colloq miserably unwell □ She had a bad cold and felt rotten. 5 colloq unsatisfactory □ a rotten plan. 6 colloq unpleasant; disagreeable □ rotten weather. ▷ adverb, colloq very much; extremely □ She fancied him rotten. • rottenly adverb. • rottenness noun. ⓘ 13c: from Norse rotinn.

rotten apple ▷ noun, colloq a corrupt person.

rotten borough ▷ noun, historical before the Reform Act of 1832, a borough that could elect an MP even though it had few or no inhabitants.

rottenstone /ˈrɒtənstoʊn/ ▷ noun a decomposed silicious limestone, used as a powder for polishing metals.

rotter and rotting see under ROT

Rottweiler /ˈrɒtvaɪlə(r), -waɪlə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a large, powerfully built black and tan dog with a smooth coat, originally from Germany. 2 (often rottweiler) colloq a rudely aggressive or brutish person. Also as adj □ rottweiler politics. ⓘ Early 20c: named after Rottweil in SW Germany.

rotund /roʊˈtʌnd/ ▷ adj 1 chiefly bot, zool round or rounded in form; nearly spherical. 2 said of a person, part of the body, etc: plump. 3 said of speech, language, etc: impressive or grandiloquent. • rotundity noun 1 someone or something that is rotund. 2 roundness. • rotundly adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin rotundus, from rota a wheel.

rotunda /roʊˈtʌndə/ ▷ noun (rotundas) a round, usually domed, building or hall. ⓘ 17c: from Italian rotonda round.

ROU ▷ abbreviation Republic of Uruguay.

rouble or ruble /ˈruːbəl/ ▷ noun the standard unit of currency in Russia and some other states of the CIS. ⓘ 16c: from Russian rubl' a silver bar.

roucou /ruːˈkuː/ ▷ noun a ANNATTO; b the tropical American tree from which this comes. ⓘ 17c: French, from Tupí urucú.

roué /ˈruːeɪ/ ▷ noun (roués) old use a debauched, disreputable man; a rake. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'broken on the wheel', from roue a wheel. The name was first applied to the dissolute companions of Philippe, Duke of Orléans, Regent of France 1715–23, to suggest that they deserved such punishment.

rouge /ruːʒ/ ▷ noun 1 old use a pink or red cosmetic powder or cream used to colour the cheeks, originally a mixture of safflower and talc. Compare BLUSHER. 2 (also jeweller's rouge) a fine powder of hydrated ferric oxide used for polishing metal. 3 (in full vin rouge) French red wine. ▷ verb (rouged, rouging) 1 to apply rouge to (the cheeks, etc). 2 intr to use rouge. 3 intr to blush. ⓘ 16c; 15c in obsolete sense 'red': French, meaning 'red'.

rouge-et-noir /ruːʒeɪˈnwɑː(r)/ ▷ noun a gambling card-game in which the stakes are laid on a table marked with two red and two black diamonds. ⓘ 18c: French, meaning 'red and black'.

rough /rʌf/ ▷ adj 1 said of a surface or texture: not smooth, even or regular. 2 said of ground: covered with stones, tall grass, bushes and/or scrub. 3 said of an animal: covered with shaggy or coarse hair. 4 said of a sound: harsh or grating □ a rough voice. 5 said of a person's character, behaviour, etc: noisy, coarse or violent. 6 said of weather, the sea, etc: stormy. 7 requiring hard work or considerable physical effort, or involving great difficulty, tension, etc □ a rough day at work. 8 (especially rough on someone) unpleasant and hard for them to bear □ a decision which is rough on the employees. 9 said of a guess, calculation, etc: approximate. 10 not polished or refined □ a rough draft. 11 colloq slightly unwell and tired, especially because of heavy drinking or lack of sleep. 12 not well-kept □ lives in a really rough area. ▷ noun 1 (the rough) rough ground, especially the uncut grass at the side of a golf fairway. 2 the unpleasant or disagreeable side of something, especially take the rough with the smooth. 3 a rough or crude state. 4 a crude preliminary sketch. 5 a thug or hooligan. ▷ adverb roughly. ▷ verb (roughed, roughing) to make something rough; to roughen. ■ roughish adj somewhat rough. ■ roughly adverb 1 in a rough way. 2 approximately. ■ roughness noun. ■ a bit of rough 1 someone, especially a man, whose lack of sophistication and coarse manner make them sexually attractive to some people. 2 sexual activity that involves a degree of violence. ■ rough it colloq to live in a very basic or primitive way, without the usual comforts of life one is accustomed to. ■ sleep rough to sleep in the open without proper shelter. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ruh.

■ rough something in to outline or sketch it in roughly.

■ rough something out to do a preliminary sketch of it or give a preliminary explanation of it.

■ rough someone up colloq to beat them up.

roughage /ˈrʌfɪdʒ/ ▷ noun DIETARY FIBRE. ⓘ 19c.

rough-and-ready ▷ adj 1 quickly prepared and not polished or perfect, but usually good enough for the purpose. 2 said of a person: friendly and pleasant but not polite or refined.

rough-and-tumble ▷ noun disorderly but usually friendly fighting or scuffling. ▷ adj haphazard; disorderly.

rough breathing ▷ noun in ancient Greek: the symbol (ʽ) denoting the sound h when inserted at the beginning of a word before a vowel or RHO.

roughcast /ˈrʌfkɑːst/ ▷ noun 1 a mixture of plaster and small stones used to cover the outside walls of buildings. 2 a rough or preliminary model, etc. ▷ verb (roughcast, roughcasting) 1 to cover (a wall) with roughcast. 2 to prepare a rough or preliminary model, etc of something. ▷ adj said of a wall: covered or coated with roughcast.

rough diamond ▷ noun 1 an uncut and unpolished diamond. 2 colloq a good-natured person with rough unrefined manners.

rough-dry ▷ adj said of clothes: dried ready for ironing or pressing. ▷ verb (rough-dried, rough-drying) to dry (clothes, etc) without ironing them.

roughen /ˈrʌfən/ ▷ verb (roughened, roughening) tr & intr to make something rough or to become rough.

rough-hew ▷ verb to shape something crudely and without refining. ■ rough-hewn adj crude, unpolished, unrefined.

roughhouse /ˈrʌfhaʊs/ ▷ noun, colloq a disturbance or brawl. ▷ verb (roughhoused, roughhousing) 1 intr to create a disturbance; to brawl. 2 to maltreat someone.

roughneck /ˈrʌfnɛk/ ▷ noun, colloq 1 a worker on an oil rig, especially an unskilled labourer. 2 a rough and rowdy person.

rough passage ▷ noun 1 a stormy sea voyage. 2 colloq a difficult trying time.

roughrider /ˈrʌfraɪdə(r)/ ▷ noun a rider of untrained horses; a horse-breaker.

roughshod /ˈrʌfʃɒd/ ▷ adj said of a horse: with horseshoes that have projecting nails which prevent the horse from slipping in wet weather. ■ ride roughshod over someone to treat them arrogantly and without regard for their feelings.

rough-stuff ▷ noun 1 coarse paint applied after priming and before finishing. 2 colloq violent behaviour.

rough trade ▷ noun, slang in homosexual use: 1 a casual sexual partner or partners. 2 a violent or sadistic male prostitute.

roulade /ruːˈlɑːd/ ▷ noun 1 music a melodic embellishment; b a run, turn, etc sung to one syllable. 2 cookery something, usually meat, cooked in the shape of a roll, often with a filling. ⓘ 18c: French, from rouler to roll.

roulette /ruːˈlɛt/ ▷ noun 1 a gambling game in which a ball is dropped into a revolving wheel, the players betting on which of its many small, numbered compartments the ball will come to rest in. 2 a small tool with a toothed wheel, used for making a line of dots in etching or engraving, and perforating paper eg in making postage stamps. 3 geom a curve formed by a point on one curve when rolling along another curve. ⓘ 18c: French, from roue a wheel.

Roumanian see ROMANIAN

round /raʊnd/ ▷ adj 1 shaped like, or approximately like, a circle or a ball. 2 not angular; with a curved outline. 3 said of a body or part of a body: curved and plump □ a round face. 4 moving in or forming a circle. 5 said of numbers: complete and exact □ a round dozen. 6 said of a number: without a fraction. 7 said of a number: approximate; without taking minor amounts into account. 8 said of a sum of money: considerable, substantial. 9 said of a character in a story or novel: fully and realistically developed. 10 plain-spoken; candid. 11 said of a vowel: pronounced with the lips forming a circle. 12 said of a sound: smooth; sonorous. 13 said of a pace: brisk; vigorous. ▷ adverb 1 in a circular direction or with a circular or revolving movement. 2 in or to the opposite direction, position or opinion □ win someone round. 3 in, by or along a circuitous or indirect route. 4 on all sides so as to surround □ gather round. 5 from one person to another successively □ pass it round. 6 in rotation, so as to return to the starting point □ wait until spring comes round. 7 from place to place □ drive round for a while. 8 in circumference □ measures six feet round. 9 to a particular place, especially someone's home □ come round for supper. ▷ prep 1 on all sides of so as to surround or enclose. 2 so as to move or revolve around a centre or axis and return to the starting point □ run round the field. 3 colloq having as a central point or basis □ a story built round her experiences. 4 from place to place in □ We went round the town shopping. 5 in all or various directions from somewhere; close to it. 6 so as to pass, or having passed, in a curved course □ drive round the corner. ▷ noun 1 something round, and often flat, in shape. 2 a movement in a circle; b a complete revolution round a circuit or path. 3 a single slice of bread. 4 a sandwich, or two or more sandwiches, made from two slices of bread. 5 a cut of beef across the thigh-bone of an animal. 6 golf the playing of all 18 holes on a course in a single session. 7 one of a recurring series of events, actions, etc; a session □ a round of talks. 8 a series of regular activities; a daily routine □ the daily round. 9 a regular route followed, especially for the sale or delivery of goods □ a milk round. 10 (usually rounds) a sequence of visits, usually a regular one, made by a doctor to patients, either in a hospital or their homes. 11 a stage in a competition □ through to the second round. 12 a single turn by every member of a group of people playing a game, eg in a card game. 13 a single period of play, competition, etc in a group of such periods, eg in boxing, wrestling, etc. 14 a burst of applause or cheering. 15 a single bullet or charge of ammunition. 16 a number of drinks bought at the same time for all the members of a group. 17 music an unaccompanied song in which different people all sing the same part continuously but start, and therefore end, at different times. 18 a sequence in which each bell in a set or peal is rung once. ▷ verb (rounded, rounding) 1 a to make something round; b intr to become round. 2 to go round something □ The car rounded the corner. 3 to pronounce (a sound) with rounded lips. ■ rounded adj 1 curved; not angular. 2 complete; fully developed. 3 said of a sound or vowel: pronounced with the lips rounded. 4 cookery said of measurements (usually of spoons in Britain and cups in N America): filled so as to be slightly more than level with the rim. ■ rounder noun 1 someone or something that rounds. 2 in the game of ROUNDERS: a complete circuit. ■

roundish adj. ■ roundly adverb 1 a in a round way; b so as to be round. 2 frankly; bluntly. ■ roundness noun. ■ go or make the rounds said of news, information, etc: 1 to be passed round from person to person; to circulate. 2 to patrol. ■ in the round 1 with all details shown or considered. 2 theat with the audience seated on at least three, and often four, sides of the stage. ■ round about 1 on all sides; in a ring surrounding. 2 the other way about. 3 approximately □ round about four o'clock. ■ round the clock see ROUND-THE-CLOCK. ⊙ 13c: from French ront, from Latin rotundus, from rota a wheel.

■ round something down to lower (a number) to the nearest convenient figure so that it can be expressed as a round number □ round 15.47 down to 15.

■ round something off 1 to make its corners, angles, etc smooth. 2 to complete it successfully and pleasantly □ round off the meal with a glass of brandy.

■ round on someone 1 to turn on or attack them. 2 to reply angrily to them, or attack them verbally.

■ round something up 1 to raise (a number) to the nearest convenient figure so that it can be expressed as a round number □ round 15.89 up to 16. 2 to collect (wanted people, or things such as livestock or facts) together. See also ROUND-UP.

roundabout /'raʊndəbaʊt/ ⊳ noun 1 Brit a circular road junction, usually with an island in the middle, where several roads meet, and around which traffic must travel in the same direction, giving way to vehicles coming from the right. 2 Brit a MERRY-GO-ROUND. ⊳ adj not direct; circuitous □ a roundabout way of explaining something.

round-arm or roundarm ⊳ adj 1 cricket a said of a bowling action: performed with a nearly horizontal outward swing of the arm; b said of a bowler: using such a bowling action. 2 said of a punch or blow, etc: given with an outward swing of the arm. ⊳ adverb with a round-arm action. ⊙ 19c.

round dance ⊳ noun 1 a dance in which the dancers form a ring. 2 a dance, such as the waltz, in which the couples revolve about each other.

roundel /'raʊndəl/ ⊳ noun 1 a small circular window or design. 2 a coloured, round identification disc on the wing of a military aircraft. ⊙ 13c: from French rondel a little circle.

roundelay /'raʊndəleɪ/ ⊳ noun, music a a simple song with a refrain; b a piece of music for such a song. ⊙ 16c: from French rondelet, from rondel a little circle.

rounders ⊳ noun a team game similar to baseball, in which each team sends players in to bat in turn while the other team bowls and fields. The batter scores a run if they successfully run round a square course in one go.

roundhand ⊳ noun a style of hand-writing in which the letters are well rounded and free.

Roundhead ⊳ noun, historical in the English Civil War (1642–9): a supporter of the parliamentary party against Charles I. ⊙ 17c: so called because of their custom of wearing closely-cut hair.

roundhouse ⊳ noun 1 N Amer an engine-house with a turntable. 2 originally US, boxing slang a wild swinging punch or style of punching. 3 naut a cabin on the after part of the quarterdeck, especially of a sailing ship. 4 archaeol a circular structure, eg a domestic building, especially one dating from the Bronze Age or Iron Age.

round robin ⊳ noun 1 a a petition or protest, especially one in which the names are written in a circle to conceal the ringleader; b any letter, petition, etc that is signed by many people. 2 sport a tournament in which every competitor plays each of the others in turn.

round-shouldered ⊳ adj said of a person: with stooping shoulders and a back which bends forward slightly at the top.

round table ⊳ noun 1 (Round Table) historical the table at which King Arthur and his knights sat. It was round in shape so that no individual knight should have precedence. 2 a a meeting or conference at which the participants meet on equal terms; b as adj meeting on equal terms □ round-table talks.

round-the-clock ⊳ adj lasting through the day and night □ round-the-clock surveillance. ⊳ adverb (round the clock) all day and all night; for twenty-four hours.

round trip ⊳ noun a trip to a place and back again, usually returning by a different route.

round-up ⊳ noun 1 a gathering together of animals, especially all the cattle on a ranch. 2 a gathering together of people wanted by the police. 3 a summary or résumé of facts □ a round-up of the news. See also ROUND UP at ROUND.

round window ⊳ noun, anatomy in vertebrates: the lower of the two membrane-covered openings between the middle ear and the inner ear. Technical equivalent fenestra rotunda.

roundworm ⊳ noun, zool an invertebrate animal with a long slender unsegmented body. It is mostly parasitic within the bodies of humans and animals and can cause intestinal disorders.

roup /raʊp/ Scot & N Eng dialect ⊳ noun a sale by auction. ⊳ verb (rouped, rouping) to sell something by auction. ⊙ 16c: Scandinavian, originally meaning 'to shout'.

rouse /raʊz/ ⊳ verb (roused, rousing) 1 to arouse or awaken oneself or someone else from sleep, listlessness or lethargy. 2 intr to awaken or become more fully conscious or alert. 3 to excite or provoke □ the injustice of it roused her anger. 4 intr to become excited, provoked, etc. 5 to bring (game) out from cover or a lair. ■ rouser noun. ■ rousing adj stirring; exciting. ■ rousingly adverb. ⊙ 15c, in the sense (said of a hawk) 'to ruffle or shake the feathers'.

rouseabout /'raʊzəbaʊt/ ⊳ noun, Austral, NZ an odd-job man on a sheep station.

roustabout /'raʊstəbaʊt/ ⊳ noun 1 an unskilled labourer, eg on an oil-rig or a farm. 2 Austral, NZ a variant of ROUSEABOUT.

rout[1] /raʊt/ ⊳ verb (routed, routing) 1 to defeat (an army, troops, a sporting team, etc) completely. 2 to make (an army, troops, etc) retreat in disorderly confusion. ⊳ noun 1 a complete and overwhelming defeat. 2 a confused and disorderly retreat. 3 law a group of three or more people gathered together to commit a crime or some unlawful act. 4 a disorderly and noisy group of people. ⊙ 13c: from French route, from Latin rupta a detachment.

rout[2] /raʊt/ ⊳ verb (routed, routing) 1 tr & intr to dig something up, especially (said of animals) with the snout. 2 (usually rout someone out or up) to find or fetch them by searching. ⊙ 16c variant of ROOT[2].

route /ruːt; Brit military & US general raʊt/ ⊳ noun 1 the way travelled on a regular journey. 2 a particular group of roads followed to get to a place. 3 N Amer a regular series of calls, eg for the collection or sale of goods; a round. ⊳ verb (routed, routeing or routing) 1 to arrange a route for (a journey, etc). 2 to send someone or something by a particular route. ⊙ 13c: from French rute, from Latin rupta via broken road, from rumpere to break.

route man or routeman ⊳ noun, N Amer a shop-keeper's roundsman.

route march ⊳ noun a long and tiring march, especially one for soldiers in training.

route-step ⊳ noun a type of march in which soldiers are not required to keep step.

routine /ruː'tiːn/ ⊳ noun 1 a regular or unvarying series of actions or way of doing things □ a daily routine. 2 regular or unvarying procedure. 3 a set series of movements or steps in a dance, or in a skating performance, etc. 4 a comedian's or singer's act. 5 computing a program or part of one which performs a specific function. ▷ adj 1 unvarying. 2 standard; ordinary □ a routine examination. 3 done as part of a routine. ● routinely adverb. ⓒ 17c: French, from route route, a regular or customary way.

routinize or routinise ▷ verb (routinized, routinizing) 1 to make something into a routine. 2 to subject something to routine or a routine. ● routinization noun.

roux /ruː/ ▷ noun (plural roux /ruː, ruːz/) cookery a cooked mixture of flour and fat, usually butter, used to thicken sauces. ⓒ 19c: French, from beurre roux, literally 'brown butter'.

rove[1] /roʊv/ ▷ verb (roved, roving) 1 intr to roam about aimlessly. 2 to wander over or through (a particular area, place, etc). 3 intr said of the eyes: to keep looking in different directions; to wander. ▷ noun the act of roving. ⓒ 16c: perhaps ultimately from Scandinavian.

rove[2] /roʊv/ ▷ verb (roved, roving) to twist (fibres of cotton or wool) slightly in preparation for spinning. ▷ noun a roved strand of fibre. ⓒ 18c.

rove[3] /roʊv/ ▷ noun a metal plate or ring through which a rivet is put and clinched. ⓒ 15c.

rove[4] past tense, past participle of REEVE rover ▷ noun 1 someone who roves; a wanderer. 2 archery a random or distant mark selected as a target. 3 (also Rover, rover scout or Rover Scout) formerly a member of a senior branch of the (Boy) Scout organization. 4 in Australian Rules football: a player with no fixed position who forms part of the ruck. 5 N Amer football a defensive linebacker. 6 in croquet: a ball or player ready to peg out. 7 a remote-controlled surface vehicle used in extra-terrestrial exploration.

roving /ˈroʊvɪŋ/ ▷ adj 1 wandering; likely to ramble or stray. 2 not confined to one particular place □ roving commission. ● rovingly adverb. ● have a roving eye to have a tendency to show passing sexual interest in one person after another.

row[1] /roʊ/ ▷ noun 1 a number of people or things arranged in a line. 2 in a cinema or theatre: a line of seats. 3 a line of plants in a garden □ a row of cabbages. 4 often in street-names: a street with a continuous line of houses on one or both sides. 5 math a horizontal arrangement of numbers, terms, etc. 6 in knitting: a complete line of stitches. ● a hard row to hoe a difficult job or destiny. ● in a row 1 forming a row. 2 colloq in an unbroken sequence; in succession □ three telephone calls in a row. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon raw.

row[2] /roʊ/ ▷ verb (rowed, rowing) 1 to move (a boat) through the water using oars. 2 to carry (people, goods, etc) in a rowing boat. 3 intr to race in rowing boats for sport. 4 intr to compete in a rowing race. ▷ noun 1 the action or an act of rowing a boat. 2 a a period of rowing; b a distance of rowing. 3 a trip in a rowing boat. ● rower noun. See also OARSMAN. ● rowing noun. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon rowan.

■ row over to win a rowing race (usually a heat) by rowing the course unopposed.

row[3] /raʊ/ ▷ noun 1 a noisy quarrel. 2 a loud unpleasant noise or disturbance. 3 a severe reprimand. ▷ verb (rowed, rowing) intr to quarrel noisily. ⓒ 18c.

rowan /ˈroʊən, ˈraʊən/ ▷ noun 1 (also rowan-tree) a tree of the rose family, with small pinnate leaves. Also called mountain ash. 2 (also rowan-berry) the small red or pink berry-like fruit of this tree. ⓒ 15c: Scandinavian, related to Norse reynir, Norwegian rogn, raun.

rowboat ▷ noun, N Amer a ROWING BOAT.

rowdy /ˈraʊdɪ/ ▷ adj (rowdier, rowdiest) a noisy and rough; disorderly; creating disturbance □ a rowdy party; b with a tendency to behave in a noisy disorderly way. ▷ noun (rowdies) colloq a noisy, rough, disorderly person. ● rowdily adverb. ● rowdiness noun. ● rowdyism noun. ⓒ 19c.

rowel /ˈraʊəl/ ▷ noun 1 a small spiked wheel attached to a spur. 2 vet medicine, historical a circular piece of material, often leather, inserted under the skin, especially of a horse, to produce a discharge. ▷ verb (rowelled, rowelling) 1 to spur (a horse) with a rowel (sense 1). 2 to treat (an animal, especially a horse) with a rowel (sense 2). ⓒ 14c: from French roel a small wheel, from Latin rotella, from rota a wheel.

rowel-spur ▷ noun a spur with a rowel attached.

rower see under ROW[2]

row house ▷ noun, N Amer a terraced house.

rowing boat ▷ noun, Brit a small boat which is moved by oars. N Amer equivalent rowboat.

rowing machine ▷ noun a static exercise machine with a sliding seat and handgrips that can be pulled to simulate rowing.

rowlock /ˈrɒlək/ ▷ noun a device that holds an oar in place and acts as a fulcrum for it. ⓒ 18c.

royal /ˈrɔɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or suitable for a king or queen. 2 (sometimes Royal) under the patronage or in the service of the monarch □ Royal Geographical Society. 3 belonging to the monarch. 4 related to the monarch. 5 regal; magnificent. 6 larger or of better quality, etc than usual. 7 naut situated immediately above the top-gallant. ▷ noun 1 (sometimes Royal) colloq a member of a royal family. 2 any of various gold coins. 3 naut a sail immediately above the top-gallant sail on a royal mast. 4 (also royal stag) a stag with antlers of 12 or more points. 5 a size of paper, either 19 × 24in (483 × 610mm) of writing paper, or 20 × 25in (508 × 635mm) of printing paper. ● royally adverb. ● the Royal We or the royal we 1 a monarch's use of 'we' instead of 'I' when speaking of himself or herself. 2 jocular the use by any individual of 'we' instead of 'I'. ⓒ 14c: from French roial, from Latin regalis regal, suitable for a king, from rex king.

royal assent ▷ noun in the UK: formal permission given by the sovereign for a parliamentary act to become law.

royal blue ▷ noun a rich bright deep-coloured blue.

Royal British Legion ▷ noun an association for former members of the armed forces, founded in 1921.

royal burgh ▷ noun in Scotland: a burgh established by a royal charter.

Royal Commission or royal commission ▷ noun in the UK: a group of people appointed by the crown, at the request of the government, to inquire into and report on some matter.

royal fern ▷ noun the most striking of British ferns, with very large fronds.

royal flush ▷ noun, in poker, etc: an unbeatable STRAIGHT FLUSH made up of the ten, jack, queen, king and ace.

royal icing ▷ noun, cookery a type of hard icing made with white of egg, used especially on rich fruit cakes.

royalist or Royalist /ˈrɔɪəlɪst/ (also Royalist) ▷ noun 1 a supporter of monarchy or of a specified monarchy. 2 historical during the English Civil War (1642–9): a supporter of Charles I. ▷ adj relating to royalists. ● royalism noun. ⓒ 17c.

royal jelly ▷ noun a rich protein substance secreted by worker bees and fed to all very young larvae and, throughout their development, to certain female larvae destined to become queen bees.

royal mast ▷ noun, naut the fourth and highest part of a mast, usually made in one piece with the top-gallant mast.

royal palm ▷ noun any of several palm trees found in tropical America.

royal prerogative ▷ noun the right of a monarch, in theory not restricted in any way but in practice established by custom.

royal standard ▷ noun a banner that bears the British royal arms, flown wherever the monarch is present.

royal tennis see REAL TENNIS royalty /ˈrɔɪəltɪ/ ▷ noun (royalties) 1 the character, state, office or power of a king or queen. 2 members of royal families, either individually or collectively. 3 royal authority. 4 a percentage of the profits from each copy of a book, piece of music, invention, etc that is sold, publicly performed or used, which is paid to the author, composer, inventor, etc. 5 a payment made by companies who mine minerals, oil or gas to the person who owns the land the company is mining or the mineral rights to it. 6 a right, especially to minerals, granted by a king or queen to an individual or company. ◎ 14c.

royal warrant ▷ noun an official authorization to a tradesman to supply goods to a royal household.

rozzer /ˈrɒzə(r)/ ▷ noun, Brit slang a policeman. ◎ 19c.

RP ▷ abbreviation 1 Received Pronunciation. 2 Reformed Presbyterian. 3 Regius Professor. 4 IVR Republic of the Philippines. 5 Royal Society of Portrait Painters.

RPB ▷ abbreviation recognized professional body.

RPG ▷ abbreviation, computing report program generator, a programming language used in business.

RPI ▷ abbreviation retail price index.

RPM ▷ abbreviation retail price maintenance.

rpm ▷ abbreviation revolutions per minute.

RPO ▷ abbreviation Royal Philharmonic Orchestra.

RPS ▷ abbreviation Royal Photographic Society.

rps ▷ abbreviation revolutions per second.

RPV ▷ abbreviation remotely piloted vehicle.

RR ▷ abbreviation Right Reverend.

-rrhagia /reɪdʒɪə/ ▷ combining form, pathol, denoting abnormal or excessive discharge. ◎ Latin, from Greek rhegnunai to break or burst.

-rrhoea or (especially US) -rrhea /rɪːə/ ▷ combining form, pathol, denoting abnormal or excessive flow. ◎ Latin, from Greek rhoia a flow.

RRP ▷ abbreviation recommended retail price.

RS ▷ abbreviation Royal Society.

Rs ▷ symbol rupees.

RSA ▷ abbreviation 1 Republic of South Africa. 2 NZ Returned Services Association. 3 a Royal Scottish Academy; b Royal Scottish Academician. 4 Royal Society of Arts.

RSC ▷ abbreviation 1 Royal Shakespeare Company. 2 Royal Society of Chemistry.

RSFSR ▷ abbreviation, formerly Russian Socialist Federative Socialist Republic, the largest administrative district of the Soviet Union.

RSI ▷ abbreviation, medicine repetitive strain injury.

RSL ▷ abbreviation 1 Austral Returned Services League. 2 Royal Society of Literature.

RSM ▷ abbreviation 1 regimental sergeant major. 2 IVR Republic of San Marino. 3 Royal School of Music. 4 Royal Society of Medicine.

RSNC ▷ abbreviation Royal Society for Nature Conservation.

RSNO ▷ abbreviation Royal Scottish National Orchestra (formerly SNO).

RSNZ ▷ abbreviation Royal Society of New Zealand.

RSPB ▷ abbreviation Royal Society for the Protection of Birds.

RSPCA ▷ abbreviation Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

RSSA ▷ abbreviation Royal Scottish Society of Arts.

RSSPCC ▷ abbreviation Royal Scottish Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

RSV ▷ abbreviation Revised Standard Version (of the Bible).

RSVP ▷ abbreviation often written on invitations: répondez s'il vous plaît (French), please reply.

RTE ▷ abbreviation: Radio Telefís Éireann (Irish Gaelic), Irish Radio and Television.

Rt Hon ▷ abbreviation Right Honourable.

Rt Rev ▷ abbreviation Right Reverend.

RU ▷ abbreviation 1 IVR Republic of Burundi. 2 Rugby Union.

Ru ▷ symbol, chem ruthenium.

rub ▷ verb (rubbed, rubbing) 1 to apply pressure and friction to something by moving one's hand or an object backwards and forwards over its surface. 2 intr (usually rub against, on or along something) to move backwards and forwards against, on or along it with pressure and friction. 3 (usually rub something on or into something else) to apply (ointment, polish, etc) to a surface with pressure so that it is evenly spread, absorbed, etc. 4 to clean something or polish, dry, smooth it, etc by applying pressure and friction. 5 tr & intr (often rub something away, off, out, etc) to remove it or be removed by pressure and friction. 6 tr & intr to be sore or make something sore by pressure and friction; to chafe. 7 tr & intr to fray by pressure and friction. 8 intr, bowls said of a bowl: to be slowed down or deflected by unevenness in the green, an obstacle, etc. ▷ noun 1 the process or an act of rubbing. 2 an obstacle or difficulty □ It will cost a lot and there's the rub. 3 bowls something that slows down or deflects a bowl. • rubber see separate entries. • rubbing noun 1 application of friction. 2 an impression or copy made by placing paper over a raised surface and rubbing the paper with crayon, wax, chalk, etc □ a brass rubbing. See also FROTTAGE (sense 1). • rub shoulders to come into social contact. • rub someone's nose in it to persist in reminding someone of a fault or mistake they have made. • rub someone up the wrong way to annoy or irritate them, especially by dealing with them carelessly or tactlessly. ◎ 14c.

■ rub along colloq to manage to cope, make progress, etc without any particular difficulties.

■ rub along with someone colloq to be on more or less friendly terms with them.

■ rub something down 1 to rub (one's body, a horse, etc) briskly from head to foot, eg to dry it. 2 to prepare (a surface) to receive new paint or varnish by rubbing the old paint or varnish off. 3 to become or make something smooth by rubbing.

■ rub something in 1 to apply (ointment, etc) by rubbing. 2 cookery to mix (fat) into flour by rubbing one's fingertips together in the mixture. 3 colloq to insist on talking about or emphasizing (an embarrassing fact or circumstance).

■ rub off on someone to have an effect on or be passed to someone by close association □ Some of his bad habits have rubbed off on you.

■ rub someone out N Amer slang to murder them.

■ rub something out to remove it by rubbing, especially with an eraser.

■ rub someone up slang to rub against someone in an attempt to excite them or oneself sexually.

■ rub something up 1 to polish it. 2 to refresh one's memory or knowledge of it.

rubaiyat /ˈruːbaɪjat/ ⊳ noun a Persian verse form consisting of four-line stanzas. ⓘ 19c: Arabic plural of rubaiyah a quatrain.

rubato /ruˈbɑːtoʊ/ music ⊳ noun (rubatos or rubati /ruˈbɑːtiː/) a modified or distorted tempo in which certain notes of a phrase, etc may be shortened (by a slight quickening of tempo) and others lengthened but the overall length of the phrase remains the same. ⊳ adverb, adj with such freedom of tempo. ⓘ 18c: Italian, literally 'robbed', from rubare to steal.

rubber¹ /ˈrʌbə(r)/ ⊳ noun 1 any of various natural or synthetic polymers characterized by their elasticity, strength and resilience, obtained from the latex of certain plants, especially the rubber tree, or manufactured artificially from petroleum and coal products. 2 Brit a small piece of rubber or plastic used for rubbing out pencil or ink marks on paper; an eraser. 3 slang a condom. 4 a cabinetmaker's cloth or pad used for polishing. 5 (rubbers) a originally US waterproof rubber overshoes; galoshes; b plimsolls. 6 any person, device or machine part that rubs. ⓘ 16c: from RUB.

rubber² /ˈrʌbə(r)/ ⊳ noun 1 bridge, whist, etc a a match to play for the best of three or sometimes five games; b the winning of such a match. 2 loosely a session of card-playing. 3 a series of games in any of various sports, such as cricket, tennis, etc. ⓘ 16c.

rubber band ⊳ noun an ELASTIC BAND.

rubber cement ⊳ noun a type of adhesive made of rubber dissolved in a solvent.

rubber cheque ⊳ noun, slang a cheque that bounces.

rubber goods ⊳ plural noun, euphemistic condoms.

rubberize or rubberise ⊳ verb (rubberized, rubberizing) to coat or impregnate (a substance, especially a textile) with rubber.

rubberneck ⊳ noun, originally US slang 1 someone who stares or gapes inquisitively or stupidly. 2 a tourist on a guided tour. ⊳ verb (rubbernecked, rubbernecking) 1 intr to gape inquisitively or stupidly. 2 intr to go on a guided tour; to sightsee. 3 to stare at something. ⓘ 19c.

rubber plant ⊳ noun 1 a plant with large glossy dark green leaves, native to S Asia, where it is cultivated as a source of rubber, and widely grown elsewhere as an ornamental pot plant. 2 a RUBBER TREE.

rubber stamp ⊳ noun 1 a device made of rubber with figures, letters, names, etc marked on it, used to stamp a name, date, etc on books or papers. 2 an automatic, unthinking or routine agreement or authorization. 3 a person or group of people required to approve or authorize the decisions or actions of others, but who do not have the power, courage, etc to withold this approval or authorization. ⊳ verb (rubber-stamp) 1 to mark something with a rubber stamp. 2 colloq to approve or authorize something automatically, unthinkingly or routinely.

rubber tree ⊳ noun any of various trees which produce a milky white liquid that is used to make rubber, especially a large tree native to S America, and extensively cultivated in plantations in SE Asia, especially Malaya.

rubbery ⊳ adj 1 like rubber. 2 flexible. • rubberiness noun.

rubbing see under RUB.

rubbish /ˈrʌbɪʃ/ ⊳ noun 1 waste material; refuse; litter. Also as adj □ rubbish bin. 2 worthless or useless material or objects. 3 colloq worthless or absurd talk, writing, etc; nonsense. ⊳ verb (rubbished, rubbishing) colloq to criticize or dismiss something as worthless. • rubbishy adj worthless; trashy. ⓘ 14c as noun; 1950s as verb.

rubble /ˈrʌbəl/ ⊳ noun 1 pieces of broken stones, bricks, plaster, etc, usually from ruined or demolished buildings. 2 small rough stones used in building, especially as a filling between walls. 3 a (also rubble-work) coarse masonry made from such stones; b as adj □ rubble-stone. ⓘ 14c.

rub-down ⊳ noun an act of rubbing something down, especially to clean or prepare a surface.

rube /ruːb/ ⊳ noun, N Amer slang a country bumpkin; an uncouth or unsophisticated person. ⓘ 19c: from the personal name Reuben.

rubefacient /ruːbɪˈfeɪʃənt/ medicine ⊳ adj causing redness or mild inflammation. ⊳ noun an external application that reddens the skin. ⓘ 19c.

rubefaction /ruːbɪˈfakʃən/ ⊳ noun reddening or redness of the skin, especially one that is caused artificially. ⓘ 17c: from Latin rubefacere, rubefactum from rubeus.

rubella /roˈbelə/ ⊳ noun, medicine a viral disease that is highly contagious, especially in childhood, characterized by a reddish-pink rash and swelling of the lymph glands. It is similar to measles but milder except for the possible harmful effects on the foetus of an expectant mother infected early in pregnancy. Also called German measles. ⓘ 19c: from Latin rubellus reddish, from rubeus red.

rubellite /ˈruːbəlaɪt/ ⊳ noun a red variety of the mineral tourmaline, used as a gemstone. ⓘ 18c: from Latin rubellus reddish + -ITE.

rubeola /ruˈbɪələ/ ⊳ noun, medicine measles. ⓘ 19c in this sense; 17c in sense 'a rash of red spots or pimples': from Latin rubeus red.

Rubicon or rubicon /ˈruːbɪkɒn/ ⊳ noun 1 a boundary which, once crossed, commits someone crossing it to an irrevocable course of action. 2 cards in piquet: the winning of a game before one's opponent scores 100. • cross or pass the Rubicon to take a decisive and irrevocable step. ⓘ 17c: from the name of a stream in NE Italy that separated Julius Caesar's province of Cisalpine Gaul and Italy proper. By crossing the stream with his army in 49 BC Caesar effectively declared war on the Roman republic and began a civil war.

rubicund /ˈruːbɪkənd/ ⊳ adj said especially of the face or complexion: red or rosy; ruddy. ⓘ 16c: from Latin rubicundus, from rubere to be red, from ruber red.

rubidium /ruˈbɪdɪəm/ ⊳ noun, chem (symbol Rb, atomic number 37) a silvery-white, highly reactive metallic element, used in photoelectric cells. ⓘ 19c: from Latin rubidus red, so called because of the two red lines in its spectrum.

rubidium-strontium dating ⊳ noun a method of determining the age of rocks that are more than 10 million years old by measuring the relative amounts of the naturally occurring radioactive isotope rubidium-87 and its beta decay product strontium-87.

rubies plural of RUBY.

rubiginous /ruˈbɪdʒɪnəs/ ⊳ adj 1 rusty. 2 rust-coloured. ⓘ 17c: from Latin rubiginosus, from rubigo rust.

Rubik's cube /ˈruːbɪks —/ ⊳ noun a cube-shaped puzzle consisting of 26 smaller cubes, the visible face of each being one of six colours, that are fixed to a central spindle, allowing them to be rotated on three axes. The object is to keep rotating the cubes until each face of the large cube is a uniform colour. ⓘ 1980s: named after the Hungarian designer Ernö Rubik (born 1940).

ruble see ROUBLE.

rubric /ˈruːbrɪk/ ⊳ noun 1 a heading, especially one in a book or manuscript, originally one written or underlined in red. 2 Christianity a rule or direction for the conduct of divine service, added in red to the liturgy. 3 law the heading of a statute or section of a legal code. 4 an authoritative rule or set of rules. 5 something definitely settled. ⓘ 14c: from Latin rubrica red ochre.

rubricate /ˈruːbrɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb (rubricated, rubricating) 1 to write or mark something in red. 2 to put a rubric or rubrics into a text. • rubrication noun • rubricator noun, historical someone who rubricated parts of manuscripts or early printed books. • rubrician /ruˈbrɪʃən/ noun someone versed in liturgical rubrics. ⓘ 16c.

ruby /ˈruːbɪ/ ▷ noun (rubies) 1 geol a valuable gemstone, a red impure variety of the mineral corundum, containing traces of chromium oxide which imparts its colour. It is used in lasers, and as bearings in watches and other precision instruments. 2 the rich deep-red colour characteristic of this stone. Also as adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin rubinus lapis red stone, from ruber red.

ruby wedding ▷ noun a fortieth wedding anniversary.

RUC ▷ abbreviation Royal Ulster Constabulary.

ruche /ruːʃ/ ▷ noun (ruches /ˈruːʃɪz/) a pleated or gathered frill of lace, ribbon, etc, used as a trimming. ▷ verb (ruched, ruching) to trim (an item of clothing, etc) with a ruche or ruches. • ruched /ruːʃt/ adj trimmed with or gathered into a ruche or ruches. • ruching noun. ⓘ 19c: French, literally 'beehive'.

ruck[1] ▷ noun 1 a heap or mass of indistinguishable people or things. 2 rugby a loose scrum that forms around a ball on the ground. 3 in Australian rules football: the three players who do not have fixed positions but follow the ball about the field. ▷ verb (rucked, rucking) 1 (also ruck something up) to heap or pile up (hay, etc). 2 intr, rugby to form a ruck. 3 intr in Australian rules football: to play as a member of the ruck. ⓘ 13c.

ruck[2] ▷ noun a wrinkle or crease. ▷ verb (rucked, rucking) tr & intr (also ruck up or ruck something up) to wrinkle or crease. ⓘ 18c: related to Norse hrukka.

rucksack /ˈrʌksak/ ▷ noun a bag carried on the back with straps over the shoulders, used especially by climbers and walkers. Also called BACKPACK. ⓘ 19c: from German Rucken (a dialect variant of Rücken back) + Sack sack or bag.

ruckus /ˈrʌkəs/ ▷ noun, originally chiefly N Amer a disturbance; a commotion. ⓘ 19c.

ruction /ˈrʌkʃən/ ▷ noun, colloq 1 a noisy disturbance; uproar. 2 (ructions) a noisy and usually unpleasant or violent argument or reaction. ⓘ 19c.

rudaceous /ruˈdeɪʃəs/ adj said of rocks: composed mainly of fairly large fragments. Compare ARENACEOUS 1, ARGILLACEOUS.

rudbeckia /rʌdˈbekɪə, rud-/ ▷ noun any of various N American composite plants of the daisy family. ⓘ 18c: named after Swedish botanist Olaf Rudbeck (1660–1740).

rudd ▷ noun a freshwater fish, widespread in European rivers and lakes, greenish-brown in colour on the back, with yellow sides and reddish fins. Also called red-eye. ⓘ 17c.

rudder /ˈrʌdə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 naut a flat piece of wood, metal, etc fixed vertically to a ship's stern for steering. 2 aeronautics a movable aerofoil attached to the fin of an aircraft which helps control its movement along a horizontal plane. 3 anything that steers or guides. • rudderless adj 1 without a rudder. 2 aimless. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon rothor.

ruddle /ˈrʌdəl/ or raddle /ˈra-/ or reddle /ˈre-/ ▷ noun red ochre, used especially to mark sheep. ▷ verb (ruddled, ruddling) to mark (sheep) with ruddle. ⓘ 16c: from Anglo-Saxon rudu redness.

ruddy /ˈrʌdɪ/ ▷ adj (ruddier, ruddiest) 1 said of the face, complexion, etc: glowing; with a healthy rosy or pink colour. 2 red; reddish. 3 chiefly Brit colloq swear-word bloody □ ruddy fool. Also as adverb □ ruddy awful. • ruddily adverb. • ruddiness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon rudig.

rude /ruːd/ ▷ adj 1 impolite; bad-mannered; discourteous. 2 roughly made; lacking refinement or polish □ build a rude shelter. 3 ignorant, uneducated or primitive. 4 sudden and unpleasant □ a rude awakening. 5 vigorous; robust □ rude health. 6 vulgar; indecent □ a rude joke. • rudely adj. • rudeness noun 1 being rude. 2 rude language or behaviour. • rudery noun. ⓘ 14c: from French, from Latin rudis unwrought, rough.

ruderal /ˈruːdərəl/ ▷ noun, bot a plant that grows in waste places or among rubbish. Also as adj. ⓘ 19c: from Latin rudus, ruderis rubble.

rudiment /ˈruːdɪmənt/ ▷ noun 1 (usually rudiments) the fundamental facts, rules or skills of a subject □ the rudiments of cooking. 2 (usually rudiments) the early and incomplete stages of something. 3 biol an organ or part which does not develop fully, usually because it has no function, such as the mammary glands in male mammals. • rudimental adj see RUDIMENTARY. ⓘ 16c: from Latin rudimentum, from rudis unformed.

rudimentary /ruːdɪˈmentərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 basic; fundamental. 2 crude; primitive. 3 biol said of an organ: a primitive or undeveloped; b only partially developed. • rudimentarily adverb. • rudimentariness noun. ⓘ 19c.

rue[1] /ruː/ ▷ verb (rued, ruing or rueing) to regret; to wish that something had not been or had not happened. • rueful adj 1 feeling or showing sorrow or regret. 2 inspiring pity or sorrow. • ruefully adverb. • ruefulness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon hreowan.

rue[2] /ruː/ ▷ noun a strongly scented evergreen plant with bitter leaves which were formerly used in medicine. The plant is traditionally a symbol of repentance. ⓘ 14c: from Greek rhyte; the symbol of repentance is in allusion to RUE[1].

rufescent /ruˈfesənt/ ▷ adj, bot, zool tending to redness. ⓘ 19c: from Latin rufescere to turn reddish, from rufus reddish.

ruff[1] ▷ noun 1 a circular pleated or frilled collar, worn in the late 16c and early 17c, or more recently by the members of some choirs. 2 a a fringe or frill of feathers growing on a bird's neck; b a similar fringe of hair on an animal's neck. 3 a type of ruffed domestic pigeon. • ruffed /rʌft/ adj. ⓘ 16c.

ruff[2] cards ▷ verb (ruffed, ruffing) tr & intr to trump. ▷ noun 1 an act of trumping. 2 an old card-game, similar to whist or trumps. ⓘ 16c: from French rouffle, Italian ronfa.

ruff[3] ▷ noun a a bird of the sandpiper family; b the male of this species, which grows a large ruff of feathers during the breeding season. See also REEVE. ⓘ 17c.

ruff[4] or ruffe /rʌf/ ▷ noun a small freshwater fish of the perch family, which has one dorsal fin.

ruffian /ˈrʌfɪən/ ▷ noun a coarse, violent, brutal or lawless person. ▷ adj 1 relating to a ruffian or ruffians. 2 brutal; violent. • ruffianism noun. • ruffianly adj. ⓘ 16c: French, from Italian ruffiano.

ruffle /ˈrʌfəl/ ▷ verb (ruffled, ruffling) 1 to wrinkle or make something uneven; to spoil its smoothness. 2 tr & intr to make or become irritated, annoyed or discomposed. 3 said of a bird: to make (its feathers) erect, usually in anger or display. 4 to gather (lace, linen, etc) into a ruff or ruffle. 5 to flick or turn (pages of a book, etc) hastily. ▷ noun 1 a frill of lace, linen, etc worn either round the neck or wrists. 2 any ruffling or disturbance of the evenness and smoothness of a surface, or of the peace, someone's temper, etc. 3 the feathers round a bird's neck which are ruffled in anger or display; a ruff. • ruffled adj. • ruffling noun. ⓘ 13c.

rufiyaa /ˈruːfiːjaː/ ▷ noun (rufiyaa) the standard monetary unit of the Maldives. ⓘ 20c: from Hindi rupiya, from Sanskrit rupya wrought silver.

rufous /ˈruːfəs/ ▷ adj said especially of a bird or animal: reddish or brownish-red in colour. ⓘ 18c: from Latin rufus red or reddish.

rug ▷ noun 1 a thick heavy mat or small carpet for covering a floor. 2 a thick blanket or wrap, especially one used for travelling, or as a protective and often waterproof covering for horses. 3 originally N Amer slang a toupee or hairpiece. • pull the rug (out) from under someone to leave them without defence, support, etc, especially as a result of some sudden discovery, action or argument. ◎ 16c.

rugby /ˈrʌgbɪ/ and rugby football ▷ noun a team game played with an oval ball which players may pick up and run with and may pass from hand to hand. Also as adj □ rugby club. ◎ 19c: named after Rugby, the public school in Warwickshire where the game was first played.

Rugby League ▷ noun 1 an association of rugby clubs formed in 1922 (previously called the Northern Union, from 1895). 2 (usually rugby league) a partly professional form of rugby, played with teams of 13 players according to Rugby League rules.

Rugby Union ▷ noun 1 an association of rugby clubs formed in 1871. 2 (usually rugby union) a formerly amateur now partly professional form of rugby, played with teams of 15 players according to Rugby Union rules (abbreviation RU).

rugged /ˈrʌgɪd/ ▷ adj 1 said of landscape, hills, ground, etc: with a rough, uneven surface; steep and rocky. 2 said of someone's face: with features that are strongly marked, irregular and furrowed and that suggest physical strength. 3 said especially of someone's character: stern, austere and unbending. 4 said of manners, etc: unsophisticated; unrefined. 5 involving physical hardships □ a rugged life. 6 sturdy; robust □ showed rugged individualism. 7 said of machinery, equipment, etc: strongly or sturdily built to withstand vigorous use. • ruggedly adverb. • ruggedness noun. ◎ 14c.

rugger /ˈrʌgə(r)/ ▷ noun, colloq RUGBY.

rugose /ˈruːgoʊs, ruˈgoʊs/ ▷ adj, bot, zool, anatomy wrinkled; marked with folds or ridges. • rugosely adverb. • rugosity /ruˈgɒsɪtɪ/ noun. ◎ 18c: from Latin rugosus, from ruga a wrinkle or fold.

rug rat ▷ noun, N Amer colloq a child, especially one who has not yet learned to walk. ◎ 1960s.

ruin /ˈruːɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a broken, destroyed, decayed or collapsed state. 2 (often ruins) the remains of something which has been broken, destroyed or has decayed or collapsed, especially the remains of a building or group of buildings. 3 complete loss of wealth, social position, power, etc. 4 a person, company, etc that has lost all of their wealth, social position, power, etc. 5 something that brings about complete loss of wealth, social position, etc, or physical destruction, decay, etc. ▷ verb (ruined, ruining) 1 to reduce or bring someone or something to ruin; to destroy them. 2 to spoil. • ruination /ruːɪˈneɪʃən/ noun. • ruiner noun. • in ruins said of a building, scheme, plan, etc: in a state of ruin; completely wrecked or destroyed. ◎ 14c: from French ruine, from Latin ruina, from ruere to tumble down.

ruing see under RUE¹

ruinous /ˈruːɪnəs/ ▷ adj 1 likely to bring about ruin □ ruinous prices. 2 ruined; decayed; destroyed. • ruinously adverb. • ruinousness noun.

rule /ruːl/ ▷ noun 1 a principle, regulation, order or direction which governs or controls some action, function, form, use, etc. 2 a government or control; b the period during which government or control is exercised. 3 a general principle, standard, guideline or custom □ make it a rule always to be punctual. 4 Christianity the laws and customs which form the basis of a monastic or religious order and are followed by all members of that order □ the Benedictine rule. 5 a RULER (sense 2). 6 printing a thin straight line or dash. 7 law an order made by a court and judge which applies to a particular case only. ▷ verb (ruled, ruling) 1 tr & intr to govern; to exercise authority over someone. 2 to keep control of or restrain someone or something. 3 to make an authoritative and usually official or judicial decision. 4 intr to be common or prevalent □ chaos ruled after the war. 5 to draw a straight line. 6 to draw a straight line or a series of parallel lines eg on paper. • rulable adj 1 governable. 2 US allowable. • ruleless adj. • as a rule usually. • be ruled to take advice. • rule the roost to be dominant. ◎ 13c: from French, from Latin regula a straight stick, related to regere to rule, and rex king.

■ rule something off to draw a line in order to separate it from something else.

■ rule something out 1 to leave it out or not consider it. 2 to make it no longer possible; to preclude it.

rule of three ▷ noun, math a method of finding the fourth term of a proportion when three are given.

rule of thumb ▷ noun a method of doing something, based on practical experience rather than theory or careful calculation. Also (rule-of-thumb) as adj.

ruler /ˈruːlə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone, eg a sovereign, who rules or governs. 2 a strip of wood, metal or plastic with straight edges that is marked off in units (usually inches or centimetres), and used for drawing straight lines and measuring.

ruling /ˈruːlɪŋ/ ▷ noun an official or authoritative decision. ▷ adj 1 governing; controlling. 2 most important or strongest; predominant.

rum¹ ▷ noun 1 an spirit distilled from fermented sugar-cane juice or from molasses. 2 N Amer alcoholic liquor in general. • rummy adj. ◎ 17c.

rum² ▷ adj (rummer, rummest) chiefly Brit colloq strange; odd; bizarre. • rumly adverb. • rumness noun. ◎ 18c: perhaps from ROM.

Rumanian /ruˈmeɪnɪən/ ▷ noun ▷ adj, formerly the preferred spelling of ROMANIAN.

rumba or rhumba /ˈrʌmbə, ˈrumbə/ ▷ noun (rumbas) 1 a a lively Afro-Cuban dance; b a popular ballroom dance derived from this, with pronounced hip movements produced by transferring the weight from one foot to the other. 2 music for this dance, with a stressed second beat. ▷ verb, intr to dance the rumba. ◎ 1920s: American Spanish.

rum baba see BABA

rumble /ˈrʌmbəl/ ▷ verb (rumbled, rumbling) 1 intr to make a deep low grumbling sound. 2 intr (often rumble along or by or past, etc) to move with a rumbling noise. 3 to say or utter something with a rumbling voice or sound. 4 Brit slang to find out the truth about or see through someone or something. 5 intr, N Amer to be involved in a street fight, especially one between gangs. ▷ noun 1 a deep low grumbling sound. 2 N Amer slang a street fight, especially one between gangs. 3 a part at the rear of a horse-drawn carriage used as a seat for servants or to carry luggage. Also called dicky. 4 (also rumble seat) N Amer a folding seat for extra passengers at the back of some early cars. • rumbling adj □ a rumbling stomach. ◎ 14c.

rumble strip and rumble area ▷ noun one of a series of rough-textured strips or areas set into a road surface to warn drivers (by the sound of their vehicle's tyres passing over them) of a hazard ahead.

rumbling ▷ noun 1 an act or instance of making a rumble. 2 (rumblings) early signs or indications □ rumblings of discontent.

rumbustious /rʌmˈbʌstʃəs/ ▷ adj, Brit colloq noisy and cheerful; boisterous. • rumbustiously adverb. • rumbustiousness noun. ◎ 18c.

rumen /ˈruːmen/ ▷ noun (rumina /-mɪnə/ or rumens) zool in a ruminant animal such as a cow or sheep: the first and largest chamber of the complex stomach, in which food is stored and partly digested before being regurgitated. ◎ 18c: Latin, meaning 'gullet'.

ruminant /ˈruːmɪnənt/ ▷ noun an even-toed hoofed mammal, eg a cow, sheep or goat, that chews the cud and has a complex stomach with four chambers. ▷ adj 1 relating or belonging to this group of mammals. 2 meditative or contemplative. ● ruminantly adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin ruminari to chew the cud.

ruminate /ˈruːmɪneɪt/ ▷ verb (ruminated, ruminating) 1 intr said of a ruminant: to chew the cud. 2 to chew over something again. 3 tr & intr to think deeply about something; to contemplate. ● ruminatingly adj thoughtfully. ● rumination noun. ● ruminative /-nətɪv/ adj meditative; contemplative. ● ruminatively adverb. ● ruminator noun someone who ruminates. ⓘ 16c: from Latin ruminari, ruminatus to chew the cud.

rummage /ˈrʌmɪdʒ/ ▷ verb (rummaged, rummaging) 1 tr & intr (usually rummage through something) to search messily through (a collection of things, a cupboard, etc). 2 intr (usually rummage about or around) to search □ rummage around for a pen. ▷ noun 1 a search. 2 things found by rummaging, especially (N Amer) jumble. ● rummager noun. ⓘ 16c: from French arrumage stowing of cargo on a ship.

rummage sale ▷ noun 1 N Amer a jumble sale. 2 a sale of unclaimed goods at a warehouse, etc.

rummer /ˈrʌmə(r)/ ▷ noun a large drinking-glass. ⓘ 17c: from Dutch roemer a drinking glass.

rummy¹ /ˈrʌmɪ/ ▷ noun, originally US a card game in which each player tries to collect sets or sequences of three or more cards. ⓘ Early 20c.

rummy² see under RUM¹

rumour or (N Amer) rumor /ˈruːmə(r)/ noun 1 a piece of news or information which is passed from person to person and which may or may not be true. 2 general talk or gossip; hearsay. ▷ verb (rumoured, rumouring) to report or spread (news, information, etc) by rumour □ She is rumoured to be having an affair □ It is rumoured she is having an affair. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin rumor noise.

rump ▷ noun 1 the rear part of an animal's or bird's body; the area around the tail. 2 a person's buttocks. 3 (also rump steak) a cut of beef from the rump. 4 a small or inferior remnant. ⓘ 15c.

rumple /ˈrʌmpəl/ ▷ verb (rumpled, rumpling) tr & intr to become or to make (hair, clothes, etc) untidy, creased or wrinkled. ▷ noun a wrinkle or crease. ● rumpled adj 1 crumpled. 2 dishevelled. ● rumply adj. ⓘ 17c: from Dutch rompel wrinkle.

rumpus /ˈrʌmpəs/ ▷ noun, colloq a noisy disturbance, fuss, brawl or uproar. ⓘ 18c.

rumpus room ▷ noun, originally N Amer a room in which children can play freely and which does not need to be kept tidy.

rumpy-pumpy ▷ noun, jocular sexual intercourse. ⓘ 20c.

run ▷ verb (ran, run, running) 1 intr said of a person or an animal: to move at a pace quicker than walking and in such a way that both or all feet are off the ground together for an instant during part of each step. 2 to cover (a specified distance, etc) by running □ run the marathon. 3 to perform (an action) as if by running □ run an errand. 4 intr said especially of a vehicle: to move quickly and easily over a surface on, or as if on, wheels. 5 intr to flee; to run away. 6 tr & intr to move or make something move in a specified way or direction or with a specified result □ run the car up the ramp □ let the dog run free □ run him out of town. 7 intr to race or finish a race in a specified position. 8 to enter (a contestant) in a race or as a candidate for office. 9 intr, chiefly N Amer to stand as a candidate in an election □ is running for governor. 10 intr said of water, etc: to flow □ rivers running to the sea. 11 to make or allow (liquid) to flow □ run cold water into the bath. 12 intr said of the nose or eyes: to discharge liquid or mucous. 13 said of wax, etc: to melt and flow. 14 tr & intr said of a tap, container, etc: to give out or make it give out liquid □ run the tap □ leave the tap running. 15 to fill (a bath) with water □ run a hot bath. 16 metallurgy a tr & intr to melt or fuse; b to form (molten metal) into bars, etc; to cast. 17 tr & intr to come to a specified state or condition by, or as if by, flowing or running □ run dry □ run short of time □ her blood ran cold. 18 to be full of or flow with something. 19 a tr & intr said of machines, etc: to operate or function □ The presses ran all night. b computing to execute (a program). 20 to organize, manage or be in control of something □ runs her own business. 21 intr (often run over, round or up, etc) to make a brief trip or casual visit to a place, etc □ run up to town for the afternoon. 22 tr & intr said especially of public transport, etc: to travel or make (a vehicle) travel on a regular route □ a train running between Paris and Nice □ run an extra train. 23 tr & intr to continue or make something continue or extend in a specified direction, for a specified time or distance, or over a specified range □ a road running south □ colours running from pink to deep red □ The play ran for ten years. 24 intr, law to continue to have legal force □ a lease with a year still to run. 25 colloq to drive someone in a vehicle, usually to a specified place □ run you to the station. 26 intr to spread or diffuse □ The colour in his shirt ran. 27 intr said of news, information, etc: to spread or circulate quickly □ The rumour ran through the office. 28 intr said of a piece of writing or written material: to be worded □ The report runs as follows. 29 to be affected by or subjected to, or to be likely to be affected by, something □ run a high temperature □ run risks. 30 intr said of a physical feature, a quality, etc: to be inherent or recur frequently, especially within a family □ blue eyes run in the family. 31 to own, drive and maintain (a vehicle). 32 to publish □ run the story in the magazine. 33 TV, radio to show or broadcast (a programme, film, etc) □ run a repeat of the series. 34 intr said of a broadcast, play, exhibition, etc: to be shown, presented, etc. 35 intr a said of stitches: to come undone; b said of a garment, eg a pair of tights: to have some of its stitches come undone and form a ladder. 36 to set (cattle, etc) loose in a field or other area to graze □ run cattle in the valley. 37 to hunt or track down (an animal) □ ran the fox to ground. 38 to get past or through an obstacle, etc □ run a blockade. 39 to smuggle or deal illegally in something □ run guns. 40 intr said of fish: to migrate upstream, especially to spawn. 41 cricket to score a run by, or as if by, running. 42 golf to hit a ball in such a way that it rolls along the ground. 43 bridge a to take an uninterrupted succession of tricks in (a suit); b to take (several tricks) in this way. ▷ noun 1 an act of running. 2 the distance covered or time taken up by an act of running. 3 a rapid pace quicker than a walk □ break into a run. 4 a manner of running. 5 a mark, streak, etc made by the flowing of some liquid, eg paint. 6 a trip in a vehicle, especially one taken for pleasure □ a run to the seaside. 7 a continuous and unbroken period or series of something □ a run of bad luck □ The play had a run of six weeks. 8 freedom to move about or come and go as one pleases □ have the run of the house. 9 (usually a run on something) a high or urgent demand for (a currency, money, a commodity, etc) □ a run on the pound. 10 a route which is regularly travelled, eg by public transport, or as a delivery round, etc □ a coach on the London to Glasgow run. 11 a LADDER (noun 2). 12 the average type or class of something □ the usual run of new students. 13 (the runs) colloq diarrhoea. 14 the length of time for which a machine, etc functions or is operated. 15 the quantity produced in a single period of production □ a print run. 16 music a rapid scalelike passage of notes. 17 military (also bombing run) a flight, often a relatively short one and at a constant speed, made by an aircraft before and while dropping bombs at a target. 18 cards three or more playing cards in a series or sequence. 19 an inclined course, especially one covered with snow, used for skiing. 20 chiefly US a small stream. 21 cricket a point scored, usually by a batsman running from one wicket to the other. 22 a unit of scoring in baseball made by the batter successfully completing a circuit of four bases. 23 golf the distance a ball rolls after hitting the ground. 24 Austral, NZ a tract of land used for raising stock. 25 often in compounds an enclosure or pen for domestic fowls or animals □ a chicken-run. 26 a shoal of migrating fish. 27 a track used regularly by wild animals. 28 computing the complete execution of a program. See also TRIAL RUN. • a (good) run for one's money colloq 1 fierce competition. 2 enjoyment from an activity. • on the run fleeing, especially from the police. • run for it colloq to try to escape. • run high said of feelings, emotions, etc: to be very strong. • run off one's feet Brit colloq extremely busy. • run someone ragged to wear them out. • run scared colloq to be frightened. ◎ Anglo-Saxon rinnan.

■ run across or into someone to meet them unexpectedly.

■ run after someone or something to chase them or it.

■ run along colloq 1 patronizing (often as an imperative) to go away. 2 to leave □ I'd better run along or I'll be late.

■ run or run something along, over, through, etc to move or cause it to move or pass quickly, lightly or freely in the specified direction □ run your eyes over the report □ Excitement ran through the audience.

■ run away to escape or flee.

■ run away with someone 1 to elope with them. 2 said of a horse: to gallop off uncontrollably with someone on its back.

■ run away with something 1 to steal it. 2 said of someone: to be over-enthusiastic about or carried away by (an idea, etc). 3 to win a (competition, etc) comfortably.

■ run down said of a clock, battery, etc: to cease to work because of a gradual loss of power.

■ run someone or something down 1 said of a vehicle or its driver: to knock them or it to the ground. 2 to speak badly of them or it usually without good reason. 3 to chase or search for them or it until they are found or captured. See also RUN-DOWN.

■ run something down to allow (eg an operation or business) to be gradually reduced or closed.

■ run something in old use to run (a new car or engine) gently to prevent damage to the engine.

■ run someone in colloq 1 to arrest them. 2 to give them a lift in a car, etc for a short distance, especially to a regular destination.

■ run into someone colloq to meet them unexpectedly.

■ run into someone or something to collide with them or it.

■ run into something 1 to suffer from or be beset by (a problem, difficulty, etc) □ Our plans quickly ran into problems. 2 to reach as far as (an amount or quantity) □ His debts run into hundreds.

■ run off 1 to leave quickly; to run away. 2 said of a liquid: to be drained.

■ run something off 1 to produce, especially printed material, quickly or promptly. 2 to drain a liquid. 3 to decide a tied contest with a further round.

■ run off with someone to elope with them.

■ run off with something 1 to steal it. 2 to win (a competition, etc) comfortably.

■ run on 1 to talk at length or incessantly. 2 printing to continue in the same line without starting a new paragraph.

■ run on something said of a vehicle: to use (a specified fuel).

■ run out said of a supply: to come to an end; to be used up.

■ run out of something to use up a supply of it □ run out of money.

■ run someone out 1 cricket to put out (a batsman running towards a wicket) by hitting that wicket with the ball. 2 chiefly N Amer colloq to force them to leave □ run them out of town.

■ run out on someone colloq to abandon or desert them.

■ run over 1 to overflow. 2 to go beyond (a limit, etc).

■ run over or through something to read or perform a piece of music, a script, etc quickly, especially for practice or as a rehearsal.

■ run someone or something over said of a vehicle or driver: to knock them or it down and injure or kill them □ reversed and ran the cat over.

■ run through something to use up (money, resources, etc) quickly and recklessly.

■ run someone through to pierce them with a sword or similar weapon.

■ run to something 1 to have enough money for it □ We can't run to a holiday this year. 2 said of money, resources, etc: to be sufficient for particular needs. 3 said of a text: to extend to (a specified extent). 4 to develop relatively quickly in (a specified direction); to tend towards it □ run to fat.

■ run something up 1 to make (a piece of clothing, etc) quickly or promptly. 2 to amass or accumulate (bills, debts, etc). 3 to hoist (a flag).

■ run up against someone or something to be faced with (a challenging opponent or difficulty).

runabout /ˈrʌnəbaʊt/ ▷ noun a small light car, boat or aircraft. Also as adj.

runaround ▷ noun a RUNABOUT car. • give someone the runaround colloq to behave repeatedly in a deceptive or evasive way towards them. • get the runaround colloq to be treated in this way.

runaway ▷ noun a person or animal that has run away or fled. ▷ adj 1 in the process of running away; out of control □ a runaway train. 2 said of a race, victory, etc: easily and convincingly won. 3 done or managed as a result of running away.

runcible spoon /ˈrʌnsɪbəl/ ▷ noun a pickle-fork with broad prongs and one sharp curved prong. ◎ 19c: a phrase coined by Edward Lear (1812–88), based on his nonsense word runcible.

run down ▷ adj 1 said of a person: tired or exhausted; in weakened health. 2 said of a building: shabby; dilapidated. ▷ noun (usually rundown) 1 a gradual reduction in numbers, size, etc. 2 a brief statement of the main points or items; a summary.

rune /ruːn/ ▷ noun 1 any of the letters of an early alphabet used by the Germanic peoples between about AD 200 and AD 600, used especially in inscriptions. 2 a mystical symbol or inscription. • runic adj 1 relating to, written in or inscribed with runes. 2 in the style of ancient interlaced ornamentation. ◎ 17c: from Norse run.

rung¹ ▷ noun 1 a step on a ladder. 2 a crosspiece on a chair. ◎ Anglo-Saxon hrung.

rung² past participle of RING² run-in ▷ noun 1 an approach. 2 colloq a quarrel or argument.

runnable /ˈrʌnəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 said of a stag: fit for hunting. 2 said of a vehicle, machine, etc: colloq in a fit state to drive, be operated, etc.

runnel /ˈrʌnəl/ ▷ noun 1 a small stream. 2 a gutter. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon rynel, diminutive of ryne a stream, related to rinnan to run.

runner /ˈrʌnə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that runs. 2 a messenger. 3 a groove or strip along which a drawer, sliding door, curtain, etc slides. 4 either of the strips of metal or wood running the length of a sledge, on which it moves. 5 a blade on an ice skate. 6 bot in certain plants, eg strawberry, creeping buttercup, etc: a stem that grows horizontally along the surface of the ground, producing new plants either from axillary or terminal buds. Technical equivalent STOLON. 7 a long narrow strip of cloth or carpet used to decorate or cover a table, dresser, floor, etc. 8 a RUNNER BEAN. 9 a smuggler. • do a runner slang to leave a place hastily, especially to leave a shop, restaurant, etc without paying; to escape.

runner bean ▷ noun 1 a climbing plant which produces bright red flowers and long green edible beans. 2 the bean this plant produces.

runner-up ▷ noun (runners-up) 1 the team or the competitor that finishes in second place. 2 one of a number of teams or competitors that finish close behind the winner.

runnier and runniest see under RUNNY running ▷ noun 1 the act of moving quickly. 2 the act of managing, organizing or operating. ▷ adj 1 relating to or for running ▫ running shoes. 2 done or performed while running, working, etc ▫ running repairs ▫ a running jump. 3 continuous ▫ running battle. 4 following its noun consecutive ▫ two days running. 5 flowing ▫ running water. 6 said of a wound or sore, etc: giving out pus. • in or out of the running having, or not having, a chance of success. • make or take up the running to take the lead or set the pace, eg in a competition, race, etc. • take a running jump! slang an expression of contempt, impatience, etc.

running battle ▷ noun 1 a military engagement with a constantly changing location. 2 a continuous fight or argument ▫ a running battle with the Council.

running-board ▷ noun a footboard along the side of a vehicle.

running commentary ▷ noun 1 a broadcast description of a game, event, etc as it is in progress. 2 any oral description especially a boring or over-elaborate one, of events as they happen or happened ▫ gave a running commentary of his visit to the doctor.

running head, running headline and running title ▷ noun, printing a title occurring at the top of several consecutive pages in a book.

running knot ▷ noun a knot that changes the size of a noose as one end of the string, etc is pulled.

running lights ▷ noun 1 naut the lights shown by vessels between sunset and sunrise. 2 small lights at the front and rear of a car that remain on while the engine is running.

running mate ▷ noun 1 a horse that is teamed with another, or that makes the pace for another in a race. 2 politics a candidate, standing for election to a post of secondary importance, when considered as the partner of the candidate for a more important post, especially the candidate for the post of vice-president of the US.

running repairs ▷ plural noun quick or temporary repairs to machinery, etc, carried out while it is operating or with a minimal break in its operation.

running water ▷ noun 1 an uninterrupted supply of water from a main or tap. 2 water in or taken from a flowing stream.

runny /ˈrʌnɪ/ ▷ adj (runnier, runniest) 1 tending to run or flow with liquid. 2 liquid; watery. 3 said of the nose: discharging mucous. ⓘ 19c.

run-off ▷ noun 1 a the action of running something off; b the quantity that is run off, especially by some mechanical process. 2 a rainwater that moves over the ground and flows into surface streams and rivers under conditions of heavy rainfall, when the ground is saturated with water; b N Amer the period in which this occurs. 3 an extra race, contest, etc between two people or teams that have tied, to decide the winner.

run-of-the-mill ▷ adj ordinary; average; not special.

runt ▷ noun 1 the smallest animal in a litter. 2 derog an undersized and weak person. 3 a kind of large domestic pigeon. ⓘ 16c.

run-through ▷ noun 1 a practice or rehearsal. 2 a summary.

run time ▷ noun, computing the time during which a computer program is executed.

run-up ▷ noun 1 sport a run made in preparation for a jump, throw, etc. 2 an approach to something or period of preparation, eg for some event ▫ the run-up to Christmas.

runway ▷ noun 1 a wide hard surface from which aircraft take off and on which they land. 2 in a theatre, etc: a narrow sloping or horizontal ramp projecting from a stage into the audience; a catwalk. 3 a a groove in which something slides; b N Amer in forestry: an incline down which logs are slid.

rupee /ruːˈpiː/ ▷ noun (rupees) (symbol Rs) the standard unit of currency in India, Pakistan, Bhutan, Nepal, Sri Lanka, Mauritius and the Seychelles. ⓘ 17c: from Hindi rupiya, from Sanskrit rupya wrought silver.

rupiah /ruːˈpiːə/ ▷ noun (rupiah or rupiahs) the standard unit of currency of Indonesia. ⓘ 20c: from Hindi rupiya. see RUPEE.

rupture /ˈrʌptʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a a breach; a breaking or bursting; b the state of being broken or burst. 2 a breach of harmony or friendly relations. 3 medicine a a tearing or breaking of an organ, tissue, etc; b non-technical a hernia, especially an abdominal one. ▷ verb (ruptured, rupturing) 1 to break, tear or burst something. 2 to breach or break off (friendly relations). 3 medicine to cause a rupture in (an organ, tissue, etc). 4 intr to undergo or be affected by a rupture. ⓘ 15c: from Latin ruptura, from rumpere to break, burst forth.

rural /ˈrʊərəl/ ▷ adj a relating to or suggestive of the country or countryside; b pastoral or agricultural. • rurality /rʊəˈralɪtɪ/ noun. Compare URBAN. ⓘ 15c: French, from Latin ruralis, from rus, ruris the country.

rural dean ▷ noun in the Church of England: a clergyman with responsibility over a group of parishes.

ruralize or ruralise /ˈrʊərəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (ruralized, ruralizing) 1 to make something rural. 2 intr to adopt a rural way of life, rural habits, etc. • ruralization noun. ⓘ 19c.

Ruritanian /rʊərɪˈteɪnɪən/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to a fictitious land of historical romance, in SE Europe. 2 belonging or relating to any exciting or romantic setting. • Ruritanian noun, adj. ⓘ 19c: from Ruritania, a country created by Anthony Hope (1863–1933) for several of his novels, including The Prisoner of Zenda.

rurp /rɜːp/ ▷ noun, originally US mountaineering a very small hook-like piton. ⓘ 1960s: from realized ultimate reality piton.

rusa /ˈruːsə/ ▷ noun (plural rusas or rusa) (also rusa deer) a large E Indian deer, especially the sambar. ⓘ 18c: Malay.

ruse /ruːz/ ▷ noun a clever strategem or plan intended to deceive or trick. ◎ 16c in this sense; 14c, meaning 'to make a detour': from French ruser to retreat.

rush[1] ▷ verb (rushed, rushing) 1 intr to hurry; to move forward or go quickly. 2 to hurry someone or something forward; to make them go quickly. 3 to send, transport, etc someone or something quickly and urgently □ rushed her to hospital. 4 to perform or deal with something too quickly or hurriedly. 5 intr to come, flow, spread, etc quickly and suddenly □ colour rushed to her cheeks. 6 to attack someone or something suddenly. 7 (usually rush into something) to begin or enter into a course of action, an agreement, etc too hastily and often without giving it enough consideration. 8 to force someone to act or do something more quickly than they want to □ don't rush me. 9 slang to cheat someone by charging them an excessive amount for something. ▷ noun (rushes) 1 a sudden quick movement, especially forwards. 2 a sudden general movement or migration of people, usually towards a single goal □ a gold rush. 3 a sound or sensation of rushing. 4 haste; hurry □ be in a dreadful rush. 5 a period of great activity. 6 a sudden demand for a commodity. 7 slang a feeling of euphoria after taking a drug. 8 rugby, Amer football an attempt to force the ball through a line of defenders. 9 Austral a stampede. ▷ adj done, or needing to be done, quickly □ a rush job. • be rushed off one's feet to be frantically busy. • rush one's fences to act too hastily. ◎ 14c: from French ruser to put to flight, from Latin recusare to push back.

rush[2] ▷ noun (rushes) 1 bot a densely tufted annual or evergreen perennial plant, typically found in cold wet regions of the northern hemisphere, usually on moors or marshy ground. 2 a stalk or stalklike leaf of this plant, often used as a material for making baskets, covering floors, etc. 3 loosely any of various plants more or less similar to RUSH (sense 1). 4 colloq old use something of very little value or importance (especially not care or be worth a rush). • rushy adj. ◎ Anglo-Saxon risc.

rushes /ˈrʌʃɪz/ usually ▷ plural noun, cinematog 1 the first unedited prints of a scene or scenes. 2 a preliminary showing of these, often after a day's filming. ◎ 1920s: from RUSH[1].

rush hour ▷ noun the period at the beginning or end of a weekday when traffic is at its busiest because people are travelling to or from work.

rush light ▷ noun 1 (also rush candle) a candle or night-light made from the pith of a rush dipped in tallow. 2 (rushlight) the light given by a rush candle.

rusk ▷ noun a piece of bread which has been rebaked, or a hard dry biscuit resembling this, given as food to babies. ◎ 16c: from Spanish or Portuguese rosca a twist of bread.

russet /ˈrʌsɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a reddish-brown colour. 2 a variety of apple with a reddish-brown skin. 3 archaic a coarse homespun cloth, formerly used for clothing. ▷ adj 1 reddish-brown in colour. 2 archaic made of russet. • russety adj. ◎ 13c: from French rousset, from Latin russus red.

russia leather or Russia leather /ˈrʌʃə —/ ▷ noun a fine brownish-red leather impregnated with birch tar oil, used especially in bookbinding. ◎ 17c: so called because it originally came from Russia.

Russian /ˈrʌʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a person born in or living in Russia or (loosely) in any of the other former Soviet republics or in the former Soviet Union. 2 the Slavonic language spoken in Russia, the main official language of the former Soviet Union. ▷ adj relating to Russia or (loosely) to any of the other former Soviet republics or the former Soviet Union, their people, culture or language. ◎ 16c: from Latin Russianus.

Russian doll ▷ noun a wooden painted figure which comes apart in the middle to reveal a smaller figure inside. There are usually about six dolls of this kind within the outer doll and they traditionally represent a Russian peasant woman. ◎ 1930s.

Russianize or Russianise /ˈrʌʃənaɪz/ ▷ verb (Russianized, Russianizing) to make something Russian in style or character. • Russianization noun.

Russian roulette ▷ noun an act of daring or bravado, especially that of spinning the cylinder of a revolver which is loaded with one bullet only, pointing the revolver at one's own head, and pulling the trigger.

Russian salad ▷ noun a salad of diced mixed vegetables served with mayonnaise and pickles.

Russian tea ▷ noun tea with lemon and no milk, usually served in a glass.

Russify /ˈrʌsɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (Russified, Russifying) to Russianize. • Russification noun.

Russky or Russki /ˈrʌskɪ/ derog slang ▷ noun (Russkis or Russkies) a Russian. ▷ adj Russian. ◎ 19c.

Russo- /ˈrʌsoʊ/ ▷ combining form, denoting relating to Russia or (loosely) to any of the former Soviet republics or to the former Soviet Union □ a Russo-American treaty.

rust ▷ noun 1 a reddish-brown coating that forms on the surface of iron or steel that has been exposed to air and moisture. 2 a similar coating which forms on other metals. 3 the colour of rust, usually a reddish-brown. 4 a a parasitic fungus that causes a serious disease of cereals and other crops, characterized by the appearance of reddish-brown patches on the leaves and other surfaces of infected plants; b the disease caused by such a fungus, which may result in serious economic losses as it affects important cereal crops, such as wheat. ▷ verb (rusted, rusting) 1 intr to become rusty or coated with rust. 2 to make something rusty. 3 intr to become weaker, inefficient etc, usually through lack of use. • rusted adj. • rusting noun, adj. ◎ Anglo-Saxon.

rust belt ▷ noun an area with a concentration of declining heavy industries, such as steel production, especially that in the Midwestern and NE USA.

rust-bucket ▷ noun, colloq a badly rusted car.

rustic /ˈrʌstɪk/ ▷ adj 1 relating to, characteristic of, or living in the country; rural. 2 with the characteristics of country life or country people, especially in being simple and unsophisticated. 3 awkward or uncouth. 4 made of rough untrimmed branches □ rustic furniture. 5 said of masonry: with a rusticated finish. ▷ noun 1 a person from, or who lives in, the country, especially one who is thought of as being simple and unsophisticated; a peasant. 2 a simple clownish person. 3 a a rough-surfaced brick or stone; b rustic masonry. • rustically adverb. • rusticism /ˈrʌstɪsɪzəm/ noun a rustic saying or custom. • rusticity /rʌˈstɪsɪtɪ/ noun rustic manner; simplicity. ◎ 15c: from Latin rusticus, from rus country.

rusticate /ˈrʌstɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb (rusticated, rusticating) 1 a intr to live or go to live in the country; b to send someone to live in the country. 2 Brit to suspend (a student) temporarily from college or university because of some wrongdoing. 3 a to give (masonry) a rough surface, and usually sunken or chamfered joints; b to build in rustic masonry. 4 to make something rustic or rural in style. • rusticated adj. • rustication noun. ◎ 15c: from Latin rusticari, rusticatus to live in the country, from rus country.

rustic capitals ▷ noun a type of Roman script that uses simplified squared capital letters.

rustle /ˈrʌsəl/ ▷ verb (rustled, rustling) 1 intr to make a soft whispering sound like that of dry leaves. 2 intr to move with such a sound. 3 to make something move with or make such a sound □ rustled the papers on his desk. 4 tr & intr, chiefly US to round up and steal (cattle or horses). 5 intr, chiefly US colloq to work energetically; to bustle. ▷ noun a quick succession of small soft dry crisp sounds like that of dry leaves; a rustling. • rustler noun someone who steals cattle or horses. • rustling noun, adj. • rustlingly adverb. ◎ 14c.

■ rustle some people or things up to gather them together, especially at short notice □ rustled up a few people to go to the meeting.

■ rustle something up to arrange or prepare it, especially at short notice □ I'll soon rustle up some lunch.

rustproof /ˈrʌstpruːf, ˈrʌspruːf/ ▷ adj 1 tending not to rust. 2 preventing. ▷ verb to make something rustproof. ● rustproofing noun.

rusty /ˈrʌstɪ/ ▷ adj (rustier, rustiest) 1 said of iron, steel or other metals: covered with rust; rusted. 2 said of a plant: affected by rust (sense 4a). 3 said of a skill, knowledge of a subject, etc: not as good as it used to be through lack of practice □ His French was rusty. 4 said of a person: old or worn-out in appearance. 5 rust-coloured. 6 said especially of black or dark clothes: discoloured, often with a brownish sheen, through age. 7 said of a sound, the voice, etc: raucous; hoarse. ● rustily adverb. ● rustiness noun.

rusty nail ▷ noun, colloq an alcoholic cocktail containing whisky and Drambuie.

rut[1] ▷ noun 1 a deep track or furrow in soft ground, especially one made by wheels. 2 an established and usually boring or dreary routine. ▷ verb (rutted, rutting) to furrow (the ground) with ruts. ● rutty adj. ● in a rut stuck in a boring or dreary routine. ⓘ 16c.

rut[2] ▷ noun 1 in many male ruminants, eg deer: a period of sexual excitement that occurs one or more times a year, during which they fight competitively for females and defend their territory prior to mating. 2 (also rutting season) the time of year when this occurs. ▷ verb (rutted, rutting) intr said of male animals: to be in a period of sexual excitement. ● rutting noun, adj. ● ruttish adj. ⓘ 15c: French, from Latin rugitus, from rugire to roar.

rutabaga /ruːtəˈbeɪgə/ ▷ noun, N Amer a swede. ⓘ 18c: from a Swedish dialect word rotabagge, literally 'root bag'.

ruthenium /ruˈθiːnɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol Ru, atomic number 44) a brittle, silvery-white metallic element that occurs in small amounts in some platinum ores. It has a high melting point and is used to increase the hardness of platinum alloys. ⓘ 19c: from Latin Ruthenia Russia, so called because it was discovered in ore from the Urals.

rutherford /ˈrʌðəfəd/ ▷ noun, physics (symbol rd) a former unit of radioactive disintegration, equal to 1 million disintegrations per second. Compare BECQUEREL, CURIE. ⓘ 1940s: named after Ernest Rutherford (1871–1937), New Zealand-born British physicist.

rutherfordium /rʌðəˈfɔːdɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol Rf) the name proposed in the USA for the radioactive elements of atomic number 104 (see UNNILQUADIUM) and 106 (see UNNILHEXIUM). ⓘ 1960s: see RUTHERFORD.

ruthless /ˈruːθlɪs/ ▷ adj without pity; merciless. ● ruthlessly adverb. ● ruthlessness noun. ⓘ 14c: from obsolete reuthe pity.

rutile /ˈruːtaɪl/ ▷ noun, mineralogy a reddish-brown or black lustrous mineral form of titanium oxide, commonly found in igneous and metamorphic rocks, and in beach sand. It is an important ore of titanium, and is used as a brilliant white pigment in paper, paint and plastics. ⓘ 19c: from German Rutil, from Latin rutilus reddish.

rutted and rutting see under RUT[1], RUT[2]

ruttish see under RUT[2]

rutty see under RUT[1]

RV ▷ abbreviation Revised Version (of the Bible).

RWA ▷ abbreviation, IVR Rwanda.

-ry see -ERY

rya /ˈrɪə/ and rya rug ▷ noun (ryas) 1 a type of Scandinavian knotted-pile rug with a distinctive colourful pattern. 2 the weave, pattern or style typical of such a rug. ⓘ 1950s: Swedish.

rye /raɪ/ ▷ noun 1 a a cereal belonging to the grass family that resembles barley but has longer and narrower ears, cultivated mainly in central Europe and eastern Europe, eg Poland, Ukraine, Russia, etc; b its grain, used to make flour and in the distillation of whisky, gin, vodka and kvass. 2 especially US whiskey distilled from fermented rye. 3 US RYE BREAD. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon ryge.

rye bread ▷ noun any of various breads made with rye flour.

ryokan /rɪˈoʊkən/ ▷ noun a traditional Japanese inn. ⓘ 1960s: Japanese, from ryo travel + kan building.

ryot /ˈraɪət/ ▷ noun in the Indian subcontinent: a peasant or tenant farmer. ⓘ 17c: from Arabic ra'iyah subjects, literally 'flock'.

RZS ▷ abbreviation Royal Zoological Society.

S

S[1] or s /ɛs/ ▷ noun (Ss, S's or s's) 1 the nineteenth letter of the English alphabet. 2 a consonant, usually pronounced as a voiceless sibilant (as in sip), but often voiced (as in prise). 3 anything shaped like an S.

S[2] ▷ abbreviation 1 Sabbath. 2 Saint. 3 schilling (Austrian currency). 4 Siemens. 5 Society. 6 South. 7 IVR Sweden.

S[3] ▷ symbol, chem sulphur.

S[4] or s ▷ abbreviation, music soprano.

s ▷ abbreviation 1 a second or seconds of time. 2 formerly in the UK: a shilling or shillings. Compare D. ⓒ From Latin solidus.

's[1] /z, s, ɪz/ ▷ suffix 1 a word-forming element used to form the possessive □ John's □ the children's. 2 a word-forming element used to form the plural of numbers and symbols □ 3's, X's.

's[2] /z, s, ɪz/ ▷ abbreviation 1 the shortened form of IS, as in he's not here. 2 the shortened form of HAS, as in she's taken it. 3 the shortened form of US, as in let's go.

-s[1] /s, z/ and -es /ɪz/ ▷ suffix forming the plural of nouns □ dogs □ churches.

-s[2] /s, z/ and -es /ɪz/ ▷ suffix forming the third person singular of the present tense of verbs □ walks □ misses.

SA ▷ abbreviation 1 Salvation Army. 2 South Africa. 3 South America. 4 South Australia. 5 historical Sturmabteilung (German), the Nazi assault troops.

sabadilla /sabə'dɪlə/ ▷ noun 1 a tropical plant of the lily genus. 2 the seeds of this plant, yielding the alkaloid VERATRINE. Also called cebadilla, cevadilla. ⓒ 19c: from Spanish cebadilla, a diminutive of cebada barley.

Sabahan /sə'bɑːhən/ ▷ noun a citizen or inhabitant of Sabah, a Malaysian state near the northern region of Borneo, which was formerly a British colony. ▷ adj from, belonging or relating to Sabah. ⓒ 1960s.

Sabbatarian /sabə'tɛərɪən/ ▷ noun 1 a person who recognizes Saturday as the Sabbath. 2 a person who believes in or practises strict observance of the Sabbath, ie Saturday or Sunday depending on the religion. • Sabbatarianism noun. ⓒ 17c: from Latin sabbatarius a Sabbath-keeper.

Sabbath /'sabəθ/ ▷ noun 1 a day of the week set aside for religious worship and rest from work, Saturday among Jews and Sunday among most Christians. 2 (sabbath) a time of rest. 3 a witches' midnight meeting. Also called sabbat. ▷ adj referring to or appropriate to the Sabbath. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon: from Greek sabbaton, from Hebrew shabbath rest.

sabbatical /sə'batɪkəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or being a period of leave usually given to lecturers or teachers in higher education, especially to study or to undertake a separate and related project. 2 (Sabbatical) relating to, resembling or typical of the Sabbath. ▷ noun a period of sabbatical leave. ⓒ 17c: from Greek sabbatikos, from sabbaton, from Hebrew shabbath rest.

saber US spelling of SABRE.

sabin /'seɪbɪn/ ▷ noun, physics a unit of acoustic absorption. ⓒ 1930s: named after Wallace C Sabine (1868–1919), US physicist.

sable[1] /'seɪbəl/ ▷ noun (sables or sable) 1 a small carnivorous mammal, native to Europe and Asia, that is a species of the marten and inhabits coniferous forests, usually near streams. 2 the thick soft glossy dark brown or black coat of this animal, highly prized as valuable fur. 3 an artist's paintbrush made of this. 4 the sable antelope. ▷ adj made of sable fur. ⓒ 15c: French.

sable[2] /'seɪbəl/ ▷ adj 1 poetic dark. 2 heraldry black. ⓒ 14c.

sable antelope ▷ noun a large African antelope with long backward-curving horns, the male of which has a blackish coat with white underparts.

sabot /'saboʊ/ ▷ noun a wooden clog, or a shoe with a wooden sole, as formerly worn by the French peasantry. ⓒ 17c: French.

sabotage /'sabotɑːʒ/ ▷ noun 1 deliberate or underhand damage or destruction, especially carried out for military or political reasons. 2 action designed to disrupt any plan or scheme and prevent its achievement. ▷ verb (sabotaged, sabotaging) to deliberately destroy, damage or disrupt something. ⓒ 19c: from French saboter to ruin through carelessness.

saboteur /sabə'tɜː(r)/ ▷ noun someone who sabotages. ⓒ Early 20c.

sabra /'sɑːbrə/ ▷ noun (sabras) a native-born Israeli, not an immigrant. ⓒ 1940s: from Hebrew sabrah a type of cactus.

sabre or (US) saber /'seɪbə(r)/ noun (sabres or sabers) 1 a curved single-edged cavalry sword. 2 a lightweight sword with a tapering blade used for fencing. ▷ verb (sabred, sabring) to wound or kill using a sabre. ⓒ 17c: French.

sabre-rattling ▷ noun aggressive talk or action, especially from politicians or military leaders, intended to intimidate and display power.

sabretooth ▷ noun, zool an extinct member of the cat family, with extremely long upper canine teeth, that lived during the late Tertiary era. Also called sabretoothed tiger. ⓒ 19c.

sac ▷ noun, biol any bag-like part in a plant or animal. • saccate /'sakeɪt, 'sakɪt/ adj enclosed in a sac; pouchlike. ⓒ 18c: from Latin saccus bag.

saccade /sa'kɑːd, sə-, -'keɪd/ ▷ noun (saccades) 1 a short jerky movement of the eye as it switches from one point to another, and may be voluntary, as in reading, or involuntary. 2 any short jerky movement. 3 a short rapid tug on a horse's reins. • saccadic /sə'kadɪk/ adj jerky; consisting of or relating to saccades. • saccadically adverb. ⓒ 18c: French.

saccharide /'sakəraɪd/ ▷ noun (saccharides) chem any of a group of water-soluble carbohydrates composed of one or more simple sugars, and typically having a sweet taste, eg glucose, sucrose. ⓒ 19c: from Latin saccharum sugar.

saccharimeter /sakə'rɪmɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun a device for testing the concentration of sugar solutions. • saccharimetry noun. ⓒ 19c.

saccharin /'sakərɪn/ ▷ noun a white crystalline substance, about 550 times sweeter than sugar and with no energy value, used as an artificial sweetener, especially by diabetics and dieters. ⓒ 19c: from Greek saccharon sugar.

saccharine /'sakəriːn/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or containing sugar. 2 over-sentimental or sickly sweet; cloying. ⓒ 17c.

saccharose /ˈsakərous/ ⊳ noun, chem 1 an alternative name for SUCROSE. 2 the basic unit of a CARBOHYDRATE. ⓘ 19c.

saccule /ˈsakjuːl/ and sacculus /ˈsakjuləs/ ⊳ noun (saccules /-juːlz/ or biol sacculi /-laɪ/) 1 a small sac. 2 biol the smaller of two sacs in the vestibule of the ear. ⓘ 19c: from Latin sacculus bag.

sacerdotal /sasəˈdoutəl/ ⊳ adj 1 referring or relating to priests. 2 resembling a priest; priestly. • sacerdotally adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin sacerdos priest, from sacer sacred + dare to give.

sacerdotalism /sasəˈdoutəlɪzəm/ ⊳ noun 1 the spirit and principles of priesthood. 2 the attribution of special and supernatural powers to the priesthood. 3 derog the excessive influence of priests over other people. ⓘ 19c.

sacerdotalize or sacerdotalise /sasəˈdoutəlaɪz/ ⊳ verb (sacerdotalized, sacerdotalizing) to render sacerdotal. • sacerdotalist noun. ⓘ 19c.

sachem /ˈseɪtʃəm/ ⊳ noun, US 1 a political leader. 2 a SAGAMORE. ⓘ 17c: from Algonquian (a Native American language family) sachim leader.

sachet /ˈsaʃeɪ/ ⊳ noun 1 a small sealed packet, usually made of plastic, containing a liquid, cream or powder. 2 a small bag containing pot-pourri or a similar scented substance, used to perfume wardrobes, drawers, etc. ⓘ 15c: French, diminutive of sac bag.

sack[1] ⊳ noun 1 a large bag, especially one made of coarse cloth or paper. 2 the amount a sack will hold; a sackful. 3 (the sack) colloq dismissal from employment □ gave the caretaker the sack □ She'll get the sack. 4 (the sack) slang bed. 5 (the sack) Amer football the instance of intervening or tackling the quarterback while still in possession of the ball. ⊳ verb (sacked, sacking) 1 to put into a sack or sacks. 2 colloq to dismiss from employment. 3 Amer football to tackle (the quarterback while still in possession of the ball). • hit the sack slang to go to bed. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sacc, from Latin saccus, from Greek sakkos bag.

sack[2] ⊳ verb (sacked, sacking) to plunder, pillage and destroy a town. ⊳ noun the act of sacking a town. ⓘ 16c: from French mettre à sac to put one's loot into a bag; to plunder.

sack[3] ⊳ noun, historical a dry white wine from Spain, Portugal and the Canary Islands. ⓘ 16c: from French sec, from Latin siccus dry.

sackbut /ˈsakbʌt/ ⊳ noun an early wind instrument with a slide like a trombone. ⓘ 16c: from French saquebute, from saquer to pull + bouter to push.

sackcloth ⊳ noun 1 coarse cloth used to make sacks; sacking. 2 a garment made from this, formerly worn in mourning or as a penance. • sackcloth and ashes a display of mourning, sorrow or remorse. ⓘ 14c.

sackful ⊳ noun (sackfuls) the amount a sack will hold.

sacking ⊳ noun 1 coarse cloth used to make sacks. 2 colloq dismissal from, or the act of dismissing from, employment.

sackrace ⊳ noun a race in which each contender's legs are encased in a sack.

sacra plural of SACRUM sacral[1] /ˈseɪkrəl/ ⊳ adj referring or relating to sacred rites. ⓘ 19c: from Latin sacrum a sacred object.

sacral[2] /ˈseɪkrəl/ ⊳ adj relating to or in the region of the sacrum. ⓘ 18c: from Latin sacralis of the sacrum.

sacrament /ˈsakrəmənt/ ⊳ noun 1 Christianity any of various religious rites or ceremonies, eg marriage or baptism, regarded as a channel to and from God or as a sign of grace. The Protestants recognize baptism and the Eucharist as sacraments, and the Roman Catholic and Orthodox Churches recognize baptism, confirmation, the Eucharist, penance, extreme unction, holy orders or ordination, and matrimony. 2 (Sacrament) Christianity a the service of the Eucharist or Holy Communion; b the consecrated bread and wine consumed at Holy Communion. 3 a spiritual or secret symbol. 4 a sign, token or pledge. ⓘ 12c: from Latin sacramentum an oath, from sacrare to consecrate, from sacer sacred.

sacramental /sakrəˈmentəl/ ⊳ adj relating to or having the nature of a sacrament. ⊳ noun, RC Church an act or object that relates to the sacrament but is not actually named among them, eg the sign of the cross. • sacramentalism noun. • sacramentalist noun. • sacramentally adverb. ⓘ 15c: from Latin sacramentalis, from sacrare to consecrate, from sacer sacred.

sacrament of the sick ⊳ noun, RC Church the act of anointing a person, who is very ill or badly injured, with consecrated oil.

sacrarium /seɪˈkreərɪəm/ ⊳ noun (sacraria /-rɪə/) the area around the altar of a church; the sanctuary. ⓘ 18c: Latin, from sacer holy.

sacred /ˈseɪkrɪd/ ⊳ adj 1 devoted to a deity, therefore regarded with deep and solemn respect; consecrated. 2 connected with religion or worship □ sacred music. 3 entitled to veneration, worship and respect. 4 said of rules, etc: not to be challenged, violated or breached in any circumstances. 5 dedicated or appropriate to a saint, deity, etc □ a church sacred to the Trinity. • sacredly adverb. • sacredness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin sacrare to worship, from sacer holy.

sacred cow ⊳ noun, colloq a custom, institution, etc so revered that it is regarded as above criticism. ⓘ Early 20c: referring to the Hindu doctrine that cows are sacred.

sacred ibis ⊳ noun an IBIS native to Africa and Arabia, with white plumage, a dark head and neck, and soft dark plumes on its tail.

sacrifice /ˈsakrɪfaɪs/ ⊳ noun 1 the offering of a slaughtered person or animal on an altar to God or a god. 2 the person or animal slaughtered for such an offering. 3 any offering, symbolic or tangible, made to God or a god. 4 the destruction, surrender, or giving up of something valued for the sake of someone or something else, especially a higher consideration. 5 theol Christ's offering of himself for the sake of mankind. ⊳ verb (sacrificed, sacrificing) 1 to offer someone or something as a sacrifice to God or a god. 2 to surrender or give up something for the sake of some other person or thing. • sacrificer noun. ⓘ 13c: from Latin sacrificium, from sacer sacred + facere to make.

sacrificial /sakrɪˈfɪʃəl/ ⊳ adj relating to, used in or having the nature of a sacrifice. • sacrificially adverb. ⓘ 17c.

sacrilege /ˈsakrɪlɪdʒ/ ⊳ noun 1 a profanation or extreme disrespect for something holy or greatly respected. 2 the breaking into a holy or sacred place and stealing from it. • sacrilegist /-ˈliːdʒɪst/ noun. ⓘ 13c: from French sacrilège, from Latin sacrilegus stealer of sacred things.

sacrilegious /sakrɪˈlɪdʒəs/ ⊳ adj 1 relating to or involving sacrilege. 2 guilty of committing sacrilege. ⓘ 16c.

sacristan /ˈsakrɪstən/ and sacrist /ˈsakrɪst, ˈseɪkrɪst/ ⊳ noun 1 someone responsible for the safety of the sacred vessels and other contents of a church. 2 a person responsible for the church buildings and churchyard; a sexton. ⓘ 14c: from Latin sacristanus, from sacer holy.

sacristy /ˈsakrɪstɪ/ ⊳ noun (sacristies) a room in a church where sacred utensils and vestments are kept; a vestry. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sacristia vestry.

sacroiliac /sakrouˈɪlɪak/ ⊳ adj, anatomy relating to the articulation of the sacrum and the ilium. ⊳ noun this joint.

sacrosanct /ˈsakrousaŋkt/ ⊳ adj supremely holy or sacred; inviolable. • sacrosanctity /-ˈsaŋktɪtɪ/ noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sacer holy + sanctus hallowed.

sacrum /ˈseɪkrəm, ˈsak-/ ▷ noun (sacra /-krə/) anatomy a large triangular bone composed of fused vertebrae, forming the keystone of the pelvic arch in humans. • sacral see separate entry. ⓘ 18c: from Latin os sacrum holy bone, from its use in sacrifices.

SAD ▷ abbreviation, psychol seasonal affective disorder.

sad ▷ adj (sadder, saddest) 1 feeling unhappy or sorrowful. 2 causing unhappiness □ sad news. 3 expressing or suggesting unhappiness □ sad music. 4 very bad; deplorable □ a sad state. 5 colloq lacking in taste; inspiring ridicule □ sad taste in music. • sadly adverb 1 in a sad manner. 2 unfortunately; sad to relate. • sadness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sæd weary.

sadden /ˈsadən/ ▷ verb (saddened, saddening) 1 to make someone sad. 2 intr to become sad. ⓘ 17c.

saddhu see SADHU

saddle /ˈsadəl/ ▷ noun 1 a leather seat for horse-riding, which fits on the horse's back and is secured under its belly. 2 a fixed seat on a bicycle or motorcycle. 3 a pad on the back of a draught animal, used for supporting the load. 4 the part of the back of an animal on which a saddle is placed. 5 a butcher's cut of meat including part of the backbone with the ribs. 6 the rear part of a male fowl's back extending towards the tail. 7 a mountain col or ridge between two peaks. 8 civil engineering in a structure, eg a bridge: a support with a groove shaped in a certain way to hold another part. ▷ verb (saddled, saddling) 1 to put a saddle on (an animal). 2 intr to climb into a saddle. 3 to burden someone with a problem, duty, etc □ He was saddled with the responsibility. 4 said of a trainer: to be responsible for preparing and entering (a racehorse) for a race. 5 to ride (a horse, bicycle, etc). • saddleless adj. • in the saddle 1 on horseback. 2 in a position of power or control. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sadol.

saddleback ▷ noun 1 an animal or bird with a saddle-shaped marking on its back. 2 a saddle-shaped hill or mountain; one with a dip in the middle. 3 a saddle roof. • saddlebacked adj. ⓘ 16c.

saddlebag ▷ noun a small bag carried at or attached to the saddle of a horse or bicycle.

saddlebow /ˈsadəlbou/ ▷ noun the arched front of a saddle.

saddlecloth ▷ noun a cloth placed under a horse's saddle to prevent rubbing.

saddler /ˈsadlə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person who makes or sells saddles, harness, and related equipment for horses. 2 military a soldier who has charge of cavalry saddles. ⓘ 14c.

saddle roof ▷ noun a roof with two gables and a ridge.

saddlery /ˈsadlərɪ/ ▷ noun (saddleries) 1 the occupation or profession of a saddler. 2 a saddler's shop or stock-in-trade. 3 a room at a stables, etc for making or storing the saddles or related equipment. ⓘ 15c.

saddle soap ▷ noun a type of oily soap used for cleaning and preserving leather.

saddle sore ▷ adj said of a rider: chafed by rubbing against the saddle during riding.

saddle stitch ▷ noun 1 a form of needlework consisting of long stitches on the top surface and short stitches on the underside of the fabric. 2 one such stitch. 3 bookbinding a method of stitching or stapling a booklet, magazine, etc together through the back centre fold. ▷ verb (saddle-stitch) tr & intr to sew using saddle stitch. ⓘ 1930s.

saddle-tree ▷ noun the frame of a saddle.

saddling present participle of SADDLE

saddo ▷ noun (saddos or saddoes) slang someone who is to be pitied, despised or ridiculed. ⓘ From SAD.

Sadducee /ˈsadʒʊsiː/ ▷ noun, historical one of a Jewish priestly and aristocratic sect of traditionalists, who resisted the progressive views of the Pharisees, and who rejected, among other beliefs, that of life after death. • Sadducaean or Sadducean /sadʒʊˈsiːən/ adj. • Sadduceeism or Sadducism /ˈsadʒʊsɪzəm/ noun 1 the principles of the Sadducees. 2 scepticism. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sadducēas, from Greek Saddoukaios, from Hebrew Tsaduqim, from Zadok the High Priest who founded the sect.

sadhu or saddhu /ˈsɑːduː/ ▷ noun a nomadic Hindu holy man, living an austere life and existing on charity. ⓘ 19c: Sanskrit.

sadism /ˈseɪdɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 the pleasure, especially sexual, gained by inflicting pain on others. 2 any infliction of suffering on others for one's own satisfaction. Compare MASOCHISM. ⓘ 19c: named after Comte (called Marquis) de Sade (1740–1814), the French novelist who died insane, and who notoriously depicted this form of pleasure in his novels.

sadist /ˈseɪdɪst/ ▷ noun someone who indulges in sadism, or who gains pleasure, especially sexual, from inflicting pain on others. ⓘ Early 20c.

sadistic /səˈdɪstɪk/ ▷ adj relating to or involving sadism. • sadistically adverb. ⓘ 19c.

sado-masochism ▷ noun (abbreviation SM) 1 the existence of both sadism and masochism in a person. 2 the practice of deriving sexual pleasure from inflicting pain on another person, and having pain inflicted on oneself by another person. • sado-masochist noun a person who enjoys and indulges in sado-masochism. • sado-masochistic adj relating to or involving sado-masochism. ⓘ 1930s.

SAE or sae ▷ abbreviation stamped addressed envelope.

safari /səˈfɑːrɪ/ ▷ noun (safaris) 1 an expedition or tour to hunt or observe wild animals, especially in Africa □ on safari. 2 the people, vehicles, equipment, etc that go on safari. 3 a long expedition involving difficulty and requiring planning, usually in tropical regions. ⓘ 19c: Swahili, from Arabic safar journey.

safari park ▷ noun a large enclosed area in which wild animals, mostly non-native, roam freely and can be observed by the public from their vehicles. ⓘ 1970s.

safari suit ▷ noun a suit, typically made of khaki cotton, and consisting of a long square-cut safari jacket and long or short trousers.

safe ▷ adj 1 free from danger or harm. 2 unharmed. 3 giving protection from danger or harm; secure □ a safe place. 4 not dangerous or harmful □ Is it safe to go out? 5 involving no risk of loss; assured □ a safe bet. 6 said of a friend, companion, etc: reliable or trustworthy. 7 cautious □ better safe than sorry. ▷ noun a sturdily constructed cabinet, usually made of metal, in which money and valuables can be locked away. • safely adverb. • safeness noun. • be or err on the safe side to be doubly cautious; to choose the safer alternative. • play safe see under PLAY. • safe and sound secure and unharmed □ They returned safe and sound from their trip. • safe as houses colloq extremely safe and secure. ⓘ 15c: from French sauf, from Latin salvus.

safe-breaker and safe-cracker ▷ noun someone who illegally opens safes to steal the contents.

safe-conduct ▷ noun 1 an official permit to pass or travel, especially in wartime, with guarantee of freedom from interference or arrest. 2 a document authorizing this.

safe-deposit and safety-deposit ▷ noun a vault, eg in a bank, in which money and valuables can be locked away.

safeguard ▷ noun 1 a person, device or arrangement giving protection against danger or harm. 2 a safe-conduct. ▷ verb to protect from harm; to ensure the safety of someone or something.

safe haven ▷ noun 1 a a demilitarized area in a region of conflict, a war zone, etc that is set aside by a government, international organization, etc as a secure area for an ethnic minority or other oppressed group; b any refuge considered safe for a particular oppressed person or group. 2 econ a currency, financial institution, etc that is considered stable and secure for investment.

safe house ▷ noun a place of safety, especially one kept by the intelligence services or care agencies, whose location is unknown to possible pursuers.

safekeeping ▷ noun care and protection; safe custody □ She put her jewellery away for safekeeping.

safe light ▷ noun a light used in a photographic darkroom, etc, which emits light of an intensity and colour which will not damage the materials being processed.

safe period ▷ noun, colloq the part of the menstrual cycle during which conception is least likely.

safe seat ▷ noun a parliamentary seat which will almost certainly be won at an election by the same party that currently holds it.

safe sex ▷ noun sexual intercourse or activity in which the transmission of disease and viruses, especially HIV, is guarded against, eg by the use of a condom or the avoidance of penetration.

safety /ˈseɪftɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the quality or condition of being safe. 2 Amer football the most deeply-placed member of the defensive side. Also called safetyman. ● there is safety in numbers it is easier and safer to do something risky when there is a larger group of people. ⓘ 13c: from French sauveté, from Latin salvus safe.

safety belt ▷ noun 1 in vehicles: a belt securing a driver or passenger to their seat as a precaution against injury in a crash. 2 a strap or belt attaching a workman, etc to a fixed object while carrying out a dangerous operation.

safety catch ▷ noun any catch to provide protection against something, eg the accidental firing of a gun.

safety curtain ▷ noun a fireproof curtain between the stage and audience, lowered to control the spread of fire.

safety-deposit see SAFE-DEPOSIT safety factor ▷ noun, mech & engineering the ratio between the breaking stress in a material or structure, and the safe permissible stress in it.

safety glass ▷ noun 1 a laminate of plastic between sheets of glass used eg in windscreens. 2 glass that is strengthened to avoid shattering, eg by reinforcing it with wire.

safety-lamp ▷ noun a miner's oil lamp designed to prevent ignition of any flammable gases encountered in the mine by covering the flame with a wire gauze. Also called Davy lamp.

safety match ▷ noun a match that only ignites when struck on a specially prepared surface.

safety net ▷ noun 1 a large net stretched beneath acrobats, tightrope walkers, etc in case they accidentally fall. 2 any precautionary measure or means of protecting against loss or failure.

safety pin ▷ noun a U-shaped pin with an attached guard to cover the point.

safety razor ▷ noun a shaving razor with the blade protected by a guard to prevent deep cutting of the skin.

safety valve ▷ noun 1 a valve in a boiler or pipe system that opens when the pressure exceeds a certain level, and closes again when the pressure drops. 2 an outlet for harmlessly releasing emotion, eg anger or frustration.

saffian /ˈsafɪən/ ▷ noun leather tanned with sumac and dyed in bright colours. ⓘ 16c: from Russian saf'yan, from Persian sakhtiyan goatskin, from sakht hard.

safflower /ˈsaflaʊə(r)/ ▷ noun a plant with finely-toothed elliptical leaves and large thistle-like heads of orange-red flowers that yield yellow and red dyes, and seed that yield safflower oil which is used in cooking, margarine, medicines, paints and varnishes. ⓘ 16c: from Dutch saffloer, from French saffleur.

saffron /ˈsafrən/ ▷ noun 1 an autumn-flowering species of crocus which has lilac flowers with large bright orange stigmas divided into three branches. 2 the dried stigmas of this species, used to dye and flavour food. 3 a bright orange-yellow colour. ● saffroned adj. ● saffrony adj. ⓘ 13c: from French safran, from Arabic zafaran.

safranine /ˈsafrəniːn/ and safranin /ˈsafrənɪn/ ▷ noun a coal-tar dye giving various different colours for fabrics. ⓘ 19c: SAFFRON + -INE[2].

sag ▷ verb (sagged, sagging) intr 1 to bend, sink, or hang down, especially in the middle, under or as if under weight. 2 to yield or give way, under or as though under weight or pressure. 3 to hang loosely or bulge downwards; to droop. ▷ noun a sagging state or condition. ● saggy see separate entry. ⓘ 15c: Norse.

saga /ˈsɑːgə/ ▷ noun (sagas) 1 a medieval prose tale of the deeds of legendary Icelandic or Norwegian heroes and events. 2 any long detailed story, especially a piece of modern serialized fiction depicting successive generations of the same family. 3 colloq a long series of events. ⓘ 18c: Norse.

sagacious /səˈgeɪʃəs/ formal ▷ adj having or showing intelligence and good judgement; wise or discerning. ● sagaciously adverb. ● sagacity /səˈgasɪtɪ/ and sagaciousness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sagax, from sagire to discern.

sagamore /ˈsagəmɔː(r)/ ▷ noun a Native North American chief. Also called SACHEM. ⓘ 17c: from Penobscot (a Native American language) sagamo.

sage[1] ▷ noun 1 a low-growing perennial shrub with wrinkled greyish-green aromatic leaves and bluish-lilac two-lipped flowers. 2 the leaves of this plant, used in cookery as a seasoning, especially in stuffing for poultry, and also as a medicinal herb. ⓘ 14c: from French sauge, from Latin salvia healing plant.

sage[2] ▷ noun someone of great wisdom and knowledge, especially an ancient philosopher. ▷ adj extremely wise and prudent. ● sagely adj. ● sageness noun. ⓘ 13c: French, from Latin sapere to be wise.

sagebrush ▷ noun any of various species of N American plant, especially an aromatic shrub with many branches, with wedge-shaped silvery leaves and small white flowers borne in large clusters. ⓘ 19c: SAGE[1] + BRUSH.

saggar or sagger /ˈsagə(r)/ ▷ noun a large clay box in which pottery is packed for firing in a kiln. ⓘ 17c: perhaps a variant of SAFEGUARD.

saggy ▷ adj (saggier, saggiest) tending to sag.

Sagitta /səˈdʒɪtə/ ▷ noun, astron the Arrow, a small constellation in the Milky Way.

sagittal /ˈsadʒɪtəl/ ▷ adj 1 shaped like an arrow. 2 relating or parallel to the SAGITTAL SUTURE. ● sagitally adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin sagittalis, from sagitta arrow.

sagittal suture ▷ noun, anatomy the serrated join between the two parietal bones forming the top and sides of the skull.

Sagittarian /sadʒɪˈteərɪən/ ▷ noun a person born under the sign of Sagittarius. Also as adj. ⓘ Early 20c.

Sagittarius /sadʒɪˈteərɪəs/ ▷ noun 1 astron the Archer, a large S constellation of the zodiac lying partly in the Milky Way. 2 astrol a) the ninth sign of the zodiac, the Archer; b) a person born between 22 November and 20 December, under this sign. See table at ZODIAC. ⓘ 14c: Latin, from sagitta arrow.

sago /ˈseɪgoʊ/ ▷ noun 1 a starchy grain or powder obtained from the soft path of the sago palm, a staple food in the tropics, and also widely used in desserts. 2 any of various species of palm that yield this substance. ⓘ 16c: from Malay sagu.

sago palm ▷ noun a small tree with large feathery leaves, native to SE Asia and the Pacific region.

saguaro /sɑˈgwɑːroʊ, sɑˈwɑːroʊ/ ▷ noun (saguaros) a giant cactus of up to 50ft (15m) in height, native to the south west US and Mexico, and with a tree-like trunk and edible red fruits. ⓘ 19c: Mexican Spanish.

Saharan /səˈhɑːrən/ ▷ adj characteristic of, belonging or relating to the Sahara desert.

sahib /ˈsɑːɪb/ ▷ noun in India: a term of respect used after a man's name, equivalent to 'Mr' or 'Sir', and formerly used on its own to address or refer to a European man. Compare MEMSAHIB. ⓘ 17c: Arabic, meaning 'lord or friend'.

said[1] /sɛd/ ▷ verb, past tense, past participle of SAY. ▷ adj, often formal previously or already mentioned ▫ the said occasion.

said[2] see SAYYID

saiga /ˈsaɪgə/ ▷ noun (saiga or saigas) a type of antelope from W Asia, with a characteristic swollen snout. ⓘ 19c: Russian.

sail ▷ noun 1 a sheet of canvas, or similar structure, spread to catch the wind as a means of propelling a ship. 2 a framework of slats which drive a windmill by catching the wind. 3 sails collectively. 4 a trip in a boat or ship with or without sails. 5 a voyage of a specified distance travelled by boat or ship. 6 (usually sail, especially after a number) naut a ship with sails ▫ thirty sail. ▷ verb (sailed, sailing) 1 tr & intr to travel by boat or ship ▫ sail the Pacific. 2 to control (a boat or ship) ▫ He sailed his ship around the world. 3 intr to depart by boat or ship ▫ We sail at two-thirty. 4 to cause (a toy boat, etc) to sail. • sailable adj navigable. • sailed adj having sails. • sailless adj. • full sail with all sails raised and filled with the wind. • make sail 1 to raise more sail. 2 to set off on a voyage. • put on sail to set more sails in order to travel more quickly. • sail close to or near the wind 1 naut to keep the boat's bow as close as possible to the direction from which the wind is blowing so that the sails catch as much wind as is safely possible. 2 to come dangerously close to overstepping a limit, eg of good taste or decency. • set sail 1 to begin a journey by boat or ship. 2 to spread the sails. • shorten sail to reduce its open extent. • strike sail to lower a sail or sails. • under sail 1 having the sails raised and spread. 2 propelled by sails. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon segel.

■ sail through something colloq to succeed in it effortlessly ▫ She sailed through all her exams.

sailboard ▷ noun a windsurfing board, like a surfboard with a sail attached, controlled by a hand-held boom. • sailboarding the sport of sailing such a craft; windsurfing.

sailboat ▷ noun, especially N Amer a usually small sailing boat.

sailcloth ▷ noun 1 strong cloth, such as canvas, used to make sails. 2 heavy cotton cloth used for garments.

sailer /ˈseɪlə(r)/ ▷ noun a boat or ship that can sail in a specific manner ▫ The new boat was viewed as a good sailer.

sailfish ▷ noun a large agile fish, bluish-grey above and silvery beneath, named after its sail-like dorsal fin and highly prized as a sport fish.

sailing boat ▷ noun a boat propelled by sails, though often fitted with auxiliary motor power.

sailor /ˈseɪlə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 any member of a ship's crew, especially one who is not an officer. 2 someone regarded in terms of ability to tolerate travel on a ship without becoming seasick ▫ a good sailor.

sailor-suit ▷ noun a suit, normally worn by children or women, that resembles a sailor's uniform.

sailplane ▷ noun a lightweight glider that can rise with upward currents.

sainfoin /ˈseɪnfɔɪn/ ▷ noun a leguminous perennial plant, widely cultivated as a fodder crop, with pinnate leaves, spiked flower-heads and bright pink to red flowers veined with purple. ⓘ 17c: French, from Latin sanum foenum healthy hay.

saint /seɪnt/ or (when prefixed to a name) /sənt/ ▷ noun (abbreviation St) 1 (often written Saint) a person whose profound holiness is formally recognized after death by a Christian Church, and who is declared worthy of everlasting praise. 2 colloq a very good and kind person. 3 Bible any one of God's chosen people. 4 Bible an Israelite, a Christian or one of the blessed dead. 5 a member of various religious groups, especially Puritans, as used of themselves or as a nickname. ▷ verb (sainted, sainting) 1 to make a saint of someone. 2 to hail or recognize formally as a saint. • sainthood noun the position or status of a saint. • saintlike adj. ⓘ 12c: from Latin sanctus holy.

St Agnes's Eve ▷ noun the night of 20 January when, according to tradition, a girl may dream the identity of her future husband. ⓘ Named after Saint Agnes, the Christian martyr who was executed in AD 304 for her refusal to marry.

St Andrew's cross ▷ noun 1 a cross in the form of the letter X. 2 a similar white cross on a blue background, as used on the flag of Scotland.

St Anthony's fire see ERGOTISM and ERYSIPELAS

Saint Bernard and Saint Bernard's dog ▷ noun one of a breed of very heavy dogs, with an orange-brown and white coat, a broad head and large feet, originally used to track and rescue travellers trapped in mountain snow in the St Bernard passes in the Alps.

sainted /ˈseɪntɪd/ ▷ adj 1 formally declared a saint. 2 greatly respected or revered; hallowed. ⓘ 16c.

St Elmo's fire ▷ noun an electrical discharge forming a glow around a church spire, ship's mast, etc, particularly common in bad weather.

St George's cross ▷ noun a red upright cross on a white background, used as the flag of England.

St John's wort ▷ noun any of several shrubs, most of which have five-petalled yellow flowers, believed to bloom on the 24 June, the feast of Saint John the Baptist.

St Leger /-ˈlɛdʒə(r)/ ▷ noun a horse race run annually at Doncaster. ⓘ 1776: named after Colonel Barry St Leger who founded it.

saintly /ˈseɪntlɪ/ ▷ adj (saintlier, saintliest) 1 similar to, characteristic of, or befitting a saint. 2 very good or holy. • saintliness noun. ⓘ 17c.

saintpaulia /səntˈpɔːlɪə/ ▷ noun a plant of the family to which the AFRICAN VIOLET belongs. ⓘ 19c: named after Baron Walter von Saint Paul (1860–1910), who discovered it.

saint's day ▷ noun a day in the Church calendar on which a particular saint is honoured and commemorated.

St Swithin's Day ▷ noun 15 July, the feast day of Saint Swithin, a 9th-century bishop of Winchester, where according to a traditional rhyme, if it rains on this day, it will rain for 40 days, but if it is dry on this day, it will remain dry for 40 days.

St Valentine's Day ▷ noun 14 February, a day on which special greetings cards are sent to sweethearts or people to whom one is attracted. See also VALENTINE. ⓘ 18c: originally this day was 15th February, on the feast of Lupercalia, the festival of fertility, but was moved forward to 14th February, the feast of Saint Valentine commemorating two Christian martyrs of this name, to be acceptable to the Church.

Saint Vitus's dance /— 'vaɪtəsɪz —/ ▷ noun, pathol chorea.

saith /seθ, seɪθ/ ▷ verb, old use says.

saithe /seɪθ/ ▷ noun, Brit the COLEY. Also called coalfish.

sake[1] ▷ noun 1 benefit or advantage; behalf; account □ for my sake. 2 purpose; object or aim. ● for God's or heaven's, etc sake exclamations used in annoyance or when pleading, eg for forgiveness. ● for old time's sake because of what happened or because it was done in the past □ We should go to that bar for old time's sake. ● for the sake of something for the purpose of or in order to achieve or assure it □ You should take these exams for the sake of your future. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sacu lawsuit.

sake[2] or saki /'sɑːkɪ, 'sɑːkeɪ/ ▷ noun a Japanese fermented alcoholic drink made from rice. ⓘ 17c: Japanese.

saker /'seɪkə(r)/ ▷ noun a species of falcon, especially the female, used in hawking. ● sakeret noun a male saker. ⓘ 14c: from French sacre, from Arabic saqr.

saki[1] /'sɑːkɪ/ ▷ noun a monkey native to South America, with a long bushy non-prehensile tail. ⓘ 18c: French, from Tupi saguí.

saki[2] see SAKE[2]

sal /sal/ ▷ noun, chem, pharmacol a salt. ⓘ 14c: Latin.

salaam /sə'lɑːm, sɑː'lɑːm/ ▷ noun 1 a word used as a greeting in Eastern countries, especially by Muslims. 2 a Muslim greeting or show of respect in the form of a low bow with the palm of the right hand on the forehead. 3 (salaams) greetings; compliments. ▷ verb (salaamed, salaaming) tr & intr to perform the salaam to someone. ⓘ 17c: from Arabic salam peace.

salable see SALEABLE

salacious /sə'leɪʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 unnaturally preoccupied with sex; lecherous or lustful. 2 seeking to arouse sexual desire, especially crudely or obscenely. ● salaciously adverb. ● salaciousness or salacity /sə'lasɪtɪ/ noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin salax fond of leaping, from salire to leap.

salad /'saləd/ ▷ noun a cold dish of vegetables or herbs, either raw or pre-cooked, often served with a dressing, and eaten either on its own or as an accompaniment to a main meal. ⓘ 15c: from French salade, from Latin sal salt.

salad cream ▷ noun a type of bottled mayonnaise for dressing a salad.

salad days ▷ plural noun, literary years of youthful inexperience and carefree innocence. ⓘ 17c.

salad dressing ▷ noun any sauce served with a salad, eg mayonnaise or a mixture of oil and vinegar.

salamander /'saləmandə(r), salə'mandə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 any of numerous small amphibians found in damp regions or in water, superficially resembling a lizard, but with a rounded head, moist skin without scales, and toes without claws. 2 a mythical reptile or spirit believed to live in fire and be able to quench it with the chill of its body. 3 a hot metal plate for browning meat, etc. ⓘ 14c: from French salamandre, from Greek salamandra.

salami /sə'lɑːmɪ/ ▷ noun (salamis) a highly seasoned type of sausage, usually served very thinly sliced. ⓘ 19c: Italian, plural of salame, from Latin salare to salt.

salami tactics ▷ plural noun the business practice of cutting staff or undesirable parts of an organization one by one. ⓘ 1960s.

sal ammoniac /— ə'moʊnɪak/ ▷ noun, chem another name for ammonium chloride, a white crystalline salt. See also AMMONIUM.

salaried /'salərɪd/ ▷ adj 1 having or receiving a salary. 2 said of employment: paid by a salary. ⓘ 17c.

salary /'salərɪ/ ▷ noun (salaries) a fixed regular payment, usually made monthly, for especially non-manual work. ▷ verb (salaries, salaried, salarying) to pay a salary to someone. Compare WAGES. ⓘ 14c: from French salaire, from Latin salarium soldier's allowance to buy salt, from sal salt.

salchow /'salkoʊ, 'salkɒv/ ▷ noun, ice-skating a jump where the skater takes off from the inside back edge of one skate, spins up to three times in the air, and lands on the outside back edge of the other skate. ⓘ 1920s: named after Ulrich Salchow (1877–1949), the Swedish skater who devised it.

sale ▷ noun 1 the act or practice of selling. 2 the exchange of anything for a specified amount of money. 3 the power or opportunity of selling □ There is no sale for fur coats in the Caribbean. 4 an item sold. 5 a period during which goods in shops, etc are offered at reduced prices. 6 the sale of goods by auction. 7 any event at which certain goods can be bought □ a book sale. 8 (sales) the operations associated with, or the staff responsible for, selling □ She has worked in sales for a year. ▷ adj intended for selling, especially at reduced prices or by auction □ sales items. ● for or on sale available for buying. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sala.

saleable or (US) salable /'seɪləbəl/ adj 1 suitable for selling. 2 in demand. ● saleability noun. ● saleableness noun. ⓘ 16c.

sale and leaseback see LEASEBACK sale of work ▷ noun a sale of items made by members of eg a church congregation or association in order to raise money for a charity or other organization.

sale or return and sale and return ▷ noun an arrangement by which a retailer may return any unsold goods to the wholesaler.

sale price ▷ noun the reduced price of a sale item.

saleroom and (US) salesroom ▷ noun a room where goods for sale, especially at a public auction, are displayed.

salesclerk ▷ noun, N Amer a sales assistant in a store or shop.

salesman, salesgirl, saleswoman and salesperson ▷ noun 1 a person who sells goods to customers, especially in a shop. 2 a person representing a company who often visits people's homes, offices, etc.

salesmanship ▷ noun 1 the art of selling. 2 the techniques used by a salesman to present goods in an appealing way so as to persuade people to buy them.

sales resistance ▷ noun unwillingness of potential customers to buy, despite persuasive and forceful selling techniques.

salesroom see SALEROOM

sales talk and sales pitch ▷ noun persuasive talk used by salespeople.

sales tax ▷ noun, especially N Amer a tax imposed on retail goods and services.

Salian /'seɪlɪən/ ▷ adj, historical referring or relating to a tribe of Franks, the Salii, which established itself on the lower Rhine in 4c. ▷ noun a member of this tribe. ● Salic /'salɪk, 'seɪlɪk/ adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin Salii.

salicin or salicine /'salɪsɪn/ ▷ noun, pharmacol a bitter crystalline glucoside procured from willow-bark, used medicinally as an analgesic or painkiller. ⓘ 19c: French, from Latin salix, salicis a willow.

salicylate /sə'lɪsɪleɪt/ ▷ noun a salt of salicylic acid. ⓘ 19c.

salicylic acid /salɪ'sɪlɪk —/ ▷ noun, chem a white crystalline solid that occurs naturally in certain plants, used in the manufacture of aspirin, antiseptic ointments, dyes, food preservatives and perfumes. ⓘ 19c: from Latin salix willow, from the bark of which it was originally prepared.

salient /ˈseɪlɪənt/ ▷ adj 1 striking; outstanding or prominent. 2 archit projecting outwards □ a salient angle. 3 biol, heraldry springing or leaping. ▷ noun a projecting angle, part or section, eg of a fortification or a defensive line of troops. ● salience or saliency noun. ● saliently adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin saliens, present participle of salire to leap.

Salientia /seɪlɪˈɛnʃə/ ▷ noun a genus of amphibians adapted for leaping, including frogs and toads. ● salientian adj referring or belonging to this genus. ⓘ 1940s: Latin, from saliens present participle of salire to leap.

Salii see under SALIAN

salina /səˈliːnə, səˈlaɪnə/ ▷ noun (salinas) a salt lagoon, marsh, lake or spring. Also SALINE (noun 1). ⓘ 17c: Spanish, from Latin, from sal salt.

saline /ˈseɪlaɪn, -liːn/ ▷ adj 1 said of a substance: containing sodium chloride (common salt); salty. 2 having the nature of a salt. 3 said of medicines: containing or having the nature of the salts of alkali metals and magnesium. ▷ noun 1 a salina. 2 (also saline solution) a solution of sodium chloride in water, having the same pH and concentration as body fluids, used in intravenous drips, etc. ● salinity /səˈlɪnɪtɪ/ noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin salinus, from sal salt.

salinometer /salɪˈnɒmɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun a hydrometer for measuring the quantity of salt in water. ⓘ 19c.

saliva /səˈlaɪvə/ ▷ noun a clear alkaline liquid produced by the salivary glands of the mouth, that moistens and softens the food and begins the process of digestion. ● salivary /səˈlaɪvərɪ, ˈsalɪvərɪ/ adj relating to, secreting or conveying saliva. ⓘ 17c: Latin.

salivary gland ▷ noun a gland that secretes saliva.

salivate /ˈsalɪveɪt/ ▷ verb (salivated, salivating) intr 1 said of the salivary glands: to produce a flow of saliva into the mouth in response to the thought or sight of food. 2 to drool. 3 to produce excessive amounts of saliva. ● salivation /salɪˈveɪʃən/ noun the flow of saliva, especially in excess as a result of the thought or expectation of food. ⓘ 17c: from Latin salivare, salivatum.

Salk vaccine /sɔːk —, sɔːlk —/ ▷ noun a vaccine against poliomyelitis. ⓘ 1954: named after Dr Jonas E Salk (1914–95), the US virologist who developed it.

sallow[1] /ˈsaloʊ/ ▷ adj said of a person's complexion: being a pale yellowish colour, often through poor health. ▷ verb (sallowed, sallowing) tr & intr to make or become sallow. ● sallowish adj. ● sallowness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon salo or salu.

sallow[2] /ˈsaloʊ/ ▷ noun a willow, especially the broader-leaved type with brittle twigs. ● sallowy adj full of sallows. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sealh, from Latin salix.

sally[1] /ˈsalɪ/ ▷ noun (sallies) 1 a sudden rushing forward or advance of troops to attack besiegers. 2 any sudden advance or outburst of action. 3 an excursion or outing. ▷ verb (sallies, sallied, sallying) intr 1 said of troops: to carry out a sally. 2 humorous (also sally forth) to rush out or surge forward. 3 to set off on an excursion. ⓘ 16c: from French saillie, from saillir to surge forward, from Latin salire to leap.

sally[2] /ˈsalɪ/ ▷ noun (sallies) bell-ringing the woolly grip for the hands on a bell rope. ⓘ 17c: perhaps from SALLY[1].

Sally Lunn ▷ noun a sweet tea-cake, usually served hot with butter. ⓘ 18c: named after a girl who sold them on the streets of Bath.

salmagundi or salmagundy /salməˈɡʌndɪ/ ▷ noun (salmagundies) 1 a dish of minced meat with eggs, anchovies, vinegar and seasoning. 2 a medley or miscellany. ⓘ 17c: from French salmagondis.

salmon /ˈsamən/ ▷ noun (salmon or salmons) 1 any of various medium-sized to large silvery streamlined fish that migrate to freshwater rivers and streams in order to spawn, highly prized as a food and game fish. 2 any closely related fish, or one that resembles it superficially. 3 the edible reddish-orange flesh of this fish, highly prized as food. 4 (also salmon pink) an orange-pink colour. ▷ adj salmon-coloured □ a salmon jumper. ⓘ 13c: from French saumon, from Latin salmo, from salire to leap.

salmonella /salməˈnɛlə/ ▷ noun (salmonellae /-liː/ or salmonellas) 1 (Salmonella) any of numerous rod-shaped bacteria found in the intestines of humans and animals, including many species associated with food poisoning, gastroenteritis, typhoid, etc. 2 food poisoning caused by such bacteria, characterized by violent diarrhoea and abdominal pain. ⓘ Early 20c: named after Daniel E Salmon (1850–1914), US veterinary surgeon.

salmon ladder ▷ noun a series of steps built in a river to help salmon swim upstream, without obstruction, to lay eggs.

salmon trout ▷ noun a fish resembling a salmon, but smaller and thicker in proportion.

salon /ˈsalɒn/ ▷ noun 1 a reception room, especially in a large house. 2 a social gathering of distinguished people in a fashionable household. 3 a shop or other business establishment where clients are beautified in some way □ a hairdressing salon. 4 a room or hall for exhibiting paintings, sculptures, etc. 5 (Salon) an annual exhibition of works by living artists in Paris. ⓘ 18c: French, from Italian salone.

saloon /səˈluːn/ ▷ noun 1 a large public room for functions or some other specified purpose, such as billiards, dancing, hairdressing, etc. 2 a large public cabin or dining-room on a passenger ship, usually for passengers travelling first class. 3 (also saloon bar) a lounge bar; a quieter and more comfortable part of a public house, sometimes separated from it. 4 N Amer, especially US any bar where alcohol is sold. 5 colloq (in full saloon car) any motor car with two or four doors and an enclosed compartment, not an estate, coupé, convertible or sports model. ⓘ 18c: from French salon.

salopettes /saləˈpɛts/ ▷ plural noun a ski suit consisting of usually quilted trousers reaching to the chest, held up by shoulder-straps. ⓘ 1970s: French.

Salopian /səˈloʊpɪən/ ▷ adj 1 referring to or coming from Shropshire, called Salop until 1980. 2 coming from or belonging to Shrewsbury School. ▷ noun 1 a native or inhabitant of Shropshire. 2 a pupil at or person educated at Shrewsbury School. ⓘ 18c: from Anglo-Norman Salopescira Shropshire.

salpiglossis /salpɪˈɡlɒsɪs/ ▷ noun (salpiglossises) any plant of a family, some of which are grown specifically for their bright, trumpet-shaped flowers. ⓘ 19c: from Greek salpinx trumpet + glossa tongue.

salpingectomy /salpɪnˈdʒɛktəmɪ/ ▷ noun (salpingectomies) medicine the surgical removal of a Fallopian tube. ⓘ 19c: from Greek salpinx trumpet, referring to the shape of the tube, + -ECTOMY.

salpingitis /salpɪnˈdʒaɪtɪs/ ▷ noun inflammation of a Fallopian tube. ⓘ 19c.

salpinx /ˈsalpɪŋks/ ▷ noun (salpinges /salˈpɪndʒiːz/) anatomy 1 the EUSTACHIAN TUBE. 2 either of the FALLOPIAN TUBES. ⓘ 19c: Greek.

salsa /ˈsalsə/ ▷ noun (salsas) 1 rhythmic music of Latin-American origin, containing elements of jazz and rock. 2 a dance performed to this music. 3 cookery a spicy Mexican sauce, made with tomatoes, onions, chillies and oil. ⓘ 19c: Spanish, meaning 'sauce'.

salsify /ˈsalsɪfɪ/ ▷ noun (salsifies) 1 a biennial plant with a long white cylindrical tap root, grass-like leaves and large solitary heads of violet-purple flowers surrounded by bracts. 2 the edible flesh root of this plant which can be boiled or baked and eaten as a vegetable, having a flavour resembling that of oysters. 3 the young leaves of this plant, which are sometimes used in salads.

See also OYSTER PLANT. ⊙ 17c: from French salsifis, from Italian sassefrica.

SALT ▷ abbreviation Strategic Arms Limitation Talks or Treaty.

salt /sɔːlt, sɒlt/ ▷ noun 1 SODIUM CHLORIDE, especially as used to season and preserve food. 2 a saltcellar. 3 chem a chemical compound that is formed when an acid reacts with a base. 4 liveliness; interest, wit or good sense ▫ Her opinion added salt to the debate. 5 (also old salt) an experienced and usually old sailor. 6 (salts) SMELLING-SALTS. 7 (salts) any substance resembling salt in appearance or taste, especially a medicine ▫ Epsom salts. 8 a SALTING or SALTMARSH. ▷ adj 1 containing salt ▫ salt water. 2 tasting of salt. 3 preserved or cured with salt ▫ salt pork. 4 covered over with or immersed in salt water. 5 said of a plant: growing in salt soil. ▷ verb (salted, salting) 1 to season or preserve (food) with salt. 2 to cover (an icy road) with a scattering of salt to melt the ice. 3 to add piquancy, interest or wit to something. 4 mining slang to add gold, precious ore, etc to (a mine) to give a deceptive appearance of riches to the mine. ● saltish adj. ● saltishness noun. ● saltless adj. ● saltly adverb. ● lay, put or cast salt on someone's tail to find or catch someone, from the humorously recommended method of catching a bird. ● go through something like a dose of salts colloq to do or finish it very quickly. ● rub salt in someone's wounds to add to their discomfort, sorrow, shame, etc. ● the salt of the earth a consistently reliable or dependable person. ● take something with a pinch of salt to treat a statement or proposition sceptically, or with suspicion and reservation. ● worth one's salt competent or useful; worthy of respect. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon.

■ salt something away to store it up for future use; to hoard it, especially in a miserly way.

saltant /ˈsaltənt/ ▷ adj, heraldry said of animals: leaping. ⊙ 17c: from Latin saltare to jump.

saltation /salˈteɪʃən, sɔːl-, sɒl-/ ▷ noun 1 a leaping or jumping. 2 genetics a sudden mutation or variation in appearance in a species from one generation to another. 3 geol the movement of a particle being transported by wind or water, resembling a series of leaps. ● saltatorial /saltəˈtɔːrɪəl/, saltatorious or saltatory /ˈsaltətərɪ/ adj 1 leaping or jumping. 2 biol displaying genetic saltation. ⊙ 17c: Latin, from saltare to jump around.

saltationism /salˈteɪʃənɪzəm, sɔːl-, sɒl-/ ▷ noun the process or concept of saltation, specifically the evolutionary theory that new species occur by way of saltation. ● saltationist noun a person who believes in saltationism. ⊙ 1970s.

saltbush ▷ noun any shrubby plant of the goosefoot family, growing in arid regions.

saltcellar ▷ noun 1 a container holding salt when used as a condiment. 2 anatomy a depression behind the collar-bone. ⊙ 15c.

salted /ˈsɔːltɪd/ ▷ adj 1 cured or preserved in salt. 2 containing salt. ⊙ 14c.

salt flat ▷ noun a stretch of flat, salt-covered ground left after the evaporation of an area of salt water.

saltigrade /ˈsaltɪɡreɪd/ ▷ adj, biol said of animals: adapted for or progressing by leaps. ▷ noun a type of jumping spider. ⊙ 19c: from Latin saltus a leap + gradi to go.

saltier and saltiest see under SALT saltimbocca /saltɪmˈbɒkə/ ▷ noun (saltimboccas) Italian cookery a dish containing veal and ham rolled together and cooked with herbs and sometimes cheese. ⊙ 1930s: Italian, literally 'it jumps in the mouth'.

salting ▷ noun 1 the act of preserving, seasoning, etc (food) with salt. 2 (saltings) an area of land flooded by the tides. Compare SALT MARSH. ⊙ 14c.

saltire or saltier /ˈsɔːltaɪə(r), ˈsɒl-/ ▷ noun a heraldic design or ordinary in the form of a ST ANDREW'S CROSS. ⊙ 14c: from French saultoir or sautoir, from Latin saltatorium a stirrup.

salt lake ▷ noun an inland lake containing saline water.

salt lick ▷ noun 1 a place to which animals go in order to obtain salt. 2 an object coated in salt, given to pets with a salt deficiency.

salt marsh ▷ noun an area of land which is usually, or liable to be, flooded with salt water. See also SALTING.

salt pan ▷ noun 1 a natural land depression in which salt accumulates or is accumulated by evaporation of salt water. 2 a large basin for obtaining salt by evaporation of salt water.

saltpetre or (US) saltpeter /sɔːltˈpiːtə(r), sɒlt-/ noun potassium nitrate. ⊙ 16c: from Latin salpetra salt of rock.

saltus /ˈsaltəs/ ▷ noun (saltuses) a breach of continuity, especially a jump to a conclusion. ⊙ 17c: Latin, meaning 'a leap'.

saltworks ▷ singular noun a building or site, etc where salt is produced.

saltwort ▷ noun a fleshy prickly plant of the goosefoot family, with green flowers, which inhabits sandy seashores and salt marshes. ⊙ 16c: translation of Dutch zoutkruid.

salty /ˈsɔːltɪ/ ▷ adj (saltier, saltiest) 1 containing salt. 2 tasting strongly or excessively of salt. 3 said of humour: sharp or witty; spirited. ● saltiness noun. ⊙ 15c.

salubrious /səˈluːbrɪəs, səˈljuː-/ ▷ adj 1 formal promoting health or well-being; healthy ▫ a salubrious climate. 2 decent or respectable; pleasant ▫ not a very salubrious neighbourhood. ● salubriously adverb. ● salubriousness or salubrity noun. ⊙ 16c: from Latin salubris, from salus health.

saluki /səˈluːkɪ/ ▷ noun (salukis) a breed of dog of Arabian origin, with a tall slender body and a silky fawn, cream or white coat, with longer hair on the ears, tail and backs of the legs. ⊙ 19c: from Arabic seluqi.

salutary /ˈsaljʊtərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 beneficial; bringing or containing a timely warning. 2 promoting health and safety; wholesome. ● salutarily adverb. ● salutariness noun. ⊙ 17c: from Latin salutaris, from salus health.

salutation /saljʊˈteɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a word, act, or gesture of greeting. 2 a conventional form of greeting in a letter, such as 'Dear Sir or Madam'. ● salutational adj. ● salutatory /səˈluːtətərɪ/ adj relating to or having the nature of a salutation. ● salutatorily adverb. ⊙ 14c: from Latin salutare, salutatum to greet.

salute /səˈluːt, səˈljuːt/ ▷ verb (saluted, saluting) 1 to greet with friendly words or especially a gesture, such as a kiss. 2 to pay tribute to something or someone ▫ We salute your bravery. 3 intr, military to pay formal respect to someone or something with a set gesture, especially with the right arm or by firing a weapon, such as a cannon. ▷ noun 1 a greeting. 2 a military gesture of respect, for a person or an occasion. ● saluter noun. ⊙ 14c: from Latin salutare to greet.

salvage /ˈsalvɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 the rescue of a ship or its cargo from the danger of destruction or loss. 2 the reward paid by a ship's owner to those involved in saving the ship from destruction or loss. 3 the rescue of any property from fire or other danger. 4 the saving and utilization of waste material. 5 the property salvaged in such situations. ▷ verb (salvaged, salvaging) 1 to rescue (property or a ship) from potential destruction or loss, eg in a fire or shipwreck, or from disposal as waste. 2 to manage to retain (eg one's pride) in adverse circumstances. ● salvageable noun. ⊙ 17c: from Latin salvagium, from salvare to save.

salvation /salˈveɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of saving someone or something from harm. 2 a person or thing that saves another from harm. 3 relig the liberation or saving of man from the influence of sin, and its consequences for his soul. ⓘ 13c: from Latin salvatus saved, from salvare to save.

Salvation Army ▷ noun a Christian organization, with a military-like rank structure, aiming to help the poor and spread Christianity, founded by William Booth in 1865. • Salvationist noun a member of the Salvation Army.

salve /salv, sɑːv/ ▷ noun (salves) 1 ointment or remedy to heal or soothe □ lip salve. 2 anything that comforts, consoles or soothes. ▷ verb (salved, salving) 1 to smear with salve. 2 to ease or comfort □ salve one's conscience. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sealf.

salver /ˈsalvə(r)/ ▷ noun a small ornamented tray, usually of silver, on which something is presented. ⓘ 17c: from French salve a tray for presenting the king's food for tasting.

salvia /ˈsalvɪə/ ▷ noun (salvias) bot any of numerous herbaceous plants or small shrubs of the mint family, including ornamental species and culinary herbs, eg sage. ⓘ 19c: Latin, meaning 'sage'.

salvo /ˈsalvoʊ/ ▷ noun (salvos or salvoes) 1 a burst of gunfire from several guns firing simultaneously, as a salute or in battle. 2 a sudden round of applause. ⓘ 17c: from Italian salva salute, from Latin salve hail.

sal volatile /sal vɒˈlatɪlɪ/ ▷ noun a former name for ammonium carbonate, especially in a solution used as SMELLING SALTS. See also AMMONIUM. ⓘ 17c: Latin, meaning 'volatile salt'.

Salyut /salˈjuːt/ ▷ noun, astron any of a series of manned Earth-orbiting Soviet space stations, the first of which was launched in April 1971, the last in April 1982, which have demonstrated that astronauts can remain in orbit for periods of six months or more. ⓘ 1970s: Russian, meaning 'salute'.

SAM ▷ abbreviation surface-to-air missile.

Sam. ▷ abbreviation Book of the Bible: Samuel. See table at BIBLE.

samara /səˈmɑːrə, ˈsamərə/ ▷ noun a dry, one-seeded fruit with a wing-like appendage allowing easier distribution on air currents. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'seed'.

Samaritan /səˈmarɪtən/ ▷ noun 1 an inhabitant or citizen of Samaria. 2 the Aramaic dialect of Samaria. 3 (in full Good Samaritan) a kind, considerate or helpful person. 4 a voluntary worker with THE SAMARITANS. ▷ adj referring or relating to Samaria or the Samaritans. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon, from Latin Samaritanus.

the Samaritans /səˈmarɪtənz/ ▷ noun a voluntary operation founded in 1953 by Chad Varah, an Anglican priest, offering help, support and counselling by telephone for those suffering from hardship, grief or distress.

samarium /səˈmɛərɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol Sm, atomic number 62) a soft silvery metallic element, used in alloys with cobalt to make strong permanent magnets, and also used as a neutron absorber in nuclear reactor components. ⓘ 19c: named after Col Samarski, a Russian engineer and mines inspector.

Sama-veda see VEDA

samba /ˈsambə/ ▷ noun (sambas) 1 a lively Brazilian dance in duple time. 2 a ballroom dance developed from this dance. 3 a piece of music written for either. ⓘ 19c: Portuguese.

sambar or sambur /ˈsambə(r)/ ▷ noun (sambars or sambar*, sambars or sambur) a large Indian or Asian deer with three-pronged antlers. ⓘ 17c: from Hindi, from Sanskrit sambara.

Sambo /ˈsamboʊ/ (sambos) offensive slang 1 (sometimes Sambo) a black person. 2 a person of mixed race especially someone with one black and one Native American parent, or one black and one European parent. ⓘ 18c: from American Spanish zambo, possibly from Greek skambos bow-legged.

Sam Browne and Sam Browne belt ▷ noun a military officer's belt with a strap over the right shoulder. ⓘ Early 20c: named after General Sir Samuel J Browne (1824–1901) who invented it.

same ▷ adj 1 identical or very similar □ This is the same film we saw last week. 2 used as emphasis □ He went home the very same day. 3 unchanged or unvaried □ This town is still the same as ever. 4 previously mentioned; the actual one in question □ this same man. ▷ pronoun (the same) the same person or thing, or the one previously referred to □ She drank whisky, and I drank the same. ▷ adverb (the same) 1 similarly; likewise □ I feel the same. 2 colloq equally □ We love each of you the same. • sameness noun 1 being the same. 2 tedious monotony. • all or just the same nevertheless; anyhow. • at the same time still; however; on the other hand. • be all the same to someone to make no difference to them; to be of little or no importance. • much the same not very different; virtually unchanged □ How are you? Much the same. • same here colloq an expression of agreement or involvement. ⓘ 12c: from Norse samr.

same-sex ▷ adj referring to a relationship or to sex between two men or two women; homosexual □ same-sex partner □ same-sex marriage.

samey /ˈseɪmɪ/ ▷ adj, colloq boringly similar or unchanging; monotonous □ I quite like that band, but I think their songs are a bit samey.

samfoo or samfu /ˈsamfuː/ ▷ noun a suit worn by Chinese women, comprising a jacket and trousers. ⓘ 1950s: from Cantonese Chinese sam dress + foo trousers.

Samian /ˈseɪmɪən/ ▷ adj referring to or from the Greek island of Samos. ▷ noun a native or citizen of Samos. ⓘ 16c.

Samian ware ▷ noun a brick-red or black earthenware pottery with a lustrous glaze, produced in Italy in the first century BC, later imitated in Roman Gaul and elsewhere in the Roman empire.

samisen /ˈsamɪsen/ ▷ noun a Japanese musical instrument, similar to a guitar, but with three strings, a long fingerboard and a rectangular soundbox. ⓘ 17c: Japanese, from Chinese san-xian, from san three + xian string.

samizdat /ˈsamɪzdat/ ▷ noun 1 in the former Soviet Union: the secret printing and distribution of writings banned by the government. 2 the writings themselves. ⓘ 1960s: Russian, meaning 'self-published'.

samosa /səˈmoʊsə, -zə/ ▷ noun (samosas or samosa) a small deep-fried triangular pastry turnover, of Indian origin, filled with spicy meat or vegetables. ⓘ 1950s: Hindi.

samovar /ˈsaməvɑː(r), -ˈvɑː(r)/ ▷ noun a Russian water boiler, used for making tea, etc, often elaborately decorated, and traditionally heated by a central pipe filled with charcoal. ⓘ 19c: Russian, literally 'self-boiler'.

Samoyed /samɔɪˈed, ˈsamɔɪed, (especially sense 1) səˈmɔɪed/ ▷ noun (Samoyed or Samoyeds) 1 (also samoyed) an active medium-sized dog of Siberian origin, with an extremely thick cream or white coat, and a tightly curled tail. 2 a a member of a people from NW Siberia; b their URAL-ALTAIC language. • Samoyedic adj. ⓘ 16c: from Russian Samoed.

sampan /ˈsampan/ or sanpan ▷ noun a small Oriental boat with no engine, which is propelled by oars. ⓘ 17c: Chinese, from san three + ban plank.

samphire /ˈsamfaɪə(r)/ ▷ noun a fleshy perennial plant with strongly aromatic bluish-green leaves, formerly popular as a pickled delicacy, and flat-topped clusters of tiny yellowish-green flowers. ⓘ 16c: from French sampiere, from (herbe de) Saint Pierre (herb of) St Peter.

sample /ˈsɑːmpəl/ ▷ noun 1 (samples) a specimen; a small portion or part used to represent the quality and nature of others or of a whole. 2 pop music an extract of music, sound, etc used in a song, recording, etc, often mixed using a SAMPLER (sense 2). ▷ adj used as or serving as a sample. ▷ verb (sampled, sampling) 1 to take or try as a sample. 2 to get experience of something ◻ He has sampled life abroad. 3 pop music to mix a short extract from one recording into a different backing track. 4 pop music to record a sound and program it into a synthesizer which can then reproduce it at the desired pitch. ⓘ 13c: from French essample, from Latin exemplum example.

sampler /ˈsɑːmplə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a collection of samples. 2 pop music the equipment used for sampling sound. 3 a piece of embroidery produced as a show or test of skill, often including the alphabet, figures, and sometimes the name of the person who embroidered it. ⓘ 13c.

sampling /ˈsɑːmplɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 the taking, testing, etc of a sample. 2 pop music the mixing of short extracts from previous sound recordings into a different backing track. ⓘ 17c.

samurai /ˈsamʊraɪ, ˈsamjʊraɪ/ ▷ noun (samurai) 1 Japanese historical an aristocratic caste or class of Japanese warriors, between the 11c and 19c. 2 a member of this caste or class. 3 a samurai's sword; a two-handed sword with a curved blade. ⓘ 18c: Japanese, from samurau to attend (one's lord).

sanative /ˈsanətɪv/ ▷ noun (sanatives) a remedy or cure. ▷ adj curing or healing. ⓘ 15c: from Latin sanativus, from sanare to heal.

sanatorium /sanəˈtɔːrɪəm/ ▷ noun (sanatoriums or sanatoria /-rɪə/) 1 a hospital for the chronically ill or convalescents, originally especially for consumptives. 2 a health farm. 3 Brit a sickroom in a boarding school, etc. ⓘ 19c: Latin, from sanare to heal.

sanctify /ˈsaŋktɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (sanctifies, sanctified, sanctifying) 1 to make, consider or show to be sacred or holy. 2 to set aside for sacred use. 3 to free from sin or evil. 4 to declare legitimate or binding in the eyes of the Church ◻ sanctify a marriage. • sanctification /saŋktɪfɪˈkeɪʃən/ noun the act of sanctifying or consecrating. • sanctified adj 1 made sacred or holy. 2 sanctimonious. • sanctifier noun 1 (usually Sanctifier) the Holy Spirit. 2 someone or something that sanctifies. ⓘ 14c: from French sanctifier, from Latin sanctificare, from sanctus holy + facere to make.

sanctimonious /saŋktɪˈmoʊnɪəs/ ▷ adj affecting or simulating holiness or virtuousness, especially hypocritically. • sanctimoniously adverb. • sanctimoniousness or sanctimony /ˈsaŋktɪmənɪ/ noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sanctimonia sanctity, from sanctus holy.

sanction /ˈsaŋkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 official permission or authority. 2 the act of giving permission or authority. 3 aid; support. 4 (especially sanctions) politics an economic or military measure taken by one nation against another as a means of coercion ◻ trade sanctions. 5 law a means of encouraging adherence to a social custom, eg a penalty for non-observance or reward for observance of a law or treaty. 6 any penalty attached to an offence. 7 ethics a motive or rationale for observance of and obedience to any moral or religious law. ▷ verb (sanctioned, sanctioning) 1 to authorize or confirm formally. 2 to countenance or permit. ⓘ 16c: from Latin sanctio, sanctionis, from sancire, sanctum to decree.

> sanction
>
> • This does not mean 'impose sanctions on'; this meaning is expressed by embargo or boycott.

sanctitude /ˈsaŋktɪtʃuːd/ ▷ noun saintliness; sanctity. ⓘ 15c: from Latin sanctitudo, sanctitudinis.

sanctity /ˈsaŋktɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (sanctities) 1 the quality of being holy or sacred. 2 purity or godliness; inviolability. 3 (sanctities) holy feelings, objects or obligations. ⓘ 14c: from French saincteté, from Latin sanctitas, from sanctus holy.

sanctuary /ˈsaŋktʃʊərɪ/ ▷ noun (sanctuaries) 1 a holy or sacred place, eg a church or temple. 2 the most sacred part of a church or temple, eg around an altar. 3 a place, historically a church, providing immunity from arrest, persecution or other interference. 4 a place of private refuge or retreat, away from disturbance ◻ the sanctuary of the garden. 5 a nature reserve in which animals or plants are protected by law. ⓘ 14c: from Latin sanctuarium, from sanctus holy.

sanctum /ˈsaŋktəm/ ▷ noun (sanctums or sancta /-tə/) (especially inner sanctum) 1 a sacred place. 2 a place providing total privacy. ⓘ 16c: from Latin sanctum holy.

sanctum sanctorum /saŋktəm saŋkˈtɔːrəm/ ▷ noun 1 the inner chamber of the Jewish tabernacle. Also called HOLY OF HOLIES. 2 any private retreat or room, free from disturbance. ⓘ 15c: Latin, translated from Hebrew qodhesh haqqodhashim holy of holies.

Sanctus /ˈsaŋktəs/ ▷ noun, Church 1 the hymn beginning 'Holy, holy, holy', sung at the end of the Eucharistic preface. 2 the music for this hymn. ⓘ 14c.

sanctus bell ▷ noun, RC Church 1 a bell rung at the singing of the Sanctus. 2 a bell rung in the more solemn parts of the Mass.

sand ▷ noun 1 geol tiny rounded particles or grains of rock, especially quartz. 2 (sands) an area of land covered with these particles or grains, such as a seashore or desert. ▷ adj 1 made of sand. 2 having the colour of sand, a light brownish-yellow colour. ▷ verb (sanded, sanding) 1 to smooth or polish a surface with sandpaper or a sander. 2 to sprinkle, cover or mix with sand. • sanded adj 1 sprinkled, covered or mixed with sand. 2 smoothed or polished with sandpaper or a sander. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

sandal[1] /ˈsandəl/ ▷ noun a type of lightweight shoe consisting of a sole attached to the foot by straps. • sandalled adj wearing sandals. ⓘ 14c: from Latin sandalium, from Greek sandalion.

sandal[2] see SANDALWOOD sandalwood and sandal tree /ˈsandəl —/ ▷ noun, bot 1 an evergreen tree with OPPOSITE oval leaves and inconspicuous red bell-shaped flowers. 2 the hard pale fragrant timber obtained from this tree, which is used for ornamental carving and as an ingredient of incense, and also yields an aromatic oil used in perfumes. ⓘ 16c: from Sanskrit candana.

sandarach or sandarac /ˈsandərak/ ▷ noun 1 (in full sandarach tree) a tree native to Australia, NW Africa, and N America, with sturdy fragrant wood. 2 (in full gum sandarach or sandarac resin) the resin from this tree which is powdered and used in making varnish. ⓘ 14c: from Latin sandaraca, from Greek sandarake.

sandbag ▷ noun 1 a sack filled with sand or earth, used with others to form a protective barrier against bomb blasts, gunfire or floods, or used as ballast. 2 a similar small sack of sand used as a cosh. ▷ verb 1 to barricade or weigh down with sandbags. 2 to attack with a sandbag. • sandbagger noun.

sandbank ▷ noun a bank of sand in a river, river mouth or sea, formed by currents and often above the water level at low tide.

sandbar ▷ noun a long sandbank in a river, river mouth or sea.

sandblast ▷ noun a jet of sand forced from a tube by air or steam pressure, used for glass-engraving, cleaning and polishing metal and stone surfaces, etc. ▷ verb to clean or engrave with a sandblast.

sand-blind ▷ adj half-blind. Compare STONE-BLIND.

sandbox ▷ noun 1 a box of sand, especially one for sprinkling on railway lines or roads. 2 a sandpit.

sandboy ▷ noun a boy selling sand. • as happy as a sandboy see under HAPPY.

sandcastle ▷ noun a model of a castle made for fun out of wet sand by children on the beach or in a sandpit.

sand-dune ▷ noun a hill or ridge of sand on a beach or in a desert.

sand eel ▷ noun a long silvery fish, resembling an eel, living in wet sand at low tide. Also called LAUNCE.

sander /ˈsandə(r)/ ▷ noun a power-driven tool fitted with sandpaper or an abrasive disc, used for sanding wood, etc.

sand flea ▷ noun 1 the CHIGGER (sense 2). 2 the SANDHOPPER.

sandfly ▷ noun 1 a small bloodsucking midge. 2 a small mothlike bloodsucking midge that transmits sandfly fever, a fever due to a viral infection which can cause blindness.

sandgrouse ▷ noun a species of bird related to pigeons, living in sandy areas of the Old World, with long pointed wings and feathered legs.

sandhopper ▷ noun a semi-terrestrial burrowing crustacean with a flattened body, capable of vigorous jumping, often abundant on seashores.

sandier, sandiest and sandiness see under SAND.

sand lizard ▷ noun a brown or green lizard with small dark rings and two pale lines along its back, found in heathland and sandy regions.

S and M ▷ abbreviation sadism and masochism; sado-masochism.

the sandman ▷ noun, folklore a man who supposedly sprinkles magical sand into children's eyes at bedtime to make them sleepy.

sand martin ▷ noun a small bird of the martin family that nests in colonies of burrows which are excavated in sand banks.

sandpaper ▷ noun abrasive paper with a coating originally of sand, now usually of crushed glass, glued to one side, used for smoothing and polishing surfaces. ▷ verb to smooth or polish with sandpaper.

sandpiper ▷ noun any of various ground-dwelling wading birds inhabiting shores in the N Hemisphere, with long legs and bills, camouflaged plumage, and a high-pitched piping call.

sandpit ▷ noun 1 a shallow pit filled with sand for children to play in. 2 a pit from which sand is dug.

sandshoe ▷ noun a shoe with a canvas upper and rubber sole; a plimsoll.

sandstone ▷ noun, geol a hard or soft sedimentary rock consisting of compacted sand cemented together with clay, silica, etc, widely used in the construction of buildings.

sandstorm ▷ noun a strong wind that sweeps clouds of sand through the air.

sandtrap ▷ noun, golf a bunker.

sandwich /ˈsandwɪdʒ, -wɪtʃ/ ▷ noun (sandwiches) 1 a snack consisting of two slices of bread or a roll with a filling of cheese, meat, etc. 2 anything with a similar arrangement or layout. ▷ verb (sandwiches, sandwiched, sandwiching) to place, especially with little or no gaps, between two layers. ⓘ 18c: named after John Montagu, the 4th Earl of Sandwich (1718–92), who ate such a snack so that he could remain at the gaming-table.

sandwich board ▷ noun either of two advertising boards carried by means of straps over the shoulders of their carrier, the sandwich man, so that one lies against the chest, the other against the back.

sandwich course ▷ noun an educational course involving alternate periods of academic study and work experience.

sandy /ˈsandɪ/ ▷ adj (sandier, sandiest) 1 covered with or containing sand. 2 having the colour of sand, a light brownish-yellow colour □ She has sandy hair. • sandiness noun.

sand yacht and land yacht ▷ noun a boat fitted with wheels and a sail for running on land, usually on beaches. • sand-yachting noun.

sane ▷ adj 1 sound in mind; not mentally impaired. 2 sensible or rational; sound in judgement. • sanely adverb. • saneness noun. See also SANITY. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sanus healthy.

sang past tense, past participle of SING.

sangfroid /sɒŋˈfrwɑː/ ▷ noun calmness or composure; cool-headedness. ⓘ 18c: French, meaning 'cold blood'.

Sangraal, Sangrail or Sangreal /saŋˈgreɪl, ˈsaŋ-/ ▷ noun the HOLY GRAIL. ⓘ 15c: from French Saint Graal.

sangria /saŋˈgriːə/ ▷ noun a Spanish drink of red wine, fruit juice, sugar and spices. ⓘ 1960s: Spanish, meaning 'a bleeding'.

sanguinary /ˈsaŋgwɪnərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 bloody; involving much bloodshed. 2 bloodthirsty; take pleasure in bloodshed. • sanguinarily adverb. • sanguinariness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sanguinarius, from sanguis blood.

sanguine /ˈsaŋgwɪn/ ▷ adj 1 cheerful, confident and full of hope. 2 said of a complexion: ruddy or flushed. ▷ noun 1 a blood-red colour. 2 a red chalk containing iron oxide, used for drawing. • sanguinely adverb. • sanguineness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin sanguineus, from sanguis blood.

sanguineous /saŋˈgwɪnɪəs/ ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to blood. 2 containing blood. 3 blood-red. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sanguineus, from sanguis blood.

Sanhedrim /sanˈhedrɪm, ˈsanədrɪm, -ˈhiːdrɪm/ and Sanhedrin /-drɪn/ ▷ noun, historical a Jewish council or court, especially the supreme council and court in Jerusalem. ⓘ 16c: Hebrew, from Greek synedrion, from syn together + hedra a seat.

sanies /ˈseɪnɪiːz/ ▷ noun, pathol a watery discharge from wounds and sores, containing serum, blood, and pus. • sanious adj. ⓘ 16c: Latin.

sanitarian /sanɪˈteərɪən/ ▷ noun someone who favours or studies sanitary measures. ⓘ 19c.

sanitarium /sanɪˈteərɪəm/ ▷ noun (sanitariums or sanitaria /-rɪə/) especially US a sanatorium.

sanitary /ˈsanɪtərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 concerned with and promoting hygiene, good health and the prevention of disease. 2 relating to health, especially drainage and sewage disposal. • sanitarily adverb. ⓘ 19c: from French sanitaire, from Latin sanitas health.

sanitary engineering ▷ noun the branch of civil engineering concerned with the provision of a pure water supply, the disposal of waste, and conditions of public health.

sanitary inspector ▷ noun, formerly a person responsible for ensuring that standards of hygiene are adhered to, both in domestic and commercial environments. See also ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH OFFICER, PUBLIC HEALTH INSPECTOR.

sanitary towel and (US) sanitary napkin ▷ noun an absorbent pad worn during menstruation.

sanitation /sanɪˈteɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 standards of public hygiene. 2 measures taken to promote and preserve public health, especially through drainage and sewage disposal. • sanitationist noun. ⓘ 19c.

sanitize or sanitise /ˈsanɪtaɪz/ ▷ verb (sanitized, sanitizing) 1 to make hygienic or sanitary. 2 to make less controversial or more acceptable by removing potentially offensive elements, aspects, connotations, etc. • sanitization noun. ⓘ 19c.

sanity /ˈsanɪtɪ/ ▷ noun 1 soundness of mind; rationality. 2 good sense and reason. ⓘ 15c: from Latin sanitas health, from sanus healthy.

sank past tense, past participle of SINK

sanpan see SAMPAN

sans /sanz; French sɑ̃/ ▷ prep without.

sansculotte /sanzkjuˈlɒt, sanzkuˈlɒt; French sɑ̃kylɔt/ ▷ noun 1 during the French Revolution: a nickname given to the democrats of the poorer classes. 2 a name used for any strong republican, democrat or revolutionary. • sansculottism noun. • sansculottist noun. ⓘ 18c: SANS + French culotte knee-breeches, so-called because the democrats in the French Revolution wore long trousers instead of knee-breeches.

sanserif or sans serif /sanˈserɪf/ ▷ noun, printing a type in which the letters have no serifs. Also as adj ☐ sanserif type. ⓘ 19c.

Sanskrit /ˈsanskrɪt/ ▷ noun the ancient Indo-European religious and literary language of India. ▷ adj relating to or expressed in this language. • Sanskritic adj. • Sanskritist noun. ⓘ 17c: from Sanskrit samskrta perfected.

Santa Claus /ˈsantə klɔːz/ and Santa ▷ noun in folklore: a plump, white-bearded, jolly old man dressed in red who traditionally brings children presents on Christmas Eve or St Nicholas's Day, travelling on a sleigh which flies through the sky drawn by reindeer. Also called Father Christmas. ⓘ 18c: from Dutch dialect Sante Klaas St Nicholas; the original custom was for someone to dress as a bishop, ie as St Nicholas, and distribute presents to the good children on St Nicholas's Day (6 December).

santonica /sanˈtɒnɪkə/ ▷ noun the dried unopened flower-heads of a species of wormwood. ⓘ 17c: Latin.

santonin /ˈsantənɪn/ ▷ noun a substance extracted from santonica, used as an anthelminthic. ⓘ 19c.

sap[1] ▷ noun 1 bot a vital liquid containing sugars and other nutrients that circulates in plants. 2 any liquid or fluid. 3 energy or vitality. 4 slang a weak or easily fooled person. ▷ verb (sapped, sapping) 1 to drain or extract sap from something. 2 to weaken or exhaust; to drain energy from something. • sappy see separate entry. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sæp.

sap[2] ▷ noun a hidden trench by which an attack is made on an enemy position. ▷ verb (sapped, sapping) 1 intr to attack by means of a sap. 2 to undermine or weaken. ⓘ 16c: from French sape, from Italian zappa spadework.

sapele /səˈpiːlɪ/ ▷ noun (sapeles) 1 a type of wood resembling mahogany, used to make furniture. 2 the tree that yields this wood. ⓘ Early 20c: W African.

sapid /ˈsapɪd/ ▷ adj 1 said of food: having a decided taste or flavour, usually pleasant. 2 pleasing or relishing; exhilarating. • sapidity noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sapidus, from sapere to taste.

sapience /ˈseɪpɪəns/ ▷ noun 1 discernment or judgement; sagacity. 2 often ironic wisdom. ⓘ 14c: from Latin sapientia, from sapere to be wise.

sapient /ˈseɪpɪənt/ ▷ adj, formal, often ironic having or showing good judgement; wise. • sapiently adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin sapientia, from sapere to be wise.

sapling /ˈsaplɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 a young tree. 2 a young, immature person. 3 a young greyhound.

sapodilla /sapəˈdɪlə/ ▷ noun (sapodillas) 1 a large evergreen tree of tropical America. 2 its edible fruit. Also called sapodilla plum. 3 its durable wood. ⓘ 17c: from Spanish zapotillo, a diminutive of zapote, from Nahuatl tzapotl.

saponaceous /sapəˈneɪʃəs/ ▷ adj soapy; similar to or cont...ng soap. ⓘ 18c: from Latin sapo soap.

saponification ▷ noun, chem the hydrolysis of an ester by an alkali, a process which is used to convert fats into soap. ⓘ 19c: from Latin sapo soap.

saponify /səˈpɒnɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (saponifies, saponified, saponifying) chem to carry out a process where the hydrolysis of an ester by an alkali converts fats into soap. • saponification noun. ⓘ 19c: from French saponifier, from Latin saponificare, from sapo soap.

saponin /ˈsapənɪn/ ▷ noun a glucoside extracted from plants, eg soapwort, which gives a soapy lather. ⓘ 19c: from French saponine, from Latin sapo, saponis soap.

sapor /ˈseɪpɔː(r)/ ▷ noun, formal taste; flavour. • saporous /ˈseɪpərəs/ adj. ⓘ 15c: Latin, from sapere to taste.

sapper /ˈsapə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 Brit a soldier, especially a private, in the Royal Engineers. 2 a soldier responsible for making saps (SAP[2]). ⓘ 17c.

Sapphic /ˈsafɪk/ ▷ adj 1 poetry indicating the form of verses said to have been invented by Sappho, arranged in stanzas of four lines each, with a short fourth line. 2 referring or relating to Sappho. 3 lesbian. ▷ noun (usually Sapphics or sapphics) the form of verse invented by Sappho. • Sapphism noun (also sapphism) lesbianism. • sapphist noun a lesbian. ⓘ 16c: from Sappho (c.600 BC), the Greek poetess of the island of Lesbos, reputed to be a LESBIAN.

sapphire /ˈsafaɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 any gem variety of the mineral corundum other than ruby, especially the hard transparent blue variety, prized as a gemstone, and also used in record player styluses, etc. 2 the deep blue colour of this stone. ▷ adj 1 made of sapphire. 2 having the colour of sapphire. ⓘ 13c: from Latin sapphirus, from Greek sappheiros, from Sanskrit sanipriya dear to the planet Saturn.

sappy /ˈsapɪ/ ▷ adj (sappier, sappiest) 1 said of plants: full of sap. 2 full of energy. • sappiness noun.

sapro- /ˈsaprou, saˈprɒ/ or (before a vowel) sapr- combining form, signifying rotten or decayed. ⓘ From Greek sapros rotten.

saprogenic /saprouˈdʒenɪk/ and saprogenous /saˈprɒdʒənəs/ ▷ adj, biol 1 growing on decaying matter. 2 causing or caused by putrefaction or decay. ⓘ 19c: SAPRO- + -GENIC.

saprolite /ˈsaproulaɪt/ ▷ noun, geol a soft earthy red or brown deposit formed by chemical weathering of igneous or metamorphic rock, especially in humid climates. ⓘ 19c: SAPRO- + Greek lithos stone.

saprophyte /ˈsaproufaɪt, ˈsaprə-/ ▷ noun, biol a plant, especially a fungus, that feeds on dead and decaying organic matter. • saprophytic /-ˈfɪtɪk/ adj. ⓘ 19c: SAPRO- + Greek phyton plant.

saprozoic /saprouˈzouɪk/ ▷ adj, biol said of organisms: feeding on dead or decaying organic matter. ⓘ Early 20c: SAPRO- + Greek zoion animal.

sapsucker ▷ noun a N American woodpecker which feeds on the sap of trees. ⓘ 18c.

sapwood ▷ noun the soft wood between the inner bark and the heartwood.

saraband or sarabande /ˈsarəband/ ▷ noun 1 a slow formal Spanish dance. 2 a piece of music written for this dance, where its rhythm is in 3-4 time with the second beat strongly accented. ⓘ 17c: from Spanish zarabanda.

Saracen /ˈsarəsən/ ▷ noun 1 in Roman times: a nomadic Syrian or Arab. 2 in later times: any Arab. 3 a Muslim defending the Holy Land from Christian crusaders. ▷ adj referring or relating to an Arab or Syrian from any of these times. • Saracenic /sarəˈsenɪk/ adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon, from Latin Saracenus, from Greek Sarakenos.

sarcasm /ˈsɑːkazəm/ ▷ noun 1 an often ironical expression of scorn or contempt. 2 the use of such an expression. 3 its bitter, contemptuous quality. ⓘ 16c: from Latin sarcasmus, from Greek sarkasmos, from sarkazein to tear the flesh.

sarcastic /sɑː'kastɪk/ ▷ adj 1 containing sarcasm. 2 tending to use sarcasm. ▪ sarcastically adverb. ⓘ 17c.

sarcenet see SARSENET sarco- /'sɑːkoʊ, sɑː'kɒ/ ▷ combining form, signifying flesh. ⓘ From Greek sarx, sarkos flesh.

sarcocarp /'sɑːkoʊkɑːp/ ▷ noun, bot the fleshy PERICARP of a stone fruit. ⓘ 19c: SARCO- + Greek karpos fruit.

sarcoma /sɑː'koʊmə/ ▷ noun (sarcomas or sarcomata /-mətə/) pathol a cancerous tumour arising in connective tissue. ▪ sarcomatous adj. ⓘ 17c: from Greek sarkoma fleshy growth, from sarx flesh.

sarcomatosis /sɑːkoʊmə'toʊsɪs/ ▷ noun, pathol a condition characterized by the formation of sarcomas in several areas of the body. ⓘ 19c.

sarcophagus /sɑː'kɒfəgəs/ ▷ noun (sarcophagi /-gaɪ, -dʒaɪ/ or sarcophaguses) a stone coffin or tomb, especially one decorated with carvings. ⓘ 17c: from Greek sarkophagos flesh-eating, from sarx flesh + phagein to eat, because the limestone which was used to make the coffins was believed to consume the flesh of the bodies.

sarcoplasm /'sɑːkoʊplazəm/ anatomy ▷ noun the cytoplasm separating the fibrils in muscle fibres. ▪ sarcoplasmic /-'plazmɪk/ adj. ⓘ 19c: SARCO- + Greek plasma, meaning 'a thing moulded', from plassein to mould.

sarcous /'sɑːkəs/ ▷ adj referring or relating to flesh or muscle. ⓘ 19c: see SARCO-.

sard /sɑːd/ and sardius /'sɑːdɪəs/ ▷ noun a deep-red variety of CHALCEDONY. ⓘ 14c: Latin, from Greek sardion a Sardian stone, from Sardeis Sardis, a city in Lydia.

sardine /sɑː'diːn/ ▷ noun (sardines or sardine) a young pilchard, an important food fish, commonly tinned in oil. ▪ packed like sardines see under PACK. ⓘ 15c: French, from Italian sardina, from Greek sardinos.

Sardinian /sɑː'dɪnɪən/ ▷ noun 1 a native or inhabitant of Sardinia, a large island in the Mediterranean sea. 2 the Romance language spoken by the people of Sardinia. ▷ adj referring or relating to Sardinia or its people or language. ⓘ 18c.

sardonic /sɑː'dɒnɪk/ ▷ adj mocking or scornful; sneering. ▪ sardonically adverb. ⓘ 16c: from French sardonique, from Latin sardonius, from Greek sardonion a bitter-tasting plant from Sardinia which was said to screw up the face of the eater.

sardonyx /'sɑːdənɪks/ ▷ noun, geol a gem variety of CHALCEDONY with alternating straight parallel bands of colour, usually white and reddish-brown. ⓘ 14c: Greek, from Sardios Sardian + onyx a nail.

sargasso /sɑː'gasoʊ/ ▷ noun (sargassos or sargassoes) a brown seaweed with branching ribbon-like fronds that floats freely in huge masses, especially on the waters of the Sargasso Sea, a calm stretch of the N Atlantic ocean, near the West Indies. ⓘ Early 20c: from Portuguese sargaço.

sarge /sɑːdʒ/ ▷ noun, colloq especially as a form of address: sergeant.

sari or saree /'sɑːrɪ/ ▷ noun (saris or sarees) a traditional garment of Hindu women, consisting of a single long piece of fabric wound round the waist and draped over one shoulder and sometimes the head. ⓘ 16c: Hindi, from Sanskrit sati.

sarking /'sɑːkɪŋ/ ▷ noun a lining for a roof, usually made of wood or felt. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon serc.

sarky /'sɑːkɪ/ ▷ adj (sarkier, sarkiest) colloq sarcastic.

Sarmatian /sɑː'meɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 any of a nomadic tribe which used to inhabit Sarmatia. 2 the language that was spoken in Sarmatia. ▷ adj referring or relating to Sarmatia, historically a region which reached from the Vistula and Danube to the Volga and Caucasus rivers. ▪ Sarmatic /sɑː'matɪk/ adj. ⓘ 18c.

sarmentose /sɑː'mentoʊs/ and sarmentous /sɑː'mentəs/ ▷ adj, bot said of a plant: having runners. ⓘ 18c: from Latin sarmentum a twig, from sarpere to prune.

sarnie /'sɑːnɪ/ ▷ noun (sarnies) colloq a sandwich. ⓘ 1960s: shortened from 'sandwich'.

sarod /sə'roʊd/ ▷ noun an Indian stringed instrument similar to a cello, played with a bow or by plucking the strings. ⓘ 19c: Hindi.

sarong /sə'rɒŋ/ ▷ noun 1 a Malay garment worn by both sexes, consisting of a long piece of fabric wrapped around the waist or chest. 2 the cloth, usually brightly coloured, used for making it. ⓘ 19c: from Malay sarung, from Sanskrit saranga variegated.

saros /'seərɒs, 'sɑːrɒs/ ▷ noun 1 astron a cycle of 6 585 days and 8 hours, or 18 years and 11 days, after which the relative positions of the Sun and Moon recur, so eclipses repeat their cycle. 2 a Babylonian cycle of 3 600 days. ⓘ 17c: Greek, from Babylonian sharu 3 600.

sarrusophone /sə'rʌsəfoʊn/ ▷ noun a brass wind instrument, similar to an oboe. ⓘ 19c: named after Sarrus, the French bandmaster who invented it.

sarsaparilla /sɑːspə'rɪlə, sɑːsə-/ ▷ noun 1 any of various climbing or trailing tropical American plants with alternate leathery heart-shaped leaves, and greenish or yellowish flowers. 2 the long twisted aromatic root of this plant. 3 US a non-alcoholic drink flavoured with the dried root of this plant, used as a tonic. 4 a medicinal preparation derived from the dried root, used especially formerly to treat rheumatism and psoriasis. ⓘ 16c: from Spanish zarzaparrilla, from zarza bramble + parra vine.

sarsenet or sarcenet /'sɑːsnɪt, 'sɑːsnet/ ▷ noun a thin tissue of extremely fine silk. ▷ adj made of sarsenet. ⓘ 15c: from Anglo-Norman sarzinett, from Sarzin Saracen.

sartorial /sɑː'tɔːrɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to a tailor, tailoring or clothes in general ▫ sartorial elegance. 2 anatomy referring or relating to the sartorius. ▪ sartorially adverb. ⓘ 19c: from Latin sartor a patcher.

sartorius /sɑː'tɔːrɪəs/ ▷ noun (sartorii /-rɪaɪ/) anatomy a muscle in the thigh that crosses the leg, helping to flex the knee. ⓘ 18c: from Latin sartorius musculus a tailor's muscle, so called because tailors customarily sat with crossed legs while working.

Sarum use /'seərəm —/ ▷ noun the medieval rites of Salisbury cathedral. ⓘ 16c: from the ancient name of Salisbury.

SAS ▷ abbreviation Special Air Service.

sash[1] ▷ noun (sashes) a broad band of cloth, worn round the waist or over the shoulder, originally as part of a uniform. ▷ verb (sashes, sashed, sashing) to dress or adorn with a sash. ⓘ 16c: from Arabic shash muslin.

sash[2] ▷ noun (sashes) a glazed frame, especially a sliding one, forming a SASH WINDOW. ▷ verb (sashes, sashed, sashing) to provide with sashes. ⓘ 17c: from French châssis frame.

sashay /sa'ʃeɪ/ ▷ verb (sashays, sashayed, sashaying) intr to walk or move in a gliding or ostentatious way. ▷ noun an excursion or trip. ⓘ 19c: an alteration of French chassé.

sash cord ▷ noun a cord attaching a weight to the sash (SASH[2]) in order to balance it at any height.

sashimi /sa'ʃiːmɪ/ ▷ noun a Japanese dish consisting of thinly sliced raw fish. ⓘ 19c: from Japanese sashi pierce + mi flesh.

sash window ▷ noun a window consisting of two sashes (SASH[2]), one or either of which can slide vertically past the other.

Sask ▷ abbreviation, Canadian province Saskatchewan.

Saskatchewan /sas'katʃɪwən/ ▷ noun (abbreviation Sask) a W Canadian province.

sasquatch /'saskwatʃ, 'saskwɒtʃ/ ▷ noun, folklore a large hairy manlike creature believed by some to inhabit parts of N America and W Canada. ⓘ 1920s: Salish (a Native American language).

sass US colloq ▷ noun impertinent talk or behaviour. ▷ verb (sasses, sassed, sassing) intr to speak or behave impertinently. • sassy adj. ⓘ 19c.

sassaby /'sasəbɪ, sə'seɪbɪ/ ▷ noun (sassabies) a large S African antelope. ⓘ 19c: from Tswana tsessebe.

sassafras /'sasəfras/ ▷ noun 1 any of various deciduous N American trees with oval aromatic leaves and long clusters of greenish-yellow flowers. 2 the aromatic dried bark obtained from the roots of this tree, which also yields a pungent oil (sassafras oil) that is used in tea, medicinal preparations, perfumes, and as a food flavouring. 3 an infusion of the bark. 4 a name extended to various plants with similar properties. ⓘ 16c: from Spanish sasafrás.

Sassenach /'sasənax, -ak/ ▷ noun, Scottish, usually derog an English person; a Lowlander. ▷ adj English. ⓘ 18c: from Gaelic Sasunnach, from Latin Saxones Saxons.

sat past tense, past participle of SIT

Sat. ▷ abbreviation Saturday.

Satan /'seɪtən/ ▷ noun the chief evil spirit, the adversary of God, and the tempter of human beings; the Devil; the chief fallen angel, Lucifer. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon, from Hebrew, meaning 'enemy'.

satanic /sə'tanɪk/ and satanical ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to Satan. 2 evil; abominable. • satanically adverb. ⓘ 17c.

Satanism /'seɪtənɪzəm/ ▷ noun (also satanism) 1 the worship of Satan. 2 a fiendish or devilish disposition. • Satanist noun a person who practises Satanism. Also as adj.

satay /'sateɪ/ ▷ noun 1 a Malaysian dish of marinated meat barbecued on skewers. 2 the spicy sauce served with this dish.

SATB ▷ abbreviation in choral music: soprano, alto, tenor, bass.

satchel /'satʃəl/ ▷ noun a small briefcase-like bag for schoolbooks, often leather, and usually with shoulder straps. • satchelled adj. ⓘ 14c: from French sachel little bag, from Latin saccellus, a diminutive of saccus SACK[1].

sate /seɪt/ ▷ verb (sated, sating) to satisfy (a longing or appetite) to the full or to excess. • sated adj. • satedness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sadian.

sateen /sa'tiːn/ ▷ noun a glossy cotton or woollen fabric, similar to satin. ⓘ 19c: a variant of SATIN, modelled on VELVETEEN.

satellite /'satəlaɪt/ ▷ noun 1 (in full natural satellite) a celestial body that orbits a much larger celestial body, eg the Moon which orbits, and is a satellite of, the Earth. 2 (in full artificial or earth satellite) a man-made device that is launched into space by a rocket, etc, and is placed in orbit around a planet, especially the Earth, and used for communication, exploration and photography. 3 a smaller companion to anything. 4 a nation or state dependent, especially economically or politically, on a larger neighbour. 5 an obsequious follower; a hanger-on. • satellitic adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin satelles attendant.

satellite broadcasting, satellite television and satellite TV ▷ noun, telecomm the broadcasting of television by means of an artificial satellite.

satellite dish ▷ noun a saucer-shaped aerial for receiving television signals for programmes broadcast by means of an artificial satellite.

satellite town ▷ noun a small town built near a larger city to accommodate excess population.

sati /'sʌtiː/ see SUTTEE satiable /'seɪʃəbəl, 'seɪʃɪəbəl/ ▷ adj able to be satisfied or satiated. • satiability noun.

satiate /'seɪʃɪeɪt/ ▷ verb (satiated, satiating) to gratify fully; to satisfy to excess. • satiation noun satisfaction. ⓘ 15c: from Latin satiare, satiatum, from satis enough.

satiety /sə'taɪətɪ/ ▷ noun the state of being satiated; surfeit.

satin /'satɪn/ ▷ noun silk or rayon closely woven to produce a shiny finish, showing much of the warp. ▷ adj similar to or resembling satin. • satiny adj. ⓘ 14c: from Zaitun, Arabic form of the former Chinese name of the town (probably Quanzhou) where it was originally produced or from which it was exported.

satinet or satinette /satɪ'net/ ▷ noun 1 a thin satin. 2 a cloth with a cotton warp and a woollen weft. ⓘ 18c: French, meaning 'small satin'.

satinwood ▷ noun 1 a shiny light-coloured ornamental hardwood from E India, used for fine furniture. 2 the tree that yields it.

satire /'sataɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a literary composition, originally in verse, which holds up follies and vices for criticism, ridicule and scorn. 2 the use of instruments such as sarcasm, irony, wit and humour in such compositions. 3 satirical writing as a genre. ⓘ 16c: from Latin satira mixture.

satirical /sə'tɪrɪkəl/ and satiric ▷ adj 1 relating to or containing satire. 2 characterized by satire. • satirically adverb.

satirist /'satɪrɪst/ ▷ noun 1 a writer or performer of satires. 2 a person who frequently uses satire.

satirize or satirise /'satɪraɪz/ ▷ verb (satirized, satirizing) 1 intr to write satire. 2 to mock, ridicule or criticize using satire. • satirization noun satirizing or being satirized. ⓘ 17c.

satisfaction /satɪs'fakʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of satisfying, or the state or feeling of being satisfied. 2 something that satisfies. 3 gratification or comfort. 4 compensation for mistreatment. 5 the repayment of a debt; quittance. 6 the amendment of an honour, as by a duel. 7 relig atonement; the act of carrying out a penance. ⓘ 14c.

satisfactory /satɪs'faktərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 adequate or acceptable. 2 giving satisfaction. 3 relig atoning; expiating one's sins. • satisfactorily adverb. • satisfactoriness noun. ⓘ 16c.

satisfied /'satɪsfaɪd/ ▷ adj 1 pleased or contented. 2 said of a debt or bill: fully paid. 3 convinced or persuaded, eg in a debate or discussion.

satisfy /'satɪsfaɪ/ ▷ verb (satisfies, satisfied, satisfying) 1 intr to fulfil the needs, desires or expectations of someone. 2 to give enough to or be enough for someone or something. 3 to meet the requirements or fulfil the conditions of someone or something. 4 to pay in full. 5 to remove the doubts of someone; to convince them. 6 intr to please or gratify □ Porridge is the only cereal that really satisfies. 7 to amend. 8 to compensate or atone for something. 9 intr to make payment or atonement. • satisfiable adj. • satisfying adj. • satisfyingly adverb. ⓘ 15c: from French satisfier, from Latin satisfacere, from satis enough + facere to make.

satori /sa'tɔːrɪ/ ▷ noun sudden enlightenment, sought in Zen Buddhism. ⓘ 18c: Japanese, meaning 'awakening'.

satrap /'satrap/ ▷ noun 1 a viceroy or governor of an ancient Persian province. 2 a provincial governor, especially if very powerful and ostentatiously rich. • satrapal adj. ⓘ 14c: from Greek satrapes, from Persian khshathrapavan protector of the kingdom.

Common sounds in foreign words: (French) ɑ̃ grand; ɛ̃ vin; ɔ̃ bon; œ̃ un; ø peu; œ coeur; y sur; ɥ huit; ʁ rue satrapy /ˈsatrəpɪ/ ▷ noun (satrapies) a satrap's province, office or period of office. ⓘ 17c.

Satsuma /satˈsuːmə, ˈsatsumə/ ▷ noun a former province in SW Japan, known for its Satsuma ware, a yellowish pottery with gilding and enamel, made from the end of the 16c.

satsuma /satˈsuːmə/ ▷ noun (satsumas) 1 a thin-skinned easily peeled seedless type of mandarin orange. 2 the tree that bears this fruit. ⓘ 19c: named after SATSUMA.

saturable /ˈsatʃʊrəbəl/ ▷ adj, chem able to be saturated. • saturability noun.

saturant /ˈsatʃərənt/ ▷ adj having a tendency to saturate. ▷ noun a saturating substance; one that causes saturation.

saturate /ˈsatʃʊreɪt/ ▷ verb (saturated, saturating) 1 to soak. 2 to fill or cover with a large amount of something. 3 to charge (air or vapour) with moisture to the fullest extent possible. 4 chem to add a solid, liquid or gas to (a solution) until no more of that substance can be dissolved at a given temperature. 5 chem to treat (an organic chemical compound) in such a way that it no longer contains any double or triple bonds. 6 military to cover (a target area) completely with bombs dropped simultaneously. ▷ adj 1 saturated. 2 said of a colour: pure; deep. ▷ noun a saturated compound. ⓘ 16c: from Latin saturare, saturatum, from satur full.

saturated ▷ adj 1 chem said of a solution: containing as much of a solute as can be dissolved at a particular temperature and pressure. 2 chem said of a chemical, especially a fat: containing no carbon-carbon double bonds in the molecule and consequently not susceptible to addition reactions. 3 thoroughly wet or soaked.

saturated vapour pressure ▷ noun, physics the pressure that is exerted by a vapour which is in equilibrium with the liquid form of the same substance.

saturation /satʃʊˈreɪʃən, satjʊˈreɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the state of being saturated; saturating. 2 chem the point at which a solution contains the maximum possible amount of dissolved solid, liquid or gas at a given temperature. 3 meteorol the state of the atmosphere when fully saturated with water vapour at a given pressure. 4 as adj being of a great, or the greatest possible, intensity □ saturation bombing. ⓘ 16c.

saturation point ▷ noun 1 a limit beyond which no more can be added or accepted. 2 chem same as SATURATION 2.

Saturday /ˈsatədɪ, ˈsatədeɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the seventh day of the week, dedicated by the Romans to Saturn. 2 the Jewish SABBATH. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon Sæternesdæg Saturn's day.

Saturn[1] /ˈsatɜːn/ ▷ noun, Roman mythol the ancient god of agriculture, commonly identified with the Greek Kronos. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon, from Latin Saturnus, from satum past participle of serere to sow.

Saturn[2] /ˈsatɜːn/ ▷ noun 1 the planet: a astron the sixth planet from the Sun, with an orbit lying between those of Jupiter and Uranus, best known for its bright ring system called Saturn's rings; b astrol this planet, believed to induce a cold, melancholy and gloomy temperament, on account of its distance and slow orbit. 2 (in full Saturn rocket) any of a group of large US rockets used in the NASA Apollo programme. 3 alchemy the technical term for lead. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

Saturnalia /satəˈneɪlɪə/ ▷ noun (Saturnalia or Saturnalias) 1 Roman history the festival of the god Saturn in mid-December, a time of revelry and gift-giving when slaves were allowed temporary freedom. 2 (often saturnalia) a scene of rowdy celebration; a wild party or orgy. • Saturnalian adj. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from Saturnalis referring to SATURN[1].

Saturnian /səˈtɜːnɪən/ ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to the god SATURN[1], especially in reference to his reign being called the golden age. 2 referring or relating to SATURN[2]. ▷ noun 1 someone born under the planet Saturn. 2 someone of saturnine temperament. ⓘ 17c.

saturnine /ˈsatənaɪn/ ▷ noun 1 having a grave and gloomy temperament; melancholy in character. 2 caused or poisoned by lead. • saturnism noun lead-poisoning. ⓘ 15c: especially with reference to SATURN[2] 1b.

satyagraha /ˈsʌtjəgrʌhə, sʌtjəˈgruːhə/ ▷ noun 1 Mahatma Gandhi's policy of non-violent and passive resistance to British rule in India. 2 any non-violent campaign for reform. • satyagrahi noun an exponent of this. ⓘ 1920s: Sanskrit, meaning 'reliance on truth', from satya truth + agraha persistence.

satyr /ˈsatə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 Greek mythol a lecherous woodland god, part man, part goat. 2 a lustful or lecherous man. • satyric or satyrical adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin satyrus, from Greek satyros.

satyriasis /satɪˈraɪəsɪs/ ▷ noun in men: overpowering sexual desire. Compare NYMPHOMANIA. ⓘ 17c: Greek, from SATYR + -IASIS.

satyrid /səˈtɪrɪd/ ▷ noun any of several kinds of butterfly that have brownish wings marked with circles which resemble eyes. ⓘ Early 20c: from the genus name, Satyridae; see SATYR.

sauce /sɔːs/ ▷ noun 1 any liquid, often thickened, cooked or served with food. 2 anything that adds relish, interest or excitement. 3 colloq impertinent language or behaviour; cheek. 4 US stewed fruit. ▷ verb (sauced, saucing) 1 to add sauce to (food). 2 to make interesting or pleasant. 3 colloq to be impertinent or cheeky to someone. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin salsa, from sal salt.

sauce boat ▷ noun 1 a long shallow jug for serving sauce. 2 colloq an attractive male.

saucepan ▷ noun a deep cooking pot with a long handle and usually a lid. ⓘ 17c: so called as it was originally used only for making sauces.

saucer /ˈsɔːsə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a small shallow round dish, especially one for placing under a tea or coffee cup. 2 anything of a similar shape. ⓘ 14c: from French saussiere, from Latin salsarium, from salsa sauce.

saucerful ▷ noun (saucerfuls) the amount a saucer will hold.

saucy /ˈsɔːsɪ/ ▷ adj (saucier, sauciest) colloq 1 similar to or tasting of sauce. 2 impertinent or cheeky; bold or forward. 3 referring to sex, especially in an amusing way □ saucy postcards. 4 provocatively bold or audacious, especially arousing sexual desire. 5 said of clothes: smart. • saucily adverb. • sauciness noun. ⓘ 16c.

sauerkraut /ˈsaʊəkraʊt/ ▷ noun a popular German dish, consisting of shredded cabbage pickled in salt water. ⓘ 17c: German, literally 'sour cabbage'.

sauna /ˈsɔːnə, ˈsaʊnə/ ▷ noun (saunas) 1 a Finnish-style bath where the person is exposed to dry heat, with occasional short blasts of steam created by pouring water on hot coals, usually followed by a cold plunge. 2 a building or room equipped for this. 3 a period spent in such a room. ⓘ 19c: Finnish.

saunter /ˈsɔːntə(r)/ ▷ verb (sauntered, sauntering) intr (usually saunter along, past, etc) to walk, often aimlessly, at a leisurely pace; to wander or stroll idly. ▷ noun 1 a sauntering gait. 2 a leisurely walk or stroll; an amble. • saunterer noun. • sauntering noun. • saunteringly adverb. ⓘ 17c.

-saur /sɔː(r)/ and -saurus /ˈsɔːrəs/ ▷ combining form, denoting an extinct reptile □ dinosaur □ brontosaurus. ⓘ From Greek sauros lizard.

saurian /ˈsɔːrɪən/ zool ▷ noun a lizard. ▷ adj referring or relating to lizards; lizard-like. ⓘ 19c: from Greek sauros lizard.

saury /ˈsɔːrɪ/ ▷ noun (sauries) a long sharp-nosed marine fish. Also called SKIPPER. ⓘ 18c: from Latin saurus, from Greek sauros lizard.

sausage /ˈsɒsɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 a mass of chopped or minced seasoned meat, especially pork or beef, sometimes mixed with fat, cereal, vegetables, etc, and stuffed into a tube of gut. 2 any object of a similar shape. ● not a sausage colloq nothing at all. ⓘ 15c: from French saussiche, from Latin salsicia, from salsus salted.

sausage dog ▷ noun, colloq a DACHSHUND.

sausage meat ▷ noun minced and seasoned meat of the kind used for making sausages.

sausage roll ▷ noun, Brit sausage meat baked in a roll (ROLL noun 3) of pastry.

sauté /ˈsouteɪ/ ▷ verb (sautés, sautéed, sautéing or sautéeing) to fry lightly for a short time. ▷ noun (sautés) a dish of sautéed food. ▷ adj fried in this way □ sauté potatoes. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'tossed', from sauter to jump.

savage /ˈsavɪdʒ/ ▷ adj 1 said of animals: untamed or undomesticated. 2 ferocious or furious □ He has a savage temper. 3 said of eg behaviour: uncivilized; coarse. 4 cruel; barbaric. 5 said of land: uncultivated; wild and rugged. ▷ noun 1 now offensive a member of a primitive people. 2 an uncultured, fierce or cruel person. 3 a fierce or enraged animal. ▷ verb (savaged, savaging) to attack ferociously, especially with the teeth, causing severe injury. ● savagely adverb. ● savageness noun. ⓘ 14c: from French sauvage wild, from Latin silvaticus of the woods, from silva a wood.

savagery /ˈsavɪdʒərɪ, -dʒrɪ/ ▷ noun (savageries) 1 cruelty, ferocity or barbarousness; an act of cruelty. 2 the state of being wild or uncivilized. ⓘ 16c.

savanna or savannah /səˈvanə/ ▷ noun (savannas or savannahs) an expanse of level grassland, either treeless or dotted with trees and bushes, characteristic especially of tropical and subtropical Africa. ⓘ 16c: from Spanish zavana (now sabana).

savant /ˈsavənt or French ˈsavɑ̃/ and savante /ˈsavənt or French savɑ̃t/ ▷ noun a wise and learned man or woman respectively. ⓘ 18c: French, from savoir to know.

savate /saˈvɑːt/ ▷ noun a form of boxing in which the feet as well as the fists are used. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'old shoe'.

save ▷ verb (saved, saving) 1 to rescue, protect or preserve someone or something from danger, evil, loss or failure. 2 to use economically so as to prevent or avoid waste or loss. 3 intr to be economical, especially with money □ We're saving for the future. 4 to reserve or store for later use. 5 to spare from potential unpleasantness or inconvenience □ Doing a dissertation saves you having to do two exams □ That will save you having to make another trip. 6 to obviate or prevent. 7 sport to prevent (a ball or shot) from reaching the goal; to prevent (a goal) from being scored by the opposing team. 8 tr & intr, relig to deliver from the influence or consequences of sin; to act as a saviour □ Jesus saves. 9 computing to transfer (data, the contents of a computer file, etc) onto a disk or tape for storage. ▷ noun 1 an act of saving a ball or shot, or of preventing a goal □ He made a great save in that match. 2 computing the saving of data onto a disk or tape. ▷ prep (sometimes save for) except □ Save for one, John lost all the books □ We found all the tickets save one. ▷ conj, old use (often save that) were it not that; unless □ I would have gone with her, save that she had already left. ● savable adj. ● saver noun. ● saved by the bell often exclamation rescued or saved from a difficult or unpleasant situation by a welcome interruption. ⓘ from the bell which indicates the end of a round in a boxing match. ● save one's or someone's bacon to enable oneself or them to escape or come off unscathed from a difficult situation. ● save one's or someone's face to prevent oneself or them from appearing foolish or wrong; to avoid humiliation. ● save one's or someone's skin or neck to save one's or their life □ You really saved my skin when you snared the tiger. ● save or keep something for a rainy day see under RAINY. ● save the day to prevent something from disaster, failure, etc □ Colin saved the day by remembering to bring the map of the maze with him. ⓘ 13c: from French sauver, from Latin salvare, from salvus safe.

■ save up to set money aside for future use □ We're saving up for a holiday abroad next year.

save as you earn ▷ noun (abbreviation SAYE) Brit a government-operated savings scheme in which regular deductions are made from one's earnings.

saveloy /ˈsavəlɔɪ/ ▷ noun (saveloys) a spicy smoked pork sausage, originally made from brains. ⓘ 19c: from French cervelat, from Latin cerebellum, a diminutive of cerebrum the brain.

savin or savine /ˈsavɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a species of juniper with small leaves, native to Europe and Asia. 2 the irritant volatile oil extracted from the tops of this plant, originally used in drugs. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon, from French sabine.

saving /ˈseɪvɪŋ/ ▷ verb, present participle of SAVE. ▷ adj 1 protecting or preserving. 2 economical or frugal. 3 theol protecting from sin; redeeming or securing salvation, as in SAVING GRACE. 4 especially law making an exception or reservation □ saving clause. ▷ noun 1 something saved, especially an economy made □ We made a huge saving by buying in the January sales. 2 anything saved. 3 (savings) money set aside for future use. ● savingly adverb. ⓘ 13c.

saving grace ▷ noun 1 a desirable virtue or feature that compensates for undesirable ones. 2 a divine grace that leads to salvation and redemption.

savings bank ▷ noun a bank established to encourage economy and thrift by taking small deposits and giving compound interest.

saviour /ˈseɪvjə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person who saves someone or something else from danger or destruction. 2 a person who saves others from sin or evil. 3 (the Saviour) Christianity a name for Christ. ⓘ 14c: from French sauveour, from Latin salvator, from salvare to save.

savoir-faire /savwɑːˈfɛə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 instinctively knowing exactly what to do and how to do it; expertise. 2 tact or diplomacy. ⓘ 19c: French, literally 'to know what to do'.

savory /ˈseɪvərɪ/ ▷ noun (savories) bot 1 any of various species of plant with square stems, OPPOSITE paired narrow leaves and loose spikes of two-lipped purplish or white flowers. 2 the leaves of certain species of this plant, used as a culinary herb. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon soetherie, from Latin satureia.

savour or (US) savor /ˈseɪvə(r)/ noun 1 the characteristic taste or smell of something. 2 a faint but unmistakable quality. 3 a hint or trace. 4 relish or enjoyment. ▷ verb (savoured, savouring) 1 to taste or smell with relish. 2 to take pleasure in something. 3 to flavour or season. 4 to relish. 5 (chiefly savour of something) to show signs of it; to smack of it. ● savourless adj. ⓘ 13c: from French savour, from Latin sapor, from sapere to taste.

savoury or (US) savory /ˈseɪvərɪ/ adj 1 having a salty, sharp or piquant taste or smell; not sweet □ a savoury snack. 2 having a good savour or relish; appetizing. 3 pleasant or attractive, especially morally pleasing or respectable □ He isn't a very savoury character. ▷ noun (savouries) a savoury course or snack, especially served as an hors d'oeuvre. ● savoured adj. ● savourily adverb. ● savouriness noun. ⓘ 14c: from French savure, from savourer, from Latin sapere to taste.

savoy /səˈvɔɪ/ ▷ noun (savoys) (in full savoy cabbage) a winter variety of cabbage which has a large compact head and wrinkled leaves. ⓘ 16c: from French Savoie, the region of SE France where it was originally grown.

Savoyard /ˈsavɔɪɑːd/ ▷ noun 1 a native or inhabitant of Savoy, the region in SE France. 2 a performer in or enthusiast of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas produced in the Savoy Theatre. ▷ adj referring or relating to Savoy or its inhabitants. ⓘ 18c: from French Savoie.

savvy /ˈsavɪ/ slang ▷ verb (savvies, savvied, savvying) tr & intr to know or understand. ▷ noun 1 general ability or common sense; shrewdness. 2 skill; know-how. ▷ adj (savvier, savviest) knowledgeable or shrewd. ⓘ 18c: from Spanish saber to know, from Latin sapere to be wise.

saw¹ past tense of SEE¹

saw² /sɔː/ ▷ noun any of various toothed cutting tools, either hand-operated or power-driven, used especially for cutting wood. ▷ verb (past tense sawed, past participle sawn /sɔːn/ or sawed, sawing) 1 to cut with, or as if with, a saw. 2 to shape by sawing. 3 intr to use a saw. 4 intr to make to-and-fro movements, as if using a hand-operated saw. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sagu.

sawbones ▷ noun (sawbones or sawboneses) slang a surgeon.

sawdust ▷ noun dust or small particles of wood, made by sawing.

sawfish ▷ noun (sawfish or sawfishes) any of various large cartilaginous fishes, native to tropical and subtropical seas, with a long flattened sawlike snout bearing a row of sharp teeth on each side.

sawfly ▷ noun a wasplike insect characterized by its lack of a constricted waist, which uses its large egg-laying tube to deposit eggs deep within plant tissues.

sawhorse ▷ noun a trestle for supporting wood that is being sawn.

sawmill ▷ noun a factory in which timber is cut into planks.

sawn past participle of SAW² sawn-off and (especially US) sawed off ▷ adj 1 shortened by cutting with a saw □ sawn-off shotgun. 2 colloq short in height or stature.

sawn-off shotgun ▷ noun a shotgun with the end of the barrel cut off, making it easier to carry concealed.

saw set ▷ noun a device used for turning the saw teeth to the right and left.

sawyer /ˈsɔːjə(r)/ ▷ noun a person who saws timber, especially in a sawmill.

sax /saks/ ▷ noun (saxes) colloq short for SAXOPHONE.

Saxe blue, Saxon blue and Saxony blue ▷ noun a pale blue colour with a greyish tinge.

saxhorn /ˈsakshɔːn/ ▷ noun a valved brass instrument, similar to a small tuba, with a long winding tube and a bell opening, which is made in seven sizes. ⓘ 19c: named after Adolphe Sax (1814–94), the Belgian instrument maker who invented it.

saxicolous /sakˈsɪkələs/ and saxicoline /-laɪn/ ▷ adj, bot, zool living or growing among rocks. ⓘ 19c: from Latin saxicola, from saxum rock + colere to inhabit.

saxifrage /ˈsaksɪfreɪdʒ, -frɪdʒ/ ▷ noun any of numerous low-growing mainly alpine plants, often forming cushions or mats, with a basal rosette of fleshy leaves and small white, yellow, pink, red or purple flowers. ◆ saxifragaceous /saksɪfrəˈgeɪʃəs/ adj. ⓘ 15c: from Latin saxifraga rock-breaker, from saxum rock + frangere to break.

Saxon /ˈsaksən/ ▷ noun 1 a member of a Germanic people which invaded and conquered Britain in 5c and 6c. 2 any of various Germanic dialects spoken by this people. 3 a native, inhabitant or citizen of the region of Saxony in modern Germany. ▷ adj referring or relating to the Saxons, the ANGLO-SAXONS, their language, culture or architecture. ⓘ 13c: from Latin Saxones.

Saxon blue and Saxony blue see SAXE BLUE saxophone /ˈsaksəfoʊn/ ▷ noun a single-reeded wind instrument with a long S-shaped metal body, usually played in jazz and dance bands. Often shortened to SAX. ◆ saxophonist /sakˈsɒfənɪst/ noun someone who plays the saxophone. ⓘ 19c: named after Adolphe Sax (1814–94), the Belgian instrument maker who invented it.

say ▷ verb (says /sɛz/, said /sɛd/ , saying) 1 to speak, utter or articulate □ He said he would come. 2 to express in words □ Say what you mean. 3 to assert or declare; to state as an opinion □ I say we should give it a try. 4 to suppose □ Say he doesn't come, what do we do then? 5 to recite or repeat □ say your prayers □ say a blessing. 6 to judge or decide □ It's difficult to say which is best. 7 to convey information; to communicate □ She talked for ages but didn't actually say much □ What is the artist trying to say here? 8 to indicate □ The clock says 10 o'clock □ The forecast says it'll be sunny today. 9 to report or claim □ Elvis Presley is said by some to be still alive. 10 tr & intr to make a statement; to tell □ I'd rather not say. ▷ noun 1 a chance to express an opinion □ You've had your say. 2 the right to an opinion; the power to influence a decision □ to have no say in the matter □ She will have a lot of say in the decision. ▷ exclamation, N Amer, especially US 1 an expression of surprise, protest or sudden joy. 2 a way of attracting attention. ◆ sayer noun. ◆ I say! especially Brit an exclamation used for attracting attention, or expressing surprise, protest or sudden joy. ◆ I'll say! colloq an expression of wholehearted agreement. ◆ it goes without saying it is obvious. ◆ it is said or they say it is commonly reputed or believed □ They say that he killed his wife □ It is said to be a fake. ◆ it, etc says colloq the text runs □ The paper says that it will rain tomorrow. ◆ not to say indeed; one might even go further and say □ Train fares are expensive, not to say extortionate. ◆ nothing to say for oneself 1 unable to defend oneself or to justify one's actions. 2 only engaging in small talk. ◆ say the word give the signal or go-ahead □ If you want me to go to the doctor with you, just say the word. ◆ says you! colloq expressing incredulity or disbelief. ◆ that is to say in other words. ◆ there's no saying it is impossible to guess or judge □ There's no saying how long she'll take to recover. ◆ to say nothing of something not to mention it □ He wastes all his money on alcohol, to say nothing of all those cigarettes. ◆ to say the least at least; without exaggeration □ She is, to say the least, a rather irresponsible person. ◆ what do you say to? would you like? how about? □ What do you say to a mug of hot chocolate? ◆ You can say that again! colloq You are absolutely right! I agree wholeheartedly! □ 'He is such a scandalmonger!' 'You can say that again!' ⓘ Anglo-Saxon secgan.

◆ say for or against something to argue in favour of or against it □ There's a lot to be said for doing it yourself.

SAYE ▷ abbreviation Save As You Earn.

saying /ˈseɪɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 a proverb or maxim. 2 an expression □ Family sayings can be meaningless to outsiders. ⓘ 13c.

say-so ▷ noun 1 the right to make a final or authorized decision. 2 an authorized decision. 3 an unsupported claim or assertion.

sayyid or sayid or said /ˈsaɪjɪd, ˈseɪjɪd, ˈsaɪɪd, ˈseɪɪd/ ▷ noun 1 a descendant of Muhammad's daughter, Fatima. 2 an honorary title given to some Muslims. ⓘ 18c: Arabic, meaning 'lord'.

Sazerac /ˈsazərak/ ▷ noun, trademark, US a cocktail made from Pernod and whisky. ⓘ 1940s.

Sb ▷ abbreviation, chem antimony. ⓘ From Latin stibium.

SBN ▷ abbreviation Standard Book Number. Compare ISBN.

SC ▷ abbreviation 1 Austral, NZ School Certificate. 2 Signal Corps. 3 US state South Carolina.

Sc ▷ abbreviation, chem scandium.

sc ▷ abbreviation, printing small capitals.

sc. ▷ abbreviation 1 scilicet (Latin), namely. 2 sculpsit (Latin), he or she sculptured (this work).

scab ▷ noun 1 a crust of dried blood formed over a healing wound. 2 a contagious skin disease of sheep caused especially by mites, characterized by pustules or scales. 3 a plant disease caused by a fungus, producing crusty spots. 4 derog, slang a worker who defies a union's instruction to strike. Also called BLACKLEG. 5 derog a scoundrel; a contemptible person. ▷ verb (scabbed, scabbing) intr 1 (also scab over) to become covered by a scab. 2 slang to work or behave as a scab. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceabb.

scabbard /ˈskabəd/ ▷ noun a sheath, especially for a sword or dagger. ⓘ 13c: as scauberc, from French escaubers.

scabby /ˈskabɪ/ ▷ adj (scabbier, scabbiest) 1 covered with scabs. 2 derog, colloq contemptible; worthless. • scabbiness noun.

scabies /ˈskeɪbiːz/ ▷ noun, pathol a contagious skin disease characterized by severe itching, caused by a secretion of the itch mite, which bores under the skin to lay its eggs. ⓘ 15c: Latin, from scabere to scratch.

scabious /ˈskeɪbɪəs/ ▷ noun any of various annual or perennial plants with pinnately lobed leaves and flat heads of small bluish-lilac flowers. ⓘ 14c: from Latin scabiosa herba scabies plant, from scabies the itch, which the plant was used to treat.

scabrous /ˈskeɪbrəs/ ▷ adj 1 said of skin, etc: rough and flaky or scaly; scurfy. 2 bawdy; smutty or indecent. 3 beset with difficulties. • scabrously adverb. • scabrousness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin scabrosus, from scaber rough.

scad ▷ noun (scad or scads) a fish with an armoured and keeled lateral line, related to the mackerel. ⓘ 17c: Cornish dialect.

scaffie /ˈskafɪ/ ▷ noun, Scots colloq 1 a refuse collector. 2 a person who sweeps streets. ⓘ Late 19c: short for SCAVENGER.

scaffold /ˈskafould/ ▷ noun 1 a temporary framework of metal poles and planks used as a platform from which building repairs or construction can be carried out. 2 any temporary platform. 3 a raised platform for eg performers or spectators. 4 (the scaffold) a a temporary platform on which a person is executed; b hanging as a method of execution. ▷ verb (scaffolded, scaffolding) to supply with a scaffold. • scaffolder noun. ⓘ 14c: from French escadafault.

scaffolding /ˈskafəldɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 a temporary scaffold or arrangement of scaffolds. 2 materials used for building scaffolds. ⓘ 14c.

scag or skag ▷ noun, slang heroin.

scalable /ˈskeɪləbəl/ ▷ adj able to be climbed or scaled. • scalableness noun. • scalably adverb. ⓘ 16c: from SCALE[1].

scalar /ˈskeɪlə(r)/ math ▷ adj denoting a quantity that has magnitude but not direction, such as distance, speed and mass. ▷ noun a scalar quantity. Compare VECTOR. ⓘ 17c: from Latin scalaris, from scala ladder.

scalawag see SCALLYWAG

scald /skɔːld/ ▷ verb (scalded, scalding) 1 to injure with hot liquid or steam. 2 to treat with hot water so as to sterilize. 3 to cook or heat to just short of boiling point. ▷ noun an injury caused by scalding. • scalder noun. • scalding noun, adj. ⓘ 13c: from French escalder, from Latin excaldare to bathe in warm water, from ex from + calidus hot.

scaldfish ▷ noun (scaldfish or scaldfishes) a small European flatfish with large scales. ⓘ 19c: from scald, meaning 'scabby', because the fish's scales are easily rubbed off, giving the fish a rather scabby appearance.

scale[1] ▷ noun 1 a series of markings or divisions at regular intervals, for use in measuring. 2 a system of such markings or divisions. 3 a measuring device with such markings. 4 the relationship between actual size and the size as represented on a model or drawing. 5 music a a sequence of definite notes; b (usually scales) a succession of these notes performed in ascending or descending order of pitch through one or more octaves. 6 music the range of a voice or instrument. 7 any graded system, eg of employees' salaries. 8 math a numeral system □ logarithmic scale. 9 extent or level relative to others □ on a grand scale. Also as adj □ scale model. ▷ verb (scaled, scaling) 1 to climb. 2 (also scale up and scale down) to change the size of something according to scale, making it either bigger or smaller than the original. • on a large, small, etc scale in a great, small, etc way. • on the or a scale of 1 in the ratio of □ on a scale of one to ten. 2 (on a scale of) measuring between □ How would you rate his performance on a scale of one to ten? • to scale in proportion to the actual dimensions. ⓘ 15c: from Latin scala ladder, from scandere to mount.

scale[2] ▷ noun 1 any of the small thin plates that provide a protective covering on the skin of fish, reptiles and on the legs of birds. 2 bot a reduced leaf or leaf-base, often membranous or hard and woody. 3 any readily or easily detached flake. 4 a thin plate or lamina. 5 an overlapping plate making up scale armour. 6 biol a small flat detachable flake of cuticle. 7 biol one of many small flat structures covering and protecting the wings of moths, butterflies, etc. 8 tartar on the teeth. 9 a crusty white deposit formed when hard water is heated, especially in kettles. 10 a film formed eg as on iron being heated for forging. ▷ verb (scaled, scaling) 1 to clear something of scales. 2 to remove in thin layers. 3 intr to come off in thin layers or flakes. 4 intr to become encrusted with scale. • scaled adj. • scaleless adj. • scalelike adj. ⓘ 14c: from French escale husk.

scale[3] ▷ noun 1 (scales) a device for weighing. 2 the pan, or either of the two pans, of a balance. 3 (the Scales) astron, astrol same as LIBRA. ▷ verb (scaled, scaling) to weigh or weigh up. • tip the scales see under TIP[4]. ⓘ 13c: from Norse skal pan of a balance.

scale board ▷ noun a very thin strip of wood.

scale insect ▷ noun, biol any of various small bugs that feed on the sap of plants, including several serious pests of crops, the adult female of which is usually covered by a protective scale-like waxy or horny covering.

scalene /ˈskeɪliːn/ ▷ adj 1 geom said of a triangle: having each side a different length. 2 geom said of a cone or cylinder: having its axis oblique to the base. 3 anatomy denoting any of the scalenus muscles, connecting the upper ribs to the cervical vertebrae. ⓘ 18c: from Greek skalenos uneven.

scaler /ˈskeɪlə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person who scales fish, boilers, etc. 2 a device used to remove scale, eg for removing tartar from teeth.

scalier, scaliest and scaliness see under SCALY scaling-ladder ▷ noun 1 a ladder used for climbing high walls, formerly for accessing fortresses, etc. 2 a fireman's ladder.

scallawag see SCALLYWAG

scallion /ˈskalɪən/ ▷ noun any of various onions with a small bulb and long edible leaves, eg the spring onion. ⓘ 14c: from French escaloigne, from Latin Ascalonia (cepa) Ascalon (onion), from Ascalon, a port in Palestine.

scallop /ˈskɒləp, ˈskaləp/ and escallop /ɪˈskaləp/ ▷ noun 1 any of numerous species of marine bivalve molluscs with a strongly ribbed yellow, brown, pink or orange shell consisting of two valves with wavy edges that are almost circular in outline. 2 either of these shells, especially when served filled with food. 3 a shallow dish in which shellfish are cooked. 4 any of a series of curves forming a wavy edge, eg on fabric. 5 cookery an ESCALOPE.

6 cookery a potato slice fried in batter. 7 historical a scallop shell used as the badge of a pilgrim to the shrine of St James of Compostela. ▷ verb (scalloped, scalloping) 1 to shape (an edge) into scallops or curves. 2 to bake in a scallop with a sauce and usually breadcrumbs. 3 intr to gather or search for scallops. • scalloped adj said eg of fabric: having the edge or border shaped into scallops or curves. ⓘ 14c: from French escalope.

scallywag /ˈskalɪwag/ or scalawag /-əwag/ or scallawag /-əwag/ ▷ noun, colloq 1 a rascal or scamp; a good-for-nothing. 2 old use an undersized animal of little value. ⓘ 19c.

scalp /skalp/ ▷ noun 1 the area of the head covered, or usually covered, by hair. 2 the skin itself on which the hair grows. 3 a piece of this skin with its hair, formerly taken from slain enemies as a trophy, especially by Native Americans. 4 Scots dialect a bare rock or mountain top. ▷ verb (scalped, scalping) 1 to remove the scalp of someone or something. 2 chiefly US colloq to buy cheaply in order to resell quickly at a profit. 3 colloq to buy up eg theatre and travel tickets for resale at unofficial and inflated prices. • scalper noun. • scalpless adj. ⓘ 14c: from Norse skalpr sheath.

scalpel /ˈskalpəl/ ▷ noun a small surgical knife with a thin blade. ⓘ 18c: from Latin scalpellum small knife.

scaly /ˈskeɪlɪ/ ▷ adj (scalier, scaliest) 1 covered with scales. 2 similar to or like scales. 3 peeling off in scales. • scaliness noun. ⓘ 16c.

scam ▷ noun, chiefly US slang a trick or swindle.

scamp ▷ noun 1 a mischievous person, especially a child. 2 a rascal; an idler. • scampish adj. • scampishly adverb. • scampishness noun. ⓘ 18c: from French escamper to decamp.

scamper /ˈskampə(r)/ ▷ verb (scampered, scampering) intr to run or skip about briskly, especially in play. ▷ noun 1 an act of scampering. 2 a scampering movement or pace. ⓘ 17c.

scampi /ˈskampɪ/ ▷ plural noun large prawns. ▷ singular noun a dish of these prawns, usually deep-fried in breadcrumbs. ⓘ 1920s: from plural of Italian scampo shrimp.

scan ▷ verb (scanned, scanning) 1 to read through or examine something carefully or critically. 2 to look or glance over something quickly. 3 to examine (all parts or components of something) in a systematic order. 4 to examine (the rhythm of a piece of verse); to analyse (verse) metrically. 5 to recite (verse) so as to bring out or emphasize the metrical structure. 6 intr said of verse: to conform to the rules of metre or rhythm. 7 medicine to examine (parts, especially internal organs, of the body) using techniques such as ultrasound. 8 in television: to pass a beam over (an area) so as to transmit its image. 9 to cast an eye negligently over something. 10 engineering to search or examine (an area) by means of radar or by sweeping a beam of light over it. 11 computing to examine (data) eg on a magnetic disk. ▷ noun 1 an act of scanning ◻ brain scan. 2 a scanning. 3 medicine an image obtained by scanning. ⓘ 14c: from Latin scandere to climb.

scandal /ˈskandəl/ ▷ noun 1 widespread public outrage and loss of reputation. 2 any event or fact causing this. 3 any extremely objectionable fact, situation, person or thing. 4 malicious gossip or slander; a false imputation. • scandalous adj 1 giving or causing scandal or offence. 2 openly disgraceful, outrageous or defamatory. • scandalously adverb. ⓘ 13c: from Latin scandalum, from Greek skandalon stumbling-block.

scandalize or scandalise /ˈskandəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (scandalized, scandalizing) 1 to give or cause scandal or offence. 2 to shock or outrage. • scandalization noun. ⓘ 15c.

scandalmonger ▷ noun someone who spreads or relishes malicious gossip.

Scandinavian /skandɪˈneɪvɪən/ ▷ noun 1 a citizen or inhabitant of, or a person born in, Scandinavia, the area of N Europe consisting of Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and often also including Finland and Iceland. 2 any of the group of N Germanic languages spoken in Scandinavia. ▷ adj belonging or relating to Scandinavia, its inhabitants or their languages. ⓘ 18c.

scandium /ˈskandɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol Sc, atomic number 21) a soft silvery-white metallic element with a pinkish tinge, the oxide of which is used in ceramics and as a catalyst. ⓘ 19c: named after Scandinavia, where it was discovered.

scanner /ˈskanə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person or device that scans or can scan. 2 radar the rotating aerial by which the beam is made to scan an area. 3 computing any device capable of recognizing characters, etc, in documents and generating signals corresponding to them, used especially to input text and graphics directly without the need for laborious keying. 4 medicine any device that produces an image of an internal organ or body part, eg in order to locate a tumour.

scanning electron microscope ▷ noun, biol (abbreviation SEM) an electron microscope that produces a three-dimensional image of an object, allowing the surface structure of a relatively thick specimen to be examined.

scansion /ˈskanʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act or practice of scanning poetry. 2 the division of a verse into metrical feet. ⓘ 17c: from Latin scansio.

scant ▷ adj 1 in short supply; deficient. 2 meagre or inadequate; scarcely sufficient. ▷ adverb barely; scantily. ▷ verb (scanted, scanting) to limit, restrict or reduce something. • scantly adverb. • scantness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Norse skamt.

scanty /ˈskantɪ/ ▷ adj (scantier, scantiest) small or lacking in size or amount; barely enough ◻ scanty clothing ◻ a scanty meal. • scantily adverb in a scanty way; hardly or barely ◻ scantily clad. • scantiness noun. ⓘ 17c.

-scape /skeɪp/ ▷ suffix, indicating a type of scene or view created by the specified thing ◻ landscape ◻ soundscape ◻ officescape.

scapegoat /ˈskeɪpgoʊt/ ▷ noun 1 someone made to take the blame or punishment for the errors and mistakes of others. 2 Bible a goat on which the Jewish high priest symbolically loaded the sins of the people, which was then released into the wilderness. ⓘ 16c: from ESCAPE + GOAT, invented by William Tindale (1530), as a translation of the Hebrew azazel, incorrectly believed to mean 'the goat that escapes'.

scapegrace ▷ noun an incorrigible rogue or rascal. ⓘ 19c: from ESCAPE + GRACE, meaning 'one who escapes God's grace'.

scaphoid /ˈskafɔɪd/ ▷ adj 1 shaped like a boat. 2 anatomy referring or relating to the SCAPHOID BONE. ⓘ 18c: from Greek skaphe a boat + eidos form.

scaphoid bone /ˈskafɔɪd —/ ▷ noun, anatomy the NAVICULAR. ⓘ 18c: from Greek skaphe a boat + eidos form.

scapula /ˈskapjʊlə/ ▷ noun (scapulae /-liː/ or scapulas) anatomy the broad flat triangular bone at the back of the shoulder. Also called shoulder blade. ⓘ 16c: Latin.

scapular /ˈskapjʊlə(r)/ ▷ adj, anatomy relating to the scapula. ▷ noun 1 a monk's garment consisting of a broad strip of cloth with a hole for the head, hanging loosely over a habit in front and behind. 2 RC Church two small pieces of cloth joined by strings and worn over the shoulders by members of certain lay confraternities. 3 ornithol (in full scapular feather) a feather that grows from the shoulder. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon, from Latin scapulae shoulder blades.

scapulary same as SCAPULAR (noun) scar[1] ▷ noun 1 a mark left on the skin after a sore or wound has healed. 2 any permanent damaging emotional effect. 3 any mark or blemish. 4 a mark on a plant where a leaf was formerly attached. ▷ verb (scarred, scarring) tr & intr to mark or become marked with a scar. ⊙ 14c: from French escare, from Greek eschara a burn or scab.

scar[2] or scaur /skɔː(r)/ ▷ noun a steep rocky outcrop or crag on the side of a hill or mountain; a cliff. ⊙ 14c: from Norse sker low reef.

scarab /'skarəb/ ▷ noun 1 any of various dung beetles that are renowned for their habit of rolling and burying balls of dung, and which were regarded as sacred by the ancient Egyptians. 2 an image or carving of the sacred beetle, or a gemstone carved in its shape. ⊙ 16c: from Latin scarabaeus.

scarabaeid /skarə'biːɪd/ ▷ noun any beetle of the large family which includes dung beetles. ▷ adj belonging or relating to this family. ⊙ 19c: from Latin scarabaeidae.

scarce ▷ adj 1 not often found; rare. 2 in short supply. ▷ adverb scarcely; hardly ever □ We could scarce see it through the mist. ● scarceness noun. ● make oneself scarce colloq to leave quickly or stay away, often for reasons of prudence, tact, etc. ⊙ 13c: from French eschars niggardly, from Latin excerptus past participle of excerpere, from ex out + carpere to pick.

scarcely /'skɛəslɪ/ ▷ adverb 1 only just. 2 hardly ever. 3 not really; not at all □ That is scarcely a reason to hit him. ⊙ 14c.

scarcity /'skɛəsɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (scarcities) 1 a scarce state or fact. 2 a short supply or lack. ⊙ 14c.

scare ▷ verb (scared, scaring) 1 tr & intr to make or become afraid □ The cat scares her □ She scares easily. 2 to startle. ▷ noun (scares) 1 a fright or panic. 2 a sudden, widespread and often unwarranted public alarm □ a bomb scare. ● scarer noun. ● run scared see under RUN. ● scare the daylights out of someone or scare the living daylights out of someone or scare the pants off someone colloq to frighten them considerably or excessively. ⊙ 12c: as skerre, from Norse skirra to avoid.

■ scare someone or something away or off to drive them away by frightening them.

scarecrow ▷ noun 1 a device, usually in the shape of a human figure, set up in fields to scare birds. 2 colloq a shabbily dressed person. 3 colloq a very thin person. ⊙ 16c.

scaremonger ▷ noun an alarmist, or someone who causes panic or alarm by initiating or spreading rumours of disaster. ● scaremongering noun. ⊙ 19c.

scarf[1] ▷ noun (scarves or scarfs) 1 a strip or square of often patterned fabric, worn around the neck, shoulders or head for warmth or decoration. 2 a muffler. 3 a necktie or cravat. 4 a military or official sash. ⊙ 16c: perhaps from French escarpe sash or sling.

scarf[2] ▷ noun 1 a joint made between two ends, especially of timber, cut so as to fit with overlapping, producing the effect of a continuous surface. 2 an end prepared for such a joint. 3 a longitudinal cut made in a whale's carcase. ▷ verb (scarfed, scarfing) 1 to join by means of a scarf-joint. 2 to make a scarf in something. ⊙ 15c: from Norse skarfr.

scarier, scariest, etc see under SCARY scarify /'skarɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (scarifies, scarified, scarifying) 1 chiefly surgery to make a number of scratches, shallow cuts, or lacerations in (the skin, etc). 2 to break up the surface of soil with a wire rake, etc, without turning the soil over. 3 to hurt someone with severe criticism. ● scarification noun. ● scarifier noun an implement used for breaking up or loosening the surface of soil or of a road. ⊙ 16c: from Latin scarificare, from Greek skariphos etching tool.

scarlatina /skɑːlə'tiːnə/ ▷ noun, pathol SCARLET FEVER. ⊙ 19c: from Italian scarlattina, a diminutive of scarlatto scarlet.

scarlet /'skɑːlət/ ▷ noun 1 a brilliant red colour. 2 a brilliant red cloth or garment. ▷ adj 1 being scarlet in colour. 2 dressed in scarlet. ⊙ 13c: from French escarlate, from Persian saqalat scarlet cloth.

scarlet fever ▷ noun an acute infectious childhood disease, caused by bacterial infection, and characterized by fever, sore throat, vomiting and a bright red skin rash.

scarlet letter ▷ noun, historical a scarlet-coloured letter 'A' worn by women convicted of adultery in the Puritan communities of New England.

scarlet pimpernel ▷ noun a plant of the primrose family, with small red, white or purple flowers that close when the weather is cloudy.

scarlet runner ▷ noun a scarlet-coloured climbing plant of the kidney bean genus, yielding edible beans.

scarlet woman ▷ noun, derog 1 a term applied to the Roman Catholic Church by some Protestant sects as an expression of their hostility (in allusion to Revelation 17). 2 a sexually promiscuous woman, especially a prostitute.

scarp ▷ noun 1 the steep side of a hill or rock; an escarpment. 2 fortification the inner side of a defensive ditch, situated nearest to the rampart. ▷ verb (scarped, scarping) to cut into a scarp or slope. ⊙ 16c: from Italian scarpa.

scarp and dip ▷ noun, geol the two slopes, one steep and one relatively gentle, formed by the outcropping of a bed of sedimentary rock.

scarper /'skɑːpə(r)/ ▷ verb (scarpered, scarpering) intr, colloq to run away or escape; to go away unnoticed. ⊙ 19c: from Italian scappare to escape.

scarves plural of SCARF[1] scary /'skɛərɪ/ ▷ adverb (scarier, scariest) colloq 1 causing fear or anxiety; frightening. 2 timorous; nervous. ● scarily adverb. ● scariness noun.

scat[1] ▷ verb (scatted, scatting) intr, colloq especially as a command: to go away; to run off. ⊙ 19c: from the noise of a hiss + CAT, used to drive cats away.

scat[2] ▷ noun a form of jazz singing consisting of improvised sounds rather than words. ▷ verb (scatted, scatting) intr to sing jazz in this way. ⊙ 1920s.

scathing /'skeɪðɪŋ/ ▷ adj scornfully critical; detrimental □ Margaret Thatcher launched a scathing attack on John Major. ● scathingly adverb. ⊙ 18c: from Norse skathe injury.

scatological /skatə'lɒdʒɪkəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or involving scatology. 2 characterized or preoccupied with obscenity. ⊙ 1920s.

scatology /ska'tɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the scientific study of excrement, especially in medicine for the purpose of diagnosis. 2 the palaeontological study of fossilized excrement for the purpose of identifying and classifying fossils. 3 a morbid interest in or preoccupation with the obscene, especially with excrement, or with literature referring to it. 4 such literature containing these references. ⊙ 19c: from Greek skor, skatos dung + -LOGY.

scatter /'skatə(r)/ ▷ verb (scattered, scattering) 1 to disperse. 2 to strew, sprinkle or throw around loosely. 3 tr & intr to depart or send off in different directions. 4 to reflect or disperse (especially waves or particles) irregularly. ▷ noun 1 an act of scattering. 2 a quantity of scattered items; a scattering. 3 statistics a measure of the extent to which the values of two random variables, plotted as paired values on a graph, are grouped close together or scattered apart. ● scatterer noun. ⊙ 12c: as scateren, a variant of schateren to SHATTER.

scatterbrain ▷ noun, colloq a person incapable of organized thought or attention. ● scatterbrained adj. ⊙ 18c.

scatter diagram ▷ noun, math a graph which shows the distribution of measurements of two random variables, indicating whether the mean value is representative of all the measurements.

scattering /ˈskatərɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 dispersion. 2 something that is scattered. 3 a small amount. 4 physics the deflection of photons or particles as a result of collisions with other particles.

scatty /ˈskatɪ/ ▷ adj (scattier, scattiest) Brit colloq 1 mentally disorganized. 2 crazy or daft; unpredictable in conduct. ⓘ Early 20c: a shortening of SCATTERBRAINED.

scaur see SCAR²

scavenge /ˈskavɪndʒ/ ▷ verb (scavenged, scavenging) 1 intr to behave or act as a scavenger. 2 tr & intr to search among waste for (usable items). 3 chem to cleanse, or remove impurities from, something. ⓘ 17c: from SCAVENGER.

scavenger /ˈskavɪndʒə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person who searches among waste for usable items. 2 a person or apparatus that removes waste. 3 an animal that feeds on refuse or decaying flesh. ● scavengery noun. ⓘ 16: from French scawage inspection.

ScB ▷ abbreviation: Scientiae Baccalaureus (Latin), Bachelor of Science.

SCCL ▷ abbreviation Scottish Council for Civil Liberties.

ScD ▷ abbreviation: Scientiae Doctor (Latin), Doctor of Science.

SCE ▷ abbreviation Scottish Certificate of Education.

scena /ˈʃeɪnə/ ▷ noun (plural scene /ˈʃeɪneɪ/) in opera: an elaborate and dramatic recitative followed by an aria. ⓘ 19c: Italian, from Latin scena stage.

scenario /sɪˈnɑːrɪoʊ/ ▷ noun (scenarios) 1 a rough outline of a dramatic work, film, etc; a synopsis. 2 cinematog a detailed script. 3 any hypothetical situation or sequence of events. ⓘ 19c: Italian, from Latin scena stage.

scene¹ /siːn/ ▷ noun 1 the setting in which a real or imaginary event takes place. 2 the representation of action on the stage. 3 a division of a play, indicated by the fall of the curtain, a change of place or the entry or exit of an important character. Compare ACT noun 5. 4 a unit of action in a book or film. 5 any of the pieces making up a stage or film set, or the set as a whole. 6 a landscape, situation or picture of a place or action as seen by someone □ A delightful scene met their eyes. 7 an embarrassing and unseemly display of emotion in public □ make a scene. 8 colloq the publicity, action, etc surrounding a particular activity or profession □ the current music scene. 9 colloq a liked or preferred area of interest or activity □ Rock concerts are just not my scene. 10 colloq a situation or state of affairs □ That's the scene in Europe at the moment. ● behind the scenes 1 out of sight of the audience; backstage. 2 unknown to the public; in private. ● come on the scene to arrive; to become part of the current situation □ Everything was fine until he came on the scene. ● set the scene to describe the background to an event. ⓘ 16c: from Latin scena, from Greek skene tent or stage.

scene² see SCENA

scenery /ˈsiːnərɪ/ ▷ noun (sceneries) 1 a picturesque landscape, especially one that is attractively rural. 2 the items making up a stage or film set. ⓘ 18c.

scenic /ˈsiːnɪk/ ▷ adj 1 referring to, being or including attractive natural landscapes □ We'll take the scenic route. 2 referring or relating to scenery on stage or in film. ● scenically adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin scenicus, from Greek skenikos theatrical.

scenic railway ▷ noun a small-scale railway, running through artificial representations of picturesque scenery, used as an amusement activity.

scent /sɛnt/ ▷ noun 1 the distinctive smell of a person, animal or plant. 2 a trail of this left behind □ dogs on the scent. 3 a series of clues or findings leading to a major discovery □ The police are on the scent of the drug baron. 4 perfume. ▷ verb (scented, scenting) 1 to smell; to discover or discern by smell. 2 to sense; to be aware of something by instinct or intuition. 3 intr to give out a smell, especially a pleasant one. 4 to perfume. ● scented adj having a smell; fragrant or perfumed. ● put or throw someone off the scent to deliberately mislead them. ⓘ 14c: from French sentir, from Latin sentire to perceive.

sceptic or (N Amer) skeptic /ˈskɛptɪk/ noun 1 someone with a tendency to disbelieve or doubt the validity or substance of other situations, people, etc. 2 someone who questions widely accepted, especially religious, doctrines and beliefs. ⓘ 16c: from Latin scepticus, from Greek skeptikos thoughtful, from skeptesthai to consider.

sceptical or (N Amer) skeptical /ˈskɛptɪkəl/ adj doubtful; inclined to be incredulous. ● sceptically adverb.

> sceptical
>
> See Usage Note at cynical.

scepticism or (N Amer) skepticism /ˈskɛptɪsɪzəm/ noun 1 doubt, or the general disposition to doubt. 2 the doctrine that no facts can be definitely known. 3 agnosticism.

sceptre /ˈsɛptə(r)/ ▷ noun a ceremonial staff or baton carried by a monarch as a symbol of sovereignty. ● sceptred adj regal; bearing a sceptre. ⓘ 13c: from Latin sceptrum, from Greek skeptron staff.

SCF ▷ abbreviation Save the Children Fund.

Sch. ▷ abbreviation schilling.

schadenfreude /ˈʃɑːdənfrɔɪdə/ ▷ noun malicious pleasure in the misfortunes of others. ⓘ 19c: German, from Schade hurt + Freude joy.

schedule /ˈʃɛdjuːl, ˈskɛdʒuːl/ ▷ noun 1 a list of events or activities planned to take place at certain times. 2 the state of an event or activity occurring on time, according to plan □ We are well behind schedule. 3 any list or inventory. 4 a timetable or plan. 5 a supplement to a document. ▷ verb (scheduled, scheduling) 1 to plan or arrange something to take place at a certain time. 2 to put something on a schedule. ⓘ 14c: from Latin schedula, from scheda strip of papyrus.

scheduled castes ▷ noun, especially formerly in India: Hindus of a very low caste; the UNTOUCHABLES.

scheelite /ˈʃiːlaɪt/ ▷ noun the mineral calcium tungstate, a major source of tungsten. ⓘ 19c: named after K W Scheele (1742–86), the Swedish chemist who first discovered tungstic acid.

schema /ˈskiːmə/ ▷ noun (schemata /-mətə/) 1 a scheme or plan. 2 a diagrammatic outline or synopsis. ⓘ 18c: Greek.

schematic /skɪˈmatɪk/ ▷ adj 1 following or involving a particular plan or arrangement. 2 represented by a diagram or plan. ● schematically adverb. ⓘ 18c.

schematize or schematise /ˈskiːmətaɪz/ ▷ verb (schematized, schematizing) to reduce to or represent by a scheme. ● schematization /-ˈzeɪʃən/ noun. ● schematism noun. ⓘ 17c.

scheme /skiːm/ ▷ noun 1 a plan of action. 2 a system or programme □ a pension scheme. 3 a careful arrangement of different components □ a colour scheme. 4 a secret plan intended to cause harm or damage. 5 a diagram or table. 6 a diagram of positions, especially (astrol) of planets. 7 chiefly Scot a HOUSING ESTATE. ▷ verb (schemed, scheming) intr to plan or act secretly and often maliciously. ● schemer noun. ⓘ 16c: Greek.

scheming ▷ adj tending to plot or scheme □ She's a scheming so-and-so. ▷ noun the act or process of making a plot or scheme. ⓘ 19c.

scherzando /skɛət'sandou, skɜːt-/ music ▷ adverb playfully. ▷ adj playful. ▷ noun (scherzandos or scherzandi /-diː/) a playful movement, piece or passage. ⓒ Early 19c.

scherzo /'skɛətsou, 'skɜːtsou/ ▷ noun (scherzos or scherzi /-siː/) a lively piece of music, usually with a trio (sense 3), generally the second or third part of a symphony, sonata, etc, replacing the minuet. ⓒ 19c: Italian, meaning 'joke'.

Schick test /ʃɪk —/ or Schick's test ▷ noun, medicine a test carried out to determine susceptibility to diphtheria, done by injecting the skin with a measured amount of diphtheria toxin. ⓒ Early 20c: named after Bela Schick (1877–1967), the US paediatrician who devised it.

schilling /'ʃɪlɪŋ/ ▷ noun (abbreviation Sch.) the standard unit of currency of Austria. ⓒ 18c: German.

schism /'skɪzəm, 'sɪzəm/ ▷ noun, relig 1 a breach or separation from the main group, or into opposing groups. 2 the act of encouraging such a breach or separation. 3 the breakaway group formed. ⓒ 14c: from Greek schisma split.

schismatic /skɪz'matɪk, sɪz-/ and schismatical ▷ adj relating to or involving schism. ● schismatically adverb. ⓒ 15c.

schist /ʃɪst/ ▷ noun, geol any of a group of common coarse-grained metamorphic rocks that characteristically contain broad wavy bands of minerals that readily split into layers. ● schistose adj. ⓒ 18c: from French schiste, from Greek schistos split.

schistosomiasis /ʃɪstəsou'maɪəsɪs/ ▷ noun, pathol a tropical disease, transmitted by contaminated water and caused by infestation with schistosomes, parasitic flukes which circulate in the blood and may affect other organs. Also called bilharzia. ⓒ Early 20c: from Greek schistos split.

schizo /'skɪtsou/ colloq ▷ noun (schizos) a schizophrenic person. ▷ adj schizophrenic. ⓒ 1940s: a shortening of SCHIZOPHRENIC.

schizo- /'skɪtsou, 'skaɪzou, skɪtsə/ or (before a vowel) schiz- combining form, signifying a division or split. ⓒ from Greek schizein to split or cleave.

schizocarp /'skɪtsoukɑːp, 'skaɪzou-/ ▷ noun a dry fruit that splits into two or more one-seeded portions. ● schizocarpous or schizocarpic adj.

schizoid /'skɪtsɔɪd, -dzɔɪd/ ▷ adj displaying some symptoms of schizophrenia, such as introversion or tendency to fantasy, but without a diagnosed mental disorder. ▷ noun a schizoid person. ● schizoidal adj. ⓒ 1920s.

schizomycete /skɪtsoumaɪ'siːt, skaɪzou-/ ▷ noun, biol any micro-organism, including bacteria, belonging to the class Schizomycetes. ● schizomycetic or schizomycetous adj. ⓒ 1870s.

schizophrenia /skɪtsə'friːnɪə/ ▷ noun any of various forms of a severe mental disorder characterized by loss of contact with reality, impairment of thought processes, a marked personality change, loss of emotional responsiveness and social withdrawal. ⓒ Early 20c: SCHIZO- + Greek phren mind.

schizophrenic /skɪtsə'frenɪk/ ▷ noun someone suffering from schizophrenia. ▷ adj relating to or suffering from schizophrenia. ⓒ Early 20c.

schizothymia /skɪtsou'θaɪmɪə, skaɪzou-/ ▷ noun a manifestation of schizoid traits and characteristics within normal limits. ● schizothymic adj. ⓒ 1960s: SCHIZO- + Greek thymos spirit.

schlep or schlepp /ʃlep/ slang ▷ verb (schlepped, schlepping) to carry, pull or drag with difficulty. ▷ noun 1 a clumsy, stupid or incompetent person. 2 a journey or procedure requiring great effort or involving great difficulty. ● schleppy adj. ⓒ 1920s: Yiddish.

schlock /ʃlɒk/ ▷ noun 1 inferior quality; shoddy production. 2 a shoddy or defective article. ● schlocky adj. ⓒ Early 20c: Yiddish, from German Schlag a blow.

schmaltz /ʃmɔːlts, ʃmalts/ ▷ noun 1 colloq extreme or excessive sentimentality, especially in music or other art. 2 fat, especially chicken fat, used for cooking. ● schmaltzy adj. ⓒ 1930s: Yiddish, from German Schmalz cooking fat.

schmooze /ʃmuːz/ ▷ verb (schmoozed, schmoozing) intr (usually schmooze with someone) to gossip or chat in a friendly or intimate manner. ▷ noun such a chat, especially at a social gathering. ⓒ 19c: from Yiddish schmues a chat.

schnapper same as SNAPPER 2.

schnapps or schnaps /ʃnaps/ ▷ noun in N Europe: any strong dry alcoholic spirit, especially Dutch gin distilled from potatoes. ⓒ Early 19c: German meaning 'dram of liquor'.

Schnauzer /'ʃnautsə(r)/ ▷ noun a type of German terrier with a thick wiry coat, marked eyebrows, moustache, beard and short pendulous ears. ⓒ 1920s: from German Schnauze snout.

schnitzel /'ʃnɪtsəl/ ▷ noun a veal cutlet. ⓒ 19c: German.

schnorkel see SNORKEL.

schnozzle /'ʃnɒzəl/ ▷ noun, chiefly US slang a nose. ⓒ 1930s: probably from a combination of nose or nozzle and Yiddish schnoitz snout, schnabel beak, etc.

scholar /'skɒlə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a learned person, especially an academic. 2 a person who studies; a pupil or student. 3 a person receiving a scholarship. 4 during times of less widespread education: a person who could read and write, or a learned person. 5 a person with extensive learning and knowledge, particularly in Greek and Latin, or with a scrupulous and critical approach to learning. ● scholarliness noun. ● scholarly adj. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon scolere, from French escoler, from Latin scholaris.

scholarship ▷ noun 1 the achievements or learning of a scholar. 2 a sum of money awarded, usually to an outstanding student, for the purposes of further study. 3 the status and emoluments of such a pupil or student. ⓒ 16c.

scholastic /skə'lastɪk, skɒ-/ ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to learning institutions, such as schools or universities, and to their teaching and education methods. 2 subtle; pedantic. 3 referring or relating to scholasticism. ● scholastically adverb. ⓒ 16c: from Greek scholastikos.

scholasticism /skə'lastɪsɪzəm, skɒ-/ ▷ noun 1 the system of teaching, especially moral or religious, that dominated W Europe in the Middle Ages, based on the writings of Aristotle and the Church Fathers. 2 stubborn adherence to traditional teaching methods and values. ⓒ 18c.

scholiast /'skoulɪast/ ▷ noun someone who writes explanatory notes and comments on literary works, especially an ancient grammarian writing on manuscripts. ● scholiastic adj. ⓒ 16c: from Greek scholiastes, from Latin scholie.

school[1] /skuːl/ ▷ noun 1 a place or institution where education is received, especially primary or secondary education. 2 in compounds a place or institution offering instruction in a particular field or subject, often part of a university □ music school □ art school. 3 the building or room used for this purpose. 4 the work of such an institution. 5 the body of students and teachers that occupy any such a place. 6 the period of the day or year during which such a place is open to students □ Stay behind after school. 7 the disciples or adherents of a particular teacher. 8 a group of painters, writers or other artists sharing the same style, often as a result of having received instruction in the same place or from the same master. 9 any activity or set of surroundings as a provider of experience □ Factories are the schools of life. 10 colloq a group of people meeting regularly for some purpose, especially gambling □ a card school. 11 a method of instruction or tuition. 12 (schools) at Oxford University: the BA examinations. ▷ verb (schooled, schooling) 1 to educate in a school. 2 to give training or instruction of a particular kind to. 3 to discipline. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon scol, from Latin schola, from Greek schole leisure or lecture-place.

school² /skuːl/ ▷ noun a group of fish, whales or other marine animals swimming together. ▷ verb (schooled, schooling) intr to gather into or move about in a school. ⊙ 15c: Dutch.

schoolchild ▷ noun a child, a schoolboy or schoolgirl, who attends a school.

schoolhouse ▷ noun 1 a building used as a school. 2 a house provided for a teacher within the grounds of a school.

schooling ▷ noun education or instruction, especially received at school.

school-leaver ▷ noun a young person leaving school because they have completed the course of education.

schoolmarm /ˈskuːlmɑːm/ ▷ noun, colloq 1 N Amer, especially US a schoolmistress. 2 a prim woman with old-fashioned manners or attitudes. • schoolmarmish adj like or typical of a schoolmarm.

schoolmaster ▷ noun a male schoolteacher or head of a school.

schoolmate ▷ noun a friend from school; a classmate.

schoolmistress ▷ noun a female schoolteacher or head of a school.

schoolteacher ▷ noun a person who teaches in a school. • schoolteaching noun.

schoolyear ▷ noun the period of generally continual teaching through the year, usually starting in late summer, and usually divided into three terms, during which the pupil or student remains in the same class or classes.

schooner /ˈskuːnə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a fast sailing-ship with two or more masts, and rigged fore-and-aft. 2 Brit a large sherry glass. 3 N Amer, especially US a large beer glass. ⊙ 18c: as skooner or scooner, possibly from dialect scoon to skim.

schottische /ʃɒˈtiːʃ, ˈʃɒtɪʃ/ ▷ noun (schottisches) 1 a German folk dance, similar to a slow polka. 2 the music for such a dance. ⊙ 19c: from German der schottische Tanz the Scottish dance.

schtook and schtuk see SHTOOK

schtoom see SHTOOM

schuss /ʃʊs/ skiing ▷ noun 1 a straight slope on which it is possible to make a fast run. 2 such a run. ▷ verb (schussed, schussing) intr to make such a run. ⊙ 1930s: German.

schwa or shwa /ʃwɑː, ʃvɑː/ ▷ noun 1 the indistinct English vowel sound that occurs in unstressed syllables, as in the first and last syllables of together in normal speech, and in other words such as to and the in rapid speech. 2 the phonetic symbol (/ə/) used to represent this sound. ⊙ Late 19c: from Hebrew schewa.

sciatic /saɪˈatɪk/ ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to the hip region. 2 referring or relating to the sciatic nerve that runs from the pelvis to the thigh. 3 affected by sciatica. ⊙ 14c: from Latin sciaticus, from Greek ischion hip-joint.

sciatica /saɪˈatɪkə/ ▷ noun, pathol intense and intermittent pain in the lower back, buttocks and backs of the thighs caused by pressure on the sciatic nerve. ⊙ 15c: Latin, from Greek ischion hip-joint.

SCID ▷ abbreviation, medicine severe combined immunodeficiency.

science /ˈsaɪəns/ ▷ noun 1 the systematic observation and classification of natural phenomena in order to learn about them and bring them under general principles and laws. 2 a department or branch of such knowledge or study developed in this way, eg astronomy, genetics, chemistry. 3 any area of knowledge obtained using, or arranged according to, formal principles □ political science. 4 acquired skill or technique, as opposed to natural ability. • sciential /saɪˈenʃəl/ adj referring or relating to science; scientific. ⊙ 14c: from Latin scientia knowledge, from scire to know.

science fiction ▷ noun imaginative fiction presenting a view of life in the future, based on great scientific and technological advances, especially incorporating space or time travel, or the existence of life on other planets, or any other fantastic circumstances imagined by the writer. Often shortened to SCI-FI. ⊙ 1850s.

science park ▷ noun an industrial research centre, usually attached to a university, set up for the purpose of combining the academic and commercial world.

scientific /saɪənˈtɪfɪk/ ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to, or used in, science. 2 based on science. 3 displaying the kind of principled approach characteristic of science. • scientifically adverb in a scientific way; by scientific means. ⊙ 17c.

scientism /ˈsaɪəntɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 the methods or attitudes of people of science. 2 the belief that methods used in natural sciences should also be applied to the study of human behaviour and condition, eg philosophy and social sciences. ⊙ 19c.

scientist /ˈsaɪəntɪst/ ▷ noun a person trained in or engaged in some field of science.

Scientology /saɪənˈtɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun, trademark a religious system which claims to improve the mental and physical wellbeing of its adherents by scientific means. ⊙ 1950s: founded by L Ron Hubbard.

sci-fi /ˈsaɪfaɪ/ ▷ noun, colloq science fiction. Also as adj □ sci-fi novel.

scilicet /ˈsaɪlɪset, ˈskiːlɪket/ ▷ adverb, formal (abbreviation sc.) only in writing: namely; that is to say. ⊙ 14c: from Latin scire licet it is permitted to know.

scilla /ˈsɪlə/ ▷ noun, bot the squill genus of the lily family, having bright blue spring flowers. ⊙ 19c: Latin, from Greek skilla.

Scillonian /sɪˈloʊnɪən/ ▷ adj referring, belonging to or concerning the Scilly Isles, situated off the SW coast of Britain. ▷ noun an inhabitant of these islands. ⊙ 18c.

scimitar /ˈsɪmɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun a sword with a short curved single-edged blade, broadest at the point end, used by Turks and Persians. ⊙ 16c: from Italian scimitarra, probably from Persian shimshir.

scintigraphy /sɪnˈtɪgrəfɪ/ ▷ noun, medicine a diagnostic technique in which a pictorial record of the pattern of gamma ray emission after injection of isotope into the body produces an image or scintigram of an internal organ by use of an external detector. ⊙ 1950s: from scintillation + -GRAPHY.

scintilla /sɪnˈtɪlə/ ▷ noun, literary a hint or trace; an iota. ⊙ 17c: Latin, meaning 'spark'.

scintillate /ˈsɪntɪleɪt/ ▷ verb (scintillated, scintillating) intr 1 to sparkle or emit sparks. 2 to capture attention or impress with one's vitality or wit. 3 physics said of an atom: to emit a unit of light after having been struck by a photon or a particle of ionizing radiation. • scintillating adj brilliant or sparkling; full of interest or wit. ⊙ 17c: from Latin scintillare, scintillatum, from scintilla spark.

scintillation /sɪntɪˈleɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 physics the emission of a flash of light by an atom as it returns to its normal energy state after having been raised to a higher energy state by collision with a photon or a particle of ionizing radiation. 2 astron the twinkling of stars due to rapid changes in their brightness caused by variations in the density of the atmosphere through which the light rays pass.

scintillation counter ▷ noun, physics a device for detecting very low levels of radiation.

sciolism /ˈsaɪəlɪzəm/ ▷ noun superficial pretensions to knowledge. • sciolist noun. • sciolistic or sciolous adj. ⓘ Early 19c: from Latin sciolus, from scire to know.

scion /ˈsaɪən/ ▷ noun 1 bot the detached shoot of a plant inserted into a cut in the outer stem of another plant when making a graft. 2 a descendant or offspring; a younger member of a family. ⓘ 14c: from French cion.

scirocco see SIROCCO

scirrhus /ˈsɪrəs, ˈskɪrəs/ ▷ noun (scirrhi /ˈsɪraɪ/ or scirrhuses) pathol a hard swelling, especially a hard cancer. • scirrhoid or scirrhous adj. ⓘ 17c: from Latin scirrus, from Greek skiros a hard substance or tumour.

scissor /ˈsɪzə(r)/ ▷ verb (scissored, scissoring) to cut with scissors.

scissors /ˈsɪzəz/ ▷ plural noun 1 a one-handed cutting device with two long blades pivoted in the middle so the cutting edges close and overlap. 2 any position or movement similar to that of scissors. 3 gymnastics a movement of the legs similar to the opening and closing of scissors. 4 wrestling a locking of the legs around the opponent's head or body. 5 a style of high jump where the jump is approached at an angle and the leg nearest the bar leads throughout. ⓘ 14c: from French cisoires, from Latin cisorium cutting tool, from caedere to cut.

scissors kick ▷ noun a kick used in some swimming strokes in which the legs are moved in a scissor-like action.

sciurine /saɪˈjʊəraɪn, ˈsaɪjʊraɪn/ ▷ adj relating or belonging to a genus of rodents, including squirrels. ⓘ 19c: from Latin sciurus squirrel, from Greek skiouros, from skia shadow + oura tail.

scler- see SCLEROsclera /ˈsklɪərə/ ▷ noun the outermost membrane of the eyeball. Also called SCLEROTIC. ⓘ 19c: from Greek skleros hard.

sclerenchyma /sklɪəˈrɛŋkɪmə/ ▷ noun, bot plant tissue consisting of cells with thick lignified walls, providing support for the inner tissue. • sclerenchymatous /-ˈkaɪmətəs/ adj. ⓘ 19c: SCLER- + Greek enchyma in-filling.

sclero- /ˈsklɪərou, sklɪərə/ or (before a vowel) scler- combining form, signifying hard. ⓘ From Greek skleros.

scleroderma and sclerodermia ▷ noun, pathol a condition where the skin is hardened by fibrous tissue being replaced by subcutaneous fat. • sclerodermic adj. ⓘ 1860s: SCLERO- + Greek derma skin.

scleroma /skləˈroumə, sklɪəˈroumə/ ▷ noun (scleromata /-mətə/) pathol a hardening of tissue, especially of mucous membrane or skin, eg forming nodules in the nose.

scleroprotein ▷ noun insoluble protein forming the skeletal parts of tissues. ⓘ Early 20c.

sclerosis /skləˈrousɪs, sklɪə-/ ▷ noun 1 pathol abnormal hardening or thickening of an artery or other body part, especially as a result of inflammation or disease. 2 bot the hardening of plant tissue by thickening or lignification. ⓘ 14c.

sclerotic /skləˈrɒtɪk, sklɪə-/ ▷ noun, anatomy in vertebrates: the white fibrous outer layer of the eyeball, which is modified at the front of the eye to form the transparent cornea. Also called SCLERA. ▷ adj 1 hard or firm. 2 relating to or affected with sclerosis. ⓘ 16c: from Latin scleroticus, from Greek skleros hard.

sclerous /ˈsklɪərəs/ ▷ adj 1 pathol hardened or indurated. 2 anatomy ossified or bony. ⓘ 1840s.

SCM ▷ abbreviation 1 State Certified Midwife. 2 Student Christian Movement.

scoff[1] ▷ verb (scoffed, scoffing) intr (often scoff at someone or something) to express scorn or contempt for them; to jeer. ▷ noun 1 an expression of scorn; a jeer. 2 an object of scorn or derision. • scoffer noun. • scoffing noun, adj. ⓘ 14c: from Danish skof jest or mockery, from Frisian schof.

scoff[2] ▷ colloq, verb (scoffed, scoffing) tr & intr to eat (food) rapidly and greedily; to devour hungrily. ▷ noun food; a meal. ⓘ 19c: from Scots scaff food.

scold /skould/ ▷ verb (scolded, scolding) 1 to reprimand or rebuke. 2 intr to use strong or offensive language. ▷ noun, old use a nagging or quarrelsome person, especially a woman. • scolder noun. • scolding noun a telling-off. ⓘ 13c: from Norse skald.

scoliosis /skoʊlɪˈoʊsɪs/ ▷ noun, pathol lateral curvature of the spine. • scoliotic adj. ⓘ 18c: from Greek skoliosis obliquity, from skolios bent.

scollop see SCALLOP

sconce[1] /skɒns/ ▷ noun a candlestick or lantern with a handle, or one fixed by bracket to a wall. ⓘ 14c: from French esconse, from Latin absconsa dark lantern, from abscondere to hide.

sconce[2] /skɒns/ ▷ noun a small fort or earthwork, especially to defend a bridge, pass, etc. ⓘ 16c: from Dutch schans, from German Schanze bundle of wood.

scone /skɒn, skoun/ ▷ noun a small flattish plain cake, baked with or without dried fruit, and usually eaten halved and spread with butter and jam, etc. ⓘ 16c: perhaps from Dutch schoon (brot) fine (bread).

SCONUL /ˈskounəl/ ▷ abbreviation Standing Conference of National and University Libraries.

scoop /skuːp/ ▷ verb (scooped, scooping) 1 (also scoop something up) to lift, dig or remove it with a sweeping circular movement. 2 (also scoop something out) to empty or hollow it with such movements. 3 to bail out (water). 4 to do better than (rival newspapers) in being the first to publish a story. ▷ noun 1 a spoonlike implement for handling or serving food. 2 a hollow shovel or lipped container for skimming or shovelling up loose material. 3 anything of a similar shape. 4 a scooping movement. 5 a quantity scooped. 6 a container for bailing out (water). 7 surgery a scooplike implement used for removing foreign material from the body. 8 a news story printed by one newspaper in advance of all others. 9 the forestalling of other papers in obtaining such a news story. • scooper noun. • scoopful noun. ⓘ 14c: from Dutch schoppe shovel.

scoot /skuːt/ ▷ verb (scooted, scooting) intr, colloq to make off quickly or speedily. ▷ noun the act of scooting. ⓘ 18c: from Norse skjota to SHOOT.

scooter /ˈskuːtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a child's toy vehicle consisting of a board on a two-wheeled frame, with tall handlebars connected to the front wheel, propelled by pushing against the ground with one foot. 2 (in full motor-scooter) a small-wheeled motorcycle with a protective front shield curving back to form a support for the feet. ⓘ 19c: from SCOOT.

scope[1] ▷ noun 1 the size or range of a subject or topic covered. 2 the aim, intention or purpose of something. 3 the limits within which there is the opportunity to act. 4 range of understanding ▫ beyond his scope. 5 the length of mooring cable at which a vessel can ride freely. ⓘ 16c: from Italian scopo, from Greek skopos watcher or point watched, from skopein to view.

scope[2] ▷ noun a visual display unit, especially a radar screen ▫ microscope, telescope, etc. ▷ verb (scoped, scoping) medicine to examine internal organs of the body using a viewing device. ⓘ 17c.

-scope /skoʊp/ ▷ combining form, forming nouns signifying a device for viewing, examining or detecting something □ telescope □ stethoscope. ● -scopic /ˈskɒpɪk/ combining form, forming adjectives. ● -scopy /skəpɪ/ combining form, forming nouns denoting observation or examination, usually with the use of devices ending in -scope □ microscopy. ⊙ From Greek skopeein to view.

scopolamine /ˈskɒpələmiːn/ ▷ noun HYOSCINE. ⊙ 19c: named after G A Scopoli (1723–88), the Italian naturalist + AMINE.

scorbutic /skɔːˈbjuːtɪk/ ▷ adj, pathol relating to or suffering from scurvy. ● scorbutically adverb. ⊙ 17c: from Latin scorbuticus, probably from German schorbuk scurvy.

scorch ▷ verb (scorches, scorched, scorching) 1 tr & intr to burn or be burned slightly or superficially. 2 to dry up, parch or wither. 3 to injure with severe criticism or scorn. ▷ noun 1 an act of scorching. 2 a scorched area or burn. 3 a mark made by scorching. ● scorched adj. ● scorching adj, colloq 1 said of the weather: very hot. 2 said of a criticism, etc: harsh. ● scorchingly adverb. ⊙ 15c as skorken, from Norse skorpna to shrivel.

scorched-earth policy ▷ noun 1 in warfare: the practice of destroying everything in an area that may be of use to an advancing army. 2 any manoeuvre in which action is taken to reduce useful assets in order to minimize their value to any future opponents, owners, etc.

scorcher /ˈskɔːtʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that scorches. 2 colloq an extremely hot day □ Tomorrow should be a scorcher. 3 Brit someone or something that causes a sensation or excitement. ⊙ 19c.

score ▷ noun 1 a total number of points gained or achieved eg in a game. 2 an act of gaining or achieving a point, etc. 3 a scratch or shallow cut, especially one made as a tally. 4 a bold line marking a boundary or defined position. 5 a set of twenty □ three score. 6 (scores) very many; lots □ I have scores of letters to write. 7 colloq (the score) the current situation; the essential facts □ What's the score with your job? 8 a written or printed copy of music for several parts, set out vertically down the page. 9 the music from a film or play. 10 (the score) a reason; grounds □ He was accepted on the score of suitability. 11 a grievance or grudge □ He has an old score to settle. 12 a record of amounts owed. 13 slang a successful attempt to obtain drugs for illegal use. ▷ verb (scored, scoring) 1 tr & intr to gain or achieve (a point) in a game. 2 intr to keep a record of points gained during a game. 3 to make cuts or scratches in the surface of something; to mark (a line) by a shallow cut. 4 to be equivalent to (a number of points) □ black king scores three. 5 music a to break down music into parts for individual instruments or voices; b to adapt music for instruments or voices other than those originally intended. 6 to compose music for a film or play. 7 intr to achieve a rating; to be judged or regarded □ This film scores high for entertainment value. 8 intr, slang to obtain drugs for illegal use. 9 (often score with someone) slang to succeed in having sexual intercourse with them. ● scorer noun. ● know the score to know or be aware of the facts of a situation. ● on that score as regards the matter or concern □ She has no worries on that score. ● over the score colloq beyond reasonable limits; unfair. ● pay off or settle a score to repay an old grudge or debt. ● score an own goal colloq to do something unintentionally to one's own disadvantage. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon scoru, from Norse skor.

> ■ score off someone or score points off someone to humiliate them for personal advantage; to get the better of them.
>
> ■ score something out to cancel it by drawing a line through it.

scoreboard and scoring board ▷ noun a board on which the score in a game is displayed, altered according to the score changes.

scorecard and scoring card ▷ noun a card for recording the score in a game.

scoria /ˈskɔːrɪə/ ▷ noun (scoriae /-rɪiː/) 1 dross or slag produced from the smelting of metal from its ore. 2 a quantity of cooled lava with steam-holes. ● scorify verb (scorifies, scorified, scorifying) to rid metals of impurities by forming scoria. ⊙ 14c: Latin, from Greek skoria, from skor dung.

scorn ▷ noun extreme or mocking contempt. ▷ verb (scorned, scorning) 1 to treat someone or something with scorn; to express scorn for. 2 to refuse or reject with scorn. ● scorner noun. ● scornful adj contemptuous. ● scornfully adverb. ⊙ 12c: from French escarn, from German skern mockery.

Scorpio /ˈskɔːpɪoʊ/ ▷ noun (plural Scorpios in sense 2b) 1 astron the Scorpion, a large zodiacal constellation of the S hemisphere containing many star clusters that are visible through binoculars. Also called Scorpius. 2 astrol a the eighth sign of the zodiac, the Scorpion; b a person born between 23 October and 21 November, under this sign. See table at ZODIAC. ⊙ 14c: Latin for SCORPION.

scorpion /ˈskɔːpɪən/ ▷ noun 1 any of numerous species of invertebrate animal, found in hot regions, with eight legs, powerful claw-like pincers and a long thin segmented abdomen or 'tail', bearing a poisonous sting, that is carried arched over its back. 2 (the Scorpion) astron, astrol same as SCORPIO. 3 Bible a form of SCOURGE (noun 2). ⊙ 13c: from Latin scorpio, from Greek skorpios.

scorpion fish ▷ noun a marine fish with venomous spines on its fins.

Scot /skɒt/ ▷ noun 1 a native or inhabitant of Scotland. 2 historical one of a Gaelic-speaking people of Ireland who eventually settled in NW Britain in the 6c. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon Scottas, from Latin Scottus.

Scot. ▷ abbreviation 1 Scotland. 2 Scottish.

Scotch ▷ adj said of things, especially products, but not usually said of people: Scottish. ▷ noun Scotch whisky. ⊙ 17c: from SCOTTISH.

> Scotch, Scots
>
> See Usage Note at Scottish.

scotch[1] ▷ verb (scotched, scotching) 1 to ruin or hinder eg plans. 2 to reveal (something, especially rumours) to be untrue. ▷ noun a line marked on the ground, especially for hopscotch.

scotch[2] ▷ noun a wedge or block to prevent turning or slipping eg of a wheel, gate or ladder. ▷ verb (scotched, scotching) to stop or block. ⊙ 17c.

Scotch broth ▷ noun a thick soup made with mutton, barley and chopped vegetables.

Scotch egg ▷ noun a hard-boiled egg encased in sausage meat and fried in breadcrumbs.

Scotch mist ▷ noun very fine rain, common in the Scottish Highlands.

Scotch terrier see SCOTTISH TERRIER.

scot-free ▷ adj unpunished or unharmed. ⊙ 13c: from obsolete scot payment or tax.

scotoma /skɒˈtoʊmə/ ▷ noun (scotomas or scotomata /skɒˈtoʊmətə/) pathol a blind spot due to disease of the retina or optic nerve. ● scotomatous adj. ⊙ 16c: Latin, from Greek skotoma dizziness, from skotos darkness.

Scots ▷ adj 1 Scottish by birth. 2 said especially of law and language: Scottish. ▷ noun LOWLAND SCOTS. ⊙ 14c: from Scots Scottis Scottish.

Scotsman and Scotswoman ▷ noun a native of Scotland.

Scots pine ▷ noun a coniferous tree, native to Europe and Asia, with a bare reddish trunk, paired bluish-green needles and pointed female cones.

Scottie see SCOTTISH TERRIER.

Scottish /ˈskɒtɪʃ/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Scotland or its inhabitants. ◷ Anglo-Saxon Scottisc.

> Scottish, Scotch, Scots
>
> • Scottish is the general term describing people and things from or in Scotland.
>
> • Scotch is nowadays mainly reserved for produce, as in Scotch beef and Scotch whisky, being unacceptable to many Scottish people as a label of nationality.
>
> • The word Scots as an adjective can be used to describe someone's nationality. Otherwise it is restricted to Scots law, the Scots language, Scots pine and the names of certain army regiments, such as the Scots Guards.

Scottish Certificate of Education ▷ noun (abbreviation SCE) in Scottish secondary education: a certificate obtainable at Standard or Higher grades for proficiency in one or more subjects. Compare CSYS.

Scottish terrier ▷ noun a kind of dog with a sturdy body, thick wiry coat, and short erect ears and tail. Also called Scotch terrier, Scottie.

Scotvec or SCOTVEC /ˈskɒtvek/ ▷ abbreviation Scottish Vocational Education Council.

scoundrel /ˈskaʊndrəl/ ▷ noun an unprincipled or villainous rogue. ◷ 16c.

scour[1] /ˈskaʊə(r)/ verb (scoured, scouring) 1 to clean, polish or remove by hard rubbing. 2 to free from dirt or grease. 3 to flush clean with a jet or current of water. 4 to wash (sheep wool) in order to remove grease and impurities. 5 intr in animals: to act as a purgative. ▷ noun 1 an act of scouring. 2 (often scours) in animal livestock: diarrhoea. • scouring noun. • scourings plural noun matter accumulated as a result of scouring. ◷ 13c: from French escurer, from Latin excurare to cleanse.

scour[2] /ˈskaʊə(r)/ verb (scoured, scouring) 1 to make an exhaustive search of (an area). 2 to range over or move quickly over (an area). • scourer noun 1 someone who scours. 2 a device or container for scouring. ◷ 14c: from Norse skur storm, shower.

scourge /skɜːdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 a cause of great suffering and affliction, especially to many people ▫ Cancer is the scourge of Western society. 2 a whip used for punishing. 3 someone or something that is an instrument of divine punishment. ▷ verb (scourged, scourging) 1 to cause suffering to; to afflict. 2 to whip. • scourger noun. ◷ 13c: from French escorge, from Latin excoriare to flay.

Scouse /skaʊs/ colloq ▷ noun (Scouses) 1 the dialect of English spoken in and around Liverpool. 2 a native or inhabitant of Liverpool. Also called Scouser. 3 (scouse) Liverpool dialect a stew, often made with scraps of meat. ▷ adj referring or relating to Liverpool, its people or their dialect. ◷ 19c: a shortening of lobscouse a sailor's stew.

scout[1] /skaʊt/ noun 1 military a person or group sent out to observe the enemy and bring back information. 2 (often Scout, formerly Boy Scout) a member of the Scout Association. See also VENTURE SCOUT, CUB SCOUT, BEAVER. 3 in the US: a member of the Girl Scouts, an organization similar to the Guides. 4 a TALENT SCOUT. 5 colloq a search ▫ They had a scout around for it in the potting shed. ▷ verb (scouted, scouting) intr 1 to act as a scout. 2 (often scout about or around) colloq to make a search ▫ scouting about for new premises. ◷ 14c: from French escouter, from Latin auscultare to listen.

scout[2] /skaʊt/ verb (scouted, scouting) to dismiss or reject something or someone with disdain. ◷ 17c: from Norse skuta a taunt.

Scout Association ▷ noun a worldwide youth organization, promoting outdoor skills, character development and community spirit. ◷ 1908: founded by Lord Baden-Powell.

Scouter /ˈskaʊtə(r)/ ▷ noun an adult leader in the Scout Association.

scow /skaʊ/ ▷ noun a large flat-bottomed barge for freight. ◷ 18c: from Dutch schouw.

scowl /skaʊl/ ▷ verb (scowled, scowling) intr 1 to wrinkle the brow in a malevolent or angry look. 2 to look disapprovingly, angrily or menacingly. ▷ noun a scowling expression. • scowling adj. • scowlingly adverb. ◷ 14c: from Danish skule to cast down the eyes.

SCPS ▷ abbreviation Society of Civil and Public Servants.

SCR ▷ abbreviation Senior Common Room.

Scrabble /ˈskrabəl/ ▷ noun, trademark a game in which individual letter pieces are used by players to form words. ◷ 1950s.

scrabble /ˈskrabəl/ ▷ verb (scrabbled, scrabbling) intr 1 to scratch, grope or struggle frantically. 2 to scrawl. ▷ noun an act of scrabbling. ◷ 16c: from Dutch schrabben to scratch.

scrag ▷ noun 1 the thin part of a neck of mutton or veal, providing poor quality meat. Also scrag-end. 2 an unhealthily thin person or animal. 3 slang the human neck. ▷ verb (scragged, scragging) colloq 1 to wring the neck of (an animal); to throttle. 2 to attack or beat up. ◷ 16c: perhaps from CRAG.

scraggy /ˈskragɪ/ ▷ adj (scraggier, scraggiest) unhealthily thin; scrawny. • scragginess noun.

scram /skram/ ▷ verb (scrammed, scramming) intr, colloq often as a command: to go away at once; to be off. ◷ 1930s: perhaps from SCRAMBLE.

scramble /ˈskrambəl/ ▷ verb (scrambled, scrambling) 1 intr to crawl or climb using hands and feet, especially hurriedly or frantically. 2 intr to struggle violently against others ▫ There are starving people scrambling to find food. 3 to get along or cope somehow ▫ We'll just have to scramble through. 4 to cook (eggs) whisked up with milk, butter, etc. 5 to throw or jumble together haphazardly. 6 to rewrite (a message) in code form, for secret transmission. 7 to transmit (a message) in a distorted form intelligible only by means of an electronic scrambler. 8 intr said of military aircraft or air crew: to take off immediately in response to an emergency. ▷ noun 1 an act of scrambling. 2 a dash or struggle to beat others in getting something. 3 a disorderly or chaotic performance. 4 a walk or hike over rough ground. 5 an immediate take-off in an emergency. 6 a cross-country motorcar or motorcycle race. • scrambling adj, noun. ◷ 16c: from dialect scramb to rake together with the hands.

scrambler /ˈskramblə(r)/ ▷ noun, electronics an electronic device, used to transmit secret communications, etc that modifies radio or telephone signals so that they can only be made intelligible by means of a special decoding device.

scrambling circuit ▷ noun, electronics in communication systems: a circuit used to prevent unauthorized personnel gaining access to sound, data or video signals, by using a scrambler to code the original signal before transmission.

scramjet /ˈskramdʒet/ ▷ noun a RAMJET engine that operates at supersonic speeds, the air required for combustion being compressed by the forward motion of the engine. ◷ 1960s: from supersonic combustion ramjet.

scrap[1] ▷ noun 1 a small piece; a fragment. 2 waste material, especially metal, for recycling or re-using. 3 (scraps) leftover pieces of food. ▷ verb (scrapped, scrapping) to discard or cease to use; to abandon as unworkable. • not a scrap not even the smallest amount ▫ He wasn't a scrap of use to us. • throw something on the scrap heap to reject or discard it as useless. ◷ 14c: from Norse skrap.

scrap[2] colloq ▷ noun a fight or quarrel, usually physical. ▷ verb (scrapped, scrapping) intr to fight or quarrel. ⓘ 17c: from SCRAPE.

scrapbook ▷ noun a book with blank pages for pasting in cuttings, pictures, etc.

scrape ▷ verb (scraped, scraping) 1 (also scrape something along, over, etc something) to push or drag (especially a sharp object) along or over (a hard or rough surface). 2 intr to move along a surface with a grazing action. 3 to graze (the skin) by a scraping action. 4 to move along (a surface) with a grating sound. 5 intr to make a grating sound. 6 (also scrape something off) to remove it from or smooth a surface with such an action. 7 to make savings through hardship □ We managed to scrape enough for a holiday. 8 intr, colloq to play the fiddle. ▷ noun 1 an instance, process or act of dragging or grazing. 2 a part damaged or cleaned by scraping. 3 a scraped area in the ground. 4 a graze (of the skin). 5 a backward sliding movement of one foot accompanying a bow. 6 colloq a difficult or embarrassing situation or predicament. 7 colloq a fight or quarrel. ■ scraper noun 1 a person who scrapes. 2 a scraping tool, device or machine. ■ bow and scrape to be over-obsequious. ■ scrape acquaintance with someone to contrive to get to know them. ■ scrape the bottom of the barrel to utilize the very last and worst of one's resources, opinions, etc. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon scrapian.

■ scrape through or by to manage or succeed in doing something narrowly or with difficulty □ He just scraped through the interview.

■ scrape something together or up to collect it little by little, usually with difficulty.

scraperboard and scratchboard ▷ noun a board covered with a thin layer of clay and ink which is scraped or scratched away using special blades, leaving a fine line. See also SGRAFFITO.

scrap heap ▷ noun 1 a place where unwanted and useless objects, eg old furniture, are collected. 2 the state of being discarded or abandoned □ They consigned the idea to the scrap heap.

scrapie /ˈskreɪpɪ/ ▷ noun, agric an often fatal disease of sheep, often characterized by severe itching and a tendency to rub against trees and other objects for relief, resulting in wool loss. ⓘ Early 20c: from scrape.

scrappy /ˈskrapɪ/ ▷ adj (scrappier, scrappiest) fragmentary or disjointed; not uniform or flowing. ■ scrappily adverb. ■ scrappiness noun.

scratch ▷ verb (scratches, scratched, scratching) 1 to draw a sharp or pointed object across (a surface), causing damage or making marks. 2 to make (a mark) by such action. 3 tr & intr to rub the skin with the fingernails, especially to relieve itching. 4 to dig or scrape with the claws. 5 (usually scratch something out or off) to erase or cancel it. 6 intr to make a grating noise. 7 intr to withdraw from a contest, competition, etc. ▷ noun (scratches) 1 an act of scratching. 2 a mark made by scratching. 3 a scratching sound. 4 a superficial wound or minor injury. ▷ adj 1 casually or hastily got together; improvised □ a scratch meal. 2 said of a competitor: not given a handicap. ■ scratcher noun. ■ scratchily adverb. ■ scratchiness noun. ■ come up to scratch colloq to meet the required or expected standard (from the former meaning of the line in the ring up to which boxers were led before fighting). ■ from scratch from the beginning; without the benefit of any preparation or previous experience. ■ scratch the surface to deal only superficially with an issue or problem. ■ you scratch my back and I'll scratch yours colloq if you do me a favour I'll do you one in return. ⓘ 15c: as cracche to scratch.

scratchboard see SCRAPERBOARD

scratchcard ▷ noun a form of lottery card covered with a thin opaque film, which is scratched off to reveal symbols or numbers which may correspond to prizes of various kinds, especially cash.

scratch pad ▷ noun, chiefly US a notepad or jotter.

scratch video ▷ noun a video film produced by piecing together images from other films.

scratchy /ˈskratʃɪ/ ▷ adj (scratchier, scratchiest) 1 making the marks or noises of scratching. 2 causing or likely to cause itching.

scrawl ▷ verb (scrawled, scrawling) tr & intr to write or draw illegibly, untidily or hurriedly □ scrawled a note on the back of an envelope. ▷ noun untidy or illegible handwriting. ■ scrawler noun. ■ scrawly adj. ⓘ 17c: perhaps connected with CRAWL and SPRAWL.

scrawny /ˈskrɔːnɪ/ ▷ adj (scrawnier, scrawniest) unhealthily thin and bony. ■ scrawnily adverb. ■ scrawniness adj.

scream ▷ verb (screamed, screaming) 1 tr & intr to cry out in a loud high-pitched voice, as in fear, pain or anger. 2 intr to laugh shrilly or uproariously. 3 (often scream at someone) usually said of something unpleasant or garish: to be all too obvious or apparent □ Those turquoise trousers really scream at you. ▷ noun 1 a sudden loud piercing cry or noise. 2 colloq an extremely amusing person, thing or event. ■ screaming adj. ■ screamingly adverb. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon scræmen.

■ scream past, through, etc to go at great speed, especially making a shrill noise □ The train screamed through the tunnel.

screamer ▷ noun 1 someone or something that screams. 2 any of three species of large spur-winged S American birds found near water or in marshland, the commonest of which is the crested screamer. 3 printing, slang an exclamation mark. ⓘ 18c.

the screaming habdabs see HABDABS scree ▷ noun (screes) geol a sloping mass of rock debris that piles up at the base of cliffs or on the side of a mountain. ⓘ 18c: from Norse skritha landslip.

screech ▷ noun a harsh, shrill and sudden cry, voice or noise. ▷ verb (screeches, screeched, screeching) 1 tr & intr to utter a screech or make a sound like a screech. 2 to speak in such a way. ■ screecher noun. ■ screechy adj. ⓘ 16c as scrichen.

screech owl ▷ noun 1 any of various small N American owls with grey or reddish-brown plumage, which are characterized by a long quavery cry. 2 a BARN OWL.

screed ▷ noun 1 a long and often tedious spoken or written passage. 2 building a strip of plaster laid on the surface of a wall as a guide to the thickness of the full coat of plaster to be applied. 3 building a layer of mortar applied to smooth off the surface of a floor. Also called screeding. ■ screeder noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon screade shred.

screen ▷ noun 1 a movable set of foldable hinged panels, used to partition off part of a room for privacy. 2 a single panel used for protection against strong heat or light, or any other outside influence. 3 a WINDSCREEN. 4 a sheltering row of trees, shrubs, etc. 5 a wire netting placed over windows for keeping out insects. 6 a coarse sifting apparatus or utensil. 7 a partition used to separate off a church choir or side chapel, usually from the nave. 8 the wide end of a TV set on which the images are formed. 9 a white surface onto which films or slides are projected. 10 (the screen) the medium of cinema or television □ She is a star of the stage and the screen. 11 photog a glass plate with a coarse surface on which the image of a photographed object is focused. 12 printing a glass plate with dots or closely-scored lines of a given coarseness or frequency for printing half-tone photographs. 13 cricket a SIGHT-SCREEN. 14 electronics a SCREEN GRID. 15 military a body of troops or formation of ships surrounding the bulk of the army or fleet as a cover or protection for its activity.

▷ verb (screened, screening) 1 to shelter or conceal. 2 to sift coarsely. 3 to subject someone to tests in order to discern their ability, reliability, worthiness, etc. 4 to test someone in order to check for the presence of disease. 5 to show or project (a film, programme, etc) at the cinema or on TV. 6 to make a motion picture or film of something. ■ screener noun. ■ screening noun. ◷ 14c: from French escran.

■ screen something off to separate or partition it with a screen.

screen grid ▷ noun, electronics an electrode placed between the control grid and anode in a valve, having an invariable potential in order to eliminate positive feedback and instability.

screenings /ˈskriːnɪŋz/ ▷ plural noun material eliminated by sifting.

screenplay ▷ noun the script of a film, comprising dialogue, stage directions, and details for characters and sets.

screen printing, screen process and silk-screen printing ▷ noun a stencil technique in which coloured ink is forced through a fine silk or nylon mesh.

screen-saver ▷ noun, computing a program which temporarily blanks out a screen display, or displays a pre-set pattern, when a computer is switched on but is not in active use.

screen test ▷ noun a filmed audition to test whether or not an actor or actress is suitable for cinema work.

screen writer ▷ noun a writer of screenplays for film, television, etc.

screw ▷ noun 1 a small metal cylinder with a spiral ridge or THREAD down the shaft and a slot in its head, driven into position in wood, etc by rotation using a screwdriver, usually used as a fastening device. 2 any object similar in shape or function. 3 the turn or twist of a screw. 4 snooker, billiards a shot in which the cue ball is subjected to sidespin or backspin. 5 slang a prison officer. 6 coarse slang an act of sexual intercourse. 7 a SCREW PROPELLER or a ship driven by one. 8 a THUMBSCREW. 9 colloq wages or salary. ▷ verb (screwed, screwing) 1 to twist (a screw) into place. 2 to push or pull with a twisting action. 3 colloq to swindle or cheat. 4 snooker, billiards to put sidespin or backspin on (the cue ball). 5 tr & intr, coarse slang to have sexual intercourse with someone. ■ screwer noun. ■ have one's head screwed on or screwed on the right way colloq to be a sensible person. ■ have a screw loose colloq to be slightly mad or crazy. ■ put the screws on someone colloq to use force or pressure on them. ◷ a reference to thumbscrews, an old instrument of torture. ■ screw or pluck up one's courage to prepare oneself or become confident enough for an ordeal or difficulty. ■ screw it, them, you, etc coarse slang an exclamation of disgust, frustration, scorn, etc. ◷ 15c: from French escroue, ultimately from Latin scrofa SOW[2], because of the resemblance between a pig's curly tail and the thread of the screw.

■ screw something from or out of someone colloq to obtain it by intense persuasion or threats ◻ They tried to screw more money out of them.

■ screw something up or together to attach or assemble it by means of screws.

■ screw someone up slang to cause them to become extremely anxious, nervous or psychologically disturbed.

■ screw something up slang to ruin or bungle it.

screwball ▷ noun, slang, N Amer, especially US a crazy person; an eccentric. ▷ adj crazy; eccentric.

screwdriver ▷ noun a hand-held tool with a metal shaft with a shaped end that fits into the slot, etc on a screw's head, turned repeatedly to twist a screw into position.

screwed-up ▷ adj, slang said of a person: extremely anxious, nervous or psychologically disturbed.

screw eye ▷ noun a screw formed into a loop for attaching string, rope, wire, etc.

screw propeller ▷ noun a propeller with helical blades for powering a ship.

screw top ▷ noun 1 a round lid that is screwed off and on to open and re-seal a bottle or other container. 2 a container with such a top. ▷ adj (screw-top) referring or relating to such a lid or container ◻ screw-top bottle.

screw-up ▷ noun, slang 1 a disastrous occurrence or failure. 2 a person who has messed up (their life, etc).

screwy /ˈskruːɪ/ ▷ adj (screwier, screwiest) colloq crazy; eccentric.

scribble /ˈskrɪbəl/ ▷ verb (scribbled, scribbling) 1 tr & intr to write quickly or untidily; to scrawl. 2 intr to draw meaningless lines or shapes absent-mindedly. ▷ noun 1 untidy or illegible handwriting; scrawl. 2 meaningless written lines or shapes. ■ scribbler derog a worthless writer. ■ scribbly adj. ◷ 15c: from Latin scribillare, from scribere to write.

scribe ▷ noun 1 a person employed to make handwritten copies of documents before printing was invented. 2 in biblical times: a Jewish lawyer or teacher of law. 3 a tool with a pointed blade for scoring lines on wood or metal. ▷ verb (scribed, scribing) to mark or score lines with a scribe or anything similar. ■ scribal adj. ■ scriber noun a scribing tool. ◷ 14c: from Latin scriba, from scribere to write.

scrim ▷ noun a thin open cotton fabric used as lining in upholstery, in bookbinding, for curtains, etc. ◷ 18c.

scrimmage /ˈskrɪmɪdʒ/ and scrummage /ˈskrʌ-/ ▷ noun 1 a noisy brawl or struggle. 2 Amer football play between the opposing teams beginning with the SNAP and ending when the ball is dead. 3 rugby a SCRUM (noun 9). ▷ verb (scrimmaged, scrimmaging) intr to take part in a scrimmage. ◷ 15c: a variant of SKIRMISH.

scrimp ▷ verb (scrimped, scrimping) intr to live economically; to be frugal or sparing. ■ scrimpiness noun. ■ scrimpy adj. ■ scrimp and save to be sparing and niggardly, often out of necessity. ◷ 18c: related to Swedish and Danish skrumpen shrivelled.

scrimshank or skrimshank /ˈskrɪmʃaŋk/ ▷ verb (scrimshanked, scrimshanking) intr, military slang to evade work or duties. ■ scrimshanker noun. ◷ Late 19c.

scrimshaw /ˈskrɪmʃɔː/ ▷ noun handicrafts done by sailors in their spare time, such as engraving or carving designs on shells, ivory, bone, etc. ▷ verb (scrimshawed, scrimshawing) to work or decorate something in this way. ◷ 19c.

scrip ▷ noun 1 a scrap of paper, especially one with writing on it. 2 colloq a doctor's prescription. 3 commerce a provisional certificate issued before a formal share certificate is drawn up. ◷ 18c: a shortened form of PRESCRIPTION and SUBSCRIPTION.

script ▷ noun 1 a piece of handwriting. 2 type which imitates handwriting, or vice versa. 3 the printed text of a play, film or broadcast. 4 a set of characters used for writing; an alphabet ◻ Cyrillic script. 5 a candidate's examination answer paper. 6 law an original document. ▷ verb (scripted, scripting) to write the script of (a play, film or broadcast). ◷ 14c: from Latin scriptum, from scribere to write.

scripture or Scripture /ˈskrɪptʃə(r)/ ▷ noun (scriptures) 1 the sacred writings of a religion. 2 (also the Scriptures) the Christian Bible. ■ scriptural adj relating to or derived from scripture. ◷ 13c: from Latin scriptura, from scribere to write.

scriptwriter ▷ noun a person who writes scripts. ■ scriptwriting noun.

scrivener /ˈskrɪvənə(r)/ ▷ noun, historical a person who drafts or writes out copies of legal or other official documents. • scrivening noun writing. ⊙ 14c: from French escrivain, from SCRIBE.

scrofula /ˈskrɒfjʊlə/ ▷ noun, pathol the former name for tuberculosis of the lymph nodes, especially of the neck. Also called king's evil. • scrofulous adj. ⊙ 14c: from Latin scrofulae, from scrofa a SOW[2], apparently prone to it.

scroll /skroʊl/ ▷ noun 1 a roll of paper or parchment usually containing an inscription, now only a ceremonial format, eg for academic degrees. 2 an ancient text in this format □ the Dead Sea Scrolls. 3 a decorative spiral shape, eg carved in stonework or in handwriting. ▷ verb (scrolled, scrolling) 1 to roll into a scroll or scrolls. 2 to cut a length of material into scrolls. 3 tr & intr, computing (often scroll up or down) to move the text displayed on a VDU up or down to bring into view data that cannot all be seen at the same time. • scrolled adj. ⊙ 15c as scrowle.

Scrooge /skruːdʒ/ ▷ noun a miserly person. ⊙ 19c: named after Ebenezer Scrooge in A Christmas Carol (1843) by Charles Dickens (1812–70).

scrotum /ˈskroʊtəm/ ▷ noun (scrota /-tə/ or scrotums) biol the sac of skin that encloses the testicles. • scrotal adj relating to or in the region of the scrotum. ⊙ 16c: Latin.

scrounge /skraʊndʒ/ ▷ verb (scrounged, scrounging) 1 tr & intr, colloq to get something by shamelessly asking or begging; to cadge or sponge □ He scrounged a fiver off his old granny. 2 intr (often scrounge for something) to hunt or search around for it. • scrounger noun. • scrounging noun. ⊙ Early 20c: from dialect scrunge to steal.

scrub[1] ▷ verb (scrubbed, scrubbing) 1 tr & intr to rub hard, especially with a stiff brush, in order to remove dirt. 2 to wash or clean by hard rubbing. 3 colloq to cancel or abandon (plans, etc) □ Scrub your plans for a day out, you're needed here. 4 to purify (a gas). 5 intr to use a scrubbing brush. 6 intr to make a rapid to-and-fro movement as if scrubbing. ▷ noun an act of scrubbing. ⊙ 14c: from German schrubben.

■ scrub up said of a surgeon, etc: to wash the hands and arms thoroughly before performing, or assisting at, an operation.

scrub[2] ▷ noun 1 vegetation consisting of stunted trees and evergreen shrubs collectively. 2 (also scrubland) an area, usually with poor soil or low rainfall, containing such vegetation. 3 an inferior domestic animal of mixed or unknown parentage. 4 N Amer a player in a second or inferior team. 5 a small or insignificant person. 6 anything small or insignificant. 7 (the scrub) Austral colloq a remote place far from civilization. ▷ adj 1 small or insignificant. 2 N Amer said of a player: in a second or inferior team. ⊙ 14c: a variant of SHRUB.

scrubber /ˈskrʌbə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone who scrubs. 2 apparatus used for filtering out impurities from gas. 3 offensive slang an unattractive woman. 4 offensive slang a woman who regularly indulges in casual sex. ⊙ 19c.

scrubby /ˈskrʌbɪ/ ▷ adj (scrubbier, scrubbiest) 1 covered with scrub. 2 said of trees, shrubs, etc: stunted. 3 small or insignificant. ⊙ 16c: from SCRUB[2].

scruff[1] ▷ noun the back or nape of the neck. ⊙ 18c: a variant of dialect scuft, from Norse skoft the hair.

scruff[2] ▷ noun, colloq a dirty untidy person. ⊙ 19c: see SCURF.

scruffy /ˈskrʌfɪ/ ▷ adj (scruffier, scruffiest) shabby and untidy. • scruffily adverb. • scruffiness noun. ⊙ 17c.

scrum ▷ noun 1 rugby the restarting of play when the players from both teams hunch together and tightly interlock their arms and heads in readiness for the ball being thrown in by the SCRUM HALF. 2 colloq a riotous struggle. ⊙ 19c: a shortening of SCRUMMAGE.

■ scrum down to form a scrum.

scrum half ▷ noun, rugby the player from each side whose duty is to put the ball into scrums, then regain possession of it as soon as it re-emerges.

scrummage see SCRIMMAGE.

scrummy /ˈskrʌmɪ/ ▷ adj (scrummier, scrummiest) chiefly Brit colloq delicious; scrumptious. ⊙ Early 20c: from SCRUMPTIOUS.

scrumptious /ˈskrʌmpʃəs/ ▷ adj, colloq 1 delicious. 2 delightful. • scrumptiously adverb. ⊙ 19c: probably from SUMPTUOUS.

scrumpy /ˈskrʌmpɪ/ ▷ noun (scrumpies) strong dry cider with a harsh taste made from small sweet apples, especially as brewed in the West Country. ⊙ Early 20c: from dialect scrump withered apples.

scrunch ▷ verb (scrunches, scrunched, scrunching) 1 tr & intr to crunch or crush, especially with relation to the noise produced. 2 intr to make a crunching sound. ▷ noun an act or the sound of scrunching. ⊙ 19c: a variant of CRUNCH.

scrunch-dry ▷ verb to scrunch (hair) into handfuls during blow-drying to give it more shape and body.

scrunchy /ˈskrʌntʃɪ/ ▷ adj (scrunchier, scrunchiest) referring or relating to a scrunching sound. ▷ noun (also scrunchie) (plural scrunchies) a tight ring of elastic covered in coloured fabric used to hold the hair in a ponytail.

scruple /ˈskruːpəl/ ▷ noun 1 (usually scruples) a sense of moral responsibility making one reluctant or unwilling to do wrong □ He has no scruples. 2 a unit of weight equal to 20 grains (GRAIN noun 9). ▷ verb (scrupled, scrupling) intr to be reluctant or unwilling because of scruples □ I would scruple to steal even if we were starving. • make scruple or scruples about something to offer moral objections to it. ⊙ 14c: from Latin scrupulus pebble or anxiety, from scrupus.

scrupulous /ˈskruːpjʊləs/ ▷ adj 1 having scruples; being careful to do nothing morally wrong. 2 extremely conscientious and meticulous. • scrupulosity noun. • scrupulously adverb. • scrupulousness noun.

scrutineer /skruːtɪˈnɪə(r)/ ▷ noun a person who scrutinizes something, especially the collecting and counting of votes. ⊙ 16c.

scrutinize or scrutinise /ˈskruːtɪnaɪz/ ▷ verb (scrutinized, scrutinizing) to subject to scrutiny; to examine closely. • scrutinizer noun. ⊙ 17c.

scrutiny /ˈskruːtɪnɪ/ ▷ noun (scrutinies) 1 a close, careful and thorough examination or inspection. 2 a penetrating or searching look. 3 the official examination of election votes. ⊙ 15c: from Latin scrutinium, from scrutari to search even to the rags, from scruta rags.

scuba /ˈskuːbə, ˈskjuːbə/ ▷ noun (scubas) a device used by skin-divers in scuba diving, consisting of one or two cylinders of compressed air connected by a tube to a mouthpiece allowing underwater breathing. ▷ verb (scubaed, scubaing) intr to swim using scuba gear. ⊙ 1950s: from self-contained underwater breathing apparatus.

Scud ▷ noun a kind of surface-to-surface missile made in the former Soviet Union, originally designed to carry nuclear warheads but later modified for use with conventional weapons.

scud ▷ verb (scudded, scudding) intr 1 said especially of clouds: to sweep quickly and easily across the sky. 2 said especially of sailing vessels: to sail swiftly driven by the force of a strong wind. ▷ noun 1 the act of scudding. 2 cloud, rain or spray driven by the wind. • scudder noun. ⊙ 16c: from German schudden to shake.

scuff ▷ verb (scuffed, scuffing) tr & intr 1 to brush, graze or scrape (especially shoes or heels) while walking. 2 to become grazed or shabby through wear. 3 to drag (the feet) when walking. ▷ noun 1 the act of scuffing. 2 an area worn away by scuffing. ◷ 19c: see SCUFFLE.

scuffle /ˈskʌfəl/ ▷ noun a confused fight or struggle. ▷ verb (scuffled, scuffling) intr to take part in a scuffle. ◷ 16c: from Swedish skuffa to shove.

sculduggery see SKULDUGGERY scull ▷ noun 1 either of a pair of short light oars used by one rower. 2 a a small light racing boat propelled by one rower using a pair of such oars; b (sculls) a race between such boats. 3 a large single oar over the stern of a boat, moved from side to side to propel it forward. 4 an act or spell of sculling. ▷ verb (sculled, sculling) to propel with a scull or sculls. ● sculler noun 1 a person who sculls. 2 a small boat propelled by sculling. ● sculling noun. ◷ 14c as sculle.

scullery /ˈskʌlərɪ/ ▷ noun (sculleries) a room attached to the kitchen where basic chores, such as the cleaning of kitchen utensils, are carried out. ◷ 14c: from French escuelerie.

sculpt ▷ verb (sculpted, sculpting) 1 tr & intr to carve or model. 2 to sculpture. ◷ 19c: from French sculpter, from Latin sculpere to carve.

sculptor /ˈskʌlptə(r)/ and sculptress /ˈskʌlptrəs/ ▷ noun a person who practises the art of sculpture. ◷ 17c: Latin.

sculpture /ˈskʌlptʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the art or act of carving or modelling with clay, wood, stone, plaster, etc. 2 a work, or works, of art produced in this way. 3 bot, zool the natural ridges, spines, etc found on the surface of animals and plants. ▷ verb (sculptured, sculpturing) 1 to carve, mould or sculpt. 2 to represent in sculpture. ● sculptural adj 1 relating to sculpture. 2 having the qualities of sculpture. ● sculptured adj 1 carved or engraved. 2 said of physical features: fine and regular, like those of figures in classical sculpture. 3 bot, zool having ridges, spines, etc. ◷ 14c: from Latin sculptura, from sculpere to carve.

sculpturesque /skʌlptʃəˈrɛsk/ ▷ adj similar to or characteristic of sculptures.

scum ▷ noun 1 dirt or waste matter floating on the surface of a liquid, especially in the form of foam or froth. 2 colloq, derog a worthless or contemptible person or such people. ▷ verb (scummed, scumming) 1 to remove the scum from (a liquid). 2 intr to form or throw up a scum. ● scummer noun. ● scummy adj. ◷ 13c: from Dutch schum foam.

scumbag ▷ noun 1 coarse slang a contemptible person. 2 chiefly US a condom. ◷ 1960s.

scumble /ˈskʌmbəl/ ▷ verb (scumbled, scumbling) to soften the effect of a drawing or painting by a very thin coat of opaque or semi-opaque colour, by light rubbing or by applying paint with a dry brush. ▷ noun 1 colour applied in this way. 2 the effect produced by this. ● scumbling noun. ◷ 18c: perhaps related to SCUM.

scupper¹ /ˈskʌpə(r)/ ▷ verb (scuppered, scuppering) 1 colloq to ruin or put an end to (a plan, an idea, etc). 2 to deliberately sink (a ship). ◷ 19c.

scupper² /ˈskʌpə(r)/ ▷ noun (usually scuppers) naut a hole or pipe in a ship's side through which water is drained off the deck. ◷ 15c: from skopper, perhaps related to SCOOP.

scurf ▷ noun 1 small flakes of dead skin, especially DANDRUFF. 2 any flaking or peeling substance. ● scurfiness noun. ● scurfy adj. ◷ Anglo-Saxon.

scurrilous /ˈskʌrɪləs/ ▷ adj indecently insulting or abusive, and unjustly damaging to the reputation ▫ scurrilous remarks. ● scurrilously adverb. ● scurrility /skəˈrɪlɪtɪ/ or scurrilousness noun. ◷ 16c: from Latin scurrilis, from scurra buffoon.

scurry /ˈskʌrɪ/ ▷ noun (scurries) 1 an act of or the sound of scurrying. 2 a sudden brief gust or fall, eg of wind or snow; a flurry. ◷ 16c: from hurry-scurry a reduplication of HURRY.

■ scurry along, away, off, etc to move hurriedly or briskly; to scuttle.

scurvy /ˈskɜːvɪ/ ▷ noun, pathol a disease caused by dietary deficiency of vitamin C and characterized by swollen bleeding gums, amnesia, bruising and pain in the joints. ▷ adj (scurvier, scurviest) vile; contemptible. ● scurvily adverb. ● scurviness noun. ◷ Anglo-Saxon scurf.

scut ▷ noun a short tail, especially of a rabbit, hare or deer. ◷ 15c: from Norse skutr stern.

scutate /ˈskjuːteɪt/ ▷ adj 1 said of animals: protected by hard bony plates or scutes. 2 bot shield-shaped. ◷ 19c: from Latin scutatus, from scutum shield.

scute /skjuːt/ ▷ noun a hard bony plate forming part of the skin of animals such as armadillos, tortoises, etc. ● scutal adj. ◷ 15c: from Latin scutum shield.

scutellum /skjuˈtɛləm/ ▷ noun (scutella /-tɛlə/) 1 bot in the seeds of certain flowering plants, eg maize: the tissue that surrounds, and serves as a food store for, the developing embryo. 2 the third dorsal plate of a segment of an insect's thorax. 3 a scale of a bird's foot. ◷ 18c: Latin, meaning 'tray', from scutum shield.

scutter /ˈskʌtə(r)/ Brit dialect ▷ verb (scuttered, scuttering) intr to scurry or run hastily. ▷ noun a hasty run. ◷ 18c: a variant of SCUTTLE².

scuttle¹ /ˈskʌtəl/ ▷ noun 1 (in full coal scuttle) a container for holding coal, usually kept near a fire. 2 a shallow basket, especially one for holding vegetables, etc. ● scuttleful noun. ◷ Anglo-Saxon scutel, from Latin scutella tray.

scuttle² /ˈskʌtəl/ ▷ verb (scuttled, scuttling) intr to move quickly with haste; to scurry. ▷ noun a scuttling pace or movement. ◷ 15c: related to SCUD.

scuttle³ /ˈskʌtəl/ ▷ noun a lidded opening in a ship's side or deck. ▷ verb (scuttled, scuttling) 1 naut to deliberately sink (a ship) by making holes in it or by opening the lids of the scuttles. 2 to ruin or destroy (eg plans). ◷ 15c: from French escoutille hatchway.

scutum /ˈskjuːtəm/ ▷ noun (scuta /-tə/) 1 a SCUTE. 2 the second dorsal plate of an insect's thorax. ◷ 19c: Latin, meaning 'shield'.

scuzzy /ˈskʌzɪ/ ▷ adj (scuzzier, scuzziest) N Amer slang filthy or scummy; sleazy. ◷ 1960s: perhaps a combination of SCUM and FUZZY.

Scylla /ˈsɪlə/ ▷ noun, Greek mythol a six-headed sea monster situated on a dangerous rock on the Italian side of the Straits of Messina, opposite Charybdis /kəˈrɪbdɪs/ a whirlpool. ● between Scylla and Charybdis faced with danger on both sides, so that avoidance of one means exposure to the other. ◷ 16c: from Greek Skylla.

scythe /saɪð/ ▷ noun a tool with a wooden handle and a large curved blade, for cutting tall crops or grass by hand with a sweeping action. ▷ verb (scythed, scything) to cut with a scythe. ◷ Anglo-Saxon sithe.

SD ▷ abbreviation 1 South Dakota. Also written S Dak. 2 math standard deviation.

SDA ▷ abbreviation Scottish Development Agency.

SDLP ▷ abbreviation Social and Democratic Labour Party.

SDP ▷ abbreviation Social Democratic Party.

SDR or SDRs ▷ abbreviation Special Drawing Rights.

SE ▷ abbreviation 1 Society of Engineers. 2 south-east or south-eastern. 3 math standard error.

Se ▷ symbol, chem selenium.

sea ▷ noun (seas) 1 (usually the sea) the large expanse of salt water covering the greater part of the Earth's surface. 2 any great expanse of water. 3 any geographical division of this, eg the Mediterranean Sea. 4 an area of this with reference to its calmness or turbulence □ choppy seas. 5 as adj □ sea breeze. 6 a large inland saltwater lake, eg the Dead Sea. 7 anything similar to the sea in its seemingly limitless mass or expanse □ a sea of paperwork. 8 a vast expanse or crowd □ a sea of worshippers. • all at sea completely disorganized or at a loss. • at sea 1 away from land; in a ship on the sea or ocean. 2 completely disorganized or bewildered. • go to sea to become a sailor. • put or put out to sea to start a journey by sea. ◷ Anglo-Saxon sæ.

sea anchor ▷ noun a floating device dragged by a moving ship to slow it down or prevent it drifting off course.

sea anemone ▷ noun any of various marine invertebrates with a cylindrical and usually brightly-coloured body, numerous stinging tentacles, and attached by their bases to submerged weeds and rocks.

sea bed ▷ noun the bottom or floor of the sea.

seaboard ▷ noun a coast; the boundary between land and sea.

seaborgium /siːˈbɔːgɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol Sg, atomic number 106) a name proposed for the radioactive element UNNILHEXIUM. ◷ Discovered 1974, but in March 1994 named after the US atomic scientist Glen Theodore Seaborg.

seaborne ▷ adj carried on or transported by the sea.

sea breeze ▷ noun a breeze blowing inland from the sea.

sea change ▷ noun a complete change or transformation.

sea cow ▷ noun 1 any of various large herbivorous mammals, especially the DUGONG or MANATEE. 2 formerly used to refer to the hippopotamus.

sea cucumber ▷ noun a sausage-shaped soft-bodied marine invertebrate, with a leathery skin and a mouth at one end surrounded by numerous tentacles.

sea dog ▷ noun an old or experienced sailor.

sea eagle ▷ noun any of several fish-eating eagles living near the sea.

seafaring ▷ adj travelling by or working at sea. • seafarer noun a person who travels by sea; a sailor.

sea-floor spreading ▷ noun, geol the hypothesis that the oceanic crust is slowly expanding outwards sideways away from the oceanic ridges, as a result of the welling up of magma.

seafood ▷ noun shellfish and other edible marine fish.

seafront ▷ noun the side of the land, a town or a building facing the sea.

sea-girt ▷ adj, poetry surrounded by the sea.

seagoing ▷ adj said of a ship: designed or suitable for sea travel.

seagull see GULL¹

sea holly ▷ noun a seashore plant similar to the thistle.

sea horse ▷ noun 1 any of various species of a small fish, native to warm coastal waters, that swims in an upright position, with its elongated head bent at right angles to its body. 2 mythol a sea monster with the body of a horse and the tail of a fish.

sea kale ▷ noun 1 a perennial maritime plant with broad fleshy bluish-green edible leaves and white flowers. 2 the young leaves and stems of this plant, which can be boiled and eaten as a vegetable.

seal¹ ▷ noun 1 a piece of wax, lead or other material, attached to a document and stamped with an official mark to show authenticity. 2 such a mark □ the royal seal. 3 an engraved metal stamp or ring for making such a mark eg on wax. 4 the mark itself. 5 a similar piece of material, with or without an official stamp, for keeping something closed. 6 a piece of rubber or other material serving to keep a joint airtight or watertight. 7 a token or object given, or a gesture made, as a pledge or guarantee. 8 a decorative adhesive label or stamp, usually sold for charity. 9 RC Church an obligation to keep discreet all that is said in confession. ▷ verb (sealed, sealing) 1 to fix a seal to something. 2 to fasten or stamp something with a seal. 3 to decide, settle or confirm □ seal someone's fate □ seal a business agreement. 4 to paint (eg wood) with a substance that protects against damage, especially the weather. 5 to close, especially permanently or for a long time. 6 Austral, NZ to tarmac. • set one's seal to something to authorize, approve or formally endorse it. ◷ 13c: from French seel, from Latin sigillum, from signum mark.

■ seal something off to isolate an area, preventing entry by unauthorized persons.

■ seal something up to make it securely closed, airtight or watertight with a seal.

seal² ▷ noun 1 any of various marine mammals with a smooth-skinned or furry streamlined body and limbs modified to form webbed flippers, found mainly in cool coastal waters. Compare SEA LION. 2 sealskin. ▷ verb (sealed, sealing) intr to hunt seals. • sealer noun a seal hunter. ◷ Anglo-Saxon seolh.

sealant /ˈsiːlənt/ ▷ noun 1 any material used for sealing a gap to prevent the leaking of water, etc. 2 any material painted on to protect against weathering and wear. ◷ 1940s.

sealed-beam ▷ noun said of car headlights: consisting of a lens and reflector as a complete unit within a vacuum.

sea legs ▷ plural noun 1 the ability to resist seasickness. 2 the ability to walk steadily on the deck of a pitching ship.

sea level ▷ noun the mean level of the surface of the sea between high and low tides, therefore the point from which land height is measured.

sealing-wax ▷ noun a waxy mixture consisting of shellac, turpentine and colour, used for seals on documents.

sea lion ▷ noun any of numerous species of marine mammal with small ears (unlike seals, which have no external ears), long whiskers, paddle-like forelimbs and large hind flippers.

sea loch see LOCH 2

seal of approval ▷ noun, often facetious official approval.

seal ring ▷ noun a SIGNET RING.

sealskin ▷ noun 1 the prepared skin of a furry seal, or an imitation of it. 2 a garment made from this. 3 as adj □ a sealskin jacket.

Sealyham terrier /ˈsiːlɪəm —/ ▷ noun a type of dog with a long body, a thick wiry pale coat, short legs and tail, a long head with eyebrows, moustache, beard and short pendulous ears. ◷ 19c: named after Sealyham estate near Haverfordwest, Wales, where it was first bred.

seam ▷ noun 1 a join between edges, especially one that has been welded. 2 a similar join where pieces of fabric have been stitched together. 3 geol a layer of coal or ore in the earth. 4 a wrinkle or scar, especially as a result of surgical incisions. 5 cricket SEAM BOWLING, as delivered by a SEAMER. ▷ verb (seamed, seaming) 1 to join edge to edge. 2 to scar or wrinkle. ◷ Anglo-Saxon, from siwian to sew.

seaman ▷ noun (seamen) a sailor below the rank of officer. • seamanlike adj. • seamanly adj. • seamanship noun sailing skills, including navigation.

seam bowling ▷ noun, cricket bowling in which the seam of the ball is used by the bowler to make the ball swerve in flight, or first to swerve and then to break in the opposite direction in pitching. ◷ 19c.

seamer ⊳ noun, cricket a ball delivered by seam bowling.

seamless ⊳ adj having no seams; made from a single piece of fabric, etc.

seamstress /ˈsiːmstrɪs/ ⊳ noun a woman who sews, especially as a profession. ⊙ 17c.

seamy /ˈsiːmɪ/ ⊳ adj (seamier, seamiest) sordid; disreputable. • seaminess noun. ⊙ 17c: from SEAM.

séance or seance /ˈseɪɒns, ˈseɪɑ̃s/ ⊳ noun a meeting at which a person, especially a spiritualist, attempts to contact the spirits of dead people on behalf of other people present. ⊙ 18c: French, meaning 'sitting', from Latin sedere to sit.

sea otter ⊳ noun a marine mammal native to N Pacific coasts, with a broader body than freshwater otters.

sea pink ⊳ noun THRIFT.

seaplane ⊳ noun an aeroplane designed to take off from and land on water.

seaport ⊳ noun a coastal town with a port for seagoing ships.

SEAQ /ˈsiːak/ ⊳ abbreviation Stock Exchange Automated Quotation.

sear /sɪə(r)/ ⊳ verb (seared, searing) 1 to scorch. 2 to dry out or wither. 3 to make someone callous or unfeeling. ⊳ noun a mark made by scorching. • searing adj burning or intense □ We sat outside in the searing heat. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon searian to dry up.

search /sɜːtʃ/ ⊳ verb (searches, searched, searching) 1 tr & intr to explore something thoroughly in order to try to find someone or something □ searched the wardrobe for his pink shirt. 2 to check the clothing or body of someone for concealed objects □ Everyone is searched before entering the building. 3 to examine closely or scrutinize □ search one's conscience. 4 to probe eg by thorough questioning. 5 to ransack. ⊳ noun an act of searching. • in search of someone or something searching for it. • search me colloq I've no idea; I don't know. ⊙ 16c: from French cerchier, from Latin circare to go around.

■ search something out to uncover it after a thorough check or exploration.

search engine ⊳ noun, computing software for retrieving information from the Internet. ⊙ 1990s.

searching /ˈsɜːtʃɪŋ/ ⊳ adj seeking to discover the truth by intensive examination or observation □ a searching inquiry. • searchingly adverb.

searchlight ⊳ noun 1 a lamp and reflector throwing a powerful beam of light for illuminating an area in darkness. 2 the beam of light projected in this way.

search party ⊳ noun a group of people participating in an organized search for a missing person or thing.

search warrant ⊳ noun a legal document authorizing a police officer to search premises.

seascape ⊳ noun a picture or photograph of a scene at sea.

Sea Scout ⊳ noun a member of a division of the Scout Association providing training in seamanship.

seashell ⊳ noun the empty shell of a marine invertebrate, especially a mollusc.

seashore ⊳ noun the land immediately adjacent to the sea.

seasick adj suffering from seasickness.

seasickness ⊳ noun nausea caused by the rolling or dipping motion of a ship.

seaside ⊳ noun 1 (usually the seaside) a coastal area or town, especially a holiday resort. 2 as adj □ seaside town.

season /ˈsiːzən/ ⊳ noun 1 any of the four major periods (SPRING, SUMMER, AUTUMN and WINTER) into which the year is divided according to changes in weather patterns and other natural phenomena. 2 any period having particular characteristics □ rainy season □ our busy season. 3 a period of the year during which a particular sport, activity, etc is played or carried out □ fishing season □ holiday season. 4 a period during which a particular fruit or vegetable is in plentiful supply. 5 any particular period of time. ⊳ verb (seasoned, seasoning) 1 to flavour (food) by adding salt, pepper and/or other herbs and spices. 2 to prepare something, especially timber, for use by drying it out. 3 to tone down or temper. 4 to add interest or liveliness to something. • seasoner noun. • in season 1 said of food, especially fruit and vegetables: readily available, as determined by its growing season. 2 said of game animals: legally allowed to be hunted and killed, according to the time of year. 3 said of a female animal: ready to mate; on heat. • out of season 1 said of food, especially fruit and vegetables: not yet available. 2 said of game animals: legally not yet to be hunted. ⊙ 14c: from French seson, from Latin satio a sowing.

seasonable /ˈsiːzənəbəl/ ⊳ adj 1 said of weather: appropriate to the particular season. 2 coming or occurring at the right time; opportune. • seasonableness noun. • seasonably adverb. ⊙ 14c.

seasonal /ˈsiːzənəl/ ⊳ adj available, taking place or occurring only at certain times of the year. • seasonality noun. • seasonally adverb. ⊙ 19c.

seasonable, seasonal

• Seasonable means appropriate to the season, ie opportune; seasonal is a more neutral word relating to the seasons of the year.

seasonal affective disorder ⊳ noun, psychol (abbreviation SAD) a recurrent change in mood occurring at a particular time of year, especially a pattern of repeated depression during the winter months.

seasoned /ˈsiːzənd/ ⊳ adj 1 said of food: flavoured □ a well seasoned dish. 2 matured or conditioned □ seasoned wood. 3 experienced □ seasoned travellers.

seasoning /ˈsiːzənɪŋ/ ⊳ noun 1 the process by which anything is seasoned. 2 any substance such as salt, pepper, herbs, spices, etc used to season food. ⊙ 16c.

season ticket ⊳ noun a ticket, usually bought at a reduced price, allowing a specified or unlimited number of visits or journeys during a fixed period.

sea surgeon ⊳ noun a SURGEON FISH.

sea swallow ⊳ noun a TERN.

seat ⊳ noun 1 anything designed or intended for sitting on. 2 a chair, bench, saddle, etc. 3 the part of it on which a person sits. 4 a place for sitting, eg in a cinema or theatre, especially a reservation for such a place □ We booked four seats for the theatre tomorrow night. 5 the buttocks. 6 the part of a garment covering the buttocks. 7 the base of an object, or any part on which it rests or fits. 8 a parliamentary or local government constituency. 9 a position on a committee or other administrative body. 10 an established centre □ seats of learning. 11 a place where anything is located, settled or established. 12 a large country mansion. ⊳ verb (seated, seating) 1 to place on a seat. 2 to cause to sit down. 3 to assign a seat to someone, eg at a dinner table. 4 to provide seats for (a specified number of people) □ My car seats five. 5 to place in any site, situation or location. 6 to fit firmly and accurately. 7 tr & intr to make (a skirt, trousers, etc) or become baggy by sitting □ an unlined skirt will seat. • by the seat of one's pants instinctively; by intuition. • take a seat to sit down. • take one's seat to take up one's allocated place or position, especially in parliament. ⊙ 13c: from Norse sæti.

seat belt ⊳ noun a safety belt that prevents a passenger in a car, aeroplane, etc from being thrown violently forward in the event of an emergency stop, a crash, etc.

-seater /ˈsiːtə(r)/ ▷ combining form, indicating that something has seats for the specified number of people ▫ a three-seater sofa.

seating /ˈsiːtɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 the provision of seats. 2 the number, allocation or arrangement of seats, eg in a dining-room. 3 the fabric covering on seats. 4 mech a supporting surface for a part or fitting. ⓘ 16c.

SEATO /ˈsiːtoʊ/ ▷ abbreviation South-East Asia Treaty Organization.

sea trout ▷ noun the SALMON TROUT.

sea urchin ▷ noun a common name for any of numerous species of ECHINODERM that have a spherical or heart-shaped shell covered by sharp protective spines.

seaward /ˈsiːwəd/ ▷ adj facing or moving toward the sea. ▷ adverb (also seawards) towards the sea.

seaweed ▷ noun 1 bot the common name for any of numerous species of marine algae. 2 such plants collectively.

seaworthy /ˈsiːwɜːðɪ/ ▷ adj said of a ship: fit for a voyage at sea. ▪ seaworthiness noun.

sebaceous /sɪˈbeɪʃəs/ ▷ adj similar to, characteristic of or secreting sebum. ⓘ 18c: Latin.

sebaceous gland ▷ noun, anatomy in mammals: any of the tiny glands in the DERMIS of the skin, that protect the skin by secretion of SEBUM.

seborrhoea or (US) seborrhea /sɛbəˈrɪə/ noun, pathol a disorder causing an excessive discharge of sebum from the sebaceous glands. ▪ seborrhoeic adj. ⓘ 19c: from Latin sebum + Greek rhoia flow.

sebum /ˈsiːbəm/ ▷ noun, biol the oily substance secreted by the sebaceous glands that lubricates and waterproofs the hair and skin. ⓘ 18c: Latin, meaning 'grease'.

SEC ▷ abbreviation Securities and Exchange Commission.

Sec ▷ abbreviation Secretary.

sec[1] /sɛk/ ▷ noun, colloq short for SECOND[2] sense 3 ▫ wait a sec. ▷ abbreviation SECOND[2] sense 1.

sec[2] /sɛk/ ▷ adj 1 said of wine: dry. 2 said of champagne: medium sweet. ⓘ 19c: French, meaning 'dry'.

sec[3] /sɛk/ ▷ abbreviation secant.

SECAM /ˈsiːkam/ ▷ abbreviation: Séquentiel Couleur à Mémoire (French), a broadcasting system for colour television. See also PAL. ⓘ 1960s: developed in France, and later adopted in the former USSR, E Europe and certain Middle East countries.

secant /ˈsiːkənt/ ▷ noun (abbreviation sec) 1 geom a straight line that cuts a curve at one or more places. 2 math for a given angle in a right-angled triangle: the ratio of the length of the hypotenuse to the length of the side adjacent to the angle under consideration; the reciprocal of the cosine of an angle. ⓘ 16c: from Latin secans, from secare to cut.

secateurs /ˈsɛkətɜːz, sɛkəˈtɜːz/ ▷ plural noun small sharp shears for pruning bushes, etc. ⓘ 19c: French.

secede /sɪˈsiːd/ ▷ verb (seceded, seceding) intr to withdraw formally, eg from a political or religious body or alliance. ▪ seceder noun a country, etc that secedes. ⓘ 18c: from Latin secedere to go apart, from se apart + cedere to go.

secession /sɪˈsɛʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of seceding. 2 a group of seceders. ⓘ 17c: from Latin secessio, from secedere to SECEDE.

sech /sɛʃ, sɛtʃ, ʃɛk, sɛkˈeɪtʃ/ ▷ noun a hyperbolic secant.

seclude /sɪˈkluːd/ ▷ verb (secluded, secluding) 1 to keep away or isolate from other contacts, associations or influences. 2 to keep out of view. ⓘ 15c: from Latin secludere, from se apart + claudere to shut.

secluded /sɪˈkluːdɪd/ ▷ adj 1 protected or away from people and noise; private and quiet. 2 hidden from view. ▪ secludedly adverb. ⓘ 17c.

seclusion /sɪˈkluːʒən/ ▷ noun 1 the state of being secluded or the act of secluding. 2 peacefulness and privacy. 3 a private place. ⓘ 17c.

second[1] /ˈsɛkənd/ ▷ adj 1 in counting: next after or below the first, in order of sequence or importance. 2 alternate; other ▫ every second week. 3 additional; supplementary ▫ have a second go. 4 subordinate; inferior ▫ second to none. 5 (the second) a the second day of the month; b golf the second hole. 6 closely resembling or similar to someone of a previous period ▫ He has been heralded as the second Shakespeare. 7 in a vehicle engine: referring to the next to bottom forward gear ▫ go into second. 8 music singing or playing a part in harmony which is subordinate or slightly lower in pitch to another part ▫ second soprano ▫ second violin. ▷ noun 1 someone or something next in sequence after the first; someone or something of second class. 2 a place in the second class or rank. 3 in a vehicle engine: the second gear. 4 higher education a second-class honours degree, usually graded into first and second divisions. 5 an assistant to a boxer or duellist. 6 music the interval between successive tones of the diatonic scale. 7 (seconds) flawed or imperfect goods sold at reduced prices. 8 (seconds) colloq a second helping of food. 9 (seconds) colloq the second course of a meal. 10 a Cub Scout or Brownie Guide next in rank to a sixer. ▷ verb (seconded, seconding) 1 to declare formal support for (a proposal, or the person making it). 2 to give support or encouragement of any kind to someone or something. 3 to act as second to (a boxer or duellist). ▷ adverb secondly. ▪ second-to-none best or supreme; unsurpassed or exceptional. ⓘ 13c: from Latin secundus.

second[2] /ˈsɛkənd/ noun 1 a (abbreviation sec or s) a unit of time equal to $^{1}/_{60}$ of a minute; b (symbol s) the SI unit of time defined in terms of the resonance vibration of the caesium-133 atom. 2 geom (symbol ″) a unit of angular measurement equal to $^{1}/_{3600}$ of a degree or $^{1}/_{60}$ of a minute. 3 a moment ▫ wait a second. ⓘ 14c: from Latin secunda minuta secondary minute.

second[3] /səˈkɒnd/ ▷ verb (seconded, seconding) to transfer someone temporarily to a different post, place or duty. See also SECONDMENT. ⓘ Early 19c: from French en second in the second rank.

Second Advent see SECOND COMING.

secondary /ˈsɛkəndərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 being of lesser importance than the principal or primary concern; subordinate. 2 developed from something earlier or original ▫ a secondary infection. 3 said of education: between primary and higher or further, for pupils aged between 11 and 18. 4 electronics said of an electric circuit: having a device that induces current, eg a transformer. Compare PRIMARY, TERTIARY. 5 geol (Secondary) relating to the MESOZOIC era. ▷ noun (secondaries) 1 a subordinate person or thing. 2 a delegate or deputy. 3 pathol a further malignant tumour in the body at some distance from an original cancer site. 4 a feather growing on the ulna of a bird's wing. 5 electronics the coil or windings of the second stage of a transformer. 6 (the Secondary) the MESOZOIC era. See table at GEOLOGICAL TIME SCALE. ▪ secondarily /ˈsɛkəndərɪlɪ, -ˈdɛrəlɪ/ adverb. ▪ secondariness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin secundarius.

secondary cell ▷ noun, physics an electrolytic cell that can be charged before use by passing an electric current through it, and which can then be recharged. ⓘ 19c.

secondary colour ▷ noun a colour obtained by mixing or superimposing two primary colours.

secondary emission ▷ noun, physics emission of secondary electrons from a surface or particle caused by bombardment with electrons, etc from another source.

secondary picketing ▷ noun the picketing of firms that have business or trading connections with the employer against whom industrial action is being taken.

secondary planet see under PLANET secondary school ▷ noun a school, especially a state school, for pupils aged between 11 and 18.

secondary sexual characteristics ▷ noun, zool features other than reproductive organs that distinguish males from females after the onset of puberty, eg beard growth or breast development in humans.

secondary stress ▷ noun, linguistics the second-strongest stress in a word, etc. Compare PRIMARY STRESS.

second ballot ▷ noun an electoral system where a second vote is taken, after the elimination of the candidate or candidates who received the fewest votes in the first ballot.

second best ▷ noun the next after the best. • come off second best colloq to lose; to be beaten by someone.

second-best ▷ adj 1 next after the best. 2 somewhat inferior.

second childhood ▷ noun senility or dotage; mental weakness in extreme old age.

second class ▷ noun the next class or category after the first in quality or worth. ▷ adj (second-class) 1 referring or relating to the class below the first. 2 being of a poor standard; inferior. 3 said of mail: sent at a cheaper rate than first class, therefore taking longer for delivery. ▷ adverb by second-class mail or transport □ sent it second class.

second-class citizen ▷ noun a member of a community who does not have the full rights and privileges enjoyed by the community as a whole.

Second Coming ▷ noun the second coming of Christ to Earth on Judgement Day. Also called Second Advent.

second cousin ▷ noun a child of the first cousin of either parent.

second-degree ▷ adj 1 medicine, denoting the most serious of the three degrees of burning with blistering but not permanent damage to the skin. 2 N Amer law, denoting unlawful killing with intent, but no premeditation.

seconder /ˈsɛkəndə(r)/ ▷ noun a person who seconds (see SECOND¹ verb 1) a proposal or the person making it.

second estate see under ESTATE 5 second growth ▷ noun the new growth of a forest after cutting, fire, etc.

second hand ▷ noun the pointer on a watch or clock that measures and indicates the time in seconds.

second-hand ▷ adj 1 previously owned or used by someone else. 2 dealing or trading in second-hand goods. 3 not directly received or obtained, but known through an intermediary □ second-hand information. ▷ adverb 1 in a second-hand state □ It's cheaper to buy furniture second-hand. 2 not directly, but from someone else □ They heard it second-hand.

second home ▷ noun 1 a holiday home, owned in addition to one's main residence. 2 a place or location where one feels as much at home as in one's own house.

second lieutenant ▷ noun an army or navy officer of the lowest commissioned rank.

secondly /ˈsɛkəndlɪ/ ▷ adverb in the second place; as a second consideration.

secondment /sɪˈkɒndmənt/ ▷ noun a temporary transfer to another position or organization. See also SECOND².

second nature ▷ noun a habit or tendency so deeply ingrained as to seem an innate part of a person's nature.

second person see under PERSON second-rate ▷ adj inferior or mediocre; having a substandard quality, as opposed to FIRST-RATE, etc.

second sight ▷ noun the power believed to enable someone to see into the future or to see things happening elsewhere.

second slip see SLIP¹ noun 10 second strike ▷ noun, military in nuclear warfare: a counterattack following a first strike by the enemy.

second string ▷ noun an alternative course of action, choice, etc.

second thoughts ▷ noun 1 doubts □ They're having second thoughts about getting married. 2 a process of reconsideration leading to a different decision being made □ On second thoughts I think I'll stay.

second wind ▷ noun 1 the recovery of normal breathing after exertion. 2 a burst of renewed energy or enthusiasm.

secrecy /ˈsiːkrəsɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the state or fact of being secret. 2 confidentiality □ I'm sworn to secrecy. 3 the ability or tendency to keep information secret. ⓘ 15c: as secretie, from secre secret.

secret /ˈsiːkrət/ ▷ adj 1 kept hidden or away from the knowledge of others. 2 unknown or unobserved by others □ a secret army. 3 tending to conceal things from others; private or secretive. 4 guarded against discovery or observation □ a secret location. ▷ noun 1 something not disclosed, or not to be disclosed, to others. 2 an unknown or unrevealed method of achievement □ the secret of eternal youth. 3 a central but sometimes elusive principle, explanation, etc □ the secret of a good marriage. 4 a fact or purpose that remains unexplained or unidentified; a mystery. 5 relig a quietly spoken or silent prayer by the celebrant after the offertory and immediately before the preface. • secretly adverb. • in secret secretly; unknown to others. • in on or in the secret having knowledge of or participating in it. • keep a secret not to disclose or reveal it. ⓘ 14c: from Latin secretus set apart, from se apart + cernere to separate.

secret agent ▷ noun a member of the secret service; a spy.

secretaire /sɛkrəˈtɛə(r)/ ▷ noun (secretaires) a cabinet which folds out to form a writing desk. Also called ESCRITOIRE. ⓘ 18c: French, meaning 'SECRETARY'.

secretariat /sɛkrəˈtɛərɪət, -rɪat/ ▷ noun 1 the administrative department of any council, organization or legislative body. 2 its staff or premises. 3 a secretary's office. ⓘ 19c: French, from SECRETARY.

secretary /ˈsɛkrətərɪ/ ▷ noun (secretaries) 1 a person employed to perform administrative or clerical tasks for a company or individual. 2 the member of a club or society committee responsible for its correspondence and business records. 3 a senior civil servant assisting a government minister or ambassador. • secretarial /-ˈtɛərɪəl/ adj referring or relating to secretaries or their work. ⓘ 14c: from Latin secretarius person spoken to in confidence, from secretum SECRET.

secretary-bird ▷ noun a large ground-dwelling African bird with grey and black plumage, long stilt-like legs and an erectile crest of black-tipped feathers hanging down behind its head. ⓘ 19c: so called because the feathers on its head resemble pens held behind the ear of a secretary.

secretary-general ▷ noun (secretaries-general) the principal administrative official in a large, especially political organization, eg the United Nations.

Secretary of State ▷ noun 1 in the UK: a minister at the head of any of the major government departments. 2 in the US: the FOREIGN MINISTER.

secrete¹ /sɪˈkriːt/ ▷ verb (secreted, secreting) biol, zool said of a gland or similar organ: to form and release (a substance). ⓘ 18c: a shortening of SECRETION.

secrete[2] /sɪˈkriːt/ ▷ verb (secreted, secreting) to hide away or conceal. ⓒ 18c: related to SECRET.

Secret Intelligence Services see under MI6.

secretion /sɪˈkriːʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process whereby glands of the body discharge or release particular substances. 2 any of the substances produced by such glands, eg sweat, saliva, mucus, bile. ⓒ 17c: from Latin secernere, from se apart + cernere to separate.

secretive /ˈsiːkrətɪv, sɪˈkriːtɪv/ ▷ adj inclined to or fond of secrecy; reticent. ● secretively adverb. ● secretiveness noun. ⓒ 15c.

secretory /sɪˈkriːtərɪ/ ▷ adj said of a gland, etc: referring or relating to or involved in the process of secretion. ⓒ 17c: related to SECRETE[2].

secret police ▷ noun a police force operating in secret to suppress opposition to the government.

secret service ▷ noun a government department responsible for espionage and national security matters.

sect ▷ noun 1 a religious or other group whose views and practices differ from those of an established body or from those of a body from which it has separated, used sometimes as an expression of disapproval by non-members. 2 a subdivision of one of the main religious divisions of mankind. 3 a body of followers of any doctrine, especially of an extreme political movement. ⓒ 14c: from Latin secta a following, from sequi to follow.

sectarian /sɛkˈtɛərɪən/ ▷ adj 1 referring, relating or belonging to a sect. 2 having, showing or caused by hostility towards those outside one's own group or belonging to a particular group or sect □ sectarian violence. ▷ noun a member of a sect, especially a bigoted person. ● sectarianism noun loyalty or excessive attachment to a particular sect or party. ⓒ 17c: from SECTARY.

sectary /ˈsɛktərɪ/ ▷ noun (sectaries) 1 a member of a sect. 2 a dissenter from an established faith. ⓒ 16c.

section /ˈsɛkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of cutting. 2 any of the parts into which something is or can be divided or of which it may be composed. 3 geom the surface formed when a plane cuts through a solid figure. 4 the act of cutting through a solid figure. 5 a plan or diagram showing a view of an object as if it had been cut through. 6 a smaller part of a document, newspaper, book, etc □ Where's the TV section of the newspaper? 7 music a subdivision of an orchestra or chorus consisting of players of similar instruments or voices □ the violin section □ the alto section. 8 printing (in full section mark) a mark (§) used to indicate the beginning of a section of a book or used as a reference mark. 9 geol an exposure of rock in which the strata are cut across. 10 biol a thin slice of a specimen of tissue prepared for microscopic examination. 11 a subdivision of an army platoon. 12 a subdivision of a company or organization □ the marketing section. 13 surgery the act or process of cutting, or the cut or division made. 14 US a land area of one square mile. 15 NZ a building plot. ▷ verb (sectioned, sectioning) 1 to divide something into sections. 2 to draw a sectional plan of something. 3 surgery to cut a section through something. 4 medicine to issue an order for the compulsory admission of (a mentally ill person) to a psychiatric hospital under the relevant section of mental health legislation, eg the Mental Health Act in the UK. ⓒ 16c: from Latin secare to cut.

sectional /ˈsɛkʃənəl/ ▷ adj 1 made in sections. 2 referring or relating to a particular section. 3 restricted to a particular group or area. ● sectionalize or sectionalise verb. ● sectionalization noun. ● sectionally adverb.

sectionalism /ˈsɛkʃənəlɪzəm/ ▷ noun a narrow-minded outlook or concern for the interests of a particular group, area, etc.

sector /ˈsɛktə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 geom a portion of a circle bounded by two radii and an arc. 2 astron an object of similar shape, especially one for measuring angular distance. 3 a division or section of a nation's economic operations. Compare PRIVATE SECTOR, PUBLIC SECTOR. 4 a part of an area divided up for military purposes. 5 a mathematical measuring instrument consisting of two graduated rules hinged together at one end. ● sectoral adj. ⓒ 16c: Latin, from secare to cut.

sectorial /sɛkˈtɔːrɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 sectoral; relating to a sector. 2 zool said of a tooth: designed for cutting and eating flesh. ⓒ 19c.

secular /ˈsɛkjʊlə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 relating to the present world rather than to heavenly or spiritual things. 2 not religious or ecclesiastical; civil or lay. 3 said of members of the clergy: not bound by vows to a particular monastic or religious order. 4 referring to the secular clergy. 5 lasting for a long duration of time. 6 occurring only once in a lifetime, century or age. ▷ noun a clergyman (eg parish priest) not bound by monastic rules; a layman. ● secularity /sɛkjʊˈlarɪtɪ/ noun. ● secularly adverb. ⓒ 13c: from Latin saecularis, from saeculum generation or century.

secularism /ˈsɛkjʊlərɪzəm/ ▷ noun the view or belief that society's values and standards should not be influenced or controlled by religion or the Church. ● secularist noun someone who favours secularism.

secularize /ˈsɛkjʊləraɪz/ or secularise ▷ verb (secularized, secularizing) to make something secular. ● secularization noun.

secund /ˈsiːkʌnd, ˈsɛkʌnd, sɪˈkʌnd/ ▷ adj, bot said eg of leaves: turned to or positioned on the same side. ⓒ 18c: from Latin secundus second or following.

secure /sɪˈkjʊə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 free from danger; providing safety. 2 free from trouble or worry. 3 free from uncertainty or mistrust; assured. 4 firmly fixed or attached. 5 not likely to be lost or taken away; safe or assured □ a secure job. 6 in custody, usually of the police. ▷ verb (secured, securing) 1 to fasten or attach firmly. 2 to get or assure possession of something □ She's secured a place on the course for next year. 3 to make free from danger or risk; to make safe. 4 to contrive to get something. 5 to guarantee. ● securable adj. ● securely adverb. ● securer noun. ⓒ 16c: from Latin securus, from se- without + cura care.

security /sɪˈkjʊərɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (securities) 1 the state of being secure. 2 protection from the possibility of future financial difficulty. 3 protection from physical harm, especially assassination. 4 protection from theft □ Our house has good security. 5 the staff providing such protection against attack or theft. 6 freedom from vulnerability to political or military takeover □ national security. 7 something given as a guarantee, especially to a creditor giving them the right to recover a debt. 8 (usually securities) a certificate stating ownership of stocks or shares, or the monetary value represented by such certificates. ▷ adj providing security □ security guard. ⓒ 15c.

security blanket ▷ noun 1 a blanket or other familiar piece of cloth carried around by a toddler as a source of comfort and security. 2 any familiar object whose presence provides a sense of comfort or security.

Security Council ▷ noun a body of the United Nations whose responsibility is to maintain international peace and security.

security risk ▷ noun someone considered to be a threat to a nation's security, especially because of a likelihood of giving away military secrets as a result of their political affiliations.

Security Services see under MI5.

SED ▷ abbreviation Scottish Education Department.

sedan /sɪˈdan/ ▷ noun 1 (in full sedan chair) historical a large enclosed chair for one person, carried on two horizontal poles by two bearers. 2 N Amer a saloon car. ⓘ 17c.

sedate /sɪ'deɪt/ ▷ adj 1 calm and dignified in manner. 2 slow and unexciting. ▷ verb (sedated, sedating) to calm or quieten someone by means of a sedative. ● sedately adverb. ● sedateness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sedatus, from sedare to still.

sedation /sɪ'deɪʃən/ ▷ noun, medicine the act of calming or the state of having been calmed, especially by means of sedatives. ⓘ 16c.

sedative /'sedətɪv/ ▷ noun, medicine any agent, especially a drug, that has a calming effect and is used to treat insomnia, pain, delirium, etc. ▷ adj said of a drug, etc: having a calming effect. ⓘ 15c.

sedentary /'sedəntərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 said of work: involving much sitting. 2 said of a person: spending much time sitting; taking little exercise. 3 said of an animal: inactive; lethargic. 4 zool a said of a bird: not migratory; b said eg of a mollusc: attached to a substratum; not mobile. ⓘ 16c: from Latin sedentarius, from sedere to sit.

Seder /'seɪdə(r)/ ▷ noun, Judaism the ceremonial meal and its rituals on the first night or first two nights of the Passover. ⓘ 19c: from Hebrew sedher order.

sedge /sedʒ/ ▷ noun any member of a family of plants resembling grasses or rushes, found in bogs, fens, marshes and other poorly drained areas, and characterized by solid stems which are triangular in cross-section. ● sedgy adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon secg.

sedge warbler ▷ noun a common British warbler, found in marshy areas.

sediment /'sedɪmənt/ ▷ noun 1 insoluble solid particles that have settled at the bottom of a liquid in which they were previously suspended. 2 geol solid material, eg rock fragments or organic debris, that has been deposited by the action of gravity, wind, water or ice, especially at the bottom of a sea, lake or river. ⓘ 16c: from Latin sedimentum, from sedere to sit.

sedimentary /sedɪ'mentərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or of the nature of sediment. 2 geol denoting any of a group of rocks, eg clay, limestone or sandstone, that have formed as a result of the accumulation and compaction of layers of sediment. ⓘ 19c.

sedimentation /sedɪmen'teɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 chem the settling of solid particles from a suspension, either naturally by gravity, or as a result of centrifugation. 2 geol the process of accumulating or depositing sediment in layers, especially during the formation of sedimentary rock. ⓘ 19c.

sedition /sɪ'dɪʃən/ ▷ noun public speech, writing or action encouraging public disorder, especially rebellion against the government. ⓘ 14c: from Latin seditio a going apart, from sed away + ire to go.

seditious /sɪ'dɪʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or involving sedition. 2 encouraging or participating in sedition. ● seditiously adverb. ● seditiousness noun.

seduce /sɪ'dʒuːs/ ▷ verb (seduced, seducing) 1 to lure or entice someone into having sexual intercourse. 2 to lead astray; to tempt, especially into wrongdoing. ● seducer or seductress noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin seducere to lead aside.

seduction /sɪ'dʌkʃən/ ▷ noun the act or practice of seducing or the condition of being seduced. ⓘ 16c: French, from SEDUCE.

seductive /sɪ'dʌktɪv/ ▷ adj 1 tending or intended to seduce. 2 sexually attractive and charming. 3 creating or designed to create the mood for sex □ seductive lighting. 4 tempting; enticing. ● seductively adverb. ● seductiveness noun. ⓘ 18c: from Latin seductivus, from SEDUCE.

sedulous /'sedʒuləs/ ▷ adj, formal 1 assiduous and diligent; steadily hardworking. 2 painstakingly carried out. ● sedulity or sedulousness noun. ● sedulously adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin sedulus, from se dolo without deception.

sedum /'siːdəm/ ▷ noun, bot any of various rock plants with thick fleshy leaves and clusters of white, yellow or pink flowers. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'houseleek'.

see¹ ▷ verb (past tense saw, past participle seen, seeing) 1 to perceive by the sense operated in the eyes. 2 intr to have the power of vision. 3 tr & intr to perceive mentally; to understand or realize □ Don't you see what she's trying to do? 4 to watch □ We're going to see a play. 5 to be aware of or know, especially by looking or reading □ I see from your letter that you're married. 6 tr & intr to find out; to learn □ We'll have to see what happens. 7 to predict; to expect □ We could see what was going to happen. 8 to meet up with someone, to spend time with someone □ I haven't seen her for ages. 9 to spend time with someone regularly, especially romantically □ He's been seeing her for quite a while now. 10 to speak to someone; to consult □ He's asking to see the manager. 11 to receive as a visitor or client □ The doctor will see you now. 12 to make sure of something □ See that you lock the door. 13 to imagine, and often also to regard as likely □ I can still see her as a little girl □ I can't see him agreeing. 14 to consider □ I see her more as an acquaintance than a friend. 15 to encounter or experience □ She's seen too much pain in her life. 16 to be witness to something as a sight or event □ We're now seeing huge increases in unemployment. 17 to escort □ I'll see you home. 18 to refer to (the specified page, chapter, etc) for information □ see page five. 19 cards to match the bet of someone by staking the same sum □ I'll see you and raise you five. ● see fit to do something to think it appropriate or proper to do it. ● see red see under RED. ● see the light 1 to discover religious feelings within oneself. 2 to recognize and adopt the merits of a widely held point of view. 3 humorous to eventually come to understand and agree with someone else. ● see things to have hallucinations. ● see you later colloq an expression of temporary farewell. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon seon.

■ see about something to attend to a matter or concern.

■ see into something to investigate it; to look into it.

■ see something in someone to find an attractive feature in them □ I don't know what he sees in her.

■ see someone off 1 to accompany them to their place of departure □ saw her off at the airport. 2 colloq to get rid of them by force □ saw the burglar off □ saw the cat off.

■ see someone out 1 to escort them out of the room, etc. 2 to outlive them.

■ see something out to stay until the end of it.

■ see over something to inspect it; to look over it.

■ see through something 1 to discern what is implied by an idea or scheme, etc. 2 to detect or determine the truth underlying a lie □ I saw through your plan straight away.

■ see something through to participate in it to the end.

■ see to something to attend to it; to take care of it □ Will you see to it?

see² ▷ noun 1 the office of bishop of a particular diocese. 2 the area under the religious authority of a bishop or archbishop. 3 the HOLY SEE. ⓘ 13c: from French sed, from Latin sedes seat, from sedere to sit.

seed ▷ noun (seeds or seed) 1 bot in flowering and cone-bearing plants: the highly resistant structure that develops from the ovule after fertilization, and is capable of developing into a new plant. 2 a small hard fruit or part in a fruit; a pip. 3 a source or origin □ the seeds of the plan. 4 literary offspring; descendants. 5 literary semen. 6 sport a seeded player □ He is number one seed. 7 chem a single crystal introduced to a concentrated solution to induce crystallization. ▷ verb (seeded, seeding) 1 intr said of a plant: to produce seeds. 2 to sow or plant (seeds). 3 to remove seeds from (eg a fruit). 4 chem to use a single crystal to induce the formation of more crystals from (a concentrated solution). 5 to scatter particles of some substance into (a cloud) in order to induce rainfall, disperse a storm or freezing fog, etc. 6 sport to rank (a player in a tournament) according to their likelihood of winning □ has been seeded number three for Wimbledon. 7 sport to arrange (a tournament) so that high-ranking players only meet each other in the later stages of the contest. ● seeded adj 1 having the seeds removed. 2 bearing or having seeds. 3 sown. 4 sport said of a tournament player: who has been seeded. ● seedless adj. ● go or run to seed 1 bot said of a plant: to stop flowering prior to the development of seed. 2 colloq to allow oneself to become unkempt or unhealthy through lack of care. ● sow the seeds of something to initiate it. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sæd.

seedbed ▷ noun 1 a piece of ground prepared for the planting of seeds. 2 an environment in which something, especially something undesirable, develops.

seedcake ▷ noun a cake flavoured with caraway seeds.

seed coral ▷ noun coral that has formed into small irregular pieces.

seed corn ▷ noun 1 corn grains used for sowing. 2 assets likely to be profitable in the future.

seed drill ▷ noun, agric a farm implement that is used to sow seeds in rows and cover them with soil.

seed leaf ▷ noun a COTYLEDON.

seedling ▷ noun 1 a young plant grown from seed. 2 a young plant ready for transplanting from a seedbed. ⓘ 17c.

seed money ▷ noun the money with which a project or enterprise is set up.

seed-pearl ▷ noun a tiny pearl.

seed-potato ▷ noun a potato tuber kept for planting, from which a new potato plant grows.

seed vessel ▷ noun, bot the ovary of a flower; the PERICARP.

seedy /'siːdɪ/ ▷ adj (seedier, seediest) 1 said of a fruit, etc: full of seeds. 2 said of a plant: at the phase of producing seeds. 3 colloq mildly ill or unwell. 4 colloq shabby; dirty or disreputable □ seedy areas of town □ a seedy club. ● seediness noun. ⓘ 15c.

seeing ▷ noun 1 the ability to see; the power of vision. 2 astron atmospheric conditions for good observation. ▷ conj (usually seeing that) given (that); since □ Seeing you are opposed to the plan, I shall not pursue it. ⓘ 14c.

seek ▷ verb (sought /sɔːt/ , seeking) 1 to look for someone or something. 2 to try to find, get or achieve something. 3 intr to try or endeavour □ He's just seeking to please. 4 to take oneself off to (a place, etc); to go to get □ I'm seeking a place of refuge. 5 to ask for something □ We sought his advice. ● seeker noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon secan.

■ seek someone or something out to search intensively for and find them.

seem ▷ verb (seemed, seeming) intr 1 to appear to the eye; to give the impression of (being) □ She seems happy today. 2 to be apparent; to appear to the mind □ There seems to be no good reason for refusing. 3 to think or believe oneself (to be, do, etc) □ I seem to know you from somewhere. ⓘ 12c: from Norse soemr fitting.

seeming ▷ adj apparent; ostensible. ▷ noun appearance; a false appearance. ● seemingly adverb. ⓘ 14c.

seemly /'siːmlɪ/ ▷ adj (seemlier, seemliest) fitting or suitable; becoming. ⓘ 13c.

seen past participle of SEE[1] seep ▷ verb (seeped, seeping) intr said of a liquid: to escape slowly or ooze through, or as if through, a narrow opening. ● seepage noun. ● seepy adj. ⓘ Perhaps from Anglo-Saxon sipian to soak.

seer /'siːə(r), 'sɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person who predicts future events; a clairvoyant. 2 a person of great wisdom and spiritual insight; a prophet. ⓘ 14c: SEE[1] + -ER[1], literally 'a person who sees'.

seersucker /'sɪəsʌkə(r)/ ▷ noun lightweight Indian cotton or linen fabric with a crinkly appearance, often with stripes. ⓘ 18c: from Persian shir o shakkar milk and sugar.

seesaw /'siːsɔː/ ▷ noun 1 a plaything consisting of a plank balanced in the middle allowing people, especially children, when seated on the ends to propel each other up and down by pushing off the ground with the feet. 2 the activity of using a seesaw. 3 an alternate up-and-down or back-and-forth movement. ▷ verb (seesawed, seesawing) intr to move alternately up-and-down or back-and-forth. ⓘ 17c: a reduplication of SAW[2], from the sawing action.

seethe /siːð/ ▷ verb (seethed, seething) intr 1 said of a liquid: to churn and foam as if boiling. 2 to be extremely agitated, especially with anger. ● seething adj 1 referring to something that seethes; boiling. 2 furious □ He was seething with anger. ● seethingly adverb. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon seothan.

see-through ▷ adj said especially of a fabric or clothing: able to be seen through; transparent or translucent.

segment ▷ noun /'segmənt/ 1 a part, section or portion. 2 geom in a circle or ellipse: the region enclosed by an arc and its chord. 3 zool in certain animals, eg some worms: each of a number of repeating units of which the body is composed. 4 phonetics the smallest sound unit of speech. ▷ verb /seg'ment/ (segmented, segmenting) to divide into segments. ● segmental adj. ● segmentary adj. ⓘ 16c: from Latin segmentum, from secare to cut.

segmentation /segmen'teɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of dividing into segments; an instance of this. 2 biol the series of cell divisions which take place in an ovum immediately after fertilization. ⓘ 19c.

segregate /'segrəgeɪt/ ▷ verb (segregated, segregating) 1 to set apart or isolate. 2 intr to separate out into a group or groups. 3 genetics to separate into dominants and recessives. ⓘ 16c: from Latin segregare, segregatum, from se- apart + grex flock.

segregation /segrə'geɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process of segregating or the state of being segregated. 2 systematic isolation of one group, especially a racial or ethnic minority, from the rest of society. 3 genetics during meiosis: the separation of a pair of homologous chromosomes so that only one member of the pair is present in each gamete. ● segregational adj involving or characterized by segregation. ● segregationist noun. ⓘ 17c: from SEGREGATE.

segue /'segweɪ, 'seɪg-/ music ▷ verb (segued, segueing) intr to proceed or follow on to the next song, movement, etc without a pause. ▷ noun 1 the term or direction to segue. 2 the act or result of segueing. ⓘ 18c: Italian, from seguire to follow.

seguidilla /segɪ'diːljə/ ▷ noun 1 a lively Spanish dance in triple time. 2 the music of this dance. ⓘ 18c: Spanish.

seigneur /seɪ'njɜː(r)/ and seignior /'seɪnjə(r), 'siːnjə(r)/ ▷ noun a feudal lord, especially in France or French Canada. ● seigneurial adj. ⓘ 16c: French, from Latin senior.

seigneury /'seɪnjərɪ/ ▷ noun (seigneuries) the domain of a seigneur. ⓘ 17c.

seine /seɪn, siːn/ ▷ noun a large vertical fishing net held underwater by floats and weights, and whose ends are brought together and hauled. ▷ verb (seined, seining) tr & intr to catch or fish with a seine. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon segne.

seismic /ˈsaɪzmɪk/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or characteristic of earthquakes. 2 colloq gigantic □ There was an increase of seismic proportions. ⓘ 19c: from Greek seismos a shaking.

seismo- /saɪzmoʊ, saɪzˈmɒ, saɪzmə/ or (before a vowel) seism- combining form, denoting earthquake. ⓘ From Greek seismos a shaking, from seiein to shake.

seismogram /ˈsaɪzməgram/ ▷ noun a seismograph record. ⓘ 19c.

seismograph /ˈsaɪzməgrɑːf/ ▷ noun an instrument that measures and records the force of earthquakes. ● seismographer /saɪzˈmɒgrəfə(r)/ noun. ● seismographic /saɪzməˈgrafɪk/ adj. ⓘ 19c.

seismography /saɪzˈmɒgrəfɪ/ ▷ noun the scientific study of earthquakes. ⓘ 19c.

seismology /saɪzˈmɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun, geol the scientific study of earthquakes, including possible methods by which they may be predicted. ● seismological or seismologic adj relating to or involving seismology. ● seismologist noun a scientist who specializes in seismology. ⓘ 19c.

seize /siːz/ ▷ verb (seized, seizing) 1 to take or grab suddenly, eagerly or forcibly. 2 to take by force; to capture. 3 to affect suddenly and deeply; to overcome □ He was seized by panic. 4 to take legal possession of someone or something. 5 naut to lash or make fast. 6 (often seize on or upon something) to use or exploit it eagerly □ She seized on the idea as soon as it was suggested □ They seized every chance to embarrass us. ● seizable adj. ⓘ 13c: from French saisir.

■ seize up 1 a said of a machine or engine: to become stiff or jammed, especially through overuse or lack of lubrication; b said of part of the body: to become stiff through over-exertion. 2 said of a person: to become overwhelmed eg with nerves, fear, etc □ As soon as I saw him I just seized up.

seizure /ˈsiːʒə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the act of seizing. 2 a capture. 3 pathol a sudden attack of illness, especially producing spasms as in an epileptic fit.

selachian /sɪˈleɪkɪən/ ▷ noun any fish of the subclass Selachii, including sharks, rays, skates and dogfish. Also as adj.

seldom /ˈsɛldəm/ ▷ adverb rarely. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon seldum.

select /səˈlɛkt/ ▷ verb (selected, selecting) to choose from several by preference. ▷ adj 1 picked out or chosen in preference to others. 2 restricted entrance or membership; exclusive □ She mixes with a very select group. ● selectness noun. ● selector noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin seligere, from se apart + legere to choose.

select committee ▷ noun, politics in Britain: a committee consisting of members of parliament chosen to report and advise on a particular matter, eg education or defence.

selection /səˈlɛkʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of selecting or being selected. 2 a thing or set of things selected. 3 a range from which to select. 4 a horse selected as the one most likely to win. 5 biol the process by which some individuals contribute more offspring than others to the next generation. See also NATURAL SELECTION. ⓘ 17c: Latin, from SELECT.

selective /səˈlɛktɪv/ ▷ adj 1 exercising the right to select. 2 tending to select or choose; discriminating □ a selective school. 3 involving only certain people or things; exclusive. 4 electronics said especially of radio receivers: able to respond to a particular frequency without interference from other frequencies. ● selectively adj. ⓘ 17c.

selectivity /səlɛkˈtɪvɪtɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the ability to select or the state of being selective. 2 electronics the ability to respond to a particular frequency with no interference from other frequencies. ⓘ Early 20c.

selenite /ˈsɛlənaɪt/ ▷ noun, geol a variety of gypsum occurring as clear colourless crystals. ⓘ 16c: from Greek selene moon, as the crystals were originally believed to wax and wane with the Moon.

selenium /sɪˈliːnɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol Se, atomic number 34) a metalloid element that is a semiconductor, used in electronic devices, photoelectric cells and photographic exposure metres. ⓘ Early 19c: from Greek selene moon.

seleno- /sɪˈliːnoʊ, sɛləˈnɒ/ or (before a vowel) selen- combining form, signifying moon. ⓘ From Greek selene.

selenography /sɛləˈnɒgrəfɪ/ ▷ noun the study and mapping of the Moon and its physical features. ● selenographer noun. ● selenographic or selenographical adj. ⓘ 17c.

selenology /sɛləˈnɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the scientific study of the Moon. ● selenological /səliːnəˈlɒdʒɪkəl/ adj. ● selenologist noun. ⓘ 19c.

self ▷ noun (selves) 1 personality, or a particular aspect of it. 2 a person's awareness of their own identity; ego. 3 a person as a whole, comprising a combination of characteristics of appearance and behaviour □ He was his usual happy self. 4 personal interest or advantage. ▷ pronoun, colloq myself, yourself, himself or herself. ▷ adj being of the same material or colour. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon seolf.

self- ▷ combining form, indicating 1 by or for oneself; in relation to oneself □ self-doubt □ self-inflicted. 2 acting automatically □ self-closing.

self-abnegation ▷ noun denial and renunciation of one's own interest.

self-absorbed ▷ adj wrapped up in one's own thoughts, affairs or circumstances. ● self-absorption noun.

self-abuse ▷ noun 1 revilement and criticism of oneself. 2 a condemnatory term for MASTURBATION. ● self-abuser noun.

self-acting ▷ adj able to function without any external control; automatic.

self-addressed ▷ adj addressed by the sender for return to themselves.

self-appointed ▷ adj acting on one's own authority, without the choice or approval of others.

self-assertive and self-asserting ▷ adj always inclined to make others aware of one's presence and opinion, especially arrogantly or aggressively. ● self-assertion noun.

self-assurance ▷ noun self-confidence. ● self-assured adj secure in one's own abilities, opinions, position, etc.

self-catering ▷ adj said of a holiday, accommodation, etc: providing facilities allowing guests and residents to prepare their own meals.

self-centred ▷ adj interested only in oneself and one's own affairs; selfish.

self-coloured ▷ adj 1 having the same colour all over. 2 having its natural colour; undyed.

self-command ▷ noun SELF-CONTROL.

self-confessed ▷ adj as openly acknowledged and admitted by oneself □ a self-confessed cheat.

self-confidence ▷ noun confidence in or reliance on one's own abilities, sometimes with arrogance; total absence of shyness. ● self-confident adj. ● self-confidently adverb.

self-conscious ▷ adj 1 ill at ease in company as a result of irrationally believing oneself to be the subject of observation by others. 2 conscious of one's own identity, mind and its acts and states.

self-contained ▷ adj 1 said of accommodation: having no part that is shared with others. 2 said of a person: content to be on one's own; independent or reserved. 3 needing nothing added; complete in itself.

self-contradiction ▷ noun 1 the act or fact of contradicting oneself. 2 a statement whose elements are mutually contradictory. • self-contradictory adj.

self-control ▷ noun the ability to control one's emotions and impulses. • self-controlled adj characterized by or showing self-control.

self-deception and self-deceit ▷ noun the act or practice of deceiving oneself. • self-deceiver noun.

self-defence ▷ noun 1 the act or techniques of protecting or defending oneself from physical attack. 2 (often the art of self-defence) boxing as an act of defending oneself, now more loosely applied to any of a number of martial arts. 3 the act of defending one's own rights or principles.

self-denial ▷ noun the act or practice of denying one's own needs or desires. • self-denying adj.

self-destruction ▷ noun 1 the destruction of anything by itself. 2 the ending of one's life; suicide. • self-destruct verb. • self-destructive adj.

self-determination ▷ noun 1 the freedom to make one's own decisions without intervention from others. 2 a nation's freedom to decide its own government and political relations.

self-drive ▷ adj said of a hired motor vehicle: to be driven by the hirer. • self-driven adj.

self-effacing ▷ adj tending to avoid making others aware of one's presence or achievements out of shyness or modesty. • self-effacement noun.

self-employed ▷ adj working for oneself and under one's own control, rather than as an employee. • self-employment noun.

self-esteem ▷ noun 1 one's good opinion of oneself; self-respect □ His low self-esteem increased as soon as the job offer came through. 2 an excessively high opinion of oneself.

self-evident ▷ adj clear or evident enough without need for proof or explanation. • self-evidence noun.

self-explanatory and self-explaining ▷ adj easily understood or obvious; needing no further explanation.

self-expression ▷ noun the giving of expression of one's personality, especially in art, poetry, etc.

self-fulfilling ▷ adj referring or relating to a forecast which, by virtue of its being made, has the effect of bringing about the results it predicts especially in a self-fulfilling prophecy. • self-fulfilment noun.

self-government ▷ noun a government run by the people of a nation without any outside control or interference. • self-governing adj.

self-harming ▷ noun the habitual practice of inflicting physical damage on oneself.

self-heal ▷ noun a creeping perennial plant with oval leaves and dense heads of violet-blue two-lipped flowers. ⓘ 14c: so called because of its former use as a medicinal herb.

self-help ▷ noun the practice of solving one's own problems using abilities developed in oneself rather than relying on assistance from others. Also as adj □ self-help groups.

self-image ▷ noun one's own idea or perception of oneself.

self-important ▷ adj having an exaggerated sense of one's own importance or worth; arrogant or pompous. • self-importantly adverb. • self-importance noun.

self-imposed ▷ adj taken voluntarily on oneself; not imposed by others.

self-induced ▷ adj 1 brought on or induced by oneself. 2 electronics produced by self-induction.

self-induction ▷ noun, electronics the property of an electric circuit by which it resists any change in the current flowing in it.

self-indulgent ▷ adj giving in or indulging in one's own whims or desires. • self-indulgence noun.

self-inflicted ▷ adj inflicted by oneself on oneself.

self-interest ▷ noun 1 regard for oneself and one's own interests. 2 one's own personal welfare or advantage. • self-interested adj.

selfish /ˈsɛlfɪʃ/ ▷ adj 1 concerned only with one's personal welfare, with total disregard to that of others. 2 said of an act: revealing such a tendency. • selfishly adverb. • selfishness noun. ⓘ 17c.

self-justifying ▷ adj 1 justifying or making excuses for oneself and one's behaviour. 2 printing automatically arranging the length of the lines of type. • self-justification noun.

selfless ▷ adj 1 tending to consider the welfare of others before one's own; altruistic. 2 said of an act: revealing such a tendency. • selflessly adverb. • selflessness noun. ⓘ 19c.

self-love ▷ noun 1 the love of oneself. 2 the tendency to seek one's own welfare, happiness or advantage.

self-made ▷ adj having achieved wealth or success by working one's way up from poverty and obscurity, rather than by advantages acquired by birth.

self-opinionated ▷ adj tending to insist, obstinately and forcefully, that one's own opinions are superior to all others.

self-pity ▷ noun pity for oneself, especially involving excessive moaning about one's misfortunes.

self-pollination ▷ noun, bot in flowering plants: the transfer of pollen from the anther of the stamen to the stigma of the same flower. • self-pollinated adj.

self-possessed ▷ adj calm, controlled and collected, especially in an emergency. • self-possession noun.

self-preservation ▷ noun 1 the protection and care of one's own life. 2 the instinct underlying this.

self-propelled ▷ adj said of a vehicle or craft: having its own means of propulsion. • self-propelling adj.

self-raising ▷ adj said of flour: containing an ingredient to make dough or pastry rise.

self-realization ▷ noun the fulfilment of one's mental and moral potential.

self-referential ▷ adj 1 relating or belonging to the self. 2 said of a text, film, painting, etc: making reference to itself or to its own themes, etc. • self-referentiality noun.

self-regard ▷ noun respect for and interest in oneself.

self-reliant ▷ adj never needing or seeking help from others; independent. • self-reliance noun reliance on one's own abilities.

self-respect ▷ noun respect for oneself and one's character, and concern for one's dignity and reputation. • self-respecting adj.

self-restraint ▷ noun the act or ability to control one's own desires, feelings or impulses.

self-righteous ▷ adj having too high an opinion of one's own merits, and being intolerant of other people's faults. • self-righteousness noun.

self-sacrifice ▷ noun the forgoing of one's own needs, interests or happiness for the sake of others. • self-sacrificing adj.

selfsame ▷ adj the very same; identical □ He left that selfsame day.

self-satisfied ▷ adj feeling or showing complacent or arrogant satisfaction with oneself or one's achievements. • self-satisfaction noun.

self-sealing ▷ adj 1 said of an envelope: having two flaps coated with an adhesive so they can be stuck together without being moistened. 2 said of a tyre: capable of automatically sealing small punctures.

self-seeker ▷ noun 1 someone who looks mainly to their own interests or advantage. 2 a device which automatically tunes a radio to required wavelengths by means of a push-button control.

self-seeking ▷ adj preoccupied with one's own interests and opportunities for personal advantage. ▷ noun the act of self-seeking.

self-service ▷ noun a system, especially in a restaurant or petrol station, in which customers serve themselves and pay at a checkout. ▷ adj said of a restaurant, petrol station, etc: operating such a system.

self-serving ▷ adj benefiting or seeking to benefit oneself, often to the disadvantage of others.

self-sown and self-seeded ▷ adj said of plants: dispersed and sown naturally without man's agency.

self-starter ▷ noun 1 in a vehicle's engine: an automatic electric starting device. 2 colloq a person with initiative and motivation, therefore requiring little supervision in a job.

self-styled ▷ adj called or considered so only by oneself □ a self-styled superstar.

self-sufficient ▷ adj 1 said of a person or thing: able to provide for oneself or itself without outside help. 2 said of a person: being extremely and often overly confident in him- or herself. • self-sufficiency noun. • self-sufficing adj.

self-supporting ▷ adj 1 earning enough money to meet all one's own expenses; self-sufficient. 2 said of a structure, plant, etc: needing no additional supports or attachments to stay firmly fixed or upright. • self-support noun.

self-willed ▷ adj stubbornly or obstinately determined to do or have what one wants, especially to the disadvantage of others. • self-will noun.

self-winding ▷ adj said of a watch: containing a device that automatically rewinds it so there is no need for hand-winding.

sell ▷ verb (sold, selling) 1 to give something to someone in exchange for money □ She sold it to her brother □ Can I sell you a crate of Southern Comfort? 2 to have available for buying □ Do you sell batteries? 3 intr to be in demand among customers; to be sold □ This particular style sells well. 4 to promote the sale of something; to cause to be bought □ The author's name sells the book. 5 to convince or persuade someone to acquire or agree to something, especially by emphasizing its merits or advantages □ It was difficult to sell them the idea. 6 colloq to deceive or trick. 7 to lose or betray (eg one's principles) in the process of getting something, especially something dishonourable. ▷ noun 1 the act or process of selling. 2 the style of persuasion used in selling □ the hard sell. 3 colloq a trick or deception. • sellable adj. • seller noun. • sell someone down the river colloq to betray them. • sell someone, something or oneself short 1 colloq to understate their good qualities; to belittle them. 2 finance to sell (eg stocks, etc) before one actually owns them, so one can buy them at a lower price just before selling them. • sold on something colloq convinced or enthusiastic about it. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sellan to hand over, from Norse selja, from Gothic saljan.

▪ sell at or for something to be available for buying at a specified price □ These T-shirts sell at just under a tenner.

▪ sell something off to dispose of remaining goods by selling them quickly and cheaply.

▪ sell out of something to sell one's entire stock of it.

▪ sell out to someone to betray one's principles or associates to another party □ He sold out to the opposition.

▪ sell up to sell one's house or business, usually because of debts.

sell-by date ▷ noun a date stamped on a manufacturer's or distributor's label indicating when goods, especially foods, are considered no longer fit to be sold. Compare BEST-BEFORE DATE.

seller's market or sellers' market ▷ noun, commerce a situation where demand exceeds supply and sellers may control the price of a commodity, product, etc. Compare BUYER'S MARKET.

selling race and selling plate ▷ noun a race of which the winning horse must be put up for auction.

Sellotape or sellotape /ˈseləteɪp/ ▷ noun, trademark a form of usually transparent adhesive tape, especially for use on paper. ▷ verb (sellotaped, sellotaping) to stick using Sellotape. ⓘ 1940s: from a variant of CELLULOSE + -O- + TAPE.

sell-out ▷ noun an event for which all the tickets have been sold.

sell-through ▷ noun retail sale, as opposed to rental, especially of video cassettes.

selva /ˈselvə/ ▷ noun (usually selvas) a dense wet forest in the Amazonian basin. ⓘ 19c: Spanish and Portuguese, from Latin silva wood.

selvage or selvedge /ˈselvɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 an edge of a length of fabric sewn or woven so as to prevent fraying. 2 an edge of a piece of cloth finished differently to the rest of the cloth. • selvaged adj. ⓘ 15c: from SELF + EDGE.

selves plural of SELF

SEM ▷ abbreviation 1 scanning electron microscope. 2 math standard error of the mean.

Sem. ▷ abbreviation 1 Seminary. 2 Semitic.

semantic /səˈmantɪk/ ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to meaning, especially of words. 2 referring or relating to semantics. • semantically adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Greek semantikos significant.

semantics /səˈmantɪks/ ▷ singular noun 1 the branch of linguistics that deals with the meaning of words. 2 the study of the differences and correlations between meanings of words. • semanticist noun. ⓘ 19c.

semaphore /ˈseməfɔː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a signalling device, consisting primarily of a pole with arms that can be set in different positions. 2 a system of signalling in which flags, or simply the arms, are held in positions that represent individual letters and numbers. ▷ verb (semaphored, semaphoring) tr & intr to signal using semaphore or a semaphore. • semaphoric /seməˈfɒrɪk/ adj. ⓘ Early 19c: French, from Greek sema sign + -PHORE.

sematic /səˈmatɪk/ ▷ adj, biol said of an animal's colouring: serving for recognition, attraction or warning. ⓘ 19c: from Greek sema sign.

semblance /ˈsembləns/ ▷ noun 1 outer appearance, especially when superficial or deceptive. 2 a hint or trace. ⓘ 13c: from French sembler to seem.

sememe /ˈsiːmiːm, ˈsemiːm/ ▷ noun a unit of meaning, specifically of the smallest linguistically analysable unit. ⓘ Early 20c: from Greek sema sign.

semen /ˈsiːmən/ ▷ noun a thick whitish liquid carrying spermatozoa, ejaculated by the penis. See also SEMINAL. ◎ 14c: Latin, meaning 'seed'.

semester /səˈmestə(r)/ ▷ noun in German and US, and now some UK, universities: an academic term lasting for half an academic year. ◎ 19c: from Latin semestris six-monthly, from sex six + mensis month.

semi /ˈsemɪ; US ˈsemaɪ/ ▷ noun (semis) 1 colloq a semi-detached house. 2 a semi-final.

semi- /ˈsemɪ/ ▷ prefix, denoting 1 half □ semiquaver. 2 partly □ semiconscious. 3 occurring twice in the stated period □ semiannual. Compare DEMI-. ◎ Latin, meaning 'half'.

semiannual ▷ adj, chiefly N Amer 1 happening every half-year. 2 being half a year in duration. ● semiannually adverb.

semi-automatic ▷ adj 1 partially automatic. 2 said of a firearm: continuously reloading itself, but only firing one bullet at a time. ● semi-automatically adverb.

semibreve /ˈsemɪbriːv/ ▷ noun, music the longest note in common use, equal to half a breve, two minims or four crotchets.

semicircle ▷ noun 1 one half of a circle. 2 an arrangement of anything in this form □ a semicircle of grass. ● semicircular adj.

semicircular canal ▷ noun, anatomy in the inner ear of vertebrates: one of the three fluid-filled semicircular tubes that are involved in the maintenance of balance.

semicolon /ˈsemɪkoʊlən, -ˈkoʊlən/ ▷ noun a punctuation mark (;) indicating a pause stronger than that marked by a comma but weaker than that marked by a full stop □ We'll bring the drink; you can provide the food.

semicolon

A semicolon

● is used to mark a break within a sentence, a more definite break than that marked by a comma, but less of a break than that between two separate sentences □ He may have seemed a competent prime minister; yet, he totally failed to appreciate the changing circumstances of the country.

● It is used when there is a balance or contrast between what is said in a pair of clauses □ As a neighbour, he deserved our courtesy and consideration; as a politician, he provoked our silent scorn □ You may be sorry; I am delighted.

ALTERNATIVE STYLE: a comma and a conjunction □ You may be sorry, but I am delighted.

● It is used to group parts of a long sentence that contains many commas:

✓ Copies of the report have been faxed to our offices in Lagos, Nigeria; Nairobi, Kenya; and Harare, Zimbabwe.

✓ There was an alpine garden with sea-pinks, saxifrages, thyme and candytuft; a herbaceous border full of hostas, geum and delphinium; and at the far end there was a splendid wall of fuchsia, broom and other flowering shrubs.

semiconductor ▷ noun, electronics a crystalline material that behaves either as an electrical conductor or as an insulator, eg silicon, used to make diodes, photoelectric devices, etc, and used in the form of silicon chips in the integrated circuits of computers, etc. ● semiconducting adj. ● semiconductivity noun.

semi-detached ▷ adj said of a house: forming part of the same building with another house on the other side of the shared wall. ▷ noun a semi-detached house. Often shortened to SEMI.

semifinal ▷ noun in competitions, sports tournaments, etc: either of two matches, the winners of which play each other in the final. ● semifinalist noun.

semi-fluid ▷ adj possessing properties of both a fluid and a solid; nearly solid but able to flow to some extent. ▷ noun a semi-fluid substance.

semi-lunar ▷ adj in the form of a half-moon or crescent. ● semi-lune noun any object, body or structure that is semi-lunar in shape.

seminal /ˈsemɪnəl/ ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to seed, semen or reproduction in general. 2 referring or relating to the beginnings or early developments of an idea, study, etc. 3 highly original and at the root of a trend or movement □ seminal writings. 4 generative; capable of creative and influential future development. ● seminally adverb. ◎ 14c: from Latin seminalis, from semen seed.

seminar /ˈsemɪnɑː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a class in which a small group of students and a tutor discuss a particular topic. 2 a group of advanced students working in a specific subject of study under the supervision of a teacher. 3 any meeting set up for the discussion of any topic. ◎ 19c: from Latin seminarium SEMINARY.

seminarian /semɪˈneərɪən/ and seminarist /ˈsemɪnərɪst/ ▷ noun 1 a student in a seminary or in a seminar. 2 a Roman Catholic priest educated in a foreign seminary. 3 a teacher in a seminary. ◎ 16c: from SEMINARY.

seminary /ˈsemɪnərɪ/ ▷ noun (seminaries) 1 a college for the training of priests, ministers and rabbis. 2 old use a secondary school, especially for girls. ◎ 15c: from Latin seminarium seed-plot, from semen seed.

seminiferous /semɪˈnɪfərəs/ ▷ adj 1 producing or conveying semen. 2 said of plants: bearing seeds. ◎ 17c: from SEMEN.

seminiferous tubule ▷ noun, anatomy in mammals: any of many long tightly coiled tubules that form the bulk of the testes, and in which the sperm are produced. ◎ 19c.

semiotics /semɪˈɒtɪks/ and semiology /semɪˈɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ singular noun 1 linguistics the study of human communication, especially the relationship between words and the objects or concepts they represent. 2 pathol the scientific study of disease symptoms. ● semiotic adj. ◎ 17c: from Greek semeiotikos, from semeion sign + -LOGY.

semi-permeable ▷ adj 1 only partly permeable. 2 biol denoting a membrane through which only certain molecules can pass. ● semi-permeability noun.

semi-precious ▷ adj said of a gem: considered less valuable than a precious stone.

semi-professional ▷ adj 1 said of a person: engaging only part-time in a professional activity. 2 said of an activity: engaged in only by semi-professionals. ▷ noun a semi-professional person.

semiquaver ▷ noun a musical note equal to half a quaver or one-sixteenth of a semibreve.

semi-rigid ▷ adj said of an airship: having a flexible gas-bag supported by a stiffened keel.

semi-skilled ▷ adj 1 said of a job: having or requiring a degree of training less advanced than that needed for specialized work. 2 said of a person: possessing such skills.

Semitic /səˈmɪtɪk/ ▷ noun any of a group of Afro-Asiatic languages including Hebrew, Arabic and Aramaic, spoken by Semites, a group of people said to be descended from Shem, the eldest son of Noah (Genesis 10). ▷ adj 1 referring to or speaking any such language. 2 referring or relating to Semites. 3 referring or relating to the Jews; Jewish. ◎ 19c: from Greek Sem Shem + -ITE.

semitone ▷ noun, music 1 half a tone. 2 the interval between adjacent notes on a keyboard instrument, and the smallest interval in a normal musical scale. ● semitonic adj.

semi-tropical ▷ adj subtropical.

semivowel ▷ noun 1 a speech sound having the qualities of both a vowel and a consonant. 2 a letter representing such a sound, such as y and w in English.

semi-weekly see BI-WEEKLY semolina /sɛmə'liːnə/ ▷ noun the hard particles of wheat not ground into flour during milling, used for thickening soups, making puddings, etc. ⓘ 18c: from Italian semolino, diminutive of semola bran, from Latin simila fine flour.

Semtex /'sɛmtɛks/ ▷ noun, trademark a very powerful type of plastic explosive, favoured by terrorist groups because it has no detectable smell and can only be ignited by a detonator.

SEN ▷ abbreviation 1 State Enrolled Nurse. 2 Special Educational Needs.

Sen. ▷ abbreviation 1 senate. 2 senator. 3 senior.

senate /'sɛnət/ ▷ noun (often Senate) 1 in ancient Rome: the chief legislative and administrative body. 2 in the USA, Australia and other countries: a legislative body, especially the upper chamber of the national assembly. 3 a body of distinguished and venerable people. 4 the governing council in some British universities. ⓘ 13c: from Latin senatus council, from senex old man.

senator /'sɛnətə(r)/ ▷ noun (often Senator) a member of a senate. ● senatorial /sɛnə'tɔːrɪəl/ adj 1 relating to or characteristic of a senator. 2 made up of senators.

send ▷ verb (sent, sending) 1 to cause, direct or order to go or be conveyed. 2 to dispatch □ I sent the letter yesterday. 3 to force or propel □ He sent me flying. 4 to cause to pass into a specified state □ She sent him into fits of laughter □ The din sent me mad. 5 radio to cause a message, etc to be transmitted. 6 to bring about, especially by divine providence □ a plague sent by God. 7 slang originally said of jazz music: to rouse someone into a state of ecstasy; to thrill. ● sender noun 1 a person who sends something, especially by post. 2 a transmitting device. ● send word to send an intimation or announcement. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sendan.

■ send away for something to order goods by post.

■ send someone down 1 colloq to send them to prison. 2 to expel them from university.

■ send for someone to ask or order them to come; to summon them.

■ send for something to order it to be brought or delivered.

■ send something in to submit it by post, especially an entry for a competition.

■ send someone off in football, rugby, etc: to order a player to leave the field with no further participation in the game, usually after infringement of the rules.

■ send something off to dispatch it, especially by post.

■ send off for something to order (goods) by post.

■ send something on 1 to post or send it, so as to arrive in advance of oneself. 2 to re-address and re-post a letter or parcel; to forward it.

■ send something out 1 to distribute it by post. 2 to dispatch it.

■ send someone out for something to send them to buy or fetch it.

■ send someone or something up Brit colloq 1 to make fun of or parody them. 2 to send them to prison.

send-off ▷ noun a display of good wishes from a gathering of people to a departing person or group.

send-up ▷ noun, Brit colloq a parody or satire.

senescence /sɪ'nɛsəns/ ▷ noun, biol the changes that take place in a living organism during the process of ageing, eg the production of flowers and fruit in plants.

senescent /sɪ'nɛsənt/ ▷ adj, formal 1 growing old; ageing. 2 characteristic of old age. ⓘ 17c: from Latin senescere to grow old, from senex old.

seneschal /'sɛnɪʃəl/ ▷ noun 1 historical a steward in charge of the household or estate of a medieval lord or prince. 2 Brit an administrative and judicial title still retained for certain cathedral officials. ⓘ 14c: French, literally 'old servant'.

senile /'siːnaɪl/ ▷ adj 1 displaying the feebleness and decay of mind or body brought on by old age. 2 characterized or caused by old age. ● senility /sə'nɪlɪtɪ/ noun 1 old age. 2 mental deterioration in old age. ⓘ 17c: from Latin senilis, from senex old.

senile dementia ▷ noun a psychological disorder caused by irreversible degeneration of the brain, usually commencing after late middle age, and characterized by loss of memory, impaired intellectual ability and judgement.

senior /'siːnɪə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 older than someone. 2 higher in rank or authority than someone. 3 for or pertaining to schoolchildren over the age of 11. 4 N Amer referring to final-year college or university students. 5 (Senior) older than another person of the same name, especially distinguishing parent from child □ James Smith, Senior. ▷ noun 1 a person who is older or of a higher rank. 2 a pupil in a senior school, or in the senior part of a school. 3 N Amer a final-year student. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'older', comparative of senex old.

senior citizen ▷ noun an elderly person, especially one retired; an old age pensioner.

senior common room ▷ noun in some universities: a common room used by staff. Compare JUNIOR COMMON ROOM.

seniority /siːnɪ'ɒrɪtɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the state or fact of being senior. 2 a privileged position earned through long service in a profession or with a company. ⓘ 15c.

senior nursing officer ▷ noun a MATRON (sense 1).

senior service ▷ noun (usually the senior service) the Royal Navy.

senna /'sɛnə/ ▷ noun 1 any of various trees and shrubs, native to Africa and Arabia, with leaves divided into oval leaflets, and long clusters of yellow flowers. 2 the dried leaflets of certain species of these plants, used as a laxative. 3 the dried pods of certain species of these plants, used as a laxative. ⓘ 16c: from Arabic sana.

Señor /sɛn'jɔː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a Spanish gentleman. 2 in address: sir. 3 prefixed to a name: Mr. ⓘ 17c: Spanish, from Latin senior older.

Señora /sɛn'jɔːrə/ ▷ noun (Señoras) 1 a Spanish lady. 2 in address: madam. 3 prefixed to a name: Mrs. ⓘ 16c: a feminine form of SEÑOR.

Señorita /sɛnjɔː'riːtə/ ▷ noun (Señoritas) 1 a young Spanish lady. 2 a term of address. 3 prefixed to a name: Miss. ⓘ 19c: a diminutive of SEÑORA.

sensation /sɛn'seɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 an awareness of an external or internal stimulus, eg heat, pain or emotions, as a result of its perception by the senses. 2 a physical feeling □ I've a burning sensation in my mouth. 3 an emotion or general feeling; a thrill □ a sensation of doubt □ We felt a sensation of terror as we faced the lion. 4 a sudden widespread feeling of excitement or shock □ His presence caused quite a sensation. 5 the cause of such excitement or shock. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sensatio, from sentire to feel.

sensational ▷ adj 1 causing or intended to cause strong feelings such as widespread excitement, intense interest or shock. 2 colloq excellent; marvellous □ He's a sensational singer. 3 referring or relating to the senses. ● sensationally adverb. ⓘ 1840s.

sensationalism ▷ noun 1 the practice of or methods used in deliberately setting out to cause widespread excitement, intense interest or shock. 2 philos the doctrine or belief that our ideas originate solely in sensation. • sensationalist noun 1 someone who aims to cause a sensation. 2 someone who believes that the senses are the ultimate source of all knowledge. • sensationalistic adj. ◎ 19c.

sensationalize or sensationalise /sɛn'seɪʃənəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (sensationalized, sensationalizing) to make (an event, situation, etc) appear more exciting, shocking, etc than it really is. ◎ 19c.

sense /sɛns/ ▷ noun 1 any of the five main faculties used by an animal to obtain information about its external or internal environment, namely sight, hearing, smell, taste and touch. 2 an awareness or appreciation of, or an ability to make judgements regarding, some specified thing □ She has a good sense of direction □ He has bad business sense. 3 (senses) soundness of mind; one's wits or reason □ He's lost his senses. 4 wisdom; practical worth □ There's no sense in doing it now. 5 a general feeling or emotion, not perceived by any of the five natural powers □ a sense of guilt. 6 general, overall meaning □ They understood the sense of the passage, if not all the words. 7 specific meaning □ In what sense do you mean? 8 general opinion; consensus □ the sense of the meeting. ▷ verb (sensed, sensing) 1 to detect a stimulus by means of any of the five main senses. 2 to be aware of something by means other than the five main senses □ I sensed that someone was following me. 3 to realize or comprehend. • bring someone to their senses to make them recognize the facts; to make them understand that they must rectify their behaviour. • come to one's senses 1 to act sensibly and rationally after a period of foolishness. 2 to regain consciousness. • in a sense in one respect; in a way. • make sense 1 to be understandable. 2 to be wise, rational or reasonable. • make sense of something to understand it; to see the purpose or explanation in it. • take leave of one's senses to begin behaving unreasonably or irrationally; to go mad. ◎ 14c: from Latin sensus, from sentire to feel.

sense-datum ▷ noun (sense-data) something which is received immediately through the stimulation of a sense organ. ◎ 19c.

senseless ▷ adj 1 unconscious. 2 unwise; without good sense or foolish. Also as adverb □ He was beaten senseless. • senselessly adverb. • senselessness noun. ◎ 16c.

sense organ ▷ noun, physiol in animals: any organ consisting of specialized receptor cells that are capable of responding to a particular stimulus, eg the eye, ear, nose, skin and taste buds of the tongue.

sensibility /sɛnsɪ'bɪlɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (sensibilities) 1 the ability or capacity to feel or have sensations or emotions. 2 a delicacy of emotional response; sensitivity □ There was a general sensibility to his grief. 3 (sensibilities) feelings that can easily be offended or hurt. ◎ 14c: see SENSIBLE.

sensible /'sɛnsɪbəl/ ▷ adj 1 having or showing reasonableness or good judgement; wise. 2 perceptible by the senses. 3 having the power of sensation; sensitive □ sensible to pain. • sensibleness noun. • sensibly adverb. ◎ 14c: from Latin sensibilis, from sentire to feel.

sensible horizon see HORIZON sensitive /'sɛnsɪtɪv/ ▷ adj 1 feeling or responding readily, strongly or painfully □ sensitive to our feelings. 2 biol responding to a stimulus. 3 easily upset or offended. 4 stimulating much strong feeling or difference of opinion □ sensitive issues. 5 said of documents, etc: not for public discussion or scrutiny as they contain secret or confidential information, eg concerning national security. 6 said of scientific instruments: reacting to or recording extremely small changes. 7 photog responding to the action of light. 8 physics responding to the action of some external force or stimulus □ pressure-sensitive. • sensitively adverb. ◎ 14c: from Latin sensitivus, from sentire to feel.

sensitive plant ▷ noun, bot a perennial S American plant with a prickly stem and down-curved leaves divided into narrow leaflets which fold up at night or when touched.

sensitivity /sɛnsɪ'tɪvɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (sensitivities) 1 an abnormal response to an allergen, drug or other external stimulus of the senses. 2 heightened awareness of oneself and others within the context of social and personal relationships. 3 the readiness and delicacy of an instrument in recording changes. ◎ Early 19c.

sensitize or sensitise /'sɛnsɪtaɪz/ ▷ verb (sensitized, sensitizing) 1 to make sensitive. 2 photog to make a plate, film, etc more sensitive to light. • sensitization noun. ◎ 19c.

sensitometer /sɛnsɪ'tɒmɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun a device for measuring sensitivity of photographic film, plates, etc. ◎ 19c.

sensor /'sɛnsə(r)/ ▷ noun, elec any of various devices that detect or measure a change in a physical quantity, usually by converting it into an electrical signal, eg burglar alarms, smoke detectors, etc. ◎ 1950s: from SENSE + -OR.

sensory /'sɛnsərɪ/ ▷ adj referring or relating to the senses or sensation. ◎ 17c: from Latin sensorium brain, seat of the senses.

sensory nerve ▷ noun, anatomy a nerve that relays nerve impulses from sensory receptor cells and sense organs to the brain and spinal cord.

sensual /'sɛnʃʊəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating to the senses and the body rather than the mind or the spirit. 2 said of pleasures: connected with often undue gratification of the bodily senses. 3 pursuing physical pleasures, especially those derived from sex or food and drink. 4 stimulating carnal desires, especially sexual desires; voluptuous. • sensually adverb. ◎ 16c: from Latin sensualis, from sensus sense.

> sensual, sensuous
>
> • Those who are precise about language assert a distinction between sensual and sensuous, by which sensuous relates to the senses in aesthetic contexts (principally seeing and hearing things of beauty), and sensual relates to carnal or sexual meanings □ The shadowy interior is a sensuous mix of gilt and candle wax □ Select a sophisticated, sensual scent to match your little black dress.
>
> • In current use, the meanings overlap too much for the distinction to be maintained, and you will often find sensuous used in the same way as sensual □ He felt her lips against his, soft, warm, sensuous.

sensualism ▷ noun 1 sensual indulgence; the condition of being sensual. 2 the doctrine or belief that all our knowledge was originally derived from sensation; sensationalism. • sensualist noun. ◎ Early 19c.

sensuality /sɛnʃʊ'alɪtɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the quality of being sensual. 2 indulgence in physical, especially sexual, pleasures. ◎ 14c: from Latin sensualitas, from SENSUAL.

sensuous /'sɛnʃʊəs/ ▷ adj 1 appealing to the senses aesthetically, with no suggestion of sexual pleasure. 2 affected by or pleasing to the senses. 3 aware of what is perceived by the senses. • sensuously adverb. • sensuousness noun. ◎ 17c: sense 1 apparently coined by Milton to distinguish it from the meanings of SENSUAL; from Latin sensus sense.

sent past tense, past participle of SEND sentence /'sɛntəns/ ▷ noun 1 a sequence of words forming a meaningful grammatical structure that can stand alone as a complete utterance, and which in written English usually begins with a capital letter and ends with a full stop, question mark or exclamation mark. See note. 2 a punishment pronounced by a court or judge; its announcement in court. 3 a judgement, opinion or decision. ▷ verb (sentenced, sentencing) 1 to announce the judgement or sentence to be given to someone. 2 to condemn someone to a punishment □ They've sentenced him to five years' imprisonment. • sentential adj. • sententially adverb. • pass sentence on someone to announce the punishment to be given to someone. ⓘ 13c: French, from Latin sententia opinion, from sentire to feel.

> sentence
>
> A sentence is sometimes defined as a grammatical structure that contains at least one CLAUSE with an expressed SUBJECT and a FINITE verb, as in I'm going home or It'll be cooler outside or If you were as fit as that, would you waste your time doing press-ups? However, in many sentences, sometimes known as sentence fragments, the subject and/or the verb may be implied rather than expressed □ 'Where are you going?' 'To have a bath.' (= 'I'm going to have a bath') □ 'What's he doing now?' 'Thinking.' (= 'He's thinking'). The same is true for exclamations, such as How awful! and What a pity!

sententious /sɛnˈtɛnʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 fond of using or full of sayings or proverbs; aphoristic. 2 tending to lecture others on morals. • sententiously adverb. • sententiousness noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin sententiosus full of meaning, from SENTENCE.

sentient /ˈsɛnʃənt, ˈsɛntɪənt/ ▷ adj capable of sensation or feeling; conscious or aware of something □ sentient beings. • sentience noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sentiens, from sentire to feel.

sentiment /ˈsɛntɪmənt/ ▷ noun 1 a thought or emotion, especially when expressed. 2 refined feelings, especially as expressed in art or literature. 3 emotion or emotional behaviour in general, especially when considered excessive, self-indulgent or insincere. 4 (often sentiments) an opinion or view □ What are your sentiments on the matter? ⓘ 14c: from Latin sentimentum, from sentire to feel.

sentimental /sɛntɪˈmɛntəl/ ▷ adj 1 readily feeling, indulging in or expressing tender emotions or sentiments, especially love, friendship and pity. 2 provoking or designed to provoke such emotions, especially in large measure and without subtlety. 3 closely associated with or moved by fond memories of the past; nostalgic □ objects of sentimental value. • sentimentally adverb. ⓘ 18c.

sentimentality /sɛntɪmɛnˈtalɪtɪ/ and sentimentalism ▷ noun 1 a sentimental quality or inclination. 2 a tendency to indulge in sentiment or to affect fine feelings. • sentimentalist noun. ⓘ 18c.

sentimentalize or sentimentalise /sɛntɪˈmɛntəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (sentimentalized, sentimentalizing) 1 intr to behave sentimentally or indulge in sentimentality. 2 to make sentimental. 3 to regard something as sentimental □ She's sentimentalizing the whole incident. ⓘ 18c.

sentinel /ˈsɛntɪnəl/ ▷ noun someone posted on guard; a sentry. ▷ verb (sentinelled, sentinelling; (US) sentineled, sentineling) 1 to watch over as a sentinel. 2 to post as or supply with a sentinel. ⓘ 16c: from French sentinelle, from Italian sentinella.

sentry /ˈsɛntrɪ/ ▷ noun (sentries) a person, usually a soldier, posted on guard to control entry or passage. ⓘ 17c: a shortening of centrinel, variant of SENTINEL.

sentry-box ▷ noun a small open-fronted shelter for a sentry to use in bad weather.

Sep. and Sept. ▷ abbreviation September.

sepal /ˈsɛpəl, ˈsiːpəl/ ▷ noun, bot in a flower: one of the modified leaves, usually green but sometimes brightly coloured, that together form the CALYX which surrounds the petals. ⓘ 19c: from French sépale, coined by N J de Necker (d.1790) from Greek skepe cover.

separable /ˈsɛpərəbəl/ ▷ adj able to be separated or disjoined. • separability or separableness noun. • separably adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin separabilis, from SEPARATE.

separate ▷ verb /ˈsɛpəreɪt/ (separated, separating) 1 to take, force or keep apart (from others or each other) □ A hedge separates the two fields. 2 intr said of a couple: to cease to be together or live together. 3 to disconnect or disunite; to sever. 4 to isolate or seclude □ He should be separated from the others. 5 to set apart for a purpose. 6 (also separate up) to divide or become divided into parts □ The building is separated up into smaller apartments. 7 intr to depart or withdraw; to secede. 8 intr to become disconnected or disunited. ▷ adj /ˈsɛpərət/ 1 separated; divided. 2 distinctly different or individual; unrelated □ That is a separate issue. 3 physically unattached; isolated. ▷ noun /ˈsɛpərət/ (usually separates) individual items which form a unit and which are often purchased separately to mix and match, eg items of women's clothing eg blouse, skirt, etc forming separate parts of an outfit, rather than a suit, or separate units of a hi-fi system such as a CD-player, amplifier, speakers, etc. • separately adverb. • separateness noun. • separator noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin separare, from se aside + parare to put.

separation /sɛpəˈreɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of separating or disjoining. 2 the state or process of being separated. 3 a place or line where there is a division. 4 a gap or interval that separates. 5 an arrangement, either approved mutually or by court, where a husband and wife live apart while still married, usually prior to divorce. ⓘ 15c.

separatist /ˈsɛpərətɪst/ ▷ noun 1 a person who encourages, or takes action to achieve, independence from an established church, federation, organization, etc. 2 as adj □ a separatist tendency. • separatism noun 1 a tendency to separate or to be separate. 2 support for separation. 3 the practices and principles of separatists. ⓘ 17c.

sepia /ˈsiːpɪə/ ▷ noun 1 a rich reddish-brown pigment, obtained from a fluid secreted by the cuttlefish. 2 the colour of this pigment. 3 a brownish tint used in photography, especially in early photography. 4 a sepia drawing or photograph. ▷ adj 1 sepia-coloured. 2 done in sepia. ⓘ 16c: Greek, meaning 'cuttlefish'.

sepoy /ˈsiːpɔɪ/ ▷ noun (sepoys) historical an Indian soldier in service with a European (especially British) army. ⓘ 17c: from Urdu and Persian sipahi horseman.

seppuku /sɛˈpuːkuː/ ▷ noun HARA-KIRI. ⓘ 19c: Japanese.

sepsis /ˈsɛpsɪs/ ▷ noun (sepses /-siːz/) medicine the presence of disease-causing micro-organisms, especially viruses or bacteria, and their toxins in the body tissues. ⓘ 19c: Greek, meaning 'putrefaction'.

sept ▷ noun especially in Scotland or Ireland: a clan; a division of a tribe. ⓘ 16c: an alteration of SECT.

Sept. see Sep.

septa plural of SEPTUM

September /sɛpˈtɛmbə(r)/ ▷ noun the ninth month of the year, which follows August and comes before October and has 30 days. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon: Latin, meaning 'seventh', as it was the seventh month in the original Roman calendar.

septennial /sɛpˈtɛnɪəl/ ▷ adj 1 occurring once every seven years. 2 lasting seven years. ⓘ 17c: from Latin septem seven + annus year.

septet or septette /sɛpˈtɛt/ ▷ noun 1 a group of seven musicians. 2 a piece of music for seven performers. 3 any group or set of seven. ⓘ 19c: from Latin septem seven.

septic /ˈseptɪk/ ▷ adj 1 medicine said of a wound: contaminated with pathogenic bacteria. 2 putrefying. ⓘ 17c: from Greek septikos related to SEPSIS.

septicaemia /septɪˈsiːmɪə/ ▷ noun, pathol the presence of pathogenic bacteria; blood-poisoning. ⓘ 19c: from Greek septikos putrefied + haima blood.

septic tank ▷ noun a tank, usually underground, in which sewage is decomposed by the action of bacteria.

septillion /sepˈtɪlɪən/ ▷ noun (septillion or septillions) 1 in Britain, France and Germany: a number that is represented by a figure 1 followed by 42 zeros, ie 10^{42}. 2 in N Amer: a QUADRILLION (sense 1). ⓘ 17c: French, modelled on MILLION.

septuagenarian /septʃuədʒəˈneərɪən/ ▷ adj aged between 70 and 79 years old. ▷ noun a septuagenarian person. ⓘ 18c: from Latin septuaginta seventy.

Septuagesima /septʃuəˈdʒesɪmə/ ▷ noun the third Sunday before Lent (Septuagesima Sunday), apparently in continuation of the sequence Quadragesima, Quinquagesima, etc. ⓘ 14c: from Latin septuagesimus seventieth.

septum /ˈseptəm/ ▷ noun (septa /ˈseptə/) biol, anatomy any partition between cavities, eg nostrils, areas of soft tissue, etc. ⓘ 18c: from Latin saeptum fence or enclosure, from saepire to fence.

septuple /ˈseptʃupəl, sepˈtʃuːpəl/ ▷ adj being seven times as much or as many; sevenfold. ▷ verb (septupled, septupling) tr & intr to multiply or increase sevenfold. ⓘ 17c: from Latin septuplus, from septem seven.

septuplet /ˈseptʃuplət, -ˈtʃuː-/ ▷ noun 1 any of seven children or animals born at one birth to the same mother. 2 music a group of seven notes played in four or six time. ⓘ 19c: from Latin septuplus, from septem seven.

sepulchral /sɪˈpʌlkrəl/ ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to a tomb or burial. 2 suggestive of death or burial; gloomy or funereal. ⓘ 17c.

sepulchre or (US) sepulcher /ˈsepəlkə(r)/ noun (sepulchres or sepulchers) 1 a tomb or burial vault. 2 church architecture a recess or structure, usually in the north chancel wall, to receive the reserved sacrament and the crucifix from Maundy Thursday or Good Friday till Easter. Also called Easter sepulchre. ▷ verb (sepulchred, sepulchring) to bury in a sepulchre; to entomb. ⓘ 12c: from Latin sepulcrum, from sepelire to bury.

sepulture /ˈsepəltʃuə(r)/ ▷ noun the act of burial, especially in a sepulchre. ● sepultural adj. ⓘ 13c: from Latin sepultura buried, from sepelire to bury.

sequel /ˈsiːkwəl/ ▷ noun 1 a book, film or play that continues an earlier story. 2 anything that follows on from a previous event, etc. 3 a result or consequence. ⓘ 15c: from Latin sequela, from sequi to follow.

sequela /sɪˈkwiːlə/ ▷ noun (sequelae /-laɪ/) (usually sequelae) pathol any abnormal condition following or related to a previous disease. ⓘ 18c: from SEQUEL.

sequence /ˈsiːkwəns/ ▷ noun 1 the state or fact of being sequent or consequent. 2 a series or succession of things in a specific order; the order they follow. 3 a succession of short pieces of action making up a scene in a film. 4 math a set of values or quantities where each one is a fixed amount greater or smaller than its predecessor, as determined by a given rule. 5 music successive repetition of the same melody in higher or lower parts of the scale or in higher or lower keys. 6 cards a set of three or more cards, consecutive in value and generally of the same suit. 7 a hymn in rhythmical prose, sung after the GRADUAL (sense 1) and before the GOSPEL (sense 3). ⓘ 14c: from Latin sequi to follow.

sequencing ▷ noun, biochem 1 (in full protein sequencing) the process of determining the order of AMINO ACIDS in a protein. 2 (in full gene sequencing) the process of determining the order of NUCLEOTIDES in DNA or RNA.

sequent /ˈsiːkwənt/ ▷ adj successive or consequent; consecutive. ▷ noun a thing or quantity that follows. ⓘ 16c.

sequential /sɪˈkwenʃəl/ ▷ adj 1 in, having or following a particular order or sequence. 2 consequent; sequent. ● sequentiality noun. ● sequentially adverb. ⓘ 19c.

sequester /sɪˈkwestə(r)/ ▷ verb (sequestered, sequestering) 1 to set aside or isolate. 2 to set apart. 3 law to sequestrate. 4 church law to hold the income of (a vacant benefice) for the benefit of the next incumbent. 5 law to sequestrate the estate or benefice of (a person). 6 chem to remove or render ineffective (a metal ion) by adding a reagent that forms a complex with it (eg as a means of preventing or getting rid of precipitation in water). ● sequestered adj secluded □ a sequestered garden. ⓘ 14c: Latin, meaning 'depository'.

sequestrate /ˈsiːkwəstreɪt/ ▷ verb (sequestrated, sequestrating) law to remove or confiscate (something, especially property) from someone's possession until a dispute or debt has been settled. ● sequestration /siːkwəˈstreɪʃən/ noun. ● sequestrator /ˈsiːkwəstreɪtə(r), ˈsek-/ noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin sequestrare, from sequester depository.

sequin /ˈsiːkwɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a small round shiny disc of foil or plastic, sewn on a garment for decoration. 2 an old Italian gold coin. ● sequined adj covered or decorated with sequins. ⓘ 17c: from Italian zecchino, from zecca the mint, from Arabic sikkah coin.

sequoia /sɪˈkwɔɪə/ ▷ noun (sequoias) either of two species of massive evergreen trees, native to N America, the Californian REDWOOD (the tallest known tree) and the giant sequoia (the largest known tree). Also called Wellingtonia. ⓘ 19c: named after Sequoiah (d.1843) the Cherokee scholar.

seraglio /səˈrɑːlɪou/ ▷ noun (seraglios) 1 women's quarters in a Muslim house or palace; a harem. 2 historical a Turkish palace, especially that of the sultans at Constantinople. ⓘ 16c: from Italian serraglio, from Persian saray palace.

serape /səˈrɑːpɪ/ ▷ noun (serapes) a Spanish-American woollen blanket or cape, usually brightly coloured, worn by men while riding. ⓘ 19c: Mexican-Spanish.

seraph /ˈserəf/ ▷ noun (seraphs or seraphim) in the traditional medieval hierarchy of nine ranks of angels: an angel of the highest rank. Compare CHERUB, THRONE, DOMINION, VIRTUE, POWER, PRINCIPALITY, ARCHANGEL, ANGEL. ● seraphic /səˈrafɪk/ or seraphical adj. ● seraphically adverb. ⓘ 17c: Hebrew.

Serbian /ˈsɜːbɪən/ and Serb ▷ adj belonging or relating to Serbs, an ethnic group living in Yugoslavia and surrounding republics (see YUGOSLAV), or their language. ▷ noun 1 someone belonging to this ethnic group. 2 the Slavonic language spoken by Serbs; SERBO-CROAT.

Serbo-Croat /sɜːbouˈkrouat/ and Serbo-Croatian ▷ noun the official language of the former Yugoslavia, a Slavonic language spoken in Serbia, Croatia, etc. ▷ adj referring or relating to this language.

SERC ▷ abbreviation, historical Science and Engineering Research Council, now replaced by EPSRC and PPARC.

serenade /serəˈneɪd/ ▷ noun 1 a song or piece of music performed at night under a woman's window by her suitor. 2 any musical piece with a gentle tempo suggestive of romance and suitable for such a performance. 3 a piece of classical music similar to a symphony in length, but lighter in tone, having more movements and for a smaller orchestra. ▷ verb (serenaded, serenading) 1 to entertain (a person) with a serenade. 2 intr to perform a serenade. ● serenader noun. ⓘ 17c: from Italian serenata, from Latin serenus bright clear sky, the meaning being influenced by Latin serus late.

serendipity /sɛrən'dɪpɪtɪ/ ▷ noun the state of frequently making lucky or beneficial finds. • serendipitous adj discovered by luck or chance. ⓘ 1754: from Serendip, a former name for Sri Lanka, a word coined by Horace Walpole from the folk tale The Three Princes of Serendip.

serene /sə'riːn/ ▷ adj 1 said of a person: calm and composed; at peace. 2 said of a sky: cloudless. 3 (Serene) a word incorporated in the titles of members of some European royal families □ Her Serene Highness. • serenely adverb. • sereneness noun. • serenity /sɪ'rɛnɪtɪ/ noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin serenus clear.

serf /sɜːf/ ▷ noun in medieval Europe: a worker in modified slavery, bought and sold with the land on which they worked. • serfdom /'sɜːfdəm/ and serfhood noun the condition of a serf. ⓘ 15c: from Latin servus slave.

serge /sɜːdʒ/ ▷ noun a strong twilled fabric, especially of wool or worsted. ▷ adj made of serge. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin serica silk.

sergeant or serjeant /'sɑːdʒənt/ ▷ noun 1 in the armed forces: a non-commissioned officer of the rank next above corporal. 2 in Britain: a police officer of the rank between constable and inspector. • sergeancy noun the office or rank of a sergeant. ⓘ 12c: from French sergent, from Latin serviens servant.

sergeant-at-arms or serjeant-at-arms ▷ noun an officer of a court or parliament who is responsible for keeping order.

sergeant-major ▷ noun a non-commissioned officer of the highest rank in the armed forces.

serial /'sɪərɪəl/ ▷ noun 1 a story, television programme, etc published or broadcast in regular instalments. 2 a periodical. ▷ adj 1 appearing in instalments. 2 forming a series or part of a series. 3 in series; in a row. 4 music using series as the basis of a composition. 5 music using serialism. ⓘ 19c: from Latin serialis, from SERIES.

> serial, series
>
> There is often confusion between serial and series: a serial is a single story presented in separate instalments, whereas a series is a set of separate stories featuring the same characters.

serialism ▷ noun, music the technique of using a series or succession of related notes as the basis for a musical composition, the most common type being 12-note serialism. ⓘ 1920s: first devised by Arnold Schoenberg (1874–1951), the Austrian composer.

serialize /'sɪərɪəlaɪz/ or serialise ▷ verb (serialized, serializing) to publish or broadcast (a story, television programme, etc) in instalments. • serialization noun a production or publication in instalments. ⓘ 19c.

serial killer ▷ noun someone who commits a succession of murders, often choosing the same method of killing or the same type of victim.

serial number ▷ noun the individual identification number marked on each one of a series of identical products.

sericeous /sə'rɪʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 silky. 2 bot covered with soft silky hairs. 3 shiny like silk. ⓘ 18c: from Latin sericeus, from sericus silken.

sericulture /'sɛrɪkʌltʃə(r)/ ▷ noun the breeding of silkworms for producing raw silk. • sericulturist noun. ⓘ 19c.

series /'sɪəriːz, -rɪz/ ▷ noun (plural series /'sɪəriːz, -rɪz/) 1 a number of similar, related or identical things arranged or produced in line or in succession, such as a set of similar books issued by the same publishing house. 2 a TV or radio programme in which the same characters appear, or a similar subject is addressed, in regularly broadcast shows. 3 a set of things that differ progressively. 4 math in a sequence of numbers: the sum obtained when each term is added to the previous ones. 5 a taxonomic group. 6 music a set of notes in a particular order taken as the basis of a composition rather than a traditional scale. See SERIALISM. 7 physics an electric circuit whose components are arranged so that the same current passes through each of them in turn. 8 geol a group of rocks, fossils or minerals that can be arranged in a natural sequence on the basis of certain properties, eg composition. ⓘ 17c: Latin, meaning 'chain or row'.

> series
>
> See Usage Note at serial.

serif /'sɛrɪf/ ▷ noun, printing a short decorative line or stroke on the end of a printed letter, as opposed to SANSERIF. ⓘ 19c: perhaps from Dutch schreef stroke.

serigraph /'sɛrɪgrɑːf/ ▷ noun a print made by silk-screen process. • serigrapher noun. • serigraphy noun. ⓘ 19c: from Latin sericum silk.

serin /'sɛrɪn/ ▷ noun any of a genus of small European finches, including the canary. ⓘ 16c: French, meaning 'canary'.

serine /'sɛriːn/ ▷ noun, biochem an amino acid that is found in proteins. ⓘ 19c: from Greek serikos silken.

seriocomic /sɪərɪoʊ'kɒmɪk/ ▷ adj containing both serious and comic elements or qualities.

serious /'sɪərɪəs/ ▷ adj 1 grave or solemn; not inclined to flippancy or lightness of mood. 2 dealing with important issues □ a serious newspaper. 3 severe □ a serious accident. 4 important; significant □ There were serious differences of opinion. 5 showing firmness of intention; sincere or earnest □ I am serious about doing it. 6 colloq notable, renowned or in significant quantities □ That is a serious set of wheels □ serious money. • seriously adverb. • seriousness noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin seriosus, from serius.

serjeant see SERGEANT

sermon /'sɜːmən/ ▷ noun 1 a public speech or discourse, especially one forming part of a church service, about morals, religious duties or some aspect of religious doctrine. 2 a lengthy moral or advisory speech, especially a reproving one. ⓘ 12c: from Latin sermo discourse.

sermonize or sermonise /'sɜːmənaɪz/ ▷ verb (sermonized, sermonizing) 1 intr to compose and conduct sermons. 2 to preach or moralize. • sermonizer noun. ⓘ 17c.

sero- /sɪəroʊ, sɪə'rɒ/ ▷ combining form, denoting serum.

serology /sɪə'rɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun, biol the study of blood serum and its constituents, especially antibodies and antigens. • serological adj. • serologically adverb. • serologist noun. ⓘ Early 20c.

seropositive ▷ adj said of a person: having blood that is shown by tests to be infected by the specific disease tested for, usually Aids.

serotonin /sɪərə'toʊnɪn, sɛrə-/ ▷ noun, physiol a hormone that acts as a NEUROTRANSMITTER in the central nervous system, and also causes narrowing of blood vessels by stimulating their contraction. ⓘ 1940s: from SERUM + TONIC.

serous /'sɪərəs/ ▷ adj 1 characteristic of, relating to or containing serum. 2 said of a liquid: resembling serum; watery. ⓘ 16c.

serpent /'sɜːpənt/ ▷ noun 1 a snake. 2 a sneaky, treacherous or malicious person. 3 music an obsolete wooden bass wind instrument in the form of a writhing snake. ⓘ 14c: from Latin serpens creeping thing, from serpere to creep.

serpentine /'sɜːpəntaɪn/ ▷ adj 1 snake-like. 2 winding; full of twists and bends. ▷ noun, geol a soft green or white rock-forming mineral derived from magnesium silicates, so called because it is often mottled like a snake's skin. ◷ 14c: from Latin serpentinum, from SERPENT.

serpigo /sə'paɪgoʊ/ ⊳ noun, pathol any spreading skin disease, especially ringworm. ◷ 14c: Latin, from serpere to creep.

SERPS or Serps /sɜːps/ ⊳ abbreviation state earnings-related pension scheme.

serrate ⊳ adj /'sereɪt/ 1 notched like the blade of a saw. 2 bot, zool possessing sharp forward-pointing teeth. ⊳ verb /sə'reɪt/ (serrated, serrating) to notch. • serration /sə'reɪʃən/ noun 1 the condition of being sawlike or serrated. 2 a sawlike tooth. ◷ 18c: from Latin serra saw.

serried /'serɪd/ ⊳ adj closely packed or grouped together □ soldiers in serried ranks. ◷ 17c: from French serrer to put close together.

serum /'sɪərəm/ ⊳ noun (serums or sera /'sɪərə/) 1 (in full blood serum) anatomy the yellowish fluid component of blood, which contains specific antibodies and can therefore be used in a vaccine. 2 bot the watery part of a plant fluid. ◷ 17c: Latin, meaning 'whey'.

serum hepatitis ⊳ noun, pathol a virus infection of the liver, usually transmitted by transfusion of infected blood or use of contaminated instruments, especially needles, consequently occurring often in drug addicts. Also called HEPATITIS B.

servant /'sɜːvənt/ ⊳ noun 1 old use a person employed by another to do household or menial work for them. 2 a person who acts for the good of others in any capacity. 3 a PUBLIC SERVANT. ◷ 13c: French, meaning 'serving', from Latin servire to serve.

serve /sɜːv/ ⊳ verb (served, serving) 1 to work for someone as a domestic servant; to be in the service of someone. 2 intr to be a servant. 3 to work for the benefit of someone; to aid □ He serves the community well. 4 tr & intr to attend to customers in a shop, etc; to provide to customers. 5 tr & intr to attend to the needs or requirements of someone □ These shoes have served me well. 6 tr & intr to bring, distribute or present (food or drink) to someone. 7 intr to wait at table. 8 to provide with or supply materials. 9 to render service and obedience to someone □ to serve God □ to serve the country. 10 intr to carry out duties as a member of some body or organization □ They serve on a committee. 11 intr to act as a member of the armed forces □ We served in the marines □ We served in France. 12 to provide specified facilities □ There are trams serving the entire city. 13 tr & intr to be of use; to suffice or fulfil a need □ There's no chair, but this box will serve □ This will serve our purpose. 14 intr to have a specific effect or result □ His speech just served to make matters worse. 15 to undergo as a requirement □ You have to serve an apprenticeship. 16 tr & intr in racket sports: to put (the ball) into play. 17 law to deliver or present (a legal document) □ serve with a writ □ He served a summons on her. 18 said of a male animal: to copulate with (a female). 19 naut to bind (rope, etc) with cord to guard and strengthen it. ⊳ noun in racket sports: an act of serving. • serve one's time to undergo an apprenticeship or term in office. • serve someone right colloq to be the misfortune or punishment that they deserve. • serve time to undergo a term of imprisonment. ◷ 13c: from Latin servire to serve.

■ serve as something to act as or take the place of it □ This box will serve as a chair.

■ serve up to bring food, etc to the table □ I'll serve up in about half an hour.

server /'sɜːvə(r)/ ⊳ noun 1 a person who serves. 2 in racket sports: the person who serves the ball. 3 RC Church a person who assists a priest during mass by organizing the altar, making the responses, etc. 4 a fork, spoon or other instrument for distributing food at the table. 5 a SALVER. ◷ 14c.

service /'sɜːvɪs/ ⊳ noun 1 the condition or occupation of being a servant or someone who serves. 2 work carried out for or on behalf of others □ do someone a service. 3 the act or manner of serving. 4 use or usefulness □ Your services are no longer required □ This car has given me good service. 5 a favour or any beneficial act □ Can I be of service? 6 employment as a member of an organization working to serve or benefit others in some way; such an organization □ a public service □ the civil service. 7 the personnel employed in such an organization. 8 the requirements of members of such an organization. 9 assistance given to customers in a shop, restaurant, etc. 10 a facility provided □ British Rail ran an excellent service. 11 an occasion of worship or other religious ceremony; the words, etc used on such an occasion □ the marriage service. 12 a liturgical form or the musical setting of it. 13 a complete set of cutlery and crockery □ a dinner service. 14 (usually services) the supply eg of water, public transport, etc. 15 a periodic check and sometimes repair of the workings of a vehicle or other machine. 16 in racket sports: the act of putting the ball into play, or the game in which it is a particular player's turn to do so □ He lost his service game □ That was a poor service. 17 a SERVICE CHARGE, eg in a restaurant □ service not included. 18 (often services) any of the armed forces. 19 the participation of their members in warfare. 20 (services) a SERVICE AREA. 21 employment as a domestic servant. 22 the duty required of a feudal tenant. 23 cord or other material for serving a rope. 24 as adj for use by domestic servants □ service entrance. 25 as adj referring to the army, navy or air force. ⊳ verb (serviced, servicing) 1 to subject (a vehicle, etc) to a periodic check. 2 said of a male animal: to mate with (a female). • at someone's service ready to serve or give assistance to them. • be of service to someone to help or be useful to them. • in service 1 in use or operation. 2 working as a domestic servant. • out of service broken; not in operation. ◷ 12c: from Latin servitium, from servire to serve.

serviceable ⊳ adj 1 capable of being used. 2 able to give long-term use; durable. • serviceability noun. ◷ 14c.

service area ⊳ noun an establishment near a motorway or major road providing facilities such as filling stations, garages, restaurants, toilets, etc.

service-berry ⊳ noun one of the fruits of the SERVICE TREE.

service charge ⊳ noun a percentage of a restaurant or hotel bill added on to cover the cost of service.

service flat ⊳ noun a flat where the cost of certain services, eg domestic cleaning, is included in the rent.

service industry ⊳ noun an industry whose business is providing services rather than manufacturing products, eg dry-cleaning, entertainment, transport, etc.

serviceman ⊳ noun a male member of any of the armed forces.

service station ⊳ noun a petrol station providing facilities for motorists, especially refuelling, car-washing, small shop, etc.

service tree ⊳ noun a European flowering tree with toothed leaves, bearing edible fruit. Also called SORB.

servicewoman ⊳ noun a female member of any of the armed forces.

serviette /sɜːvɪ'et/ ⊳ noun a table napkin. ◷ 15c: French, from servir to SERVE.

servile /'sɜːvaɪl/ ⊳ adj 1 slavishly respectful or obedient; fawning or submissive. 2 referring or relating to, or suitable for, slaves or servants □ servile tasks. • servilely adverb. • servility /sɜː'vɪlɪtɪ/ noun. ◷ 14c: from Latin servilis, from servus slave.

serving /'sɜːvɪŋ/ ⊳ noun a portion of food or drink served at one time; a helping.

serving hatch see HATCH[1] servitude /ˈsɜːvɪtʃuːd/ ▷ noun 1 slavery; the state of being a slave. 2 subjection to irksome or taxing conditions. 3 law a burden on property obliging the owner to allow another person or thing an EASEMENT. ⓘ 15c: from Latin servitudo, from servus slave.

servo /ˈsɜːvoʊ/ ▷ adj denoting a system in which the main mechanism is set in operation by a subsidiary mechanism and is able to develop a force greater than the force communicated to it □ servo brakes. ▷ noun (servos) an automatic device used to correct errors in the operation of machinery, used in satellite-tracking systems, power-steering systems on some cars, and to control robots and keep ships on course. ⓘ Early 20c: from Latin servus slave.

sesame /ˈsɛsəmɪ/ ▷ noun (sesames) 1 an annual plant with opposite leaves below and alternate leaves above, and solitary white flowers, usually marked with purple or yellow. 2 the small edible husked seeds of this plant, used to garnish and flavour bread, rolls, cakes, confectionery, etc, and as a source of SESAME OIL. ⓘ 15c: from Greek sesamon.

sesame oil ▷ noun a yellow oil obtained from sesame seeds, used as a cooking oil, and as an ingredient of margarine, soap, cosmetics and certain medicines.

sesamoid /ˈsɛsəmɔɪd/ ▷ adj shaped like a sesame seed. ▷ noun, anatomy (in full sesamoid bone) a small rounded bone or cartilage structure formed in the substance of a tendon, eg in the tendon of the big toe. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sesamoides like sesame seed.

sesqui- /sɛskwɪ/ ▷ combining form, denoting the ratio of one and a half to one. ⓘ Latin, from semisque, from semis half a unit + que and.

sesquicentennial and sesquicentenary ▷ noun a hundred and fiftieth anniversary. ⓘ 1870s.

sesquipedalian /sɛskwɪpəˈdeɪlɪən/ and sesquipedal /səsˈkwɪpɪdəl/ ▷ adj 1 said of a words: polysyllabic. 2 inclined to use long or cumbersome words. • sesquipedalianism or sesquipedality /sɛskwɪpəˈdalɪtɪ/ noun. ⓘ 17c: SESQUI- + Latin pes, pedis foot.

sessile /ˈsɛsaɪl/ ▷ adj 1 said of a flower or leaf: attached directly to the plant, rather than by a stalk. 2 said of a part of the body: attached directly to the body. 3 said of an animal: stationary or immobile; sedentary. ⓘ 18c: from Latin sessilis low or squat, from sedere to sit.

session /ˈsɛʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a meeting of a court, council or parliament, or the period during which such meetings are regularly held. 2 colloq a period of time spent engaged in any particular activity □ a session of tennis □ a drinking session. 3 an academic term or year. 4 the period during which classes are taught. • sessional adj. • sessionally adverb. • in session said of a court, committee, etc: conducting or engaged in a meeting □ The court is now in session. ⓘ 14c: from Latin sessio a sitting, from sedere to sit.

sesterce /ˈsɛstɜːs/ and sestertius /sɛˈstɜːʃəs/ ▷ noun (sesterces /ˈsɛstəsiːz/, sestertii /sɛˈstɜːʃɪaɪ/) historical a Roman coin, originally worth 2½ asses (see AS[2]), later worth 4 asses. ⓘ 16c: from Latin sestertius two and a half, from semis half + tertius third.

sestet /sɛˈstɛt/ ▷ noun 1 a group of six people or things. 2 the last six lines of a sonnet. 3 music a composition for six performers; a SEXTET. ⓘ Early 19c: from Italian sestetto, from Latin sextus sixth.

sestina /sɛˈstiːnə/ ▷ noun (sestinas) an old form of poetry consisting of six verses of six lines, where the end-words of the first verse are repeated in different orders in the last five verses. ⓘ 1830s: Italian, from sesto, from Latin sextus sixth.

set[1] ▷ verb (set, setting) 1 to put, place or fix into a specified position or condition □ set free □ set them straight. 2 to array or arrange □ Everything was set out beautifully. 3 tr & intr to make or become solid, rigid, firm or motionless □ The jelly has set □ set someone's jaw. 4 to fix, establish or settle □ Let's set a date. 5 to embed □ The lamp posts are set firmly in the cement. 6 to stud, sprinkle or variegate. 7 to regulate. 8 to put into a state of readiness or preparation □ set the table. 9 to appoint, especially to a particular task or duty. 10 to appoint or call (a meeting, etc). 11 to ordain or fix (a procedure, etc). 12 to adjust (a measuring device, eg a clock) to the correct reading. 13 to adjust (a device) so that its controls are activated at a fixed time □ Set the oven timer to 11 o'clock. 14 in Scotland and Ireland: to lease or let to a tenant. 15 to propound. 16 to put something upon a course or start it off □ set it going. 17 to incite or direct. 18 to put in a position of opposition. 19 to fix (a broken bone) in its normal position for healing. 20 to impose or assign as an exercise or duty □ set a test □ Which text has been set for the exam? 21 to present or fix as a lead to be followed □ We must set an example. 22 to place on or against a certain background or surroundings □ diamonds set in a gold bracelet. 23 to decorate □ She wore a bracelet set with diamonds. 24 to stir, provoke or force into activity □ That set me thinking □ We've set her to work. 25 to treat (hair) when wet so that it stays in the required style when dry. 26 to hold or place as a value or consideration of worth □ set a high price on honesty. 27 intr said of the Sun or Moon: to disappear below the horizon. 28 to put down or advance (a pledge or deposit). 29 printing to arrange. 30 intr to have, take on or start along a particular course or direction. 31 said of a plant: to produce (seed). 32 intr said of a plant: to begin to form fruit or seed. 33 to compose or fit music to (words). 34 to position (a sail) so that it catches the wind. 35 to place (a novel, film, etc) in a specified period, location, etc □ The Great Gatsby is set in the 1920s. 36 intr to dance in a facing position □ set to your partner. 37 to put (a hen) on eggs to hatch them. 38 to put (eggs) under a hen for incubation. 39 to wager a bet. 40 said of a gun dog: a to point out (game); b intr to indicate the location of game by crouching. 41 to sharpen. 42 bridge to defeat (one's opponent's contract) usually by a stated number of tricks. 43 tr & intr said of a colour in dyeing: to become, or to make it become, permanent or to prevent it running. ▷ noun 1 the act or process of setting or the condition of being set. 2 a setting. 3 form; shape □ the set of his jaw. 4 habitual or temporary posture, carriage or bearing. 5 theat, cinematog the area within which the action takes place. 6 theat, cinematog the scenery and props used to create a particular location. 7 a the process of setting hair; b a hairstyle produced by setting □ a shampoo and set. 8 the hang of a garment, especially when worn. 9 a plant-slip, bulb or tuber ready for planting. 10 a gun dog's indication of game. ▷ adj 1 fixed or rigid; allowing no alterations or variations □ a set menu. 2 established; never-changing □ He's too set in his ways. 3 predetermined or conventional □ set phrases. 4 ready or prepared □ We're all set to go. 5 about to receive or experience something; due □ We're set for a pay rise. 6 assigned; prescribed □ These are the set texts for this year. • be set on something to be determined to do it. • set one's teeth to clamp or clench them tightly together. • set the pace to start off at a pace to be followed by others, eg in a race. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon settan.

■ set about someone to attack them.

■ set about something to start or begin it □ They set about digging the garden.

■ set someone against someone else to make them mutually hostile □ They set him against his own family.

■ set something against something else 1 to compare or contrast them. 2 to deduct one from the other □ set expenses against tax.

■ set something or someone apart to separate or put them aside as different, especially superior.

■ set something aside 1 to disregard or reject it. 2 to reserve it or put it away for later use.

■ set something back 1 to delay or hinder its progress. 2 to cause it to return to a previous and less advanced stage □ They've introduced changes that will set the health service back decades. 3 slang to cost (in money) □ How much did that set you back?

■ set someone down 1 to make them sit down □ She set him down for a talk. 2 to allow them to leave or alight from a vehicle at their destination. 3 to slight or snub them.

■ set something down 1 to record it in writing. 2 to judge or view it (in a specified way) □ The scheme was set down as a failure.

■ set something down to something else to attribute it to it □ His behaviour was set down to the stress he was under.

■ set forth to begin a journey.

■ set something forth to declare, propose or explain it □ She set forth her views.

■ set in 1 to become firmly established □ We must leave before darkness sets in. 2 said of a current or wind: to move or blow in the direction of the shore.

■ set off to start out on a journey □ We'll set off in the morning.

■ set someone off to provoke them into action or behaviour of a specified kind □ He can always set us off laughing.

■ set something off 1 to start it or make it happen □ You set off a terrible argument that day. 2 to detonate (an explosive). 3 to show it off to good advantage or enhance its appearance □ The colour of the dress sets off your eyes. 4 to deduct it from another source; to offset it.

■ set on someone to attack them.

■ set someone or something on someone to order them to attack □ I'll set the dogs on you if you don't leave!

■ set out 1 to begin or embark on a journey. 2 to resolve or intend (to do something) □ She set out to cause trouble.

■ set something out 1 to present or explain it □ She set out her proposals plainly. 2 to lay it out for display.

■ set to 1 to start working; to apply oneself to a task. 2 to start fighting or arguing. See also SET-TO.

■ set someone up 1 to put them into a position of guaranteed security □ The inheritance has set him up for life. 2 to enable them to begin a new career. 3 to improve or restore their health. 4 slang to trick them into becoming a target for blame or accusations, or into feeling embarrassed or foolish. See also SET-UP.

■ set something up 1 to bring it into being or operation; to establish it □ He set the company up by himself. 2 to arrange it. 3 to put up or erect something □ Let's set the tents up over here. See also SET-UP.

set^2 ▷ noun 1 a group of related people or things, especially of a kind that usually associate, occur or are used together □ The class has two sets of twins □ These chairs only come in sets of six. 2 math a group of objects, or elements, that have at least one characteristic in common, so that it is possible to decide exactly whether a given element does or does not belong to that group, eg the set of even numbers. When such a group is expressed diagrammatically it is called a VENN DIAGRAM. 3 a complete collection or series of pieces needed for a particular activity □ a chess set □ a train set. 4 the songs or tunes performed by a singer or a band at a concert □ They played quite a varied set. 5 tennis, darts, etc a group of games in which the winning player or players have to win a specified number, with a match lasting a certain number of sets. 6 a company performing a dance production. 7 a series of dance movements or figures. 8 a device for receiving or transmitting television or radio broadcasts. ◎ 14c: from French sette.

set^3 or sett ▷ noun 1 a badger's burrow. 2 a block of stone or wood used in paving. 3 the number of a weaver's reed, determining the number of threads to the inch. 4 a square or pattern of tartan. ◎ 19c: from SET^1.

seta /ˈsiːtə/ ▷ noun (setae /-tiː/) bot, zool a bristle; a bristle-like structure. ■ setaceous /sɪˈteɪʃəs/ or setose /ˈsiːtous/ adj. ◎ 18c: Latin.

set-aside ▷ noun in the EC: the policy of taking agricultural land out of production, used to reduce surpluses of specific commodities, and compensated by specific payments.

setback ▷ noun 1 a delay, check or reversal to progress. 2 a disappointment or misfortune.

Seti ▷ abbreviation search for extraterrestrial intelligence.

setline ▷ noun any of various kinds of fishing lines suspended between buoys, etc and having shorter baited lines attached to it.

set-off ▷ noun 1 law a claim set against another. 2 law a cross-claim which partly offsets the original claim. 3 anything that counterbalances something else, eg a claim. 4 anything that sets off another object, eg an ornament, by way of contrast. 5 printing, archit an OFFSET.

set piece ▷ noun 1 a carefully prepared musical or literary performance. 2 sport a practised sequence of passes, movements, etc taken at free-kick, etc. 3 an elaborately arranged display of fireworks on a scaffold, etc.

set point ▷ noun, tennis a the moment in a match when a player needs one point to win a set (see SET^2 5); b the point itself.

setscrew ▷ noun a screw that prevents relative motion by exerting pressure with its point.

set square ▷ noun a right-angled triangular plate, usually plastic, used as an aid for drawing or marking lines and angles.

Setswana see TSWANA

sett see SET^3

settee /səˈtiː, sɛˈtiː/ ▷ noun (settees) a long indoor seat with a back and arms, usually able to hold two or more people; a sofa. ◎ 18c: a variant of SETTLE^2.

setter /ˈsɛtə(r)/ ▷ noun any of various large breeds of sporting dog with a long smooth coat (rich red in colour in the Irish setter and white with black, liver or tan markings in the English setter) and a feathered tail.

setting /ˈsɛtɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 a a situation or background within or against which action takes place; b theat, cinematog the scenery and props used in a single scene. 2 a set of cutlery, crockery and glassware laid out for use by one person. Also called place setting. 3 a position in which a machine's controls are set. 4 a mounting for a jewel. 5 the music composed specifically for a song, etc. ◎ 14c.

settle^1 /ˈsɛtəl/ ▷ verb (settled, settling) 1 tr & intr to make or become securely, comfortably or satisfactorily positioned or established. 2 tr & intr (also settle on something) to come to an agreement about it □ settle an argument □ settle on a date. 3 intr to come to rest. 4 to subside □ Wait till the dust has settled. 5 to establish a practice or routine □ You'll soon settle into the job. 6 tr & intr (also settle down or settle someone down) to make or become calm, quiet or disciplined after a period of noisy excitement or chaos. 7 to conclude or decide □ Let's settle this matter once and for all. 8 tr & intr to establish or take up a permanent home or residence □ They eventually settled in Australia. 9 tr & intr (also settle up) to pay off or clear (a bill or debt); to settle accounts □ I will settle the bill. 10 intr said of particles in a liquid: to sink to the bottom or form a scum. 11 to secure by gift or legal act. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon setlan to place.

■ settle for something to accept it as a compromise or instead of something more suitable □ Would you settle for half the amount?

■ settle in to adapt to a new living environment.

■ settle something on someone to transfer ownership of it legally to them □ She settled her estate on her son.

■ settle with someone to come to an agreement or deal with them.

settle[2] /ˈsetəl/ ▷ noun a wooden bench with arms and a solid high back, often with a storage chest fitted below the seat. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon setl.

settlement ▷ noun 1 the act of settling or the state of being settled. 2 a recently settled community or colony. 3 an agreement, especially one ending an official dispute. 4 subsidence or sinking. 5 a an act of legally transferring ownership of property; b the document enforcing this. ⓘ 17c.

settler /ˈsetlə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who settles in a country that is being newly populated. ⓘ 16c.

settling day noun, stock exchange a date fixed for completion of transactions. See also TICKET DAY.

set-to ▷ noun 1 colloq a fight or argument. 2 a fierce contest. See also SET TO at SET[1].

set-up ▷ noun 1 colloq an arrangement or set of arrangements. 2 slang a trick to make a person unjustly blamed, accused or embarrassed. See also SET SOMEONE UP, SET SOMETHING UP at SET[1].

seven /ˈsevən/ ▷ noun 1 a the cardinal number 7; b the quantity that this represents, being one more than six. 2 any symbol for this, eg 7 or VII. 3 the age of seven. 4 something, eg a shoe, or a person whose size is denoted by the number 7. 5 the seventh hour after midnight or midday □ Come at seven □ 7 o'clock □ 7pm. 6 a set or group of seven people or things. 7 a playing-card with 7 pips □ He played his seven. 8 a score of seven points. ▷ adj 1 totalling seven. 2 aged seven. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon seofon.

the seven deadly sins ▷ noun pride, covetousness, lust, anger, gluttony, envy and sloth.

sevenfold /ˈsevənfoʊld/ ▷ adj 1 equal to seven times as much or as many. 2 divided into or consisting of seven parts. ▷ adverb by seven times as much or many. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon seofon feald.

seven-inch and 7 inch ▷ noun a RECORD (noun 4), usually with one track on each side, which is played at 45 rpm, now almost entirely replaced by the CD single.

seven seas ▷ noun (usually the Seven Seas) all the oceans of the world: the Arctic, Antarctic, N Atlantic, S Atlantic, Indian, N Pacific and S Pacific Oceans.

seventeen /sevənˈtiːn/ ▷ noun 1 a the cardinal number 17; b the quantity that this represents, being one more than sixteen, or the sum of ten and seven. 2 any symbol for this, eg 17 or XVII. 3 the age of seventeen. 4 something, especially a garment, or a person, whose size is denoted by the number 17. 5 a set or group of seventeen people or things. 6 a score of seventeen points. ▷ adj 1 totalling seventeen. 2 aged seventeen. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon seofontiene; see SEVEN + -TEEN.

seventeenth /sevənˈtiːnθ/ (often written 17th) ▷ adj 1 in counting: a next after sixteenth; b last of seventeen. 2 in seventeenth position. 3 (the seventeenth) a the seventeenth day of the month; b golf the seventeenth hole. ▷ noun one of seventeen equal parts. Also as adj □ a seventeenth share. 2 a FRACTION equal to one divided by seventeen (usually written ¹/₁₇). 3 a person coming seventeenth, eg in a race or exam □ He finished a bedraggled seventeenth. ▷ adverb seventeenthly. ● seventeenthly adverb used to introduce the seventeenth point in a list. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon; see SEVENTEEN + -TH.

seventh /ˈsevənθ/ (often written 7th) ▷ adj 1 in counting: a next after sixth; b last of seven. 2 in seventh position. 3 (the seventh) a the seventh day of the month; b golf the seventh hole. ▷ noun 1 one of seven equal parts. Also as adj □ a seventh share. 2 a FRACTION equal to one divided by seven (usually written ¹/₇). 3 a person coming seventh, eg in a race or exam □ He finished a bedraggled seventh. 4 music (also major seventh) a an interval of a semitone less than an octave; b a note at that interval from another. ▷ adverb seventhly. ● seventhly adverb used to introduce the seventh point in a list. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon; see SEVEN + -TH.

seventh heaven ▷ noun a state of extreme or intense happiness or joy.

seventies /ˈsevəntɪz/ (often written 70s or 70's) ▷ plural noun 1 (one's seventies) the period of time between one's seventieth and eightieth birthdays □ John is in his seventies. 3 the range of temperatures between seventy and eighty degrees □ It must be in the seventies today. 4 the period of time between the seventieth and eightieth years of a century □ born in the seventies. Also as adj □ I love seventies music.

seventieth /ˈsevəntɪəθ/ (often written 70th) ▷ adj 1 in counting: a next after sixty-ninth; b last of seventy. 2 in seventieth position. ▷ noun 1 one of seventy equal parts. Also as adj □ a seventieth share. 2 a FRACTION equal to one divided by seventy (usually written ¹/₇₀). 3 a person coming seventieth, eg in a race or exam. ⓘ 13c.

seventy /ˈsevəntɪ/ ▷ noun (seventies) 1 a) the cardinal number 70; b the quantity that this represents, being one more than sixty-nine, or the product of ten and seven. 2 any symbol for this, eg 70 or LXX. Also in compounds, forming adjectives and nouns, with cardinal numbers between one and nine □ seventy-two. 3 the age of seventy. 4 a set or group of seventy people or things. 5 a score of seventy points. ▷ adj 1 totalling seventy. Also in compounds, forming adjectives and nouns, with ordinal numbers between first and ninth □ seventy-second. 2 aged seventy. See also SEVENTIES, SEVENTIETH. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon seofontig.

seventy-eight ▷ noun, dated a gramophone record which is played at 78 revolutions per minute. Compare FORTY-FIVE.

sever /ˈsevə(r)/ ▷ verb (severed, severing) 1 to cut off physically. 2 to separate or isolate. 3 to break off or end □ He's completely severed any relations with them. ● severable adj. ⓘ 14c: from French sevrer, from Latin separare to SEPARATE.

several /ˈsevrəl, ˈsevərəl/ ▷ adj 1 more than a few, but not a great number □ I had several drinks that night. 2 various or assorted □ They were all there with their several backgrounds. 3 different and distinct; respective □ They went their several ways. 4 law separate; not jointly. ▷ pronoun quite a few people or things. ● severally adj, formal separately or singly □ travelling severally. ⓘ 16c: French, from Latin separalis, from separare to SEPARATE.

severance /ˈsevərəns/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of severing or being severed. 2 separation.

severance pay ▷ noun compensation paid by an employer to an employee dismissed through no fault of their own.

severe /səˈvɪə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 extreme and difficult to endure; marked by extreme conditions. 2 very strict towards others. 3 suggesting seriousness; austerely restrained □ a severe appearance. 4 having serious consequences; grave □ a severe injury. 5 demanding; conforming to a rigorous standard. ● severely adverb ● severity /sə'verɪtɪ/ noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin severus.

severe combined immunodeficiency ▷ noun, medicine (abbreviation SCID) a severe form of congenital immunological deficiency.

sew /soʊ/ ▷ verb (past tense sewed, past participle sewed or sewn, present participle sewing) 1 to stitch, attach or repair (especially fabric) with thread, either by hand with a needle or by machine. 2 to make (garments) by stitching pieces of fabric together. 3 intr to work using a needle and thread, or sewing-machine. ● sewer noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon siwian.

■ sew something up 1 to mend or join it by sewing. 2 slang to arrange or complete it successfully and satisfactorily.

sewage /'suːɪdʒ/ ▷ noun any liquid-borne waste matter, especially human excrement, carried away in drains. ⓘ 19c: from SEWER.

sewage farm ▷ noun a place where sewage is treated so that it can be used as fertilizer.

sewer /suə(r), sjuə(r)/ ▷ noun a large underground pipe or channel for carrying away sewage from drains and water from road surfaces. ▷ verb (sewered, sewering) to provide with sewers. ⓘ 14c: from French essever to drain off.

sewerage /'suərɪdʒ, 'sjuərɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 a system or network of sewers. 2 drainage of sewage and surface water using sewers. ⓘ 19c.

sewing /'soʊɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 the act of sewing. 2 something that is being sewn □ I keep my sewing in the basket. ⓘ 13c.

sewing-machine ▷ noun a machine for sewing, especially an electric one for sewing clothes, etc.

sewn past participle of SEW sex ▷ noun (sexes) 1 either of the two classes, male and female, into which animals and plants are divided according to their role in reproduction. 2 membership of one of these classes, or the characteristics that determine this. 3 sexual intercourse, or the activities, feelings, desires, etc associated with it. ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to sexual matters in general □ sex education. 2 due to or based on the fact of being male or female □ sex discrimination. ▷ verb (sexed, sexing) to identify or determine the sex of (an animal). ⓘ 14c: from Latin sexus.

sex- and sexi- ▷ combining form, denoting six. ⓘ Latin.

sexagenarian /sɛksədʒə'nɛərɪən/ ▷ adj said of a person: aged between 60 and 69. ▷ noun a person of this age. ⓘ 18c: from Latin sexagenarius, from sexaginta sixty.

Sexagesima /sɛksə'dʒɛsɪmə/ ▷ noun (in full Sexagesima Sunday) the second Sunday before Lent, apparently so called by analogy with Quadragesima and Quinquagesima. ⓘ 14c: from Latin sexagesimus sixtieth.

sexagesimal /sɛksə'dʒɛsɪməl/ ▷ adj referring to or based on 60. ▷ noun a sexagesimal fraction. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sexagesimus sixtieth.

sex aid ▷ noun any of, or the use of, various articles and devices to artificially aid or heighten sexual arousal.

sex appeal ▷ noun the power of exciting sexual desire in other people; sexual attractiveness.

sex bomb ▷ noun, colloq a person, especially a female, with a lot of sex appeal.

sex change ▷ noun the changing of sex in humans by the surgical alteration or re-forming of the sex organs, and by the use of hormone treatment.

sex chromosome ▷ noun, genetics any chromosome that carries the genes which determine the sex of an organism.

sex drive ▷ noun the natural urge and appetite for sexual activity or gratification.

sexed /sɛkst/ ▷ adj, in compounds having sexual desires or urges as specified to engage in sexual activity □ highly sexed □ undersexed.

sexism /'sɛksɪzəm/ ▷ noun contempt shown for or discrimination against a particular sex, usually by men of women, based on prejudice or stereotype. ⓘ 1960s.

sexist /'sɛksɪst/ ▷ noun someone whose beliefs and actions are characterized by sexism. ▷ adj relating to or characteristic of sexism □ a sexist attitude. ⓘ 1960s.

sex kitten ▷ noun a young woman who deliberately and mischievously plays up her sex appeal.

sexless /'sɛksləs/ ▷ adj 1 neither male nor female. 2 having no desire to engage in sexual activity. 3 derog lacking in sexual attractiveness. ● sexlessness noun. ⓘ 16c.

sex linkage ▷ noun, genetics the tendency for certain inherited characteristics to occur predominantly or exclusively in one of the sexes because the genes for those characteristics are carried on the sex chromosomes.

sexology /sɛk'sɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun the study of human sexual behaviour, sexuality and relationships. ● sexologist noun someone who studies human sexual behaviour. ⓘ Early 20c.

sexpert /'sɛkspɜːt/ ▷ noun especially in the US: an expert in human sexual behaviour. ⓘ 1920s: a combination of SEX and EXPERT.

sexploitation /sɛksplɔɪ'teɪʃən/ ▷ noun the commercial exploitation of sex in literature, films and other media. ⓘ 1940s: a blend of SEX and EXPLOITATION.

sexpot ▷ noun, slang a person of obvious and very great physical attraction.

sex shop ▷ noun a shop selling articles connected with sexual arousal and behaviour, such as pornographic photographs, sex aids, etc.

sext /'sɛkst/ ▷ noun, now especially RC Church the fourth of the CANONICAL HOURS. ⓘ 14c: from Latin sextus sixth.

sextant /'sɛkstənt/ ▷ noun 1 a device consisting of a small telescope mounted on a graded metal arc, used in navigation and surveying for measuring angular distances. 2 the sixth part of a circle or circumference. ⓘ 16c: from Latin sextans sixth, the arc being one sixth of a full circle.

sextet /sɛk'stɛt/ ▷ noun 1 a a group of six singers or musicians; b a piece of music for this group. 2 any set of six. ⓘ 1840s: a variant of SESTET.

sex therapy ▷ noun, medicine a form of therapy that deals with physical and psychological problems relating to sexual relations, sexual intercourse, etc. ● sex therapist noun.

sextillion /sɛk'stɪlɪən/ ▷ noun (sextillions or sextillion) 1 the sixth power of a million. 2 in the US: the seventh power of 1000. ⓘ 17c.

sexton /'sɛkstən/ ▷ noun someone responsible for the church buildings and churchyard, often also having bell-ringing, grave-digging and other duties. ⓘ 14c: from SACRISTAN.

sextuple /'sɛkstjupəl, sɛk'stjuːpəl/ ▷ noun a value or quantity six times as much. ▷ adj 1 sixfold. 2 made up of six parts. ▷ verb (sextupled, sextupling) tr & intr to multiply or increase sixfold. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sextuplus.

sextuplet /'sɛkstjuplət, sɛk'stjuːplət/ ▷ noun 1 any of six children or animals born at the same time to the same mother. 2 music a group of six notes performed in the time of four. ⓘ 19c.

sexual /'sɛkʃuəl, 'sɛksjuəl/ ▷ adj 1 concerned with or suggestive of sex. 2 referring or relating to sexual reproduction involving the fusion of two gametes. 3 concerned with, relating to or according to membership of the male or female sex. • sexually adverb. ⊙ 17c.

sexual abuse ⊳ noun subjection to sexual activity, such as rape, likely to cause physical or psychological harm.

sexual athlete ⊳ noun someone who performs sexual intercourse skilfully and frequently.

sexual harassment ⊳ noun harassment consisting of misplaced, unwelcome and often offensive sexual advances or remarks, especially from a senior colleague, male or female, in the workplace.

sexual intercourse ⊳ noun the insertion of a man's penis into a woman's vagina, usually with the release of semen into the vagina.

sexuality /sɛkʃʊ'alɪtɪ, sɛksjʊ'alɪtɪ/ ⊳ noun a sexual state or condition. ⊙ Early 19c.

sexually transmitted disease ⊳ noun (abbreviation STD) any disease that is characteristically transmitted by sexual intercourse, formerly known as venereal disease, eg AIDS, gonorrhoea, syphilis, chlamydia.

sexual reproduction ⊳ noun a form of reproduction in which new individuals are produced by the fusion of two unlike GAMETEs, especially a sperm and an egg in higher animals, resulting in the offspring that differ genetically both from either of the parents and from each other. Compare ASEXUAL REPRODUCTION.

sexy /'sɛksɪ/ ⊳ adj (sexier, sexiest) colloq 1 said of a person: sexually attractive; stimulating or arousing sexual desire. 2 said of an object, idea, etc: currently popular or interesting; attractive or tempting □ sexy products. • sexily adverb. • sexiness noun. ⊙ 1920s.

SF ⊳ abbreviation science fiction.

sf. and sfz. ⊳ abbreviation sforzando.

SFA ⊳ abbreviation 1 Scottish Football Association. 2 slang Sweet Fanny Adams, nothing at all.

sforzando /sfɔːt'sandoʊ/ and sforzato /sfɔːt'sɑːtoʊ/ ⊳ adverb, adj, music played with sudden emphasis. Also as noun. ⊙ Early 19c: Italian, from sforzare to force, from Latin ex out + fortis force.

sfumato /sfʊ'mɑːtoʊ/ ⊳ noun (sfumatos) in painting and drawing: a misty indistinct effect obtained by gradually blending together areas of different colour or tone. ⊙ 19c: Italian, from sfumare to shade off, from Latin ex out + fumare to smoke.

sfx /ɛsɛf'ɛks/ ⊳ noun short for SPECIAL EFFECTS.

SG ⊳ abbreviation Solicitor-General.

Sg ⊳ symbol, chem seaborgium.

sgraffito /zgra'fiːtoʊ/ and graffito ⊳ noun (sgraffiti /-tiː/) 1 a decorative technique in art in which one colour is laid over another and the top layer scratched away to form a design, by revealing the colour beneath. 2 pottery with such a decoration. ⊙ 18c: from Italian sgraffito, from Latin ex + Greek graphein to write.

Sgt ⊳ abbreviation Sergeant.

sh /ʃ/ ⊳ exclamation hush; be quiet.

shabby /'ʃabɪ/ ⊳ adj (shabbier, shabbiest) 1 said especially of clothes or furnishings: old and worn; threadbare or dingy. 2 said of a person: wearing such clothes; scruffy. 3 said of behaviour, conduct, etc: unworthy, discreditable or contemptible; nasty or mean. • shabbily adverb. • shabbiness noun. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon sceabb.

Shabuoth /sha'vjuːɒθ/ , Shavuoth and Shavuot ⊳ noun the Jewish 'Feast of Weeks', celebrated seven weeks after the first day of Passover to commemorate the giving of the Law to Moses. ⊙ 19c: Hebrew, meaning 'weeks'.

shack ⊳ noun a crudely built hut or shanty. ⊙ 19c.

■ shack up slang to live with someone, usually without being married □ They shacked up together.

shackle /'ʃakəl/ ⊳ noun 1 (usually shackles) a metal ring locked round the ankle or wrist of a prisoner or slave to limit movement, usually one of a pair joined by a chain. 2 (usually shackles) anything that restricts freedom; a hindrance or constraint. 3 a U-shaped metal loop or staple closed over by a shackle-bolt, used for fastening ropes or chains together. 4 the curved movable part of a padlock. ⊳ verb (shackled, shackling) 1 to restrain with or as if with shackles. 2 to connect or couple. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon sceacul.

shad ⊳ noun (shad, shads) any of various marine fish resembling a large herring but with a deeper body. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon sceadd.

shadbush ⊳ noun a N American rosaceous shrub, flowering at shad spawning-time.

shade ⊳ noun 1 the blocking or partial blocking out of sunlight, or the relative darkness caused by this. 2 an area from which sunlight has been completely or partially blocked. 3 any device used to modify direct light, eg a lampshade. 4 a device, eg a screen, used as a shield from direct heat, light, etc. 5 US a window-blind. 6 an obscure area or location. 7 a dark or shaded area in a drawing or painting. 8 the state of appearing less impressive than something or someone else □ He always lived in the shade of his brother's achievements □ Her singing puts mine in the shade. 9 a colour, especially one similar to but slightly different from a principal colour □ a lighter shade of blue. 10 a small amount; a touch □ My house is a shade smaller than that. 11 (shades) colloq sunglasses. 12 literary a ghost. ⊳ verb (shaded, shading) 1 to block or partially block out sunlight from someone or something. 2 to draw or paint so as to give the impression of shade. 3 (usually shade off or away) to change gradually or unnoticeably. • shadeless adj. • in the shade 1 sheltered from strong light or heat. 2 overlooked or forgotten; in relative obscurity. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon sceadu.

shading /'ʃeɪdɪŋ/ ⊳ noun in drawing and painting: the representation of areas of shade or shadows, eg by close parallel lines.

shadoof or shaduf /ʃɑː'duːf/ ⊳ noun an irrigation device for lifting water from a river or watercourse and transferring it to the land, consisting of a bucket suspended from a counterpoised pivoted rod, used mainly for irrigation in the Nile flood plain. ⊙ 19c: from Egyptian Arabic shaduf.

shadow /'ʃadoʊ/ ⊳ noun 1 a dark shape cast on a surface when an object stands between the surface and the source of light. 2 an area darkened by the blocking out of light. 3 the darker areas of a picture. 4 a slight amount; a hint or trace □ without a shadow of a doubt. 5 a sense of gloom, trouble or foreboding □ The incident cast a shadow over the proceedings. 6 a weakened person or thing which has wasted away to almost nothing □ She's a shadow of her former self. 7 a constant companion. 8 a person following another closely and secretively, especially a spy or detective. 9 a ghost or spirit. ⊳ verb (shadowed, shadowing) 1 to put into darkness by blocking out light. 2 to cloud or darken. 3 to follow closely and secretively. ⊳ adj, politics in the main opposition party: denoting a political counterpart to a member or section of the government □ shadow Foreign Secretary. • afraid of one's own shadow extremely or excessively timid. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon sceadwe, accusative case of sceadu SHADE.

shadow-boxing ⊳ noun boxing against an imaginary opponent as training. • shadow-box verb, intr to practise shadow-boxing.

shadow cabinet ⊳ noun, politics a body made up of leading members of an opposition party, holding shadow ministerial positions and ready to take office should their party assume power.

shadowgraph ▷ noun 1 a picture or image produced by throwing a shadow on a screen for entertainment. 2 a RADIOGRAPH (see under RADIOGRAPHY).

shadow-mask tube ▷ noun a type of cathode-ray tube for colour television, in which electron beams from three separate guns are deflected so that they fall on minute phosphor dots of the appropriate colour, which glow according to the intensity of the beam reaching them.

shadow puppet ▷ noun a puppet which is manipulated so as to cast a shadow on a screen.

shadowy /ˈʃadoʊɪ/ ▷ adj 1 dark and shady; not clearly visible □ a shadowy figure. 2 secluded; darkened by shadows. ● shadowiness noun. ⓘ 14c.

shady /ˈʃeɪdɪ/ ▷ adj (shadier, shadiest) 1 sheltered or giving shelter from heat or sunlight. 2 colloq underhand or disreputable, often dishonest or illegal □ a shady character. 3 shadowy or mysterious; sinister. ● shadily adverb. ● shadiness noun. ⓘ 16c.

Shaef /ʃeɪf/ ▷ abbreviation Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, World War II.

shaft /ʃɑːft/ ▷ noun 1 the long straight handle of a tool or weapon. 2 the long straight part or handle of anything. 3 a ray or beam of light. 4 a thing directed (usually at someone) with the violent force of an arrow or missile □ shafts of sarcasm. 5 in vehicle engines: a rotating rod that transmits motion. 6 a vertical passageway in a building, especially one through which a lift moves. 7 a well-like excavation or passage, eg into a mine. 8 either of the projecting parts of a cart, etc to which a horse is attached. 9 anatomy the middle section of any long bone. 10 archit the long middle part of a column, between the base and the capital. 11 the RACHIS of a feather. 12 slang the penis. ▷ verb (shafted, shafting) 1 US slang to dupe, cheat or swindle. 2 slang to have sexual intercourse with (a woman). ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceaft.

shag¹ ▷ noun 1 a ragged mass of hair. 2 a long coarse pile or nap on fabric. 3 a type of tobacco cut into coarse shreds. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceacga.

shag² ▷ noun a species of cormorant with glossy dark-green plumage, a long neck, webbed feet and an upright stance. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon SHAG¹ shag³ ▷ coarse slang, verb (shagged, shagging) 1 to have sexual intercourse with someone. 2 (usually shag out) to tire. ▷ noun an act of sexual intercourse. ⓘ 20c: probably from SHAG¹.

shaggy /ˈʃagɪ/ ▷ adj (shaggier, shaggiest) 1 said of hair, fur, wool, etc: long and coarse; rough and untidy in appearance. 2 said of a person or animal: having shaggy hair or fur. ● shaggily adverb. ● shagginess noun. ⓘ 16c.

shaggy dog story ▷ noun a story or joke, humorous because of its ridiculous length and the inconsequence of its ending.

shagreen /ʃaˈgriːn/ ▷ noun 1 a coarse granular leather, often dyed green, made from the skin of animals, especially a horse or donkey. 2 the skin of a shark, ray, etc covered with small nodules, used as an abrasive. ⓘ 17c: from French chagrin, from Turkish sagri horse's rump.

shah /ʃɑː/ ▷ noun, historical a title of the former rulers of Iran and other Eastern countries. ⓘ 16c: Persian.

shake ▷ verb (shook, shaken, shaking) 1 to move with quick, often forceful to-and-fro or up-and-down movements. 2 (also shake something up) to mix it in this way. 3 to wave violently and threateningly; to brandish □ He shook his fist at them. 4 tr & intr to tremble or make something or someone tremble, totter or shiver. 5 to cause intense shock to; to agitate profoundly □ the accident that shook the nation. 6 (also shake someone up) to disturb, unnerve or upset them greatly □ He was very shaken after the accident. 7 to make something or someone waver; to weaken □ The experience shook my confidence. 8 intr to shake hands. 9 intr, music to trill. ▷ noun 1 an act or the action of shaking. 2 colloq a very short while, a moment. 3 (the shakes) colloq a fit of uncontrollable trembling. 4 a milk shake. 5 music a trill. 6 a natural fissure formed in rock or growing timber. ● shakeable or shakable adj. ● no great shakes colloq not of great importance, ability or worth. ● shake a leg colloq to hurry up or get moving. ● shake hands or shake hands with someone 1 to greet them by clasping each others hands. 2 to seal a bargain, acknowledge an agreement, settle differences, etc. ● shake one's head to turn one's head from side to side as a sign of rejection, disagreement, disapproval, denial, etc. ● two shakes (of a lamb's tail) colloq a very short time. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceacan.

■ shake down 1 to settle by shaking. 2 to go to bed, especially in a makeshift or temporary bed. See also SHAKEDOWN.

■ shake someone down 1 slang to extort money from them by threats or blackmail. 2 to frisk them (for weapons, drugs, etc). See also SHAKEDOWN.

■ shake something down 1 to make it settle by shaking. 2 slang to search it thoroughly.

■ shake something or someone off 1 to get rid of them; to free oneself from them. 2 to escape from them.

■ shake out to empty, or cause to spread or unfold, by shaking.

■ shake someone up colloq to stimulate them into action, especially from a state of lethargy or apathy. See also SHAKE-UP.

■ shake something up 1 to mix it. 2 colloq to reorganize it thoroughly. See also SHAKE-UP.

shakedown ▷ noun, colloq 1 a makeshift or temporary bed, originally made by shaking down straw. 2 an act of extortion. 3 chiefly N Amer a trial run or operation to familiarize personnel with equipment and procedures. See also SHAKEDOWN, SHAKE SOMEONE DOWN at SHAKE. ⓘ 18c.

shaker /ˈʃeɪkə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that shakes. 2 a container from which something, eg salt, is dispensed by shaking. 3 a container in which something, eg a cocktail, is mixed by shaking. ⓘ 15c.

Shakespearean or Shakespearian /ʃeɪkˈspɪərɪən/ ▷ adj relating to or characteristic of the style of William Shakespeare (1564–1616), or his literary works. ⓘ 18c.

shake-up and shake-out ▷ noun, colloq a fundamental change, disturbance or reorganization. See also SHAKE SOMEONE UP, SHAKE SOMETHING UP at SHAKE.

shako /ˈʃakoʊ/ ▷ noun (shakos or shakoes) a tall, and usually cylindrical, military cap with a plume. ⓘ Early 19c: from Hungarian csákó.

shaky /ˈʃeɪkɪ/ ▷ adj (shakier, shakiest) 1 trembling or inclined to tremble with, or as if with, weakness, fear or illness. 2 colloq wavering; not solid, sound or secure. 3 disputable or uncertain □ shaky knowledge. ● shakily adverb. ● shakiness noun. ⓘ 18c.

shale ▷ noun, geol a fine-grained black, grey, brown or red sedimentary rock, easily split into thin layers, formed as a result of the compression of clay, silt or sand by overlying rocks. ● shaly adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon scealu.

shall /ʃal, ʃəl/ ▷ auxiliary verb expressing: 1 the future tense of other verbs, especially when the subject is I or we. 2 determination, intention, certainty, and obligation, especially when the subject is you, he, she, it or they □ They shall succeed □ You shall have what you want □ He shall become king □ You shall not kill. 3 a question implying future action, often with the sense of an offer or suggestion, especially when the subject is I or we □ What shall we do? □ Shall I give you a hand? See note on next page. See also SHOULD, WILL. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceal.

> shall
>
> • The rule about shall and will used to be as follows: to express the simple future, use shall with I and we, and will with you, he, she, it and they; to express permission, obligation or determination, use will with I and we, and shall with you, he, she, it and they.
>
> • Nowadays, I will and we will are commonly used to express the simple future.
>
> • Note that shall is often used in questions in the second person to show that the question is really a neutral request for information rather than a request that something be done □ Shall you tell him about it?

shallop /ˈʃaləp/ ▷ noun a dinghy; a small or light boat for use in shallow water. ⓘ 18c: from French chaloupe.

shallot or shalot /ʃəˈlɒt/ ▷ noun 1 a species of small onion, widely cultivated as a vegetable, that produces clusters of oval bulbs which are smaller and milder in flavour than the onion. 2 any of these small bulbs, widely used in cooking and for making pickles. ⓘ 17c: from French eschalote.

shallow /ˈʃaloʊ/ ▷ adj 1 having no great depth. 2 not profound or sincere; superficial □ a shallow personality. ▷ noun (often shallows) a shallow place or part, especially in water. ▷ verb (shallowed, shallowing) to make something shallow. • shallowly adverb. • shallowness noun. ⓘ 15c.

shalom aleichem /ʃaˈlɒm əˈleɪxəm/ ▷ noun ▷ exclamation a Jewish greeting or farewell. Often shortened to shalom. ⓘ 19c: Hebrew, meaning 'peace be with you'.

shalt /ʃalt/ ▷ verb, archaic the second person singular of the verb SHALL, used with thou.

shaly see under SHALE sham ▷ adj false, counterfeit or pretended; insincere. ▷ verb (shammed, shamming) tr & intr 1 to pretend or feign. 2 to make false pretences or to pretend to be □ to sham sick. ▷ noun 1 anything not genuine. 2 a person who shams, especially an impostor. ⓘ 17c: derived from SHAME.

shaman /ˈʃeɪmən, ˈʃamən, ˈʃɑːmən/ ▷ noun (shamans) especially among certain N Asian and Native American peoples: a doctor-priest or medicine man or medicine woman using magic to cure illness, make contact with gods and spirits, predict the future, etc. ⓘ 17c: Russian, from Tungus saman, probably ultimately from Sanskrit srama religious practice.

shamanism /ˈʃeɪmənɪzəm, ˈʃa-, ˈʃɑː-/ ▷ noun especially among certain N Asian and Native American peoples: a religion dominated by shamans, based essentially on magic, spiritualism and sorcery. • shamanist noun. • shamanistic adj. ⓘ 18c.

shamateur /ˈʃamətɜː(r), ˈʃamətə(r), ˈʃamətjʊə(r)/ ▷ noun in sport: someone rated as an amateur, but still making money from playing or competing. ⓘ Late 19c: a blend of SHAM and AMATEUR.

shamble /ˈʃambəl/ ▷ verb (shambled, shambling) intr (usually shamble along, past, etc) to walk with slow awkward tottering steps. ▷ noun a shambling walk or pace. • shambling noun, adj. ⓘ 17c: from SHAMBLES, in allusion to trestle-like legs.

shambles /ˈʃambəlz/ ▷ singular noun 1 colloq a confused mess or muddle; a state of total disorder □ The whole event was a shambles. 2 a meat market. 3 a slaughterhouse. 4 a scene or place of slaughter or carnage. • shambolic /-ˈbɒlɪk/ adj, colloq totally disorganized; chaotic. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceamel stool, from Latin scamellum, diminutive of scamnum a bench.

shame ▷ noun 1 the humiliating feeling of having appeared unfavourably in one's own eyes, or those of others, as a result of one's own offensive or disrespectful actions, or those of an associate. 2 susceptibility to such a feeling or emotion. 3 fear or scorn of incurring or bringing disgrace or dishonour. 4 disgrace or loss of reputation □ He's brought shame on the whole family. 5 someone or something bringing this. 6 modesty or bashfulness. 7 a regrettable or disappointing event or situation □ It's such a shame that he failed his exam. ▷ verb (shamed, shaming) 1 to make someone feel shame. 2 to bring disgrace on someone or something. • put someone to shame 1 to disgrace them. 2 to make them seem inadequate by comparison. • shame on you, them, etc you, they, etc should be ashamed. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceamu.

> ■ shame someone into something to provoke them into taking action by inspiring feelings of shame □ He shamed him into telling the truth.

shamefaced /ˈʃeɪmfeɪst/ ▷ adj 1 showing shame or embarrassment; abashed. 2 modest or bashful. • shamefacedly /-ˈfeɪstlɪ, -ˈfeɪsɪdlɪ/ adverb in a shamefaced manner. ⓘ 16c: originally shamefast held by shame.

shameful ▷ adj bringing or deserving shame; disgraceful □ shameful behaviour. • shamefully adverb. • shamefulness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

shameless ▷ adj 1 incapable of feeling shame; showing no shame. 2 carried out or done without shame; brazen or immodest. • shamelessly adverb. • shamelessness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

shammy /ˈʃamɪ/ ▷ noun (shammies) colloq (in full shammy leather) a chamois leather. ⓘ 18c: from CHAMOIS.

shampoo /ʃamˈpuː/ ▷ noun (shampoos) 1 a soapy liquid for washing the hair and scalp. 2 a similar liquid for cleaning carpets or upholstery. 3 the act or an instance of treating with either liquid. ▷ verb (shampooed, shampooing) to wash or clean with shampoo. ⓘ 18c: from Hindi champo squeeze, from champna to press.

shamrock /ˈʃamrɒk/ ▷ noun any of various plants with leaves divided into three rounded leaflets, especially various species of clover, adopted as the national emblem of Ireland. ⓘ 16c: from Irish Gaelic seamrog.

shandy /ˈʃandɪ/ ▷ noun (shandies) a mixture of beer or lager with lemonade or ginger beer. ⓘ 1880s.

shanghai /ʃaŋˈhaɪ/ ▷ noun (shanghais) Austral, NZ a catapult. ▷ verb (shanghais, shanghaied, shanghaiing) colloq 1 to kidnap and drug or make drunk and send to sea as a sailor. 2 to trick into any unpleasant situation. 3 Austral, NZ to shoot using a shanghai. ⓘ 19c: named after Shanghai in China, from the former use of this method in recruiting sailors for trips to the East.

shank ▷ noun 1 the lower leg between the knee and the foot. 2 the same part of the leg in an animal, especially a horse. 3 a cut of meat from the upper leg of an animal. 4 a shaft, stem or other long straight part. 5 the main section of the handle of a tool. 6 the part of a shoe connecting the sole to the heel. 7 the leg of a stocking. ▷ verb (shanked, shanking) 1 bot to become affected with disease of the footstalk. 2 golf to strike the ball by mistake with the section of the club where the clubhead meets the shaft. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceanca leg.

shanks's pony and (US) shank's mare ▷ noun, colloq the use of one's own legs as a means of travelling.

shanny /ˈʃanɪ/ ▷ noun (shannies) the smooth blenny, a small marine fish found in rock pools and coastal areas. ⓘ 1830s.

shan't /ʃɑːnt/ ▷ contraction, colloq shall not.

shantung /ʃanˈtʌŋ/ ▷ noun 1 a plain and usually undyed fabric of wild silk with a rough finish. 2 a similar cotton or rayon fabric. ⓘ 19c: named after Shantung (Shandong) province in China where it was originally made.

shanty[1] /ˈʃantɪ/ ▷ noun (shanties) 1 a roughly built hut or cabin; a shack. 2 Austral, NZ a rough public house, especially one selling alcohol illicitly. ◷ Early 19c: from Canadian French chantier woodcutter's cabin.

shanty[2] /ˈʃantɪ/ ▷ noun (shanties) a rhythmical song with chorus and solo verses, formerly sung by sailors while working together. ◷ 19c: from French chanter to sing.

shanty town ▷ noun a town, or an area of one, in which poor people live in makeshift or ramshackle housing.

Shape ▷ abbreviation Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers Europe, NATO.

shape ▷ noun 1 the outline or form of anything. 2 a person's body or figure. 3 a form, person, etc □ I had an assistant in the shape of my brother. 4 a desired form or condition □ We'll have to get the contract into shape □ We like to keep in shape. 5 a general condition □ in bad shape. 6 an unidentifiable figure; an apparition □ There were shapes lurking in the dark. 7 a mould or pattern. 8 a jelly, pudding, etc turned out of a mould. 9 a geometric figure. ▷ verb (shaped, shaping) 1 to form or fashion; to give a particular form to something. 2 to influence to an important extent □ the event that shaped history. 3 to devise, determine or develop to suit a particular purpose. • shapeable or shapable adj. • in any shape or form at all □ I'm not having it in any shape or form. • out of shape 1 unfit; in poor physical condition. 2 deformed or disfigured. • take shape 1 to take on a definite form. 2 to finally become recognizable as the desired result of plans or theories. ◷ Anglo-Saxon sceppan.

■ shape up colloq 1 to appear to be developing in a particular way □ This project is shaping up well. 2 to be promising; to progress or develop well. 3 to lose weight; to tone up □ I'm trying to shape up for summer.

shapeless ▷ adj 1 having an ill-defined or irregular shape. 2 unattractively shaped. • shapelessness noun. ◷ 13c.

shapely /ˈʃeɪplɪ/ ▷ adj said especially of the human body: having an attractive, well-proportioned shape or figure. • shapeliness ◷ 14c.

shard and sherd /ʃɑːd/ ▷ noun a fragment of something brittle, usually pottery, especially when found on an archaeological site. ◷ Anglo-Saxon sceard.

share[1] ▷ noun 1 a part allotted, contributed, or owned by each of several people or groups. 2 a portion, section or division. 3 (usually shares) the fixed units into which the total wealth of a business company is divided, ownership of which gives the right to receive a portion of the company's profits. ▷ verb (shared, sharing) 1 to have in common □ We share several interests. 2 to use something with someone else □ We had to share a book in class. 3 (also share in something) to have joint possession or use of it, or joint responsibility for it, with another or others. 4 to divide into shares. • sharer noun. • go shares colloq to divide something. • lion's share see under LION. • share and share alike 1 to give everyone their due share. 2 with or in equal shares. ◷ Anglo-Saxon scearu.

■ share something out to divide it into portions and distribute it among several people or groups. See also SHARE-OUT.

share[2] ▷ noun a PLOUGHSHARE. ◷ Anglo-Saxon scear.

sharecropper ▷ noun, especially US a tenant farmer who supplies a share of their crops as rent payment. • sharecrop verb, intr to rent and work a farm in this way.

sharefarmer ▷ noun, especially Austral a tenant farmer who pays a share of the proceeds from the farm as rent.

shareholder ▷ noun someone who owns shares in a company. • shareholding noun.

share index ▷ noun an index showing the movement of shares in companies trading on a stock exchange.

share option ▷ noun the right of a person, on payment of a fee, to buy or sell shares for an agreed amount at or within a specified period of time.

share-out ▷ noun a distribution in or by shares. See also SHARE SOMETHING OUT at SHARE.

shareware ▷ noun, computing software readily available for a nominal fee.

sharia /ʃəˈriːə/ and shariat /ʃəˈriːət/ ▷ noun the body of Islamic religious law. ◷ 19c: from Arabic.

shark ▷ noun 1 any of 400 species of large cartilaginous fishes which have remained virtually unchanged for millions of years, with a spindle-shaped body covered with tooth-like scales, and a tail fin with a long upper lobe and shorter lower lobe. 2 colloq a ruthless or dishonest person, especially one who swindles, exploits or extorts. ◷ 16c in sense 2: perhaps from German Schurke scoundrel.

sharkskin ▷ noun 1 leather made from a shark's skin; shagreen. 2 smooth rayon fabric with a dull sheen. ◷ 1850s.

sharon fruit ▷ noun a PERSIMMON.

sharp ▷ adj 1 having a thin edge or point that cuts or pierces. 2 having a bitter pungent taste. 3 severely or harshly felt; penetrating □ sharp pain. 4 sudden and acute □ sharp increases □ a sharp bend. 5 abrupt or harsh in speech; sarcastic. 6 easily perceived; clear-cut or well-defined □ a sharp contrast. 7 keen or perceptive. 8 eager; alert to one's own interests. 9 barely honest; cunning. 10 fit; adept or able. 11 having abrupt or acute corners. 12 colloq stylish □ a sharp dresser. 13 music higher in pitch by a semitone □ C sharp. Compare FLAT[1] (adj 11b). 14 music slightly too high in pitch. ▷ noun 1 music a note raised by a semitone, or the sign indicating this (♯). 2 music the key producing this note. 3 colloq a practised cheat; a SHARPER □ a card sharp. 4 a long slender needle. 5 (sharps) the hard parts of wheat. ▷ adverb 1 punctually; on the dot □ at 9 o'clock sharp. 2 suddenly □ pulled up sharp. 3 music high or too high in pitch. • sharply adverb. • sharpness noun. • at the sharp end in the position of greatest difficulty, pressure, danger, stress, etc in any activity or situation. • look sharp colloq to hurry up; to be quick. ◷ Anglo-Saxon scearp.

sharpen /ˈʃɑːpən/ ▷ verb (sharpened, sharpening) tr & intr to make or become sharp. • sharpener noun.

sharper /ˈʃɑːpə(r)/ ▷ noun, colloq a practised cheat; a sharp. ◷ 17c.

sharpish ▷ adj quite sharp. ▷ adverb quickly; promptly □ I'd get there sharpish if I were you!

sharp practice ▷ noun dishonesty or cheating; unscrupulous dealing.

sharp-set ▷ adj eager or keen in appetite for anything, especially food or sexual indulgence.

sharpshooter ▷ noun a good marksman. • sharpshooting adj.

sharp-tongued ▷ adj critical or harsh in speech; sarcastic.

sharp-witted ▷ adj quick to perceive, act or react; keenly intelligent or alert. • sharp-wittedly adverb.

shat past tense, past participle of SHIT shatter /ˈʃatə(r)/ ▷ verb (shattered, shattering) 1 tr & intr to break into tiny fragments, usually suddenly or with force. 2 to destroy completely; to wreck. 3 to upset greatly. 4 colloq to tire out or exhaust. • shattered adj, colloq 1 exhausted. 2 extremely upset. • shattering adj. ◷ 14c: see SCATTER.

shatterproof /ˈʃatəpruːf/ ▷ adj made to be specially resistant to shattering.

shave ▷ verb (shaved, shaving) 1 to cut off (hair) from (especially the face) with a razor or shaver. 2 intr to remove one's facial hair in this way. 3 to remove thin slivers from the surface of (especially wood) with a sharp bladed tool. 4 to graze the surface of something in passing. ▷ noun 1 an act or the process of shaving one's facial hair. 2 a tool for shaving or slicing wood. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceafan.

shaven /ˈʃeɪvən/ ▷ adj 1 shaved; close-cut or smooth. 2 tonsured. ⓘ 14c.

shaver /ˈʃeɪvə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 an electrical device with a moving blade or set of blades for shaving hair. 2 old use, colloq a young boy. ⓘ 15c.

shaving /ˈʃeɪvɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 the removal of hair with a razor. 2 a thin sliver (especially of wood) taken off with a sharp bladed tool. ⓘ 14c.

Shavuot or Shavuoth see SHABUOTH shawl ▷ noun a large single piece of fabric used to cover the head or shoulders or to wrap a baby. ⓘ 17c: from Persian shal.

shawm ▷ noun, music an instrument, a predecessor of the oboe, with a double reed and a flat circular mouthpiece. ⓘ 14c: from French chalemie, from Latin calamus reed.

she /ʃiː, ʃɪ/ ▷ pronoun a female person or animal, or thing thought of as female (eg a ship), named before or understood from the context. ▷ noun a female person or animal. ▷ adj, especially in compounds female □ she-devil. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon seo, feminine form of the definite article which replaced the pronoun heo in the 12c.

shea /ʃiː, ʃɪə/ ▷ noun (sheas) an African tree whose seeds, called shea-nuts, yield shea-butter. Also called shea-tree. ⓘ 18c: from W African si.

sheading /ˈʃiːdɪŋ/ ▷ noun any of the six divisions of the Isle of Man. ⓘ 16c: a variant of SHEDDING (from SHED[2]).

sheaf ▷ noun (sheaves) 1 a bundle of things tied together, especially of reaped corn. 2 a bundle of papers. 3 a bundle of usually 24 arrows in a quiver. ▷ verb (also sheave) (sheafed, sheafing; sheaved, sheaving) 1 to tie up in a bundle. 2 intr to make sheaves. • sheaved adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceaf.

shear ▷ verb (past tense sheared, past participle sheared or shorn, present participle shearing) 1 to clip or cut off something, especially with a large pair of clippers. 2 to cut the fleece off (a sheep). 3 to cut excess nap from (fabric). 4 (usually shear someone of something) to strip or deprive them of it □ We'll have to shear him of his privileges □ He was shorn of all authority. 5 tr & intr, engineering, physics (also shear off) to subject to a shear. ▷ noun 1 the act of shearing. 2 (shears) a large pair of clippers, or a scissor-like cutting tool with a pivot or spring. 3 engineering, physics a force acting parallel to a plane rather than at right angles to it. • shearer noun someone who shears sheep. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceran.

shearling /ˈʃɪəlɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 a young sheep that has been shorn for the first time. 2 the fleece of such a sheep. ⓘ 14c.

shear pin ▷ noun in a machine: a pin which, as a safety mechanism, will break and halt the machine or power-transmission when the correct load or stress is exceeded.

shearwater ▷ noun 1 a petrel with a long slender bill, dark plumage on the upper part of its body, and pale plumage beneath. 2 a SKIMMER (noun 3). ⓘ 17c.

sheath /ʃiːθ/ ▷ noun 1 a case or covering for the blade of a sword or knife. 2 a long close-fitting covering. 3 a condom. 4 (also sheathdress) a straight tight-fitting dress. 5 biol in plants and animals: any protective or encasing structure. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceath.

sheathe /ʃiːð/ ▷ verb (sheathed, sheathing) to put into or cover with a sheath or case. ⓘ 14c.

sheathing /ˈʃiːðɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 something which sheathes; casing. 2 the protective covering, usually metal, of a ship's hull. ⓘ 14c.

sheave[1] /ʃiːv/ ▷ noun a grooved wheel, especially a pulley-wheel. ⓘ 14c.

sheave[2] see under SHEAF shebang /ʃɪˈbaŋ/ ▷ noun, originally US slang an affair or matter; a situation □ the whole shebang. ⓘ 1860s: perhaps connected with SHEBEEN.

shebeen /ʃəˈbiːn/ ▷ noun 1 an illicit liquor-shop. 2 in Ireland: illicit and usually home-made alcohol. ⓘ 18c.

shed[1] ▷ noun a wooden or metal outbuilding, usually small, sometimes open-fronted, for working in, for storage or for shelter. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sced, a variant of SHADE.

shed[2] ▷ verb (shed, shedding) 1 to release or make something flow □ shed tears. 2 to get rid of or cast off something □ shed a skin □ shed jobs. 3 to cast □ It shed light on the whole problem. 4 to allow to flow off □ This fabric sheds water. • shedder noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceadan.

she'd /ʃiːd, ʃɪd/ ▷ contraction 1 she had. 2 she would.

sheen ▷ noun shine, lustre or radiance; glossiness. • sheeny adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sciene beautiful.

sheep ▷ noun (plural sheep) 1 any of various wild or domesticated species of a herbivorous mammal with a stocky body covered with a thick woolly fleece, kept worldwide as a farm animal for its meat and wool. 2 a meek person, especially one who follows or obeys unquestioningly, like a sheep in a flock. 3 a member of a congregation, thought of as being looked after by the pastor. • separate the sheep from the goats to identify, especially by way of a test, the superior members of any group. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceap.

sheepcote /ˈʃiːpkoʊt/ ▷ noun an enclosure for sheep. Also called sheepfold.

sheep-dip ▷ noun 1 a disinfectant insecticidal preparation in a dipping bath, used for washing sheep in order to control parasitic diseases such as sheep scab. 2 the trough or dipping bath for this preparation.

sheepdog ▷ noun 1 any working dog that is used to guard sheep from wild animals or to assist in herding. 2 any of several breeds of dog originally developed to herd sheep, eg Old English sheepdog, Shetland sheepdog, etc.

sheepish /ˈʃiːpɪʃ/ ▷ adj 1 embarrassed through having done something wrong or foolish. 2 sheep-like. • sheepishly adverb. • sheepishness noun.

sheepshank /ˈʃiːpʃaŋk/ ▷ noun a nautical knot used for shortening a rope.

sheepskin ▷ noun 1 the skin of a sheep, either with or without the fleece attached to it. 2 a rug or piece of clothing made from this. 3 leather made from sheep's skin.

sheepwalk ▷ noun a range of pasture for sheep.

sheer[1] ▷ adj 1 complete; absolute or downright □ sheer madness. 2 said of a cliff, etc: vertical or nearly vertical □ a sheer drop. 3 said eg of a fabric: so thin or fine as to be almost transparent □ sheer tights. ▷ adverb 1 completely. 2 vertically or nearly vertically □ a rock face rising sheer. • sheerly adverb. ⓘ 13c as schere: possibly from a lost Anglo-Saxon equivalent of Norse skaerr bright.

sheer[2] ▷ noun 1 a deviation. 2 the fore-and-aft upward curve of a ship's deck or sides. ▷ verb (sheered, sheering) to make something change course or deviate. ⓘ 17c: partly another spelling of SHEAR; perhaps partly from German or Dutch equivalent scheren to cut or withdraw.

■ sheer off or away 1 to change course suddenly; to swerve or deviate. 2 to move away, especially to evade someone or something disliked or feared.

sheet[1] ▷ noun 1 a large broad rectangular piece of fabric, especially for covering the mattress of a bed. 2 any large wide piece or expanse. 3 a piece of paper, especially if large and rectangular. 4 a pamphlet, broadsheet or newspaper. 5 printing a section of a book printed on one piece of paper. 6 as adj ▫ sheet-metal. ▻ verb (sheeted, sheeting) 1 to wrap or cover with or as if with a sheet. 2 to provide with sheets. 3 intr said of rain, ice, etc: to form in or fall in a sheet. ◎ Anglo-Saxon scete.

sheet[2] ▻ noun, naut a controlling rope attached to the lower corner of a sail. ◎ Anglo-Saxon sceata corner.

sheet-anchor ▻ noun 1 naut an extra anchor for use in an emergency. 2 a person or thing relied on for support, especially in a crisis; a last hope or refuge. ◎ 15c: originally shoot-anchor.

sheeting ▻ noun 1 fabric used for making sheets. 2 protective boarding or metal covering. 3 the formation or process of making sheets. ◎ 18c.

sheet lightning ▻ noun lightning that appears as a broad curtain of light.

sheet music ▻ noun music written or printed on unbound sheets of paper.

sheikh or sheik /ʃeɪk/ ▻ noun 1 the chief of an Arab tribe, village or family. 2 a Muslim leader. ● sheikhdom noun the territory of a sheikh. ◎ 16c: from Arabic shaikh old man, from shakha to be old.

sheila /ˈʃiːlə/ ▻ noun, Austral, NZ colloq a woman or girl. ◎ 19c: from the proper name.

shekel /ˈʃɛkəl/ ▻ noun 1 the standard unit of currency in Israel, divided into 100 agorot. 2 an ancient Jewish weight (14 grams) and a coin of this weight. 3 (shekels) slang money. ◎ 16c: from Hebrew sheqel, from shaqal to weigh.

sheldrake /ˈʃɛldreɪk/ ▻ noun a male shelduck. ◎ 14c: from dialect sheld variegated + DRAKE.

shelduck /ˈʃɛldʌk/ ▻ noun a large goose-like duck which has white plumage with bold patterns of chestnut and black, a dark green head, a red bill and pink legs. ◎ 18c: from dialect sheld variegated + DUCK.

shelf ▻ noun (shelves) 1 a usually narrow, flat board fixed to a wall or part of a cupboard, bookcase, etc, for storing or laying things on. 2 said especially of books: a shelf-ful. 3 a ledge of land, rock, etc; a sandbank. ● on the shelf 1 said of a person or thing: too old or worn out to be of any use. 2 said of a person, especially a woman: no longer likely to have the opportunity to marry, especially because of being too old. ◎ Anglo-Saxon scylf.

shelf-life ▻ noun the length of time that a stored product remains usable, edible, etc.

shell ▻ noun 1 bot the hard protective structure covering the seed or fruit of some plants. 2 zool the hard protective structure covering the body of certain animals, especially shellfish, snails and tortoises. 3 the hard protective structure covering an egg. 4 the empty covering of eg a shellfish, found on the seashore. 5 any hard protective cover. 6 a round of ammunition for a large-bore gun, eg a mortar. 7 a shotgun cartridge. 8 an empty framework or outer case, especially the early stages of construction or the undestroyed remains of something, eg a building. 9 computing a program that acts as a user-friendly interface between an operating system and the user. 10 chem one of a series of concentric spheres representing the possible orbits of electrons as they revolve around the nucleus of an atom. 11 a type of light racing boat. ▻ verb (shelled, shelling) 1 to remove the shell from something. 2 to bombard with (eg mortar) shells ▫ They shelled the city all night. ● come out of one's shell to cease to be shy and become more friendly or sociable. ◎ Anglo-Saxon scell.

■ shell out or shell out for something colloq to pay out (money) or spend (money) on it ▫ I had to shell out a fortune for it.

she'll /ʃiːl, ʃɪl/ ▻ contraction 1 she will. 2 she shall.

shellac /ʃəˈlak/ ▻ noun 1 a yellow or orange resin produced by the lac insect. 2 a solution of this in alcohol, used as a varnish. Also called shellac varnish. 3 lac melted into thin plates, formerly used for making gramophone records. ▻ verb (shellacked, shellacking) 1 to coat with shellac. 2 US colloq to defeat convincingly; to trounce or thrash. ◎ 18c: from SHELL + LAC, a translation of French laque en écailles lac in thin plates.

shell company ▻ noun, commerce a company that exists on paper only, eg one set up as a potential takeover subject, to hold assets, or for corrupt financial purposes.

shellfire ▻ noun bombardment with artillery shells or ammunition.

shellfish ▻ noun (plural shellfish) a shelled edible aquatic invertebrate, especially a mollusc or crustacean, eg prawn, crab, shrimp, lobster.

shelling /ˈʃɛlɪŋ/ ▻ noun 1 removal of the shell or shells. 2 bombardment with ammunition; bombing. ◎ 18c.

shellproof ▻ adj resistant to artillery shells or ammunition.

shell-shock ▻ noun a psychological disorder caused by prolonged exposure to military combat conditions, especially during World War I. ● shell-shocked adj.

shell suit ▻ noun a type of lightweight multi-coloured tracksuit with a crinkly nylon outer layer and a cotton lining, commonly used as everyday casual wear.

Shelta /ˈʃɛltə/ ▻ noun in Britain and Ireland: a secret jargon used by TRAVELLING PEOPLE. ◎ 1870s: from Shelru, possibly a version of Irish beulra language.

shelter /ˈʃɛltə(r)/ ▻ noun 1 protection against weather or danger. 2 a place or structure providing this. 3 a place of refuge, retreat or temporary lodging in distress. ▻ verb (sheltered, sheltering) 1 to protect someone or something from the effects of weather or danger. 2 to give asylum or lodging. 3 intr to take cover. ● shelterer noun. ◎ 16c: possibly from sheltron phalanx, from Anglo-Saxon scieldtruma, from scield shield + truma soldier.

sheltered ▻ adj 1 protected from the effects of weather. 2 protected from the harsh realities and unpleasantnesses of the world ▫ a sheltered life. ◎ 16c.

sheltered housing ▻ noun flats or bungalows designed specially for elderly or disabled people, especially in a safe enclosed complex, allowing them to live as independently as possible, but with a resident warden.

sheltie or shelty /ˈʃɛltɪ/ ▻ noun (shelties) a Shetland pony or Shetland sheepdog. ◎ 17c: probably from Norse Hjalti Shetlander.

shelve /ʃɛlv/ ▻ verb (shelved, shelving) 1 to place or store on a shelf. 2 to fit with shelves. 3 to postpone or put aside; to abandon. 4 to remove from active service. 5 intr said of ground: to slope or incline. ◎ 16c: from SHELF.

shelves see under SHELF shelving /ˈʃɛlvɪŋ/ ▻ noun 1 material used for making shelves. 2 shelves collectively. ◎ 17c.

shemozzle /ʃɪˈmɒzəl/ ▻ noun, slang 1 a rumpus or commotion. 2 a mess or scrape. ◎ Late 19c: Yiddish, from German schlimm bad + Hebrew mazzal luck.

SHEN /ʃɛn/ ▻ noun, alternative therapy a hands-on therapy that brings release from emotional and psychosomatic disorders. ◎ From Specific Human Emotional Nexus.

shenanigans /ʃɪˈnanɪgənz/ ▻ plural noun, colloq 1 boisterous misbehaviour. 2 foolish behaviour; nonsense. 3 underhand dealings; trickery. ◎ 1850s.

shepherd /ˈʃɛpəd/ ▻ noun 1 someone who looks after, or herds, sheep. 2 literary a religious minister or pastor. ▻ verb (shepherded, shepherding) 1 to watch over or herd sheep. 2 to guide or herd (a group or crowd). ◎ Anglo-Saxon sceaphirde sheep herd.

shepherdess /ˈʃɛpədɛs/ ▻ noun, old use a female shepherd. ◎ 14c.

shepherd's pie ▷ noun a dish consisting of minced meat baked with mashed potatoes on the top.

shepherd's purse ▷ noun a small annual weed with a rosette of oblong lobed leaves, white cross-shaped flowers, and heart-shaped seed capsules reminiscent of an old-style peasant's purse.

sherbet /'ʃɜːbət/ ▷ noun 1 a fruit-flavoured powder eaten as confectionery, or made into an effervescent drink. 2 in Middle Eastern countries: a drink made of water and sweetened fruit juices. 3 N Amer a kind of water-ice. 4 Austral colloq beer. ⓘ 17c: Turkish and Persian, from Arabic sharbah, from shariba to drink.

sherd see SHARD

sherif or shereef /ʃə'riːf/ ▷ noun 1 a descendant of Muhammad through his daughter Fatima. 2 a prince, especially the Sultan of Morocco. 3 the chief magistrate of Mecca. ⓘ 16c: from Arabic sharif noble or lofty.

sheriff /'ʃerɪf/ ▷ noun 1 in a US county: the chief elected police officer mainly responsible for maintaining peace and order, attending courts, serving processes and executing judgements. 2 in England: the chief officer of the monarch in the shire or county, whose duties are now mainly ceremonial rather than judicial. 3 in Scotland: the chief judge of a sheriff court of a town or region. 4 historical the king's representative in a shire, with wide judicial and executive powers. ● sheriffdom noun 1 the office, term of office or territory under the jurisdiction and authority of a sheriff. 2 in Scotland: one of six divisions of the judicature, made up of sheriff court districts. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon scirgerefa, from scir shire + gerefa reeve.

sheriff court ▷ noun in a Scottish town or region: a court dealing with civil actions and trying all but the most serious crimes.

sheriff officer ▷ noun in Scotland: an officer of the sheriff court who deals mainly with action against debtors and serving PROCESS.

Sherpa /'ʃɜːpə/ ▷ noun (Sherpa or Sherpas) a member of an E Tibetan people living high on the south side of the Himalayas. ⓘ 19c: from Tibetan shar east + pa inhabitant.

sherry /'ʃerɪ/ ▷ noun (sherries) 1 a fortified wine ranging in colour from pale gold to dark brown. 2 loosely a similar type of wine produced elsewhere. ⓘ 17c: from Xeres, an earlier form of Jerez, from Jerez de la Frontera, the S Spanish town where it is produced.

she's /ʃiːz; unstressed ʃɪz/ ▷ contraction 1 she is. 2 she has.

Shetland pony ▷ noun a kind of small sturdy pony with a long thick coat, originally bred in the Shetland Isles.

shewbread /'ʃoʊbred/ ▷ noun in ancient Israel: the twelve loaves offered every Sabbath on the table beside the altar of incense in the sanctuary by Jewish priests. Also called showbread. ⓘ 16c: from German Schaubrot, a translation of Hebrew lechem panim bread of the presence.

SHF or shf ▷ abbreviation, radio super high frequency.

Shia or Shiah /ʃɪə/ ▷ noun (plural in sense 2 only Shias or Shiahs) 1 one of the two main branches of Islam, which regards Ali, Muhammad's cousin and son-in-law, as his true successor as leader of Islam. Compare SUNNI. 2 a member of this branch of Islam; a SHIITE. ⓘ 17c: Arabic, meaning 'sect'.

shiatsu or shiatzu /ʃɪ'atsuː/ ▷ noun, medicine a Japanese healing massage technique involving the application of pressure, mainly with the fingers and palms of hands, to parts of the body that are distant from the affected region. Also called ACUPRESSURE. ⓘ 1960s: Japanese, meaning 'finger pressure'.

shibboleth /'ʃɪbəleθ/ ▷ noun 1 a common saying. 2 a slogan, catchphrase, custom or belief, especially if considered outdated. 3 a peculiarity of speech. 4 a use of a word, phrase or pronunciation that characterizes members of a particular group. ⓘ 14c: Hebrew, literally meaning 'ear of corn', used in the Old Testament as a test-word by Jephthah and his Gileadites to detect Ephraimites, who could not pronounce sh.

shied past tense, past participle of SHY[1] and SHY[2] shield /ʃiːld/ ▷ noun 1 a piece of armour consisting of a broad plate, especially one with a straight top and tapering curved sides, carried to deflect weapons. 2 a protective plate, screen, pad or other guard. 3 any shield-shaped design or object, especially one used as an emblem or coat of arms. 4 a shield-shaped plate or medal presented as a prize. 5 someone or something that protects from danger or harm. 6 geol a large stable area of Pre-Cambrian rock in the earth's crust. Also called CRATON. ▷ verb (shielded, shielding) 1 to protect from danger or harm. 2 to ward off something. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon scild.

shies see SHY[1], SHY[2]

shift ▷ verb (shifted, shifting) 1 tr & intr to change the position or direction of something; to change position or direction. 2 to transfer, switch or redirect □ shift the blame on to someone else. 3 in a vehicle: to change (gear). 4 to remove or dislodge someone or something □ Nothing will shift that mark. 5 slang to swallow or consume. 6 intr, colloq to move quickly. 7 intr (also shift about) a to fluctuate; to move from side to side; b to turn right round to the opposite point. 8 to take appropriate or urgent action. 9 to quit one thing for another □ shift ideas. 10 intr to manage or get along; to do as one can. 11 linguistics said of sounds: to undergo phonetic change. ▷ noun 1 a change, or change of position. 2 one of a set of consecutive periods into which a 24-hour working day is divided. 3 the group of workers on duty during any one of these periods. 4 a useful way of proceeding or dealing with something; an expedient. 5 a trick or other underhand scheme. 6 computing displacement of an ordered set of data to the left or right. 7 a general displacement of a series (as of lines in a spectrum, consonant or vowel sounds, faulted strata). 8 music in string instruments: a change in position of the left hand on the fingerboard. 9 a smock or loose dress, roughly oblong or triangular in shape. ● shift for oneself formal to do without help from others; to depend on one's own resources. ● shift one's ground to change the position or opinion one has taken, eg in a discussion. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sciftan to divide, from Norse skipta.

shiftless /'ʃɪftləs/ ▷ adj 1 having no motivation or initiative. 2 inefficient. ● shiftlessly adverb. ● shiftlessness noun. ⓘ 16c.

shifty /'ʃɪftɪ/ ▷ adj (shiftier, shiftiest) 1 said of a person or behaviour: sly, shady or dubious; untrustworthy or dishonest. 2 said of a person or behaviour: evasive or tricky. 3 ready with shifts or expedients. ● shiftily adverb. ● shiftiness noun. ⓘ 16c.

shigella /ʃɪ'gelə/ ▷ noun a rod-shaped bacterium, especially one of a species that causes dysentery. ⓘ Early 20c: named after K Shiga (1870–1957), the Japanese bacteriologist who discovered it.

Shiite /'ʃiːaɪt/ ▷ noun a Muslim who is an adherent of SHIA. ▷ adj referring or relating to Shia. ● Shiism noun. ● Shiitic adj. ⓘ 18c.

shilling /'ʃɪlɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 in the UK: a monetary unit and coin, before the introduction of decimal currency in 1971, worth one twentieth of a pound or 12 old pence (12d). 2 the standard unit of currency in Kenya, Tanzania, Uganda and Somalia, one shilling being worth 100 cents. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon scilling.

shilly-shally /'ʃɪlɪʃalɪ/ ▷ verb (shilly-shallies, shilly-shallied, shilly-shallying) intr to be indecisive; to vacillate. ▷ adverb indecisively. ▷ noun (shilly-shallies) indecision; vacillation. ● shilly-shallier noun. ● shilly-shallying noun. ⓘ 17c: reduplication of shall I?.

shim ▷ noun a thin washer or slip of metal, wood, plastic, etc used to adjust or fill a gap between machine parts, especially gears. ▷ verb (shimmed, shimming) to fill or adjust with a shim or shims. ◎ 18c.

shimmer ▷ verb (shimmered, shimmering) intr to shine tremulously and quiveringly with reflected light; to glisten. ▷ noun a tremulous or quivering gleam of reflected light. • shimmery adj. ◎ Anglo-Saxon scimerian, from scimian to shine.

shimmy /'ʃɪmɪ/ ▷ noun (shimmies) 1 a vivacious body-shaking dance, particularly popular during the 1920s. Also called shimmy-shake. 2 vibration in a motor vehicle, especially of the wheels, or an aeroplane. ▷ verb (shimmies, shimmied, shimmying) intr 1 to dance the shimmy, or to make similar movements. 2 to vibrate. ◎ Early 20c: from CHEMISE.

shin ▷ noun 1 the bony front part of the leg below the knee. 2 the lower part of a leg of beef. ▷ verb (shinned, shinning) 1 tr & intr (usually shin up) to climb by gripping with the hands and legs. 2 to kick on the shins. ◎ Anglo-Saxon scinu.

shinbone ▷ noun the TIBIA.

shindig /'ʃɪndɪg/ ▷ noun, colloq 1 a lively party or celebration. 2 a noisy disturbance or row; a commotion. ◎ 19c: see SHINDY.

shindy /'ʃɪndɪ/ ▷ noun (shindies) a row or rumpus; a commotion. • kick up a shindy to make or cause a disturbance. ◎ 19c: perhaps from SHINTY.

shine ▷ verb (shone or in sense 4 shined, shining) 1 intr to give out or reflect light; to beam with a steady radiance. 2 to direct the light from something □ They shone the torch around the room. 3 to be bright; to glow □ Her face shone with joy. 4 to make bright and gleaming by polishing. 5 intr to be outstandingly impressive in ability; to excel □ She shines at maths. 6 intr to be clear or conspicuous □ Praise shone from his commentary. ▷ noun 1 shining quality; brightness or lustre. 2 an act or process of polishing. • come rain or shine see under RAIN. • take a shine to someone colloq to like or fancy them on first acquaintance. ◎ Anglo-Saxon scinan.

shiner /'ʃaɪnə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that shines. 2 any of various small glittering fish. 3 colloq a black eye. ◎ 14c.

shingle¹ /'ʃɪŋgəl/ ▷ noun 1 a thin rectangular tile, especially made of wood, laid with others in overlapping rows on a roof or wall. 2 these tiles collectively. 3 a board. 4 US a small signboard or plate, eg hung outside a doctor's office. 5 a woman's short hairstyle, cropped at the back into overlapping layers. ▷ verb (shingled, shingling) 1 to tile with shingles. 2 to cut in a shingle. ◎ 12c: from Latin scindula wooden tile, from scindere to split.

shingle² /'ʃɪŋgəl/ ▷ noun, geol 1 small pebbles that have been worn smooth by water, found especially in a series of parallel ridges on beaches. 2 a beach, bank or bed covered in gravel or stones. • shingly adj. ◎ 16c.

shingles /'ʃɪŋgəlz/ ▷ singular noun, medicine the disease herpes zoster, caused by the chickenpox virus, in which acute inflammation of spinal nerve ganglia produces pain and then a series of blisters along the path of the nerve, especially in the area of the waist and ribs, but sometimes around the head and face. ◎ 14c: from Latin cingulum belt, from cingere to gird.

Shinto /'ʃɪntoʊ/ ▷ noun the Japanese nature and hero cult, the indigenous religion of the country. ◎ 18c: Japanese, from Chinese shen dao, from shen god + dao way or doctrine.

Shintoist /'ʃɪntoʊɪst/ ▷ noun an adherent of Shinto. ▷ adj referring or relating to Shinto. • Shintoism noun the beliefs and practices of Shinto.

shinty /'ʃɪntɪ/ ▷ noun (shinties) 1 a game, originally Scottish, similar to hockey, played by two teams of 12. 2 a (also shinty-stick) the stick used for this game; b the ball used. ◎ 18c.

shiny /'ʃaɪnɪ/ ▷ adj (shinier, shiniest) 1 reflecting light; polished to brightness. 2 said of part of a piece of clothing: having a glossy surface where the fabric has been badly worn.

ship ▷ noun 1 a large engine-propelled vessel, intended for sea travel. 2 a large sailing vessel, especially a three-masted, square-rigged sailing vessel. 3 a racing-boat. 4 any craft that floats on water. 5 a ship's crew. 6 colloq a spaceship or airship. ▷ verb (shipped, shipping) 1 to send or transport by ship. 2 to send or transport by land or air. 3 naut said of a boat: to take in (water, eg waves) over the side. 4 intr to embark. 5 naut to bring on board a boat or ship □ ship oars. 6 to fix an object in position. 7 to engage for service on board ship. • when one's ship comes in or comes home when one becomes rich. ◎ Anglo-Saxon scip.

■ ship someone off colloq to send them away; to dispatch □ They shipped the kids off to their grandparents.

-ship ▷ suffix, forming nouns, denoting 1 position, rank or status □ lordship. 2 a period of office or rule □ chairmanship. 3 a state or condition □ friendship. 4 a specified type of skill □ craftsmanship □ scholarship. 5 a group of individuals having something in common □ membership. ◎ Anglo-Saxon -scipe.

shipboard ▷ noun the side of a ship. ▷ adj occurring or situated on board a ship.

shipbuilder ▷ noun a person or company that constructs ships. • shipbuilding noun.

shipload ▷ noun the actual or possible load or capacity of a ship.

shipmate ▷ noun a fellow sailor.

shipment ▷ noun 1 the act or practice of shipping cargo. 2 a cargo or consignment transported, not necessarily by ship.

shipping ▷ noun 1 the commercial transportation of freight, especially by ship. 2 ships as traffic. 3 as adj □ shipping forecast.

ship's biscuit ▷ noun HARDTACK.

shipshape ▷ adj in good order; neat and tidy.

shipwreck ▷ noun 1 the accidental sinking or destruction of a ship. 2 the remains of a sunken or destroyed ship. 3 wreck or ruin; disaster. ▷ verb 1 tr & intr to be or make someone the victim of a ship's accidental sinking or destruction. 2 to wreck, ruin or destruct (eg plans).

shipwright ▷ noun a skilled wright or carpenter who builds or repairs (especially wooden) ships.

shipyard ▷ noun a place where ships are built and repaired.

shire /'ʃaɪə(r)/ ▷ noun (shires) 1 a county. 2 /ʃɪə(r), ʃə(r)/ in compounds □ Staffordshire. 3 Austral a rural district having its own elected council. 4 a SHIRE HORSE. ◎ Anglo-Saxon scir authority.

shire horse ▷ noun the largest kind of draught horse, once bred chiefly in the Midland shires, with a convex face, brown or bay coat with white markings, and long hair on its fetlocks.

the Shires ▷ plural noun the rural areas of England as opposed to the towns, specifically the Midland counties or the fox-hunting counties of Leicestershire, Northamptonshire and part of Lincolnshire.

shirk /ʃɜːk/ ▷ verb (shirked, shirking) 1 to evade (work, a duty, etc) □ He's always trying to shirk responsibility. 2 intr to avoid work, duty or responsibility. 3 intr to go or act evasively. ▷ noun someone who shirks. • shirker noun. ◎ 17c: perhaps from German Schurke scoundrel.

shirt /ʃɜːt/ ▷ noun 1 a man's loose-sleeved garment for the upper body, typically with buttons down the front, and fitted collar and cuffs. 2 a woman's blouse of a similar form. 3 an undershirt. 4 a nightshirt. • keep one's shirt on colloq to control one's temper; to remain calm. • put one's shirt on something colloq to bet all one has on it. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon scyrte.

shirtsleeve ▷ noun a sleeve of a shirt. • in one's shirtsleeves not wearing a jersey, jacket or coat.

shirt-tail ▷ noun the longer flap hanging down at the back of a shirt.

shirtwaister ▷ noun a woman's tailored dress with a shirt-like bodice. Also called shirt dress. • shirtwaist noun, US a woman's blouse.

shirty /ˈʃɜːtɪ/ ▷ adj (shirtier, shirtiest) colloq ill-tempered or irritable; annoyed. ⓒ 19c.

shish kebab see KEBAB shit and shite coarse slang ▷ noun 1 excrement or faeces. 2 an act of defecating. 3 derog rubbish; nonsense. 4 derog a despicable person. 5 drug-taking slang marijuana or heroin. ▷ verb (shit, shitted or shat, shitting; shited, shiting) intr to defecate. ▷ exclamation expressing annoyance, disappointment or disgust. • beat or kick the shit out of someone to hit or attack them severely. • get one's shit together to get oneself and one's matters organized. • No shit US slang No fooling; You amaze me (often ironic). • scared shitless to be extremely scared or upset □ I was scared shitless of him. • shit a brick or bricks to be very anxious or scared. • shit oneself slang to be extremely frightened or scared. • when the shit hits the fan slang when the real trouble or conflict begins. • up shit creek in an extremely difficult or troublesome situation. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon scitan to defecate.

shitface ▷ noun, slang a contemptible person.

shithead ▷ noun, slang 1 a contemptible or detestable person. 2 a drug-user, especially a user of marijuana.

shithole ▷ noun, slang a filthy, disgusting or delapidated place or establishment.

shit-hot ▷ adj, slang often said of a person: excellent or first-rate; extraordinarily good.

shithouse ▷ noun, slang a lavatory.

the shits ▷ singular noun, slang diarrhoea.

shit-scared ▷ adj, slang very frightened □ I'm shit-scared of spiders.

shit-stirrer ▷ noun, slang someone who causes unnecessary trouble, especially for other people.

shitty /ˈʃɪtɪ/ ▷ adj (shittier, shittiest) coarse slang 1 soiled with, or as if with, shit; filthy. 2 derog very bad or unpleasant; mean or despicable. • shittiness noun.

shiva /ˈʃiːvə/ or Siva /ˈsiːvə/ ▷ noun, Hinduism the third god of the Hindu trimurti, seen as the destroyer and reproducer. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon sceadd.

shiver[1] /ˈʃɪvə(r)/ ▷ verb (shivered, shivering) intr 1 to quiver or tremble, eg with fear. 2 to make an involuntary muscular movement in response to the cold. ▷ noun 1 an act of shivering; a shivering movement or sensation. 2 (the shivers) colloq a fit of shivering. • shivery adj inclined to shiver. ⓒ 12c: as chivere.

shiver[2] /ˈʃɪvə(r)/ ▷ noun a splinter or other small fragment. ▷ verb (shivered, shivering) tr & intr to shatter. • shivery adj brittle. • shiver my timbers a stage sailor's oath. ⓒ 12c: as scifre.

shm ▷ abbreviation simple harmonic motion.

shoal[1] noun 1 a multitude of fish swimming together. 2 a huge crowd or assemblage; a multitude, flock or swarm. ▷ verb (shoaled, shoaling) intr to gather or move in a shoal; to swarm. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon scolu a troop.

shoal[2] ▷ noun 1 an area of shallow water in a river, lake or sea where sediment has accumulated. 2 such an accumulation of sediment, especially one exposed at high tide. ▷ verb (shoaled, shoaling) 1 tr & intr to make or become shallow. 2 intr, naut to sail into shallow water. ▷ adj shallow. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon sceald shallow.

shock[1] ▷ noun 1 a strong emotional disturbance, especially a feeling of extreme surprise, outrage or disgust. 2 a cause of such a disturbance. 3 a heavy and violent impact, originally of charging warriors. 4 a clashing together. 5 outrage at something regarded as improper or wrong. 6 (in full electric shock) a convulsion caused by the passage of an electric current through the body. 7 a heavy jarring blow or impact. 8 medicine a a state of extreme physical collapse, characterized by lowered blood pressure and body temperature and a sweaty pallid skin, occurring as a result of haemorrhage, coronary thrombosis, severe burns, dehydration, drug overdose, extreme emotional disturbance, etc; b Scots a stroke. ▷ verb (shocked, shocking) 1 to assail or attack with a shock. 2 to give a shock to someone. 3 to make someone feel extreme surprise, outrage or disgust. 4 to shake or jar suddenly and forcefully. 5 intr to outrage feelings. • shock horror exclamation, colloq an ironic expression used in response to something purporting or claiming to shock. • shock-horror adj used eg of banner headlines and other sensationalistic devices of the tabloid press. ⓒ 16c: from French choc, from choquer.

shock[2] ▷ noun a bushy mass of hair. ⓒ 19c.

shock[3] ▷ noun a number of sheaves of corn propped up against each other to dry. ▷ verb (shocked, shocking) to set up in shocks. ⓒ 14c: as schokke.

shock absorber ▷ noun in a vehicle: a device, such as a coiled spring, that damps vibrations caused by the wheels passing over bumps in the road.

shocker ▷ noun, colloq 1 a very sensational tale. 2 any unpleasant or offensive person or thing.

shocking ▷ adj 1 giving a shock. 2 extremely surprising, outrageous or disgusting, especially to oversensitive feelings. 3 colloq deplorably bad □ He has a shocking sense of humour. • shockingly adverb. ⓒ 17c.

shockproof ▷ adj protected against or resistant to the effects of shock or impact. • shockproofing noun.

shock tactics ▷ noun any course of action that seeks to achieve its object by means of suddenness and force.

shock therapy and shock treatment ▷ noun see ELECTROCONVULSIVE THERAPY shock wave ▷ noun 1 ▷ physics an exceptionally intense sound wave, caused by a violent explosion or the movement of an object at a speed greater than that of sound. 2 a feeling of shock which spreads through a community, etc, after some disturbing event □ The mayor's arrest sent a shock wave through the town.

shoddy /ˈʃɒdɪ/ ▷ adj (shoddier, shoddiest) 1 of poor quality; carelessly done or made. 2 cheap and nasty. 3 made of shoddy. ▷ noun (shoddies) 1 wool made from shredded rags. 2 a cloth made from it, either on its own or mixed. 3 anything inferior intending to pass for better than it is. • shoddily adverb. • shoddiness noun.

shoe /ʃuː/ ▷ noun 1 either of a pair of shaped outer coverings for the feet, especially ones made of leather or other stiff material, usually finishing below the ankle. 2 anything like this in shape or function. 3 a horseshoe. 4 a metal tip or ferrule for protecting the end of a pole, stick, etc. 5 a strip of metal attached to the runners of a sledge to reduce friction. 6 a drag for the wheel of a vehicle. 7 a BRAKESHOE. 8 the contact on an electric train that slides along the third rail in order to pick up the current to power it. ▷ verb (shod, shoeing) 1 to provide with shoes. 2 to fit (a horse) with shoes. • in someone's shoes in the same situation as them; in their position □ I wouldn't like to be in his shoes now. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon scoh.

shoehorn ⊳ noun a curved piece of metal, plastic or (originally) horn, used for levering the heel into a shoe. ⊳ verb (shoehorned, shoehorning) to fit, squeeze or compress into a tight or insufficient space.

shoelace ⊳ noun a string or cord passed through eyelet holes to fasten a shoe.

shoe leather ⊳ noun leather used for making shoes.

shoemaker ⊳ noun someone who makes, though now more often only sells or repairs, shoes and boots.

shoeshine ⊳ noun 1 the act of polishing shoes. 2 the shiny appearance of polished shoes.

shoestring ⊳ noun, N Amer a shoelace. Also as adj ▫ shoestring tie. ● on a shoestring colloq with or using a very small or limited amount of money.

shoe tree ⊳ noun a support, usually made of wood or metal, put inside a shoe to preserve its shape when it is not being worn.

shogi /ˈʃoʊgi/ ⊳ noun a Japanese form of chess, played on a squared board, each player having 20 pieces. ⓒ 19c: Japanese.

shogun /ˈʃoʊgʌn, ˈʃoʊgun/ ⊳ noun, Japanese history any of the hereditary military governors who were the effective rulers of Japan from the 12c until 1867 when the emperor regained power. ● shogunal adj. ● shogunate noun the office, jurisdiction or state of a shogun. ⓒ 17c: Japanese, from Chinese jiangjun general.

shone past tense, past participle of SHINE shoo ⊳ exclamation an expression used to scare or chase away a person or animal. ⊳ verb (shooed, shooing) 1 intr to cry 'Shoo!'. 2 (usually shoo someone or something away or off) to chase them away by, or as if by, shouting 'Shoo!'. ⓒ 15c.

shoo-in ⊳ noun, US slang 1 a horse that is allowed to win. 2 any certain or easy winner of something, especially a race, competition, etc; a sure thing. ⓒ 1920s.

shook past tense of SHAKE shoot ⊳ verb (shot, shooting) 1 tr & intr to fire a gun or other weapon. 2 to fire bullets, arrows or other missiles. 3 to hit, wound or kill with a weapon or missile. 4 to let fly with force ▫ The geyser shot water high into the air. 5 to launch or direct forcefully and rapidly ▫ He shot questions at them. 6 tr & intr to move or make someone or something move or progress quickly ▫ That last victory shot them to the top of the table. 7 colloq (also shoot off) to depart quickly ▫ I have to shoot or I'll miss my train. 8 colloq to tip out or dump (eg rubbish). 9 tr & intr, sport to strike (the ball, etc) at goal. 10 golf to score, for a hole or the round. 11 tr & intr to film (motion pictures), or take photographs of someone or something. 12 to variegate by adding different coloured specks of colour ▫ Her dress was black shot with burgundy. 13 intr said of pain: to dart with a stabbing sensation. 14 to pull (one's shirt sleeves) forward so that they protrude from the sleeves of one's jacket. 15 to slide (a bolt) along. 16 to slide a bolt into or out of its lock. 17 to elongate rapidly. 18 to protrude or jut out far or suddenly. 19 colloq to begin to speak one's mind or tell what one knows ▫ Go on, shoot! 20 to tower. 21 to throw or cast a die or dice. 22 to detonate. 23 intr to dart forth or forwards. 24 said of a cricket ball: to start forward rapidly near the ground. 25 intr to use a bow or gun in practice, competition, hunting, etc ▫ He likes to shoot regularly. 26 intr said of a plant: to produce new growth; to sprout. 27 intr said of a plant, especially a vegetable: to produce unwanted flowers and seeds. 28 colloq to pass through (red traffic lights) without stopping. 29 colloq to pass quickly through something ▫ shoot rapids. 30 slang to play a game of eg pool or golf; to have as a score at golf ▫ We could shoot pool at the club later. 31 slang to inject (especially oneself) with (drugs) illegally. ⊳ noun 1 an act of shooting. 2 a shooting match or party. 3 an outing or expedition to hunt animals with firearms. 4 an area of land within which animals are hunted in this way. 5 the shooting of a film or a photographic modelling session. 6 a new or young plant growth. 7 the sprouting of a plant. 8 a dump or rubbish chute. ● shoot a line slang to brag or exaggerate. ● shoot ahead to advance quickly in front of others, eg in a race. ● shoot someone down in flames slang 1 to scold or reprimand severely. 2 to destroy or humiliate, especially by the strength of one's argument ▫ His speech was shot down in flames by the opposition. ● shoot from the hip colloq to speak hastily, bluntly or directly, without preparation or concern for the consequences. ● shoot home 1 to hit the target. 2 to put across an opinion, etc ▫ I think you've shot the point home. ● shoot it out to settle (a dispute, competition, etc) by military action. ● shoot oneself in the foot colloq to injure or harm one's own interests by ineptitude. ● shoot one's mouth off colloq to speak freely, indiscreetly or boastfully. ● shoot through slang to escape or leave quickly. ● the whole shoot or shooting-match colloq the whole lot. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon sceotan.

■ shoot someone or something down 1 to fire guns at an aircraft so as to make it crash. 2 to kill with gunfire. 3 to dismiss mercilessly with criticism or ridicule.

■ shoot up to grow or increase extremely quickly ▫ He has really shot up since I last saw him.

■ shoot someone up to kill or injure by shooting.

■ shoot something up slang to inject (heroin, etc).

shoot-'em-up originally US, informal ⊳ adj signifying a computer game in which the object is to defeat the enemy by means of violence or attack. ⊳ noun 1 such a computer game. 2 a film or television programme in which guns and shooting feature prominently. ⓒ 1940s.

shooter ⊳ noun 1 someone or something that shoots. 2 colloq a gun. ⓒ 13c.

shooting-box and shooting-lodge ⊳ noun a small country house for use during the hunting or shooting season.

shooting brake ⊳ noun, old use an estate car.

shooting gallery ⊳ noun a long room fitted out with targets used for practice or amusement with firearms.

shooting iron ⊳ noun, slang a firearm, especially a revolver.

shooting range ⊳ noun a place specifically used for shooting at targets.

shooting star ⊳ noun a METEOR.

shooting stick ⊳ noun a sturdy pointed walking-stick whose handle folds out to form a small seat.

shooting war ⊳ noun actual war as opposed to cold war.

shootist /ˈʃuːtɪst/ ⊳ noun, especially US slang 1 someone who shoots. 2 a skilled or accomplished marksman.

shop ⊳ noun 1 a room or building where goods are sold or services are provided. 2 a place providing specific goods or services ▫ a barber's shop ▫ a betting shop. 3 a spell of shopping, especially for food or household items. 4 a place where mechanics work, or where any kind of industry is pursued; a workshop ▫ machine shop. 5 a place of employment or activity. 6 slang prison. 7 talk about one's own business. ⊳ verb (shopped, shopping) 1 intr to visit a shop or shops, especially in order to buy goods. 2 slang to imprison, or cause to be imprisoned. 3 slang to betray or inform on someone to the police, etc. ● all over the shop colloq scattered everywhere; in numerous places. ● set up shop to establish or open a trading establishment. ● shut up shop colloq to stop trading, either at the end of the working day or permanently. ● talk shop colloq to talk about one's work or business, especially in a tedious way. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon sceoppa treasury.

■ shop around 1 to compare the price and quality of goods in various shops before making a purchase. 2 colloq to explore the full range of options available before committing oneself to any.

shop assistant ⊳ noun someone serving customers in a shop.

shop floor ⊳ noun 1 the part of a factory or workshop where the manual work is carried out. 2 the workers in a factory, as opposed to the management.

shopkeeper ⊳ noun someone who owns and manages a shop.

shoplift ⊳ verb, tr & intr to steal (goods) from shops. • shoplifter noun. • shoplifting noun.

shopper ⊳ noun 1 someone who shops. 2 a shopping bag or basket. ⓘ 1880s.

shopping ⊳ noun 1 the act of visiting shops to look at or buy goods. 2 goods bought in shops. 3 as adj □ a shopping basket. ⓘ 18c.

shopping centre ⊳ noun 1 an area of a town or city containing a large number of shops of different kinds. 2 a collection of different shops within one building, usually providing other facilities, especially restaurants and toilets.

shopping list ⊳ noun 1 a list of items to be bought when out shopping. 2 a list of items to be obtained, carried out, acted upon, considered, etc.

shop-soiled ⊳ adj slightly dirty, faded or spoiled from being used as a display in a shop.

shop steward ⊳ noun a worker elected by others to be an official trade union representative in negotiations with the management.

shopwalker ⊳ noun someone who walks around a shop, especially a large department store, to supervise shop assistants and see that customers are attended to.

shop window ⊳ noun 1 a window of a shop in which goods are arranged in a display. 2 any arrangement which displays something to advantage.

shoran /ˈʃɔːran/ ⊳ noun a system of aircraft navigation using the measurement of the time taken for two dispatched radar signals to return from known locations. ⓘ 1940s: from short range navigation.

shore[1] /ʃɔː(r)/ ⊳ noun 1 a narrow strip of land bordering on the sea, a lake or any other large body of water. 2 land as opposed to the sea. 3 law the FORESHORE. 4 (shores) lands; countries □ foreign shores. ⊳ verb (shored, shoring) to set on shore □ shore a boat. • on shore on the land; ashore. ⓘ 14c: as schore.

shore[2] /ʃɔː(r)/ ⊳ noun a prop. ⊳ verb (usually shore something up) 1 to support it with props. 2 to give support to it; to sustain or strengthen it. • shoring noun 1 supporting by using props. 2 a set of props. ⓘ 15c: from Dutch schore, from Norse skortha.

shoreline ⊳ noun the line formed where land meets water.

shorn past participle of SHEAR short ⊳ adj 1 having little physical length; not long. 2 having little height. 3 having little extent or duration; brief; concise □ short day. 4 in the early future □ short date. 5 indicating a seemingly short length of time □ For a few short weeks we could enjoy our time together. 6 said of a temper: quickly and easily lost. 7 rudely abrupt; curt □ She was very short with him. 8 said of the memory: tending not to retain things for long. 9 said of a substance, especially food: brittle. 10 said of pastry: crisp and crumbling easily. 11 failing to reach the standard; not going far enough. 12 in short supply; in demand □ We are two tickets short. 13 in default. 14 referring to the sale of what one cannot supply. 15 phonetics said of a vowel sound: being the briefer of two possible lengths of vowel. 16 poetry said of a syllable: unaccented. 17 colloq said of an alcoholic drink, especially a spirit: not diluted with water; neat. 18 lacking in money □ I'm a bit short at the moment. 19 cricket said of fielding positions: relatively close to the batsman. 20 said of betting odds: providing the winner with only a small profit; near even. ⊳ adverb 1 abruptly; briefly □ stopped short. 2 on this or the near side □ The dart fell short of the board. ⊳ noun 1 something that is short. 2 shortness; abbreviation or summary. 3 colloq a drink of an alcoholic spirit. 4 a short cinema film shown before the main FEATURE FILM. 5 a SHORT CIRCUIT. ⊳ verb (shorted, shorting) tr & intr to SHORT-CIRCUIT. • shortness noun. • be caught or taken short colloq to have an urgent need to urinate or defecate. • cut someone or something short see under CUT. • fall short to be insufficient; to be less than a required, expected or stated amount. • for short as an abbreviated form □ She gets called Jenny for short. • go or run short of something not to have enough of it; to have an insufficient supply of it □ We're running short of milk. • in short concisely stated; in a few words. • in short order very quickly. • in short supply not available in the required or desired quantity; scarce □ Food is in short supply in Bosnia. • in the short run within a short space of time; over a brief period. • make short work of someone or something to settle or dispose of quickly and thoroughly □ I made short work of the essay. • short and sweet colloq agreeably brief. • short for something an abbreviated form of it □ Jenny is short for Jennifer. • short of or on something deficient; lacking in it □ We're always short of money □ She's a bit short on tact. • short of something without going as far as it; except it □ We tried every kind of persuasion short of threats. • stop short to come to an abrupt halt or standstill. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceort.

shortage /ˈʃɔːtɪdʒ/ ⊳ noun a lack or deficiency.

shortbread ⊳ noun a rich crumbly biscuit made with flour, butter and sugar.

shortcake ⊳ noun 1 shortbread or other crumbly cake. 2 US a light cake, prepared in layers with fruit between, served with cream.

short-change ⊳ verb 1 to give (a customer) less than the correct amount of change, either by accident or intentionally. 2 colloq to treat dishonestly; to cheat. • short-changer noun.

short circuit ⊳ noun 1 electronics a connection across an electric circuit with a very low resistance, usually caused accidentally, eg by an insulation failure, which may damage electrical equipment or be a fire hazard. Compare OPEN CIRCUIT. 2 surgery an artificial connection between two normally separate tubular organs or parts.

short-circuit ⊳ verb 1 to cause a short circuit in something. 2 to provide with a short cut or bypass. 3 surgery to interconnect where there was an obstruction.

shortcoming ⊳ noun a fault or defect.

short cut ⊳ noun 1 a quicker route than normal between two places. 2 a method that saves time or effort. ⊳ verb (short-cut) 1 to take a short cut. 2 to use a shorter method.

short-dated ⊳ adj, finance 1 said of a bill: having little time to run from its date. 2 said of securities: redeemable in under five years. See also LONG-DATED, MEDIUM-DATED.

shorten /ˈʃɔːtən/ ⊳ verb (shortened, shortening) 1 tr & intr to make or become shorter. 2 to make something seem short or to fall short □ Those trousers shorten your legs. 3 to make (pastry) crumbly, by adding butter, lard, etc. 4 naut to draw in (the sails). 5 cards said of odds, etc: to make them shorten; to lower. ⓘ 16c.

shortening ⊳ noun butter, lard or other fat used for making pastry more crumbly. ⓘ 16c.

shortfall ⊳ noun 1 a failure to reach a desired or expected level or specification. 2 the amount or margin by which something is deficient □ There is a shortfall of £100.

short fuse ⊳ noun, colloq a quick temper.

shorthand ▷ noun 1 any of various systems of combined strokes and dots representing speech sounds and groups of sounds, used as a fast way of recording speech in writing. 2 such a system of abbreviated handwriting. Also as adj □ shorthand notebook.

short-handed ▷ adj understaffed; short of workers.

shorthorn ▷ noun any of various breeds of beef and dairy cattle with very short horns and usually with a red and white, roan or white coat.

shortie see SHORTY.

short leg ▷ noun, cricket 1 a fielding position near, and in line with, the batsman on the leg side. 2 a fielder who takes up this position.

shortlist ▷ noun (also short-leet) a selection of the best candidates from the total number submitted or nominated, from which the successful candidate will be chosen. ▷ verb (short-list) to place on a shortlist.

short-lived ▷ adj living or lasting only for a short time.

shortly ▷ adverb 1 soon; within a short period of time □ He'll arrive shortly. 2 in a curt or abrupt manner.

short-range ▷ adj referring or relating to a short distance or length of time □ short-range telescope.

shorts ▷ plural noun trousers, worn by males or females, extending from the waist to anywhere between the upper thigh and the knee.

short shrift ▷ noun 1 archaic a brief period of time given to a prisoner for confession before execution. 2 discourteously brief or disdainful consideration □ Their suggestions were given short shrift. ● make short shrift of something to discard it without due consideration.

short-sighted ▷ adj 1 said of a person: capable of seeing only near objects clearly; affected by MYOPIA. Compare LONG-SIGHTED. 2 said of a person, plan, etc: lacking or showing a lack of foresight. ● short-sightedly adverb. ● short-sightedness noun.

short-spoken ▷ adj curt in speech.

short-staffed ▷ adj having a reduced or insufficient staff.

short story ▷ noun a work of prose narrative shorter than a novel, usually concentrating on a specific episode or experience and its effect.

short-tempered ▷ adj easily made angry.

short-term ▷ adj 1 concerned only with the near or immediate future. 2 lasting only a short time. 3 finance maturing or effective within a brief period of time. ● short-termism noun the tendency or inclination towards the adopting of short-term views, solutions to problems, etc.

short wave ▷ noun 1 a radio wave with a wavelength between 10 and 100 metres. 2 physics an electromagnetic wave with a wavelength no longer than that of visible light. 3 as adj □ a short-wave radio station.

short-winded ▷ adj easily and quickly running out of breath.

shorty or shortie /ˈʃɔːtɪ/ ▷ noun (shorties) colloq a person or thing (eg a garment) that is shorter than average.

shot[1] ▷ noun 1 an act of shooting or firing a gun. 2 the sound of a gun being fired. 3 mining an explosive charge or blast. 4 small metal pellets collectively, fired in clusters from a SHOTGUN. 5 a cannonball. 6 a single piece of filmed action recorded without a break by one camera. 7 a photographic exposure. 8 the range or extent of a camera □ out of shot. 9 a person considered in terms of their ability to fire a gun accurately □ a good shot. 10 sport an act or instance of shooting or playing a stroke eg in tennis, snooker, etc. 11 athletics a heavy metal ball thrown in the SHOT PUT. 12 colloq an attempt □ I'll have a shot at it. 13 colloq a spell or stint. 14 colloq a turn or go □ I'll have a shot at it now. 15 colloq a guess □ Have a shot at the answer. 16 an aggressive remark. 17 colloq an injection. 18 a the flight of a missile; b the distance it travels. 19 a reach or range. 20 N Amer, especially US colloq a small drink of alcoholic spirit; a dram. 21 the launch of a spacecraft, especially a rocket □ moon shot. ● call the shots see under CALL. ● like a shot extremely quickly or without hesitation; eagerly or willingly. ● a long shot a bet with little chance of success □ It's a long shot, but I'll have a try. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceot.

shot[2] ▷ adj 1 said of a fabric: woven with different-coloured threads in the warp and weft so that movement produces the effect of changing colours □ shot silk. 2 streaked with a different colour. 3 ruined; exhausted. ▷ verb, past tense, past participle of SHOOT. ● be or get shot of someone or something colloq be rid of them.

shotgun ▷ noun a gun with a long, wide, smooth barrel for firing small shot.

shotgun wedding and shotgun marriage ▷ noun a marriage into which the couple has been forced, usually because of the woman's pregnancy.

a shot in the arm ▷ noun, colloq an uplifting or reviving influence; a boost.

a shot in the dark ▷ noun a wild guess.

shot put /— pʊt/ ▷ noun, athletics a field event in which a heavy metal ball is thrown from the shoulder as far as possible. ● shot-putter noun.

should /ʃʊd/ ▷ auxiliary verb expressing: 1 obligation, duty or recommendation; ought to □ You should brush your teeth regularly. 2 likelihood or probability □ He should have left by now. 3 a condition □ If she should die before you, what would happen?; b with first person pronouns the consequence of a condition □ I should never be able to live with myself if that happened. 4 with first person pronouns a past tense of shall in reported speech □ I told them I should be back soon. See note at SHALL. 5 statements in clauses with that, following expressions of feeling or mood □ It seems odd that we should both have had the same idea. 6 with first person pronouns doubt or polite indirectness in statements □ I should imagine he's left □ I should think I'll get the job □ I should like to thank you all for coming. 7 literary purpose □ in order that we should not have to leave. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceolde.

shoulder /ˈʃoʊldə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 in humans and animals: the part on either side of the body, just below the neck, where the arm or forelimb joins the trunk. 2 the part of a garment that covers this. 3 a cut of meat consisting of the animal's upper foreleg. 4 (shoulders) the bearer of burdens; the capacity to bear burdens □ He has a lot of responsibility on his shoulders □ have broad shoulders. 5 any object or part resembling a human shoulder. 6 any curve resembling that between the shoulder and the neck. 7 either edge of a road. ▷ verb (shouldered, shouldering) 1 to bear (eg a responsibility). 2 to carry on one's shoulders. 3 to thrust with the shoulder. ● give someone the cold shoulder see under COLD. ● put one's shoulder to the wheel colloq to get down to some hard work; to make a great effort. ● rub shoulders with someone colloq to meet or associate with them. ● shoulder arms military said of soldiers on a parade, etc: to bring the rifle to an upright position close to the right side of the body with the barrel against the shoulder. ● a shoulder to cry on a person to tell one's troubles to. ● shoulder to shoulder together in friendship or agreement; side by side. ● (straight) from the shoulder colloq frankly and forcefully. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sculdor.

shoulder bag ▷ noun a bag carried by a long strap over the shoulder.

shoulder blade ▷ noun the SCAPULA.

shoulder pad ▷ noun a pad inserted into the shoulder of a garment to raise and shape it.

shoulder strap ▷ noun a strap worn over the shoulder to support a garment or bag.

shouldn't /ˈʃʊdənt/ ▷ contraction, colloq should not.

shout ▷ noun 1 a loud cry or call. 2 colloq a round of drinks. 3 colloq a turn to buy a round of drinks. ▷ verb (shouted, shouting) 1 tr & intr (also shout out) to utter a loud cry or call. 2 intr to speak in raised or angry tones. 3 Austral colloq to stand drinks all round. • shouter noun. • all over bar the shouting said of a contest, event, etc: as good as over; virtually finished or decided. ⓘ 14c as schoute, from Norse skuta a taunt.

■ shout at someone to speak loudly and angrily at them.

■ shout someone down to force them to give up speaking, or prevent them from being heard, by means of persistent shouting.

shove /ʃʌv/ ▷ verb (shoved, shoving) 1 tr & intr to push or thrust with force. 2 colloq to place or put, especially roughly □ Just shove it in the bag. ▷ noun a forceful push. • shover noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon scufan.

■ shove off colloq to go away.

■ shove something off to start a boat moving by pushing against the shore or jetty.

shove-halfpenny ▷ noun a game, similar to shovelboard, where coins or discs are driven along by the hand towards scoring lines.

shovel /ˈʃʌvəl/ ▷ noun 1 a tool with a deep-sided spade-like blade and a handle, for lifting and carrying loose material. 2 a machine, machine part or device with a scooping action. 3 a scoop; a shovelful. ▷ verb (shovelled, shovelling) 1 to lift or carry with, or as if with, a shovel. 2 to rapidly and crudely gather in large quantities □ She shovelled food into her mouth. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon scofl, from scufan to SHOVE.

shovelboard and shuffleboard ▷ noun 1 an old game in which a coin or other disc was driven along a smooth table by the hand. 2 a modern development of this game played in N America. 3 a game, formerly played on board a ship, with wooden discs and cues. ⓘ 16c.

shovelful ▷ noun (shovelfuls) the amount a shovel can hold.

shoveller or shoveler /ˈʃʌvələ(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that shovels. 2 zool a duck with a long rounded spade-like bill that inhabits marshes and muddy shallows. ⓘ 14c.

show /ʃoʊ/ ▷ verb (past tense showed, past participle shown or showed, present participle showing) 1 tr & intr to make or become visible, known or noticeable □ Does my embarrassment show? 2 to present to view. 3 to display or exhibit. 4 to prove, indicate or reveal □ This shows us that man evolved from the ape. 5 to prove oneself or itself to be □ He always shows himself to be such a gentleman. 6 to teach by demonstrating □ She showed me how to draw. 7 to lead, guide or escort □ I'll show you to the door. 8 to give □ Show him some respect. 9 to represent or manifest □ The exam results show a marked improvement. 10 intr said of a cinema film, theatre production, etc: to be part of a current programme □ Rob Roy is now showing at the local Odeon. 11 intr, slang to appear or arrive □ What time did he show? ▷ noun 1 an act of showing. 2 any form of entertainment or spectacle. 3 an exhibition. 4 a pretence □ a show of friendship. 5 a sign or indication □ The slightest show of emotion made him uncomfortable. 6 a display of true feeling. 7 colloq proceedings; affair. 8 old use, colloq effort; attempt □ jolly good show. 9 medicine in childbirth: a small discharge of blood and mucus at the start of labour. • for show for the sake of outward appearances; for effect. • give the show away to let out or reveal a secret. • have something or nothing to show have, or not have, a reward or benefit for one's efforts. • on show on display; available to be seen. • run the show colloq to be in charge; to take over or dominate. • a show of hands a vote carried out by raising hands. • steal the show see under STEAL. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceawian to look.

■ show someone in, out, over, round, up, etc to usher or conduct them.

■ show off 1 to display oneself or one's talents precociously, aimed at inviting attention or admiration. 2 to behave in an ostentatious manner. See also SHOW-OFF.

■ show something off 1 to display it proudly, inviting admiration. 2 to display it to good effect □ The cream rug shows off the red carpet nicely.

■ show up 1 colloq to arrive; to turn up. 2 to be clearly visible.

■ show someone up to embarrass or humiliate them in public.

■ show something up to make it appear inadequate or inferior by comparison.

show-and-tell ▷ noun, US an education exercise in which a pupil brings in an article to school and then talks about it to the rest of the class.

showbiz /ˈʃoʊbɪz/ ▷ noun ▷ adj, colloq show business.

showboat ▷ noun a river boat, usually a paddle-steamer, serving as a travelling theatre.

showbread see SHEWBREAD show business ▷ noun the entertainment industry, especially light entertainment in film, theatre and television. Also as adj □ his show-business friends.

showcase ▷ noun 1 a glass case for displaying objects, especially in a museum or shop. 2 any setting in which someone or something is displayed to good advantage.

showdown ▷ noun, colloq a confrontation or fight by which a long-term dispute may be finally settled.

showed past tense, past participle of SHOW shower /ˈʃaʊə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a sudden but short and usually light fall of rain, snow or hail. 2 a fall of drops of any liquid. 3 a sudden (especially heavy) burst or fall □ a shower of bullets □ a shower of abuse. 4 N Amer a an abundance or accession of wedding gifts, gifts for a baby, etc; b N Amer a party at which such gifts are presented. 5 a device that produces a spray of water for bathing under, usually while standing. 6 a room or cubicle fitted with such a device or devices. 7 an act or an instance of bathing under such a device. 8 physics a large number of fast particles that arise from a high-energy particle. 9 slang a detestable or worthless person or group of people. ▷ verb (showered, showering) 1 tr & intr to cover, bestow, fall or come abundantly □ He showers her with gifts □ Arrows showered down from the battlements. 2 intr to bathe under a shower. 3 intr to rain in showers. • showery adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon scur.

showgirl ▷ noun a girl who performs in variety entertainments, usually as a dancer or singer.

showhouse ▷ noun a house, usually on a new housing estate, opens to the public as an example of the builders' work and to stimulate sales.

showier, showiest, showily and showiness see SHOWY showing ▷ noun 1 an act of exhibiting or displaying. 2 a screening of a cinema film. 3 a performance. 4 a display of behaviour as evidence of a fact □ On this showing, he certainly won't get the job.

showjumping ▷ noun a competitive sport in which riders on horseback take turns to jump a variety of obstacles, usually against the clock. Also as adj □ showjumping event. • showjumper noun a horse or rider that takes part in showjumping.

showman ▷ noun 1 someone who owns, exhibits or manages a circus, a stall at a fairground, or other entertainment. 2 someone skilled in displaying things, especially personal abilities. ● showmanship noun.

shown past participle of SHOW show-off ▷ noun, colloq someone who shows off to attract attention; an exhibitionist. See also SHOW OFF at SHOW.

show of hands ▷ noun a vote carried out by raising hands.

showpiece ▷ noun 1 an item on display; an exhibit. 2 an item presented as an excellent example of its type, to be copied or admired.

showplace ▷ noun 1 a place visited or shown as a sight. 2 a venue for shows and exhibitions.

showroom ▷ noun a room where examples of goods for sale, especially large and expensive items, are displayed.

show-stopper ▷ noun an act or performance that is very well received by the audience. ● show-stopping adj □ a totally show-stopping performance.

showy /ˈʃoʊɪ/ ▷ adj (showier, showiest) 1 making an impressive or exciting display. 2 attractively and impressively bright. 3 ostentatious; gaudy; flashy. ● showily adverb. ● showiness noun.

shoyu /ˈʃoɪjuː/ ▷ noun a rich soy sauce made from soya beans naturally fermented with wheat or barley, and used as a flavouring in Japanese cookery. ◎ 18c: Japanese.

shrank past tense of SHRINK shrapnel /ˈʃrapnəl/ ▷ noun 1 a shell, filled with pellets or metal fragments, which explodes shortly before impact. 2 flying fragments of the casing of this or any exploding shell. ◎ Early 19c: named after H Shrapnel (1761–1842), British inventor of the pellet-filled shell.

shred ▷ noun 1 a thin scrap or strip cut or ripped off. 2 the smallest piece or amount □ There's not a shred of evidence. ▷ verb (shredded, shredding) 1 to cut, tear or scrape into shreds. 2 intr to reduce to shreds by cutting or ripping. ◎ Anglo-Saxon screade.

shredder /ˈʃredə(r)/ ▷ noun a device for shredding eg documents.

shrew /ʃruː/ and shrewmouse ▷ noun 1 a small nocturnal mammal with velvety fur, small eyes and a pointed snout, that is extremely active and must feed almost continuously on worms, insects, etc in order to survive. 2 a quarrelsome or scolding woman. ◎ Anglo-Saxon screawa.

shrewd /ʃruːd/ ▷ adj 1 possessing or showing keen judgement gained from practical experience; astute. 2 wily or crafty; calculating. ● shrewdly adverb. ● shrewdness noun. ◎ 14c: as shrewed malicious, from SHREW.

shrewish /ˈʃruːɪʃ/ ▷ adj 1 like a shrew. 2 said of a woman: quarrelsome or scolding; ill-natured.

Shri see SRI shriek /ʃriːk/ ▷ verb (shrieked, shrieking) tr & intr to cry out with a piercing scream. ▷ noun such a piercing cry. ● shrieker noun. ◎ 16c: from Norse skrækja to SCREECH.

shrieval /ˈʃriːvəl/ ▷ adj referring or relating to a sheriff. ◎ 17c.

shrievalty /ˈʃriːvəltɪ/ ▷ noun (shrievalties) the office, term of office or jurisdiction area of a sheriff. ◎ 16c: from shrieve an obsolete variant of SHERIFF.

shrift ▷ noun absolution; confession. See also SHORT SHRIFT.

shrike ▷ noun any of various small perching birds with a powerful slightly hooked beak, which feed on insects, small birds and rodents, often impaling their prey on thorns, twigs or barbed wire. ◎ Anglo-Saxon scric.

shrill ▷ adj said of a voice, sound, etc: high-pitched and piercing. ▷ verb (shrilled, shrilling) to utter in such a high-pitched manner. ● shrilly adverb. ● shrillness noun. ◎ 14c: from German schrill.

shrimp ▷ noun 1 any of numerous small aquatic crustaceans with a cylindrical semi-transparent body and five pairs of jointed legs, including several economically important edible species. 2 colloq a very small slight person. ▷ verb (shrimped, shrimping) intr to fish for shrimps. ◎ 14c: from German schrimpen to shrink.

shrimping ▷ noun, slang the practice of sucking a partner's toes for sexual stimulation.

shrimp plant ▷ noun a perennial Mexican plant with arching stems, oval leaves and white hooded flowers, almost hidden by overlapping pinkish bracts, so called because its flower spikes superficially resemble a shrimp.

shrine ▷ noun 1 a sacred place of worship. 2 the tomb or monument of a saint or other holy person. 3 any place or thing greatly respected because of its associations. 4 a chest or casket containing relics. 5 RC Church a ledge or recess in a church for holy icons. ▷ verb (shrined, shrining) to enshrine. ◎ Anglo-Saxon scrin.

shrink ▷ verb (shrank, shrunk, shrinking) 1 tr & intr to make or become smaller in size or extent, especially through exposure to heat, cold or moisture. 2 tr & intr to contract or make something contract. 3 intr to shrivel or wither. 4 (often shrink from something) to move away in horror or disgust; to recoil. 5 (often shrink from something) to be reluctant do it. 6 colloq to SHRINK-WRAP. ▷ noun 1 an act of shrinking. 2 colloq a psychiatrist. ● shrinkable adj. ◎ Anglo-Saxon scrincan.

shrinkage /ˈʃrɪŋkɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 the act of shrinking. 2 the amount by which something shrinks. 3 in meat marketing: the loss of carcass weight during shipping, preparation for sale, etc. 4 in manufacturing, retail, etc: the loss of goods as a result of pilfering, breakages, etc. ◎ 18c.

shrinking violet ▷ noun, colloq a shy hesitant person.

shrink-wrap ▷ verb to wrap (goods) in clear plastic film that is then shrunk, eg by heating, so that it fits tightly.

shrive ▷ verb (past tense shrived or shrove, past participle shriven or shrived, present participle shriving) RC Church 1 to hear a confession from and give absolution to someone. 2 to unburden by confession or otherwise. 3 to impose a penance on someone. 4 intr to receive or make confession. Compare SHRIFT. ◎ Anglo-Saxon scrifan to write or prescribe penance, from Latin scribere.

shrivel /ˈʃrɪvəl/ ▷ verb (shrivelled, shrivelling) tr & intr (also shrivel up) to make or become shrunken and wrinkled, especially as a result of drying out. ◎ 16c: from Swedish dialect skryvla to wrinkle.

shroud ▷ noun 1 a garment or cloth in which a corpse is wrapped. 2 anything that obscures, masks or hides □ shrouds of fog. 3 any protective covering, screen, shelter or shade. 4 (shrouds) naut a set of taut ropes running from the masthead to a ship's sides to support the mast. ▷ verb (shrouded, shrouding) 1 to wrap in a shroud. 2 to obscure, mask or hide □ proceedings shrouded in secrecy. 3 to cover or protect. ◎ Anglo-Saxon scrud garment.

Shrovetide ▷ noun the three days preceding Ash Wednesday.

Shrove Tuesday ▷ noun in the Christian calendar: the day before Ash Wednesday, on which it was customary to confess one's sins. See also PANCAKE DAY. ◎ Anglo-Saxon scrifan to confess sins.

shrub[1] ▷ noun, bot a woody plant or bush, without any main trunk, which branches into several main stems at or just below ground level. ◎ Anglo-Saxon scrybb scrub.

shrub[2] ▷ noun 1 a drink of lemon or other sweetened juice with spirits, especially rum. 2 US a drink made from raspberry juice with sugar and vinegar. ◎ 18c: from Arabic sharab, from shurb drink.

shrubbery /ˈʃrʌbəri/ ▷ noun (shrubberies) 1 a place, especially a part of a garden, where shrubs are grown. 2 a collective name for shrubs. ⓘ 18c.

shrubby /ˈʃrʌbi/ ▷ adj (shrubbier, shrubbiest) 1 having the character of or similar to a shrub. 2 covered with or full of shrubs. • shrubbiness noun. ⓘ 16c.

shrug ▷ verb (shrugged, shrugging) tr & intr to raise up and drop the shoulders briefly as an indication of doubt, indifference, etc. ▷ noun an act of shrugging. ⓘ 14c as schruggen to shudder.

▪ shrug something off 1 to shake off or get rid of it easily. 2 to dismiss (especially criticism) lightly; to be indifferent.

shrunk see under SHRINK shrunken ▷ adj having shrunk or having been shrunk.

shtook or schtook or schtuk or shtuk /ʃtʊk/ ▷ noun, slang trouble; bother. • in (dead) shtook, etc in trouble or strife. ⓘ 1930s.

shtoom or schtoom or shtum or shtumm or stumm /ʃtʊm/ ▷ adj, slang silent; quiet. • keep shtoom, etc to remain silent. ⓘ 1950s: Yiddish, from German stumm.

shuck N Amer ▷ noun a husk, pod or shell. ▷ verb (shucked, shucking) to remove the shuck from something. ▷ exclamation, colloq (shucks) an expression of disappointment, irritation or embarrassment. ⓘ 17c.

▪ shuck something off to remove or shed (clothing).

shudder /ˈʃʌdə(r)/ ▷ verb (shuddered, shuddering) intr to shiver or tremble, especially with fear, cold or disgust. ▷ noun 1 such a trembling movement or feeling. 2 a heavy vibration or shaking. • shuddering adj. • shudderingly adverb. • shuddery adj. • shudder to think something to be inwardly embarrassed or appalled when imagining or considering (some consequence), etc □ I shudder to think what he will do next. ⓘ 14c: from German schoderen.

shuffle /ˈʃʌfəl/ ▷ verb (shuffled, shuffling) 1 tr & intr to move or drag (one's feet) with short quick sliding steps; to walk in this fashion. 2 intr to shamble or walk awkwardly. 3 to rearrange or mix up roughly or carelessly □ shuffle papers. 4 tr & intr to jumble up (playing cards) randomly. 5 (usually shuffle out, in, off, etc) to put surreptitiously, evasively, scramblingly or in confusion. 6 to manipulate unfairly and deceptively. ▷ noun 1 an act or sound of shuffling. 2 a short quick sliding of the feet in dancing. • shuffler noun. ⓘ 16c: from German schuffeln.

▪ shuffle something off to throw or thrust it aside; to wriggle out of it □ shuffle off problems.

shuffleboard see SHOVELBOARD shufti or shufty /ˈʃʊftɪ, ˈʃʌftɪ/ ▷ noun, colloq a look or glance. ⓘ 1940s: Arabic, literally meaning 'have you seen?', from shaffa to see.

shun ▷ verb (shunned, shunning) to intentionally avoid or keep away from someone or something. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon scunian.

shunt ▷ verb (shunted, shunting) 1 to move (a train or carriage) from one track to another. 2 tr & intr to turn or move aside. 3 to bypass or sidetrack. 4 to get rid of or transfer (eg a task) on to someone else, as an evasion. 5 colloq to crash (a car), especially one in the back of another. 6 electronics to divert or be diverted by means of a shunt. ▷ noun 1 an act of shunting or being shunted. 2 electronics a conductor diverting part of an electric current. 3 a railway siding. 4 colloq a minor collision between vehicles. • shunter noun. ⓘ 13c.

shush /ʃʊʃ, ʃʌʃ/ ▷ exclamation be quiet! ▷ verb (shushes, shushed, shushing) to make someone or something quiet by, or as if by, saying 'Shush!'.

shut ▷ verb (shut, shutting) 1 tr & intr to place or move so as to close an opening □ shut the door. 2 tr & intr to close or make something close over, denying access to the contents or inside □ shut the cupboard □ shut the book. 3 tr & intr (often shut up) not to allow access to something; to forbid entrance into it □ shut up the building □ The office shuts at weekends. 4 to fasten or bar; to lock. 5 to bring together the parts or outer parts of something □ Shut your eyes □ I can't shut the clasp. 6 to confine □ He shuts himself in his room for hours. 7 to catch or pinch in a fastening □ I shut my finger in the window. 8 to end or terminate the operations of (a business, etc). 9 intr said of a business, etc: to cease to operate; to terminate. ▷ adj 1 not open; closed. 2 made fast; secure. • shut it slang to be quiet. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon scyttan to bar.

▪ shut someone away to isolate or confine them □ He shuts himself away in his study day and night.

▪ shut something away to keep it hidden or concealed □ All the valuables are shut away in the attic.

▪ shut down or shut something down to stop or make it stop working or operating, either for a time or permanently. See also SHUTDOWN.

▪ shut someone or something in to enclose or confine them or it □ Remember to shut the cat in tonight.

▪ shut something off to switch it off; to stop the flow of it. See also SHUT-OFF.

▪ shut someone or something out 1 to prevent them or it entering a room, building, etc. 2 to exclude them or it. 3 to block out (eg light).

▪ shut up colloq to stop speaking.

▪ shut someone up 1 colloq to make them stop speaking; to reduce them to silence. 2 to confine them.

▪ shut something up to close and lock (premises), either for a time or permanently □ shut up shop.

shutdown ▷ noun 1 a temporary closing of a factory or business. 2 a reduction of power to its minimum in a nuclear reactor, especially as a safety or emergency measure. See also SHUT DOWN at SHUT.

shuteye ▷ noun, colloq sleep.

shut-in ▷ noun, US an invalid or disabled person confined to his or her house.

shut-off ▷ noun a device that switches off the flow or operation of something; a stoppage. See also SHUT SOMETHING OFF at SHUT.

shut-out ▷ adj 1 excluded; remote. 2 bridge said of a bid: intended to deter the opposition from bidding.

shutter /ˈʃʌtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that shuts. 2 a movable internal or external cover for a window, especially one of a pair of hinged wooden or metal panels. 3 a device in a camera that regulates the opening and closing of the aperture, exposing the film to light. ▷ verb (shuttered, shuttering) to fit or cover (a window) with a shutter or shutters. • put up the shutters colloq to stop trading, either for the day or permanently. ⓘ 16c: from SHUT.

shuttle /ˈʃʌtəl/ ▷ noun 1 weaving the device that carries the horizontal thread (the WEFT) backwards and forwards between the vertical threads (the WARP). 2 the device that carries the lower thread through the loop formed by the upper in a sewing-machine. 3 anything that makes a similar movement. 4 a rapid backwards-and-forwards movement between two points. 5 an aircraft, train or bus that runs a frequent service between two places, usually at a relatively short distance from one another. 6 a shuttlecock. ▷ verb (shuttled, shuttling) tr & intr 1 to move or make someone or something move backwards and forwards. 2 to move regularly between two points. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon scytel dart.

shuttlecock /ˈʃʌtəlkɒk/ ▷ noun 1 a cone of feathers or of feathered plastic attached to a rounded cork, hit backwards and forwards with battledores or badminton racquets. 2 anything that is tossed backwards and forwards. ⓘ 16c.

shwa see SCHWA

shy[1] ▷ adj (shyer, shyest) 1 said of a person: embarrassed or unnerved by the company or attention of others. 2 easily scared; bashful or timid. 3 (shy of something) wary or distrustful of it. 4 warily reluctant. 5 especially in poker: short of or lacking funds. 6 colloq short in payment by a specified amount □ 10p shy. ▷ verb (shies, shied, shying) intr said eg of a horse: to jump suddenly aside or back in fear, to be startled. ▷ noun (shies) an act of shying. • shyly adverb. • shyness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceoh timid.

> ■ shy away or off to shrink from something or recoil, showing reluctance □ He shied away from arguing with them □ I shy away from any sign of trouble.

shy[2] ▷ verb (shies, shied, shying) to fling or throw. ▷ noun (shies) 1 a fling or throw. 2 colloq a gibe or taunt. 3 colloq an attempt or shot. 4 a COCONUT SHY. 5 football a THROW-IN.

Shylock /ˈʃaɪlɒk/ ▷ noun a ruthless creditor; a greedy grasping person. ⓘ 16c: named after Shylock, such a character from Shakespeare's play The Merchant of Venice.

shyster /ˈʃaɪstə(r)/ ▷ noun, N Amer, especially US slang 1 an unscrupulous or disreputable lawyer. 2 an unscrupulous or disreputable person in any business. ⓘ 19c: probably named after Scheuster, a disreputable US lawyer.

SI and SI unit ▷ abbreviation Système International d'Unités, the modern scientific system of units, used in the measurement of all physical quantities.

Si ▷ symbol, chem silicon.

si see TI

sial /ˈsaɪal, ˈsaɪɒl/ ▷ noun, geol the granite rocks, rich in silica and aluminium, that form the upper layer of the Earth's crust. See also SIMA. ⓘ 1920s: from *si*lica and *al*umina.

siamang /ˈsɪəmaŋ, ˈsjɑːmaŋ/ ▷ noun a large black gibbon, native to Sumatra and the Malay Peninsula. ⓘ 19c: Malay.

Siamese /saɪəˈmiːz/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Siam, a country in SE Asia, now called Thailand, its inhabitants, or their language. ▷ noun 1 (plural Siamese) a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Siam. 2 the official language of Siam. 3 (plural Siameses) a Siamese cat.

Siamese cat ▷ noun any of numerous kinds of a short-haired variety of domestic cat with a triangular face, blue eyes, and a pale coat with darker patches on the ears, face, legs and tail.

Siamese twins ▷ noun 1 twins who are physically joined to each other from birth. 2 any two people always together.

SIB ▷ abbreviation Security and Investments Board.

sibilant /ˈsɪbɪlənt/ ▷ adj similar to, having or pronounced with a hissing sound. ▷ noun, phonetics a consonant with such a sound, eg s and z. • sibilance or sibilancy noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sibilare to hiss.

sibilate /ˈsɪbɪleɪt/ ▷ verb (sibilated, sibilating) tr & intr to produce or pronounce (words) with a hissing sound. • sibilation noun. ⓘ 17c.

sibling /ˈsɪblɪŋ/ ▷ noun a blood relation; a brother or sister. Also as adj □ sibling rivalry. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sibb relationship + -LING.

Sibyl /ˈsɪbɪl/ ▷ noun, mythol any of several prophetesses of ancient Rome, Greece, Babylonia, Egypt, etc. ⓘ 13c: from Greek Sybilla.

Sibylline Books ▷ noun, Roman hist prophetic books supposedly produced by the Sibyl of the Greek colony of Cumae in Italy.

sic /sɪk, siːk/ ▷ adverb a term used in brackets after a word or phrase in a quotation to indicate that it is quoted accurately, even if it appears to be a mistake. ⓘ 19c: Latin, meaning 'thus' or 'so'.

siccative /ˈsɪkətɪv/ ▷ adj drying. ▷ noun a drying agent. ⓘ 16c: from Latin siccativus, from siccare to dry.

sick ▷ adj 1 vomiting; feeling the need to vomit. 2 ill; unwell. 3 referring or relating to ill health □ sick pay. 4 (often sick for someone or something) pining or longing for them or it. 5 (often sick at or of someone or something) extremely annoyed; disgusted □ I'm sick of your attitude. 6 (often sick of someone or something) thoroughly weary or fed up with them or it. 7 mentally deranged. 8 said of humour, comedy, jokes, etc: exploiting gruesome and morbid subjects in an unpleasant way. 9 colloq inadequate in comparison □ makes my effort look a bit sick. 10 out of working order. ▷ noun, colloq vomit. ▷ verb (sicked, sicking) tr & intr (usually sick up) to vomit. • make someone sick colloq to disgust or upset them □ It makes me sick to think that no one offered to help. • sick and tired, sick of the sight or sick to death of someone or something to be extremely weary of them. • sick as a dog colloq vomiting excessively and unrestrainedly. • sick as a parrot colloq extremely disappointed. • sick to one's stomach 1 nauseated; about to vomit. 2 upset; disgusted. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon seoc.

sick bay ▷ noun 1 a compartment on board a ship for sick and wounded people. 2 any room where ill or injured people are treated, especially in a place of work.

sickbed ▷ noun a bed on which someone lies when sick.

sick benefit and sickness benefit ▷ noun a benefit paid to someone who is unable to work due to illness.

sick building syndrome ▷ noun, medicine a disorder first diagnosed among office workers in the 1980s, typical symptoms including headache, fatigue and sore throat, and thought to be caused by inadequate ventilation.

SI Units

Name of unit	Abbreviation of unit name	Physical quantity	Symbol metre	m	length	l
kilogram	kg	mass	m
second	s	time	t
ampere	A	electric current	I kelvin	K	thermodynamic temperature	T candela	cd	luminous intensity	I
mole	mol	amount of substance radian	rad	plane angle	α, β, θ, etc steradian	sr	solid angle	Ω, ω sicken /ˈsɪkən/ ▷ verb (sickened, sickening) 1 to make someone or something feel like vomiting. 2 to annoy greatly or disgust. ◷ 12c: from SICK.

■ sicken for something to show symptoms of an illness □ I'm sickening for the flu.

sickening /ˈsɪkənɪŋ/ ▷ adj 1 causing nausea. 2 causing extreme annoyance or disgust. ● sickeningly adverb. ◷ 18c.

sick headache ▷ noun a MIGRAINE.

sickie /ˈsɪkɪ/ ▷ noun (sickies) 1 originally Austral & NZ colloq a day's sick leave, often without the person actually being ill. 2 N Amer a sick person, either mentally or physically. ◷ 1950s.

sickle /ˈsɪkəl/ ▷ noun a tool with a short handle and a curved blade for cutting grain crops with a horizontal sweeping action. ◷ Anglo-Saxon sicol.

sick leave ▷ noun time taken off work as a result of sickness.

sicklebill ▷ noun a bird with a sickle-shaped bill, such as a species of bird of paradise, a species of hummingbird, etc.

sickle-cell anaemia ▷ noun, pathol a hereditary blood disorder, common in African peoples, in which the red blood cells contain an abnormal type of haemoglobin, become sickle-shaped and fragile, and are rapidly removed from the circulation, resulting in anaemia.

sick list ▷ noun a list of sick employees, pupils, soldiers, etc. ● sick-listed adj included on a sick list.

sickly ▷ adj (sicklier, sickliest) 1 susceptible or prone to illness; ailing or feeble. 2 suggestive of illness. 3 inducing the desire to vomit □ a sickly smell. 4 unhealthy-looking; pallid □ a sickly plant □ a sickly child. 5 weakly sentimental; mawkish. ▷ adverb to an extent that suggests illness □ sickly pale. ● sickliness noun. ◷ 14c.

sickness ▷ noun 1 the condition of being ill; an illness. 2 vomiting. 3 nausea.

sick pay ▷ noun the payments made to a worker while off sick.

sidalcea /sɪˈdalsɪə/ ▷ noun a herbaceous perennial plant of the mallow family with tall spikes of white, pink or purple flowers. ◷ 19c: from Greek side a type of plant + alkea mallow.

side ▷ noun 1 any of the usually flat or flattish surfaces that form the outer extent of something; any of these surfaces other than the front, back, top or bottom. 2 an edge or border, or the area adjoining this □ My car's at the side of the road. 3 either of the parts or areas produced when the whole is divided up the middle □ I'll take the left side of the room. 4 the part of the body between the armpit and hip □ He's paralysed down his left side. 5 the area of space next to someone or something □ He's round the side of the house □ He stayed by my side the whole evening. 6 half of a carcass divided along the medial plane □ a side of beef. 7 either of the broad surfaces of a flat or flattish object □ two sides of a coin. 8 any of the lines forming a geometric figure. 9 any of the groups or teams, or opposing positions, in a conflict or competition. 10 an aspect □ We've seen a different side to him. 11 the slope of a hill. 12 the wall of a vessel, container or cavity. 13 a part of an area of land; district □ I live in the north side of the town. 14 the father's or mother's family or ancestors □ She's related to him on her mother's side. 15 a page □ My essay covered 5 sides. 16 Brit colloq television channel. 17 either of the two playing surfaces of a record or cassette. 18 in billiards, snooker, etc: spin given to a ball causing it to swerve and regulating its angle of rebound. Also called sidespin. 19 slang a pretentious or superior air. ▷ adj 1 located at the side □ side entrance. 2 subsidiary or subordinate □ side road. ▷ verb (sided, siding) (usually side with someone) to take on their position or point of view; to join forces with them. ● sided /ˈsaɪdɪd/ adj, in compounds having a specified number of sides □ one-sided argument □ a three-sided shape. ● bit on the side see separate entry. ● choose sides to select teams. ● let the side down to fail one's colleagues or associates, or frustrate their efforts, by falling below their standards. ● on or to one side removed to a position away from the main concern; put aside. ● on the side in addition to or apart from ordinary occupation or income, often dishonest or illegal. ● on the … side colloq rather …; of a … nature □ I found his comments a bit on the offensive side □ I thought his speech was a bit on the long side. ● put on side to assume or take on pretentious airs. ● side by side 1 close together. 2 with sides touching. ● take sides to support one particular side in a conflict, argument or dispute. ● this side of … between here or now and …; short of … □ I doubt I'll see him this side of Tuesday. ◷ Anglo-Saxon.

sidearm ▷ noun (usually sidearms) a weapon worn at the side or in a belt.

sideband ▷ noun, radio a band of frequencies slightly above or below the carrier frequency, containing additional frequencies constituting the information to be conveyed, introduced by modulation.

sideboard ▷ noun 1 a large piece of furniture, often consisting of shelves or cabinets mounted above drawers or cupboards, for holding plates, ornaments, etc. 2 (sideboards) SIDEBURNS.

sideburn ▷ noun (usually sideburns) the lines of short hair growing down in front of each of a man's ears. Also called side whiskers. ◷ 19c: a modification of the more extensive growth pioneered by General Burnside (1824–81) of America.

sidecar ▷ noun a small carriage for one or two passengers, attached to the side of a motorcycle.

side chain ▷ noun, chem a group of atoms attached to one or more of the locations in a CYCLIC or HETEROCYCLIC compound.

sided see under SIDE

side dish ▷ noun a supplementary dish.

side drum ▷ noun a small double-headed drum with snares, usually slung from the drummer's side.

side effect ▷ noun 1 an additional and usually undesirable effect, especially of a drug, eg nausea, drowsiness. 2 any undesired additional effect.

sidekick ▷ noun, colloq a close or special friend; a partner or deputy.

sidelight ▷ noun 1 a small light fitted on the front and rear of a motor vehicle, used in fading daylight. 2 a light on each side of a moving boat or ship, one red light on the left side and a green one on the right. 3 light coming from the side. 4 a window above or at the side of a door. 5 any incidental illustration.

sideline ▷ noun 1 a line marking either side boundary of a sports pitch. 2 (sidelines) the areas just outside these boundaries. 3 (sidelines) the area to which spectators and non-participants in any activity are confined. 4 a business, occupation or trade in addition to regular work. ▷ verb 1 sport to remove or suspend (a player) from a team. 2 to demote or suspend from normal activity.

sidelong ▷ adj ▷ adverb from or to one side; not direct or directly □ a sidelong glance.

sidereal /saɪˈdɪərɪəl/ ▷ adj referring or relating to, or determined by the stars. ◷ 17c: from Latin sidus, sideris star.

sidereal day ▷ noun, astron the time the Earth takes to make a revolution on its axis, relative to a particular star.

sidereal month ▷ noun, astron the time in which the Moon passes round the ECLIPTIC to the same point among the stars.

sidereal time ▷ noun, astron time measured with reference to the fixed stars.

sidereal year ▷ noun, astron the period required by the Sun to move from a given star to the same star again, having a mean value of 365 days, 6 hours, 9 minutes and 9.6 seconds.

siderite /ˈsaɪdəraɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a meteorite consisting mainly of metallic iron. 2 geol a brown, grey, greenish or yellowish mineral form of ferrous carbonate (formula $FeCO_3$) that is an important ore of iron. ⓘ 16c: from Greek sideros iron.

side-road ▷ noun a BYROAD, especially one joining onto a main road.

siderosis /saɪdəˈroʊsɪs/ ▷ noun, pathol a lung disease caused by breathing in iron or other metal fragments. ⓘ 19c: from Greek sideros iron + -OSIS.

siderostat /ˈsaɪdəroʊstat/ ▷ noun an astronomical device consisting of a mirror, or a telescope with a mirror, for reflecting the rays from a star in a constant direction. ⓘ 1870s.

side-saddle ▷ noun a horse's saddle designed to enable a woman in a skirt to sit with both legs on the same side. ▷ adverb sitting in this way.

sideshow ▷ noun 1 an exhibition or show subordinate to a larger one. 2 any subordinate or incidental activity or event.

sideslip ▷ noun 1 a skid, especially by a road vehicle. 2 a deliberate lateral movement of an aircraft. 3 skiing a side-on downward slide.

sidesman ▷ noun a deputy churchwarden.

side-splitting ▷ adj extremely funny; provoking uproarious and hysterical laughter.

sidestep ▷ verb 1 to avoid by, or as if by, stepping aside □ You're sidestepping the issue. 2 intr to step aside. ▷ noun a step taken to one side.

side street ▷ noun a minor street, especially one leading from a main street.

sideswipe ▷ noun 1 a blow coming from the side, as opposed to head-on. 2 a criticism or rebuke made in passing, incidentally to the main discussion.

sidetrack ▷ verb to divert the attention of away from the matter in hand.

sidewalk ▷ noun, N Amer, especially US a pavement.

sidewall ▷ noun the side section of a pneumatic tyre, between the tread and wheel rim.

sideways ▷ adverb, adj 1 from, to or towards one side. 2 with one side foremost □ We skidded sideways into the hedge.

side whiskers ▷ noun SIDEBURNS.

sidewinder /ˈsaɪdwaɪndə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 any snake which moves rapidly over soft sand by repeatedly winding its body forwards and sideways. 2 the N American horned rattlesnake, which usually moves by this method. 3 US a hard blow from the side.

siding /ˈsaɪdɪŋ/ ▷ noun a short dead-end railway line onto which trains, wagons, etc can be shunted temporarily from the main line.

sidle /ˈsaɪdəl/ ▷ verb (sidled, sidling) intr to go or edge along sideways, especially in a cautious, furtive and ingratiating manner. ⓘ 17c: a back-formation from obsolete sideling sideways.

SIDS ▷ abbreviation sudden infant death syndrome.

siege /siːdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of surrounding a fort or town with troops, cutting off its supplies and subjecting it to persistent attack with the intention of forcing its surrender. 2 a police operation using similar tactics, eg to force a criminal out of a building. ● lay siege to a place to subject it to a siege. ⓘ 13c: from French sege, from Latin sedes seat.

siemens /ˈsiːmənz/ ▷ noun (abbreviation S) the SI unit of conductance, equal to the conductance at which a potential of one volt produces a current of one ampere. ⓘ 1930s: named after Werner von Siemens (1816–92), German electrical engineer.

sienna /sɪˈɛnə/ ▷ noun 1 a pigment obtained from a type of earth with a high clay and iron content. 2 the yellowish-brown colour of this pigment in its original state (also called raw sienna). 3 the reddish-brown colour of this pigment when roasted (also called burnt sienna). ⓘ 18c: named after Siena in Italy.

sierra /sɪˈɛrə/ ▷ noun (sierras) especially in Spanish-speaking countries and the US: a mountain range, especially when jagged. ⓘ 17c: Spanish, meaning 'a saw'.

siesta /sɪˈɛstə/ ▷ noun (siestas) in hot countries: a sleep or rest after the midday meal. ⓘ 17c: Spanish, from Latin sexta (hora) sixth (hour).

sieve /sɪv/ ▷ noun a utensil with a meshed or perforated bottom, used for straining solids from liquids or for sifting large particles from smaller ones. ▷ verb (sieved, sieving) to strain or sift with a sieve. ● have a head or memory like a sieve to be habitually forgetful. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sife.

sievert /ˈsiːvət/ ▷ noun, physics (abbreviation Sv) the SI unit of radioaction DOSE equivalent, equal to the absorbed dose multiplied by its relative biological effectiveness, used in radiation safety measurements. ⓘ Early 20c: named after R M Sievert (1896–1966), the Swedish physicist.

sieve tube ▷ noun, bot in the phloem tissue of a flowering plant: any of the tubular columns, composed of long cells joined end to end, through which organic compounds manufactured in the leaves by photosynthesis are transported to the rest of the plant.

sift ▷ verb (sifted, sifting) 1 to pass through a sieve in order to separate out lumps or larger particles. 2 to separate out by, or as if by, passing through a sieve. 3 intr to use a sieve. 4 to examine closely and discriminatingly. ● sifter noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon siftan, from sife sieve.

■ sift through something 1 to examine it closely by sifting. 2 to search among it.

sigh /saɪ/ ▷ verb (sighed, sighing) 1 intr to release a long deep audible breath, expressive of sadness, longing, tiredness or relief. 2 intr to make a similar sound, especially suggesting breakdown or failure □ We heard the engine sigh. 3 to express with such a sound. 4 (often sigh for someone or something) literary to regret, grieve over or yearn for them. ▷ noun an act or the sound of sighing. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sican.

sight /saɪt/ ▷ noun 1 the power or faculty of seeing; vision. 2 a thing or object seen; view or spectacle □ It's a lovely sight. 3 someone's field of view or vision, or the opportunity to see things that this provides □ within sight □ out of sight. 4 (usually sights) places, buildings, etc that are particularly interesting or worth seeing □ see the sights of the city. 5 a device on a firearm through or along which one looks to take aim. 6 a similar device used as a guide to the eye on an optical or other instrument. 7 opinion or judgement; estimation □ In his sight he was just a failure. 8 colloq a person or thing unpleasant to look at □ He looked a sight without his teeth in. ▷ verb (sighted, sighting) 1 to get a look at or glimpse of someone or something □ She was sighted there at around midnight. 2 to adjust the sight of (a firearm). 3 to aim (a firearm) using the sight. ● a sight colloq very many; a great deal □ She may not be good, but she's a sight better than you! ● a sight for sore eyes a very welcome sight. ● a sight more colloq a great deal or great many more □ A sight more people than expected turned up. ● at or on sight 1 as soon as seen. 2 without previous view or study. ● catch sight of someone or something to catch or get a glimpse of them or it. ● know someone or something by sight to recognize them only by their appearance; to know who they are. ● lose sight of something or someone 1 to no longer be able to see them or it. 2 to fail to keep them in mind; to lose touch with them. ● set one's sights on something to decide on it as an ambition or aim. ● sight unseen without seeing or having seen the object in question beforehand □ I'd never buy a house sight unseen. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sihth.

sighted /ˈsaɪtɪd/ ▷ adj 1 having the power of sight; not blind. 2 often in compounds having a specified level of sight □ partially sighted □ long-sighted.

sightless /ˈsaɪtləs/ ▷ adj blind. ● sightlessly adverb. ● sightlessness noun.

sightly /ˈsaɪtlɪ/ ▷ adj pleasing to the eye; attractive or appealing. ● sightliness noun.

sight-reading ▷ noun playing or singing from printed music that one has not previously seen. ● sight-read verb.

sight-screen ▷ noun, cricket any of a set of large white movable screens at either end of a cricket ground that provide a background against which the batsman can see the ball clearly.

sightsee ▷ verb, intr to visit places of interest, especially as a tourist. ● sightseer noun. ● sightseeing noun.

sigillography /sɪdʒɪˈlɒgrəfɪ/ ▷ noun the study of seals used on documents, etc as a sign of authenticity, particularly useful in historical studies as a means of identifying, dating and validating documents. ⓘ 19c: from Latin sigillum, diminutive of signum sign + -GRAPHY.

sigla /ˈsɪglə/ ▷ plural noun abbreviations, symbols and signs, as used in manuscripts, seals, documents, etc. ⓘ 18c: Latin.

sigma /ˈsɪgmə/ ▷ noun (sigmas) the eighteenth letter of the Greek alphabet. See table at GREEK ALPHABET.

sign /saɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a printed mark with a meaning; a symbol □ a multiplication sign. 2 math an indication of positive or negative value □ the minus sign. 3 a gesture expressing a meaning; a signal. 4 an indication □ signs of improvement. 5 a portent or omen; a miraculous token. 6 a board or panel displaying information for public view. 7 a board or panel displaying a shopkeeper's name, trade, etc. 8 a device or symbol indicating an inn, shop, etc, instead of a street number. 9 medicine any external evidence or indication of disease, perceptible to an examining doctor, etc. 10 a trail or track of a wild animal, perceptible to a tracker. 11 astrol any of the twelve parts of the zodiac, bearing the name of, but not coincident with, a constellation. See table at ZODIAC. ▷ verb (signed, signing) 1 tr & intr to give a signal or indication. 2 to write a signature on something; to confirm one's assent to something with a signature. 3 to write (one's name) as a signature □ sign a cheque. 4 tr & intr to employ or become employed with the signing of a contract □ Stoke City have signed a new player □ Rush has signed for another team. 5 tr & intr to communicate using sign language. 6 to cross or make the sign of the cross over (oneself or someone else). See also SIGN OF THE CROSS. ● signer noun. ⓘ 13c: from French signe, from Latin signum.

■ sign something away to give it away or transfer it by signing a legally binding document.

■ sign in or out to record one's arrival or departure, eg at work, by signing one's name.

■ sign someone in to allow someone, usually a non-member, official entry to enter a club, society, etc by signing one's name.

■ sign off 1 to bring a broadcast to an end. 2 to remove oneself from the register of unemployed people. 3 to stop work, etc. 4 bridge to indicate that one does not intend to bid further.

■ sign someone off to dismiss them from employment.

■ sign on colloq 1 to register as unemployed. 2 to return fortnightly to an unemployment office to sign one's name as a formal declaration that one is still unemployed.

■ sign someone on to engage them, eg for work.

■ sign up 1 to enrol with an organization, especially the army. 2 to enrol for a task, outing, etc by signing a list. 3 to engage oneself for work by signing a contract.

■ sign someone up to engage them for work by signing a contract.

signal /ˈsɪgnəl/ ▷ noun 1 a message in the form of a gesture, light, sound, etc, conveying information or indicating the time for action, often over a distance. 2 (signals) the apparatus used to send such a message, eg coloured lights or movable arms or poles on a railway network. 3 an event marking the moment for action to be taken □ Their arrival was a signal for the party to begin. 4 any set of transmitted electrical impulses received as a sound or image, eg in television; the message conveyed by them. 5 cards a piece of play intended to convey information to one's partner. ▷ verb (signalled, signalling) 1 tr & intr to transmit or convey (a message) using signals. 2 to indicate. ▷ adj notable □ a signal triumph. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin signum.

signal-box ▷ noun the cabin from which signals on a railway line are controlled.

signalize or signalise /ˈsɪgnəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (signalized, signalizing) to mark or distinguish; to make notable. ⓘ 17c.

signally /ˈsɪgnəlɪ/ ▷ adverb notably.

signalman ▷ noun a controller who works railway signals.

signal-to-noise ratio ▷ noun, electronics the ratio of the power of a desired electrical signal to the power of the unwanted background signal or noise, usually expressed in decibels.

signatory /ˈsɪgnətrɪ/ ▷ noun (signatories) a person, organization or state that is a party to a contract, treaty or other document. Also as adj □ signatory nations. ⓘ 17c: from Latin signatorius, from signare to sign.

signature /ˈsɪgnətʃə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 one's name written by oneself, or a representative symbol, as a formal mark of authorization, etc. 2 an indication of key (KEY SIGNATURE) or time (TIME SIGNATURE) at the beginning of a line of music, or where a change occurs. 3 a large sheet of paper with printed pages on it, each with a numeral or letter at the bottom, which when folded forms a section of a book. 4 a letter or number at the foot of such a sheet, indicating the sequence in which such sheets are to be put together. ⓘ 16c: from Latin signatura, from signare to sign.

signature tune ▷ noun a tune used to identify or introduce a specified radio or television programme or performer.

signet /ˈsɪgnɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a small seal used for stamping documents, etc. 2 the impression made by such a seal. 3 a signet-ring. ⓘ 14c: from Latin signum sign.

signet-ring ▷ noun a finger ring carrying a signet. Also called SEAL RING.

significance /sɪgˈnɪfɪkəns/ and significancy ▷ noun (significances or significancies) 1 meaning or importance. 2 the condition or quality of being significant. 3 a value of probability at which a particular hypothesis is held to be contradicted by the results of a statistical test. ⓘ 15c.

significance test ▷ noun, math a test which is used to demonstrate the probability that observed patterns cannot be explained by chance.

significant /sɪgˈnɪfɪkənt/ ▷ adj 1 important; worth noting or considering. 2 having some meaning; indicating or implying something. 3 said of data, etc: having statistical significance. ● significantly adverb. ⓘ 16c.

significant figures and significant digits ▷ noun, math digits that contribute to a number and are not merely zeros filling vacant spaces at the beginning or end. They are used when specifying the degree of accuracy required, eg 2.157 to three significant figures is 2.16.

significant other ▷ noun a sexual partner.

signify /ˈsɪgnɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (signifies, signified, signifying) 1 to be a sign for something or someone; to suggest or mean. 2 to be a symbol of something or someone; to denote. 3 to indicate or declare. 4 intr to be important or significant. ◎ 13c: from Latin significare, from signum sign + Latin facere to make.

sign language ▷ noun any form of communication using gestures to represent words and ideas, especially an official system of hand gestures used by deaf people.

sign of the cross ▷ noun a Christian sign made in representation of the cross, by moving the right hand from the forehead to the chest and then left to right across to each shoulder, or by making a similar movement in front of oneself.

sign of the zodiac see under ZODIAC.

Signor /siːnˈjɔː(r)/ and Signore /-reɪ/ ▷ noun (Signori /-riː/ or Signors) 1 an Italian form of address equivalent to Mr or sir. 2 (signor) a gentleman. ◎ 16c: Italian.

Signora /siːnˈjɔːrə/ ▷ noun (Signore /-reɪ/ or Signoras) 1 an Italian form of address equivalent to Mrs or madam. 2 (signora) a lady. ◎ 17c: Italian.

Signorina /siːnjɔːˈriːnə/ ▷ noun (Signorine /-neɪ/ or Signorinas) 1 an Italian form of address equivalent to Miss or miss. 2 (signorina) an unmarried lady. ◎ 19c: Italian diminutive of SIGNORA.

signpost ▷ noun 1 a post supporting a sign that gives information or directions to motorists or pedestrians. 2 an indication or clue. ▷ verb 1 to mark (a route) with signposts. 2 to give directions to someone.

sika /ˈsiːkə/ ▷ noun (sika or sikas) a small deer that inhabits Japan and Eastern Asia, and develops a white spotted coat in the summer. ◎ 19c: from Japanese shika.

Sikh /siːk/ ▷ noun an adherent of the monotheistic religion established in the 16c by Guru Nanak who, together with former Hindus, rejected the authority of the Vedas, taking the Granth as their scripture. ▷ adj relating to the Sikhs, their beliefs or customs. • Sikhism noun. ◎ 18c: Hindi, meaning 'disciple'.

silage /ˈsaɪlɪdʒ/ ▷ noun animal fodder made from forage crops such as grass, maize, etc which are compressed and then preserved by controlled fermentation, eg in a silo. ◎ 19c: an alteration of ENSILAGE, from SILO.

sild ▷ noun a young herring. ◎ 1920s: Norwegian.

silence /ˈsaɪləns/ ▷ noun 1 absence of sound or speech. 2 a time of such absence of sound or speech. 3 failure or abstention from communication, disclosing information or secrets, etc. ▷ verb (silenced, silencing) to make someone or something stop speaking, making a noise, or giving away information. ▷ exclamation Be quiet! • in silence without speaking. ◎ 13c: from Latin silere to be quiet.

silencer /ˈsaɪlənsə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that silences. 2 a device fitted to a gun barrel or engine exhaust to reduce or eliminate the noise made. ◎ 17c.

silent /ˈsaɪlənt/ ▷ adj 1 free from noise; unaccompanied by sound. 2 refraining from speech; not mentioning or divulging something. 3 unspoken but expressed ▫ silent joy. 4 not pronounced ▫ the silent p in pneumonia. 5 said of a cinema film: having no soundtrack. ▷ noun a silent film. • silently adverb. • silentness noun. ◎ 16c.

silent majority ▷ noun those, in any country the bulk of the population, who are assumed to have sensible, moderate opinions though they do not trouble to express them publicly.

silent partner see SLEEPING PARTNER.

silenus /saɪˈliːnəs/ ▷ noun (sileni /-naɪ/) in Greek mythology: 1 (Silenus) the foster-father of Bacchus, and the chief of the satyrs, depicted as a bearded, bald, pot-bellied old man. 2 a woodland god or elderly satyr. ◎ 16c: Latin, from Greek Seilenos.

silex /ˈsaɪleks/ ▷ noun 1 a silica of quartz. 2 a heat-resistant and shock-resistant glass formed from fused quartz. ◎ 16c: Latin, meaning 'flint'.

silhouette /sɪluˈɛt/ ▷ noun 1 a dark shape or shadow seen against a light background. 2 an outline drawing of an object or especially a person, in profile, usually filled in with black. ▷ verb (silhouetted, silhouetting) to represent, or make appear, as a silhouette. ◎ 18c: named after Étienne de Silhouette (1709–67), French finance minister in 1759.

silica /ˈsɪlɪkə/ ▷ noun (silicas) geol a hard white or colourless glassy solid that occurs naturally as quartz, sand and flint, and also as silicate compounds, and is used in the manufacture of glasses, glazes and enamels. Also called silicon dioxide.

silica gel ▷ noun, chem an absorbent form of silica used as a drying agent, and as a catalyst in many chemical processes.

silicate /ˈsɪlɪkeɪt/ ▷ noun, chem 1 any of various chemical compounds containing silicon, oxygen and one or more metals, including the main components of most rocks and many minerals, eg clay, mica, feldspar. 2 any salt of silicic acid. ◎ 19c.

siliceous or silicious /sɪˈlɪʃəs/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to, or containing, silica.

silicic /sɪˈlɪsɪk/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to, or containing, silicon or an acid containing silicon.

silicify /sɪˈlɪsɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (silicifies, silicified, silicifying) to transform or make something transform into silica. • silicification noun.

silicon /ˈsɪlɪkən, -kɒn/ ▷ noun (symbol Si, atomic number 14) a non-metallic element that occurs naturally as silicate minerals in clays and rocks, and as silica in sand and quartz, used as a semiconductor to make transistors and silicon chips for the integrated circuits of computers, etc. ◎ Early 19c: from Latin silex flint.

> silicon, silicone
>
> These words are often confused with each other.

silicon carbide ▷ noun, chem (formula SiC) a hard, iridescent, bluish-black, crystalline compound, widely used as an abrasive, in cutting, grinding and polishing instruments, and in light-emitting diodes. Also called CARBORUNDUM.

silicon chip ▷ noun, electronics, computing a very thin piece of silicon or other semiconductor material, only a few millimetres square, on which all the components of an integrated circuit are arranged. Also called chip, microchip.

silicon dioxide see SILICA.

silicone /ˈsɪlɪkoʊn/ ▷ noun, chem any of numerous synthetic polymers, usually occurring in the form of oily liquids, waxes, plastics or rubbers, used in lubricants, electrical insulators, paints, water repellents, adhesives and surgical breast implants.

silicosis /sɪlɪˈkoʊsɪs/ ▷ noun, pathol a lung disease caused by prolonged inhalation of dust containing silica. Compare ASBESTOSIS, ANTHRACOSIS.

silk ▷ noun 1 a fine soft fibre produced by the larva of the silkworm. 2 a similar fibre produced by another insect or spider. 3 an imitation (also called artificial silk) made by forcing a viscous solution of modified cellulose through small holes. 4 thread or fabric made from such fibres. 5 a garment made from such fabric. 6 a the silk gown worn by a Queen's or King's Counsel; b the rank conferred by this. Also as adj □ a silk blouse. • take silk said of a barrister: to be appointed a Queen's or King's Counsel. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sioloc, from Latin sericum.

silken /ˈsɪlkən/ ▷ adj, literary 1 made of silk. 2 as soft or smooth as silk. 3 dressed in silk.

silk-screen printing see SCREEN PRINTING.

silkworm ▷ noun the caterpillar of the silk moth, which spins a cocoon of unbroken silk thread, farmed in India, China and Japan to provide silk on a commercial basis.

silky /ˈsɪlkɪ/ ▷ adj (silkier, silkiest) 1 soft and shiny like silk. 2 made from silk. 3 said of a person's manner or voice: suave.

sill ▷ noun 1 the bottom part of the framework around the inside of a window or door. 2 the ledge of wood, stone or metal forming this. 3 mining a bed of rock. 4 geol a layer of intrusive igneous rock, more or less parallel to the bedding. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon syll.

sillabub see SYLLABUB.

silly /ˈsɪlɪ/ ▷ adj (sillier, silliest) 1 not sensible; foolish; trivial or frivolous. 2 dazed; senseless □ She laughed herself silly □ The blow knocked him silly. 3 cricket in a fielding position very near the batsman □ silly mid-on. ▷ noun (sillies) colloq (also silly-billy) a foolish person. • silliness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sælig happy.

silo /ˈsaɪloʊ/ ▷ noun (silos) 1 a tall round airtight tower for storing green crops and converting them into silage. 2 an underground chamber housing a missile ready for firing. ⓘ 19c: Spanish, from Latin sirus, from Greek siros pit.

silt ▷ noun sedimentary material, finer than sand and coarser than clay, consisting of very small rock fragments or mineral particles, deposited by or suspended in running or still water. ▷ verb (silted, silting) intr to become blocked up with silt. ⓘ 15c: as sylt.

> ■ silt up to become or make something become blocked by silt.

Silurian /sɪˈlʊərɪən, sɪˈljʊərɪən/ ▷ adj, geol denoting the period of geological time between the Ordovician and Devonian periods, during which marine life predominated and the first jawed fish and primitive land plants appeared. See table at GEOLOGICAL TIME SCALE. ⓘ 18c: from Latin Silures an ancient people of S Wales.

silvan see SYLVAN.

silver /ˈsɪlvə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 (symbol Ag, atomic number 47) an element, a soft white lustrous precious metal that is an excellent conductor of heat and electricity, and is used in jewellery, ornaments, mirrors, coins, electrical contacts and for electroplating tableware. 2 coins made of this metal. 3 articles made of or coated with this metal, especially cutlery and other tableware. 4 a silver medal. ▷ adj 1 having a whitish-grey colour. 2 denoting a 25th wedding or other anniversary. 3 clear and ringing in tone eg of voice. ▷ verb (silvered, silvering) 1 to apply a thin coating of silver; to plate with silver. 2 to give a silvery sheen to something. 3 intr to become silvery. • born with a silver spoon in one's mouth born to affluence or wealthy surroundings. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon seolfor.

silver birch ▷ noun a species of birch tree with silvery-white peeling bark.

silver disc ▷ noun in Britain: a an album (ie an LP, CD, etc) that has sold 60 000 copies; b a single that has sold 200 000 copies. See also GOLD DISC, PLATINUM DISC. • go silver colloq to sell the respective number of albums or singles, earning the artist a framed silver disc from the recording company.

silverfish ▷ noun a primitive wingless insect with a tapering body covered with silvery scales, commonly found in houses, especially in damp places such as cracks around sinks.

silver fox ▷ noun 1 an American fox with white-tipped black fur. 2 the fur from this animal.

silver-gilt ▷ adj gilded or overlaid with silver.

silver jubilee ▷ noun a 25th anniversary.

silver lining ▷ noun a positive aspect of an otherwise unpleasant or unfortunate situation.

silver medal ▷ noun especially in sporting competitions: a medal of silver awarded to the person or team in second place.

silver nitrate ▷ noun, chem (formula $\mathbf{AgNO_3}$) a colourless crystalline compound, soluble in water and sensitive to light, used in photographic film, silver plating, ink manufacture, mirror silvering, hair dyes, etc.

silver plate ▷ noun 1 a thin coating of silver or a silver alloy on a metallic object, eg cutlery. 2 such objects coated with silver. • silver-plated adj.

silver screen ▷ noun 1 (the silver screen) colloq the film industry or films in general. 2 the cinema screen.

silver service ▷ noun a method of serving food in a restaurant, etc, in which the waiter or waitress uses a spoon and fork held in one hand to transfer the food from the serving dish to the diners' plates.

silverside ▷ noun a fine cut of beef from the rump, just below the aitchbone.

silversmith ▷ noun someone who makes or repairs articles made of silver.

silverweed ▷ noun a creeping plant with silvery leaves and yellow flowers, whose starchy roots were used as food in prehistoric times.

silvery /ˈsɪlvərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 having the colour or shiny quality of silver. 2 having a pleasantly light ringing sound □ silvery bells.

silviculture /ˈsɪlvɪkʌltʃə(r)/ ▷ noun, bot the cultivation of forest trees, or the management of woodland to produce timber, etc. ⓘ 19c: from Latin silva wood + CULTURE.

sima /ˈsaɪmə/ ▷ noun, geol the basaltic rocks rich in silica and magnesium that form the lower layer of the Earth's crust. See also SIAL. ⓘ Early 20c: from SILICON and MAGNESIUM.

simian /ˈsɪmɪən/ ▷ noun a monkey or ape. ▷ adj belonging or relating to, or resembling, a monkey or ape. ⓘ 17c: from Latin simia ape.

similar /ˈsɪmɪlə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 having a close resemblance to something; being of the same kind, but not identical; alike. 2 geom exactly corresponding in shape, regardless of size. • similarity /sɪmɪˈlarɪtɪ/ noun. • similarly /ˈsɪmɪləlɪ/ adverb. ⓘ 17c: from French similaire, from Latin similis like.

simile /ˈsɪmɪlɪ/ ▷ noun (similes) a figure of speech in which a thing is described by being likened to something, usually using as or like, as in eyes sparkling like diamonds, and in set phrases such as bold as brass. ⓘ 14c: Latin.

similitude /sɪˈmɪlɪtʃuːd/ ▷ noun, formal similarity; resemblance. ⓘ 14c: see SIMILAR.

simmer /ˈsɪmə(r)/ ▷ verb (simmered, simmering) 1 tr & intr to cook or make something cook gently at just below boiling point. 2 intr to be close to an outburst of emotion, usually anger. ▷ noun a simmering state. ⓘ 17c: as simperen.

> ■ simmer down to calm down, especially after a commotion, eg an angry outburst.

simnel /ˈsɪmnəl/ ▷ noun a sweet fruit cake covered with marzipan, traditionally baked at Easter or Mid-Lent. ⓘ 13c: from Latin simila fine flour.

simony /ˈsaɪmənɪ, ˈsɪmənɪ/ ▷ noun the practice of buying or selling a religious post, benefice or other privilege. ⓘ 13c: from Simon Magus, the Biblical sorcerer who offered money for the power to convey the gift of the Holy Spirit.

simoom /sɪˈmuːm/ and simoon ▷ noun a hot suffocating desert wind in Arabia and N Africa. ⓘ 18c: from Arabic samum, from samm to poison.

simpatico /sɪmˈpatɪkoʊ/ ▷ adj sympathetic in the congenial sense. ⓘ 19c: Italian and Spanish.

simper /ˈsɪmpə(r)/ ▷ verb (simpered, simpering) 1 intr to smile in a weak affected manner. 2 to express by or while smiling in this way. ▷ noun a simpering smile. ⓘ 16c: from Norwegian semper smart.

simple /ˈsɪmpəl/ ▷ adj 1 easy; not difficult. 2 straightforward; not complex or complicated. 3 plain or basic; not elaborate or luxurious □ a simple outfit. 4 down-to-earth; unpretentious; honest. 5 often ironic foolish; gullible; lacking intelligence □ He's a bit of a simple lad. 6 plain; straightforward; not altered or adulterated □ the simple facts. 7 consisting of one thing or element. 8 bot not divided into leaflets. ▷ noun a medicine of one constituent. ⓘ 13c: French, from Latin simplus.

simple fraction ▷ noun, math a fraction with whole numbers as numerator and denominator.

simple fracture ▷ noun a fracture of the bone that does not involve an open skin wound. Compare COMPOUND FRACTURE.

simple harmonic motion ▷ noun, physics (abbreviation shm) continuous and repetitive motion whereby a body oscillates in such a way that it ranges an equal distance on either side of a central point, and its acceleration towards the point is proportional to its distance from it, as with a pendulum.

simple interest ▷ noun interest calculated only on the basic sum initially borrowed (see PRINCIPAL noun 6). Compare COMPOUND INTEREST.

simple-minded ▷ adj 1 lacking intelligence; foolish. 2 guileless; unsophisticated. ● simple-mindedness noun.

simple sentence ▷ noun a sentence consisting of one MAIN CLAUSE. Compare COMPLEX SENTENCE, COMPOUND SENTENCE, COMPOUND-COMPLEX SENTENCE.

simpleton ▷ noun a foolish or unintelligent person. ⓘ 17c.

simplicity /sɪmˈplɪsɪtɪ/ ▷ noun a simple state or quality. ⓘ 14c: from French simplicité, from simple.

simplify /ˈsɪmplɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (simplifies, simplified, simplifying) to make something less difficult or complicated; to make it easier to understand. ● simplification /sɪmplɪfɪˈkeɪʃən/ noun. ● simplifier noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin simplus simple + facere to make.

simplistic /sɪmˈplɪstɪk/ ▷ adj unrealistically straightforward or uncomplicated; oversimplified. ● simplistically adverb. ⓘ 19c.

simply /ˈsɪmplɪ/ ▷ adverb 1 in a straightforward, uncomplicated manner. 2 just □ It's simply not true. 3 absolutely □ simply marvellous. 4 merely □ We simply wanted to help. ⓘ 13c.

simulate /ˈsɪmjʊleɪt/ ▷ verb (simulated, simulating) 1 to convincingly re-create (a set of conditions or a real-life event), especially for the purposes of training. 2 to assume a false appearance of someone or something. 3 to pretend to have, do or feel □ She simulated anger. ● simulated adj not genuine; imitation □ simulated leather. ● simulation noun 1 simulating; something that is simulated. 2 any model of a system or process □ computer traffic simulation program. ⓘ 17c: from Latin simulare.

simulator /ˈsɪmjʊleɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun a device that simulates a system, process or set of conditions, especially in order to test it, or for training purposes □ flight simulator.

simulcast /ˈsɪməlkɑːst/ ▷ noun 1 a programme broadcast simultaneously on radio and television. 2 the transmission of a programme in this way. ⓘ 1940s: from simultaneous broadcast.

simultaneous /sɪməlˈteɪnɪəs/ ▷ adj happening, or carried out, at exactly the same time. ● simultaneously adverb. ● simultaneousness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin simul at the same time.

simultaneous equations ▷ noun, math two or more equations whose variables have the same values in both or all the equations.

sin[1] ▷ noun 1 an act that breaches a moral and especially a religious law or teaching. 2 the condition of offending a deity by committing a moral offence. 3 an act that offends common standards of morality or decency; an outrage. 4 a great shame. ▷ verb (sinned, sinning) intr (often sin against) to commit a sin. ● live in sin colloq to live together as a couple without being married. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon synn.

sin[2] ▷ abbreviation sine (see SINE[1]).

since /sɪns/ ▷ conj 1 from the time that; seeing that. 2 as; because □ I'm not surprised you failed the exam since you did no work for it. ▷ prep during or throughout the period between now and some earlier stated time □ I've been there several times since it opened. ▷ adverb 1 from that time onwards □ I haven't been back since. 2 ago □ five years since. ⓘ 16c: as sithens.

> since
>
> See Usage Note at ago sincere /sɪnˈsɪə(r)/ ▷ adj genuine; not pretended or affected. ● sincerely adverb. ● sincerity /sɪnˈserɪtɪ/ noun. ⓘ 16c: from Latin sincerus clean.

sinciput /ˈsɪnsɪpʌt/ ▷ noun (sinciputs or sincipita /-ˈsɪpɪtə/) anatomy the forepart of the head or skull. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from semi- half + caput head.

sine[1] /saɪn/ ▷ noun, trig (abbreviation sin) in a right-angled triangle: a FUNCTION (noun 4) of an angle, defined as the length of the side opposite the angle divided by the length of the hypotenuse. ⓘ 16c: from Latin sinus curve or bay.

sine[2] /ˈsaɪnɪ, ˈsɪneɪ/ ▷ prep without. ⓘ Latin.

sinecure /ˈsɪnɪkjʊə(r), ˈsaɪ-/ ▷ noun 1 church a BENEFICE without CURE (noun 4) of souls. 2 a paid job involving little or no work. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sine without + cura care.

sine die /ˈsaɪnɪ ˈdaɪiː, ˈsɪneɪ ˈdeɪ/ ▷ adverb, adj with no future time fixed; indefinitely. ⓘ 17c: Latin, meaning 'without a day'.

sine qua non /ˈsaɪnɪ kweɪ nɒn, ˈsɪneɪ kwɑː noʊn/ ▷ noun an essential condition or requirement. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'without which not'.

sinew /ˈsɪnjuː/ ▷ noun 1 a strong piece of fibrous tissue joining a muscle to a bone; a tendon. 2 (sinews) physical strength; muscle. 3 (often sinews) strength or power of any kind, or a source of this. ● sinewy adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sinu.

sine wave ▷ noun, math a waveform whose shape resembles that obtained by plotting a graph of the sine of an angle against the value of its sine.

sinfonia /sɪnfəˈnɪə, sɪnˈfoʊnɪə/ ▷ noun (sinfonie /sɪnfəˈniːeɪ, sɪnˈfoʊnɪeɪ/ or sinfonias) 1 an orchestral piece; a symphony. 2 a symphony or chamber orchestra. ⓘ 18c: Italian, meaning 'symphony'.

sinfonietta /sɪnfoʊnɪˈetə/ ▷ noun (sinfoniettas) 1 an orchestral piece, usually in several movements but shorter and on a smaller scale than a symphony. 2 a small symphony or chamber orchestra. ⓘ Early 20c: Italian, a diminutive of SINFONIA.

sinful /ˈsɪnfəl/ ▷ adj wicked; involving sin; morally wrong. ● sinfully adverb. ● sinfulness noun.

sing ▷ verb (past tense sang, past participle sung, present participle singing) 1 tr & intr to utter (words, sounds, etc) in a melodic rhythmic fashion, especially to the accompaniment of music. 2 intr to utter such sounds as a profession □ Her mother was a dancer, but she sings. 3 to make someone or something pass into a particular state with such sound □ The mother sang her baby to sleep. 4 intr to make a sound like a musical voice; to hum, ring or whistle □ The kettle was singing on the stove □ Bullets were singing past his ears □ The wind was singing in the trees. 5 intr to suffer a ringing sound □ My ears were singing for days after the rock concert. 6 intr, especially US slang to inform or confess; to squeal. 7 intr said of birds, specific insects, etc: to produce calls or sounds. 8 (also sing of) to write in poetry. 9 to proclaim or relate (an event, etc) in song or verse. • sing someone's praises to praise them enthusiastically. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon singan.

■ sing along said of an audience: to join in the familiar songs with the performer.

■ sing out 1 to shout or call out. 2 to inform; to preach.

sing. ▷ abbreviation singular.

singalong ▷ noun a song in which an audience, etc can join in with the words.

singe /sɪndʒ/ ▷ verb (singed, singeing) tr & intr to burn lightly on the surface; to scorch or become scorched. ▷ noun a light surface burn. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sengan.

singer /ˈsɪŋə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person or bird that sings. 2 someone who sings professionally. 3 especially US slang an informer. ⓘ 14c.

Singhalese see SINHALESE.

single /ˈsɪŋɡəl/ ▷ adj 1 comprising only one part; solitary. 2 having no partner; unmarried, especially never having been married. 3 for use by one person only □ a single room. 4 said of a travel ticket: valid for an outward journey only; not return. 5 unique; individual. 6 one-fold; uncombined □ single stitch. 7 said of a combat: person-to-person. 8 even one □ Not a single person turned up. 9 said of a flower: having only one set of petals. ▷ noun (singles) 1 (often singles) a person without a partner, either marital or otherwise. 2 a single room, eg in a guest house. 3 a ticket for an outward journey only. 4 a RECORD (noun 4) usually with only one track on each side, now also referring to a CASSETTE SINGLE and those on compact disc. Compare ALBUM. 5 Brit a pound coin or note. 6 US a one-dollar note. 7 cricket a hit for one run. ▷ verb (singled, singling) (always single out) to pick someone or something from among others □ He was singled out for the team □ They singled him out as the culprit. ⓘ 14c: French, from Latin singuli one by one.

single-breasted ▷ adj said of a coat or jacket: having only one row of buttons and a slight overlap at the front.

single combat ▷ noun fighting between two individuals.

single cream ▷ noun cream with a low fat-content, which does not thicken when beaten.

single-decker ▷ noun a vehicle, especially a bus, with only one deck. Compare DOUBLE-DECKER.

single figures ▷ noun the numbers from 1 to 9. • single-figure adj □ a single-figure score.

single file and Indian file ▷ noun a line of people, animals, etc standing or moving one behind the other. Also as adverb □ They shuffled single-file into the hall.

single-handed ▷ adj, adverb done, carried out etc by oneself, without any help from others. • single-handedly adverb.

single-minded ▷ adj determinedly pursuing one specific aim or object. • single-mindedly adverb. • single-mindedness noun.

single parent ▷ noun a mother or father bringing up a child alone.

singles /ˈsɪŋɡəlz/ ▷ noun in tennis, etc: a match where one player competes against another.

singles bar and singles club ▷ noun a bar intended as a meeting place for unmarried or unattached people.

singlet /ˈsɪŋɡlət, -lɪt/ ▷ noun a sleeveless vest or undershirt. ⓘ 18c.

singleton /ˈsɪŋɡəltən/ ▷ noun 1 the only playing-card of a particular suit in a hand. 2 a solitary person or thing. ⓘ 19c.

singly /ˈsɪŋɡlɪ/ ▷ adverb 1 one at a time; individually. 2 alone; by oneself.

singsong ▷ noun an informal gathering at which friends, etc sing together for pleasure. ▷ adj said of a speaking voice, etc: having a fluctuating intonation and rhythm.

singular /ˈsɪŋɡjʊlə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 single; unique. 2 extraordinary; exceptional. 3 strange; odd. 4 grammar denoting or referring to one person, thing, etc as opposed to two or more. Compare PLURAL. ▷ noun, grammar a word or form of a word expressing the idea or involvement of one person, thing, etc as opposed to two or more. • singularity /sɪŋɡjʊˈlarɪtɪ/ noun 1 being singular. 2 peculiarity; individuality. ⓘ 14c: from Latin singularis.

singularize or singularise /ˈsɪŋɡjʊləraɪz/ ▷ verb (singularized, singularizing) 1 to make (a word) singular. 2 to signalize. • singularization noun. ⓘ 16c.

singularly /ˈsɪŋɡjʊləlɪ/ ▷ adverb 1 extraordinarily. 2 strangely. 3 singly. 4 very.

Sinhalese /sɪnhəˈliːz/ and Singhalese ▷ noun (plural Sinhalese) 1 a member of a people living in Sri Lanka. 2 their language. ▷ adj belonging or relating to this people or their language. ⓘ Early 19c: from Sanskrit Simhala Sri Lanka.

sinister /ˈsɪnɪstə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 suggesting or threatening evil or danger; malign. 2 inauspicious; ominous. 3 heraldry on the left side of the shield from the bearer's point of view, as opposed to that of the observer. Compare DEXTER. • sinisterly adverb. ⓘ 14c: Latin, meaning 'left', believed by the Romans to be the unlucky side.

sinistral /ˈsɪnɪstrəl/ ▷ adj 1 positioned on or relating to the left side. 2 turning to the left side. 3 said of shells: coiled from right to left, contrary to normal. ⓘ 15c.

sinistrorse /sɪnɪˈstrɔːs, ˈsɪnɪstrɔːs/ ▷ adj, bot said of certain climbing plants: spiralling upwards from right to left. • sinistrorsal adj. ⓘ 19c: from Latin sinistrorsus towards the left side, from sinister left + vertere to turn.

Sinitic /sɪˈnɪtɪk/ ▷ adj denoting a group of languages belonging to the Sino-Tibetan family, used mainly in China and Taiwan. ▷ noun the languages forming this group. ⓘ 19c: from Latin Sinae Chinese.

sink ▷ verb (past tense sank or sunk, past participle sunk, present participle sinking) 1 tr & intr to fall or cause to fall and remain below the surface of water, either partially or completely. 2 intr to collapse downwardly or inwardly; to fall because of a collapsing base or foundation; to subside. 3 intr to be or become inwardly withdrawn or dejected □ My heart sank at the news. 4 to embed □ They sank the pole into the ground. 5 to pass steadily (and often dangerously) into a worse level or state □ He sank into depression after her death. 6 to slope away or dip. 7 to diminish or decline □ My opinion of him sank after that incident. 8 to invest (money) heavily □ We sank a lot of money into this project. 9 to pay (a debt). 10 colloq to ruin the plans of someone; to ruin (plans) □ We are sunk. 11 colloq to drink (especially alcohol) usually quickly □ We sank four beers within the hour. 12 intr said of the Sun or Moon: to disappear slowly below the horizon. 13 colloq to send (a ball) into a pocket in snooker, billiards, etc and into the hole in golf. 14 to excavate (a well, shaft, etc). 15 to let in or insert □ screws sunk into the wall. 16 to abandon or abolish □ I'll sink the whole organization if I have to. 17 to damn or ruin (especially in imprecation). ▷ noun 1 a basin, wall-mounted or in a SINK UNIT, with built-in water supply and drainage, for washing dishes, etc. 2 a place of immorality, vice and corruption. 3 a cesspool. 4 a depression in a surface. 5 an area without any surface drainage. 6 a depression in the ground where water, etc collects. 7 physics a method, natural or artificial, by which heat, fluid, etc is absorbed or discharged. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sincan.

■ sink in 1 colloq to be fully understood or realized □ The bad news took a few days to sink in. 2 to penetrate or be absorbed □ Wait for the ink to sink in first.

sinker /ˈsɪŋkə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone who sinks. 2 a weight used to sink something, eg a fishing-line. ⓘ 18c.

sinking fund ▷ noun a fund formed by setting aside income to accumulate at interest to pay off a debt.

sink unit ▷ noun a piece of kitchen furniture containing of a sink and draining-board, usually also with cupboards underneath.

sinner /ˈsɪnə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who sins or has sinned. ⓘ 14c.

Sino- /saɪnoʊ, sɪnoʊ, saɪˈnɒ, sɪˈnɒ/ ▷ combining form, denoting Chinese □ Sino-Soviet. ⓘ From Greek Sinai Chinese.

Sinology /saɪˈnɒlədʒɪ, sɪ-/ ▷ noun the study of China in all its aspects, especially cultural and political. ● Sinologist noun an expert in Sinology. ⓘ 19c.

Sino-Tibetan ▷ adj denoting the family of languages spoken in China, Tibet and Burma (Myanma), consisting of around 300 languages, including the eight Chinese (or SINITIC) languages, Tibetan and Burmese. ▷ noun the languages forming this group.

sinter /ˈsɪntə(r)/ ▷ noun a siliceous deposit from hot springs. ▷ verb (sintered, sintering) to heat a mixture of powdered metals, sometimes under pressure, to the melting-point of the metal in the mixture which has the lowest melting point, which then binds together the harder particles. ⓘ 18c as sinder CINDER.

sinuate /ˈsɪnjʊeɪt/ ▷ adj 1 having many curves or bends; meandering. 2 having a twisting and turning motion. ● sinuation noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sinuatus, from sinuare to bend or curve.

sinuous /ˈsɪnjʊəs/ ▷ adj wavy; winding; sinuate. ● sinuosity /sɪnjʊˈɒsɪtɪ/ or sinuousness noun. ● sinuously adverb. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from sinus curve.

sinus /ˈsaɪnəs/ ▷ noun (sinuses) 1 anatomy a cavity or depression filled with air, especially in the bones of mammals. 2 anatomy a cavity filled with blood, especially in the brain and certain blood vessels. 3 bot a notch or depression between two lobes in a leaf. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'curve'.

sinusitis /saɪnəˈsaɪtɪs/ ▷ noun inflammation of the lining of the sinuses, especially the nasal ones. ⓘ Early 20c.

sinusoid /ˈsaɪnəsɔɪd/ ▷ noun 1 math the curve of sines. 2 anatomy a small blood vessel in certain organs, such as the liver, heart, etc. ▷ adj similar to or referring to a sinus. ● sinusoidal adj. ● sinusoidally adverb. ⓘ 19c.

Siouan /ˈsuːən/ ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to the Sioux, or to a larger group to which the Sioux belong. 2 referring or relating to the languages of this group. ▷ noun the group of languages spoken by the Sioux. ⓘ 19c.

Sioux /suː/ ▷ noun (plural Sioux /suː, suːz/) 1 a Native American of a tribe now living in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Montana. 2 any of a group of languages spoken by them. ⓘ 18c: French, a shortening of Ottawan Nadoussioux.

sip ▷ verb (sipped, sipping) tr & intr to drink in very small mouthfuls. ▷ noun 1 an act of sipping. 2 an amount sipped at one time. ● sipper noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sypian, perhaps a variation of SUP.

siphon or syphon /ˈsaɪfən/ ▷ noun 1 a tube held in an inverted U-shape that can be used to transfer liquid from one container at a higher level into another at a lower level, used to empty car petrol tanks, etc. 2 (in full soda siphon) a bottle from which a liquid, especially soda water, is forced by pressure of gas. 3 zool in certain animals, eg bivalve molluscs: an organ resembling a tube through which water flows in and out. ▷ verb (siphoned, siphoning) (usually siphon something off) 1 to transfer (liquid) from one container to another using such a device. 2 to take (money, funds, etc) slowly and continuously from a store or fund. ⓘ 17c: Greek, meaning 'pipe'.

sippet /ˈsɪpɪt/ ▷ noun a morsel of bread or toast, especially with soup. ⓘ 16c: from SIP.

sir /sɜː(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a polite and respectful address for a man. 2 (Sir) a title used before the Christian name of a knight or baronet. 3 (Sir) a word of address to a man in a formal letter □ Sir! □ Dear Sir or Madam. ⓘ 13c: see SIRE.

sire /saɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the father of a horse or other animal. 2 historical a term of respect used in addressing a king. ▷ verb (sired, siring) said of an animal: to father (young). ⓘ 12c: French, from Latin senior elder.

siren /ˈsaɪərən/ ▷ noun 1 a device that gives out a loud wailing noise, usually as a warning signal. 2 an irresistible woman thought capable of ruining men's lives; a FEMME FATALE. 3 a bewitching and fascinating singer. 4 (Siren) Greek mythol a certain sea-nymph, part-woman, part-bird, whose seductive songs lured sailors to their deaths on the rocks. See also LORELEI. 5 any eel-like amphibian with no hind legs or external gills. ⓘ 14c: from Greek Seiren.

Sirius /ˈsɪrɪəs/ ▷ noun, astron the brightest star in the night sky (the Dog Star) in the constellation Canis Major. ⓘ 14c: Latin, from Greek Seirius.

sirloin /ˈsɜːlɔɪn/ ▷ noun a fine cut of beef from the loin or the upper part of the loin. ⓘ 16c: from French surlonge, from sur above + longe loin.

sirocco or scirocco /sɪˈrɒkoʊ/ ▷ noun (siroccos or sciroccos) in S Europe: a dry hot dusty wind blowing from N Africa, and becoming more moist as it moves further north. ⓘ 17c: Italian, from Arabic sharq east wind.

sis ▷ noun, colloq short for SISTER.

sisal /ˈsaɪsəl, ˈsaɪzəl/ ▷ noun (in full sisal hemp or sisal grass) 1 any of various perennial plants, native to Central America, which have a rosette of swollen stout sword-like leaves tipped with sharp spines. 2 the strong coarse durable yellowish fibre obtained from the leaves of this plant, used to make ropes, twine, brush bristles, sacking, matting, etc. ⓘ 19c: named after Sisal, the port in Yucatan in Mexico from where it was first exported.

siskin /ˈsɪskɪn/ ▷ noun any of various small finches, the male of which usually has yellowish-green plumage with a black crown and chin, a bold yellow rump and a deeply forked black tail. ⓘ 16c: from Dutch sisken.

sissy or cissy /ˈsɪsɪ/ ▷ noun (sissies or cissies) derog a feeble, cowardly or effeminate male. ▷ adj having the characteristics of a sissy. ⓘ 19c: from SISTER.

sister /ˈsɪstə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a female child of the same parents as another. 2 a HALF-SISTER. 3 a nun. 4 a senior female nurse, especially one in charge of a ward. 5 a close female associate; a fellow female member of a profession, class or racial group. 6 often shortened from SOUL SISTER. ▷ adj being of the same origin, model or design □ a sister ship. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sweostor, related to Norse systir.

sisterhood ▷ noun 1 the state of being a sister or sisters. 2 the relationship of sister. 3 a religious community of women; a body of nuns. 4 a group of women with common interests or beliefs.

sister-in-law ▷ noun (sisters-in-law) 1 the sister of one's husband or wife. 2 the wife of one's brother.

sisterly /ˈsɪstəlɪ/ ▷ adj said of a woman or her behaviour: like a sister, especially in being kind and affectionate. ● sisterliness noun. ⓘ 16c.

sit ▷ verb (sat, sitting) 1 intr to rest the body on the buttocks, with the upper body more or less vertical. 2 said of an animal: to position itself on its hindquarters in a similar manner. 3 intr said of a bird: to perch or lie. 4 intr said of a bird: to brood. 5 intr said of an object: to lie, rest or hang □ There are a few cups sitting on the shelf □ The jacket sits nicely round your shoulders. 6 intr to lie unused □ I've got all my tools sitting in the shed. 7 intr to hold a meeting or other session □ The court sits tomorrow. 8 intr to be a member, taking regular part in meetings □ sit on a committee. 9 to have a seat, as in parliament. 10 to reside or inhabit. 11 to be a tenant. 12 to have a specific position □ The TV sits on this stand. 13 to be located or situated □ The TV sits in the corner. 14 said of the wind: to have a direction □ The wind sits south. 15 to take (an examination); to be a candidate for (a degree or other award) □ I'm sitting my first exam tomorrow. 16 to conduct to a seat; to assign a seat to someone □ They sat me next to him. 17 intr to be or exist in a specified comparison or relation □ His smoking sits awkwardly with his being a doctor. 18 intr to pose as an artist's or photographer's model. ● be sitting pretty colloq to be in a very advantageous position. ● sit on the fence see under FENCE. ● sit tight 1 to maintain one's position and opinion determinedly. 2 to wait patiently. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sittan.

■ sit back 1 to sit comfortably, especially with the head and back rested. 2 to observe rather than take an active part, especially when action is needed □ He's just happy to sit back and let everyone else make the effort.

■ sit down or sit someone down to take, or make them take, a sitting position.

■ sit down under something to submit meekly to (an insult, etc).

■ sit in on something to be present at it as a visitor or observer, especially without participating.

■ sit in for someone to act as a substitute for them.

■ sit on someone colloq to force them to say or do nothing; to repress them.

■ sit on something 1 to be a member of it □ I sit on the committee for the sports centre. 2 colloq to delay taking action over it. 3 colloq to keep it secret; to suppress it.

■ sit something out 1 to stay until the end of it. 2 to take no part, especially in a dance or game.

■ sit up 1 to move oneself from a slouching or lying position into an upright sitting position. 2 to remain out of bed longer than usual □ I sat up late writing my essay. 3 to take notice suddenly or show a sudden interest.

sitar /sɪˈtɑː(r), ˈsɪ-/ ▷ noun a guitar-like instrument of Indian origin, with a long neck, rounded body and two sets of strings. ⓘ 19c: Hindi.

sitcom /ˈsɪtkɒm/ ▷ noun, colloq short for SITUATION COMEDY.

sit-down ▷ noun, colloq a short rest in a seated position. ▷ adj 1 said of a meal: for which the diners are seated. 2 said of a strike: in which the workers occupy the workplace until an agreement is reached.

site ▷ noun 1 the place where something was, is, or is to be situated □ the site of the museum □ the site of the rebellion. 2 an area set aside for a specific activity □ a camping site. ▷ verb (sited, siting) to position or situate. ⓘ 14c: from Latin situs position.

Site of Special Scientific Interest see SSSI sit-in ▷ noun the occupation of a public building, factory, etc as a form of protest or as a means of applying pressure, especially towards the settling of a dispute. Also as adj □ a sit-in protest.

Sitka spruce /ˈsɪtkə —/ ▷ noun, bot an evergreen coniferous tree, native to N temperate regions, widely cultivated for its timber and as an ornamental tree.

sitter /ˈsɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person or animal that sits. 2 a person who poses for an artist or photographer. 3 a babysitter. 4 in compounds a person who looks after a house, pet, etc in the absence of its owner □ a flat sitter □ cat sitter. 5 an easy shot or catch □ He missed a sitter. 6 any easy task or activity. 7 a certain winner □ I backed a sitter in the 3.30 at Sandown Park. 8 colloq an easy target for crime or deception. 9 a person taking part in a seance, other than the medium. 10 a bird which sits on eggs to hatch them. ⓘ 14c.

sitting /ˈsɪtɪŋ/ ▷ verb, present participle of SIT. ▷ noun 1 the act or state of being seated. 2 a period of continuous activity, usually while sitting or in a similar position □ He wrote it at one sitting. 3 a turn to eat for any of two or more sections of a group too large to eat all at the same time in the same place, or the period set aside for each turn. 4 a period of posing for an artist or photographer. 5 a session or meeting of an official body. 6 brooding on eggs. 7 a clutch of eggs. ▷ adj 1 currently holding office □ He's the sitting MP for this constituency. 2 seated □ in a sitting position. 3 for people to sit in □ There's not enough sitting space. 4 brooding. ⓘ 12c.

sitting duck and sitting target ▷ noun someone or something in a defenceless or exposed position, easily attacked, criticized, etc.

sitting-room ▷ noun a room, especially in a private house, for relaxing in, entertaining visitors, etc.

sitting tenant ▷ noun, Brit a tenant occupying a property when it changes ownership.

situate ▷ verb /ˈsɪtʃʊeɪt/ (situated, situating) to place in a certain position, context or set of circumstances. ▷ adj /ˈsɪtʃʊət/ especially law situated. ● situated in a particular position, setting or set of circumstances. ⓘ 16c: from Latin situatus, from situare to position, from situs SITE.

situation /sɪtʃʊˈeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a set of circumstances or state of affairs. 2 a place, position or location. 3 a job; employment □ situations vacant. 4 a critical point in the action of a play or in the development of the plot of a novel. ● situational adj. ⓘ 15c.

situation comedy ▷ noun a radio or TV comedy, often broadcast as a series of episodes in which the same characters appear in more or less the same surroundings, and which depends for its humour on the behaviour of the characters in particular, sometimes contrived, situations. Often shortened to SITCOM.

situation ethics ▷ noun, philos ethics based on the principle that what is good or right and what is bad or wrong may vary depending on the circumstances.

situationism ▷ noun the theory that behaviour is determined by surrounding situations rather than personal qualities. ● situationist noun.

sit-up ▷ noun a physical exercise in which the body is raised up and over the thighs from a lying position, often with the hands behind the head.

Siva see SHIVA

six ▷ noun 1 a the cardinal number 6; b the quantity that this represents, being one more than five. 2 any symbol for this, eg 6 or vi. 3 the age of six. 4 something, especially a garment or a person, whose size is denoted by the number 6. 5 the sixth hour after midnight or midday □ Come at six □ 6 o'clock □ 6pm. 6 a set or group of six people or things. 7 a playing-card with six pips □ He played his six. 8 a score of 6 points. 9 cricket a hit scoring 6 runs. 10 a team of (more or less) six Cub Scouts or Brownie Guides. ▷ adj 1 totalling six. 2 aged six. ● at sixes and sevens in a state of total disorder or confusion. ● hit or knock someone for six colloq 1 to defeat or ruin them completely. 2 to shock or surprise them completely. ● six of one and half a dozen of the other equal; equally acceptable or unacceptable; the same on both sides. Sometimes shortened to six and half a dozen. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon siex.

sixer /ˈsɪksə(r)/ ▷ noun the Cub Scout or Brownie Guide leader of a SIX (noun 10).

sixfold ▷ adj 1 equal to six times as much. 2 divided into or consisting of six parts. ▷ adverb by six times as much. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon; see SIX + -FOLD.

six-pack ▷ noun a pack containing six items sold as one unit, especially a pack of six cans of beer.

sixpence ▷ noun in Britain: a former small silver coin worth six old pennies (6d), equivalent in value to 2 ½p.

sixpenny ▷ adj 1 worth or costing six old pennies. 2 cheap; worthless.

sixteen /sɪksˈtiːn, ˈsɪkstiːn/ ▷ noun 1 a the cardinal number 16; b the quantity that this represents, being one more than fifteen, or the sum of ten and six. 2 any symbol for this, eg 16 or XVI. 3 the age of sixteen. 4 something, especially a garment or a person, whose size is denoted by the number 16. 5 a set or group of sixteen people or things. 6 a score of sixteen points. ▷ adj 1 totalling sixteen. 2 aged sixteen. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon; see SIX + -TEEN.

sixteenth /sɪkˈstiːnθ/ (often written 16th) ▷ adj 1 in counting: a next after fifteenth; b last of sixteen. 2 in sixteenth position. 3 (the sixteenth) a the sixteenth day of the month; b golf the sixteenth hole. ▷ noun 1 one of sixteen equal parts. Also as adj □ a sixteenth share. 2 a FRACTION equal to one divided by sixteen (usually written ¹/₁₆). 3 a person coming ninth, eg in a race or exam □ In spite of all her training, she came in a poor sixteenth. ▷ adverb sixteenthly. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon; see SIXTEEN + -TH.

sixth /sɪksθ/ (often written 6th) ▷ adj 1 in counting: a next after fifth; b last of six. 2 in sixth position. 3 (the sixth) a the sixth day of the month; b golf the sixth hole. ▷ noun 1 one of six equal parts. Also as adj □ a sixth share. 2 a FRACTION equal to one divided by six (usually written ¹/₆). 3 a person coming sixth, eg in a race or exam □ She came in a weary but contented sixth. 4 music a the interval between two notes that are six notes apart (counting both the first and the last) on the diatonic scale; b a note at that interval from another, or a combination of two notes separated by that interval. ▷ adverb sixthly. ● sixthly adverb used to introduce the sixth point in a list. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon; see SIX + -TH.

sixth form ▷ noun in secondary education: the stage in which school subjects are taught to a level that prepares for higher education. ● sixth-former noun a member of a sixth form.

sixth sense ▷ noun an unexplained power of intuition by which one is aware of things that are not seen, heard, touched, smelled or tasted.

sixties /ˈsɪkstiːz/ (often written 60s or 60's) ▷ plural noun 1 (one's sixties) the period of time between one's sixtieth and seventieth birthdays □ Jean must be in her sixties by now. 2 (the sixties) a the range of temperatures between sixty and seventy degrees □ Temperatures reached the low sixties today; b the period of time between the sixtieth and seventieth years of a century □ born in the 60s. Also as adj □ sixties flares.

sixtieth /ˈsɪkstɪəθ/ (often written 60th) ▷ adj 1 in counting: a next after fifty-ninth; b last of sixty. 2 in sixtieth position. ▷ noun 1 one of sixty equal parts. Also as adj □ a sixtieth share. 2 a FRACTION equal to one divided by sixty (usually written ¹/₆₀). 3 a person coming sixtieth, eg in a race or exam □ He came in a triumphant sixtieth out of a field of sixty-three. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon; see SIXTY + -TH.

sixty /ˈsɪkstɪ/ ▷ noun 1 a the cardinal number 60; b the quantity that this represents, being one more than fifty-nine, or the product of ten and six. 2 any symbol for this, eg 60 or LX. Also in compounds, forming adjectives and nouns, with cardinal numbers between one and nine □ sixty-four. 3 the age of sixty. 4 something, especially a garment, or a person, whose size is denoted by the number 60. 5 a set or group of sixty people or things. 6 a score of sixty points. ▷ adj 1 totalling sixty. Also in compounds, forming adjectives and nouns, with ordinal numbers between first and ninth □ sixty-fourth. 2 aged sixty. See also SIXTIES, SIXTIETH. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon; see SIX + -TY.

sixty-four dollar question and sixty-four thousand dollar question ▷ noun 1 in US quiz shows: the final and most difficult question a contestant must answer in order to win the top prize money. 2 any hard or crucial question.

sixtyish /ˈsɪkstɪɪʃ/ ▷ adj 1 about sixty years old. 2 about sixty in number □ How many turned up? Oh, sixtyish.

sixty-nine see SOIXANTE-NEUF.

sizar /ˈsaɪzə(r)/ ▷ noun at Cambridge University and Trinity College in Dublin: a student receiving an allowance from their college towards expenses. ● sizarship noun. ⓘ 16c.

size[1] /saɪz/ ▷ noun 1 length, breadth, height or volume, or a combination of these; the dimensions of something. 2 largeness; magnitude □ We were amazed at its size. 3 any of a range of graded measurements into which especially garments and shoes are divided □ She takes a size 12 □ What is your shoe size? ▷ verb (sized, sizing) 1 to measure something in order to determine size. 2 to sort or arrange something according to size. ● sized adj, usually in compounds having a particular size □ medium-sized. ● sizer noun 1 a measurer or gauge. 2 slang something of great or considerable size. ● of a size being of the same size. ● the size of it colloq an assessment of the present situation or state of affairs. ⓘ 13c: from French sise, a variant of assise ASSIZE.

■ size someone or something up 1 to take a mental measurement of them or it. 2 colloq to mentally judge their or its nature, quality or worth.

size[2] /saɪz/ ▷ noun a weak kind of glue used to stiffen paper and fabric, and to prepare walls for plastering and wallpapering. ▷ verb (sized, sizing) to cover or treat with size. ⓘ 15c.

sizeable or sizable /ˈsaɪzəbəl/ ▷ adj fairly large; being of a considerable size.

sizeism or sizism /ˈsaɪzɪzəm/ ▷ noun discrimination against overweight people. ● sizeist noun, adj.

sizzle /ˈsɪzəl/ ▷ verb (sizzled, sizzling) intr 1 to make a hissing sound when, or as if when, frying in hot fat. 2 to be extremely hot □ sizzling weather. 3 colloq to be in a state of intense emotion, especially anger or excitement. ▷ noun 1 a sizzling sound. 2 extreme heat. ● sizzler noun. ⓘ 17c: imitating the sound.

SJ ▷ abbreviation Society of Jesus.

sjambok /ˈʃambɒk/ ▷ noun in S Africa: a whip made from dried rhinoceros or hippopotamus hide. ⓘ 19c: Afrikaans, from Malay samboq, from Urdu chabuk.

ska /skɑː/ ▷ noun a style of Jamaican popular music similar to reggae, played on trumpet, saxophone, etc, in an unpolished style with fast blaring rhythms. ⓘ 1960s: perhaps imitating the characteristic sound of the music.

skag see under SCAG.

skat /skat/ ▷ noun a three-handed card game using 32 cards. ⓘ 19c: from French escart laying aside.

skate[1] ▷ noun 1 a boot with a device fitted to the sole for gliding smoothly over surfaces, either a steel blade for use on ice (ICE SKATE) or a set of small wheels for use on wooden and other surfaces (ROLLER SKATE). 2 the blade of an ice-skate. 3 a spell of skating. ▷ verb (skated, skating) intr to move around on skates. ● skater noun. ● skating noun moving on skates. ● get one's skates on colloq to hurry up □ Come on, get your skates on or we'll be late! ● skate on thin ice to risk danger, harm or embarrassment, especially through lack of care or good judgement. ⓘ 17c: from Dutch schaats, from French eschasse stilt, from German schake shank.

■ skate over something to hurry or rush over it □ We'll skate over this next chapter.

■ skate round something to avoid dealing with something or considering (a difficulty, etc).

skate² ▷ noun (skate or skates) a large cartilaginous edible flatfish with a greyish-brown upper surface with black flecks, a long pointed snout, large wing-like pectoral fins and a long slim tail. ⓘ 14c: from Norse skata.

skateboard ▷ noun a narrow shaped board mounted on sets of small wheels, usually ridden in a standing or crouching position. ⓘ 1960s.

skating rink ▷ noun 1 a large surface covered in ice for the use of ice-skates. 2 the building that houses this structure.

skedaddle /skɪ'dadəl/ ▷ verb (skedaddled, skedaddling) intr, colloq to run away or leave quickly. ▷ noun a hurried departure. ⓘ 19c.

skeet ▷ noun a form of clay-pigeon shooting in which the targets are launched at various angles. ⓘ 1920s: from Norse skjota to shoot.

skein /skeɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a loosely tied coil of wool or thread. 2 a tangle; a confused bundle of things. 3 a flock of wild geese in flight. ⓘ 15c: from French escaigne.

skeletal /'skɛlɪtəl/ ▷ adj 1 similar to or like a skeleton. 2 painfully or extremely thin. 3 existing in outline only.

skeleton /'skɛlɪtən/ ▷ noun 1 the framework of bones that supports and often protects the body of an animal, and to which the muscles are usually attached. 2 the supporting veins of a leaf. 3 an initial basic structure or idea upon or around which anything is built. 4 an outline or framework □ the skeleton of the plot. 5 a scheme reduced to its essential or indispensible elements. 6 SKELETON STAFF. 7 colloq an unhealthily thin person or animal. ⓘ 16c: Greek, from skeleton soma dried body, from skellein to dry.

skeleton in the cupboard and (US) skeleton in the closet ▷ noun a shameful or slanderous fact concerning oneself or one's family that one tries to keep secret.

skeletonize or skeletonise /'skɛlɪtənaɪz/ ▷ verb (skeletonized, skeletonizing) to reduce to a skeleton.

skeleton key ▷ noun a key whose serrated or shaped edge is filed in such a way that it can open many different locks.

skeleton staff ▷ noun a set of staff or workforce reduced to a bare minimum.

skep ▷ noun 1 a large round wickerwork basket. 2 a beehive, especially one made from straw. ● skepful noun (skepfuls) the amount that a skep will hold. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sceppe, from Norse skeppa.

skeptic, skeptical and skepticism an alternative N Amer spelling of SCEPTIC, etc.

skerrick /'skɛrɪk/ ▷ noun, especially US, Austral & NZ dialect, usually with negatives a minute quantity; a scrap. ⓘ 1930s.

skerry /'skɛrɪ/ ▷ noun (skerries) a reef of rock or a small rocky island. ⓘ 17c: from Norse sker.

sketch ▷ noun (sketches) 1 a rough drawing quickly done, especially one without much detail used as a study towards a more finished work. 2 a rough plan. 3 a short account or outline □ She gave us a quick sketch of the story. 4 any of several short pieces of comedy presented as a programme. 5 a short musical composition. 6 a short descriptive essay. ▷ verb (sketches, sketched, sketching) 1 tr & intr to do a rough drawing or drawings of something. 2 to give a rough outline of something. ● sketchable adj. ● sketcher noun. ⓘ 17c: from Dutch schets, from Italian schizzo, from Latin schedium, from Greek schedios offhand.

sketchy /'skɛtʃɪ/ ▷ adj (sketchier, sketchiest) 1 like a sketch. 2 lacking detail, not complete or substantial. ● sketchily adverb. ● sketchiness noun.

skew /skjuː/ ▷ adj 1 slanted; oblique; askew. 2 math a said of lines: not lying in the same plane; b said of statistics or a curve representing them: not symmetrical about the MEAN³. ▷ verb (skewed, skewing) 1 tr & intr to slant or cause to slant. 2 to distort. ▷ noun a slanting position; obliquity □ on the skew. ● skewed adj. ⓘ 14c: from French eschuer.

skewbald /'skjuːbɔːld/ ▷ adj said of an animal, especially a horse: marked with patches of white and another colour (other than black). ▷ noun a skewbald horse. ⓘ 17c: from SKEW + (PIE)BALD.

skewer /'skjuːə(r)/ ▷ noun a long wooden or metal pin pushed through chunks of meat or vegetables which are to be roasted. ▷ verb (skewered, skewering) to fasten or pierce with, or as if with, a skewer. ⓘ 17c: from dialect skiver.

skewness /'skjuːnəs/ ▷ noun, math a measure of the degree of asymmetry about the central value of a distribution.

skew-whiff /skjuː'wɪf/ ▷ adj, adverb, colloq lying in a slanted position; crooked; awry. ⓘ 18c.

ski /skiː/ ▷ noun (skis) 1 one of a pair of long narrow runners of wood, metal or plastic, upturned at the front and attached to each of a pair of boots or to a vehicle for gliding over snow. 2 a WATER-SKI. ▷ verb (skis, skied or ski'd, skiing) intr to move on skis, especially as a sport or leisure activity. ● skiable adj said of a surface: having conditions suitable for skiing. ⓘ 18c: from Norse skith piece of split wood.

skid ▷ verb (skidded, skidding) 1 intr said of a wheel, etc: to slide along without revolving. 2 intr said of a vehicle: to slip or slide at an angle, especially out of control. 3 to cause a vehicle to slide out of control. ▷ noun 1 an instance of skidding. 2 a support on which something rests or is brought to the required level. 3 a support on which heavy objects are slid along short stretches. 4 a runner on an aeroplane used when landing. 5 a ship's wooden fender. 6 a shoe or other device for controlling a wheel on a down-slope. ● put the skids under someone colloq 1 to cause them to hurry. 2 to bring about their downfall; to cause them to stop. ⓘ 17c: see SKI.

skid lid ▷ noun, slang a crash helmet.

skidoo /skɪ'duː/ ▷ noun (skidoos) a motorized sledge, fitted with tracks at the rear and steerable skis at the front. ▷ verb (skidooed, skidooing) 1 to use a skidoo. 2 to leave or depart hastily. ⓘ 1960s as noun, although verb sense 2 dates from early 20c.

skid pan ▷ noun a special slippery track on which drivers learn to control skidding vehicles.

skid row and skid road ▷ noun, especially US colloq the poorest or most squalid part of a town where vagrants, drunks, etc live.

skier¹ /'skiːə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who skis.

skier² see SKYER.

skies plural of SKY.

skiff ▷ noun a small light boat. ⓘ 16c: from French esquif, from Italian schifo, related to SHIP.

skiffle /'skɪfəl/ ▷ noun, Brit a strongly accented type of folk music influenced by jazz and blues, played with guitars, drums, washboard and often other unconventional instruments. ⓘ 1960s.

skiing /ˈskiːɪŋ/ ▷ noun the art of propelling oneself along snow using skis, with the aid of poles.

ski-joring /ˈskiːdʒɔːrɪŋ, -ˈjɔːrɪŋ/ ▷ noun the activity of being towed along on skis by a horse or motor vehicle. ⓘ 1920s: from Norwegian ski-kjøring ski-driving.

skilful or (US) skillful /ˈskɪlfəl/ adj having or showing skill. • skilfully adverb. • skilfulness noun.

ski lift ▷ noun a device for carrying skiers, either by towing or on chairs, to the top of a slope so that they can ski down.

skill ▷ noun 1 expertness; dexterity. 2 a talent, craft or accomplishment, naturally acquired or developed through training. 3 (skills) aptitudes and abilities appropriate for a specific job. ⓘ 12c: from Norse skil distinction.

skilled /skɪld/ ▷ adj 1 said of people: possessing skills; trained or experienced. 2 said of a job: requiring skill or showing the use of skill.

skillet /ˈskɪlɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a small long-handled saucepan. 2 especially N Amer a frying-pan. ⓘ 15c: from French escuelete, from Latin scutella tray.

skilly /ˈskɪlɪ/ ▷ noun (skillies) a thin gruel or soup, usually made from oatmeal. ⓘ 19c: a shortening of skilligalee.

skim ▷ verb (skimmed, skimming) 1 to remove floating matter from the surface of (a liquid). 2 (often skim off) to take something off by skimming. 3 tr & intr to brush or cause something to brush against or glide lightly over (a surface) ◻ He skimmed the table as he went past ◻ The bird's wings skimmed over the water. 4 to throw an object over a surface so as to make it bounce ◻ We skimmed stones on the river. ▷ noun 1 the act or process of skimming. 2 SKIMMED MILK. • skimming noun. ⓘ 15c: from French escume SCUM.

■ skim over something 1 to read (a page, passage, etc) superficially. 2 to evade or sidestep it ◻ I thought he skimmed over that issue.

■ skim through something 1 to glance through (eg a book). 2 to deal with or discuss it superficially.

skimmed milk and skim-milk ▷ noun milk from which all or virtually all the fat has been removed.

skimmer /ˈskɪmə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone or something that skims. 2 a device for skimming milk. 3 a tropical bird, related to the terns, that catches fish by flying low with its long narrow lower bill cutting the water surface. Also called shearwater. ⓘ 14c.

skimmia /ˈskɪmɪə/ ▷ noun (skimmias) any of various Asiatic evergreen shrubs, cultivated for their holly-like leaves and red berries. ⓘ 19c: from Japanese shikimi.

skimp ▷ verb (skimped, skimping) 1 intr (often skimp on something) to spend, use or give too little or only just enough of it. 2 intr to stint or restrict. 3 to carry out hurriedly or recklessly. ▷ adj scanty. ⓘ 19c: perhaps a combination of SCANT + SCRIMP.

skimpy /ˈskɪmpɪ/ ▷ adj (skimpier, skimpiest) 1 inadequate; barely enough. 2 said of clothes: leaving much of the body uncovered; scanty. • skimpily adverb. • skimpiness noun. ⓘ 19c.

skin ▷ noun 1 the tough flexible waterproof covering of the human or animal body. 2 an animal hide, with or without the fur or hair attached. 3 the outer covering of certain fruits and vegetables. 4 any outer covering or integument ◻ sausage skin. 5 complexion ◻ greasy skin. 6 a membrane, especially covering internal organs in animals. 7 a semi-solid coating or film on the surface of a liquid. 8 a container for liquids made from an animal hide. 9 the outer covering of a craft, eg aircraft. 10 (usually skins) colloq, jazz drums. 11 slang a SKINHEAD. 12 slang a cigarette paper for making a JOINT (noun 5). ▷ verb (skinned, skinning) 1 to remove or strip the skin from something ◻ skin 2 lb tomatoes. 2 to injure by scraping the skin ◻ He skinned his elbow when he fell. 3 slang to cheat or swindle. 4 intr (often skin over) said of a wound, etc: to become covered with skin. • by the skin of one's teeth very narrowly; only just. • get under someone's skin colloq 1 to greatly annoy and irritate them. 2 to become their consuming passion or obsession. • no skin off one's nose colloq not a cause of even slight concern or nuisance to one ◻ It's no skin off my nose if he decides to resign. • save one's or someone's skin or neck see under SAVE. • skin someone alive to severely reprimand them ◻ I'll be skinned alive if I don't get back in time. ⓘ 12c: from Norse skinn.

■ skin up to prepare and roll a cigarette that contains an illegal substance, especially cannabis or cocaine.

skincare ▷ noun care and protection of the skin by using specific cosmetic products.

skin-deep ▷ adj superficial; shallow or not deeply fixed. ▷ adverb superficially.

skin-diving ▷ noun underwater swimming with breathing equipment carried on the back, but with no wet suit and no connection to a boat. • skin-diver noun.

skin flick ▷ noun, slang a pornographic film.

skinflint ▷ noun, colloq a very ungenerous or stingy person.

skinful /ˈskɪnfəl/ ▷ noun (skinfuls) slang a large amount of alcohol, enough to make one thoroughly drunk.

skin graft ▷ noun, surgery the transplantation of a piece of skin from one part of the body to another where there has been an injury, especially a burn.

skinhead ▷ noun a person, especially a white youth and generally one of a gang, with closely cropped hair, tight jeans, heavy boots and anti-establishment attitudes.

skink ▷ noun a lizard found in tropical and temperate regions worldwide, usually with a long thin body, a broad rounded tongue, and short legs or none at all. ⓘ 16c: from Latin scincus, from Greek skinkos.

skinned /skɪnd/ ▷ verb, past tense, past participle of SKIN. ▷ adj 1 having had the skin removed ◻ a skinned tomato. 2 in compounds having a specific type of skin ◻ brown-skinned.

skinny /ˈskɪnɪ/ ▷ adj (skinnier, skinniest) 1 similar to or like skin. 2 said of a person or animal: very thin; emaciated. 3 colloq said of a pullover, T-shirt, etc: tight-fitting. ⓘ 16c.

skinny-dip ▷ verb, intr, colloq to go swimming naked. • skinny-dipper noun a person who skinny-dips. • skinny-dipping noun.

skin search see under STRIP SEARCH.

skint ▷ adj, slang without money; hard up; broke. ⓘ 1930s: from SKINNED.

skin test ▷ noun a test made by applying a small amount of a substance to, or introducing a substance beneath, a person's skin in order to test for an allergy, immunity to disease, etc.

skin-tight ▷ adj said of a piece of clothing: very tight-fitting.

skip[1] ▷ verb (skipped, skipping) 1 intr to move along with light springing or hopping steps on alternate feet. 2 intr to make jumps over a skipping-rope. 3 to omit, leave out or pass over ◻ We'll skip the next chapter. 4 colloq not to attend eg a class in school. 5 to make (a stone) skim over a surface. 6 said of a stone: to skim over a surface. ▷ noun 1 a skipping movement. 2 the act of omitting or leaving something out. • skipper noun someone or something that skips. • skip it! colloq forget it; ignore it; it is not important. ⓘ 13c: as skippen, from Norse skopa to run.

skip[2] ▷ noun 1 Brit a large metal container for rubbish from eg building work. 2 a large (especially wicker) chest for storing eg theatrical costumes, sports equipment, etc. 3 a lift in a coal mine for raising minerals. ◎ 19c: a variant of SKEP.

ski pants ▷ noun trousers made from a stretch fabric and kept taut by a band under the foot, originally designed for skiing but often worn as casual wear.

skipjack ▷ noun (skipjack or skipjacks) 1 any of a number of different species of fish which are able to jump out of the water. 2 (in full skipjack tuna) a tropical fish with a striped body.

skipper[1] /ˈskɪpə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a ship's captain. 2 the captain of an aeroplane. 3 the captain of a team. ▷ verb (skippered, skippering) to act as skipper of something. ◎ 14c: from Dutch schipper skipper.

skipper[2] see SAURY

skippet /ˈskɪpɪt/ ▷ noun a flat wooden box for protecting a seal on a document. ◎ 14c as skipet.

skipping /ˈskɪpɪŋ/ ▷ noun the art or activity of skipping using a skipping-rope.

skipping-rope ▷ noun a rope swung backwards and forwards or twirled in a circular motion, either by the person skipping or by two other people each holding an end, for jumping over as exercise or as a children's game.

skirl Scots ▷ noun the high-pitched sound of bagpipes. ▷ verb (skirled, skirling) 1 intr to make this sound. 2 tr & intr to shriek or sing in a high-pitched manner. ◎ 14c: from Norwegian skrylla crash.

skirmish /ˈskɜːmɪʃ/ ▷ noun (skirmishes) 1 a brief battle during a war, especially away from the main fighting. 2 any minor fight or dispute. ▷ verb (skirmishes, skirmished, skirmishing) intr to engage in a skirmish. ● skirmisher noun. ◎ 14c: from French escarmouche.

skirt ▷ noun 1 a garment that hangs from the waist, worn chiefly by women and girls. 2 the part of a woman's dress, coat, gown, etc from the waist down. 3 any part or attachment resembling a skirt. 4 the flap around the base of a hovercraft containing the air-cushion. Also called APRON. 5 a saddle-flap. 6 a cut of beef from the rear part of the belly; the midriff. 7 a slang a woman or women collectively; b (also a bit of skirt) slang a woman regarded as an object of sexual desire. ▷ verb (skirted, skirting) 1 to border something. 2 to pass along or around the edge of something. 3 to avoid confronting (eg a problem) ▫ He's just skirting the issue. 4 intr (usually skirt along, around, etc something) to be on or pass along the border of something. ● skirted adj. ◎ 13c: from Norse skyrta shirt.

skirting /ˈskɜːtɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 fabric used for skirts. 2 SKIRTING-BOARD.

skirting-board ▷ noun the narrow wooden board next to the floor round the walls of a room.

skit ▷ noun a short satirical piece of writing or drama. ◎ 18c: perhaps related to Norse skjota to SHOOT.

skite ▷ verb (skited, skiting) intr, Austral slang to boast. ▷ noun 1 boastful chatter. 2 a boastful person. ◎ 19c.

skitter /ˈskɪtə(r)/ ▷ verb (skittered, skittering) intr 1 to skim over the surface of water. 2 to fish by drawing the bait jerkily over the surface of the water. 3 to scamper or scuttle off. ◎ 19c: perhaps from SKIT.

skittish /ˈskɪtɪʃ/ ▷ adj 1 lively and playful; spirited. 2 frequently changing mood or opinion; fickle or capricious. 3 said of a horse: easily frightened. ● skittishly adverb. ● skittishness noun. ◎ 15c.

skittle /ˈskɪtəl/ ▷ noun 1 each of the upright bottle-shaped wooden or plastic targets used in a game of skittles. 2 (skittles) a game in which balls are rolled down an alley towards a set of nine of the above targets, the object being to knock over as many of these as possible. ◎ 17c: perhaps from Norse skutill and related to Danish skyttel shuttle.

skive[1] ▷ verb (skived, skiving) 1 intr to pare or split leather. 2 tr & intr, Brit colloq (also skive off) to evade work or a duty, especially through laziness ▫ I'm going to skive French today ▫ We're skiving off class today. ▷ noun the act or an instance of skiving ▫ I chose drama instead of PE 'cos it's such a skive. ● skiving noun. ● skivy adj. ◎ 19c: from Norse skifa.

skiver noun 1 split sheepskin leather. 2 a person or machine that skives (see SKIVE verb 1). 3 a person who avoids work or a duty.

skivvy /ˈskɪvɪ/ colloq ▷ noun (skivvies) 1 derog a servant, especially a woman, who does unpleasant household jobs. 2 especially US slang a man's undervest. 3 Austral, NZ a knitted cotton polo-necked sweater. ▷ verb (skivvies, skivvied, skivvying) intr to work as, or as if as, a skivvy. ◎ Early 20c.

skoal /skoʊl/ or skol /skɒl/ ▷ exclamation hail!; a loud friendly toast before drinking. ◎ 16c: from Norwegian skaal a bowl.

skrimshank see SCRIMSHANK

skua /ˈskjuːə/ ▷ noun (skuas) any of various large predatory gull-like seabirds, native to Arctic and Antarctic waters, usually with dark brown plumage and pale underparts. ◎ 17c: from Norse skufr.

skulduggery or (N Amer) skullduggery /skʌlˈdʌɡərɪ/ noun (skulduggeries) unscrupulous, underhand or dishonest behaviour; trickery. Also written sculduggery. ◎ 18c: from Scots sculduddery unchastity.

skulk ▷ verb (skulked, skulking) intr 1 to sneak off out of the way. 2 to hide or lurk, planning mischief. ● skulker noun. ● skulking noun. ◎ 13c: Norse; related to Danish skulke.

skull ▷ noun 1 in vertebrates: the hard cartilaginous or bony framework of the head, including the cranium (which encloses the brain), face and jaws. 2 colloq, often derog the head or brain; intelligence ▫ Can't you get it through your thick skull? 3 a skullcap, especially one made of metal. ● out of one's skull 1 mad or crazy. 2 extremely drunk. ◎ 13c as scolle: from Norse skalli.

skull and crossbones ▷ noun a representation of a human skull with two femurs arranged like an X underneath, used formerly as a pirate's symbol, now as a symbol of death or danger.

skullcap ▷ noun 1 a small brimless cap fitting closely on the head. 2 the top of the skull. 3 bot any of various labiate plants with helmet-shaped flowers. ◎ 17c.

skunk ▷ noun (skunk or skunks) 1 a small American mammal related to the weasel, best known for the foul-smelling liquid which it squirts from musk glands at the base of its tail in order to deter predators. 2 the fur from this animal. 3 derog a despised person. ◎ 17c: from Algonquian segonku.

sky ▷ noun (skies) 1 the apparent dome of space in which the Sun, Moon and stars can be seen. 2 (skies) the heavens. 3 (often skies) the appearance of this area as a reflection of weather ▫ dismal skies. 4 the maximum limit or aim ▫ Aim for the sky. 5 the upper rows of pictures in a gallery. 6 sky-blue. ▷ verb (skies, skied, skying) 1 cricket to mishit (a ball) high into the air. 2 rowing to raise (the oar) too high. ● the sky's the limit there is no upper limit, eg to the amount of money that may be spent, or achievements to be made. ● to the skies in a lavish or extremely enthusiastic manner ▫ He praised him to the skies. ◎ 13c: Norse, meaning 'cloud'.

sky-blue ▷ noun the colour of a cloudless sky; light blue. ▷ adj referring or relating to this colour.

sky-diving ▷ noun free-falling from an aircraft, often involving performing manoeuvres in mid-air, with a long delay before the parachute is opened. ● sky-diver noun.

skyer or skier /ˈskaɪə(r)/ ▷ noun, cricket a hit high into the air.

Skye terrier ▷ noun a small terrier with a long body, very short legs, a long wiry coat, and long hair on its head, ears and tail.

sky-high ▷ adj, adverb said especially of prices: very high.

skyjack ▷ verb, slang to hijack (an aircraft). • skyjacker noun. • skyjacking noun. ⓘ 1960s: modelled on HIJACK.

Skylab ▷ noun, astron 1 the first US space station, launched from the Kennedy Space Center in May 1973, and manned over a period of nine months by three crews of three men each. 2 (skylab) any orbiting experimental space station. ⓘ 1970s.

skylark ▷ noun a small lark, native to Europe and Asia, which inhabits open country and is known for its loud clear warbling song, performed in flight. ▷ verb (skylarked, skylarking) intr, old use to lark about; to frolic. • skylarking noun. ⓘ 17c.

skylight ▷ noun a (usually small) window in a roof or ceiling.

skyline ▷ noun the outline of buildings, hills and trees seen against the sky; the horizon.

sky pilot ▷ noun, slang a clergyman, especially a military chaplain.

skyrocket ▷ noun a firework that explodes very high in the sky. ▷ verb, intr to rise high and fast.

skyscraper ▷ noun an extremely tall building.

skyward /ˈskaɪwəd/ ▷ adj directed towards the sky. ▷ adverb (also skywards) towards the sky.

skyway ▷ noun a route used by aircraft.

skywriting ▷ noun 1 the tracing of words in the sky by the release of smoke from an aircraft. 2 the words formed in this way.

slab ▷ noun 1 a thick flat rectangular piece of stone, etc. 2 a thick slice, especially of cake. 3 an outer plank sawn from a log. ▷ verb (slabbed, slabbing) 1 to cut or make into slabs. 2 to pave with concrete slabs. • slabbed adj. ⓘ 13c as sclabbe.

slack[1] ▷ adj 1 limp or loose; not pulled or stretched tight. 2 not careful or diligent; lax or remiss. 3 not busy ▫ Business is a bit slack these days. 4 said of the tide, etc: still; neither ebbing nor flowing. 5 phonetics pronounced with the tongue relaxed; LAX. ▷ adverb in a slack manner; partially. ▷ noun 1 a loosely hanging part, especially of a rope. 2 a period of little trade or other activity. ▷ verb (also slacken) (slacked, slacking; slackened, slackening) (often slack off) 1 intr (also slack off or up) to become slower; to slow one's working pace through tiredness or laziness ▫ Stop slacking! 2 tr & intr to make or become looser. 3 intr to become less busy ▫ work is slackening off for the winter. 4 to fail or flag. 5 tr & intr to make or become less rigid and more easy or relaxed. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon slæc.

slack[2] ▷ noun coal dust or tiny fragments of coal. ⓘ 15c: from German slecke.

slacken see under SLACK

slacker /ˈslakə(r)/ ▷ noun an idle person; a shirker.

slacks ▷ plural noun, dated a type of loose casual trousers, worn by both males and females.

slag[1] ▷ noun 1 the layer of waste material that forms on the surface of molten metal ore during smelting and refining. 2 waste left over from coal mining. 3 scoriaceous lava. 4 vitrified cylinders. ▷ verb (slagged, slagging) intr said of molten metal ore: to throw up or form into a surface layer of slag. ⓘ 16c: from German slagge.

slag[2] ▷ verb (slagged, slagging) slang (usually slag someone off) to criticize or deride them harshly or speak disparagingly about them ▫ She's always slagging somebody ▫ Who are you slagging off now? ⓘ 1970s: from SLAG[1].

slag[3] ▷ noun, derog slang someone, especially a woman, who regularly has casual sex with many different people. ⓘ 18c: from SLAG[1].

slag heap ▷ noun 1 a hill or mound formed from coalmining waste. 2 an imaginary dumping ground ▫ That's two more redundancies for the slag heap.

slain past participle of SLAY slake ▷ verb (slaked, slaking) 1 literary to satisfy or quench (thirst, desire or anger). 2 to cause (lime) to crumble by adding water. 3 to refresh with moisture. 4 poetic to abate or mitigate; to allay. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon slacian.

slaked lime ▷ noun calcium hydroxide, $Ca(OH)_2$, manufactured from LIME, used in the production of cements. Also called caustic lime.

slalom /ˈslɑːləm/ ▷ noun a race, on skis or in canoes, in and out of obstacles on a winding course designed to test tactical skill. ⓘ 1920s: Norwegian.

slam[1] ▷ verb (slammed, slamming) 1 tr & intr to shut loudly and with violence ▫ The door slammed ▫ She slammed the window shut. 2 tr & intr (usually slam against, down, into, etc) colloq to make or cause something to make loud heavy contact ▫ He slammed his books down on the table. 3 slang to criticize severely. ▷ noun 1 the act or sound of slamming. 2 a severe criticism. ⓘ 17c: from Norwegian slemma.

slam[2] see GRAND SLAM, LITTLE SLAM

slammer /ˈslamə(r)/ ▷ noun, slang (the slammer) prison.

slander /ˈslɑːndə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 law damaging defamation by spoken words, or by looks or gestures. 2 a false, malicious and damaging spoken statement about a person. 3 the making of such statements; calumny. ▷ verb (slandered, slandering) to speak about someone in such a way. Compare LIBEL. • slanderer noun. • slanderous adj 1 said of words, reports, etc: characterized by or amounting to slander. 2 said of a person: given to using slander. ⓘ 13c: from French esclandre, from Latin scandalum, from Greek skandalon snare or scandal.

> slander
>
> See Usage Note at libel.

slang ▷ noun 1 originally the coarse language used by thieves and disreputable characters. 2 very informal words and phrases used by any class, profession or set of people. 3 language not accepted for dignified use. Also as adj ▫ a slang dictionary. ▷ verb (slanged, slanging) to speak abusively to someone using coarse language. • slanginess noun. • slanging noun. • slangy adj. ⓘ 18c.

slanging match ▷ noun, colloq an angry exchange of insults or abuse.

slant /slɑːnt/ ▷ verb (slanted, slanting) 1 intr to be at an angle as opposed to horizontal or vertical; to slope. 2 to turn, strike or fall obliquely or at an angle. 3 to present (information, etc) in a biased way, or for a particular audience or readership. ▷ noun 1 a sloping position, surface or line. 2 a point of view, opinion or way of looking at a particular thing ▫ Well, taking a slightly different slant, we can see him as a swindler. ▷ adj sloping; lying at an angle. • slanted adj. • slanting adj. • slantingly adverb. ⓘ 15c as slent.

slantwise and slantways ▷ adverb, adj at an angle; slanting.

slap ▷ noun 1 a blow with the palm of the hand or anything flat. 2 the sound made by such a blow, or by the impact of one flat surface with another. 3 a snub or rebuke. ▷ verb (slapped, slapping) 1 to strike with the open hand or anything flat. 2 to bring or send with a slapping sound ▫ He slapped the newspaper down on the table. 3 (often slap something on) colloq to apply thickly and carelessly □ She quickly slapped make-up on her face. 4 (often slap someone down) colloq to reject or contradict them abruptly; to rebuke them. ▷ adverb, colloq 1 exactly or precisely □ slap in the middle. 2 heavily or suddenly; with a slap □ He fell slap on his face. ● a slap in the face colloq an insult or rebuff. ● a slap on the back colloq congratulations. ● a slap on the wrist colloq, often facetious a mild reprimand. ⓘ 17c: from German dialect slapp.

slap and tickle ▷ noun, humorous colloq kissing and cuddling; sexual activity of any kind.

slap-bang ▷ adverb, colloq 1 exactly or precisely □ slap-bang in the middle. 2 violently; directly and with force □ He drove slap-bang into the wall.

slapdash ▷ adverb in a careless and hurried manner. ▷ adj careless and hurried □ a slapdash piece of work.

slap-happy ▷ adj, colloq 1 cheerfully carefree or careless; happy-go-lucky. 2 punch-drunk.

slapstick ▷ noun (in full slapstick comedy) comedy in which the humour is derived from boisterous antics of all kinds. ⓘ 19c: from a mechanical sound effects device, used to punctuate (comic) stage fights with loud reports.

slap-up ▷ adj, colloq said of a meal: lavish; extravagant.

slash[1] ▷ verb (slashes, slashed, slashing) 1 tr & intr to make sweeping cuts or cutting strokes, especially repeatedly. 2 to cut by striking violently and often randomly. 3 to make long cuts or gashes in something. 4 to slit (a garment) so as to reveal the lining or material underneath. 5 colloq to reduce (prices, etc) suddenly and drastically. ▷ noun (slashes) 1 a sweeping cutting stroke. 2 a long and sometimes deep cut. 3 (also slash mark) an oblique line (/) in writing or printing; a solidus. 4 a cut in cloth intended to reveal the colours or material underneath. ● slashed adj. ● slasher noun. ● slashing noun, adj. ⓘ 14c: probably from French esclachier to break.

slash[2] coarse slang ▷ verb (slashes, slashed, slashing) intr to urinate. ▷ noun (slashes) an act of urinating. ⓘ 1970s: perhaps from Scots dialect, meaning 'large splash'.

slash and burn ▷ noun, agric a system of agriculture, common in tropical regions, in which trees and natural undergrowth are cut down and burned, and crops are then grown on the bare soil for a few years until it loses its fertility.

slat ▷ noun a thin strip, especially of wood or metal. ● slatted adj having, or made up of, slats. ⓘ 14c: from French esclat.

slate[1] ▷ noun 1 geol a shiny dark grey metamorphic rock that is easily split into thin flat layers, formed by the compression of clays and shales, and used for roofing and flooring. 2 a roofing tile made of this. 3 formerly a piece of this for writing on. 4 a record of credit given to a customer □ put it on my slate. 5 a dull grey colour. ▷ verb (slated, slating) to cover (a roof) with slates. ▷ adj 1 made of slate. 2 slate-coloured. ● slated adj. ● slating noun. ● slaty adj. ● have a slate loose to be mentally deranged or mad. ● on the slate on credit. ● wipe the slate clean to enable a person to make a fresh start in a job, relationship, etc by ignoring past mistakes, acts of crime, etc. See also CLEAN SLATE. ⓘ 14c: from French esclate.

slate[2] ▷ verb (slated, slating) colloq to criticize extremely harshly; to abuse or reprimand. ⓘ 19c: Norse.

slattern /ˈslatən/ ▷ noun, old use a woman of dirty or untidy appearance or habits; a slut. ● slatternly adj. ● slatternliness noun. ⓘ 17c: from dialect slatter to slop.

slaughter /ˈslɔːtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 the killing of animals, especially for food. 2 cruel and violent murder. 3 the large-scale indiscriminate killing of people or animals. ▷ verb (slaughtered, slaughtering) 1 to subject to slaughter. 2 colloq to defeat resoundingly; to trounce □ I was slaughtered at tennis yesterday. ● slaughterer noun. ● slaughterous adj inclined to slaughter; murderous. ⓘ 13c: from Norse slatr butchers' meat.

slaughterhouse ▷ noun a place where animals are killed for food; an abattoir.

Slav /slɑːv/ ▷ noun a member of any of various Central and E European peoples speaking SLAVONIC languages including Russian, Czech, Slovak, Bulgarian, Polish, Serb and Slovenian. ● Slav adj 1 referring or relating to the Slavs. 2 SLAVONIC. ⓘ 14c: from Latin Sclavus.

slave ▷ noun 1 historical someone owned by and acting as servant to another, with no personal freedom. 2 a person who is submissive under domination. 3 a person who works extremely hard for another; a drudge. 4 a person submissively devoted to another. 5 (also a slave to something) a person whose life is dominated by a specific activity or thing □ She's a slave to her work. 6 a mechanism controlled by another mechanism, eg in computing, by a central processor, or by remote control. ▷ verb (slaved, slaving) intr to work like or as a slave; to work hard and ceaselessly. ⓘ 13c: from French esclave, originally meaning a 'Slav'.

slave-driver ▷ noun 1 historical someone employed to supervise slaves to ensure they work hard. 2 colloq someone who demands very hard work from others.

slaver[1] /ˈsleɪvə(r)/ noun, historical 1 someone involved in the buying and selling of slaves. 2 a ship for transporting slaves. ⓘ Early 19c.

slaver[2] /ˈslavə(r), ˈsleɪvə(r)/ noun spittle running from the mouth. ▷ verb (slavered, slavering) intr 1 to let spittle run from the mouth; to dribble. 2 (also slaver over someone) to fawn over them, especially lustfully. 3 colloq to talk nonsense. ● slaverer noun. ● slavering adj. ● slaveringly adverb. ⓘ 14c.

slavery /ˈsleɪvəri/ ▷ noun 1 the state of being a slave. 2 the practice of owning slaves. 3 extremely hard work; toil or drudgery. ⓘ 16c.

Slavic see under SLAVONIC slavish /ˈsleɪvɪʃ/ ▷ adj 1 characteristic of, belonging to or befitting a slave. 2 rigid or unwavering in following rules or instructions. 3 very closely copied or imitated; unoriginal. ● slavishly adverb. ● slavishness noun.

Slavonic /slaˈvɒnɪk/ or Slavic /ˈslɑːvɪk/ ▷ noun a group of Central and E European languages that includes Russian, Polish, Bulgarian, Czech, Slovak, Croatian, Serbian and Slovenian. ▷ adj referring or relating to these languages, the peoples speaking them, or their cultures. ⓘ 17c: see SLAV.

slaw ▷ noun, N Amer cabbage salad; coleslaw. ⓘ 19c: from Dutch sla, short for salade SALAD.

slay /sleɪ/ ▷ verb (slays, past tense slew /sluː/, past participle slain /sleɪn/, slaying) 1 tr & intr, archaic or literary to kill. 2 to amuse or impress someone greatly. ● slayer noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon slean.

sleaze /sliːz/ ▷ noun, colloq 1 sleaziness. 2 someone of low, especially moral, standards.

sleazy /ˈsliːzɪ/ ▷ adj (sleazier, sleaziest) colloq 1 dirty and neglected-looking. 2 cheaply suggestive of sex or crime; disreputable and considered to be of low standards, especially with regard to morals □ a sleazy bar. ● sleazily adverb. ● sleaziness noun the condition or state of being sleazy. ⓘ 17c.

sled ▷ noun 1 a SLEDGE. 2 a structure without wheels used for conveying goods, especially on snow. ▷ verb (sledded, sledding) 1 intr to SLEDGE. 2 to convey someone or something by sled. ● sledding noun. ⓘ 14c: from German sledde.

sledge[1] ▷ noun 1 a vehicle with ski-like runners for travelling over snow, drawn by horses or dogs. 2 a smaller vehicle of a similar design for children, for sliding on the snow; a toboggan. 3 a framework without wheels used for dragging goods along. ▷ verb (sledged, sledging) intr 1 to travel by sledge. 2 to play on a sledge. 3 to convey by sledge. • sledger noun. • sledging noun. ⓒ 17c: from Dutch sleedse.

sledge² ▷ noun a SLEDGEHAMMER.

sledgehammer ▷ noun a large heavy hammer swung with both arms. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon slecg, from slean to strike.

sleek ▷ adj (sleeker, sleekest) 1 said of hair, fur, etc: smooth, soft and glossy. 2 having a well-fed and prosperous appearance. 3 insincerely polite or flattering; slick in manner. ▷ verb (sleeked, sleeking) to smooth (especially hair). • sleekly adverb. • sleekness noun. ⓒ 16c: a variant of SLICK.

sleep ▷ noun 1 in humans and many animals: a readily reversible state of natural unconsciousness during which the body's functional powers are restored, and physical movements are minimal. 2 a period of such rest. 3 colloq mucus that collects in the corners of the eyes during such rest. 4 poetic death. ▷ verb (slept, sleeping) intr 1 to rest in a state of sleep. 2 to be motionless, inactive or dormant. 3 tr to provide or contain sleeping accommodation for (the specified number) ◻ The caravan sleeps four. 4 colloq to be in a dreamy state, not paying attention, etc. 5 poetic to be dead. • go to sleep 1 to pass into a state of sleep. 2 colloq said of a limb: to be temporarily numb through lack of blood circulation. • lose sleep over something colloq, usually with negatives to be worried or preoccupied by it. • put someone or something to sleep 1 to anaesthetize them. 2 euphemistic to kill (an animal) painlessly with an injected drug. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon slæp.

▪ sleep around to engage in casual sexual relations.

▪ sleep in 1 to sleep later than usual in the morning. 2 to sleep overnight at one's place of work; to live in.

▪ sleep something off to recover from it by sleeping.

▪ sleep on something to delay taking a decision about it until the following morning in the hope that one might have a better intuitive feel for the best course of action.

▪ sleep out 1 to sleep out of doors. 2 to sleep away from one's place of work; to live out.

▪ sleep with someone to have sexual relations with them.

sleeper ▷ noun 1 someone who sleeps, especially in a specified way ◻ a light sleeper ◻ a heavy sleeper. 2 any of the horizontal wooden or concrete beams supporting the rails on a railway track. 3 a a railway carriage providing sleeping accommodation for passengers; b a train with such carriages ◻ took the sleeper to London. 4 colloq a record, film, book, etc, which suddenly becomes popular after an initial period of uninterest. 5 a spy who spends a long time establishing him- or herself as an inoffensive citizen, usually in a foreign country, preparing for the time he or she will be required to pass on information. ⓒ 13c.

sleepier, sleepiest, etc see under SLEEPY sleeping-bag ▷ noun a large quilted sack for sleeping in when camping, etc.

sleeping car, sleeping carriage and sleeping coach ▷ noun a railway carriage fitted with sleeping compartments. See also SLEEPER sense 3.

sleeping partner ▷ noun a business partner who invests money in a business without taking part in its management. Also called silent partner.

sleeping pill ▷ noun a pill which contains a sedative drug that induces sleep.

sleeping policeman ▷ noun, colloq each of a series of low humps built into the surface of a road, intended to slow down motor traffic in residential areas, parks, etc.

sleeping sickness ▷ noun an infectious disease, caused by a parasitic protozoan and transmitted by the tsetse fly of E Africa, so called because, if left untreated, the later stages of the disease are characterized by extreme drowsiness, and eventually death.

sleepless ▷ adj 1 characterized by an inability to sleep ◻ a sleepless night. 2 unable to sleep. • sleeplessly adverb. • sleeplessness noun.

sleepwalking ▷ noun a condition in which the affected person walks about while asleep, but on waking has no memory of the event, sometimes a symptom of stress. Also called SOMNAMBULISM. • sleepwalker noun. • sleepwalking noun.

sleepy /ˈsliːpɪ/ ▷ adj (sleepier, sleepiest) 1 feeling the desire or need to sleep; drowsy. 2 suggesting sleep or drowsiness ◻ sleepy music. 3 characterized by quietness and a lack of activity ◻ a sleepy village. • sleepily adverb. • sleepiness noun. ⓒ 13c.

sleepyhead ▷ noun, colloq 1 a sleepy person. 2 someone who often feels sleepy, or who needs a lot of sleep. 3 someone who tends to daydream a lot.

sleet ▷ noun rain mixed with snow and/or hail. ▷ verb (sleeted, sleeting) intr to rain and snow simultaneously. • sleetiness noun. • sleety adj. ⓒ 13c as slete.

sleeve ▷ noun 1 the part of a garment that covers the arm. 2 any tube-like cover. 3 engineering a tube, especially of a different metal, fitted inside a metal cylinder or tube, either as protection or to decrease the diameter. 4 the cardboard or paper envelope in which a RECORD (noun 4) is stored. 5 a WINDSOCK. • sleeveless adj having no sleeves ◻ a sleeveless dress. • laugh up one's sleeve to laugh privately or secretly. • roll up one's sleeves to prepare oneself for a task, especially an unpleasant manual one. • up one's sleeve in secret reserve, possibly for later use. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon slefe.

sleeve board ▷ noun a small board for ironing sleeves.

sleeved /sliːvd/ ▷ adj 1 having sleeves. 2 in compounds having sleeves of a specified kind ◻ a short-sleeved blouse.

sleeving /ˈsliːvɪŋ/ ▷ noun, electronics a tubular flexible insulation for bare conductor wires.

sleigh /sleɪ/ ▷ noun, especially N Amer a large horse-drawn sledge. ▷ verb (sleighed, sleighing) intr to travel by sleigh. • sleighing noun. ⓒ 17c: from Dutch slee.

sleigh bell ▷ noun a small bell attached to a sleigh-horse or its harness.

sleight /slaɪt/ ▷ noun 1 dexterity. 2 cunning or trickery. ⓒ 13c: from Norse slægth cunning, from slægr sly.

sleight of hand ▷ noun the quick and deceptive movement of the hands in the performing of magic tricks.

slender /ˈslɛndə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 attractively slim. 2 thin or narrow; slight ◻ by a slender margin. 3 meagre ◻ slender means. • slenderly adverb. • slenderness noun. ⓒ 14c as slendre.

slenderize or slenderise /ˈslɛndəraɪz/ ▷ verb (slenderized, slenderizing) to make or become slender.

slept past tense, past participle of SLEEP sleuth /sluːθ/ colloq ▷ noun a detective. ▷ verb (sleuthed, sleuthing) intr to work as a detective. ⓒ 19c: from Norse sloth trail.

S level /ɛs —/ (in full Special level) ▷ noun in England, Wales and N Ireland: 1 an examination in a single subject taken together with an A LEVEL in the same subject but that has a more advanced syllabus. 2 a pass in such an examination.

slew¹ past tense of SLAY slew² or slue /sluː/ ▷ verb (slewed, slewing) tr & intr 1 to turn about the axis. 2 to twist or cause to twist or swing round, especially suddenly and uncontrollably. ▷ noun an instance of slewing. • slewed colloq extremely drunk. ⓒ 18c.

slice ▷ noun 1 a thin broad piece, wedge or segment that is cut off. 2 colloq a share or portion □ a slice of the business. 3 a kitchen utensil with a broad flat blade for sliding under and lifting solid food, especially fish. 4 a slash or swipe. 5 in golf and tennis: a stroke causing a ball to spin sideways and curve away in a particular direction; the spin itself. ▷ verb (sliced, slicing) 1 to cut up into slices. 2 (also slice something off) to cut it off as or like a slice □ slice a piece off the end. 3 intr to cut deeply and easily; to move easily and forcefully □ a boat slicing through the water. 4 intr to slash. 5 to strike (a ball) with a slice. • slicing noun, adj. ⓘ 14c: from French esclice, from German slīzan to split.

sliced loaf ▷ noun a loaf of bread sold sliced and wrapped.

slicer /ˈslaɪsə(r)/ ▷ noun a person or machine that slices.

slick ▷ adj 1 dishonestly or slyly clever. 2 glib; smooth-tongued or suave □ a slick operator. 3 impressively and superficially smart or efficient □ a slick organization. 4 said especially of hair: smooth and glossy; sleek. ▷ verb (slicked, slicking) (usually slick something back or down) to smooth (especially hair). ▷ noun 1 (in full oil slick) a wide layer of spilled oil floating on the surface of water, often as a result of damage to or discharge from an oil tanker or pipelines, etc. 2 a smooth racing-car tyre. • slickly adverb. • slickness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon slician to smooth.

slickenside ▷ noun, geol a smooth rock surface that has become polished and striated as a result of grinding or sliding against an adjacent rock mass during slippage along a fault plane. ⓘ 18c: from SLICK.

slicker /ˈslɪkə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a sophisticated city-dweller. 2 a shifty or swindling person.

slide ▷ verb (slid, sliding) 1 tr & intr to move or cause to move or run smoothly along a surface. 2 intr to lose one's footing, especially on a slippery surface; to slip or glide. 3 tr & intr to move or place softly and unobtrusively □ slid the letter into his pocket. 4 intr to pass gradually, especially through neglect or laziness; to lapse □ slid back into his old habits. ▷ noun 1 an act or instance of sliding. 2 a polished slippery track, eg on ice. 3 any part of something that glides smoothly, eg the moving part of a trombone. 4 an apparatus for children to play on, usually with a ladder to climb up and a narrow sloping part to slide down; a chute. 5 a small glass plate on which specimens are mounted to be viewed through a microscope. 6 a small transparent photograph viewed in magnified size by means of a projector. 7 a hair-clip, sometimes decorative. 8 a sliding seat, especially in a rowing boat. 9 geol a LANDSLIDE (sense 1). 10 music a PORTAMENTO. 11 a fall, especially in value, popularity, etc. • slidable adj. • slider noun. • sliding noun, adj. • let something slide to allow a situation to deteriorate. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon slidan.

slide projector ▷ noun an optical device which projects an enlarged image of a SLIDE onto a wall or screen. Formerly called magic lantern. See also PROJECTOR.

slide-rule ▷ noun a hand-held mechanical device used to perform quick numerical calculations, now largely superseded by the pocket calculator.

sliding scale ▷ noun a scale, eg of fees charged, that varies according to changes in conditions, eg unforeseen difficulties in performing the service requested, according to the client's income, etc.

slight /slaɪt/ ▷ adj 1 small in extent, significance or seriousness; negligible □ a slight problem. 2 slim or slender. 3 lacking solidity, weight or significance; flimsy. 4 lacking substance or value □ slight works of literature. ▷ verb (slighted, slighting) to insult someone by ignoring or dismissing them abruptly; to snub them. ▷ noun an insult by snubbing or showing neglect. • slightly adverb to a small extent; in a small way. • slightness noun. • not in the slightest not at all; not even to the smallest degree. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon eorthslihtes close to the ground.

slighting /ˈslaɪtɪŋ/ ▷ adj scornful or disrespectful. • slightingly adverb.

slily see under SLY

slim ▷ adj (slimmer, slimmest) 1 said of people: attractively thin; slender. 2 characterized by little thickness or width. 3 not great; slight or remote □ a slim chance. ▷ verb (slimmed, slimming) intr 1 (sometimes slim down) to make oneself slimmer, especially by diet and/or exercise. 2 to try to lose weight. • slimly adverb. • slimmer noun someone who is trying to lose weight. • slimming noun. • slimness noun. ⓘ 17c: Dutch, meaning 'crafty', from German schlimm bad.

slime ▷ noun 1 any thin, unpleasantly slippery or gluey, mud-like substance. 2 any mucus-like substance secreted, eg by snails, slugs and certain fishes. ▷ verb (slimed, sliming) to smear or cover with slime. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon slim.

slime mould ▷ noun, biol a small simple organism, resembling a fungus and usually consisting of a naked mass of PROTOPLASM. It lives in damp habitats and feeds on dead or decaying plant material.

slimy /ˈslaɪmɪ/ ▷ adj (slimier, slimiest) 1 similar to, covered with or consisting of slime. 2 colloq exaggeratedly obedient or attentive; obsequious. • slimily adverb. • sliminess noun.

sling[1] ▷ noun 1 a cloth hoop that hangs from the neck to support an injured arm. 2 a a weapon for hurling stones, consisting of a strap or pouch in which the stone is placed and swung round fast; b a catapult. 3 a strap or loop for hoisting, lowering or carrying a weight. 4 an act of throwing. ▷ verb (slung, slinging) 1 colloq to throw, especially with force; to fling. 2 to hang something loosely □ a jacket slung over his shoulder. 3 slang to pass, give, etc □ sling her a cardigan. 4 to hurl, fling or toss. • sling one's hook slang to go away or remove oneself. ⓘ 13c: from Norse slyngva to fling.

• sling off at someone Austral & NZ colloq to jeer at them.

sling[2] ▷ noun a drink of alcoholic spirit and water, usually sweetened and flavoured.

slingback and slingback shoe ▷ noun a shoe with no cover for the heel, just a strap fastening round it to hold the shoe on.

slingshot ▷ noun, N Amer, especially US a catapult.

slink ▷ verb (slunk, slinking) intr 1 to go or move sneakingly or ashamedly. 2 to move in a lithe and seductive manner. ▷ noun a slinking gait. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon slincan.

slinky /ˈslɪŋkɪ/ ▷ adj (slinkier, slinkiest) colloq 1 said of clothing: attractively close-fitting □ a slinky dress. 2 slender. 3 said of a person: walking in a slow and seductive manner. • slinkily adverb. • slinkiness noun slip[1] ▷ verb (slipped, slipping) 1 intr to lose one's footing and slide accidentally. 2 intr to make a slight mistake inadvertently rather than due to ignorance. 3 intr to lapse morally. 4 tr & intr said of a clutch in a vehicle: to fail to engage correctly. 5 intr to slide, move or drop accidentally □ The dish slipped from his hands. 6 to place smoothly, quietly or secretively □ She slipped the envelope into her pocket. 7 tr & intr to move or cause to move quietly, smoothly or unobtrusively with a sliding motion □ He slipped into the church in the middle of the service. 8 to pull free from someone or something smoothly and swiftly; to suddenly escape from them or it □ The dog slipped its lead □ The name has slipped my mind. 9 colloq to give or pass secretly □ She slipped him a fiver. 10 intr, colloq to lose one's former skill or expertise, or control of a situation. 11 to dislocate (a spinal disc). ▷ noun 1 an instance of losing one's footing and sliding accidentally. 2 a minor and usually inadvertent mistake. 3 a slight error or transgression. 4 an escape. 5 a slight dislocation. 6 a LANDSLIDE (sense 1). 7 a woman's undergarment, worn under a dress or skirt. 8 a loose covering for a pillow. 9 a SLIPWAY. 10 cricket a one of three fielders (first slip, second slip and third slip) standing near to and roughly in line with the wicket-keeper on the on side; b (often slips) this fielding position. ■ give someone the slip colloq to escape from them skilfully or adroitly. ■ let something slip 1 to reveal it accidentally. 2 to fail to take advantage of something, especially an opportunity. ■ slip of the tongue or pen a word, phrase, etc said or written in error when something else was intended. ⓘ 13c: from German dialect slippen.

■ slip in, out, etc to move quietly and unnoticed.

■ slip into something colloq to put it on quickly and easily.

■ slip off 1 to fall off. 2 to withdraw or go away quietly.

■ slip something off to take it off quickly and easily □ She slipped off her coat.

■ slip something on to put it on loosely or hastily.

■ slip up to make a slight mistake inadvertently. See also SLIP-UP.

slip^{2} ▷ noun 1 a small strip or piece of paper. 2 anything slender or narrow. 3 a small pre-printed form. 4 a young or exceptionally slender person □ She's just a slip of a girl. ⓘ 15c as slippe.

slip^{3} ▷ noun a creamy mixture of clay and water used for decorating pottery. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon slipe paste.

slipcase ▷ noun a boxlike case for a book or set of books, open on one side and leaving the spine or spines visible.

slip-knot ▷ noun 1 a knot untied simply by pulling one end of the cord. 2 a knot finishing off a noose, and slipping along the cord to adjust the noose's tightness.

slip-on ▷ noun a shoe or other item of clothing that is easily put on due to having no laces, buttons or other fastenings. Also as adj □ The slip-on style will fall off narrow feet.

slippage ▷ noun 1 an act or instance of slipping. 2 mech, commerce, etc a a failure to reach a set target; b the amount by which the target is missed.

slipped disc ▷ noun a dislocation of one of the flat circular plates of cartilage situated between any of the vertebrae, resulting in painful pressure on a spinal nerve.

slipper /ˈslɪpə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a soft loose laceless indoor shoe. 2 a lightweight dancing shoe. ▷ verb (slippered, slippering) to beat with a slipper. ■ slippered adj wearing a slipper or slippers. ⓘ 15c: from SLIP^{1}.

slipperwort ▷ noun CALCEOLARIA.

slippery ▷ adj 1 so smooth, wet, etc as to cause or allow slipping. 2 difficult to catch or keep hold of; elusive or evasive. 3 unpredictable or untrustworthy □ a slippery character. ■ slipperiness noun.

slippy ▷ adj (slippier, slippiest) colloq said of a thing: liable to slip; slippery. ■ slippiness noun.

slip road ▷ noun a road by which vehicles join or leave a motorway.

slipshod /ˈslɪpʃɒd/ ▷ adj untidy and careless; carelessly done.

slipstream ▷ noun 1 an area of decreased wind resistance immediately behind a quickly moving vehicle or other object. 2 a stream of air driven back by an aircraft propeller. ▷ verb to follow close behind (a vehicle) in order to benefit from the decreased air resistance created by its slipstream.

slip-up ▷ noun, colloq a minor and usually inadvertent mistake. See also SLIP UP at SLIP^{1}.

slipware ▷ noun pottery that has been decorated with slip.

slipway ▷ noun a ramp in a dock or shipyard that slopes into water, for launching boats.

slit ▷ noun a long narrow cut or opening. ▷ verb (slit, slitting) 1 to cut a slit in something, especially lengthwise. 2 to cut something into strips. ■ slitter noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon slitan to split.

slither /ˈslɪðə(r)/ ▷ verb (slithered, slithering) intr 1 to slide or slip unsteadily while walking, especially on ice. 2 to move slidingly, like a snake. ▷ noun a slithering movement. ■ slithery adj slippery. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon slidrian.

sliver /ˈslɪvə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a long thin piece cut or broken off. 2 a slice. 3 a splinter. 4 a continuous strand of loose untwisted wool, cotton or other fibre. ▷ verb (slivered, slivering) tr & intr to break or cut into slivers. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon slifan to cleave.

slivovitz /ˈslɪvəvɪts/ ▷ noun a dry colourless plum brandy from E Europe. ⓘ 19c: from Serbo-Croat šljivovica, from šljiva plum.

slob colloq ▷ noun a lazy, untidy and slovenly person. ▷ verb (slobbed, slobbing) intr (usually slob about or around) to move or behave in a lazy, untidy or slovenly way. ■ slobbish or slobby adj. ⓘ 18c: from Irish Gaelic slab mud.

slobber /ˈslɒbə(r)/ ▷ verb (slobbered, slobbering) 1 intr to let saliva run from the mouth; to dribble or slaver. 2 to wet with saliva □ He slobbered his napkin. ▷ noun dribbled saliva; slaver. ■ slobbery adj. ⓘ 14c: from Dutch slobberen to eat or work in a slovenly manner.

■ slobber over something colloq to express extreme or excessive enthusiasm or admiration for it.

sloe /sloʊ/ ▷ noun (sloes) 1 the fruit of the blackthorn bush. 2 the bush itself. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sla.

sloe gin ▷ noun gin flavoured by having sloes soaked in it.

slog colloq ▷ verb (slogged, slogging) 1 to hit hard and wildly. 2 intr to labour or toil. ▷ noun 1 a hard wild blow or stroke. 2 extremely tiring work. ■ slogger noun. ⓘ 19c: a variant of SLUG^{3}.

slogan /ˈsloʊgən/ ▷ noun 1 a phrase used to identify a group or organization, or to advertise a product. 2 Scot hist a clan warcry. ⓘ 16c: from Gaelic sluagh army + gairm cry.

sloop /sluːp/ ▷ noun 1 a single-masted sailing boat with fore-and-aft sails. 2 (in full sloop-of-war) Brit historical a war vessel of any rig, carrying between ten and eighteen guns on one deck only. ⓘ 17c: from Dutch sloep.

slop^{1} ▷ verb (slopped, slopping) 1 (often slop about or around) tr & intr to splash or cause to splash or spill violently. 2 intr to walk carelessly in slush or water. ▷ noun 1 spilled liquid; a puddle. 2 (slops) unappetizing watery food. 3 (slops) waste food. 4 (slops) semi-liquid food fed to pigs. 5 (slops) urine and excrement. 6 gushy sentiment. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon cusloppe cow dung.

■ slop about or around colloq to move or behave in an untidy or slovenly manner.

■ slop out said of prisoners: to empty SLOPS (noun 5).

slop^{2} ▷ noun 1 (slops) poor quality ready-made clothing. 2 (slops) clothes and bedding issued to sailors. 3 a loose-fitting garment, eg a smock. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon oferslop a loose outer garment.

slope ▷ noun 1 a slanting surface; an incline. 2 a position or direction that is neither level nor upright; an upward or downward slant. 3 a specially prepared track for skiing, on the side of a snow-covered hill or mountain. ▷ verb (sloped, sloping) intr 1 to rise or fall at an angle. 2 to be slanted or inclined. ■ sloping or slopy adj. ■ slope arms to place or hold a rifle on the shoulder with the barrel sloping back and up. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon aslupan to slip away.

■ slope off colloq to leave stealthily or furtively.

sloppy /ˈslɒpɪ/ ▷ adj (sloppier, sloppiest) 1 wet or muddy. 2 watery. 3 over-sentimental. 4 said of language, work, etc: inaccurate or careless; shoddy. 5 said of clothes: baggy; loose-fitting. ● sloppily adverb. ● sloppiness noun.

sloppy Joe ▷ noun (sloppy Joes) a long loose sweater.

slosh ▷ verb (sloshes, sloshed, sloshing) 1 tr & intr (often slosh about or around) to splash or cause to splash or spill noisily. 2 slang to hit or strike with a heavy blow. ▷ noun (sloshes) 1 the sound of splashing or spilling. 2 slush; a watery mess. 3 slang a heavy blow. ⓘ Early 19c: a variant of SLUSH.

sloshed /slɒʃt/ ▷ adj, colloq drunk; intoxicated.

slot ▷ noun 1 a long narrow rectangular opening into which something is fitted or inserted. 2 a slit. 3 a (usually regular) time, place or position within a schedule, eg of radio or TV broadcasts, or airport take-offs and landings. 4 a niche in an organization. ▷ verb (slotted, slotting) to make a slot in. ⓘ 14c: from French esclot.

■ slot something in to fit or insert it, or place it in a slot.

sloth /slouθ/ ▷ noun 1 a herbivorous tree-dwelling mammal with long slender limbs and hook-like claws, noted for its very slow movements. 2 the desire to avoid all activity or exertion; laziness; indolence. ● slothful adj lazy; inactive. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon slæwth, from slaw slow.

slot machine ▷ noun a machine operated by inserting a coin in a slot, eg a vending machine or fruit machine. ⓘ 19c.

slouch /slautʃ/ ▷ verb (slouches, slouched, slouching) 1 intr to sit, stand or walk with a tired, lazy or drooping posture. 2 to allow oneself to droop (the shoulders). ▷ noun such a posture. ● sloucher noun. ● slouching adj. ● no slouch at something colloq said of a person: able or competent in some respect □ She's no slouch at dancing. ⓘ 16c: from Norse slokr a slouching person.

slough[1] ▷ noun 1 /slau/ a mud-filled hollow. 2 /sluː/ N Amer an area of boggy land; a marsh or mire. 3 /slau/ literary a state of deep and gloomy emotion □ a slough of depression. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sloh.

slough[2] /slʌf/ ▷ noun 1 any outer part of an animal cast off or moulted, especially a snake's dead skin. 2 dead tissue in a sore or wound. ▷ verb (sloughed, sloughing) 1 to shed (eg a dead skin). 2 to cast off or dismiss (eg worries). ⓘ 13c as sloh.

Slovak /ˈslouvak/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Slovakia, a republic in E Europe, its inhabitants, or their language. ▷ noun 1 a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Slovakia. 2 the official language of Slovakia. ● Slovakian adj. ⓘ 19c.

sloven /ˈslʌvən/ ▷ noun 1 someone who is carelessly or untidily dressed; a person of shoddy appearance. 2 someone who is lazy and slipshod in work. ⓘ 15c: from Dutch slof, from German slaf slow or indolent.

Slovenian /slouˈviːnɪən/ and Slovene /ˈslouviːn/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Slovenia, a republic in SE Europe, its inhabitants or their language. ▷ noun 1 a citizen or inhabitant of, or a person born in, Slovenia. 2 the official language of Slovenia. ⓘ 19c.

slovenly ▷ adj 1 careless, untidy or dirty in appearance. 2 careless or shoddy in habits or methods of working. ▷ adverb in a slovenly manner. ● slovenliness noun.

slow /slou/ ▷ adj 1 having little speed or pace; not moving fast or swiftly. 2 taking a long time, or longer than usual or expected. 3 said of a watch or clock: showing a time earlier than the correct time. 4 said of a mind: unable to quickly and easily understand or appreciate. 5 said of wit or intellect: dull; unexciting or uninteresting. 6 progressing at a tediously gentle pace □ a slow afternoon. 7 boring or dull; tedious □ a slow film. 8 not allowing fast progress or movement □ Traffic was slow. 9 needing much provocation in order to do something □ He's slow to get angry. 10 said of a road lane, especially on a motorway: for the use of slower traffic. 11 said of business: slack. 12 said of photographic film: needing a relatively long exposure time. 13 said of a cooker, etc: heating gently, cooking slowly. ▷ adverb in a slow manner. ▷ verb (slowed, slowing) tr & intr (also slow down or up) to reduce or make something reduce speed, pace or rate of progress. ● slowly adverb. ● slowness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon slaw.

slowcoach ▷ noun, colloq someone who moves or works at a slow pace.

slow match ▷ noun a slow-burning rope used when firing explosives.

slow motion ▷ noun 1 in film or television: a speed of movement that is much slower than real-life movement, created by increasing the speed at which the camera records the action. 2 an imitation of this in real-life movement. Also as adj □ a slow-motion clip.

slow neutron ▷ noun, physics a neutron with a relatively low energy content, used to initiate various nuclear reactions, especially nuclear fission.

slow virus ▷ noun, pathol a virus that produces disease only many years after infection, eg HIV.

slowworm ▷ noun a harmless species of legless lizard with a small mouth and a smooth shiny brownish-grey to coppery body. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon slawyrm: the first part is not related to SLOW but has been assimilated to it.

SLR ▷ abbreviation, photog single-lens reflex.

slub ▷ verb (slubbed, slubbing) to twist (fibre) after carding, so as to prepare for spinning. ▷ noun 1 a piece of fibre twisted in this way. 2 a lump in yarn. ▷ adj lumpy or knobbly in texture. ● slubbed or slubby adj. ● slubber noun. ● slubbing noun. ⓘ 19c.

sludge ▷ noun 1 soft slimy mud or mire. 2 muddy sediment. 3 sewage. 4 half-melted snow; slush. 5 a dark yellowish or brownish green colour □ a sludge green coat. ● sludgy adj. ⓘ 17c: probably from SLUSH.

slue see SLEW[2]

slug[1] ▷ noun 1 any of various terrestrial molluscs, including many garden pests, belonging to the same class as SNAILS, but having a long fleshy body and little or no shell. 2 the similar larvae of other insects, especially sawflies. 3 a sea slug. 4 a heavy or lazy person; a sluggard. 5 anything slow-moving. ⓘ 15c: from Norwegian dialect slugg a heavy body, from slugge a slow heavy person, from Swedish dialect slogga to be sluggish.

slug[2] ▷ noun 1 colloq a an irregularly formed bullet; b a bullet. 2 printing a solid line or section of metal type produced by a composing machine. ⓘ 17c.

slug[3] ▷ colloq, noun a heavy blow. ▷ verb (slugged, slugging) to strike with a heavy blow. ● slugger noun. ⓘ Early 19c: from SLOG.

slug[4] ▷ noun, especially US colloq a large gulp or mouthful of alcohol, especially spirit. ⓘ 18c.

sluggard /ˈslʌgəd/ ▷ noun a habitually lazy or inactive person. ⓘ 14c: as slogardie.

sluggish /ˈslʌgɪʃ/ ▷ adj 1 unenergetic; habitually lazy or inactive. 2 less lively, active or responsive than usual □ This engine is a bit sluggish. ● sluggishly adverb. ● sluggishness noun.

sluice /sluːs/ ▷ noun 1 a channel or drain for water. 2 (in full sluicegate) a valve or sliding gate for regulating the flow of water in such a channel. 3 a trough for washing gold or other minerals out of sand, etc. 4 an act of washing down or rinsing. ▷ verb (sluiced, sluicing) 1 to let out or drain by means of a sluice. 2 to wash down or rinse by throwing water on. ⓘ 14c: from French escluse, from Latin exclusa (aqua) (water) shut out.

slum ▷ noun 1 a run-down, dirty and usually overcrowded house. 2 (often slums) an area or neighbourhood containing such housing. ▷ verb (slummed, slumming) intr to visit an area of slums, especially out of curiosity or for amusement. • slumming noun. • slummy adj like a slum; run-down or squalid. • slum it colloq, often facetious to experience circumstances that are less affluent or more squalid than one is used to. ⓘ Early 19c.

slumber /ˈslʌmbə(r)/ chiefly poetic ▷ noun sleep. ▷ verb (slumbered, slumbering) intr 1 to sleep, especially lightly. 2 to be inattentive or inactive. • slumberer noun. • slumbering noun, adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sluma chamber.

■ slumber away to spend time in slumber.

slumberous /ˈslʌmbərəs/ and slumbrous ▷ adj 1 inviting or causing sleep. 2 sleepy. • slumberously adverb.

slump ▷ verb (slumped, slumping) intr 1 to drop or sink suddenly and heavily, eg with tiredness □ He slumped into an armchair. 2 said of prices, trade, etc: to decline suddenly and sharply. 3 to fall or sink suddenly into water or mud. ▷ noun 1 an act or instance of slumping. 2 a serious and usually long-term decline, especially in a nation's economy. • slumped adj. ⓘ 17c.

slung past tense, past participle of SLING[1]

slunk past tense, past participle of SLINK slur /slɜː(r)/ ▷ verb (slurred, slurring) 1 to pronounce (words) indistinctly, eg through drunkenness. 2 to speak or write about something very disparagingly; to cast aspersions on it. 3 (often slur over something) to mention it only briefly or deal with only superficially. 4 music to sing or play (notes) as a flowing sequence without pauses. ▷ noun 1 a disparaging remark intended to damage a reputation. 2 a slurred word or slurring way of speaking. 3 music a a flowing pauseless style of singing or playing; b the curved line under the notes indicating this style. • slurred adj. • slurring noun. ⓘ 17c.

slurp /slɜːp/ ▷ verb (slurped, slurping) to eat or drink noisily with a sucking action. ▷ noun a slurping sound. ⓘ 17c: from Dutch slurpen to sip audibly.

slurry /ˈslʌrɪ/ ▷ noun (slurries) 1 a thin paste or semi-fluid mixture, especially watery concrete. 2 liquid manure that is treated so that it can be distributed on to fields. ⓘ 15c: from SLUR.

slush ▷ noun 1 half-melted snow. 2 any watery half-liquid substance, eg liquid mud. 3 sickly sentimentality. ⓘ 17c.

slush fund ▷ noun a fund of money used for dishonest purposes, eg bribery, especially by a political party.

slushy /ˈslʌʃɪ/ ▷ adj (slushier, slushiest) 1 like or consisting of slush. 2 sickeningly sentimental □ a slushy film.

slut ▷ noun, derog 1 a woman who regularly engages in casual sex. 2 a prostitute. 3 an untidy, dirty or slovenly woman. • sluttish adj. • sluttishly adverb. • sluttishness noun. ⓘ 15c: from German dialect schlutte.

sly ▷ adj (slyer, slyest) 1 said of people: clever; cunning or wily. 2 surreptitious; secretively deceitful or dishonest. 3 playfully mischievous □ a sly smile. • slyly or slily adverb. • slyness noun. • on the sly colloq secretly or furtively; surreptitiously. ⓘ 12c: from Norse slœgr.

SM ▷ abbreviation 1 (also s-m or s/m) sado-masochism. 2 Sergeant-Major.

Sm ▷ symbol, chem samarium.

smack[1] ▷ verb (smacked, smacking) 1 to slap loudly and smartly, especially with the hand. 2 tr & intr, colloq to hit loudly and heavily □ Her head smacked against the wall. 3 to kiss loudly and noisily. 4 to part (the lips) loudly, with relish or in pleasant anticipation □ She smacked her lips at the thought of the meal. ▷ noun 1 an act, or the sound, of smacking. 2 a loud enthusiastic kiss. ▷ adverb, colloq 1 directly and with force □ He drove smack into the tree. 2 precisely □ smack in the middle. • smacking noun, adj. ⓘ 16c: from Dutch smacken.

smack[2] ▷ verb, intr (always smack of something) 1 to have the flavour of it. 2 to have a trace or suggestion of it. ▷ noun 1 taste; distinctive flavour. 2 a hint or trace. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon smæc.

smack[3] ▷ noun 1 a small single-masted fishing boat. 2 US a sailing vessel equipped with a tank in which fish can be kept alive. ⓘ 17c: from Dutch smak.

smack[4] ▷ noun, slang heroin. ⓘ 1960s: from Yiddish schmeck sniff.

smacker ▷ noun 1 colloq a loud enthusiastic kiss. 2 slang a pound sterling or a dollar bill.

small /smɔːl/ ▷ adj (smaller, smallest) 1 little in size or quantity. 2 little in extent, importance or worth; not great. 3 slender □ of small build. 4 humble □ small beginnings. 5 said of thought or action: petty; ungenerous or ignoble. 6 young □ a small child. 7 minor; insignificant □ a small problem. 8 said of a printed or written letter: lower-case; not capital. 9 humiliated □ feel small. 10 said eg of a business: not operating on a large scale. 11 fine in grain, texture, gauge, etc □ small gravel. ▷ noun 1 the narrow part, especially of the back. 2 (smalls) colloq underclothes. ▷ adverb 1 in a low or gentle tone. 2 on a small scale. 3 into small pieces. • smallish adj. • smallness noun. • feel small to feel silly, insignificant, ashamed, humiliated, etc. • in a small way unostentatiously. • look small to appear silly or insignificant. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon smæl.

small ad ▷ noun, colloq a CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENT.

small arms ▷ plural noun hand-held firearms.

small beer ▷ noun, colloq something unimportant or trivial.

small calorie see CALORIE small capitals ▷ noun, printing capital letters that are the same height as LOWER-CASE letters.

small change ▷ noun 1 coins of little value. 2 someone or something of little significance or importance.

small fry ▷ singular or plural noun, colloq 1 a person or thing, or people or things, of little importance or influence. 2 young children.

smallholding ▷ noun an area of cultivated land smaller than an ordinary farm. • smallholder noun.

small hours ▷ noun (the small hours) the hours immediately after midnight, very early in the morning.

small intestine ▷ noun, anatomy in mammals: the part of the intestine comprising the DUODENUM, JEJUNUM and ILEUM, the main function of which is to digest and absorb food. Compare LARGE INTESTINE.

small-minded ▷ adj narrow-minded; petty-minded. • small-mindedly adverb. • small-mindedness noun.

smallpox /ˈsmɔːlpɒks/ ▷ noun, pathol a highly contagious viral disease, characterized by fever, vomiting, backache and a rash that usually leaves permanent pitted scars (pocks) on the skin.

small print ▷ noun the details of a contract or other undertaking, often printed very small, especially when considered likely to contain unattractive conditions that the writer of the contract does not want to be noticed.

small-scale ▷ adj 1 said of maps, models, etc: made in accordance with a series of smaller measurements. 2 said of enterprises, etc: small in size, scope, etc.

the small screen ▷ noun television, as opposed to cinema.

small slam see LITTLE SLAM small talk ▷ noun polite conversation about trivial matters.

small-time ▷ adj operating on a small scale; unimportant or insignificant.

smarm ▷ verb (smarmed, smarming) 1 intr, colloq to be exaggeratedly and insincerely flattering; to fawn ingratiatingly. 2 (often smarm something down) to smooth or flatten (the hair) with an oily substance. ▷ noun, colloq exaggerated or insincere flattery. ⓘ Early 20c in sense 1; 19c in sense 2.

smarmy /ˈsmɑːmɪ/ ▷ adj (smarmier, smarmiest) colloq 1 ingratiatingly flattering or respectful. 2 nauseously suave or charming. • smarmily adverb. • smarminess noun.

smart ▷ adj (smarter, smartest) 1 neat, trim and well-dressed. 2 clever; witty; astute or shrewd. 3 expensive, sophisticated and fashionable □ a smart hotel. 4 quick, adept and efficient in business. 5 said of pain, etc: sharp and stinging. 6 brisk □ He walked at a smart pace. 7 computing technologically advanced. 8 computer-guided or electronically controlled □ a smart bomb. 9 colloq impressive; excellent. ▷ verb (smarted, smarting) intr 1 to feel or be the cause of a sharp stinging pain □ My eyes smart if I use eyeshadow. 2 to feel or be the cause of acute irritation or distress □ He's still smarting after his relationship break-up. 3 (often smart for something) to suffer harsh consequences or punishment for it. ▷ noun a sharp stinging pain. ▷ adverb in a smart manner. • smartly adverb. • smartness noun. • look smart to hurry up. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon smeortan.

smart alec and smart aleck colloq ▷ noun a person who thinks that they are cleverer than others; an irritating know-all. • smart-alecky adj characteristic of a smart alec.

smartarse and smartass ▷ noun, derog slang a SMART ALEC.

smart card ▷ noun a plastic card like a bank card, fitted with a microprocessor (including a memory) instead of a magnetic strip, used in commercial transactions, telecommunications, etc.

smart drug ▷ noun a drug designed to enhance mental powers or perception.

smarten /ˈsmɑːtən/ ▷ verb (smartened, smartening) tr & intr (usually smarten up) to make or become smarter; to brighten up □ You need to smarten your appearance □ He should smarten up a bit.

the smart money ▷ noun money invested by the experts.

smarty or smartie /ˈsmɑːtɪ/ ▷ noun (smarties) colloq a know-all.

smartypants and smartyboots ▷ singular noun, colloq a SMARTY.

smash ▷ verb (smashes, smashed, smashing) 1 tr & intr to break or shatter violently into pieces; to destroy or be destroyed in this way. 2 tr & intr to strike with violence, often causing damage; to burst with great force □ He smashed his fist down on the table in anger □ They smashed through the door. 3 colloq to break up or ruin completely □ Police have smashed an international drugs ring. 4 tr & intr to become or cause to become bankrupt. 5 in racket sports: to hit (a ball) with a powerful overhead stroke. 6 to crash (a car). ▷ noun (smashes) 1 an act, or the sound, of smashing. 2 in racket sports: a powerful overhead stroke. 3 colloq a road traffic accident. 4 ruin or bankruptcy. 5 colloq a SMASH HIT. ▷ adverb with a smashing sound. ⓘ 17c: probably from SMACK and MASH.

smash-and-grab ▷ adj, colloq said of a robbery: carried out by smashing a shop window and snatching the items on display. ▷ noun a robbery carried out in this way.

smashed ▷ adj, slang 1 extremely drunk. 2 high on drugs.

smasher ▷ noun, colloq 1 someone or something very much liked or admired. 2 anything great, charming or extraordinary.

smash hit ▷ noun, colloq a song, film, play, etc that is an overwhelming success.

smashing ▷ adj, colloq excellent; splendid □ It was a smashing trip.

smash-up ▷ noun, colloq a serious road traffic accident.

smatter /ˈsmatə(r)/ ▷ noun a smattering. ⓘ 15c.

smattering /ˈsmatərɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 a few scraps of superficial knowledge. 2 a small amount scattered around. ⓘ 16c as smateren to rattle.

smear ▷ verb (smeared, smearing) 1 to spread (something sticky or oily) thickly over (a surface). 2 tr & intr to make or become blurred; to smudge. 3 to say or write abusive and damaging things about someone. ▷ noun 1 a greasy mark or patch. 2 a damaging criticism or accusation; a slur. 3 an amount of a substance, especially of cervical tissue, placed on a slide for examination under a microscope. 4 colloq a CERVICAL SMEAR. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon smeru fat, grease.

smear campaign ▷ noun a series of verbal or written attacks intended to defame and discredit an individual, group or organization.

smear tactics ▷ plural noun tactics employed in a smear campaign.

smear test ▷ noun a CERVICAL SMEAR.

smeary /ˈsmɪərɪ/ ▷ adj sticky or greasy; showing smears. • smearily adverb. • smeariness noun.

smectic /ˈsmɛktɪk/ ▷ adj, chem said of liquid crystals: having molecular layers oriented in parallel planes. ⓘ 17c: from Latin smecticus cleansing, from Greek smektikos detergent (from the soapy consistency of a smectic substance).

smegma /ˈsmɛgmə/ ▷ noun a thick white secretion that accumulates underneath the foreskin of the penis. ⓘ Early 19c: from Greek smegma soap.

smell ▷ noun 1 the sense that allows different odours to be recognized by specialized receptors in the mucous membranes of the nose. 2 the characteristic odour of a particular substance □ It has a strong smell. 3 an unpleasant odour □ What a smell! 4 an act of using this sense □ Have a smell of this. 5 a sense, savour or suggestion of something □ The smell of money always brings him back. ▷ verb (smelled or smelt, smelling) 1 to recognize (a substance) by its odour. 2 intr to give off an unpleasant odour □ This rubbish tip really smells. 3 to give off a specified odour □ the perfume smells flowery. 4 to be aware of something by intuition; to recognize signs or traces of □ I smell a government cover-up. • smeller noun. • smell a rat see under RAT. ⓘ 12c as smel.

▪ smell of something 1 to give off an odour of it. 2 to show signs or traces of it □ It is an organization smelling of corruption.

▪ smell someone or something out to track them down by smell, or as if by smell.

smelling-salts ▷ plural noun a preparation of ammonium carbonate with a strong sharp odour, used to stimulate a return to consciousness after fainting.

smelly /ˈsmɛlɪ/ ▷ adj (smellier, smelliest) colloq having a strong or unpleasant smell. • smelliness noun.

smelt[1] ▷ verb (smelted, smelting) to process (an ore), especially by melting it, in order to separate out the crude metal. • smelting noun. ⓘ 16c: from German smelten.

smelt[2] ▷ noun (smelts or smelt) any of various small marine and freshwater fish of the salmon family, including several edible species, with a slender silvery body and a jutting lower jaw. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon smylt.

smelt[3] past tense, past participle of SMELL.

smelter /ˈsmɛltə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person whose work is smelting metal. 2 an industrial plant where smelting is done. ⓘ 16c: from SMELT[1].

smidgen or smidgeon or smidgin /ˈsmɪdʒən, -dʒɪn/ ▷ noun, colloq a very small amount □ You only need a smidgen of paprika. ⓘ 19c.

smilax /ˈsmaɪlaks/ ▷ noun, bot 1 a climbing plant of the lily family, with net-veined leaves, some yielding SARSAPARILLA. 2 a southern African twining plant of the asparagus family with bright green foliage. ⓘ 17c: Greek.

smile ▷ verb (smiled, smiling) 1 intr to turn up the corners of the mouth, often showing the teeth, usually as an expression of pleasure, favour or amusement, but sometimes as an expression of slight contempt or displeasure. 2 to show or communicate with such an expression □ He smiled his agreement. ▷ noun an act or way of smiling. ● smiler noun. ● smiling noun, adj. ● smilingly adverb. ⓘ 13c: as smilen.

■ smile at someone or something to react to them or it with a smile.

■ smile on someone or something 1 to show favour towards them. 2 to be a good omen □ The gods are smiling on you today.

smiley ▷ noun (smileys) computing slang a symbol created from a number of symbols on the keyboard (eg :-)) intended to look like a smiling face (sideways on), used to indicate irony.

smirch ▷ verb (smirches, smirched, smirching) 1 to make dirty; to soil or stain. 2 to damage or sully (a reputation, etc). ▷ noun (smirches) 1 a stain. 2 a smear on a reputation. ⓘ 15c: from French esmorcher to hurt.

smirk ▷ verb (smirked, smirking) to smile in a self-satisfied, affected or foolish manner. ▷ noun such a smile. ● smirking adj. ● smirkingly adverb. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon smercian.

smite ▷ verb (past tense smote /smoʊt/, past participle smitten /ˈsmɪtən/, present participle smiting) literary 1 to strike or beat with a heavy blow or blows. 2 to kill. 3 to afflict. 4 to cause someone to fall immediately and overpoweringly in love □ He could not fail to be smitten by such beauty. 5 intr to come suddenly and forcefully □ The king's authority smote down on him. ● smiter noun. ● smitten adj in love; obsessed. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon smitan to smear.

smith ▷ noun 1 in compounds a person who makes articles in the specified metal □ silversmith. 2 a BLACKSMITH. 3 in compounds a person who makes skilful use of anything □ wordsmith. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon.

smithereens /smɪðəˈriːnz/ ▷ plural noun, colloq tiny fragments □ She smashed it to smithereens. ⓘ 19c: from Irish Gaelic smidirín, diminutive of smiodar fragment.

smithy /ˈsmɪðɪ/ ▷ noun (smithies) a blacksmith's workshop.

SMMT ▷ abbreviation Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders.

smock ▷ noun 1 any loose shirt-like garment, usually of coarse cloth, worn over other clothes for protection especially by artists, etc. 2 a woman's long loose-fitting blouse. 3 historical a loose-fitting overall of coarse linen worn by farm-workers. Also called smock-frock. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon smoc.

smocking /ˈsmɒkɪŋ/ ▷ noun honeycomb-patterned stitching used on gathered or tucked material for decoration.

smog ▷ noun 1 a mixture of smoke and fog, especially in urban or industrial areas, produced by the burning of coal or other fuels. 2 a mixture of fog and motor vehicle exhaust fumes or other pollutants produced as a result of human activity. ● smoggy adj. ⓘ Early 20c: from smoke + fog.

smoke ▷ noun 1 a visible cloud given off by a burning substance, and consisting of tiny particles of carbon dispersed in a gas or a mixture of gases, eg air. 2 visible fumes or vapours. 3 a cloud or column of fumes. 4 colloq the act or process of smoking tobacco □ Got time for a smoke? 5 colloq something that can be smoked, such as a cigarette or cigar. 6 (the Smoke) see THE BIG SMOKE. ▷ verb (smoked, smoking) 1 intr to give off smoke, visible fumes or vapours. 2 tr & intr to inhale and then exhale the smoke from burning tobacco or other substances in a cigarette, cigar, pipe, etc. 3 tr & intr to do this frequently, especially as a habit that is hard to break. 4 to cause oneself to be in a specific state by smoking. 5 to send or release smoke (especially in the wrong direction) □ Oil lamps have a tendency to smoke. 6 to preserve or flavour food by exposing it to smoke. 7 to fumigate or sterilize. 8 to blacken or taint by smoke. 9 to dry with smoke. ● smokable adj fit or able to be smoked. ● go up in smoke 1 to be completely destroyed by fire. 2 colloq said of plans, etc: to be ruined completely; to come to nothing. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon smoca.

■ smoke someone or something out to uncover them or it by persistent searching or investigation.

■ smoke something out to drive (an animal) out into the open by filling its burrow with smoke.

smoke alarm and smoke detector ▷ noun a device that gives a loud warning sound on detecting smoke from a fire in a room.

smoke-ball ▷ noun a shell emitting smoke as a screen for military operations, or to drive out an enemy.

smoke-bomb ▷ noun a bomb emitting smoke on exploding.

smoked /smoʊkt/ ▷ adj 1 cured or treated with smoke □ smoked haddock. 2 darkened by smoke.

smoke-dry ▷ verb to cure or dry using smoke. ● smoke-dried adj □ smoke-dried fish.

smokehouse ▷ noun a building where meat or fish is cured by smoking, or where smoked meats are stored.

smokeless ▷ adj 1 said of a fuel: giving off little or no smoke when burned, eg coke. 2 said of an area: a where the use of smoke-producing fuel is prohibited; b where tobacco-smoking is prohibited.

smokeless zone ▷ noun an area, usually in an urban area, in which it is prohibited to produce smoke from any source, and where only smokeless fuels may be used.

smoker /ˈsmoʊkə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 someone who smokes tobacco products. 2 a railway carriage in which tobacco-smoking is permitted.

smokescreen ▷ noun 1 a cloud of smoke used to conceal the movements of troops, etc. 2 anything said or done to hide or deceive.

smokestack ▷ noun 1 a tall industrial chimney. 2 a funnel on a ship or steam train.

smoking /ˈsmoʊkɪŋ/ ▷ noun 1 the practice of inhaling the fumes from burning cigarettes or other forms of tobacco, known to be a causative factor in the development of several diseases, especially lung cancer. 2 a process used to preserve and improve the flavour of some foods (eg ham, some cheeses), which are exposed to wood smoke (usually from oak or ash) for long periods. ▷ adj where tobacco-smoking is allowed □ a smoking compartment.

smoky /ˈsmoʊkɪ/ ▷ adj (smokier, smokiest) 1 giving out much or excessive smoke. 2 filled with smoke (especially tobacco smoke). 3 having a smoked flavour. 4 hazy, especially in colour □ smoky blue. 5 made dirty by smoke. ● smokily adverb. ● smokiness noun.

smolt /smoʊlt/ ▷ noun a young salmon migrating from fresh water to the sea. ⓘ 15c: Scots.

smooch /smuːtʃ/ colloq ▷ verb (smooches, smooched, smooching) intr 1 to kiss and cuddle. 2 to dance slowly while in an embrace. ▷ noun 1 the act of smooching. 2 a period of smooching. ⓘ 16c: variant of obsolete smouch to kiss.

smoochy /ˈsmuːtʃɪ/ ▷ adj (smoochier, smoochiest) said of music: sentimental and romantic.

smooth /smuːð/ ▷ adj (smoother, smoothest) 1 having an even regular surface; not rough, coarse, bumpy or wavy. 2 having few or no lumps; having an even texture or consistency □ smooth sauce. 3 free from problems or difficulties □ a smooth journey. 4 characterized by steady movement and a lack of jolts and lurches □ a smooth ferry crossing. 5 not sharp or bitter □ a smooth sherry. 6 said of skin: having no hair, spots, blemishes, etc. 7 extremely charming, especially excessively or insincerely so □ a smooth talker. 8 slang very classy or elegant □ a smooth dresser. ▷ verb (smoothed, smoothing) 1 (also smooth something down or out) to make it smooth □ She smoothed out the sheets on the bed. 2 (often smooth over something) to cause a difficulty, etc to seem less serious or important. 3 to free from lumps or roughness. 4 (often smooth something away) to remove (especially problems) by smoothing; to calm or soothe □ A few words from him help smooth away my troubles. 5 to make easier □ smooth the way to promotion. 6 intr to become smooth. ▷ adverb smoothly. ▷ noun 1 the act or process of smoothing. 2 the easy, pleasurable or trouble-free part or aspect (eg of a situation) □ take the rough with the smooth. 3 in racket sports: the side of the racket which, when spun and allowed to drop, determines who opens the game. • smoothly adverb. • smoothness noun. ◎ Anglo-Saxon smoth.

smooth breathing see under BREATHING smoothie or smoothy /ˈsmuːðɪ/ ▷ noun (smoothies) colloq a person who is very elegant, charming or suave in dress or manner, especially one excessively or insincerely so.

smooth muscle see INVOLUNTARY MUSCLE smooth snake ▷ noun a harmless European snake with smooth scales and a dark horizontal line on the side of its head.

smooth-talking, smooth-spoken and smooth-tongued ▷ adj 1 exaggeratedly and insincerely flattering. 2 charmingly persuasive. • smooth-talk noun. • smooth-talker noun.

smorgasbord /ˈsmɔːɡəsbɔːd, ˈsmɜː-/ ▷ noun a Swedish-style assortment of hot and cold savoury dishes served as a buffet. ◎ 1920s: Swedish, from smörgås open sandwich + bord table.

smorzando /smɔːtˈsandoʊ/ ▷ adj, adverb, music 1 gradually fading away. 2 growing slower and softer. ◎ 18c: Italian, from smorzare to extinguish or tone down.

smote past tense of SMITE smother /ˈsmʌðə(r)/ ▷ verb (smothered, smothering) 1 tr & intr to kill with or die from lack of air, especially with an obstruction over the mouth and nose; to suffocate. 2 to extinguish (a fire) by cutting off the air supply, eg by throwing a blanket over it. 3 to cover or smear something with a thick layer □ She loved her bread smothered with jam □ smothered him with kisses. 4 to give an oppressive or stifling amount to someone □ She smothered the children with love. 5 to suppress or contain □ She managed to smother her laughter □ smother a rumour. ▷ noun 1 thick floating dust. 2 dense smoke. 3 a welter or turmoil. • smothered adj. • smotherer noun. • smothering or smothery adj. • smotheringly adverb. ◎ 12c: as smorther, related to Anglo-Saxon smorian.

smoulder /ˈsmoʊldə(r)/ ▷ verb (smouldered, smouldering) intr 1 to burn slowly or without flame. 2 said of emotions: to linger on in a suppressed and often hidden state □ His grief is still smouldering. 3 said of a person: to harbour suppressed and often hidden emotions □ She sat smouldering in the corner. ▷ noun a smouldering fire or emotion. • smouldering noun, adj. ◎ 14c: as smolder.

smudge ▷ noun 1 a mark or blot caused or spread by rubbing. 2 a faint or blurred shape, eg an object seen from afar. ▷ verb (smudged, smudging) 1 to make a smudge on or of something. 2 intr to become or cause a smudge □ The ink has smudged □ These pens smudge easily. • smudger noun. • smudgily adverb. • smudginess noun. • smudgy adj. ◎ 15c: as smogen.

smug ▷ adj (smugger, smuggest) arrogantly self-complacent or self-satisfied. • smugly adverb. • smugness noun. ◎ 16c: from German dialect smuck neat.

smuggle /ˈsmʌɡəl/ ▷ verb (smuggled, smuggling) 1 to take (goods) into or out of a country secretly and illegally, eg to avoid paying duty. 2 to bring, take or convey secretly, usually breaking a rule or restriction □ He smuggled his notes into the exam. • smuggler noun. • smuggling noun. ◎ 17c: from German dialect smuggeln.

smut ▷ noun 1 soot. 2 a speck of dirt, soot, etc. 3 mildly obscene language, jokes, pictures or images □ Enough of your smut! 4 a any of a group of parasitic fungi causing a serious disease of cereal crops, and characterized by the appearance of masses of black spores, resembling soot, on the leaves and other plant surfaces; b the disease caused by such a fungus. Compare RUST noun 4. ▷ verb (smutted, smutting) 1 to dirty or affect with smut. 2 to become smutty. ◎ 16c: as smotten to stain.

smutty /ˈsmʌtɪ/ ▷ adj (smuttier, smuttiest) 1 dirtied by smut. 2 mildly obscene □ a smutty sense of humour. • smuttily adverb. • smuttiness noun.

Sn ▷ symbol, chem tin.

snack ▷ noun a light meal often taken quickly, or a bite to eat between meals. ▷ verb (snacked, snacking) intr to eat a snack. ◎ 14c: perhaps from Dutch snacken to snap.

■ snack on something to make a light meal from it; to nibble at it □ I snack on biscuits too much.

snack bar and snack counter ▷ noun a café, kiosk or counter serving snacks.

snaffle /ˈsnafəl/ ▷ noun (in full snaffle-bit) a simple bridle-bit for a horse. ▷ verb (snaffled, snaffling) 1 to fit (a horse) with a snaffle. 2 to control using a snaffle. 3 slang to take sneakily or without permission; to steal. ◎ 16c: from German and Dutch snavel mouth.

snafu /snaˈfuː/ ▷ noun, US slang, originally military chaos. Also as adj. ◎ 1940s: from situation normal: all fouled or fucked up.

snag ▷ noun 1 a problem or drawback □ The snag is there is not enough funding. 2 a protruding sharp or jagged edge on which clothes, etc could get caught. 3 a hole or tear in clothes (especially tights, stockings, etc) caused by such catching. 4 a part of a tree submerged in water, hazardous to boats. ▷ verb (snagged, snagging) to catch or tear on a snag. • snaggy adj. ◎ 16c: from Norse snagi peg.

snaggletooth /ˈsnaɡəltuːθ/ ▷ noun a broken, irregular or projecting tooth. • snaggletoothed adj. ◎ Early 19c: from SNAG + TOOTH.

snail ▷ noun 1 any of numerous marine, freshwater, and terrestrial molluscs belonging to the same class as slugs, but carrying a coiled or conical shell on their backs, into which the whole body can be withdrawn. 2 a sluggish person or animal. • snail-like adj. • at a snail's pace extremely slowly; at a very slow speed. ◎ Anglo-Saxon snægl.

snail mail ▷ noun, computing slang the ordinary postal service, as opposed to electronic mail.

snake ▷ noun 1 any one of numerous species of a carnivorous reptile which has a long narrow body covered with scaly skin, and a forked tongue, and that differs from LIZARDs in that it lacks limbs, moveable eyelids or visible ears. 2 any long and flexible or winding thing or shape. 3 a SNAKE IN THE GRASS. 4 formerly the band within which the relative values of certain EC currencies were allowed to float. ▷ verb (snaked, snaking) intr to move windingly or follow a winding course □ The river snakes towards the sea. • snakelike adj. ◎ Anglo-Saxon snaca.

snakebird ▷ noun a DARTER.

snakebite ▷ noun 1 the wound or poisoned condition caused by the bite of a venomous snake. 2 colloq a drink of cider and beer or lager in equal measures.

snake-charmer ▷ noun a street entertainer who appears to induce snakes to perform rhythmical movements, especially by playing music.

snake in the grass ▷ noun, colloq a treacherous person; a friend revealed to be an enemy.

snakes and ladders ▷ noun a game played with counters and dice on a board marked with an ascending path on which ladders allow short cuts towards the finish and snakes force one to go back towards the starting-point.

snaky /ˈsneɪkɪ/ ▷ adj (snakier, snakiest) 1 like a snake, especially long, thin and flexible or winding. 2 treacherous or cruelly deceitful. • snakily adverb. • snakiness noun.

snap ▷ verb (snapped, snapping) 1 tr & intr to break suddenly and cleanly with a sharp cracking noise □ He snapped the stick over his knee. 2 tr & intr to make or cause to make a sharp noise. 3 tr & intr to move quickly and forcefully into place with a sharp sound □ The lid snapped shut. 4 intr to speak sharply in sudden irritation. 5 colloq to take a photograph of someone or something, especially spontaneously and with a hand-held camera. 6 intr, colloq to lose one's senses or self-control suddenly □ When he answered me back I just snapped. 7 Amer football to pass (the ball) from the line of the scrimmage back to the quarterback. ▷ noun 1 the act or sound of snapping. 2 colloq a photograph, especially taken spontaneously and with a hand-held camera. 3 a catch or other fastening that closes with a snapping sound. 4 a sudden bite. 5 a crisp biscuit or savoury. 6 a crisp and lively quality in style. 7 a COLD SNAP. 8 a card game in which all the cards played are collected by the first player to shout 'snap' on spotting a pair of matching cards laid down by consecutive players. 9 Amer football the play which involves the passing of the ball from the line of scrimmage back to the quarterback. ▷ exclamation 1 the word shouted in the card game (see noun 8 above). 2 the word used to highlight any matching pairs, circumstances, etc. ▷ adj taken or made spontaneously, without long consideration □ a snap decision. ▷ adverb with a snapping sound. • snapping noun, adj. • snappingly adverb. • snap one's fingers 1 to make a short loud snapping sound by flicking one's fingers sharply, usually to attract attention. 2 to show contempt or defiance. • snap someone's head or nose off to answer irritably and rudely. • snap out of it colloq to bring oneself out of a state or condition, eg of sulking or depression. ◎ 15c: from Dutch snappen.

■ snap at someone to speak abruptly with anger or impatience.

■ snap at something 1 to make a biting or grasping movement towards it □ The dog snapped at the biscuit in the boy's hand. 2 to seize it eagerly.

■ snap something off something else to break something off it □ She snapped the head off her doll.

■ snap someone up to obtain them for employment, as a partner in a relationship, etc □ You'd better move quick or she'll be snapped up.

■ snap something up to acquire, purchase or seize it eagerly □ He snapped up the opportunity.

■ snap up to answer or interrupt rudely or sharply.

snapdragon ▷ noun any of various bushy perennial plants, native to Europe and N America, with spikes of large white, yellow, pink, red or purple two-lipped flowers. Also called ANTIRRHINUM.

snap-fastener ▷ noun a PRESS STUD.

snaplink see KARABINER.

snapper ▷ noun 1 someone or something that snaps. 2 a deep-bodied fish found in tropical seas, some species of which are valuable food fish, so called because it has long conical front teeth and highly mobile jaws. 3 a SNAPPING-TURTLE. 4 US a party cracker. ◎ 18c.

snapping-turtle ▷ noun a large aggressive American freshwater tortoise.

snappy /ˈsnapɪ/ ▷ adj (snappier, snappiest) 1 irritable; inclined to snap. 2 smart and fashionable □ a snappy dresser. 3 lively □ Play it at a snappy tempo. • snappily adverb. • snappiness noun. • Look snappy or Make it snappy! colloq Hurry up!; Be quick about it!

snapshot ▷ noun, colloq a photograph, especially one taken spontaneously and with a hand-held camera.

snare ▷ noun 1 an animal trap, especially one with a string or wire noose to catch the animal's foot. 2 anything that traps or entangles. 3 anything that lures or tempts. 4 surgery a loop used for removing tumours, etc. 5 a (in full snare drum) a medium-sized drum sitting horizontally, with a set of wires fitted to its underside that rattle sharply when the drum is struck; b the set of wires fitted to a snare drum. ▷ verb (snared, snaring) 1 to catch, trap or entangle in, or as if in, a snare. 2 surgery to remove (a tumour) using a snare. • snarer noun. • snaring noun. ◎ Anglo-Saxon sneare.

snarl[1] ▷ verb (snarled, snarling) 1 intr said of an animal: to growl angrily, showing the teeth. 2 tr & intr to speak aggressively in anger or irritation. ▷ noun 1 an act of snarling. 2 a snarling sound or facial expression. • snarler noun. • snarling noun, adj. • snarlingly adverb. • snarly adj.

snarl[2] ▷ noun 1 a knotted or tangled mass. 2 a confused or congested situation or state. 3 a knot in wood. ▷ verb, tr & intr (also snarl someone or something up or snarl up) to make or become knotted, tangled, confused or congested. ◎ 14c: related to SNARE.

snarl-up ▷ noun, colloq 1 a tangle. 2 any muddled or congested situation, especially a traffic jam.

snatch ▷ verb (snatches, snatched, snatching) 1 to seize or grab suddenly. 2 intr to make a sudden grabbing movement. 3 to pull suddenly and forcefully □ She snatched her hand away from his. 4 colloq to take or have as soon as the opportunity arises □ We'll have to snatch a bite to eat. ▷ noun (snatches) 1 an act of snatching. 2 a fragment overheard or remembered □ She recalled a few snatches of conversation. 3 a brief period □ I caught snatches of the news now and then □ snatches of rest between long shifts. 4 colloq a robbery □ The snatch took place in broad daylight. 5 weightlifting a type of lift in which the weight is raised from the floor to an overhead position in one movement. • snatcher noun. • snatchily adverb. • snatchy adj. ◎ 13c: as snacchen.

snazzy /ˈsnazɪ/ ▷ adj (snazzier, snazziest) colloq fashionably and often flashily smart or elegant □ That's a snazzy little number you're wearing. • snazzily adverb. • snazziness noun. ◎ 1930s: perhaps from snappy + jazzy.

SNCF ▷ abbreviation: Société Nationale des Chemins de Fer Français (French), French national railways.

sneak ▷ verb (sneaked or (colloq) snuck, sneaking) 1 (often sneak away, off, out, etc) intr to move, go or depart quietly, furtively and unnoticed. 2 to bring or take secretly, especially breaking a rule or prohibition □ He sneaked a girl into his room □ He tried to sneak a look at the letter. 3 intr, colloq to inform about someone; to tell tales. 4 slang to steal. ▷ noun, colloq someone who sneaks; a tell-tale. ◎ Anglo-Saxon snican to creep.

sneakers /ˈsniːkəz/ ▷ plural noun, especially US sports shoes; soft-soled, usually canvas, shoes.

sneaking /ˈsniːkɪŋ/ ▷ adj 1 said of a feeling, etc: slight but not easily suppressed □ a sneaking suspicion he was cheating on me. 2 secret; unrevealed □ a sneaking admiration. 3 underhand; deceptive. ■ sneakingly adverb.

sneak thief ⊳ noun a thief who enters premises through unlocked doors or windows, without actually breaking in.

sneaky /ˈsniːkɪ/ ⊳ adj (sneakier, sneakiest) done or operating with secretive unfairness or dishonesty; underhand. ■ sneakily adverb. ■ sneakiness noun.

sneck chiefly Scot & N Eng ⊳ noun a latch; a door-catch. ⊳ verb (snecked, snecking) to fasten with a sneck. ⓘ 14c: from SNATCH.

sneer ⊳ verb (sneered, sneering) 1 (often sneer at someone or something) intr to show scorn or contempt, especially by drawing the top lip up at one side. 2 intr to express scorn or contempt. 3 to say scornfully or contemptuously. ⊳ noun 1 an act of sneering. 2 an expression of scorn or contempt made with a raised lip, or in other ways. ■ sneerer noun. ■ sneering noun, adj. ■ sneeringly adverb. ⓘ 16c.

sneeze ⊳ verb (sneezed, sneezing) intr to blow air out through the nose suddenly, violently and involuntarily, especially because of irritation in the nostrils. ⊳ noun an act or the sound of sneezing. ■ sneezer noun. ■ sneezing noun. ■ sneezy adj. ■ not to be sneezed at colloq not to be disregarded or overlooked lightly. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon fnesan.

sneezewort /ˈsniːzwɜːt/ ⊳ noun a species of yarrow whose dried leaves are powdered and used to cause sneezing.

snib chiefly Scot ⊳ noun a small bolt or catch for a door or window-sash. ⊳ verb (snibbed, snibbing) to fasten with a snib. ⓘ Early 19c: from German snibbe beak.

snick ⊳ noun 1 a small cut; a nick. 2 cricket a a glancing contact with the edge of the bat; b the shot hit in this way. ⊳ verb (snicked, snicking) 1 to make a small cut in something. 2 cricket to hit with a snick. ⓘ 16c: from Norse snikka to whittle.

snicker ⊳ verb (snickered, snickering) intr 1 to SNIGGER. 2 to say gigglingly. 3 to neigh or whinny. ⊳ noun 1 a giggle. 2 a neigh or whinny. ⓘ 17c.

snide ⊳ adj 1 expressing criticism or disapproval in an offensive, sly or malicious manner. 2 counterfeit; sham. ■ snidely adverb. ■ snideness noun. ⓘ 19c.

sniff ⊳ verb (sniffed, sniffing) 1 to draw in air with the breath through the nose. 2 intr to draw up mucus or tears escaping into the nose. 3 intr to draw in air through the nose in short sharp noisy bursts, eg when crying. 4 (often sniff something or sniff at something) tr & intr to smell it in this way. 5 to express disapprobation reticently by making a slight sound with the nose. 6 to sniffle. 7 to inhale the fumes from (a dangerous or addictive substance, eg a solvent). ⊳ noun 1 an act or the sound of sniffing. 2 a smell. 3 a small quantity inhaled by the nose. 4 a slight intimation or suspicion. ■ sniffer noun. ■ sniffing noun, adj. ■ not to be sniffed at colloq not to be disregarded or overlooked lightly □ such good value that it's not an offer to be sniffed at. ⓘ 14c: imitating the sound.

■ sniff at someone or something to express contempt or derision for them or it.

■ sniff someone or something out to discover or detect them or it by, or as if by, the sense of smell.

sniffer dog ⊳ noun a dog specially trained to search for or locate illicit or dangerous substances (eg illegal drugs, explosives, etc) by smell.

sniffle /ˈsnɪfəl/ ⊳ verb (sniffled, sniffling) intr to sniff repeatedly, eg because of having a cold. ⊳ noun 1 an act or the sound of sniffling. 2 (also the sniffles) a slight cold. ■ sniffler noun. ■ sniffly adj. ⓘ 17c: from SNIFF.

sniffy /ˈsnɪfɪ/ ⊳ adj (sniffier, sniffiest) colloq 1 contemptuous or disdainful, or inclined to be so. 2 sniffing repeatedly, or feeling that one wants to, especially because of having a cold. ■ sniffily adverb. ■ sniffiness noun.

snifter /ˈsnɪftə(r)/ ⊳ noun 1 slang a drink of alcohol, especially alcoholic spirit; a tipple or dram. 2 US a brandy glass. ⓘ 19c: from dialect snift to sniff.

snigger /ˈsnɪgə(r)/ ⊳ verb (sniggered, sniggering) intr to laugh in a stifled or suppressed way, often derisively or mockingly. ⊳ noun such a laugh. Also called SNICKER. ■ sniggerer noun. ■ sniggering noun, adj. ■ sniggeringly adverb. ⓘ 18c: an imitation of SNICKER.

snip ⊳ verb (snipped, snipping) to cut, especially with a single quick action or actions, with scissors. ⊳ noun 1 an act or the action of snipping. 2 the sound of a stroke of scissors while snipping. 3 a small shred or piece snipped off. 4 a small cut, slit or notch. 5 (snips) small hand-shears used for cutting sheet metal. 6 colloq a bargain □ It's a snip at £10. 7 colloq a certainty; a thing easily done. 8 a small white or light patch or stripe on a horse, especially on its nose. ■ snipper noun. ■ snipping noun. ⓘ 16c: from Dutch snippen.

snipe ⊳ noun (snipe or snipes) 1 any of various wading birds with a long straight bill, relatively short legs and mottled and barred dark brown plumage. 2 a sniping shot, ie a shot at someone from a hidden position. 3 a quick verbal attack or criticism. ⊳ verb (sniped, sniping) intr 1 to shoot snipe for sport. 2 (often snipe at someone) a to shoot at them from a hidden position; b to criticize them bad-temperedly. ■ sniper noun someone who shoots from a concealed position. ■ sniping noun. ⓘ 14c: from Norse snipa.

snippet /ˈsnɪpɪt/ ⊳ noun 1 a scrap, eg of information, news, etc. 2 a little piece snipped off. ■ snippetiness noun. ■ snippety adj. ⓘ 17c: from SNIP.

snitch slang ⊳ noun (snitches) 1 the nose. 2 an informer. ⊳ verb (snitches, snitched, snitching) 1 intr to betray others; to inform on them. 2 to steal; to pilfer. ■ snitcher noun an informer. ⓘ 18c.

snivel /ˈsnɪvəl/ ⊳ verb (snivelled, snivelling) intr 1 to whine or complain tearfully. 2 to have a runny nose. 3 to sniff or snuffle. 4 hypocritical cant. ⊳ noun an act of snivelling. ■ sniveller noun. ■ snivelly adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon snofl mucus.

SNO ⊳ abbreviation 1 Scottish National Orchestra (now RSNO). 2 Scottish National Opera.

snob ⊳ noun 1 someone who places too high a value on social status, treating those higher up the social ladder obsequiously, and those lower down the social ladder with condescension and contempt. 2 someone having similar pretensions as regards specific tastes □ a wine snob □ an intellectual snob. Compare INVERTED SNOB. ⓘ 18c.

snobbery ⊳ noun 1 snobbishness. 2 snobbish behaviour.

snobbish ⊳ adj characteristic of a snob. ■ snobbishly adverb. ■ snobbishness noun.

snobby ⊳ adj (snobbier, snobbiest) snobbish. ■ snobbism noun.

snoek see SNOOK[1]

snog slang ⊳ verb (snogged, snogging) intr to embrace, kiss and cuddle. ⊳ noun a kiss and cuddle. ⓘ 1930s.

snood /snuːd/ ⊳ noun 1 a decorative pouch of netting or fabric worn by women on the back of the head, keeping the hair in a bundle. 2 a tube, usually made of a woollen material, worn as a hood. 3 fishing the length of fine line, gut, etc by which a baited fish hook is fixed to the line. 4 historical in Scotland: a hair band once worn by young unmarried women. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon snod.

snook[1] or snoek /snuːk/ ▷ noun (snook or snooks, snoek) any of several marine fishes. ◎ 17c: from Dutch snoekpike.

snook[2] /snuːk/ ▷ noun the gesture of putting the thumb to the nose and waving the fingers as an expression of derision, contempt or defiance. ● cock a snook at someone colloq 1 to make this gesture at them. 2 to express open contempt for them. ◎ 19c.

snooker /ˈsnuːkə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a game played with long leather-tipped sticks, or CUES, 15 red balls, one white cue ball and six balls of other colours, the object being to use the white cue ball to knock the non-white balls in a certain order into any of the six pockets on the corners and sides of a large cloth-covered table, and to gain more points than the opponent. 2 in this game: a position in which the path between the white ball and the target ball is obstructed by another ball. ▷ verb (snookered, snookering) 1 in snooker: to force (an opponent) to attempt to hit an obstructed target ball. 2 colloq to thwart (a person or a plan). ◎ 19c.

snoop ▷ verb (snooped, snooping) intr to go about sneakingly and inquisitively; to pry. ▷ noun 1 an act of snooping. 2 someone who snoops. ● snooper noun a person who snoops. ● snoopy adj. ◎ 19c: from Dutch snoepen to eat or steal.

snooperscope ▷ noun, US a device which converts infrared radiation reflected from an object into a visible image, used for seeing in the dark. ◎ 1940s.

snoot ▷ noun, slang the nose. ◎ 19c: a variation of SNOUT.

snooty /ˈsnuːtɪ/ ▷ adj (snootier, snootiest) colloq haughty; snobbish. ● snootily adverb. ● snootiness noun.

snooze /snuːz/ ▷ verb (snoozed, snoozing) intr to sleep lightly; to doze. ▷ noun a brief period of light sleeping; a nap. ● snoozer noun. ● snoozy adj. ◎ 18c: perhaps a combination of SNORE and DOZE.

snooze button ▷ noun a device on an alarm clock which stops the alarm and allows a few minutes respite before sounding again.

snore /snɔː(r)/ ▷ verb (snored, snoring) intr to breathe heavily and with a snorting sound while sleeping. ▷ noun an act or the sound of snoring. ● snorer noun. ◎ 14c: imitating the sound.

snorkel /ˈsnɔːkəl/ and schnorkel /ˈʃnɔːkəl/ ▷ noun 1 a rigid tube through which air from above the surface of water can be drawn into the mouth while one is swimming just below the surface. 2 on a submarine: a set of tubes extended above the surface of the sea to take in air and release exhaust gases. ▷ verb (snorkelled, snorkelling) intr to swim with a snorkel. ● snorkelling noun. ◎ 1940s: from German Schnorchel.

snort ▷ verb (snorted, snorting) 1 intr said especially of animals: to force air violently and noisily out through the nostrils; to make a similar noise while taking air in. 2 tr & intr to express contempt or anger in this way. 3 slang to inhale (a powdered drug, especially cocaine) through the nose. ▷ noun 1 an act or the sound of snorting. 2 colloq a small drink of alcoholic spirit. 3 slang an amount of a powdered drug inhaled in one breath. ● snorting noun, adj. ● snortingly adverb. ◎ 14c as snorten.

snorter ▷ noun 1 someone or something that snorts. 2 colloq anything exceptional, eg in size, strength, etc. ◎ 17c.

snot ▷ noun 1 mucus of the nose. 2 a contemptible person. ◎ Anglo-Saxon gesnot.

snotrag ▷ noun, slang a handkerchief.

snotty /ˈsnɒtɪ/ ▷ adj (snottier, snottiest) colloq 1 covered or messy with nasal mucus □ snotty-nosed kids. 2 haughty or stand-offish; having or showing contempt □ a snotty attitude. 3 slang contemptible; worthless □ I don't want your snotty advice. ● snottily adverb. ● snottiness noun.

snout /snaʊt/ ▷ noun 1 the projecting nose and mouth parts of certain animals, eg the pig. 2 colloq the human nose. 3 any projecting part. 4 slang a cigarette; tobacco. 5 slang a police informer. ● snouted adj. ● snouty adj resembling a snout. ◎ 13c: from German snut.

snow /snoʊ/ ▷ noun 1 precipitation in the form of aggregations of ice crystals falling to the ground in soft white flakes, or lying on the ground as a soft white mass. 2 a fall of this □ There's been a lot of snow this year. 3 any similar substance, such as carbonic acid snow which is frozen carbon dioxide. 4 colloq a flickering speckled background on a TV or radar screen, caused by interference or a poor signal. 5 slang cocaine. ▷ verb (snowed, snowing) intr said of snow: to fall. ● be snowed under be overwhelmed with work, etc. ◎ Anglo-Saxon snaw.

■ snow someone in or up to isolate or block them with snow □ We were snowed in for a week.

snowball ▷ noun 1 a small mass of snow pressed hard together, often used for fun as a missile. 2 a drink made of advocaat and lemonade. ▷ verb (snowballed, snowballing) 1 tr & intr to throw snowballs at someone or something. 2 intr to develop or increase rapidly and uncontrollably. ● not a snowball's chance (in hell or in an oven) colloq absolutely no chance at all.

snowball tree ▷ noun a GUELDER ROSE.

snowberry ▷ noun, bot 1 any of various deciduous shrubs native to N America and W China, especially a N American species with simple leaves, small pinkish flowers and white spherical berry-like fruits. 2 the berry-like fruit produced by a N American species of this plant.

snow blindness ▷ noun severe but temporary impairment of eyesight caused by prolonged exposure of the eyes to bright sunlight reflected by snow. ● snow-blind adj affected by snow blindness.

snowblower ▷ noun a snow-clearing machine which takes in the snow in front of it and blows it to the side of the road, path, etc.

snowboard ▷ noun a board resembling a skateboard without wheels, used on snow and guided with movements of the feet and body. ▷ verb (snowboarded, snowboarding) intr to ski on a snowboard. ● snowboarder noun. ● snowboarding noun.

snowbound ▷ adj shut in or prevented from travelling because of heavy falls of snow.

snow bunting ▷ noun a small finch, native to northern regions, which has white plumage with black and brownish markings.

snowcap ▷ noun a cap of snow, as on the polar regions or a mountain-top. ● snowcapped adj said especially of mountains: with a covering of snow on the top.

snow chain see TYRE CHAIN

snowdrift ▷ noun a bank of snow blown together by the wind.

snowdrop ▷ noun a bulbous early-flowering perennial plant with narrow strap-shaped bluish-green leaves and small solitary drooping white bell-shaped flowers.

snowfall ▷ noun 1 a fall of snow. 2 meteorol an amount of fallen snow in a given time □ annual snowfall.

snowfield ▷ noun a wide expanse of snow, especially one that is permanent.

snowflake ▷ noun any of the single small feathery clumps of crystals of frozen water vapour that make up snow.

snow goose ▷ noun a wild N American goose with white plumage and black wing-tips, a pink bill and pink legs, also occurring in a dark form with grey plumage, and a white head and neck.

snow leopard ▷ noun a large wild cat, now an endangered species, found in the mountains of Central Asia, which has long soft creamy or pale-grey fur patterned with black rosette spots. Also called ounce.

snowline ▷ noun the level or height on a mountain or other upland area above which there is a permanent covering of snow, or where snow accumulates seasonally.

snowman ▷ noun a figure, resembling a person, made from packed snow.

snowmobile /ˈsnoʊməbiːl/ ▷ noun a motorized vehicle, on skis or tracks, designed for travelling on snow.

snowplough ▷ noun 1 a large shovel-like device for clearing snow from roads or railway tracks. 2 a vehicle or train fitted with this. 3 skiing a position in which the skis are pointed together with the tips touching used as a means of slowing down.

snowshoe ▷ noun either of a pair of racket-like frameworks strapped to the feet for walking over deep snow.

snowstorm ▷ noun a heavy fall of snow, especially accompanied by a strong gale.

snow-white ▷ adj as white as snow.

snowy /ˈsnoʊɪ/ ▷ adj (snowier, snowiest) 1 abounding or covered with snow. 2 white like snow. 3 pure. ● snowily adverb. ● snowiness noun.

snowy owl ▷ noun, zool an owl that inhabits tundra, northern marshes and Arctic islands, nests on the ground, and is so called because it has mainly white plumage.

SNP ▷ abbreviation Scottish National Party.

Snr or snr ▷ abbreviation senior.

snub ▷ verb (snubbed, snubbing) 1 to insult by openly ignoring, rejecting or otherwise showing contempt. 2 to bring (a boat, unbroken horse, etc) to a sudden stop by means of a rope secured to a stake or post. ▷ noun an act of snubbing. ▷ adj short and flat; blunt. See also SNUB NOSE. ● snubbing noun, adj. ● snubbingly adverb. ● snubby adj. ⓘ 14c: from Norse snubba to scold.

snub nose ▷ noun a broad flat nose. ● snub-nosed adj having a snub nose.

snuck see under SNEAK snuff[1] ▷ verb (snuffed, snuffing) 1 intr to draw in air violently and noisily through the nose. 2 intr to sniff; to smell at something doubtfully. 3 to examine or detect by sniffing. ▷ noun a sniff. ⓘ 16c: from Dutch snuffen to snuffle.

snuff[2] ▷ noun 1 powdered tobacco for inhaling through the nose. 2 a pinch of snuff. ▷ verb (snuffed, snuffing) intr to take snuff. ● snuffy adj similar to, smelling of or soiled with snuff. ● up to snuff 1 not likely to be taken in; alert. 2 being of a high or suitable standard; up to scratch. ⓘ 16c: from SNUFF[1].

snuff[3] ▷ verb (snuffed, snuffing) to snip off the burnt part of the wick of (a candle or lamp). ▷ noun the burnt part of the wick of a lamp or candle. ● snuff it slang to die. ⓘ 14c: as snoffe.

■ snuff something out 1 to extinguish (a candle). 2 to put an end to it □ tried to snuff out all opposition.

snuffbox ▷ noun a small and often decorative lidded box, usually made of metal, for containing snuff.

snuffer /ˈsnʌfə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a device with a cap-shaped part for extinguishing candles. 2 (snuffers) a device resembling a pair of scissors for removing snuffs from the wicks of candles or oil lamps.

snuffle /ˈsnʌfəl/ ▷ verb (snuffled, snuffling) 1 intr to breathe, especially breathe in, through a partially blocked nose. 2 tr & intr to say or speak nasally. 3 intr to snivel. ▷ noun 1 an act or the sound of snuffling. 2 (the snuffles) colloq an obstructed condition of the nose; a slight cold. ● snuffler noun. ● snuffling noun, adj. ⓘ 16c: see SNUFF[1].

snuff movie and snuff film ▷ noun, slang a pornographic film depicting scenes of violence and torture, and in which the climax is the actual murder of one of the unsuspecting participants.

snug ▷ adj (snugger, snuggest) 1 warm, cosy and comfortable □ a snug room. 2 well protected and sheltered; not exposed □ a snug boat. 3 compact and comfortably organized □ a snug kitchen. 4 comfortably off; well provided for □ a snug income. 5 close-fitting □ a snug dress. ▷ noun a SNUGGERY. ● snugly adverb. ● snugness noun. ⓘ 16c: perhaps from Norse snoggr short-haired.

snuggery /ˈsnʌɡərɪ/ ▷ noun (snuggeries) Brit a small comfortable room or compartment in a pub.

snuggle /ˈsnʌɡəl/ ▷ verb (snuggled, snuggling) intr 1 (usually snuggle down or in) to settle oneself into a position of warmth and comfort. 2 (sometimes snuggle up) to hug close; to nestle. ⓘ 17c: from SNUG.

SO ▷ abbreviation standing order.

so[1] ▷ adverb 1 to such an extent □ so expensive that nobody buys it. 2 to this, that, or the same extent; as □ This one is lovely, but that one is not so nice. 3 extremely □ She is so talented! 4 in that state or condition □ promised to be faithful, and has remained so. 5 also; likewise □ She's my friend and so are you. 6 used to avoid repeating a previous statement □ You've to take your medicine because I said so. ▷ conj 1 therefore; thereafter □ He insulted me, so I hit him. 2 (also so that ...) in order that ... □ Lend me the book, so that I can read it □ Give me more time so I can finish it. ▷ adj the case; true □ You think I'm mad, but it's not so. ▷ exclamation used to express discovery □ So, that's what you've been doing! ● and so on or and so forth or and so on and so forth and more of the same; continuing in the same way. ● just so neatly, precisely or perfectly □ with her hair arranged just so. ● or so approximately □ five or so days ago. ● quite so exactly right; just as you have said. ● so as to ... in order to ...; in such a way as to .... ● so be it used to express acceptance or defiant resignation. ● so far to that, or to such an, extent or degree □ I haven't managed to do any work so far. ● so far so good everything is fine up to this point. ● so much or many 1 such a lot □ so much work to do! 2 just; mere □ politicians squabbling like so many children. ● so much for ... nothing has come of ...; that has disposed of or ruined .... □ So much for all our plans! ● so much so to such an extent (that). ● so so moderate; average □ How are you feeling? Oh, so so. ● so to speak or to say used as an apology for an unfamiliar or slightly inappropriate expression. ● so what? colloq that is of no importance or consequence at all. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon swa.

so[2] see SOH

soak ▷ verb (soaked, soaking) 1 tr & intr to stand or leave to stand in a liquid for some time. 2 to make someone or something thoroughly wet; to drench or saturate. 3 (also soak in or through something or soak through) to penetrate or pass through □ The rain soaked through my coat □ The spilt milk quickly soaked in. 4 colloq to charge or tax heavily. 5 intr, colloq to drink especially alcohol to excess. ▷ noun 1 an act of soaking. 2 a drenching. 3 colloq a long period of lying in a bath. 4 colloq someone who habitually drinks a lot of alcohol. 5 a marshy location. ● soakage noun liquid that has percolated. ● soaker noun. ● soaking noun. ● soakingly adverb. ● soak up the sun to sunbathe. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon socian.

■ soak something up to absorb it □ Tissue soaks up the water quickly □ He just soaks up knowledge.

soakaway ▷ noun a depression in the ground into which water percolates.

soaked ▷ adj 1 (also soaking, soaked through) drenched; very wet (eg because of rain) □ He was soaked to the skin when he came in. 2 saturated or steeped. 3 colloq drunk.

so-and-so ▷ noun (so-and-sos) colloq 1 someone whose name one does not know or cannot remember □ He's gone with so-and-so. 2 a word in place of a vulgar word or oath □ You crafty little so-and-so!

soap ▷ noun 1 a sodium or potassium salt of a FATTY ACID that is soluble in water and has detergent properties. 2 such a substance used as a cleaning agent in the form of a solid block, liquid or powder. 3 colloq a SOAP OPERA. ▷ verb (soaped, soaping) to apply soap to something. ⌚ Anglo-Saxon sape.

■ soap someone up colloq to charm or persuade them with flattery.

soapbox ▷ noun 1 a crate for packing soap. 2 an improvised platform for public speech-making, originally an upturned crate for carrying soap.

soap opera ▷ noun a radio or TV series concerning the domestic and emotional lives and troubles of a regular group of characters. ⌚ originally applied to those sponsored in the USA by soap-manufacturing companies.

soapstone ▷ noun a soft usually grey or brown variety of the mineral talc, widely used for ornamental carvings. See also FRENCH CHALK.

soapsuds ▷ plural noun soapy water, especially when frothy.

soapwort /ˈsoupwɜːt/ ▷ noun a tall herb, native to Europe, with pink or white flowers, and whose roots and leaves contain saponin. ⌚ 16c.

soapy /ˈsoupɪ/ ▷ adj (soapier, soapiest) 1 like soap. 2 containing soap. 3 smeared with soap. 4 covered with soapsuds. 5 slang flattering. ● soapily adverb. ● soapiness noun.

soar ▷ verb (soared, soaring) intr 1 to rise or fly high into the air. 2 to glide through the air at a high altitude. 3 to rise sharply to a great height or level □ soaring temperatures. 4 to increase rapidly in number. ● soaring noun, adj. ● soaringly adverb. ⌚ 14c: from French essorer to expose to air by raising up, from Latin ex out + aura air.

sob ▷ verb (sobbed, sobbing) 1 intr to cry uncontrollably with intermittent gulps for breath. 2 (often sob out) to say or tell something while crying in this way □ She sobbed out the whole story. 3 to bring (oneself) to a certain state, usually to sleep, by sobbing. ▷ noun a gulp for breath between bouts of crying. ● sobbing noun, adj. ● sobbingly adverb. ⌚ 12c: imitating the sound.

sober /ˈsoubə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 not at all drunk. 2 serious, solemn or restrained; not frivolous or extravagant. 3 suggesting sedateness or seriousness rather than exuberance or frivolity □ sober clothes □ sober colours. 4 plain; unembellished □ the sober truth. ▷ verb (sobered, sobering) tr & intr 1 (always sober down or sober someone down) to become, or make someone, quieter, less excited, etc. 2 (always sober up or sober someone up) to become, or make someone, free from the effects of alcohol. ● sobering adj causing someone to become serious or thoughtful □ a sobering thought. ● soberly adverb. ⌚ 14c: from Latin sobrius, from se- not + ebrius drunk.

sobriety /souˈbraɪətɪ, sə-/ ▷ noun 1 the state of being sober, especially not drunk. 2 the state of being serious, solemn and calm. ⌚ 15c: from Latin sobrietas, from sobrius SOBER.

sobriquet /ˈsoubrɪkeɪ/ and soubriquet /ˈsuːbrɪkeɪ/ ▷ noun, literary a nickname. ⌚ 17c: French, meaning 'a chuck under the chin'.

sob-story ▷ noun, colloq a story of personal misfortune, which may or may not be true, told in order to gain sympathy.

Soc ▷ abbreviation 1 Socialist. 2 Society.

soca /ˈsoukə/ ▷ noun a type of Caribbean calypso incorporating elements of American soul music. ⌚ 20c: from soul + calypso.

so-called ▷ adj known or presented as such with the implication that the term is wrongly or inappropriately used □ a panel of so-called experts.

soccer see under FOOTBALL.

sociable /ˈsouʃəbəl/ ▷ adj 1 fond of the company of others; friendly. 2 characterized by friendliness □ a sociable meeting. ● sociability or sociableness noun. ● sociably adverb. ⌚ 16c: from Latin sociabilis, from SOCIAL.

social /ˈsouʃəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or for people or society as a whole □ social policies. 2 relating to the organization and behaviour of people in societies or communities □ social studies. 3 tending or needing to live with others; not solitary □ social creatures. 4 intended for or promoting friendly gatherings of people □ a social club. 5 convivial; jovial. ▷ noun 1 a social gathering, especially one organized by a club or other group. 2 (the social) colloq social security. ● socially adverb. ● socialness noun. ⌚ 16c: from Latin sociare to unite, from socius companion.

social action ▷ noun, politics action taken by an organized group or movement to achieve some reform or to promote a particular cause, outside the normal or formal channels of a government or political system, and aimed at gaining support from the wider public.

social anthropology ▷ noun the study of living societies with a view to establishing, by comparison, the range of variation in culture, social organization, institutions, etc, and the reasons for these differences.

social behaviourism ▷ noun in social psychology: a school of thought which holds that all observable social action is in response to the hidden needs, desires and beliefs of the deeper 'self'.

Social Chapter ▷ noun a section of the Maastricht Treaty, adopted by EU member states apart from the UK, setting out the social policy of the EU, concerning matters such as employment policies, living and working conditions, health and safety, equal opportunities for women, etc.

social cleansing ▷ noun the killing or forced removal of those considered socially undesirable from a particular area.

social climber ▷ noun, often derog someone who seeks to gain higher social status, often by despicable methods.

social contract and social compact ▷ noun an agreement, according to the theories of eg Hobbes, Locke and Rousseau, between individuals within a society to work together for the benefit of all, often involving the sacrifice of some personal freedoms.

social democracy ▷ noun a branch of socialism which emerged in the late 19c, and which supports gradual social change through reform within a framework of democratic politics rather than by revolutionary means.

social democrat ▷ noun 1 a supporter of social democracy. 2 (Social Democrat) a member of a Social Democratic party. ● social democratic adj.

Social Democratic Party ▷ noun (abbreviation SDP) a UK political party formed in 1981 by four ex-Labour party members who then formed an electoral pact with the Liberals, and failing to break the two-party 'mould' of British politics merged with the Liberal Party in 1988, becoming the Social and Liberal Democrat Party, later the Liberal Democrats.

social engineering ▷ noun the application of theories and hypotheses of a social science to solve problems in society. ● social engineer noun.

social insurance ▷ noun state insurance by compulsory contributions against sickness, unemployment and old age.

socialism /ˈsoʊʃəlɪzəm/ ▷ noun a political doctrine or system which aims to create a classless society by removing the nation's wealth (land, industries, transport systems, etc) out of private and into public hands. Ⓒ 1830s.

socialist /ˈsoʊʃəlɪst/ ▷ noun a supporter of socialism. ▷ adj relating to or characteristic of socialism. ● socialistic adj. ● socialistically adverb.

Socialist Realism ▷ noun the official form of art and literature in the former Soviet Union, and other Communist countries, distinct from SOCIAL REALISM, presenting an optimistic picture of the lives of the working people.

socialite /ˈsoʊʃəlaɪt/ ▷ noun someone who mixes with people of high social status.

sociality /soʊʃɪˈalɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (socialities) 1 the fact or quality of being social. 2 social relations, association or intercourse. 3 the inclination of people to engage in this.

socialization or socialisation /soʊʃəlaɪˈzeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act or process of socializing. 2 the process by which infants and young children become aware of society and their relationships with others.

socialize or socialise /ˈsoʊʃəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (socialized, socializing) 1 intr to meet with people on an informal, friendly basis. 2 intr to mingle or circulate among guests at a party; to behave sociably. 3 to organize into societies or communities. 4 to make someone or something social.

social mobility ▷ noun the way individuals or groups move upwards or downwards from one status or class position to another within the social hierarchy.

social phobia ▷ noun, psychol an abnormal fear of interacting with other people, eg at meetings or social gatherings, or performing everyday activities in public, eg eating in a restaurant. ● social phobic noun.

social realism ▷ noun, art a form of art, especially before 1950, distinct from SOCIALIST REALISM, which presents a realistic picture of social and political conditions.

social sciences ▷ plural noun the subjects that deal with the organization and behaviour of people in societies and communities, including sociology, anthropology, economics and history.

social secretary ▷ noun someone responsible for organizing the social activities of a person, club, society, association, etc.

social security ▷ noun 1 a system by which members of a society pay money into a common fund, from which payments are made to individuals in times of unemployment, illness and old age. 2 a payment or scheme of payments from such a fund.

social services ▷ noun 1 services provided by local or national government for the general welfare of people in society, eg housing, education and health. 2 the public bodies providing these services.

social work ▷ noun work in any of the services provided by local government for the care of underprivileged people, eg the poor, the aged, people with disabilities, etc. ● social worker noun.

society /səˈsaɪətɪ/ ▷ noun (societies) 1 humankind as a whole, or a part of it such as one nation, considered as a single community. 2 a division of humankind with common characteristics, eg of nationality, race or religion. 3 an organized group or association, meeting to share a common interest or activity ◻ I'm a member of the gliding society. 4 a the rich and fashionable section of the upper class; b the social scene of this class section; c as adj ◻ a society wedding. 5 formal company ◻ He prefers the society of women. 6 ecol a small plant community within a larger group. Ⓒ 16c: from French societe, from Latin societas from socius companion.

Society of Friends see THE RELIGIOUS SOCIETY OF FRIENDS socio- /ˈsoʊsɪoʊ, ˈsoʊʃɪoʊ/ ▷ combining form, signifying social, or referring or relating to society or sociology.

sociobiology ▷ noun, psychol the integrated study of the biological basis of social behaviour, based on the assumption that all behaviour is adaptive.

socioeconomic ▷ adj referring or relating to social and economic aspects of something together.

sociolinguistics ▷ singular noun the study of the relationships between language and the society which uses it.

sociology /soʊsɪˈɒlədʒɪ, soʊʃɪ-/ ▷ noun the scientific study of the nature, structure and workings of human society. ● sociological adj 1 relating to or involving sociology. 2 dealing or concerned with social questions and problems of human society. ● sociologist noun an expert in sociology. Ⓒ 1840s: from Latin socius companion + -LOGY.

sociometry /soʊsɪˈɒmətrɪ, soʊʃɪ-/ ▷ noun the study of interrelationships within social groups. ● sociometric adj.

sociopathy /soʊsɪˈɒpəθɪ, ˈsoʊʃɪ-/ ▷ noun any of various personality disorders characterized by asocial or antisocial behaviour. ● sociopath noun. ● sociopathic adj.

sock[1] ▷ noun 1 a fabric covering for the foot and ankle, sometimes reaching to or over the knee, worn inside a shoe or boot. 2 an insole placed inside a shoe to improve its fit. ● pull one's socks up colloq to make an effort to do better. ● put a sock in it slang to become silent; to be quiet. Ⓒ Anglo-Saxon socc light shoe.

sock[2] ▷ slang, verb (socked, socking) to hit with a powerful blow. ▷ noun a powerful blow. ● sock it to someone slang to make a powerful impression on them. Ⓒ 17c.

socket /ˈsɒkɪt/ ▷ noun 1 a specially shaped hole or set of holes into which something is inserted or fitted ◻ an electrical socket ◻ a light socket. 2 a anatomy a hollow structure in the body into which another part fits b) as adj ◻ a ball-and-socket joint. 3 golf the section of the head of a club to which the shaft is attached. ▷ verb (socketed, socketing) 1 to provide with or place in a socket. 2 golf to strike with the socket. ● socketed adj. Ⓒ 14c: from French soket, a diminutive of soc.

sockeye ▷ noun the blueblack salmon which inhabits coastal waters from Japan to California. Ⓒ 19c: from American Indian suka the fish of fishes, the native name on the Fraser River.

socle /ˈsoʊkəl, ˈsɒkəl/ ▷ noun, archit a plain projecting block or plinth at the base of a wall, column or pier. Ⓒ 18c: French, from Italian zoccolo, from Latin socculus a diminutive of soccus a shoe.

Socratic /sɒˈkratɪk/ ▷ adj referring or relating to the Greek philosopher Socrates, his philosophy, or his method of teaching or inquiry which was by a series of questions and answers.

Socratic irony ▷ noun the method of discussing a subject by claiming ignorance of it, forcing those present to make propositions which may then be queried.

sod[1] ▷ noun 1 a slab of earth with grass growing on it; a turf. 2 poetic the ground. ▷ verb (sodded, sodding) to cover with sods. Ⓒ 15c: from German Sode.

sod[2] ▷ slang, noun 1 a term of abuse for a person. 2 a person in general ◻ lucky sod. ▷ verb used as an exclamation of annoyance or contempt ◻ Sod you! ● sod all slang nothing at all. Ⓒ 19c: a shortening of SODOMITE.

■ sod off slang (sodas) go away.

soda /ˈsoʊdə/ ▷ noun 1 a common name given to any of various compounds of sodium in everyday use, eg SODIUM CARBONATE or BICARBONATE OF SODA. 2 colloq SODA WATER. 3 N Amer, especially US a fizzy soft drink of any kind. ⓘ 16c: Latin.

soda ash ▷ noun, chem the common name for the commercial grade of anhydrous SODIUM CARBONATE.

soda bread ▷ noun bread in which the raising ingredient is baking soda rather than yeast.

soda fountain ▷ noun, N Amer, especially US 1 a counter in a shop from which fizzy drinks, ice-cream and snacks are served. 2 an apparatus for supplying soda water.

soda lime ▷ noun, chem a solid mixture of sodium or potassium hydroxide and calcium oxide, consisting of greyish-white granules that are used as a drying agent, and to absorb carbon dioxide gas.

sodality /soʊˈdalɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (sodalities) especially in the RC Church: a fellowship or fraternity. ⓘ 16c: from Latin sodalitas, from sodalis comrade.

soda siphon see SIPHON noun 2.

soda water ▷ noun water made fizzy by the addition of carbon dioxide, widely used as a mixer with alcoholic spirits.

sodden /ˈsɒdən/ ▷ adj 1 heavy with moisture; saturated; thoroughly soaked. 2 said eg of bread: doughy; not thoroughly baked. 3 made lifeless or sluggish, especially through excessive consumption of alcohol □ a drink-sodden brain. ⓘ 13c as soden past tense of sethen to SEETHE.

sodding ▷ adj, slang a general term of disparagement and annoyance □ I'm fed up with this sodding car.

sodium /ˈsoʊdɪəm/ ▷ noun, chem (symbol Na, atomic number 11) a soft silvery-white metallic element used in alloys, as a reducing agent in chemical reactions, as a coolant in nuclear reactors, and in non-glare lighting, eg in street lamps, and also widely used in the form of its compounds, especially sodium chloride, in the chemical industry. ⓘ Early 19c: from SODA.

sodium amytal see AMYTAL.

sodium bicarbonate ▷ noun, chem (formula $NaHCO_3$) BICARBONATE OF SODA.

sodium borate see BORAX.

sodium carbonate ▷ noun, chem (formula Na_2CO_3) a water-soluble white powder or crystalline solid, used as a water softener and food additive, in glass making, photography and in the manufacture of various sodium compounds. Also called soda. See also WASHING SODA, SODA ASH.

sodium chloride ▷ noun, chem (formula NaCl) a water-soluble white crystalline salt obtained from seawater and underground deposits of the mineral halite, used since ancient times for seasoning and preserving food, as a de-icing and water-softening agent and in the chemical industry. Also called COMMON SALT, ROCK SALT, SALT, TABLE SALT.

sodium hydroxide ▷ noun, chem (formula NaOH) a white crystalline solid that dissolves in water to form a highly corrosive alkaline solution, and is used in the manufacture of soap, detergents, pharmaceuticals, oven cleaners, rayon and paper, and in petroleum refining and the chemical industry. Also called caustic soda, SODA.

sodium lamp ▷ noun a street lamp using sodium vapour and giving a yellow light.

sodium nitrate ▷ noun, chem (formula $NaNO_3$) a water-soluble colourless crystalline solid that explodes at high temperatures, and is used in the manufacture of fireworks, matches, explosives, nitrate fertilizers and glass, and also as a food preservative, especially for cured meats.

Sodom /ˈsɒdəm/ ▷ noun a place of total depravity. ⓘ 17c: named after the city in the Old Testament of the Bible which was demolished due to its evil and depravity.

sodomite /ˈsɒdəmaɪt/ ▷ noun (sodomites) someone who engages in sodomy.

sodomize or sodomise /ˈsɒdəmaɪz/ ▷ verb (sodomized, sodomizing) to practise sodomy on someone.

sodomy /ˈsɒdəmɪ/ ▷ noun 1 a form of sexual intercourse in which someone inserts a penis or similar object into the anus of a man or woman; buggery. 2 sexual intercourse between a person and an animal. ⓘ 13c: from SODOM.

Sod's law ▷ noun, slang a facetious maxim stating that if something can go wrong it will, or that the most inconvenient thing that could happen is what is most likely to happen.

soever /soʊˈɛvə(r)/ ▷ adverb generally used to extend or make indefinite the sense of something □ in any way soever.

-soever /soʊˈɛvə(r)/ ▷ combining form, signifying an indefinite kind; to any extent □ whysoever □ howsoever.

sofa /ˈsoʊfə/ ▷ noun (sofas) an upholstered seat with a back and arms, for two or more people. ⓘ 17c: from Arabic suffah.

sofa bed ▷ noun a sofa designed to be converted into a bed as required.

soffit /ˈsɒfɪt/ ▷ noun, archit a term variously applied to the under surface of an arch, the underside of a stair, the underside of the top of a door or window opening, etc. ⓘ 17c: from Italian soffitto, ultimately from Latin suffigere to fasten beneath.

S. of S. ▷ abbreviation, Bible Song of Songs, or Song of Solomon.

soft ▷ adj 1 easily yielding or changing shape when pressed; pliable or malleable. 2 easily yielding to pressure. 3 easily cut. 4 said of fabric, etc: having a smooth surface or texture producing little or no friction. 5 pleasing or soothing to the senses; quiet □ a soft voice. 6 having little brightness; not glaring or harsh □ soft colours. 7 kind or sympathetic, especially excessively so. 8 not able to endure rough treatment or hardship. 9 lacking strength of character; easily influenced. 10 colloq weak in the mind; simple □ soft in the head. 11 used especially in Liverpool: stupid or naive; weak □ Don't be soft! 12 said of a person: out of training; in an unfit condition. 13 weakly sentimental. 14 mineralogy easily scratched. 15 said of water: low in or free from mineral salts and so lathering easily. 16 said of coal: bituminous. 17 tender; loving or affectionate □ soft words. 18 colloq requiring little effort; easy □ a soft job. 19 said of diet: consisting of semi-liquid and easily-digestible foods. 20 said of drugs: not severely addictive. 21 SOFT-CORE. 22 with moderate rather than hardline or extreme policies □ the soft left. 23 phonetics, non-technical said of the consonants c and g: pronounced as a fricative as in dance and age respectively, rather than as a stop, as in can and gun. Compare HARD adj. 24 finance a said of prices, markets, etc: inclined to drop in value; b said of currency: not in great demand, usually due to a weakness in the BALANCE OF PAYMENTS system. 25 said of radiation: having short wavelengths and therefore not highly penetrating. 26 in computer typesetting and word-processing: referring to a space, hyphen (see SOFT HYPHEN) or page break that can be automatically removed when its environment changes to make it redundant. ▷ adverb softly; gently □ speaks soft. ■ softly adverb. ■ softness noun. ■ be or go soft on someone colloq 1 to be lenient towards them. 2 to be infatuated with them. ■ soft spot see separate entry. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon softe.

softback ▷ noun a paperback. Also as adj □ softback edition.

softball ⊳ noun a game similar to baseball, played with a larger, softer ball which is pitched underarm, as opposed to overarm in baseball.

soft-boiled ⊳ adj 1 said of eggs: boiled for a short while only, leaving the yolk soft. 2 colloq said of a person: soft-hearted.

soft-centred ⊳ adj 1 said of sweets or chocolates: being soft in the middle. 2 said of a person: soft-hearted.

soft commodities ⊳ plural noun foodstuffs, coffee, cotton, etc as opposed to metals.

soft-core ⊳ adj said especially of pornography: graphic and blatant, but not explicit.

soft drink ⊳ noun a non-alcoholic drink.

soften /ˈsɒfən/ ⊳ verb (softened, softening) tr & intr 1 to make or become soft or softer. 2 to make or become less severe □ soften the blow. ● softener /ˈsɒfənə(r)/ noun a substance added to another to increase its softness, pliability, etc, such as fabric softener. ● softening noun.

■ soften someone up colloq to prepare them for an unwelcome or difficult request.

■ soften up to wear down by continuous shelling and bombing.

softening of the brain ⊳ noun 1 pathol a softening of the brain tissues, especially during old age. 2 colloq marked deterioration of the mental faculties.

soft focus ⊳ noun, photog, cinematog the deliberate slight blurring of a picture or scene.

soft fruit ⊳ noun, Brit small stoneless edible fruit, such as berries, currants, etc.

soft furnishings ⊳ plural noun rugs, curtains, cushion covers and other articles made of fabric.

soft goods ⊳ plural noun, Brit cloth or fabric, and articles made of cloth.

softhead ⊳ noun a simpleton. ● soft-headed adj.

soft-hearted ⊳ adj kind-hearted and generous; compassionate.

soft hyphen ⊳ noun in word-processing: a hyphen inserted in a word only if necessary for word division at the end of a line, but which would become redundant if the text were to be altered so that the whole word was on the same line.

soft iron ⊳ noun, chem a form of iron with a low carbon content that is unable to retain magnetism and is used to make the cores of electromagnets, motors, generators and transformers.

soft landing ⊳ noun 1 a landing by a spacecraft without uncomfortable or damaging impact. 2 the straightforward solution to a problem, especially an economic one.

soft lens ⊳ noun a flexible CONTACT LENS of a HYDROPHYLIC material that allows some oxygen to reach the cornea.

soft line ⊳ noun a flexible or lenient attitude, policy, etc.

soft loan ⊳ noun a cheap or interest-free loan, usually made to a developing country.

softly-softly ⊳ adj cautious or careful; delicate □ a softly-softly approach.

soft option ⊳ noun the easier or easiest of two or several alternative courses of action.

soft palate ⊳ noun, anatomy the fleshy muscular back part of the palate. Also called velum.

soft pedal ⊳ noun a pedal on a piano pressed to make the tone less lingering or ringing, especially by causing the hammer to strike only one string.

soft-pedal ⊳ verb 1 colloq to tone down, or avoid emphasizing or mentioning something □ The government were soft-pedalling the scheme's disadvantages. 2 music to play (the piano) using the soft pedal.

soft porn and soft pornography ⊳ noun, colloq SOFT-CORE pornography in which sexual acts are not shown or described explicitly.

soft science ⊳ noun any of the scientific disciplines in which rules or principles of evaluation are difficult to determine, such as social sciences. Compare HARD SCIENCE, PSEUDO-SCIENCE.

soft sell ⊳ noun the use of gentle persuasion as a selling technique, rather than heavy-handed pressure. ⊳ adj referring or relating to this kind of selling technique □ the soft-sell approach.

soft soap ⊳ noun 1 a semi-liquid soap made containing potash. 2 colloq flattery or blarney. ⊳ verb (soft-soap) colloq to speak flatteringly to someone, especially in order to persuade or deceive.

soft-spoken ⊳ adj 1 having a soft voice, and usually a mild manner. 2 suave or smooth-tongued; plausible in speech.

soft spot ⊳ noun 1 colloq a special liking or affection □ has a soft spot for tall men □ has a soft spot for chocolate ice cream. 2 an informal name for a FONTANELLE.

soft top ⊳ noun a convertible car with a fabric roof.

soft touch ⊳ noun, colloq someone easily taken advantage of or persuaded, especially into giving or lending money willingly.

software /ˈsɒftwɛə(r)/ ⊳ noun, computing the programs that are used in a computer system (eg operating systems, and applications programs such as word-processing or database programs), and the magnetic disks, tapes, etc, on which they are recorded. Compare HARDWARE, LIVEWARE.

soft water ⊳ noun, chem water that naturally contains very low levels of calcium and magnesium salts, or from which these salts have been removed artificially, so that it lathers easily with soap and does not cause scaling of kettles, boilers, etc.

softwood ⊳ noun 1 bot the wood of a coniferous tree, eg pine, including some woods that are in fact very hard and durable. 2 bot any tree which produces such wood. Compare HARDWOOD.

softy or softie /ˈsɒftɪ/ ⊳ noun (softies) colloq 1 someone who is easily upset. 2 a weakly sentimental, soft-hearted or silly person. 3 someone not able to endure rough treatment or hardship.

SOGAT ⊳ abbreviation in the UK: Society of Graphical and Allied Trades.

soggy /ˈsɒgɪ/ ⊳ adj (soggier, soggiest) 1 thoroughly soaked or wet; saturated. 2 said of ground: waterlogged; boggy. 3 colloq spiritless or dejected. ● soggily adverb. ● sogginess noun. ⓘ 16c: from dialect sog bog.

soh or so /soʊ/ or sol /sɒl/ ⊳ noun, music in sol-fa notation: the fifth note or dominant of a major or minor scale. ⓘ 14c: see SOL-FA.

soi-disant /swɑːdiːˈzɑ̃/ ⊳ adj self-styled; pretended or would-be. ⓘ 18c: French, meaning 'calling oneself'.

soigné and soignée /ˈswɑnjeɪ/ ⊳ adj said of a male or female respectively: well-groomed; smart. ⓘ Early 20c: French.

soil¹ ⊳ noun 1 the mixture of fragmented rock, plant and animal debris that lies on the surface of the Earth, above the bedrock, containing water and air, as well as living organisms such as bacteria, fungi and invertebrates. 2 literary country; land □ on foreign soil. ⓘ 14c: from French suel, from Latin solum ground.

soil² ⊳ verb (soiled, soiling) 1 to stain or make dirty. 2 to bring discredit on; to sully □ soiled reputation. ⊳ noun 1 a spot or stain. 2 dirt. 3 dung; sewage. ⓘ 13c: from French souil wallowing-place.

soil³ ▷ verb (soiled, soiling) to feed (cattle) on fresh-cut green food in order to purge or fatten them. ⓒ 17c: probably from SOIL².

soil horizon ▷ noun, geol a layer of soil that differs from adjacent layers in certain physical properties.

soil pipe ▷ noun an upright pipe which carries away waste water and sewage from a building into a sewer or drain.

soil profile ▷ noun a vertical section through the soil that needs a series of soil horizons extending from the surface to the bedrock from which the upper layers are derived.

soil science ▷ noun the scientific study of soil, its composition and its uses.

soirée or soiree /'swɑːreɪ/ ▷ noun 1 a formal party held in the evening. 2 an evening of entertainment of any kind. ⓒ 19c: French, meaning 'evening'.

soixante-neuf / French swasɑ̃tnœf/ and sixty-nine ▷ noun a sexual position in which both partners simultaneously orally stimulate each other's genitalia. ⓒ Early 20c: French, meaning 'sixty-nine', from the position adopted.

sojourn /'sɒdʒən, -ɜːn, 'sʌ-, 'soʊ-/ formal ▷ noun a short stay. ▷ verb (sojourned, sojourning) intr to stay for a short while. • sojourner noun. ⓒ 13c: from French sojorner, from Latin sub under + diurnus of a day, from dies day.

sol¹ see SOH.

sol² ▷ noun, chem a type of colloid that consists of small solid particles dispersed in a liquid.

sol. ▷ abbreviation solution.

solace /'sɒləs/ ▷ noun 1 comfort in time of disappointment or sorrow. 2 a source of comfort. ▷ verb (solaced, solacing) 1 to provide with such comfort. 2 to bring relief from something. 3 intr to take comfort. ⓒ 13c: from French solas, from Latin solari to comfort in distress.

solar /'soʊlə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 referring or relating to the Sun. 2 relating to, by or using energy from the Sun's rays □ solar-powered. 3 astron said of time: determined by the Sun □ solar year. 4 astron influenced by the Sun. 5 astrol said of character, temperament, etc: influenced by the Sun. ⓒ 15c: from Latin solaris, from sol sun.

solar battery ▷ noun, elec a battery consisting of a number of solar cells.

solar cell ▷ noun, elec an electric cell that converts solar energy directly into electricity, used in pocket calculators, light meters, etc, and also used in arrays, known as solar panels, to power satellites and spacecraft. Also called photovoltaic cell.

solar day see DAY sense 1a.

solar eclipse see under ECLIPSE.

solar energy ▷ noun energy radiated from the Sun, mainly in the form of heat and light, that is required for PHOTOSYNTHESIS, and is also harnessed as a renewable energy source, eg in solar heating systems.

solar flare ▷ noun, astron a sudden release of energy in the vicinity of an active region on the Sun's surface, generally associated with a sunspot. Sometimes shortened to flare.

solarium /sə'lɛərɪəm/ ▷ noun (solariums or solaria /-rɪə/) 1 a room or establishment equipped with sunbeds. 2 a sunbed. 3 a conservatory or other room designed to allow exposure to sunlight. ⓒ 19c: Latin, meaning 'sundial', from sol sun.

solar month ▷ noun one-twelfth of a SOLAR YEAR.

solar panel see under SOLAR CELL.

solar plexus ▷ noun, anatomy an area in the abdomen in which there is a concentration of nerves radiating from a central point.

solar system ▷ noun, astron the Sun and the system of nine major planets (Mercury, Venus, Earth, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto), together with their natural satellites, and the asteroids (minor planets), comets and meteors that revolve around it, held in their orbits by the Sun's gravitational pull.

solar wind ▷ noun, astron a stream of charged particles that flows outward from the Sun in all directions at speeds of over one million kph, passing the Earth and the other planets as it moves through the solar system.

solar year ▷ noun, astron the time taken for the Earth to complete one revolution around the Sun, ie 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes and 46 seconds. Also called astronomical year, equinoctial year.

solatium /soʊ'leɪʃɪəm/ ▷ noun (solatia /-ʃɪə/) formal compensation for disappointment, inconvenience and disappointment. ⓒ 19c: Latin.

sold past tense, past participle of SELL.

solder /'soʊldə(r), 'sɒldə(r)/ ▷ noun, engineering any of several alloys with a low melting point, often containing tin and lead, applied when molten to the joint between two metals to form an airtight seal. ▷ verb (soldered, soldering) to join (two pieces of metal) without melting them, by applying a layer of molten alloy to the joint between them and allowing it to cool and solidify. • solderer noun. • soldering noun. ⓒ 14c: from French soudre, from Latin solidare to strengthen.

soldering-iron ▷ noun a tool with a probe-like part, usually electrically heated, used to melt and apply solder.

soldier /'soʊldʒə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a member of a fighting force, especially a national army. 2 a member of an army below officer rank. 3 someone of military skill. 4 a diligent worker for a cause. 5 an ant or white ant with strong jaws specially adapted for fighting. 6 any of various kinds of scarlet pugnacious or armoured animals, eg beetle, fish, etc. 7 colloq (soldiers) narrow strips of bread-and-butter or toast, especially for dipping into a soft-boiled egg. 8 building a brick laid upright in a wall. ▷ verb (soldiered, soldiering) intr to serve as a soldier. • soldierly adverb. ⓒ 13c: from French soudier, from soude pay, from Latin solidus a piece of money, the pay of a soldier.

■ soldier on to continue determinedly in spite of difficulty and discouragement.

soldier of fortune ▷ noun someone willing to serve in any army that pays them; a mercenary.

sole¹ ▷ noun 1 the underside of the foot. 2 the underside of a shoe or boot, especially the part not including the heel. 3 the underside of a golf club head. 4 the flattish underside of various things. ▷ verb (soled, soling) to fit (a shoe or boot) with a sole. ⓒ 14c: French, from Latin solea sandal.

sole² ▷ noun (sole or soles) a flatfish with a slender brown body and both eyes on the left side of the head, found in shallow tropical and temperate waters, and highly prized as a food fish. ⓒ 14c: from Latin solea.

sole³ ▷ adj 1 alone; only. 2 exclusive □ has sole rights to the story. 3 law without a husband or wife. 4 archaic without another. ⓒ 14c: from Latin solus alone.

solecism /'sɒlɪsɪzəm/ ▷ noun 1 a mistake in the use of language; a breach of syntax, grammar, etc. 2 any absurdity, impropriety or incongruity. 3 an instance of bad or incorrect behaviour. • solecistic or solecistical adj. • solecistically adverb. ⓒ 16c: from Greek soloikismos, said to originate from the corruption of the Attic dialect among the Athenian colonists (oikizein to colonize) of Soloi in Cilicia.

solely /'soʊlli/ ▷ adverb 1 alone; without others □ solely to blame. 2 only; excluding all else □ done solely for profit.

solemn /'sɒləm/ ▷ adj 1 done, made or carried out in earnest and seriousness □ a solemn vow. 2 being of a very serious and formal nature; suggesting seriousness ▫ a solemn occasion. 3 accompanied by an appeal to God, especially as an oath. 4 accompanied or marked by special (especially religious) ceremonies, pomp or gravity. 5 awe-inspiring. 6 glum or sombre in appearance. • solemnly adverb. • solemnness noun. ⓘ 14c: from French solempne from Latin sollemnis annual, customary or appointed.

solemnity /sə'lemnɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (solemnities) 1 the state of being solemn. 2 a solemn statement, sentiment, etc. 3 a solemn ceremony. ⓘ 13c: as solempnete, from Latin sollemnitas; see SOLEMN.

solemnize or solemnise /'sɒləmnaɪz/ ▷ verb (solemnized, solemnizing) 1 to celebrate (a religious event) with rites. 2 to perform (especially a marriage) with a formal or religious ceremony. 3 to make something solemn. • solemnization noun. ⓘ 14c: as solempnise, from Latin sollemnis; see SOLEMN.

solenoid /'soʊlənɔɪd, 'sɒl-/ ▷ noun, physics a cylindrical coil of wire that produces a magnetic field when an electric current is passed through it, and often contains a movable iron or steel core that can be used to operate a switch, relay, circuit breaker, etc. • solenoidal adj. ⓘ 19c: from Greek solen tube + -OID.

sol-fa /'sɒlfɑː/ ▷ noun a system of musical notation, either written down or sung, in which the notes of a scale are represented by the syllables doh, re, mi, fah, soh, la, ti. These names are mainly derived from the first syllables of words in a medieval Latin hymn. ▷ verb (sol-fas, sol-faed, sol-faing) tr & intr to sing to sol-fa syllables. Also called tonic sol-fa. ⓘ 16c: from sol, a form of SOH, + FAH.

solfatara /sɒlfə'tɑːrə/ ▷ noun (solfataras) a volcanic vent emitting only gases, especially one emitting acid gases, such as hydrochloric acid and sulphur dioxide, and water vapour. ⓘ 18c: named after Solfatara, a volcano near Naples, from Italian solfo sulphur.

solfeggio /sɒl'fedʒɪoʊ/ ▷ noun (solfeggi /sɒl'fedʒiː/ or solfeggios) music an exercise in sol-fa syllables. ⓘ 18c: Italian.

solicit /sə'lɪsɪt/ ▷ verb (solicited, soliciting) 1 formal to ask for something, or for something from someone ▫ solicit aid from other countries ▫ solicited me for advice. 2 intr said of a prostitute: to approach people with open offers of sex for money. 3 to invite or lure someone into illegal or immoral acts. 4 intr said of beggars: to importune or harass for money. 5 formal to require or call for someone or something. • soliciting noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin solicitare, from sollus whole + citus aroused.

solicitation /səlɪsɪ'teɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 an act of soliciting. 2 an earnest request. 3 an invitation.

solicitor /sə'lɪsɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 in Britain: a lawyer who prepares legal documents, gives legal advice and, in the lower courts only, speaks on behalf of clients. 2 someone who solicits. 3 in N Amer: someone who canvasses. 4 in N Amer: someone responsible for legal matters in a town or city.

solicitor-advocate ▷ noun, Scots law a solicitor with the right to represent clients in the High Court or Court of Session.

Solicitor-General ▷ noun (Solicitors-General) 1 in England: the law-officer of the crown next in rank to the Attorney-General. 2 in Scotland: the law-officer of the crown next in rank to the Lord-Advocate.

solicitous /sə'lɪsɪtəs/ ▷ adj 1 (solicitous about or for someone or something) anxious or concerned about them. 2 (solicitous to do something) willing or eager to do it. • solicitously adverb. • solicitousness noun.

solicitude /sə'lɪsɪtʃuːd/ ▷ noun 1 anxiety or uneasiness of mind. 2 the state of being solicitous.

solid /'sɒlɪd/ ▷ adj 1 in a form other than LIQUID or GAS, and resisting changes in shape due to firmly cohering particles. 2 having the same nature or material throughout; uniform or pure ▫ a solid oak table. 3 not hollow; full of material ▫ a solid chocolate egg. 4 firmly constructed or attached; not easily breaking or loosening. 5 (often solid for something) unanimously in favour. 6 geom having or pertaining to three dimensions. 7 difficult to undermine or destroy; sound ▫ solid support for the scheme. 8 substantial; ample ▫ a solid meal. 9 without breaks; continuous ▫ We waited for four solid hours. 10 competent, rather than outstanding ▫ a solid piece of work. 11 said of a character: reliable; sensible. 12 said of a character: weighty; worthy of credit ▫ He has a solid presence. 13 financially secure; wealthy. ▷ noun 1 a solid substance or body. 2 chem a state of matter with a definite shape and in which the constituent molecules or ions can only vibrate about fixed positions, and are unable to move freely. 3 geom a three-dimensional geometric figure. 4 (solids) non-liquid food. 5 (solids) particles of solid matter in a liquid. • solidity /sə'lɪdɪtɪ/ noun. • solidly adverb. ⓘ 14c: from Latin solidus.

solid angle ▷ noun, geom a three-dimensional cone-shaped angle representing the region subtended at a point by a SURFACE (noun 4), as opposed to a line in the case of a PLANE ANGLE.

solidarity /sɒlɪ'darɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (solidarities) mutual support and unity of interests, aims and actions among members of a group.

solidify /sə'lɪdɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (solidifies, solidified, solidifying) tr & intr to make or become solid. • solidification noun.

solid-state ▷ adj 1 electronics denoting an electronic device or component, eg a semiconductor or transistor, that functions by the movement of electrons through solids, and contains no heated filaments or vacuums. 2 physics concerned with the study of matter in the solid state, especially the electrical properties of semiconductors at the atomic level.

solidus /'sɒlɪdəs/ ▷ noun (solidi /'sɒlɪdaɪ/) 1 a printed line sloping from right to left, eg separating alternatives, as in and/or; a stroke or slash mark. 2 historical a Roman gold coin. 3 historical a medieval silver coin. ⓘ 14c: from Latin solidus (nummus) a solid (coin).

soliloquize or soliloquise /sə'lɪləkwaɪz/ ▷ verb (soliloquized, soliloquizing) intr to speak a soliloquy. • soliloquizer noun. • soliloquist noun.

soliloquy /sə'lɪləkwɪ/ ▷ noun (soliloquies) 1 an act of talking to oneself, especially a speech in a play, etc in which a character reveals thoughts or intentions to the audience by talking aloud. 2 the use of such speeches as a device in drama. ⓘ 17c: from Latin solus alone + loqui to speak.

solipsism /'sɒlɪpsɪzəm/ ▷ noun, philos the theory that one's own existence is the only certainty. • solipsist noun, adj. • solipsistic adj. ⓘ 19c: from Latin solus alone + ipse self.

solitaire /sɒlɪ'tɛə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 any of several games for one player only, especially one whose object is to eliminate pegs or marbles from a board and leave only one. 2 a single gem in a setting on its own. 3 N Amer, especially US the card game PATIENCE. 4 a gigantic flightless bird related to the dodo, extinct since the 18th century. 5 an American or West Indian fly-catching thrush. ⓘ 14c: French.

solitary /'sɒlɪtərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 single; lone. 2 preferring to be alone; not social. 3 without companions; lonely. 4 remote; secluded. 5 bot growing single. 6 said of insects: not living in groups or colonies. ▷ noun (solitaries) 1 someone who lives alone, especially a hermit. 2 colloq solitary confinement. • solitarily adverb. • solitariness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin solitarius, from solus alone.

solitary confinement ▷ noun imprisonment in a cell by oneself.

solitude /'sɒlɪtʃuːd/ ▷ noun the state of being alone or secluded, especially pleasantly. ⓘ 14c: from Latin solitudo, from solus alone.

solmization or solmisation /sɒlmɪˈzeɪʃən/ ▷ noun in musical reference and training: a system in which syllables are used to designate the notes of a hexachord. ⓘ 18c: French, related to the terms SOL¹ + MI.

solo /ˈsoʊloʊ/ ▷ noun (solos or soli /ˈsoʊliː/) 1 a piece of music, or a passage within it, for a single voice or instrument, with or without accompaniment. 2 any performance in which no other person or instrument participates. 3 a flight in which the pilot flies alone. 4 (in full solo whist) a card game based on WHIST, in which various declarations are made and the declarer does not have a partner. ▷ adj performed alone, without assistance or accompaniment. ▷ adverb alone □ fly solo. ▷ verb (soloed, soloing) intr 1 to fly solo. 2 to play a solo. ⓘ 17c: Italian, from Latin solus alone.

soloist /ˈsoʊloʊɪst/ ▷ noun someone who performs a solo or solos.

Solomon's seal ▷ noun a perennial plant with arching stems, oval leaves and white bell-shaped flowers that hang in clusters beneath the stem.

so long or so-long ▷ exclamation, colloq goodbye; farewell.

solo whist see under SOLO solstice /ˈsɒlstɪs/ ▷ noun either of the times when the Sun is furthest from the equator: the longest day (summer solstice) around June 21 in the N hemisphere and the shortest day (winter solstice) around December 21 in the N hemisphere. • solstitial /sɒlˈstɪʃəl/ adj referring to or occurring at a solstice. ⓘ 13c: from Latin solstitium the standing still of the sun, from sol sun + sistere, statum to cause to stand.

soluble /ˈsɒljʊbəl/ ▷ adj 1 denoting a substance (a SOLUTE) that is capable of being dissolved in a liquid (a SOLVENT). 2 capable of being solved or resolved. • solubility noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin solubilis.

solute /ˈsɒljuːt, səˈljuːt/ ▷ noun, chem any substance that is dissolved in a solvent, eg water to form a solution. ⓘ 16c: from Latin solutus, from solvere, solutum to loosen.

solution /səˈluːʃən, səˈljuːʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the process of finding an answer to a problem or puzzle. 2 the answer sought or found. 3 chem a homogeneous mixture consisting of a solid or gas (the SOLUTE) and the liquid (the SOLVENT) in which it is completely dissolved. 4 the act of dissolving or the state of being dissolved □ in solution. 5 the act of separating, or the separation of parts. 6 math in a mathematical equation: the value that one or more of the variables must have for that equation to be valid. ⓘ 14c: from Latin solutio.

solvation /sɒlˈveɪʃən/ ▷ noun, chem the interaction between the ions of a solute and the molecules of a solvent, which enables an ionic solid to dissolve in a solvent to form a solution, or to swell or form a gel in the presence of a solvent. ⓘ Early 20c: from SOLVE.

solve /sɒlv/ ▷ verb (solved, solving) 1 to discover the answer to (a puzzle) or a way out of (a problem). 2 to clear up or explain something. • solvable adj. • solver noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin solvere to loosen.

solvent /ˈsɒlvənt/ ▷ adj able to pay all one's debts. ▷ noun, chem 1 in a solution: the liquid in which a solid or gas (the SOLUTE) is dissolved, eg water and organic chemicals such as ethanol (alcohol), ether, and acetone. 2 a substance which may act in this way, eg for dissolving and removing an unwanted substance such as glue. • solvency noun the ability to pay one's debts.

solvent abuse ▷ noun inhalation of the fumes given off by various solvents, eg adhesives, petrol or butane gas in cigarette-lighter refills, in order to induce euphoria, a practice that damages the brain and lungs and can be fatal. Also called GLUE-SNIFFING.

Som ▷ abbreviation Somerset.

soma¹ /ˈsoʊmə/ ▷ noun (somas or somata /ˈsoʊmətə/) biol the body of a plant or animal, excluding its germ-cells. ⓘ 19c: Greek, meaning 'body'.

soma² or Soma /ˈsoʊmə/ ▷ noun 1 an intoxicating plant juice used in ancient Vedic ceremonies, personified as a god. 2 the plant yielding this juice. ⓘ 19c: Sanskrit.

somatic /soʊˈmatɪk/ ▷ adj, medicine, biol 1 referring or relating to the body, rather than the mind. 2 referring or relating to the body, as opposed to reproduction □ somatic cells. • somatically adverb. ⓘ 18c: from SOMA¹.

Somali /səˈmɑːlɪ/ ▷ noun (Somalis) 1 a group of Cushitic-speaking (see CUSHITIC LANGUAGES) peoples of Somalia and parts of Kenya, Ethiopia and Djibouti. 2 an individual belonging to this group of peoples.

somatogenic /soʊmətoʊˈdʒɛnɪk/ ▷ adj, biol originating in or developing from the body. ⓘ Early 20c.

somatotrophin /soʊmətoʊˈtroʊfɪn/ ▷ noun, physiol growth hormone. • somatotrophic adj. ⓘ 1940s.

somatotype /ˈsoʊmətoʊtaɪp/ ▷ noun a type consisting of a physical build paired with a particular temperament. ⓘ 1930s.

sombre /ˈsɒmbə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 sad and serious; grave. 2 dark and gloomy; melancholy. 3 said eg of colours: dark; drab. 4 suggesting seriousness, rather than light-heartedness. • sombrely adverb. • sombreness noun. ⓘ 18c: from French sombre, perhaps from Latin sub under + umbra shade.

sombrero /sɒmˈbrɛəroʊ/ ▷ noun (sombreros) a wide-brimmed straw or felt hat, especially popular in Mexico. ⓘ 16c: Spanish, from sombra shade.

some /sʌm/ ▷ adj 1 signifying an unknown or unspecified amount or number of something □ She owns some shares. 2 signifying a certain undetermined category □ Some films are better than others. 3 having an unknown or unspecified nature or identity □ some problem with the engine. 4 quite a lot of something □ We have been waiting for some time. 5 at least a little □ try to feel some enthusiasm. 6 colloq signifying a poor example of something □ Some friend you are! 7 colloq signifying an excellent or impressive example of something □ That was some shot! 8 colloq signifying a memorable or extraordinary example of something, not necessarily good or bad □ That was some evening! ▷ pronoun 1 certain unspecified things or people □ Some say he should resign. 2 an unspecified amount or number □ Give him some, too. ▷ adverb 1 to an unspecified extent □ play some more. 2 approximately □ some twenty feet deep. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sum.

-some¹ /sʌm/ ▷ suffix 1 forming adjectives, signifying a inclined to cause or produce □ troublesome; b inviting □ cuddlesome; c tending to do, be or express something □ quarrelsome. 2 forming nouns, signifying a group of the specified number of people or things □ a foursome. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon -sum.

-some² /soʊm/ ▷ suffix, forming nouns, signifying a body □ chromosome.

somebody ▷ pronoun 1 an unknown or unspecified person; someone. 2 someone of importance □ He always strove to be somebody.

someday ▷ adverb at an unknown or unspecified time in the future.

somehow ▷ adverb 1 in some way not yet known. 2 for a reason not easy to explain. 3 (also somehow or other) in any way necessary or possible □ I'll get there somehow or other.

someone ▷ pronoun somebody.

somersault or summersault /ˈsʌməsɔːlt, -sɒlt/ ▷ noun a leap or roll in which the whole body turns a complete circle forwards or backwards, leading with the head. ▷ verb (somersaulted, somersaulting) intr to perform such a leap or roll. ⓘ 16c: from French sombre saut, from Latin supra over + saltus leap.

something ▷ pronoun 1 a thing not known or not stated ▫ Take something to eat. 2 an amount or number not known or not stated ▫ something short of 1 000 people ▫ aged about 40 something. 3 a person or thing of importance ▫ make something of oneself. 4 a certain truth or value ▫ There is something in what you say. 5 colloq (also something else) an impressive person or thing ▫ That meal was really something! ▫ He really is something else! ▷ adverb to some degree; rather ▫ The garden looks something like a scrapyard. • something of a ... a ... to some extent ▫ She's something of a local celebrity. • something rotten, terrible, awful, etc to an extreme degree ▫ He teased me something rotten.

-something ▷ combining form (combining with twenty, thirty, forty, etc) 1 forming nouns a indicating an unspecified or unknown number greater than or in addition to the combining number, as in twentysomething; b an individual or a group of people of this age, as in he's a thirtysomething, ie between the ages of 30 and 39. 2 forming adjectives referring or belonging to such a person or group. ⓘ 1980s.

sometime ▷ adverb 1 at an unknown or unspecified time in the future or the past ▫ I'll finish it sometime. 2 archaic formerly. ▷ adj former; late ▫ the sometime king.

sometimes ▷ adverb occasionally; now and then.

somewhat ▷ adverb rather; a little ▫ He seemed somewhat unsettled. • somewhat of ... ... to some extent ▫ He is somewhat of a liar.

somewhere ▷ adverb in or to some place or degree, or at some point, not known or not specified.

somnambulate /sɒm'nambjʊleɪt/ ▷ verb (somnambulated, somnambulating) intr to walk in one's sleep. • somnambulant adj. ⓘ 19c.

somnambulism /sɒm'nambjʊlɪzəm/ ▷ noun sleepwalking. • somnambulist noun. ⓘ 18c: from Latin somnus sleep + ambulare to walk.

somniferous /sɒm'nɪfərəs/ and somnific /sɒm'nɪfɪk/ ▷ adj causing sleep. ⓘ 17c: from Latin somnifer, from somnus sleep.

somnolent /'sɒmnələnt/ ▷ adj, formal sleepy or drowsy; causing sleepiness or drowsiness. • somnolence or somnolency noun. • somnolently adverb. ⓘ 15c: as sompnolence, from Latin somnolentia, from somnus sleep.

son[1] /sʌn/ ▷ noun 1 a male child or offspring. 2 a descendant, or one so regarded or treated. 3 a male person closely associated with, or seen as developing from, a particular activity or set of circumstances ▫ a son of the Russian revolution. 4 a familiar and sometimes patronizing term of address used to a boy or man. 5 (the Son) Christianity the second person of the Trinity, Jesus Christ. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sunu.

son[2] /soʊn/ ▷ noun a style of Cuban music played with claves, bongo drums and guitar. ⓘ Spanish, meaning 'sound'.

sonant /'soʊnənt/ phonetics ▷ adj said of a sound: voiced; syllabic. ▷ noun a voiced or syllabic sound. • sonance noun. ⓘ 19c: from Latin sonans, -antis, present participle of sonare to sound.

sonar /'soʊnɑː(r)/ ▷ noun a system that is used to determine the location of underwater objects, eg submarines, shoals of fish, especially by transmitting ultrasound signals from the bottom of a ship and measuring the time taken for their echoes to return when they strike an obstacle. ⓘ 1940s: from sound navigation and ranging.

sonata /sə'nɑːtə/ ▷ noun (sonatas) a piece of classical music written in three or more movements for a solo instrument, especially the piano. ⓘ 17c: Italian, from past participle of sonare to sound.

sonata form ▷ noun, music the plan or form most often used since c.1750 in the design of the first movement (and occasionally the slow movement and finale) of a sonata or symphony, divided into three basic sections: EXPOSITION, DEVELOPMENT and RECAPITULATION.

sonatina /sɒnə'tiːnə/ ▷ noun (sonatinas) a short sonata, usually one which is technically straightforward. ⓘ 18c: Italian, a diminutive of SONATA.

sonde /sɒnd/ ▷ noun one of various devices for obtaining information about atmospheric and weather conditions at high altitudes. ⓘ 1920s: French, meaning 'plumb line'.

son et lumière /sɒn eɪ 'luːmɪeə(r), luːmɪ'eə(r)/ ▷ noun a dramatic night-time outdoor spectacle with lights, music and narration on a particular theme, often staged at and presenting the history of a famous building. ⓘ 1960s: French, meaning 'sound and light'.

song ▷ noun 1 a set of words, short poem, etc to be sung, usually with accompanying music. 2 the music to which these words are set. 3 an instrumental composition of a similar form and character. 4 singing ▫ poetry and song. 5 a poem, or poetry in general. 6 the musical call of certain birds. 7 a habitual utterance, manner or attitude towards anything. • going for a song colloq at a bargain price. • make a song and dance about something colloq to make an unnecessary fuss about it. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sang.

songbird ▷ noun in the classification of the animal kingdom: any of a suborder of perching birds, most of which have a musical call, eg larks, thrushes, tits, etc.

songbook ▷ noun a book containing songs together with their music.

song cycle ▷ noun a set of songs connected by some common theme, often to words by a single poet.

songsmith ▷ noun a composer of songs.

songster /'sɒŋstə(r)/ ▷ noun, old use a talented male singer.

songstress /'sɒŋstrəs/ ▷ noun, old use a talented female singer.

song thrush ▷ noun a common thrush, native to Europe and W Asia, smaller than the mistle-thrush, and with a more lightly spotted breast, named because of its very distinctive song.

songwriter ▷ noun someone who composes music and sometimes also the words for, especially popular, songs.

sonic /'sɒnɪk/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or using sound or sound waves. 2 travelling at approximately the speed of sound. ⓘ 1920s: from Latin sonus.

sonic barrier ▷ noun the technical term for SOUND BARRIER.

sonic boom and sonic bang ▷ noun a loud boom that is heard when an aircraft flying through the Earth's atmosphere reaches supersonic speed, ie when it passes through the sound barrier.

sonics /'sɒnɪks/ ▷ singular noun the study of the technological application of sounds, especially supersonic waves.

son-in-law ▷ noun (sons-in-law) the husband of one's daughter.

sonnet /'sɒnɪt/ ▷ noun a short poem with 14 lines of 10 or 11 syllables each and a regular rhyming pattern according to the scheme: the Italian sonnet consists of an OCTAVE and a SESTET, whereas the English sonnet consists of three QUATRAINs and ends with a rhyming COUPLET. ⓘ 16c: from Italian sonetto, a diminutive of suono, from Latin sonus sound.

sonny /'sʌnɪ/ ▷ noun (sonnies) a familiar and often condescending term of address used to a boy or man.

sonobuoy /'soʊnoʊbɔɪ, 'sɒnoʊbɔɪ/ ▷ noun sonar equipment dropped to float on the sea, pick up underwater noise, eg from a submarine, and transmit bearings of the source to aircraft. ⓘ 1940s.

son of a bitch or sonofabitch ▷ noun (sons of bitches) especially US slang 1 an abusive term of address. 2 a vulgar exclamation.

son of a gun ▷ noun (sons of guns) slang 1 a rogue or rascal. 2 an affectionate greeting.

sonogram /ˈsoʊnəgram, ˈsɒnə-/ ▷ noun 1 ▷ acoustics a visual representation of a sound, produced by a SONOGRAPH. 2 medicine a sonogram produced by ultrasonography. ⓘ 1950s.

sonograph /ˈsoʊnəgrɑːf, ˈsɒnəgrɑːf/ ▷ noun a device for scanning and recording sound and its component frequencies. ⓘ 1950s.

sonorant /ˈsɒnərənt/ ▷ noun, phonetics 1 a frictionless consonant or nasal (l, r, m, n, ng) capable of fulfilling a consonantal or vocalic function. 2 either of the consonants w and y, which have consonantal or vocalic functions. ⓘ Early 20c: from Latin sonorus, from sonus sonoris, from sonare to sound.

sonorous /ˈsɒnərəs, səˈnɔːrəs/ ▷ adj 1 sounding impressively loud and deep. 2 giving out a deep clear ring or sound when struck □ a sonorous bell. 3 said of language: impressively eloquent. • sonority /səˈnɒrɪtɪ/ and sonorousness noun. • sonorously adverb. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sonare to sound.

sook /sʊk/ ▷ noun 1 especially Austral colloq a soft, timid or cowardly person. 2 Brit dialect someone who sucks up in a fawning or grovelling manner; a toady. ⓘ 19c: perhaps from earlier suck(-calf) a hand-reared calf, influenced by the Scots pronunciation of SUCK.

soon /suːn/ ▷ adverb (sooner, soonest) 1 in a short time from now or from a stated time. 2 quickly; with little delay. 3 readily or willingly. • as soon as … at or not before the moment when … □ will pay you as soon as I receive the goods. • as soon … as … used to state that the first alternative is slightly preferable to the second □ He'd just as soon die as apologize to her. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sona.

sooner /ˈsuːnə(r)/ ▷ adverb 1 earlier than previously thought. 2 preferably □ I'd sooner die than go back there. • no sooner … than … immediately after … then … □ No sooner had I mentioned his name than he appeared. • no sooner said than done said of a request, promise, etc: immediately fulfilled. • sooner or later eventually.

soot /sʊt/ ▷ noun a black powdery substance produced when coal or wood is imperfectly burned; smut. ▷ verb (sooted, sooting) to cover, smear or dirty with soot. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sot.

soothe /suːð/ ▷ verb (soothed, soothing) 1 to bring relief from (a pain, etc); to allay. 2 to comfort, calm or compose someone. 3 intr to have a calming, tranquillizing or relieving effect. • soothing noun, adj. • soothingly adverb. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon gesothian to confirm as true.

soother /ˈsuːðə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person or thing that soothes. 2 a baby's dummy teat.

soothsayer /ˈsuːθseɪə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who predicts the future; a seer or diviner. • soothsay verb to foretell or divine. ⓘ 14c: from archaic sooth truth + SAY.

sooty /ˈsʊtɪ/ ▷ adj (sootier, sootiest) 1 covered with soot. 2 like or consisting of soot. • sootily adverb. • sootiness noun.

SOP ▷ abbreviation standard operating procedure.

sop ▷ noun 1 (often sops) a piece of food, especially bread, dipped or soaked in a liquid, eg soup. 2 something given or done as a bribe or in order to pacify someone. ⓘ from the Aeneid, in which the Sibyl gave drugged sop to Cerberus in order to gain passage for Aeneas to Hades. 3 a feeble or spineless person. ▷ verb (sopped, sopping) tr & intr to soak or become soaked. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sopp.

• sop something up to mop or soak it up.

sophism /ˈsɒfɪzəm/ ▷ noun a convincing but false argument or explanation, especially one intended to deceive. ⓘ 14c: from Greek sophisma clever device, from sophia wisdom.

sophist /ˈsɒfɪst/ ▷ noun 1 someone who argues with shrewd but intentionally fallacious reasoning. 2 in ancient Greece: one of a class of public teachers of rhetoric, philosophy, etc. ⓘ 16c: from Greek sophia wisdom.

sophistic /səˈfɪstɪk/ and sophistical ▷ adj 1 referring to or characteristic of a sophist or sophistry. 2 fallaciously subtle; specious. • sophistically adverb.

sophisticate ▷ verb /səˈfɪstɪkeɪt/ (sophisticated, sophisticating) 1 to make sophisticated. 2 to adulterate or falsify an argument; to make sophistic. 3 intr to practise sophistry. ▷ noun /səˈfɪstɪkət/ a sophisticated person. ⓘ 14c: from Latin sophisticare, sophisticatum to adulterate.

sophisticated /səˈfɪstɪkeɪtɪd/ ▷ adj 1 said of a person: having or displaying a broad knowledge and experience of the world and its culture. 2 appealing to or frequented by people with such knowledge and experience. 3 said of a person: accustomed to an elegant lifestyle. 4 said especially of machines: complex; equipped with the most up-to-date devices □ sophisticated weaponry. 5 subtle; falsified □ sophisticated arguments. • sophistication /səfɪstɪˈkeɪʃən/ noun.

sophistry /ˈsɒfɪstrɪ/ ▷ noun (sophistries) 1 plausibly deceptive or fallacious reasoning, or an instance of this. 2 the art of reasoning speciously.

sophomore /ˈsɒfəmɔː(r)/ ▷ noun (sophomores) N Amer, especially US a second-year student at a school or university. • sophomoric /sɒfəˈmɒrɪk/ adj. ⓘ 17c: from Greek sophos wise + moros foolish.

sopor /ˈsoʊpɔː(r)/ ▷ noun, pathol an unnaturally deep sleep.

soporific /sɒpəˈrɪfɪk/ ▷ adj 1 causing sleep or drowsiness. 2 extremely slow and boring □ a soporific speech. ▷ noun a sleep-inducing drug. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sopor deep sleep + facere to make.

sopping /ˈsɒpɪŋ/ ▷ adj ▷ adverb (also sopping wet) thoroughly wet; soaking.

soppy /ˈsɒpɪ/ ▷ adj (soppier, soppiest) 1 colloq weakly sentimental. 2 thoroughly wet. • soppily adverb. • soppiness noun. ⓘ 17c: from SOP.

sopranino /sɒprəˈniːnoʊ/ ▷ noun (sopraninos or sopranini /-niː/) an instrument with a pitch higher than the corresponding soprano. Also as adj. ⓘ Early 20c: Italian, a diminutive of SOPRANO.

soprano /səˈprɑːnoʊ/ ▷ noun (sopranos or soprani /-niː/) 1 a singing voice of the highest pitch for a woman or a boy. 2 a person having this voice pitch. 3 a musical part for such a voice. 4 a musical instrument high or highest in pitch in relation to others in its family. Also as adj. ⓘ 18c: Italian, from Latin supra above.

sorb ▷ noun 1 SERVICE-TREE. 2 (in full sorb-apple) the fruit of this tree.

sorbefacient /sɔːbəˈfeɪʃənt/ ▷ adj causing or promoting absorption. Also as noun. ⓘ 19c: from Latin sorbere to suck in + faciens, facientis, present participle of facere to make.

sorbet /ˈsɔːbeɪ, -bət/ ▷ noun a water ice. ⓘ 16c: French, from Italian sorbetto, from Arabic sharbah drink.

sorbic acid ▷ noun, chem an acid obtained from the rowan-berry, used as a food preservative.

sorbitol /ˈsɔːbɪtɒl/ ▷ noun, chem (formula $C_6H_8(OH)_6$) a water-soluble white crystalline carbohydrate, used as a food additive and sweetening agent, and in cosmetics, toothpastes, resins and pharmaceuticals, and also used by diabetics as a substitute for sugar.

sorcery /ˈsɔːsərɪ/ ▷ noun 1 the art or use of magic, especially black magic that is associated with the power of evil spirits, supernatural forces, etc. 2 an instance of this kind of magic. 3 the spells that are used in this kind of magic. ● sorcerer or sorceress noun. ● sorcerous adj. ⓘ 14c: from French sorcerie witchcraft.

sordid /ˈsɔːdɪd/ ▷ adj 1 repulsively filthy; squalid. 2 morally revolting or degraded; ignoble ▫ a sordid affair. ● sordidly adverb. ● sordidness noun. ⓘ 16c: from French sordide, from Latin sordidus, from sordere to be dirty.

sordino /sɔːˈdiːnoʊ/ ▷ noun (sordini /-niː/) music a mute on a musical instrument that is used to soften or deaden the sound. ● con sordino or con sordini an instruction to the player of a musical piece that the following section should be played using a mute. ● senza sordino or senza sordini an instruction to the player of a musical piece that the following section should be played without using a mute. ⓘ 16c: Italian, meaning 'mute', from Latin surdus deaf or noiseless.

sore ▷ adj 1 said of a wound, injury, part of the body, etc: painful or tender. 2 said of a blow, bite, sting, etc: painful or causing physical pain. 3 causing mental anguish, grief or annoyance ▫ a sore point. 4 N Amer, especially US angry or resentful ▫ got sore at the kids. 5 severe or urgent ▫ in sore need of attention. ▷ noun a diseased or injured spot or area, especially an ulcer or boil. ▷ adverb greatly ▫ be sore afraid. ● soreness noun. ● stick out like a sore thumb colloq to be awkwardly obvious or noticeable, especially by being different or out of place. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sar.

sorely ▷ adverb acutely; very much ▫ I'm sorely tempted to tell her.

sore point ▷ noun a subject that causes great anger, resentment, etc whenever it is raised.

sorghum /ˈsɔːgəm/ ▷ noun 1 any of several different varieties of grass, such as DURRA, that are related to the sugar cane and which are widely cultivated in Africa and parts of Asia as a cereal crop and a source of syrup. 2 chiefly US a type of molasses that is made from the syrup of one of these varieties of plant. ⓘ 16c: from Italian sorgo, from Latin surgum.

sori plural of SORUS soroptimist or Soroptimist /səˈrɒptɪmɪst/ ▷ noun someone who is a member of Soroptimist International, a society founded in 1921 for professional and business women. ⓘ 1920s: from Latin soror sister + OPTIMIST.

sororal /səˈrɔːrəl/ and sororial /səˈrɔːrɪəl/ ▷ adj characteristic, or relating or referring to a sister or sisters ▫ a sororal bond. ⓘ 17c: from Latin soror sister.

sororicide /səˈrɒrɪsaɪd/ ▷ noun 1 the act of killing one's sister. 2 someone who has killed their sister. ⓘ 17c: from Latin soror sister + -CIDE.

sorority /səˈrɒrɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (sororities) a women's club or society, especially one affiliated to a US university, college or church. Compare FRATERNITY. ⓘ 16c: from Latin soror sister.

sorosis /səˈroʊsɪs/ ▷ noun (soroses /-siːz/) bot a fleshy fruit, such as the pineapple or mulberry, that is formed from a large collection of flowers that grow in the shape of a spike around a pulpy stem. ⓘ 19c: from Greek soros a heap.

sorrel[1] /ˈsɒrəl/ ▷ noun 1 any of various low-growing perennial plants, many of which have spear-shaped leaves which give an acid taste. 2 the leaves of this plant, which are used in medicine and in cookery. ⓘ 15c: from French sorele, from sur sour.

sorrel[2] /ˈsɒrəl/ ▷ adj being reddish-brown or light chestnut in colour. ▷ noun 1 this colour. 2 a horse or other animal of this colour. ⓘ 15c: from French sorel, a diminutive of sor brown.

sorrow /ˈsɒroʊ/ ▷ noun 1 a feeling of grief or deep sadness, especially one that arises from loss or disappointment. 2 someone or something that is the cause of this. ▷ verb (sorrowed, sorrowing) intr to have or express such feeling. ● sorrower noun. ● sorrowful adj. ● sorrowfully adverb. ● sorrowfulness noun. ● sorrowing adj, noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sorg.

sorry /ˈsɒrɪ/ ▷ adj (sorrier, sorriest) 1 distressed or full of regret or shame, especially over something that one has done or said, something one feels responsible for, something that has happened, etc ▫ I'm sorry if I hurt you ▫ I'm sorry that you've had to wait. 2 (usually sorry for someone) full of pity or sympathy ▫ Everyone felt sorry for him when she left him. 3 pitifully bad ▫ in a sorry state. 4 contemptibly bad; worthless; extremely poor ▫ a sorry excuse. ▷ exclamation 1 given as an apology. 2 used when asking for something that has just been said to be repeated ▫ Sorry? What was that you said? ● sorrily adverb. ● sorriness noun. ● sorryish adj. ● be, feel, etc sorry for oneself to indulge in self-pity, especially in an excessive way. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sarig wounded, from sar sore.

sort ▷ noun 1 a kind, type or class. 2 colloq a person ▫ not a bad sort. ▷ verb (sorted, sorting) 1 to arrange into different groups according to some specified criterion. 2 colloq to fix something or put it back into working order ▫ tried to sort the car himself. 3 colloq to deal with something, especially violently as a punishment. ● sortable adj. ● sorter noun. ● sorting noun, adj. ● a sort of ... a thing like a ... ▫ a cafetière — you know, a sort of pot for making coffee. ● of a sort or of sorts of an inferior or untypical kind ▫ an author of a sort. ● nothing of the sort no such thing ▫ I did nothing of the sort. ● out of sorts colloq 1 slightly unwell. 2 peevish; bad-tempered. ● sort of colloq rather; in a way; to a certain extent ▫ feeling sort of embarrassed. ⓘ 13c: French, from Latin sors, sortis a lot, from sortiri to divide or obtain by lots.

■ sort someone out 1 colloq to deal with them firmly and decisively and sometimes violently. 2 to put them right ▫ A good night's sleep will soon sort you out.

■ sort something out 1 to separate things out from a mixed collection into a group or groups according to their kind. 2 to put things into order; to arrange them systematically or methodically ▫ sort out your priorities. 3 to resolve it.

sort

● Like kind, sort gives rise to a usage difficulty when it is followed by of with a plural noun and needs to be preceded by a demonstrative pronoun this, that, these, those. The grammatical sequences in use are as follows:

? These sort of things sometimes come as a surprise.

✓ I was beginning to think about university and that sort of thing.

✓ Those sorts of factors (or factor) will always apply.

● The first is sometimes rejected by language purists, but it is common, especially in speech.

☆ RECOMMENDATION: to avoid difficulty, use this sort of + singular noun, or these sorts of + singular or plural noun.

sortie /ˈsɔːtɪ/ ▷ noun (sorties) 1 a sudden attack by besieged troops. 2 an operational flight by a single military aircraft. 3 colloq a short return trip ▫ just going on a quick sortie to the shops. ▷ verb (sortied, sortieing) intr to make a sortie. ⓘ 17c: French, from sortir to go out.

sortilege /ˈsɔːtɪlɪdʒ/ ▷ noun the practice of predicting the future by drawing lots. ● sortileger noun. ● sortilegy noun. ⓘ 14c: French, from sortilegus a fortune teller.

sorus /ˈsɔːrəs/ ▷ noun (sori /ˈsɔːraɪ/) bot 1 a cluster of sporangia on the under side of some fern leaves. 2 a similar structure in certain algae, lichens and fungi. ⓘ 19c: from Greek soros heap.

SOS /ɛsoʊ'ɛs/ ▷ noun (SOSs) 1 an internationally recognized distress call that is put out by a ship's or aircraft's radio-telegraphy system and which consists of these three letters repeatedly transmitted in Morse code. 2 colloq any call for help. ⓘ Early 20c: in folk etymology, it is often popularly believed that this is an abbreviated form of Save Our Souls, but these three letters (represented by three dots, three dashes and three dots) were actually chosen because, in Morse code, they are the easiest to transmit and recognize.

so-so ▷ adj, colloq neither very good nor very bad; passable; middling. ▷ adverb in an indifferent or unremarkable way. ⓘ 16c.

sostenuto /sɒstə'nuːtoʊ, -'njuːtoʊ/ ▷ adverb in a steady and sustained manner. ▷ ▷ adj steady and sustained. ▷ noun (sostenutos) a piece of music to be played in this way. ⓘ 18c: Italian.

sot ▷ noun, old use someone who is drunk or who habitually drinks a lot of alcohol. • sottish adj. ⓘ 18c in this sense; 11c meaning 'a fool'.

soteriology /soʊtɪərɪ'ɒlədʒɪ/ ▷ noun, Christianity the theological doctrine of salvation. • soterial /soʊ'tɪərɪəl/ or soteriological adj. ⓘ 19c: from Greek soteria deliverance, from soter saviour + -LOGY.

sotto voce /'sɒtoʊ 'voʊtʃɪ, — 'voʊtʃeɪ/ ▷ adverb 1 in a quiet voice, so as not to be overheard. 2 music very softly. ⓘ 18c: Italian, meaning 'below the voice'.

sou /suː/ ▷ noun (sous) 1 formerly a French coin of low value, which was later used to designate the five-centime piece. 2 colloq the smallest amount of money ▫ haven't a sou. ⓘ Early 19c: French, from sol, from Latin solidus the name of a solid gold coin.

soubrette /suː'brɛt/ ▷ noun 1 a a minor female part in a play, opera, etc, especially the role of a pert, impudent, flirtatious or intriguing maid; b an actress who plays this kind of part. 2 someone who behaves in this kind of way. ⓘ 18c: French, meaning 'a lady's maid', from Provençal soubreto coy.

soubriquet see SOBRIQUET.

souchong /suː'ʃɒŋ, -'tʃɒŋ/ ▷ noun a type of fine black China tea. See also LAPSANG. ⓘ 18c: from Chinese xiao zhong small sort.

souffle /'suːfəl/ ▷ noun, medicine a soft murmuring noise that can be heard coming from various body organs, eg by using a stethoscope. ⓘ 19c: French, from souffler, from Latin sufflare, from SUB- + flare to blow.

soufflé /'suːfleɪ/ ▷ noun (soufflés) a light fluffy sweet or savoury dish that is made by gently combining egg yolks and other ingredients with stiffly beaten egg-whites, carefully putting the mixture into a cylindrical dish, leaving room at the top for it to expand, baking it in the oven and serving it immediately before the spectacular crown that has formed collapses. ⓘ Early 19c: French, from souffler, from Latin sufflare, from SUB- + flare to blow.

sough[1] /saʊ, sʌf; Scottish suːx/ ▷ noun a sighing, rustling or murmuring sound that is made by the wind blowing through trees, etc. ▷ verb (soughed, soughing) intr, usually said of the wind: to make this sound ▫ The wind soughed through the trees. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon swogan to move with a rushing sound.

sough[2] /sʌf/ ▷ noun a small gutter or drain that allows water, sewage, etc to run off. ⓘ 14c.

sought past tense, past participle of SEEK sought-after ▷ adj desired; in demand.

souk, suk, sukh or suq /suːk/ ▷ noun an open-air market or market-place in Muslim countries, especially in N Africa and the Middle East. ⓘ 19c: from Arabic suq market place.

soukous /'suːkuːs/ ▷ noun a central African style of dance music that originated in Zaire and which combines guitar, drumming and vocal melodies. ⓘ 20c.

soul /soʊl/ ▷ noun 1 a the spiritual, non-physical part of someone or something which is often regarded as the source of individuality, personality, morality, will, emotions and intellect, and which is widely believed to survive in some form after the death of the body; b this entity when thought of as having separated from the body after death, but which still retains its essence of individuality, etc. 2 emotional sensitivity; morality ▫ a singer with no soul ▫ cruelty committed by brutes with no soul. 3 the essential nature or an energizing or motivating force (of or behind something) ▫ Brevity is the soul of wit. 4 colloq a person or individual ▫ a kind soul. 5 (also soul music) a type of music that has its roots in Black urban rhythm and blues, and which has elements of jazz, gospel, pop, etc which tend to make it more mainstream than traditional blues. 6 as adj belonging, relating or referring to Black American culture ▫ soul food. • the life and soul of the party, etc see under LIFE. • the soul of something the perfect example of it; the personification of it ▫ She is the soul of discretion. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sawol.

soul brother ▷ noun 1 someone, especially a male, who shares a similar spirituality as someone else. 2 someone, especially a male, who shares the same racial roots as someone else. Now often shortened to brother or BRO[1].

soul-destroying ▷ adj 1 said of a job, task, etc: extremely dull, boring or repetitive ▫ found the work in the factory utterly soul-destroying. 2 said of an on-going situation: difficult to tolerate or accept emotionally ▫ found being unemployed after doing her degree completely soul-destroying.

soul food ▷ noun a style of cooking that originated with Black people in the Southern states of the US and which includes such things as chitterlings, corn bread, ham-bone soup, etc.

soulful ▷ adj having, expressing, etc deep feelings, especially of sadness. • soulfully adverb. • soulfulness noun.

soulless ▷ adj 1 having, showing, etc no emotional sensitivity, morality, etc. 2 said of a task, etc: lacking any need for human qualities; extremely monotonous or mechanical. 3 said of a place: bleak; lifeless. • soullessly adverb. • soullessness noun.

soul mate ▷ noun someone who shares the same feelings, thoughts, ideas, outlook, tastes, etc as someone else.

soul music ▷ noun see SOUL 5 soul-searching ▷ noun an act or instance or the process of critically examining one's own conscience, motives, actions, etc.

soul sister ▷ noun 1 a girl or woman who shares a similar spirituality as another. 2 a girl or woman who shares the same racial roots as another. Now often shortened to SISTER.

sound[1] ▷ noun 1 physics periodic vibrations that are propagated through a medium, eg air, as pressure waves, so that the medium is displaced from its equilibrium state. 2 the noise that is heard as a result of such periodic vibrations. 3 audible quality ▫ The guitar has a nice sound. 4 the mental impression created by something heard ▫ don't like the sound of that. 5 aural material, eg spoken commentary and music, accompanying a film or broadcast ▫ sound editor. 6 colloq volume or volume control, especially on a television set. 7 (also sounds) colloq music, especially pop music ▫ the sounds of the 60s. ▷ verb (sounded, sounding) 1 tr & intr to produce or cause to produce a sound ▫ The bugle sounded as the emperor approached. 2 intr to create an impression in the mind ▫ sounds like fun. 3 to pronounce ▫ doesn't sound his h's. 4 to announce or signal with a sound ▫ sound the alarm. 5 medicine to examine by tapping or listening. See also SOUND[3] verb 2. ⓘ 13c: from French soner, from Latin sonare, from sonus sound.

■ sound off colloq to state one's opinions, complaints, etc forcefully or angrily □ Harry's sounding off about animal rights again.

sound² ▷ adj 1 not damaged or injured; in good condition; healthy □ The kitten was found safe and sound. 2 a sensible; well-founded; reliable □ sound advice □ a sound investment*; b said of an argument, opinion, etc: well researched or thought through, logical and convincing. 3 acceptable or approved of. 4 severe, hard or thorough □ a sound spanking. 5 said of sleep: deep and undisturbed. ▷ adverb deeply □ sound asleep. ■ soundly adverb. ■ soundness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon gesund.

sound³ ▷ verb, tr & intr 1 to measure the depth of (especially the sea). 2 medicine to examine (a hollow organ, etc) with a probe. See also SOUND¹ verb 5. ▷ noun a probe for examining hollow organs. ⓘ 14c: from French sonder.

■ sound someone or something out to try to discover or to make a preliminary assessement of (opinions, intentions, etc).

sound⁴ ▷ noun 1 a narrow passage of water that connects two large bodies of water or that separates an island and the mainland; a strait. 2 the SWIM-BLADDER of certain fish, such as the cod or sturgeon. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sund.

sound barrier ▷ noun, non-technical the increase in drag that an aircraft experiences when it travels close to the speed of sound. See also SONIC BARRIER.

soundbite ▷ noun a short and succinct statement, especially one that has been deliberately extracted from a longer speech given by some public figure, and which is quoted on TV or radio or in the press because it can be used to epitomize a particular view, but which can often be misinterpreted because of the lack of contextualizing material.

sound-box ▷ noun the hollow body of a violin, guitar, etc.

soundcard ▷ noun, computing a printed circuit board that can be added to a computer to provide or enhance sound effects.

soundcheck ▷ noun the testing of sound equipment by playing a number of songs or parts of songs on stage before a concert to ensure that the balance of the sound from musicians, vocalists, etc is right in the auditorium. ▷ verb, intr to carry out a soundcheck □ We'll soundcheck at 6 o'clock.

sound effects ▷ plural noun artificially produced sounds that are used in film, broadcasting, theatre, etc, eg for authenticating the action, intensifying the suspense, etc.

sounding ▷ noun 1 a the act or process of measuring depth, especially of the sea, eg by using echo; b an instance of doing this; c (soundings) measurements that are taken or recorded when doing this. 2 (soundings) an area of sea close to the shore. 3 (usually soundings) a sampling of opinions or (eg voting) intentions.

sounding-board ▷ noun 1 (also soundboard) a thin board or piece of wood in a musical instrument such as a piano or violin that strengthens or amplifies the sound of the strings which pass over it. 2 a board over a stage or pulpit that is designed to direct the speaker's voice towards the audience. 3 a a means of testing the acceptability or popularity of ideas or opinions; b someone or a group that is used for this purpose.

soundtrack ▷ noun 1 a the recorded sound that accompanies a motion picture; b the band of magnetic tape that runs along the edge of a cinematographic film and which has the sound recorded on it. 2 a recording of the music from a film, broadcast, etc that is available in several formats, eg CD, cassette, vinyl, etc.

soup /suːp/ ▷ noun 1 a liquid food that is made by boiling meat, vegetables, grains, etc together in a stock or in water. 2 a anything resembling soup, eg a thick liquid mixture; b a dense enveloping fog. See also PEA-SOUPER; c a rich mixture of organic material that is supposed to have once covered the Earth and from which life is believed to have emerged. Also called primordial soup. 3 colloq, photog the fluid that contains the chemicals for developing film. 4 US colloq nitroglycerine. ▷ verb (souped, souping) (usually soup up) colloq to make changes to a vehicle or its engine in order to increase its speed or power. See also SOUPED-UP. ■ in the soup slang in trouble or difficulty □ got caught stealing and landed himself in the soup. ■ soupy adj. ⓘ 18c: from French soupe broth.

soupçon /ˈsuːpsɒn/ ▷ noun, often humorous the slightest amount; a hint or dash □ Could I have a soupçon more of that delicious coffee, please? ⓘ 18c: French, meaning 'suspicion'.

soup kitchen ▷ noun a place where volunteer workers supply free or very cheap food to people in need.

sour /ˈsaʊə(r)/ ▷ adj (sourer, sourest) 1 having an acid taste or smell, similar to that of lemon juice or vinegar. 2 rancid or stale because of fermentation □ sour milk. 3 sullen; miserable; embittered □ the sourest face I've ever seen. 4 unpleasant, unsuccessful or inharmonious □ The marriage turned sour. 5 said of an alcoholic drink: with lemon or lime juice added to it □ brandy sour. ▷ verb (soured, souring) tr & intr to make or become sour. ■ soured adj □ soured cream. ■ souring noun. ■ sourish adj. ■ sourishly adverb. ■ sourly adverb. ■ sourness noun. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sur.

source /sɔːs/ ▷ noun 1 the place, thing, person, circumstance, etc that something begins or develops from; the origin. 2 a spring or place where a river or stream begins. 3 a a person, a book or other document that can be used to provide information, evidence, etc; b someone or something that acts as an inspiration, model, standard, etc, especially in the realms of creativity. ▷ verb (sourced, sourcing) 1 to acknowledge or mention as a source. 2 to originate in someone or something. ■ sourcing noun. ■ at source at the point of origin. ⓘ 14c: from French sors, from Latin surgere to rise.

sour cream ▷ noun cream that has been deliberately made sour by the addition of lactic acid bacteria and which is used in savoury dishes, sauces, dips, etc.

sourdough /ˈsaʊədoʊ/ ▷ noun 1 a a piece of fermenting dough that is kept back to be used as a leaven in the next batch of bread-making; b a loaf of bread that has been made using this. 2 colloq an old-timer, especially, in Canada and Alaska, one who is an experienced pioneer or prospector.

sour grapes ▷ noun the assumption of a hostile or indifferent attitude towards something or someone, especially when it is motivated by envy, bitterness, resentment, etc □ He says he wouldn't have taken the job anyway, but that's just sour grapes.

sour mash ▷ noun, US 1 brewing MASH (noun 2) that has old mash added to it in order to increase acidity and promote fermentation. 2 chiefly US whiskey that has been distilled from this.

sourpuss ▷ noun, colloq a habitually sullen or miserable person. ⓘ 1940s: from SOUR + PUSS².

soursop /ˈsaʊəsɒp/ ▷ noun 1 an evergreen tree that is found in the W Indies. 2 the large sour pulpy fruit of this tree. ⓘ 17c: from SOUR 1 + SOP 1.

sousaphone /ˈsuːzəfoʊn/ ▷ noun a large brass instrument similar to the tuba but which encircles the player's body and has its bell facing forwards at head level. ⓘ 1920s: named after the American band leader and military-march composer, John Philip Sousa (1854–1932), who commissioned the first one.

sous-chef /ˈsuː ʃɛf/ ▷ noun a chef next in rank to the head chef in a hotel, restaurant, etc. ⓘ 19c: French sous under + CHEF.

souse /saʊs/ ▷ verb (soused, sousing) 1 to steep or cook something in vinegar or white wine. 2 to pickle. 3 to plunge in a liquid. 4 to make thoroughly wet; to drench. ▷ noun 1 an act of sousing. 2 the liquid in which food is soused. 3 N Amer, especially US any pickled food. 4 colloq a drunkard. ● sousing adj, noun. ⓘ 14c: from French sous, German sulza, from sult- salt.

soused ▷ adj 1 slang drunk. 2 pickled.

souslik see SUSLIK

soutache /suːˈtaʃ/ ▷ noun a narrow decorative braid or ribbon that is usually embroidered with flowers and sewn onto garments. ⓘ 19c: French, from Hungarian sujtas braid for trimming.

soutane /suːˈtɑːn/ ▷ noun, RC Church a long plain robe or cassock that a priest wears. ⓘ 19c: French, from Latin subtus under.

souter /ˈsuːtə(r)/ ▷ noun, Scot & N England old use someone whose job is to make or mend shoes; a cobbler or shoemaker. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sutere, from Latin sutor a cobbler.

souterrain /ˈsuːtərem/ ▷ noun an underground chamber or passage. ⓘ 18c: from French sous under + terre earth, modelled on Latin subterraneus.

south or South /saʊθ/ ▷ noun (also the south or the South) 1 one of the four main points of the compass which, if a person is facing the rising sun in the N hemisphere, is the direction that lies to their right. 2 the direction that is directly opposite north, ie 180° from the north and 90° from both east and west. 3 a any part of the earth, a country, a town, etc that lies in this direction; b the southern states of the US thought of collectively □ the rise of the Ku Klux Klan in the deep South. 4 cards, especially bridge the person or position that corresponds to south on the compass. ▷ adverb towards the south. ▷ adj 1 belonging, referring or relating to, facing or lying in the south; on the side or in the part that is nearest the south □ the constituency of Aberdeen South. 2 in place names: denoting the southerly part □ South America □ South Kensington. 3 said of a wind: blowing from the south. ● southerly see separate entry. ● south by east, west, etc between south and the other specified direction □ travel south by south-east. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon suth.

South African ▷ adj belonging or relating to South Africa, a republic that covers the southern tip of the African continent and which, until 1992, was shunned by much of the rest of the world because of its APARTHEID policy, or its inhabitants. ▷ noun a citizen or inhabitant of, or a person born in, South Africa. ⓘ Early 19c.

South American ▷ adj belonging or relating to South America, the southern part of the American continent, or its inhabitants. ▷ noun an inhabitant of, or a person born in, South America. ⓘ 18c.

southbound ▷ adj going or leading towards the south.

Southdown ▷ noun a type of sheep that has short fine wool and which is farmed for its high quality mutton. ⓘ 18c: named after the area of the South Downs in Sussex and Hampshire, England.

south-east or South-East ▷ noun 1 the compass point or direction that is midway between south and east. 2 the south-east or the South-East an area lying in this direction. ▷ adverb in this direction. ▷ adj belonging to, facing, coming from, lying in, etc the south-east.

southeaster ▷ noun a wind, usually a fairly strong one, that blows from the direction of the south-east.

south-easterly ▷ adj ▷ adverb 1 same as SOUTH-EAST adj and adverb. 2 said of the wind: blowing from the south-east. ▷ noun (south-easterlies) a wind that blows from the south-east.

south-eastern ▷ adj situated, lying on, coming from, towards, etc the south-east.

southeastward ▷ adj ▷ adverb towards the south-east. ● southeastwardly adj, adverb. ● south eastwards adverb.

southerly /ˈsʌðəlɪ/ ▷ adj 1 said of a wind, etc: coming from the south. 2 situated, looking, lying, etc towards the south. ▷ adverb to or towards the south. ▷ noun (southerlies) a southerly wind.

southern or Southern /ˈsʌðən/ ▷ adj 1 belonging, relating or referring to, or in, the south □ southern hemisphere. 2 (Southern) belonging, relating or referring to, or in, the southern states of the US □ that epitome of the Southern belle, Scarlett O'Hara. 3 being or facing in or directed towards the south □ the southern slopes. ● southernmost adj situated farthest south.

the Southern Cross ▷ noun, astron a small but easily visible constellation of the southern hemisphere that has four bright stars marking the arms of a cross and which features on the flags of Australia and New Zealand. Also called Crux.

southerner or Southerner /ˈsʌðənə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who lives in or comes from the south, especially the southern part of England or of the USA.

southern hemisphere ▷ noun the half of the Earth that lies to the south of the equator.

the southern lights plural noun the AURORA AUSTRALIS.

southernwood ▷ noun an aromatic S European shrub of the wormwood genus. Also called OLD MAN.

southpaw /ˈsaʊθpɔː/ colloq ▷ noun someone whose left hand is more dominant than their right, especially a boxer. ▷ adj left-handed. ⓘ 19c: from SOUTH adj 1 + PAW noun 2, originally a US baseball term that denoted a left-handed pitcher.

South Pole or south pole ▷ noun 1 (usually the South Pole) the southernmost point of the Earth's axis of rotation, which is in central Antarctica at latitude 90°S and longitude 0°. 2 astron see POLE 1 sense 2. 3 (south pole) the south-seeking pole of a magnet.

the South Sea ▷ singular noun and the South Seas ▷ plural noun the southern part of the Pacific Ocean. Also as adj □ the South Sea islands.

south-south-east or south-south east ▷ noun the compass point or direction that is midway between south and south-east. ▷ adverb in this direction. ▷ adj belonging to, facing, coming from, lying in, etc the south-south-east.

south-south-west or south-south west ▷ noun the compass point or direction that is midway between south and south-west. ▷ adverb in this direction. ▷ adj belonging to, facing, coming from, lying in, etc the south-south-west.

southward /ˈsaʊθwəd, ˈsʌðəd/ and southwards ▷ adverb, adj towards the south. ● southwardly adverb.

south-west or South-West /saʊθˈwest, saʊˈwest/ ▷ noun 1 the compass point or direction that is midway between south and west. 2 (the south-west or the South-West) an area lying in this direction. ▷ adverb in this direction. ▷ adj belonging to, facing, coming from, lying in, etc the south-west.

southwester /saʊθˈwestə(r), saʊˈwestə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a wind that blows from the south-west. 2 a SOU'WESTER 1.

south-westerly ▷ adj, adverb 1 SOUTH-WEST adj and adverb. 2 said of the wind: blowing from the south-west. ▷ noun (south-westerlies) a wind that blows from the south-west.

south-western ▷ adj situated, lying on, coming from, towards, etc the south-west.

southwestward ▷ adj, adverb towards the south-west. ● southwestwardly adj, adverb ● southwestwards adverb.

souvenir /suːvəˈnɪə(r), ˈsuːvənɪə(r)/ ▷ noun something that is bought, kept or given as a reminder of a place, person, occasion, etc; a memento. ▷ verb (souvenired, souveniring) colloq, euphemistic to steal ◻ I just souvenired a couple of towels from the hotel. ⓘ 18c: French, meaning 'a memory'.

sou'wester /sɑʊˈwɛstə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a type of oilskin or waterproof hat that has a large flap at the back and which is usually worn by seamen. 2 a SOUTHWESTER 1. ⓘ Early 19c: a shortened form of SOUTHWESTER.

sov ▷ noun, colloq a pound sterling ◻ not worth it for the few sovs I'd get. ⓘ Early 19c: a shortened form of SOVEREIGN (noun 2).

sovereign /ˈsɒvrɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a supreme ruler or head, especially a monarch. 2 a former British gold coin worth £1. ▷ adj 1 having supreme power or authority ◻ a sovereign ruler. 2 politically independent ◻ a sovereign state. 3 outstanding; unrivalled; utmost ◻ sovereign intelligence. 4 effective ◻ a sovereign remedy. • sovereignly adverb. ⓘ 13c: from French soverain.

sovereign state see INDEPENDENCY sovereignty ▷ noun (sovereignties) 1 supreme and independent political power or authority. 2 a politically independent state. 3 self-government.

soviet /ˈsoʊvɪət, ˈsɒvɪət/ ▷ noun 1 any of the councils that made up the local and national governments of the former Soviet Union. 2 any of the revolutionary councils in Russia prior to 1917. 3 (Soviet) a citizen or inhabitant of the former Soviet Union. ▷ adj (Soviet) belonging, relating or referring to the former Soviet Union. See also CIS. ⓘ Early 20c: from Russian sovet council.

sovietologist ▷ noun someone who studies, or is an expert in, the workings and history of the political, social and economic systems of the former USSR.

Soviet Union ▷ noun, historical a former federation of 15 Union Republics which, since its dissolution in 1991, have all become independent states, including Russia, Ukraine, the Baltic States, some states of central Asia and the Caucasus. See also CIS.

sow[1] /soʊ/ ▷ verb (sowed, sown or sowed, sowing) tr & intr 1 to scatter or place (plant seeds, a crop, etc) on or in the earth, in a plant pot, etc. 2 to plant (a piece of land) with seeds, a crop, etc ◻ sowed the upper field with barley. 3 to introduce or arouse ◻ sowed the seeds of doubt in his mind. • sower noun. • sow one's wild oats to indulge in a dissipated lifestyle, often having numerous sexual partners, especially for a relatively short period of time in one's youth. • sow the seeds of something see under SEED. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sawan.

sow[2] /sɑʊ/ ▷ noun 1 a an adult female pig, especially one that has had a litter of piglets; b a female guinea pig; c the name given to the female of certain other animals, such as the mink. 2 metallurgy a the main channel that molten metal flows along towards the smaller channels or PIG (noun 5b); b a piece of metal that has solidified in one of these channels. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sugu.

sox /sɒks/ ▷ plural noun a colloquial or commercial plural of SOCK that also appears in the names of some US sports (especially baseball) teams ◻ special offer on packs of sox ◻ the Boston Red Sox. ⓘ Early 20c.

soy /sɔɪ/ ▷ noun 1 (also soy sauce) a salty dark brown sauce that is made from soya beans which ferment for around six months and which is used especially in oriental fish dishes. 2 SOYA. ⓘ 17c: from Japanese sho-yu, from Chinese jiang you soy sauce.

soya /ˈsɔɪə/ and soy ▷ noun 1 any of numerous varieties of an annual plant of the pulse family, that are native to SW Asia but which are now more widely cultivated for their edible seeds. 2 (also called soya bean) the edible protein-rich seed of this plant, which is used in making soya flour, soya milk, bean curd, etc, and which yields an oil that is used as a cooking oil and in the manufacture of margarine, soap, enamels, paints, varnishes, etc. ⓘ 17c: Dutch, from SOY.

sozzled /ˈsɒzəld/ ▷ adj, colloq drunk. ⓘ 19c: from the obsolete verb sozzle to mix or mingle in a sloppy way.

SP ▷ abbreviation starting price.

sp ▷ abbreviation: sine prole (Latin), without issue.

sp. ▷ abbreviation (plural in sense 4 only spp) 1 spelling. 2 special. 3 specific. 4 species.

spa /spɑː/ ▷ noun 1 a mineral water spring. 2 a town where such a spring is or was once located. ⓘ 16c: named after Spa, a town in Belgium.

SPAB ▷ abbreviation Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings.

space ▷ noun 1 the limitless three-dimensional expanse where all matter exists. 2 a a restricted portion of this; room ◻ no space in the garden for a pool; b in compounds ◻ a space-saving device. 3 an interval of distance; a gap ◻ sign in the space below ◻ if you don't know the answer, just leave a space. 4 any of a restricted number of seats, places, etc ◻ a space at our table ◻ only two spaces left on this course. 5 a period of time ◻ within the space of ten minutes. 6 (also outer space) all the regions of the Universe that lie beyond the Earth's atmosphere. 7 an area of a newspaper or a spot on TV or radio that is reserved for a specified use, purpose, etc ◻ sells advertising space. 8 a the blank gap between printed or written words or letters; b printing a piece of metal that is used for producing this kind of gap. 9 colloq room for the unrestrained liberty to think, do, etc as one wants. ▷ verb (spaced, spacing) 1 to set or place at intervals ◻ spaced the interviews over three days. 2 to separate or divide with a space or spaces, eg in printing, etc. • spaced see separate entry. • spaced out see under SPACED. • spacer noun. • spaceless adj. • spacing noun. See also SPACIOUS, SPATIAL. ⓘ 14c: from French espace, from Latin spatium space.

■ space something out to arrange it with intervals, or greater intervals, of distance or time between.

space age ▷ noun (usually the space age) the present era thought of in terms of being the time when space travel became possible. ▷ adj (space-age) 1 technologically very advanced. 2 having a futuristic appearance.

space-bar ▷ noun the long key that is usually situated below the character keys on the keyboard of a typewriter, word processor or computer and which gives a space in the text when it is pressed.

space blanket ▷ noun a lightweight plastic cover, often with one or both sides coated in aluminium foil, that is carried by climbers, mountaineers, marathon runners, etc and which can be used as an insulating body wrap when there is danger of exposure, hypothermia, exhaustion, etc.

space cadet ▷ noun 1 colloq someone who is or who appears to be in a more or less permanently drugged state. 2 a trainee astronaut.

space capsule ▷ noun a small manned or unmanned vehicle that is designed for travelling through space in order to gather information and transmit it back to Earth and which can usually be recovered when it re-enters the Earth's atmosphere.

spacecraft ▷ noun a manned or unmanned vehicle that is designed to travel in space or for orbiting the Earth.

spaced ▷ adj 1 (also spaced out) colloq being, acting, appearing to be, etc in a dazed, euphoric, stupefied or dreamlike state, especially one that is or seems to be induced by drugs ◻ That film was magic — it left me really spaced. 2 set, placed, arranged, occurring, etc at intervals ◻ Their children's ages are well spaced out.

Space Invaders ▷ noun, trademark any of various video games in which the players' object is to use buttons or levers to try to fire at and destroy invading creatures that descend the screen.

spacelab ▷ noun, astron a self-contained research laboratory, especially one of the type developed by the European Space Agency and carried in the cargo bay of the NASA space shuttle.

spaceman and spacewoman ▷ noun someone who travels in space. See also ASTRONAUT.

space platform see SPACE STATION space probe ▷ noun, astron an unmanned spacecraft that is designed to study conditions in space, especially on or around a planet or its natural satellites, and to transmit the information it gathers back to Earth.

space shuttle ▷ noun a reusable manned vehicle that takes off like a rocket but lands on a runway like an aircraft and which is designed to travel into space, especially one that can visit space stations that orbit the Earth or bases on the Moon in order to carry out tests, collect information, effect repairs, etc.

space sickness ▷ noun a collection of symptoms, similar to those of travel sickness, that astronauts experience during their first few days in space while their bodies are in the process of adapting to conditions of weightlessness.

space station ▷ noun a large orbiting artificial satellite, where crews of astronauts can live and carry out scientific and technological research in space over periods of weeks or months.

space suit ▷ noun a sealed and pressurized suit of clothing that is specially designed for space travel.

space-time and space-time continuum ▷ noun the three spatial dimensions of length, breadth and height, plus the dimension of time, thought of collectively, which allow an event, particle, etc to be specifically located.

space walk ▷ noun an act, instance or period of manoeuvring or other physical activity that occurs in space, outside a spacecraft, and which is undertaken by an astronaut who wears a pressurized space suit and who is usually still attached to the spacecraft by a lifeline.

space writer ▷ noun an author who is paid by the area that the copy takes up.

spacial see SPATIAL

spacing see under SPACE

spacio-temporal /speɪʃɪoʊ'tempərəl/ ▷ adj, physics, philos 1 belonging to or existing in both space and time. 2 belonging to or being concerned with space-time.

spacious /'speɪʃəs/ ▷ adj having ample room or space; extending over a large area. ● spaciously adverb. ● spaciousness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin spatiosus, from spatium space.

spade¹ ▷ noun 1 a a long-handled digging tool with a broad metal blade which is designed to be pushed into the ground with the foot; b anything that is of a similar shape or used for a similar purpose, eg a child's plastic digging toy, or a knife-like implement used by whalers. 2 one spade's depth. ▷ verb (spaded, spading) to dig or turn over (ground) with a spade. ● spadelike adj. ● spader noun. ● call a spade a spade to speak plainly and frankly. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon spadu.

spade² ▷ noun (spades) 1 cards a one of the four suits of playing-card with a black spade-shaped symbol (♠), the others being the DIAMOND, HEART and CLUB; b a card of this suit □ laid a spade and won the hand; c (spades) one of the playing-cards of this suit. 2 offensive slang a black person, especially a male with very dark skin. ⓘ 16c: from Italian spada a sword, from Greek spathe a broad flat piece of wood.

spadeful noun (spadefuls) the amount that can be carried on a spade.

spadework ▷ noun hard or boring preparatory work.

spadix /'speɪdɪks/ ▷ noun (spadices /'speɪdɪsiːz/) bot a spike-shaped structure that consists of numerous tiny flowers on a fleshy axis and which is usually enclosed by a SPATHE. ● spadiceous /speɪ'dɪʃəs/ adj. ⓘ 18c: Latin, from Greek, meaning 'a torn-off palm branch'.

spag bol /spag 'bɒl/ ▷ noun, colloq a shortened form of SPAGHETTI BOLOGNESE.

spaghetti /spə'getɪ/ ▷ noun 1 a type of pasta that is in the form of long thin solid string-like strands. 2 a dish made from this kind of pasta. ⓘ 19c: Italian, from spaghetto, from spago a thin rope or cord.

spaghetti bolognese /spə'getɪ bɒlə'neɪz, — boʊlən'jeɪz/ and spaghetti alla bolognese /— 'alə —/ ▷ noun a dish of spaghetti that is served with a sauce made from a tomato base with minced meat and added vegetables. ⓘ 1940s: Italian, meaning 'from the city of Bologna'.

spaghetti junction ▷ noun, Brit colloq any complex motorway interchange where there is a great number of flyovers, etc so that it resembles the intertwined strands of cooked spaghetti. ⓘ 1960s: first applied to a road setup of this kind near Birmingham.

spaghetti western ▷ noun a type of film, typically quite violent, which, although its subject is the American Wild West, is shot in Europe, usually in Italy or Spain, and which is usually filmed in widescreen with huge panoramic vistas, often having an international cast headed by an Italian director. ⓘ 1960s: so called because of the Italian locations and the nationality of the directors.

spahi /'spɑːhiː/ ▷ noun, historical 1 a member of the Turkish cavalry. 2 a member of the Algerian cavalry who served under French command. ⓘ Late 19c in sense 2; 16c in sense 1: from Turkish sipahi soldier.

spake see SPEAK

spall /spɔːl/ ▷ noun a chip or splinter, especially one of rock or ore. ▷ verb (spalled, spalling) mining to chip, splinter or split or make (rock or ore) to chip, splinter or split before sorting or treating. ⓘ 18c.

spallation /spɔː'leɪʃən/ ▷ noun, physics a nuclear reaction where there is a breakup of a nucleus into smaller parts, eg because it has been bombarded by an energetic nucleon or other particle. ⓘ 1940s: from SPALL.

Spam or spam¹ ▷ noun, trademark a type of tinned processed cold meat, mainly pork, with added spices. ⓘ 1930s: probably from *sp*iced h*am*.

spam² computing ▷ noun electronic junk mail. ▷ verb (spammed, spamming) to send out electronic junk mail. ⓘ 1990s: from SPAM.

span¹ ▷ noun 1 a the distance, interval, length, etc between two points in space or time; b the length between the supports of a bridge, arch, pier, ceiling, etc; c the extent to which, or the duration of time for which, someone can concentrate, process information, listen attentively, etc; d the maximum distance between the tip of one wing and the tip of the other, eg in birds and planes; e in compounds □ wingspan □ timespan □ lifespan. 2 a measure of length equal to the distance between the tips of thumb and little finger on an extended hand, which is conventionally taken as 9in (23cm). ▷ verb (spanned, spanning) 1 a said of a bridge, pier, ceiling, rainbow, etc: to extend across or over, especially in an arched shape □ A rainbow spanned the sky; b to bridge (a river, etc) □ spanned the river using logs. 2 to last □ The feud spanned more than 30 years. 3 to measure or cover, eg by using an extended hand. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon spann.

span² ▷ noun 1 naut any of several kinds of ropes or chains that are used for securing, fastening, etc. 2 US a pair of horses or oxen, especially two that are very alike in size and colouring. ⓘ 18c: from Dutch and German spannen to unite or fasten.

Spandex or spandex /'spandɛks/ ▷ noun, trademark 1 a synthetic elastic fibre made chiefly from polyurethane. 2 a fabric made from this. ⓘ 1950s: from EXPAND.

spandrel or spandril /ˈspandrəl/ ▷ noun, archit a the triangular space between the curve of an arch and the enclosing mouldings, string-course, etc; b in 20c architecture: an infill panel below a window. ◷ 18c.

spangle /ˈspaŋgəl/ ▷ noun a small piece of glittering material, especially a sequin. ▷ verb (spangled, spangling) 1 to decorate (eg a piece of clothing) with spangles. 2 intr to glitter. ● spangled adj. See also STAR-SPANGLED BANNER. ● spangling noun, adj. ● spangly adj. ◷ Anglo-Saxon spang a clasp.

Spaniard /ˈspanjəd/ ▷ noun a native, inhabitant or citizen of Spain. ◷ 14c: from French Espaignart.

spaniel /ˈspanjəl/ ▷ noun 1 any of various kinds of dog, such as the King Charles spaniel, cocker spaniel, springer spaniel, etc that have wavy coats and long silky dangly ears. The larger dogs were originally bred for retrieving game and all kinds are now popular as pets. 2 someone who behaves in a submissive, slavish or sycophantic manner. ◷ 14c: from French espaigneul Spanish dog.

Spanish /ˈspanɪʃ/ ▷ adj belonging or relating to Spain, the country in SW Europe which, together with Portugal, form the Iberian peninsula, or to its inhabitants or their language. ▷ noun 1 a citizen or inhabitant of, or person born in, Spain. 2 the official language of Spain, and also spoken in the southern USA and Central and S America. See also HISPANIC, SPANIARD. ◷ 13c.

Pronunciation of Spanish in English

- ñ is pronounced /nj/, as in mañana.
- ch is pronounced /tʃ/, as in macho.

The /maˈkɪzmoʊ/ pronunciation of machismo is incorrect: ch should not be pronounced /k/ in any Spanish loanword.

- ll is pronounced /j/, as in Mallorca.
- j is pronounced /x/, as in the name of the Spanish wine Rioja.
- z is pronounced /θ/ in European Spanish, as is c when followed by i or e; in American Spanish, both are pronounced /s/.

Spanish fly ▷ noun 1 a bright-green beetle. 2 a preparation made from the dried bodies of these beetles, which was formerly used for raising blisters and which was also believed to have aphrodisiac qualities. Also called cantharides /kanˈθarɪdiːz/. ◷ 15c: so called because they are particularly abundant in Spain.

Spanish guitar ▷ noun a six-stringed acoustic guitar that is usually played in classical and folk music. Compare ELECTRIC GUITAR.

Spanish moss and Spanish beard ▷ noun an epiphytic tropical or subtropical plant that is found hanging in silvery greenish-blue strands from the branches of trees. ◷ Early 19c.

Spanish omelette ▷ noun a type of omelette that contains diced vegetables such as potato, peppers, onion, tomato, etc and which is often served without being folded over.

Spanish onion ▷ noun a variety of large mild onion.

spank[1] ▷ verb (spanked, spanking) to smack, usually on the buttocks with the flat of the hand, a slipper, belt, etc, often several times and as a punishment or a form of sexual gratification. ▷ noun such a smack. ● spanked adj. ◷ 18c.

spank[2] ▷ verb (spanked, spanking) (often spank along or spank over) said of a vehicle, horse, etc: to travel at a fairly quick pace. ▷ noun a quick pace. ◷ Early 19c.

spanker ▷ noun 1 someone who smacks. 2 naut a FORE-AND-AFT sail on the MIZZENMAST of a sailing ship that is used for taking advantage of a following wind. 3 colloq a horse or vehicle that travels at a good pace. 4 something that is considered a particularly fine, large, etc example of its kind □ Mairi's new car's a real spanker.

spanking[1] ▷ noun an act or instance or the process of delivering a series of smacks, eg as a punishment to a child or as a form of sexual gratification. ◷ 19c: from SPANK[1].

spanking[2] ▷ adverb, colloq absolutely, strikingly □ a spanking new watch. ▷ adj, colloq 1 brisk □ a spanking pace. 2 impressively fine; striking □ a spanking new car. ◷ 17c: from SPANK[2].

spanner /ˈspanə(r)/ ▷ noun a metal hand tool that has an opening (sometimes an adjustable one) or various sizes of openings at one or both ends and which is used for gripping, tightening or loosening nuts, bolts, etc. US equivalent WRENCH noun 3. ● a spanner in the works a frustrating, annoying, irritating, etc person or thing. ● throw, put, chuck, etc a spanner in the works to frustrate, annoy, irritate, etc, especially by causing a plan, system, etc that is already in place to change □ Harry's presence always puts a spanner in the works. ◷ 18c: German, from spannen to unite or fasten.

spar[1] ▷ noun 1 a strong thick pole of wood or metal, especially one used as a mast or beam on a ship. 2 Scot any smaller pole, bar, rail, etc □ The budgie fell off its spar. 3 (sometimes SPAR) oil industry an installation that is anchored above a submarine manifold and which is designed both for storing oil and for loading tankers. ◷ 1970s in sense 3; 14c: meaning a 'roof rafter'.

spar[2] ▷ verb (sparred, sparring) intr (often spar with someone or something) 1 a to box, especially in a way that deliberately avoids the exchange of heavy blows, eg for practice; b to box against an imaginary opponent, for practice. 2 to engage in lively and light-hearted argument, banter, etc. 3 said of game cocks: to fight with spurs (SPUR 3b). ▷ noun 1 an act or instance of sparring. 2 a boxing match. 3 a light-hearted argument, banter, etc. 4 a fight between game cocks using spurs. ● sparrer noun. ● sparring noun, adj. See also SPARRING PARTNER. ◷ 15c.

spar[3] ▷ noun a combining form any of various translucent non-metallic minerals, such as FELDSPAR and FLUORSPAR, that can be easily split into layers; b a particle or fragment of one of these minerals. ● sparry adj. ◷ 16c: German.

sparable /ˈsparəbəl/ and sparrow-bill ▷ noun a small headless nail that is used in the manufacture and mending of soles and heels of shoes and boots. ◷ 17c: a reduced form of sparrow-bill, so called because of the resemblance of the nail to the shape of a sparrow's beak.

sparaxis /spəˈraksɪs/ ▷ noun any of several S African cormous plants that are related to the iris, that have jagged edges to their spathes and which are cultivated for their pretty star-shaped purple, red or orange flowers. ◷ 19c: Latin, from Greek sparassein to tear.

spare /speə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 kept for occasional use □ the spare room. 2 kept for use as a replacement □ a spare wheel. 3 available for use; additional; extra □ a spare seat next to me. 4 lean; thin. 5 frugal; scanty. 6 furious or distraught to the point of distraction □ He was going spare just 'cos he couldn't find his keys. ▷ verb (spared, sparing) 1 to afford to give, give away or do without □ I can't spare the time. 2 a to refrain from harming, punishing, killing or destroying □ spare his life □ spare their feelings; b to avoid causing or bringing on something □ will spare your blushes. 3 to avoid incurring something □ no expense spared. ▷ noun 1 a duplicate kept in reserve for use as a replacement. 2 a spare tyre. 3 ten-pin bowling a the act of knocking down all ten pins with two bowls; b the score when this happens. ● sparely adverb. ● spareness noun. ● to spare left over, surplus to what is required □ I have one cake to spare. ◷ Anglo-Saxon sparian.

spare part ▷ noun a component for a car, machine, etc that is designed to replace an existing identical part that is lost or that has become worn or faulty.

spare-part surgery ▷ noun, non-technical treatment that involves replacing a damaged or diseased body part or organ with one from a donor or with a PROSTHESIS. ⓘ 1940s.

spare rib ▷ noun a cut of meat that consists of ribs, especially pork ribs, that have very little meat on them. ⓘ 16c: from German ribbesper.

spare room ▷ noun a room, especially a bedroom, that is generally not in use except for storage or when there are visitors.

spare time ▷ noun the hours that are spent away from work or other commitments, that can be spent doing what one wants to do.

spare tyre ▷ noun 1 an extra tyre for a motor vehicle, bicycle, etc that can be used to replace a punctured tyre. 2 colloq a roll of fat just above someone's waist.

sparge /spɑːdʒ/ ▷ verb (sparged, sparging) to sprinkle or moisten with water, especially in brewing. ⓘ 16c: from Latin spargere to sprinkle.

sparing /ˈspɛərɪŋ/ ▷ adj 1 inclined to be economical or frugal, often to the point of inadequacy or meanness □ School cooks were sparing with raisins. 2 restrained, reserved or uncommunicative □ He's very sparing with the truth. • sparingly adverb. • sparingness noun.

spark[1] ▷ noun 1 a a tiny red-hot glowing fiery particle that jumps out from some burning material; b a similar particle that is produced by the friction between two hard surfaces, such as metal and stone, a match and a matchbox, etc. 2 a a flash of light that is produced by a discontinuous electrical discharge flashing across a short gap between two conductors; b this kind of electrical discharge, eg in the engine of a motor vehicle, etc where its function is to ignite the explosive mixture. 3 a trace, hint or glimmer □ showed not a spark of recognition. 4 a a small precious stone, eg a diamond or ruby; b a particularly bright point in a precious stone. 5 (sparks) colloq a familiar name for an electrician, radio operator, etc. ▷ verb (sparked, sparking) intr to emit sparks of fire or electricity. • sparky adj. • sparks will fly, etc trouble, angry words, etc will ensue □ After the verdict sparks really began to fly. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon spearca.

■ spark off to stimulate, provoke or start □ The film sparked off great controversy.

spark[2] ▷ noun, often ironic (usually bright spark) someone who is lively, witty, intelligent, etc □ What bright spark shut the dog out all night? ⓘ 16c: originally in the sense of 'a beautiful witty woman'.

spark coil ▷ noun an induction coil, especially one that energizes the spark plugs in an internal combustion engine.

spark gap ▷ noun, electronics the space between two electrodes that a spark can jump across.

sparkle /ˈspɑːkəl/ ▷ verb (sparkled, sparkling) intr 1 to give off sparks. 2 to shine with tiny points of bright light □ Her eyes sparkled in the moonlight. 3 said of wine, mineral water, etc: to give off bubbles of carbon dioxide; to effervesce. 4 to be impressively lively or witty. ▷ noun 1 a point of bright shiny light; an act of sparkling; sparkling appearance. 2 liveliness; vivacity; wit. • sparkly adj. ⓘ 12c: from SPARK[1].

sparkler ▷ noun 1 a type of small firework that produces gentle showers of silvery sparks and which can be held in the hand. 2 colloq a diamond or other impressive jewel.

sparkling ▷ adj 1 said of wine, mineral water, etc: having a fizz that is produced by escaping carbon dioxide. Compare STILL. 2 said of eyes, gems, etc: having or giving off a sparkle. 3 said of a person, their conversation, etc: impressively lively or witty □ The speaker was in sparkling form. • sparklingly adverb.

spark plug and sparking plug ▷ noun an insulated device that is fitted to the cylinder head of an internal-combustion engine. Its function is to discharge a spark between the two electrodes at its end which results in the ignition of the explosive mixture of fuel and air in the cylinder.

sparrer and sparring see under SPAR[2] sparring partner ▷ noun 1 someone that a boxer practises with. 2 someone that one can enjoy a lively argument with.

sparrow /ˈsparoʊ/ ▷ noun 1 any of various small grey or brown perching birds, such as the house sparrow, that have short conical beaks which are well adapted for cracking seeds, and which often congregate in large flocks in both urban and rural parts of the world. 2 in compounds, denoting any of various similar but unrelated small birds □ hedge sparrow. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon spearwa.

sparrow-bill see SPARABLE sparrow-grass ▷ noun, colloq a popularized form of ASPARAGUS. ⓘ 17c.

sparrowhawk ▷ noun any of various small hawks found in Europe, Asia and N Africa which have a brownish upper plumage, a white breast barred with brown, short wings and a long tail, and which feed mainly on smaller birds.

sparrow hawk ▷ noun a small N American falcon that is closely related to the European kestrel.

sparry see under SPAR[3] sparse /spɑːs/ ▷ adj (sparser, sparsest) thinly scattered or dotted about; scanty □ found his hair getting sparser by the month. • sparsely adverb. • sparseness noun. • sparsity noun. ⓘ 18c: from Latin sparsus, from spargere to scatter.

spartan /ˈspɑːtən/ ▷ adj 1 belonging, relating or referring to or characteristic of ancient Sparta, its inhabitants, customs, etc. 2 a said of living conditions, upbringing, diet, a regime, etc: austere; frugal; harsh and basic; strict; simple; b disciplined; courageous; showing great endurance. ▷ noun 1 someone who shows these qualities. 2 a citizen or inhabitant of ancient Sparta. ⓘ 15c: from Latin Spartanus, from Sparta, a city in ancient Greece that was noted for its austerity and whose citizens were characterized by their courage and endurance in battle and by the simplicity and brevity of their speech.

spasm /ˈspazəm/ ▷ noun 1 a a sudden uncontrollable contraction of a muscle or muscles; b an instance or the process of this. 2 a short period of activity; a spell. 3 a sudden burst (of emotion, etc) □ spasm of anger. ▷ verb (spasmed, spasming) to twitch or go into a spasm. ⓘ 15c: from Greek spasmos contraction.

spasmodic /spazˈmɒdɪk/ and spasmodical ▷ adj 1 being or occurring in, or consisting of, short periods; not constant or regular; intermittent □ spasmodic gunfire. 2 relating to or consisting of a spasm or spasms. • spasmodically adverb □ has only worked spasmodically since the accident. ⓘ 17c: from Latin spasmodicus, from Greek spasmos contraction.

spastic /ˈspastɪk/ ▷ noun 1 someone who suffers from CEREBRAL PALSY. 2 offensive slang someone who is thought of as being extremely clumsy, useless or stupid. Often shortened to spaz or spazzy. ▷ adj 1 a affected by or suffering from cerebal palsy; b relating to, affected by, etc a spasm or spasms. 2 offensive, slang weak, clumsy, useless, stupid. • spastically adverb. • spasticity /spaˈstɪsɪtɪ/ noun. ⓘ 18c: from Latin spasticus, from Greek spasmos a spasm.

spastic paralysis ▷ noun, formerly a name for CEREBRAL PALSY.

spat[1] past tense, past participle of SPIT[1] spat[2] colloq ▷ noun 1 a splash or droplet of water, etc □ a few spits and spats of rain. 2 a trivial or petty fight or quarrel. ▷ verb (spatted, spatting) intr to engage in a trivial or petty fight or quarrel. ⓘ Early 19c.

spat³ ▷ noun 1 (usually spats) historical a cloth covering that goes around the ankle and over the top of a shoe, originally to protect against splashes of mud and latterly, especially in the US in the 1920s and 1930s, as a fashion accessory. 2 a covering for the upper part of the wheel of an aircraft. ⓘ Early 19c: an abbreviation of the obsolete spatterdash which was a type of long gaiter for protecting the trousers from mud splashes.

spat⁴ ▷ noun the spawn of shellfish, especially oysters. ▷ verb (spatted, spatting) said of oysters: to spawn. ⓘ 17c.

spatchcock /ˈspatʃkɒk/ ▷ noun a chicken or game bird that has been split down the back, opened out and grilled flat. ▷ verb (spatchcocked, spatchcocking) 1 to cook (a chicken, etc) in this way. 2 to slot in (a word, phrase, story, etc), especially inappropriately or incongruously. Compare SPITCHCOCK. ⓘ 18c.

spate ▷ noun a sudden rush or increased quantity; a burst □ received a spate of complaints. ● in spate said of a river: in a swollen and fast-flowing state that is brought on by flooding or melting snow. ⓘ 15c.

spathe /speɪð/ ▷ noun, bot a large bract that surrounds and protects the inflorescence or SPADIX of certain plant families such as the arums and palms. ● spathaceous /spəˈθeɪʃəs/ adj. ● spathed adj. ⓘ 18c: from Latin spatha, from Greek spathe a broad blade.

spathic /ˈspaθɪk/ ▷ adj said of a mineral: having the qualities of a SPAR². ● spathose /spəˈθoʊz/ adj. ⓘ 18c: from German spath spar.

spatial or spacial /ˈspeɪʃəl/ ▷ adj belonging, referring or relating to space. ● spatiality /speɪʃɪˈalɪtɪ/ noun. ● spatially adverb. ⓘ 19c: from Latin spatium space.

spatter /ˈspatə(r)/ ▷ verb (spattered, spattering) tr & intr 1 a said of mud, etc: to spray, cover, shower or splash in scattered drops or patches □ The muddy water spattered the car □ A hail of bullets spattered the wall; b to cause (mud, etc) to fly in scattered drops or patches □ Don't speak with your mouth full — you're spattering food everywhere. 2 to slander. ▷ noun 1 a quantity spattered; a sprinkling. 2 the act or process of spattering. ⓘ 16c.

spatterdash /ˈspatədaʃ/ ▷ noun (spatterdashes) 1 US ROUGHCAST (noun 1). 2 (usually spatterdashes) historical a type of legging or gaiter that is used to protect the trousers from getting muddy. ⓘ 17c.

spatula /ˈspatjʊlə/ ▷ noun (spatulas) a cookery an implement that has a broad blunt and often flexible blade and which can be used for a variety of purposes, such as stirring, spreading, mixing, turning foods during frying, etc; b medicine a simple flat, usually wooden, implement that is used for holding down the tongue during a throat examination, when a throat swab is being taken, etc. ● spatular adj. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'broad blade', from spatha spathe.

spatulate /ˈspatjʊleɪt/ ▷ adj 1 said of fingers, etc: having a broad flat tip. 2 bot said of a leaf, sepal, etc: having a narrow base and a broad rounded tip. ⓘ 18c.

spavin /ˈspavɪn/ ▷ noun, vet medicine a a condition in horses where there is swelling on the leg, in the region of either the shank bone or the hock bone; b the swelling that causes this condition. ⓘ 15c: from French espavain swelling.

spawn ▷ noun 1 a the cohering jelly-like mass or stream of eggs that amphibians, fish, molluscs, crustaceans, etc lay in water; b in compounds □ frogspawn. 2 derisive a something that is the product of or that is derived from something else and which, because it is not original, is regarded with a degree of contempt; b the offspring of someone or something that is held in contempt. ▷ verb (spawned, spawning) 1 intr said of amphibians, fish, etc: to lay eggs. 2 to give rise to something; to lead to something □ The film's success spawned several sequels. 3 to give birth to someone or something □ hard to believe she could have spawned such a lovely daughter. 4 to produce □ Scotland has spawned many famous people. ● spawned adj. ● spawner noun. ● spawning noun, adj. ⓘ 14c: from French espandre to shed.

spawning-ground and spawning-bed ▷ noun 1 a place at the bottom of a river, etc where fish, amphibians, etc regularly spawn. 2 a place where new ideas, techniques, developments, etc flourish or are encouraged □ a spawning-ground for gossip.

spay ▷ verb (spayed, spaying) to remove the ovaries from (especially a domestic animal) in order to prevent it from breeding. ● spayed adj. ● spaying noun. ⓘ 15c: from French espeier to cut with a sword.

spaz and spazzy see under SPASTIC.

SPCK ▷ abbreviation Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge.

speak ▷ verb (spoke or (old use) spake /speɪk/, spoken /ˈspoʊkən/, speaking) 1 tr & intr a to utter words in an ordinary voice, as opposed to shouting, singing, screaming, etc; b to talk □ speaks a load of rubbish. 2 intr to have a conversation □ We speak on the phone every night. 3 intr to deliver a speech □ spoke on the subject of rising urban crime. 4 to communicate, or be able to communicate, in (a particular language) □ He speaks French fluently. 5 intr to convey meaning □ Actions speak louder than words. ▷ combining form, forming nouns talk or jargon of the specified kind □ consultantspeak □ luvviespeak □ doublespeak. ● speakable adj. ● be on speaking terms see under SPEAKING. ● so to speak in a way; as it were □ had a bit of a tiff, so to speak. ● speak for itself to have an obvious meaning; to need no further explanation or comment. ● speak for oneself 1 to give one's own opinion or opinions. 2 to exclude others from what one is saying, referring to, etc. ● speak for yourself an expression that is used by someone who wants to be disassociated from what has just been said or from the implications of it □ Speak for yourself! I'm not going into that dive. ● speak one's mind to say what one thinks boldly, defiantly, without restraint, etc. ● speak ill of someone or something to criticize them or it; to blacken their or its name □ Don't speak ill of the dead. ● speak the same language see under LANGUAGE. ● speak the truth to tell no lies. ● speak volumes to be or act as a significant factor □ The fact that he lied speaks volumes. ● to speak of usually with negatives worth mentioning, considering, etc □ received no education to speak of. ● speak well or highly of (someone or something) to admire them or it. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon specan.

■ speak about something 1 to discuss it. 2 to put it forward, or think of it as a possibility, often without any further action, etc being taken □ had often spoken about working abroad.

■ speak about someone or something to gossip about them.

■ speak for 1 to give an opinion on behalf of (another or others). 2 to articulate in either spoken or written words the commonly held feelings, beliefs, views, opinions, etc of (others) □ Kurt Cobain's lyrics speak for the twentysomethings.

■ speak of someone or something 1 to make mention of or refer to them or it, especially casually, tentatively, etc □ spoke of going to London for a few days. 2 to explore or discuss, eg in a piece of writing or other non-verbal medium □ Heaney's poetry often speaks of the insecurities the poet goes through.

■ speak out 1 to speak openly; to state one's views forcefully. 2 to speak more loudly.

■ speak to someone 1 to have a conversation with them. 2 to reprimand them. 3 to be meaningful to them □ That painting really speaks to me.

■ speak up intr 1 to speak more loudly. 2 to make something known □ If you've any objections, speak up now.

■ speak up for someone or something 1 to vouch for or defend them or it. 2 to represent them or it.

■ speak with someone to talk to them.

speakeasy ▷ noun (speakeasies) colloq a bar or other place where alcohol was sold illicitly, especially one that operated during the period when the US prohibition laws were in force. ⓘ 19c.

speaker ▷ noun 1 someone who speaks, especially someone who gives a formal speech. 2 a shortened form of LOUDSPEAKER. 3 (usually the Speaker) the person who presides over debate in a law-making assembly such as the House of Commons.

speaking ▷ noun an act, instance or the process of saying something. ▷ adj 1 able to produce speech □ a speaking teddy bear. 2 from or with regard to a specified point of view □ Roughly speaking, the total cost will be about £100. 3 in compounds having the ability to speak (a particular language) □ Brazil is a Portuguese-speaking country. 4 said of a portrait, etc: characterized by having a striking resemblance to its subject. ● be on speaking terms to be sufficiently friendly or familiar to hold a conversation.

speaking clock ▷ noun, Brit a telephone service where callers can ring a number and hear a recorded message giving the exact time. ⓘ 1930s.

spear[1] /spɪə(r)/ ▷ noun a weapon that consists of a long pole with a hard sharp point, usually a metal one, and which is thrown from the shoulder (eg at prey, fish or an enemy). ▷ verb (speared, spearing) to pierce with a spear or something similar to a spear □ managed to spear the pickled onion. ● speared adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon spere.

spear[2] ▷ noun a spiky plant shoot, such as a blade of grass, an asparagus or broccoli shoot, etc. ⓘ Early 19c, although an earlier now obsolete sense of 'a church spire' dates from 15c: from SPIRE.

spearfish ▷ noun see MARLIN.

spearhead ▷ noun 1 the leading part or member of an attacking force. 2 the tip of a spear. ▷ verb to lead (a movement, campaign, attack, etc). ⓘ 1930s as verb; 19c as noun 1; 15c as noun 2.

spearmint ▷ noun 1 a herbaceous perennial plant of the mint family with lance-shaped aromatic leaves and spikes of purple flowers. 2 the aromatic oil that is obtained from the leaves of this plant and which is used in cooking and as a flavouring in confectionery, toothpaste, etc. ⓘ 16c: so named because of the shape of its leaves.

spec[1] /spɛk/ ▷ noun, colloq a commercial venture. ● on spec as a speculation or gamble, in the hope of success □ wrote on spec, asking for a job. ⓘ 18c: a shortened form of SPECULATION.

spec[2] ▷ noun, colloq a shortened form of SPECIFICATION. ⓘ 1950s.

special /ˈspɛʃəl/ ▷ adj 1 distinct from, and usually better than, others of the same or a similar kind; exceptional □ a special occasion □ She was very special to him. 2 designed for a particular purpose □ You can get a special program to do that. 3 not ordinary or common □ special circumstances. 4 particular; great □ make a special effort. ▷ noun 1 something that is special, eg an extra edition of a newspaper, etc, an extra train that is put on over and above the time-tabled ones, an item offered at a low price, a dish on a menu, etc □ put on four football specials. 2 a special person, such as a member of the special police constabulary □ The specials were drafted in to control the fans. ● specially adverb. ● specialness noun. ⓘ 13c: from Latin specialis individual or particular.

Special Branch ▷ noun, Brit the police department that deals with matters of political security.

> specially
>
> There is often confusion between specially and especially. specially means 'for a special purpose', as in □ I made this cake specially for your birthday, whereas especially means 'particularly, above all', as in □ I like making cakes, especially for birthdays. You will sometimes find especially used wrongly to mean specially.
>
> ✗ He had driven up especially to collect her.

special constable ▷ noun a member of a reserve police force who can be drafted in when necessary, eg when vast numbers of football fans are in town, in times of national emergency, etc.

special correspondent ▷ noun, Brit a journalist who has a remit to cover a particular area of news.

special delivery ▷ noun a delivery of post, etc outside normal delivery times.

Special Drawing Rights or special drawing rights ▷ plural noun an extra entitlement that allows member countries of the International Monetary Fund to draw currency from its assets and thereby increase their foreign exchange reserves. Often shortened to SDR or SDRs.

special education ▷ noun the branch of education that is there to help children who have learning difficulties or some form of physical or mental disability. See also SPECIAL NEEDS.

special effects ▷ plural noun, cinematog 1 the particular techniques, such as those that involve computer-generated graphics, simulated action scenes, elaborate make-up and costumes, skilled camera work, etc that are used in the making of films and TV programmes. 2 the resulting impact or illusion that these techniques produce. Sometimes shortened to FX, sfx.

special intention see INTENTION.

specialism ▷ noun 1 a particular subject or area of study that someone specializes in. 2 the act of specializing in something.

specialist ▷ noun 1 someone whose work, interest or expertise is concentrated on a particular subject □ Frank was the department's film noir specialist. Opposite of GENERALIST. 2 an organism or species that is restricted to a narrow range of food and habitat preferences. ● specialistic adj.

speciality /spɛʃɪˈalɪtɪ/ ▷ noun (specialities) 1 something such as a particular area of interest, a distinctive quality, a specified product, etc that a company, individual, etc has special knowledge of or that they especially excel in studying, teaching, writing about, producing, etc □ Her speciality is ancient history □ The restaurant's speciality is seafood. 2 a special feature, skill, characteristic, service, etc.

> speciality, specialty
>
> Speciality and specialty have virtually the same meaning. Speciality is the commoner form in British English, specialty in American English.

specialize or specialise /ˈspɛʃəlaɪz/ ▷ verb (specialized, specializing) 1 (also specialize in something) a to be or become an expert in a particular activity, field of study, etc; b to devote a lot of time, effort, etc (to a particular activity) □ He specializes in giving everyone a hard time. 2 said of an organism, body part, etc: to adapt or become adapted for a specified purpose or to particular surroundings. ● specialization noun. ● specializer noun. ⓘ 17c: from SPECIAL.

specialized or specialised ▷ adj 1 adapted, developed, modified, etc for a particular purpose or to particular surroundings □ highly specialized plants that can live in arid conditions. 2 highly specific; understood only by an expert in the field □ a specialized knowledge of wine.

special licence ▷ noun a licence that allows a marriage to take place outwith the normal hours or at short notice and usually without the normal legal formalities.

special needs ▷ noun a term for any of several conditions that can result in someone having learning difficulties.

special pleading ▷ noun, law the allegation of new facts in a case which offset those proposed by the opposite side rather than directly admitting or denying them.

special school ▷ noun a school where children with learning difficulties or physical or mental disabilities are taught.

specialty /ˈspɛʃəltɪ/ ▷ noun (specialties) 1 chiefly US a SPECIALITY. 2 law a deed that is a contractual document and which must be signed by its maker in the presence of a witness, or, if it is executed by a company, by a director and the secretary or by two directors, or executed by a seal if the company has one. ⓘ 15c in sense 2: from French especialté, from especial special.

specialty
See Usage Note at speciality

speciation /spiːʃɪˈeɪʃən/ ▷ noun, biol the process that involves the evolution of one or more species from an existing one, especially when it arises because of a geographical isolation from the parent species as has happened to many of the species found only on the island of Madagascar.

specie /ˈspiːʃiː, ˈspiːʃɪ/ ▷ noun money in the form of coins as opposed to notes. ● in specie 1 in kind. 2 in coin. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'in kind'.

species /ˈspiːʃiːz, -siːz, -ʃɪz/ ▷ noun (species) 1 a biol in taxonomy: any of the groups, Canis familiaris (the domestic dog), into which a GENUS (sense 1) is divided, the main criterion for grouping being that all the members should be capable of interbreeding and producing fertile offspring; b biol the members of one of these units of classification thought of collectively; c loosely any group of related plants or animals that share some common features or characteristics, but which do not technically form a taxonomic grouping. 2 chem a particular type of atom, molecule or ion. 3 any group whose members share certain features or characteristics. 4 (usually species of) a kind or type. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'kind, appearance', from specere to look.

speciesism /ˈspiːʃiːzɪzəm, ˈspiːsiːzɪzəm/ ▷ noun the discrimination against, and exploitation of, animals by humans in the belief that humans are superior to all other species of animals and can therefore justify putting them to their own use. ● speciesist noun. ⓘ 1970s: from SPECIES + -ISM and modelled on RACISM, etc.

specific /spəˈsɪfɪk/ ▷ adj 1 particular; exact; precisely identified. 2 precise in meaning; not vague. ▷ noun 1 (usually specifics) a specific detail, factor or feature, eg of a plan, scheme, etc. 2 a drug that is used to treat one particular disease, condition, etc. ● specifical adj. ● specifically adverb. ● specificity /spesɪˈfɪsɪtɪ/ noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin species kind + -FIC.

specification /spesɪfɪˈkeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a (often specifications) a detailed description of the type of methods, materials, dimensions, quantities, etc that are used in the construction, manufacture, building, planning, etc of something; b the standard, quality, etc of the construction, manufacture, etc of something □ Saabs are built to high safety specifications. 2 an act or instance or the process of specifying. 3 a document that details the particulars and projected use of an invention and which the person wanting to patent it draws up before submitting it to the proper authorities. ⓘ 17c: from SPECIFY.

specific gravity ▷ noun RELATIVE DENSITY.

specific heat capacity see HEAT CAPACITY.

specific resistance see RESISTIVITY.

specify /ˈspesɪfaɪ/ ▷ verb (specifies, specified, specifying) 1 to refer to, name or identify precisely □ The report does not specify who was to blame. 2 (usually specify that) to state as a condition or requirement □ The contract specified that the invoice must be paid at once. ● specifiable adj. ● specified adj. ● specifier noun. ⓘ 13c: from French specifier, from Latin specificare to describe or mention.

specimen /ˈspesɪmɪn/ ▷ noun 1 a sample or example of something, especially one that will be studied or put in a collection. 2 medicine a sample of blood, urine, tissue, etc that is taken so that tests can be carried out on it. 3 something that is regarded as typical of its kind; a part of something that is regarded as representative of it □ Here is just one specimen of her artwork. 4 colloq a person of a specified kind □ an ugly specimen. ⓘ 17c: Latin, from specere to see.

specious /ˈspiːʃəs/ ▷ adj 1 superficially or apparently convincing, sound or just, but really false, flawed or lacking in sincerity □ specious arguments. 2 outwardly attractive but possessing no real intrinsic value. ● speciosity /spiːʃɪˈɒsɪtɪ/ noun. ● speciously adverb. ● speciousness noun. ⓘ 14c: from Latin speciosus fair or beautiful, from species SPECIES.

speck /spek/ ▷ noun 1 a small spot, stain or mark □ The carpet's blue with grey specks. 2 (usually speck of something) a particle or tiny piece of it □ a speck of dirt on your shirt. ▷ verb (specked, specking) to mark with specks □ a blue carpet specked with grey. ● speckless adj. ● specky adj. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon specca.

speckle /ˈspekəl/ ▷ noun a little spot, especially one of several on a different-coloured background, eg on feathers, a bird's egg, etc. ▷ verb (speckled, speckling) to mark with speckles. ⓘ 16c: from Dutch spekkel and related to SPECK.

speckled ▷ adj said especially of certain fish and birds or birds' eggs: covered or marked with specks or speckles □ a speckled hen.

specs /speks/ ▷ plural noun, colloq a shortened form of SPECTACLES.

spectacle /ˈspektəkəl/ ▷ noun 1 something that can be seen; a sight, especially one that is impressive, wonderful, disturbing, ridiculous, etc □ The roses make a lovely spectacle. 2 a display or exhibition, especially one that is put on for entertaining the public. 3 someone or something that attracts attention □ Their squalid room was a revolting spectacle. ● spectacled adj said of certain animals and birds: having ringed markings around the eyes. ● make a spectacle of oneself to behave in a way that attracts attention, especially ridicule or scorn. See also SPECTACLES. ⓘ 14c: from Latin spectaculum, from specere to look.

spectacled bear ▷ noun the only native S American bear which lives in forests in the W foothills of the Andes, and which has a small body with dark fur except for pale rings around its eyes. ⓘ 19c.

spectacles ▷ plural noun a frame that sits on the nose and which has two legs that fit behind the ears. It contains two lenses that are designed to correct defective eyesight. See also EYESPECTACLED.

spectacular /spekˈtakjʊlə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 impressively striking to see or watch. 2 remarkable; dramatic; huge. ▷ noun a spectacular show or display, especially one with lavish costumes, sets, music, etc □ an old-fashioned musical spectacular. ● spectacularly adj. ● spec- tacularity noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin spectaculum and related to SPECTACLE.

spectate /spɛk'teɪt/ ▷ verb (spectated, spectating) intr to be a spectator; to look on rather than participate. ⓘ 1920s in this sense; 18c meaning 'to gaze at': formed from SPECTATOR.

spectator /spɛk'teɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who watches an event or incident. • spectatorial /spɛktə'tɔːrɪəl/ adj. • spectatorship noun. ⓘ 16c: Latin, from spectare to look.

spectator sport ▷ noun a sport or other activity that provides plenty of interest, excitement and involvement for those who are watching □ Sitting in a Parisian pavement café is a good spectator sport. ⓘ 1940s.

specter the US spelling of SPECTRE spectra plural of SPECTRUM spectral /'spɛktrəl/ ▷ adj 1 relating to or like a spectre or ghost. 2 relating to, produced by or like a SPECTRUM. • spectrality noun. • spectrally adverb.

spectre or (US) specter /'spɛktə(r)/ ▷ noun (spectres) 1 a ghost or an apparition. 2 a haunting fear; the threat of something unpleasant □ The spectre of famine was never far away. ⓘ 17c: French, from Latin spectare, from specere to look.

spectro- /spɛktroʊ, spɛk'trɒ/ ▷ combining form, denoting 1 a spectrum. 2 a spectrograph.

spectrochemistry ▷ noun the branch of chemistry that is concerned with the chemical analysis and interpretation of SPECTRA.

spectrogram ▷ noun a record, usually a photographic one, that is obtained from a spectrograph.

spectrograph ▷ noun a device that is designed to make a photographic or other type of visual record of a SPECTRUM. • spectrographic adj. • spectrographically adverb. • spectrography noun. See also MASS SPECTROGRAPH.

spectrometer ▷ noun a device that is designed to produce spectra, especially one that can measure wavelength, energy and intensity. • spectrometric /spɛktroʊ'mɛtrɪk/ adj. • spectrometry noun. See also MASS SPECTROMETER.

spectroscope ▷ noun, chem an optical device that is used to produce a spectrum for a particular chemical compound, allowing the spectrum to be observed and analysed in order to identify the compound, determine its structure, etc.

spectrum /'spɛktrəm/ ▷ noun (spectra /-trə/ or spectrums) 1 physics (in full visible spectrum) the band of colours (red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet) that is produced when white light is split into its constituent wavelengths by passing it through a prism. 2 a continuous band or a series of lines representing the wavelengths or frequencies of electromagnetic radiation (eg visible light, X-rays, radio waves) emitted or absorbed by a particular substance. 3 any full range □ the whole spectrum of human emotions. ⓘ 17c: Latin, meaning 'appearance'.

specular /'spɛkjʊlə(r)/ ▷ adj 1 belonging or relating to a mirror. 2 having the characteristics of a mirror. 3 belonging or relating to a SPECULUM. 16c.

speculate /'spɛkjʊleɪt/ ▷ verb (speculated, speculating) intr 1 (often speculate on or about something) to consider the circumstances or possibilities regarding it, usually without any factual basis and without coming to a definite conclusion. 2 to engage in risky financial transactions, usually in the hope of making a quick profit. ⓘ 16c: from Latin speculari, speculatus to look out, from specere to see.

speculation ▷ noun 1 an act or instance, or the process or result, of speculating. 2 a risky investment of money for the sake of large profit.

speculative /'spɛkjʊlətɪv, -leɪtɪv/ ▷ adj 1 a said of a theory, conjecture, etc: involving guesswork; b said of someone: tending to come to conclusions that have little or no foundation. 2 said of an investment, business venture: risky. • speculatively adverb. • speculativeness noun.

speculator /'spɛkjʊleɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who speculates, especially financially.

speculum /'spɛkjʊləm/ ▷ noun (specula /-lə/ or speculums) 1 optics a mirror with a reflective surface usually of polished metal, especially one that forms part of a telescope. 2 medicine a device that is used to enlarge the opening of a body cavity so that the interior may be inspected. 3 a glossy coloured patch on the wings of some birds, especially certain ducks. ⓘ 16c: Latin, meaning 'mirror', from specere to look at.

sped past tense, past participle of SPEED speech ▷ noun 1 the act or an instance of speaking; the ability to speak. 2 a way of speaking □ slurred speech. 3 something that is spoken. 4 spoken language, especially that of a particular group, region, nation, etc □ Doric speech has very distinctive vowels. 5 a talk that is addressed to an audience. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon spræc.

speech day ▷ noun, Brit in some schools, especially public schools in England: the day towards the end of the summer term when speeches are made and prizes handed out.

speechify ▷ verb (speechifies, speechified, speechifying) intr, colloq 1 to make a speech or speeches, especially of a long and tedious nature. 2 to talk in an over-formal, boring and pompous manner. • speechifying noun. ⓘ 18c: from SPEECH.

speech impediment see IMPEDIMENT speechless ▷ adj 1 often euphemistic temporarily unable to speak, because of surprise, shock, emotion, etc. 2 not able to speak at all. • speechlessly adverb. • speechlessness noun.

speech recognition ▷ noun, computing the understanding of an individual's speech patterns, or of continuous speech, by a computer.

speech therapist ▷ noun someone who is professionally qualified to provide speech therapy.

speech therapy ▷ noun the treatment of speech and language disorders, eg in deaf or brain-damaged children or in adults who have lost the ability to speak because of an accident, disease, etc.

speed ▷ noun 1 rate of movement or action, especially distance travelled per unit of time. 2 quickness; rapidity □ with speed. 3 a gear setting on a vehicle □ five-speed gearbox. 4 a photographic film's sensitivity to light. 5 drug-taking slang an AMPHETAMINE. ▷ verb, intr 1 (sped, speeding) to move quickly. 2 (speeded, speeding) to drive at a speed higher than the legal limit. • speeder noun. • at speed quickly. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon sped.

■ speed up or speed something up to increase in speed or make it increase in speed.

speedball ▷ noun, slang a mixture of cocaine and morphine or of cocaine and heroin.

speedboat ▷ noun a motor boat that has an engine designed to make it capable of high speeds.

speed bump ▷ noun a SLEEPING POLICEMAN.

speed camera ▷ noun a roadside camera which is triggered by cars that exceed the speed limit, enabling the police to use the photographs as evidence if they choose to prosecute.

speedfreak ▷ noun, colloq someone who habitually takes amphetamine.

speedily and speediness see under SPEEDY.

speeding ▷ noun 1 an act, instance or the process of going fast. 2 an act, instance or the process of going faster than the designated speed limit. ▷ adj moving, acting, etc fast □ a speeding car. ● be or get done for speeding colloq to be caught, charged and fined for exceeding the speed limit in a vehicle.

speed limit ▷ noun the designated maximum speed a vehicle may legally travel at on a given stretch of road. ● break the speed limit to drive faster than the designated speed limit.

speed merchant ▷ noun, colloq someone who habitually drives fast, usually faster than the designated speed limit, and especially someone who gets a thrill from doing this.

speedo ▷ noun (speedos) colloq a SPEEDOMETER.

speed of light ▷ noun, physics (symbol c) the constant and universal speed, exactly 2.99792458×10^8 metres per second, at which electromagnetic waves, including visible light, travel through a vacuum.

speedometer /spiː'dɒmɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun (often shortened to speedo) a device which indicates the current speed that a motor vehicle is travelling at, and which often incorporates an odometer that displays the total mileage. Also (colloq) called the clock.

speedskating ▷ noun a sport that involves two competitors at a time racing each other many times round an oval ice track.

speed trap ▷ noun a stretch of road where police monitor the speed of vehicles, often with electronic equipment.

speedway ▷ noun 1 a sport or pastime that involves racing round a cinder track on lightweight motorcycles. 2 the track that is used for this. 3 N Amer a racetrack for cars. 4 N Amer a highway where vehicles are allowed to travel fast.

speedwell ▷ noun any of various low-growing annual or perennial plants with opposite lance-shaped or oval leaves and small bluish (or occasionally white) four-petalled flowers. ⊙ 16c.

speedy ▷ adj (speedier, speediest) fast; prompt; without delay. ● speedily adverb. ● speediness noun.

speiss /spaɪs/ ▷ noun, metallurgy the ARSENIDES and ANTIMONIDES that are produced during the smelting of cobalt and lead ores. ⊙ 18c: from German Speise food.

spelaean or spelean /spɪ'liːən/ ▷ adj said of an animal, etc: tending to live in a cave. ⊙ 19c: from Latin spelaeus, from spaelaeum, from Greek spelaion cave.

speleology or spelaeology /speli'ɒlədʒɪ, spiː-/ ▷ noun 1 the scientific study of caves. 2 the activity or pastime of exploring caves. ● speleological adj. ● speleologist noun. ⊙ 19c: from French spéléologie, from Greek spelaion cave.

spell[1] ▷ verb (spelt or spelled, spelling) 1 to write or name (the constituent letters of a word or words) in their correct order. 2 said of letters: to form (a word) when written in sequence □ How do you spell it? That's easy — I T spells 'it'. 3 to indicate something clearly □ His angry expression spelt trouble. ● spellable adj. ● speller noun. ● spelling see separate entry. ⊙ 13c: from French espeller, from German spellen and related to GOSPEL.

> ■ spell something out 1 to read, write or speak (the constituent letters of a word) one by one. 2 to explain something clearly and in detail □ The instructions spell out exactly how it's done.

spell[2] ▷ noun 1 a set of words which, especially when spoken, is believed to have magical power, often of an evil nature □ a magic spell. 2 any strong attracting influence; a fascination □ found the spell of her personality incredibly powerful. ● cast a spell (on or upon someone) to direct the words of a spell (towards them), especially in the hope that something bad will happen. ● under a spell held by the influence of a spell that has been cast. ● under one's spell captivated by their influence. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon, meaning 'narrative', from spellian to speak or announce.

spell[3] ▷ noun 1 (often for a spell or a spell of) a period or bout of illness, work, weather, etc often of a specified kind □ hope this spell of sunshine continues. 2 now chiefly Austral, NZ & N Eng dialect an interval or short break from work. ▷ verb (spelled, spelling) now chiefly Austral, NZ & N Eng dialect 1 to replace or relieve someone at work. 2 intr to take an interval or short break from work. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon spelian to act for another.

spellbind /'spelbaɪnd/ ▷ verb to captivate, enchant, entrance or fascinate. ● spellbinder noun someone, especially a politician, who has the ability to captivate, etc their audience. ● spellbinding adj. ● spellbindingly adverb. ⊙ Early 19c.

spellbound /'spelbaʊnd/ ▷ adj completely captivated, enchanted, entranced or fascinated.

spell-check ▷ verb, wordprocessing to run a program that will highlight any words in a section of text that differ in spelling from the words stored in its database.

spellican see SPILLIKIN

spelling ▷ noun 1 the ability to spell □ His spelling is awful. 2 a a way a word is spelt □ an American spelling; b as adj □ a spelling mistake □ spelling book.

spelling-bee ▷ noun (spelling-bees) a competition where the object is to spell correctly as many words as possible.

spelling-checker and spell-checker ▷ noun, wordprocessing a program that is designed to highlight any words (in a section of text) that differ in spelling from the words stored in its database, so allowing one to find spelling errors.

spelt[1] past tense, past participle of SPELL[1] spelt[2] ▷ noun a type of grain which was once widely cultivated throughout Europe, but which has now largely been superseded by wheat, which it is related to, although it is still grown in some mountainous regions of S Europe. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon spelta.

spelter /'speltə(r)/ ▷ noun impure zinc that contains lead or other impurities. ⊙ 17c.

spelunker /spɪ'lʌŋkə(r)/ ▷ noun someone who takes part in the sport or activity of exploring caves; a potholer. ● spelunking noun. ⊙ 1940s: from Latin spelunca, from Greek spelynx a cave.

spencer[1] /'spensə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a short close-fitting men's overcoat that was worn around the turn of the 19c. 2 a type of thin woolly vest that was worn by women and girls for warmth in the winter. ⊙ Early 19c: from the Spencer family name.

spencer[2] /'spensə(r)/ ▷ noun, naut a type of FORE-AND-AFT sail that is set with a gaff on a square-rigger or barque. ⊙ Early 19c.

spend ▷ verb (spent, spending) 1 tr & intr (often spend on) to pay out (money, etc) eg on buying something new, for a service, repair, etc. 2 to use or devote (eg time, energy, effort, etc) □ spent hours trying to fix the car. 3 to use up completely; to exhaust □ Her anger soon spends itself. ▷ noun 1 an act or the process of spending (especially money) □ went on a massive spend after winning the Lottery. 2 an amount (of money) that is spent □ allocated a £5 million spend for advertising. ● spendable adj. ● spender noun. ● spending noun. ● spent adj used up; exhausted □ a spent match. ● spend a penny Brit euphemistic to urinate or go to the toilet ⊙ from the charge sometimes levied for the use of public toilets. ⊙ Anglo-Saxon spendan, from Latin expendere to pay out.

spending money ▷ noun money that can be spent, especially on things that are not essential.

spendthrift ▷ noun someone who spends money freely, extravagantly and often wastefully.

sperm /spɜːm/ ▷ noun 1 a SPERMATOZOON. 2 SEMEN. ⓒ 14c: from French esperme or from Latin sperma, from Greek sperma seed.

-sperm ▷ combining form, bot, denoting a seed □ angiosperm. ● -spermal combining form forming adjectives □ gymnospermal. ● -spermous combining form forming adjectives □ angiospermous.

spermaceti /spɜːmə'siːtɪ/ ▷ noun a white translucent waxy substance that is present in a cavity in the snout of the sperm whale and which was formerly used for making candles, soap, cosmetics, ointments, etc. ⓒ 15c: Latin, meaning 'whale sperm', from sperma seed + ceti of a whale, from the mistaken belief as to what the substance consists of.

spermatic /spɜː'matɪk/ ▷ adj belonging, relating or referring to sperm. ● spermatical adj.

spermatid /'spɜːmətɪd/ ▷ noun, zool an immature male gamete that has developed from a SPERMATOCYTE and which, when mature, will become a SPERMATOZOON.

spermato- /spɜː'matoʊ, 'spɜːmətoʊ/ or sperma- or spermo- ▷ combining form, biol, denoting 1 sperm. 2 seed. ⓒ From Greek sperma seed.

spermatocyte ▷ noun, zool an immature male cell that has developed from a SPERMATOGONIUM and which itself divides, by meiosis, into four SPERMATID.

spermatogenesis ▷ noun, zool the formation and development of sperm in the testes. ● spermatogenetic adj.

spermatogonium /spɜːmətoʊ'goʊnɪəm/ ▷ noun, zool an immature male cell that, when it divides, gives rise to many SPERMATOCYTEs.

spermatophore /'spɜːmətəfɔː(r), spə'matəfɔː(r)/ ▷ noun, zool in certain invertebrates, eg various molluscs, crustaceans, etc: the structure that contains a mass of spermatozoa. ● spermatophoric /spɜːmatə'fɔːrɪk/ adj. ⓒ 19c. spermatophyte and spermophyte ▷ noun, bot any seed-bearing plant. See also ANGIOSPERM, GYMNOSPERM. ● spermatophytic adj. ⓒ Late 19c.

spermatozoid /spɜːmətoʊ'zoʊɪd, spə'matoʊzoʊɪd/ ▷ noun, bot in certain plants: a mature male sex cell.

spermatozoon /spɜːmətoʊ'zoʊɒn/ ▷ noun (spermatozoa /-'zoʊə/) zool in male animals: the small motile male gamete that locates, penetrates and fertilizes the female gamete, and which usually consists of a head containing a nucleus, and a long 'tail' that moves it forward. Often shortened to SPERM. ● spermatozoal or spermatozoan or spermatozoic adj. ⓒ 19c: from SPERMATO- + Greek zoion animal.

sperm bank ▷ noun a refrigerated store where semen is kept before it is used in artificial insemination. sperm count ▷ noun 1 the mean number of sperm that are present in a sample of semen. 2 the test that determines this. ⓒ 1940s.

spermicide /'spɜːmɪsaɪd/ ▷ noun a substance that can kill sperm and which is used in conjunction with various methods of barrier contraception, eg the condom and the diaphragm. ● spermicidal adj.

spermo- see SPERMATO-sperm oil ▷ noun oil that is obtained from the head of a sperm whale and which is used as a lubricant.

-spermous see -SPERM

sperm whale ▷ noun the largest of the toothed whales, with an enormous head and a square snout, which is now an endangered species, having been widely hunted as a source of spermaceti and ambergris. Also called CACHALOT. ⓒ 19c: a shortened form of SPERMACETI.

spew /spjuː/ ▷ verb (spewed, spewing) tr & intr 1 to vomit. 2 to pour or cause to pour or stream out □ Obscenities spewed from his mouth. ▷ noun vomit. ● spewer noun. ● spewing noun, adj. ● spew one's guts up slang to vomit violently. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon spiowan to spit.

SPF ▷ abbreviation sun protection factor.

sp. gr. ▷ abbreviation specific gravity.

sphagnum /'sfagnəm/ ▷ noun (sphagna /'sfagnə/) any of numerous species of moss that grow on temperate boggy or marshy ground, which have a spongy structure that retains water, making them suitable for use as a packing material, eg for potting plants, and which form peat when they decay. Also called bog moss or peat moss. ⓒ 18c: from Greek sphagnos moss.

sphalerite /'sfaləraɪt/ ▷ noun, geol a yellowish-brown to brownish-black mineral form of zinc sulphide, usually with a resinous lustre, that is the principal ore of zinc and also a source of cadmium. Also called zinc blende. ⓒ 19c: from Greek sphaleros deceptive, so called because of its resemblance to GALENA.

sphere /sfɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 math a a round three-dimensional figure where all points on the surface are an equal distance from the centre; b the surface of this kind of figure. 2 a globe or ball. 3 a field of activity □ Rugby's not really my sphere. 4 a class or circle within society □ We don't move in the same sphere any more. 5 a any body in the sky, such as a planet, star, etc; b poetic the sky itself; c any of the concentric shells that were once thought by astronomers to revolve around the Earth carrying the Moon, Sun, planets and fixed stars. ● spheral adj. ● sphered adj. ● sphereless adj. ● spherelike adj. ⓒ 13c: from French espere, from Greek sphaira a globe.

-sphere /sfɪə(r)/ ▷ combining form 1 denoting the shape of a sphere □ bathysphere. 2 denoting an area around a planet □ ionosphere.

sphere of influence ▷ noun the range or extent over which a state or individual is, or is seen to be, dominant □ extend one's sphere of influence.

spherical /'sferɪkəl/ and spheric ▷ adj 1 having or being in the shape of a sphere. 2 belonging, relating or referring to a sphere or spheres. ● sphericality noun. ● spherically adverb. ● sphericalness or sphericity noun. ⓒ 16c: from SPHERE.

spheroid /'sfɪərɔɪd/ ▷ adj characterized by having, or being in, almost the shape of a sphere. ▷ noun 1 a figure or body of this shape. 2 math a (in full prolate spheroid) a solid figure in the shape of an elongated sphere that is obtained by rotating an ellipse about its longer axis; b (in full oblate spheroid) a solid figure in the shape of a flattened sphere that is obtained by rotating an ellipse about its shorter axis. ● spheroidal /sfɪə'rɔɪdəl/ adj. ● spheroidicity /sfɪərɔɪ'dɪsɪtɪ/ noun. ⓒ 17c: from Latin sphaeroides, from Greek sphaira a globe.

spherule /'sferjuːl/ ▷ noun a small sphere. ● spherular adj. ⓒ 17c: from Latin sphaerula, a diminutive of sphaera, from Greek sphaira a globe.

sphincter /'sfɪŋktə(r)/ ▷ noun, anatomy a ring of muscle that, when it contracts, closes the entrance to a cavity in the body. ● sphincteral or sphincterial or sphincteric /sfɪŋk'terɪk/ adj. ⓒ 16c: from Greek sphingein to hold tight.

sphinx /sfɪŋks/ ▷ noun (sphinxes /'sfɪŋksɪz/ or sphinges /'sfɪndʒiːz/) 1 (Sphinx) Greek mythol a monster, with the head of a woman and the body of a lion, which strangled travellers who could not solve its riddle and which was dashed to pieces on the rocks when it leapt from its lair in rage after Oedipus did give the correct answer to the riddle. 2 (also Sphinx) any stone carving or other representation in the form of a human head and lion's body, especially the huge recumbent statue near the Egyptian pyramids at Giza. 3 a mysterious or enigmatic person. ● sphinxlike adj. ⓒ 14c: Latin, from Greek, from sphingein to hold tight, because of the mythological monster's propensity for strangulation.

sphragistics /sfrəˈdʒɪstɪks/ ▷ singular noun the study of seals and signet rings. • sphragistic adj. ⓒ 19c: from French sphragistique, from Greek sphragis a seal.

sphygmogram /ˈsfɪgmoʊgram/ ▷ noun, medicine a record of variations in blood pressure and pulse beat. ⓒ 19c: from sphygmos a pulse, from sphyzo to beat.

sphygmograph /ˈsfɪgmoʊgrɑːf/ ▷ noun, medicine an instrument for recording variations in blood pressure and pulse beat. • sphygmographical adj. • sphygmographically adverb. • sphygmography /sfɪgˈmɒgrəfɪ/ noun. ⓒ 19c: from Greek sphygmos a pulse, from sphyzo to beat.

sphygmomanometer /sfɪgmoʊməˈnɒmɪtə(r)/ or sphygmometer /sfɪgˈmɒmɪtə(r)/ ▷ noun, medicine an instrument that consists of an inflatable cuff for the arm, which is connected to a column of mercury with a graduated scale and which is used for measuring blood pressure in the arteries. ⓒ 1880s: from Greek sphygmos a pulse, from sphyzo to beat.

spic[1], spick or spik ▷ noun, offensive 1 a name for a Spanish-speaking person from Central or S America or the Caribbean. 2 the form of the Spanish language that is spoken by someone from this area. ⓒ Early 20c: a shortened form of spiggoty, supposedly a rendering of the claim 'No spikee dee English'.

spic[2] see SPICK AND SPAN spica /ˈspaɪkə/ ▷ noun (spicae /ˈspaɪsiː/ or spicas /ˈspaɪkəz/) 1 bot a flower spike or other part that resembles a spike. 2 surgery a bandage that is wrapped over in a series of V-shapes so that it resembles an ear of barley. • spicate /ˈspaɪkeɪt/ or spicated /spaɪˈkeɪtəd/ adj, bot having, forming or in a spike; relating to a spike. ⓒ 17c: Latin, meaning 'ear of grain'.

spiccato /spɪˈkɑːtoʊ; Italian spikˈkato/ ▷ adj, adverb, music said of a style of STACCATO on stringed instruments: played with a kind of light controlled bouncing movement of the bow. ▷ noun (spiccatos) a piece of music or a series of notes played in this way. ⓒ 18c: Italian, meaning 'detached'.

spice ▷ noun 1 any of various aromatic or pungent substances, such as pepper, ginger, nutmeg, cloves, cinnamon, etc that are derived from plants and used for flavouring food, eg in sauces, curries, etc, and for drinks such as punch. 2 such substances collectively. 3 something that adds interest or enjoyment □ Variety is the spice of life. 4 (usually a spice of something) a trace of it □ Do I detect a spice of jealousy? ▷ verb (spiced, spicing) 1 to flavour with spice. 2 (also spice up) to add interest or enjoyment to something. • spicy or spicey see separate entry SPICY. ⓒ 13c: from French espice, from Latin species species.

spicebush ▷ noun an aromatic shrub that is native to America and which is related to the laurel family.

spiced ▷ adj flavoured with spices.

spick and span, spic and span or spik and span ▷ adj 1 neat, clean and tidy. 2 lacking any signs of wear and tear. ⓒ 17c: a shortened form of the obsolete spick and span new, from spick spike + Norse spannyr brand-new, from spann a chip or shaving + nyr new.

spicule /ˈspɪkjuːl/ ▷ noun 1 something that is small, sharp, hard and pointed, such as a splinter, a shard of glass, crystal or bone, etc. 2 zool a sharp pointed process, such as any of the needle-like projections that form the firm part of a sponge. 3 bot a small flower spike. 4 astron a spiked projection that can be seen in the corona of the Sun and which is caused by shooting jets of gas in the Sun's atmosphere. ⓒ 18c: French, from Latin spiculum a sharp point.

spicy or spicey /ˈspaɪsɪ/ ▷ adj (spicier, spiciest) 1 flavoured with or tasting or smelling of spices; pungent; piquant. 2 colloq characterized by, or suggestive of, scandal, sensation, impropriety, bad taste, etc □ Got any spicy gossip? • spicily adverb. • spiciness noun.

spider /ˈspaɪdə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a any of thousands of species of invertebrate animals that are found in virtually all habitats, which have eight legs and two main body parts with the head and thorax fused and joined to the abdomen at a narrow waist, and which, in most cases, can produce silk for spinning webs to trap their prey; b any similar related species such as the spider mite, harvest mite, etc. 2 something that resembles one of these creatures, such as a snooker rest which has long legs so that it can be used to arch over a ball, or an elasticated mesh for securing luggage on a car's roof rack, etc. See also ARACHNOPHOBIA. • spider-like adj. • spidery see separate entry. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon spithra, from spinnan to spin.

spiderman ▷ noun someone whose job is to do building work on high structures such as scaffolding, steeples, etc.

spider mite ▷ noun any one of various kinds of plant-eating mites, such as the RED SPIDER MITE.

spider monkey ▷ noun any one of several kinds of tropical American monkeys which have light slender bodies, extremely long limbs and a long prehensile tail. ⓒ 18c: so called because of their long spidery limbs and tails.

spider plant ▷ noun a perennial plant of the lily family which has long narrow striped leaves, a flower stalk that bears clusters of small white flowers and tufts of small leaves that are able to root on contact with the soil and develop into new plants. ⓒ 19c: so called because the little plantlets resemble spiders.

spiderwort see TRADESCANTIA spidery /ˈspaɪdərɪ/ ▷ adj 1 thin and straggly □ spidery handwriting. 2 full of spiders.

spiegeleisen /ˈspiːgəlaɪzən/ ▷ noun a white cast-iron that contains manganese and which is used in the BESSEMER PROCESS for the manufacture of steel. ⓒ 19c: German, from Spiegel mirror + Eisen iron.

spiel /ʃpiːl, spiːl/ colloq ▷ noun a long rambling, often implausible, story, especially one that contains an excuse, one that the speaker hopes will divert attention from something else or one given as sales patter □ gave me this whole spiel about missing the train. ▷ verb (spieled, spieling) 1 to talk endlessly or glibly. 2 to reel off (a prepared statement, list, etc). • spieler noun. • spieling noun. ⓒ Late 19c: German, meaning 'play' or 'a game'.

spies plural of SPY

spiffing /ˈspɪfɪŋ/ ▷ adj, Brit old colloq use excellent; splendid. ⓒ 19c.

spiflicate or spifflicate /ˈspɪflɪkeɪt/ ▷ verb (spiflicated, spiflicating) humorous to destroy, overpower or beat (in a contest, fight, etc). • spiflication noun. ⓒ 18c.

spigot /ˈspɪgət/ ▷ noun 1 a peg or plug, especially one that is used for stopping the vent hole in a cask or barrel. 2 a US a tap; b a tap for controlling the flow of liquid, eg in a cask, pipe, etc. 3 an end of a pipe that fits inside another to form a joint. ⓒ 14c.

spik see SPICK AND SPAN spike[1] ▷ noun 1 a any thin sharp point; b a pointed piece of metal, eg one of several on railings. 2 a one of several pointed metal pegs that are set into the soles of running-shoes; b (spikes) a pair of running-shoes with spiked soles. 3 a large metal nail. 4 drug-taking slang a hypodermic needle. ▷ verb (spiked, spiking) 1 to strike, pierce or impale with a pointed object. 2 colloq a to make (a drink) stronger by adding alcohol or extra alcohol; b to lace (a drink) with a drug. • spiked adj. • spiky see separate entry. • spike someone's guns colloq to spoil their plans. ⓒ Anglo-Saxon spicing.

spike² ▷ noun, bot a pointed flower-head, such as that of the hyacinth, plantain, etc, which consists of a cluster of small individual flowers growing together around, or along one side of, an axis, with the youngest flowers at the tip and the oldest ones nearest the base. ⓘ 16c in this sense; 13c, meaning 'ear of corn': from Latin spica ear of corn.

spikelet ▷ noun, bot a small spike such as those that form the inflorescences of many grasses, often enclosed by a pair of bracts.

spikenard /ˈspaɪknɑːd/ ▷ noun 1 an aromatic plant that is native to the Himalayas and which has rose-purple flowers and aromatic underground stems. 2 an aromatic oil or ointment that is prepared from the underground stem of this plant. Also called nard. 3 any of several N American plants, eg some of the ginseng family, that also have aromatic roots. ⓘ 14c: from Latin spica a spike + nardus nard.

spiky /ˈspaɪkɪ/ ▷ adj (spikier, spikiest) 1 having spikes or pointed ends □ a spiky punk hairstyle. 2 colloq bad-tempered. • spikily adverb. • spikiness noun.

spill¹ ▷ verb (past tense, past participle spilt or spilled, present participle spilling) 1 tr & intr to run or flow or cause (a liquid, etc) to run or flow out from a container, especially accidentally. 2 intr to come or go in large crowds, especially quickly □ The spectators spilled onto the pitch. 3 to shed (blood, especially that of other people) □ a terrible war in which a lot of blood was spilled. 4 colloq to throw from a vehicle or saddle. ▷ noun 1 an act of spilling. 2 colloq a fall, especially from a vehicle or horse. • spill the beans colloq to reveal confidential information, either inadvertently or deliberately. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon spillan.

■ spill over to overflow or go beyond. See also SPILLOVER.

spill² ▷ noun a thin strip of wood or twisted paper for lighting a fire, candle, pipe, etc. ⓘ Early 19c.

spillage ▷ noun 1 the act or process of spilling. 2 something that is spilt or an amount spilt.

spillikin or spilikin /ˈspɪlɪkɪn/ and spellican /ˈspelɪkən/ ▷ noun 1 a small thin strip of wood, bone, etc. 2 (spillikins) a game where lots of these strips are heaped together and the object is to try and take one after another from the pile without disturbing the others. ⓘ 18c: a diminutive of SPILL².

spillover ▷ noun 1 an overflowing. 2 a consequence or attendant side-effect. See also SPILL OVER at SPILL.

spilt see SPILL¹

spilth /spɪlθ/ ▷ noun 1 an act or the process of spilling. 2 something that is spilt or an amount spilt.

spin ▷ verb (past tense, past participle spun, present participle spinning) 1 tr & intr to rotate or cause to rotate repeatedly, especially quickly □ We spun a coin to see who would go first. 2 to draw out and twist (fibres, etc) into thread. 3 a said of spiders, silkworms, etc: to construct (a web, cocoon, etc) from the silky thread they produce; b to tell (lies) □ spun a complex web of lies. 4 a to bowl, throw, kick, strike, etc (a ball) so that it rotates while moving forward, causing a change in the expected direction or speed; b said of a ball, etc: to be delivered in this way. 5 intr said of someone's head, etc: to have a revolving and disorientated sensation, especially one that is brought on by excitement, amazement, drugs or alcohol, etc. 6 to dry (washing) in a spin-dryer. 7 said of the wheels of a motor vehicle: to turn rapidly but without any forward momentum. 8 to play (a record, CD, cassette, etc) □ a station that spins mainly indie stuff. ▷ noun 1 an act or process of spinning or a spinning motion. 2 rotation in a ball thrown, struck, etc. 3 a nose-first spiral descent in an aircraft, especially one that is out of control. Also called tailspin. 4 colloq a short trip in a vehicle, for pleasure. 5 colloq an act of playing a record, etc. 6 said of information, a news report, etc, especially that of a political nature: a favourable bias □ The PR department will put a spin on it. • spinning noun, adj. • spun see separate entry. • spin a yarn, tale, etc to tell a story, especially a long improbable one. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon spinnan.

■ spin out 1 to prolong (an activity, etc). 2 to cause (something) to last longer through economical use.

■ spin round to turn around, especially quickly or unexpectedly.

spina bifida /ˈspaɪnə ˈbɪfɪdə, — ˈbaɪfɪdə/ ▷ noun, pathol a congenital defect where one or more vertebrae fail to surround the meninges and the spinal cord fully during the development of the embryo, leaving them exposed. It results in various degrees of disability, with severe cases manifesting permanent paralysis of the legs and mental retardation. ⓘ 18c: Latin, from spina spine + bifidus split in two.

spinach /ˈspɪnɪtʃ, ˈspɪnɪdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 an annual plant that is native to Asia, but which is now widely cultivated in temperate regions for its edible leaves. 2 the young dark green crinkly or flat edible leaves of this plant which are particularly rich in iron and which are cooked and eaten as a vegetable or used raw in salads. • spinachy adj. ⓘ 16c: from French espinache spinach.

spinal ▷ adj belonging, relating or referring to the SPINE.

spinal anaesthesia ▷ noun anaesthesia of the lower half of the body which is achieved by injecting an anaesthetic beneath the ARACHNOID. See also EPIDURAL.

spinal canal ▷ noun the passage where the spinal cord lies and which runs the length of the spinal column.

spinal column ▷ noun the spine.

spinal cord ▷ noun a cord-like structure of nerve tissue that is enclosed and protected by the spinal column and which connects the brain to nerves in all other parts of the body. Together with the brain, it forms the CENTRAL NERVOUS SYSTEM.

spinal nerve ▷ noun, anatomy any of the 31 pairs of nerves that in humans arise from the spinal cord and extend to all parts of the body.

spinal tap ▷ noun a LUMBAR PUNCTURE.

spin bowler ▷ noun, cricket a bowler whose technique involves imparting variations to the flight and/or SPIN (noun 2) of the ball.

spindle /ˈspɪndəl/ ▷ noun 1 a a rod with a notched or tapered end that is designed for twisting the thread in hand-spinning and which is the place where the spun thread is wound; b a similar device in a spinning wheel; c any of several similar devices in a spinning machine which twist the thread and wind it onto the bobbins. 2 a pin or axis which turns, or around which something else turns □ a record-player with a spindle for 10 singles. 3 a piece of wood that has been turned, especially one that is used as an upright member, eg in a banister or as a chair or table leg, etc. 4 biol a spindle-shaped structure of protein filaments that is formed during cell division and which serves to draw the newly divided chromosomes apart. 5 in compounds □ spindle-legged. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon spinel, from spinnan to spin.

spindly /ˈspɪndlɪ/ ▷ adj (spindlier, spindliest) colloq long, thin and, often, frail-looking.

spin doctor ▷ noun, colloq someone, especially in politics, who tries to influence public opinion by putting a favourable bias on information when it is presented to the public or to the media. • spin-doctoring noun. ⓘ 1980s.

spindrift /ˈspɪndrɪft/ ▷ noun 1 spray that is blown from the crests of waves. 2 driving or driven snow, sand, etc. ⓘ 17c: originally a Scots variation of the obsolete spoondrift, from spoon to be blown by the wind + DRIFT.

spin-dry ▷ verb (spin-dried or spun-dry, spin-drying or spinning-dry) to partly dry (wet laundry) in a spin dryer.

spin dryer or spin drier ▷ noun an electrically powered machine, which can either be part of a washing machine or free-standing, that takes some of the water out of wet laundry by spinning it at high speed in a revolving drum.

spine ▷ noun 1 in vertebrates: the flexible bony structure, consisting of a column of vertebrae connected by cartilage discs, that surrounds and protects the spinal cord and articulates with the skull, ribs and pelvic girdle. 2 the narrow middle section in the cover of a book that hides the part where the pages are fastened in and which often carries details of the title and/or author. 3 in certain plants and animals, eg cacti, hedgehogs, porcupines, etc: one of many sharply pointed structures that protect the plant or animal against predators. 4 usually with negatives, colloq courage; strength of character □ hasn't got the spine to answer back. ⓘ 16c: from French espine, from Latin spina thorn, prickle or backbone.

spine-chiller ▷ noun something, such as a frightening story, a thought, etc, that sends, or almost sends, shivers down one's spine. ● spine-chilling adj.

spinel /spɪ'nel/ ▷ noun any of a group of hard glassy crystalline minerals of various colours, that contain oxides of magnesium, aluminium, iron, zinc or manganese and which are used as gemstones. ⓘ 16c: from French espinelle, from Latin spina thorn, because of the shape of the crystals.

spineless ▷ adj 1 invertebrate. 2 said of a plant or animal: having no spiny prickles. 3 colloq said of someone, their attitude, behaviour, etc: lacking courage or strength of character. ● spinelessly adverb. ● spinelessness noun.

spinet /spɪ'net, 'spɪnɪt/ ▷ noun a musical instrument like a small harpsichord. ⓘ 17c: from French espinette, from Italian spinetta.

spinnaker /'spɪnəkə(r)/ ▷ noun a large triangular sail set at the front of a yacht. ⓘ Late 19c.

spinner ▷ noun 1 someone or something that spins. 2 a spin dryer. 3 an angler's lure that has a projecting wing which makes it spin in the water when the line is pulled. 4 cricket a a spin bowler; b a ball that is bowled with spin. 5 a manufacturer or merchant of thread, etc.

spinneret ▷ noun 1 zool in spiders, silkworms, etc: a small tubular organ that produces the silky thread which they use in making webs, cocoons, etc. 2 a plate with several holes in it that is used in the manufacture of synthetic fibres.

spinney /'spɪnɪ/ ▷ noun (spinneys) a small wood or thicket, especially one that has a prickly undergrowth. ⓘ 16c: from French espinei a place full of thorns and brambles, from Latin spina thorn.

spinning-jenny /spɪnɪŋ'dʒenɪ/ ▷ noun a type of early spinning machine that has several spindles.

spinning top see TOP[2]

spinning-wheel ▷ noun a machine with a spindle driven by a wheel that is operated either by hand or by the foot and which is used, especially in the home, for spinning thread or yarn.

spin-off ▷ noun 1 a side-effect or by-product, especially one that is beneficial or valuable. 2 something that comes about because of the success of an earlier product or idea, eg a television series derived from a successful film.

spinose /spaɪ'noʊs/ ▷ adj, biol said of a plant or animal, or of a specified body part: covered with spines; prickly.

spinous /'spaɪnəs/ ▷ adj 1 biol SPINOSE. 2 relating to or resembling a spine or thorn.

spinster /'spɪnstə(r)/ ▷ noun a woman, especially one who is middle-aged or older, who has never been married. ● spinsterhood noun. ● spinsterish adj. ● spinsterly adj. ⓘ 14c as spinnestere a woman who spins thread.

spinule /'spaɪnjuːl/ biol ▷ noun a tiny spine or thorn. ● spinulose or spinulous adj.

spiny /'spaɪnɪ/ ▷ adj (spinier, spiniest) 1 said of plants or animals: covered with spines; prickly. 2 troublesome; difficult to deal with □ a spiny problem. ● spininess noun.

spiny anteater ▷ noun an ECHIDNA.

spiny lobster see LANGOUSTE.

spiracle /'spaɪrəkəl/ and spiraculum /spaɪ'rakjʊləm/ ▷ noun (spiracles or spiracula /spaɪ'rakjʊlə/) zool 1 any of various paired openings along the side of an insect's body that are used for breathing, each of which represents the external opening of a trachea. 2 the breathing hole in some fish, whales and sharks. ⓘ 17c: from Latin spiraculum, from spirare to breath.

spiraea or spirea /spaɪ'rɪə/ ▷ noun (spiraeas or spireas) a deciduous northern temperate shrub of the rose family which has clusters of small white or pink flowers. ⓘ 17c: Latin, from Greek speiraia privet, from speira coil.

spiral /'spaɪərəl/ ▷ noun 1 the pattern that is made by a line winding outwards from a central point in circles or near-circles of regularly increasing size. 2 the pattern that is made by a line winding upwards or downwards from a specific point in circles or near-circles of the same or ever-increasing size, as if it were describing the shape of a cylinder or cone. 3 a curve or course that makes this kind of a pattern. 4 a gradual but continuous rise or fall, eg of prices, wages, etc. ▷ adj being in or having the shape or nature of a spiral □ a spiral staircase. ▷ verb (spiralled, spiralling; or (US) spiraled, spiraling) 1 intr to follow a spiral course or pattern. 2 to make something into a spiral. 3 intr said especially of prices, wages, etc: to go up or down, usually quickly □ Prices were spiralling out of control. ● spiraliform /spaɪə'ralɪfɔːm/ adj. ● spirality noun. ● spiralled or (US) spiraled adj. ● spirally adverb. ⓘ 16c: from Latin spiralis, from Greek speira coil.

spiral galaxy ▷ noun, astron a class of galaxy that has older stars, etc in the centre, and structures called spiral arms, composed of dust, gas and younger stars, spiralling out from and around its nucleus. This is the shape and construction that the Milky Way is thought to have.

spire[1] /'spaɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a tall thin structure tapering upwards to a point, especially the top of a tower on a church roof. Compare STEEPLE. 2 anything tall and tapering, eg a flower spike, the top of a tree, etc. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon spir shoot or sprout.

spire[2] /'spaɪə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a coil or spiral; a single loop of a coil or spiral. 2 zool the top part of a spiral shell. ● spirated adj. ⓘ 16c: from Greek speira coil.

spirit /'spɪrɪt/ ▷ noun 1 the animating or vitalizing essence or force that motivates, invigorates or energizes someone or something. 2 this force as an independent part of a person, widely believed to survive the body after death, and sometimes said to be visible as a ghost. 3 a supernatural being without a body □ Evil spirits haunted the house. 4 a temperament, frame of mind, etc, usually of a specified kind □ She always had a very independent spirit; b the dominant or prevalent mood, attitude, etc □ tried to gauge public spirit; c the characteristic essence, nature, etc of something □ the spirit of friendship □ the spirit of Christmas; d courage □ team spirit; e liveliness or vivacity □ enter into the spirit of the party; f a person or thing that has a specified nature or quality □ thinks of himself as a free spirit. 5 the underlying essential meaning or intention, as distinct from literal interpretation □ in accordance with the spirit, not the letter, of the law. 6 a distilled alcoholic drink, eg whisky, brandy, gin, etc. 7 chem a volatile liquid obtained by distillation. ▷ verb (spirited, spiriting) 1 (usually spirit something or someone away or off) to carry or convey them mysteriously or magically. 2 (usually spirit up) to give or add determination, courage or liveliness. • in good or high, etc spirits in a happy, contented, etc mood. • in spirit as a presence that is perceived to be there □ I'll be with you in spirit, if not in person. • out of spirits sad or depressed. ◎ 13c: from French espirit, from Latin spiritus, from spirare to breathe.

the Spirit see THE HOLY GHOST spirited ▷ adj 1 full of courage or liveliness. 2 in compounds having or showing a specified kind of spirit, mood, attitude, etc □ high-spirited. • spiritedly adverb. • spiritedness noun.

spirit gum ▷ noun a quick-drying sticky substance that is especially used, eg by actors, for securing false facial hair.

spirit-lamp ▷ noun a lamp that burns methylated or other spirit as opposed to oil.

spirit level ▷ noun a device that consists of a flat bar with a short glass tube almost filled with liquid set inside it, and which is used for testing and ascertaining the horizontal or vertical levelness of a surface on which it is placed by seeing whether or not the large air bubble in the liquid lies precisely between two markings on the tube.

spirits of ammonia or spirit of ammonia ▷ noun SAL VOLATILE.

spirits of salt or spirit of salt ▷ noun hydrochloric acid in solution with water.

spirits of wine or spirit of wine ▷ noun alcohol.

spiritual /ˈspɪrɪtʃʊəl/ ▷ adj 1 belonging, referring or relating to the spirit or soul rather than to the body or to physical things. 2 belonging, referring or relating to religion; sacred, holy or divine □ a spiritual leader. 3 a belonging, referring or relating to, or arising from, the mind or intellect; b highly refined in thought, feelings, etc. 4 belonging, referring or relating to spirits, ghosts, etc □ the spiritual world. ▷ noun (also Negro spiritual) a type of religious song that is characterized by voice harmonies and which developed from the communal singing traditions of Black people in the southern states of the USA. • spirituality noun. • spiritually adverb. • spiritualness noun. ◎ 13c: from Latin spiritualis; see SPIRIT.

spiritualism ▷ noun 1 a the belief that it is possible to have communication with the spirits of dead people, eg through a MEDIUM 3, a OUIJA board, etc. b the practice of this. 2 philos the doctrine that a person's spirit continues to exist after their physical death or that the spirit world is the only form of reality.

spiritualist ▷ noun someone who believes in or practises spiritualism. • spiritualistic adj.

spiritualize or spiritualise ▷ verb (spiritualized, spiritualizing) to make someone or something spiritual or more spiritual. • spiritualization noun. • spiritualizer noun.

spirituous ▷ adj 1 having a high alcohol content. 2 said of an alcoholic drink such as rum, whisky, etc: obtained by distillation. • spirituosity or spirituousness noun.

spirochaete /ˈspaɪərəʊkiːt/ ▷ noun, biol any of a group of non-rigid spiral-shaped bacteria, many of which feed on dead organic matter, although some are parasitic and live in the intestines and genital regions of animals, causing various diseases, including syphilis in humans. ◎ Late 19c: from Greek speira a coil + chaite long hair.

spirograph /ˈspaɪərəʊɡrɑːf/ ▷ noun, medicine a device for measuring and recording breathing movements. ◎ 19c: from Greek speira a coil.

spirogyra /spaɪərəʊˈdʒaɪərə/ ▷ noun a green alga which is found either floating or fixed to stones in ponds and streams and whose colour is due to its spiralling chloroplasts. ◎ Late 19c: from Greek speira a coil + gyros circle.

spirt see SPURT

spit[1] ▷ verb (past tense, past participle spat or (US) spit, present participle spitting) 1 a tr & intr to expel (saliva or phlegm) from the mouth; b intr to do this as a gesture of contempt □ spat in his face. 2 (also spit out) to eject (eg food) forcefully out of the mouth. 3 said of a fire, fat or oil in a pan, etc: to throw off (a spark of hot coal, oil, etc) in a spurt or spurts. 4 to speak or utter with contempt, hate, violence, etc. 5 intr said of rain or snow: to fall in light intermittent drops or flakes. 6 said especially of a cat: to make a hissing noise in anger, hostility, aggression, etc. ▷ noun 1 spittle; a blob of saliva or phlegm that has been spat from the mouth. 2 an act of spitting. • spitter noun. • spitting noun, adj. • be, lie, etc in or within spitting distance (of) to be very close by □ The flat's within spitting distance of the office. • the spit or very spit colloq an exact likeness; a spitting image □ She's the very spit of her mother. • spit blood to be utterly furious. • spit it out colloq usually said as a command: to say what one has been hesitating to say □ Come on, spit it out! Are you saying I'm a liar? ◎ Anglo-Saxon spittan.

spit[2] ▷ noun 1 a a long thin metal rod on which meat is skewered and held over a fire for roasting; b a similar device in a gas or electric cooker or oven. 2 a long narrow strip of land that juts out into the water. ▷ verb (spitted, spitting) 1 to put (a piece of meat, etc) on a spit. 2 to pierce or stab with something sharp. ◎ Anglo-Saxon spitu.

spit[3] ▷ verb (spitted, spitting) to dig or plant using a spade. ▷ noun a spade's depth or a spadeful. ◎ Anglo-Saxon spittan.

spit and polish ▷ noun, colloq 1 the routine cleaning duties of a soldier, sailor, etc. 2 often derog exceptional cleanliness, tidiness, smartness, correctness, etc.

spit-and-sawdust ▷ adj basic; lacking luxury or refinement. ◎ 1930s: from the sawdust that was formerly strewn on pub floors to absorb men's spit.

spitchcock /ˈspɪtʃkɒk/ ▷ noun an eel that is split down the middle, sometimes coated in breadcrumbs, and fried or grilled. ▷ verb (spitchcocked, spitchcocking) to cook (an eel, chicken, etc) in this way. Compare SPATCHCOCK. ◎ 17c.

spite ▷ noun 1 the desire to intentionally and maliciously hurt or offend; ill-will. 2 an instance of this; a grudge. ▷ verb (spited, spiting) chiefly used in the infinitive form: to annoy, offend, thwart, etc intentionally and maliciously. • in spite of regardless; notwithstanding □ decided to go in spite of the rain. ◎ 14c: from French despit; see DESPITE.

spiteful ▷ adj motivated by spite; vengeful; malicious. • spitefully adverb. • spitefulness noun.

spitfire ▷ noun someone who has a quick or fiery temper, especially a woman or girl. ◎ 17c.

spitting image ▷ noun, colloq an exact likeness; a double.

spittle /ˈspɪtəl/ ▷ noun saliva, especially when it has been spat from the mouth; spit. ◎ Anglo-Saxon spætl.

spittoon /spɪˈtuːn/ ▷ noun a container for spitting into, especially one that would formerly have been placed on the floor of a pub. ◎ 19c: from SPIT verb[1] + -oon as in BALLOON, etc.

spitz /spɪts/ ▷ noun (spitzes) a breed of dog with a thick coat, a pointed foxy face, pricked ears and a tail that curls up over its back. ◎ 19c: German, meaning 'pointed'.

spiv ▷ noun, colloq a man who sells, deals in, or is otherwise involved in the trading of, illicit, blackmarket or stolen goods, and who is usually dressed in a very flashy way. • spivvy adj. ◎ 1930s.

splanchnic /ˈsplaŋknɪk/ ▷ adj, anatomy belonging, referring or relating to the VISCERA; intestinal. ◎ 17c: from Latin splanchnicus, from Greek splanchna entrails.

splash ▷ verb (splashes, splashed, splashing) 1 a to make (a liquid or semi-liquid substance) to fly around or land in drops; b intr said of a liquid or semi-liquid substance: to fly around or land in drops. 2 to make something wet or dirty (with drops of liquid or semi-liquid) □ The bus splashed them with mud. 3 to print or display something boldly □ The photograph was splashed across the front page. ▷ noun (splashes) 1 a sound of splashing. 2 an amount splashed. 3 a stain made by splashing. 4 an irregular spot or patch □ splashes of colour. 5 colloq a small amount of liquid; a dash □ tea with just a splash of milk. • splashing noun, adj. • splashy adj. • make a splash to attract a great deal of attention, especially deliberately or with outrageous behaviour. ⓘ 18c: from Anglo-Saxon plæsc.

■ splash about, around, in, into, etc to make noisy splashes.

■ splash down said of the crew or capsule of a space rocket: to land at sea. See also SPLASHDOWN.

■ splash out or splash out on something colloq to spend a lot of money, especially extravagantly or ostentatiously □ He splashed out on a fancy new car.

splashdown ▷ noun the act or process of the crew or capsule of a space rocket landing at sea.

splat[1] ▷ noun the sound made by a soft wet object striking a surface. ▷ adverb with this sound □ She gave him a custard pie splat in the face. ▷ verb (splatted, splatting) to hit, fall, land, etc with a splat. ⓘ Late 19c: a shortened form of SPLATTER.

splat[2] ▷ noun a flat, usually wooden, structure that forms the middle part of the back of a chair. ⓘ 19c.

splatter /ˈsplatə(r)/ ▷ verb (splattered, splattering) 1 tr & intr (often splatter something with something) to make it dirty with lots of small scattered drops. 2 said of water, mud, etc: to wet or dirty □ The mud splattered him from head to toe. 3 to publicize, especially in a sensational way □ News of their affair was splattered over every front page. ▷ noun 1 a splashing sound, especially a repeated or continuous one. 2 a splash or spattering, eg of colour, mud, etc. ⓘ 18c.

splatter movie and splatter film ▷ noun a film that has a lot of on-screen violence and blood-spilling. Compare SNUFF MOVIE. ⓘ 1970s.

splatterpunk ▷ noun a genre of fiction that has a lot of graphically detailed violence and blood-spilling in it.

splay ▷ verb (splayed, splaying) to spread (eg the fingers). ▷ noun a sloping surface that is at an oblique angle to a wall, especially one that widens the aspect of a window, door, etc. ▷ adj 1 broad and flat. 2 said of a foot, knee, etc: turned outwards. ⓘ 14c: from DISPLAY.

splay foot ▷ noun a foot that turns outwards, especially one that is broad and flat. • splay-footed adj.

spleen ▷ noun 1 a a delicate organ which, in humans, is situated on the left side of the abdomen and beneath the diaphragm. It is involved in the production of LYMPHOCYTEs, and it also destroys red blood cells that are no longer functional and acts as a reservoir for blood; b the equivalent organ in other animals. 2 bad temper; moroseness. 3 anger; spitefulness □ vented his spleen by punching the wall. • splenetic see separate entry. ⓘ 13c: from French esplen, from Latin splen; senses 2 and 3 came about from the belief that this organ was the seat of melancholy.

splendid /ˈsplɛndɪd/ ▷ adj 1 very good; excellent. 2 magnificent; impressively grand or sumptuous. • splendidly adverb. • splendidness noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin splendidus shining or brilliant, from splendere to be bright.

splendiferous /splɛnˈdɪfərəs/ ▷ adj, now colloq, humorous splendid. • splendiferously adverb. • splendiferousness noun. ⓘ 15c: from Latin splendorifer carrying brightness.

splendour or (US) splendor /ˈsplɛndə(r)/ ▷ noun magnificence, opulence or grandeur. • splendorous or splendrous adj. ⓘ 15c: from French esplendur, from Latin splendor, from splendere to shine.

splenectomy /splɪˈnɛktəmɪ/ ▷ noun (splenectomies) surgery the removal of a diseased or damaged spleen. ⓘ 19c.

splenetic /splɪˈnɛtɪk/ ▷ adj 1 (also splenic /ˈsplenɪk, ˈspliːnɪk/) belonging, referring or relating to the spleen. 2 bad-tempered; spiteful; full of spleen. • splenetical adj. • splenetically adverb.

splenitis /splɪˈnaɪtɪs/ ▷ noun inflammation of the spleen. ⓘ 18c: from SPLEEN + -ITIS.

splenius /ˈspliːnɪəs/ ▷ noun (splenii /ˈspliːnɪaɪ/) anatomy either of the two large thick muscles in the back of the neck. • splenial adj. ⓘ 19c: from Latin splenium, from Greek splenion a bandage.

splice ▷ verb (spliced, splicing) 1 to join (two pieces of rope) by weaving the strands of one into the other. 2 to join (two pieces of timber, etc) by overlapping and securing the ends. 3 to join the flattened ends of (two pieces of film, magnetic tape, wire, etc) using solder, adhesive, etc. ▷ noun a join made in one of these ways. • splicer noun. • get spliced colloq to get married. • splice the mainbrace naut 1 to give out or consume an extra portion of rum. 2 to start a drinking session. ⓘ 16c: from Dutch splissen.

spliff colloq ▷ noun 1 a cigarette that contains cannabis. Also called JOINT (sense 5). 2 cannabis. ▷ verb (spliffed, spliffing) to smoke a cigarette that contains cannabis. • spliffed (sometimes spliffed out) adj high on cannabis. • spliffer noun. • spliffing noun, adj. ⓘ 1930s: West Indian.

spline ▷ noun 1 any of a number of rectangular keys that fit into the grooves in the shaft of a wheel and which allow for longitudinal movement. 2 a flexible instrument that is used for drawing curved lines. 3 a long thin narrow piece of wood, metal, plastic, etc. ▷ verb (splined, splining) to fit with splines (noun 1). ⓘ 18c.

splint ▷ noun 1 a piece of rigid material that is strapped to a broken limb, etc to hold it in position while the bone heals. 2 a tumour or bony outgrowth that can develop on the leg, usually on the inside, of a horse, donkey, etc. 3 a strip of wood, etc. 4 a shortened form of SPLINT-COAL. 5 a SPILL[2]. ▷ verb (splinted, splinting) to bind or hold (a broken limb, etc) in position using a splint (noun 1). ⓘ 13c: from Dutch splinte.

splint-coal ▷ noun a hard, highly bituminous coal that gives off a lot of heat. ⓘ 18c.

splinter /ˈsplɪntə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a small thin sharp piece that has broken off a hard substance, eg wood or glass. 2 a fragment of an exploded shell, etc. ▷ verb (splintered, splintering) tr & intr 1 to break into splinters. 2 said of a group, political party, etc: to divide or become divided □ The party splintered over green issues. • splintery adj. • splinter-proof adj, military able to withstand splinters, eg from bursting shells, bombs, etc. ⓘ 14c: Dutch, and related to SPLINT.

splinter-bar ▷ noun a cross-bar in a horse-drawn coach that the traces (TRACE[2]) are attached to. ⓘ 18c.

splinter group ▷ noun a small group, especially a political one, that is formed by individuals who have broken away from the main group, especially because of some disagreement, eg over policy, principles, etc.

splish ▷ noun, verb informal SPLASH.

split ▷ verb (split, splitting) 1 tr & intr to divide or break or cause to divide or break apart or into, usually two, pieces, especially lengthways. 2 to divide or share, money, etc. 3 (also split up) tr & intr a to divide or separate into smaller amounts, groups, parts, etc; b to divide or separate or cause to divide or separate, eg because of disagreement, disharmony, etc □ European policy split the party □ split up with his boyfriend. See also SPLIT-UP. 4

intr, colloq to go away or leave □ Let's split and go back for a smoke. 5 said of a ship: to be wrecked. ▷ noun 1 a an act or the process of separating or dividing; b a division, especially of money, etc □ a two-way split on the Lottery winnings. 2 a lengthways break or crack. 3 a separation or division through disagreement. 4 a dessert that consists of fruit, especially a banana, sliced open and topped with cream and/or ice-cream, sauce, nuts, etc. 5 (the splits) an acrobatic leap or drop to the floor so that the legs form a straight line and each leg is at right angles to the torso. ▷ adj divided, especially in two. • splitter noun. • splitting see separate entry. • split the difference 1 said of two people, groups, parties, etc: to come to a compromise where each makes an equal concession. 2 to divide a remaining amount equally. • split hairs to make or argue about fine and trivial distinctions. • split one's sides colloq to laugh uncontrollably. ⓘ 16c: from Dutch splitten to cleave.

■ split away or split off to separate from or break away from; to diverge □ split away from the rest of the group and found a short cut □ The road splits off to the right.

■ split on someone colloq to inform on them, especially to someone in authority.

split capital trust ▷ noun, finance an investment trust that has several kinds of security with different rights and a limited life.

split end ▷ noun (usually split ends) hair that has divided at the end, usually as a result of the general condition of the hair being poor.

split infinitive ▷ noun, grammar an INFINITIVE that has an adverb or other word coming in between the particle to and the verb, as in to really believe, to boldly go, etc.

split infinitive

• A split infinitive occurs when the particle 'to' is separated, usually by an adverb, from the verb itself, as in to really believe. It has been a feature of English for centuries, and the superstition that it is necessarily incorrect or poor style arose in the mid-19c when attitudes to grammar were influenced by Classical models, especially Latin. The term 'split infinitive' is not found before the late 19c.

• There are occasions when a split infinitive seems clumsy, and then on stylistic grounds it is best to avoid it, eg □ She went quickly to her room to hurriedly get her hairdrier into action might be better put in the form □ She went quickly to her room and hurriedly got her hairdrier into action. In other cases, the close connection of adverb and verb requires them to come close together □ He raised his other hand to gently caress her soft shoulders □ He was never one to idly beat about the bush.

• Some modifying words like only and really have to come between to and the verb in order to achieve the right meaning, eg □ Part of a personnel officer's job is to really get to know all the staff □ You've done enough to more than make up for it.

☆ RECOMMENDATION: it is acceptable to use a split infinitive when the rhythm and meaning of the sentence call for it. Avoid the split infinitive if it is awkward, or rephrase the sentence. It is prudent to avoid the split infinitive when speaking or writing to prescriptively minded people.

split-level ▷ adj said of a house, room, etc: being on or having more than one level or floor.

split pea ▷ noun a dried pea that is split in half and used in soups, stews, etc.

split personality ▷ noun 1 a non-technical name for MULTIPLE PERSONALITY. 2 a propensity towards sudden mood swings.

split pin ▷ noun a type of pin that consists of a piece of metal doubled over to form a loop at the head and where the ends can be passed through a hole in a bolt and folded back to secure it firmly in place.

split screen ▷ noun a cinematic technique where two or more images are projected alongside each other, eg showing both participants in a telepone conversation.

split second ▷ noun a fraction of a second □ In a split second she was gone.

split shift ▷ noun a period of work that is divided into two separate and distinct spells of duty, eg a waitress might work over breakfast time and then not come back on duty again until lunchtime.

splitting ▷ adj 1 said of a headache: very painful; severe. 2 said of a head: gripped by severe pain □ woke up and my head was absolutely splitting. See also EAR-SPLITTING.

split-up ▷ noun an act or the process of separation or division, especially of a couple who were sexually or romantically involved.

splodge and splotch ▷ noun a large splash, stain or patch. ▷ verb (splodged, splodging) tr & intr to mark with splodges. • splodgily adverb. • splodginess noun. • splodgy adj.

splosh ▷ noun ▷ verb informal SPLASH.

splurge /splɜːdʒ/ ▷ noun 1 an ostentatious display. 2 a bout of extravagance, eg a spending spree. ▷ verb (splurged, splurging) tr & intr to spend extravagantly or ostentatiously. • splurgy adj.

splutter /ˈsplʌtə(r)/ ▷ verb (spluttered, spluttering) 1 intr to put or throw out drops of liquid, bits of food, sparks, etc with spitting sounds. 2 intr to make intermittent noises or movements, especially as a sign of something being wrong □ The car spluttered to a halt. 3 tr & intr to speak or say haltingly or incoherently, eg through embarrassment □ could only splutter that he didn't know the answer. ▷ noun the act or noise of spluttering. • splutterer noun. • spluttering adj, noun. • splutteringly adverb. • spluttery adj. ⓘ 17c.

Spode or spode /spoʊd/ ▷ noun, trademark a type of fine china or porcelain. ⓘ 1880s: named after the English potter, Josiah Spode (1754–1827).

spoil ▷ verb (past tense, past participle spoilt or spoiled, present participle spoiling) 1 to impair, ruin or make useless or valueless. 2 to mar or make less enjoyable □ The contrived ending spoiled the film. 3 a to treat someone or something in an indulgent way; b to harm (a child, pet, etc) by the kind of over-indulgence that will lead to selfish behaviour, unreasonable expectations of others, etc □ She is spoiling that boy — he never even has to tidy his room. 4 intr said of food: to become unfit to eat. 5 to deliberately deface (a ballot paper, voting slip, etc) in order to make it invalid. ▷ noun (always spoils) 1 possessions taken by force; plunder □ the spoils of war. 2 any benefits or rewards □ a company car — just one of the spoils of the new job. • be spoiling for something to seek out (a fight, argument, etc) eagerly. • be spoiled or spoilt for choice to have so many options or alternatives that it is hard to decide which to choose. ⓘ 13c: from French espoillier, from Latin spoliare, from spolium plunder or booty.

spoilage ▷ noun 1 an act or the process of spoiling. 2 decay or deterioration of food. 3 waste, especially waste paper caused by bad printing.

spoiled or spoilt ▷ adj 1 said of a child, pet, etc: selfish, demanding, greedy, etc, especially because of having been over-indulged, pampered, etc. 2 damaged, injured, marred, etc.

spoiler ▷ noun 1 a flap on an aircraft wing that is used for increasing drag and so assists in its descent by reducing the air speed. 2 a fixed horizontal structure on a car that is designed to put pressure on the wheels and so increase its roadholding capacity, especially at high speeds. 3 someone or something that spoils.

spoilsport ▷ noun, colloq someone who mars or detracts from the fun or enjoyment of others, especially by refusing to join in.

spoilt see SPOIL, SPOILED spoke[1] past tense of SPEAK spoke[2] /spoʊk/ ▷ noun 1 any of the radiating rods or bars that fan out from the hub of a wheel and attach it to the the rim. 2 any of the radial handles that project from the wheel for steering a ship, etc. 3 a rung of a ladder. ▷ verb (spoked, spoking) to fit with a spoke or spokes. ● spoked adj. ● put a spoke in someone's wheel to upset their plans, especially intentionally or maliciously. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon spaca.

spoken /ˈspoʊkən/ ▷ adj 1 uttered or expressed in speech. 2 in compounds speaking in a specified way □ well-spoken. ▷ verb, past participle of SPEAK. ● be spoken for 1 to be reserved or taken □ All the tickets have been spoken for. 2 said of someone: to be married, engaged or in a steady relationship.

spokeshave ▷ noun a two-handled tool that is designed for planing curved surfaces. ⓘ 16c: from SPOKE[2] + SHAVE.

spokesman ▷ noun a male SPOKESPERSON. ⓘ 16c.

spokesperson ▷ noun (spokespersons) someone who is appointed to speak on behalf of other people, a specified group, a government, business, etc □ a government spokesperson for defence. ⓘ 1970s: a politically correct term that was coined in order to obviate the need to use gender-orientated words like SPOKESMAN and SPOKESWOMAN.

spokeswoman ▷ noun a female SPOKESPERSON. ⓘ 17c.

spoliation /spoʊlɪˈeɪʃən/ ▷ noun 1 a an act, instance or the process of robbing, plundering, etc; b robbery. 2 law an act, instance or the process of destroying a document or of tampering with the contents of a document so that it can no longer be considered valid as evidence. ● spoliator noun. ● spoliatory /ˈspoʊlɪətərɪ/ adj. ⓘ 14c: from Latin spoliare to spoil.

spondaic /spɒnˈdeɪɪk/ ▷ adj 1 said of a verse or part of a verse: having spondees or being written predominately in spondees. 2 relating to spondees. 3 said of a hexameter: having a spondee as the fifth foot.

spondee /ˈspɒndiː/ ▷ noun (spondees) prosody a metrical foot of two long syllables or two stressed syllables and which in English verse tends to suggest weariness, depression, slowness, etc. ⓘ 14c: from Latin spondeus, from Greek spondeios a solemn drink offering.

spondulicks /spɒnˈdjuːlɪks, -ˈduːlɪks/ ▷ plural noun, colloq, chiefly US money; cash. ⓘ 19c.

spondylitis /spɒndɪˈlaɪtɪs/ ▷ noun inflammation of the vertebrae. ⓘ 19c: from Latin spondylus a vertebra + -ITIS.

sponge /spʌndʒ/ ▷ noun 1 any of several hundred different species of aquatic, usually marine, invertebrate primitive multicellular animals that consist of a large cluster of cells attached to a solid object such as a rock and which usually live in colonies. 2 a a piece of the soft porous skeleton of this animal which is capable of holding comparatively large amounts of water and which remains soft when wet, making it particularly suitable for washing, bathing, cleaning, etc; b a piece of similarly absorbent synthetic material that is used in the same way. 3 sponge cake or pudding. 4 a wipe with a cloth or sponge in order to clean something □ gave the baby's face a quick sponge. 5 colloq someone who regularly drinks a lot. ▷ verb (sponged, sponging) 1 to wash or clean with a cloth or sponge and water. 2 to mop up. 3 (usually sponge off someone) colloq to borrow money, etc from them, often without any intention of paying it back. 4 (usually sponge on someone) to survive by habitually imposing on someone else or others, expecting them to pay for things, etc □ never works – just sponges on his mates. 5 to go fishing or diving for sponges. ● spongeable adj. ● throw in or up the sponge or towel see under TOWEL. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon, from Greek spongia.

■ sponge down to clean something with a damp cloth or sponge.

sponge bag ▷ noun a small waterproof bag that toiletries are kept in, especially when travelling. Also called toilet bag.

sponge bath ▷ noun a BEDBATH.

sponge cake ▷ noun a light fluffy sweet cake that is made from flour, sugar and eggs, often with a buttercream or jam filling. Also called Victoria sandwich.

sponge finger ▷ noun a light sweet oblong biscuit, often used on the outside of puddings like CHARLOTTE RUSSE. Also called lady's finger.

sponger ▷ noun, colloq someone who survives by habitually imposing on other people, expecting them to pay for things, etc.

spongy /ˈspʌndʒɪ/ ▷ adj (spongier, spongiest) soft and springy, and perhaps absorbent, like a sponge. ● spongily adverb. ● sponginess noun.

sponsion /ˈspɒnʃən/ ▷ noun 1 the act of becoming surety for another. 2 a solemn promise or pledge, especially one made on behalf of someone else. ⓘ 17c: from Latin spondere, sponsum to promise solemnly.

sponson /ˈspɒnsən/ ▷ noun 1 a a structure that juts out from the deck of a boat and which provides a platform for a gun; b a similar structure on a paddle steamer where its function is to support the paddle-box. 2 a an air-filled tank that is attached to the side of a canoe to minimize the chance of it capsizing; b a similar structure on a seaplane for improving its stability in the water. ⓘ 19c.

sponsor /ˈspɒnsə(r)/ ▷ noun 1 a person or organization that finances an event or broadcast in return for advertising. 2 a someone who promises a sum of money to a participant in a forthcoming fund-raising event; b a company that provides backing for a team, especially in professional football, in return for the team displaying the company's name or logo on their shirts. 3 someone who offers to be responsible for another, especially in acting as a godparent. 4 someone who submits a proposal, eg for new legislation □ sponsored the reform bill. ▷ verb (sponsored, sponsoring) to act as a sponsor for someone or something. ● sponsorial /spɒnˈsɔːrɪəl/ adj. ● sponsorship noun. ⓘ 17c: from Latin spondere, sponsum to promise solemnly.

sponsored ▷ adj 1 having a sponsor or sponsors. 2 said of an activity or event: financially supported by sponsors.

spontaneity /spɒntəˈneɪɪtɪ, -ˈniːɪtɪ/ ▷ noun natural or unrestrained reaction.

spontaneous /spɒnˈteɪnɪəs/ ▷ adj 1 unplanned and voluntary or instinctive, not provoked or invited by others. 2 occurring naturally or by itself, not caused or influenced from outside. 3 said of a manner or style: natural; not affected or studied. ⓘ 17c: from Latin sponte of one's own accord.

spontaneous combustion ▷ noun an act or instance or the process of a substance or body catching fire as a result of heat that is generated within it, as opposed to heat applied from outside.

spontaneous generation ▷ noun, biol the theory, now discredited, that living organisms, eg bacteria, can arise spontaneously from non-living matter.

spoof /spuːf/ colloq ▷ noun 1 a satirical imitation; a parody. 2 a light-hearted hoax or trick. ▷ verb (spoofed, spoofing) to parody; to play a hoax. ⓘ Late 19c: coined by the British comedian, A Roberts (1852–1933), to designate a hoaxing game.

spook /spuːk/ colloq ▷ noun 1 a ghost. 2 derog a Black person. 3 N Amer a spy. ▷ verb (spooked, spooking) 1 to frighten or startle. 2 to haunt. 3 to make someone feel nervous or uneasy. ● spookish adj. ⓘ Early 19c: from German spok a ghost.

spooked ▷ adj frightened, startled or wary.

spooky ▷ adj (spookier, spookiest) colloq 1 uncanny; eerie. 2 suggestive of ghosts or the supernatural. ● spookily adverb. ● spookiness noun.

spool /spuːl/ ▷ noun a small cylinder, usually with a hole down the centre and with extended rims at either end, on which thread, photographic film, tape, etc is wound; a reel. ⓘ 14c: from German dialect spole a reel.

spoon /spuːn/ ▷ noun 1 a metal, wooden or plastic utensil that has a handle with a round or oval shallow bowl-like part at one end and which is used for eating, serving or stirring food. 2 the amount a spoon will hold □ takes three spoons of sugar in coffee. 3 drug-taking slang two grams or one sixteenth of an ounce of heroin. ▷ verb (spooned, spooning) 1 to lift or transfer (food) with a spoon. 2 intr, old use to kiss and cuddle □ You're never too old to spoon. ● be born with a silver spoon in one's mouth to be born into a family with wealth and/or high social standing. ● wooden spoon see separate entry. ⓘ Anglo-Saxon spon.

spoon-bait and spoon-hook ▷ noun, fishing a lure on a swivel that is used in the trolling for fish.

spoonbill ▷ noun any of several types of wading bird that are similar to the IBIS, and which have a long flat broad bill with a spoon-shaped tip which is used for sifting food from the water.

spoonerism /ˈspuːnərɪzəm/ ▷ noun an accidental slip of the tongue where the positions of the first sounds in a pair of words are reversed, such as par cark for car park or shoving leopard for loving shepherd, and which often results in an unintentionally comic or ambiguous expression. See also METATHESIS. ⓘ Late 19c: named after Rev W A Spooner (1844–1930), an English clergyman, educationalist, and dean of New College, Oxford, whose rather nervous disposition led him to make such slips frequently and who became renowned at Oxford for doing so.

spoon-feed ▷ verb 1 to feed (eg a baby) with a spoon. 2 a to supply someone with everything they need or require, so that any effort on their part is unnecessary; b to create a learning situation where information, etc is given out in such a way that the pupils or students do not have to put in any original thought or research.

spoonful ▷ noun (spoonfuls) 1 the amount a spoon will hold. 2 a small amount or number.

spoor /spʊə(r), spɔː(r)/ ▷ noun the track or scent left by an animal, especially an animal that is being hunted as game. ⓘ 19c: Afrikaans, from Dutch spoor track.

sporadic /spəˈradɪk/ ▷ adj 1 occurring from time to time, at irregular intervals; intermittent. 2 said of a disease: occurring in isolated pockets; not epidemic. ● sporadically noun. ⓘ 17c: from Greek sporados scattered.

sporangium /spəˈrandʒɪəm/ ▷ noun (sporangia /-dʒɪə/) bot in fungi and some plants: the hollow structure where the spores are produced. ⓘ 19c: from Greek spora seed + angeion receptacle.

spore /spɔː(r)/ ▷ noun one of the tiny reproductive bodies that are produced in vast quantities by some micro-organisms and certain non-flowering plants, such as ferns and mosses, and which are capable of developing into new individuals either immediately after being released by the parent or after lying dormant if adverse conditions prevail. ⓘ 19c: from Greek spora seed.

sporophyll or sporophyl /ˈspɒrəfɪl, ˈspɔːrəfɪl/ ▷ noun, bot in certain non-flowering plants, such as some mosses, ferns, etc: a leaf that bears sporangia and which, in many cases, has become so highly modified for this purpose that it no longer looks like a conventional leaf. ⓘ Late 19c: from Greek spora seed + phyllon leaf.

sporophyte /ˈspɒrəfaɪt, ˈspɔːrəfaɪt/ ▷ noun, bot in plants where the life cycle is characterized by ALTERNATION OF GENERATIONS: the plant that produces spores asexually. See also GAMETOPHYTE. ● sporophytic /spɒrəˈfɪtɪk/ adj. ● sporophytically adverb. ⓘ Late 19c: from Greek spora seed + -PHYTE.

sporran /ˈspɒrən/ ▷ noun a pouch for carrying money that is traditionally worn hanging from a belt in front of the kilt in Scottish Highland dress and which is usually made of leather or fur, sometimes with the face of an animal or tassels of animal fur on it. ⓘ Early 19c: from Gaelic sporan purse.

sport ▷ noun 1 a an activity, pastime, competition, etc that usually involves a degree of physical exertion, eg football, tennis, squash, swimming, boxing, snooker, etc and which people take part in for exercise and/or pleasure; b such activities collectively □ enjoys watching sport on TV. See also SPORTS. 2 good-humoured fun □ It was just meant to be a bit of sport. 3 colloq a someone who is thought of as being fair-minded, generous, easy-going, etc □ Be a sport and lend me your car; b someone who behaves in a specified way, especially with regard to winning or losing □ Even when he loses, he's a good sport; c Austral, NZ a form of address that is especially used between men □ How's it going, sport? d US someone, especially a man, who dresses in a flashy way, likes to live well, spend lots of money and generally show off. 4 literary someone or something that is manipulated or controlled by outside influences; a plaything □ was but the sport of the gods. 5 biol an animal or, more usually, a plant that displays abnormal characteristics as a result of a mutation or that is strikingly different from the parent. 6 slang pleasure or success that is derived from hunting, shooting, fishing, etc □ bagged six grouse and had a good day's sport. ▷ verb (sported, sporting) 1 to wear or display, especially proudly □ She sported a small tattoo. 2 biol to vary from, or produce a variation from, the parent stock. ● sportive see separate entry. ● sporty see separate entry. ● make sport of someone or something old use to make fun of or ridicule them or it. ⓘ 15c: a shortened form of DISPORT.

sporting ▷ adj 1 belonging, referring or relating to sport □ Gun dogs are classed as sporting dogs. 2 said of someone, their behaviour, attitude, nature, etc: characterized by fairness, generosity, etc □ It was sporting of him to lend me the car. 3 keen or willing to gamble or take a risk □ I'm not a sporting man, but I like a bet on the Grand National. ● sportingly adverb.

sporting chance ▷ noun (usually a sporting chance) a reasonable possibility of success.

sportive ▷ adj playful. ● sportively adverb. ● sportiveness noun.

sports ▷ singular noun 1 Brit in schools and colleges: a day or afternoon that each year is dedicated to competitive sport, especially athletics □ Parents may attend the school sports. 2 as adj belonging, referring or relating to sport □ sports pavilion. 3 as adj used in or suitable for sport □ sports holdall. 4 as adj casual □ sports jacket.

sports car ▷ noun a small fast car, usually a two-seater, often with a low-slung body which has a roof that can be removed or folded back, and which has particularly quick acceleration.

sports ground ▷ noun an area of land that is used for outdoor sport, often one that has changing rooms, facilities for spectators, refreshment stands, etc.

sports jacket ▷ noun a man's jacket, often one made from tweed, that is meant for casual wear. Also called N Amer, Austral & NZ sports coat.

sportsman ▷ noun 1 a male sportsperson. 2 someone who plays fair, sticks to the rules and accepts defeat without any rancour or bitterness. • sportsmanship noun.

sportsmanlike ▷ adj said of someone, their behaviour, attitude, etc: characterized by fairness, observation of the rules, generosity in defeat, etc.

sportsperson ▷ noun (sportspersons) someone who takes part in sport, especially at a professional level.

sportswear ▷ noun clothes that are designed for or suitable for sport or for wearing casually.

sportswoman ▷ noun a female sportsperson.

sporty ▷ adj (sportier, sportiest) 1 said of someone: habitually taking part in sport, or being especially fond of, good at, etc sport. 2 said of clothes: casual; suitable for wearing when playing a sport □ She looked so cute in her sporty little beret. 3 said of a car: looking, performing or handling like a sports car. • sportily adj. • sportiness noun.

sporule /ˈspɒrjuːl/ ▷ noun, biol a small spore. • sporular adj.

spot ▷ noun 1 a small mark or stain. 2 a drop of liquid. 3 a small amount, especially of liquid. 4 an eruption on the skin; a pimple. 5 a place □ found a secluded spot. 6 colloq a small amount of work □ did a spot of ironing. 7 a place or period in a schedule or programme □ a five-minute comedy spot. 8 colloq a spotlight. 9 snooker, billiards a mark on the table where a specified ball is placed □ had to put the black on pink ball's spot. 10 a relatively dark patch on the sun. 11 colloq a place of entertainment □ knew all the hot spots in town. ▷ verb (spotted, spotting) 1 to mark with spots. 2 to see; to catch sight of something. 3 usually in compounds to watch for and record the sighting of (eg trains, planes, etc). 4 to search for (new talent). 5 intr said of rain: to fall lightly. 6 snooker, billiards to put (a ball) in its proper place on the table or, if that is not possible, to place it on the next available one. • spotting noun. • -spotting noun, in compounds □ trainspotting. • high spot see separate entry. • in a spot colloq in trouble or difficulty. • knock spots off someone or something colloq to be overwhelmingly better than them. • on the spot 1 immediately and often without warning □ Motorists caught speeding are fined on the spot. 2 at the scene of some notable event. 3 in an awkward situation, especially one requiring immediate action or response □ put someone on the spot. • soft spot, tight spot and weak spot see separate entries. ⓘ 12c: from Norse spotti small bit.

spot cash ▷ noun, colloq money that is paid there and then.

spot check ▷ noun an inspection made at random and without warning. ▷ verb (spot-check) to carry out a random check □ The police were spot-checking for worn tyres.

spotless ▷ adj 1 absolutely clean. 2 unblemished □ held a spotless driving licence. • spotlessly adverb. • spotlessness noun.

spotlight ▷ noun 1 a concentrated circle of light that can be directed onto a small area, especially of a theatre stage. 2 a lamp that casts this kind of light. ▷ verb (spotlit or spotlighted, spotlighting) 1 to illuminate with a spotlight. 2 to direct attention to something; to highlight. • be in the spotlight to have the attention of others, the media, etc focused on (one or someone). • put someone or something in the spotlight to direct the attention of others, the media, etc onto them. ⓘ Early 20c.

spot-on ▷ adj, Brit colloq precisely what is required; excellent; very accurate.

spotted /ˈspɒtɪd/ ▷ adj 1 patterned or covered with spots. 2 stained; marked □ wore a revolting tie spotted with tomato sauce.

spotted dick ▷ noun a type of suet pudding that contains dried fruit which gives it a spotty look.

spotter ▷ noun 1 someone or something that keeps a vigilant watch. 2 usually in compounds someone who watches for and records the sighting of trains, planes, etc.

spotty ▷ adj (spottier, spottiest) 1 marked with a pattern of spots. 2 said of someone's skin, especially that of the face, back, etc: covered in blemishes, pimples, etc. • spottiness noun.

spot-weld ▷ verb to join metal with single circular welds. ▷ noun a weld that is made in this way. • spot-welder noun.

spouse /spaʊs, spaʊz/ ▷ noun a husband or wife. ⓘ 13c: from Latin sponsus from spondere to promise.

